Plymouth Rotarians Are Guests At Windsor International Day

Father Lefevre Tells Of Work With High School Boys

As guests of the Rotary club of Windsor, Ontario, for its international meeting Monday Father Frank C. Lefevre, retiring president of the Plymouth club, Rev. Walter Nichol, a past president, and Tom Brock and Jack Krasney, two of the local club's "Junior Rotarians," outlined the plan which the Plymouth group has inaugurated to bring about more understanding between boys of high school age and the business and professional leaders of the community.

The following account of the meeting is taken from The Windsor Daily Star of June 1:

Urging a closer co-operation between members of the Rotary International and the high school boys of today, Rev. Fr. Frank Lefevre, president of the Plymouth, Michigan, Rotary club at the international meeting here today outlined the work done by his club in this matter.

"During the assembly of the 23rd District of Rotary International," said Father Lefevre, "emphasis was laid upon boys' work. The Plymouth club began to work towards this end, and our methods have been successful."

"Every month we take a boy from the high school—not necessarily a senior—and invite him to our meetings for a month. At two months the boy has to speak to the club and outline his impressions of Rotary. This month spent with members enables the boys to get a closer contact with the leaders of the community and gives them the opportunity to settle any problems they may have. We are following these boys up so that when they go to college or university, they can come and discuss their problems with us."

Father Lefevre urged that the Windsor club include this work in its program in addition to its work among crippled children, which he lauded.

"There are 60 clubs in the 23rd district," he said. "That means that 60 boys get attention from Rotary clubs every month. In five months the means that 300 boys have been reached. In five years we will find that we have done something to help 3,000."

Headquarters in Plymouth are located at 75 Pennington avenue. Captain Ivy Waterworth is in charge, assisted by Cadet Eleanor Coleen.

Mayor Henry Honderp has issued the following proclamation on the drive:

"Whereas, a branch of the Salvation Army has been established in our city and has rendered valuable aid to both adults and children of our city during the last year, and according to the present outlook will be compelled to give valuable assistance in this respect during the coming fall and winter.

"Whereas, the said Salvation Army has now instituted a drive to collect funds for the purpose of feeding and clothing the destitute in the city of Plymouth.

I hereby urge upon all the citizens of Plymouth to contribute whatever they feel they can conscientiously give to this drive for the Salvation Army. It is true charity indeed."

Plymouth Honors Heroes of Three Wars on Saturday

Service Clubs Take Charge of Program Here

Several hundred people gathered in Kellogg park on Memorial day to take part in the special services in commemoration of the soldier dead of three wars. The program followed a parade from Central park past the new post-office where the line of march halted while the American flag was raised over the building for the first time.

The ceremonies, under the auspices of the Ex-Servicemen's club and the Myron H. Beals post of the American Legion, were held at 10 o'clock at the park. Participating in the parade were the two service clubs, the high school band, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Superintendent George A. Smith, master of ceremonies, was introduced by Melvin Alquire, who with John Jacobs was grand marshal of the day. The invocation, offered by Father Frank Lefevre, was followed by the hymn "Sleep Soldier Sleep," sung by the girls' octet of the high school. Dawn Jacobs presented Lincoln's Gettysburg Address; the band played a number and the octet sang "Caprice Viennois," then led the audience in "America."

The principal address of the day was delivered by City Manager Clarence H. Elliott, who discussed the meaning and purpose of Memorial day. He opened his talk with a history of the celebration, honoring the dead of the Civil, Spanish-American and World wars, and paid tribute to the various sacrifices presented by the junior presidents at a business session which followed a luncheon meeting at noon.

Delegates and visitors registered during the morning and later were taken on a trip to the historical spots in the city. Fred Dustin conducted the tour, assisting with plans for the entire conference were members of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Saginaw Board of Commerce.

Mr. William F. Cahill of Detroit, director of C.A.R. societies in Michigan, presided at the business meeting.

Mr. Robert L. Kerr received his appointment as incoming state director made by Mrs. C. A. Swam Sinclair of Alexandria, Va., the national president. The badge of office was conferred by Mrs. Cahill.

Other officers who will serve Mrs. Kerr are Mrs. W. Husted Adrian, secretary; Mrs. Edward J. Savage, treasurer; Mrs. Warren R. Carlin, treasurer; Mrs. Elton B. Flue, Royal Oak registrar; Mrs. George Moran, Marshall historian; Mrs. William S. Lintner, Saginaw honorary state director for life. Honorary memberships were conferred upon Mrs. Henry B. Joy, Mrs. Fredrick B. Stevens, and Lloyd DeWitt Smith, a state board member of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Paul Krause, senior president, and Miss Helen Ann Symons, junior-president of the Lewis Cass society, were general chairman.

Special Evangelistic Meetings Are Planned

City Commission Is Considering Zone Ordinance

Three weeks of special evangelistic services will begin Sunday under the auspices of the Nazarene church. Rev. O. D. Faulkner, of Detroit, will be in charge and the meetings will be held in the tent at the corner of Elizabeth street and Ann Arbor trail.

Rev. and Mrs. L. E. Sparks, of Windsor, Ont., will assist in the meetings with special singing and instrumental numbers. Services will be held every evening except Saturday. The public is invited.

Within the next few days letters will be sent to all the civic organizations in Plymouth asking for opinions on a zoning ordinance for the city.

These letters are being mailed at the request of the city commission so that body may ascertain the consensus of opinion before reaching a decision on the matter. A letter from T. Glenn Phillips, of Detroit, landscape architect and city planner pointing out the value of a good zoning ordinance was read at the meeting of the commission Monday night.

"A good zoning ordinance once adopted and followed along is a basic stabilizer of city growth," Mr. Phillips stated. "Its very adoption gives the community a new lease of life. Public utilities can be reached and used to the greatest advantage. It stabilizes property values and allows the city to grow in an orderly manner. It prevents the misuse of land and buildings and is the foundation of good city planning."

It would be necessary to draw up a map of existing land use showing the height, use and location of all land and buildings in Plymouth, according to Mr. Phillips. This map, he said, would be of use to all departments of the city and should be kept up to date from year to year by plotting permits issued for buildings and use of land. It could be made very valuable for assessing purposes, he pointed out.

