

Dr. Patterson Is Dead As Result Of Heart Attack

Funeral Held Monday Is Largest Plymouth Has Ever Seen

Dr. Albert E. Patterson, for more than a quarter of a century one of Plymouth's best known citizens, died suddenly at his home, 249 South Main street, last Friday morning just as he started to arise from bed early in the morning to work for an hour or so before breakfast in his beautiful flower gardens.

He had apparently been in the best of health and news of his death proved a distinct shock to the entire community, where he was held in the highest of esteem. A lover of flowers, his garden surrounding his home was his greatest pride and one of the show places of Plymouth. He had worked several hours the day previous among his flowers but had not complained of feeling the slightest illness.

The chief declared that the conduct of the places where beer is sold in Plymouth has never resulted in a single complaint being made to either the state or his department and that Plymouth is entirely free of the problems of some other communities.

Chief Vaughn Smith who now has complete charge of the beer and liquor business in Plymouth as a direct order of the governor and state liquor commission, declares that the city of Plymouth is not confronted with the problems of some other communities.

From now on all permits are issued only upon approval of the head of the police department. Chief Smith plans to ask the state liquor commission to set up an appeal board so that if there should be objection to some of his rulings, that the objector will have a place to make an appeal.

The American Legion was represented at the funeral, for Dr. Albert E. Patterson had been an army captain at the Greenleaf Camp, Chickasha, Oklahoma, in Georgia during the World War.

D.A.R.'s Hear Talk On Constitution

The first meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held Monday afternoon, September 16, at the home of Mrs. Bryant Warner.

Dr. Grace Song Line was the speaker at the Fowlerville Chamber of Commerce meeting, last Thursday on the subject, "Politics in Asia." Mrs. Line pictured Japan's act of aggression in Korea and China, and in conclusion expressed the thought that the United States Constitution was written with the guidance of Divine Providence, and the hope that its shining light of the past 150 years will continue to be a beacon light to governments throughout the world.

Begs Finder To Return Money

Twenty-four dollars Henry Fye had tucked in his billfold. It was the sum he had managed to save through the summer months. It meant that in the winter there would be clothes and many other little needs Mr. Fye felt he had done good summer's work.

It was last Tuesday or Wednesday that this money was lost. Mr. Fye has searched through the entire home of Stephen Jewell, 403 S. Harvey street with whom he makes his home. Every pocket in all his clothes has been looked through time and again, but the billfold has not been found.

There was no identification to show to whom the money belonged, no little card in the billfold which would identify the person who did find it returns it to Mr. Fye, he will have the undying gratitude of this aged man, whom this loss has made penniless.

Contractors Rush Early Start Of "Modelectric"

Excavation, Masonry, Carpentry Started In One Week

With a hoe shovel that makes it possible to excavate ground without going into the cavity, Matt Powell, excavator, broke ground for the "Modelectric" home last June. Where an excavating shovel scoops the earth, the hoe draws it up to the surface and makes sharp square corners and straight, perfect work.

At the foot of the altar itself and on the altar stood only two hand-woven baskets containing only the choicest and finest fruits that could be found. In truth, these baskets were so beautiful and perfect, that they appeared to have been painted on canvass. Two large baskets of fall flowers flanked the altar table.

Ancient Church Festival Is Held At St. Peter's

"Harvest Home" Again Finds Important Place In Church Calendar

"Thou shalt take of the first of all the fruit of the earth, which thou shalt bring to thy land that the Lord thy God give thee, and shalt put it in a basket, and shalt go unto the place which the Lord thy God shall choose to place his Name there."

This little known and rarely observed festival of "Harvest Home" gave rise to a great day of rejoicing at the Lutheran Church last Sunday. For most of the worshippers the entire celebration was a new and most enjoyable experience.

Men and women long accustomed to similar work in other communities will call on the home, farm and civic and maternal officials in authority, and will make a careful enumeration.

Mr. Andrews says that, as heretofore, the rural routes will be included in the new directory. This is done primarily for the benefit of Plymouth and Northville merchants as the residents of these suburbs must of necessity do most of their buying here.

Builds All-Steel Fireproof Home

Fireproof Home Of All-Steel And Concrete Is Being Built Near Fortage In Kalamazoo

A fireproof home of all-steel and concrete is being built near Fortage in Kalamazoo, Michigan by Herbert Warner, formerly of Plymouth. Mr. Warner, who is the son of Mrs. Eleanor Warner of 287 Ann street and brother of Mrs. Bertha Warner, was graduated from Plymouth high school in 1912.

The only woodwork in this home that Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Warner are building is the solid oak window frames and door jambs. The outside walls are of brick and steel rafters are used in the roof, with steel joists as supports for the second floor construction.

Completed the home will have all the appearance of an ordinary home, but its construction is solid and proof against the ordinary hazards of nature.

Mr. and Mrs. Warner are at the present time living at West ust who built a new addition to their factory. A permit for $350 went to the Daisy Manufacturing Co., the same month who built a new boiler room in their plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyke will be at home to their friends on Woodward Wilson avenue in Detroit, upon their return from the honeymoon trip, which is expected about Saturday.

Permits for two new homes have been issued this year, the "Modelectric" home and Dr. Peck's residence on Ann Arbor Trail.

Though the total figures cover the first seven months of the year, it has been only within the past five months that building permits have been applied for building or remodeling whatsoever in Plymouth.

NOT FOR DICTATORS

The assassination of Senator Huey Long by a prominent and highly respected professional man of Louisiana indicates one thing strongly—America does not want a dictator.

American people have come to know a certain freedom enjoyed in no other land. That freedom is not going to be surrendered to any kind of a dictator—that is evident from the lack of any grief on the part of the people of Louisiana over the death of the man who set himself up as the dictator of that state.

