Decorations Of Streets Due To Following Gifts

Business Men of City Who Aided In Holiday Beautification

Christmas decorations for the business streets of Plymouth have been completed as far as it is possible for the business men to go this year with the funds that Secretary Leonard T. Murphy of the Chamber of Commerce has been able to raise. The work of Chairman Edson O. Huston and his committee have won general praise for every one.

While the decoration are not complete and some sections have not yet been covered, it is the aim of the Chamber of Commerce, and the decoration committee that has worked so diligently to make the decorations a success, to carry the job to completion next year.

It should be remembered that it was just a few days before Christmas last year that the idea of arranging a general decoration plan for the city that could be carried on from year to year with the idea of adding something to it each year, was decided upon. In the brief time and under financial conditions existing, remarkable progress has been made. Another year the committee hopes to be able to fill in all the "gaps" so that every one will be satisfied.

Secretary Murphy reports that contributions from the following merchants and business men made possible the attractive extension of the decorations this year:

Cassady Dress-Hosiery Shop Is Trophy Winner

Another Penniman Ave. Store Wins Award For 1935

To Norma Cassady of the Cassady Ladies' ready-to-wear dresses and hosiery shop at 834 Penniman avenue, goes the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce trophy for having the most attractive store window decoration for the holiday season of 1935.

The committee selected by the Chamber of Commerce to judge the best window display spent a good portion of last Friday in visiting all the stores of the city and carefully studying the attractiveness of the many excellent displays.

Decision went to the Cassady dress and hosiery shop because of the fact that a wonderfully good job in making the most of a small window had been accomplished.

A winter landscape had been most artistically arranged and a display of dresses and hosiery had been worked out by Mrs. Cassady.

The judges selected by Secretary Leonard T. Murphy found many close contenders for first honors, among them being Gayde Bros. Red & White store on Liberty street, Huston's hardware on Penniman, the Eckles coal office, Heide's flower shop, Pettinill's grocery, Powell's electric and radio store, The Edison and Consumer's display windows and the Orchid Beauty Shop at 289 South Main street.

It is an interesting fact that this is the second time that the Chamber of Commerce trophy has been awarded and both times it has been to merchants on Penniman avenue.

It was in 1934 when the Chamber of Commerce inaugurated the donation of the trophy for the best decorated store window at Christmas time, the winner to hold the cup until the announcement of the new award on the following year. Last year it was won by the Wild & Co. men's shop and it has graced the windows of the store since that time.

Today it will be taken across the street and placed in the Cassady store. Members of the committee this year consisted of Cass S. Hough as chairman, Miss Evelyn Frye, art instructor of the Plymouth public schools, and Sterling Eaton.

If you have not yet seen the Cassady store display it will be well worth your time to do so.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ernest Allison, who was ably assisted by a group of energetic workers, the bridge party conducted by Shrine ladies at the Mayflower hotel last Thursday was a decided success. Nearly one hundred were present to enjoy the afternoon. All of the funds raised by the ladies will be added to the crippled children's fund of the Shrine.

No Taxes Over There

Dear Editor, The Mail:— Apropos of the little rhyme shown in your last copy of the Mail regarding taxes, I have appended the closing chapter to the matter, to-wit:

When you light the evening lamp
You pay a tax.
When you buy a postage stamp
You pay a tax.

When you buy the baby clothes,
When you read the morning news,
When you buy a pair of shoes,
You pay a tax.

When you buy an ice cream cone
You pay a tax.
For the water that you drink
You pay a tax.

When you buy a loaf of bread,
When the doctor says your dead,
When the final prayers are said,
You pay a tax.

Thank the Lord, when I wake up
Over there,
I am promised joy and bliss
Without a care.
Taxes which to me befell
Will go zooming plumb to hell.
Better guess, than have me tell.
Over there,
E. Fletcher Campbell.

Alumni Dance To Be Held Dec. 27th

For many years the Alumni Association of the Plymouth high school has been faced with a gradually increasing financial loss from the alumni banquet which has been given every June in honor of the graduating class. As each class is larger than the last, the number of dinners served grows larger, and the treasury decreases. It is a question soon to be decided whether it is advisable to continue these annual banquets. Most of the larger schools have been forced to discontinue them. But until the Association votes against the question, the banquets continue, and must be financed by some other means than their own proceeds.

No doubt, you have seen previous notices for the dance which the alumni officers are planning to give during the Christmas season. Aside from this very logical appeal rising from the need of funds, the committee promises you a good time at the Snow Frolic which is to be held in the Plymouth Masonic Temple on Friday, December 27th from nine to one o'clock.

Chas. Willett is chairman of the committee in charge and is caring for all arrangements in his usual competent manner. Music will be provided by Moe and Carter's orchestra from Ypsilanti, those who heard them at the Northville Senior Prom reported them to be excellent. Everyone is welcome, and the dance is not restricted to alumni only. So tell your friends about it, and plan to meet the crowd at the "Snow Frolic." Stags are also invited.

The Masonic Feather party will be held on Saturday, Dec. 21. Everybody come.

Five Have Filed For Appointment As Postmaster

Present Official To Also Seek Retention In Position

With the closing of the time for filing applications for appointment as postmaster in Plymouth, it has developed that there are five candidates for the place in the office of the postoffice.

In addition to the applications filed by Edward Scully and Frank Learned, Lawrence Rattenbury and Mac J. Donnelly have filed proper blanks with the civil service commission.

Friends of Postmaster Bert Giles who has filled the duties of the office since his appointment in 1927 were surprised as well as pleased to know that he had filed for re-appointment to the position. Mr. Giles did so upon the urgent request of many patrons of the postoffice who have been well satisfied with the way he has handled the business of the office. His friends hope that the fact that he was appointed by a Republican administration will make no difference with his present application. Mr. Giles has not been active in politics since his appointment.

Mr. Scully, who was active in the original Roosevelt campaign and brought about the organization of the Roosevelt For President club and because of his work was elected as its first president, has the endorsement of practically all of the local Democrats as well as many of the local business men.

Mr. Learned is understood to have the support of some of the county and state Democratic leaders.

Lawrence Rattenbury as well as Mac Donnelly had not been mentioned as possible candidates until notice for applicants was published in The Plymouth Mail. Both are well and favorably known in Plymouth.

Mac Donnelly, a recent graduate of the Plymouth high school, was president of the Plymouth high school Alumni Association two years ago. He resides with his mother at 323 North Harvey street, Governor General Frank J. Murphy of the Philippine Islands, who stands exceedingly high in the Roosevelt administration in Washington, is a cousin of Mr. Donnelly. Upon Mr. Murphy's recent visit to Detroit the Donnellys were among his guests at a reunion of close friends and associates in Detroit.

Mr. Rattenbury is also a lifelong resident of Plymouth and a graduate of the Plymouth high school.

The entrance of these three additional candidates has added considerable interest to the contest.

Santa Claus Is Ready For Visit To Legion Hall

Over 300 Boys and Girls To Greet Him Sunday Afternoon

(Exclusive dispatch to The Mail.) North Pole, Dec. 19.—Have just returned from a visit to the headquarters of old Santa Claus. His sacks are packed brim full of good things for some 300 boys and girls of Plymouth who will be gathered next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Myron H. Beals post headquarters at Newburg.

Your correspondent never saw so many nice toys, clothing and candy as Santa has already loaded into his bags for the big American Legion party next Sunday afternoon. How he is going to get them all down to the Legion hall is difficult to understand, but Santa always finds a way and he says he will this year.

First Santa Claus, he says, through the excellent work that has been done by Mrs. Gladys Ryder, president of the American Legion Auxiliary, and Mrs. John Jacobs and Mrs. Harold Anderson, is going to serve the boys and girls with a great big Christmas dinner.

He states that he has told the Auxiliary ladies to heap the table so high with good things to eat that there will not be a vacant space of any kind in the little tummies of the 300 boys and girls who are so frequently forgotten during the year.

It seems that Santa's visit to the American Legion hall at Newburg has all been arranged for by Commander Merin Guthrie, Chauncey Evans, William Keefer, Leland Place, John Campbell, Sven Eklund, John Moyer, Don Ryder, Norman Peterson, John Jacobs, Ray Lester, Harry Barnes, Cass J. Kershaw and all the other Legionnaires of Plymouth and vicinity.

He was more than delighted when he heard how the Legion Goodfellows had spent a day on the streets of Plymouth sending papers to make money so they could pay Santa's way down to Plymouth and bring the children so many nice toys and give them such a big dinner.

Why, he said, he had heard they only expected to raise $50 but that they got over $75. And he heard that that veteran fighter, Chauncey Evans, sold more than $40 worth of papers.

Santa's big flowing whiskers flopped up and down as he chuckled over this good news. He asked the correspondent of The Plymouth Mail to thank everybody in Plymouth who bought papers as well as the merchants who had made donations for the dinner and Christmas tree.

"Santa said that right after the dinner he would go up to the big tree that will be sparkling with lights and decorations and tell the children all about Christmas. He said he has arranged for some Christmas music and some movies to think of boys' names right after next to the Christmas tree where all the children can see motion pictures!

A Christmas dinner, Christmas presents, music and movies—What a Christmas its going to be for the boys and girls at the American Legion! Its going to be the best time of all the year! No wonder Santa seemed so pleased over it all.

Mr. Robert Mimmack and Miss Beulah Sutherland had the pleasure of a visit from their cousins, Mrs. W. B. Asling of Lake Louise, Alberta and John Sutherland of Charlotte and Miss Margaret Curtis of Saginaw on Sunday.

Every penny raised at the party tonight will be used for the purchase of food and some of the little dainties that a large number of people who have met, mistaking in life do not ordinarily get at any time of the year.

"We hope to send out baskets running over with groceries, and meats, the kind of food that will not only go a long way towards providing a good Christmas dinner, but food that can be used for meals in the days to follow Christmas," declared Harry Hunter, one of the energetic workers of the committee with Harry Mummy, Arno Thompson and the other hustling Ex-Service men.

Every one is invited to come down to the Mayflower hotel tonight at 8 o'clock. Maybe a nice big fat turkey, a goose, some chickens or a duck might go home with you, say committee members. Anyway whether one does or not, the money left behind will go to a most worthy cause and one will feel better as a result of what cash is left for the Ex-Service men to spend in the beneficial way that they use their funds.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cookingham during the time of their residence in Plymouth have made many friends who will regret their departure but who are pleased to know of his advancement in his chosen work.

His new position pays him $6000 per year, almost double the amount he received here.

Thirty thousand good American dollars are laying in the vaults of the Plymouth United Savings bank waiting for the rightful owners to call and take the money away!

This big amount of cash is that portion of the $450,000 released last March for the payment of the moratorium certificates issued by the bank upon its reorganization a little over two years ago.

