$1.50 Per Year In Advance

More Than $200,000 In Bonus Money To Be Distributed To 400 Plymouth Veterans, Survey Shows

Veterans Groups To Give Out Blanks

Applications Must Be Made Through American Legion Or Ex-Service Men's Club—Bonds To Pay Bonus Certificates in Full.

More than $200,000 in bonus money will be paid to 400 veterans of the World War in Plymouth, a survey by Commander Melvin Guthrie of the Myron H. Beas post, American Legion, reveals. Application blanks which veterans must fill out before they can exchange their bonus certificates for bonds are available here through the American Legion and the Ex-Service Men's club.

Commander Guthrie has appointed Don Ryder to take charge of the blanks, which may be obtained at the next regular meeting of the Legion, Monday evening at the Legion hall, or from Mr. Ryder, Arno Thompson will handle applications for the Ex-Service Men's organization.

Mr. Ryder also will be in the Plymouth Mail office from 1 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and the same time Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons of next week, to receive applications.

After the applications are filed, they will be checked by the Veterans' Administration at Washington and forwarded to the United States Treasury, from where bonds of $50 each, dated June 15, 1936, together with odd amounts covered by government checks will be sent to the applicants. Bonds will be in full payment of the 1945 maturity value of certificates issued in 1925.

Some veterans who have not borrowed on their certificates may send their applications to the nearest regional office of the Veterans Administration, or direct to Washington, while those who have made certificate loans at a bank are required to mail the blanks, properly filled out, directly to the national headquarters.

Bonds may be cashed at the local postoffice, wholly or in part, but if this is done the first year no interest is paid. If the bonds are held, three per cent interest will be paid annually for nine years.

Straub Not To File Petitions

Discovery of the fact that the city commission meets on the first and third Monday evenings of each month and that these are the same dates as the meetings of the Switchmen's Union No. 27 of which he is secretary and treasurer, has caused John Straub a switchman employed in the Plymouth Pore Marquette yards, to withdraw his petition that he be circumscribed as a candidate for the city commission in the primary.

Mr. Straub had the petition entirely filled out, he states and was about to file it when he made the discovery of the conflict in the meeting dates.

"I figured I hadn't better try and kill two birds with one stone," he commented as he announced his intention of not filing his petition.

"Maybe when I was back in the United States army during the Spanish-American war, I could do something like that, but times have changed and I can't see where, if I should happen to have been elected where I could attend to two jobs where the meetings are held at the same time," stated Mr. Straub.

Introducing

During the past week two new members have been added to the staff of The Plymouth Mail, Miss Ruth Gallmeyer, of Ann Arbor and Jerry Slady of Edwardsville, Illinois.

Miss Gallmeyer, a graduate of the University of Michigan school of journalism and for the past two years a member of the staff of the Washtenaw Post Tribune, will be in charge of local news and assist in other office detail work. Her record as an associate editor of the Michigan Daily and with the Washtenaw Post-Tribune provides her with an excellent training for the new duties she has assumed with The Plymouth Mail.

Jerry Slady has been added to the commercial printing staff of The Plymouth Mail. The young man has for more than three years been a member of the mechanical force of the Madison County News at Edwardsville, Illinois and comes to The Mail highly recommended by the publisher of The News.

During the past year the commercial printing department of The Mail has grown by leaps and bounds. It is gratifying to The Mail to know that its increased job printing business has made possible the enlargement of its staff.

Rotarians Hear Tribute To Hoover

Plymouth Rotarians last Friday heard a glowing tribute to the memory of Dr. Freeman B. Hoover, delivered by Dr. B. M. Champe, a member of the club. Dr. Champe briefly pointed out the services to the community of Dr. Hoover, who gave freely of his time and efforts to the city. He told of the great loss the city had suffered as the result of his untimely passing.

The club members also heard the contest winning debating team of the Plymouth high school in one of the regular debates which brought to them victory over all other high school debating teams in this part of the state.

Whisky is not a good antidote for snake bite. Except in conditions of near collapse, it is not a good idea to give the victim of a snake bite a stimulant. Whisky, for example, is apt to quicken the circulation and increase distribution of venom in the blood stream.

Red Men Plan A Big Membership Drive In Spring

Galen Cripe Tells Of Organization And Its Benefits

Galen Cripe 297 Harvey street and one of the outstanding leaders in Michigan of the organization known as the Improved Order of Red Men, states that plans are about completed for their annual spring membership drive. Plymouth has one of the largest local organizations of Red Men in Michigan in a town of this size, and Mr. Cripe as well as the other officers and members of the lodge hope to more than double its membership before the year is ended.

The officers point out some of the interesting facts in connection with the Red Men:

Its founders were the patriots of 1776.

It exists only under the American flag.

It admits only American citizens.

It is one of the largest American fraternities, having 500,000 members.

It is dedicated to the preservation of American traditions.

Its ceremonies are aboriginal, dramatic, beautiful, historical.

Its precepts inspire all with the spirit of fraternal love and good fellowship.

It cares for its sick and distressed and buries its dead.

First incorporated in 1834, it has an honorable and enviable record of 100 years.

It requires no obligation interfering with your religious or political beliefs.

It is original, patriotic, charitable, humanitarian, beneficial, social, educational and non-sectarian.

It seeks by associated effort to do that which individual effort could never accomplish.

It eliminates class distinctions and brings its members into closest bonds of fraternal co-operation.

It subscribes to the broad principles that all men are equal and what a man is, not what he possesses constitutes his claim for recognition among the brothers of his circles.

It numbers in its memberships, ex-presidents of the United States, senators, congressmen, judges, governors, army and navy officers, bankers, merchants, manufacturers, doctors, lawyers, clergymen, clerks and all other classes of respectable citizens.

