

Commencement Festivities To End School Year

Loya Sutherland Will Preach Baccalaureate Sermon

"Making Our Destiny" is the sermon topic that has been selected by the Rev. Loya Sutherland of the First Baptist church for the annual baccalaureate program of the Plymouth high school that will take place Sunday evening in the high school auditorium.

The services, which will begin at 8 o'clock, mark the beginning of the annual commencement exercises of the Plymouth schools. Rev. P. Ray Horton, of the First Methodist church, will deliver the invocation. Musical numbers will be provided by the Baptist church choir and Miss Doris Hamill, who will play a violin solo.

The benediction will be offered by Rev. Walter Nichol of the First Presbyterian church. An invitation has been extended to all church organizations in Plymouth to participate in the Sunday evening services.

The programs for the other commencement events follow:

Class of 1935, High school auditorium, Tuesday, June 18, 1935. "The 1935 Book Shelf."

"Four Years Before the Mast," Katherine Schultz. "Fruits of Solitude," Geraldine Vealey. Vivian Towle.

Song, Class of '35. Recessional.

Back From Trip To The Western Coast

Harry Mallet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Mallet, returned from a seven week trip to California early this week, thoroughly delighted with the vacation he had spent in the far west.

He made the trip to California and return by bus and declares that it is an easy as well as a rapid way to travel.

The young man thoroughly enjoyed his stay in Pasadena and vicinity and is enthusiastic over the beauty and climate of that country but he says jobs are impossible to get, although business seems to be fairly good out there.

There is little building going on, as there are a large number of vacant stores and houses, he says.

"But I am glad to be back in Michigan where things seem to be a little more real in coming home we had to make some detours because of the floods they were having in the west. We couldn't go to Colorado City or Denver," said the young man.

Blunks Add New Repair Service

To offer a more complete service along with its other lines that have proven so beneficial to Plymouth residents, Blunk Bros. department store announces this week the addition of an up-to-date electrical appliance service department.

Miss Onalee Eldred Weds Kenneth Gyde

A very quiet wedding was solemnized in the Congregational parsonage at Salem last Friday evening, June 7th, where Kenneth Gyde and Miss Onalee Eldred of Plymouth were united in holy wedlock.

The happy couple will reside in their new home west of Plymouth.

Those attending were the mother, Mrs. Edith Eldred of Plymouth and Miss Elizabeth Wittich, as witnesses.

The many friends of the happy couple in Salem and Plymouth extend best wishes for their happiness.

Kirkpatrick Is Elected Member Of School Board

Pere Marquette Official To Take Place Of Chas. Rathburn

Russell Kirkpatrick, Pere Marquette general claim agent, is the new member of the Plymouth school board, having been elected by every vote cast at the school district election held Monday.

Mr. Kirkpatrick was elected to take the place of Charles Rathburn who had announced that he did not have the time to continue his services on the school board.

The vote was an unusually light one. At the annual meeting of the district held at 7:30 o'clock, the financial report was given and a few minor matters discussed.

The report showed a cash balance of something like $14,000 which will pay all of the school expenses for the remainder of the present school year.

The small number cast and the small number in attendance at the annual meeting are probably not because the community generally is satisfied with the way in which the board of education manages school affairs.

Credentials For Girl Scouts No. 2

Girl Scout Troop No. 2 of Plymouth held their investiture ceremony Friday, June 7, in the city hall recreation room.

The troop used the ever impressive candle ceremony for this occasion. Ten girls held candles representing the ten laws, while three held candles for the three parts of the Girl Scout promise.

Two girls lit the candles and as they did so they told what each law meant.

There were several parents at the meeting and there were nine-teen girls invested and received pins. The following girls were invested: Wilma Cripe, Dorothy O'Leary, Deborah Harer, Margaret Allen, Clara Bulson, Betty Hayley, Lillian Rutherford, Marion Bulson, Norma Gould, Molly Goldstein, Grace Phillips, Jane Bury, Jean Dettling, Hugert Quimet, Geraldine Schroeder, Virginia Behler, Sheila Daoust, Lillian Quimet and Audrey Hartzok.

The girls are now busy planning an overnight hike in the next two weeks. They plan to hike to Geddes road, near Beck road to the cabin used by Plymouth Scout Troop No. 2. While there each girl will have to do her own cooking and will be given the several outdoor tests. The hike will start on a Saturday morning and end on Sunday evening.

D. A. R. Will Meet At Noon on June 17th

The Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, D.A.R. will meet at twelve o'clock noon June 17, at the home of Mrs. Carmen Root, 4700 US-12. A cooperative luncheon will be served, after which there will be the usual business meeting and a brief program including a flag lesson, and a talk on National Defense followed by a special hour.

Today, June 14, is Flag Day and all daughters and all patriotic citizens are thus reminded of their duty and obligation to display the flag.

A lost opportunity never finds its way back.

Awards Made At Court Of Honor Held By Scouts

Event One Of The Outstanding Present Year In Scout Work

Plymouth high school auditorium was filled to overflowing with Boy Scouts, their parents and friends last Thursday evening when the Boy Scout Court of Honor for the Plymouth district was held, with Supt. George A. Smith of the Plymouth public schools presiding as chairman.

Those assisting with the court were Scout Commissioner Hodson, District Chairman, Dr. Robert Haskell, City Manager Perry Cookingham, Rev. Walter Nichol, Carl Hillmer, Orlo Owen, Dr. Steele, Mr. Keffer, W. Vandenver, the several Scoutmasters, and others.

After a half-hour of concert by the Plymouth high school band, under the direction of Lewis Evans, the court was in session and presentations were made as follows:

Star Awards: Charles Margavich, N-2, Leroy Sheeley, N-2, Thomas Campion, RG-1, Daniel Burton, RG-1.

Eagle Award: Gilbert Williams, A.M., P-2.

At the conclusion of the presentations, Girl Scout Troops No. 1 and No. 2 of Plymouth were introduced to the Boy Scouts and friends of the Boy Scouts, after which Dr. Haskell gave a short, pleasing and inspiring talk about the work in Plymouth district.

At the close of announcements, Commissioner Hodson appealed for the continued support of adults in the Scouting program.

Among the presentations made, the Eagle Award, the outstanding award in Scouting, was given to Gilbert Williams, Assistant Scoutmaster of P-2, by Scoutmaster Sidney Strong of Troop P-1, assisted by Mrs. Williams, mother of Gilbert.

The presentation of the Eagle Award lacked none of the impressiveness which always attends the same.

The awards granted were as follows:

Second Class: Frank Larsh, N-4, James Tubert, N-4, F. Alexander, N-2, H. Brozovich, N-2, W. Dombrowski, N-2, Louis Forrest, N-2, Peter Gilluffo, N-2, Edward Clukewy, N-2, Joseph Mansfield, N-2, Matthew O'Neill, N-2, Richard Fridrik, N-2, Stanley Putnam, N-2, Adam Remback, N-2, Robert West, N-2, Floyd Gould N-4, William Thomason, P-1, George Houghton, P-2, Edward L. Thanks - For The Many Good Words

Once in a while every newspaper finds it advisable to make a circulation check of its community. The Plymouth Mail a few days ago engaged Mr. J. R. Potts and his son, two of Michigan's best known and outstanding newspaper circulators, to make this check for The Mail.

While the work has been in progress but a week, the complimentary reports being brought to the office by Mr. Potts are most gratifying. The Mail certainly wishes to express to its family of readers a word of appreciation for the favorable reports being given as to the kind of a newspaper being issued for this city.

Mr. Potts Jr. will be joined by his father probably early in the coming week. They are authorized to take new subscriptions if you do not happen to be a regular reader of The Mail.

Mrs. Harry Green and Mrs. C. G. Draper attended a luncheon and shower in Detroit Tuesday given in honor of their niece, Newa Gatfield, at the home of Mrs. C. B. Merrill. Miss Gatfield's marriage will take place in July.

GEORGE H. WILCOX

His sudden death Monday proved a surprise to the city. The above picture was taken but a few weeks ago when Mr. Wilcox with William Conner of this city attended the annual meeting of the Ford Motor Car company of Canada at Windsor.

George Wilcox Dies Suddenly

Brief Illness Ends Life Of A Well Known Local Citizen

George Henry Wilcox, for over half a century well known Plymouth resident, died suddenly at the University of Michigan hospital in Ann Arbor early Monday morning where he had been taken Saturday for medical observation.

Apparently in good health until a few days ago, the sudden passing of Mr. Wilcox proved a shock to his friends and acquaintances in Plymouth.

He had been serving on the federal jury in the United States court at Detroit until last week Wednesday. Feeling somewhat indisposed, his family thought it best to have a physical examination made at the hospital in Ann Arbor. After admission his condition became rapidly worse and his death soon followed.

Mr. Wilcox was born in the building now standing at the corner of Griswold and Grand Rivers in Detroit, on February 4, 1873. He was the son of David Baily and Ann Ovenshire Wilcox. He moved with his family when he was six years of age to Plymouth, when his father had been the owner of the Plymouth Mills.

After his graduation from the Plymouth schools he went into the milling business first with his father and later with his brother, John C. Wilcox. They built their first mill near the water power became a unit in the Ford properties on the Rouge river.

He was married September 19, 1907 to Harriet Kelsey Hill of Chicago, Illinois, who survives him with their three children, Julia Grace, Mrs. Robert D. Thompson and Johnston Hill Wilcox. He also leaves two brothers, Clinton L. and John C. Wilcox, besides five nephews and nieces.