No, America is not for dictators of any kind—and there will be no dictators in this land of freedom.

There has been organized in Plymouth a group which will devote its time to assisting officers in making the streets and highways more safe. Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

THE MODERN CATTLE RUSTLER

Since time unknown there has been a certain element of society that sought to share the wealth of someone else. And so we have always had footpads, second story men, highwaymen, thieves, cattle rustlers, blackmailers and in our highly civilized time that politer class known as racketeers.

They are the original and true share the wealth promoters. They believe in the share the wealth program to the extent that they go out in the dark and share by force or by stealth; and some share by the more suave or skillful way of blue sky promotion, by blackmail or by racketeering.

Sometimes we rise up in wrath and throw such persons into prison and restrain them by force from sharing what honest men have toilsomely earned. And still we share with them, for they eat good food, are sheltered from storm, wear clothing, and honest men pay for their keep.

There is no way to escape sharing wealth. It has always been done—it will always continue, by fair means or foul. The rain and the sunlight fall on the just and unjust alike.

Let that be. What we mean to say in as strong terms as we can muster is that to promote a share the wealth program is ridiculous, unfair, a penalizing of industry and thrift and ability to benefit the unfit, the dishonest, the incapable.

Share the wealth promoters are in the class of the blackmailer, the racketeer, the chiseler—they are would-be parasites on society.—Floyd McGriff in The Redford Record.

THINKING RIGHT ABOUT YOURSELF

It has been said that a man can't pull himself up by his bootstraps. The idea back of that statement is as out-dated as the leather boots it uses for a figure. A man who is discouraged to the point of not caring can still be a man if there is one bright spot in his life to rest his mind on, if he has but one ability. Let rehearsed views of this bright-spot crowd out dismal scenes. Soon he will have culture, the bright-spot-expectant attitude. Or by dwelling considerably on the thing he knows he can do well or gradually come to think better of himself as a whole. Such is the value of repetition, such is the force of habit.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

WHAT MOST PEOPLE THINK, BUT DO NOT SAY.

The New Jersey farmers are in a rebellion against the fool government regulation of telling them how many potatoes they can raise, and what kind of containers they must be put in, just as if it was any fool braintruster's business whether he raised any or not. If I was a farmer I think I would buy a gun and then have some competent marksman teach me how to shoot. It's just such fool legislation that is hurrying along the road of communism, and the sooner it is smashed the sooner will America again be known as "the land of the free and the home of the brave."—J. E. McMullen in The Linden Leader.

THE PERFECT CLIMATE

Why complain about Michigan weather? We repeat, why complain? Even if we are having cold and damp weather when it should be warm and we hate to start the furnace up in September, still we're much better off in Michigan, a state that is not subject to hurricanes, floods, dust storms, etc. We should be thankful the weather is so ideal in Michigan, ideal in the sense that we don't have to worry about losing our lives or homes when old Mother Nature goes on a rampage. We don't believe there is one of our readers who would have changed places with a Florida resident this week. They may have their sunshine when we're suffering from the cold, but it's Michigan for us.—Earl Seed in The Rochester Clarion.

AMONG THE BULLHEADS

The poorest employee about a business institution is the employee who insists on doing things his own way. This is the reason older persons are not looked upon with favor by most employers. They are too set in their ways. They have their own way of doing things and dislike to change to their employer's way. Right or wrong most employers want things done the way they want them done.—Paul McKee in The Mt. Clemens Monitor.

POTATO CONTROL SEEN AS A LINK IN CHAIN LEADING TO SOCIALISM

By Mark Sullivan

After Congress enacted "potato control" it was put in the deficiency control" the appropriation of appropriation bill. That appropriation failed to pass, owing to confusion in the closing hours. But the Agricultural Adjustment Administration was not deferred. A.A.A. announced on August 29 that "the Agricultural Adjustment Administration is taking steps to procure funds from other sources to start the program."

A. A. A. had to go on. It could not afford to let "potato control" lapse or wait. "Potato control" is essential to the whole A.A.A. program. The importance of "potato control" can be stated from two points of view. If "potato control" fails, through resistance from the country or otherwise the whole A.A.A. program of crop restriction, the whole philosophy of scarcity, will fall. Conversely if "potato control" is made to stick, the program of restriction will go on until it takes in everything that any farm raises for market, including vegetables. A.A. A. and Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture are caught midway of a series of steps from which they cannot go back, in which they must go on to yet other steps. It is an automatic, irreversible process in which A.A.A. is enmeshed.

Let us see first why, if "potato control" fails, the rest of A. A. A.'s practice of crop-limitation may fall. Potato control is made necessary by what preceded. In the beginning, A. A. A. limited the raising of two Southern crops, cotton and tobacco. At once farmers, especially in North Carolina, turned their idle acres into peanuts. Thereupon Secretary Wallace, on February 12, 1934, said: "On view of the reduction in cotton acreage... we recognize it will be necessary to take definite steps to discourage undue expansion in peanut acreage."

There was now limitations on three principal North Carolina crops, cotton, tobacco and peanuts. There was more idle acreage than ever before. The North Carolina farmers turned the idle acres into potatoes. As it was put in the Senate by Mr. Bailey, of North Carolina, July 22: "Under the operation of the crop-control act farmers have been driven from cotton, tobacco and peanut production as well as other crops and have gone into the production of potatoes."

At once there was a glut of potatoes. They shipped their potatoes into markets all over the country. The price of potatoes went disastrously low. It was now necessary to limit potatoes. Hence the "potato control" act, passed by the Senate July 22, passed by the House August 17, signed by the President August 24, and taking effect December 1 next.