It is interested in further expansion. Redmen should be in every home in the union.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt was adopted into the Order on January 11th 1936, while Governor of New York state. The ceremony was conferred in the executive mansion at Albany.

The primary object and purpose of the Order is to promote among the exercise and practice of the true principles of benevolence and charity.

The care and protection of the widows and orphans of its members.

To lessen the burdens and relieve the sufferings of those who surround us.

The cultivation of friendly relations with all of those who have entered its circles.

The teaching of patriotism, love of country, allegiance to the flag and union, and obedience to the law.

The Improved Order of Red Men appeals to the patriotic sentiments of the American people because of its origin, its traditions and its ceremonies.

Its ritualistic ceremonies, like the Order itself, are purely American. Founded upon the manners, customs and traditions of the North American Indian.

It portrays in an educational manner their habits and peculiarities and will give to posterity its only realistic demonstration of the fascinating beauties of their mystic ceremonies.

As the historian of an extinct race and the repository of its traditions, the Improved Order of Red Men assumes responsibility for the preservation of their forms and customs.

The Government of our Order is National, State, and the local (tribes). It is the most democratic of all fraternities in that every member has a voice and vote in its government.

Individual assessments can be determined within two weeks, Mr. Elliott says.

Miss Lovewell To Give Talk at Grange Meeting

Miss Neva Lovewell, English faculty, will be the speaker for the next meeting of the Plymouth Grange Thursday evening, February 6, at the Grange Hall.

A potluck supper will be served at 7 o'clock, followed by the program and business meeting. All Grange members and their friends are urged to be present.

Because of the illness of some members of the cast of "The Antics of Andrew", which was to have been presented Friday evening by Dixboro young people at the Grange Hall, the play has been postponed until a later date. Notice of the necessary postponement was not received in time for last week's issue of the paper, so members of the Grange endeavored to make it known as widely as possible.

Kiwanis Hears Norman Conger

Norman Conger, who retired from service in the United States Weather bureau at Detroit after 25 years, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club Tuesday evening at the Mayflower Hotel.

Mr. Conger spoke of the importance of weather reports for both travel and shipping, of perishable goods, both from the south to Michigan and from this state to other points in the country. He spoke also of the value of marine reports to shippers on the Detroit river and the Great Lakes, giving an explanation of the causes of some of the storms in this area which come in from the St. Lawrence river valley.

David Harbaugh was chairman of the program.

At next week's meeting, Judge D. J. Healy, of Detroit, will speak on the work of the juvenile court.

Mercury Sets New Low Here Monday

With the mercury hovering between four and six degrees below zero Monday morning to set a new low for the winter, Plymouth residents shivered and shook during the early part of the week.

Periods of bright sunshine made the outlook more cheerful, and finally seemed to have a well-earned effect on the thermometer. At least furnaces stopped clamoring for more coal, ear muffs could be discarded and envy of those sojourning in the warmth of the southern sun abated somewhat. Though winter weather continues with cold breezes and snow in the air, the relief from the bitter temperatures of Monday and Tuesday has made life much more livable.

Hamilton Sewer On Special Basis

At a special meeting of the city commission held recently, it was decided to place the Hamilton sewer on a special assessment basis. This decision was reached because the commission believed it advisable in view of the fact that the sewer is of special benefit to property owners in that section, not to the city as a whole.

It is believed this will establish a precedent for all future WPA work of special benefit character. According to City Manager Clarence H. Elliott, property owners will need to pay only 18 per cent of the amount that would be required if the project were let out to private contractors. The federal government furnishes all the labor and part of the material, so that the cost is very small.

Individual assessments can be determined within two weeks, Mr. Elliott says.

Communications

Editor, Plymouth Mail:
I have read with much interest your editorial in the January 10 issue of the Plymouth Mail, entitled "The Difference." This editorial pertains to access to our streams from highways.

Since the decision of the Court of Appeals in Cincinnati on the Ne-Bo-Shone case wherein they state that when a stream is available to the public for one purpose it is available for all purposes it seems to me that we cannot have too frequent access to our lakes and streams for the use of the general public, and your paper is to be complimented on its coming out urging this very worth while thing.

Kind regards,
Very sincerely,
P. J. Hoffmaster,
Director Department of Conservation.

Editor Plymouth Mail:
I have taken the liberty of commenting editorially in The Detroit News on your splendid suggestion of camping spots near the approaches to bridges crossing rivers along highways of the State.

Very truly yours,
Albert Stoll, Jr.,
Conservation Editor,

WAFFLE TIME

WAFFLE time is any time with most folks, but during the cold weather, waffles, hot cakes, muffins and gems are more especially enjoyed. The following recipe for the hurried housewife will be most welcome:

Quick Waffles.
Take two and three-fourths cups of pastry flour or one and one-half cups of bread flour and one-half cup of corn starch, add four teaspoons of baking powder, one teaspoon of salt, mix well, add three well beaten eggs and one-half cup of vegetable oil. Mix well and add one and one-half cups of milk. Beat thoroughly and bake on a hot waffle iron. Serve with maple or canned sirup.

Jiffy Griddle Cakes.
Take two and one-half cups of bread flour, and one-fourth of a cup of corn starch, five and one-half teaspoons of baking powder, one and one-half teaspoons of salt, one-half cup of sugar, one beaten egg, one-half cup of vegetable oil and two cups of milk. Mix and sift the dry ingredients, add the oil to the beaten egg and mix gradually with the milk, using a good beating. Serve with butter and sirup. Less sugar may be used if desired.

