State Officials Coming To Citizens' Banquet Honoring Governor Fitzgerald

Everyone Invited To Hear The Governor and Congressman Dondero Speak Here Saturday, October 31

Arrangements have been nearly completed for the Citizens' banquet to be given in honor of Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald and Congressman George A. Dondero at the Mayflower hotel on Saturday evening, October 31.

The committee in charge wishes it made clear that every one is invited to the dinner, and if one cannot get away in time for the dinner at 6:30, a cordial invitation is extended to both men and women to come down to the Mayflower and hear the addresses of the evening that will immediately follow the dinner at 6:30. Arrangements will be made so that the talks can be heard in the lobby of the hotel as well as in the dining room.

Governor Fitzgerald and Congressman Dondero will be the only two speakers. The address of the congressman will be a brief one, not exceeding ten minutes, so that the time can be given to the governor for his presentation of state problems.

With Governor Fitzgerald, will be several other state officials who have expressed a desire to visit Plymouth. They will be introduced, but will not speak.

Among the group will be Auditor General John J. O'Hara, the only Upper Peninsula resident on either party ticket, Secretary of State Orville Atwood, State Senator John W. Reid, and probably several candidates for various county offices.

Tickets can be secured from Ford Brooks, Leonard Murphy, and the Mayflower hotel. No tickets will be necessary for those who desire to come down to the hotel just to hear the addresses.

Tells Progress Of Aviation

Prominent Aviation Leaders Address Local Rotarians

When the next war comes, it ever does, it will be fought in the night time and it will be fought by aircraft so high in the skies that human beings standing on the earth could not see the crafts hurling death and destruction, even in the daytime.

That is what Plymouth Rotarians were told Friday noon by Captain Fiske Marshall of the Marine Flying corps, who was brought to Plymouth to take part in the club's aviation program that had been arranged by Cass Hough, Plymouth's only aviator.

In addition to Captain Marshall, William Fleten, district manager of the United Airlines, showed motion pictures depicting recent developments in commercial aviation.

"These pictures, some of them made less than a year ago, are already out of date, so rapid is aviation development," said Mr. Fleten.

Captain Marshall also emphasized the tremendous strides being made in aviation, especially as it pertains to military and naval developments.

"Planes that could travel 200 miles in an hour three years ago are now obsolete. Planes used by the navy today must have a speed of more than 225 miles per hour. Our planes are being built smaller, faster and more powerful," he said.

So powerful are some of the new bombs now being produced for warfare purposes that they can destroy a battleship even without making a direct hit," he said.

The motion pictures showing commercial aviation were exceptionally interesting. They pictured the ease with which one can fly from coast to coast and told the story of ever increasing safety in air travel. In fact, air travel is now regarded as more safe than automobile travel.

Plymouth Rotarians were so interested in the two addresses that the meeting ran nearly half an hour longer than its regular time.

Mrs. H. E. May and children of Toledo, Ohio, will be guests of her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Chute, from today until Sunday. Mr. May plans to join them on Sunday for the day.

Business And Professional Women Visit Ann Arbor

On Tuesday of last week the Business and Professional Women's club of Ann Arbor was honored by the visit of Miss Chard Ormond Williams, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs.

In response to an invitation received by the local club a group of Plymouth club members attended a dinner in Miss Williams' honor at the Woman's League building. A very fine talk was given by the National Federation president, throughout which, her personal charm and ability were very apparent. Her message was well worthwhile to all women engaged in the hazardous occupation of earning a living.

About 250 women attended the dinner, representing Business and Professional Women's clubs from Detroit, Wayne, Royal Oak, Mt. Clemens, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Monroe, Jackson, and Plymouth.

Plymouth Gets Famous Movie

"The Great Ziegfeld" Opens Sunday—Here Five Nights

Manager Harry Lush of The Penniman-Allyn theatre has booked for Plymouth the famous musical picture "The Great Ziegfeld" to be shown in this city five nights, beginning Sunday. Because of the exceptional length of the picture, there will be but one showing nightly, beginning at 8 o'clock.

It will be interesting to a number of Plymouth residents who paid $1.50 or $2.00 to see this same picture in Detroit a few months ago to know that the price here is going to be only 35 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

This picture has been acclaimed to be one of the best ever produced.

Famed Singer Here Sunday

Carroll Adams, Former Plymouth Youth To Sing At M. E. Church

A former Plymouth boy, of whom the city is justly proud, will be heard here on Sunday when Carroll P. Adams, of Detroit comes to the local Methodist church as soloist of the morning services.

Mr. Adams was born in Plymouth, the son of Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Adams and received the early part of his education in the Plymouth school.

After a number of years as a practicing physician here, Dr. Adams moved his family to Northampton, Mass., where Carroll was graduated from high school in 1911. In 1915, he graduated from the University of Michigan and settled in Detroit, where he has since lived.

Mr. Adams has taken an active and prominent part in the musical life of Detroit for a number of years and he possesses one of the finest baritone voices in the city. He is the president of the Orpheus club of Detroit, the largest and oldest singing organization in Detroit, and which is composed of men, each of whom must be a soloist of ability to be eligible for membership.

For two years Mr. Adams sang from station WJR as staff baritone and he has been soloist in many of the Detroit churches, holding that position for over two years at the Messiah Episcopal church, for five years at St. Joseph's Episcopal, two years at Covenant Presbyterian, and two years at First Congregational church.

For many years, Mr. Adams' mother was one of the best loved soloists in Plymouth and sang in the Methodist church here. She was also president of the Woman's club of Plymouth in 1900-1902. She now lives in Orange, N. J.

It is hoped that many former friends of Mr. Adams and his family will be present to enjoy his singing Sunday morning.

Mrs. M. J. O'Conner, organist, will be Mr. Adams' accompanist.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Witter attended the Michigan State football game and homecoming Saturday in Lansing.

Police Chief Talks To Boys And Girls of City

He Asks You To Watch For Halloween Party Announcement

"This is Chief of Police Vaughn Smith speaking to the boys and girls of Plymouth!

"Boys and girls—I just want to tell you in the beginning that Plymouth has the best behaved lot of boys and girls of any city of its size in the country, especially when it comes to Halloween time.

"You know that Halloween is getting near again. In fact, there are some boys and girls who think it is here already. Well, it is not until Saturday night of next week and we want you to wait.

