Democrats Coming To Plymouth

HON. PRENTISS BROWN

HON. FRANK MURPHY

Democratic Rally Oct. 27

Hon. Prentiss Brown To Be Chief Speaker Here On That Date

According to an announcement made yesterday, there has been a slight change in the plans of the Plymouth Democrats for their rally in Plymouth and it will be held at the high school auditorium on Tuesday evening, October 27, instead of on the previous Friday evening.

This change was made so that it would be possible to have Congressman Prentiss Brown, Democratic candidate for United States senator, come to Plymouth to make an address. Congressman Brown, during his term in congress has made an outstanding record.

With Congressman Brown will be Frank Murphy, the Democratic candidate for governor, and Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner.

Mr. Van Wagoner was a speaker a few months ago before the Rotary club in Plymouth. Candidate Murphy addressed a luncheon gathering here last week Thursday noon.

New President Bar Association

FORD P. BROOKS, Plymouth attorney has been elected president of the Suburban Bar association.

Early Church Days Revived

Plymouth Teacher Writes Historic Sketch For Baptist Convention

When thousands and thousands of Baptists from all over Michigan go down to the Masonic temple in Detroit Sunday to attend the annual state convention of the Baptist church, they will see before the convention ends, one of the most interesting historic church dramas ever presented.

This exceptional part of the program that will continue for five days, has been written by Miss Florence Stader, one of the teachers of the Plymouth public schools.

It will depict the establishment of the first Baptist church in Michigan and show too, the growth and development of the first nine Baptist churches that were started in Michigan more than a century ago.

Rev. and Mrs. Loya Sutherland will go to Detroit Sunday afternoon to attend the sessions. Many of the most famous Baptist leaders of the nation and state will be present at some time during the week.

Governor Fitzgerald And Congressman Dondero Coming

Republican State Central Committee Makes Announcement of Visit Here On Saturday Evening, October 31st

HON. GEORGE DONDERO

GOV. FITZGERALD

Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald will be a guest of Plymouth on Saturday evening, October 31, it was announced Tuesday by the Republican State Central committee.

The Governor on his visit to Plymouth will be accompanied by Auditor General John J. O'Hara and probably Secretary of State Orville Atwood.

Congressman George Dondero will also speak at the meeting, which will be held in the Mayflower hotel.

While tentative plans call for a dinner in honor of the Governor and congressman at which every one who desires to attend will be invited, it is also planned to have those who cannot get to the Mayflower in time for the dinner, to come in later and hear the addresses.

This will be the first appearance of either Governor Fitzgerald or Congressman Dondero in Plymouth during the present campaign. Both have a large circle of personal friends here who are highly pleased over the announcement that they have been scheduled for addresses in this city before the end of the present political campaign.

Plymouth Red Men Honored

John Mastic and Galen Cripe Elected To High Offices

The Grand Lodge of Improved Order of Redmen was held at Battle Creek, Michigan, October 9 and 10. Great Chiefs who were elected for the next two years are as follows: Great Sachem, Clyde G. Townsend, Pontiac; Great Senior Sagamore, John Mastic, Plymouth; Great Junior Sagamore, Galen Cripe, Plymouth; Great Chief of Records, W. J. Caudy, Lansing; Great Prophet, Clarence W. Beyma, Detroit; Great Keeper of Wampum, Wilfred S. Dyer, Battle Creek. Other appointed chiefs were Great Sannap, Frank Ligneau, Detroit; Great Guard of Wigwam, John Root, Battle Creek; Great Guard of Forest, Edward Colvin, Plymouth.

Herbert F. Stetser, Great Chief of Records of the Great Council of the United States was present and gave a splendid talk on Friday and Saturday. There were also present several Great Chiefs from Ohio. A large amount of business was transacted and it is the general opinion that Michigan will forge ahead in Redmanship in the next two great years.

D. A. R. To Meet On Monday

The Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter, D. A. R., will observe Michigan Centennial day Monday afternoon, October 19, at the home of Mrs. John F. Root, 1635 Ridge road. The program has been planned by Mrs. Carman Root and Mrs. Levi Eaton, who are the Chapter's oldest members. They wish to remind the members to wear or bring any dresses they may have, thirty or forty years old, or older, and pictures of their Michigan ancestors. These will be displayed during the social hour following the program.

Aviation To Be Rotary Subject

Today's meeting of the Plymouth Rotary club will, without question, be one of the most interesting in many weeks. Cass S. Hough, who has charge of the program, having arranged to have several prominent aviation leaders discuss the subject of aviation. Among the guests will be Captain Fiske Marshall of the Marine Flying corps, who will discuss military flying and William Fieten, district manager of the United Air Lines who will show motion pictures of airplanes and airport development.

Mrs. Lucy Baird, who has spent the summer with her sister, Mrs. Nettie Dible, plans to leave for her home in Vero Beach, Florida, some time next week.

Last Year's Red Cross Record of Service To Humanity

The Red Cross brought relief to the victims of 138 disasters. During the spring floods and tornadoes alone, affecting 20 states, the Red Cross aided 145,000 families. Sufferers were given food, clothing, shelter and medical attention; thousands of homes were rebuilt or repaired.

Red Cross public health nurses made 1,000,000 visits to the sick. First Aid instruction was given to 212,000 men and women completing the course.

Eighty thousand persons were trained in water safety and rescue methods.

First Aid and Life Saving was taught to 75,000 enrollees of the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Seven hundred Highway Emergency First Aid stations were established by Red Cross chapters at key points to increase the immediate availability of proper equipment and persons trained in first aid at the scene of accident. More than 3,500 additional stations will soon be in operation.

Ten million homes were self-checked for accident hazards to cut the mounting toll of accidents occurring in the home. Eight hundred Chapters gave relief to the needy of their communities.

Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick instruction was given to 50,000 persons.

Eight million school boys and girls were enrolled in the American Junior Red Cross, where they were given training in service for others.

Service to disabled veterans, their dependents, and men now in service has been carried on and will be continued.

Thousands of volunteers made garments for the needy, served in hospitals, transcribed Braille books for the blind and otherwise aided in meeting community needs.

Fence Plank Goes Through Car Kills Youth

Auto Accident Fatal To Well Known Plymouth Youth

Relatives and friends filled the chapel of Our Lady of Good Counsel church Wednesday morning to pay last tribute to John Mandl, 21-year-old Plymouth youth, who resided at 1294 Junction avenue, and was killed in an automobile accident Sunday morning about 2:30 o'clock.

The youthful worker at the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor company accompanied by Orrin Fisher and Wilfred Walters, both of Plymouth, had spent the evening at Walled Lake.

It was raining hard when they started home. Mandl was driving and when they reached the corner of Novi and Eight Mile road, the turn just north of Northville, the car skidded on the gravel and sideswiped the wooden guard fence.

A big piece of the eight inch plank crashed through the windshield and struck the driver of the car squarely in the face. His injuries caused death within a few minutes. The two companions, with him in the front seat, escaped injury. They rushed him to Sessions hospital in Northville, but found upon admittance that the young man had died.

John Mandl, who had a host of friends among the young people of Plymouth, was born in Pigeon, Michigan. The family moved to Plymouth from Woodville, Ohio 12 years ago and he entered the public schools here. After completing the tenth grade, he became a student at the Ford Trade school from which he graduated some time ago and was immediately given employment by the Ford company.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mandl, two brothers, Adam and Matthew of Detroit, and a sister, Kathryn, residing at home, survive. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Father Frank A. Lefevre. Burial took place in the Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Recovers From Injuries

Otto Kipper, who resides on the Five Mile road, has nearly recovered from recent serious injuries received while driving to New York city. The accident happened in Canada. The following item taken from The Hamilton (Canada) Spectator, tells of the accident:

Smithville, Oct. 7. When their car went out of control on the dangerous curve on No. 20 highway at the west entrance to the village this morning two United States residents were injured. Fritz Streuer, Detroit, the driver of the car, sustained facial and chest injury. Otto Kipper, Plymouth, Mich., suffered severe head and facial lacerations and had some teeth knocked loose. Both were attended by Dr. J. D. Prior. The car clipped off a telephone pole when it went into the ditch and was damaged to the extent of $250. Numerous complaints have been made to highway officials regarding this curve, which has been the scene of scores of accidents.

Progressive Luncheon Held By M.E. Ladies Aid

Last week Wednesday, the Methodist ladies had a very delightful afternoon with a "progressive luncheon" preceding their regular Ladies Aid meeting.

The first course of the luncheon was served buffet style at the parsonage; the second course at tastefully decorated tables in the main dining room of the church; and the third course at the home of Mrs. Arthur White on Canton Center road.

The business meeting of the Aid followed the luncheon at Mrs. White's home. Plans were discussed for a bazaar which will be held December 2, at the church. Mrs. Miller Ross was in charge of the program for the afternoon and introduced Miss Mildred E. Sweet, who very entertainingly talked of the work of the Wesley Foundation in Ann Arbor, of which she is secretary.