Health Muffins.
Sift one cup of flour, one-half teaspoon of salt, four teaspoons of baking powder, one cup of bran, one cup of milk, two tablespoons each of brown sugar and vegetable oil, mix well and stir in a half package of finely cut dates. This may be all prepared except adding the liquid, the night before. Bake in well oiled muffin pans 30 minutes. Serve canned grapefruit and see how easy it is to prepare a wholesome breakfast in a short time.

Oyster Potato Balls.
Take seasoned mashed potatoes, make into flat cakes, roll into each two oysters and dip into beaten egg and crumbs. Place in a baking dish and bake and baste until the potato is well browned. Serve with a sprig of parsley in each.

ROCKS TRAMPLE ON WAYNE

The Wayne team was again vanquished by the rough and ready Plymouth team when it left its home stamping grounds and invaded Plymouth's auditorium Friday, January 24 by a score of 27-17.

The game was roughly played by both teams with about eighteen to twenty fouls on each. Kinsey, Gates, and Erloff tied for the honor of high point man for Plymouth with six points each while Horton, Wayne's big center, had the most points for Wayne. Wayne's points were chiefly the charity loss, which they could make much more successfully than could the home team.

WAYNE TRIUMPHS OVER RESERVES

The Plymouth Reserves were handed their second defeat when the Wayne quintet triumphed over them in a thrilling game ending in an overtime period, Friday, January 24, on the Plymouth court.

The game proceeded very slowly, but after a few minutes of close play, Van Amburg broke through the Wayne defense and popped a short shot. On the next play Brown was roughed up a bit and Wayne took time out. After play had resumed Monroe pushed Moe, but he failed to convert for the charity shot.

With the third quarter coming up the Plymouth Reserves were resting on the better end of a 9-8 score. After the third quarter had been a few minutes old, Kellams was backed by Anderson, but the shot rebounded off the basket rim.

As the last quarter commenced, Moe sank a nice basket from the corner. Moe again dribbled down the side of the court and popped a one handed shot from the corner.

A few seconds after the overtime period had commenced, Moe flicked in a short shot to bring the crowd to a roar; the score was soon knotted when Austin pushed in a short shot. Monroe chalked up his fourth foul when he hacked Moe and he was banished from the game.

EDITORIAL Edward VIII

The tragic death of His Royal Highness, George V, was eased only by the realization that his son, Edward VIII, will prove to be one of the truest, most genuinely thoughtful men to rule a modern nation.

A short time ago I witnessed one of the most thrilling basketball games which I have ever seen, one between East Lansing and St. Mary's high schools. These two schools are even more bitter enemies than Plymouth and Northville, and they are certainly more evenly matched.

What ever odd ideas they may have about winning a ball game by East Lansing way they do it. The spectators in the audience which could well be transported to Plymouth. There wasn't a quiet moment from the time the game started. The cheer leaders were merely ornamental because they were rarely allowed to interrupt the crowd long enough to lead an organized yell.

PERSONAL MENTION

Norma Hewitt entertained some of her high school friends at a skating party last evening at the home of Mrs. E. J. Mattinson. Dick O'Dea Tom Campbell, John Shinn Douglas Kalmback and Joe McKroub all skated at the Wilcox Dam and they returned to Norma's home for refreshments.

Elizabeth Whipple entertained five of her friends at the Hi-Y-Girl Reserve skating party last Thursday night. Elizabeth Hegge and Harold Wagenschutz, Pat McKinnon and Harry Fischer, Elizabeth and David Gates all played ping-pong and ate refreshments.

Betty Griffith went to Detroit Friday where she saw Colleen Moore's doll house and she later saw Jackie Coogan and Betty Grable in person at the Michigan Theater.

Phyllis Dickerson gave a farewell dinner party for Patricia Burton who left for Santa Barbara, California, Saturday morning. The guests enjoyed games and dancing.

ONE MAN'S FIFTY MOST PRIZED POSSESSIONS

OUT of the fifty possessions that I listed as my most valued ones, I found that forty-eight of them had not cost me a dime. It was Channing Pollock, the noted playwright who said that, and his disparagement of material things is no case of sour grapes, for the author of the above statement is a wealthy man, who admits to "a house and an ample full of material things that cost money and the sacrifice of leisure and independence."

SENIOR'S WHO'S WHO

Betty Leora Ford, alleged fifty-fourth cousin of Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ford, was born June 29, 1918, in Morley, Michigan. Coming to Plymouth at an early age she has attended school here for twelve years, and is now taking a home economics course at Leora College.

Ferdinand August Freund, senior whose countenance proclaims his Teutonic origin, was born in Livingston, Illinois. Arriving in Plymouth at an early age, he has attended schools here since kindergarten. He is now taking a general course. Among his hobbies are hunting, fishing, playing the guitar, and reading. You often see him with a volume of Dumas' 'D'Artagnan' in his hand.

SENIORS LEAD IN BASKETBALL LOOP

The senior team number seven captained by Dick Miller defeated the juniors in last week's feature basketball game to take undisputed lead in the senior high school court league. They have now compiled a record of four wins and no defeats.

DAVID

By ANNE CAMPBELL

HE WAS a happy boy who did not know One hour of disillusionment and strife.

All unacquainted with our deepest woe. The bluest skies hung over his young life. For him there were no tears, but only joy. He never will be called upon to share.

The bitter loss that robbed us of our joy, And gave us such a troubled head to bear. Youth's mirror was unvarnished; he who gazed With such clear eyes to futures bright with bliss, Will never live to see the hopes he raised.

Dear boy, whose spirit lingers in the rooms Where you lived joyfully for fifteen years. Forgive us if we shadow your bright plumes By giving way to grief and hopeless tears. Only one ray of comfort shines on us. Our day is long, and heavy is the night, But your brave soul finds heaven glorious. And where you are is happiness and light!