The funeral was Wednesday at 3 p.m. from his home at 876 Penniman Avenue. Rev. Walter Nichol officiated, burial taking place in Riverside cemetery.

Picnics To Bring Over 2000 to Park

Over 2,000 people are scheduled to visit Plymouth-Riverside Park Saturday at five different picnics that have been announced to take place there at home at 876 Penniman Avenue.

The Ditzler Colon company of Detroit has scheduled a picnic for its 500 employees with their families. The Christ M. E. church of Detroit will bring 300 members to the park. The Redford Baptist church has planned a picnic for 200 visitors. The Williamson Avenue Baptist church of Dearborn is planning on 250 to attend its annual picnic. The Trinity Presbyterian church of Detroit is expecting 350 to be present at its picnic and the next largest picnic scheduled is for the Dexter Boulevard Baptist church of Detroit with an expected attendance of 450.

First Twins Born In Plymouth Hospital

Maybe Canada has its quintuplets, Lansing its quadruplets and Oklahoma its triplets—but the Plymouth hospital can now boast of the first twins born in that institution.

The stork assisted and abetted by Dr. Luther Peck, Monday forenoon about 9:30 o'clock brought to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holms of Northville a boy and a girl. Both babes and the mother are doing splendidly. The girl has been named June Marie and the boy has been named James Murray. The girl weighed seven and a half pounds and the boy seven pounds and eleven ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Partridge of Detroit visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Partridge Tuesday evening.

Contract Soon To Be Awarded By Daisy Mfg. Co.

Architects Now Checking Bids For Addition To Plant

Bids for the big addition to the plant of the Daisy Manufacturing company will probably be let within the next few days, stated Edward C. Hough yesterday. Workmen have already completed the removal of the old steel storage plant where the new building is to be located and just as soon as the contract is approved, the builders will be able to start the erection of the big addition at once.

Plans and specifications have been completed and are now in the hands of contractors who are expected to have their bids in the office of the architect in Detroit within the next day or so.

The matter of checking the bids has been turned over to Smith, Hinchman and Grylls, well known Detroit architects and engineers who prepared the plans for the big three story addition. Just as soon as they announce their approval of one of the bids, contracts will be awarded. From what information can be secured it is believed that construction may be started within the next two or three weeks.

Years of Illness Ends In Suicide

Matthias M. Miller Brings Suffering To End With Bullet

Breaking under a long fight to regain his health and despondent because of his failure to improve, Matthias M. Miller, aged 63, well known Plymouth resident, ended his life shortly afternoon Monday at his home on Farmer street.

He had eaten lunch with members of his family but soon after the meal was over he went to the bathroom, placed the muzzle of a .22 calibre rifle in his mouth and pulled the trigger. Dr. Paul Butz was immediately called but death had been almost instant.

Officers summoned the coroner's office in Detroit and after a wait of some two hours or more, the body was finally removed to the Schrader Bros. Undertaking parlors.

Mr. Miller was born in Detroit, June 17, 1871. In his infancy he was brought to the Savior in Holy Baptism. He was married at Detroit in 1890. This union was blessed with three children, one of whom, a son, preceded the father in death.

In 1892 Mr. Miller came to a farm in Livonia township on the Six Mile road January 30, 1908 he was united in marriage with Mary Pankow. In 1920 the family moved to Plymouth residing on Farmer street until his death on Monday, June 10. During the year 1928 the deceased was afflicted with a disease with which he lay in Ford and Ann Arbor hospitals with his mind completely unsettled for more than 12 weeks. Symptoms of this disease kept returning from time to time and according to the coroner's verdict it was in one of these while his mind was temporarily blanked that he died by his own hand.

In June 1912, the deceased was confirmed in the Lutheran faith joining the church at Livonia Center and was a member of same at his death. His earthly pilgrimage was 63 years, 11 months and 13 days. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Miller, three daughters, Mrs. May Gladwin, Mrs. Lucille Gifford and Gertrude. Four grandchildren, a brother, Peter, besides a large circle of other relatives and friends.

He was laid to rest from Schrader undertaking parlors on Thursday, June 13, with interment in Riverside cemetery. Rev. O. J. Peters, officiating.

The morbid and curious got a break last Saturday as well as the delinquent coroner's office of Detroit when Governor Frank Fitzgerald vetoed the Fisher bill that would have brought to an end the practice of the coroner's office in permitting dead bodies of people to lie for hours along the roadsides in western Wayne county or along the banks of lakes where they might happen to get drowned.

This part of Wayne county, located some 22 miles or more from the courthouse in Detroit, has for the past two or three years made an effort to bring to an end the requirement of the coroner's office that the bodies of people who meet violent deaths be required to remain where found until someone from the coroner's office first views the body, then orders its removal. Generally the bodies after laying on the ground for hours are thrown into a dead wagon and carted off to Detroit where sorrowing relatives are forced to fight to reclaim the possession of their dead.

Bodies have laid at times for over half a day along the roadside or tied to the end of some boat waiting for the convenience of the coroner's office. It was this and this disgusting practice that Dr. Edward Fisher offered a bill in the legislature making it possible for justices of the peace to order the removal of a body where death had been by violence, pending the arrival of the coroner.

The bill met with the strenuous opposition of the Democratic members of the house from Detroit who came to the defense of the coroner's office, but in spite of their opposition the Democratic majority in the bill. It met with practically no opposition in the senate and went to the Governor for his signature.

No one had the slightest idea that he had any intention of vetoing the bill and news of his action caused great surprise as well as regret in western Wayne county.

Announcement was made yesterday that definitely an alumni banquet would be held in Plymouth this year. Mac Donnelly, president of the Alumni association has devoted much time to the event in the last few days and stated that it was the hope of the committee to make the affair an outstanding success this year in the face of the many difficulties that the association had before them.

The scene of the banquet will be the high school auditorium where elaborate decorations are planned by the decorating committee. Floyd Eckles is in charge of the ticket sale and has reported that the advance enthusiasm indicates a large crowd.

Friday, June 21st, has been set as the date for the occasion and 7 p.m. is the time. Many members of previous graduating classes have offered their services for the affair and an excellent program is being arranged for the entertainment of the alumni. A delicious menu with a selection of foods is being arranged to further tempt members to attend for the evening. Music will be furnished by the Patterson orchestra and several of the alumni has been asked to give musical selections during the program.

George Wolfrom, well known Livonia township farmer had a narrow escape from death Monday afternoon when a tractor he was driving in one of his fields, tipped backwards on him and severely crushed his right chest and arm.

He was rushed to Plymouth hospital where the Schrader ambulance and Dr. Luther Peck cared immediately for his injuries. Dr. Peck states that Mr. Wolfrom will be able to be out soon. There are no fractured bones.

The Wolfrom farm is located on the Merriman road, just a short distance north of the Plymouth road. Assistance was secured almost immediately and the injured man rushed to the hospital in Plymouth. His right side is rightfully bruised. It will be some time before he will be able to resume his farm work.

French Dealers Visit Plymouth

Plymouth last Friday noon had the pleasure of a visit from the 70 French Ford automobile dealers who came to America some two weeks ago to see the Ford industries in operation. Their visit was made at the new plant at Newburg, although the visitors were taken by it. After visiting the Plymouth plant, they went on to Phoenix, Waterford and Northville and then back to Dearborn.

The French visitors showed the greatest interest in the small Ford plants and expressed highest commendation of the park system being developed in this part of Wayne county.

Await Orders To Start P. O. Work

Beginning of the construction work on the new Plymouth post-office will be started just as soon as the treasury department sends its order through for construction to start. Henry W. Martens, of the Marten Construction company of Detroit advised The Plymouth Mail yesterday.

This well known Detroit building concern has been awarded the contract and the contract has already been signed by the government. All that is necessary now for operations to begin is the order from the treasury department for the work to start and Mr. Martens states that he is looking for this any day from Washington.

Hartland Choir Will Sing Here

A robed choir of about 60 voices from the music center at Hartland, under the direction of Miss Nellie Huger, will give a vocal concert at the Methodist church of Plymouth on Sunday evening, June 23rd at 7:30 o'clock.

There will be a "Hymn Sing" and part of the program will consist of the same numbers that the "Hartland Area Choirs" give in their coast to coast radio programs.

The concert will be given under the auspices of the Missionary societies of the church.

Plan Homestead Project Here

Merriweather, five miles east of Plymouth in Livonia township will be the site of a $500,000 substance homestead project if the plan just offered the Federal government by former Judge Arthur J. Lacy is approved by officials of the department of interior.

A delegation of Detroit men called in Washington the early part of the week to lay the plans before the government and received favorable comments on the project from the homestead division. The study of the report will be undertaken immediately by the government planning division and investigators from the government will come to this locality in the near future to inspect the 320 acres proposed for the project. The location is near Rosedale Gardens.

The Mission society of the Lutheran church will meet on Wednesday afternoon, June 19, at two o'clock sharp at the home of Mrs. Bertha Holmes on Kellogg street. Mrs. Holmes will be assisted by Mrs. Jacob Streng, Mrs. Petz and Mrs. Smeagle. Everyone welcome.

Mrs. O. P. Beyer visited her daughter, Mrs. Reginald Mowbray and family in Detroit from Sunday until Wednesday.

The need of the moment and the need of the age is more goods at lower prices—Glen Frank.

To Label Best Of Michigan Crops

Inauguration of a program to establish a state wide brand for well-graded Michigan farm produce was announced today by James F. Thomson, Commissioner of Agriculture. The program is a part of the extensive market development undertaking of the state department of agriculture.

