BRAINLESS JACKASSES

Washington newspaper dispatches report in considerable detail the efforts being made by public payroll leeches in the nation's capitol who never created a dollar for themselves or any one else, to enact a law which would compel Henry Ford to divide up the stock of his company so that Wall street can either control the Ford properties or destroy them.

Every one knows that Henry Ford has been one man in the country that Wall street could not lick. Every one knows that the powerful financial interests of New York have tried repeatedly to gain control of the Ford business.

Now through the old slicker game of putting forth a scheme under the false title of "share-the-wealth" tax scheme, officials of the government admit when pressed by congress for details of the plan, that the measure is aimed directly at Henry Ford's industry.

Of course they assume that holier than thou attitude and declare they are not the tools of Wall street—but who else in the country outside of Wall street has the slightest desire to break up the Ford industries that have done more than all of the government's efforts combined to end the depression?

Who raised wages, who built factories, who employed men and women at a time when practically all industry was at a standstill, outside of Mr. Ford.

What did any of the so-called tax experts in Washington do to help restore men and women to jobs?

What did Wall street, the Morgans, the Astors, and the other money lenders do to give men and women work?

NOT ONE JOB DID THEY CREATE OR PROVIDE ANY ONE!

We who live under the very shadow of many of the smaller Ford industries know well what Mr. Ford did and what he is doing to help end the depression and to provide employment.

There are hundreds of men employed in this immediate locality on non-productive labor, men who spend their time landscaping factory grounds, trimming grass, caring for flowers and trees—all on the Ford payroll, and they do not make a cent for him.

How many thousands of men Mr. Ford employs on non-productive labor no one except Mr. Ford knows, but the total must be exceptionally large, judging from the number of men employed at this kind of work in western Wayne county, miles and miles away from the location of his main factories.

Neat looking lawns and flower beds do not build automobiles and for the production of the numerous beauty spots Mr. Ford maintains about his factories he spends money that is not required in order to secure "production."

Would the Astors and other Wall street money lenders permit "such extravagance" if they once secured control of the Ford properties? Would they devise ways to create employment as Mr. Ford has done, even though in creating these jobs they made no profit from them?

Not in a million years!

And still we find a certain group now in power in Washington trying to devise a way to break down all that Mr. Ford has created through industry, thrift and the production of an honest product. Either these officials are the tools of Wall street, working from the "inside" or else they have not the brains to know that the thing they are trying to accomplish is the very thing that Wall street interests tried to do but failed in the effort.

Mr. Ford has made a lot of money, no one disputes that fact. He made it by producing something the public wanted.

He is spending the money he has made by doing the things that employ labor.

Look about us!

Two miles east of Plymouth he has just completed a little factory building that the Ford company didn't need. He gave steady employment to some 30 or 40 Plymouth men in the building of that factory at Newburg for nearly a year. Workmen employed on the job have expressed amazement at the many little things Mr. Ford personally insisted on having done in and about the building that did nothing more than to create WORK.

Go four miles north over to Northville and see the big building project that Mr. Ford has started in that little community, all to provide WORK now and WORK next year and every year thereafter. Mr. Ford doesn't need the new factory building he is putting up in Northville. When it is completed he is going to tear the old one down.

Mr. Ford could have increased the capacity of the Northville plant by spending a few thousand dollars for a lean-to addition to his factory there—but that is not the way Mr. Ford does business. He is constantly looking for ways to make JOBS for men.

If the Washington officials whose chief possessions seem to be heads with the brains of jackasses, without the desire or the ability to create a job for any one else or to make a living for themselves except from the dole they receive in the form of a government paycheck, have their way, congress will pass a bill to take away from Mr. Ford the control of his own business.

We do not know what Mr. Ford would do if such a bill should be passed and signed by the President, but men up and down the street in their discussions of the proposal say that if they were in Mr. Ford's place and if such a bill should pass, they would tear down brick by brick each building, throw the accumulated Ford factory buildings into Lake Erie and let the brain-trusters with the minds of the jackass try and figure out some other scheme to make more secure their jobs and bring more working people into distress.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

EDITOR BLOSSER

Mat D. Blosser, editor of the Manchester Enterprise, is still working in his office and shop none the worse for his 85 years. Nor have his 68 years as editor dulled his interest in his work or in people. Far from being bored with life, he is absorbed in the fascinating job of publishing in the community every week a newspaper concerned with the doings of neighbors in Manchester and vicinity.

There are any number of citizens in Manchester and surrounding country-sides who will testify to his helpfulness in times of need, of his personal expressions of sympathy in the midst of sorrow, and of his constructive leadership in the things he thinks matter.

Editor Blosser thinks a man is as old as he feels, and insists he does not feel old. He isn't even proud of the fact that he is one of the oldest editors of the country. He takes it as a matter of course, and woe unto anyone who thinks he needs assistance. Not yet, at any rate. And if Editor Blosser has his way he will die in his boots, which to an editor like Mr. Blosser means that he will be planning a regular issue of his paper when the summons comes.

His many friends will join us in hoping that that event will be a long way off.—W. H. Treloar in the Washtenaw County Tribune.

But when we realize the enormous business which is being developed in Michigan by tourists, we should become familiarized to the extent that we always have a good word for Michigan. California is a wonderful state according to all Californians. We here in Michigan, are more likely to speak of our long winters, the heavy snows, and damp colds, etc. all of which we could turn to an actual cash benefit, if we were only sharp enough to talk right. Let's be on our guard and protect this great tourist business which is developing at an enormous rate. Let's go after this business in a big way!—Frank Bryce in The Grand Ledger Independent.

THE CONSTITUTION

People of the United States are liberal minded and, as events of the past few years have proved, will tolerate much in the way of experimentation. But this liberality does not extend to experiments with or drastic alterations of the Constitution itself. This venerable document is still the keystone of our democracy and is greater than any one individual or party. Closely associated with the constitution is the Supreme Court of the United States which commands more whole-some respect than any other department of our government and with which even the most popular and magnetic of leaders should not tamper.—Dick Cook in The Hastings Banner.

LEARNING TO BE HAPPY

To earn a living, you learn how to do something—then do it. You seek to sell your goods or your services, and be paid for doing so. Boys and girls spend many years learning how to prepare for life; they may learn a trade or a profession in detail, and become very able.

Though one may become most proficient in his trade or profession, why doesn't society emphasize more the need of learning how to be cheerful and agreeable and friendly?

School folks ought to develop courses in these fine arts of living—for what avail it if a man or a woman learn everything about a trade or a profession and not be able to be happy?—George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

ELECTION PROMISES THE BUNK

Both the Democrat and Republican parties will have to repent in sackcloth and ashes and give evidence of complete regeneration if they expect the masses to take any stock in their pre-election promises. The country has been fed up on that kind of chaff so they've got their eyes open, for up to now the present and previous administration have little to boast of.—J. E. McMullen in The Linden Leader.

THE SPEED BUG

The day is just about here when the guy who boasts he drove from such a place to such a place in just so many hours, averaging 60 or 75 miles an hour, will be looked on as a pure, unadulterated damn fool. The cemetery is now full of them and more being added every day.—Emerson Gildart in The Utica Sentinel.

Tremendous Trifles

CAKES AND WINE

The tea which was "served" at the famous Boston Tea Party one December night in 1773 is commonly regarded as the most important beverage in Revolutionary war history. But something should be said for the cakes and wine which Mary Lindley Murray served one August afternoon in 1776.

Washington had just been defeated at the Battle of Long Island and, by a masterly maneuver, had led part of his army safely across the East river. General Putnam's 4,000 Continentals were also retreating but it seemed certain that Sir William Howe's quick movement would cut them off.

So confident was Howe that when his companion, Governor Tryon, suggested they stop at the home of Robert Murray, a Quaker merchant, whose wife was a Patriot sympathizer, and banter her about the rout of her "rebel" friends, the British commander willingly agreed. Mrs. Murray and her daughters were charming. They gave Howe and Tryon and Sir Henry Clinton and Lord Cornwallis a warm welcome. The wine and cakes the women served were excellent. For two hours the British officers lingered.

During those precious two hours, Putnam and his Continentals were swiftly marching. By the time Howe took up the pursuit again, Putnam's 4,000 were safely out of reach. They joined Washington and the next day helped him fight the Battle of Harlem Heights, the only Revolutionary battle won by the Americans in what is now New York City.