About 60 ladies were in attendance at the luncheon and meeting. Mrs. Charles Barnes entertained her 500 club Wednesday at her home on South Main street.

Rally of Past Commanders

Maccabees Hold A Special Meeting On Wednesday Evening

A large number of Maccabees attended the special meeting last Wednesday evening celebrating a combined Past Commanders and Rally night. Several guests from Detroit were present including Supreme Court Director, Louisa Minor; Sir Knight, Joe Baker; Building Manager and Lady Baker; Assistant Great Commander, Agnes Thorpe and Sir Knight Thorpe, local district Assistant Great Commander, Dora Nicholson and Sir Knight Nicholson, each of whom gave interesting talks pertaining to his or her work in the Maccabee organization.

A sumptuous dinner was served at 8:30 and was followed by a special meeting at which the officers' chairs were filled by the past commanders of the hive. The commander's station was efficiently conducted by Lady Mabel Dicks who had entire charge of the evening's activities, during which the regular business of the hive was transacted and two candidates, Alice Rathburn and Katherine Henderson were initiated.

Other Past Commanders and members who acted as officers were: Ladies Ethel Micol, Past Commander; Grace Martin, Lieut. Commander; Anna Wright, Record Keeper; Lena Willet, chaplain; Hattie Holloway, sentinel; Jessie Terry, picket; sergeant, Bessie Salow; Mistress at Arms, Elsa Campbell; Dora Wood, Deborah McKeever, First lady of guards; Emma Bolton, second lady of guards; Bessie Bovee and Myrtle Brown, Color bearers; Mildred Hewer, Zaida Gorton, Ella Gould, Hilda Eckles and Cora Salow, Captain of Guards; Bessie McCullough and musician, Mayme Soth. These ladies were chosen by Record Keeper Edna Magraw to whom the success of the ritualistic portion of the meeting is attributed.

One of the hive's recent brides, Doris Campbell Eaton was given a beautiful occasional chair, presented by Captain Emerson in behalf of the hive.

The annual attendance contest opened at this meeting, the leaders being ladies Grammel and Sly. The penalty of losing as usual is the presentation of the Christmas entertainment. The first count shows lady Sly's group in the lead. Each leader would like to see more of her members present at the next meeting Wednesday, October 21. The Juniors' meeting is also scheduled for the same date at 4 p.m. A good attendance there would be appreciated.

The Mission Society of the Lutheran church will meet with Miss Amelia Gayde on Wednesday afternoon, October 21, at her home on Starkweather avenue, meeting to start promptly at 2 o'clock. Hostess for the afternoon will be Mrs. Oliver Goldsmith, Mrs. William Ash, Mrs. Paul Groth, Mrs. William Sakoriaks and Mrs. Howard Last.

Lawyers Meet At Mayflower

Suburban Bar Assn. Elects Officers For Next Year

At the annual meeting of the Suburban Bar Association of Wayne county held recently at the Mayflower hotel, Ford P. Brooks of Plymouth was elected president for the ensuing year.

Attorney V. P. Vern of Wayne was elected vice president and Russell Paul of Wayne was elected secretary-treasurer.

The association comprises a membership of all attorneys located in Wayne county living outside the city of Detroit.

Its next meeting will be held at the Mayflower hotel on October 28 when the wives of the members will be guests.

Two Of Proposed Amendments Called Vicious Proposals

Supt George Smith Tells Rotarians Questions To Be Voted On This Fall Hit Directly At Education

Speaking before the joint meeting of the Rotary clubs of Plymouth and Brighton at the Mayflower hotel last Friday noon, Supt. George A. Smith of the Plymouth public schools assailed at least two of the proposed amendments to be voted on at the election November 3 as dangerous and vicious proposals.

He declared that proposed amendments 3 and 4 struck directly at the educational system of Michigan.

"There are two evils," he said, "that are at the present time threatening public education. First there are proposed amendments 3 and 4.

Amendment Number 3 provides for the removal of sales tax on many foods. There are many objections to this amendment, but outstanding among the reasons for opposing it is first, that it would cause a loss of approximately $12,000,000 to the general fund of the state without making any provision for raising these revenues in some other manner.

"If the people of the state of Michigan are to enjoy the services which are now rendered it will be necessary to pay for these services. Cutting out $12,000,000 from one source of revenue can mean but one of two things—either shifting the tax to where its source will be more concealed, or else crippling or eliminating services which we now have.

"To me the outstanding reason for opposing amendment three is that since all taxes both concealed and evident come from production (which is the result of the union of labor, capital, natural resources, and enterprises), then labor, which is a factor in production, must help pay the tax whether he realizes it or not. And when we consider that the tax on all foods will cost the average family about thirty cents per week, or $15.00 a year, it seems silly to me to tell the man, who apparently pays no other tax, that we are exempting him from the only tax which he now pays, and I also wonder if labor will be satisfied to be given little or no say in government because it can be told that it pays nothing in support of government when, as a matter of fact, labor will be helping to pay the tax wherever it is shifted.

"Amendment number four is an attempt on the part of the unscrupulous real estate speculators to remove from taxation property now yielding $127,000,000 into the general funds of townships, counties, cities, school districts, etc.

"To pass amendment four would mean to destroy organized government in all these units.

"When we realize that a large part of laws and need for laws are for protection of property, it is absurd to assume that property shouldn't bear a just portion of the tax burden when much of the tax is used for its own protection. To pass amendment four would mean an additional expense because the people of the state of Michigan would realize very soon after the passage of such amendment the destructive

Frank Murphy Tells of Plans

Democratic Candidate For Governor Visits Plymouth

Nearly 150 residents of Plymouth and vicinity filled the dining room of the Mayflower hotel last Thursday noon to hear High Commissioner Frank Murphy of the Philippine Islands discuss issues of the present political campaign.

While he had been scheduled to speak at 12 o'clock, he was delayed for nearly an hour in reaching Plymouth but during the time that the crowd waited for him, the guests at the meeting enjoyed community singing.

Following the serving of an excellent menu, Draper Allen of Birmingham, Democratic candidate for congress from this district, opened the meeting.

He introduced as the first speaker George Gundry, a county officer of Genesee county, who is the Democratic candidate for state auditor.

Mr. Gundry briefly told of his experience and he declared that he thought his youth would be an asset to him if he should be elected to the high office he sought.

Just before the introduction of Mr. Murphy, Postmaster Frank Larned requested that it be announced that the Plymouth Democrats planned to hold a big rally in the high school auditorium on Friday evening, October 23.

When Mr. Murphy was introduced he was given a warm reception. (Continued on page six)

Townsend Club To Hear George Guilen

On Monday evening, October 19, Townsend club No. 1 of Plymouth will meet in the Grange hall. The speaker of the evening will be George E. Guilen of Detroit, candidate for justice of the supreme court, on the Farm and Labor ticket. Mr. Guilen was one of the original organizers of the Townsend clubs in this district, and is sure to give an interesting and instructive talk. Everyone is welcome.

SUCCESS NEARING.

For many, many years The Plymouth Mail has been intensely interested in the creation of a great state park at and around Tahquamenon falls in the Upper Peninsula, with a hard-surfaced trail highway leading along the Tahquamenon river and to the falls. Some have wondered why this interest in a development nearly as far away from Plymouth as one can go in Michigan.

The interests of The Plymouth Mail in this proposed improvement is due to two reasons, first, because the Tahquamenon falls in our opinion are among the most beautiful in all America and we would like to have every person able to see them. But they have been practically inaccessible to the people of the nation. Our second reason is a belief that the construction of a scenic trail highway along the river to the falls would bring millions more of tourists dollars into Michigan. This would help the Upper Peninsula. It would help all Michigan.

Now comes an encouraging bit of news from the conservation department. Director P. J. Hoffmaster in a statement this week said that the state is about to secure possession of the property around the falls and that the department proposed to retain the land in its wilderness state as a state park.

"We have studied the Tahquamenon Falls area for several years with the hope that some day it might be acquired and developed into a state park," Director Hoffmaster said. "However, we have not made definite plans so far. A detailed survey will be made as soon as possible with a view of immediate development.

"We are decided on but one thing definitely," he stated. "There will be no automobile road directly to the Falls and camping will not be permitted at the Falls. We do not want to spoil the natural beauty of the place by unwarranted extensive development."

It is probable, he said, that most of the "development" will be on the north side of the river. Park headquarters will probably be located on a lake a short distance north of the river. The only contemplated access to the falls will be by foot paths through the woods.

Acquisition of the Falls, Director Hoffmaster said, rounds out plans of the conservation department for a huge wilderness recreational area in the upper peninsula. The Lake Superior State Forest in which the falls are located is rapidly becoming popular with the type of tourist who wants an unspoiled wilderness.

GOOD JUDGMENT.

We note with pleasure that the present city officials in their financial statement published last week in The Mail say that they favor the policy of pay-as-you-go and that after the present indebtedness of the city is paid, they hope to create a sinking fund for future expenditures. We believe and believe sincerely that the city government, the state government and all other divisions of our government should create cash reserves for anticipated future expenditures. In this way the biggest expense item of all—interest—would be wiped out. It would permit a very substantial reduction in taxes and in no way prevent the construction of needed improvements and expansions. We hope that all future administrations of the city government will adhere strictly to this rule. It will save Plymouth thousands and thousands of dollars.