Along with this map, Mr. Phillips advocated a major thoroughfare plan to show the existing and proposed street systems, and a park and recreation plan. The greater part of the necessary work in drawing these plans could be done by city employees, he said, with only technical advice needed.

The city assessor, William B. Petz, reported that the total assessment this year is $5,056,404, or $173,000 more than last year.

The commission voiced dissatisfaction at the progress being made on the Roe street and Hamilton avenue sewer project, and suggested that the division of workmen be arranged so that all the less efficient men are in one group. This plan is being taken up with the WPA authorities in Detroit.

EDITORIALS BY OTHER EDITORS

So that readers of The Plymouth Mail might have an opportunity of knowing what some of the other editors in other parts of the country are thinking about, the editorial column this week is given over to expressions gleaned from papers published in various parts of America. It will be noted that in Florida they favor the merit system in government the same as we do in Michigan. Over in Wisconsin the depression is not pinching as hard as it did a while back according to the Chippewa Herald-Telegram. Up in Minnesota they also have reckless drivers and down in Missouri the editors do not like tin-horn politicians any better than do the people up in this state. Read them and enjoy what editors in other parts of the country are thinking about.

IT MIGHT WORK—WHO KNOWS? (Kansas City, Mo., Times)

In an era of reforms and panaceas a proposal by T. S. Stribling, the novelist, should be snapped up at once and given a trial. Mr. Stribling says that politicians should be licensed to practice, as are doctors, lawyers and realtors, and that four-year college courses should be established as a means of preliminary training.

The only immediate practical difficulty would be found in taking care of the situation until a sufficient number of politicians had qualified to carry the country along in the future. There would be a gap of at least four years before the proposed scheme could be set in motion, and if all the quacks now occupied politically were allowed to continue for that period it is doubtful whether the nation could then be saved by the licensed practitioners.

But if the matter were submitted at once to the Hopkins and Tugwell organizations, perhaps something could be worked out to tide us over the emergency.

MILITARY COLONISTS (Oneonta, N. Y., Daily Star)

It is clear now what Mussolini is going to do with Ethiopia. He will colonize it with the army that has conquered it. Thus he will solve at once the triple problem of occupying the country, developing it into a colony profitable to the mother country, and disposing of Italy's surplus population.

Nearly half a million young soldiers who have been sent to that savage land will remain there, and others will join them. It would be interesting to know how they like the prospect. Possibly they would have rebelled if their destiny had been made plain to them before they went. Now they will probably acquiesce, despite the terrific heat and disease of those lowlands, and the difficulties and dangers of subduing and civilizing the uplands, with savage and resentful natives always nearby in the jungle.

Ancient Rome colonized distant lands in this way. It is clever statesmanship for Mussolini—as long as it works. Hitler will be studying the experiment. The British government probably looks on with some envy. It has vast areas it wants to develop under the British flag, but the poverty-stricken masses in England do not want to leave their cities, and no British government can colonize them against their will.

THE MERIT SYSTEM TO THE FORE (Fort Pierce, Fla., Tribune)

Interest in governmental affairs, heretofore limited largely to questions of taxation and administrative economy, is more and more being centered on personnel practices in the public service. This enlivened interest is due to the rapid growth in the number, complexity, and cost of governmental activities and to the manner in which those activities impinge upon the lives of all citizens.

National, state and local governments employ lawyers, doctors, educators, engineers, accountants, social workers, nurses, and other professional workers to a greater extent today than they did a decade ago. This is one reason why those engaged in professional work are interested in the quality of the service rendered by government and in the occupational opportunities for those who are trained and experienced in their specialties.

To focus greater attention on the need for following the merit system of public personnel administration, and to get action from policy-forming officials, unity among professional groups in all levels of government and in all geographical areas may be advised. Even greater pressure to eliminate political spoils from governmental operations can be exerted through the association of these professionalized groups with powerful and socially minded civic organizations. Enactment or adoption of laws and ordinances which would establish or extend the merit system in government is not enough; if these laws are to be sympathetically carried out and are not to be sabotaged through poor administration, it is essential that all professional and civic groups in any jurisdiction make their influence felt by demanding that governors, mayors, and other appointing officers name only public-minded citizens of recognized integrity to such posts as civil service commissioners.

It is equally necessary that public personnel agencies be given adequate funds and technically qualified staffs in order to perform properly the many services that are expected of them by the operating departments.

STILL GOING STRONG (Chippewa Falls, Wis., Chippewa Herald-Telegram)

It appears now that the American public has weathered the depression pretty well, after all. At least, says Dr. James S. McLester, president of the American Medical Association, a nation-wide survey shows that no widespread under-nutrition likely to affect the general health has developed from the hard times.

On the contrary, he tells us, the American people seem to have learned a very good lesson from the whole affair. Economic misfortune became the mother of a more enlightened and practical viewpoint on diet and survival.

"Here we have, on one hand," says Dr. McLester, "the fact that we have suffered great material losses during the last five years, while, on the other hand, there is no clear evidence that the nutritive state of any appreciable number of people is inferior to that of pre-depression days. Cumulative enlightenment is responsible for this."

BOUNTY ON RECKLESS DRIVERS (St. James, Minn., Watonwan Co. Plaindealer)

Here is the way they deal with reckless and intoxicated drivers in Portland, Oregon.

There is a $100 bounty on reckless drivers in Portland, where the law considers speeding reckless.

Determined to put a check on city drivers, the city, co-operating with a civic accident prevention organization, enacted the bounty law recently as one phase of a wide spread traffic control program.

The ordinance provides a $100 reward for any citizen who gives information leading to the arrest and conviction of a reckless driver. The reward has been paid twice in the short life of the new regulation, adopted in April of this year.

As another safe guard, the city has obtained an agreement from major gasoline companies not to sell gasoline to intoxicated persons. The city also conducts a school where reckless drivers are taught safe driving methods.