"But, because Halloween comes on a Saturday night, it is going to be impossible for us to give you our customary party on that night.

"All we ask you to do, is wait until you read next week's issue of The Plymouth Mail. That will tell you our plans in full for the party we plan for this year.

"Now, boys and girls, please do NOT do anything which will in any way mar your good record. We give you this party each year because of your fine spirit of cooperation. Wait, boys and girls for the good news of next week. Meanwhile, keep up the good work, and you will be rewarded. Ask Mother and Daddy to remind you each evening of this request. We are all working together to keep this a city of the best boys and girls in Michigan."

May Leave Here

Rev. Hoenecke Gets Invitation To Wisconsin Church

At a meeting of the congregation of the Lutheran church to be held on Tuesday evening, October 27, it will be decided whether the church will release Rev. Edgar Hoenecke to a new pastorate at Rhineland, Wisconsin, where he has received a call to serve a much larger church.

He is spending the coming Sunday in the northern part of Wisconsin with the church congregation that has extended him an urgent invitation to come and serve as its pastor.

Plymouth residents who know Rev. Hoenecke well are hopeful that his church members in Plymouth can prevail upon him to stay. He has a large circle of friends both within and outside of his church in Plymouth.

Woman's Club At Greenfield

Sight Seeing Trip To Village Provides Pleasant Afternoon

Friday, October 16, was Sight-seeing day for the Woman's club of Plymouth. The members met at the Hotel Mayflower at 1 p.m. After a brief business meeting there were five cars of members who went to Greenfield village and to the Greenfield museum. Mrs. Warren Worth was chairman for the day.

The next meeting is on November 6 and is Music day.

Dorothy Kemp Roosevelt of Birmingham will be the guest pianist and a very interesting afternoon is planned with Mrs. M. J. O'Conner as chairman, assisted by Mrs. W. S. McAllister, Mrs. Maxwell Moon, Mrs. M. A. Woodworth, Miss Marian Beyer, Mrs. Donald Sutherland, Miss Mabel Spicer, Mrs. William Baker and associate member Mrs. Edson O. Huston. Tea will be served by the committee.

Woman Killed Sunday In Auto Crash

Mrs. William Fink Victim of Collision Near Wayne

Mrs. William Fink, 46 years old, who resided with her husband in an apartment at 168 Hamilton avenue, was instantly killed Sunday afternoon while she was driving to Wayne with her husband. In a collision with another car at the corner of Wayne and Warren roads, she was so terribly injured that she died within a short time after the crash in the General hospital at Wayne where she was taken.

Two Detroiters in the other car were slightly injured. The car was crushed but not seriously hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. Fink came to Plymouth early last summer from Milan and have made their home in part of the house owned by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brown on Hamilton. Mr. Fink has been employed in the foundry at Northville.

The body of Mrs. Fink was removed from Detroit to their old home in Milan where the funeral was held Thursday afternoon.

The husband and a married son living in Milan survive. Mr. Fink states that he does not plan to return here to live, but will return to his old home in Milan where the family lived for nearly 20 years before coming to Plymouth early in the summer.

D. A. R. Lives Over Olden Days

Celebrates Michigan's Centennial Anniversary

The October meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held at the home of Mrs. John C. Root on Ann Arbor Trail, Monday afternoon. After a short business meeting, conducted by the regent, Mrs. Sidney Strong, the chairman of the program committee, Mrs. J. M. Bennett introduced the two oldest, as well as cleverest members of the chapter, Mrs. Carmen Root and Mrs. Levi Eaton, who took full charge of the afternoon's program.

Mrs. R. H. Reck, as an opening number, read some interesting incidents from the life of Salmon Kingsley, Jr., an ancestor of Mrs. Athalie Hough Archibald, who had written the paper.

Then Mrs. Root and Mrs. Eaton put on a skit, which they called, "Things I remember," portraying the lives of early American ladies, calling upon one another. Mrs. Root wearing a gown of black ribbed silk with beads, preserved from the early years of 1800, while Mrs. Eaton wore a lovely New York creation of brown satin she had had 54 years.

In reminiscing, each of the ladies told of the political battles at the time of Lincoln, how they used to have big torch-light parades in which the tallow from the candles dripped over the boys carrying them; the heartaches during the Civil war and then finally the joyous news of Lee's surrender, which was followed so soon by the saddening news of Lincoln's assassination. Then in a few years came Woman Suffrage and the great leader for women's rights, Susan B. Anthony, whose picture we now have on our postage stamps.

This unusual meeting was picturesque in many ways, as several of the members were there dressed in clothes of the early days with beautifully draped taffetas, satins and ribbed silks, old fashioned wrappers, hoop skirts, black net with the tight basque effect, mits and jaunty bonnets tied under the chin with satin ribbons.

In her home, Mrs. Root had carefully arranged a display of antiques, relics and keepsakes, among which were samplers, old dresses, bonnets and night caps. Many of these belonged to the hostess, although many members also contributed.

With the colonial ladies as an atmosphere and a background of the treasures of olden days, a serving of sweet cider, doughnuts and bright red apples, by the hostess, the whole meeting teemed of the early American days and brought to the chapter the full significance of the Michigan Centennial.

Stag Day Plans For Country Club Complete

William Choffin stated today that all arrangements had been made for the Stag Day at Plymouth Country club to be held next Thursday, October 29th. Several tournaments have been arranged and a day of fun is expected by those who have already purchased their tickets. Meals will be served gratis to all those who attend.

Minstrel Show At St. Michael's

Something Different Planned For Eve of Nov. 1st

All arrangements have been completed and rehearsals are taking place regularly for the first minstrel show of its kind ever attempted by members of St. Michael's church, to be held in the church house at 8:15 on Sunday evening, November 1.

Rufus and Mandy of radio station WJR are perfecting the choral work of the event, to be known as "Minstrel Melodies".

It is something entirely different, something entirely new and its sponsors believe that it will be one of the most interesting occasions held in Rosedale Gardens.

Besides Rufus and Mandy, Jack Perkins, an old time trooper, will take part as end man and tenor soloist.

Others to appear on the program are Irma Hahn, soprano; Jack Beatty, baritone; Sophie Karaboo, contralto; Emily Kalen, soprano; Miss Greenberg, blues singer; Child Trio, mixed voices; John Rafferty, boy soprano; King Nester, tenor; Ambrose Wolzak, child soprano; Carl Sobie, inter-locutor; Leo J. Carey, Scotch melodist and the Rosedale octet.