Those are the steps so far. Now as to the inevitable future steps. Just as cotton and tobacco control forced potato control, so will cotton, tobacco and potato control force yet more control. By its nature the process grows automatically and with increasing speed. Just what crop will come next we do not know. We only know that all crops will come in their turn. As it was put by Mr. King, of Utah, in the Senate July 22: "We may expect at the next session of Congress to find measures to bring other commodities under control, perhaps carrots and cabbages and lettuce and tomatoes and all kinds of fruit and vegetables."

is punished and stifled." Mr. Wallace says he does not like "completely determined nationalism." He says he would prefer an alternative plan, which can be accomplished by lowering of tariffs. About that I do not know. But Mr. Wallace would admit, I am sure, that since the day he and Mr. Roosevelt took office the rate has gone steadily and with increasing speed toward more and more "social discipline."

Dewey Holloway Raises Tobacco

"Mr. Holloway we've come to see your tobacco crop." Having been sent out on the assignment of tobacco raising as a future with tremendous possibilities, it is reported that Dewey Holloway, as we stood in the driveway at 263 Union street. "We've come to see your tobacco crop."

Mr. Holloway's first response was a low rumbling chuckle, which graduated into a hearty old-fashioned laugh. Still grinning, he led us to his tobacco crop. There it stood, a lone plant. We looked around for the vast acres. Questioningly we gazed at Mr. Holloway. "Yes—that's it."

The information we received from Mr. Holloway on the subject of tobacco raising was hardly complete enough for us to advise Plymouth Mail readers. But we did learn how to make cigars. Come to think of it, Mr. Holloway didn't ask you how many cigars you could make out of being plant. But after all, that wasn't the assignment. Even if it lacks in quantity, that plant looks as though it makes up in quality. The leaves are firm and green. And they are big sized leaves. "I'll have to cut it just before the first frost and hang the leaves up somewhere to dry. Then I'll pack it tightly in a box, place weights on it and it will be ready for cigar rolling or filling the pipe." So if you folks see Dewey puffing heartily on his pipe these coming wintry days, remember that Dewey raised his own "tobacco crop" and can enjoy every bit of it. The government hasn't as yet asked him to plow under his crop because of overproduction, either.

"And look at my sunflowers," said the proud gardener. "We counted 82 flowers on that one plant. There are over 40 on the other." It doesn't really look like a sunflower plant—more like a snowball bush laden down with golden flowers. Big sunflowers, big as dinner plates and small sunflowers, the size of marigolds, all spread out in different directions from the mammoth stalk.

"And look again," continued Mr. Holloway. "Mr. Knowles still has roses blooming in his flower garden." True, a rosebush full of pink blossoms was in full bloom in this garden adjoining Mr. Holloway's plot. It isn't always that we can conclude our interviews carrying back to the office a huge bouquet of vari-colored posies, but Mr. Holloway made up for not being able to help us out on our tobacco-raising story by filling our hands with a bouquet of every variety of autumn flowers. Incidentally, his flower plot is much, much bigger than his tobacco crop.

ITINERANT NEW DEALERS TO SET TRIP RECORD IN CONGRESS RECESS

By Theodore C. Wallen

Now that the New Deal legislative program has been substantially completed, the men who put it through are going out to see the world. In the next four months, until Congress reconvenes in January, leaders of the Federal government are going to put more miles between themselves and Washington than any similar group has ever done before. If their composite itinerary does not actually spread across the surface of the earth, it would circumnavigate the globe many times.

The mere fact some fifty members of Congress are going to the Orient justifies that statement. Guests of the Philippine government from the moment they leave their homes until they return, they will attend the formal inauguration of the islands' new commonwealth government on November 15. They will stop off in Japan and China. On the way home their ship will be taken several hundred miles off its course so that they may visit Hawaii. Through the generosity of their public host and the steamship company those who desire may complete the circuit around the world after the ceremony in Manila without cost to themselves.

It is the most attractive mass junket ever to be dangled before the eyes of a Congressman. Among the hundreds of persons signed for the trip by the Philippine government are the three key leaders of Congress. Vice-President John N. Garner, who usually will not be budged out of his Texas home when Congress is not in session will head the party. He will be flanked by Joseph W. Byrns, of Tennessee, Speaker of the House, and Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Administration leader in the Senate, not to mention more than two-score others.

Mr. Garner said he didn't care especially about going, but that "the boss" (President Roosevelt) thought he ought to. A White House secretary said Mr. Garner wanted to go and the President saw no reason why he shouldn't. In any event, since a Vice-President abroad means exchanges of official courtesies with foreign governments, the Administration's sanction was desirable.

Dwarfed in size by the record Philippine round-the-world junket is that of a House committee of eight members to the delightful shores of Honolulu to hold public hearings on the permanent proposal to make the Territory of Hawaii the forty-ninth state of the Union.

While President Roosevelt, the "head salesman" of the New Deal, is striking out across the continent for the San Diego Exposition, and return by Panama Canal, or otherwise, George H. Dern, his Secretary of War, will be preparing to go to the Philippine government. Inauguration by a specially assigned cruiser of the Navy. Although President Roosevelt, last summer, and Claude A. Swanson, Secretary of the Navy, the summer before, traveled to Hawaii by cruiser, Secretary Dern's trip will be the farthest east that naval craft will have carried a member of the Cabinet.

Homer S. Cummings, Attorney General, and James A. Farley, Postmaster General, have found it necessary to go to Hawaii on official business, to be sure, and Daniel C. Roper, Secretary of Commerce, has had to dash up to Alaska to attend to matters, but they have not traveled by cruiser. Mr. Cummings in fact is again on the high seas, this time heading for Europe "to study foreign methods of crime detection." David A. Lilienthal, of the T.V.A. has found it necessary to go to England to study the so-called "grid" system.

