

Rotary Gives Party, Program At Haskell Home

Fred Sabom Takes Over Presidency From Fr. Lefevre

About 100 Rotarians, their wives and guests enjoyed the hospitality of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Haskell of the Wayne County Training school, Thursday evening of last week for their Independence Day celebration. An interesting program was arranged, and the Haskell's served a buffet supper for the guests, tables seating about 10 being set on the lawn.

The principal speaker was Prof. Edwin C. Goddard, of Ann Arbor, who gave a splendid address on "Independence Day." He was introduced by Dr. Haskell. Music was furnished by the Ford Dixie Eight and the Ford Mountaineers.

Fred Sabom, the new president, took over the reins for the coming year from Father Frank C. Lefevre, accepting his office with a few well-chosen words. Harry C. Robinson, sergeant-at-arms, gave both Father Lefevre and Mr. Sabom laurels of walnut, made with Rotary wheels of 24 cogs on the ends. These were made at the Detroit House of Correction, and presented to the incoming and retiring presidents by Blake Gillies, assistant superintendent, who was unable to attend the affair last week so delegated the presentation to Mr. Robinson.

"In His Own Words!"

Herman Dworman, owner of the Plymouth Super Service Station, selling Goodyear tires, lubricants, etc., (the products printed at the request of Mr. Dworman) is fast becoming one of Plymouth's toughest golfers.

Twice within the last two weeks the hefty hand ball champion has scored duces on the 6th, 11th and 13th holes at Plymouth Country Club. Both times he was playing in matches that the duces won for himself and partner. Those playing with him and witnessing this sensational achievement, (as he likes to say himself) were Dr. B. E. Champe, William Choffin, Harold Burley and Lee Jewell.

After carding a 71 on a round played last Monday afternoon, Dworman was making noisy assertions around the Country Club locker room and later in Smitty's lunch room that he was seriously considering making a challenge to Cass S. Hough, winner of the State Bankers championship for a match at Plymouth in the near future. Dworman stated that he may as well add the silver service Hough won at Mackinac to his large display of medals and cups won in handball tournaments. The trophy collection of Dworman is well known in Plymouth as he displays it twice a year in some window kindly donated by a friendly merchant who has not time to make a window trim that particular week.

CCC Boys Aid In Fire Prevention

Stationed in towers 100 feet high, constructed by themselves, hundreds of boys enrolled in the Michigan Civilian Conservation Corps today stand guard 24 hours a day over this state's vast forests. Records of the Michigan conservation department reveal that the youths are helping to save the state untold millions of dollars by fire prevention in forest areas. The 1935 forest fire damage was less than nine percent of what was once considered normal. From January 1 to May 30 inclusive there were only 35 forest fires in Michigan—a comparatively normal number for that period of the years prior to 1934.

Last year's total of 2,700 fires which ruined 18,000 acres of forest reserves in the full 12 months was the lowest in the conservation commission's history. Forest fires in 1929 ruined 250,000 acres, and in 1925 the loss was 756,000 acres.

Two CCC boys are usually stationed together in the towers for lookout duty, and take turns watching for smoke to appear above the tops of pines. A cabin is located near the tower for the use of the young conservationists when they are not on active duty. Both the cabin and the tower are connected with ranger stations by telephone.

How Aged Looks Upon Aged

Age looks upon age optimistically if one is to judge the recent expressions of Marvin Bogart, 97 year old pioneer resident of southern Oakland county, when he heard that his old friend Thomas G. Richardson, 87-year-old resident of Northville, was critically ill. Mr. Richardson died a few days ago.

Northville Solves Parking Problem By Providing Big Parking Lots

When the neighboring community of Northville was recently confronted with a parking problem due to the act of the village council in ending double parking along the main thoroughfares of that place, it didn't take its alert, progressive and wide-awake youthful president, Dr. Howard H. Burkhardt, long to decide what to do.

As a result of his action, in which he had the full co-operation of the council, Northville now provides the public two big free parking lots. One is located next to the Penniman-Allen theatre on east Main street in Northville, where nearly fifty cars can be parked without the slightest inconvenience. The other parking lot is on the site of the old Park hotel, that was destroyed by fire some years ago. This is located at the corner of Main and Center streets.

At both Central and Starkweather playgrounds the girls took part in a jackstones tournament. Gladys Sallow won the Starkweather contest, and Anna-belle Lawson that at Central, with the former winning the play-off for the city championship.

The boys held a mumblety peg tournament, with Kenyon Olds winning at Starkweather by edging out Harry Dahmer, and Ellwood Russell winning with ease at Central. Russell defeated Kenyon in a very close match for the championship.

In handicraft work was done in leather basketry and raffia weaving. Many of the children brought kodak pictures from home and made frames for them of raffia while some of the girls began purses of raffia. Other purses were made of leather.

Hydrant showers are held at Central at 2 o'clock and Starkweather at 2:30 on every hot day. The children wear bathing suits and old clothes to get cooled off under the huge spray.

In Case You Don't Know, The Weather Is Extremely Torrid

Remarks about the heat are not only superfluous, they are distinctly aggravating. But weather, especially extremes of hot or cold, is news, as papers all over the United States will testify.

From east to coast, there are headlines to the effect that "Mercury Reaches New High," "Crops Suffer from Drought in Plains States," "City Swelters as Official Reading Reaches 105," and many similar phrases.

We are not attempting to offer any official figures for Plymouth there would probably be too many arguments from other people with other thermometers. But the Plymouth Mail thermometer placed in as shady a spot as could be found, registered 100 degrees at 12:30 Wednesday noon, rose to 101 at 1 o'clock, 103 at 1:30, 104 at 2 p.m., and 105 at 2:30. There it stayed until 4 o'clock when it dropped back to 104 and remained until evening, Thursday morning at 6 o'clock it had already reached 86 degrees and was on its way up.

There are, of course, a few pointers which it is well to remember during extremely hot weather, the two most important being to wear a hat in the sun and refrain from drinking too many iced liquids.

Without a doubt the youngsters have the best of things these days and very probably the most popular places in town in the afternoon are the playgrounds where Recreation Director K. J. Matheson supervises hygienic showers.

Because of the intense heat Wednesday afternoon, the Plymouth Felt Products was forced to shut down at 3 o'clock and remain closed until the night force came on.