The ladies have, in the church this week, a display of mission goods that is attracting more than ordinary interest among the church members.

Population Now 5590

Unofficial Check Shows Rapid Growth of Plymouth

According to a check just made by Postmaster Frank Learned for the postal authorities in Washington, the population of Plymouth is now 5590.

This is an increase of over 1000 people residing in this city since the last official census was taken in 1930, when the exact population was 4484.

In 1910, the official population of Plymouth was 1690. In 1920, it was 2867 and in 1930 it had gone to over 4400.

The postoffice check was carefully made and compares favorably with other population estimates made recently.

Of this total of 5590, the American born population of Plymouth is 5255, foreign born, 336 and colored, nine.

Few communities in Michigan show such a rapid growth as Plymouth in recent years. It is predicted by those who have carefully watched local developments that the official census of 1940 will show a population of much more than 7000 providing the present ratio of growth is maintained.

Festival At Salem Tonight

The annual Harvest Festival will be held in the dining room of the Federated church in Salem on the evening of Friday, October 23, beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

A roast beef supper will be served, followed by an auction of farm produce, canned goods and quilts. Mrs. George Roberts and Mrs. Sarah Stanbro are on the reception committee, and Mrs. William Scott and Mrs. Donald Grainger have charge of the dining room. Mrs. Glen Whitaker will direct the kitchen activities and Mrs. Asa Whipple and Miss Mable Cline-Smith are soliciting products.

Ray Johns, member of the state staff of the Y. M. C. A. has been in Cincinnati, Ohio, part of the week, attending a conference of that organization.

All Candidates on State Democratic Ticket Will Be Here For Big Rally Tuesday Night

Plymouth Democratic Committee Has Completed Plans For Meeting In High School Auditorium, October 27th

Plymouth voters will, Tuesday evening, October 27, at 7:30 o'clock, have the opportunity to see and hear all of the candidates on the Democratic state ticket. The Plymouth Mail having been advised of this news late Wednesday.

In addition to Frank Murphy, who has once before spoken in Plymouth, Congressman Prentiss Brown, Democratic candidate for United States senator, will be the other main speaker on the program.

But it is announced that possibly all of the candidates will make brief talks.

The list of prominent visitors in addition to these two includes Leo J. Nowicki, candidate for lieutenant governor, Bert D.

Chandler, candidate for justice of the supreme court; Leon D. Case, candidate for secretary of state; Theodore Fry, candidate for state treasurer; George T. Gundry, candidate for auditor general; Raymond W. Starr, candidate for attorney general; and Draper Allen, candidate for congress.

Plymouth Democrats hope to make this rally the largest they have ever held in Plymouth. They have invited every one to be present at the school and hear these prominent political leaders of their party discuss the issues of the present campaign.

The local committee in charge extends to every one a cordial invitation to be present and hear the addresses at the high school on Tuesday evening.

Cub Scouts To Be Presented With Charter Next Tuesday Evening

Next Tuesday evening is going to be an outstanding day for the Cub Scouts of Plymouth for at that time they are going to be presented with their charter at the Kiwanis club meeting to be held in the Mayflower hotel.

Scout Master Ernest Henry of the troop states that the youngsters are looking forward to the event with more than ordinary interest. The evening promises to be an outstanding one for Kiwanis members too, as it has been through their sponsorship, that the Cub Scouts have been organized in Plymouth.

"We are going to have some splendid music, with a number of well known singers coming to assist us in the program," states the pastor.

A most cordial invitation is extended to men to attend the dinner, even though they are not members of the church.

Two Geese Shot On Bay By Wm Rambo

William Rambo, who made another duck hunting trip to Saginaw bay during the early part of the present week, returned home with two geese that he had the good fortune to shoot. They were not large, he states, but to shoot a goose is something any hunter is pleased to do. He also was fortunate enough to get a few duck on this trip.

Friends of Former Days Have Re-Union At Jolliffe Home

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jolliffe was the scene of a happy gathering of old friends Sunday, when Roy Armstrong of San Gabriel, Cal., Charles Riggs of Venice, Cal., Charles Hubbard, Harry Armstrong, Ernest Gentz and Jerry Shaw of Detroit and E. V. Jolliffe, Ray Smith, John J. McLaren, of Plymouth, were their dinner guests.

The time was mostly spent in looking at old photographs and in reminiscing of days when they were all Plymouth lads, six of them being members of the champion baseball team in Plymouth in 1903 and 1904, and eight on the football team in days of yore.

Ernest Gentz, Charlie Riggs, Perry Shaw and E. V. Jolliffe were of the class of '03, John McLaren and Charlie Hubbard of '05, Ray Smith and Robert Jolliffe of '06 and Harry Armstrong of '14.

The boys enjoyed this "get-together" so much that they plan to organize and meet once a year. Some of the guests had not seen each other in thirty years. What a day, no one but the boys themselves can appreciate what the generous hospitality of "Bob" and Mrs. Jolliffe, meant to them.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Vosburgh and children, Yvonne and Connie Kay, of Penton, and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers spent Sunday afternoon in Deerfield, Livingston county.

Miss Fannie Kurtz, who had visited her sister, Mrs. Roy Fisher, and family, also other relatives, for a week, returned to her home in Petoskey Saturday.

Chandler, candidate for justice of the supreme court; Leon D. Case, candidate for secretary of state; Theodore Fry, candidate for state treasurer; George T. Gundry, candidate for auditor general; Raymond W. Starr, candidate for attorney general; and Draper Allen, candidate for congress.

Plymouth Democrats hope to make this rally the largest they have ever held in Plymouth. They have invited every one to be present at the school and hear these prominent political leaders of their party discuss the issues of the present campaign.

FROM ONE WHO KNOWS

Recently The Plymouth Mail published two editorials dealing with election problems. One editorial advocated the complete abolition of the convention system of nominating candidates for public office and giving to the voters the right to name ALL candidates for state offices. The other editorial in The Mail declared the time had come for absolute secrecy in the primary election ballot, a system of balloting so air-tight that even election board members could not know the party ticket that the elector had voted. Many good American voters have lost their jobs as a result of the present system, it was pointed out in the editorial.