The lure of the sea has been strong on New Dealers from the start. In the early days of the Administration, after the President's delegation had been at the London Economic Conference for some weeks, it tempted Professor Raymond Moley, the original head of the "brain trust," to Europe and to his exit from public life. What happened to him so impressed Professor Rexford G. Tugwell, newly ranking "brain trust" that he abandoned for a time a trans-Atlantic trip that had been projected for him.

Professor Tugwell did go to Europe later attended the International Wheat Conference and did certain errands for the President on the Continent. Charles Michelson, the New Dealer's publicity ace, sailed to London with the delegation to the world monetary and economic conference. Herbert Bayard Swope had gone along with Professor Moley as an official aid. And there was a large retinue. Cordell Hull subsequently went to the Montevideo Conference in Uruguay in an effort to help develop Latin American trade. Harry L. Hopkins, as Federal Emergency Relief Administrator, crossed to Europe to study relief administrations abroad, notably in Italy. Secretary Dern made a trip of inspection of the Panama Canal. Subordinates in great numbers have traveled similarly.

With rare exceptions, the traveling of the heads of departments is reported as for "official business." While there is a great amount of good-natured banter in Washington about officials departing themselves on Walkie-Bee for "official business," whether they pay their own expenses or leave them to the Federal Treasury becomes a matter of conscience. If a Cabinet officer travels to Europe with his wife and friends, passes three weeks on the French Riviera and a half day theorizing with some foreign official of like responsibility, there is nothing to prevent his charging up the entire bill to the Treasury.

In government, as in other pots of life, some officials are pretty strict with themselves. Secretary Hull, for instance, has a distinct aversion to junkets. The same is true of Henry Morganthau, Secretary of the Treasury.

However, many refuse to be bothered greatly by conscience.

It is true the Comptroller General's office must approve the expense accounts. Even when he may have his tongue in his cheek upon encountering the term "official business," he cannot see behind the sworn statement of the head of a department. He can, of course, hold such an official to the stipulated allowance of $6 a day for travel expenses other than transportation and he can, and does insist that they travel on American ships and at the lowest first-class rate. These limits do not greatly circumscribe a traveling official. A steamship line welcomes a chance to grant its best accommodations to a Cabinet officer for whatever he is permitted to pay. Seats at the captain's table, and what not, follow in the usual course. The foreign hotel that would permit an American Cabinet official to be cramped in a room within his $6-a-day limit is rare.

Even when the President of the United States travels by de luxe special train, air conditioned throughout and with the best that railroad service affords, both as to safety and comfort, the railroads seldom charge him more than for his own accommodations—his own fare. Each of the others on the train, members of the official party, newspaper men, photographers and secret service men, pays his own way, and usually at the standard rates. The railroads do not get rich transporting Presidential parties. But in view of the prestige, they fight for the business.

The New Dealers, meanwhile, are keeping in touch with the four corners of the world, in pursuit of the more abundant life they travel the seven seas. A seat in Congress is a chance to take a trip around the world. It helps explain why candidates are more numerous these days than ever before.

Instead of two chickens in every pot the trend now seems to be toward two government employees for every taxpayer.—Ohio State Journal.

On and Off The Record

Judge Jos. A. Gillis attended the V. F. W. convention at New Orleans last week and intends celebrating the National Convention of the American Legion at St. Louis on his way home. The Judge travels by automobile with a home-like trailer hitched to the back of his car which he considers a rare asset to all vacationing.

All chattel mortgages in Wayne County will be transferred from the 11 city clerks to the Register of Deeds' office by the end of this week. They total 1,651,950 and are given into the custody of Harold E. Stoll, Register, in accordance with the new state law enacted during the last session of the legislature.

In the future when one wants to investigate an automobile or other like piece of personal property and find what mortgages or liens are against it, he will have but one place to investigate in place of the 11 city clerk offices as he has done in the past.

The 11 cities in Wayne County affected by this law are Detroit, Hamtramck, Wyandotte, Lincoln Park, Highland Park, River Rouge, Melvindale, Grosse Pointe, Dearborn, Plymouth and Garden City.

When Auditor Ed Williams recently ordered a survey of mental cases and their cost in Wayne county he began an investigation that saves the taxpayer $150.00 a day.

The maintenance and operating cost of the Eloise Mental Hospital is $0.8065 cents per capita exclusive of capital costs, such as building upkeep, etc.

Following are figures showing the amazing increase in county indigent mental cases.

Date: 1920-21, total 872; state cases 621; county cases 257.

1934-35, total 3,026; state cases 2,427; county cases 599.

The total population of Eloise Infirmary exclusive of mental cases was 695 in 1920, and has since grown to approximately 5,000 or nearly 10 times.

W. E. Davey and Bud Struthers, who made the survey for Williams credit the astounding increase to many factors. Increase in county population and a radical change in manner of life are the two outstanding reasons.

It is apparent that mental cases increase in a highly industrial community much faster than in a more or less rural district," Williams said.

Wayne County, in the past 15 years, has changed from a rural center into a rapid moving manufacturing center impelling the people to live faster under more trying conditions.

Many are unable to adjust themselves physically or mentally to this new environment. The depression of course, has discouraged, and they are thrown on the aged many otherwise normal people.

In many instances this upsets their mental capacities," Williams said.

The State of Michigan has been lax in providing adequate space for such cases. For this reason Wayne County has had added burdens which should be cared for by state institutions.

John C. Cowan, County Auditor, is a staunch believer in the Constitution and has asked the employees of the Auditor's staff to sign an allegiance to both the state and national Constitutions.