THE PUBLIC IS FOR IT.

If one is to judge the general sentiment of all of Michigan by the sentiment expressed about Plymouth favorable to the editorial expression of The Plymouth Mail last week in which this paper strongly advocated the nomination of ALL candidates for state office by direct primary instead of part of the ticket by state convention, there would not be much time lost by the state legislature in making the change.

It seems that the people—the voters—who, after all, are the political parties of Michigan, would be much more satisfied if they could have a part in this important function. Political conventions that are supposed to nominate candidates no longer do so. They delegate this right to some one else.

The voters, in view of this condition, have a perfect right to ask to have the right to nominate restored to them, just as The Mail pointed out last week.

The gratifying part about this editorial expression of The Mail last week has been the fact that seemingly every one agrees with it. In fact, in our contacts with people about the city since its publication, there has not been one person who expressed a conflicting opinion, or in any way favored the continuance of the convention system of nominating candidates.

THEY ARE RIGHT

That taxpayers are good and tired of bond issues is pretty well evident by the vote over in Milford on a proposed issue of $5,000 for an improvement in its water system. We do not know anything about the arguments over in Milford. All we do know is the fact that taxpayers are sick and tired of bond issues. They rightly believe that good public officials, if they are careful and know their business, can save enough money in sinking funds to take care of needed future improvements. Maybe some time public officials will wake up to the fact that they should save money for future anticipated needs, instead of finding ways to spend all they take in from the taxpayers and going in debt for what they do not get from the taxpayers.

YOUR VOTE.

Your ballot must be in the ballot box before the polls close on November 3 if you want it counted.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

POLITICAL QUACKERY

For a good many years we have been fairly close to the "inside workings" of politics, both in Michigan and nationally. We observe an increasing ability on the part of practical politicians to "pull the wool over the eyes of the voters," and an almost equal willingness on the part of the public to be so blindfolded. It's about as easy to win most elections as it is to make a commercial success with a quack corn cure, or a foolish plan to restore a baby's complexion to an old dowager—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

PRIMARIES ON THE WAY OUT.

Passing of the primaries reveals a strong sentiment in favor of a single ballot system for Michigan. Voters of all political faiths expressed resentment at not being able to split their primary vote. With the slow, but sure, passing of pure partisanship and its replacement by a vast independent electorate, Michigan's one party ballot primary system is becoming antiquated. A number of other states, notably California, use a single ballot, with the candidates of all parties listed, allowing the primary voter to split his ticket. The only criticism of this type of primary ballot comes from the professional politicians who point out the dangers of the opposition party taking advantage of the opportunity to elect the weakest candidate on the opposing ticket when there happens to be no contest for that particular office on their own party ticket. I do not believe this possible political trick outweighs the advantage of allowing an independent selection of the standard bearers of all political parties.—J. John Pope in The Grandville Star.

WHO PAYS?

There are at present 52 government taxes on every loaf of bread. The total amounts to about two cents on every ten cent loaf. The farmer pays six government taxes; six are paid by the grain elevator; four are paid by the flour mill; eleven are paid by the railroads; seven are paid by the baking company and seven are paid by the retail distributor. This helps to answer the question, who pays for our government. In the final analysis it is always the purchaser who pays the tax. Government extravagance sooner or later always results in excessive commodity costs.—Dick Cook in The Hastings Banner.

ONE MINUTE BIOGRAPHIES OF MICHIGAN GOVERNORS and their ACCOMPLISHMENTS

By Elton R. Eaton

AARON T. BLISS No. 23

A threat of death did not keep Aaron T. Bliss from voting for Abraham Lincoln while Bliss was confined in a southern war prison. It was his second vote for the war president. Declarations by the jailer that it would mean more prison life and probably a grave near the prison did not prevent him from putting a black bean in the ballot box, the black bean being used to signify the prison vote for Lincoln.

Bliss, like hundreds of other soldiers raised in the east, decided to locate in Michigan after the close of the war. He was born in Madison county, New York, May 22, 1837, and spent most of his time before the war working in a country store and going to a district school.

He aided in recruiting a company at Elmira, New York and went to the south as a first lieutenant. For bravery he was soon made a captain. He was in many battles and towards the close of the war was captured. He made his escape from the prison and 18 days later reached the union lines.

nearly starved to death. In 1865 he went to Saginaw and began his career as a lumberman, operating a big sawmill in Zilwaukee township. He made Saginaw his home, and during the remainder of his life and even when governor of the state, spent as much time as possible in Saginaw. That he stood high in the estimation of his neighbors is evident from the fact that he served as a supervisor, alderman and a member of the Saginaw school board for years. He was for a period department commander of the G. A. R. of Michigan, and was elected to the state senate in 1882. He also served in congress from the Saginaw district. In 1900 he was made the Republican candidate for governor. He was elected and served two terms. Governor Bliss exerted great care not to get into conflict or raise any issue that might result in dissension. As a result his administration was a most harmonious one. He did give considerable attention to matters that Civil war veterans were interested in and went south to the dedication of a Soldiers' Monument.

Spanning the Mississippi

Until 1894, the real source of the Mississippi was unknown. In that year, Dr. Elliot Coues returned from Lake Itasca and the baby stream of "Cradled Achilles" and proved the accuracy of the discoveries recorded by Nicollet and Brewer. At its source, the Great River is two inches deep and eight inches wide.

LEAVES

This is the season of the year
I think the best of all
To go roaming in the woods
Among the leaves that fall.

To hear the rustle of them
Is music to my ears
It drives away all weariness
And fills me full of cheer.

Leaves that fall by the millions
What beautiful colors to see
No one can justly describe them
Leaves that fall from the trees.

Giant Mushroom Is Found West of City

There are mushrooms and mushrooms (and also toadstools, so that one of the chief topics of conversation with many people about this time of year is the edibility of these various fungi), but it is not often that one sees a mushroom the size of the specimen which J. T. Chapman brought into the Mail office last week.

It was six and a quarter inches in diameter, about 10 inches high and weighed five and a half ounces. The top was white and the under part a delicate pink in color. Mr. Chapman found it in a field west of Plymouth.

Of course the inevitable question came up, "Is it edible?" Mr. Chapman was asked.

"Well, I'm going to eat it," he replied. And that was that.

The SIGHT METER

will tell you how this 3-light lamp differs from other lamps!

GLASS DOWN THROWS PART OF LIGHT TO CEILING

A diffusing bowl under the shade throws part of the light upward to the ceiling. It is reflected back and spread over a large area, providing room-wide light that is soft and restful, without glare. Harsh shadows are eliminated.

SIX DEGREES OF LIGHT

A single lamp bulb furnishes three different degrees of light—100, 200 and 300 watts. Together with the three shades (available on many styles of this lamp) this makes six possible levels of light. You can select the exact degree of light you wish.

Have you ever checked the lighting in your home with a Sight Meter? This little instrument will tell you some startling things about your floor and table lamps, about the lighting in your various rooms. And it will show you plainly why the new 3-light lamp is far superior to other lamps. It will show you, for example, that the lamp provides 25 to 30 footcandles of light (your present lamps probably furnish 5 to 10). This is the amount of illumination needed to safeguard eyesight, to assure easy, comfortable seeing for ordinary tasks, for reading, writing, sewing, etc. The Sight Meter will show you that this new lamp provides roomwide light... a pleasant, uniform illumination, without harsh shadows or sharp contrasts. Let us measure your lighting with a Sight Meter: It is part of your service, and there is no charge or obligation. And—at your first opportunity—see the new 3-light lamps on display. You will want one of the attractive new styles for your living room!

The new 3-light lamps are available in a wide selection of attractive styles—reasonably priced.

See the New Three-Light Lamp on display at department stores, furniture stores, hardware and electrical dealers, and

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

P. Ray Norton, pastor
10:00 a.m. Morning worship.
11:30 a.m. Sunday school.
7:00 p.m. Epworth League.
The Sunday morning service will be the annual Booth Festival. All the ladies of the church are invited to bring canned fruit or fresh fruit and vegetables. Later these will be taken to the Old Peoples Home at Chelsea. There is an especial need for the fruit this year. Money may also be given.

The Epworth League invites everyone to go with them to Chelsea on Saturday, October 24. At that time the gifts from all the Ann Arbor district will be taken to the Old Peoples Home. A picnic dinner will be eaten at noon, and a fine program given immediately afterward.

The Methodist Men's club will have its first meeting since formal organization Tuesday night next week. The meeting will be another of our famous steak suppers. It will be paid for by a collection, which makes it possible for all to attend.