The Plymouth Mail was happily surprised two or three days ago to receive a letter of approval to both ideas from Myles F. Gray, veteran clerk of the house of representatives in Lansing and without question one of the best posted men in Michigan on elections and legislative matters. The letter will be of especial interest to older readers of The Plymouth Mail because Mr. Gray was for many years publisher of this paper in the long ago—and he gave to Plymouth as good a newspaper as published anywhere in the state. It was Mr. Gray who sold the paper to F. W. Samsen and who has always regretted the transaction that took him from Plymouth.

"It is my desire to commend you for bringing out into the open what a great many people believe in," he writes.

His letter, in which he approves The Mail's recommendation that nomination of candidates by convention be abolished and in which he suggests a way for a secret primary ballot, follows:

"I have recently read in The Plymouth Mail two editorials which I can heartily agree with in the main, especially the one relating to the nomination and election of party candidates at state conventions. I am absolutely opposed to the method of any one man, or group of men, saying who shall be the candidates of any party to be nominated at a convention. While you have suggested a way out of such conditions, I could very easily agree with the proposition to repeal entirely the primary system, and place all nominations in conventions. But I certainly have no objections whatever to correcting the abuse by making all nominations in the primaries.

"The matter of placing all party tickets on one ballot in a primary I cannot agree with. We must have two distinct parties at least, and I am not in sympathy with any method that will permit of anyone belonging to one party having the opportunity to vote to nominate candidates in another party. If such a law made it possible we would soon find that a method had been provided to 'gang up' on the candidates of one party to the advantage of the other, and it makes no difference which party may be 'ganged up' it would have to suffer the consequences.

"On the other hand I am also opposed to the system that requires a person to call for a certain party ballot and have that fact made a record in the clerk's office. But to my mind that is a minor defect that can very easily be cured.

"For instance: Eliminate the necessity of initialing the perforated corner of the ballot, and in its place number each party ballot from 1 up. Take the republican ballots and number them from 1 up on the perforated corner; then take the democratic ballots and number them from 1 up on the perforated corner, and any other party ballots to be numbered in the same way. Then when a voter comes to vote he may ask for any party ballot he desires. He is given the ballot say numbered 42, regardless of whether it may be a republican, democrat or some other party. His name is then entered on the poll book with the ballot number opposite his name, so that when he has marked his ballot he must hand to the election inspector the ballot numbered as entered in the poll book. The inspector then tears off the perforated corner and the ballot is deposited in the ballot box, and thus all record and all evidence is destroyed as to the party ballot he voted. It's the fact that a record is made of the party ticket one calls for that is objected to, and anything that will eliminate that is quite desirable. I do not mean to imply that the numbering of ballots would absolutely protect the voter, it would simply protect him from a record being made. Personally, I do not see any reason or sense in presenting any condition that would require any record whatever being made. While it is true that in some precincts there might be three or four times as many ballots cast for one party than for some other party, that of itself would permit of identifying the kind of ballot one voted by the larger number opposite his name. The only reason why I suggested the numbering in the manner stated, is the fact that they could be numbered at the same time they are printed. I think there is some method that could be adopted to prevent the recording of the party with a voter's name, but if all parties are printed on the same ballot we will have more destroyed voided ballots than we ever had because of the insistence of voters voting on more than one party ticket. And I am sure that no one wants republicans voting for democratic candidates, or vice versa....

However, I am pleased to note your interest in the matter, and I sincerely hope that you will have an opportunity to carry into effect some method to correct the present abuses at both conventions and primaries."

WRONG, DEAD WRONG.

The Detroit News is barking up the wrong tree when it advocates the passage of amendment No. 2. Maybe it would be a good thing for Detroit politicians, but people who live in Wayne county outside the city of Detroit have not yet reached the senile age when they believe that the administration of their township, community and city affairs would be better under a Detroit controlled board than it is at present. True, it will be necessary for the people living outside the city of Detroit to approve any proposed change in county government before it could be "put over", but why give Detroit politicians a chance to even take the first step towards a so-called charter form of government for the county. We, in Plymouth, Northville, Wayne, Dearborn, Belleville and elsewhere outside the city of Detroit might just as well give up every civic right we have as to vote in favor of this amendment. The Detroit News generally stands for clean, progressive government, but it certainly is off on the wrong foot on this question.

A SENSIBLE LETTER.

The editor of The Plymouth Mail does not ordinarily pay much attention to anonymous letters, but there was one that came to the office the other day that asked such a sensible question, we have wondered why the writer did not sign his name to it.

The letter, in full, follows: Editor, Plymouth Mail:

In your issue of October 9th, you reprint a timely statement of fact by Mr. Van Koevring from the Zeeland Record: "The more a man can produce for himself in a day, the more he has, and the same is true for the nation as a whole. Labor is best off with a policy of diligence and plenty. We should be satisfied with our industrial system." But I suppose, like the Townsend idea, this is too simple for great (?) minds to comprehend.

Now, as to the "model" civil service bill being pushed for all it is worth by certain interests; are you for it 100% or do you reserve your right, if elected, to study the whole question thoroughly on your own initiative? This bill was drawn up by a committee of experts—professors. They are sincere, no doubt, and are well qualified to teach their respective theories. But, I, for one, would be inclined to give more weight to the judgment of men who have had to meet payrolls as to how to organize the state's business. What do you say?

CONSTANT READER.

In answer to the question, let it be stated that the editor of The Plymouth Mail has long favored civil service. But for one to say that he favors the bill that has been drafted by a special committee selected to study the question, without at first making a thorough study of the recommendations, would put one in the "yes" man class or brand him as one who does not do any thinking for himself.

In an exceedingly hasty glance through the measure, we have already detected one clause that needs a lot of explanation as to its intent.

That clause says, "The commission may also join or subscribe to any association or service, having as its purpose the interchange of information relating to the technique of personnel administration."

From the outside looking in, it appears very much as if some one had written a "joker" into the proposed law. Does that clause mean that the proposed civil service commission can PAY TAXPAYERS' MONEY to some association for "information" about civil service or PAY MONEY to some "association" or "service" for information "relating to the technique of personnel administration"? It is a rather dangerous looking clause as it stands.

In reply to the letter to the editor of The Plymouth Mail by "Constant Reader" we will say without the slightest hesitation that we favor a civil service law that has no jokers in it, we favor a civil service law that will provide protection to competent and COURTEOUS employees of the state who have given many years of their lives to public service and we favor a civil service law that makes COURTEOUS TREATMENT OF THE PUBLIC, the most important part of any "rating" set-up that may be devised.