For the first time in the history of the State, quality Michigan produce is to be labeled, the labels to be supplied through the Bureau of Markets in the Department of Agriculture. The label idea is the brain child of George S. Barnard, former State Senator and now Director of the Bureau of Foods and Standards, of the Department of Agriculture. The department is attempting to furnish these labels to growers, packers and shippers of Michigan produce. The label is to be used for identification purposes only, the one for first grade products having blue background and the second grade products is just the same as the first except that the background is yellow.

In explaining the system under which the department is attempting to improve the market for Michigan produce Commissioner Thomson said:

"Each label comes to the registrant with his name and address printed on the body of the label. Not stamped in, but printed on the press. Just these two labels are being released just now, and they are for the two top grades of any graded farm produce.

"Labels will be produced and sold to registrants by this Department only, at a cost of $4.50 per thousand, or 500 for $2.25.

Office expense will be deducted from the $1.00 registration fee. The balance together with the difference between the actual cost of labels and the selling price will be placed in a special market fund to be used to advertise produce bearing the Michigan Bonded Farm Produce label.

"Details of our plans provide that all persons desiring to use the Michigan Bonded Farm Produce label may apply in person, or by card or letter, at the Bureau of Foods and Standards and a form of agreement will be given them.

"If it is agreeable they may sign the agreement, furnish proper bond, together with the registration fee of $1.00. If the applicant is accepted he will receive a registration card for his identification.

"The plan is entirely voluntary. Only those need register who desire to use the Michigan Bonded Farm Produce label. All bonds, agreements and registrations are annual. The labels may be attached to any new container of graded farm produce in the two top grades of its kind.

"Any person, firm, corporation, association or exchange who takes charge of the grading of Michigan farm produce is eligible to apply for registration and use the privileged label if approved by the department of agriculture.

"Rose Marie" Next Opera At Navin Field—Ruth St. Denis To Appear

With "The Student Prince" the first of the "Opera Under the Stars" musical productions, now being presented nightly at Navin Field, attention turns to the second offering of the season, "Rose Marie," which starts its week's engagement next Saturday night, June 15.

Appearing in the cast of the forthcoming production there are several unusual highlights. Among them is the appearance of Ruth St. Denis and members of her famous ballet, Myrtle Schaaf, Metropolitan Opera star, and Bartlett Simmons, whose tenor voice is rated one of the best in the operetta field. Leonard Ceely will make his second appearance.

The music in "Rose Marie" by Rudolf Friml is among the loveliest ever heard on the stage. Of the melodies to be heard are "Indian Love Call" and "Rose Marie." The lyrics are by Otto Harbach and Oscar Hammerstein II.

This musical show lends itself unusually well for presentation on the enlarged outdoor stage. The outdoor settings, large dance numbers and other parts will show off to a much greater advantage. In fact, the use of a stage almost twice as large as any legitimate theatre stage gives the producers an opportunity to really turn these musical favorites into brilliant spectacles.

Both the scenic director and dance director welcome the enlarged productions because for once they do not have to work within the limits and confines of a regular stage, but they can let their imagination run wild as far as elaborateness is concerned.

The numerous Indian dances in "Rose Marie" will take an added significance with Ruth St. Denis and her girls not only participating in them but also assisting in training the entire ballet. This will be one of the few times that this international dance star of the concert stage has appeared in a regular production.

Not only will Miss St. Denis participate in the regular dance numbers called for in "Rose Marie" but these will be augmented by new and distinct dance creations for this show.

Many new faces will be seen in this second show of the season. The cast includes Myrtle Schaaf who will play the role of Rose Marie, Sandra Ward who will do the part of Wanda, Bartlett Simmons who will play Jim Kenyon and Frank Gaby, star comedian of the New York stage, will play Hard-Boiled Herman.

William Dollar and Gizelle, well known adagio dancers, who just came from successful engagements at the Music Hall in New York and abroad, will do some specialty numbers, acting as native dancers.

Leonard Ceely, star of the current production "The Student Prince," will play the role of Edward Hawley. Desiree Tabor, Hope Emerson, Elizabeth Crandall, Mary Rix, Ruth Reiter (a Detroit girl), Charlotte Lockwood, Bette Davis, Barnett Parker, Robert Bette, Mario, Fiorella and Joseph Lertora are among the others who will be seen.

"Rose Marie," as almost everybody knows, is fundamentally a romance of the great northwest, and in this case the Canadian northwest; it has mounties, Indians, half-breeds and prospectors, and all the vigor and verve of life in these open spaces. The story concerns the romance of Rose Marie, sister of Emile La Flamme, and Jim Kenyon, a wild and reckless young American prospector. Emile wants his sister to marry Edward Hawley, a wealthy Canadian. Hawley has had an affair with Wanda, wife of the Indian warrior, Black Eagle, upon whose land Jim Kenyon is prospecting. Black Eagle surprises Hawley and Wanda at a rendezvous and is killed by Jim. Rose Marie and Jim are about to meet at her home near the Totem Pole Hotel when she encounters Sergeant Malone with his mounted police who is searching for her. She consents to marry Hawley rather than disclose Jim's hiding place, and sings her "Indian Love Call" song to warn him. She had agreed that if she changed her mind to signal him by singing that she did not love him. After several months, Rose Marie is in Quebec, preparing for her marriage to Hawley. Jim turns up in an effort to win back Rose Marie and clear his name, but Rose Marie, who now believes that he killed Black Eagle in a quarrel over Wanda, will have nothing to do with him and Jim returns to the mountains. Sergeant Malone and Jim's friend, Hard-Boiled Herman, upon whom most of the fun devolves, manage to produce a confession from Wanda that she killed Black Eagle, and the news of this halts the marriage of Hawley and Rose Marie, who goes back to the hills. At the Koozenai Pass she finds Jim waiting for her. Together they renew their pledge of love by singing "The Indian Love Call."

The program was as follows: "The Key" introduction to the toastmaster, Mary Donnelly. Jack Sella. "Headlights," Junior class president, Jack Kinsey. "Horn," senior class president, David Cline. "Radio," accordion solo, Romaine Lee. "Flat Tire," representative of Junior Class, Jeanette Bauman. "Steering Wheel," faculty, Mr. Smith. "Hum of the Motor," three songs, Double Quartet. "Engine," school board, Mr. Burr.

DECATHLON
The Rotary club of Plymouth gave their annual Decathlon Meet, Tuesday night, and between sixty and sixty-five boys turned out for the event. The students in the 7th, 8th and 9th grades no team cooperation whatever, all points are made individually. The medals are awarded for the number of points you get. From 1800 to 2000 gives you a gold pin. From 1300 to 1800 gives a silver pin. From 800 to 1300 gives a bronze pin.

CLASS MEET WON BY JUNIORS
The class track meet which was held last week was run off during very wet weather. It rained throughout the entire meet. The juniors won the meet with 77 points, the seniors were second with 41 points, sophomores were third with 33½ points and the freshmen fourth with 20½ points. Firsts were taken by Kinsey, a junior in the high jump, a senior in the 100 yard dash and the 220, by Coffin, a junior in the mile, by Ash, a senior, in the 440, by Wagenschutz, junior, in the low hurdles, broad jump and high jump, by Kleinschmidt, sophomore, in the half mile, and by J. Williams, a junior, in the pole vault.

When wrapped up in yourself you make a mighty small package.
Twenty-five years ago there were only 10,000 motor trucks registered throughout the United States. The country's total has mounted to 3,250,000.

JUNIORS GIVE SUCCESSFUL BANQUET
The class of '35 wishes to take this opportunity to thank the Juniors for the splendid supper and very interesting program which they enjoyed as guests at the annual Junior-Senior Banquet held at the Hotel Mayflower on Friday, June 7, 1935. The banquet was attended by about 250 people including Juniors, Seniors, faculty members, and members of the school board. The program and decorations were all planned in accordance with the general theme which was "The Plymouth High School Super-Flivver." On the speakers' table was a large centerpiece representing a modern highway filled with automobiles, attractive bouquets of tea roses and maiden-hair fern were arranged on the other tables.

Lost First Game Won The Second

In the double header played Sunday the Plymouth Park team lost the first game with the Detroit Maroons 9 to 6 and won the second by a score of 18 to 9.

Singa who led his team in hitting by getting three hits out of four trips to the plate in the first game and who had held the Detroit Maroons to five hits in the first eight innings weakened in the ninth inning and the hard hitting Plymouth Park team lost the first game of a double header by the score of 9 to 6.

Plymouth Park won the second game of the double header, which was played at Cass Benton Park by the score of 18 to 9.

T. Levandowski, Zielasko, L. Bassett and P. Schomberger were the leading hitters of the second game when they got three out of five trips to the plate.

L. Bassett started the boys off to victory in the second game when he drove out a home run with the bases loaded in the big sixth inning rally. Tonkovich and P. Schomberger also got a home run in this game.

Gates, Zielasko and L. Bassett played a great game in the infield in both games, when they committed but one misplay.

Next Sunday at one o'clock the Plymouth Park team will play the Trojans from Detroit at Cass Benton Park and at three o'clock the same teams will play at Riverside Park. Both games being league games. Don't forget two games next Sunday.

ON AND OFF THE RECORD

Few people know that Eloise Hospital is housing 63000 dependant poor and many hundred insane patients. Fewer people know or stop to realize what expense this means to the county.

Eloise, a city itself, consumes an unbelievable amount of eatables. For instance a report and survey by Bill Davey, county accountant shows that 1,738,835 pounds of meat are used annually. An additional 150,000 pounds of fish are consumed. Other statistics of this sort reveal an annual consumption of 8,000 cans of salmon, 35,000 pounds of lard. It might be mentioned here that a state law prohibits the use of Oleo in state institutions.

