

Police Looking For Visitor and High Class Rifle

Several Robberies In This Locality Are Being Investigated

A city slicker, dressed as a hunter, came to town the other day, and walked away with a good 22 rifle as was ever made.

Not only was his visit to Plymouth a profitable one, but previous calls at Wixom and Novi produced excellent results.

According to the Plymouth police, there is no question but that the fellow who did the robbing at Wixom and Novi is the same one who got a rifle from the Huston hardware.

He claimed to be an engineer connected with the state highway and was just getting ready for a hunting trip north—just send the bill to so-and-so and it will be paid, he said. That's the last ever heard of him in Plymouth.

The next day he went over to Wixom and there he secured considerable plunder by leaving what he said was a surveying instrument wrapped in paper.

The next day after the store had been robbed during the night, the package was unwrapped and instead of there being a surveying instrument, all there was was an automobile steering post with a broken wheel attached.

Officers believe that the fellow had an accomplice as there is much to indicate the work of more than one man.

The Milford Times had the following additional account of some of the thefts reported in southern Oakland county.

The Bishor grocery at Wixom was burglarized of butter, cigarettes, tobacco, matches, peas, bread, cake and other articles amounting to about twenty-five dollars. The marauders were apparently scared off before they had completed their haul by RAY Abrams, who lives next to the store. Hearing suspicious sounds he arose and turned on the lights in his home and store, and the robbers fled in a hurry. The robbers left the precipitate departing. Entrance was gained by forcing a rear door and cutting a panel out of an inside door.

W. C. Henning, 970 W. Grand River, Detroit, reported the loss of the following articles from the plan of the Novi Products Co., an Underwood typewriter, air compressor, motor and air tank for spraying paint, gas welding outfit, acetylene tank and welding outfit, Craftsman tools, electric drills and other articles. No estimate was given of the loss.

The Pere Marquette depot at Novi was the other place to be visited by robbers. Here the loot was taken from several express packages and included a jacket, cake decorators, and a package of rifle shells. These were later found in the Bushor grocery.

Shrine Party Is Pleasant Event

One of the most pleasant and successful social affairs of the season can rightly be said about the first Shrine dance and card party of the season given last Thursday evening at the Mayflower hotel.

President A. B. Gillis of the Suburban Shrine club and his committee members have reason to feel highly pleased over the event. Not only was the attendance larger than they had anticipated, but the evening's program was most pleasing to all of the guests.

Following the dinner, there was dancing and bridge. The dinner served by the Mayflower was in keeping with its usual high standard.

Plans Made For Thanks Service

Churches of Plymouth will unite for the annual Thanksgiving services next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the First Baptist church.

Rev. Robert A. North, pastor of the Nazarene church, will preach the annual Thanksgiving sermon.

All of the pastors of the other churches will take part in the Thanksgiving devotional service. A general invitation is extended to every one to be present at the service.

New Attorney Opens Law Offices

Attorney Thomas J. Lyndon

Thomas J. Lyndon, a graduate from the law department of the University of Michigan with the class of 1935, and who passed the state bar examination in September, has announced the opening of a law office in Plymouth. He is located in offices of the Plymouth United Savings bank building at 809 Pennington avenue and will conduct a general law practice.

This announcement is of especial interest to the older residents of Plymouth as Samuel Lyndon, his great grandfather, was one of the first settlers in this locality. His grandfather Alfred D. Lyndon, was also a well known farmer of this locality.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Lyndon, former residents of Plymouth who now reside in Ann Arbor.

The father of Plymouth's new attorney is general manager of the Perfection Sprinkler company of Plymouth. The son is secretary of the company. He will now become its legal representative.

Mr. Lyndon graduated from the Ann Arbor high school previous to entering the University. During his University career he was outstanding in the good work he did in the law department. He has many friends not only in Plymouth but the surrounding country as well, who wish for him success in his chosen profession.

Traffic Wrecks Bring Death And Injury to Many

One Nurse Killed Near Here—Several Are Badly Hurt

Death, gaping wounds, broken bones and wrecked automobiles followed late Saturday night and early Sunday morning in the wake of automobile accidents in the vicinity of Plymouth.

Chief of Police Smith had in jail three drunken drivers, although none of the jailed had anything to do with the automobile wrecks that ended so seriously.

Edna Johnson, 21 years old, a nurse living at 500 East Adams street, Ann Arbor where she was employed, was instantly killed at the corner of Plymouth and Beck roads when the car she was riding in collided head-on with a machine driven by W. Burl Schmidt of Detroit. With Schmidt was Phinver R. Loomis of the same city.

The car in which Miss Johnson was riding was driven by Lawrence Waiz of Ann Arbor. With Waiz and Miss Johnson were Albert Magdoncald, a University student, and Miss Maxine Chamberlain, another Ann Arbor nurse.

Magdoncald and Miss Chamberlain were brought to the Plymouth hospital where their injuries were cared for. They were able to leave the hospital the following day. Both were badly cut and bruised.

The others were taken to Ann Arbor hospitals. Loomis has a fractured skull and his condition has remained critical. Besides being badly cut, Schmidt received a fractured jaw in the crash.

The cars came together head-on, both driving too near the center line, officers state.

The dead girl, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Johnson of Bancroft, was taken to that place for burial, the funeral being held Tuesday.

Football Player Is On Road To Recovery

Wm. Petz, Jr., who has been confined in University hospital with injuries received during a football game recently was brought to his home Friday of last week, where he is improving slowly; his arm still being in a cast.

Government Asks For Applicants For Postmaster

Two Active Candidates Enter Race—Must File Soon

The United States Civil Service Commission has notified The Plymouth Mail that applications for the appointment to the postmastership of Plymouth will now be received and that those desiring to take the examination for the appointment must have their applications filed with the commission prior to December 10.

The term of Postmaster Bert Giles will expire on March 22 and it is to fill this vacancy that the commission has called for applications.

It is known that there are two active candidates for the appointment, Edward Scully, organizer and president of the Roosevelt-for-President club of western Wayne county, and Frank Learned.

Friends of Mr. Scully state that he has the signed endorsement of every Democratic leader of Plymouth and vicinity. Mr. Learned is understood to have the support of some of the prominent Democratic leaders of the state.

As far as known these are the only two contestants for the appointment. The name of Frank J. Burrows was mentioned some.

Winter Program Of Recreation Will Start Soon

Basketball, Ice Skating And Other Sports Planned

At a meeting of the Recreation Committee held last Saturday night, tentative plans for the Winter Recreation Program were discussed.

The Recreation Committee consists of two representatives from the Board of Education, and two representatives from the city commission, together with the Superintendent of schools and city manager. Two additional members were added last summer representing the Kiwanis and Rotary Club. This committee centers its interest on organized recreation and play for both children and adults.

The first part of the Winter Recreation Program will consist of the Basketball League both men and women teams being represented.

The first scheduled basketball games will be played the early part of December and games will be played each Monday and Tuesday night, and possibly Thursday night, at the high school gymnasium. In order to help finance the cost of the program a charge of five cents will be made for entrance to the games. It is estimated that this part of the program will prove as popular as in the past.

In addition to the basketball schedule, plans are being considered for two nights of gymnasium work for adults who do not care to participate in the basketball program. This work will consist of athletics in a more mild form, such as gymnasium exercises, volley ball, etc. It is also planned to have an hour or so two nights a week for children of school age who do not participate in the other programs.

Plans for additional winter sports activities are under discussion. Some of these activities include ice skating, tobogganing, dramatics, etc. It is the hope of the Recreation Committee that a full, rounded-out program can be arranged for the citizens of this city.

Drunk Drivers Keep Police Busy

Chief of Police Vaughn Smith and his force Saturday night and early Sunday morning were kept busy answering traffic calls. Some calls were due to accidents and other calls were due to drunken drivers.

One drunk driver was taken before Judge Dayton and given a $50 fine and cost.

Two others, picked up outside the city limits of Plymouth, had to be turned over to the sheriff's office.

They were so dead drunk that police had to lift them out of their car.

Within two hours after they had been taken to Detroit, Plymouth police were advised that some Detroit judge held a night court and released them from custody.

Read the Classified Adv.

Early Copy

Following its custom of many years, The Plymouth Mail Thanksgiving week will be issued Tuesday night so that its great faculty of readers will get the paper on Wednesday, the day before Thanksgiving. This plan was inaugurated for two reasons, first, so that the employees might enjoy Thanksgiving day like every one else, and second so that local merchants might be able to carry their final Thanksgiving day bargain messages to their patrons of Plymouth and vicinity. Again we ask your cooperation. Will every one with notices and news and advertising kindly get the copy in as early Monday as possible. If copy can be sent to the office Saturday, it will get a whole lot. The Mail and its employees thank you in advance for your cooperation in helping to make the Thanksgiving holiday a very pleasant one.

Thugs Beat, Rob Alonzo Elliott Saturday Night

Well Known Plymouth Farmer Victim Of Daring Robbers

Entering the home of Alonzo Elliott, well known Plymouth township farmer who resides alone in his home at the corner of Joy and Whitebeck roads, three men, possibly four, Saturday night beat him over the head, tied him to the bed and robbed him of $14.

As he sat alone in his house about 10 o'clock last Saturday night, three strangers rapped at the door and asked for a drink of water. As he started to get it for them, they followed him into the house. One hit him over the head, as he turned, with some sort of blunt instrument, dazing him for a moment.

He was then dragged into the bedroom and tied with a small rope to the bed. As he lay partly unconscious the men ransacked the house, finding $14 in cash. They left and drove their machine toward town.

Elliott finally worked himself loose and got word to the police in Plymouth, who called the state police at Ypsilanti. They arrived in a few minutes and started their investigation. The cut in Elliott's head was treated by doctors, who stated that the scalp wound was not a serious one. The tire treads were easily traced into Plymouth by the officers.

State police were in Plymouth Saturday night, but they did not say definitely they indicated that the robbery was committed by some one in this locality who was acquainted with Elliott and knew the surroundings well.