To the personal knowledge of the editor of The Mail there are very many, many old time employees of the state government who have been retained through the various Republican and Democratic administrations, who should be given a bit more protection than the proposed bill provides.

Any man or woman who has worked for wages or a salary knows how difficult it is for one about the age of 40 to find a job, no matter how competent or how efficient they might be.

We do not know how many men or women there are in the service of the state or its various institutions who are 40 years of age or older, but we do know that there are many. A large number of these people have spent the best part of their lives working for the public. To kick them out now would be to just add that many more people in middle life to the unemployed ranks.

The right kind of a civil service bill should give protection to the older COMPETENT AND COURTEOUS employees of the state.

Yes, the editor of The Mail has long advocated civil service for Michigan, but we never have advocated and do not propose to support any sort of a measure which carries with it a joker of any kind or that does not provide just protection for the high type, COURTEOUS and efficient employees of state departments or institutions, such as one might find in the state library at Lansing, for instance.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

PRETTY GOOD ADVICE.

Constitutional amendments should be approached with caution, and proposed changes, particularly revolutionary ones, should be deferred pending much thought and consideration. A safe rule on all these amendments is to vote "No" unless you are thoroughly satisfied as to the merits of the proposed change.

Perhaps the best policy is to vote "No" on these amendments if no other reason than to discourage the promiscuous and perilous practice of attempting to amend the constitution on snap judgment and the "rule of mobocracy."—William Gansfield in The Livingston County Republican-Press.

DON'T USE TREES

With no little disgust, residents throughout the city are complaining about the practice of campaign workers in lacking up signs on trees. In all fairness to the candidates themselves it should be said that they are not entirely to blame. Over-anxious aides forget conversation and everything else in their rush to put their champion's name in as many places as possible.

There is only one way to prevent this mistake and that is to have candidates and their respective campaign managers to instruct every worker not to post signs on trees.—William Klamser in The Dearborn Press.

QUACKERY IN WELFARE PROPAGANDA

We noted in many of our exchanges last week a news release from welfare headquarters showing how small a share of relief expense was borne by property owners of the 83 counties in Michigan. We received the same release but did not print it, for the reason that it was so misleading. The first line read, "How much does the cost of relief in Michigan cost the Michigan taxpayers?" And farther on it said: "Had local communities been forced to pay the entire bill, the cost to property tax payers would have been increased 145 per cent." Our point is that the Michigan taxpayer is by no means the property taxpayer alone, but the whole people who pay sales tax or any other form of taxes, and the taxpayer is not especially relieved from welfare costs because the money is taken from him in some other form than through a property tax. As a matter of fact, eight mills of every dollar spent by anyone in Michigan for commodity purchases went to pay the State's share of the bill. We approve of welfare relief in times of stress or any other time, provided it is honestly and rightly administered, but let us not be mistaken about a tax being a tax whether it is on real estate or upon what you buy to eat or wear.—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

ONE-MINUTE BIOGRAPHIES of MICHIGAN GOVERNORS and their ACCOMPLISHMENTS

By Elton R. Eaton

FRED M. WARNER

No. 24
Governor of Michigan for three successive terms was the record of Fred M. Warner. No other previous executive of the state ever gained that distinction. But that is not all, Fred M. Warner was the only foreign born governor Michigan ever had. He was born in Hickling, Nottinghamshire, England, July 21, 1865. His parents came to this country when he was but three months old. It was only a short time later that his mother died. Hon. P. D. Warner of Farmington, Michigan adopted the boy.

When only 14 years old he was graduated from the Farmington high school. He attended the Agricultural college for one term, returning to Farmington to become a clerk in his father's store. He displayed business ability and the store was soon turned over to him.

In 1889 he established a cheese factory, and later started others about the state. There were twelve big cheese factories in Michigan that were operated by the former governor at one time. He was twice elected to the state senate from his district and bore the distinction at one time of being the youngest member of the state senate. He served nearly a score of years as a member of the village board of Farmington, and was seven times elected president of the village.

In 1900 he was elected secretary of state and held that office for four years. He was also the youngest secretary of state Michigan ever had.

In 1904 he was nominated for governor and served three terms. Governor Warner, always interested in farm products, established a binder twine factory in Jackson prison, forced down the prices on this product and saved to the farmers of Michigan hundreds of thousands of dollars. His effort to induce the legislature to establish a binder twine factory was bitterly opposed. So beneficial did the establishment of this plant prove, that it resulted in the state, in more recent years, placing many other industries within the prisons to be operated by convicts.

It was during his last administration that Michigan adopted its primary election law.

SHADE WITH WHITE LINING
Scientifically designed to give maximum efficiency, this shade has a white (or very light) lining which reflects light instead of absorbing it. A wide opening at both top and bottom permits plenty of light to diffuse throughout the room.

A modern floor lamp has all of them!

It has been proved by countless tests that for easy, comfortable seeing—and the protection of your eyesight—you need 25 to 30 footcandles of light for reading, writing, and other ordinary seeing tasks. The average lamps in your home furnish probably 5 to 10 footcandles. Under present-day standards of lighting, ALL OF YOUR LAMPS may be out-of-date! This does not mean that you should discard them. But why not supplement them with a modern new 3-light lamp... one with all the proven advantages shown above? ## METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

F. Ray Norton, pastor
10:00 a.m. Morning worship.
11:30 a.m. Sunday school.
7:00 p.m. Epworth League.

Saturday of this week the Epworth League go on a pilgrimage to the Old People's Home at Chelsea. They will leave the church at 9:30. All those wishing to go with them, young or old, should be at the church at 9:30. Those who can drive are asked to notify the pastor.

At the morning service on Sunday the Rev. W. H. Young, pastor of the Methodist church of Adrian, Michigan will be the guest preacher. Mr. Young and Mr. Norton are exchanging pulpits for the day, Mr. Norton being a former pastor of the Adrian church.

Next week Thursday night, October 29, the teacher training classes of the Northville and Plymouth school will come to the Methodist church in Plymouth for its sessions, and will remain here for the three Thursdays yet to run.

The roller skating program continues each Monday, Wednesday and Saturday nights from 7:00 to 11:00.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Loya Sutherland, minister
Subject next Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock, "Echoes and Re-Echoes." Our great Centennial convention is now on in Detroit. What wonderful things have been and are being wrought by the poor of God through the church. The service next Sunday will not just be a report—it will stir the heart of every Christian to know that His work moves on.