Russell Deane states that the money is waiting for its rightful owners to present their blue moratorium certificates and claim it. "It is drawing no interest. If they want to leave the money in the bank, we will be glad to transfer it from the moratorium fund to a savings account. If this is done the money will be drawing interest immediately. But of course it produces nothing in the fund it is now in," stated Mr. Deane yesterday.

Carl Shear Wins

For years and years, Carl Shear, Buick dealer for Plymouth and vicinity, has been battling with the advertising department of the company over the question of advertising in Plymouth and vicinity. It has been his contention that the advertising should be done in the local newspaper. The advertising agency has claimed that big metropolitan newspapers and magazines cover the field.

Until they claimed it until they made a try and found out differently. They found that the claim of Mr. Shear was correct, that it was better for the Buick dealer in Plymouth to advertise in The Plymouth Mail as well as The Northville Record than in during 1935 appears for this locality exclusively in The Plymouth Mail, thanks to the everlasting battle of Mr. Shear, who knew what he was talking about and who has the satisfaction of knowing that even a big advertising agency once in a while can be convinced that maybe it is not always right after all.

They found out that Buick prospects can be found quicker through the local newspaper than through big outside metropolitan papers, so Buick advertising for Plymouth and vicinity during 1936 appears for this locality exclusively in The Plymouth Mail, thanks to the everlasting battle of Mr. Shear, who knew what he was talking about and who has the satisfaction of knowing that even a big advertising agency once in a while can be convinced that maybe it is not always right after all.

Tonight, this Friday evening, at the Mayflower hotel the Cheer Bringers committee of the Ex-Service Men's Club will hold their annual Christmas keno party for the benefit of the needy of the city.

City Manager Is Named to Similar Place in Saginaw

Perry Cookingham Has Resigned Position In Plymouth

Announcement was made yesterday by Mayor Arthur Blunk of the resignation of City Manager Perry Cookingham who has accepted a position as city manager under the newly organized commission at Saginaw. Mr. Cookingham will assume his new duties on Monday, January 6 when the new administration in Saginaw will take over control of the city government.

Saginaw recently enacted the city manager form of government and the officials of that city after an extensive and careful inquiry among the scores and scores of applicants engaged the Plymouth city manager to accept the position.

Mayor Blunk stated that city officials of Plymouth have not yet given consideration to the resignation of the city manager Perry Cookingham as notice of his resignation had just been received, but that the matter will be taken up immediately.

It was in 1920 that Mr. Cookingham began his career in municipal work, being engaged at that time as a civil engineer in the street paving division of the city government of Flint. He remained in the employ of the city of Flint until he was appointed city manager of Clawson in 1927, serving in that capacity until April, 1931 when he was appointed city manager of this city.

During 1933 and 1934 he spent a portion of his time as county relief administrator under John P. Ballenger, Wayne county relief administrator. Duties of the office of city manager during the time Mr. Cookingham was absent were carried on very successfully by Chief of Police Vaughn Smith who was appointed acting city manager by the commission members. At other times during Mr. Cookingham's absence from the city, Mr. Smith has satisfactorily carried on the work of the manager's office.

The city of Saginaw but recently enacted its new charter which provides for the city manager form of government. The members of the charter commission were at the time of the charter election also elected as members of the first city commission to have charge of the municipal affairs of Saginaw. His new position pays him $6000 per year, almost double the amount he received here.

Good Business Is Reported By Merchants

Only Four Shopping Days Left - Plymouth Stores Filled With Everything You May Desire For Christmas Gifts.

Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday—these are the four big shopping days that are left before Christmas.

Plymouth merchants report a consistent increase in business during the past few weeks. Not only has business been getting better each day, but most of them declare that it far exceeds the Christmas sales of a year ago.

Fortunately it was that local stores filled their shelves as never before with Christmas goods—goods of equal quality that can be purchased in Plymouth much cheaper than in Detroit.

Several of the merchants have been told by careful shoppers who have spent some of their time looking around in Detroit stores, that articles of an identical kind and make can be purchased here for less than elsewhere.

Christmas shoppers should read with the greatest of care every advertisement in this issue. If it has been difficult for you to complete your Christmas list, read every advertisement and as you read them jot down the items that can easily be selected as you visit the stores.

Maybe it's a bit of furniture, an attractive dish or a bit of jewelry, possibly silverware, footwear, toilet articles, hardware, toys, kitchen ware, hosiery, women's wearing apparel, clothing for father or son, cigars, smokers' supplies, dolls, candies, musical toys, books, etc. The committee headed by Florence Stader, had one savings account, perfume, electric goods, flowers, plants, a fountain pen, combs, brushes maintaining sets, combs, knives, shaving sets, slippers, bath robes, pajamas, table linens, zipper bags, suit cases, over-night cases, chairs, table linens—but why continue when the advertisements in this issue of The Plymouth Mail tell you just where to go to get a complete list of the most acceptable Christmas presents and just the price you will have to pay.

THE SERMON ON THE MOUNT

In keeping with the widespread custom of publishing outstanding Christmas sermons, The Plymouth Mail quotes from the Sermon on the Mount, the greatest religious discourse of all time, delivered by one whose very anniversary now provides the occasion, and upon whose words all other Christmas sermons are based; the world's foremost preacher, teacher, and practitioner, Christ Jesus:

St. Matthew V.

1. And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him:
 2. And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,
 3. Blessed are the poor in spirit; for their's is the kingdom of heaven.
 4. Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.
 5. Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.
 6. Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.
 7. Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.
 8. Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.
 9. Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.
 10. Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for their's is the kingdom of heaven.
 11. Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.
 12. Rejoice, and be exceeding glad; for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.
 13. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.
 14. Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill.
 15. Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.
 16. Ye have heard that it hath been said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth:
 17. But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you;
 18. Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.
- St. Matthew VI.
19. Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal:
 20. But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal:

21. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.
 22. No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.
 23. Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?
 24. But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.
- St. Matthew VII.
7. Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you:
 12. Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.
 24. Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock:
 28. And it came to pass, when Jesus has ended these saying, the people were astonished at his doctrine:
 29. For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

NO RETREAT

A few days after the nomination of Verner Main by the Republicans of the Third congressional district, the editor of The Plymouth Mail highly endorsed Mr. Main for the place he is seeking in congress. There had been some objection to him because of the fact that he had stated that he agreed with Mr. Main that something should be done to take care of the aged people of this country who through no fault of their own had lost their all and are no longer able to care for themselves.

Because of our editorial support given Mr. Main and our agreement with the suggestion that the needy elderly people of this country are entitled to some consideration, a number of editors about the state have directed some pretty sharp editorial harpoons at the editor of The Plymouth Mail.

We see not the slightest reason for a retreat from the position taken. It has been stated that maybe the Townsend plan is not just the correct answer, but we do reaffirm the declaration that the time has come when this nation MUST give consideration to the men and women who because of advancing years are no longer able to provide for themselves. Because of our high taxes and the high cost of living they have not been able to lay something aside upon which to live during the years of non-productivity. Those that were able to do so have in the vast majority of cases seen their fortunes swept away.

We have contended in the past, and we declare now, that the government is squandering enough money and giving enough money to lazy and useless politicians filling needless political jobs to take care of the unemployed elderly people of this country without raising another cent by taxation.

But unfortunately in these days it seems that only the young and inexperienced can get a public job of any kind and the most of these young politicians have not the slightest interest in anything except what they can scoop out of the public feed trough and put into their own pockets.

We see not the slightest reason why there should be any change in our position in this matter, even though some think the problem of caring for the elderly people of our country through a pension system is wrong. We do not think so. We believe there can be worked out a plan whereby it is not necessary to carry off to the poorhouse or put on the dole millions and millions of good men and women just because they have reached the point in life where they are called "old."

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

TRUE CITIZENSHIP ABOVE PARTY POLITICS
"You are hurting the Republican party of Michigan." "You are injuring the case of one of our Michigan national figures." "You should not back so and so in their personal grievances against the present Republican administration."

These and other letters received from prominent Republicans of Michigan during recent weeks are but indicative of the sentiments expressed by those who are not in accord with some of the editorial utterances in these columns during the past months. If campaigning for better government in Michigan, and a state administration that is not controlled by an invisible government, will bar us from any party, then we will be barred. We are first a citizen of Michigan and a citizen of the United States, party politics being a secondary consideration.

It may also be recalled here that we were made a citizen of the United States by personal choice when we reached the age of maturity whereas those who are chastising us for urging better government in Michigan were born here and had no choice in their citizenship.

But getting down to our political editorial utterances for this week, may we first state that through more than one article on this page of the Evening News, several months ago, some unworthy beginnings of the administration of Frank Fitzgerald as Governor of Michigan were critically commented on and his apparent elevation of self above every other interest of State or party was referred to. It has been the privilege of this newspaper to further take note of some later features of the Fitzgerald record and to make use of what he has said and done in the formation of an opinion that he is in no way worthy of continued favor or support from the party that nominated and elected him.

We will readily admit that we claim no right nor privilege as a Republican party organ. The Evening News is not a party organ, nor is it an obligated spokesman for any person or any party. Its statements have included only well known facts and its opinions must depend for approval upon their proper application.

Governor Fitzgerald's wish to burden the Republican party of Michigan with his personal and political grievances; his proclamation of a program that he intended to fight for to a finish, and his public pillorying of representatives of his party for the assumed offense of failure to follow his lead, would make any formal approval of him the attachment of a handicap that could not be overcome.

He has sought to make of himself an object of sympathy because of embarrasment due to a system that he has made more self-seeking use of, through patronage and personal appointments, than any other related to Michigan's political history.

His autocratic control of the Republican State convention and his disregard on that occasion of every interest of party or of competency for service, through his lust for patronage, has marked him for opposition from thousands of Michigan Republicans.

Fitzgerald's personal and political affiliations through which the influence and power of his office is said to be shared, has been made the subject of ironic jest on public occasions, the topic of sarcastic newspaper criticism and a cause for state-wide comment too often unfavorable.

There is much more that could be said and probably will be said in case of necessity to avoid the infliction of another experience with Frank Fitzgerald as a candidate or as an applicant for continued possession of official opportunity, unless he can throw off so-called barnacles and be truly a governor in fact as well as in name.—T. O. Huckle in The Cadillac Evening News.

GIRLS IN BEER GARDENS

Hiring young girls to entertain in beer gardens offers proof that neither the State of Michigan nor the beer and liquor industries are much concerned about the moral atmosphere produced by John Barleycorn. The failure due to a system that he has made more self-seeking use of, through patronage and personal appointments, than any other related to Michigan's political history.

THIS EDITOR KNOWS

Thank God for friends and friendships, for what would we humans do without them, and what a dreary place this old world would be if we were denied that fellowship which flows from kindred minds. A friend is more than an acquaintance, for a friend is one who likes you despite your faults and mistakes. This I think is more appreciated when folks reach the twilight of life, for so many of the old friends have passed on, and those who linger are nothing less than treasures beyond compare, and rich is the man or woman who have them.—J. E. McMullen in The Linden Leader.