Children do not have "growing pains." Pain frequently suffered by growing children is not caused by their growth. It may be due to one or more of many causes, such as rheumatic infection, improper nourishment, muscular fatigue, improper posture, tuberculosis of the joints, etc. Examination by a doctor should never be delayed because of a belief that these are merely "growing pains."

Group To Honor Frances Willard

For their next meeting, February 27, members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will have a Frances Willard program at the home of Mrs. Harry Mack.

The January meeting was held Thursday of last week at the home of Mrs. Nettie Felham, 395 West Ann Arbor Trail. Mrs. C. E. Vealey, chairman of the program committee, gave her report at this time. This was followed by refreshments and a social hour.

From the Union Signal: "Winfield G. and Elmer K. of East Cleveland told Municipal Judge Adams of that city that the night before they had stolen 400 pounds of coal to keep them warm, but when he asked them where they burned the coal, they qualified the statement. 'We wanted to get warm quick,' said one of the men. 'We didn't burn it, we traded it for whiskey and drank the whiskey.'"

"Twenty-five dollars and 30 cents," was the judge's verdict.

A Glimpse Into Their Yesterdays

There he goes—there goes the fellow who wants to ruin Main street. He's the fellow who wants to run this town so far into debt it will never get out. That's him! Why, say he would have half the people on Main street over in the poor house if he and the rest of them fellows here their way.

That's only a part of the story—that's only a very few of the milder things said about Edward Gayde and other members of the old village council when they were discussing paving Main street some 26 or 27 years ago.

Never residents of Plymouth of today haven't the slightest idea as to the bitterness of the old political battles that used to be fought in this city between the group that wanted to go ahead and build a bigger and better Plymouth and another group that desired to keep Main street probably the most thoroughfare in all the world.

Ed. Gayde was chairman of the street committee of the council at that time.

"Main street was nothing more than a hogmire. It was soft earth and shaded and in the spring or when it was wet, there was no bottom to it. We decided that there was only one thing to do to make it passable and that was to pave it. We were spending about $10,000 a year on streets so we decided to put about $5,000 out of this amount in the bank each year for a while until we had enough money saved to go ahead. With the $10,000 saved, we thought we could bond for $8,000 more and then borrow the rest. It was needed it was decided when recalling this old time civic battle.

"Well you know they said that there was one widow lady who would go to the poorhouse if we put any sort of an assessment on her property for this paving. To get a little ahead of my story, when the assessment was made it was to be paid in installments. When she got the first notice she came in and paid the whole amount all at once.

"It was a fatal mistake our opponents made that resulted in the paving of Main street," said Mr. Gayde. "The fight was a hot one and it was a day or so before election when one of the opposition by mistake gave me a letter they were putting into the post-office the day before election. It was burning us up for talking about paving Main street.

"Well we got busy and had Mr. Saran write me a letter that went into the mail at the same time. The result of it was that we licked them and Main street was paved. It's the same paving that's on the street today, and it's a good one."

Probably there is no resident of Plymouth who has taken a more active interest in Plymouth over a longer period of years than has Edward Gayde.

Born January 2, 1878, he has always lived in the same house at 761 Starkweather avenue. The Gayde family can rightly be termed one of the pioneer business families of Plymouth. It was shortly after the Civil war when the father left Baltimore and came to Toledo. He was a copper. When he reached Toledo, in company with a companion he started for Detroit where he heard that he could get a job as a cooper. He had but 25 cents. He gave that to a stage coach driver to take his trunk to Detroit.

He started out to walk to Detroit, being told to follow the telegraph line. When he reached Detroit he got a job as a cooper where the Dime bank building now stands.

It was by the merest chance that the father of the Gaydes came to Plymouth. One day he had a chance to ride out here with a farmer. He had but 15 cents in his pocket. When he reached here he liked the little community. He got a job and he went to work—something that all the Gaydes are noted for.

Soon he had started a little store down on Holbrook avenue. His business grew rapidly. That was about 1878.

Then he erected the building where the Gayde store is at present located. The sons William, Albert and Edward all worked in the store. The three youngsters under the splendid tutelage of their father all became excellent business men.

It was in 1898 when Edward and Albert Gayde took over the store that their father had started over half a century ago.

His boyhood days were spent on the beautiful north side of Plymouth, along the banks of the Rouge river, where all boys like to play. Ed. Gayde knew every swimming hole from Phoenix to Newburg, and there were several of them along the river.

There was the deep swimming hole just a few hundred feet east of the present booster pumping station of the city's water system. But the boys didn't swim at this place so much. The popular old swimming hole was at Allen's bend, directly west of where Jewell's dirt cleaning establish-ment is now located and over in the woods that are now a part of the parkway system.

Then there was another swimming hole down on Michael's flats. This place is now in Plymouth. It was the playground of Ed. Gayde and all of his old boyhood friends tramped up and down the Rouge river from early spring until late fall. They knew every bend in the stream—and every place where live, active youngsters might take a swim whenever they desired.

As he grew up he became interested in the fire department and early joined it as one of its volunteer members. Then he became fire chief and it was while he was fire chief that the biggest fire in this part of Wayne county took place. It was the old Globe Furniture plant at Northville which burned April 30, 1899. Some 400 men worked there. Help was called from Plymouth, but in those days there were no horses for the fire wagon and no automobiles.

So Plymouth's fire truck, pulled by these sturdy young fire fighters, was loaded on a flat car down at the Pere Marquette depot and before the firemen had time to block the fire engine wheels, the locomotive was steaming out of the yards on the wildest dash a train ever made between Plymouth and its neighbor to the north. So terrific was the speed of the engine and flat car bearing the Plymouth fire department that on one or two of the bends, the truckmen and all were nearly thrown from the flatcar.