Ladies Aid circle meetings will be as follows: Circle number one led by Mrs. Ross meets at the home of Miss Phila Ferguson, 641 Wing St., Circle number two, led by Mrs. White and Mrs. John Miller, meets at the home of Mrs. Manna Blunk, 209 Irving. Circle number three, led by Mrs. Irwin and Miss Jolliffe, meets at the home of Mrs. L. E. Wilson, 334 N. Mill. Circle number four, led by Mrs. Latour and Mrs. Besse, meets at the home of Mrs. Tillotson, 610 Blunk.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

Richard W. Neale
One of Calvary's young men gave this testimony: "As a young man, I was faced with the question, 'What satisfies?'; and I began searching for one thing after another. Now I have found it. Rather, I have found Him! I've found the Lord Jesus Christ, my Savior and Lord; having definitely received Him as my own personal Savior. If you have not yet found heart-satisfaction may I point you to the Lord Jesus Christ?"

"Many sorrows shall be to the wicked; but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compass him about." Psalm 32: 10.

If you're new in Plymouth, be sure to visit us this Sunday. The pastor preaches, D. V. at both services, 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Met with a friendly Bible church.

Sunday school has classes for every age down to the kindergarten, meeting at 11:30.

The Young Peoples' Fellowship invites you to a cottage prayer meeting this Friday at 7:30. Eythol Hallwill and Winifred Hornbeck are the hostesses. We meet in their apartment, 154 Union street.

Our regular prayer meeting is on Wednesdays at 7:30. Meet Christ at Calvary. You'll feel our welcome too. 455 South Main St.

BEREA CHAPEL, PENTECOSTAL

Assemblies of God
John Walasky, pastor
Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved. Acts 16: 31 B.

The blood of Christ is still efficacious enough to save people from their sins.

We are continuing services at 263 W. Ann Arbor Trail. Sunday morning worship at 10:30 a.m.; Sunday school at 11:00 a.m.; Sunday evening at 7:30, and Thursday evening at 7:45. Everyone welcome to worship with us.

NAZARENE CHURCH

Robert North, pastor
Bible school, 10:00. Morning worship, 11:15. Young people, 6:30 p.m. Evening service, 7:30. Prayer, Wednesday, 7:30.

The public is invited to a missionary meeting, Monday, October 19. Miss Neva Lane, a returned missionary from Guatemala, will speak. Just home on furlough, she will have many interesting things to tell us. Don't forget the time, Monday, 7:30 p.m.

"The Kingdom of Heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath and buyeth that field." Matt. 13: 44.

The person discovering the hidden treasure of complete deliverance from sin through Jesus Christ is more than willing to sell all rights to earthly wealth and position in order to obtain the coveted prize. You will receive a warm welcome at the church where the full gospel is preached, 208 North Main street.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST

Services Tuesday, 7:30 p.m.
Saturday, 2:00 p.m.

Visitors always welcome.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

Sunday morning service, 10:30.
Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of twenty years.
Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00.

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 18.

Among the Bible citations is the following (Isaiah 53: 5): "But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with the Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 20): "Jesus bore our infirmities; he knew the error of mortal belief, and with his stripes (the rejection of error) we are healed."

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Loyla Sutherland, minister

Beginning next Sunday will be the greatest week in the history of the Baptist churches in Michigan. One hundred years ago, not only was founded the first Baptist work in Michigan, but also it was the beginning of the movement of the Spirit of God across Michigan, from the founding of a small church near Pontiac. We shall take a backward look at the 10:00 o'clock hour in this church, and also a forward look. What about the Baptist movement? Has God deserted their ranks? It would hardly seem so when it is known that the Baptists of Michigan have given more this last year to missionary work than for many years previous. We boast not, but this church joins in this centennial celebration of the Baptist work in Michigan.

The B. Y. P. U. will hold their meeting at 6:00 o'clock. How to understand myself in the light of Jesus' teaching, is the subject.

Because of the centennial celebration, which will be held for four days in Masonic Temple in Detroit, there will be no evening service this Sunday evening.

The monthly meeting of the Loyal Daughters will take the form of a Halloween party, and will be held at the church next Tuesday evening. All who come are asked to dress in costume appropriate for the occasion.

Mid-week prayer service Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Don't forget the cafeteria supper to be held on the night of the 23rd.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Walter Nichol, pastor
10 a.m. Worship
11:30 a.m. Sunday school.
6:30 p.m. Young People.

Five cars filled with happy young people drove to Royal Oak last Sunday evening where the Plymouth and Royal Oak young Presbyterians joined forces in a fine meeting. The address was given by Rev. Henry W. Porter of St. John's church, Detroit, on the subject of work among the colored people.

The Ready Service class will meet on Tuesday, October 20, at noon at the home of Mrs. G. A. Smith, on Sheridan avenue. Co-operative dinner will be served at noon followed by an interesting program. The chairman of the sewing committee asks all who have finished articles given them to bring these along to Tuesday's meeting.

Division No. 2 of the Woman's auxiliary will serve a cafeteria supper at the Masonic Temple on Wednesday of next week beginning at 5:30 p.m.

ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH

Rosedale Gardens
Masses: Sundays 8:00 and 11 a.m. Holy Days 7:30 and 9:00 a.m. Week days, 8:00 a.m. Confessions before each Mass. Catechism class after first Mass. Benediction after second Mass. Baptism by appointment.

CATHOLIC CHURCH

Rev. P. C. Lefevre
Sundays — Mass at 8:00 and 10:00. Confessions Saturday nights at 7:30, and before each mass.

Societies—The Holy Name Society for all men and young men. Communion the second Sunday of the month. The Ladies' Star Society receives Holy Communion the third Sunday of each month. All the ladies of the parish are to belong to this society.

Children of Mary—Every child of the parish must belong and must go to communion every fourth Sunday of the month. Instructions in religion conducted each Saturday morning at 8:30 by the Dominican Sisters. All children that have not completed their 8th grade, are obliged to attend these religious instructions.

SALEM CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. Lucia M. Stroh, minister
Services next Sunday, 10:30 a.m. The pastor is back and would like to greet all her old friends and members in church next Sunday.

Sunday school follows at 11:45 a.m. All the teachers expect to be present except Miss Wittich, who is very critically ill in a hospital in Ann Arbor. Thursday of this week, Mrs. Julia Foreman will be hostess to the Ladies' auxiliary society in the afternoon and supper will be served between 5:30 and 6:30 p.m.

All are most cordially invited to come and bring all the family. Practice for the Junior choir Thursday evening of this week. The church furnace is being repaired this week and the service next Sunday will be held in the church.

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Harvey and Maple streets

19th Sunday after Trinity
Morning Prayer and sermon—10:00 a.m.

Church school—11:15 a.m.
The regular meeting of the Ladies Guild will be held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Innis, E. Ann Arbor Trail on Thursday, October 22, with a co-operative luncheon at 1 o'clock. Please bring own table service.

The Ladies Guild will hold its annual bazaar and supper on Thursday, November 12. There will be fancy work and baked goods, also a fish pond for young and old. Further details and menu in future issues of The Mail.

ST. PAUL'S EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH

Three Hurt in Hit-Run Crash

Three Chicago people were slightly injured in a hit and run accident on US-12, near the new grade separation, about 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning of last week when their car was sideswiped by a truck driven by a negro.

The occupants of the Illinois car were Henry Bernstein, owner and driver, Harry Newburger and the latter's mother, Mrs. Mary Newburger. It was 45 minutes after the accident occurred that another car came along and brought the three to Plymouth. They called a taxi and went on into Detroit where it was ascertained that Bernstein had a severe bump on the back of his head. The Newburgers were shaken and bruised, and the car badly damaged.

In the meantime the truck, which left the scene of the accident without stopping, was halted in Plymouth by Officer Lee Sackett, who not knowing of the accident, let it proceed. The driver, giving his name as John Bennett of Greeley avenue in Detroit, said he was on his way to PawPaw. An unknown negro was riding with him.

The sheriff's office was called about 4 a.m. and Deputy Harry LeClear of Patrol No. 12 sent out to investigate. It was found that the license plates had been issued to a General Motors truck in Pontiac, but officers did not know whether or not they had been stolen.

Mildred Emery Weds Lawrence Livingston

The marriage of Lawrence E. Livingston, son of Mrs. Zella Livingston, of this city, and Mildred Emery of Merrell was quietly performed at noon Thursday, October 15, in the parsonage of the Methodist church, by the Rev. P. Ray Norton, local pastor. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Killeit of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Livingston left immediately on a short wedding trip. They will reside in Utica, where Mr. Livingston is an instructor of music in the schools. The bride is employed at the Maybury sanatorium in Northville.

On Wednesday evening a pre-nuptial dinner party was given by Mrs. Zella Livingston, mother of the bridegroom, at her home on Elizabeth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Livingston have many friends in Plymouth and vicinity who extend best wishes to them for a long, happy wedded life.

Kiwanians Make Real Cash

Hope To Clear More Than $300 From Shooting Contests

How the shekles did roll in down at the annual shooting contest of the Kiwanis club last week!

James Gallimore, who had charge of the event for the Kiwanis club, stated yesterday that he was sure that there would be more than $300 clear for the club's charity activities this winter.