CALL NO EXTRA SESSION

According to reports, Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald has withstood all pressure to call an extra session of the legislature to consider a payroll tax in conjunction with the federal set up and a batch of other legislation. It would seem to us that the Governor is exercising very excellent judgment in calling no expensive session of the legislature to work out legislation to conform with any of the half baked acts which have passed congress.—Frank Bryce in The Grand Ledge Independent.

Bird Feeding Contest For Boys and Girls To Start on February 1st

The Michigan Audubon Society has requested The Plymouth Mail to announce to the rural school children of this part of Michigan plans for the fourth annual rural bird feeding and naming contest for boys and girls which continues from January 1 to February 28, the period of the coming winter when birds find difficulty in getting food.

Pheasants, chickadees, woodpeckers and other winter birds are cordially invited to visit the feeding stations which will be provided by rural school children beginning not later than January 1 and continuing at least until February 28, as a part of their competition for the attractive prizes offered by the Michigan Audubon Society.

"The more birds that come, the better will be the child's chance of winning, for the prizes will be awarded according to the length of the list of birds correctly identified," Frank L. DuMont, president of the society, stated in announcing the contest. "So that we can check on the child's ability to identify the hungry visitors, all entries must give data on where the bird was seen, its color, size, shape, note, etc. These entries should be sent by the teacher or county supervisor to Michigan Audubon Headquarters at the Kent Scientific Museum, Grand Rapids, Michigan not later than March 10."

Colored, life-sized pictures of birds on a cloth chart will be won and presented by the winner of the first prize to his or her school. Besides this, the winner will receive one year's subscription to Nature Magazine. Second prize will be a copy of Reed's "Land Bird Guide," and third prize will bring the winner two books: "A Year of Adventure with the Birds," by Geneva Smithe, and "Outdoor Bird Study," by Forbush. The schools attended by all winners will receive free one year's membership in the Michigan Audubon Society and will be sent the quarterly bulletin published by the society.

So that conditions may be as nearly uniform as possible, the state has been divided into three zones: the upper peninsula will be zone 1, those counties in a line with and north of Mason to Arenac counties will comprise zone 2, and those counties south of this line will be zone three.

The winning boy and the winning girl in each zone will receive a first prize, making six first prizes in all. Six second prizes and six third prizes will also be given.

Girls must maintain their stations near the house, and boys must establish theirs at least one-half mile from the farm buildings.

Teachers are urged to write headquarters for any details not understood or suggestions and names of books to use for references.

KENNETH FOSTER hurried through the crowded streets. Everybody looked so happy, so eager, so good-natured. He wondered why he felt so out of tune with them all.

From counter to counter he went. He wanted to compare values, to get the best price on everything he bought. He was going to do his Christmas shopping in a sensible way, the way it really ought to be done.

Passing through the art department his eyes fell on a beautiful piece of pottery. Unconsciously he stopped and admired its exquisite art. A sudden thought flashed through his mind. "Wouldn't mother love something like this? Wouldn't she get a thrill out of showing it to her friends?"

Quickly his resolution to buy nothing but practical gifts vanished into thin air. He would buy the piece for mother. For the rest of the family, and others, he would get the gifts he had planned, but mother must have something to bring that light into her eyes that he loved to see. He was quite sure this lovely pottery would turn the trick. He could almost hear her say, "Oh, Kenneth, I've wanted something like this all my life!"

The purchase thrilled him with a strange satisfaction. He knew that he wouldn't have got the same joy out of buying something ordinary. He wasn't going to sneer any more at people buying "good gifts." Christmas seemed to call for something different. There should be practical gifts, too.

Suddenly his face broke into a grin. That's the very thing he would do. He would buy every last one of the family something practical, but he would also buy them something that he felt they would love to have: some bit of beauty or frivolity that they would not otherwise get.

The money that he was spending had come to him in a letter from his grandfather a few days before. "Buy Christmas gifts for the family with this," the old man had written. "It is quite a sum for a young fellow to spend alone, but I am sure that you will do it wisely. And I want your report of what you bought after the holidays are over."

Kenneth had felt sure that his grandfather would want him to buy sensible things, but now, he felt differently. Something inside of him seemed to say that the way he was going to spend the money now was exactly as his grandfather wanted him to. What a letter he would have to write—surely he could put all the new-found joy that he was experiencing into every line.

For new Kenneth was really in tune with the spirit of Christmas. There was not a shopper on the streets as happy as he was. Every counter seemed to have taken on new interest; shopping was really a pleasure, the biggest thrill that he had known in a long time.

He hurried to the book counter. Jane was going to have those leather-bound volumes of essays that she had wanted for so long. And Jimmie—Jimmie was going to get that motion picture machine he had been talking about. Gee, he could see Jimmie's face on Christmas morning; wouldn't he get a thrill out of showing the thing to his friends? And Dad, well, Dad was going to get a new set of golf clubs, a brand new bag of drivers, mashies, and putters! And grandfather was going to get a letter about the shopping trip and its results that would lift him right out of his chair!

LABOR'S DELEGATE

W. L. Hutcheson was appointed by President William Green of the American Federation of Labor as that organization's delegate to the forthcoming international labor conference in Chile. ACROBATIC MATCH BOX

AN EMPTY match box is the apparatus required for this surprising trick. The magician exhibits the box, then places it upon the palm of his left hand. It lies there until he says the magic word.

Then the box slowly rises upward. It sinks again at command. Then it rises. Finally the wizard removes the box and passes it to the baffled spectators. They find it to be an ordinary match box.

Here is the secret: In placing the box on the left palm, the magician sets it upside down. Moreover, he pushes out the drawer a trifle forward. In closing the drawer, he pinches a bit of flesh at the base of the fingers.

The simple process of stretching the fingers or loosening them causes the match box to rise and fall. At the finish, the right hand moves over and opens the drawer as it removes the box from the left hand.

Father Lafevre Extends Welcome

Midnight Christmas services at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church have been announced by Father F. A. Lafevre.

The feast of the Infant Saviour of Mankind, better known as Christmas, will be celebrated by the Christian world Wednesday, and rightly is this day celebrated, because it marked the turning point in civilization, it divides the old law from the new, the religion of hope to the religion of faith. Law receives a moral value, good deeds call for a reward, humanity is thrilled upon that first announcement, Glory to God in the Highest, and on Earth peace to men of good will.

Our nineteen hundred years have passed since first this message was delivered and it comes to each succeeding year with that same lively spirit and obligation as it did when first heard. It is only befitting that Christmas should be celebrated in a truly Christian manner hence a real program is prepared to be rendered at midnight Christmas eve, with many of the familiar carols, hymns and melodies that stir the soul upon this glorious occasion.

As in the past, again a cordial invitation is extended to all Catholics and Protestants alike to share in these midnight services, Tuesday, 11:45 p.m., a special message of Peace will be delivered by the Rev. F. C. Lafevre at the High Mass.

May this Christmas be a happy holy one for all, in the prayer and wish of Father Lafevre.

Midnight Mass At St. Michael's

Christmas Eve, Tuesday, will be marked by High Mass celebrated by the pastor, Father John E. Contway, at St. Michael's church, Rosedale Gardens. At 11:30 p.m. a service of carols in English will be offered by a male quartette, two solo sopranos, and a string quartette, supporting the organ. Rosini's setting of the liturgy will be sung, a short but melodious composition, so that the ceremonies will be concluded before 1 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all to enjoy the festival.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Partridge of Brentwood, California, arrived in Plymouth Wednesday afternoon and will spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Partridge, on North Territorial Road.

D. A. R. Members Hold Interesting Session

Marking the regular meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the American flag was flown on the afternoon of December 16th at the entrance to the home of Mrs. R. Harry Reck. The business portion of the program included the selection of delegates to the Continental Congress held in the spring in Washington and to the state convention which will convene in Detroit in April. At the latter the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter has been invited to join the city chapter as hosts to the Michigan Chapters. The chapter voted also to sponsor the second Girl Scout group which is being organized in Plymouth under the leadership of Miss Jeanne Strong.

Miss Loma May presented the work of the Girl Scout organization to the assembled members. The program was concluded by current events given by Mrs. J. H. Embury of Detroit and a phase of the National Defense work of the D. A. R. given by Mrs. Don Yerkes of Northville and Mrs. Geo. Wilcox of Plymouth.

Rotarians Will Be Hosts Today

When members of the Rotary club meet this noon at the Mayflower hotel, they will have as their guests some 35 or 40 boys and girls who have been invited to come and see old Santa and to dine with members of the club.

Herald Hamill, chairman of the club's service committee, assisted by Lynn Felton, Roy Woodworth, Robert Willoughby and George A. Smith, other members of the committee, has worked out a most interesting program for today's meeting.

First will come the special Christmas dinner. Then there will be distributed by old Santa, who is coming down to the club meeting in person, a gift to each child present. Of course there will be Christmas music.

It is going to be a great day, not only for the children, but Rotarians as well. Mrs. Olivia Williams and daughter, Allyn, of Detroit, have been guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bolton, this week while Mr. Williams, who is an employee of the Merck Wholesale drug company of Detroit, is attending a convention at Newark, New Jersey.

Jake Steinhurst was called to Tavistock City Tuesday by the sudden death of his father, Adolph Steinhurst.

Good Tidings

Understanding of God's great Plan for the world gives man an inkling of its surpassing importance. "When the Fullness of Time was come, God sent forth His Son, made of a woman and made under the Law, to redeem them that were under the Law, that we might receive the adoption of Sons."

In simple, prose narrative of a beauty and dignity more than classic, the synoptic evangelists, Matthew and Luke, relate the Event extraordinary:

"It came to pass in those days that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be taxed. And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David which he called Bethlehem: (because he was of the house and lineage of David;) to be taxed with Mary, his espoused wife, being great with child."

"And so it was, that while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her first born Son, and wrapped Him in swaddling clothes, and laid Him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn."

"And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid."

"And the angel said unto them: 'Fear not; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you: ye shall find the Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.'

"And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God and saying: 'Glory to God in the Highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.'"

"Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the East to Jerusalem, saying: 'Where is He that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen His Star in the East, and are come to worship Him.'"

"When Herod the king had heard these words, he was troubled and all Jerusalem with him. And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them, where Christ should be born. And they said unto him: 'In Bethlehem of Judaea, for thus it is written by the prophet: And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel.'"

"Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the Star appeared. And he sent them to Bethlehem and said: 'Go and search diligently for the young Child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship Him also.'

"When they had heard the king, they departed; and lo, the Star, which they saw in the East, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young Child was. When they saw the Star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary, his mother, and fell down, and worshipped Him; and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto Him gifts: gold, and frankincense, and myrrh."