Bible school at 11:15.
Young People's meeting at 6:00.
The evening service of song and praise will help you. The pastor will speak.

Our Men's Fellowship suppers begin this next Monday night. It will be different, if you miss it, well, you are just the loser. Don't forget next Monday night, the 26th at 6:30, the supper and then the program and address. Our speaker is Dr. Drury Martin of Lansing. Dr. Martin is a member of the State staff of the Michigan Baptist convention. No man is more loved by all our churches and his message will be right from the shoulder. His subject is "Co-operating for Christ and the Church." Music will be furnished by musicians from Pontiac.

Mid-week service Wednesday evening at 7:30.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Walter Nichol, pastor
Services at Masonic Temple.
10:00 a.m.—Worship.
11:30 a.m.—Sunday school.
6:30 p.m.—Young people.

The superintendent of the Sunday school is grateful for the support of an excellent staff of teachers and officers and teachers are pleased to note the fine attendance at the classes.

Next Sunday evening the young people are to meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hills, 249 Blunk Ave., at 6:30 p.m. The committee in charge of the meeting has arranged a special worship service to be followed by a discussion of religious problems for young people.

The Mission Study class will meet at the Masonic Temple on Tuesday, October 27, at 8:30 p.m. A committee of which Mrs. William Kaiser is chairman will prepare the supper for which the class members will be charged 25 cents. After the supper an excellent program will follow.

ST. PAUL'S EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH

Livonia Center
O. J. Peters, pastor

No services in this church on Sunday, October 25, on account of the congregational conference of this district convening at Saline from 3 to 5 p.m. All our members are invited to this conference at Saline. Let's make up our minds now to attend.

NAZARENE CHURCH

Robert North, pastor
Bible school—10:00.
Morning worship—11:15.
Young service—5:30.
Evening service—7:30.
Prayer meeting, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

"Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these: adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the Kingdom of God." (Gal. 5: 19-21)

The Bible gives us a dark picture of the unregenerate heart. Truly the heart of man is sinful and desperately wicked without the regenerating and purifying grace of the Lord Jesus Christ. Sin in the heart of the Christian is just as black as it is in the heart of the devil. God hates sin but loves the sinner and will cleanse the heart completely from all sin if we will come and make a complete surrender to Him. A warm welcome to all, 280 N. Main street.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

Sunday morning service, 10:30.

Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00.

"Probation After Death" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 25.

Among the Bible citations is the following (Job 5: 17): "Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth: therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 323): "Through the wholesome chastisements of Love, we are helped onward in the march towards righteousness, peace, and purity, which are the landmarks of Science."

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

Richard W. Neale, pastor
Each Sunday there are visitors at Calvary. If you long for fellowship in a friendly, Bible church, we invite you to visit Calvary this Sunday. There's peace and joy where Christ is the light.

The pastor preaches both services Sunday: 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. In the evening the theme of the message will be, "Men Love Darkness," taken from the gospel of John. Without the Lord Jesus Christ there is no light in the soul.

On Wednesday evenings we meet at 7:30 for prayer and fellowship. God is definitely answering prayer in the lives of His people. Come and share the blessing of this service.

The Young People's Fellowship invites you to a cottage prayer meeting this Friday evening at 7:30, to be held at the home of Mrs. William Willmore on Wayne Road. All interested will meet at the church at 7 o'clock.

HOME OWNERS' LAST 'OPEN SEASON'

FOR HOME IMPROVEMENTS UNDER FHA MODERNIZATION LOANS

【 Title I of FHA Modernization Loans Expires April 1, 1937 】

NOW is the time to make home improvements which will mean added comfort and happiness throughout the entire year. Winter is not far distant—and Summer will come again. This bank welcomes FHA loans for the installation of heating plants, oil burners, stokers, insulation and air-conditioning units. You will find an FHA loan to your liking because it is discounted at 5% per annum in amounts of $100 to $2,000 or more. It may run as long as three years, and may be repaid in convenient monthly deposits. The Government's guarantee of such loans eliminates the need for co-makers, endorsers, mortgages, and service fees. A mortgage on your property does not interfere with your FHA loan.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riggs, who have been visiting relatives and friends in Plymouth and Detroit since September 11, will leave today, enroute to their home in Venice, Cal. Several functions have honored Mr. and Mrs. Riggs during the past week. Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson entertained them at luncheon and dinner on Thursday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Bartlett at bridge Monday evening, having three tables and on Thursday Mrs. William Kaiser invited eight guests for a luncheon-bridge in honor of Mrs. Riggs. They have been the guests of honor at many other affairs given by friends and relatives during their visit in Michigan and greatly appreciate everything done for them. They have enjoyed being here but prefer to live in California.

The October meeting of the American Legion auxiliary held last Friday was preceded by a potluck luncheon. The following appointments were made for the coming year: Child Welfare and Floral chairman, Mrs. Gladys Ryder; sewing chairman, Mrs. Hilda Barnes; Americanism chairman, Mrs. Alma Moyer; publicity, Mrs. Cicely Evans. The November meeting will be held at 8 o'clock on November 20, after which refreshments will be served by the following committee, Mrs. Moyer, Mrs. Ryder and Mrs. Ida Thomas.

Mrs. John A. Miller has received word from her cousin, Ted Osborn, of Los Angeles, Cal., whom she and her family visited last summer while on a visit to the coast, that he has been given the part of Peyton Randolph in the two-reel picture, "Give Me Liberty", recently made by Warner Brothers' studio. Mr. Osborn has for some time been a star spot on the Hollywood Hotel program but this will be his first opportunity to act in motion pictures.

A very pleasant surprise was given Mrs. Forest Smith Sunday by a few relatives, the occasion being in celebration of her birthday. The guests arrived in time for dinner, bringing a supply of good things to eat, with them. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Strong and Gilbert Strong of Ypsilanti, and Mr. and Mrs. John Beyer of Rosedale Gardens were the guests.

The members of the Liberty bridge club enjoyed a luncheon and theatre party in Detroit Wednesday. Those attending were Mrs. Forest Smith, Mrs. Harvey Springer, Mrs. James Riley, Mrs. J. J. Stremich, Mrs. Charles Fleming, Mrs. Anthony Signorilli, Mrs. Gus Ebert and Miss Ruby Drake.