"Regardless of party affiliation I think we should uphold this great instrument given by our forefathers as a guiding hand in governmental affairs," he said.

Vacation days are about over. Gone are the summer days which willed our good intentions to work and even made loafing a job a bit too strenuous to do in satisfying manner.

Court rooms, which have been on a half day schedule, are now crowded from 9:00 in the morning until 4:30 in the afternoon, and the jury men and women who have not been called for these past few months are back on the job bringing with them their never changing looks of wisdom. There is no one just like a juror who is listening to a case in which he has the power to convict or free. He takes on a new importance in life, finds a new expression with which to greet people, and adopts an air of importance which is always very secretive and sometimes alarming.

In the jury room you can find a good cross section of human nature. There is juror number eight who weeps sentiment and fails to hold back her tears. Number two is vindictive, and thinks all people who are accused are necessarily guilty. Number four thinks the defendant looks like that awful neighbor back home and he must be guilty. Number nine knows very well that the good looking lawyer wouldn't have taken the case had the man been guilty and she is willing to accept the decision of a man with such apparent intelligence. Number six works nights, hasn't listened to testimony and will vote with the majority. Typical of every jury, these and other characters make up a board of judges who, the law of averages, says give any man a fair trial and a just verdict.

Citizens of Tomorrow

It is an obligation of good citizenship to pay taxes: it is an obligation of government to spend this tax money wisely. In common with many thousands of other citizens, Michigan Bell Telephone Company recognizes its obligation to pay a share in the support of the functions of government.

The Federal, State and other taxes paid this year by Michigan Bell averaged $7.28 for each telephone in use. In total this amounts to more than $3,225,000, of which $2,737,955.25 is in the form of payments to the State of Michigan. It is particularly pleasing to us that these State taxes go into the primary school fund for the purpose of educating our citizens of tomorrow.

The primary school fund helps support the State's elementary, grammar and high schools. It erects and maintains the buildings, buys supplies, helps pay the salaries of our 32,000 teachers. Into it go the State taxes paid by many of the utilities of Michigan, and of these Michigan Bell Telephone Company pays the largest individual tax. From 1921 to the present year the total taxes paid by us into the primary school fund amounted to $32,643,350.99.

Like all other citizens who have a genuine pride in the progress of Michigan, we appreciate the value and profound importance of an adequate school system.

And to the telephone users of our State it must be a great satisfaction to know that indirectly they make an important contribution to a school system entrusted with the education and character-molding of 960,000 boys and girls—Michigan's school children today, her citizens of tomorrow.

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH

Holy Communion will be celebrated Sunday, the 22nd, at 10:30 a.m. All eligible communicants ought to make it a point to partake on this day since it is to be a day of consecration for our work of Missions. Announcements are to be made with the pastor during the current week.

Annual Mission Festival on Sunday, September 29th, at 10:30 a.m. The local pastor will preach in the morning while Missionary Arthur Wacker will deliver a discourse on Home Missions from the missionary's viewpoint in the afternoon. Dinner, potluck, will be served at 12:30.

A feature of the Mission Festival will again be the Formal presentation of Quotas by the officers of the various societies of the congregation. Our goal is $300 this year, just about one-half of our annual quota for Missions. The offering last year amounted to $322.69, so we are confident that, with a little extra effort, we shall again reach this sum. To encourage us at this time, let us recall the Saviour's word: "Whatsoever ye have done to the least of these, my brethren, that have ye done unto Me."

Adult Confirmation Classes will begin on Wednesday, October 2nd, at 7:30 p.m.

Junior Confirmation Classes will begin Saturday, September 21st, at 10:00 a.m. According to the custom of the congregation, children ought to attend these classes for TWO years, thus also those who will be confirmed in 1937 ought to be enrolled this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kreeger and family have applied for membership with our congregation.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

Richard W. Neale, Pastor. If you are looking for a friendly Bible Church, where Christ is preached, visit Calvary this Sunday. Our services are at 10:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. with Sunday school at 11:15. There are classes for all ages, from three years old and up. A new Primary class was started last Sunday. Miss Erythol Halliwell acting as teacher. Special plans for a program interesting to you have been made for Rally Day.

We may welcome a guest preacher to our pulpit Sunday, but if not, our pastor will continue the studies in the book of Acts, and the Gospel of Luke. The morning topic is "One Argument with a Happy Ending." The evening message is "What God's Word Says About How To Make Sure of Heaven." Is it not wonderful to know that Christ will save all who receive Him.

Some think only the degraded need salvation. God says, "all have sinned"—even the cultured, and outwardly refined. But to all with a heart to heed Jesus says, "Him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out." John 6:37.

The church meets for prayer each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Our young people welcome all young readers of the Mail to their service each Friday night at 7:30.

Meet with a happy, singing crowd. Come to Calvary.

"Matter" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 22.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 1:1): "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 119): "God is natural good, and is represented only by the idea of goodness; while evil should be regarded as unnatural, because it is opposed to the nature of Spirit, God."

The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

Jonah and the Whale.—Commanded by the Lord to prophesy against Nineveh, Jonah attempted to escape from this commission by flight to Tarshish. He went to Joppa and found a ship going to Tarshish. A furious storm arose and the sailors after their attempts to lighten the ship proved vain, questioned Jonah. "And he said unto them, I am a Hebrew; and I fear the Lord, the God of heaven, which hath made the sea and dry land. Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? And he said unto them, take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto thee; for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you."—Jonah 1:9-12. "So they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea; and the sea ceased from her raging. Now the Lord had prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah. And Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights."—Jonah 1:15-17. Jonah then prayed earnestly to the Lord. "And the Lord spake unto the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land."—Jonah 2: 10. This illustration is from Merian's story of the Bible in pictures, engraved in 1625.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Loya Sutherland, Minister

The pastor speaks at ten o'clock on the subject "The Hatred of the World." This is no unimportant theme for it touches the lives of thousands of believers. Though we may not face the thumb-screw nor the stake, still believers discover painfully that the offense of cross has not ceased. Many daily quiver under the gibe of a neighbor and a fellow workman. We are doomed to discover that the world does not love the church any better than in the days of Smithfield, when men were burned for loving God.