FATE

Fate is a strange thing. One never knows today what may happen tomorrow. Chief of Police Vaughn Smith has been one of the most tireless workers in Plymouth in the campaign to make the streets and highways safe for travel—and fate decreed that his highly respected father, a life long prominent citizen of this locality—should be a traffic victim. In the twinkling of an eye, the life of Harmon Smith was crushed out last week when his automobile and another machine collided on a country highway corner. Plymouth lost one of its most able men, the kind that the community cannot well spare. To the family and friends, The Plymouth Mail extends its sincerest sympathy in their loss and sorrow. To others, we cannot help but again stress the importance of constant care and vigilance in the operation of automobiles.

HIDDEN GOLD

One of nature's outstanding beauty spots of the North American continent is located in Michigan, hidden from view and made practically inaccessible by a dense forest and steep hills. To the daring and those willing to endure a long 20-mile trip down a river by boat and then hike nearly two miles over steep, rocky hills and through tangled brush and over fallen trees that fill the forest along the way, there is unfolded to view the largest waterfalls in North America, with the exception, of course, of the giant Niagara. Some have declared these cascades known to Michigan folk as the Tahquamenon falls, even more beautiful than Niagara. Because of inaccessibility, few indeed have witnessed the marvelous beauty of a great upper Peninsula river tumbling over a circled cliff, then rushing down its deep channel two or three miles, further to drop again over rocks that seemingly would stop its dashing hurry to reach the level of Lake Superior.

Great towering pines cover the cliffs along the banks of the river. One can stand high above the falls and gain a beautiful view of the water as it roars on its way downward or one can climb in perfect safety to the foot of the falls and stand within a few feet of where the spray, rising high above the river provides an ever-changing scene.

To Michigan this gold mine of natural beauty has meant nothing. In fact, amazing as it may seem, there are those who would forever keep Michigan's greatest tourist asset hidden from view.

Why public officials who claim to have given thought to the development of the tourist business of the state have not constructed a scenic highway to this amazing beauty spot, is beyond answer. True, in the last year or so, the conservation department has taken some steps to purchase the land along the river and falls for a state park, but if one is to base future action upon past performances of the department, it will be years before one can travel in ease to these beautiful falls, and maybe never.

Public officials do a lot of talking about "helping the Upper Peninsula." Why, under the sun, haven't they turned the vast tide of sight-seeing tourists into the Upper Peninsula, where every passenger in every automobile would leave good American dollars along the thoroughfares from one end of the peninsula to the other on the way to and from the falls? This palvering about helping the Upper Peninsula means nothing when we know that through long years of neglect the Upper Peninsula has been deprived of millions in revenue because Michigan has kept hidden "in the cellar" its most priceless natural asset.

If the conservation department and the state highway department would act in unison on this project and do the RIGHT KIND of a job in making available to the public by motor travel, the Tahquamenon falls, millions of dollars would be added each year to the revenues of the state from tourist travel.

The state, by controlling all of the land around the falls and river, could keep out unsightly shacks, gas stations and lunch counters.

A park about the falls more beautiful than the one at Niagara, could be easily made. There could be erected a comfort station near the falls like those that Wayne county provides the public in its parkway system.

We have dilly-dallied long enough with this proposed development. Why not make the construction of a hard surfaced road and the construction of a park with suitable public rest rooms at or near the falls, a 1937 project to be completed in 1937?

Upper Peninsula residents with an eye for business can profit mightily well by this improvement. At the edge of the state park, ten, fifteen or twenty miles away, whatever it might be, there can be erected suitable tourists quarters, summer cabins that LOOK respectable and provide COMFORTABLE and CLEAN accommodations for all visitors.

With the proper kind of advertising, in Michigan and outside of Michigan, informing the public that at last a highway makes accessible some of the most beautiful falls in all the world, it is safe to say that millions of dollars would be almost immediately added to the tourist business of Michigan. And it would be well to advertise the fact in Michigan, too, because only a few indeed of Michigan folks have even seen the falls within their own state.

Get BUSY, state officials, and do something of an outstanding nature for good old Michigan in 1937! There is a pot of real gold, worth millions and millions, now hidden at the foot of the falls. Let's dig for it and GET IT.

PAVILIONS NEEDED

We know that the Wayne county road commission gives careful and constant attention to the problems that its rapidly growing park system creates. The heavy downpour on the Fourth drenched thousands who had come to enjoy a day in the parks. They had no place to go to seek shelter. A few pavilions scattered along the thoroughfare would eliminate without great cost to the county a condition such as prevailed Saturday.

ONE MINUTE BIOGRAPHIES of MICHIGAN GOVERNORS and their ACCOMPLISHMENTS

By Elton R. Eaton

AUSTIN BLAIR NO. 11

Michigan has never been a liberal state in the payments of salaries to its public officials. Austin Blair, the only chief executive ever honored by the erection of a monument in the capitol city, drew but $1,000 per year for his services as governor. He retired to his home in Jackson at the close of the Civil war with practically no funds and until he was elected to congress his financial condition was the cause of considerable worry to him.

His boyhood in New York state, where he was born, was spent in almost dire poverty. The lad was determined to secure an education and at seventeen he entered Casnovia Seminary. Completing his school work, he passed the New York law examination and was admitted to practice in that state.

It was in 1841 when he came to Michigan, living for a time at Eaton Rapids. He served as county clerk of Eaton county for one term and in 1846 was elected to the state legislature from Jackson. He joined the Republican party at the time of its birth and was always one of its loyal workers. In 1852 he became prosecuting attorney of Jackson county and was elected a state senator two years later. He was a delegate to the Republican national convention which nominated Lincoln for the presidency.

In 1860 he was elected governor and served two terms. During his administration practically all of his attention was given to war problems and because of his activity in behalf of the Union cause he has always been called Michigan's "war governor." He served two terms in congress after his retirement from the governor's office.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

THE AMERICAN SYSTEM

The American system, some say, is out of date. Well, let's see. It seems to us that the success of any form of government should be determined upon the basis of whether it supplies its citizens with luxuries as well as necessities of life.

Applying that yardstick here is what we find: In the United States, there is 1 radio to every 6 persons; in Europe, including much-talked-of Russia, there is 1 radio to every 17. In the United States there is 1 mile of railroad to each 500 citizens; in Europe, there is 1 mile to each 2,000. The United States has 1 telephone for every 7 persons; Europe has 1 for every 35. The United States has 1 automobile for every 5 persons; Europe has 1 for every 59. Ten out of each 50 Americans use electric lights; 10 out of every 75 Europeans are electric light customers. In the United States, life insurance averages $864 a person; in Europe it averages $69 a person.