Besides being chief of the fire department, Mr. Gayde served several years as a member of the village council, township clerk, village clerk and in 1914 he was elected a member of the state legislature where he served for several years with credit to himself and the district he represented.

Plymouth is just as much a part of the life of Edward Gayde as he is a part of Plymouth. From his boyhood he has been active in its affairs and his greatest delight is to talk with friends about some of the stirring events that happened in other years, events that all helped to make Plymouth a bigger and better city and in which he played an important part.

Sparks from the chimney ignited the roof of the home owned by J. J. McLaren, 1156 West Ann Arbor street, shortly after 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. The blaze was quickly extinguished by the Plymouth fire department.

Value of State Crops Down in '35

A final survey of the 1935 crop season shows that the total farm value of the principal field and fruit crops in Michigan this year was $124,985,000 or about 2 per cent less than the figure of $127,688,000 for 1934. Michigan farmers harvested a total crop acreage 3 per cent larger than last year with yields per acre about 20 per cent above the 10-year average. This increase in volume of production was offset by a decrease in the average production of most crops although most of the reduction in total valuation this year compared with last was caused by the decline in hay prices. The situation from a cash income standpoint is, therefore, more favorable. Preliminary figures indicate that the cash farm income for the total 1935 crop production in Michigan will probably be in the neighborhood of $68,100,000 or about 12 per cent more than the $61,510,000 for 1934. Total cash farm income from both crops and livestock is expected to amount to approximately $169,000,000 as against $149,292,000 in 1934 and $133,784,000 in 1933.

The 1935 Michigan potato crop was 27 per cent smaller than the exceptionally large 1934 production although still 8 per cent more than the 5-year (1928-32) average crop. Michigan growers harvested 86 acreage 6.5 per cent larger than the 5-year average but the yield was only 95 bushels or slightly less than the 10-year average per acre return. Abandonment of planted acreage has been estimated at 10 per cent or 14,000 acres, chiefly the result of frost damage during September and early part of October.

The total United States potato crop of 356,406,000 bushels is 6,961,000 bushels or 2.0 per cent less than the average production for the 5 years preceding 1935. Low temperatures during October and the first week in November in the northern tier of states caused heavy losses of the undug portion of the crop and lowered the quality of much of the stock that was harvested during this period. On the basis of comparisons with the 5-year (1928-32) average production the 1935 harvested crop in the three Eastern Surplus States was 11 per cent below average; that in the five Central Surplus Late States was 2 per cent above average; while that in the ten Western Late States was about average.

Final reports place the Michigan 1935 production of field beans at 4,806,000 bags which compares with a 5-year (1928-32) average crop of 3,244,000 bags. Although much of the Michigan winter wheat acreage was sown rather late this past fall, the crop in most parts of the State is going into the winter under close to average conditions. The dry sub-soil delayed summer and fall plowing in some parts of the State, and the seeding of the crop was also held up to some extent by the late harvest of field beans and corn.

The acreage of rye, sown for all purposes in Michigan this fall is estimated at 182,000 acres which is 35 per cent less than the 280,000 acres planted in the autumn of 1934. Most of this reduction in acreage occurred in the central and southern counties of Lower Michigan where a year ago exceptionally large acreages of rye were planted for emergency pasture.

The United States acreage of winter wheat, sown for harvest in 1935, is placed at 47,529,000 acres which is 6.7 per cent above the 1934 fall seedings of 44,530,000 acres and 5.7 per cent more than the 5-year (1927-31) average planted acreage. An analysis of past relationships between December 1 condition and final yield and indications from weather studies suggests that the 1936 United States winter wheat crop may amount to about 530,000,000 bushels. Such a production would compare with 433,447,000 bushels harvested in 1934 and a 5-year (1928-32) average crop of 618,186,000 bushels.

The hip length jacket is styled with four patchpockets cut on the bias. The belt is wine red leather. With the ensemble, Miss Wyatt wears a wine red velvet hat, wine and beige scarf and wine accessories.

Oldest School Head

Reverend Dr. Levi I. Sprague, president of Wyoming seminary, Kingstons, Pa., believed to be the oldest secondary school administrator in the United States in years of service, quietly celebrated his ninety-first birthday on December 23. He has been teaching continuously for 74 years. Born in Beckman, N. Y., December 23, 1844, Doctor Sprague is the son of Nelson I. and Laura (Spencer) Sprague.

The Oven Bird

The Oven Bird was formerly called the Golden-Crowned Thrush, unless he was found to be more like the warblers. The nest of the (Oven Bird is made on the ground, and consists of twigs, dead leaves, and other woodland litter. An arch is built over the nest so that it is oven-shaped. The post is seldom seen, though the owner may frequently be observed walking with sprightly stride over the woodland floor in search of insects.

There May Be a Question

"If everybody dat expects to git to heaven arrives dar," said Uncle Eben, "dar's liable to be some debate among de angels 'bout which way de golden streets will run."

ANNOUNCES $25-A-MONTH TIME PAYMENTS AND A NEW UCC 6% FINANCE PLAN

Any New Ford V-8 Car Can Now Be Purchased for $25 a Month with Usual Low Down-Payment

This $25-a-month time-payment plan enables you to buy a New Ford V-8 car through your Ford dealer on new low monthly terms.

After the usual low down-payment is made, $25 a month is all you have to pay for any type of new car, including insurance and financing.

Your cost for this extension of credit is only 1/4 of 1% a month on your original unpaid balance and insurance. This plan reduces financing charges for twelve months to 6%. For example, if you owe a balance of $400 for your car and insurance, you pay $24 for the year of credit; if the balance is $200 you pay $12. Your credit cost for one year is the original unpaid balance multiplied by 6%.