Health Officer of 25 Years Ago Assumes Post Again

Dr. Luther Peck Accepts Appointment Offered Him By The City Commission.

At the last meeting of the city commission held last Monday night, the City Manager offered to name Dr. Luther Peck as Health Officer to succeed the late Dr. A. E. Patterson. This appointment was confirmed by the City Commission.

Dr. Peck has been a practicing physician in Plymouth for the past 31 years and is greatly interested in the health of the community. He stated this morning that he was much interested in building up a high type Health Department, and would lend every possible effort to accomplish this purpose.

The Health Department has recently been reorganized by the City Commission along lines suggested by the City Manager. Dr. Peck will be the first to take over the administrative duties of the Health Department under this new organization. The general plan of the organization is to have all communicable diseases reported to the City Hall, either by the Health Officer or by the attending physician. In case no physician is employed, the report can be made directly to the city hall and the Health Officer will make any necessary investigations to diagnose the disease. These records will be signed by the Health Officer and forwarded to the State Department of Health for filing.

The plan is to centralize the health work in the city hall, where the Health Officer will have his headquarters and keep his records. In the case of school children with suspected communicable diseases, they will be sent home for examination by their family physician, and in case the family is indigent and cannot afford the services of a physician the Health Officer will be consulted.

It will be the desire of the new Health Officer, under the revised organization to make this city one of the healthiest in the State. He will centralize the health work in the city hall, where the Health Officer will have his headquarters and keep his records.

Every one and person who had anything to do with providing the materials and in building the house have reason to feel satisfied with the results. If the many favorable comments made by the visitors can be regarded as compensation for work well done.

Venison Comes For Big Dinner

All plans have been completed and arrangements made for the big Thanksgiving dinner to be given Thanksgiving day under the auspices of the Salvation Army in Reed's restaurant on Starkweather avenue.

Two young deer, weighing 190 pounds, requested from the state conservation department by the Plymouth Salvation Army, have been received and are now in the big ice cooler at the Purdy market, waiting to be cut up by Dave Galin and served to the forgotten boys and girls of Plymouth Thursday afternoon from 12 to 4 o'clock. The venison and turkey will be roasted by the Sanitary bakery.

Captain Curtis of the Salvation Army will have the tickets that will be given to the boys and girls the first of the week. Admission will be by ticket only. The event, made possible by the goodness of heart of several local business men mentioned in last week's issue of The Mail, is bound to bring happiness to dozens of boys and girls of this locality.

In addition to the venison there will be turkeys donated by Dave Galin and all the other good things that go with a real Thanksgiving feast.

Slight Damage Is Done By Fire

Timely discovery of a fire by William Reddeman Saturday morning while he was on his way to work saved from destruction or serious damage to the frame building located on Pennington avenue next to where the Salvation Army holds forth.

Smoke was coming from over the door as Mr. Reddeman was hurrying to the fire station and brought back with him some of the firemen and their equipment.

The flames were burning around a wood box situated in the back room of the William Tegger barber shop. The fire was put out without much damage being done. Apparently a mouse had started to eat the head of a match that had been dropped into the wood box, starting the blaze. There is no other explanation for the start of the fire.

Did You Know That

The Redmen are having a feather party Tuesday night, Nov. 26th at Jewell & Blach Hall. Everyone welcome.

About 100 persons were turned away last night from the Catholic Men's feather party. Better come early this year and get a place to play. Remember Monday night, November 25, 8:30 at the Odd Fellows Hall. All night. 25 games for 50 cents.

Christmas Club Depositors To Receive Nearly $10,000 In Cash From Plymouth Banks In Few Days

Finds Nest of Young Owls In His Barn

And what do you think of this? Sam Spicer, well known farmer of Plymouth township who lives just east of the city on Ann Arbor Trail, the other day found up in his barn a nest of young monkey-faced owls that had just been hatched.

For several days past, Mr. Spicer had noticed that two or three owls had been lingering around his barn. Usually they leave much earlier in the season. One morning he saw one of the owls fly to a post.

He investigated and there in the nest were three young owls that had apparently been hatched in the last few days.

A pair of owls have for ten years been living about his barn, but never before has he known them to stay so late in the season or hatch out some young ones in early winter.

He says that the young owls appear to be getting along nicely in the nest. He is waiting for a judgment from the time it has taken for other young owls to grow up before they can fly. Mr. Spicer says it will be late in December before these will be able to leave the nest.

Hundreds Visit Model Electric House This Week

Final Inspection Brings Words of Highest Commendation

Plymouth's model home, located on the Hough subdivision just south of Ann Arbor Trail, has been visited by hundreds during the days of final inspection. While no accurate count was kept, it is known that the number Sunday afternoon alone ran to nearly 200 visitors.

From early morning, until late at night people called to see the latest there in electrical appliances and fixtures. Needless to say that every one expressed highest commendation of it not only the house but all of its exceptionally interesting and new electrical ideas as well as the decorations, painting, heating and plumbing.

When it was stated that much work and many steps could be saved by electrical arrangements, some thought the statement might be a bit overdrawn. But not so. As one went from room to room, it was plainly evident that even with the lighting arrangement, many steps could be saved.

Every fire and person who had anything to do with providing the materials and in building the house have reason to feel satisfied with the results. If the many favorable comments made by the visitors can be regarded as compensation for work well done.

Run Out of Deer Hunting Permits

Maxwell Moon of the Corner Hardware store and Ed Wilson, north side hardware dealer, the two persons who issued deer hunting licenses in Plymouth are going to prepare for a bigger hunt next year than they had in this. Several questions are being asked by many—what will Plymouth do with its hospital problem that the West sisters have partly solved so well?

Students Display Hobbies Tonight

All parents and friends of high school students are invited to attend the second annual hobby night which will be held tonight, November 22, at the former Plymouth high school auditorium from 7:30 until 9:00. This year hobby night promises to be a very interesting affair. All clubs and departments will be represented and students will be shown working on drawings and paintings. Librarians will demonstrate book binding and classifications of books. Other departments and clubs which will be represented are Girl Reserves, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Home Economics, agricultural departments, Book Explorers' Club and 4H club. There will be a body of student judges who will give prizes for the three best and most complete displays in each field represented.

Miss Gracia McGregor Dies in California

News has been received from Oakland, California, of the death of Miss Gracia McGregor which occurred Friday, Nov. 15. Miss McGregor, 22, is formerly of Plymouth in Vermontville and Ann Arbor. She was the daughter of the late Rev. J. W. and Mary Hough McGregor, former residents of Plymouth.

Besides relatives in this city there are two sisters who survive her, Mrs. Hubert Vering of Oakland and Miss Mae McGregor of Ann Arbor. Funeral services and interment were held in Oakland.

Cash Just At This Time Will Be A Business Aid

Average Saving During Past Year Has Been $44 Per Person. Report of Founder of Christmas Club Idea Says

Within the next few days The Plymouth United Savings bank and the First National bank will mail Christmas club savings checks amounting to nearly $10,000 to residents of Plymouth and vicinity.

This big amount of money turned over to the thrifty people of Plymouth who began last winter to save a few dollars for this Christmas will give them plenty of spending money and it will prove a big help to local business men who have already stocked their stores with Christmas goods.

It is interesting to note that in addition to the almost $10,000 in cash to go to Plymouth people in the next few days that three hundred and twelve million dollars will be distributed to about seven million Christmas Club members by approximately five thousand banking institutions and organizations within the next two weeks according to an estimate given out yesterday by Herbert F. Rawll, Founder and President of Christmas Club, a Corporation.

The estimated average amount for each member is $44.70. While most of the mutual savings banks and many commercial banks throughout the country have reported increases averaging 17 per cent over the previous year, the entire distribution is smaller than some banking institutions in curtailing promotional activities on account of abnormally low money rates, did not offer the Christmas Club service to customers during 1935.

The distribution of Christmas Club funds this year, New York leads the other States with about $79,000,000.00, while the estimates for Pennsylvania are $37,500,000.00, for New Jersey $31,100,000.00 and for Massachusetts $23,260,000.00.

New York City's Metropolitan District will receive about $45,000,000. The Bank of America N. T. & S. A. in California will distribute $5,400,000. The Bank of the Manhattan Company in New York has $2,850,000.00 for more than 70,000 members enrolled at 68 offices in Greater New York.

The Seaman's Bank for Savings in the City of New York has a total accumulation of approximately $1,350,000.00. The banks in Washington D. C. have $5,500,000.00 ready for distribution.

The Plymouth United bank's new Christmas club for 1936 will open Saturday of this week according to an announcement made by the bank in this issue of The Mail.

Planned For New Hospital Nearly Five Years Ago

It Just Became Known That F. D. Schrader Had Plans Made

When The Mail published a first page editorial recently calling attention to the necessity of a larger hospital for this city, it possessed no knowledge of the fact that five years ago Fred D. Schrader had prepared a set of plans and specifications for a hospital building that would nicely fit the needs of the need of a fast growing city the size of Plymouth.

It was soon after this when the West sisters came to Plymouth and started its excellent little hospital and under adverse conditions they have taken care of the hospital needs of the city to a certain extent. In fact what they have accomplished has been nothing more than amazing.

When the new hospital started and business began to decline, Mr. Schrader put the plans away and not until the editorial appeared in last week's paper as to the necessity of a larger hospital for this community did he have time to call the plans to the attention of the city. In fact at the time he had them prepared by Thomas Moss, well known Plymouth architect, few in the city knew about it. He even went so far as to purchase a site on the west side of the city consisting of an acre and a half of ground.

Other cities no larger than Plymouth have erected and maintained ideal hospitals, not large, but serving the needs of the community. In which they exist perfectly. Several questions are being asked by many—what will Plymouth do with its hospital problem that the West sisters have partly solved so well?

To Announce Rebus Contest Winners In Next Week's Paper

So many answers came in to The Plymouth Lumber and Coal company's Rebus ad in last week's issue of The Plymouth Mail, that the judging of the contest could not be decided in time for announcement in this week's issue of The Mail. Charles Mather states that the winners will be made known in next week's paper. The contest, sponsored in connection with the Manhattan coal advertisements, attracted much more attention than had been anticipated and it is for that reason that there will be a slight delay in deciding the winner.