"Maybe our profit will be a bit more than that when we figure up all of the expenses," he said. At any rate the event was the biggest rifle shooting contest that the Kiwanis club has ever staged.

It seemed that every one in town wanted to go down and help the Kiwanians make a few extra nickles and dimes for their Thanksgiving and Christmas funds.

For all of which the Kiwanis club members are deeply appreciative.

California is facing a shortage of Louisiana frogs. State game experts warn, because hunters use the wasteful method of shooting them with rifles.

Bobby Johns celebrated his 11th birthday Saturday by having eight of his playmates join him for luncheon, at his home on Penniman avenue, followed with games and later taking his guests to the matinee at Penniman-Allyn theater, seeing Will Rogers in "State Fair". The guests were Noel Hoyer, Jack Kenyon, Bob Thams, Bobby and Ralph Bachelder, Eddie Kincaid, Paul Nutting and Phillip Elliott. George Chute and Tommy Chaffee were unable to be present.

On Saturday evening about 16 neighbors and relatives gave Mrs. A. B. Schroder a real surprise, at her home on the Six Mile road, in celebration of her birthday. Progressive Pedro was the main diversion with Mrs. Ed Salow and Louis Salow winning high honors and Wilma Cripe and Edwin Ash low. Later the guests unpacked their baskets of good things to eat and every one enjoyed the repast. The guest of honor received several lovely cards and gifts in remembrance of the day.

On Friday evening the officers of the Townsend club and their wives and husbands, surprised Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Finton at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Homer Frisbie, on Sunset avenue. Mrs. Finton has been secretary for the club since its organization about a year ago, and had served so faithfully that the officers wished to express their appreciation. Dainty refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Finton left by motor, early Sunday morning for an extended stay with friends at Palm Harbor, Florida.

The Friday evening bridge club held its first meeting of the season with Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Innis, at their home on south Main street. Light refreshments were served following bridge. Moles, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilson, Mrs. James Bentley and Mr. and Mrs. Innis. The next meeting will be held with Mr. and Mrs. Reck.

The Alliance card club met Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wolfrom. Following an evening of cards a delicious midnight supper was enjoyed. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. August Hawk, Mr. and Mrs. William Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolfrom and daughter, Helen, Mr. and Mrs. John Hawk, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilkie, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Losey of Plymouth and Joyce Maples of Detroit.

Mrs. C. G. Draper and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Green of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kohler of Northville attended the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Craft, of Redford, held in the Masonic Temple, in that city, Saturday evening. All returned to the Kohler home for the night and on Sunday were joined at dinner by Mr. Draper and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riggs.

On Friday of last week, Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, Mrs. C. L. Cowgill, Mrs. Roy Streng and Mrs. Irwin Pierce of Plymouth and Mrs. Cecil Marble of Lansing, were luncheon guests of Mrs. Harold Throop, in Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rambo attended a dinner party Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beach in Ann Arbor given in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mr. Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. George Burr entertained at dinner Sunday honoring the birthday of the latter's sister, Mrs. John Paul Morrow. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Morrow of Cavanaugh Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Morrow of Cheboygan, Mrs. Maud Bennett of this city and Mrs. Ida Mae Harmon and daughter, Nancy, of Detroit.

The Tuesday afternoon bridge club had its first luncheon meeting this week with Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, at her home on Sheridan avenue. Those present were Mrs. Raymond Bachelder, Mrs. J. L. Olsaver, Mrs. J. J. McLaren, Mrs. Glenn Jewell, Mrs. Maxwell Moon, Mrs. J. W. Blickenstaff and Mrs. Henry Baker.

A special meeting of the O. E. S. will be held on Tuesday evening, October 20, with the Past Matrons and Past Patrons as guests of honor. Pot-luck dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock with program following, after which all will return to the Chapter room for a short memorial.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johns were in Detroit Saturday to attend a bon voyage party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Friend honoring Mr. and Mrs. Lee Terrill of Pittsburgh, Pa., who sail on December 1 for Jerusalem, where Mr. Terrill will be associate general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Norma C. Savery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cody J. Savery, and George J. Schmeeman of Detroit to take place on Thursday, October 29, in the Methodist church in this city.

Mrs. Floyd Eckles, Mrs. Lon Brocklehurst and Mrs. William Downing spent Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Grand Rapids attending a meeting of the Grand Chapter. Order of the Eastern Star.

Dr. Luther Peck and nephew, Harry Peck, of Hubbardston left by plane Saturday for Boston, Mass., where they visited friends and Providence, R. I., where they visited relatives. They returned to Plymouth Monday evening.

On Saturday Mrs. Myron W. Hughes will be hostess at a desert-bridge having the members of the Tuesday afternoon contract as guests. This will be the first gathering of the club for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. William Meier (Katherine Tuck) of Buffalo, N. Y. announce the birth of a daughter, Lois Jean, on Thursday, October 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bolton will be hosts to the Laugh-a-Lot club Saturday evening for its potluck dinner and evening of cards.

Butlers Down In Southwest

Telephone Worker and Wife On Annual Automobile Tour

Off on another one of their automobile tours, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Butler, have for the past week or ten days been down in the southwestern states and according to cards received from them they visited the Texas Centennial last Thursday and Friday. "Have had a fine trip so far," writes Mr. Butler to The Plymouth Mail. Every year this well known Plymouth couple visit some new part of the country where they have never gone before.

Last year on their return from a tour of southern states, they experienced their first accident on one of these trips. Just as they were nearing Toledo, some one cut out of traffic and crashed head-on into the Butler car, completely wrecking it and seriously injuring Mrs. Butler.

But they are off again and Mr. Butler told friends just before their departure that he was going to hit the corn fields if he saw any one coming who looked as though they might want all the road.

Back From Auto Trip To Tennessee

Mr. and Mrs. William Garrett have just returned from a short automobile trip that took them down through Tennessee and Kentucky. They visited many interesting places in those two states, even though it did rain a good portion of the time they were gone.

Mrs. Armada Garrett, mother of Mr. Garrett, who resides at Springwells, Tennessee, returned to Plymouth with them and plans to spend the winter at the home of her son.

On their return they passed near the famous Mammoth cave in Kentucky.

Curb and Gutter Project Started

With the completion of the Farmer street curb and gutter project, the city in co-operation with the Works Progress administration, has begun a similar project on Union street.

Paving has been started on a 48-inch sewer in a trench south of Joy street. It is expected that work on this sewer will be completed sometime this month.

While no definite approval for jobs to be done after that time has as yet been received from the WPA headquarters in Washington, it is understood by city officials that such approval will be forthcoming for two water projects. One is the construction of an adequate water distribution system for Riverside cemetery, the present one being so small that only the flowers can be kept watered, and the supply unfit for drinking purposes.

Foiled by continued warm weather a plum tree on the farm of T. J. Jennings near Tucumcari, Tex., put forth a second crop of blooms this year.

When You Exchange Lamps . . . get the right size . . .

Do you have small lamps where you need large ones for adequate lighting, or large lamps where smaller sizes should be used? The Detroit Edison Company will gladly help you to get the right lamp in the right socket by advising you on correct lamp sizes and by exchanging large lamps for small and vice versa.

When you bring your BURNED OUT lamps to the Edison office for exchange, tell us where the lamps are to be used and we will help you to get the right sizes. There is no charge for lamp renewal service. The only requirement is that you bring with you your most recent electric bill for identification. This practice protects our customers against renewals of lamps by people who are not customers of The Detroit Edison Company, and provides our bookkeeping department with the necessary records on lamps passed out.

For comfort and convenience, and to insure adequate light for safe seeing, keep your sockets filled with lamps of the right size. When you have burned out lamp bulbs, exchange them for new ones at your Edison office.

Note: Lamps are renewed without extra charge only for residential and commercial customers paying lighting rates and in the following sizes: 25W, 40W, 60W, 100W, 150W, 200W, 300W, 500W, and 3-lit lamp 100-200-300W.

He talked interestingly about the Philippines and declared that the residents of the islands are a proud and happy people.

He declared that some folks of Michigan wanted him back in the Philippines, "anywhere except in Michigan," he said.

He pointed out that there are many new problems for both the state and nation, that there are new problems for the farmer and the laborer.

He said that neither the government nor private industry recognized the changing conditions that have been coming over the nation for many years.

"We had better face the fact that the government and business have got to work together in solving these problems," he said.

"The Democratic party has a mandate to bring about. Our party is tired of trivial bickering over patronage and we must keep it out. Michigan is not a progressive state in legislation.

"What we want first in this state is sanity among the people. Mr. Brucker gave us frozen indifference to our plight in Detroit when he was governor and he didn't believe then in giving us the help the city needed.

"It is very unbecoming for certain people in the motor industry to take the position they have against the new deal.

"This is a great fight and we ought to be glad we are in it. Let's make this a war on depression. Everybody knows that my campaign is clean, that my record is clear and that if I am elected governor, there will be no spoils in office, no one back of the scenery telling me what to do."

Mr. Allen expressed his appreciation for the kindly interest shown by the audience. Mr. Murphy and those with him went from Plymouth to Jackson where he made an address that evening.