These unique regulations ought to help in the safety first campaign. Cities might well take the idea and try it out in their own ordinances. Reckless and drinking drivers are a menace to life and property and need strict regulations to insure safety on the highway.

TO BE LIKED, YOU MUST LIKE OTHERS (Mason City, Ia., Globe-Gazette)

I am interested in Robert Quillen's view that almost anybody of ordinary intelligence can be popular. All you have to do, he explains, "is to like people."

"Did you ever see a charming person with cold and unfriendly eyes?" he inquires. "I am sure you haven't. Those who seem charming are the ones who seem to like you."

"As a general rule, you will find people willing to meet you half way and treat you as well as you treat them. They are willing to like you if you give no offense, and thus you begin with the seed of popularity already planted. All you need do is encourage it a little bit and let it develop by natural processes."

"Most people spoil things by talking too much. In thoughtless conversation with one friend, they make rather catty remarks about another. And the person talked about eventually hears what was said and feels hurt. It may not make an enemy of him, but he never again will believe that you like him and never again will like you. That ends your popularity so far as he is concerned."

"Everybody wishes to be liked. And most people will repay you generously if you like them and prove it by not making nasty cracks about them."

ONE MINUTE BIOGRAPHIES of MICHIGAN GOVERNORS and their ACCOMPLISHMENTS

By Elton R. Eaton

No. 6 EPAPHRODITUS RANSOM

It was during the administration of Epaphroditus Ransom that Michigan established its first insane asylum and its schools for the deaf, dumb and blind. Ransom, the only Kalamazoo man ever elected governor of Michigan, was born in Massachusetts, where he received a college education and was admitted to the bar.

He came to Michigan about the time this state was admitted to the union and located in Kalamazoo. He was elected soon after to the state legislature where he served with considerable distinction.

In 1837 he was appointed associate justice of the supreme court, and in 1843 was made chief justice, resigning in 1845. He returned to Kalamazoo and began the development of the plank roads in that part of the state. One road was built for many miles north of Kalamazoo. In this venture Governor Ransom lost practically all of his property.

In 1847 he was elected governor of Michigan and served only one term. It was during his administration that the first telegraph line was completed from New York to Detroit, the first message being transmitted on March 1, 1848.

It was in 1847 that an act was passed removing the legislature from Detroit to Lansing. An appropriation of $12,450 was made for temporary buildings. Governor Ransom was the first chief executive ever inaugurated in office at Lansing.

President Buchanan appointed Governor Ransom receiver of a land office in Kansas, where he lived until he died.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

ANOTHER'S VIEW

State Treasurer Theodore I. Fry rates a little lower bracket in public opinion since his action in dismissing the last two republicans—O. F. Beemer and George A. Stone—from his office. The public has a right to presume that these men have been capable and conscientious employees. Now to dismiss them in the face of a campaign gives Mr. Fry a new classification and necessarily beneath that in which he was formerly held by the citizens of the state. Mr. Beemer, a one time Grand Rapids newspaper man, went in with Howard C. Lawrence in 1929. It is just such exhibits of small partisanship that makes one feel shaky about the theoretical claims for civil service. All these statutes are interpreted by human beings subject to all the frailties of political scheming and pressure which makes it difficult for some of us to arouse much enthusiasm. In any event, it is going to take time and superlative patience to devise a civil service law that will work as well in practice as its virtues sound over the microphone.—Muri H. DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

POLITICAL PARASITES

Political parasites who attack the utility industry do so with the avowed purpose of giving the public the manifold benefits of a wider use of electric service. Their real purpose, however, is to achieve personal, private advantage. They build up a "power trust" straw man in order to knock it down, and thereby gain the plaudits, and the ballots, of unthinking, deluded citizens.

The industry is justified in combating these attacks by every ethical means at its command. There is no reason why a business with such a splendid record of social and industrial developments should be replaced by unwieldy, political bureaucracies with proven records of economic waste, inefficiency, political corruption and financial failure. Stable electrical development with fairness alike to consumer, employe and investor will be accomplished through private—not public—ownership. The record shows that politicians to the contrary notwithstanding.—George Neal in The Orion Review.

WHY WE HAVE RED TAPE

Rather strange that some will justify stealing from their government, even when their brand of honesty would not allow stealing from any private source. Much of the federal red tape about which we complain so much has been made necessary by the tendency to cheat the government.

Over at Munising an old case developed where a watchman, paid to guard the city's coal supply, was caught stealing the fuel and selling it. Report has it that others are involved with the watchman. Dishonesty is resorted to by a small minority but there is enough of it to shake the confidence of the rest of the citizens.—Joe Sturgeon in The Delta County Reporter.

CORRECT

There is one American statesman that does not get into any slump, have attacks of charley-horse or jitters and that is Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Michigan. Our Junior Senator has become such an outstanding figure in national affairs that without press-agenting of baloney he is recognized as the foremost progressive in the Republican party today. Regardless of what happens at Cleveland, Senator Vandenberg is going to be an outstanding figure in the 1936 campaign.—Milton Carmichael in The Detroit Courier.

BROTHERLY LOVE

For about 75 years the North and South Methodist churches have been sending feelers out for the possible renewal for a reunion without success, and so far as we can see it is about time both branches should be giving the world an example of what brotherly Christianity consists of as taught by the Nazarene.—J. E. McMullen in The Linden Leader.

How many times a day do you need hot water in your home? How often do you need it for bath and shower, for shaving and washing, for cooking, cleaning, laundering, dishwashing and countless other daily tasks? The chances are you do not use it nearly as often as you would if you had a constant, unlimited supply—available at a turn of the faucet. The liberal use of hot water can make housework easier and pleasanter, and automatic electric hot water assures you plenty of water when you want it. Day and night, summer and winter, year in and year out, this new service brings you the last word in water heating. All the hot water you wish is furnished automatically—without any attention whatever. Once you have installed an electric water heater, you can forget it. Your water heating problems are over.