UCC plans provide you with insurance protection at regular conference rates. You have not only fire and theft insurance, but $50 deductible collision, and protection against other accidental physical damage to your car.

The Universal Credit Company has made these plans available through all Ford dealers in the United States.

A MILLION DOLLARS ISN'T ENOUGH

AT THE University of Oregon it seems to be the consensus of opinion among young men that money is the thing to marry for. That is, judging by the way they answered a questionnaire on the subject.

About 30 per cent of the men in the study who answered the questionnaire said they would be glad to marry for money and love be hanged.

But that isn't all. About the same number said "yes" to the question as to whether they would marry a woman of sixty if she had a million dollars.

Of course there's this to be considered to questionnaires—they're like talk, they may not mean anything.

But taking these young men seriously, they should remember that marriage means living with—every day, every week, every year. The million dollars is important, of course.

Only the married man knows the extent to which a million dollars means living with and for someone else. That is, if it is to be successful or even tolerable.

All human relationships revolve around the constant observation of the principle of give and take. In marriage, however, it is wise to assume that the foundation is almost entirely give. Give and give and give—and like it. To those of us who know only one thing is worth it—and that is love. A million dollars isn't enough.

THE WRONG-SIDE-OF-ROAD ROBBER

Even though he is content with only half of the road—the middle half—the Middle-of-the-Road Robber is one of the highway's most unpopular—and dangerous—users.
By driving down the center of the road he takes something that doesn't belong to him.
The good driver has not forgotten the Golden Rule and gives the others users of the highway the same consideration that he expects of them.

McGoofey's First Reader and Eclectic Primer

THE STORY OF JENNIE AND WILBUR

1—Jennie and Wilbur were poor but honest.
2—Their folks were short on money but long on penitence.
3—They tried to guide their children aright, but always emphasized courage.
4—"Be brave and resolve as you go through life," the father used to tell them. "Never compromise!"
5—"Fear," their mother told them ever so often, "is pain and has no place in the character of a real man or woman."

6—There was hardly a day that Jennie and Wilbur were not lectured on courage and its importance in life.
7—Often their parents would put them to some test calculated to strengthen their backbone and rid them of inhibitions.

8—Wilbur as a little boy was often sent on long trips at night through the dark, and Jennie was made to sleep in a dingy attic room away from the others in the household so she would shake off all nervousness and fright.
9—Their parents once rented a haunted house for the summer just to show the kiddies it was all superstitious.

10—Everything possible was done to make them resolve, bold and unafraid.
11—They let Jennie go on a lion hunt with an African expedition when she was only sixteen, and during a summer vacation Wilbur got a job driving one of those pay-off wagons labeled "Dangerous, High Explosives."

12—By the time they had reached the age of twenty Jennie and Wilbur were pretty hard. They weren't afraid of anything. Their will was forged in their nativity.
13—And it all profited them greatly.
14—For they became public links zolgers.
15—And what is more, they played Saturdays and Sundays with out steel helmets, leather vests or shin guards.

MORAL—You can't overemphasize any quality in character building.

PSALMS OF LIFE

Be neat in all the things of life. Be ruled by illness. Let order guide you day by day. And bring you happiness.

Help mother keep the house quite neat— Don't litter up a room; When others have to tidy up, It fills them full of gloom.

Put everything where it belongs. When you return from school: The shiftless, careless little girl But apes the senseless fool.

Put all your clothes where they belong. When you undress at night; Hang all your garments so they can Be found next morn' all right.

A scrubbing give yourself each morn' And then throughout the day Be careful not to tear up soil. Your garments in rough play

Be neat in all the things you do. And when you're grown we think You will not be a wife who leaves THE DISHES IN THE SINK

HOT BREADS FOR COLD DAYS
A FLAKY, tender, white and well-browned baking powder biscuit is no mean accomplishment. To be successful, such hot breads should be made quickly and baked in a hot oven.

Quick Biscuit.
Sift two cups of flour, four tea-spoons of baking powder, one tea-spoon of salt, and when well blended add one-fourth cup of cooking oil and three-fourths of a cup of milk. Mix into a soft dough and pat out on a floured board. Cut into rounds and bake 12 minutes in a hot oven.

Orange Muffins.
Sift one cup of flour with three tea-spoons of baking powder and three-fourths of a tea-spoon of salt, and one-fourth of a cup of sugar, one cup of granulated fruit and one cup of sliced orange peel. Beat one egg, add one cup of milk and one fourth cup of vegetable oil or cooking oil. Beat until smooth. Fill well-oiled tins with the mixture and bake 20 to 25 minutes, according to the size of the muffins.

Coconut Corn Bread.
Take one cup each of flour, corn meal and milk, four tea-spoons of baking powder, two tea-spoons of salt, three table-spoons of sugar, one beaten egg, one-half cup of shredded coconut and two table-spoons of shortening. Mix as usual and bake in a shallow pan 25 minutes.

Oatmeal Bread.
Take one and one-half cups of whole wheat flour, one tea-spoon of salt, five tea-spoons of baking powder, one-fourth cup of brown sugar, two table-spoons of oil, one-fourth of a cup of milk, one egg, one cup of cooked oatmeal and one-half package of dates. Mix as usual, adding the dry ingredients together, then add the milk and beaten egg, then the oatmeal and dates; lastly add the oil and beat well. Bake in a loaf for one hour.

Hot smoked salmon sandwiches are particularly good if seasoned with horseradish and a little Worcestershire sauce.

POTTED MEATS AND FISH

POTTED MEATS
In England potted meats are so common that the everyday cook knows all about preparing them. We like to have such meats occasionally, and the following are recommended methods of preparing such meats.