Understanding World Affairs

The Approaching War And American Policy

By Walter Lippmann

By next month we shall have lived through the fourth year of anxiety over the prospects of peace. It will be the anniversary of Japan's invasion of Manchuria, and in all likelihood it will be celebrated by Italy's invasion of Ethiopia. In these four years there have been intervals when the threat of serious war seemed to diminish and it seemed unduly alarmist to believe that a serious war was in the making. Yet if we survey the four years as a whole there is no plausible way of avoiding the grim conclusion that the danger of war is greater today than it was four years ago, and that the forces making for war are in the ascendant over those making for peace.

Not one is sufficiently the prophet to be more specific than that. It cannot be said, for example, that if the Ethiopian war takes place it will eventually spread to central Europe. But it has to be said that it might spread to central Europe, and that, if it did, the Continental belligerents of the World War would again be involved. The balance of power in Europe today is delicate and precarious and depends in very high degree upon Italy. Although Mussolini has given assurances that his African enterprise will not alter his European influence, it is still true that wars are rarely concluded according to the plans of those who start them. Whether he wins a quick and decisive victory or becomes entangled in a long colonial struggle, the situation will be critical, because the German rearmament is proceeding and the internal tension in Germany is manifestly increasing.

The clarification of American policy has become an urgent necessity. The reason why it is urgent is that if there is war in Ethiopia next month the government will have to declare a neutral policy. In itself this would not be momentous, for there is no likelihood of our being seriously entangled in a war between Italy and Ethiopia. Italy controls the seas, Ethiopia has no navy and no aeroplanes.

What makes the matter so urgent is that the line we take in this war will establish a precedent in the event of a much more serious European war. The precedent would not be absolutely binding, to be sure, but it will have great weight. It will be embarrassing not to follow it. It will seem very unneutral not to follow it. It will become an important element in the calculations of all the European powers.

There are a number of reasons why it is so very difficult to formulate a satisfactory neutral policy. For American opinion is in favor of several objectives that are not easy to reconcile. Thus: 1. We desire not to be drawn into war to defend our trade or our honor. 2. But we would insist on not being insulted and outraged. 3. And we would not willingly let our normal export trade be destroyed. 4. We would like to be impartial as well as neutral. 5. But a policy of equal treatment for both belligerents would mean either that we became the tacit ally of the dominant sea power or came into conflict with it in defending our neutral right to trade with the blockaded power. If, for example, we prohibit shipments of munitions to both

Italy and Ethiopia, the equal rule would prevent Italy from getting munitions she can get, whereas Ethiopia would only be prevented from getting munitions that she could not get anyway. If we insist on the right to ship to both, we have to deal with the Italian Navy and we are, in effect, using our sea power to make up for Ethiopia's lack of sea power.

Historical experience shows plainly that in wars involving naval powers it is difficult, if not impossible, to defend trade and honor without entanglement and to be impartial in fact as well as neutral in law. For that reason there is no way of stating a general rule of neutrality which will be applicable to all conceivable wars. It will be just to all belligerents, will be consonant with the national dignity, will protect legitimate trade, and will surely keep us out of war.

What, then, is the wise thing to do? For a beginning, it seems to me, that the government should now declare a brand new neutral policy in the Ethiopian war, because that would establish a precedent which may be better to adhere to than the traditional doctrine with only such simple modifications as to have no complicated, far-reaching, and unpredictable consequences. The most obvious modification of the traditional policy would be to prohibit the shipment in American bottoms of munitions to either belligerent. Possibly that rule might be extended further to prohibit American citizens from traveling on ships carrying munitions outside the Western Hemisphere.

Rules of this sort would not be a guaranty of immunity in a serious war. But they would reduce the danger of very serious embarrassments and, above all, of deliberate efforts to entangle this country. They would be consistent with the American feeling against profiting from war, and they would not be regarded as an ignominious surrender of national rights. To set arms to those who can come here and take them away is different from carrying munitions under the protection of the American flag to a nation at war.

Except for a simple rule against carrying munitions in American ships outside this hemisphere, and for legislation to control the munitions trade by license, no other action by Congress now seems prudent. We do not know enough to make more comprehensive laws at this time. What we ought to do, however, is to keep continually in existence a kind of informal council, composed of the leaders of both parties in Congress, the members of the appropriate committees, and representatives of the State Department, to prepare tentative drafts of legislation for serious situations. The Navy has its paper war plans for all possible wars. The State Department and Congress ought to have neutral plans. Then, if war comes, a plan should be agreed upon and Congress called into special session to adopt it.

The obvious disadvantage of this procedure is that it renders our course ineffectual to the European nations. But since their course is incalculable to us, it is hard to see how we can commit this country definitely in advance against all eventualities.

New Deal's "Incoherence" Found in Case of Tax Bill

By Mark Sullivan

The tax bill illustrates two unfortunate aspects of the New Deal. The first is Mr. Roosevelt's disposition to think mainly in terms of mass emotion, of causing public feeling to move along whatever lines will serve the President at the moment. The second, closely related to the first, is the incoherence of the New Deal, its lack of any pattern, of any relation to any body of principles or any coherent scheme of society or government.

Mr. Roosevelt's message about the tax measure in which he emphasized "distribution of wealth" was thrown into Congress June 19. What any man's motive may be is wholly a matter within his own mind and therefore cannot be identified surely. But at the time Mr. Roosevelt sent his tax message to Congress he had two reasons for desiring to influence public emotion. Three weeks before he had tried to stir the country to critical feeling about the Supreme Court decision invalidating NRA. That had gone badly for him and he had reason to divert the country to thinking of something else. Also, he had reason to try to offset the appeal of Senator Huey P. Long's "share the wealth" slogan, in order to diminish the possibility of Senator Long's starting a radical third party, which next year would take many votes from Mr. Roosevelt.

That these motives influenced Mr. Roosevelt in sending his "distribution of wealth" message seems a tenable inference. The inference is borne out by the characteristics within the message. Democratic leaders in Congress received the message, by the evident expectation of the President that the message would not be acted on at this session, and by characteristics within the message. With its quotations from Andrew Carnegie and Theodore Roosevelt, it did not read like a message to Congress looking to specific legislation. Sending the message to Congress seemed merely one way of putting the ideas out and getting the public to think about them. That Congress should act upon the message at this time was an outcome forced upon the President, and upon a most unwilling Congress by radicals who shrewdly "called" Mr. Roosevelt's hand.

The bill reflects no program for the management of the country's fiscal affairs and no philosophy of government. It does not even make any material progress toward "distribution of wealth." As respects incomes, Mr. Roosevelt's suggestion was that those of more than $100,000 a year be subjected to increased taxation. When tax experts looked into what they discovered it would touch a handful of people and yield the government only about $5,000,000 a year. As "distribution of wealth," the bill would be only about one cent a year for each person in the country. As taxation it would not pay the expenses of the government for half a day.

When the House, improvising some kind of measure that would save the President's face, decided to go far beyond the President's recommendation and increase the tax rate of all persons having incomes of more than $50,000 a year, it found that only 8,000 persons would be affected and the total yield would be only about $45,000,000 a year. As distribution of wealth that would be less than 50 cents a year for each of the population. As taxes it would not meet the government's expenditures for half a week. The total amount designed to be raised by the bill from all sources is $270,000,000. The total possible hope from the bill, assuming business recovery comes, would be, according to the Congressional committee, "as much as $350,000,000 to $450,000,000 in additional revenue annually." As "distribution of wealth" it would be some $4 for each person yearly. As revenue it would pay the government's expenditures for some two weeks.

The bill is written without relation to the government's fiscal operations as a whole, without relation to any general program of taxation or to any plan of balancing the budget. The measure illustrates a pungent passage uttered by Dr. Neil Carothers, professor of economics at Lehigh University: "I have no quarrel with economic planning. What I deplore is the lack of economic planning. What we have had is guesswork and blind experiment and vacillating and mutually destructive economic policies."

This "mutually destructive characteristic of the parts of the New Deal has led some one to say that Mr. Roosevelt is taking America into a changed social order, not so far as he personally is (Continued on Page Nine)

City Asking For Federal Aid On Local Projects

Request Assistance On Work That Will Require No City Cash

The city of Plymouth, by authority of the city commission, has submitted two projects to the Works Progress Administration of Wayne county. These projects consist of the underground work necessary on Plymouth road before the widening of the pavement by the Wayne county road commission, and an engineering project covering the making of assessors plats and compiling other engineering data necessary for the city records.

No definite information has been received on these projects, but it is the opinion of city officials that approval will not be obtained by the time the CERA project work is terminated, which date has been fixed as August 22.

The city commission at its last meeting authorized the city manager to prepare two additional projects, one covering the paving of church street, and the other covering the construction of concrete curb and gutters on streets within the city.

According to the present plan it will be the aim of the city commission to have the projects approved so that no major costs to the city will be involved. On the two new projects it may be necessary to finance a portion of the cost by the city, in which case the property owners along the street on which the improvement is contemplated may be asked to participate to a small degree in the cost of materials.