This carefree service frees you forever from such bothersome details as running up and down stairs to light a manually operated heater, the annoyance of waiting for water to get hot, the inconvenience and delay caused by having only lukewarm water in the pipes. It saves time and labor and adds to the efficiency of home-making. Once you have enjoyed the luxury of this automatic hot water service, you will wonder how you ever did without it. First All-Color Musical Film To Be Here Sunday

New Dance Sensation, Charles Collins Heads Cast

The first dancing musical in technicolor, "Dancing Pirate," heads the bill at the Penniman-Albee theater next week, starting a three-day run on Sunday. It will be followed by "A Message to Garcia," a film story based on the famous Elbert Hubbard essay, on Wednesday and Thursday, with "The House of a Thousand Candles," a tale of international intrigue, scheduled for Friday and Saturday.

The cast of "Dancing Pirate" is headed by Charles Collins, one of the screen's newest dancing sensations fresh from stage triumphs in New York and London. He is supported by the lovely Hungarian actress, Steffi Duna, the inimitable Frank Morgan, Jack LaRue and Victor Varconi. The story deals with a young Boston dancing master who is shanghaied by pirates in the early eighteenth century, and later becomes involved in a series of exciting adventures in California where he falls in love with the daughter of the alcalde mayor.

The historical background of the Spanish-American war is used in "A Message to Garcia," a romantic John Boles plays the role of Lt. Rowan, the young American who carries an important message to the Cuban commander, Garcia, in the center of a jungle. His companions are Wallace Beery, as a loyal seaman, a renegade, and beautiful Barbara Stanwyck, fiery Cuban patriot.

Hardship, peril and adventure draw them together, but when the lovely senorita is wounded Boles carries on with his mission despite the fact he is in love with her. After several narrow escapes, the messages is delivered to Garcia and the lovers reunited.

More thrills and adventures are promised in "The House of a Thousand Candles," which stars Phillips Holmes and Mae Clarke. It is a story of the British intelligence service, which sends Holmes on a hazardous secret errand taking him to "The House of a Thousand Candles," an Alpine pleasure resort for the elite where the host, played by suave Irving Pichel, really heads a European spy ring.

"Victory Day" To Conclude Church Loyalty Crusade

Climaxing the Five Loyalty Weeks which the First Presbyterian church has sponsored as part of its drive to raise funds for a new church building to replace the one destroyed by fire in January, a "Victory Day" service will be held at 10 o'clock Sunday morning at the Masonic temple.

The service will be in charge of Dr. Platte T. Amstutz, of Detroit, who is directing the campaign. He will speak on "The Highway and the Palace of the King." The previous special services were the Mother's Day Roll Call on May 10 when Mrs. Nelle Thompson, of Detroit, was the speaker; Community Day May 17, with Superintendent George A. Smith as speaker, and Mayor Henry Honoring, City Manager Clarence Elliott and Principal Claud J. Dykhouse as guests; Memorial and Patriotic Day, May 24, at which time members of the Ex-Servicemen's club were guests; and "surprise day" on 31.

On Wednesday of this week a Men's Loyalty dinner was held, with Dr. Amstutz as the speaker. The dinner was served by the women of the church, with S. E. Wall as promotion chairman and Mrs. George A. Smith in charge of the menu. A similar dinner for the women will be held at 8:30 o'clock this evening, at which time Dr. Amstutz will give another talk. Mrs. Goodwin Crumble is promotion chairman, and G. A. Smith is chairman of the dinner, which will be served by the church.

The whole campaign is being handled by Dr. Amstutz, with C. H. Bennett as chairman of the building committee. Mrs. R. O. Mimmack is chairman of lists; James J. Gallimore, solicitations; Mrs. Mildred Barnes, estimates; and William Wood, publicity.

Assistance was secured from the village, the machine was righted up and not so badly damaged but it could be run to the barn under its own power. The damage will be about $500.

Spanning the Mississippi Until 1894, the real source of the Mississippi was unknown. In that year, Dr. Elliot Coues returned from Lake Itasca and the baby stream of "Cradled Achilles" and proved the accuracy of the discoveries recorded by Nicollet and Brower. At its source, the Great River is two inches deep and eight inches wide. A full appreciation of our accomplishments can be gained from those who have experienced our faithful service.

alization of aliens is commonly so carried out as to stress the central fact in it, namely the transfer of allegiance from one state to another.

"Obedience is the second great obligation of citizenship. This means obedience to the government, for it is through the government that the state speaks. Obviously there can be no effective government unless the laws are obeyed and the decisions of officers and courts are carried out. All must obey the constituted authorities or if one defies, he must accept the penalties that fall upon him and find such comfort as he can in the approbation of his conscience.

"The third great obligation is service. Legally the state has a right to demand of every citizen any kind and any amount of service of which he or she is capable; and, under varying limitations fixed by the constitution or other fundamental laws, the government has the same right.

In times past, personal service to the state has taken many forms: service in the army or navy, assistance in suppressing riots or rebellions or in arresting disturbers of the peace; office-holding, the payment of taxes, jury service, and by no means least the voting franchise.

"If on this Memorial day we pledge ourselves anew to that unfinished task remaining before us and firmly resolve that as American citizens we shall strictly observe all three obligations, as our forefathers so well observed, then we will need have no fear of the morrow for our democracy. We shall develop as a country to heights unknown; and continue to be a leader among nations."

Following the benediction by the Rev. P. Ray Norton, there was a salute by the firing squad and the silvery notes of "Taps" were sounded by a bugler.

In a short address delivered before the Rotary club Friday noon, Father Frank Lefevre, retiring president, spoke of the significance of Memorial day. He pointed out that while we pay tribute to the heroes who have passed into the Great Beyond, we must not lose sight of the fact that we are living in the best country in the world and that therefore we should act on the inspiration and ideals of the various service clubs, looking with shame on those groups which organize for the purpose of tearing down these ideals.

He went on to say that while we are honoring the memory of the dead we should remember to live so that our lives will serve as inspirations to those who come after us. They in turn, he said, will pay tribute to those of us who have been generous of the fact that we live in a country of freedom of speech, of the press, of conduct, and of education.