Should we Europeanize?—William St. Charles in The Dearborn Independent.

GOOD SENSE

Ernest T. Conlon, a former state senator, has been thinking about running for the job of lieutenant governor. He now holds a job as district sales-tax manager, and as such has his traveling expenses paid, as well as getting a salary.

Governor Fitzgerald served notice this week that if Conlon runs for lieutenant-governor, it will be all right with him, but that Conlon will lose his state job.

"It isn't fair for persons receiving state salaries to compete for office with persons who must finance their own campaigns," explains the Governor.

This is good sense.—James Gallery in The Tuscola County Advertiser.

WHY?

A great deal of advice has been and is being passed out by Herbert Hoover and others of his party faith as to how unemployment can be ended and better times restored. What we wonder at is: Why, if they now know exactly what should be done, did they ever allow us to get into the mess we did? Why the depression was ever permitted to come, and why unemployment was not headed off before it reached the demoralizing stage that it did. If they could not prevent its coming, how are they going to radiate its existence of seven years so quickly when and if again given the opportunity?—Charles Seed in The Rochester Clarion.

POLITICS

Vern Brown, Mason publisher, will run for another term in the House from his home county of Ingham, he has become the valued tax expert of the House; Ernie Conlon of Grand Rapids who has been sales taxing about the state defending that measure and getting his picture in a lot of papers, wants to run for lieutenant governor but Gov. Fitz says Mr. Conlon will have to resign to run.—Mrs. Alger of Detroit who was refused the post of national committeewoman from Michigan, has been drafted by the national G. O. P. to lead the woman's committee—a friend comes in to say that the Lemke ticket will get a lot of votes among the farmers in this section of Michigan.—Senator Chester Howell in the Chesaning Argus.

MAN SUPPOSED TO WORK

The real trouble with the Townsend Plan is that it would add an unbearable burden to the backs of millions who are now banded too low in an effort to get a living for themselves and their families. In absolute comparison, though, the Plan is only a larger evil than that imposed upon human beings who are made to support classes that do little other than live by their wits. You can't be a true worker in the vineyard of life unless you perform a useful service to society. That is LAW—and the multitude of variances from it bring chaos to the economic stability of the whole human family.—George Averill in the Birmingham Eclectic.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Loyd Sutherland, minister
We believe great blessing and inspiration is to come out of the union services which are to continue throughout the summer. Be at the Masonic temple next Sunday at 10 o'clock and hear the message given by our brother minister, Rev. Ray Norton.

It was the desire of our congregation that we maintain our individual Sunday-school, therefore it is expected that we shall be loyal and find our places in the several classes at 11:15.
At 7:30 the pastor will speak on the subject, "That Lamp of Heaven So Glorious." Why did the Psalmist so long ago cry out, "The Lord is a Sun?"
You cannot find a cooler place in Plymouth than the lecture room of our church. Better rest your body and feed your soul for an hour this Sunday evening. Do not disappoint yourself, your pastor and more God Himself, by not spending one hour with Jesus. We meet for prayer on Wednesday evening at 7:30.

On Thursday of this week, our girls' choir will have a boat trip to Put-In-Bay. This trip is given to the girls by the church in place of the camp which has been held the last two seasons. We cannot commend too highly the singing of this group of girls. They have been exceedingly loyal and their contribution to our services is beyond telling.

Plunging Auto Levels Big Tree

When an automobile driven by George Hurrebrink of 109 South Wing street, Northville, plunged straight ahead at the end of the Seven-Mile road just this side of Northville, shortly after 11 o'clock Saturday night, the machine leveled a big tree, an electric light pole, partly demolished a popcorn stand owned by Lee Palmer, and when it finally ended its plunge, it was tightly wedged between the stump of the tree it had broken off and the popcorn stand. Heavy guy wires that braced the stop light pole were entangled about the machine.

The driver, who was jammed between the hood of the car and the front seat, was removed with the greatest difficulty through the front window of the machine by James Latture of Plymouth, and A. G. Manke of Jackson, who happened to be near the scene of the accident.

Hurrebrink was rushed to Sessions hospital in Northville where it was discovered that his injuries were not of a critical nature. Many of his teeth were knocked out, he was cut about the head, and he suffered painful body bruises. He was conscious when taken from the machine, and urged those trying to help him to be careful. How he escaped death in the crash, say those who saw it, is a mystery.

Lee Palmer and his mother were in the refreshment stand that is located directly west of the end of the Seven-Mile road. They saw the automobile come over the Pere Marquette tracks, no effort being made by the driver to turn it onto the Plymouth-Northville road.

"I called to mother to jump to the north end of the stand, and I leaped from the seat on the south end where I had been sitting when I saw the car coming straight at us," said Mr. Palmer. "We had just got out of it when the crash came. It seemed as though the car never touched the paving after it left the railroad track. All you have got to do to estimate its speed is to look at the wreckage about here," added Palmer.

Because of dangling wires, it was necessary for officers to direct traffic around the corner until Edison employes could remove the wreckage.

"I Wouldn't Risk My Life on Any Other Tire"
SAYS LOUIS MEYER—
Only three time winner Indianapolis Race '28 '33 '36

EQUIP YOUR CAR WITH Firestone GUM-DIPPED TIRES for Greater Safety!

THERE IS A REASON why Louis Meyer won the 500-mile Indianapolis race this year—and why he is the only man ever to win this gruelling race three times. He always used Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, and never experienced tire trouble of any kind.

Louis Meyer knows tire construction. He also knows that to drive for 500 consecutive miles over this hot brick track, negotiating the dangerous curves 800 times at the record-breaking average speed of 109 miles an hour, requires tires of super strength and greatest blowout protection, as a blowout on any one of the dangerous curves would likely mean instant death. By the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process every cord in the tires on Louis Meyer's car was soaked and coated with liquid rubber, thereby preventing internal friction and heat. This is the secret of the extra strength and reserve safety built into Firestone Tires.

When you take your vacation trip this summer, you of course will not drive 109 miles per hour, but at today's higher speeds you do need tires that will give you greatest blowout protection and will stop your car up to 25' quicker. Take no chances! Let us equip your car today with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, the safest tires built. It costs so little to protect lives worth so much!