Duck Hunters Lost In Rushes

Plymouth's Army Up On Saginaw Bay Goes About In Circles

(By The Fish Editor)

It is rather a sad story. It is a story that, besides being cold, wet and dreary, is a true story of a dozen big shot, double barrel duck hunters from Plymouth lost up among the bull rushes, cat-tails, and snake-grass around Saginaw bay.

So, you may know before the end of the story, there were no wild-duck dinners in Plymouth during the early part of the week as had been promised.

Friday afternoon after bankers, doctors, dentists, truck operators, real estate men and representatives of nearly every walk of life, had closed their desks, put away their business and other troubles, there was a steady trek from Plymouth to the waters of Saginaw bay.

First to go were Matt Powell and Bert McKinley whose trophy of big game hunting decorates the walls of the Mayflower hotel. Every noon Matt eats his lunch under the glare of the twinkling glass eyes set in the moose head, and Bert McKinley carted back from the Canadian wilds.

Members of the family table have many times noted that Matt never sits down to eat but what he first takes a glance at the big moose head directly over the end of the table where he sits.

Stanley Corbett one time even hinted that he wondered if Matt didn't worship that old moose head, just like a Chiraman gets his greatest enjoyment when he bows down before a big stone image of something that is supposed to look like the first man that trod this old world.

But, back to the duck hunting trip that was supposed to bring so much joy and delight to a dozen or more Plymouth hunters.

It was dark, stone dark, when Matt and Bert discovered the shore of Saginaw bay up near Sebewaing.

Soon they were joined by Jack Taylor, the only living duck hunter in the world who hunts ducks with a musket. Then came Jake Stremich, who forgot and left his toasted spareribs back home. Doctors and dentists were also there. Dr. Brick Champe, all decked out in knickers, sweaters and wearing his famous deer hunting cap. Dr. Paul Butz and his motion picture machine. Russell Powell with a truck to cart home the results of the "big shoot". William Rambo and his newly decorated decoys. David Bolton. William Downing and some fellow from Northville, who went along to find out how to really get the bag limit of ducks.

"Here's the place," said Matt, as the carloads rolled into the landing at Saginaw bay.

"It isn't quite time to go yet," commented Doc Champe. "But, say, Matt, how far out in the bay is that island you are going to take us to?" asked Doc. "If it's quite some distance, maybe we'd better start right away."

There was held a council of war. Matt said they'd better start as the island where they were going to hunt ducks was quite some distance out in the bay.

The hunters clambered into the boats. Down the channel they pushed their way through the reeds and cat-tails.

Then they reached the bay. They were still among the bull-rushes that had grown man-high above the water.

"Go to the left," said Matt to the boys. So the boats started to the left.

"Now, go to the right," some one said they heard Matt say. So the boats loaded with hunters, shot and shell, turned to the right.

"Are we there yet, Matt?" some one called out.

"Not yet, but soon," said Matt. "Say, Matt, I've been by these same weeds twice before tonight. We're going around in a circle, ain't we?" questioned Bill Rambo.

"Now, we ain't going around in any circle," declared Banker

Taylor, who carried the reserve cash the boys so frequently find they need. "We are headed straight for that island."

"Turn to the left here, boys," said Russell Powell to Dr. Butz. Russ was just helping out Matt in the guiding.

So the boys turned to the left. Again the boys swished down through the snake-grass and cat-tails.

"You can't fool me any more," said Jake. "This is the tenth time we've gone right by this same bunch of cat-tails. We are just rowing around here in circles. I know how spareribs curve."

"The day was breaking in the east. The waves were beginning to roll high. Everybody was wet to the skin.

Matt arose, just like Columbus did back in 1492, and said—"Boys, there's land. That's the island. We are going to land, and get our limit of ducks right here."

Again the boats swished down through the reeds.

"They all got out on shore and looked about.

"Say, Matt, this ain't no island. This is the same place we started from last night," declared Jack Taylor.

"You've fooled me long enough. I knew we were rowing around in circles all the time. Why didn't we let Dr. Butz have Sharpsteen come over and guide us. The opening of the duck season is all over. It's time to go home and we are right back where we started from," wailed the banker in a typical banker wail.

No use to tell the rest of the story. Plymouth's duck hunters didn't bring back many ducks. They didn't, because they got lost among the bull rushes up in Saginaw bay.

Matt still contends that the boys were not lost, that they navigated directly over the island half a dozen times, that the island is there just where he says it was and that he can take them right back to it, if they will go.

But, nobody will go. That's the latest information the editor of the fish column has been able to find out.

Obituary

NATHANIEL J. HUMPHRIES

Nathaniel J. Humphries, age 82 years, who resided at the home of his son Arthur Humphries, of 473 West Cady street, Northville, passed away early Friday evening, October 9. He is survived by four sons and two daughters, Charles E. and George E., both of Plymouth; Arthur of Chicago, Illinois; Arthur of Northville; Mrs. Gladys McMillan of Vancouver, Canada and Mrs. Mae Birch of Plymouth; eight grandchildren and five great grandchildren; one brother, Dan Humphries of West Loren, Canada and two sisters, Mrs. Serena Leslie of London, Canada and Mrs. Mary Miller of Marquette. The body was brought to the Schrader Brothers Funeral home, Plymouth, from which place funeral services were held Monday, October 12, at 2 p. m. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery, Rev. Loya Sutherland officiating.

BERTHA STEVER GUTSCHMIDT

Bertha Stever was born near Berlin, Germany in 1873 and passed away at her home in Detroit Thursday morning, October 8. When a child she, with her parents, came directly to Plymouth where the greater part of her youth was spent, later going to Detroit to live. In 1902 she was united in marriage to William Gutschmidt of Detroit, whose demise occurred four years ago.

To mourn her passing, there remain, her son, Herman C., two step-sons, William Jr., and Edward, seven grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. F. W. Schuett of Marion, Michigan, Mrs. William Calver of Pontiac, Carl H., of Grosse Pointe and Albert F. Stever of Plymouth. Services were held at St. Paul's Lutheran church, interment was made in Gethsemane cemetery.

Amendments Called Vicious

mistake which would have been made.

"There is a second major danger to education, regardless of political party, because it is a tendency which is growing and which if not stopped will become a source of handicap to and destruction of our present public school system.

"The tendency is to build a politically controlled system of education parallel to the public school by meeting the needs which have arisen as the result of the depression. For instance, the nursery school, whose pupils are from the homes of those on welfare or public works projects, in many places bears no relation to the public school system whatever.

"There have been for many years nursery schools for the children of the wealthy and now we have developed in the United States nursery schools for children of the least economically fortunate. It is a fact that when Plymouth had its nursery school that there was spent six times as much per pupil as we were able to spend for our kindergarten or first grade pupils.

"What I want to make very clear is this—that I am not opposed to nursery schools, but I do believe that if we are to have nursery schools in a democracy, they should be available to all the children of all the people and be a part of our educational system, free from politics and under the direction of the U. S. Commissioner of Education (now Dr. Studebaker) and the Department of Public Instruction in Michigan.

"It seems a tragedy to have so little money available for the education of the great middle class and so large an amount of money for educational projects which have arisen as a result of economic necessity.

"Another illustration of the duplicate system of education is the C. C. C. camps which should be more educational than they are now.

"At the present time about all that is accomplished is giving the boy a year in camp with good food, but in no way preparing him for getting a job when he returns from the camp. Also, his parents enjoy an income as a result of his services in camp.

"It has been suggested to the present Administration that instead of running reforestation and road building, they should use at least three other projects in their C. C. C. camps. Namely, for those boys who wish to enter industry after their year in camp, the government should take over an abandoned factory in which it could produce parts, say for the large automobile plants in proportion to their production, and on these parts the C. C. C. boy could acquire in a year a knowledge of the more common machinery used in production.

"For those boys who wish to learn farming, the government should operate sufficient land in which the boy might learn in a year the different operations in farming, including growing crops, harvesting, and selling, along with dairying and stock production.

"It could continue its reforestation plan for those who wished it, and as a fourth project, it should allow the C. C. C. applicants who wanted to take office work to work in the offices of the other three groups under instructors who would help them to acquire the fundamental principles of office practice, including bookkeeping, stenography, typewriting, and the use of the simpler machines used in computation.

"If this system were followed, then a boy returning from camp after a year could present his diploma showing the factory, the farmer, or the business office the course he had pursued in the C. C. C. training camp, and I believe it would be a great aid to him in acquiring a job because he would be definitely fitted to render a specific type of service.

"The present Administration feels that the C. C. C. is a temporary institution, but to me, with the above modifications, it is the most worthy combination of letters that have been assembled since the depression.

"There are today many good boys who are unable to get the opportunity to work (because they will not drift into bad habits and possible crime. There are today 700,000 boys and girls under twenty-one years of age who are definitely living lives of major criminals. I imagine a majority of these boys and girls would never have been criminals had they been given a decent opportunity to learn how to do something for which society would pay them a decent wage in order that they might lead a life of good citizenship.