Meat such as ham, tongue or chicken as well as fish may be put for a luncheon dish, rather than use it in other ways, such as hash, which is all too common in some homes. The goodness of the potted meats is, of course, first of all, in the meat, then in the proper pounding and preparation and seasoning. If carefully prepared and put away, these will keep for a long time and may be used for an occasional snack or an emergency dish.

"The Alhambra"
"The Alhambra," by Washington Irving, grew out of the experiences and studies of Irving while an actual resident in the old royal palace of the Moors at Granada. Many of the sketches have their foundation only in the author's fancy, but others are veritable history.

Our photograph shows one of the primitive wells in northern Ethiopia. Water is stored in large bags and transported by caravans taking many weeks to the front where the troops have to exercise greatest care to keep their precious "ammunition."

POTTED CHICKEN
Take a cold roast chicken, rejecting the skin and sinews, chop fine and to every pint allow a half-cupful of chopped ham or tongue. Put the bones of the fowl into a saucepan, add a pint of cold water and simmer until there is half a pint of stock; strain and remove the fat. Pound the chicken, and ham or tongue to a smooth paste in a mortar with an old-fashioned pestle; this makes a smooth paste; or it may be put several times through the food chopper mill fine. Then pound—the pounding makes the meat of the creamy consistency needed. Add a little of the broth, season with cayenne, nutmeg and a tablespoonful of butter. Put into small jars, press down and cover with a cloth, then cover the cloth with a flour and water paste. Bake in a moderate oven for half an hour, having the jars in water. Take out, remove the cloth, cover with melted butter, then tie over a paper moistened with egg white and set away to keep in a cool place until wanted. This will keep for months, and makes a fine hot-weather dish. This will be a good way to take care of extra chicken at any time. Fresh beef tongue, cold roast veal, boiled or roast mutton, ham and smoked tongue are all most tasty treated in this way.

Plans For New School Started

Plans are being made for construction of a new school building at Northville to replace the one destroyed by fire January 13. Detroit architects conferred with the school board last week. Work is expected to be started in the future.

Appraisal of the loss incurred when the old building burned is being carried on by an adjuster for the insurance company, who will release an estimate to the board. Superintendent R. H. Amerman reports splendid progress being made by children in the grades, meetings in the Legion hall. Nearly all the necessary textbooks were on hand last week through the co-operation of the publishing houses.

The new building is expected to be larger than the structure which burned, as lack of classroom space in the old school led to the application last fall for PWA funds for a four-room addition. A grant of $32,000 was received and work was to have been started the week the fire occurred. Officials are now trying to obtain this money for use with their insurance funds, on the present building project.

Wayne County Groups Take Part in Contest

Taking part in the annual State Rural Drama contest, sponsored by the extension department of Michigan State college at East Lansing, are two Wayne county home economics extension groups, one from Wayne, and the other from Belleville.

With groups representing Leapeer and Oakland counties, they will compete for first place in the district, and the winners will take part in the finals February 7, to be held in connection with the annual Farmers week at Michigan State college. The Wayne groups were rehearsed by Prof. Cecil Nicks, of the Michigan State college English faculty. Miss Emma DuBord is county home demonstration agent.

Four Counties Will Be Represented at Meeting

Wayne county farmers, with farmers from Washtenaw, Lenawee and Monroe counties, will attend the annual meeting of the Production Credit association at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce. D. J. Exelby, secretary-treasurer of the association which is one of 15 locals in Michigan, will be in charge of the meeting. The association was set up in 1934 by the Farm Credit administration to offer farmers short-time loans for purchases of livestock, feed, equipment and other essentials of production. It has served 375 farmers in this district, with loans aggregating $125,000.

Hot Breads
Is there anything quite as delicious as the aroma of bread baking? I can't think of anything. It seems to be the very essence of home. The good old-fashioned kind that gives one a feeling of comfort and love the minute one steps in the door.

And, too, there's something about bread fresh from the oven and simply dripping with butter that does things to the morale. I know it does things for the figure too, but lets forget about that and just enjoy the delicious taste of bread. You can, you know, very easily. One doesn't have to go back to the days of fire-place ovens, or even the days when baking bread meant making the yeast, mixing the dough, letting it set and then spending whole pounds of energy kneading it before baking. Baking bread is really a very simple operation. Especially when one can store the dough in the refrigerator until ready to bake it. You've no idea, until you've tried it, how hot rolls can turn a pot roast dinner into a banquet. Do try it soon.

Below is a collection of recipes for hot breads for every meal. Try the Bran Muffins tomorrow morning for breakfast. They're heartening as well as delicious these cold mornings. Serve the Ham Surprises for Sunday supper. The Magic Butter Rolls, the next time the bridge club meets, and have the Ice Box Rolls most any time.