Think how far a half million pounds of sugar would go with your family. Add to this 100,000 pounds of coffee, a like amount of corn meal, a million pounds of flour, 50,000 pounds of rice, 75,000 pounds of molasses and 30,000 bushels of potatoes, and you see why Eloise is an important county factor.

'Hold up the edition, this is a good story.' This statement made on the Detroit Times by the crack reporter led to one of newspaperdom's best stories.

Orders had been given to tell the facts and tell them fast, with no adjectives and no sprightly phrases. C. B. as we will call him, from the old school and considered himself far superior, as he was, to the $30.00 a week assistant city editor. These young upstarts had told C. B. that he was coloring his stories too much.

As the remake on the home was going to press C. B. turned across the little round table and said, "here's a story." He reeled out a raft of copy paper and took fifteen pages of notes. Then as reporter and desk men watched with expectancy, he calmly wrote three terse lines and gave them the story of the day.

"There was a train wreck in Flint. Six people were killed and three injured." P. S. It was a Pere Marquette train.

Many county residents get angry when the tax bill comes along. Few, however, have the sense of humor of a Wyandotte man who very tactfully told county officials recently that he considered himself a sucker on the government question. Addressing a check covering taxes to Jacob B. Sumraski, county treasurer, he wrote Jacob B. Some Racket.

Laws are made for the general public, not for the exception. It is for this reason that the judges stretch a point once in a while and we find out that they are very human. A young fellow rushed into the county building a few days ago, and wanted a marriage license. He was to be married the first of the month. Because it was the first time that he had ever wedded and because he was unfamiliar with all the formalities, he did not know that he had to get a license five days ahead of time, and that holidays were exempt in this five day ruling. He had issued invitations, hired the church, and contacted the minister. He had neglected the license. When he got round to this part of the ceremony, he found that he had to wait until the third of June before he could legally marry. The county clerk was powerless to aid cupid, and the boy had visions of flaming the country when a kind hearted Probate Judge stepped into the picture and compounded a felony by allowing these lovers to unite.

A majority of county building employees visited cemeteries last Decoration day. I get the idea that goes, most all of us did. It is nice to remember the dead, and usually this commemoration day affords an opportunity for all of us to meet in a family reunion. As much as we hate reunions they usually end up well with everybody having a good time and afraid to admit it.

Laws which set the salaries of county officials and employees attempt to set up a conservative wage scale. It is neither high or low, generally speaking.

During the depression, when wages dropped everywhere else, they remained the same for government men. The result was that capable men who had spurned the small government salary of the boom days forsook their private business for salaries which overnight had become good wages. This government benefited through a depression that raised havoc for us as individuals. When prosperity is back to stay these men will in all probability return to private life and more money.

Summer is here at last. Wayne County Judges have doffed the traditional gowns of justice for the less dignified but ever as comfortable shirt sleeves. It is rumored that Judges Keidan and Chenot have promised their gowns to their children, who are enthusiastic campers but lacked tents. We were unable to verify this rumor.

The male of the species has always been the strutter and show off. That obscure scientist who broke into print a while back with the thoughtless statement that women had usurped man's right as the chaser and made him the chased, should visit the county building the first of every month.

The deputies in charge of the jury panels greet each new group of jurors with shined shoes, new ties, pressed clothes and all the spruceness of a Don Juan.

A deputy, however, is a peculiarly lacadastical person, and it is only three or four days be-

Crop Prospects Best In Years

Michigan crop prospects are very bright as far as they can be determined now, according to Verne H. Church, agricultural statistician.

The outlook for wheat in the State is for a crop 50 per cent larger than last year. This is much better than conditions indicate for the crop in the whole country where more than 13,000,000 acres were abandoned following the drought in the southwest.

About 46,000 acres more rye will be harvested in Michigan this year than last and the prospects are that the yield will be more than a million bushels higher.

Close pasturing last year failed to permanently injure pastures, which now are in excellent condition. Killing out new seedlings of clover during last year's dry season has made it necessary to plant more than a normal acreage of emergency hay and pasture crops.

The value of alfalfa on Michigan farms was demonstrated by its ability to withstand extremely adverse weather conditions. The acreage of this crop has increased from 74,000 in 1919 to 891,000 in 1934. The condition of alfalfa is quite good this year.

An unusually encouraging prospect faces fruit growers of the State as far as yields are concerned. This condition may be changed by later adverse conditions. Reports from southern states indicate a larger peach crop there than last year. California will have a smaller crop, and the conditions are unfavorable in the eastern states from Virginia northward.

Civilization is the history of surmounting difficulties.—Hoover.

Little Known Facts About Banking

If Banks Were Operated for Profit Only

Nowhere in the world do the banks put service to the community ahead of profits as in the United States.

The truth of this is shown in a recent survey, which revealed that "in the average bank 50% of the depositors carry but 3% of the total deposits" . . . In other words, American banks sacrifice profits by providing better banking facilities to more people than is considered necessary by banks in other countries. But that is the "American spirit" of American banking.

Need we add that service to the community comes first at this bank? Here the small depositor receives the same service as the larger depositor, and his account is just as welcome.

Settlers Like Alaskan Home

Mrs. Fred Rotz, who with her husband and two children left Plymouth about a month ago for their new home in Alaska as members of the settlement colony that the government is providing new homes for in that northern territory, in letters received here, believes that real opportunities exist in that country for the home builders.

In part one letter follows: I thought you might like a report on how the Michigan and Wisconsin settlers fared on the trip to the Matanuska Valley and how we like the country now that we are here.

The trip on the ocean was terrible and most of us were seasick all the time, but now that we are here, everything is fine again. The government men are working 24 hours a day to get things ready for us, and everyone has been so nice at Anchorage and Seward we have forgotten the bad ocean trip.

We feel everything is going to be a success and in a few months it's going to be settled down.

We left Seattle May 18 on the transport St. Mihiel as the band played and the people sang. The colonists knew the people of Seattle were friends, although unknown, while in Seattle we were shown the utmost courtesy and none of us settlers will forget.

As we left the harbor the colonists sang and played musical instruments, even going down the hatches to sleep didn't daunt them. The mother with small children were given cabins while fathers and older children slept in bunks.

Encountering rough seas by morning, three-fourths of the people were sick and no one was singing in the hatches. Most of us were sick the whole sea trip and we were a sorry looking bunch when we reached Seward.

When we expected to sight land people staggered on deck to get a glimpse. The beauty of the snow clad mountains and the cheerful Seward band playing in drizzly rain didn't get much attention as eyes strained for land.

From Seward the heads of the families left at 10 o'clock at night to prepare tent for their families.

Of course, protest was raised but it was a lucky thing for the mothers and children because there was no place ready to receive them.

At Seward most of the women attended the Dreamland dance hall and went sightseeing. Then we went to Anchorage and were greeted by the whole city supplying sandwiches and other food. The Anchorage women were lovely and did everything to make us feel at home.

We were cheered when we took the train for almer Camp. It's true the camp is crowded but the officials are working 24 hours a day to get things ready and no one can complain.

The men drew lots for 40 acres and everyone seemed satisfied. It is a lovely land and its beauty is already entwining itself around our hearts. Spring is late but the trees are green and the bushes promise berries in abundance. There are also plenty of trout, mountain sheep and goats.

The government is not forgetting us but working tirelessly. It's going to be a success, thank God, for even with children that are sick and fathers overworked, we have so much to be thankful for. In a couple of months it's go-

THE PRESIDENT'S DECISION and THE DEFENSE OF THE CONSTITUTION

By Walter Lippmann

The President's announcement comes to this: the question of what, if anything, is to come after the NRA for industry in general, is not to be decided until the country has had about ten months to study the situation and make up its mind. In order to assist that study the NRA organization in skeleton form is to be transformed from a law-making and law-enforcing agency into a fact-finding agency. This is a fair and sensible decision, and it ought to satisfy every sincere critic of the NRA.

It should satisfy those of us who believe that the NRA went wrong because it was set up thoughtlessly and in a frantic hurry. We should make ourselves ridiculous if we now complained, as some partisans are already complaining, that the President has not pulled a rabbit out of his hat and in a week produced a new NRA with all the virtues and none of the vices of the old one. We cannot have it both ways. If the right course in the summer of 1933 would have been to make haste slowly, then it is hardly the right course in the summer of 1935.

It should satisfy those of us who believe that the NRA has retarded recovery by introducing an undesirable rigidity into prices and wages. The President's policy makes this belief a practical test and we should be lacking in intellectual integrity if, after criticizing the NRA for its "artificial rigidities" we now become alarmed about "competitive chaos."

It should satisfy those who profess to believe that industry can regulate itself by voluntary agreement. For the President's announcement has the clear moral implication that he will not start wholesale prosecutions under the anti-trust laws before April 1st of next year.

It should satisfy Senator Borah, who asked that no changes in the Federal character of the American government be undertaken until the people have made up their minds. This policy provides them the opportunity to make up their minds.

It should satisfy those who do not wish to see important constitutional changes brought about by indirect means. Any scheme which would have sought to revise the Federal Code by some indirect device would have been open to this objection.