"I want to say to you that an institution which would offer an opportunity to boys, and later to girls, in fitting them to become factors in our present economic scheme is one which should never be considered a temporary institution.

"Another illustration of the dual development of education in America is the community W. P. A. colleges for adult education, and also adult music and dramatics projects. I want it clearly understood that I am in favor of adult education, in favor of C. C. C. camps, in favor of nursery schools, but I am opposed to placing these educational ventures under a political set-up rather than through the United States Department of Education and the departments of education in the several states.

"If you believe as I do that there are two major threats to our educational system, it will be up to you to help kill amendments three and four on November 3, and also, regardless of what political party comes into power or remains in power, to use your influence in having all the education directed through the departments of education, national and state, and make privileges uniform for all of the children of all of the people, regardless of whether they are the favored, the middle, or the less fortunate class."

Panthers Trounce Rock Eleven 21-0

The River Rouge Panthers, using little more than straight football and sheer strength, overwhelmed the Plymouth Rocks, 21-0, before a rain-soaked crowd at Huer field on Friday, October 9.

The strong team from River Rouge easily whipped the visitors, but that does not signify that Plymouth gave them the game without fight. It was quite the contrary to this as The Rock team gave the Panthers a real battle and for a while in the second quarter it looked as if the Plymouth team would be able to check the strong opposition but their rivals proved to be too strong to keep well in hand. The wet field also proved itself to be a great handicap when the Rock team tried its punting power with which they could have crawled out of many tight holes.

Rouge showed its power from the end. By rushing the Rock line they could easily make their necessary yardage and by a series of the opening of the first quarter to of rushes go to the Plymouth 20 yard line. The victors secured their first touchdown at this point by a successful pass from Poliksa to Cheetam. Wellner carried the ball through Plymouth's line for the extra point. The Rocks were able to hold them for the rest of the quarter and by good running Giles and Innis collected a little yardage which staved off the Panthers.

The Rouge team seemed to lose some of its punch at the second quarter and the Rock backs pushed the line into Red and White territory. This Rock advance was stopped before it became serious, however, and the Rouge boys again took the ball into rival territory by line bucks. The ball was taken over by Wellner for Rouge's second touchdown of the game and Brown, a fast moving negro boy, made the extra point. This score seemed to break the spirit of the Rocks but the Panthers scored no more that quarter. Thus the half ended with Plymouth on the wrong end of the 14-0 score.

The third quarter opened in the rain. The boys had cleaned some of the mud off but after the first play each was as dirty as before. Every one seemed to be playing his hardest although he could not do much. The plays of Rouge were very slippery and the Plymouth boys were forced back to their own goal line where they held for a while but Poliksa of Rouge went driving through the line for a touchdown plus the extra point. The rest of the quarter was even on both sides.

It still rained at the beginning of the last quarter. From then almost to the end the game was very even although Rouge was advancing fast toward the Plymouth goal line. The punts were not carrying over fifteen yards because the field was muddy and the ball wet and soggy. The game ended with the score River Rouge 21, Plymouth 0.

THE COACH COMMENTS

The spirit of the student body in following the football team to River Rouge was the best I have ever seen at a Plymouth game away from home. It rained continually all during the game but the cheering was not the least bit dampened.

K. J. MATHESON, Coach.

CENTRAL NOTES

The kindergarten won the P. T. A. membership contest by obtaining 34 members from 57 children. Forty of the youngsters have received Bunny pins. The morning kindergarten was weighed last week. Both classes have made free hand drawings illustrating a rainy day and have cut out and colored leaves for a blackboard decoration. They have learned two new songs entitled "Pitter Patter" and "Jolly October."

Miss Landon's 1B Cardinal reading class has completed its chart work and is now reading from the pre-primer.

The youngsters in Miss DeWaele's room went on a nature walk last week in search of an oak tree and acorns. They are preparing for Halloween. The girls have finished the curtains for the doll house. In art class the children completed covers for their family booklets.

The 2A children in Miss Weatherhead's room have completed the flower study for that grade while the third graders have still one to study. Group one of the second grade got its new seatwork pads last week and is greatly enjoying the use of them. The pupils have several caterpillars in the room and hope they will spin cocoons. Eugene Campbell brought a large cocoon that he had found on a tree. Vivian Anderson is absent because of illness.

Miss Maunula's and Mrs. Bird's pupils have completed the study of the swallow tail member of that family. The children secured eight P. T. A. members during the contest.

Miss Sly's pupils have decorated their room for Halloween. They have made spelling booklets.

In geography the 4B pupils in Miss Widmayer's room have now proceeded to Philadelphia where they find great interest in its historical value.

The 4A class has left Egypt, where they found the pyramids very interesting and are now on their Mediterranean cruise which takes in Spain, Italy, and Greece. The students have made booklets about Columbus and have completed their flower booklets. Rosamond Busby's Shady Siders are ahead in the 4B spelling contest and the Golden Eagles captained by Richard Reamer are ahead in the 4A class.

Miss Hornbeck's pupils have completed booklets for Columbus Day. The 4A spelling teams are tied, but in the 5B Norma Robinson's team has won every time. The pupils are beginning a project of Indian life in art class. The boys are painting the men and the girls the women. In geography the 4A group is finding its travels in Spain very interesting because of the war there now.

For geography Miss Carr's students have drawn pictures of things they saw on an airplane trip around the United States. They are going to make a stuffed cat of black cloth for a Halloween project in sewing. The pupils have studied the life of Columbus for Columbus Day.

The 5A pupils in Mr. Berridge's room have started their work on the division of fractions. In geography they are studying about China and Japan, while the 6B group is learning new things about Canada every day. In soccer Bill Donovan's Minute Men are leading with four wins and three losses. Donald Keiner's spelling team is leading the spelling contest.

The Danakils are nomadic and fisher tribes that inhabit the northeast coast of Africa.

CLASS NOTES

Miss Hau's 7th grade history class has been making projects about the Indians. B. Erdelyi made a pueblo house of clay with a well and fire place which was quite original. G. Squires and P. Evans arranged an interesting village made of an Indian doll from Yellowstone National park a teepee from St. Ignace and a birch bark canoe near a clear blue lake. A village of Florida Indians, made by D. Schutze was composed of a doll which came from Florida, a pelican and a teepee placed on clear sands near a lake. E. Martin was very unique in his village, having a corn field and an Indian papoose.

Projects in book form were made by some of the class. L. J. Ebert had an interesting book on Indians, and J. Lehman wrote on the Indian customs. Those projects are on display in room 27. Stop in and see how clever they are.

Miss Lovewell's ninth grade English classes are studying "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner."

Miss Keel's 7B first hour hygiene class is studying how our bodies move and work. How they exercise for health, and about muscles and how they serve the body. Next week they will study the food needs of our body.

Miss Hau's 7B sixth hour geography class is studying the Far East, the size of China, its river life, how so many people get a living there, and what China needs. Some of the students have made maps of this country.

Facts About Jobs Of The Class of '36

MR. LATTURE TALKS TO HI Y MEMBERS

Mr. Latture explained parliamentary procedure to the HI Y club in the regular meeting Thursday, October 8. He told about the various forms of motions, amendments, and the order in which they could be carried out. After the explanation the boys experimented with these and practiced making motions. In the business meeting the club discussed the boys ride with the Girl Reserves and about swimming for the boys at the Wayne County Training School.

A survey of last year's graduates has just been completed by Mr. Bentley, vocational guidance teacher at the high school. The purpose of the survey was to find out what has happened to the 1936 graduates since leaving high school. Many interesting facts were revealed as a result of this study.

One of the most startling things uncovered is the fact that six of the fairer sex of the group are married at the present time. We wish them all the happiness in the world on their voyage on the sea of matrimony.

Of the group of 106 graduates 24 have entered the halls of higher learning and we are sure that as a result of this they will be better able to adjust themselves to the complexities of modern civilization. Of this group of 24, seven have entered the University at Ann Arbor, six have entered Michigan State college at East Lansing, one has enrolled at Antioch college in Ohio, three have entered Michigan Normal at Ypsilanti, four have entered Business colleges, one has entered a Chiropractic college, another a school of Cosmetology and one is taking a post graduate course at the high school.

Several of these young men and women graduates have already entered the world of business and we find seven of the group working in various offices; five boys are working in garages and gas stations, two boys are surveyors' helpers, five are working in grocery stores, nine are working in various greenhouses and on farms, 17 of the group are working in the various factories and dairies located in or near town, one is working in a local restaurant, one is working in a newspaper office, six are clerking in stores other than grocery, two are delivering papers, 17 are at home doing various odd jobs and have work, one is learning the plumbing trade, another the plastering trade, one boy felt the desire to defend his country and has joined the army, one has moved away and it was impossible to get in touch with him.

The following table shows these findings summed up as percentages:

Attending universities and colleges	16%
Attending business colleges	4%
All other higher institutions

of learning	3%
Working in offices	7%
Factories and dairies, etc.	16%
Store clerks	10%
Staying at home	16%
Garages and gas stations	5%
Greenhouses and farms	8%
Miscellaneous (odd jobs)	10%
Married	5%

But when he took the fatal step What happened was a smash! The cookie jar had fallen My goodness! What a crash!