The burden of the angel's song, the significance of the event, the reason for the joy at Christmas is this: "Unto you is born a Savior." That is what makes the heavens rejoice and the earth glad at Christmas. That knowledge brings men to exult and children to sing. The fact that God does not hate, but loves the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever but believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life, engenders love, charity and good will in the hearts of men. The certainty that, because of the Savior's vicarious death, death is not the end for man, but that Life and eternal bliss are in store for him after death, inspires hope at Christmas.

Ah, that the blessed results of this joy would last the year out, that the Spirit of Christmas might prevail in this world always, that joyous, ransom'd sinners' despoil might fill the earth with song: "No more let sins and sorrows grow, Nor thorns infest the ground; He comes to make His blessings flow Far as the curse is found. He rules the world with Truth and Grace, And makes the nations prove The glories of His righteousness And wonders of His Love."

Hillside Given Liquor Permit

Notice was received Wednesday by Jake Stremich of the Hillside barbeque, on the Plymouth road, that he had been granted a license by the state liquor control commission to sell liquor by the glass, beginning Friday of this week.

This is the only place in this part of Wayne county that has been granted a license to sell liquor by the glass. Both county and city officers gave the Hillside Barbeque a very high recommendation as to the way it has been operated since it started.

Plans have been made for an "open house" this Friday evening to which all of the friends and patrons of the place are invited in celebration of the first anniversary of the opening of the popular eating place.

Obituary

WELCOME A ROSENBERG
Welcome A. Rosenberg, son of William and Delilah Rosenberg, who died suddenly Monday noon in the office of Dr. Paul Butz in the Pennington-Alten theatre building, at 11:45 a. m. He was born in Livonia township, December 4, 1885 at the age of 50 years and 12 days.

He began his school life in Newburg school and as a young man was active in both the Newburg school and Newburg Sunday school and Epworth League. For several years he pitched for the Newburg team. During the three years he attended Plymouth high school, he worked nights and Saturdays on the farm. One season he was a motorman on the D.U.R. in Detroit.

October 27, 1909 he was married to Miss Anna Bauman. They located in Plymouth and he began work at the Dairy. There came no children, until her sister died and little Harley Sallow came to live with Mr. and Mrs. Rosenberg.

It was 13 years ago when Mr. Rosenberg fulfilled his wish by purchasing a farm on East Gold road where he moved immediately and has lived continuously since. Neighbors enjoyed his happy and active ways as he went about his work whistling tunes familiar to all. He devoted his time to raising vegetables, small fruits, poultry and did a bit of dairying. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rosenberg made hosts of friends not only in the neighborhood but throughout this entire section.

Business conditions, the drought and unfavorable weather conditions required that he return to his old job at the Dairy where he worked part time until recently when given a place as foreman of a P.W.A. project.

He passed on October 27, 1934 when this couple was given a lovely silver wedding surprise at the home of her sister and new silver was given them to go with their good health for 25 more years of anticipated happiness that was cut short by his sudden death last Monday. He had not been feeling well during the entire forenoon.

He leaves his wife, Anna M., a sister Mrs. Luella M. Chappell, a nephew Charles Chappell, and several other relatives as well as a host of friends, to mourn his passing.

The funeral was held from the home Thursday afternoon in charge of Schrader Bros., Rev. P. Ray Norton of the First Methodist church officiating and conducted by the I.O.O.F. The remains were placed in the Mausoleum at Riverside cemetery.

WILLIAM BEYER
William Beyer, who died in Herman Keifer hospital in Detroit, December 8, after an illness of several months, was born in Livonia township, Wayne county, July 8, 1881 and spent the greater part of his life in this part of Michigan. After he left the farm he came to Plymouth and for many years conducted the Ford sales garage located where the present Chevrolet garage now operates. In fact Mr. Beyer sold his garage to Ernest Allison and soon left for Colorado Springs, Colorado and later went on to California, where he spent many winters. It was about two years ago when he returned to the Beyer farm from California, and was just previous to going to Colorado when Mrs. Beyer died. That was 17 years ago.

In September when he became so ill he was taken to Henry Ford hospital, then to William H. Maybury Sanatorium and later Herman Keifer hospital where he expired. The body was brought to the home of his sister, Mrs. Walter Ebert, 327 Farmer avenue in Plymouth, the funeral being held from the St. Peter's Evangelical church on December 11, burial taking place in Riverside cemetery. Rev. Edgmar Hoenecke officiating.

On daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Gunniss of Detroit, one sister, Mrs. Ebert of Plymouth and five brothers, Otto and Charles of Plymouth, John of Perrinville, Albert and Henry of Detroit, survive.

MRS. MARY LOUISE LINDSAY

Mrs. Mary Louise Lindsay, age 76 years, who resided at the home of her son, Robert C. Porteous at 9111 Blackburn avenue, Rosedale Gardens, Plymouth, passed away Saturday afternoon, December 14th. She was the widow of the late Alexander G. Lindsay. The body was brought to the Schrader Brothers Funeral Home, Plymouth, and later taken to the above residence, from which place funeral services were held Tuesday, December 17th at 2 p.m. Interment in Woodmen Cemetery, Detroit, Michigan, Rev. Roy J. Miller of Rosedale Gardens officiating.

ALBERT CONDO

Albert Condo, age 60 years, who resided on Stark road, Plymouth, passed away Monday evening, December 16th. He was the husband of Mrs. Ida Kane Condo, and father of Albert S. Condo, Jr. of Detroit, brother of Mrs. Cecia Blaine, Mrs. Dolly Steffes and Edward Condo all of Detroit; George and Peter Condo, both of Cleveland, Ohio. The body was brought to the Schrader Brothers Funeral Home, Plymouth. Funeral services were held Thursday morning, December 19th at 10 a.m. from Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Plymouth. Interment in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Rev. Father Frank Lefevre officiating.

Methodists To Hold Midnight Service Dec. 24th

All Are Welcome To Hear Christmas Music Program

"Peace on earth, good will to men." How truly it has been said when one understands and enters into the true Christmas spirit, one cannot feel burdened because of the human aspect of the holiday. Entering into the true Christmas spirit one will be lifted up into a consciousness of peace, joy and thankfulness which will cause such things as trees, Santas, ribbons, bells, and all the other trappings of Christmas to take on a richer meaning. Below the surface of these Christmas symbols the true spirit of peace and joy will be found by each one in the quietness of his inner nature as he communes with the father. Christ is master of Christmas Day.

Desiring to bring this consciousness of the true Christmas spirit, after the hustle and bustle of holiday preparation, the Methodist church are inviting all people not having service in their own churches to join them in an hour of music and celebration of the holy communion to commemorate the birth of the Saviour. This service will begin at 11:45 Christmas eve.

A group of children will sing carols before the service and a cantata "The Wondrous Story" by Kountz descriptive of The Nativity will be sung by the choir. Miss Doris Hamill will accompany the music for the Community service on her violin.

In "The Wondrous Story" the author and composer have attempted to recreate the atmosphere of simplicity, nobility and purity that characterize the traditional Christmas carols without having recourse to the carols themselves.

The cantata is in six parts. The Shepherds, surprised and somewhat troubled by the sight of the Star of Bethlehem are pictured by a gentle pastoral movement. The second episode depicts The Angel Choirs coming to herald the birth of the infant Jesus. The Three Wise Men who followed the guiding star are the subject of the third part. The ensuing scene shows the coming of people, shepherds and kings into the town of Bethlehem, in form a stately chorale. The Manger in fittingly reverent style marks the awakening of the Child Jesus. In Christmas Dawn the strain swells to one of jubilation and brings the cantata to a brilliant and joyful close.

At an after-the-prom party Harold Thorne entertained at supper at his home on Ann street, Miss Ruth Biehy, Miss Madeline Salow, Bill Swadling, Miss Genevieve Pinkerton, Lex Shoglund, Miss Ruth Hobbins, Ed. Wingard, Miss Betty Barnes, Bob Martin, Miss Madolyn Weller and Gerald Hartling.

The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

"Christ Betrayed by Judas' Kiss.—The betrayal of Christ by Judas is told in Matt. 26, Mark 14, Luke 22, and John 18. Luke describes the meeting of Jesus and Judas as follows: "And while He yet spake, behold a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near unto Jesus to kiss Him. But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss?"—Luke 22:47-48. This illustration is from Merian's story of the Bible in pictures, engraved in 1625-1630.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

Richard W. Neale, Pastor
You are cordially welcomed to share the happy fellowship of Christmas Sunday with us. At 10 a.m. our pastor preaches on the Christian view of Christmas, as described in the Bible book of Luke, chapter 1: 26 to Chapter 2: 38. "From Bethlehem's Manger to Calvary's Cross," is the theme in message and music.
Sunday School follows at 11:15 with a class for you. A growing, singing crowd, come to Calvary! At 7:30 p.m. some of the young people and some of the children will join in bringing a Christ-centered program called, "God With Us." The pastor will speak on the topic "What Was the Wisest Thing 'The Wise Men Did'?" If your heart is hungry, meet with us this Sunday.
On Christmas evening at 7:30 we shall have a special Christmas prayer meeting to which all are heartily invited.
The Young People's Fellowship meets on Fridays at 7:30 p.m.
We join in prayerfully wishing you God's best for Christmas and the New Year. "God so loved the world that He gave His Son" for you; that you, in faith, might give Him the gift of yourself, and thus receive His salvation.
A friendly Bible Church, 455 South Main Street.

That the term "Dixie" for the South originated from a bank note issued by a New Orleans bank in the early days? These notes were printed in French and English and bore the French word for ten, "Dix." They became known as "Dixies" and the South as Dixieland.

Millions of Meteors

It is estimated that millions of meteors enter the earth's atmosphere every 24 hours; most of them are very small. They travel, however, at a high rate of speed, and were it not for the protection afforded by the earth's atmosphere they might prove a serious menace. Because of the terrific speed at which they move, according to a writer in the Washington Star, meteors are heated to incandescence by the resistance and friction of the air and all but a few of exceptionally large size are completely dissipated. Very large meteors, or meteorites, as they are called if they fall to the earth's surface, occasionally cause death.

The Night Before Christmas
Softly gleaming candles, brightly lighted windows, gay laughter, carols in the snow, last minute wrapping of presents in gaily colored paper and the trimming of the tree. Of such stuff is the night before Christmas made. It's a busy, happy night, filled with tantalizing aroma of good things to eat, an atmosphere of expectant waiting, and that feeling of "peace on earth, good will toward men."

In all the excitement of preparing the Christmas feast, of seeing that the cookie jar is full of spicy, crunchy cookies and being sure that the sauce is all ready for the plum pudding next day, most of us find that supper on Christmas Eve is a very scrappy affair. But with a very little extra trouble it can be a delicious and heartening meal—one that will smooth out all the hurry of frantic preparation and fortify one for the pleasures yet to come.

Here's a Christmas Eve supper that has become almost a tradition in our family, for it's easy to prepare, yet has a festive air and most of all it's very filling.