It will not, however, satisfy the partisans who are interested primarily in finding an issue to beat Mr. Roosevelt in 1936. They would like to have had Mr. Roosevelt go off the deep end and propose some half-baked amendment, and make them a present of the next election. They will be disappointed. Mr. Hoover, too, will be disappointed. His statement about administration proposals to change to a European form of government looks wishful in the light of the fact that there are no proposals to change to any other form of government. It does disclose Mr. Hoover's ambitions and his hopes: what a windfall it would be for an eager candidate of the opposition if only Mr. Roosevelt would propose to abolish the Federal Constitution! But it is the idea of an incurable amateur. Mr. Hoover must think that the President is as lacking in political insight as he is himself. He must think the President does not know that the amendment to turn over to the national government omnipotent powers to regulate wages, hours, working conditions, trade practices and prices would not be ratified by ten American states, that it would divide and wreck utterly the Democratic party, that it would be just about the most superlative piece of idiocy by which any public leader ever sought to cut his own throat.

The defense of the American Constitution is a serious matter, not one to be made the football of partisan politics. It cannot be conducted by adjectives, slogans, catchwords and small potatoes. The real defense depends upon constraining by actual results that the division of powers between the national and the state governments is such that every real need of the people, in emergencies and in normal times, can be dealt with. Sound constitutionalists, like Senator Borah, hold that all necessary power can be found. For they realize, as Alexander Hamilton pointed out when he was arguing for the constitutionality of the Bank of the United States, that unless adequate powers exist somewhere in our system "the United States would furnish the singular spectacle of a political society without sovereignty, or of a people governed without government."

There are two questions which are now before the people. One is to determine how much of the NRA regulation of industry is in fact necessary to the national welfare. Much of it, like the regulation of the wages of chicken-killers in New York, is not necessary, as General Johnson admitted in his excellent speech on Tuesday night. Some of it, such as the regulation of the coal-mining industry, is by common consent recognized as necessary. Between these two poles lie all sorts of cases, some of which may and some of which may not need Federal control. Each would have to be decided on its merits precisely as the coal and poultry cases are being decided on their merits.

This first question is not a question of law but of fact and of public policy. When it is decided, the second question arises which is whether when Federal regulation is deemed necessary, the Federal power—as the Court interprets it—exists. Senator Borah thinks that the power will be found to exist, and our whole constitutional history justifies the belief that where the need of Federal regulation is clearly demonstrated and the method of regulation carefully considered and reasonably administered the Court will sustain Congress. If it did not do that, we should have a dangerously rigid government whereas, in fact, we have a prudently flexible government. If we did not have it, a nation of 120 millions would not have remained and continued to revere a Constitution which has endured longer than any other in modern history.

It can hardly be doubted that immense powers exist for regulating any industry which is truly national in its character. The anti-trust laws are an arsenal of powers which can be used to encourage socially desirable combinations and to discourage socially undesirable ones. Who can doubt that where Congress can prohibit a combination in restraint of trade it can permit one under certain clearly defined conditions? The right to tax and to spend is another great complex of powers. Then there is the tariff. We hear much about the interstate competition of sweatshops. Is there any doubt that Congress can say to sweatshop industries, all of which are now highly protected, that an industry which cannot stabilize itself by voluntary agreement, trade union regulation and state laws, is a parasite and should be allowed to compete with the sweated labor of Europe and Asia. If, to obtain tariff protection, industries and the states (where those industries are located) had to meet decent standards, the tariff might become what it is always supposed to be and so often is not, a protection to labor.

There is nothing whatever in the idea that the Supreme Court has stripped the national government of all power over national economic problems. It has stripped it of unlimited and undefined power. Those of us who are glad this has been done must now show that sufficient and exact powers do exist in the Constitution.

In the concentration of interest upon the Supreme Court decision on NRA, little attention has been paid to another handed down the same day, and by the same unanimity, all nine justices agreeing. It is a tenable inference that President Roosevelt's apparent mood about the Supreme Court was caused not exclusively by the decision against NRA but also by the decision limiting the President's power to remove officials. When Mr. Roosevelt came into office he found among the members of the Federal Trade Commission William E. Humphrey. Mr. Humphrey had been appointed in 1931 for a seven-year term. Mr. Roosevelt, after he had been in office some four months, wrote

Commissioner Humphrey a letter: "Without any reflection at all upon you personally or upon the service you have rendered in your present capacity, I find it necessary to ask for your resignation as a member of the Federal Trade Commission. I do this because of the Administration with respect to the work of the commission which can be carried out most effectively with personnel of my own selection."

Commissioner Humphrey refused to resign. Mr. Roosevelt wrote again:

"You will, I know, realize that I do not feel that your mind and my mind go along together on either the policies or the administering of the Federal Trade Commission act, and frankly I think it better for the people of this country that I should have full confidence."

Again Commissioner Humphrey refused to resign. Thereupon, October 7, 1933, Mr. Roosevelt wrote once more, and finally: "Effective as of this date, you are hereby removed from the office of Commissioner of the Federal Trade Commission."

Commissioner Humphrey protested the legality of his removal. He died soon after. The executor of his estate sued the government for salary between the time of Commissioner Humphrey's removal and his death. The Supreme Court decided recently that Mr. Roosevelt's removal of Humphrey had been illegal and that his estate was entitled to $3,043.06.

This case is, of course, far from deciding that the President cannot remove any office whatever. On the contrary, Mr. Justice Sutherland, in writing the court's unanimous decision, specifically said the Humphrey case differed from that of a postmaster for example, who, Justice Sutherland said, is "merely one of the units in the executive department" and therefore subject to the Presidential pleasure.

Briefly and very loosely, the Humphrey case means that the President cannot arbitrarily remove members of judicial or semi-judicial or quasi-legislative commissions, such as the Federal Trade Commission, the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Radio Commission and the like. Removal of members of such bodies by the President can only be done for causes specifically set out by Congress in the statutes creating the bodies.

The immunity which the Humphrey decision gives to members of commissions like the Federal Trade one depends somewhat of course, on the language of the statute in each instance. It would appear that immunity against mere Presidential displeasure is given to a quite considerable number of commissions which are, as Mr. Justice Sutherland put it, "predominantly quasi legislative." Immunity is given to all commissions which are intended by Congress to be, as Mr. Justice

Sutherland put it, "independent of executive authority except in its selection and free to exercise its judgment without the leave or hindrance of any other official or any department of the government."

There is a considerable number of such commissions. The court's decision in this Humphrey case seriously handicaps whatever wish or intention Mr. Roosevelt may have had to bring it about that such commissions should reflect the President's will, as Mr. Roosevelt put it in his letter to Commissioner Humphrey, the President's "aims and purposes."

The "aims and purposes" which Mr. Roosevelt wished to further by removing Commissioner Humphrey were very far-reaching. I say "were," though I am not sure it is necessary to use the past tense. Such narrowing as has occurred to Mr. Roosevelt's aims and purposes has come about not through any change that is apparent in his mind, but rather because of checks put in his way by various forces. These forces include public opinion, a slight disposition of Congress to be less submissive, and now most of all the Supreme Court.

The full meaning of the Humphrey decision cannot be understood without knowing the atmosphere and circumstances. At the time President Roosevelt removed Mr. Humphrey the New Deal was in high tide. It intended to bring about what Mr. Roosevelt had called a "new economic order."

In this new order the Federal Trade Commission was designed to be, next to the President himself, the heart and brain. The intention at that time was to greatly expand the powers of the Federal Trade Commission. It was to take in supervision over securities and stock exchanges. The purpose of the combined powers then intended to be given to the Federal Trade Commission amounted to arbitrary power over every business and business man in the country, including power over the internal details of business.

PROTECT YOUR LIFE AND THE LIVES OF OTHERS!

THERE are three questions you should ask yourself about the tires you buy:

- 1—"Will the non-skid tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"
- 2—"Are they built to give me the greatest blowout protection?"
- 3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"

ANSWER No. 1—Harvey S. Firestone early realized the value of tire traction and safety and was the first to design an All Rubber Non-Skid Tire. Through the years Firestone has led the way in the design and development of tires with most effective non-skid treads.

Firestone does not depend solely on traction and non-skid tests made by its own engineers—it employs a leading University to make impartial tests for non-skid efficiency of its tires, and their most recent report shows that Firestone High Speed Tires stop the car 15% quicker than the best of all popular makes of tires.

ANSWER No. 2—Blowout protection must be built into a tire. Friction and heat within the tire is the greatest cause of blowouts. Firestone protects its tires from friction and heat by a patented process which soaks every cord and insulates every strand with pure liquid rubber. This is an additional process known as Gum-Dipping, by which every 100 pounds of cotton cords absorb eight pounds of rubber. This extra process costs more and is not used in any other make of tire.

Leading race drivers investigate the inbuilt qualities of the tires they use, because their very lives depend upon their tires, and they always select Firestone Tires for their daring speed runs. In fact, Firestone Tires have been on the winning cars in the gruelling Indianapolis 500-mile race for fifteen consecutive years, and they were on the 5,000 pound car that Ab Jenkins drove 3,000 miles in 23½ hours on the hot salt beds at Lake Bonneville, Utah, at an average speed of 127.2 miles per hour, without tire trouble of any kind. These amazing performance records are proof of the greatest blowout protection ever known.

ANSWER No. 3—Thousands of car owners reporting mileage records of 40,000 to 75,000 miles, is proof of the long mileage and greater economy by equipping with Firestone High Speed Tires. Let these unequalled performance records be your buying guide.

Go to the Plymouth Auto Supply and let them equip your car with Firestone Tires, the safest and most economical tires built.

Northville To Stage Real Fair

Board Doubles Amounts To Be Spent For Big Attractions

At the meeting of the Northville-Wayne County fair board Tuesday evening in Northville it was decided to make the 1935 fair the best the association has ever conducted. Sashes which have been made in expenditures during the past years for attractions due to general business conditions resulted in attractions not quite as good as offered in past years.