Auto Driver's Side Glance at New Barn Leads To Death In Collision

John W. Cleaver, Well Known Northville Farmer, Dies From Injuries—Pontiac Man Slightly Hurt As Cars Crash On Hilltop

Because he turned his gaze toward the road ahead of him to look at a new barn being constructed on the Russell Walker farm west of Northville, John W. Cleaver, aged 65 years and well known farmer of this locality, suffered such serious injuries last Friday afternoon in an automobile collision that he died Friday night in the University of Michigan hospital.

As he drove his car on the eight mile road toward Northville, he collided head-on with another machine driven by John Tyeck of Pontiac. Workmen are constructing a new barn on the Walker farm to take the place of one that was destroyed a year ago by fire.

The Pontiac man was painfully but not seriously injured. He was treated at Sessions hospital in Northville.

Schrader Bros. ambulance from Plymouth was called, and rushed Cleaver to Ann Arbor, but he never regained consciousness. His machine was completely demolished. A widow survives.

Mr. Cleaver who had resided west of Northville during most of his lifetime, a number of years ago gained considerable attention because of his opposition to the construction of highways under the Covert road act. He declared it an unjust form of taxation, and stopped the construction of numerous proposed Covert roads in Oakland county.

The actors in one Russian film consisted of puppets fashioned of wood, metal, clay, cloth and rubber. All their movements were made by hand, and 25 exposures were required to show one puppet raising its arm. The cast consisted of 3,000 puppets.

A new British fighting plane is said to have a top speed of close to 400 miles an hour. It is also equipped with a long-range "cannon."

Brown Comedy Next Headliner At Theater Here

Air Drama, "Sutter's Gold" Are Also On Program

Latest hit by that wide-mouthed comedian, Joe E. Brown, "Sons o' Guns" opens Sunday at the Penniman-Alien theater for a three-day run. It is a rollicking comedy romance dealing with the humorous side of doughboy life in France during the World War, based on the Broadway musical hit by Fred Thompson and Jack Donohue.

Between his distaste for army discipline and enemy shells on the one hand, and his "Honor by Adventure" with three jealous and aggressive sweethearts on the other, Joe finds life just one horrible nightmare after another. As the much heckled buck private, he is finally arrested as a spy and is about to be placed before a firing squad when a surprising turn of events makes him the hero of the hour with all his love troubles untangled.

John Blondell Beverly Roberts and Wini Shaw are cast as the three women in Joe's rather hazy existence. Others in the picture are Eric Blore, Crale Reynolds, Joseph King, Robert Barst, G. P. Huntley Jr. and Frank Mitchell.

Romance in the skies comes to the local screen Wednesday and Thursday, with "13 Hours by Air" featuring Joan Bennett, Fred MacMurray and John Howard. It is a thrill-a-minute drama—the passengers on the crack coast-to-coast airliner include a runaway heiress, a fortune hunter, a mysterious doctor, a spoiled little rich boy and his nervous governess.

Joan Bennett appears as Felice Rollins, with MacMurray as the pilot. As the plane roars toward its destination, MacMurray conceals a mysterious attraction for Miss Bennett, whom he at first believes to be a jewel thief, only to find out that she is one of the most important and well-known heiresses in the country. And danger comes—danger for everyone. There is an attempted kidnapping, fast gunplay, and a forced landing, not to mention many other exciting developments.

The discovery of gold in California is history now—history which offers unending plots for historical romances. That of Capt. John Sutter, based on the actual facts concerned with the discovery of the precious metal on his land, is told in "Sutter's Gold" scheduled to show here on Friday and Saturday.

Edward Arnold, who won great fame as "Diamond Jim" Brady, is cast as John Sutter, with Bunnie Barnes as a Russian countess, and Lee Tracy as Sutter's irreplaceable American friend, Katharine Alexander has the role of Mrs. Anna Sutter, the wife who was left behind in Switzerland.

Sutter runs the gamut of poverty, riches, power, and back again to poverty. It is a heroic drama of love and conquest, of the struggle for glittering gold, of the last great pioneers.

"M" Enrollment Catches Record Size Blue Gill

Alumni of the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor for reunions and commencement heard President Alexander G. Ruthven report that gifts to the institution totaled $8,320,994 for the year, that $1,000,000 just received was to endow research "in the field of human adjustment," and that in registration the university touched an all-time peak of 15,689.

The latest gift of $1,000,000 came from Mrs. Mary A. Rackham of Detroit. From the income, research will be financed in many phases of human physical and psychological maladjustment to reclaim insofar as possible persons whose handicaps make them a burden to themselves and to society. Studies will be made with the main objective of finding methods of treatment which may be used by social agencies generally.

The unusual enrollment came from a regular session attendance of 10,405; summer session, 4,066; and credit extension courses, 2,880. Deductions for duplicate enrollment gave a total of 15,689. Including those who attended the university's non-credit, short-time institutes and similar courses, the enrollment for the year was 18,052.

This enrollment has brought up certain problems, since it is outstripping the University's income available for teaching and general expenses. President Ruthven said, "A survey will be made during the summer to attempt to discover how many students can be properly taught on a given income," he stated.

The purposes for which the gifts received were specified by the various donors were as follows: scholarships, fellowships, student aid, $75,431; expense of research, $139,931; equipment, including books, pictures, the carillon bells, $38,735; miscellaneous special purposes, $195,576; buildings, Graduate school, Burton Tower, Lake Angelus Tower, $2,560,268; Graduate school endowment, $5,320,052. The greatest single donors were the Rackham fund, of Detroit, whose gifts for the Graduate school now total $6,800,000, and Mrs. Mary A. Rackham also of Detroit, independently of the fund.

Old wives' tales and other fallacies have no place in the problem of feeding the family today, says Miss Roberta Hershey, extension specialist in nutrition at Michigan State college. She has compiled a list of 20 queer superstitions about foods and the answer to all of them is a definite "no."

The suppositions include those about the wisdom of not combining fruits in a meal with milk, or the idea that tomatoes thin the blood, or that one sugar is superior to beet sugar, that fish is a brain food or that onions will cure a cold.

In answering the "old wives' tales," Miss Hershey has no argument against onions, but with authority she says that a cold is cured when the body overcomes the infection, a process in which onions could have no connection. That fish is a brain food brings out another debater through nutrition facts. One particular food does not build particular tissues, for the various tissues, says Miss Hershey, take the material they require from the blood stream. Fish happens to contain phosphorus which all body cells require, but many other foods also contain this element.