Timber Destroyed
Forest destruction has meant much to the state of Michigan. The original stand of lumber in that state was 380,000,000,000 board feet. A little less than ten years ago there was left only 27.5 billion board feet. Consequently, Michigan, once a large lumber exporter, now imports about 60 per cent of its lumber, due to waste of its natural wood resources. What is true of Michigan is true also of other lumber states.

PARALYSIS VICTIMS TREATED IN ANN ARBOR

A new physiotherapy swimming pool for the treatment of infantile paralysis victims—as modern and completely equipped as the one in the Warm Springs, Georgia, infirmary—founded by President Roosevelt—has been installed at the University of Michigan hospital in Ann Arbor through a joint effort of the Horace Rackham foundation and the Works Progress Administration.

Several youngsters, stricken by the dread disease, are shown above exercising their limbs in the treated pool water under the custody of an attendant. Inset shows a child receiving a light therapy treatment prescribed by an orthopedic surgeon.

The new pool, with other therapeutic equipment recently added to the hospital's equipment, has already given many victims hope for restoration of the use of their crippled limbs. Dr. Harley A. Haynes, medical director of the hospital, reports. As many as 100 patients a day—most of them children—are being treated in the warm-water pool. More than 25 per cent of the patients are infantile paralysis sufferers.

"The object of the water treatment is to get the victim's muscles into a condition so good that if the nerves respond to treatment the stricken limbs will have the physical strength to perform their normal functions," Dr. Haynes said.

Part of the pool equipment is an overhead, chain-suspended stretcher large enough to accommodate as many as seven children simultaneously. After the children have been removed from their beds and placed on the stretcher, it is lowered into the invigorating water in the pool. It is this treated water which permits the children to exercise their limbs freely.

Additional equipment installed by the Rackham foundation and the WPA includes a large tub for victims suffering from infectious skin diseases, a special tub for light therapy treatments and other facilities. All treatments and exercises are prescribed by orthopedic surgeons.

Construction of the new pool involved an intricate building problem. Making use of a store room, WPA workmen removed partitions, built concrete foundations and lowered a pool from the floor above to its new base, at a federal cost of $8,079.

The Rackham foundation contributed more than $16,000 towards the purchase of equipment.

Forty-two girls took part in the high school tennis tournament. Betty Housley, a junior, received the championship medal. K. Kaletsky, a sophomore, was runner-up.

Then there were also a series of seventh and eighth grade tournaments. In October they played in an outdoor volleyball tournament with about 60 girls taking part. Three teams from the eighth grade were captained by M. Erdelyi, N. Coffin, and V. Stringer. The three teams from the seventh grade were captained by A. Lawson, B. Scheppelle, and E. Shrader. M. Erdelyi's team took first place; N. Coffin's team took second and V. Stringer's third. All were from the eighth grade.

Eighty girls played in the basketball tournament between these two classes. Each class was represented by four teams. The captains from the eighth grade were N. Coffin, J. Springer, I. Beeman, and P. Braidel. Those from the seventh grade were M. J. Oksaver, M. E. Dahmer, B. Scheppelle, and L. Fisher. The eighth graders captured all of the honors in this tournament with N. Coffin's team first, J. Springer, second and I. Beeman third.

Six teams entered indoor volleyball tournaments, three teams from each class. The eighth grade captains were J. Springer, G. Salow, and L. Fisher, and sev-

Blue Lantern Is Proving Popular

The gala opening of the Goldkette Blue Lantern at Island Lake last week recalled the former popularity of this beautiful dance resort. Crowds thronged to the Blue Lantern regardless of the drop in temperature. Gayness prevailed and the rhythmic tunes of the famous Ray Williams and his orchestra pleased even the most fastidious dance fans.

The introduction of the new song hit, "Lullabye of the Stars," was sung by the composers, Genelle Everett and Lee Mitchell, was received with such favor that they were twice recalled and the dancers grouped about them, insisting on the repetition of chorus after chorus. The bashful and pleasing appearance as well the melodious voice of Lee Mitchell recalls the entree of Pinky Tomlin at the Hollywood Bowl cafe where he introduced his sensational hit "The Object of My Affections." The new tune will be played exclusively at the Goldkette Blue Lantern until publication date, June 26.

and the composers will sing the song nightly.

The management of the Goldkette Blue Lantern extends the courtesy of the use of the resort for teas and bridge parties during the afternoons. Ladies who might be interested in taking advantage of this pleasing suggestion may do so by contacting W. W. Bleakley of the advertising and publicity department.

Dances will be held every evening but Monday with Ray Williams and his popular recording and broadcasting band furnishing the music.

"The Alhambra"
"The Alhambra," by Washington Irving, grew out of the experiences and studies of Irving while an actual resident in the old rural palace of the Moors at Granada. Many of the sketches have their foundation only in the author's fancy, but others are veritable history.

Canada Geese
To the natives, the Canada geese are the only species recognized as "geese"; the lesser snow goose is to them a "wary," and means only a fine meat supply during the month they spend in the marshes of James bay.

THREE TIED FOR FIRST IN T.V.A.A.

The Rocks, after losing to the Rouge Panthers 7-1, Tuesday, May 26, are now sharing first place in T.V.A.A. baseball with Rouge and Dearborn. In their first encounter the Rocks were able to win from Rouge in a nine and tuck game. Schifle was nipped for nine hits which aided by a few errors and a base on balls netted Rouge seven runs. Since Schifle was injured a few weeks ago he has not been able to find his stride. Before the injury he was pitching brilliant ball. Mondon, Montroy, and Frutig were the main clouters for Rouge. They each collected two out of four off the offerings of "Lefty" Schifle.

Neither team was able to score in the first inning. In their half of the second, the Rocks took the lead by getting a man across the plate. Schifle walked, and Trinka and Blessing both walked to fill the bases. When Blessing broke for second, forgetting that there was a man occupying second, Schifle dashed for home and was safe on a low throw.

Mondon started the ball rolling for Rouge when he smashed a triple to deep left field. He scored after Frutig doubled, and Frutig scored after Roberts singled.

Rouge was unable to score again until the sixth when they really went to town to collect five runs and to blacken the Rocks' hope of a second victory. The Panthers only got three hits that inning, but four errors aided them in their scoring.