WANTED—A JOB

Professor Howard Mumford Jones of the English department of the University of Michigan was a speaker last week before the members of the University of Michigan Press Club at the annual meeting of the organization held in the nearby city of Ann Arbor. His subject was, "The University and Public Opinion."

In his talk before the newspaper editors he declared that he believed it wrong for the University of Michigan to exclude students who were members of the Communism party. He said that they were just as much entitled to receive an education at the expense of the taxpayers of Michigan as the members of any other political party.

Naturally The Plymouth Mail is in violent opposition to any such suggestion.

Communists believe in the destruction and overthrow of all organized government and institutions.

We do not know how much salary Prof. Jones receives from the taxpayers of Michigan for teaching a class in English at the University.

We do know that if that pay check was not forthcoming every week or month that Prof. Jones wouldn't be staying in Ann Arbor very long.

He doubtless would be reading the "help wanted" columns of the newspapers if something should happen to the present system of American government which enables him to get his pay check right on the dot when due.

Maybe it might be a good thing to stop the income of some of these "liberal" thinkers for a while.

Communists when in control do not tolerate the expression of opinions or views that differ from their ideas. They slaughter their political opponents as we kill destructive insects.

No, we cannot in anyway agree with the asinine educational policy advocated by Prof. Jones.

His expressions only add to our amazement at the apparent little understanding some educators have as to actual conditions in our country.

If they could mingle with the people up and down the Main streets of America, with the farmers, the good, substantial American workers, and the small town business men who pay the taxes that pay the pay checks of Prof. Jones and his educational associates, they would not retain for long their "liberal" ideas about the education of Communists at the expense of the taxpayers.

GAINING PUBLIC CONFIDENCE

The public, if one is to judge the entire country by this locality, has had an open mind, so to speak, about Father Coughlin. Many have strongly believed in him and the reform he is advocating. Many, many more, have wondered as to the consistency of one whose life is dedicated to the cause of the Church of which he is a member delving into public affairs. But one after hearing his public address Sunday afternoon can no longer doubt his sincerity, his desire to aid fellow citizens of all creeds and denominations and his hatred of anything but a true republic. He made clear the problems and dangers of the times.

Like hundreds of thousands of others, we have about come to the conclusion that Father Coughlin knows well the danger our liberty is in and he has turned on the right road to escape that danger — DICTATORSHIP. If Father Coughlin follows the same highway he indicated that he is on Sunday there will be a vast army of true Americans treading along in his footsteps before he has gone much farther.

THANKSGIVING

In no other nation of the earth is there a holiday—our holy day, as it should properly be written—corresponding to the American Thanksgiving. And in no other nation does there exist the same bountiful reason why this nation should set aside a special day for humble thanks and grateful appreciation for the blessings bestowed upon it and its people by Almighty God, the Creator and Giver of all things.

Steadily, since the first Thanksgiving Day, more than 300 years ago, when the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock, has the greatness of America, materially and morally, advanced until she stands today foremost of all nations in securement of happiness, peace, and prosperity to her citizenry.

Even when material things are lacking, when the business by which man earns his daily bread is sorely beset, Americans should be thankful that their lot is brighter than that of many other peoples.

It is fitting then, that all should join in the spirit of this day, which includes among the reverent and the thoughtful a prayer that God in His infinite goodness and mercy will grant a larger share of His bounty to His less fortunate children wherever they may be situated until the fulfillment of the prophecy of peace, good-will, and brotherhood rests upon all the earth.

ENGLAND CURVED HER "MOTHER GOOSE" IN THE PERSON OF AN OLD WOMAN NAMED MARTHA GOOSE WHO LIVED IN SUSSEX, ENGLAND ABOUT 1704. AS A NURSE, SHE OFTEN CROONED MELODIOUS AND SOON GAINED THE DERISIVE TITLE OF "MOTHER GOOSE" A LATER PATRON WHOSE CHILD SHE NURSED DIED IN THE STRAIT WITTED UNDER THE TITLE OF "MOTHER GOOSE" BUT THAT TOO IS UNPROVED EVIDENCE.

THE EARLIEST KNOWN COLLECTION OF NURSERY RHYMES WAS PUBLISHED ABOUT 1760 BY JOHN NEWBERRY OF LONDON. THESE WERE MADE POPULAR BY THE BOSTON EDITIONS OF MARGUERITE FRANCES'S 1824-1826 SONGS THAT TIME MILLIONS OF COPIES HAVE BEEN PUBLISHED IN ALL SEVEN LANGUAGES AND FORMS ENTITLED "MOTHER GOOSE".

THE FIRST CLAIM OF AN AMERICAN NURSERY RHYME IS THAT MOTHER GOOSE WAS ELIZABETH GOOSE WHO DIED IN 1787. SHE WAS THE MOTHER OF JOHN GOOSE WHO WAS PRINTED IN THE FIRST COLLECTION OF NURSERY RHYMES. UNFORTUNATELY THERE ARE NO RECORDS OF HER EXISTENCE. IT WAS SHE WHO WAS THE FIRST TO PRINT "MOTHER GOOSE" IN THE "SONGS OF PROVERBIAL WISDOM".

THE FRENCH RECORD PROVES THAT ELIZABETH CHARLES PERRAULT PUBLISHED A BOOK OF NURSERY RHYMES WITH A CAPTION OF "LES MÈRES DE LA LOYE" OR "MOTHER GOOSE". "MOTHER GOOSE" IS BELIEVED TO DERIVE FROM "QUEEN GOOSE-FOOT" (REINE PERNANCE) SAID TO BE THE MOTHER OF CHARLEMAGNE.

A Glimpse Into Their Yesterdays

Along about 35 years ago there was a big truck parked at the corner of Mack and Baldwin avenues in Detroit. It was one of the first of its kind in this part of the state, where vegetables were grown during the summer in the fields and in a "root" house during the winter.

A sturdy little lad lived in the neighborhood whose father had died when he was seven years of age, a lad who found it necessary to earn all the pennies he could to aid his mother and four other children in the family. He was the oldest and he felt his responsibilities.

Early one June morning he trudged over to the big truck garden where he saw a number of men working.

"I'd like a job if you think a boy can do the work," said the youngster.

"Well you know boys ain't worth much, but if you are willing to work and work hard, I'll give you three cents an hour."

There out on the lowlands of Mack avenue, now covered by buildings, the youngster, Frank C. Lefevre, started on his first steady job—at 3 cents an hour.

He pulled weeds, gathered and washed vegetables and as all good working boys do, he did a man's work. Whenever there was work to do during the summer he had employment in the truck garden and in winter times he worked in the root house.

Meanwhile his school days had started and he entered the old Berry school at the corner of Cord and Berlin where it was his privilege to have Miss Holmes, for over half a century one of the outstanding instructors of Detroit's public schools, as a teacher.

But his school days were not to be the free, happy kind that most children enjoy. He had to work, work every minute he could find a job. Additional responsibilities came when this chunky lad was but 12 years of age. His mother died. So a lad of 12 became the real head of the household, taking on the responsibilities of both mother and father the best he could with the kindly assistance and aid of relatives.

But when he wasn't working he found time to play baseball with the children in the neighborhood or over on the public school grounds.

It wasn't long before he became one of the best amateur baseball players in Detroit.

These were in the days before Babe Ruth, king of the swatters, but Babe Ruth in his best days had nothing on this chunky, hard-driving, east side sandlot player of Detroit.

The boy had picked up a newspaper route. He worked it up to one of the largest in Detroit in those times. He carried over 150 Detroit Journals and the Detroit News throughout the neighborhood. His newspaper job gave him a bit more time to play baseball than did his job pulling weeds and it brought him in more money too.

As one baseball season came after the other, the lad had come to be known as promising material for professional baseball.

The time had come for him to make a decision. Some of his ancestors had been in the priesthood. He had an uncle who had been a prominent Catholic priest up in Saginaw for over 50 years. In fact the first Catholic Bishop of Detroit, Peter Paul Lefevre, was a great, great uncle of Father Lefevre.

"Shall I continue to play baseball or shall I enter the priesthood?" was the question that ran through his mind as the months rolled around. He had been told

ADULT EDUCATION

The truly forgotten man was the adult. The older world took a human being as a child and gave him a hasty preparation for life; then it set him loose to work as best he could with his untrained mind and unsocialized emotions. We now know that no individual can be fully trained for the life of his childhood. When he is a child he must think and feel as a child; if he is to work and feel as a man he must be trained to do so in the mature years of his life.—George Neal in The Orion Review.

THE PATIENT RECOVERED

Harry L. Pierson, Michigan WPA director, in a radio address delivered at Grand Rapids Sunday, stated that shortage of labor in this state is hindering progress on WPA projects, more particularly in the heavy construction field. In other words while Rome has fiddled the fire has burned itself out. And instead of sending up a shout of satisfaction and getting out of the way of progress, the only persons who have ever benefited from WPA to any extent are mourning the present situation. While Washington and an army of white collared engineers and architects and swivel chair operatives of varying sorts have persisted in dilly-dallying, industry has picked up the reins, set a straight course and now has hired at normal wages the same men who were expected to secure mere subsistent wages out of public funds.

While the doctor searched his bags for the right shade of pink pills, the patient recovered.—Vernon J. Brown in The Ingham County News.

CIVIL SERVICE—A PROTECTOR OF SNOOTY PUBLIC WORKERS

A Michigan exchange extols the civil service as practiced in New York state. The good Lord save Michigan from the New York brand of so-called "civil service." It isn't even civil. James Haskins in The Howard City Record.

WHAT'S THE USE OF HURRYING. WE GET PAID ANYWAY

One of the men employed on the bridge construction came home from work the other day storming. This man, although a skilled workman had accepted any kind of a job available to keep his family off welfare—and had succeeded. He had heard one of the WPA men comment to his companions, "What's the use of our hurrying? We get paid whether we work or not."