The Plymouth Dancing Assemblies, sponsored by the following group of ladies, Mrs. Warren Worth, chairman, Mrs. Austin Whipple, Mrs. Edward Eckert, Mrs. Ray Johns, Mrs. Seth Virgo and Mrs. P. W. Carley, plan to have the first of a series of three parties on Friday, October 30, in the Masonic temple. The other parties will be held on November 20 and December 11.

Mrs. J. L. Hamilton of Denver, Colorado, was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Chute from Wednesday until Saturday of last week. On Saturday, Miss Beth Hamilton of Buffalo, N. Y., and W. H. Hamilton of Battle Creek joined them for dinner. Later that evening Mrs. Hamilton and Miss Hatch left for the latter's home in Buffalo.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Draper and her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kohler, of Northville, attended a gathering in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Allen in Detroit, in celebration of their birthdays. There were brothers and sisters and their wives and husbands, all present totaling 23. At 6:30 Mrs. Allen served a very appetizing supper.

The Saturday evening dinner group, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilder, Mr. and Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Olin, Mr. and Mrs. John Blossom, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Strong and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Cowgill, enjoyed dinner Saturday evening at the Hillside barbecue, after which they re-organized the club at the latter's home on west Ann Arbor trail.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Green had the pleasure of entertaining a company of friends in their home Thursday evening, October 15, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riggs of Venice, Cal. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Draper, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Vealey, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Bartlett of this city and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kohler of Northville.

Bruce Besse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Besse, celebrated his fifth birthday Friday by entertaining 12 of his friends for the afternoon. Games were played and delicious refreshments served which the children greatly enjoyed. Bruce received several gifts in honor of his birthday.

Mrs. E. A. Kimmell, Miss Florence Littler and Mrs. Lucy Baird left by motor Monday morning for the latter's home in Vero Beach, Florida. They plan to visit relatives and friends enroute, in Montgomery, Alabama and Georgia. Mrs. Kimmell and Miss Littler will spend about two weeks in the south.

The Anna Smith circle of the Child Conservation League met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Boyd Rollin on Ann street. Miss Edna M. Allen gave a very interesting talk on "Objectives in Character Education" and Mrs. Ruth-Huston-Whipple on "Methods in Character Education."

Mrs. E. C. Vealey honored Mrs. Charles Riggs at a bridge-tea Monday afternoon, at her home on East Ann Arbor trail, entertaining Mrs. LeRoy Jewell, Mrs. I. N. Innis, Mrs. J. L. Hunt, Mrs. Julius Willis, Mrs. Norman Miller, Mrs. Forest Smith and Mrs. Harry Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Orr Passage of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sharrow of Farmington were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. James Dunn at their home on North Territorial road.

The Wednesday evening contract group, Mrs. Harold Stevens, Mrs. Goodwin Crumble, Mrs. E. M. Moles, Mrs. George Strasen, Mrs. Miller Ross, Mrs. Harvey Springer, and Mrs. Claude Dykhouse, was entertained by Mrs. Robert Willoughby, in her home on Blunk avenue.

Sixteen members of the MCC club met at the home of their leader, Mrs. Goodwin Crumble, on Monday evening for a social time and also made plans for the coming year. On Sunday they plan to visit the Art Museum in Detroit.

On Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Moss were hosts to the H. T. M. bridge club in their home on Sheridan avenue. The members are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Neale, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lorenz and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Felton.

Mrs. Paul Wiedman attended the benefit-bridge, Monday, given by the Detroit branch of the National Woman's Farm and Garden association, in the Health Center building in Detroit.

Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. Arthur Blunk, Mrs. Harry Mumby and Mrs. William Vanderveen celebrated the former's birthday Monday with a luncheon at the Hotel Mayflower.

Mrs. Arthur Blunk and Mrs. Harry Brown will honor June Frederick, a November bride-elect, at a shower Wednesday, October 28, at the latter's home on Haggerty highway.

Mrs. William Bake and Zeph Blunk were luncheon guests Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. David Mather in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Harry Mumby entertained the members of her card club Wednesday afternoon in her home on Ann Arbor trail.

Mrs. Ray Johns attended the state board meeting of the League of Women Voters, held in Lansing on October 13.

A few friends of Richard Olin surprised him and Mrs. Olin Sunday night when they joined them at supper in celebration of his birthday.

Mrs. Jack Neale will be hostess at a dessert-bridge on Wednesday, October 28, with the members of the Olette bridge club as guests.

The Government and Foreign Policy study group of the League of Women Voters, met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. A. Lacy on Ann street.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Poppen and sons, William and John, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Dawson in Detroit Saturday evening.

The Beta C. contract group held its first dessert-bridge of the season, Thursday, being guests of Mrs. Ruth Strong in her home on west Ann Arbor trail.

Mrs. William Bake, Mary Lorenz and Janet Bluckenstaff were luncheon guests Friday of Zeph Blunk in her home on Williams street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lorenz and sons, Robert and Douglas, were supper guests of her brother and wife Mr. and Mrs. William Watts, Sunday, at their home in Detroit.

Mrs. Harold Brisbois will entertain the members of the birthday club at a luncheon bridge Saturday in honor of Mrs. Josephine Fish.

Style Silhouettes

Too often in our discussions of what is being worn in the best circles during the current season, the "younger set" is sadly neglected. Small sisters and daughters, not to mention brothers and sons, are every bit as much concerned about being up to the minute as are "grown-ups."

In the last year or two the sophistication which marked children's clothes for several seasons has been discarded for a return to more simple, childish styles, just as smart but far more appropriate. Little girls' frocks are made on lines which resemble the princess silhouette their elders have adopted, but there is more freshness and more girlish frills, which tend to emphasize the charm of the childish figure rather than accentuate its awkward features. Flared hemlines are being used and the shoulder fullness of adult models is achieved for youngsters by the use of puffed sleeves. Bright fabrics and unusual patterns are the reigning favorites.

For all children up to 12 years of age, that all-purpose garment known as a snow suit is a practical necessity in this day and age. These outfits protect the wearer from cold and snow in the bitter weather, allowing freedom of play during the winter which old time leggings, scarfs and stocking caps would not permit. The older girls, those of high school age and even college coeds, have adopted the snow suit, with the more dignified and sporting name of ski suit. Cheerful, warm and comfortable—what more could one ask of a winter garment?