A sufficient number of residents on streets may be interested in order to finance the city's contribution for this work. The cost would be rather small compared with the cost, were the work to be done under contract and financed entirely by the property owners. The city commission would be interested in hearing the comments of persons desiring curb and gutter on their streets, in order that they can be guided accordingly.

On many of the streets in the city, which are fairly well built up, a curb and gutter would be a big improvement, and the streets with the present old treatment would later be in excellent condition to receive a black top surface, similar to that installed by the county on Ann Arbor street east of Hamilton avenue.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am a coed, at a well known college. I am an crazy about a boy my own age who goes to the same college. He gave me a lovely cigarette holder for my birthday and his birthday is next Saturday. I saw a whisky flask, in a shop window, which was made to look like the seven of spades. Don't you think that is a cute present to buy him?
Sincerely,
LILLY KUPPS.

Answer: The present is all right, but he's liable to leave it on a table in some fraternity house, and some other student might come along with the eight of spades and take it.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
My wife and I had an argument last night about the army. My wife says in order for a man to be buried with "military honors" he must be a captain, while I say he must be a general. Which of us is right?
Yours truly,
LEW TENANT.

Answer: You are both wrong. In order for a man to be buried with full military honors he must be dead.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
Every month, a club I belong to, holds a meeting at which all the members have to tell a story on a subject which is told as a week before the meeting. The subject for our next meeting is: "The Stingiest Man I Know." Will you tell me the stingiest man you ever met?
Yours truly,
O. COMM TELMEE.

Answer: The stingiest man I ever heard of was a man who fell overboard and as he was swimming ashore a policeman hollered to him that it was $30 fine for swimming in that river and when the man heard that he just threw up his hands and sunk.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I bought a new suit, the other day, and the first time I put it on, the coat split up the back. How do you account for that?
Yours truly,
I. PICTICT.

Answer: The buttons were sewed on too tight.

County Selects Geddes Rd. For Economy Tests

Three Types of Surfaces Laid On Road In Experiment

Reasons for the widening and resurfacing of Geddes road, as well as the rebuilding of two concrete culverts and reshaping of ditches were revealed when Edward N. Hines of the Wayne County Road Commission announced that Geddes road had been selected as an experimental road to determine the difference in loss of gravel from various types of gravel surfaces.

Three different types of surfaces have been laid on Geddes road, just south of Plymouth, between Canton Center road and the West County line. A three inch stabilized gravel, clay and chloride surface was placed on the first mile of this road between Canton Center and Beck roads. The second mile west has been treated with calcium chloride.

The last mile was left untreated except in front of the residences. These experiments are being carried on by the research department of the Engineering College of the University of Michigan, in conjunction with the Wayne County Road Commission. With the induction into the county road system of approximately 650 miles of Township farm to market roads under the provisions of the McNitt Act, a problem in economy of a surface has been created with the improvement of these former township roads.

Results of the Geddes road experiment will enable County Road Commissioners to determine the best procedure to follow on the township road system, according to Road Commissioner Edward Hines.

Crop Conditions Best In Years

From the standpoint of crop conditions as a whole, the Michigan outlook on August 15 this year was the best for that date since 1922. Barring unusual late-season weather damage or losses, yields promise to be above average for practically all of the major field and fruit crops. According to the Federal-State Crop Report released today by James F. Thomson, Commissioner of Agriculture, and Irvin Holmes, Assistant United States Statistician, Michigan is surpassed by only one other northern state on the basis of present combined crop yield prospects.

The month of July was noted for excessive humidity and, although rainfall was below normal, it was ample in practically all sections except the eastern part of the Upper Peninsula and some northern counties of the Lower Peninsula. The loss of moisture through evaporation was much less than usual for a hot month. These unusual weather conditions were especially favorable for cultivated crops and, as a result, corn shows marked improvement over July 1 while beans and sugar beets made moderate gains and potatoes maintained the previous month's figure. On the other hand, winter and spring grains are generally turning out poorer than was anticipated a month ago, both in yield and quality. The damp weather favored the development of rust, and harvesting and threshing have progressed slowly because of the heavy straw, the lodged condition in many fields, and the absence of good drying weather. Fruit crops generally show a slight improvement over July 1, as far as indicated gross production is concerned, but since weather conditions have been conducive to the development of fungous diseases, the proportion of Grade A stock available for market will be correspondingly reduced.

The preliminary estimate of the 1935 Michigan winter wheat crop is for a production of 17,512,000 bushels which compares with a short harvest of 10,976,000 bushels last year and a 5-year average crop, 1928-32, of 15,343,000 bushels. Rye production is estimated at 2,758,000 bushels or the best crop since 1924. As a result of excellent growing weather, the condition of the State's corn crop shows a 14-point gain since July 1. The August 1 indicated production is 46,860,000 bushels and if this is realized it will mean the largest crop since 1925. Many fields of oats and barley lodged badly during late July and harvesting has been quite difficult. Yield prospects on these crops have declined somewhat as a result, although they are still above average. The August 1 indicated production of oats is estimated at 43,622,000 bushels which is only slightly more than the 43,098,000 bushels average production for the 5 years preceding 1933. The Michigan barley crop is indicated at 4,868,000 bushels as against a year average of 6,433,000 bushels. The warm weather has resulted in a rapid growth on field beans, tending to offset the late start. Humid weather during late July and early August has been ideal for the setting of pods in the early fields, but many late plantings will need a favorable early fall season to mature a crop. In general, this year's crop is better on uplands than low heavy ground where considerable spring planting was necessary this year because of heavy rains. August 1 indicated production on this crop is placed at 3,774,000 bags as against a revised estimate of 3,377,000 bags harvested in 1934. The United States dry bean crop for 1935 is forecast from August 1 conditions at 13,631,000 bags in comparison with 10,369,000 bags for 1934 and a 5-year average, 1928-32, production of 11,858,000 bags.

August 1 reports on the Michigan potato crop show that for the State as a whole the July 1 condition of 81 per cent was maintained. With about average weather during the remainder of the season, this figure suggests a total production of 26,800,000 bushels which compares with 34,304,000 bushels harvested in 1934, when the State's production was the largest since 1922. However, final yields will depend to a considerable extent upon weather conditions during late August and early September. In some of the Upper Peninsula counties and northern counties of the Lower Peninsula, the crop was in need of rain on August 1.

The August 1 indicated production of the various Michigan fruits is as follows, the 1934 harvested estimates being given in parentheses: apples, total crop, 9,975,000 bushels (6,464,000); apples, commercial crop, 6,000,000 (4,234,000); peaches, 1,988,000 bushels (517,000); pears, 673,000 bushels (745,000); grapes, 65,034 tons (61,145); sour cherries, 24,440 tons (24,990); sweet cherries, 2,220 tons (1,570); total cherries, 26,660 tons (26,560).

Police Chief Is A Champ Golfer

Chief of Police Vaughn Smith has returned with Mrs. Smith from Blaney Park where Mr. Smith attended the annual convention of the police chiefs of Michigan. He brought back with him a beautiful golf bag won in the golf contests played by all the officers of Michigan.

Plymouth golfers who have seen the chief driving away out on the local golf courses had no idea that he was the best golfer among all the police officers of Michigan, but that he proved to be when he won first prize in the contests at Blaney Park.

The Plymouth official was a member of the entertainment committee for the convention. One of the trips set aside for the visitors to the park was to the Tabouremenon falls. These falls, accessible only by a twenty mile river trip, are regarded as among the most beautiful in the country. Law enforcement problems, the increase of traffic hazards and new ideas in crime detecting were among some of the many problems considered by the officers. It was generally agreed that traffic regulations must be tightened to end the terrific accident increase in this as well as other states.

METHODIST CHURCH
The only service to be held in the Methodist church Sunday will be the Sunday school service at eleven thirty. The morning worship service will be a union service held in the Presbyterian church. The Methodist minister and choir will officiate.

The Ann Arbor District Epworth League Institute will be held at Silver Lake near Dexter, Monday August 26 to Sunday September 1. The registration fee is one dollar and the board and room cost five dollars. The registration is restricted to the number of sixty people because of limited sleeping accommodations. The arrangement is that the first sixty young people to send in their registrations will be received. After that the registrations will be returned at Plymouth. Young people therefore who desire to attend should send in their one dollar for registration at once.

For three weeks, beginning Aug. 18, union services will be held in the Presbyterian church with Rev. Norton as preacher.