And so the process continues, says Miss Hershey. For laboratory tests and common sense prove that lemons, tomatoes and grapefruit are not acid-forming foods, as popularly supposed. Cucumbers need not be soaked in salt water to remove poison, for cucumbers do not contain poison and salt would not take it out.

"Behind the hot water faucets in your home, I stand with my magic wand... making sure that the word 'hot' on the faucet means exactly what it says at all times. You never see me... you need never think of me or lift a finger to help me. Like Aladdin's faithful genie, I stand serving you unobtrusively, hovering to obey your wishes: Day and night, summer and winter, year in and year out, whenever you wish hot water you need only turn the faucet: There is your hot water on tap.

"Once you enlist my services, your hot water problems are over. No more need you run up and down stairs to light a manually operated heater. No more need you wait for water to get hot, or put up with the inconvenience and delay caused by finding only lukewarm water in the pipes. The service I bring you is complete: It frees you from all worry and responsibility. From the day I start working for you, you need give me no attention whatever.

"And the cost? My wages are measured in pennies a day... and I will serve you faithfully and well for years to come. Ask about me at any Detroit Edison office."

On and Off the Record

Boxing in Michigan is gaining the reputation of being the cleanest in the states. Which brief statement allows us to introduce Terry C. Riley, secretary to the boxing commission and friend of things clean in sports and business.

He started his career, selling newspapers, he later printed them, then wrote for them and now is good copy for them. He prizes friendship and honesty above all else and protects these two things with all he has. He likes life, remembering when he almost lost it in the St. Clair river only to be saved by Charlie Crellin, boyhood pal.

He refuses to recognize pull, and has started political-minded fight promoters by collecting back taxes before he allows them an interview. His hit has been a big one in balancing the budget.

An orphan he worked his way through high school and college and still found time to play football and act as administrator in other sports. He was a soldier and a good one. He spurned a commission to stay with his friends. He thought they might die without him.

According to Pitkin, Terry's life has just started. According to the records he has lapped the field and hasn't used his second wind yet.

One of the Acadians wrote Harold E. Stoll a letter. "My people says this son of bygone centuries, were a very wise people. While touring the world leaving wisdom and philosophy in their wake, and bringing teachings of British gospel to American shores, they balanced idealism with practical thoughts of the future. I am told authentically that they purchased property in and around what is now downtown Detroit property. Many of my ancestors settled in this embryonic metropolis and started the old fort on the way to the grandeur that is now radiated by the Detroit Tigers. I, too, am an idealist and basque in the glory that was theirs and dream of the heroism I might have displayed. Proving

One of the most delightful affairs of the week in Plymouth, was the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Edson O. Huston, Monday evening, at the Hotel Mayflower, honoring her nephew, Carlisle O. Rogers, and his fiancée, Virginia Forsythe of Ann Arbor, whose marriage will take place today. Sixteen guests were seated at the table, with beautiful appointments, the centerpiece being a silver bowl filled with lilies of the valley and white rosebuds which was flanked by small tapers in colors, while at either end were tall tapers in white trimmed with rosebuds in silver. Austin Whipple, accompanied by Mrs. Eimer Reichnecker, of Ann Arbor, a sister of Mrs. Huston, sang two beautiful solos, before and during the dinner. Later they went to the Huston home on Main street, which was decorated throughout with flowers, for music and dancing. During the evening, two lovely gifts were presented to the guests of honor by Mrs. Austin Whipple, her remarks being well chosen and ably given. The guests other than Miss Forsythe and Mr. Rogers, were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Forsythe, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rogers, Edith and Wendell Forsythe, Claus Rogers and family, Mrs. Reichnecker of Ann Arbor, and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Whipple. Mr. and Mrs. Huston feel the success of the dinner was greatly due to the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Maben.

The Hilmer-Wittiz reunion was held July 4, at the Hillmer-Starkweather home on Starkweather avenue, with 32 present. A cooperative dinner was followed by a short business meeting with the president, Jack Sessions in charge. A Major Bowes amateur hour, with all participating made a very exciting and happy afternoon. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Karl W. WPA Theater Will Give Sherwood Comedy

Why Hannibal of Carthage turned away from Rome after cutting his way to its gates through countless legions of its soldiers has always puzzled military historians.

In "The Road to Rome" Robert E. Sherwood's sparkling comedy shortly to open at the Lafayette as the third production of the WPA Detroit Federal theater. Sherwood presents his answer to the enigma. "It seemed possible to me," he wrote, "that Hannibal was suddenly afflicted with an attack of acute introspection—that he paused to ask of himself the devastating question, 'What of it?' and couldn't find an answer."

And so, developing the theme of his play, Sherwood turned his back on history and created a foil for Hannibal in the person of Amytis, the beautiful young wife of the Roman dictator who, with a naive disregard for the "importance" of war, persuaded him to abandon his conquest for the finding of his soul.

New York saw the play for two years and found it gay and good. When it opens here at the Federal theater it will have Jay Michaels as Hannibal; Peggy Penn as Amytis and Herschel Mayall as Fabius Maximus, the pompous, standpat Roman dictator. William Beyer is directing. Stephen Nastfogel will design the sets.

Daisy Next With Only One Game Lost So Far This Year

With eight games won and none lost, the Red and White team continues to hold first place in the Recreation Softball League. The leaders were held to a 6 to 5 score by the Plymouth Mail last week. Estoff of the Mail getting three out of four hits, including a home run.

Daisy swamped Varsity club 22 to 6, running up the biggest score of the season. A nine-hit barrage, including two home runs in the second inning, plus the six runs they scored in the first, gave Daisy a 13-run lead to coast on, though the remainder of the game, Sinta connected for two home runs to take the lead in that department. H. Stevens and J. Rowland also hit home runs.

K. of P. kept pace with Frideaire up to the fourth inning when the refrigerator boys scored four runs to go ahead. Blake and Fisher's home runs with two mates on base put K. of P. back in the running, but an outfielder dropped a fly after two were out to let two come in, and give Frideaire the game 9 to 6.

It is estimated that if the pennies collected in gasoline taxes between Feb. 25, 1919, when the first levy was imposed, and Jan. 1, 1935, were used to pave a highway, they would provide a copper surface 20 feet wide nearly four-fifths of the distance around the earth.