The batteries for the game was as follows: For Plymouth, Schifle and Blessing; For Rouge, Karmish and Cheetham.

No more scoring was done until the fourth inning, when the Rocks scored six runs. Martin led off by drawing a base on balls and then stole second. Trombley reached first on the fielder's choice, Martin trying to take third was thrown out. After Trombley stole second, Blessing connected for a double, scoring Trombley, Zelasko, Blackmore, Gates, Gordon, and Schifle singled to score five more runs.

Ferndale's lone tally came in the sixth inning. After McRipley doubled, he scored on Gates' error. (The final score was Plymouth 8, Ferndale 1.)

Rotary Club

There are few activities as worthwhile as the plan that Rotary club has adopted during the past school year. Each month Rotary selected some boy from the high school and made that boy a Junior Rotarian. At the end of the month the boy was asked to give a short talk on his impressions of Rotary's work. Since three of the boys selected this year were from the Pilgrim Prints staff, the school paper is in a splendid position to appreciate the value of Rotary's interest in young people.

The distrust and impatience which many young people have exhibited toward their elders is evidence of the fact that they have lacked the advantages which Rotary has given to these Plymouth boys. When young people become embittered and discouraged, the ideal plan for their elders to follow is to take them into their confidence and try to work along together toward an altruistic world. This is just what Rotary club has been doing for the last year.

The Plymouth Rotary club does not deserve thanks for what it has done; it deserves congratulations for the splendid idea which its members have worked out. The Junior Rotarians from Plymouth are glad to learn that the idea is spreading and that a number of clubs are planning to give boys the advantages which the Plymouth club has been giving.

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

On the basis of the series of senior biographies which have been running in Pilgrim Prints for the last few months, one can paint an interesting composite picture of the senior class. The most common name among the boys in the senior class is Jack. There are seven Jacks. Robert runs a close second. The most common girl's name is Ruth. There are five Ruths.

Seniors have come to Plymouth from Ohio, Indiana, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, and two provinces in Canada. The farthest any senior came was from Calgary, Alberta—a town in northwestern Canada.

The senior class has had members who have been active in a variety of fields. Seniors have won championships in ice skating contests, the National Scholastic contest, debate, and various forensic contests. A state track record lies in the senior class. Of the seven boys selected from junior Rotarians during the past year, six have been from the senior class. Seniors have taken active parts in all forms of athletics, drama, student publications, character clubs, and other school activities. Seniors have pioneered in such feats of daring as eating raw oysters out of season and riding rattle-trap motorcycles. Seniors have held all manner of odd jobs ranging from clerking in grocery stores and selling automobiles to taking care of cemeteries.

The most popular college seems to be the University of Michigan with Michigan State college running a close second. Seniors plan to attend a number of other colleges in various parts of the country. Among these are Antioch, Oberlin, and the University of Texas. Seniors are planning to enter into a variety of occupations. There are to be all sorts of business executives among the seniors. Several plan to labor in factories and farms. There are would-be lawyers, teachers, athletic coaches, and journalists. There are chemists, physicists, geologists, pharmacists, and engineers to come from the class. There will be butchers, a plumber, beauticians, and at least one complete orchestra. There is a dentist, but no physician. The most unusual ambition is undoubtedly that of a chap who wants to be a chiropractor. There are the many and varied ambitions expressed by the seniors in their interviews.

SCHOOL FACULTIES COMPETE IN GOLF

Teachers from neighboring high schools met Monday, May 25 to play golf in the Twin Valley association's faculty tournament. Scores won the event. Plymouth's High's players were Mr. Bentley, Mr. Latture, Mr. Stolpe, Mr. Lathson, Mr. Ingram, Mr. Matheson, and Mr. Campbell.

THROUGH THE KEYHOLE

Over their paper the musing Peepers Beginning doubtfully and far away First let their thoughts wander as they list. Picking bits of scandal in their play.

As we were walking through the halls of our institute of learning with our ears spread to capacity the busy hum of voices seemed to blend into a melody and with our ears for music could discern some of the topnotchers of the nation's song hits.

On ascending the stairs to third floor we heard the faint strains of "You Started Me Dreaming" wafting from a remote corner of the hall, and we turned to see Bud Krumm, that ever smiling Romeo, romantically humming it to Ireta McLeod. While we gazed intently at this little scene our attention was suddenly diverted as we heard the well known refrain "I'm Putting All My Eggs in One Basket," issuing from the door of the chemistry room, and when we peered around the corner we found Mushi and Cowbarn Jenny Brown "Alone Together."

On going down to second floor to the library we encountered Dick Gillis studying diligently and at the same time whistling softly to himself. "I've got my Fingers Crossed." When we asked him what was the matter he groaned and muttered something about a lot of make-up work and wondering if he would be able to pass this year. Well, no power to you, Dick.

At this time Peep I suddenly discovered she had forgotten her French book so we went tearing back to the third floor and but Dick Miller hanging over Althea's locker warbling "Yours Truly Is Truly Yours."

Finally having collected all our belongings we at last thought we were going to get out of the school, but on reaching the front door we found our passage blocked by Jack Sessions and Barbara Nutting. When we got within ear's range we heard Jack confidentially whispering to Barbara "I Don't Want to Make History. I just Want to Make Love." While still standing in the front hall we saw Audrey and Her Boy Friends' appear through the music room door, and the boys were lustily piping "She Shall Have Music." At this moment Phyllis Dickerson and Roland Rhoad came drifting by, the latter singing in his nonchalant manner "Let Yourself Go."

ROCKS DEFEATED BY UNIVERSITY HIGH

In a tennis match at University high school of Ann Arbor, Tuesday, May 27, the Rocks netters lost a one-sided match to their opponents, Gordon Moe, playing number one for Plymouth, lost a hard match to Newman 3-6, 6-3, 7-5. The other summaries are as follows: Smith (P) lost to Breagg (U) 6-3, 4-6, 6-4. McMurray (U) defeated Passage (P) 4-6, 7-5, 8-6. Brunner (U) defeated McAllister (P) 4-6, 7-5, 8-6. Lyke (P) defeated Woodruff (U), Swisher and Weller (U) won from Newman and McClain (P) 6-2, 6-4. Bourquin and Hopkins (U) won from Anderson and Hewitt (P) 8-6, 2-6, 6-4.