At 6 p. m., Aug. 18, the young people will hold a potluck supper meeting at the home of Beulah and Jewell Starkweather.
The August meeting of the Ready Service class will be a picnic at the home of Mrs. E. J. Cutler, Nankin Mills, on Tuesday, August 20. Mrs. Partridge, Mrs. Beck and Mrs. Freyman will assist the hostess. Transportation will be arranged by Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. Harry Mack. Members are reminded that dinner will be served promptly at one o'clock.

SALEM CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Lucia M. Stroh, Minister
Divine worship next Sunday at the regular hour, 10:30 a. m. The pastor expects to speak on "Home Ties"—Christ and the home. The Sunday school session will follow this service and all are urged to be faithful in attendance. The pastor returned last Saturday, after a few days visit with her cousins from Chicago and Toledo, Ohio, to their birthplace in Salem. She will be eager to greet everyone in church next Sunday. Come, young, come old. Everybody come. Do not neglect your worship to the Lord and your soul's salvation. The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger and plenteous in Mercy. Seek the Lord, while He may be found. Call upon Him, while He is near.

There will be a splash party at the Jay Clark cottage at Island Lake this coming Thursday, for all our people and young people to be held in the afternoon and in the evening a delicious cooperative supper will be served. All are invited.
Prayer meeting every Wednesday evening in the parsonage.
The monthly bake sale will be held, Saturday, August 31. Mrs. Fred Lewis is the chairman this month. This sale is held in the Kaiser-Bartlett store, Plymouth.

The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

The Fall of Jerusalem.—Josiah not only renewed the covenant of the Lord, but he destroyed idolatry in Judah and kept a most solemn passover. He put away witches and all abominations, that might perform the words of the law. "Notwithstanding, the Lord turned not from the fierceness of His great wrath, wherewith His anger was kindled against Judah, because of all the provocation that Manasseh had provoked Him withal. And the Lord said, I will remove Judah also out of my sight as I have removed Israel, and will cast off this city Jerusalem which I have chosen, and the house of which I said, My name shall be there."—II Kings 23: 26-27. "And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon came, he, and all his host, against Jerusalem, and pitched against it; and they built forts against it round about."—II Kings 25: 1. Famine compelled the Israelites to surrender and Jerusalem fell, while the children of Israel were made captives. This illustration is from Matthew Merian's story of the Bible in pictures engraved in 1625.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH
You are always welcome at Calvary.
A lady who shares our fellowship gave this testimony: "I was brought up by a Christian mother, and converted to Christ in my youth. Because I wandered away from God He permitted calamities to enter my life: making my soul hungry."
"Since returning to full fellowship with the Lord and His people I have found happiness I never knew before. I am not guessing about salvation from Hell, but on the contrary I know I have a place of peace and happiness in eternal life."
"I have found the preaching of the Gospel which I so much need at the Calvary Baptist Church." (Mrs. F. B.)
You too will find God's message which satisfies in the Bible. LeRoy Tillotson will assist the pastor in the preaching services on Sunday at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. D.V. On Wednesday is our regular prayer meeting at 7:30 p. m. which we are grateful to you for which we are grateful to God. Meet with a happy, singing crowd. Come to Calvary!

Salem

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rider, spent Wednesday to Saturday evening with their daughter, Mrs. O. Ringel and family at Big Silver Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kehrl and little Dorothy Lou, Dearborn, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. O. Dudley on Seven Mile Road.

Mrs. Leona Dunn and daughter Frances, returned last week from their motor trip visiting relatives in Leavenworth, Kansas.

Master Valbert Groth, Plymouth spent Tuesday, Friday with his friend, Albert Ringel. Mrs. Don Norton and children, Detroit, were house guests of their sister and aunt, Mrs. Wm. H. Tousey several days last week.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. R. W. Kehrl was the general hostess to the Ladies' Auxiliary Society of the Congregational Church in the new part of Cass-Benton Park. Members and guests enjoyed a delicious supper under the beautiful willows. The meeting was held after the repast.

Little Shirley Schockow, Plymouth, spent last week in the Herman Schroeder home, on Seven Mile Road.

Miss Irma Kehrl was a Detroit shopper Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Payne and family and their sister, Mrs. Edith Burdeman, Dearfield, were guests Sunday, of their brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Payne.

Mrs. Herman Schroeder, Miss Schroeder and other relatives visited Mrs. Albert Schroeder in Grace hospital, Detroit, Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Kahler, little Marjorie and their mother, Mrs. W. A. Kahler, visited in the Ivan Speers home, Ypsilanti, Friday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Helmitz Ringel spent Thursday afternoon with her daughter Mrs. George Montague and family in Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Durrow spent Sunday evening in the John Gerst home, near Plymouth.

Mrs. C. O. Hammond, Northville, was a dinner guest of Mrs. Charles Mankin, Monday.

Miss Ellen Payne, Dearfield is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Payne for a week. The E. Gerahy family left Sunday morning for Alderson, West Virginia, their old home town.

Mrs. John Gerst and daughter, Flora, Plymouth, spent Friday afternoon in the Charles Durrow home.

Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Payne were

Salem

Mrs. Adeline Tunison and son, Clifford, Redford.

Mrs. Ronald Lyke and little Beverly visited her mother Mrs. Zella Livingston in Plymouth on Sunday.

Miss Doris Beasley, Northville and Richard Hale were Thursday evening dinner guests in the Donald Clement home.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Durrow visited Friday evening in the Chas. Schroeder home, near Wayne.

Mrs. Forest Roberts, after a long illness, passed away Friday, 8:30 p. m. in St. Joseph hospital, Ann Arbor. The funeral service was held Monday morning in the Federated Church, the pastor Rev. C. M. Pennell in charge. Interment was made in Thayer cemetery.

Last Sunday the two churches held an open air service in the beautiful Dexter - Huron - River Park. The service was enjoyed by a large assembly. Rev. C. M. Pennell gave an inspiring message on Psalm I. Rev. Lucia M. Stroh read the Scriptures and prayer and Rev. C. W. Lewis offered the opening prayer. The two choirs sang a beautiful anthem. This service was followed by a bountiful dinner with plenty of ice cream for all.

Attendance at church and Sunday school is small these days, the weather and vacations being largely to blame.

Remember the ice cream social on the church lawn Thursday evening, August 15th.

Raymond Ryder and sons Donald and Raymond visited at the Ryder home on Plymouth Road from Friday until Sunday, and attended the Sunday school picnic Saturday.

Miss Joy McNabb visited Mrs. Wanda Merchant at Union City and friends at Marshall, Concord and Jackson, from Thursday until Sunday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Pangborn of Whitmore Lake were dinner guests at the Marlin Simmons home, last Sunday.

The Ladies' Aid met with Mrs. Thomas, on Wednesday of last week and completed plans for the home coming at the school house Saturday, August 31st. It was decided to serve lunches; also ice cream and pop. There will be games and races, horse shoe pitching, etc.

Junior isn't much interested in the good example you set him if you are too self-conscious about it.

Question Box By ED WYNN The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I have a puzzle for you to solve for me. I like to bet on horse races but always break about even. Here's how it is: One day I win but the next day I lose. What can I do?
Yours truly,
WILL I. EVERWYN.

Answer: That is very simple, just play every other day.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
My father says it costs from $3 to $5 to have a tooth pulled by gas. Don't you think it could be done cheaper if the dentists used kerosene?
Yours truly,
A. KEETOOOTH.

Answer: If you're not having the tooth pulled, why worry?

Dear Mr. Wynn:
We are a New York family, and my son, who has just graduated from high school, is preparing for college. I asked him what course he intends to study, and he says he thinks there is a great field for civil engineers. Do you agree with him?
Yours truly,
L. M. A. BRAKEMAN.

Answer: What New York really needs is civil taxicab drivers.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
Can you help me? For the past two weeks I have been despondent and have the most peculiar feeling. Sometimes I sit in a chair for hours and suddenly something within me seems to rise, then go down again, and a little later it rises again. What do you think is the matter with me?
Sincerely,
WRIGHT MESOON.

Answer: From your description, I should say you swallowed an elevator.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am a man forty-nine years of age. I have traveled all over the world and have just returned to settle down in America. I have a big problem to solve first. I have spent nearly all my money, but still have enough, if properly invested, to keep me for the rest of my life. I think I have a bright idea. I intend opening a school for "stuttering." What do you think of my idea?
Truly yours,
IGO BACKEN FORTH.

Answer: Your idea is all right, but who wants to go to school to learn to stutter?

Upsets in Golf Champ Contests

One major upset was accomplished Sunday as the first round of the championship flight was completed in the Plymouth Country club championship tournament.