11:15—Bible school.

6:15—Special meeting of the B.Y.P.U. There will be a social time for fifteen minutes and refreshments will be served. Our speaker will be Miss Jewel Sparling, Principal of the Starkweather school.

7:30—The pastor with the delegates who have been in attendance at the Association meeting will bring echoes of this gathering. Come and hear something of the plans of our church for the coming days. What about the Baptists anyway?

We shall resume next week our studies in the Book of Revelation. Come with your Bibles and study with us this marvelous Book. Wednesday evening at 7:30.

All boys and girls including the ninth grade are especially invited to attend these talks at the ten o'clock hour.

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH

On September 22, at 10:30 o'clock our pastor will speak on a text that is seldom used, but one that proclaims a truth filled with inspiration for believers.

The Mission Study class will meet on Tuesday evening, September 24th at the home of Mrs. Perry D. Campbell, Canton Center Road. The committee in charge of this meeting will serve supper at 8:30 p.m. for which a charge will be made. An interesting program will follow.

Line Store Takes Active Interest In Its Employees

Provide Lake Cottage, Group Life Insurance For Workers

The Line Stores organization which began business in Howell, Livingston County more than 25 years ago has grown from one store to six stores. The majority of this growth occurred during the years of the depression through careful business management and fair merchandising policies. The stores now employ between 70 and 80 persons as regular or part time managers and clerks and has an annual pay roll in excess of $35,000.

Constant effort is exercised to make the work of all employees enjoyable. In the past, monthly get-togethers of all clerks has provided mutual sympathetic understanding, social recreation, and educational addresses, as men of both local and state reputations were frequently on the programs.

A modern furnished cottage and boat at Lake Chemung was provided this year for use of clerks and managers of all the stores. Each clerk was privileged to the free use of the cottage for a week to spend alone or entertaining friends. Allotment of time and rules and regulations for the use of the cottage are controlled by a committee of clerks and managers. Among other interesting rules is found this one, "No alcoholic liquors are to be brought on to premises by either employe or their friends."

This pleasant lake cottage with good swimming and fishing facilities handy, affords an opportunity for quiet recreation and rest, and the continual use of the cottage has proved its popularity. It is reported that clerks from the outer stores such as Plymouth used the cottage as much as those working in Livingston county. It is planned to make the cottage available to the Line's employees yearly and to add more improvements as interest grows.

More recently a group life insurance policy has been initiated which is supported both by the stores and the employees effected. The store pays a part of the policy of even the beginning clerks and as the clerks extend their length of service the store pays an ever increasing amount of the insurance until finally the clerk is freed entirely from the premium burden. The management of the Line Stores has the interest of the employees at heart and are always on the outlook for methods of advancing their welfare and interests.

Pankow Pitches Winning Game

Harold Pankow, Plymouth side-wheeler, turned one of his best pitching performances of the year last Sunday as he held the Hazel Park Firemen to seven hits and the Schrader Haggerty's won, 6 to 4.

The game was played at Plymouth-Riverside Park, being the first time the team has played at home since August 18th. The local club will travel to Fowlerville Sunday, September 22nd where they will meet Fowlerville in the final of a three game series.

Crop Conditions Are Best In Years

Michigan agriculture is in a favored position this season, according to the September 1 report of the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service released today by Verne H. Church, U. S. Senior Agricultural Statistician, and James F. Thomson, Commissioner of Agriculture. Michigan leads all states north of the Mason-Dixie line with a combined indicated yield per acre figure for major crops more than 19 per cent above the 10-year average. This represents an increase of about 4.5 points in prospective crop yields since August 1. Corn, dry field beans, potatoes, buckwheat, and hay crops all showed some improvement during the past month while oats, barley, and all of the major tree fruits registered slight declines. The principal hazard faced by Michigan growers on September 1 was the possibility of early frosts which would cause material damage to corn, beans, buckwheat, and potatoes as much of the acreage of these crops was planted late. On the basis of September 1 condition reports this year, Michigan's 1935 field bean crop is indicated at 4,267,000 bags of 100 pounds each which figure compares with a 5-year average crop of 3,244,000 bags. Weather conditions during August were generally ideal for the setting of pods but much of the acreage will need several weeks more of favorable weather to mature a crop. Very few fields had been pulled at the time the September 1 reports were filled out. The United States dry edible bean crop is indicated at 13,303,000 bags as against 10,369,000 harvested in 1934 and a 5-year average crop of 11,658,000 bags. The September 1 report is 328,000 bags less than the August 1 forecast, decreases in New York, Idaho, Colorado, and New Mexico being largely offset by improved prospects in Michigan. Of the increase of 2,934,000 bags in the 1935 indicated total United States crop compared with that for 1934, more than one-half or 1,578,000 bags occurs in the 4 pinto bean-producing states. Michigan potato growers report some improvement in the yield outlook for this crop despite poor stands, light set, and some damage from blight. In many of the northern counties the outcome of the crop is largely dependent upon weather conditions after the date of this report. For the State as a whole, the September 1 indicated production of 29,480,000 bushels is about 14 per cent less than the large harvest of 30,304,000 bushels in 1934 but about 28 per cent more than the 5-year average crop, 1928-32. Dry weather and high temperatures during August damaged the crop in the Eastern and Middle West States but weather conditions were favorable in most of the other Late States except Nebraska. The September 1 indication is for a total United States production 1 per cent less than that forecast on August 1, 3 per cent less than the crop harvested last year, but about 3 per cent more than the 5-year average production. For the 18 surplus states the indicated production at the time of the September 1 report was 25,129,000 bushels as against 27,274,000 bushels harvested last year, and a 5-year average of 25,187,000 bushels.