IN THE KITCHEN

There is a big difference between cooking and being a good cook. One can put three meals a day on the table, and each one of those meals can have the requisite number of proteins, carbohydrates, fats and vitamins, but still be very commonplace.

It is the little extra thought which counts. One can buy nearly all kinds of baked goods in a store, but somehow they don't taste like those which are prepared at home. Homemade soups are much more tasty than those which come out of cans, and as for jams, jellies and relishes, well, there simply isn't any comparison between the homemade and commercial articles.

Take this matter of baked things, for example. Of course, there are innumerable varieties of sweet rolls and cakes for your breakfast table, but have you ever tried serving an old-fashioned coffee cake you had made yourself, and watched your family enjoy it in a big way? Just do that some day, and see the response. This recipe is simple—the result is delicious.

Coffee Cake

1 cup milk
1/2 cup butter (or butter and lard)
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 t. salt
1 egg
1 yeast cake dissolved in 1/2 cup lukewarm milk
2 cup raisins, stoned and cut in halves
2/3 cups flour

Add butter, sugar and salt to the milk when lukewarm, add dissolved yeast, egg well beaten and flour to make a stiff batter; then add raisins. Cover and let rise. Spread in a buttered dripping pan, 1/2 inch thick, cover and let rise again. Before baking, melt 2 tablespoons of butter, spread over cake and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Bake half an hour in a hot oven.

Then, to fill your cookie jar until the children discover where you are keeping them, there are spice cookies.

Spice Cookies

2-3 cup butter
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 whole eggs
1 cup seeded raisins
2 1/2 cups flour
1 t. cinnamon
1 t. cloves
1 t. nutmeg
4 t. salt
3 tablespoons sour milk

Cream the butter and sugar, add eggs, chopped raisins, spices and then alternately flour and sour milk, in which soda has been dissolved. Drop by teaspoonsful on buttered tin, and bake in a hot oven.

If you like apples, here is something you will enjoy:

Apple Cobbler

Slice about three cups of tart apples. Put about half of them in a greased baking dish, sprinkle with sugar and nutmeg, add remaining fruit and sprinkle with sugar, nutmeg and about 2 tablespoons of water. Cover with a rich baking powder biscuit crust and make several slits in the top so the steam can escape. Bake in a hot oven, about 400 degrees, and serve hot with cream or hard sauce.

It is said that, of all the special room service obtainable in hotels, breakfast in bed is that most appreciated by guests, with free delivery of a morning newspaper running a close second.

Northville News

Approval of the county's plan for widening Main street was given recently by the village council. The county road commission will take charge of raising and repaving the street, eliminating the old trolley tracks, reconstructing the curbs and adjusting the grade at the Center street intersection. This will result in a 50-foot, four-lane street. The estimated cost of the improvement is $8,500, of which the village will pay 50 per cent. Work will be started immediately, and is expected to be completed sometime before fair week, August 26 to 29.

Elaine Winter, a member of this year's graduating class, was awarded first prize by the Woman's club for the best entry in the dress contest sponsored by the club for senior girls. Second place went to Gladys Myers, third to Kathleen Rinck, and honorable mention to Verna Little, Edith Barley and Doris Beasley. The judges were Mrs. Leroy Stewar, Mrs. Charles Bloom and Mrs. T. G. Hege.

Miss Evelyn Ambler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill W. Ambler, was awarded the Thad Johnson Knapp scholarship which entitles her to a year's tuition at Michigan from Northville, Plymouth, Ypsilanti. The scholarship is given each year by Mrs. Thad J. Knapp, Miss Ambler, who is the youngest member of the class of 1936, only 16 years old, plans to study music.

Dr. Russell M. Atchison has joined his father, Dr. R. E. Atchison, in medical practice in a newly equipped office on West Dunlap street. The younger Dr. Atchison is a graduate of the University of Michigan medical school, and has just completed a year of internship at the University hospital in Ann Arbor. He was graduated from Northville high school in 1928 as the salutatorian of his class, received his university A. B. in 1931, and his M. D. in 1935.

An old-fashioned "bee" was held last week on the farm of Russell Walker, Eight mile road, when friends and neighbors gathered to help raise a new barn, 30 feet wide and 70 feet long. The new barn replaces that destroyed by fire January 10, 1933; its frame is that of the old Exchange hotel, which stood at the corner of Main street and Hutton avenue.

The Rev. Harry J. Lord has been re-named pastor of the Northville Methodist church for another year, by the Detroit Conference which met recently at the Methodist Episcopal church in Detroit. Mr. Lord came to Northville from Pontiac, a year ago.

Carl R. Ely was installed as the new president of the Northville Exchange club last week, succeeding Daniel A. Brief. E. E. Brown, past president, was the installing officer.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Yerkes returned to their home on Eight mile road last week, after spending the winter at Bridgewater, Barbados, in the British West Indies.

At installation services held last week, the Northville Rotary club inducted William E. Porney into office as president. The installing officer was E. H. Lapham, who has served as president since the death last August of Charles T. Thornton. Reports were given by the retiring officers at this time.

Women of the Novi Methodist church were guests of the Ladies' Aid society of the Northville church at a picnic Tuesday of last week. A program of music and short talks was given with Mrs. R. E. Atchison, president of the hostess group, presiding. Mrs. Charles Perry spoke for the visitors.

Ringling Circus Coming July 19-21

With the most impressive and brilliant seven-ring-and-stage program in its history the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus, which will exhibit in Detroit three days, July 19, 20 and 21, offers this season, as a sensational super-feature, a herd of African pigmy elephants, the first ever to set foot on this continent. These tiny tuskers are not babies, but full-grown, middle-aged, midget elephants, the rarest animals on the face of the earth. Accompanying them is a herd of miniature African ponies, the world's smallest beasts of burden. The pigmy elephants have proven the greatest attraction of the Big Show has ever placed before the public, not even excepting its presentations in the past of the disc-lipped U-bangs, the giraffe-necked women from Burma, the sacred white elephant of Siam, Jumbo, Tom Thumb and Goliath, the sea elephant.

Among the scores of new features to say nothing of the new importations from Europe and Asia, including the incredible Naitto troupe, the Royal Bokara troupe, the Imperial Viennese equestrian troupe, the great Frederico and a free running horse, pony and elephant liberty artists, members, is Col. Tim McCoy, the screen's most outstanding western star, at the head of his congress of rough riders of the world—Cossacks, cowboys, cowgirls, vaqueros, Sioux and Blackfoot warriors and Australian bushrangers. Col. McCoy, plainsman, cavalry officer in the U. S. Army Reserve and friend of the Indian, is the idol of American boys and girls, and he will be seen in both the main performances and the wild west.