Supper Christmas Eve
Scalloped Oysters
Hot Biscuits
Cranberry Relish
Currant Jelly
Christmas Star Salad
Cookies
Noel Pudding
Coffee
Milk

Scalloped Oysters
2 1/2 cups cracker crumbs
1 1/2 dozen oysters
Salt and pepper
3 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup oyster liquor
1 cup milk

Butter a baking dish and cover bottom with a layer of cracker crumbs. Add one half the oysters, dot with butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Pour on half the liquor. Repeat with another layer of crabs and oysters and seasoning. Cover with a layer of cracker crumbs. Dot with butter, add milk, cover and bake for 45-50 minutes in a hot oven (450 degrees). Remove for the last ten minutes to have a crunchy crust.

Christmas Star Salad
6 slices of pineapple
Pimentos
1 pkg cream cheese (3 oz.)
Cut pineapple slices in the shape of a six-pointed star. Fill center with cheese which has been put through a ricer. Lay thin strips of pimento from the center to the tip of each star. Serve with French dressing.

Cranberry Relish
1 qt. cranberries
3 oranges
1 lemon
1 tart apple

Pick over and wash cranberries wash oranges and lemon and apple. Then put whole fruit through a food chopper. Stir in from 1 to 2 cups of sugar, depending on just how tart you like your relish. Cover and store in the refrigerator. Keeps at least a week. Half cup sliced almonds may be added if desired.

Noel Pudding
1 cup scalded milk
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
1 teaspoon gelatine
1 cup whipping cream
Pinch of salt

Add sugar and salt to scalded milk and cook until sugar dissolves. Beat eggs until light and fluffy, add first mixture. Cook over boiling water stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Remove from fire, add gelatine which has been soaked in 1 tablespoon of cold water and stir until gelatine is completely dissolved. Cool. Add vanilla. Fold in whipped cream. Pipe in sherbet glasses lined with lady fingers and chill thoroughly.

And here's to a very Merry Christmas for you all.

A SCHOOL

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

I WOULD have a school
A place for labor.
Yet I would always have
Play for his neighbor:
Touch this thing with romance,
And that with glamour,
The history of France,
A Latin grammar.

I would have a school
A place for dreaming,
Not only teach the true
But teach the seeming:
The world needs dreamers, too,
As well as heroes,
And Shelleys something do,
As well as Neros.

I would have a school
A place for winning
More than a little lore—
But the beginning
Of many books to read,
And much endeavor,
A school a thing to lead
The mind forever.

Famed English Clock Has

Off-Day; London Spies
London is a city of church bells and chimneys, and everybody is used to glancing at his or her watch when the hour is struck. Apart from the London "underground," there are few places where one can't, on the hour, hear some church bells striking the time, notes a writer in the Chicago Tribune. From the chimneys of "Big Ben" to the bells of the nearest parish church they are an important part of the Londoner's life.

This explains the excitement on Baker street recently when the so-called, huge clock on the tower of the Abbey Road Building society suddenly went loney. At four o'clock it played, as usual, a few bars from "Fine Old English Gentleman," whereas at five it struck 34 times. Heads were poked out of windows, and in the street people stood around and counted the strokes, but at six it had gained its second wind and struck 51 times. By this time every newspaper in town had been informed by scores of readers of what was happening, and art editors were getting out pictures of the clock tower. At seven o'clock heads again were poked out of windows, but the clock, although it continued to tick off the time correctly, refused to strike at all!

Rosedale Gardens P.T.A. Continues Active In The Holiday Season

Fred C. Fischer, Superintendent of Wayne county schools, was the speaker at the meeting of the Rosedale Gardens P.T.A. on December 4. Following the business meeting, Mr. A. Ferland led the group in singing Christmas carols. The Progressive Home Discussion was conducted by Mrs. G. C. Butt. Mrs. F. Ames spoke on "Founding a Family." Mrs. Chas. Bowdlear discussed "The Well-Managed Home," and Mrs. Warren Mason and Mrs. R. D. Labbe spoke on "The Management of Children in the Home."

Entertainment for the evening was provided by Miss Evelyn Porteous who directed the ninth grade students and Plymouth high school in two short plays. A violin solo was given by Ellis Brandt.

The Wayne county council of P.T.A. met on Tuesday, December 10, in the Oxford school in Dearborn. Two one-act plays were given in the evening meeting under the direction of Miss Emma DuBord. Those who attended from Rosedale Gardens were Mrs. Marjorie Becher, Miss Doris Smith, Miss Margaret McGee, Mr. Ray Schofield, Miss Evelyn Porteous, Mr. Porteous, Mrs. E. D. Labbe, Mrs. H. P. Harsha, Mr. C. H. Groth, and Mrs. T. Thompson.

The striking feature of this black wool crepe street frock worn by Virginia Reid, screen actress, is the clever pique buttons which trim the bodice. The pique, a waffle-weave, is corded to form the round buttons which are themselves ornamented with pique "wings." The same fabric forms the muffler collar.

Cameron Makes 'Em Look Foolish

During America's busiest years, its industry never employed more than 8,000,000 persons and it cannot absorb today the 11,000,000 persons said to be unemployed in this County. William J. Cameron said Sunday night during the broadcast of The Ford Motor Co.

"Industry does not support people," he quoted. "People support industry."
"Many of you read this motto in the rotunda of the Ford Exhibit at the Century of Progress. Today it has a new significance because Government officials are demanding that industry employ at once the 11,000,000 persons who Washington says are unemployed, or take the consequences."

"If this demand is based on truth, certainly the motto is not; both cannot be correct."
"The general impression is that this Nation earns its living in industry. The facts make quite a different picture."
Of all the people who work for pay in this Country, 10,000,000 are attached to agriculture. Another 10,000,000 are employed in personal service—teachers, lawyers, doctors, nurses, public officials, entertainers, cooks, waiters, hired housekeepers and so forth.

Wholesale and retail trade engages between eight and ten million more—among them 2,000,000 sales clerks and 4,000,000 in other clerical positions. Four million people earn their living in transportation and communication and another 4,000,000 in the construction of buildings, streets and highways.

"A Million and a half engage in forestry, fishing and mining. These lines of business are not classified by the Government as industry although with other smaller groups they account for about 40,000,000 of our normal 48,000,000 jobs."

"And no official has suggested that these employ the alleged 11,000,000 unemployed. This is left for industry proper, which at its highest peak and its busiest time, never employed (in round numbers) more than 8,000,000—the highest industrial employment in our history."

"These figures for industry are given in Table No. 737 of the Statistical Abstract of the United States published in 1934 under the authority of the Secretary of Commerce."

"In this report, industry is comprised under the 16 main branches of production which supply the Nation's base commodity requirements, ranging from food and wood and textile products, to the iron, steel and transportation equipment industry, including the automobile."
"Having at no time employed as many as 9,000,000 persons, these 16 branches are asked to employ immediately an additional 11,000,000 persons, or else."

COIN GOES THROUGH KNOCK AWAY COIN

THE magician spins a coin on the table. He strikes it flat with a match box. He asks whether the coin lies heads or tails. People guess; the box is lifted to find the answer.

Again the coin is spun. Down comes the box. Once more guesses are made; some heads, some tails. "All wrong," says the wizard. He lifts the box; the coin has vanished.

In preparing for this surprising trick, the magician first empties the matches from the box; then inserts the drawer upside down. After a few preliminary spins, he is ready to make the coin vanish.

He brings the box sharply down upon the spinning coin. The stroke causes the coin to cut through the bottom of the match box. The magician lifts the box and drops it in his pocket while he points to the spot from which the coin has vanished.

On and Off The Record

Benjamin Comfort, former Cass Tech High School Principal, whose interest in youth has given him a state wide reputation, has accepted a position as Wayne County Supervisor for the National Youth Administration. Comfort will have offices in the Water Board Building under the WPA system, and will place boys from the ages of 16 to 25 on jobs. He will also have charge of placing school boys on part time jobs to help them pay their way through high school.

Tom McGoldrick, clerk to Henry Montgomery, recently appointed County Clerk, is surprised at the increase in business since he left office a few years ago with his employer. Tom Farrell, McGoldrick says that all departments are twice as busy and he can't remember a year during his long tenure of office which compared with the present volume of business.

Rejuvenation of antiquated systems which have been ordered by Clerk Montgomery will be under McGoldrick's supervision it was announced.

With the fiscal year just completed, Harold E. Stoll, Register of Deeds, sounds an optimistic note for the new year, with last year's figures from his office as argument.

"Our office reflects the business conditions of Wayne County," said Stoll. "It is a barometer that can't lie. The recording of deeds has doubled since 1933 and half again as much in 1935 as it was in 1934. Discharges showed an amazing increase of six times what they were in 1933, showing that people are rushing to pay off that proverbial mortgage, and are not only anxious to do it, but are financially able to. Redemptions are three times what they were two years ago, while Sheriff's Deeds, a sign of bad times, have dropped off considerably. The total amount of money taken in by fees through our office has increased over two times since 1933," said Stoll.

"These figures tell one story. The New Year, will bring a further increase of happiness and prosperity to the citizens of Wayne County. Business leaders are confident and this confidence is felt by the public. We can tell our grandchildren about that depression which is already history," said Stoll.

Wayne County leaders, both Democratic and Republican, joined hands earlier in the week to install Otto Silvers as Wayne County Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Among those present were Eugene Van Antwerp, John W. Smith, Judge Sherman Callender, Judge Joseph Moynihan, Judge John Maher, and many others. R. J. Vandenberg, presided at the ceremony with leaders from all parts of the state in veteran affairs.

Silvers has been the spark in the Wayne organization during the past year and headed the champion drum and bugle corps whose reputation has resounded from coast to coast. Silvers found time from his duties in traffic court to drill his buglers every night throughout the year. He is a loyal veteran, he is a fine man and he will be a great Commander.

The appointment of Thomas Long, members of the firm Steverson, Eaman, Butzel and Long, to the board of directors of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company was received with favor through legal circles. Long hails from Dearborn, where he spent his youth until he entered the University of Michigan.

Edward N. Hines, county road commissioner, is the recipient of the Geo. S. Bartlett award for outstanding work in Highway Development. It was presented by the State Highway officials group, the American Road Builders' Ass'n., and the National Research Council while in convention at Miami, Florida.

The Bureau of Investigation will work in cramped quarters until Christmas Goodfellow baskets, clothes, and a thousand and one presents for Wayne County's needy are being crowded into the office by Sam Leve, Director. He has closed off the rear half of the bureau to take care of this Christmas cheer until his workers can begin to distribute it.

That story about Harold Stoll crashing in his plane has a new angle to it, according to some of the boys in the know. They insinuate that the 40 and 8 initiation was back of it. This Veteran outfit, rated high in the mind of every soldier, really puts it on at initiations, they say, and it is claimed only fifty per cent of the candidates live to tell the tale.

By the way where has Gil Lubin been since that initiation?