That remark tells the whole objection to work relief. Some influence, we suspect social experts and union labor leaders, has had injected into regulations some very liberal provisions—liberal to the workers. They were paid for Monday, a legal holiday. They can report on any stormy morning and get credit for a full day's work.

If private industry was able to exist under that sort of a plan and was able to pay men whether or not they accomplished anything, then that sort of a schedule might be all right. It is the hope—at least we suppose it is—that work relief men will eventually be employed by private industry. We believe that a schedule that is predicated on pay whether or not one works is bad. It will soon disrupt not only men employed on work relief, but other workers who observe it.

We quite realize that the tremendous problems of caring for unfortunate is bound to be far from perfect. No one expects that. We do believe that rules of common-sense, industry and thrift should predominate. This may be too much to hope for from any governmental undertaking.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican-News.

TRANSPARENT POLITICS

It was only a short time ago that the threats were made in Washington about "cracking down" on Ford and denying him the privilege to submit bids on trucks and motor equipment which the United States was going to use, because he did not sign up on the NRA, and now the government writes him a letter and asks him for advice. It makes such an absurd and ridiculous picture that we don't wonder that Ford answered with three sentences, the last and significant one being: "Either unquestionable acquiescence and no counsel has been asked."

We must not lose sight of the fact that business did not start a real recuperation until the Supreme Court outlawed the NRA, or in other words the New Deal.—Frank Bryce in The Grand Ledge Independent.

Ayers Writes It Has Been Cool On Coast

Harry Ayers, well known Plymouth fruit grower, who with Mrs. Ayers left for California a few weeks ago to spend the winter, in a letter to The Plymouth Mail, states that "sunny California" has been enjoying some rather cold weather since their arrival. "But we had a very pleasant trip through. We didn't hurry and had no difficulty at all in covering the distance in six and a half days," he says.

V-8 LEADERSHIP

On October 31 of last year, Henry Ford announced his intention to build a million Ford V-8s in 1935. We are pleased to report that this goal was reached in exactly ten months instead of a full year. One million cars and trucks is an impressive total. But figures by themselves mean nothing. It is what they represent that counts. Selling a V-8 at a low price has brought a new kind of automobile within reach of the people. Producing it has provided steady work for hundreds of thousands of men in the Ford plants, in associated industries and on the farm. These million Ford V-8 cars and trucks have helped to make things better all around. In the first ten months of 1935 the Ford Motor Company paid out, in the United States alone, $140,119,326.00 in wages and $523,111,389.00 for materials.

Sunday the Last Day

If you have not already visited the

that has been constructed in Plymouth, do so between now and Sunday evening.

Sunday will be the last day the home will be open for public inspection.

There is much you can learn about newer building ideas and newer ways of building these days. The plumbing, heating, decorating, lighting, are all of the latest ideas. There will be a hundred and one other things for you to see and inspect—but remember SUNDAY is the LAST DAY.

Mrs. Walter Nichol presented the plans of the Historical Essay Contest, and asked for an appropriation of ten dollars for prizes, which was granted.

A contribution was made to the Red Cross, Miss Royal Larkins told of the packing of three boxes of clothing for the school at Crossnore, N.C., especially mentioning the very generous contribution of Mrs. Thad Knapp of Northville.

Mrs. Frederick Lendrum asked Mrs. Dwight Randall to present some facts on the perils to the security of our country, showing the necessity of defense of our country and its ideals.

Mrs. Strong, chairman of the program committee then took charge and introduced Mrs. Harold Stevens, who presented a fine paper entitled, "Pioneer Women of Michigan." Mrs. Stevens told us that only four women in the United States have been honored by life size statues. These are of Margaret Dougherty, who mothered the street waifs in New Orleans; of Sacajawen, the Indian woman, who acted as a guide in the Lewis and Clark expedition; and whose statue is in Portland, Oregon; of Francis E. Willard in the rotunda at Washington; and of Laura Haviland in Quaker garb on the lawn of the City Hall at Adrian, Michigan.

A figure most potent in industry, both for peace and high ideals was a pioneer Indian woman, Madame LaFrambois. Her husband was a fur trader, and their influence was most strongly felt in the northern part of our state and at Mackinac, where Madame LaFrambois finally retired devoting her fortune to improvement of her own people, and to further the cause of the Catholic Church of which she was a devoted member.

Mrs. Stevens went on to point out that this very locality, until recently, possessed one of Michigan's outstanding pioneer women, Julia Anne King, the greatest woman educator Michigan has ever had, and one of the six greatest in the United States. She was born near Milan where her first knowledge was gained in a log school house, then she graduated from Adrian schools, and from the Ypsilanti Normal in 1858. Marked success attended her efforts in St. Clair, Lansing, Flint and at Charlotte, where in 1876 she was elected superintendent, the first woman in Michigan to serve thus. Then the highest honor the State Board of Education had was conferred upon her when she was asked to accept the position as Preceptress and History head in the Michigan State Normal at Ypsilanti.

Michigan has one nationally famous woman, Laura Smith Haviland of Lenawee county, who opened the first school in Michigan, which admitted students of good character, regardless of sex and color. Out of the enterprise started by the Havilands, two splendid state industrial schools have evolved, one for girls at Adrian, and another for boys at Coldwater, and the culmination of her work was reached in our last legislature, when it created the Michigan Children's Institute.

Mrs. C. M. Chase of Northville read an obituary of one Samuel Patchen in New York describing the terrible ordeals suffered by prisoners of war in the early days of our country.

The annual Christmas party will be held as last year at the home of Mrs. Sherwin Hill Monday evening, Dec. 9 at Greenmead, Northville. The husbands and friends of the members are included for the evening's pleasure.

Crops Are Best State Ever Had

The 1935 crop season, now drawing to a close, has been a favorable one for most Michigan farmers. The combined yield per acre of the principal crops of the State this year was 18 per cent above the 1921-30 average, according to Wayne H. Church, Senior Agricultural Statistician. From this standpoint, Michigan surpassed all of her northern neighbors. Frosts caused some damage to late crops during October, particularly potatoes and grapes. On the other hand such crops as corn, field beans, and buckwheat exceeded earlier expectations, and apples and pears are harvesting out closely in line with the indications of a month ago.

Price prospects for Michigan potato growers improved to some extent during October. Frost damage in many of the late-crop states has resulted in a reduction of about 12 million bushels, or 3 per cent in the national supply compared with October 1 indications. The November 1 preliminary estimate of the United States crop amounts to 353,805,000 bushels which is 32 million bushels or 9 per cent above last year's large production and 10 million bushels or 3 per cent below the 5-year average. 1928-32 crop. The Michigan potato crop has been estimated from November 1 reports at 25,450,000 bushels. Last year Michigan produced 34,304,000 bushels while the average crop during the 1928-32 period was 23,072,000 bushels. In most years of near average crops from 55 to 60 per cent of the total Michigan production has been sold, the remainder being accounted for by shrinkage, waste, and farm use as food, seed, and feed for livestock. Yields per acre in Michigan this year were relatively lightest in the Upper Peninsula and on the west side of the Lower Peninsula. In south-central and southeastern Lower Michigan returns per acre this season were considerably better than elsewhere in the State, being up to and above the 10-year average. Field frost damage from the low temperatures of October 5-7 was serious in a few areas, chiefly in Delta and Menominee counties of the Upper Peninsula and from Wexford county south in Lower Michigan. In most central and northern commercial areas, grading losses were heavy on account of the large proportion of No. 2's and cull stock.

Although there was some frost damage to late beans resulting in heavy pickage on such lots, yields per acre were heavy this year in practically all of the main producing areas. For the State the preliminary November estimate is for an average yield of 890 pounds on the 547,000 acres or a total production of 4,814,000 bags. This compares with 3,377,000 bags harvested last year and a 5-year average crop of 3,244,000 bags. For the country as a whole improved yield prospects in Michigan, Montana, and Nebraska were more than offset by reductions in California, New Mexico, and Wyoming resulting in a preliminary estimate based on November 1 yield reports of 13,806,000 bags. The 1934 United States crop amounted to 10,369,000 bags while the average production for the 5 year preceding 1933 was 11,858,000 bags.

It is impossible to make an unrighteous person a Christian by law as it is to square a circle.

All On Welfare Are Registered

Most of the sixteen districts of the National Reemployment Service are rapidly approaching the hundred per cent mark in the registration of welfare recipients. Major Howard Starret, state director of this branch of the Department of Labor announced today.

"As soon as we have the names of all welfare people on our files we will be better able to concentrate our efforts toward finding jobs in private industry for all unemployed as well as for people who are working on temporary federal work projects." Major Starret said. "At the present time we are registering both relief and non-relief people for work on work-projects and for jobs in private industry."

Among the sixteen districts the number of relief people registered reached the following percentages last week: Alma, including Owosso and West Branch, 83 per cent; Alpena, 95 per cent; Ann Arbor, including Hillsdale, Jackson and Monroe, and Adrian, 84 per cent; Bessmer, 85 per cent; Charlotte and Allegan, 83 per cent; Wayne County, 58 per cent; Houghton, 84 per cent; Iron Mountain, including Daggett and Iron River, 96 per cent; Manistee, including Reed City and Cadillac, 97 per cent; Marquette, including Munising, Manistique and Escanaba, 88 per cent; Muskegon, including Grand Rapids, Big Rapids and Holland, 64 per cent; Petoskey, 85 per cent; Saginaw, including Bay City, Flint, Pontiac, Port Huron and Mt. Clemens, 90 per cent; St. Joseph, Kalamazoo and Battle Creek, 74 per cent; Sault Ste. Marie, 90 per cent; and Traverse City, 98 per cent.

The National Reemployment Service assigned 13,228 Michigan men and women to jobs in private industry and on work-relief last week. There is no fee for this service to either employer or employee.