E. "Skipper" Schwimmer was the player who turned in a surprise victory over Jimmie Williams of Plymouth. Rather, it might be said that Jimmie created the surprise by losing Williams got off to a very poor start on the first nine at the end of which he found himself four down to Skipper. Williams rallied magnificently on the last nine, taking all five of the first four holes to become one up as they left the fifteenth tee. The strain was too much for him, however, and Williams lost three of the remaining four holes to lose the match. Skipper winning 2 up. Only two players from Plymouth remain in this flight now. Dick Gray who carded a 74 in eliminating Ed Fitzpatrick is one and Norm Wagner who advanced to the second round by virtue of a default from Herb Burley is the other. Burley was up North on his vacation and was unable to return in time for the match.

In the first flight, both first and second round matches have been completed. The four semi-finalists in this flight are Jimmie Williams, 2 up; Harry Fitzpatrick defeated Herb Burley, 2 and 1; Fred H. Hartcorn, 2 and 1; and Dan McGrew defeated Larry Anderson, 2 up.

Ed Schwimmer defeated Jimmie Williams, 2 up; Harry Fitzpatrick defeated Herb Burley, 2 and 1; Fred H. Hartcorn, 2 and 1; and Dan McGrew defeated Larry Anderson, 2 up.

Pairings for 2nd round. Championship flight: Norm Copland vs. Dick Gray; John Lock vs. Norm Wagner; Les Ash vs. Dan McGrew; Ed Schwimmer vs. Harry Fitzpatrick.

First round results. First Flight: Minor Sweet defeated Herb Cushing, 3 and 2; Herm Dworkman, bye; Bill Wein, bye; Dutch Jewell defeated Foster Piazza, 3 and 2; Roy Fisher defeated Ernest Burroughs, 5 and 4; Fred H. Hartcorn, 2 and 1; Bill Choffin defeated Bob Maw 1 up.

Second round results. First Flight: Minor Sweet defeated Herm Dworkman 1 up; Dutch Jewell defeated Bill Wein, 5 and 2; Roy Fisher defeated Fred H. Hartcorn, 3 and 2; Bill Choffin defeated P. J. Hartcorn 5 and 4. Pairings for semi-finals. First Flight: Minor Sweet vs. Dutch Jewell; Roy Fisher vs. Bill Choffin.

First Round results. Second Flight: Earl Mastick defeated Austin Whipple, 8 and 7; F. Wein defeated Dr. F. B. Hoyer by default; Troy Roddenberry defeated I. T. Pierce 4 and 3; Mickey Knapp defeated Elmer Zuckerman 1 up.

Pairings for semi-finals. Second Flight: Earl Mastick vs. F. Wein; Troy Roddenberry vs. Mickey Knapp.

walked away with the match 5 up and 4. In the first round of this flight Herm Dworkman of Plymouth and Minor Sweet had a nip and tuck battle all the way to the last putt on the eighteenth hole. Sweet had to sink a twelve foot putt to win the match 1 up. Dutch Jewell won his match with Bill Wein handily by 5 and 2 while Roy Fisher was defeating Fred H. Hartcorn 3 up and 2 to go.

Only one match was played Sunday to complete the first round in the second flight. It was one of the queerest match play rounds ever played at Plymouth Country club. Although Elmer Zuckerman's medal score was six strokes under that of Mickey Knapp, Mickey was the victor to the tune of one up at the eighteenth hole.

All players who remain in both the first and second flights have reached the semi-finals and the winners of the next round will be certain of a prize. There will be prizes for both the winners and runners up.

Championship flight, first round results: Norm Copland defeated Louis Campbell, 2 and 1; Dick Gray defeated Ed Fitzpatrick, 3 and 2; John Lock defeated Glen Hook, 4 and 3; Fred H. Hartcorn defeated Herb Burley by default; Les Ash defeated Leo Fitzpatrick, 3 and 2; Dan McGrew defeated Larry Anderson, 2 up.

Ed Schwimmer defeated Jimmie Williams, 2 up; Harry Fitzpatrick defeated Herb Burley, 2 and 1; Fred H. Hartcorn, 2 and 1; and Dan McGrew defeated Larry Anderson, 2 up.

Pairings for 2nd round. Championship flight: Norm Copland vs. Dick Gray; John Lock vs. Norm Wagner; Les Ash vs. Dan McGrew; Ed Schwimmer vs. Harry Fitzpatrick.

First round results. First Flight: Minor Sweet defeated Herb Cushing, 3 and 2; Herm Dworkman, bye; Bill Wein, bye; Dutch Jewell defeated Foster Piazza, 3 and 2; Roy Fisher defeated Ernest Burroughs, 5 and 4; Fred H. Hartcorn, 2 and 1; Bill Choffin defeated Bob Maw 1 up.

Second round results. First Flight: Minor Sweet defeated Herm Dworkman 1 up; Dutch Jewell defeated Bill Wein, 5 and 2; Roy Fisher defeated Fred H. Hartcorn, 3 and 2; Bill Choffin defeated P. J. Hartcorn 5 and 4. Pairings for semi-finals. First Flight: Minor Sweet vs. Dutch Jewell; Roy Fisher vs. Bill Choffin.

First Round results. Second Flight: Earl Mastick defeated Austin Whipple, 8 and 7; F. Wein defeated Dr. F. B. Hoyer by default; Troy Roddenberry defeated I. T. Pierce 4 and 3; Mickey Knapp defeated Elmer Zuckerman 1 up.

Pairings for semi-finals. Second Flight: Earl Mastick vs. F. Wein; Troy Roddenberry vs. Mickey Knapp.

Plymouth Park Team Wins Two

Behind Ed Sinta's four hit pitching in the second game the local Plymouth Park team was able to win two games from Redford A. C. last Sunday at Riverside Park by the scores of 10 to 6 and 3 to 1.

P. Schomberger lead the local boys at the plate in the first game by getting three hits in four trips to the plate he had two doubles, a single and a walk.

Gates was the leading hitter for Plymouth Park in the second game when he got half of the four hits the team collected. Gates had two singles in three trips to the plate totaling five in eight trips to the plate in the double-header.

The second game started out with a bang when Redford took the lead with one run in their turn at bat in the first inning, but it was short lived as Gates singled with one out in Plymouth Park's turn at bat and he was sacrificed to second and scored when C. Schmidt dropped P. Schomberger's line drive into left.

Plymouth Park took the lead in the third inning when T. Levandowski got a walk after Sinta flied out and was sacrificed to second by Gates and broke the tie as W. Bassett's grounder got away from the second baseman.

The final run for the Park team came in when T. Levandowski got three bases on the left fielder's second error and scored as Gates singled to right in the eighth inning.

The game of games is to be played next Sunday at Riverside Park at one o'clock. The strong Highland Park Orioles who are in second place by one game will be out to take first place in the Michigan Southern League away from your Plymouth Park High-Speed nine. The Highland Park team has a winning streak of eleven straight games. If you will recall just recently your local team had a winning streak of ten straight games so a good game is expected. These two teams meet in the first game of the season and Plymouth Park won by the score of 11 to 4. Game time, 1 o'clock.

OBITUARIES

MABLE ANDREWS
Mable Gertrude Andrews, was born March 22, 1862 at Fansom, Michigan. On June 9, 1904 at Whitehall, she married Forrest W. Roberts, a life-long resident of Salem and resided at the family homestead on the Six Mile Road. Mable Roberts was a member of the Baptist unit of the Federated church, and when she was well taught the young people's class and served faithfully in the Aid society.

For many weeks she was tenderly cared for in St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor, and her spirit was called from her body on Friday, August 9. Mrs. Roberts, willing if her Lord so ruled, "to be absent from the body and present with the Lord" planned the details for the service which was held in the Federated church on Monday morning. Her wishes were lovingly carried out with her pastor Rev. Cora Pennell in the pulpit, Mrs. Sarah Stanbro at the organ and the choir singing, "Lead Kindly Light." The body was laid to rest in "Thayer cemetery beside that of her "daughter beloved," Elnorah Curtis Roberts.

Mable Roberts leaves to treasure her memory, her husband, two sons, Earl Forrest and Clarence W., also two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Davis of Salem, Mrs. Jennie Bug-

Taylor Reunion Held August 7th

In spite of lowering skies and threatening weather the Taylor Reunion which was held on Wednesday, August 7 was a decided success. Fifty-four relatives were present. A beautiful potluck dinner was much enjoyed. During the afternoon games and contests were in order but owing to the heat of the day nothing very strenuous was undertaken. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Taylor from Mason, Mrs. Flora Taylor, Fav Taylor and Mrs. Claribel Fellows of Jackson, Mrs. Mercy Bartholf and Mrs. Bertha Walker of Rives Junction, Mrs. Samantha True, Loyd True and family, Mr. and Mrs. Flavus Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Taylor and several others from Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Post and family from Walled Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bradburn from Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Bradburn of Dearborn, Mr. and Mrs. Lou McKinstry, Mrs. Myra Tinkham and daughter, Mrs. Harold Diederich from Wayne, and Mrs. Kate Robson of Belleville, as well as many others.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vealey and Mr. and Mrs. George Vealey were the hosts and hostesses for the occasion.