The Greatest Show on Earth heads into this territory on four long railroad trains of 100 cars, with 1600 people, 7 herds of full-sized elephant actors, 1009 menagerie animals and 700 horses. Its tented city covers 14 acres of ground. There are 31 large tents including the world's largest big top, seating 16,000 persons.

This is the peak season for youth and beauty among the 800 world famous arena artists who show in the air, in the three rings, on the four stages and in the quarter-mile hippodrome track will be seen hundreds of pretty girls. In the 60-girl aerial ballet, the most beautiful mid-air display ever produced, there are beautiful girls who evoke columns of newspaper comment wherever the Ringling Bros and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus exhibits.

Fred Rotz Writes Of Building Home In Palmer, Alaska

Plymouth residents will be interested to hear of the successful efforts of Fred Rotz, former resident of this city, to establish his home in Palmer, Alaska, one of the settlements of the Matanuska valley fostered by the government.

In a letter to The Plymouth Mail, Mr. Rotz writes as follows: "Just a line as I thought you might be interested to know just how we are liking Alaska by now. It is just a few days over one year since we landed here and a vast change has taken place. When the government engineer came to stake out the house site, the brush and undergrowth, as well as large trees, were so thick we had to crawl through and were compelled to leave transient three-quarters of a mile away. "I have done all my own work—clearing the ground, nearly 11 1/4 acres not all burned over yet, building the house and the barn. The frame house 28x30 feet has seven rooms; the frame barn 16x20 feet is of double insulated construction. I have material for a log house 24x30 feet and will build a frame hen house similar to the barn. 16x20 feet for the first unit.

"I have four brood sows, expect about 25 hogs this fall, have a wonderful Guernsey cow with two more coming, and also a team of horses.

"We are well satisfied with Alaska, happy and wish to thank Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple, Roy G. Ewert and Mr. Grant who made it possible for us to be here and to work for our own interests. I also have worked out over $200 on my account to the Alaska Railroad corporation. Billie is working for the corporation as waiter in the mess camp, and saving his earnings to go to the Coyne Electrical school in Chicago, to learn radio.

"We wish to compliment Mr. Rotz upon his daughter's success in winning the skating championship. Also Mr. and Mrs. Shinn's daughter, Doris, for the state spelling championship. And to you personally Mr. Eaton, I want to compliment you upon the clearness and fairness of your editorials. The one on Brucker, 'The Pink Tea Party Man' was a crackerjack." The letter was signed, "Fred Rotz, Palmer, Alaska."

Busy Weeks For The Boy Scouts Angove Report Highly Praised

The past few weeks have been busy for the Plymouth Boy Scouts. Boys from several troops took in the Commissioners' Boat Hike to Put-in-Bay on June 13. Then Scouts from Troops P-1, P-2 and P-3 were among the 3,000 Scouts who were guests of the Tiger management at the game on June 25th. That same evening Troop P-1 held the last formal meeting of the summer, putting on a camp-fire out in the woods. Friday evening, June 26, about two dozen Scouts from P-1, P-2 and P-3, started on the three-day hike, ending up Sunday afternoon in Ypsilanti, where the P-1 and P-4 Scoutmasters met the hikers with a truck and brought them home. All but two of the boys lasted the full time and came home tired but having had a fine time.

Three boys of P-1 have given their version of the good times they took in. Patrol Leader Bill Thomas has this to say of the ball game: "Boy Scouts from Troops P-1, P-2 and P-3 saw the Detroit Tigers play the Philadelphia Athletics at Navin field, and also defeat them by the score of 13 to 1. There were nearly 3,000 Scouts from the Detroit Area Council who were guests of the management. The troops secured their tickets by getting their Troop registration papers in on time before the end of last March." Troop Scribe Lynton Ball thus describes the campfire: "The final meeting of the summer of Boy Scout Troop P-1 was held as a special campfire program at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, June 25th, in the woods back of the little red school house on the corner of Joy and Ridge roads.

The boys were arching Indian file through the woods from the cars to the little natural amphitheater. There the scribe took roll call, starting with the past scouts and pioneers such as George Washington, George Rogers Clark etc., and ending with those present.

"Scoutmaster Strong then led an Indian prayer to the Great Spirits for fire. A brand of fire immediately came down from the heavens and ignited the waiting campfire. The Scouts in Indian fashion and tom-toms beat in the distance. Mr. Ball, Plymouth photographer then showed us a piece of the white man's magic in the form of a camera and took a flash picture of the Scouts seated around the campfire. Stories were told and songs were sung—and Mr. Hillmer's candy was eaten—and finally about nine p. m. the Scout benediction was given and a very, very enjoyable meeting was closed.

The Scouts were indebted to committeemen and fathers George Burr, Fred Thomas, Charles Horr, Carlton Lewis and L. L. Ball for their presence and transportation. The troop quartermaster, Orlyn Lewis, tells of the hike as follows: "The Scouts led by Scoutmaster Mathias of P-3 left the city hall about 7 p. m. on June 26th. The route taken was out W. Ann Arbor Trail to Sheldon road, south to Joy road, then west to Canton Center road, south about three miles to the Canton Center school, then west to the Beck road and down the Beck road to the Palmer school, where we camped for the night. Bud O'Leary aroused the camp at 4:30 Saturday morning. We broke camp about 7:30, and traveled over hill and dale, through rough thickets and woods to Rawsonville. We camped in the school yard here for the remaining time. "We went swimming, fishing, and did all sorts of things. At night we had a camp fire and sang songs, led by Don Moore and his harmonica. Sunday morning we

Cooling System For The Theatre

Again the Penningman-Allen is going to pioneer in Plymouth—it is going to be the first place in this city to provide the public with a cooling system for its patrons.

Manager Harry Lush has announced that workmen have been busy during the past few days making the necessary installation of the new cooling system and he hopes to have it operating possibly by this week-end.

Plymouth, during these summer months is enjoying some of the best pictures that have been produced this year. Even though the theatre has not had a cooling system, the high grade pictures have packed the house more than once during the past few weeks.

Think this causes engine wear?

One of your daily starts can cause more damage!