George Engel's proposal to the Detroit Council to purchase the First National Bank Building for the City government reminds us that nothing definite has been done about a new county building, and you can't help but realize it's inadequacy to meet present governmental needs.

The halls on every floor are now in use, and yet we find offices under county government in other buildings.

Proteins Needed

Neither plants nor animals can live on carbohydrates alone. All but a few of the simplest organisms need foods that include nitrogen in their composition—the so-called proteins. There is an unlimited supply of nitrogen in the atmosphere. It comprises four-fifths of the air we breathe.

The Word "Bead"

The word "bead" is derived from the Saxon verb biddan, to pray. Originally associated with the beads on a rosary, it has been extended to mean almost any pierced object that can be strung.

Going to Spain for a Big Fortune

Mr. and Mrs. Angel Tomas Correa of Washington, shown in their home reading the message that told them they are to go to Spain to lay claim to their share of the $100,000,000 fortune left by their great-grandfather 70 years ago. When Don Domingo Faustino Correa died he stipulated the money was not to be touched for half a century. Now it is ready to be divided. Correa, now an American lawyer, is of Puerto Rican extraction. His wife is the former Norma Hilliard of Metropolitan opera fame. They have three children.

Championship Assured For P.H.S.

Winning two more decisions Twin Valley Association debates, Plymouth high school's team were assured of gaining the league championship by their record of nine consecutive victories. Although one contest remains for Plymouth, this school's nearest rivals have already been defeated several times.

Plymouth upheld the affirmative in a debate held here Tuesday, December 10, at 7:30, opposing the negative team from Ypsilanti, Plymouth's team included Edith Mettetal, Dorothy Hearn, and Jack Sessions. The Ypsilanti team consisted of Betty Annett and Seymour Gordon.

The proposition discussed was the proposal for government monopoly of the munitions industry. Mr. Record of the University of Michigan, judged the contest and Miss Lovell acted as chairman.

Advocating nationalization of the arms business in view of defects existing in the present system of manufacture, Plymouth's speakers presented their affirmative case for the last time in the Twin Valley contests of this season. Constructive speeches lasted eight minutes and rebuttals four.

At the conclusion of the contest Mr. Record offered a brief criticism of the debate, rendering his decision in favor of the affirmative as presented by Plymouth. He believed the competing teams to be approximately equal in respect to delivery and presentation, mentioning the considerable improvement in debate during the past several years. He stated that both teams had weakened considerably in their arguing of various points during the course of the evening, he awarded the affirmative the victory because of their superior logic on certain phases of the question.

By this second defeat to their traditional forensic rival, River Rouge, Plymouth's squad gained the championship of the Twin Valley Association, having a total of nine victories to River Rouge's six. Lincoln Park also ranking high in league standings, has been defeated twice.

Coached by Mr. Latture, Plymouth teams have defeated every school belonging to the Association. The debaters who have taken part in decision debates are Foreman Norton, Edith Mettetal, Dorothy Hearn, Jewel Starkweather, Harry Fisher, Tom Brock, Jack Sessions and Russell Kirk.

The Freshman class have begun preparations for their first high school dance to be held in the high school auditorium, January 10. Refreshments: Shirley Sorensen, chairman, Gail Lewis, Inger Ericsson, Veronica Martz and Jean Hamilton. Orchestra: Phyllis Barrows, chairman, Ellis Brandt, Jacquelyn Schoof, William McAllister, and Donald Taylor. Floor: Marvin Hauk, chairman, Earl Beckwith, Bobbie Robinson, and Howard Olson. ORPHEON QUARTETTE IN VARIED PROGRAM

In the gay atmosphere of the Senior Prom the ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades listened to a special program of the Orpheon Quartette, third of this year's assembly series. The four singers began their program with the recent song, "Marching Along Together." Robert Daw, the spokesman for the group, introduced each of the singers and the pianist to the audience. The second selection was "Where Ever You Walk," by Handel. A group of three negro spirituals, "Swing Along," "Let My People Go," and "Shortnin' Bread," followed. One of the singers then gave a reading entitled "Going To Bed Early," and telling the story of a senior high school girl who started to bed early and finally decided to wait until the next evening to go to bed early. The reading was accompanied by humorous gestures. The quartette then sang two popular selections, "The Girl on the Street," and "I'm in the Mood for Love." There followed an unusual version of "Long, Long Trail Awaiting." A highly dramatic sleep song told in a musical way the tale of some very tired people who one by one fell asleep and received interruptions of the general public. He finally got discouraged and took a picture of the orchestra instead.

THE SEVEN HUNDRED

Few people who enjoyed the Senior Prom were aware of some of the less conspicuous things that were going on behind the scenes. As an example consider the four check room boys. There wasn't a one in the bunch that was a mathematician, and when twelve o'clock came the boys took in the first and only tip of the evening, ten cents. For the rest of the night they spent more time worrying about how to divide a dollar than they did about getting the right coat back to the right party. Or on the other hand it would have paid you to watch those who served refreshments gurgling down punch out in the kitchen while the guests who had paid to come were being told that there was none left. In my opinion the A-No-1 martyr of the Prom was the fellow who lost the balloons loose during the last dance. He was the only person who didn't get a chance to scramble for a balloon. I almost forgot the orchestra leader who did so want a balloon but who had to keep right on playing. If you had been there early you would have seen Bill Holdsworth trying to take a picture of the orchestra amid the continual interruptions of the general public. He finally got discouraged and took a picture of the orchestra instead.

GIRL SCOUTS MAKE CHRISTMAS PLANS

At the usual weekly meeting held in the music room of the high school on December 11 the Girl Scouts of Troop 1 made plans for a Christmas party to be held December 18. The chairman of the committee for carrying out these plans is Betty Mastick. The Scouts will also chaperon a group of grade school children who plan to go Christmas caroling on the Tuesday night, December 17, and Monday before Christmas. After Christmas the girls are looking forward to the starting of a Brownie Pack consisting of the younger Scouts under the leadership of the first class Girl Scout.

DOUBLE QUARTET ENTERTAINS TEACHERS

Members of the high school girls' double quartet sang several numbers at the teachers' Christmas party held last Wednesday evening, December 18, at the Hotel Mayflower. Wearing white vestments and carrying candles, the girls entered, singing "Silent Night." The other selections included "Christmas Carol," "Gawwaw," "Piper," "Cantique," "Noel," and "Good King Wenceslas." They are giving the same group of carols before members of the Woman's Club, meeting at the Hotel Mayflower this afternoon.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT TO ENTER FESTIVAL

The music department of the high school is planning to take part in a large musical festival to be held in the auditorium of the Ypsilanti high school on the evening of March 27. All schools of the TVAA will participate; this includes those of Dearborn, Wayne, Ecorse, River Rouge, Ypsilanti, and Plymouth. A main feature of the program will be a mixed chorus of about three hundred voices. These singers will be selected from the glee clubs of the various schools and will be led by Mr. Maddern, head of the music school music department at the University of Michigan. In addition to those from our junior chorus and glee clubs, Plymouth will be represented by the girls' double quartet, consisting of Edith Mettetal, Dorothy Hearn, Jewel Starkweather, Barbara Hubbell, Jeannette Brown, and Carol Campbell, accompanist. They will sing several numbers. The six music supervisors of the League are acting as a committee in charge of details, this school being represented by Miss Henry.

CHRISTMAS SEALS SOLD BY STUDENTS

The sale of Red Cross Christmas seals by high school students this year amounted to $14,220. This is about the same which is usually sold by students in high school. The seventh grade led in the junior high sale with a total of $68. In senior high the juniors

Rocks Defeat Wayne Quintet

The Rocks staging a mighty comeback in a rough and tumble second half, downed the Wayne five by the close score of 23 to 22 on the Wayne court, Friday, December 13. The game was a thriller from beginning to finish and will no doubt be one of the fastest games of the year in which the Rocks will participate. Temple, Wayne forward, was high point man with three field goals and four free shots.

The game commenced with Bird fouling Williams who missed. Horton started the scoring by popping a long shot. Wagenschutz fouled Temple who made the free throw, and he was later followed by Horton, who made another long shot. Gates opened the scoring for Plymouth by sinking a free throw. Horton failed to make his free throw after Kinsey had fouled him, and Wagenschutz missed his two free throws after being fouled by Horton. Horton, jumping high in the air, made another Wayne basket, but Kinsey fouled Horton in his lone attempt. Temple receiving the ball from Lucas made a long shot from the center of the court.

CLASS NOTES

The ninth grade English classes wrote themes on the subject of "Friday the Thirteenth." Again on Monday there will be five more book reports, which will leave twenty-two more to be given by January 6.

Miss Smith's 8B general mathematics classes are now studying plane figures such as parallelograms, rectangles, squares, trapezoids, rhombuses, and triangles. Also while studying plane figures they are learning how to find the perimeter of a circle, areas of plane figures and of solid figures.

Mr. Dwyer's 9B commercial class are now starting a new note book for the next marking period, which consists of some of the following subjects: lunchroom bookkeeping and inventory for one month in general, luncheon and the metric system.

The ninth grade civics classes are studying "Special Occupations for Young Women." Some of these occupations for women are: (a) secretary, (b) librarian, (c) nursing, (d) secretarial work, (e) teaching and (f) business.

Last Thursday the fifth hour class held a debate. The formal question was "Resolved: that women should work outside the home." The affirmative was composed of Elizabeth Criger, Eleanor Petrozowski, and the negative side of Jane Hood and Agnes Nowotarski. The judges were Betty Curtis, Hennie Bassett, and William Rutherford.

The seventh hour public speaking class is studying the technique of after dinner speaking and mock banquets. Types of toasts, manners, etiquette, and after dinner speeches are being discussed and practiced. The entire class is divided into committees for the purpose of terminating their learning with a Christmas banquet Friday. The fifth hour class is conducting debates on various issues. Some of these are: capital punishment, the woman's place in the home, that students having high scholastic ranking should not be required to take final examinations, and the question of necessity of speech work for graduation.

Miss Waldorf's English 10A is studying journalism and the 10B is beginning to read the Idylls of the King.

MACKENZIE DEBATES IN PRACTICE HERE

Meeting Plymouth's affirmative debate team for the second time this season, speakers from Mackenzie high school opposed the team in a practice contest held at Plymouth on Monday, December 9. No decision was rendered.

Plymouth was represented by the team taking part in the decision league debate with Ypsilanti the next day—Edith Mettetal, Dorothy Hearn, and Jack Sessions. Preparation for the following contest was afforded by this debate.

JUNIORS SELL MANY TICKETS

One of the reasons why so many persons attended performances of the junior class play is the fact that Jean Dunham, a member of the ticket committee, sold 61 tickets. This number was far greater than any of those sold by other members of the class, and mention should be made of her willing work.