Although handicapped by a late start, Michigan's 1935 corn crop has made rapid growth during July and early August and most fields have cared well. Unless this crop is damaged by early frosts or a wet fall, the Michigan production, indicated at 49,700,000 bushels, promises to be the best since 1923. Threshing has progressed slowly because of unfavorable weather conditions and there has been considerable field damage to small grains since harvest. Returns per acre for oats and barley are proving to be smaller than indicated a month ago although still slightly above the 10-year average. The September 1 forecast is for a Michigan oat crop of 41,056,000 bushels and a barley production of 4,994,000 bushels. In 1934, when the State's production of these grains was markedly below average because of the spring drought, Michigan farmers harvested an oat crop of 28,717,000 bushels and a barley crop of 3,384,000 bushels. The indicated production of the principal Michigan tree fruits is somewhat smaller than reported on August 1, principally the result of widespread damage from fungous diseases. September 1 indications on these crops are as follows: the 1934 harvested figures being given in parentheses: apples, total crop, 9,443,000 bushels (6,464,000); apples, commercial crop, 5,680,000 bushels (4,224,000); peaches, 1,919,000 bushels (517,000); pears, 653,000 bushels (745,000); plums, 256,000 bushels (244,000); grapes, 62,700 tons (61,100).

City Shows Gain In Tax Revenues
Accounts of the city treasurer and clerk of Plymouth were recorded and accepted by the outside firm to which they are submitted annually. The accounts will be recorded in full in the annual report that city manager Perry Cookingham is now preparing. According to the report, general fund revenues were $71,084.37, with expenditures of $63,251.61, a balance of $7,832.76. This balance was made up entirely of delinquent taxes.

For the first time in ten years the cemetery showed a surplus of revenue over expenditures. The principal reason for this is that we were able to use welfare labor on some of the cemetery work, said city manager Cookingham. The water department also operated at a net profit, showing a gain of $547.20. Delinquent taxes from 1927 to 1934 inclusive, were paid to the extent of $111,193.03.

THREE PATENTED CONSTRUCTION FEATURES MADE THE NEW FIRESTONE GROUND GRIP TIRE POSSIBLE

THE new Firestone Ground Grip Tire is the greatest traction tire ever built. It has 54% more tread rubber to give your car, truck, tractor and farm implements the greatest traction ever known.

Gum-Dipping, the Firestone patented process which soaks every cord in liquid rubber, makes it possible for this tire to stand the terrific strains and stresses of the extra pulling power. Firestone Tires are the only tires built that are Gum-Dipped.

The tread is built of extra tough rubber and designed with deep grooves between scientifically placed cross bars, giving super-traction and long wear. Firestone Ground Grip Tires are self-cleaning. (Chains are not needed.) The bars of the rubber are so placed that they will not bump on paved roads, giving you easier riding and longer wear.

READ WHAT FARMERS SAY ABOUT THEIR SAVINGS WITH FIRESTONE GRIP TIRES

TEXAS—Mr. C. W. Wardlow, McKinney, Texas, writes: "Approximately 28% saving in fuel, and 38% more acres worked each day, and am able to go through any kind of 'tough going' due to your new tread design on the Ground Grip Tires."

IOWA—M. H. Elsbury of Sutherland, Iowa, writes: "With Firestone Tires on my McCormick Deering Tractor and Separator I have taken in over $100 from farmers I could not reach with other wheels."

See your nearest Firestone Auto Supply and Service Store or Firestone Tire Dealer and let him show you how the new line of Ground Grip Tires will save you time and money on your farm. Remember, there is also a complete line of Firestone Auto Supplies for your automobile needs.

Appeal For Aid To Hurricane Victims In Fla.

Desolation, Suffering, Is Told In Letter To Rev. Neale

A huge box of clothing, dishes and other needs is at present on its way to the stricken coast of Florida, just south of Miami. Contents of the box which will do so much to aid the helpless hurricane victims of the Keys coast are the contributions donated by the congregation of the Calvary Baptist church friends and Plymouth merchants. It is sent in response to a plea by Mrs. Alice Neale Foster of Coconut Grove, Florida, sister of the Rev. Richard Neale of the Calvary Baptist church here. Though herself not directly in the stricken area, Mrs. Foster sent an appeal for aid to these homeless persons, whom the hurricane has left destitute. Rev. and Mrs. Neale received the letter Saturday morning. It was read to the congregation during services last Sunday and by Sunday evening contributions in the way of clothing and other necessities were pouring in. The letter reveals many tragedies of the hurricane: "We in Coconut Grove did not get the storm, only a bad gale, but it simply wiped out everything from Key Largo down to Long Key. Everything on the south end of Large and on Plantation Key and both Upper and Lower Matecumbe was demolished. Not a thing was left standing, and hundreds and hundreds of those poor people were drowned, including three camps of veterans who were working on the new bridge across the seven-mile gap between Matecumbe and Long Key. They were drowned like rats in traps. And of the section of the Keys where it struck, only forty-nine that we can be sure of were saved. These were the civilians and a few veterans were saved, but they were terribly battered and wounded. You would not have known your best friend

Darkened Lights To Again Glow

"Bright lights of Plymouth" won't be just a phrase, but soon an actuality, for city manager Perry Cookingham is submitting before the city commission a number of petitions from Plymouth residents who ask the return of street lights. In 1932 and 1933 many lights were turned down to save taxpayers money. With this economy act, the $13,000 annual light cost was cut down to $8,000. Now, with the return of better times, Plymouth residents are asking for their lights. As no appropriations were made in this year's budget for lights, the city commission does not believe all the requests can be granted, but will try to replace as many as possible.