IN THE BUSHES AGAIN
Look out folks, if you are driving into Detroit. The Detroit police department has again moved its Plymouth road speed trap out into the country, and almost any time of night or day you can if you watch a speed trap back of some of the bushes or beer gardens waiting for some out of town driver. Outside residents of Detroit are fully convinced now that the Detroit speed trap on Plymouth road is a money making scheme for the city, and not due to any traffic hazards existing out in the country.

The First Sawmill
When the Pilgrims first landed in America, they immediately began to build huts or houses and of course vast quantities of lumber were necessary. Above is shown the first sawmill of America—located near Portsmouth, New Hampshire, about 1631. This was probably New England's first water-power development.

We serve with unassuming efficiency entirely in keeping with the highest principles of our profession.

AMERICAN TABLEAUX SHOWN IN ASSEMBLY

Presenting a pageant of important events in the history of America, the Senior Drama Club directed by Miss Ford, entertained the audience of Plymouth High in a general assembly held Friday, November 15. The program consisted of a series of tableaux.

Jack Selles introduced an unusual feature and read verses selected for each tableau. The scenes portrayed the aboriginal Indians, the landing of Columbus, the colony of the Pilgrims, the making of the first American flag by Betsy Ross, the "Spirit of '76" the freeing of the negroes by the Emancipation Proclamation, the World War, the heroism of American women, and the Unknown Soldier.

PLYMOUTH DEFEATS NORTHVILLE 45-0

Plymouth's football team handed Northville the worst defeat ever suffered at the hands of a Rock eleven. At no time was the outcome in doubt. Superior experience, better mastery of plays, far more man power, and a better balanced team gave the Rocks their sixth win of the season. Almost at the beginning of the game, Gilles lateraled to Wagenschutz who ran forty yards for a touchdown. This set the stage for an explosion of touchdown plays on passes. Kinsey tossed a twenty-yard pass to McNulty and Wagenschutz skirted left end for the second touchdown. The third in this series came on another long pass Kinsey to Coffin who easily crossed the goal line un-molested. All of these scores came in the first period and Northville never had a chance to overcome this lead.

CLASS NOTES

Continuing their study of the Elizabethan period in literature, the members of the senior English class taught by Miss Allen, are reading Shakespeare's "Macbeth." Discussion of the great tragedy had occupied the past week.

Mr. Latture's fifth hour civics class has been studying articles on "What Shall We Do with the Boy" which covered pharmacy, law, and dentistry. "What Shall We Do with the Girl" covered Nursing and School Teaching on Thursday night. Jane Hood, Olivia Marcoe, Ray Martin and William Rutherford gave reports on four of these professions.

GIRL RESERVES SEW FOR GUILD

Members of the intermediate, junior, and senior Girl Reserve groups began working for the Needlework Guild during their meetings last Thursday, November 14. At this time each girl was given three articles of babies' clothing to make and hand in. The girls in these three clubs have helped in this sewing for several years. In their business meeting the senior girls also passed out cloths and metal sponges for the members to sell and planned to sell Christmas wreaths in an effort to increase the treasury.

THANKSGIVING

We walk on starry fields of white
And yet ignore the daisies;
For blessings common in our sight
We rarely offer praises.
We sigh for some supreme delight
To crown our lives with splendor.
And quite ignore our daily store
Of pleasures sweet and tender.
Our cares are bold and push their way
Upon our thought and feeling
They hand about us all the day.
Our time from pleasure stealing.
So unobtrusive many a joy
We pass by and forget it,
But worry strives to own our lives
And conquers if we let it.
There's not a day in all the year
But hold: some hidden pleasure.
And looking back joys oft appear
To bring the past's wide measure.
But blessings are like friends,
I hold.
Who love and labor near us
We ought to raise our notes of praise.
While living hearts can hear us.
Full many a blessing wears the face
Of worry or of trouble.
Farseeing is the soul and wise
Who knows the mask is double.
But he who has the faith
To thank his God for sorrow
Has found a joy without alloy
To gladden every morrow.
We ought to make the moments notes
Of happy glad Thanksgivings:
The hours and days a silent phrase
Of music we are living.
And so the theme should swell and grow.
As weeks and months pass o'er us.
And rise sublime at this good time
A grand Thanksgiving chorus.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox

THE SEVEN HUNDRED

I am a firm believer in the rights of free speech and so I will allow the following contribution by Norma Jean Roe to pass uncensored.

Sessions, the Socialist. Was a terrible vocalist. But thought he was quite big. When he gave the name Bessie To a poor little pig.

While on this subject, here are some poems which I thought up.

Pat McKinnon spoke too much. In French class number one. The new seat at this bother got.

Wait by the room's one boy. "Is this my punishment?" she said. "Oh, this is nearely joy!" Chorus

Oh, Pat Column flat. Here is a poem which I call My Song of the Shirt.

But she sees dreams. Midnight is blue. The shirt that I wear Is that color too. Which should settle the doubts of those who rumor that I have joined the Fascists. After tearing that old little bar that Peep-Boo and Little Bo Peep have been telling about I succeeded in composing this rhapsody which tells how Jack Selles got left behind at Salem with Dorothy Catey. Drama Club's giving some mighty fine plays. For the farmer folk living in Salem these days. But the trouble it seems is that the little sees dreams. When he travels so far from his home. When he got there this boy could not bear. To leave Dorothy and go home. So the rest of the cast left the hero behind. To talk to this girl and to dream of her kind.

PLYMOUTH DEBATERS DEFEAT RIVER ROUGE

Winning the third decision debate of the season, Plymouth high school defeated River Rouge in a contest held Thursday, Nov. 11. Plymouth's team, upholding the affirmative, consisted of Harry Fischer, Jack Sessions, and Tom Brock. The proposition discussed was that of government control of munitions. Previous to this contest, Plymouth had supported the negative of the question in two Twin Valley Association debates.

Affirmative speakers from River Rouge included Virginia Brodowski, Lillian Blankenbaker, and Jack Robinson. Katherine Schultz, Plymouth debater of last year, was the chairman and the debate was judged by Professor Harold B. Allen of the University of Michigan. A larger audience than usual attended.

TORCH MEMBERS VIEW EDUCATIONAL FILMS

Two interesting motion picture reels were shown at the November 14 meeting of the Torch club, "Our American Bears," the subject of one showed many interesting habits and characteristics of the animals which live in America as the grizzly sloth, and polar species. The other reel, a picturization of the famous ride of Paul Revere contained many scenes of historical interest such as the mad ride, the lantern signal in the old North Church, the response of the minute men, British troops and actual hostilities. Both films were education as well as entertaining and fill a definite need of the members.

The discussion "Football" which was to have been led by Harold Welch has been postponed until the next meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burgett delightfully entertained sixteen guests Saturday evening at their home on Liberty street in celebration of his birthday and his father's George Burgett of Port Huron. Games were played and delicious refreshments served which included a birthday cake. Both guests of honor received gifts in remembrance of the occasion. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Burgett of Port Huron, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Beyer, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Burgett and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Michael and family of Plymouth.

Miss Dorothy Foego of Detroit, Miss Ruth Washburn of Grass Lake and Miss June Jewell of this city, teachers in the Lankertville high school, attended the football game in Ypsilanti Saturday and on Sunday were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Jewell on Church street.

What Cigarette Statute States

Plymouth's police department, believing that some local dealers who sell cigarettes, are not thoroughly familiar with the state law pertaining to the sale of cigarettes to minors, has requested The Mail to publish a copy of the state law on this subject.

It is stated that in one or two places where school boys and girls are inclined to loiter, that dealers, not knowing the terms of the statute, have made sales. It is the desire of both school and police authorities that the terms of the statute be made known generally.

It follows:
Act 226, 1909, p. 411; Eff. Sept. 1. An Act to prohibit the manufacture, sale or use of adulterated cigarettes, and to prohibit the use of cigarettes by minors.
The People of the State of Michigan enact: 12830 Adulterated cigarettes; manufacture, sale, gift, penalty. Section 1. Any person who in any form, in any manufactures, sells, or gives to any one, any cigarette containing any ingredient deleterious to health, foreign to tobacco, shall be punished by a fine of not more than fifty (50) dollars, or imprisonment in a county jail for not more than thirty (30) days.

12831 Cigarettes; furnishing to minor, penalty. Sec. 2. Any person within this state who sells, gives to, or in any way furnishes to any person in any form, in any public place, any cigarette, in any form on any public highway, street, alley, park or other lands used or open to the public in any public place of business, may be arrested by any officer of the law, who may be cognizant of such offense; and further, it shall be the duty of all such officers, upon complaint of any person upon warrant properly issued to arrest such offenders and take them to the proper court. In case the offender is found guilty, the court may impose a punishment at its discretion, in the sum of not to exceed ten (10) dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed five (5) days for each offense. Provided, That if said minor person shall give information which may lead to the arrest of the person or persons violating section two (2) of this act, in giving to or selling, or in any way furnishing said minor person tobacco, or cigarettes, and shall give evidence as a witness in such proceedings against said party or parties, the court shall have power to suspend sentence against such minor person.

12832 Harboring minors for indulgence in cigarettes; penalty; right of parents. Sec. 4. Any person who knowingly harbors any person under twenty-one (21) years of age or grants to them the privilege of gathering upon or frequenting any property or lands held by him, for the purpose of indulging in the use of cigarettes in any form, shall be held in the same penalty as provided for in section two (2) of this act. Provided, That no part of this act shall be construed as to interfere with the rights of parents or lawful guardians in the rearing and management of their minor heirs or wards within the bounds of their own private premises.

12833 Harboring minors for indulgence in cigarettes; penalty; right of parents. Sec. 4. Any person who knowingly harbors any person under twenty-one (21) years of age or grants to them the privilege of gathering upon or frequenting any property or lands held by him, for the purpose of indulging in the use of cigarettes in any form, shall be held in the same penalty as provided for in section two (2) of this act. Provided, That no part of this act shall be construed as to interfere with the rights of parents or lawful guardians in the rearing and management of their minor heirs or wards within the bounds of their own private premises.