The directors Tuesday night voted to almost double the amount of money they have spent during past years for attractions. The advertising appropriation was for the fair to be held the third week in August will be by far the best that the association has ever had.

It was also voted to place the entire advertising program in the hands of President Nelson C. Schrader for this year's fair. Here too the Association had retrenched somewhat in past years. The advertising appropriation was considerably increased as well as the amount to be spent for stage attractions.

Instead of giving away one automobile as an attendance prize, the association also voted to award three automobiles this year, one for each of the last three nights of the fair. In addition to these liberal steps, the program the horse show and all of the other features will be enlarged and improved upon. President Schrader declared that Northville was going to give this fair of Michigan a real fair this year and that the retrenchment forced to follow during the last three or four years was all over.

"We are going to stage a real fair this year—you can tell every one just that," added the fair association president.

Two Old Families Of Salem Are United By Saturday Marriage

A wedding in one of Salem's old families is always an interesting social event, and that of Ford Atchison of Salem, and Leonarda Worsteling of Wyandotte on Saturday evening, June 8, was an unusually happy occasion. The marriage was solemnized in the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Atchison on the Six Mile Road, west of Salem.

A bank of cut flowers and decorative plants with white and green foliage was the setting for the bridal scene. Miss Worsteling made a very lovely bride in her floor-length gown of white organdy. She wore a three-quarter veil made with a rolled-edge cut of the tulle fitting closely over her blonde hair. An exquisite arm bouquet of calla lilies, white carnations and gypsophelia completed the charming costume. Miss Suzanne Worsteling was her sister's bridesmaid and was very attractively gowned in shell-pink organdy. She wore a small white hat and carried white flowers, stocks, carnations and gypsophelia. Mr. Atchison was attended by his cousin, Rex Perkins of Lake Odessa.

The service was read by Rev. Cora Pennell of the Salem Federated church and Miss Dorothy Krueger of Wyandotte played the wedding march. Immediately following the service supper was served to nearly one hundred guests. In the center of the bridal table was a forty pound fruit cake baked and decorated in a Wyandotte Bakery.

On each side of the cake were white tapers and graceful arrangements of white stocks accented with a few sprays of orchid stocks. The catering was done by the north circle of the Federated church, and the menu planned by the ladies carried out the general color scheme of green and white.

The old homestead which has been in the family for several generations made a romantic setting for the marriage festivities, and brought back happy memories to many of the guests.

Among the non-resident relatives and friends present were: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Worsteling and daughter of Wyandotte, Dr. and Mrs. George Robertson of Battle Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Merton Robertson of Kalamazoo, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Perkins and son Rex of Lake Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kitson of Toledo, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Dearing, Mr. and Mrs. William Hanert, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hanert, and Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Preston, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanert, all of Detroit and Miss Dorothy Krueger of Wyandotte.

G. R.'S ADMIT NEW MEMBERS

The Senior Girl Reserves admitted twenty-five new members to their group at a very impressive recognition service held on Friday, June 7. Part of these girls were new members of the organization and part were the girls from the Junior group who will be eleventh graders next year. The ceremonial was held in the darkened auditorium, the old members holding small lighted candles, sat in a circle. After the new members went through the initiation service and lighted their candles, they took their places in the circle. The following girls were admitted to the club:

Erma Bridge, Jeanette Brown, Patricia Cassidy, Dorothy Gates, Irene Ciesielski, Virginia Cline, Jean Dunham, Marion Gorton, Irene Granger, Elizabeth Hubbell, Harriet Ingall, Dawn Jacobs, Pat McKinnon, Ireta McLeod, Edith Mettetal, Florence Norton, Ellen Mulry, Angie Roginski, Norma Jean Roe, Jewel Starkweather, Phyllis Stewart, Winnifred Steiner, Madeline Weller.

At the conclusion of the recognition service, the installation of officers for next year took place. The retiring and incoming officers were seated on opposite sides of the circle; for each office the retiring member presented the symbols of his office to his successor and the two exchanged places in the circle. Gwendolyn Dunlop succeeded Joan Cassidy in the presidency, Elizabeth Whipple succeeded Yvonne Hearn as vice president, Gwendolyn Dunlop turned her office of secretary over to Jewel Starkweather, Barbara Hubbell took the place of the retiring treasurer, Abbie Melow, Florence Norton succeeded Jean Joliffe as the retiring representative, Miriam Brown turned over the duties of the Inter-club councilor to Pat McKinnon. The following committee chairmen were also installed:

Program, Elizabeth Whipple. Service, Jeanette Bauman. Devotional, Iola Curtis. Ways and Means, Jean Roediger. Music, Madeline Weller. Social, Patricia Cassidy. Publicity, Marion Gorton.

AWARDS PRESENTED AT HONOR ASSEMBLY

Senior high school awards were presented at an honor assembly held on Wednesday, June 5. Miriam Brown acted as chairman and she first introduced Miss Ford who presented drama awards to Norvall Bovee, Alvah Elzerman, Miriam Brown, Jack Selle, Elizabeth Whipple, Jean Brocklehurst, and Harold Jacobs for outstanding work in the Senior Drama Club. The Sophomore girl's soccer letters were presented by Jean Dunham. Soccer letters for the junior girls were awarded by Jean Roediger and those for the Seniors by Marian Van Amberg. Mrs. George Wilcox presented the prizes for the DAR historical essay contest; in the twelfth grade first prize went to Katherine Schultz and second to Lillian Blake; in the eighth grade first prize was awarded to Shirley Sorenson and second to Elaine Effer. Mr. Evans presented the boys' tennis letters, a hand award to James Livingston, and also awards to Jack Birchall, Harold Thorne, Robert Egge, and Dawn Jacobs for outstanding work in the Southeastern Association. Miss Wells read the scholarship honor roll and Miss Waldorf presented forensic awards in declamation, oratory, and extemporaneous speaking. Mr. Latture awarded medals to the debaters. In the orchestra Robert Soth and Gerald Hartling were honored. Mr. Matheson presented varsity letters to the members of the football, track, basketball, baseball, tennis, and volley ball teams.

TRIPPING AMONG THE DAFFODILS

I wish that I could place the end of the column first and then just keep on writing, although now that examinations are here every one is quietly and seriously studying and I would not have much to write about any way. Chemistry class still holds its interest in spite of spring fever or anything. Mr. Evans said that the only difference between Ivory soap and ordinary soap was that you can find it when you want it. We all know that Krumm goes in the tall, dark and handsome, and in that class is Harold Wagenschutz (he couldn't be any taller) who, we heard, paid Krumm's class dues.

Dear readers, pardon me for just a serious thought about the Seniors before they leave. This not only means that we will not see them in and about the halls and class rooms but also that they leave a place where they had exceeded talent that is going to be hard for the juniors to replace. It will be the juniors' job to fill those foot-prints in athletics, dramatics, art, and debating, and so on with the next year another class will have to take up the torch and move higher toward the top, so we must, prepare ourselves, for some day we will be seniors and may wish that we had done just a little more to reach the goal.

NOSING AROUND

Well my "frans" it has been a long time since you have seen this article in print because of the lack of news. But as this is the last issue and so far as I am concerned my last article is a member of a high school staff. I have debated considerable time to finding out for my readers just what the real reasons for certain romances in PHS really are. In the case of Kinsey and Whipple it is Whipple's love for "big" men. You know football stars and blushing romances. At least this has always been the case in the past. So why not now? Selle and McKinnon. No special reason. Jack has always invited, and Pat has "almost" always accepted.

Fishlock and Swegles. Several things enter in here. Rex likes to fancy dance, if that's what you call it, and Doris has learned to follow. Doris likes green cars no matter what color they are and Rex has always had green cars. They both like to ride. So they go for rides often.

Whoever thought a nose could ever have anything to do with romance? Nevertheless it has, because Joan, so I've been told, likes "Snozzola" Burley's nose. In case it reminds her of Maurice Chevalier. Snoz likes Joan just because she is Joan "we guess."

Probably some of you have already been wondering about Miriam Brown and Joe. Although Joe isn't a student he has taken a great interest in the senior class activities. Well all I can find out is that it has always been Joe, so why change? Very good reasoning I say.

Oh, yes, we must not forget Alvah Elzerman and Yvonne Hearn. This also is a very hard case to figure out but I believe it boils down to two main points. Yvonne likes "dominating men" and Alvah likes to have people jump when he speaks.

Did I hear someone mention Peggy T. and Harold C? Well that isn't hard at all. Harold likes red hair, quiet people, and short people like Peggy. If you stop and think, is all of these. She in turn likes athletic heroes, quiet people, and people with executive ability. Isn't Harold all of these in one. I should say he was. You see it wasn't hard at all.

Now last but not least in this series of, shall we say, "lasting or lengthy romances" comes Bob "Prof" Soth and dark-haired former girl Barbara Hix. Even in mentioning these two names there is enough said but I shall say more. Bob has always leaned a little toward brunettes, he likes to drive and has a "has been" Ford with which he can play the roads between Plymouth and the Hix residence at a certain rate of speed which he enjoys immensely. Barbara likes blondes, so it seems, and above all, big men with minds of their own. So again it isn't so strange.

There are other romances I could mention but I think the most outstanding ones have been covered. So I will say "adieu" and "good luck."

Do you like to play golf? Would you like to learn? If so Plymouth students will have the splendid opportunity to play at the Plymouth Hills Course all day on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays instead of the former two days, for ten cents and their student Council ticket. Student Council tickets will be filed at the office for those who wish to purchase their tickets during the summer.