OVER TWO HUNDRED COUPLES AT PROM

A very large crowd of over two hundred couples attended the Superstition Prom where they danced to some fine music. Gene Regis, Friday, December 13. The dance will no doubt be one of the finest of the year and the crowd one of the largest. Although Friday the thirteenth, it proved to be a day of superstition and an unlucky day, for over two hundred and eighty dollars was taken in. The scenery consisted of a blue background with gold of gold placed at its foot. The sides were blue, dotted with silver stars and a large silver horseshoe was placed as an arch above each door. As one stood and watched the many people dancing, laughing, and drinking punch, one knew the seniors' hard work had really turned out to be a success. This is their last big dance, and they are glad it was a success.

RADIO CLUB VISITS RADIO STATION WJR

The Radio Club, desiring to get a better knowledge of radio control supervision, visited the radio control room of WJR, Tuesday, December 10. They saw all the controls that operate the station and were given a different apparatus explained to them. They also visited one of the studios and saw a program in progress. Their report states that the studios are very wonderful and elaborate.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT
Each year this turbulent world sees a Christmas day to reverberate the memory of Christ's birth and to contemplate the possibilities of the Christ-like spirit in the present world state. During the World War the nations remembered him by adopting such slogans as "Out with the trenches by Christmas." And when these slogans were ineffective, the soldiers took it upon their own shoulders to preserve the Christ-spirit on Christmas day when English and German soldiers mingled together on the front, casting aside their hatred which had been inflicted on their hearts and living for one day the brotherhood and fraternity which He taught the world. If however, we are to carry on these traditions, acts only in memory of his birth, the power which he brought the world has been wasted. "Out of the trenches by Christmas" is not in keeping with the Christ-like spirit if on December 26 we return to the trenches of indifference, shedding once again His ideals of the brotherhood and fellowship and once more donning our assumed coat of human selfishness.

EDITORIAL

There are so many helpful heartening things that can be done with very little money. There are many children who have no old toys that have been discarded and are lying in someone's attic. There was a little girl in my neighborhood that had nothing to play with. One day she came to my house and was telling my mother how much she would like a doll. My mother had several of them that had belonged to my sisters and she gave her one. She was just as proud of that doll as she would have been of a new one. One Christmas Eve she went to a lady that had just moved to this town and I found that she had had her three children were cookies and oranges. My mother and I went to the store and bought a few toys and we went home and my candy popped corn and then we packed some canned fruit into a box and the next morning we took it over to their house. They said it was the happiest Christmas they had in two years, and it cost us almost no money.

Some people are very poor but they have just as much pride as the wealthy people and don't like to ask for help. If these people are able to buy things very cheap, they would like it better than welfare. It would make them feel that they were not dependent on any one. An illustration of this, there is a family with nine children, one member of the family was working, making very small wages. A private organization was going around helping these people who needed help and were not on the welfare. They asked this family if they wanted to go to the welfare. "No, give it to someone who needed it worse than we do," they knew they could use this help, but were proud to accept.

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Beginning with this issue there will appear every week in Pilgrim Prints short biographies of members of the Senior Class of 1936. These biographies will appear in alphabetical order and if they are saved from week to week, they will furnish a complete life history of the senior class.

JACK BLACKMORE was born John Thomas Blackmore, but is better known as "Buck," the boy who eats a lot. As long as he has plenty of it, he has no favorite food. He is an old timer as far as these parts are concerned since he was born on the outskirts of Plymouth and has lived here ever since. He had his early training in one of the nearby rural schools. After receiving all that the high school has to offer him, Jack proposes to do anything but take up farming. His antipathy to farming resulted from agricultural courses and life on the farm. The high school football team has been glad to have him around these last four years. He doesn't expect to make the college football team because he doesn't expect to go to college.

CARL JOE BAUER, youthful male student of the brown eyes and curly hair of the same color, first saw the light of day in Campbell, Ohio, on March 19, 1918. Having parents who attended six different schools (not simultaneously, however), he descended upon Plymouth in the year 1928, entering Starkweather School and proceeding with his class to high school. So that his name, which ranks first in the alphabetical list of seniors, Joe is a member of Hi-Y and of Drama club. He is taking a commercial course, and states that for the present he is unable to determine his future profession. It is reported by his friends that in spite of his varied experience in regard to establishments of learning, his scholarly education is yet amazingly incomplete, but owing to the fact that the above-mentioned comrades were wreathed in smiles at the time of this revelation, the veracity of such a piece of information is open to serious doubt.

CLAUDE RICHARD BAUMAN, a tall angular chap with an unusual combination of blue eyes and brown hair, was ushered into the world on July 30, 1917 at Livonia, Michigan. He has attended the Plymouth public schools during his entire twelve-grade ranking him with few Claude has taken a general course in high school and in spite of his many other interests is going to stick to the soil. He plans to attend Michigan State College in East Lansing. During the past four years he has held membership in the Model Airplane Club, Torch Club, and The Future Farmers of America.

Though Claude is somewhat bashful he is frequently seen playing the role of Romeo to near perfection. He tells me his choice runs to brunettes, though that (the choice I mean) is not restrictive.

JEANETTE BAUMAN, the blond haired, pretty girl you see walking around school, was born on a farm in Livonia Township on March 4, 1919. She has attended the Plymouth public schools during her entire twelve-grade ranking her with few Jeanette has taken a general course in high school and in spite of her many other interests is going to stick to the soil. He plans to attend Michigan State College in East Lansing. During the past four years he has held membership in the Model Airplane Club, Torch Club, and The Future Farmers of America.

Her hobbies are reading and dancing, and she said she intended to be "somebody's stenographer" and I guess she means unless Albert Shear, a Redford lad has other plans for her. She has been a member of the Girl Reserves for three years. If you don't know Jeanette from what I have told you and know Helen George, you may see Jeanette with Helen at almost any time of the day.

RUTH MAE BICHY is the pretty senior girl with dark brown curly hair and hazel eyes whom you are likely to see at any time with Madeline Salow. Ruth first opened violet eyes on March 29, 1919 in Michigan. But at the age of four she moved to Plymouth and incidentally her eyes have turned from violet to a beautiful deep hazel color. Like Jeanette, Barbara, and Helen she has attended the Plymouth public schools during her entire twelve-grade ranking her with few Ruth has taken a general course in high school and in spite of her many other interests is going to stick to the soil. He plans to attend Michigan State College in East Lansing. During the past four years he has held membership in the Model Airplane Club, Torch Club, and The Future Farmers of America.

The True Story About Michael O'Conner, The Famous Rabbit Hunting Dog, Fido, and the Hunt That Took Place Recently Down on the South Side

"My friend, that's a great pup. I can shoot a rabbit and he is so careful that he will pick it up by the ear and bring it back to me and drop it right at my feet." It is reported Walter Faber said to a friend the other day.

Michael J. O'Conner down at the Kroger meat market heard the comment.

It seems that Michael had been fattening a rabbit out on the south side of town during the late summer and fall so that when the proper time came, he could go out and shoot the rabbit for a Sunday dinner.

Each week he watched it grow from a little bit of a bunny to a great big fat rabbit.

Neighbors down around Maplecroft say they have seen him drop some of the goodies that rabbits like so well so that the rabbit would be sure and never have a hungry day.

The time came for the big hunt. Mike thought if Walter Faber's pup was so good, he would like to take him down while he hunted the rabbit so that the dog would be sure and bring it back just as rumor had it that the pup would do.

As Mike tramped the vacant lots, the nice big fat bunny heard his footsteps.

And what do you suppose happened.

It seems that the rabbit apparently thought Mike had a pocketful of corn or a nice big red apple for him, so he hopped down across the vacant lots directly towards Mike.

Bang!

Over keeled the big rabbit.

Here is where Fido again comes into the picture. Fido's part in the big hunting scene was to run out after the rabbit had been shot, pick it up by its left ear and bring it back to Mike's feet.

But Fido didn't do anything of the kind. He did run out to get the rabbit—but, instead of bringing it back to Mike, he grabbed it by the neck and no dog ever ran down across the fields towards home faster than did Fido that early afternoon with the rabbit in his mouth.

The next day Abe Goldstein found a part of the rabbit's left hind foot in his garage and Walter Faber had in his yard the right ear and some of the fur off the neck.

Fido is reported to have suffered somewhat from dog indignation. Mike O'Conner went back to the store and took hamburger home for his rabbit dinner.

Fog Forces Plane To Ground At South Lyon

An airplane from Selfridge Field was forced to land at the distance south of South Lyon, at dusk Saturday because of the dense fog.

The pilot, Lieutenant Stevor, was enroute from Howell where he had stopped for repairs. He was flying the plane without instruments. He landed near the barn on the Ballo property.

Sunday morning he attempted to resume his flight, but traveled only a short distance before forced back to his landing place. Invisibility in the upper regions of the atmosphere forced him down so low that he barely missed the high tension wires of the Edison company near the railroad about a mile north and east of the Ballo field.

Sunday afternoon an army truck from Selfridge Field came with two enlisted men who served as guards at the airplane until Monday afternoon, relieving Lieutenant Stevor who returned to Selfridge Field with the truck driver. The guards were equipped to sleep in the cabin. Monday afternoon, the fog having cleared, the plane took off for headquarters.—South Lyon Herald.

A Church To Fill by Frances Grinstead

Christmas Givers by Agnes Myers

OUR family had attended Christmas services at the church on the brow of the hill. It is just a "little brown church," but of recent years it has been modernized with a furnace, a basement for church dinners, and work table and sand piles in the Sunday school rooms. The grown-ups like it better since there are more and bigger oil lamps.

"LUELLA" said her mother with a warning look, "take your hand out of those raisins and finish paring the apples for my pies."

"What else are you doing at your church this week?" asked Uncle Joe as he spread his napkin and looked toward the turkey. Uncle Joe is New England minister, with his eyes usually set on heaven; but he does like turkey.

"Sally, you better help Luella with the apples, we're almost finished with the baking; and now if you father would bring the turkey, I could stuff it tonight."

"Not by any means! This would be a mighty good time to get your county agent to tell you what to raise next year instead of corn and hogs. Or to get your hand in at chess. By the way, I'll have all those big low tables covered with games. I'll bet there are sets of anagrams and cribbage just going to waste in your attic."

"Mother! Mother!" Shouted Joel, bounding into the house. "Your father would bring the turkey, I could stuff it tonight."

"What Else Are You Doing at Your Church?" Asked Uncle Joe. "our old photograph to show the fellows? We got some good records."

"Where's the turkey?" she gasped. "Fact is—" he started Mr. Dodge. "I-I gave it to Ned Blake on the way home—for his poor family. Mother—I couldn't, couldn't help it."

"Well," sighed Mrs. Dodge, with a crestfallen face. "I guess they need it all right—and we still have the ham."

"Watch her step," invites The Braggart. "She'll do 70-80-90" and he proceeds to prove it.

"Watch her step," invites The Braggart. "She'll do 70-80-90" and he proceeds to prove it. Pride in one's car is understandable but there is no excuse for "putting it through its paces" on the public highways. Such recklessness invites disaster. Good drivers remember that car's speed and power is there for their protection.