COOLEY HIGH WINS TENNIS MATCH

Losing to Cooley high school's team, Plymouth's tennis players were defeated in each match on Wednesday, May 27. In the singles Moe and Smith were unsuccessful, while in the doubles Passage and McAllister lost the first. Norman and Anderson the second and McClain and Hewitt the third.

ROCKS WIN UNUSUAL GOLF MATCH

Farmington sent only half their team to Plymouth Wednesday, May 27, to play the champion Rock links team and the home team sent its first two players against the invaders. Lionel Coffin and Melvin Michaels represented Plymouth against Smith and Wendel of Farmington. An interesting bit of side play on the part of the Rock players was the determining of the third place medal winner of the regional tournament. In that tournament Michaels and Coffin tied for the third place medal and the one who had low score against Farmington received the medal. Against Farmington, Michaels compiled 78 and Coffin 80, both winning their matches with their opponents. Thus Farmington was defeated and Coffin tied for the medal to Mel Michaels in this unusual match between Plymouth and Farmington.

HI-Y ELECTS 1937 OFFICERS

In the last regular business meeting of the year the Hi-Y club members elected the club officials for the next year. In close voting Tom Brock was elected president, Francis Trombley vice president and Robert Hudson secretary-treasurer. The newly elected officers are also the representatives who will represent the Plymouth club at Camp Hayo-Went-Ha in August. In the event that any of the officers are unable to attend the camp Clark Felton and Jack Birchall will be the alternates.

Still Live in Caves

Visitors to the Touraine region of France to see the prehistoric chalets which dot the district find people living in caves. At various places along the Loire, notably near the ruins of the Chateau de Langeais, are the homes of these Twentieth century troglodytes, whose chambers are cut out of limestone rock. Many of the caves apparently are occupied by people in comfortable circumstances, for the rooms are ornate and embellished. There are several miles of such homes, where people burrow into hills, like moles and pride themselves on their residence.

Trim Zoo Animals' Toenails

Animals of zoo exhibits have to have their toenails cut, the reason being that they do not get enough exercise to keep the nails sufficiently worn down, and if the nail or claw were allowed to grow it would in time turn inward and lacerate the flesh. This operation is rarely an easy task for the keepers, but it is part of their daily work and has to be done.

Airplanes are used frequently in Switzerland to locate stranded Alpinists and Swiss air lines have a number of planes which can easily be transformed into first-class flying ambulances.

Where Motors Are Barred Bermuda is the only place of any importance in all the world where motors are barred. The longest road is less than a score of miles in length, and all of the roads are narrow and winding, so that motors would be unsafe, to say nothing of marring the peace and quiet.

Spiders Are Beneficial All spiders are directly beneficial to agriculture, by their voracious habits, as they prey upon all insects that do harm to vegetation. Several hundred young spiders may be produced by a single female.

The first boy speaker, Tom Brink, a member of the high school debating team, listed the advantages of the scheme under three heads: contact, which brought the boys closer in touch with the leaders of the community, particularly when the question of employment, school, schooling, arose; information and education, which boys got from speakers at Rotary luncheons; entertainment and a better knowledge of the leaders of the community. He described the scheme as being extremely successful.

The second speaker, Jack Kinsey, boy record holder for the shot-put in Michigan, praised the work of the Plymouth club, and expressed the hope that the Windsor club would take up this work for the benefit of the high school boys in Windsor.

International amity was the theme of a short address by Rev. Walter Nichol, past president of the Plymouth club, who upheld the tenets of Rotary as being one of the contributing factors towards international good will.

"I know of no other influence as strong as friendship extended in Rotary—for overcoming the spirit of intense nationalism which tends toward the division of countries.

"The same forces are working in our two countries," he said, "as are working in Europe, and we as Rotarians must work against this evil influence.

"I have lived under three flags; under one of them when there was war between two of these countries. But my friendships in these countries were not shaken by war. Friendship and Rotary are the main influences which we must use against the over-emphasis of nationalism."

Schraders Break Even In Holiday Week-End Games

Local Boys Defeat Wayne But Lose To Inkster

The Plymouth-Schrader baseball team fought off the persistent attack of the Wayne Merchants last Saturday afternoon at Plymouth-Riverside park to win by the score of 14 to 3.

The Schraders pounced on three pitchers for 15 hits with Ray Trimble, Dutch Atchinson, Jerry Simmons and Roy Simmons leading the attack.

Harry German, Sr., 60-year-old baseball star, started on the mound for Plymouth and pitched some fine baseball. George Bowers went to the box at the beginning of the fifth inning, but lasted only one inning giving way to Harry German, Jr.

Because of poor support and the lack of a couple of timely hits, Harry German, Jr., Plymouth-Schrader pitcher, lost his first game of the season to the Inkster nine last Sunday at Inkster. The final score was 6 to 3.

Eddie Drinkert, formerly a star on the Detroit sandlots, was back at his old position behind the bat for Schraders. His return to the Plymouth lineup will be of big help in the present league race.

Leroy Simmons has announced the signing of Leonard "Seed" Millross, who will take over the short-stop position, moving Orson Atchinson to second base. The addition of Drinkert and Mill-ross will give the local team one of the fastest and hardest hitting infields in the league.

Wyandotte will be the next opposing club for the Plymouth-Schrader team. The local club will journey to that city on Sunday, June 7, and clash with them at West park, 12th and Walnut streets.

Northville News

Announcements and invitations have been sent out by Northville high school seniors for the commencement exercises to be held at 8 p.m. June 18 in the Penniman-Alten theater. Fifty-nine graduates will receive their diplomas.

Prof. John L. Brumm, head of the department of journalism at the University of Michigan, will deliver the commencement address on "Education for Living."