- Bran Muffins
1 cup flour
2 cups bran
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup of molasses (heated)
1 tablespoon butter
1 1/2 cups milk
- Sift soda, salt and flour together, add bran and stir thoroughly. Add milk and butter to the molasses which has been heated until it's warm, not hot. Combine the two mixtures and mix thoroughly. Add nut meats if desired. Bake in greased muffin tins in a moderate oven (375 degrees). Makes 18 muffins.
- Magic Butter Rolls
3 cups bread flour
2 cups sugar
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup milk (lukewarm)
2 cakes yeast
1 tablespoon sugar
3 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup sugar
- Sift flour, then measure. To 1 1/2 cups flour add salt and butter, combining as for pie crust. Add yeast and 1 tablespoon sugar to lukewarm milk, blend well and stir into first mixture, beating very smooth. Cover and let stand 20 minutes. Then add the well-beaten eggs, beating vigorously. Add vanilla and remaining 1/2 cups flour. Stir until smooth. The dough will be stiff but slightly sticky. Then tie dough loosely in cheese cloth. Drop in a pair of water and let rise 1 hour. Form into twists, roll in chopped nuts and sugar, let stand 3 minutes and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) 10 to 15 minutes. Makes 1 dozen rolls.
- Ham Surprise
1 1/2 lbs. ham, deviled ham
2 tablespoons butter
Biscuit dough
Roll biscuit dough out to about 1/2 inch thickness. Cut in rounds. Spread half the rounds with mixture of ham and butter (well-blended). Cut centers from the remaining rounds leaving about a half inch edge. Cover the ham-spread rounds and bake. Makes a delicious and unusual supper dish.
- Biscuits
2 cups flour
4 tablespoons shortening
7/8 cup milk
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Blend in shortening as for pie crust. Add milk. Place on floured board, pat gently to desired thickness and cut. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) about 15 minutes. (small baking powder cans make excellent cutters if a few holes are punched in the bottoms.)
- Ice Box Rolls
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 yeast cake
1/2 cup lukewarm water
1 pint milk
1/2 cup mashed potatoes
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening
3/4 pints sifted flour.
Combine yeast and water and

History Of Plymouth

First Land Purchaser Here Never Lived In Plymouth—Cabin Chimneys Built Out of Sticks and Mud.

CHAPTER I
The first land purchased in Plymouth Township was by Alanson Aldrich, in the summer of 1824. Mr. Aldrich, however, never settled here. Other tracts were taken up in the fall by Erasmus Hussey and Abraham Spears, the former becoming a resident after two years, (in 1826) but the latter never settled here. William and Allen Tibbet are considered by some authorities to be the very first settlers; but there were several others who came within ten days of each other.

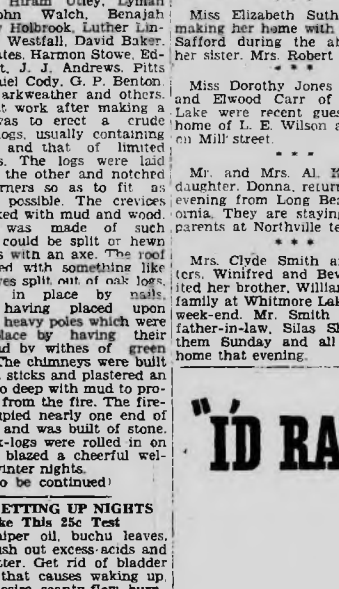

The first deeds of the land taken up by the settlers were signed by Pres. John Quincy Adams. Previous to the spring of 1825, a few hardy pioneers had penetrated the wilderness west of Detroit, and a settlement was made at Farmington and another at a point fifteen or eighteen miles from Detroit on the River Rouge and called Swartsburg. A mill was erected at Swartsburg by Luther Lincoln who a year later, erected a saw and grist mill at Plymouth on the same stream. This mill at Plymouth was erected about one-half mile east on the Plymouth road near the present Riverside Cemetery. The old Indian trail over which the first settlers came, could only by courtesy be called a road. It extended from Detroit through Plymouth to Ann Arbor, following the River Rouge, crossed the extreme south of Spring Wells and Greenfield townships, across Dearborn township from south east to north-west, through what was then Nankin Township, but now the north east corner of Nankin and the south west corner of Livonia townships to Swartsburg where the first settlers stopped. past Nankin Mills and Nankin O., now known as Newburg, and up the Ann Arbor road through Plymouth to Ann Arbor. Beyond this limit of civilization the way through the woods was marked by blazed trees and the difficulties of clearing a passage were great. The men who had thus set out to subdue wild nature and convert the forests into fields were young and hardy, full of energy, hopefulness and courage.

Teams consisted of oxen which were able to pick their living in the woods. In 1825 Mr. William Starkweather made a clearing and erected a log house on the land opposite the hotel, corner of Main and Ann Arbor streets, afterward the Fuller property.

"I'D RATHER HAVE A BUICK BUT"

What do you mean, BUT!

WHAT keeps you from driving a Buick—not next year—but now—today?

Is it the money?
Time payments on a Buick are but two or three dollars a week more than on the lowest-priced cars—less than that, when you figure the "extras" a smaller car usually calls for.

Is it the upkeep?
Buick is a big comfortable car that gives small-car gas mileage, small-car mileage on oil. You'll keep a Buick at least a year longer than you'll keep a lesser car—and probably spend less on it for service and repair in the meantime!

Could it be habit?
Maybe you get used to buying in the low-priced field—you get the idea a big car costs too much to run—you resign yourself to small-car comfort, ability, performance—and plain human nature keeps you from inquiring further!

Maybe a Buick is a bit beyond your reach. But let's not admit it until we've got the actual figures!

We'll gamble our time against yours to show you just what a Buick will cost—to buy—to run—to keep in good condition. We've surprised many a small-car owner with our thrifty figures, thrilled them with a demonstration.

Let us show you our arithmetic—and what a Buick can do out on the road. It won't cost a penny—and it may make you a lot happier—with a Buick!

IT COSTS LESS NOW TO BUY ON TIME!

The new GMAC 6% TIME PAYMENT PLAN not only makes it easier to figure the cost of buying on time, but saves money that you can use to get a better car. For example, a Buick Special business coupe listed at the factory (safety glass included, standard and special accessory groups extra) at only... $765

The Sunstroke in general it may be said that fatal sunstroke is considerably more common in the northern part of the East than in the southern. The thirty-ninth parallel of north latitude near which Washington is situated may roughly be said to divide the eastern states into North and South. The people of the South are more accustomed to extreme heat in summer and exert them selves less during the heat of the day than northerners. In addition, the North is more subject to extreme heat waves which strays cause prostrations.