The guests departed about five, unanimously declaring Riverside Park the ideal place for a picnic. The day was enjoyed by everyone in visiting, renewing the ties of relationship. Next year the reunion will be held at Pleasant Lake.

SITTING beside you on the cool gray stone,
I saw through your dear eyes the summer night,
The trees were shadowy, their dark leaves blown
By perfumed breezes . . . In the misty light
Of the far moon, I caught the pure white gleam
Of your loved profile . . . With your quiet gaze
Turned on the stars, lost in a happy dream,
You wandered far from earth's perplexing ways.

Return From 9,000 Mile Tour West

After leisurely rambling through 9,000 miles of scenic beauty trails, stopping at world famous spots of the natural wonders of this country, Mrs. Beatrice Schultz an employee of the Plymouth postoffice, her two children, Katherine and William, and her mother, Mrs. Katherine Seldomridge, have returned to Plymouth, with unforgettable memories of a six week vacation.

The party left Plymouth on June 28th, travelling along the Lincoln Highway. They enjoyed a short stay at Salt Lake City, visited Zion National Park and journeyed to Boulder Dam, "Because of the extreme heat, we had been advised to view this great project at night," said Mrs. Schultz. "It is brightly illuminated at night, so that visitors can enjoy it as thoroughly as they would were they to see it during the day. It certainly is every bit as immense as it has been said to be."

"We were advised to make our trip through the desert at night, so waiting until dark, we took the trail to California. Pasadena was our first destination in California. I had lived in that city for several years, and we have many friends there. We spent about two weeks in Pasadena, and also one week and visiting the Pacific International Exposition in San Diego. This exposition, though world wide, doesn't at all compare with the recent Chicago World's Fair.

"We left Pasadena and our next stop was San Francisco, and then followed the Redwood Highway to Portland, Oregon. Here we spent pleasant days viewing the beautiful Columbia river. When the fogs finally lifted, we got some beautiful glimpses of Mt. Ranier.

"While we were at Puget Sound, the entire fleet was anchored there. Visitors are allowed on battleships, and sailors transfer them from shore to the ships in what they term "little boats," though the boats carry one hundred people. They are the regular life saving boats used by the battle ships. We were taken through the entire ship by guides and allowed to inspect it thoroughly. "After starting east we stopped at Yellowstone National Park.

The trip home was very hot. Though the drive to the western coast had been cool and pleasant. And so, back to the Lincoln Highway and home."

"No," said Mrs. Schultz. "We didn't have a bit of trouble nor a flat tire until we arrived back in Plymouth. The next day one of our tires went completely flat. But we didn't care any more." she concluded with a laugh. "We were safe at home."

Final Results of Soft Ballers

Plymouth Mail again upset the dome beating one of the first division teams. With a chance of getting into the play-offs the Mail boys behind the fine pitching of Egluff beat K. of P. 5 to 4. K. of P. made a desperate attempt to stave off defeat with a four run rally in the ninth inning. With the bases loaded and four runs already in, Egluff turned on the steam and struck out the remaining two batters.

The league leading Wilson Hardware team again lost to a second division team as 1. Wilson's powerful team has not been represented by nine regulars in the last three games. There was only five of the team for this game. Frigidaire presented a new pitcher in this game who seemed to have the batters handcuffed with his windmill delivery. Passage of Frigidaire hit a home run and Les Daly of the same team hit four singles out of five times to bat.

Daisy encountered little trouble with the last place Hi-Speed team and beat them 11 to 4.

K. of P. came back on Thursday after their beating of Monday and hammered out a 15 to 2 victory that was called on account of darkness in the 8th inning. Fisher hit for a home run with two on in the 8th. Wagenschutz playing short for Schrader had a bad night, making 5 errors.

R. & W. with a 24 hit attack on Egluff's offering, spoiled Mail's last chance of getting into the play-off for the league chamampionship. G. Todd advanced to the batting championship by getting 5 hits out of 5 times to bat. Ratenbury and Orr each hit 4 out of 5 times to bat. The Mail boys made 13 hits but could only register 2 runs. The final score being 12-2.

Properly Stowed Bags Add to Comfort

Comfort, pleasure, and safety on a tour depend largely on efficient loading of the luggage, and modern body designs have done much to ease the problem. As these views of Chevrolet models reveal. In the upper left view, the suitcases have been fitted in snugly, the adjustable front seat having been moved forward to allow extra leeway, and the driver is now pushing back the seat to clamp the bags in place for the day. Upper right, the tourist is utilizing the baggage space back of the rear seat. The two lower pictures show the loading of a coupe compartment and a sedan trunk.

Delinquent Tax Payments Jump

Payments of delinquent property taxes have already started to roll into the county treasurer's office in the first week of the state's "big push" to reduce the back tax burden under which state, county and local governments are staggering.

Gov. Fitzgerald started off the campaign with the request that every Michigan taxpayer take part in the effort to put governmental finances back on a sound footing.

"The Legislature has provided the means; the state is doing its utmost to present the facts. The rest is up to the taxpayer," Fitzgerald declared. "He can save his home and save from 27 to more than 45 per cent in interest and penalties. Most important of all he can get a fresh start in new security freed from the devilsome worry over debt and the fear of losing his home.

Three reminders to taxpayers are being stressed in the campaign:

1. All penalties and interest on taxes for 1932 and prior years will be waived provided the original amount of the tax shall be paid on or before September 1, 1935.
2. Taxes for 1932 and prior years can be paid in annual installments over a period of up to ten years, starting September 1, 1935, with only a four per cent interest charge on deferred balances.
3. Regular taxes for 1933 and 1934 may be paid without interest or penalties before November 1, 1935, a four per cent collection charge being added.

The provisions apply to state, county, municipal, village, township and school taxes, as well as most city taxes. Delinquent taxes for all years except 1934 not paid in accordance with these provisions must be offered for sale in May, 1936, by the Auditor General.

The drive is being directed by Auditor-General John J. O'Hara who has arranged to have county treasurers send him weekly reports on the results of the drive in every county.

Public schools here will be aided by payment of back taxes, ac-

Pest of Insects Bothers State

The appetites of Michigan insects appears to be entirely out of control this year, and, as a final course to their banquet they have attacked sugar beet fields, which formerly have been immune from serious insect pests, according to the entomology department at Michigan State College.

Climbing cutworms and army worms are the offenders on the beet crop. Fields in Eaton, Ingham and Bay counties have been badly damaged by these worms which have migrated from spring grain fields which have been harvested. The only control method which promises control is the use of poison bran bait.

In sections where the worms have not already entered the beet fields, a furrow plowed around the outside of the field will act as a barrier, and the poison bait can be applied in the bottom of the furrow. More bait should be scattered at the edge of the field or on areas within where worms are already working.

Poison bait for cut worms is prepared by mixing one bushel of bran, one-gallon molasses, one pound of white arsenic, and enough water to moisten the mixture. A little banana oil is added to the bait to make it more attractive. One pound of paris green can be used instead of the white arsenic. Neither arsenate of lead nor calcium arsenate can be used in poison bran bait. The bait should be scattered thinly on the ground, 20 pounds will treat an acre.

Many a man who embarks on the sea of matrimony wishes he had missed the boat.

NOVICE TENNIS TOURNAMENT RESULTS

The Plymouth district tournament of the Detroit News statewide tennis tournament drew 37 men and 16 women. The entire tournament drew 3,200 players making it the largest tournament of its kind in the world. The Plymouth district was won by Ward Van Atta of Northville. Robert Champe of Plymouth was the runner-up. Van Atta received a tennis racket for first prize and Champe received a pair of tennis shoes.

The women's tournament was won by Ruth Adaska with Betty Housley taking second. The girls received the same prizes as the boys.

Ward VanAtta advanced to the second round in the finals at Detroit. The other three Plymouth entries were eliminated in the first round of the finals.

Mrs. Campbell says she has no bad girls in our institution. The officers of Cottage "G" second the motion; right here in Cottage "G" to speak "Ben Bernie" we have the most of the best.

We all know how things go for us when the Canning factory starts. First maybe the cook or dining-room girls go, our well trained quarter girl or yard girl or two. This is the point where our expression the Besta comes in. Every girl in the cottage lends a hand and we get our work completed before it's time to go to the Factory. We pull weeds and work in the garden after the shop closes and we still have time for fun, sewing and attending to good personal appearance.