CENTRAL SCHOOL NOTES

The kindergartners have read the story "Run! Run!" in their pre-primers and are now reading "Come to Dinner" from their primers. They illustrated the story "Ezra, the Elephant" last week. Mrs. Paulerson visited the morning kindergarten last week. Billy Pruette was health inspector in Mrs. Cassidy's room last week. The Canaries are reading from the "Fun Book." Rose Marie Erickson read a story to the kindergarten last week. For language the children are working on a Dutch project.

Miss De Waele's pupils composed the words to a Memorial Day song entitled "Our Flag." They sang it for the children in Miss Prant's room. Last week they went down to Kellogg Park to view the Plymouth Rock. Everyone is very much interested in watching their two pollywogs grow, and also their violet and mossy plants.

The Fairies in Miss Weatherhead's room are reading "Good Times on the Farm." They made rain posters last week.

Mrs. Bird's third grade A's have finished the "Child Study Readers" and are now reading the Children's Own Readers. The class is studying the phlox in nature study. In hygiene they are comparing the old health methods of curing ills with the present methods and find it very amusing.

Miss Sly's students have made some very fine English posters. Designs and pictures of flowers were made by Miss Widmayer's pupils in art class. They have been cutting out designs also and mounting them on colored paper. The fourth grade A's are studying about the United States possessions and are now learning about the Philippine Islands. In geography the fourth grade B's are studying about North America. The four A's have started the adding and subtracting of fractions.

Mrs. Ulrich's pupils finished their books about Africa. Lee McConnell has drawn a very fine map of Australia on the blackboard and has colored it. The fifth and sixth grades are planning their picnic together, which will be held at Riverside Park. Not one of Mrs. Peterson's sixth grade A's failed in the Standard Achievement tests last week. In art class all the students made initial posters. They are starting a new book of short stories by Albert Payson Terhune. New window decorations for their windows have been made.

Front Page—There are more ways than one to arrive at a previously determined destination. In our case we at have references "Take Don Thrall for instance. He decided that a hearse was as good a means of transportation as any, and so he made an unsuccessful attempt to thumb a ride to Rouge Pool on a hearse. Not being invited to ride with the corpse, he also attempted to procure a ride from each car in the funeral procession.

Flash—Jeanette Brown is losing her brilliancy. She got an A.

Entertainment—The Hearn-Hale team seems to be good for something besides debating. It gives business to the local theater.

Editorial—Junius closes the column season as a failure. He entered the business two years ago with the express purpose of cleaning it up. He realizes, after reading the Ad Lib and Daisy Column, that he has been a horrible failure.

—Junius II.

Thursday was the Drama Club's last meeting for this year. Chairman Elizabeth Whipple and Jack Selle arranged the entertainment that bid the farewell to the seniors.

At a previous meeting members of the Junior Drama Club put on a try-out to be judged for their entry to the senior drama club. All tryouts were exceedingly good and everyone who tried out was admitted. They showed great possibilities for next year's dramatics.

The four highest Juniors in the Club will be Miss Ford's guests to the Lydia Mendelssohn Theater at Ann Arbor, Saturday afternoon. They are as follows: Jack Selle, Jean Brocklehurst, Elizabeth Whipple, and Harold Jacobs.

The nine highest members of the club were invited to have dinner with Miss Ford at the Hotel Mayflower. They are: Yvonne Hearn, Miriam Brown, Elizabeth Hix, Jack Selle, Alvah Elzerman, Jean Brocklehurst, Eva Scarpulla and Patsy McKinnon.

STARKWEATHER NOTES

Miss Stueky's first grade pupils held a party last week with their mothers as guests. A lovely program was carried out and dainty refreshments were served. Various stories such as "Three Billy Goats Gruff" and "Peter Rabbit" were dramatized. There were different groups sang songs, and others recited poems. Some children acted as host and hostess and others served. About eighty people were present. Last week the children molded clay animals, and Heinze Hoenecke has made a jig-saw zoo from wood.

The second grade pupils have been enjoying "The Tale of the Good Cat Jupie." The number two class has finished Stone's Silent Reading Book. Everyone in the room received A in spelling last Thursday. Forty-three gold star buttons were given out in the class. Last Thursday the class had a perfect attendance.

The fourth grade pupils have been mounting pictures in art class last week. The Palmer Method letters were given out. Helen Schelern is recovering from a recent operation in the University hospital.

The sixth grade pupils are learning to multiply by percentage. Leslie Lou Hosmer from Florida visited the sixth grade last week.

COUNCIL PURCHASES PRINTING OUTFIT

The Student Council at its meeting Tuesday purchased a printing outfit to be used for making advertising easier for the games and to print tickets, programs, and like material. It cost $78.50, to be paid in two school years, making the payments $40 each school term. The Student Council realized that this outfit would be very beneficial to all classes. Mr. Dykhouse announced that the golf course was open for the students on Monday, Tuesdays, and Thursdays.

It was decided to have the annual school picnic at Island Lake as usual and the seventh and eighth grades may go if they wish.

COME TO SCHOOL PICNIC JUNE 19

The time has arrived when we can prepare for the annual school picnic which is to be held at Island Lake, June 19. The seventh and eighth grades may go with the high school if they wish. Students will have to find their own transportation to and from the lake. So do not forget the date, give your bathing suit an airing and dust off the lunch boxes because we are going to Island Lake June 19 to have a good time.

ROCKS BATSMEN WHIP NORTHVILLE

The Rock's baseball team ended their current season when they defeated Northville last Friday afternoon 4 to 1. Again Don Schiffe held his opponents to only five scattered singles. The Plymouth boys made two runs in the third inning and in their half of the same inning the Orange and Black team scored one run, the only one they made all afternoon. The rest of the game was uneventful until the last inning, when two men out Sockow singled and Gates followed with a long double. Williams, who hadn't hit all day, came through with a two base hit, batting in the two men on bases. Zielasko grounded out first for the third out. Schiffe had four strike outs to his credit while Hochins of Northville had three. Sockow, the Rock's left fielder, and a senior this year, had a perfect day at bat with three singles out of as many trips to the plate. Schiffe, the Rocks have won eight games and lost six, and because they defeated Northville twice they consider the baseball season a great success.

The following is a summary and box score of the players.

FINAL MEETING OF G.S. HELD AT BASE LAKE

The Girl Scouts entertained the Intermediate Girl Reserves at the school Wednesday, June 5 with a potluck supper. Last Saturday the troop went to Barbara Olson's cottage at Base Lake to stay until Sunday. While there they received their second class awards Saturday night and studied first class nature work and signaling. This was the last time the troop can be together. They will adjourn until next September when school again starts.

We are blessed only as we bless others.

A pint of rye makes a peck of trouble.

Conceit is nature's gift to little men.

WINNERS ENJOY POTLUCK DINNER

The Junior Drama Club held a potluck at the home of Miss Ford in the club group held a contest to see who would get the highest number of points of the whole group. Only the twenty highest were allowed to go to the potluck. These were Douglas Miller, Doris Schmidt, Genevieve Pinkerton, Marie Stitt, Jane Springer, James Stevens, Mary Lou Wright, James McClain, Phyllis Barrows, Bill Aluia, Lynton Ball, Dorothy McCullough, Jean School, Nina Fishlock, Ruth Ash, Pat Braidel and Ruth Kirkpatrick.

TENNIS TEAM GETS LETTERS

The tennis team, although it has won only one match this year has great possibilities for the coming year. All of the boys were freshmen this year except Bob Herten, who is a junior. The boys are coming to the top to take some more cups to put in the case. Bob Herten, Howard Anderson, Gordon Moe, and Ray Martin all received their letters for 1935.

DOUBLE QUARTET SEES STUDENT PRINCE

Last Saturday evening, June 8, members of the high school girls' double quartet, including Madolyn Weller, Edith Mettetal, Norma Jean Roe, Patricia Cassidy, Jewel Starkweather, Florence Barbara Hubbell, and Jeanette Brown, accompanied by Miss Henry, attended the opening performance of the twelve-week series, Opera Under the Stars, at Navin Field. The operetta which opened for a week, showing that evening was Sigmund Romberg's brilliant four-act "Student Prince" with Leonard Ceely and Helen Ford leading a long cast of outstanding character.

NOWADAYS

The last few years have witnessed a number of timely deaths. In 1922 economists heralded the death of the anti-trust laws. In 1934 political tribunals announced the death of the Republican Party. In 1935 with unforeseen rapidity the President's National Recovery Act which has guided business and industry for two years succumbed to the superior power of the Federal Constitution. This, like the death of a person, has done much to unite friend and enemy of the deceased in offering their sincere condolences. Left wing opponents of the NRA were grieved to learn that nine high judges could declare void the acts of duly elected representatives of the American people. On the other hand, a few of the more stubborn opponents rejoice that at last our nation has returned to the beaten paths of our forefathers. Those who a few months ago bemoaned the "death of the constitution" have decided that this document has suddenly entered upon a glorious reincarnation.

It must be remembered that any criticism of happenings during the last few weeks are aimed not at our high judges, but at the set-up of our nation's lawmaking machinery. The judges did only what the law requires of them. If the majority of the people disapprove of their action, it is not improbable that there will be drastic changes in our governmental set-up. The NRA is dead; may greater laws rise up to fill its vacant place.

Wednesday, June 19th 2:30 p.m.—Meeting of Ladies' Mission Society

A letter of appreciation and thanks has been received from Director Hoenecke of the Michigan Lutheran Seminary at Saginaw for the beautiful hangings which the Mission Society donated for the boys' refectory.
"He that is of God, heareth God's Word!" Come to church every Sunday!