Even top engine speed doesn't wear down your engine nearly as much as starting. For a few moments after starting, 100 parts in your engine can run "dry" of oil... unless the oil flows fast enough to lubricate every part.

That's one reason why starting causes approximately 3/4ths of engine wear.

Charles McHenry, Jerry Cramer and Fred Smith.

The first officers were elected as follows: Commander, Abram Pelham, senior vice-commander, T. V. Quackenbush, junior vice-commander, John Gill; O. D. M. R. Weeks, quartermaster, C. E. Baker; adjutant, R. L. Root; chaplain, J. W. Dodge; sergeant major, Arthur W. Stevens; and surgeon, A. W. Brown.

Lieut. Pelham, the first commander of the post, entered the service November 7, 1861, and served under General Buell in Kentucky and Tennessee, acting as quartermaster most of the time. He was with the army at Nashville, when General Rosecrans assumed command, and was afterwards in the Battle of Stone River. His rank was that of first lieutenant in the 13th Michigan Volunteers, and he served until the close of the war. He also was in the Mexican war for a short time.

When the Plymouth veterans applied for a G. A. R. charter, Lt. Pelham wrote the following interesting letter to the headquarters in Lansing: Plymouth, Mich., Feb. 21st, 1884 G. W. Stone, Asst. Adj. Gen. Lansing, Mich. Sir,

Enclosed find $20 Twenty Dollars as fee for charter etc. of G. A. R. Post in this place. We would be glad to muster Feb. 28 and if you will be so kind as to send mustering officer at that date (7 P. M. Amity Hall) a delegation from Detroit would come up and visit us at the initiation. Can a member in good standing of another post be a charter member with us if he withdraws from his home post?

Please communicate with us at once and if the proceedings are too informal will try and make corrections before the 28th.

Very Respectfully, Abram Pelham Acting Secy.

P. S. Since writing I learn that an officer can be sent from Detroit to muster. Should that be done a full delegation from that City would come us as Durfee and Gibbons are former comrades with any of our boys. It would please them to make such an arrangement and save the expense for a trip from Lansing.

Abram Pelham M. A. Holt, of the Fairbanks post in Detroit who served as the mustering officer, write the following account of the installation to

Lansing, Detroit, Michigan Feb. 29, 1884

Geo. W. Stone, Asst. Adj. General, Dept. of Michigan G. A. R. Lansing, Mich.

Dear Sir and Comrade: In obedience to Special Order from Dep't. Headquarters, I proceeded to Plymouth on the 28th day of Feb. and there mustered in Eddy Post No. 231, with twenty-three charter members.

I was assisted by eighteen members of the Fairbanks Post. They received us in fine shape and gave us a "Soldiers Welcome". After the mustering of the post I exemplified the work, assisted by the Comrades of Fairbanks Post, which will be a good start for them.

I think that this Post has started out under some good Comrades for Officers. I was unable to put the number of the Special Order in my report, as you did not number it. Allow me to call your attention to an error in filling out the charter; it was I that told Comrade Hampton to suggest to you not to use figures in filling out the charter and see you have nearly complied with the request. If you will write in eight instead of putting in 108, I think that you will see that then they read proper. Accept my thanks for detailing me to muster this Post, also for sending me the first general order.

I remain yours in F. C. and L. A. M. Holt.

Style Silhouettes

It is a peculiar trait of that tyrannical doctor, Dame Fashion, to be just a jump ahead of her equally tyrannical sister, Mother Nature, in the all-important matter of clothes. Thus we wear straw hats out into blustering February gales, and dark felts on hot August days. Light spring prints and pastels are decreed to be worn under fur coats, while dark frocks and ensembles are the correct thing for late summer street wear and travel.

And so with the Fourth of July a thing of the past it behooves us to look for the first of the new fall styles. Of course, vacationists enjoying the summer breezes on a lake, will rely on crisp cotton wash frocks, shorts and slacks to make up the largest part of their wardrobes but for trips to towns or special social affairs of one kind and another, something new is in order.

There comes a day when light summer dresses look washed out—seem to lose their character and individuality. Satin is the solution for this problem, according to style-experts. Sleek, silvery and shiny smooth, satin is the last word in sophistication. In black it is being extensively used for daytime frocks, simply made. Some have touches of white frills, while others are severely untrimmied. If you wish to use white accessories, you may choose a model with a high neck, long sleeves and a fly front closing, with just a touch of white. With this you could wear a wide-brimmed white hat trimmed with a narrow band of black patent leather or a narrow white patent belt, white shoes, patent bag, and crisp white gloves.

Or, if you want to go a step farther in achieving that early fall smartness, you can have an all-black costume—with a wide-brimmed hat of stitched black taffeta, or one of those new Breton sailors of black patent. Belt, shoes and gloves will be of black with, perhaps, a string of pearls as the only white accent.

Other satins are being shown, of course. There are polka dots—white on navy or black backgrounds, in both one and two-piece styles, which look particularly well with white accessories. For evenings satin frocks are made in cool colors—frosty pinks, mint green and white—luxurious and a step ahead of the general mode. Most of them have low-cut décolletages, but are worn with tailored, broadshouldered jackets, made with or without rippling pleurms. They are formal enough for an occasion, yet not too dressy in sultry weather, for the styles are smooth and streamlined and as cool as a frosty summer drink.

Navy blue is summery and practical for traveling or street wear. On hot days, you may use white accessories, then, as fall draws nearer, a navy blue felt hat and navy shoes, gloves and purse will be in keeping. Sheers and uncrushable linens are, probably, the most comfortable and practical right now, but if you are far-sighted you will buy a crepe or satin which can be worn far into the fall.

Knitted suits are particularly comfortable for summer traveling, for they are neither too heavy nor too lightweight, and they do not wrinkle easily. In dark colors, which do not show travel stains, they are very practical, and they may be dressed up with accessories of white or some bright contrasting shade.

Goes To Washington For Vacation Trip

Washington, the city where political activities are boiling most of the time, seems to have an unusual fascination for David Galbraith, the owner of the Plymouth Purity meat market and members of his family left for that city last week to spend the Fourth of July and the early part of this week in and about that city.

Mr. Galbraith was in Washington during the early part of last winter, but that was a trip he made to do what he could to induce congress to pass the bonus law. He was fortunate in being able to interview both of Michigan's senators and a number of congressmen at that time.

When he left here he stated that he planned to take his family to many of the historic shrines in and near Washington. He expects to return to Plymouth early next week.