Engagement of Chas. Ball Jr. Announced
Mrs. Lucy C. Smith announced the engagement of her daughter, Alice Luella, to Charles O. Ball, Jr. of Detroit, at a party Friday evening. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Huxtable, 1224 North Walnut street.

The announcements were hidden in the pretty appointed table decorations. The wedding will take place Saturday, November 30. Guests included Mrs. Charles O. Ball of Detroit, Miss Mary Alice Spice of Charlotte, Miss Jeanette and Miss Jane Stetler of Olivet, Miss Lois Jane Leontine Barnes, Miss Kathleen Barnett, Miss Rae Barnett, Mrs. Theron F. Mills, Mrs. Gretchen Price, and Mrs. Huxtable, all of Lansing State Journal.

This announcement is of especial interest to Plymouth residents as Mr. Ball Jr. has a large number of friends here where he attended high school and lived for many years. He was appointed to an excellent position with the auditing department of the Detroit Trust company sometime ago and is getting along nicely in his position. He graduated from the Plymouth high school with the class of 1931. Miss Smith is a graduate of the Central high school in Lansing with the class of 1932 and later studied at Olivet college where she specialized in art work. She is well known among the younger people of Lansing where she has a host of friends.

Mrs. Zelma Phair
Weds Martin De Filippi

A wedding of interest to many Plymouth residents was the marriage of Mrs. Zelma Phair, daughter of Mrs. George Lane of Detroit, to Martin DeFilippi on Nov. 16 at Centerline, Mich.

The bride's only attendant was her sister-in-law Kathleen Lane and the bride's brother Guy Lane was best man.

The bride wore a gown of light blue satin trimmed in pink and carried a bouquet of pink roses and baby breath. A gown of pale gold silk, was the maid of honor's choice and she wore a corsage of pink roses and baby breath.

A dinner for relatives was served at the home of the bride's mother at 5 o'clock. At 8 o'clock a reception was held at the same place for 100 friends and neighbors.

After a wedding trip to Calumet, they will be at home to their friends at 12861 Georgiana street, Detroit.

Bruce Miller Makes Mining College Team

Bruce Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Miller of 296 Blanche street, Plymouth, has been named by Don Sherman, basketball coach at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, as among outstanding candidates for the Huskies' quintet. Though rather light, Bruce is fast, shifty, and alert, and on account of these qualities saw service in many games last year.

Court practice at Michigan Tech has been under way for two weeks. The first game is slated for Dec. 6. The entire schedule will include 14 games.

Young Miller is prominent not only in athletics but also in publications and in professional club activities at the Mining School. He is assistant editor of the Keeweenaw, student yearbook, and of the Michigan Tech Lodge, student newspaper. As president of Chi Epsilon Chi, honorary fraternity for students of chemistry and chemical engineering, he has directed the rise of the group founded only in 1933, to an outstanding position among the seven engineering societies on the Upper Peninsula college's campus.

HURT WHEN HIT BY CAR

Miss Margaret Brandle, who resides on the Wilcox road just beyond the parkway drive, was slightly injured Wednesday noon when she started to cross the road and was struck by an auto driven by Ralph Ray. The driver of the car as he noticed the girl who was walking the same way the car was going, prevented seriously injuring the girl by quickly turning his machine to one side of the road. The girl was picked up by the boy and hurried to the Plymouth hospital where her injuries were treated. Officers who investigated, placed no blame on any one for the accident.

Star Officers Are Installed

The Masonic Temple was the scene of a very beautiful and impressive ceremony Tuesday evening, Nov. 19th, when a large number of members and their friends gathered, to witness the installation of the newly elected and appointed officers of Plymouth Chapter 115, Order of the Eastern Star.

The officers to be installed joined in a semi-circle in the West facing the East and receiving the Obligation from Past Patron Chauncey Rauch were: Worthy Matron Mildred Eckles; Associate Matron, Ione Faber; Associate Patron, Robert Chappel; Secretary, Anna M. Carley; Treasurer, Anna Bakewell; Conductress, Joss Innis; Associate Conductress, Winifred Downing; Marshal, Evelyn Brocklehurst; Chaplain, Mildred Litzenger; Organist, Nancy Richards; Adah, Carol Birch; Ruth Mary Corey; Esther, Dae Butz; Martha, Leona Wall; Electa, Clara Todd; Warder, Levina Hondorp; Sentinel, Carl Hillmer.

Acting as Installing Marshall was Past Matron Cleo Moles who conducted each officer through the installing ceremonies with Past Matron Alvina Crumie providing appropriate music. The other Installing Officers who so graciously took part were: Past Matron, Maudie Nelson; Nellie Shattuck and Alva Woodworth and Past Patron Oscar Kuhn and Chauncey Rauch.

Five small girls added much to the beauty of the work connected with the five rays of the central Star. Dressed in the colors and carrying flowers appropriate to the station they advanced and presented the corsage to each Sister appointed to represent these points. The little girls were: Gloria Eckles, blue; Barbara Litzenger, yellow; Olive Mae Bakewell, white; Janis Downing, green; Doris Faber, red.

Past Matrons from Wayne, Northville and Farmington assisted in escorting Worthy Matron Mildred Eckles to the East by forming an arch of roses.

Several very beautiful vocal selections were rendered by Sister Mrs. Strachan who is president of the Wayne County Association of the Order of the Eastern Star. She was accompanied at the piano by Sister Hildegar Korsf, organist of the Wayne County Association.

Well chosen remarks were made by the Past Worthy Matron, Mildred Barnes and Past Patron Chauncey Rauch with responses by the incoming officers.

City May Paint Big Water Tank

At the Monday night meeting of the city commission the city manager was authorized to accept bids on the painting of the elevated water tank, and also on an automatic stoker for the city hall.

Both of these improvements are essential and will be acted upon by the city commission at the time the bids are received. Bids for the painting of the elevated water tank, located on the park property on Church street, will be received Friday of this week, and work will be commenced as soon after the contract is awarded as possible. It is necessary that this work be done during periods of the year when water consumption is the least, because of the fact that the tank has to be empty while the inside of the tank is being painted. It is planned to paint the outside with aluminum paint, which will make a much more attractive job than the present black paint.

The bids on the automatic stoker for the city hall will be received in time to be acted upon at the next meeting of the city commission. From a preliminary study of stoker firing, it is estimated that a considerable saving in fuel and in janitor's salary at the city hall can be made, and in addition thereto a more even temperature can be maintained throughout the day. It is believed that by the installation of this equipment in the City Hall, fuel consumption can be materially cut down, and in a very few years a saving will be offset which will more than offset the cost of the equipment.

Has Note Written By Noah Webster in 1851

W. R. Hoyt of Walled Lake, a buyer of antiques and interesting old objects, has in his possession a note believed to be in the handwriting of Noah Webster, the author of Webster's Dictionary. The note written in Washington on January 17, 1851, expressed Mr. Webster's compliments to Dr. Hoyt, a grandfather of W. R. Hoyt and stated that he expected to see him, after the arrival of the mail from the north, by which he expects a letter from Mr. Cope. Of course no one knows what the conference was about, but Mr. Hoyt believes it must have pertained in some way to the letter Webster expected from Mr. Cope. The note is badly faded but the writing is perfectly clear.

Coming To Conduct Bible Services

REV. JOHN LANTING

John Lanting, pastor of Emmanuel Church, Holland, Michigan, comes to Plymouth to conduct the second of a series of Bible teaching services this coming Monday through Wednesday, Nov. 25, 26, and 27, at Calvary Baptist Church, 455 South Main street.

Great interest was aroused during Mr. Lanting's previous visit in 1933. He has announced the following subjects for this series of Bible messages: Mon., Nov. 25, "Two Men and What They Did"; Tues., Nov. 26, "Faith And Its Victory"; Wed., Nov. 27, "Embraced By Christ". All services begin at 7:30 p.m. Doors are open at 7 o'clock.

Members and friends of Calvary church are inviting all who are interested in the Bible and God's message for today to hear John Lanting. Mr. Lanting's present congregation has grown upwards of a thousand interested listeners at each worship service. They meet in the large and well appointed Armory in Holland. Calvary Church is glad to welcome all readers of The Mail to hear Mr. Lanting, Richard W. Neale, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, says of John Lanting, "His messages exalt Christ; are intensely practical, and his style is unique and interesting."

Editor Baldwin Is On Road To Recovery

Richard T. Baldwin, editor and publisher of The Northville Record, is making an excellent recovery from a serious operation performed Monday at the University of Michigan hospital. Mr. Baldwin, who has not been in the best of health for some time, recently went to Ann Arbor for a physical check-up and then it was discovered that an operation was necessary. The readers of his excellent newspaper and many friends will be glad to know that he is making a very satisfactory recovery.

Fritz Kreisler Concert Dec. 3rd

Two important concerts will be given by the University Musical Society in Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, during the month of December.

Fritz Kreisler, the eminent violinist, will be heard for the ninth time in the Choral Union Series on December 3, and the Boston Symphony Orchestra led by Serge Koussevitzky, will make its eleventh Ann Arbor appearance on December 11.

Both concerts promise to attract many out-of-town and out-of-state visitors, as well as local concert-goers. The advance demand for tickets has been unusually large, indicating that these attractions, with the passage of years, grow in attractiveness.

Kreisler was first heard in Ann Arbor in 1900 and has been called back repeatedly during the past thirty-five years. The Boston Symphony Orchestra first played in Ann Arbor in 1890, and then made annual visits for four years. From then on until 1931, it appeared at intermittent intervals; but since 1931 it has been engaged regularly. With one exception, these appearances have constituted the only engagements of this organization in the state of Michigan. Great conductors who have presided on these occasions have been Arthur Nikisch, four times; Karl Muck twice; and Dr. Koussevitzky on five occasions.