BERRA CHAPEL
Jas. A. Davis, Pastor
Sunday school, 10:00 a.m.
There will be no Sunday evening service as we are co-operating with the high school baccalaureate service. Thursday evening there will be a prayer and song service at the pastor's home, 259 E. Ann Arbor at 7:45 p.m.

"If we confess our sins he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." 1 John 1:9.
Dwight L. Moody said, "You may take a bottle and cork it up tight, and put it under Niagara, and not a drop of that mighty volume of water will get into the bottle. If there is any sin in my heart that I am not willing to give up, I need not expect a blessing. The men who have had power with God have always begun by confessing their sins."

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH
On June 16 at 10:30 o'clock our pastor will speak on the subject, "The Indwelling Spirit."
Bible school, 11:45 a.m. Curtis Hamilton, superintendent. "Christian Stewardship," Deuteronomy 8:11-18, 2 Corinthians 9: 6-8. Memory verse: "It is required in stewards that a man be found faithful." 1 Corinthians 4:2.
During the summer months, the mid-week prayer meeting is held in the church parlor every Wednesday at 7:30 o'clock.

"God the Preserver of Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 16.
Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matt. 8: 23, 24, 26): "And when he was entered into a ship, his disciples followed him. And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the ship was covered with the waves; but he was asleep. And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 131): "The mission of Jesus confirmed prophecy, and explained the so-called miracles of olden times as natural demonstrations of the divine power, demonstrations which were not understood."

The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

Moses and the Burning Bush.—Moses kept the flock of his father-in-law. One day he led the flock to the mountain of Horeb. "And the Angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush; and he looked, and, behold, the bush burned with fire, and the bush was not consumed. And Moses said, I will now turn aside, and see this great sight, why the bush is not burnt. God called unto him out of the midst of the bush, Draw not nigh hither; put off thy shoes from thy feet; for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground."—Ex. 3: 2-5. God commanded Moses to return to Egypt that he might lead the children of Israel out of bondage. This is one of a series of pictures engraved in 1625 by Matthew Merian.

METHODIST CHURCH
6:30 a. m. Epworth League. 10:30 a. m. Combined service.

The young people of the Epworth League invites all who desire to come, both old and young to join them in a worship service and breakfast Sunday morning in Riverside Park on the hill at the west end of the new lake. Bring your own breakfast.

The usual morning worship will begin at ten-thirty instead of ten on account of the fact that it is Children's Day. It will be a combined service. There will be a service of baptism and reception of members, and the annual Sunday school Children's Day services.

Mrs. Carl Martin's circle will have a picnic luncheon in Riverside Park at twelve-thirty Tuesday, June 18. Mrs. Fisher's circle will have a picnic luncheon at the home of Mrs. Gill on Mill street Wednesday, June 19 at twelve-thirty.

The regular meeting of the Sunday school board with the annual election of officers will be Monday evening, June 17. Sunday evening will be the Baccalaureate service at the high school which will be a union service. Hence there will be no evening service at the Methodist church.

SALEM CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Lucia M. Stroh, Minister.
Last Sunday, God blessed the service with His Holy presence. The songs, recitations and psalms by our children and young people were inspirational and splendid, also the songs by the choir. Rev. and Mrs. W. Baerenwald, returned missionaries, from Columbia, South America, visited the pastor Saturday eve and spoke at the service with a wonderful message of admonition to the parents speaking of the priceless value of a child. The Missionaries were enroute to the western part of the state.

Prayer meeting, Wednesday eve at the parsonage. All are invited. Thursday, the ladies will meet with Mrs. George Foreman in Salem for their monthly meeting and quarterly missionary meeting in the afternoon. Potluck supper will be served. All our friends and neighbors are welcome.

Next Sunday, the pastor will give the Memorial address to the Ode Fellows and Rebekah lodge of Plymouth. Members will attend our service in a body. They will bring their own music and have charge of their memorial service.

Sunday school following at 11:45 a. m. All our Sunday school children are requested to come to talk over the picnic. The pastor wishes all the members to be faithful in attendance as she is expecting various good speakers this summer. It is a privilege to hear these splendid ambassadors of Christ from other countries to our own U.S.

The end of passion is the beginning of regret.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Walter Nichol, Pastor.
10 a. m. Worship. 11:30 a. m. Sunday school.

The annual Birthday Party of the Ready Service Class will be held next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. M. G. Partridge, Penniman Road. There will be a potluck dinner served at noon to be followed by an interesting program. Mrs. Partridge, Mrs. R. H. Reck and Mrs. L. H. Felton are the committee in charge.

The women are planning a trip to The House of Correction on Friday of this week. Cars will leave the Presbyterian Church at 12:45 Friday. Every woman is invited to share in this interesting visit. Where possible, women are urged to assist by driving their own cars.

The Busy Women's Class will hold a sale of home baked goods at the Bartlett and Kaiser store on Saturday of this week beginning at 1 p. m.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed in this church on Sunday June 30th. First Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches will hold union worship services during July and August.

on Wednesday, June 26th. Watch for fuller announcement.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH
Richard W. Neale, Pastor.

You are cordially welcomed to fellowship with us this Sunday. We shall have a guest preacher in our pulpit this week, while our pastor is in Cleveland preaching in the Hough Ave. Baptist church of that city. Mr. Neale will also speak in Sandusky on the 19th at another of Ohio's outstanding conservative Baptist churches. He will return in time to preach at both services on Sunday, the 23rd. They are at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. We meet at 455 South Main St.

Our mid-week service is on Wednesday at 7:30.

The Young People's Fellowship meets on Friday at 7:30. Mrs. E. L. Kain is president. All young folks are welcome.

Sunday school meets at 11:15. There's a class for you. Meet with a friendly Bible church. Come to Calvary!

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Loya Sutherland, Minister.
10 a. m. Morning Worship. We bring a message in keeping with the Sunday School lesson on stewardship, "Should a Christian Pay the Taxes?"

11:15—Bible School.
6:00—Meeting of Pioneers.
There will be no evening service in this church. The pastor with the adult and junior choirs assisted by Miss Doris Hamill, violinist, will provide the Baccalaureate service for the graduating class of Plymouth high school. Mid-week service, Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Will our supper patrons please take note that there is a supper this Friday night. See menu elsewhere.

Please be thinking out the Vacation Bible school.

Keeping the hood latch tight not only prevents noise, but spares the latch itself. If it is free to vibrate, the screws which attach it to the frame of the car are likely to crystallize and break.

To Place Black Top On Novi Road

Highway Engineer Leon Belknap of Oakland county has advised The Plymouth Mail that the Oakland county road commission has placed on its program for completion during the present summer the surfacing of the Novi road with a black top from the Oakland county line just north of Northville to Grand River.

As this is the main outlet of all traffic from Plymouth north to the Grand River district, the announcement of Mr. Belknap will be pleasing to Plymouth residents who are required to use the highway that leads directly to Pontiac.

The type of surfacing to be done on the Novi road between Northville and Novi is similar to that completed last year along the Eight mile road. Travelers by using the Griswold road connection that turns off at the Ford factory in Northville will be able to find a hard surfaced road way to Grand River upon the completion of the Novi project.

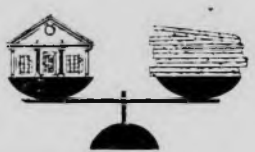

Every day we indulge in a wrong habit, it seems less wrong. To get pleasure give it.

by means of this Trial Plan

THAT ELECTRICALLY COOKED MEALS ARE

BETTER MEALS

There is actually a difference in flavor between electrically cooked and electric cooking. Until you have tasted a meal prepared on an electric range, you will not believe that this difference is possible. But the fact remains: ELECTRICALLY COOKED MEALS ARE BETTER MEALS, and you can find it out for yourself.

We want you to learn the HEALTHFULNESS of electric cooking . . . how precious minerals and important food values are SEALED-IN, instead of being poured down the sink with excess water or being lost in steam.

Here is the Trial Plan: We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, so that you may give it a thorough trial. During this trial period you simply pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Send in your application for a trial range today!

We want you to cook your favorite recipes on an electric range and see what a delicious flavor is achieved. We want you to test the range thoroughly in your own kitchen under all conditions, and become acquainted at first hand with its many advantages. We want you to try this modern waterless way of cooking, and see how meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices, retaining a delicious natural flavor.

HELPFUL HOME HINTS

IF THE cork is too large for the 4 bottle in which you wish to use it, roll it under a board to elongate it, after soaking it a few minutes in hot water.

A handy device for holding the safety razor blade may now be found in the department stores.

A tablespoon of vinegar added to tough meat or chicken will soften the fiber and make it less tough. Use it in the water when cooking. To make mint extract fill a bottle with the fresh mint and pack it in well; cover with alcohol and let stand for two weeks, then drain off and the extract is ready for flavoring and mint drinks. Use pure alcohol and it will be perfectly all right.

When steel ornaments, buckles and buttons of cut steel become tarnished rub them with unslaked lime and leave them in it for a short time, when they will be beautifully cleaned.

Suede shoes will be improved by rubbing them with fine emery paper. Corn meal well moistened with gasoline will clean velvet hats, collars, and felt hats so that they will look fresh and new. Renew the corn meal after cleaning and go over the article to be sure it has been well done.

Save the bacon fat, pour water over it and allow it to settle. The fat will come to the top, the burnt particles sink into the water. Skim off the fat and use it for all sorts of cooking. Nice for french potatoes, hash browned, or it may take the place of butter in gingerbread and spice cakes.