Mother then came running With Father right behind. A broken cookie jar and Tommy Was all that they could find.

Written by Elizabeth Matthews for her English class.

Thirty-seven international telephone circuits are in operation.

THE COOKIE JAR DISASTER

"May I have a cookie, Mom?" You hear small Tommy plead. "Please just one cookie, Mom. This small one you don't need."

But mother says, "Not even one." And to go out doors and play. "Aw, just one little cookie, Mom. Then I'll do just as you say."

And now to last mother gives in But says, "Now just take one. And don't come in the house again. Until I get my baking done."

So Tommy takes a cookie. The biggest one he finds. Cause Mother wasn't looking And anyway, she'd not mind.

That evening after Tommy Was supposed to be in bed. He was looking in the kitchen For the cookie jar instead.

So he quietly pulled a chair. Up to the cupboard door. He'd soon have the cookie jar With just one short step more.

STARKWEATHER NOTES

The pupils of the Starkweather school are making a rock garden on the hillside back of the school.

Miss Stuke's students gave a birthday party for Neal Akerlind on his sixth birthday. They had two cakes with candles and favors with candy and sang "Happy Birthday to You." The 1B's are ready for their new primers. They are working on an October story which is illustrated with pictures.

Miss Parmalee's 3B children made a collection of vegetables. The children enjoyed the party which was prepared and served by the room at one long table, the food being raw vegetables and crackers.

The 3A's and 4B's are reading stories about people of many lands. They are particularly interested in the inhabitants of China and Japan.

The 5th graders finished their flower booklets. They are very proud to have a boy from Arkansas and a girl from Kansas in their class.

Miss Bock's 4A's finished their Egypt booklets for geography. The 5B's are studying the Western states. They have a new member in their class, Nora Wefsenmae. The two classes have made a spelling chart, and there is strong competition between the two opposing factions. The winners are to be treated by the losers. The 5B's received some nice exercise postures.

Miss Sparling's 6B geography class made scrapbooks. They also examined a beef joint in hygiene class. The Girl's Handicraft club made pottery. The 6th grade has an excellent collection of fossils.

Miss Stader's second grade has an enrollment of 43 children, 27 in the 2B and 16 in the 2A. They are having a spelling contest which will last all semester. Charles Stewart is leading in the contest, having seven stars to his credit. They went on an educational trip last Monday afternoon when they visited the fire department and also saw the jail where Charles Thumme explained working of the fire engine, and pumps. They saw the firemen's hats, coats, hose, and sleeping quarters, for which the class was grateful. Each child had the pleasure and experience of playing that he was a real fireman. They took turns sitting in a real fireman's seat, and some were given the privilege of ringing the bell. They are very interested in the rock garden project and to which they are contributing plants. They have finished their flower study and are now making flower booklets in which they are describing the three flowers which they have studied—the nasturtium, sunflower, and cosmos.

THE PATSY CHOSEN FOR JUNIOR PLAY

The Junior play for this year will be "The Patsy", a three-act comedy by Barry Comper. The story of the play concerns Patricia Harrington, who runs second with her family, until her father steps in. The announcement of the selection was made by Miss Waldorf, chairman of the Junior class advisors. Tryouts for the ten speaking parts were held in Miss Ford's room Monday, October 7. The cast will include Doris Schmidt, as Patricia Harrington, and Gerald Bordine, Marion Luttemoser, Althea Shoemaker, Jane Taylor, James McClain, Robert West, Genevieve Pinkerton, Howard Ebersoll, and Douglas Miller.

ROCK DEBATERS DIVIDE TILTS

The three Plymouth debate teams contested in a tournament at River Rouge high school Saturday, October 10. Competing in six debates, Plymouth won three and lost three. The affirmative team of Billy Aluia, Lynton Ball, and Tom Brock lost to Flint Northern and Detroit Northern. Florence Norton, Marilyn Holton, and Jewel Starkweather won negative debates from Flint Northern and River Rouge. The other negative speakers, Jeannette Brown, Dorothy Hearn, and Edith Mettetal, won from Flint Central but lost to Royal Oak. From these debates the high school learned that they were far behind many schools in the matter of evidence, material, and general knowledge of the question. However, from this inauspicious beginning Plymouth prospects look bright enough to send the squad into the Michigan High School Forensic Association elimination series.

France is to buy $910,000.00 worth of guns, tanks and other war materials to increase the army's efficiency.

SOCIAL NOTES

Patricia Burton, and Betty Jane Housley gave a surprise party for Phyllis Dickerson last Wednesday in honor of her birthday. Those invited were Orlan Egloff, Don Johnston and Roland Rhead.

Mary Holdsworth, and Pat McKinnon stayed all night with Elizabeth and Astrid Hegge last Friday hiking to the matinee in Plymouth on Saturday.

Miss Waldorf and Miss Fry attended the Fall Festival at the Detroit House of Correction last Saturday.

The Democrat Rally in Jackson held last week was attended by the Misses Lovewell, Hauf, Smith, and Gray.

Lois Schaufele, Mary Katherine Moon, Barbara Olsaver, Belva Barnes, and Jacquelyn Schoof were entertained by Betty Mastick Tuesday evening.

Shirley Sorenson enjoyed seeing Glen Gray at the Michigan Theater Sunday.

Betty Griffith was the week-end guest of Beverly Payne of Detroit last Saturday and Sunday.

Barbara Nutting, Ellen Mulry, and Irene McLeod gave a "tacky party" at the latter's home Saturday night. Those present were Barbara Hubble, Marion Garton, Norma Jean, and Dorothy Roe, Jewel Starkweather, Bob Hudson, Marvin Sackett, George Kenyon, Dick Gillis, Bob Egge, Clark Felton, Jack Birchall, Jacques DeLaurier, Francis Trombley, and Tom Brock. The guests, dressed in old clothes, enjoyed dancing, games, and refreshments.

Lois Schaufele, Mary Katherine Moon, Jacquelyn Schoof, Belva Barnes, Bud Krumm, Bill McAllister, Donald Mielbeck, Ray Martin, Douglas Kalmbach, and Thomas Campton were the guests of Betty Mastick and Barbara Olsaver at a progressive party Saturday night.

Jane Burley spent the week-end with her cousin in Royal Oak.

Irene Granger spent Saturday night with Harriet Ingall, and Harriet stayed with Irene Sunday.

Annabell Brown was entertained at dinner Friday night by Gerald Bordine.

Arlene Ciesielski spent Saturday with Florence Blessing.

The young people of the Presbyterian church enjoyed a Christmas Endeavor meeting at Royal Oak Sunday night.

Mr. Page, athletic coach of Plymouth schools preceding Mr. Matheson, visited in Plymouth Friday. His home is now in Pittsford, east of Hillsdale where he is an insurance agent. Mr. Page is married and has two small children.

SENIORS ACCEPT CONTRACT WITH BALL

For the first time in a number of years seniors of Plymouth high school have arranged to have their class pictures taken by a local photographer. They voted to accept a contract offered by L. L. Ball at a class meeting on Wednesday, October 7. This agreement includes provision for a composite of the class for each pupil as well as a large framed one to be hung on the school wall, a large tinted photograph for each person giving an order amounting to $9.50 senior panels and all pictures for the Plythean made without extra cost, and a special price on small individual pictures suitable for trading. All orders will be filled before Christmas.

Pine salt should be used to clean pearl handled articles, which should then be polished with a chamouis.

GIRL RESERVES BEGIN NEEDLE WORK GUILD TASKS

With the opening of the Needlework Guild season, the Girl Reserves of the high school have offered to help in the making of babies' garments. This year in order to make the work pleasanter the girls in the senior group have been divided into seven divisions so that they might work together evenings. In addition to this a pot luck supper is being planned at which the girls will assemble to complete the sewing.

Suggestions for the forming of interest groups were made by the Senior Girl Reserves last Thursday. The girls appeared to be very interested in organizing these groups for the purpose of learning to knit, crochet, weave, quilt, etc. These groups will also make for more fellowship and sociability within the club. Further plans will be discussed next week.

Dramatizations of some recent articles entitled "Boy Dates Girl" appearing in the Scholastic were given in Miss Tyler's Junior Girl Reserve group.

Needlework Guild Advises About Gifts
The Needlework Guild makes the following suggestions for those who desire to make contributions of garments. Experience has shown the necessity of emphasizing the request that warmth and utility be the first consideration.

Articles most needed for men, women and children are warm outside garments, caps, mittens, dresses, shirts, underwear, stockings, night clothes, sheets, pillow slip, blankets, towels and washcloths.

It has been the pleasure of the Guild to care especially for the children in Plymouth and if you are not already a member of the Guild won't you become one? Membership consists in giving two new articles a year. We need your help. For further details call Mrs. Frank Burrows, 870 Penniman avenue, the Guild president.