Following the holiday season, the second half of the Choral Union Series will include performances by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra under Vladimir Golschmann, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra with Bernardino Molinari as guest conductor; the Kolisch String Quartet; recitals by John Charles Thomas, baritone, and Myra Hess, pianist. One of the first official acts of the new King George of Greece has been to extend to Fritz Kreisler, who is to appear in the Choral Union Series, Ann Arbor, on December 3, in Hill Auditorium, a special invitation to play in Athens. Mr. Kreisler has accepted the invitation, and will go to Athens late in March.

VETS WANT TO GET OUT ON THEIR OWN SAYS CUMINGS

Delbert Cumings, Plymouth war veteran who marched to Washington with the bonus army and has for the past two years been in the CCC camp for the bonus marchers near Bay City, visited Plymouth friends and relatives over the week-end.

He hopes to be out of the camp for good early in the year. "Certainly somewhere in this world there's more than a dollar a day for a man who is willing to work," said Cumings.

He stated that the vast majority of the members of the camp are exceedingly anxious to be out and earning their own way.

"However there are a few who find the ease of it all much to their liking. They have no responsibilities and no ambition, so why wouldn't they like it?" he added.

He left at The Mail office copies of "The Seventy-Niners," a camp paper issued by the veterans. It is filled with interesting news to the veterans.

West Plymouth

William Spangler with his son Earl, is visiting at his sister's in West Branch. They each hope to bring home a deer. The deer they brought home last year was canned and also used for mince meat, supplying the table with a treat for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Artie Johnson of Wayne visited Friday evening in the home of the former's sister, Mrs. George Richwine.

Arthur Adanson who has been assisting his brother in the erection of his new home, corner of Ridge and Powell roads returns home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton Richwine with their little daughter, Ruth Ann spent the week-end at Redford, visiting Mrs. Richwine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson.

Tuesday, Nov. 19 was the birthday of Chas. Ross, grandfather of Miller Ross, and in the evening the Miller Ross family, including Mrs. Sarah Ross went to wish him another happy year to be added to his more than four score.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunson who have been building a new home on US-12 are staying with their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young while their house is being plastered.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Rorabacher of Ypsilanti and Miss Elinora Sackett of Plymouth were luncheon guests in the Miller Ross home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young and Mr. and Mrs. Dunson enjoyed a family dinner in Detroit Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Dunson.

Eugene Klot went to Ann Arbor Wednesday to enter the University hospital for examination and treatment.

Mrs. Hawley Cobb of Northville was entertained at dinner Monday evening at the Ross' home. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Ross and Mrs. Cobb went to Ann Arbor to hear Admiral Byrd.

FISHING CROWDS GROW
Early in the fall there were several pike caught out of Newburg lake by still fishermen along the banks. The news spread and today the banks of the lake are lined from early morning until night with followers of Issac Walton. Some have fair luck. Some have no luck. The fishing is reported to be no where near as good as it was several weeks ago.

President of The Plymouth Felt Products Company Licks Panic

Work of a Trojan Turned Trick

Michigan Manufacturer Tells Of the Successful Career of Sidney J. Allen, One of Detroit's Leading Business Men

Plymouth resident will be greatly interested in the following article taken from the last issue of the Michigan Manufacturer and Record pertaining to Sidney J. Allen, of Detroit, who is head of The Plymouth Felt Products company and who has been the guiding force to make the felt products industry such a successful one. It follows in full:

Immediately preceding the Automobile shows each year, thousands of words are written, describing the beautiful, smart lines of the new models, their engineering advancements, body construction, and riding qualities.

Each individual achievement is highly dramatized and pictured to show the motor buying public its advantages and features. However, these same automobile manufacturers spend millions of dollars annually in parts and equipment that are invisible, that do not lend themselves to promotion, but which add greatly to the comfort and safety of the motorist.

Although unknown to the public at large, this type of equipment plays a gigantic part in the manufacture and production of modern automobiles. One of the chief suppliers of this type of material is Allen Industries, Incorporated, Detroit.

An Allen product is used in 95 per cent of the new models. They absorb sound, eliminate drafts and insulate against heat and cold. Allen Industries provide the comforts of home in your new automobile in cotton pads, insulating material, batts and floor pads. The growth of Allen Industries, Incorporated, has been in keeping with that of the automobile manufacturers they supply.

There are three Allen plants operating at full capacity—two in Detroit, and one in Plymouth, Michigan. Plans are now being made for another new, modern, fully equipped factory in Detroit. Allen Industries employ over 1,000 people.

Sidney J. Allen, president of Allen Industries, is one of the youngest executives in the automotive field. He is looked upon by automotive manufacturers as having one of the keenest minds in the great motor industry. Although only in his mid-thirties, Mr. Allen has not only directed and guided Allen Industries to its highest rank in the trade, but he has personally created much of the original equipment used in the Allen plants, to meet their own peculiar production problems.

Allen Industries are among the largest buyers of cotton waste and linters in the United States, and Allen purchases have a tremendous effect upon the general market.

Not only have Allen Industries been unusually successful in the automotive industry, but they also provide the same comforts supplied for automobiles, for the home in the form of Allen Diamond Top Rug Cushions.

This side line, first introduced when the automotive industry slumped during the depression, grew and grew until it has now become the major line in its own rights.

No more absorbing story of how a manufacturer "fought" the depression by establishing a successful side line, can be told than that of Allen Diamond Top Rug Cushions. Faced with curtailed sales in their automotive line when the volume of motor car building slumped, Mr. Allen made a survey of the sales opportunities offered within the scope of Allen Industries' production facilities.

Manufacture of rug and carpet cushions, Mr. Allen decided, offered the most logical "way out," because they could be made with the equipment and materials which were already being used.

How well did this depression-made side line succeed? The Floor Covering Division of Allen Industries was established in 1930. In 1933, Allen Industries became the second largest producer in the rug cushion industry.

Into the manufacture of Allen Diamond Top Rug Cushions, Mr. Allen demanded the same care, quality, workmanship and sanitation required by automobile manufacturers in their cotton pads, insulating material, batts, upholstery, etc., for automobile bodies.

Mr. Allen resolved to make Allen Diamond Top Rug Cushions more than just a pad to be used under rugs, to deaden sound and add resiliency. The Allen Diamond Top Rug Cushion was so constructed to eliminate drafts and to overcome irregularities in floors.

In designing a rug cushion to protect health, Allen Diamond Top Rug Cushions became an absolute necessity in every home, rather than a luxury. Doctors recommended Allen Diamond Top Rug Cushions as a preventative against common colds and ailments caused by drafts.

The story of how the leading manufacturer of automotive insulating material became such a tremendous factor in an entirely different field, is highly interesting in President Sidney J. Allen's own words:

"Allen Industries in common with thousands of other manufacturers, suddenly found itself in a predicament. The market for our products had been exclusively with the automobile industry and with lowered production volume in that field, we were faced with the urgent necessity of finding other markets.

"In order to maintain our employment and to utilize our equipment, we needed a product which could be manufactured in volume and sold the same way. We finally decided to manufacture and market rug cushions.

"We studied every phase of the problem involved in manufacture of such a product—and planned every detail of our merchandising policy before we even considered placing our cushions on the market. We knew that we could manufacture the product—but how to sell it in volume large enough for profit was another matter.

"In an exhaustive market analysis, we studied the product itself, the trade and the prospective consumer. We decided to market our rug cushions through jobber-dealer channels—backing the dealer with aggressive merchandising promotion.

"As indicated by the rank held in production, second largest producer in the rug cushion industry, it is evident that the Allen Industries have been most successful in their merchandising assistance to dealers and in their cooperation with wholesalers.

"From the first, we were aware that our success in the new venture depended in a large measure on the jobber. Merely to sell the jobber a large stock of goods, would not be to our advantage in the end, unless it is to follow through and merchandise our goods until they are in the homes of consumers. We discovered that this could be best accomplished by helping both the jobber and retailer in the merchandising of our product. Our merchandising promotions have proved most satisfactory.

"Despite the success of Allen Diamond Top Rug Cushions, we have not lost sight of the fact that we are primarily in the automotive business. My personal observations lead me to predict that 1936 will be an outstanding year in the automotive industry. Automobile manufacturers have let the nation out of the depression and the new 1936 models are again front page news from coast to coast.

"I salute the courage and foresight of these manufacturers in continuing to present, amazing advancements and designs, construction and comfort."

Only Two Lines For Ice Fishing

Although much objection, misunderstanding and confusion has developed over the new ice-fishing regulations which take effect January 1, Fred A. Westerman, chief of Michigan's fisheries program, believes that eventually the majority of ice fishermen will give these regulations their stamp of approval.

The new regulations will restrict the number of ice lines on inland waters to two with not to exceed one hook to each line. They require fishermen to have their ice-lines under immediate control.

"I am convinced that the regulations are fair and that they will accomplish several important things," Westerman said. "They will encourage law observance, simplify enforcement and help to conserve the supply of great-northern pike in many of our inland lakes."

The old regulations permitting the use of five ice-lines and allowing them to be left unattended for as long as two hours are still in effect and will be until the first of the year. They have been responsible for a serious problem, according to Westerman.

"Since it was legal for those who fished through the ice under these regulations to leave their lines unattended for as long as two hours, there was nothing to prevent the unscrupulous fishermen from setting two or three sets of five-ice lines and declaring that the extra sets belonged to another member of his family or a neighbor fisherman who was temporarily absent from the scene," Westerman said.

"A fisherman could leave these lines unattended for more than two hours allowing them to become, in effect, setlines and deny ownership or responsibility for them. Setlines are forbidden by law and are destructive, but Conservation Officers have had no ready way of telling the difference and often have been unable to do so.

"Obviously this gives the unscrupulous fisherman an unfair advantage over his more conscientious neighbor and hinders law enforcement. Violators have found it easy to take unlimited supplies of gamefish often for sale because of the fact it was not difficult to evade suspicion and arrest."

THE BAKERS' POSITION

(From The Chicago Journal of Commerce)

The high cost of living is catching up with the baking industry and has in the form of increased labor, flour, lard, butter and other prices raised costs to the point where the industry as a whole is operating unprofitably. These increased costs have not yet been reflected generally in higher bread prices.