Girls in our house ask no questions about what they should do. Our motto is "Is there anything else we can do?"

They took Hazel D. for the canning factory, but she is still interested in our garden that she finds time to help when she is not busy in the Canning factory. We have lots of garden produce.

The girls in Cottage "G" work in the morning and work at night, the sad part of it is someone is leaving our cottage each day.

Cottage "G" girls thank Mrs. Campbell for the compliment she paid to our garden. And the thanks for the radishes we gave her. We hope she will ask for more of them.

"A Funeral Home of Distinction"

We Point With Pride To Our New and Better Funeral Home

Ideally located in the residential district, away from the busy business section, our Funeral Home impresses with its quiet dignity, in striking contrast to the average commercial establishment. The leading Funeral Directors throughout the country recognize the fact that quiet, simplicity and relaxation from care are best obtained in the atmosphere of Home.

The development of our Funeral Home is concrete evidence of our desire to serve best. This desire is backed up by numerous progressive ideas pioneered by us.

We were the first to introduce to this community the use of thoroughly modern equipment. We established the fact that funeral expense need NOT be prohibitive.

Our Funeral costs have always been from 30% to 50% lower and there's a reason. We will gladly tell you why.

SANDWICHES TOASTED at a time

IN YOUR trial ELECTRIC RANGE help make summer entertaining easy!

IT'S a simple matter to provide refreshments even for a crowd of people, with an electric range: Toasted sandwiches made nine-at-a-time in the electric oven are the answer to many a hostess' problem! Here is mass production of food, certainly... yet each individual sandwich is as evenly browned as if it were made in a toaster. The gentle, uniform heat of the electric range is evenly distributed throughout the oven, toasting the sandwiches a delectable golden brown. The heat penetrates thoroughly to the filling of the sandwiches, developing unsurpassed flavor. And three complete trays of sandwiches can be toasted for a total cost of little more than a penny!

Why not try an electric range in your own kitchen on this Trial Plan? We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, so that you may give it a thorough trial. During this trial period you simply pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Send in your application for a trial range today!

Artist's Sketch of Bob Baughn Last Mon. Morn as He Reads Thermometer

The staff photographer was out early Monday morning of this week.

As he rambled about town looking for a good picture for use in The Mail of the present week, he caught the above photograph of Bob Baughn as he was gazing at the thermometer on the front of Smith's place on South Main street.

"Nice morning," said the scribe as he rambled by.

"Maybe 'tis, but if you look at this thing it looks like it might be about eight below," said Mr. Baughn, who can tell you the color and the accuracy of nearly every thermometer up and down Main street and along Penniman avenue.

"I remember back once when the mercury went down so far it couldn't go any lower. No, one knew just how cold it was," he said.

"How about hot weather?" asked the scribe.

"Well that's something I never talk about. I never even think about hot weather. I always try to think of cold weather—the days when it's good and snappy and you have to step lively to keep warm," said Mr. Baughn.

Grain Loans Are Now Available

Michigan farmers who prefer to hold grain and to borrow money on it to meet current production expenses can now obtain loans on grain stored on the farm, according to Governor W. I. Myers, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration.

Governor Myers says, "The production credit associations of which there are more than 550 in the United States serving all counties are equipped to make loans to farmers on a business basis taking as security grain held for sale and stored in farm warehouses," said Governor Myers.

"These will be regular production credit loans and made for any agricultural purpose. They will, however, give farmers an opportunity to borrow on grain stored in good storage on their farms and thus avoid the necessity of taking grain to the elevator or mill, so purchased later by another farmer for feeding purposes."

"The bulk of the feed produced is consumed in the county in which it is grown," continued Governor Myers, "and I believe it will be a distinct service to farmers to grant them credit on a business basis whereby they can avoid hauling feed back and forth to the elevator or warehouse but can store it properly on their farms and use it as security for a loan when necessary. Much of the feed produced in the United States is sold to neighbors and if a farmer is operating on a sound business basis, there is no reason why he shouldn't be granted credit on the security of grain properly stored on his farm just as readily as an elevator operator can borrow money on grain held in his elevator or warehouse."

"The amount loaned will depend upon the needs of the borrower and the security offered. These loans will be made to farmers who rate as good credit risks and who will give their notes to the production credit association together with a chattel mortgage or a warehouse receipt in those states where laws provide for their issuance on grain properly stored on farms."

Harold Hubert WJBK Announcer

Plymouth friends of Harold Hubert, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hubert, former residents of this city who now live in Detroit, will be interested in knowing that he has become a regular announcer for the radio station WJBK in Detroit. His hours on the radio are during the evening when some of the best programs are presented.

Miss Dorothy Hubert recently secured a position in the General Motors offices in Detroit.

Ingenious One-Wheeled Motorcycle

FLAUNTING laws of balance and engineering, Walter Nilsson, Los Angeles inventor, has built a one-wheeled motorcycle at a cost of $5,000. The unicycle is a wheel within a wheel, with a one-cylinder motor driving the outer wheel forward. In a test Nilsson rode the cycle 18 miles an hour with the motor in second gear. He believes that with the addition of a pneumatic tire the wheel can make 100 miles an hour. Sitting in a cushioned seat, he operates the wheel very much like a motorcycle, except that he rides inside the wheel, which is steered by a secret device.

Plymouth Road Work Progresses

The sewer and water main work which the city is doing in advance of the widening of the pavement on Plymouth road east of Mill street, is now about 40 per cent completed. It had been planned to have this work entirely finished by August 15th, but inability to have a sufficient number of men assigned to the project from the CERA has held up the work so that the original schedule will not be carried out.

Approximately half of the 24 inch concrete pipe, necessary for the storm sewer between Holbrook avenue and Mill street, has been completed and the balance will be manufactured by the middle of the month.

As soon as the sewer pipe has been completed, the storm and sanitary sewers between Mill street and Holbrook avenue will be built and the service connections installed. After considering this entire question the City Commission has decided that the cost of the work will not be assessed against the abutting property. Most of the material for the work has been obtained from the CERA, and the greatest share of the labor comes from the same source, so that the cost to the city is being kept down to the minimum.

The city made no appropriation in its 1935-36 budget for this work; therefore, would not have been able to finance it had it not been for the help received from the CERA Work Relief Program.

The man who sits and waits for success to come to him is sure to win the endurance test.

DANNY'S HOME-COMING

WHEN the first Jolly Sunbeams came streaming through the Green Forest, Danny Meadow Mouse began to be uneasy. He was thoroughly rested and the dangers of the dreadful night were already forgotten. Perhaps I should not say that they were forgotten, for, of course, that isn't quite true. But Danny had quite put them out of his mind. That is the way with the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows. Dangers that are past are not worth thinking about. They must keep their minds clear for possible dangers to come. So Danny's thoughts were not of what he had been through, but were wholly of getting home.

He thanked his cousin, Whitefoot, for all the latter had done for him and then climbed out of the hollow stump and once more started for the Green Meadows and home. As long as he was in the Green Forest he was anxious. He didn't feel at home there. He didn't know what to expect. He imagined all sorts of dangers. But the instant he reached the edge of the Green Meadows his heart became light. He still had a long way to go and many things might happen before he reached that snug little home and Nanny Meadow Mouse and the babies. But Danny's heart was light, for on the Green Meadows he knew just what to do and where to go. He could see Redtail the Hawk sailing round and round, high in the blue, blue sky. He knew that Redtail was watching with those wonderful eyes of his for a

Western Visitor Rotary Speaker

Plymouth Rotarians last Friday had the pleasure of hearing an interesting talk by a former well known Plymouth young man, Claude Henderson, who left here a number of years ago and is now a prominent lawyer in Mount Vernon, Washington and one of the well known citizens of that state.

Mr. Henderson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson of South Main street, has been in Plymouth with his wife and daughter visiting for several days. He is a member of the Rotary club in Mount Vernon.

He recalled the days of more than a quarter of a century ago when he was playing baseball on one of the teams that brought athletic fame to this community. Like all adopted sons of the west, he had much to say of the advantages of that country, the size of some of the cities of Washington and of the wonderful fishing that can be found in the mountains of the northwest.

William Wood, who was in charge of the program for the day, quizzed Cass Hough about his flying ability and climaxed the program by having Charles H. Bennett recite a poem written over half a century ago that had much to say about the flying business.

Tax Tidal Wave Still Growing

Michigan's thousand of tax delinquents are responding to the State's August drive to stimulate payments in proportions approaching a tidal wave according to Auditor General John J. O'Hara, directing the campaign.