Conditions in Mexico were discussed by Prof. E. L. Austin, head of the education department at Michigan State college, East Lansing, at the meeting last week of the Exchange club.

Prof. Austin, who attended the meeting of International Rotary last summer in Mexico City, told of his experiences there, and described the country as he saw it. He stated that he believed the reason for the differences between conditions in the United States and Mexico was the American system of free education.

Memorial day services were held Saturday under the auspices of the Lloyd H. Green post of the American Legion. With Guy Filkins as organist and Keene Bolton as bugler, the audience opened the program with the "Star Spangled Banner." Rev. Harry J. Lord gave the invocation and Robert Angove delivered Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. Miss Evelyn Ambler sang "Recessional" after which Robert Angove offered "In Flanders Fields" and "Homeing." The principal address was given by H. F. Kelley, and the closing prayer by Rev. H. G. Whitfield.

Representatives of the Wayne county road commission, J. K. Norton, road engineer, M. N. Brown, construction superintendent, and H. J. Keogh, field engineer, conferred last week with Commissioners Elmer Perrin, George Hicks, John Perkins and William T. Gregory, with regard to improving traffic conditions on Main street. The plan finally adopted, subject to approval by the village commission and Main street property owners, was to reduce the width of the sidewalks and lower the level of the walks to the present first step.

A group of Northville women has organized a branch of the National Farm and Garden association. The first meeting was held last week at the home of Mrs. Joseph Hoehl, at which time Mrs. William McCaulan, of Birmingham, state extension chairman of the national organization, spoke on the advantages of a garden club. A second meeting was held Monday at the Hoehl home. Temporary officers, to serve until January, have been elected

Flag Tournament Receives Big Play

That golf is regaining its prestige as America's most popular outdoor sport was evidenced over Memorial day week-end when Plymouth Country Club reported a near-record attendance.

One of the Memorial Day features was the flag tournament which had an entry list of nearly 60 players. Plymouth was again well represented among the winners.

Larry Moe, former caddie at Plymouth Country club, carrying his flag past the eighteenth hole to within three feet of the cup on the second hole. His score for the eighteen holes was 74.

Dutch Jewell, well known Plymouth resident, was another prize winner when he carded a fine 77 for the eighteen holes and had enough handicap strokes to spare to carry his flag just short of the lake on the second hole. Jewell is known as a late starter in local golf circles.

Until last week he has had a hard time getting his score down into the eighties but with the tournament season coming on and the stiff competition he has been getting from his golfing buddies, Herm Dwortman and Bill Choffin, he is back in form and scoring in the seventies again.

As first flight champion in 1935, Jewell will defend his title again this year when the Plymouth Country Club championship is run off during July and August.

Among the ladies, Mrs. Ila Streng of Plymouth was the leader when she scored a 97 for the eighteen holes and had enough strokes to spare to place her flag down the middle of the fairway on the second hole. Other winners among the ladies were Mrs. Doris Roddenberry.

Mrs. Emma Ryder spent Friday afternoon visiting at the home of Mrs. Harmon Smith in Plymouth.

On Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Ryder and Mrs. Beulah Smith called on Mrs. Estie Merillat and young daughter, also Mrs. Edith Ecklund and son, at Plymouth hospital.

THE LITTLE THINGS:

We Like to Be of Service to You.
WALTER A. HARMS

gift one of those singing teakettles, in copper or chromium. Then there are those glass coffee-makers which have become necessary equipment in every kitchen. You can get them with an electric unit, or to set on a stove. The handles may be black or colored, whatever you wish, and there are several sizes available. In addition to being convenient and attractive, they make delicious coffee.

The possibilities of a kitchen shower are endless, and the party can be such fun. The first step is to decide on a color scheme, and then it's every woman for herself in the race to see who can find the most unusual and useful kitchen gadgets. There are long handled forks for fishing olives out of bottles, trick can openers, flour sifters which will sift the flour three times with one operation, colanders like inverted pyramids which fit easily into bowls and pans, measuring cups and spoons, vegetable cutters and other things too numerous to list here.

And one should not forget the commonplace but very necessary articles like saucenaps, skillets, spoons, paring knives, double boilers, eggbeaters, stewing kettles, roasters, cakes and cookie tins and even dish pans and drain racks! They are part of every housewife's equipment, so they might just as well be chosen for their color as well as their utility, and presented with appropriate wrappings and flourishes.

If you are planning a kitchen shower for some bride-elect, it might be well to designate two or three of the invited guests to be responsible for some nicely hemmed dish towels and a few holders to match the general color scheme. The practical young lady will appreciate them.

As for a linen shower, well here the field is so large that it is almost hopeless to try to cover it. You can choose anything from a linen crash breakfast set to the most expensive set of gleaming white damask for the dinner table. In between range luncheon sets, sets for bridge teas, cocktail napkins, and more informal dinner sets. Your luncheon linen may be of gay plaids or blocked prints, it may be embroidered in cross stitch or edged with rickrack, or it may be beautifully done Italian cutwork.

There are also other types of linens which the housewife needs—sheets and pillow cases, sturdy handtowels for everyday use, dainty guest towels and a few of those lovely little finger tip towels which are so pretty to look at, even though they are practically useless.

The common fishing or angle worm often is called a dew worm in some sections of the United States.

Match heads can be made waterproof by being soaked in a solution of celluloid dissolved in acetone.

Occupational Diseases Increase
The tremendous development of American industry has been accompanied by a similar growth in the number of occupational diseases. For example, 30 years ago there were not more than a dozen substances that caused skin diseases. Today there are approximately 700 or more of these skin irritants and sensitizers.—Collier's Weekly.

TO WAIT FOR MY CALL BEFORE YOU BUY FLY SPRAY FOR THE SEASON

Watkins Fly Spray goes further, because you use less. Farmers and dairymen prefer Watkins Fly Spray, because it kills flies outright, keeps flies off the stock, leaves stock clean and comfortable, goes further than other sprays and will not taint milk or reduce the flow. Many dairymen report that they have to buy only half as many gallons of Watkins Fly Spray to get the same results. It's money in your pocket when you buy Watkins Fly Spray.