This summary of the baking industry's problem was given by Mr. Henry Stude head of the American Bakers' Association in a convention at the Sherman Hotel, in an interview yesterday. To prove his point he quoted the average national price of bread which he said, today is 8.2 cents, and compared it with the average a year ago, 8.4 cents.

The situation that confronts the baking industry is much akin to that faced by the meat packing industry in the respect that consumer resistance is certain to develop on the heels of price increases but where the meat industry has short supplies and cannot possibly increase volume over and above inventories on hand and the current receipts of live stock, the bakers are suffering from reduced volume of business and are seeking to increase volume.

While declines in bread consumption are nothing new to the industry—a definite trend downward having been recognized two decades ago—the rapid rate at which consumption has been falling during the past two years is a menace to the industry. Distorted relationships between competitive foodstuffs—fruits, vegetables, rice and others—which have not been subject to processing taxes, high-labor costs, etc., to the degree experienced by the baking trade, have taken away larger and larger totals of the bakers' volume.

Processing taxes are a particular thorn in the industry's side, but perhaps even more important, from the standpoint of rising prices, has been the skyrocketing costs of materials exclusive of the tax, but in many instances traceable to the AAA. For instance, flour has increased about $2 a barrel during the recent months. From a barrel of flour come 300 one-pound loaves of bread. This increase is equal to 2 3/4 of a cent per one-pound loaf.

The processing tax in itself added a substantial amount to the cost of a loaf of bread at the rate of about $1.38 per barrel. Cottonseed oil, cotton sacking, lard and a multitude of other products the baker uses are also subject to processing taxes. At the same time labor costs, general taxes and, in fact, almost all items in costs have gone up. While this upward trend in costs has been tracing its course, generally in deficits upon the bakers' books, volume has dropped. This has had the effect of further increasing costs—fixed plant costs representing a larger portion of each loaf of bread than when volume was higher.

Thus, the bakers find themselves trying to make a decision between the frying pan and the fire. Consumer resistance and the political target the industry presents in attempting to raise prices plus the declining volume on the one hand, and the absolute necessity of meeting higher costs, on the other, constitute a dilemma of serious proportions.

Price increases have been made in some localities, but not generally to date. Louisville, Pittsburgh, Toledo, Dayton, Fort Worth, Indianapolis and a few other centers have been the scene of small advances during recent weeks. In most cases the advances have been confined to 1 cent—representing a compromise between higher costs and an effort to hold volume. Further

Chevrolet Plans For Christmas

The Chevrolet Motor Company is looking forward to the highest volume of Christmas sales in its 25-year history, according to W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager, who in an interview outlined the factors supporting that view.

The prediction is based, Mr. Holler said, mainly upon three points—the excellence of the new 1936 Chevrolets which were introduced Nov. 2; the timeliness of their introduction, just before the Christmas buying season; and the fact that the new General Motors Acceptance Corporation's six per cent purchase plan reduces to a new low figure the outlay required to own and drive a new motor car.

"Orders taken on announcement day," said Mr. Holler, "exceeded anything in our history. Plainly, the public agrees with us that the 1936 Chevrolets are the finest product we have ever introduced. Increased beauty and luxury, greater safety and economy and finer performance characterize both the Master deluxe and the Standard series. Both new lines are equipped with perfected hydraulic brakes, and both have solid steel turret top bodies by Fisher. There has been a growing trend toward the giving of automobiles for Christmas, and these fine cars of low price will certainly be selected by many for Christmas giving.

"This should be especially true in light of the fact that the purchaser is giving a next year's car, rather than one which will be supplanted by a new model in a few weeks. The advancement of the announcement date removes this deterrent to Christmas buying, and for that reason can not fail to stimulate year-end business.

"Finally, there is the new payment plan just announced by GMAC, whereby the purchaser on a 12-payment contract receives the benefit of lowered interest rates. This too will help business," he said.

If God should answer every prayer for power, it would mean disaster to many dissenting saints, and a perversion of the principles of charity.

increases are undoubtedly in store in those localities where there have been no increases to date.

It is held by officials of the association that when an entire industry is finding it difficult to keep body and soul together a fundamental ill exists which cannot be laid to mismanagement or other factors as might be the case in a few individual instances of unprofitable operation.

Fundamentalism may do the world as little good as Modernism when it is overworked and emanates from the head instead of the heart.

Edgar Hoenecke, Pastor
Regular Sunday service, 10:30 a.m.
Sunday school, 9:30 a.m.
Thanksgiving Day Service, 10:00 a.m.
This day is not set aside by our President's Proclamation for the purpose, primarily, of preparing and partaking of an unusual feast or to engage in unaccustomed, harmful gastronomic feasts but that each one of us humbly betake him to his house of worship to pay homage and gratitude to Providence for graces and benefits undeservedly received.
Let your Thanksgiving Day begin correctly, attend the Thanksgiving services at your church; then you will the more heartily and happily enjoy the feast of the day.
Bible class, Wednesday, Nov. 27, 7:30 to 8:30.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Loya Sutherland, Minister
The pastor will bring his Thanksgiving message at the ten o'clock hour. Our choir will sing, 11:15—Bible School.
8:00—Meeting of the BYPU. Plans are being made for a group of our Young People to attend the State BYPU Convention at Grand Rapids.
7:00—Sermon subject, "The Hatred of the World." "They shall put you out of the synagogue; yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. And these things they will do unto you, because they have not known the Father nor the Son." John 16: 2, 3.
This being the last Sunday night of the month you will want to join us in the Seth Parker sing, once you have been with us for this sing you can never forget it.
Next Monday night is the big night of the year for the Men's Fellowship. It is Fathers and Sons banquet—if there is venison? then it will be a venison supper. Lewis Reiman of Ann Arbor, a former football player and wrestler, and director of Camp Charlevoix, a very large boys' camp, is to be our speaker. A quartette from the Orpheus Club of Detroit will sing. We shall have also a Saxophone soloist. If you are not in for this big night you better get in touch with Rev. Sutherland for our table space is limited.
Remember the Community Thanksgiving service next Thursday morning from ten until eleven o'clock. This service is to be in this church, Rev. North of the Nazarene church preaching the sermon. It is most fitting that you give this one hour of the day to the worship of God.

SALEM CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Lucia M. Stroh, Minister
Services next Sunday, 10:30 a.m. The pastor will again fill the pulpit and wishes to greet all the members and friends. Quite a few were out to welcome their pastor back last Sunday after an absence of several weeks of vacationing and convalescing from her recent illness.

The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

Jesus Rides in Triumph into Jerusalem.—All four of the Gospels tell of Jesus' triumphant entry into Jerusalem, an event which recalls the prophecy in Zechariah 9: 9, in the Old Testament. "And when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto the mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples, saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me. And if any man say aught unto you, ye shall say, the Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them. All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt of an ass. And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them, and brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they set Him thereon. And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; others cut down branches from the trees, and strewed them in the way. And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the Son of David: Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the Highest."—Matthew 21: 1-11. This illustration is from Merian's story of the Bible in pictures, engraved in 1625-1630.

Present Mayor Blunk, Commissioner Goldsmith, Robinson, Whipple and Wilson. Absent: None.

The City Commission thoroughly discussed the question of changing the boundaries of the fire limits as established by Ordinance No. 86. It was moved by Comm. Robinson and seconded by Comm. Goldsmith that no change would be made in the fire limits boundaries. Carried.

It was moved by Comm. Whipple and seconded by Comm. Robinson that the City Manager request the operators of garbage truck to keep the truck bodies covered with canvas while within the City limits. Carried.

The matter of a contribution towards the construction of a library building to be built on City property under a WPA project was discussed. Facts were presented, indicating that the building under consideration would have a value of approximately $35,000.00 and when completed would be the property of the city. It was moved by Comm. Whipple and seconded by Comm. Wilson that the City of Plymouth participate in the Library Project to the extent of a local contribution of not to exceed $2000.00, and in addition thereto to furnish available construction equipment on the work.

Ayes: Mayor Blunk, Commissioners Goldsmith, Robinson, Whipple and Wilson. Absent: None.

It was moved by Comm. Goldsmith and seconded by Comm. Robinson that the Manager obtain bids for painting the elevated water tank. Carried.

It was moved by Comm. Goldsmith and seconded by Comm. Wilson that the meeting adjourn.

MORTGAGE SALE
Defaults having been made (and such defaults having continued for more than ninety days) in the conditions of certain mortgage made by Lena Malkowski of the City of Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan, to HOME OWNERS' LOAN CORPORATION, a Corporation organized under the laws of the United States of America, dated December 22nd, 1933, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Wayne County, Michigan, on December 26th, 1933, in Liber 2680 of Mortgages, on Page 279, and said mortgage having been and is now in default, and in order to declare the entire principal and accrued interest thereon due, which election is hereby exercised, pursuant to law, there is claimed to be due and unpaid on said mortgage at the date of this notice for principal and interest the sum of FIVE THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED THIRTY FOUR and 35/100 Dollars ($5,534.35) and no sum or sums proceeding at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof.

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and pursuant to the Statutes of the State of Michigan in such case made and provided, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Thursday, February 20th, 1936 at 12 o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time at the Real Estate and Congress Street entrance to the County Building, in the City of Detroit, County of Wayne, Michigan (that is the place of holding Circuit Court in said County) said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction to the highest bidder of the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due as aforesaid, and any sum of sums which may be paid by the undersigned at or before said sale for taxes and/or insurance on said premises, and all other sums paid by the undersigned, with interest thereon, pursuant to law and to the terms of said mortgage, and all legal costs, charges and expenses, including an attorney's fee, which premises are described as follows:

That certain piece or parcel of land situated in the City of Detroit, County of Wayne, Michigan, more particularly described as: Lot 270 and the South Half of Block 2 of Robert M. Grindley's Subdivision of part of Private Claim 260, lying South of centre of Holden Boulevard, according to the plat thereof recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Wayne County in Liber 15 of Plat, Page 37.