Graphic Outlines of History By Schrader Bros.

Planning the "Committees of Correspondence" Samuel Adams, a member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, planned the "Committees of Correspondence" to keep the colonies informed by letter of the measures being made by England to carry out the British Empire's plans. This led to the Continental Congress of 1774, the first ever held in America. We aim to render a service that is graceful and dignified, with tempered formality.

Govt. Control Of Arms Is School Debate Issue

High School Debaters Being Groomed For October Meet

Under the direction of J. Latture, debate instructor at Plymouth high school debaters of the school are being tutored on the resolution: "Resolved: that the several nations should make government monopolies of the manufacture and sale of all combat instruments of war." According to Mr. Latture, the first debate will be held about the third week of October. Six schools are in the league here, and the school winning over the six will compete in the State Championship Debate at Ann Arbor on May 1, 1936. Plymouth debaters will meet teams from Dearborn, Ypsilanti, Wayne, River Rouge and Ecorse high schools and the school with the highest percentage of victories in the preliminaries will be awarded the University of Michigan Wall Plaque Trophy presented by the Detroit Free Press.

Garden City Wins Week-End Games

The Garden City Ball Club defeated the Merchants of both Inkster and Wayne over the last week-end. On Saturday afternoon the Inkster Merchants suffered a 9 to 1 defeat while on Sunday afternoon the Wayne Merchants lost a close decision by a score of 5 to 4. Last spring Garden City picked up a pitcher in Inkster's own back yard, and has since won nine straight games and has yet to suffer defeat. On Saturday afternoon Hill defeated his own home team and did not allow them a run until the ninth inning when an error paved the way for the run. He allowed but two hits and three walks. Walter Scott pitched the game against the Wayne Merchants and held them scoreless until the 8th inning. Koester pitched for Wayne and after a shaky start which was due entirely to bad support, he tightened up and allowed but one run up to the ninth inning when Wayne tied the score at four runs. As we and two errors gave Garden City the winning run. Next Saturday Garden City will play the Oakwood Y.M.C.C. at Garden City. On Sunday afternoon Bennett Brothers of Dearborn will be the attraction. Bennett Bros. won the championship of the Dearborn Recreation League this year, and although they were unsuccessful in the Class A. Tournament at Cleveland this year, they still have a good team. Garden City lost a four to three decision earlier in the year, but will be ready to change the tune.

Each debater participating in an elimination debate receives a bronze lapel button or pin which is a replica of the Wall Plaque Trophy. Each of the six debaters participating in the final debate will be presented with a gold watch by the Free Press and both schools will receive a large bronze trophy cup presented by the University of Michigan Extension Division.

Finish Second In S. Mich. League

The Trojans of Detroit defeated the local Plymouth Park nine by the score of 9 to 8 last Sunday thereby ending the Southern Michigan League season. The local nine finished in second place one and a half games out of first place. Clarence Levandowski had a good day when he scored four runs, knocked in two more with a home run and stole six bases. In the first inning he stole second, third, and home. W. Basset started on the mound for Plymouth Park and was relieved by Pisarek in the seventh. Next Sunday at 3 p.m. at the local Riverside Park the Southern Michigan League playoffs will start for Plymouth Park. The play offs will be on the two game knock out plan and the team to oppose Plymouth will be either East Detroit or Wyandotte as they are tied for third place.

Car Turns Over; Four Are Hurt

A car that suddenly became uncontrollable and without warning turned over completely on the highway is responsible for the injuries of Mr. Joseph Delore, of Schoolcraft road near Phoenix lake, their hired man and James Black of Northville. All are suffering internal injuries. Battery acid ran into Mr. Delore's eyes and mouth, and James Black suffered a broken collar and shoulder bone. The party were diving to a fishing trip Monday morning, their destination being a lake about 150 miles north. Just six miles beyond Flint about two hours after they had left home, the car began to wobble and suddenly toppled. The injured were rushed to Shirley hospital in Flint, where Mrs. Delore is still confined. Mr. and Mrs. Delore are the parents of Mrs. John Nelson of Northville and the grandson of Mrs. John Wahn of Plymouth.

D.P.W. Gets New Truck Replacing 1926 Model

Riverside cemetery is to have a "new" car, at least newer than the present car they are trying to do their work with. Their present automobile is of so ancient a vintage that no one can seem to accurately judge just which year's model it is. The "new" car is a 1926 model that the D. P. W. department is using at the present time. It was voted at Monday night's commission meeting at the city hall that a new truck with a 157 inch stake body is to be bought replacing the 1926 car that the Department of Public Works has been using for their work. This latter is being turned over to the cemetery.

In 1866, Plymouth's South Main street was photographed, town band, general stores, horses and buggies and all. There are many old residents of the present city of Plymouth who cherish one of these photographs among their treasures. This week, a reproduction of that photo, accurately painted in every detail, was hung in the lobby of the city hall. The painting, made by Edward M. Canish, is in oil. A magnifying glass was used by the painter as he studied every detail on the picture and faithfully reproduced it in this large painting. The faces of the town band players can easily be recognized and not a single feature has escaped the artist's eye—from the hitching posts to the little boy who peeked around the corner of the building as South Main street was being snapped in those historic days. Canish might resume his strong-man act in a political pageant, holding up the deficit. Indianapolis Star.