IMPATIENTLY Louise shoved the steaming pans and kettles into the warming oven. Looking down the driveway as she had done for almost two hours, she exclaimed:

"Of course Horton called that he might be late. But what is keeping sister and Hal, and Aunt Jen, Uncle Jim, Betty and Clyde? Six people invited to a Christmas dinner and all of them late! Accident? Surely not all of them in a heap along the roadside unless each bumped into the other hurrying because they are late to our dinner!" Louise was stilling even before a honk sent her outside.

"Horton, please drive me to Laron crossroads. Maybe we'll meet sister and Hal. Maybe they will know why the others are delayed. Sort of a news center at the crossroads, anyway."

"Ishaw! Don't worry. They probably think you will not have dinner promptly at 1 o'clock—"

"Hurrying home and eating lunch, Horton, with Louise a bit reluctant, started for Baxter, where a special festival of Christmas music and drama, an annual community affair, for many years, between rival societies, would be presented at the Community Center playhouse. Prizes were awarded to best productions from the two towns.

"The guests must have misunderstood my letter. Whatever it is, they have all misunderstood together," Louise whined.

She seemed unsympathetic to Drive Me to Laron Crossroads. Maybe We Will Meet Sister."

His First Christmas by Earle Hooker Eaton

RING up the pole and telephone without a moment's pause. Or by the wireless make it known To dear old Santa Claus. That Papa's Boy and Mama's Joy, And Sister's Precious Mite, While glad bells clang will gaily hang His stockings up tonight!

"Tingling! Tingling! Hello, hello! Is that you Santa, dear? Be sure your reindeer hear your 'Ho-ho!'"

When you are passing here. What's that? You'll come and bring a drum.

A jumping-jack and ball, And other fava for little boys? Dear Saint, you're best of all!"

'Tis Christmas morn, and to his shop Old Santa homeward flies! 'Tis five o'clock, but open pop The baby's roguish eyes. We're dead for sleep, but out we creep, And dress at once to get What Santa kind, has left behind For Toddlekins, our pet.

From Pole to Pole there's surely not A babe more pleased than he, And how he crows, the happy tot, And gurgles in his glee.

The jumping-jack, the ducks that quack, The drum, the horns, the ball, The chicks that peep, the horse, the sheep, He tries to eat them all!

On this his first glad Christmas lark, The toys with blocks he pelts, He makes old Noah wish the Ark Had landed somewhere else! A soldier blue he breaks in two, A puncture gives the drum, He fills the air with legs and hair, And then—he sucks his thumb!

The Sand-Man's surely come to town, And soft is mummy's lap; Clear up the wreck and snuggle down, 'Tis time to take a nap.

Then rock-a-bye, close each blue eye, Rest, my darling, rest! (He's fast asleep, with baby sheep Hugged tight against his breast!)

Louise's further peevish questions: "But not one of our guests are here that I can see. Do you glimpse Uncle's bald head, or sister's fur?"

After the program Horton and Louise watched every means of exit for their guests, then hurried home, arriving at five o'clock. At sight of the left-over dinner, Louise sobbed:

"Never saw such a frost. What on Adam's earth could have happened? What have we—have I done to deserve such snubs?" She was almost suspicious that Horton had something to do with the ence of their guests. She leaped to the jangling of the telephone. Anything was better than silence—or was it?

"Ye—yes—yes—we'll be there—at once!" The receiver clicked.

"Horton, hurry. Someone needs you—at Herald's Corners. Hal called. No, Hal and sister are not hurt, but some one else. You run on and I'll stay to prepare beds."

Horton, Hal, and Louise's sister soon arrived with a man, woman and small child who had been buried under an automobile.

While administering to the injured one in the spotless beds Louise provided, Uncle Jim and Aunt Jen arrived with Betty and Clyde, son and daughter-in-law, at exactly six o'clock!

"We were determined to be on time for dinner," Aunt Jen called innocently.

"Yes, you are in time—to help nurse these injured strangers," Louise announced, trying not to look discomfited.

"Jim had too had a cold to go to the program at Baxter. So Clyde said he'd drive our car and we would all come together. Clyde could not get away from the store until noon. We thought you would probably go to the program if we were not here to hinder during the afternoon. And we'd get here in time for your six o'clock dinner. Let us help make these injured ones comfortable. Or, we'll get the dinner on the table while you attend them," Aunt Jen rattled on.

"The date of the dinner's coldness seemed not to matter. One thing I've learned, that a cold dinner is no less palatable after eight hours, than for two hours' wait. It's all because of two times—two dates for dinner—12 o'clock—and six o'clock! Two things learned today!" Louise related to herself the text of the letter sent to her guests, and as nearly as she could remember it was worded:

"Can you come for Christmas dinner? Come early if the men wish to go with Horton to the program at Baxter. We women will gossip the afternoon away until the men return. Dinner promptly then!"

"Dinner at six—for six late guests. But it all turned out right. The poor people were rescued by Hal's coming in the afternoon. Hal said that since he had the afternoon for driving he would leisurely drive by way of Herald's Corners to see the new vinclut just completed. You and I, dear, attended the program together. Uncle Jim needed a driver. Next time, I'll make it plain which dinner hour to expect my guests—at one o'clock or at six o'clock on Christmas!" Louise smiled the next day after the injured strangers were on their way, and the guests had returned to their homes.

Only Two Lines For Ice Fishing

Michigan's new ice fishing regulations for inland waters, which have been the subject of controversy in sportsmen's circles, will go into effect throughout the state, January 1.

The new regulations limit the inland-lake fishermen to the use of two ice-lines with not more than one hook attached to each line and require that these lines be held in the hand or under immediate control.

The regulations also apply to the "tip-up" or any similar mechanical device used for the taking of fish from the inland waters. No more than two "tip-ups" may be used by an individual fisherman and these must be under immediate control.

There is one exception to these regulations, explained Fred W. Westerman, chief of Michigan's fisheries operations. Smelt fishermen in recognized smelt waters are also restricted to the use of two lines, but may use any number of hooks on a line.

The two-line regulations, however, do not apply to the Great Lakes or connecting waters of the Great Lakes where five ice-lines, the number allowed last winter, is still legal.

Spearing Season Opens on Jan. 1st

The season for taking black bass in Michigan comes to a close for the year Tuesday, Dec. 31, the Department of Conservation announced today. Black bass will not be legal game again until June 25.

Ice fishermen, however, are permitted to take all species of non-game fish and any other species of game-fish except brook, brown, rainbow trout and grayling.

The two-month season for spearing through the ice opens Jan. 1. This season is open during January and February on all inland waters, except trout streams and waters not otherwise closed to spearing. The use of artificial light while spearing is forbidden.

The species of fish that may legally be taken with the spear are: Carp, suckers, mullet, redhorse, sheepshead, lake trout, smelt, great northern, grass pike and pickerel, muskellunge, whitefish, ciscoes, pikefish or menominee whitefish, dogfish and garpike.

WINTER ENTERTAINING

FOR the average housewife elaborate entertaining is not to be thought of, not only because of the expense but because of the amount of labor involved.

When serving an informal tea for club or committee the wise woman will provide herself with plenty of the good sized heavy paper napkins to use instead of the cherished linen, which is used for the more informal occasions.

Napkins of paper now come in large sizes and one may even have an initial to make them more personal. Nobody enjoyed the small and elusive paper napkins, for they never "stayed put," but these are such a comfort and saving on linen.

There are so many kinds of sandwiches that may be served with tea or some other hot drink, that one might have a different one every day for years.

Small cookies and cakes are always popular. Make them unusual, either by filling them with some soft rich filling of fruit or custard, or sweetened and flavored whipped cream.

The very small cream puffs filled with good thick sweetened and flavored whipped cream are most attractive and universally well liked. Serve them on a large paper-covered plate in twos or threes, when accompanied by a cup of hot cocoa, what could be more delightful for a light afternoon refreshment?

There are so many food accessories now which add to the enjoyment of serving simple foods. The frying basket for potato nests—they are so simple to make, using a fine strainer in the form of a flat grater, making the fresh potato in such fine shavings that the basket when cooked even looks like a nest. These may be made and heated before serving.

Rowboats Used as "Tugs"

Before tugboats were used, sailing ships were sometimes brought into pier by the seasons, lowering small rowboats or lifeboats and towing the vessel in. In some cases the vessels were anchored in deep water and smaller boats used to transport passengers and cargo to and from the vessel.

It's easy to be patient when you have nothing at stake.

Chanticleer Now a Radio Performer

WIT AGAINST WIT

IT WAS a dreadful game the hunter with the terrible gun and Lightfoot the Deer were playing in the Green Forest. It was a match of wit against wit, the hunter seeking to take Lightfoot's life and Lightfoot seeking to save it. The experience of other years had taught Lightfoot much of the ways of hunters and not one of the things he had learned about them was forgotten. But the hunter in his turn knew much of the ways of deer. So it was that each was trying his best to outguess the other.

When the hunter found the hiding place Lightfoot had left at the warning of Sammy Jay, he followed freshly upturned leaf here and there, a bit of moss lightly crushed. These things told the hunter which way Lightfoot had gone.

Slowly, patiently, watchfully, the hunter followed. After a while he stopped with a satisfied grin. "I thought as much," he muttered. "He heard that pesky Jay and circled around so as to get my scent. I'll just cut across to my old trail and unless I am greatly mistaken I'll find his tracks there."

So swiftly, but silently, the hunter cut across his old trail and in a few moments he found just what he expected, one of Lightfoot's footprints. Once more he grinned. "Well, old fellow, I've outguessed you this time," said he to himself. "I am behind you and the wind is from you to me so that you cannot get my scent. I wouldn't be a bit surprised if you're behind that old windfall." He at once began to move forward silently and cautiously.

Now when Lightfoot following behind the hunter, had lost the scent of the latter, he guessed right away that the latter had found his tracks and had started to follow them. Lightfoot stood still and listened with all his might for some little sound to tell him where the hunter was. But there was no sound, and after a little Lightfoot began to move on.

There was only one direction in which it was safe for Lightfoot to move, and that was the direction from which the Merry Little Breezes were blowing. As long as they brought him none of the dreaded man smell he knew that he was safe. The hunter might be behind him. Probably he was. But ahead of him, so long as the Merry Little Breezes were blowing in his face and brought no dreaded man smell, was safety.

Will Finder Please Return Money He Found

Will the person who found the man's pocketbook containing between $35 and $40 please return it to the office of The Plymouth Mail—as the one who lost it is in serious need of the money.

He has informed The Mail that he will pay a liberal reward for the return of the money, lost a week ago Monday on downtown streets of Plymouth he believes.

The return of the money will be doing a world of good to the man who lost it—he is a laborer who works long hours each night to make the money and he can ill afford to lose it. The finder will feel much better about the affair if it is returned to the one who lost it.