"County Treasurers throughout the State are reporting tremendously increased collection," O'Hara declared. "In some cases payments have risen by more than 100 per cent."

"There is nothing remarkable about it. It is the natural result of a systematic effort to remind the people that real money can be saved by paying back taxes before September 1, either in full or under the ten-year deferred payment plan. It is human nature to forget. But with newspapers, radio stations and billboards constantly proclaiming the benefits to be had by immediate payment it is almost impossible to forget this drive."

In the interest of county treasurers, O'Hara requested property holders to pay as soon as possible to avoid the rush that will come as the September 1 deadline approaches.

During the week, the Auditor General sent county treasurers supplies of descriptive folders which explain in full the advantages of paying back taxes before September 1. Those desiring a copy of the folder can obtain one by writing their local county treasurer or by calling in person at the office.

First reports from over the state indicate that payments in full and under the ten-year plan are running about even. If this trend continues throughout the drive, collections will exceed the most optimistic expectations.

The largest check for back taxes in Wayne county last week came from the Continental Motor Corporation. It was for $53,778.00 and covered taxes for 1932, 1933 and 1934.

munism, but if he were in Stalin's place, driving the Russian car of communism, he would run it into the ditch of capitalism.

Incidentally, the "mutually destructive" quality of New Deal measures is illustrated by the killing off of meat animals two years ago, followed today by importation of meat. I am told that at this moment the meat being served at the National Press Club at Washington comes from Poland. If that is true, the some 500 newspaper men who compose that lively club are missing an interesting subject of news that passes close under their own noses every day.

A highbrow is a man who has been educated beyond his capacity.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO "BREAK IN" THE FORD V-8

You can drive it 50 miles an hour the day you buy it

THE FORD V-8 is ready for normal driving when you buy it. There is no tedious period of breaking-in for 500 or 1000 miles. You can drive it up to 50 miles an hour the first day. And after the first hundred miles you can drive it as fast as you desire.

That means greater motoring enjoyment for every motorist. It is especially important to motorists who are thinking about a new car for a vacation trip—to physicians, salesmen and all those who use a car for business. Instead of dragging along at slow speeds for days, you can make good time from the start.

The reason for this is as important as the result. The Ford V-8 needs no breaking-in because of unusual accuracy in the manufacture of moving parts and the smoothness of bearing surfaces. Clearances are correct when you buy the car. It is not necessary to depend on a long wearing-in period to eliminate tightness and insure smooth running. Longer life, greater economy and better performance are bound to result from such precision methods. The Ford V-8 gives you fine-car construction, along with fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty.

A Thoughtful Legislature has made an earnest effort to lighten your tax burden

EVER since the immortal Gettysburg Address, the accepted standard for American government has been "of the People, by the People, for the People."

This applies to the matter of taxation no less than to other functions of government.

So it is entirely natural that the Legislature of Michigan has had the People of this great state in mind when it has taken certain measures to lighten the tax-burden of our citizens.

It is now the part of good, loyal, cooperative citizenship for the tax-payers of Michigan to take fullest advantage of the provisions that have been passed for their benefit.

Not only has the Legislature made generous concessions in the matter of interest and penalties, but it has also provided a convenient plan whereby taxes for 1932 and prior years may be paid over a period of time. There are indeed few tax-payers who can not now protect their homes by paying their taxes.

You can now pay up this important obligation just as you pay for a home or an automobile or furniture; putting aside a little each week or month, and then making an annual payment equal to one-tenth of the amount of your delinquent tax. On the ten-year plan you pay only a small carrying charge for this privilege.

Get in touch with your County Treasurer right away. He is prepared to accept payment of your back taxes either in full or on the ten-year plan. Bring him your old tax bills or the legal description of your property. But don't wait until the last-minute! Act now and avoid the last-minute crowds.

BY ORDER OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE BOARD.

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes
By JEAN NEWTON

A LESSON FROM THE ZOO

"BREEDING, self-control? These are just terms for artificiality and hypocrisy," said a militant member of our would-be "free" younger generation.

Why should we pretend things we don't feel—why restrain impatience or irritation, why try to gloss over situations to avoid any feeling of friction? If certain reactions or sentiments are natural and sincere, why not show them?

"With everybody honestly showing what they feel there is much more chance of the causes of disagreement and irritation being removed in a natural way, and the harmony which results then would be a true harmony, not an affected one."

Why?

I wish I could take our young friend one day to the zoo where something in the weather or something else which could not be helped had adversely affected the dispositions of the residents there. For that is one place where there is no "artificiality," no "artificiality"—and no breeding, which in other words is consideration for others.

Of course our friend would not stay there long enough to make much of a study of the matter—no longer, probably, than necessary to get away. But the din of very inharmonious noises would be sufficient to illustrate the answer to her question as to why it is not feasible for humans always to indulge their impulses, to do in the presence of others what they really want to do, to express without restraint our like and dislike impetuously. To carry that to its logical conclusion, saying things would be followed perhaps by throwing things; in any event the result would be not unlike the result in a zoo, of conditions adversely affecting the geniality of the inmates.

A LITTLE NEW SOUL

By ANNE CAMPBELL

A LITTLE new soul came down today
On a sunlit cloud, from far away.
She stole the blue from the morning
And a star for each of her pretty eyes.
She grasped at the dawn, and in her fingers
The rosy glow of the morning lingers.

A little new soul came down to lift
Our weary hearts with her hopeful gift.
She brushed by the sun and plucked
its gold,
And she brought God's love for our arms to hold.
A little new baby, with dreams in her eyes,
Came to show us the pathway to Paradise—

OUTDOOR MEALS

AS PICNIC days are here again. We turn to our lists of good things which we have enjoyed and plan a picnic lunch. Those who find some food hard to digest will enjoy them and have no discomfort when eaten out of doors after a brisk hike, or even a stroll through the woods.

When packing a lunch, remember to put in some of the foods that add zest, such as green onions, fresh radishes, cucumbers and a few pickles, sweet and sour. Pickled beets, onions, chow, are all relishes which are enjoyed with the other food.

The sandwiches may be cut and made just before serving, with lettuce, a slice of cucumber and onion, as filling. Baked bean sandwiches are always enjoyed for a hearty meal. Serve them with sliced sour pickle.

Most picnic lunches are made up of starchy and sugar foods. Some of these are needed but the alkaline foods will be needed or headaches and indigestion will result.

Fruits, green vegetables, celery, tomatoes, are all good to combine with the sandwiches, rolls and cakes. Meats are acid forming foods and should be used sparingly.

With the crisp lettuce carried in a towel, well wrapped, add sliced oranges or tomatoes or apples and serve with a french dressing all prepared and carried in a tight jar or bottle.

With all the disadvantages, snakes, mosquitoes, poison ivy, the more we go on picnics, the more we learn what to avoid and the more pleasure we get from them.

Where there is a stream of clear water or a spring, all the green things may be kept cool and fresh as if taken from a refrigerator at home. Much can be said of the sunshine, the glorious out of doors, trees, grass and flowers, sun baths, swimming, games, and just loafing when you picnic. They all outweigh the discomforts, which upset stomachs and disturb the regular routine.

Cream Chocolate Sauce.
Mix one cupful of sugar, one-fourth cupful of water and three tablespoonfuls of corn sirup. Boil until a soft ball is formed, add slowly four squares of chocolate melted over hot water, one cupful of cream and one-half cupful of fondant; boil one minute, stirring constantly. Add a teaspoonful of vanilla and serve hot or cold.

Do You Know—

That the wedding veil is a relic of the canopy that used to be held over the bride to seclude her from profane gaze? The ancient Romans looked upon it as a protection against the evil eye, a superstition current among many tribes and nations.

GOOD ICE CREAM SAUCES

A SIMPLE ice cream of plain flavor served with a good sauce makes a most delightful dessert and is always enjoyed.

Fruit Punch Sauce.
Cook together one cupful of sugar and one-third cupful of water until it spins a long thread. Add one cupful of crushed pineapple, one-third cupful of maraschino cherries chopped, add some of the juice, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and a few grains of salt. Bring to the boiling point and chill.

Caramel Sauce for Ice Cream.
Put into a saucepan one-half cupful each of sugar and corn sirup and one cupful of cream. Mix and boil, stirring occasionally until it is of the right consistency. Add three-fourths teaspoonful of vanilla and a few grains of salt. Leave over hot water until ready to serve.

Maple Pecan Sauce.
Boil three-fourths of a cupful of maple sirup with two tablespoonfuls of butter until it makes a soft ball when dropped into cold water. Remove from the fire and add slowly one-fourth cupful of cream. Keep hot over water until ready to serve, then add one-fourth of a cupful of broken pecan meats.