For more perturbed occasions the girls must have coats, of course. This year they are very swanky affairs, even for the tiny tots who swagger forth in fleecy woollens, camel's hair, tweeds and chinchillas, often with hats to match—very English, to say the least. Older girls choose coats with princess lines, some double breasted with reffer closing, slit pockets, wide shoulders and flared hems. Collars of widely notched beaver are used for dressy styles, but if there is no fur, gay paid scarfs brighten up the neckline.

Fabrics this year are plaid fleeces and solid color fleeces in warm, vibrant shades of rust, green, wine, "leather" and brown. There are tweeds, too, and novelty woollens to delight the heart of any small girl.

Dark cottons of early fall are being supplanted by thin woolls, knits, velveteens and jerseys for school frocks. There are jumper frock in all combinations of colors and fabrics, with the Tyrolean influence strongly seen in the blouses—low, square necklines, Basque bodices, full, shirred waistlines, drawstring necks or Peter Pan collars edged in ruffles, and puffed sleeves, both short and long.

Then there are frocks of navy or brown, with starched white collars, cuffs, rickrack or braid, or velvet collars and cuffs in brightly contrasting colors. Shirtwaist frocks are simple and becoming, with puffed sleeves, starched collars, patch pockets and patent bows and belts.

For all-around wear nothing is more practical than one of those three-piece suits, with high buttoned jacket, fitted skirt and full-length topcoat with raccoon or nutria collar. They can be worn for school, shopping and week-end trips—appropriate for all.

With four or five school frocks, a "best dress" suit, snow suit, a quantity of sweaters and skirts, together with several blouses, and a leather jacket, a girl will be completely outfitted for any occasion that may arise. With this wardrobe, of course, there must be shoes—properly fitted shoes, smart but sturdy, lightweight but rugged, designed to stand the hard use which youngsters are bound to give their footwear.

Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Corey returned Monday from a few days spent in Chicago.

Charles Bovee and family have moved into Mrs. McConnell's house on Deer street.

Mrs. Hattie Hollaway has closed her home for the winter months and will be a guest at the Mayflower hotel.

Mrs. Bessie Smith has returned to Detroit after spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. Hattie Hollaway.

Roy Armstrong of Elmonte, Calif., a former resident of Plymouth, was calling on old friends here Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Emery, W. Ann Arbor Trail, announce the birth of a baby boy, Bruce Walter, in Harper hospital, Detroit, Saturday, October 17. Weight eight and three-quarters pounds.

Mrs. A. M. Wileiden, daughters Bessie and Laurabelle and Mrs. Gladys Baker and daughter, Ardieth, enjoyed a concert at Ypsilanti Sunday afternoon, given by the Normal college symphony orchestra at Pease auditorium.

The Get-Together club met at the home of Mrs. Myron Taylor on Thursday, October 15, with 16 members present. The first evening meeting of the season will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Herrick at their home on Bradner road, Friday evening, the 30th. Members are requested to come in costume appropriate for Halloween.

THAT NEW CAR YOU WANT--

Buy It NOW THROUGH THIS BANK

5 1/2% Interest

THERE ARE ONLY THREE REQUIREMENTS

You must be twenty-one years of age or over. You must be regularly employed and you must have a reputation for paying your bills promptly. No co-makers are required as the car you buy is security for your loan. No endorsements by dealers are necessary. You protect your car with fire, theft, and collision insurance to secure yourself and the bank against loss. You choose the insurance company or dealer that you wish to have this business.

HOW THE PLAN WORKS. Come to the Bank and make your arrangements for the loan and then go to your dealer and pick out the car you want to buy telling him that you want the matter handled through the Plymouth United Savings Bank and for him to get in touch with us. After signing the loan papers at the bank the money is available for him.

Example of financing:
Total cost of Car $600.00
You pay in cash or trade in 200.00
1/3 of total 400.00
You use a balance of 400.00
Plus
The total cost of this loan to you at 5 1/2% plus 25 cents for recording chattel mortgage 22.25
Total amount of note $422.25
You pay eleven easy monthly installments of $16.00 each and the balance in the twelfth month of $26.25.

NOW... new cars are being introduced by manufacturers and dealers everywhere... you can buy that new car that you want through the auto loan plan of this bank. Winter is ahead when you will be glad to have the comfort, security, and care-free operation of a new modern automobile.

You naturally go to your bank, your confidential financial advisor, when you want a loan on your home or need money to modernize and repair your house or to make some worthwhile purchase. Now... this same easy economical way... you can borrow money... quickly without delay, without red tape, to pay cash for any new car you buy... provided, of course, that your credit position is satisfactory. And under this plan you are assured of the same favorable low cost terms no matter what make of new car you buy.

Here indeed is a dignified and convenient arrangement available through this bank. Besides if you finance your car this way you will contribute to the general welfare of the community by keeping local funds employed at home.

You may take up to 12 months... a year to repay... in convenient monthly installments which include payment of the principal and moderate interest at $5.50 per $100 charged in advance, plus the cost of insurance on your car.

Come in TODAY... Talk with us about this plan... it costs nothing to inquire. We will be glad to be of assistance.

Pioneer Settler Tells How He Traveled Through This Territory

Markham Writes How He Worked To Earn Lumber For His House

Editor's Note: This is the fourth installment of the story of pioneer life in Plymouth told by one of the first settlers, A. B. Markham, at the annual meeting of the State Pioneer society on February 6, 1877.

Now after the fence was made, bars put up, corn dressed out, provisions eaten up and shanty closed up, I started for Bloomfield to work at haying and harvesting. I arrived at my friend Torrey's July 3, 1926 with more money in my pocket than I had when I came on the farm the last of December 1825 and owed not one cent.

My friend Torrey and myself spent the 4th in our own pleasures and then went haying. Here I saw as good grass as I ever saw in Ontario county, New York, my native state. We secured the hay in the very best manner and then went reaping wheat. This was the first haying and harvesting in Michigan and I was satisfied. I had found the right place for farming and I held to that opinion ever since. We cut the wheat and stacked it as he had no barn. We then went to cutting grass but we had worked only a few minutes when my friend began to show signs of insanity. He went to the house and became furiously insane.

I remained with him five weeks. He recovered from the attacks but he had taken too much of the white powders to ever be able to open his mouth again. I took out four of his front teeth which enabled him to take food. He lived fifteen years after this, but never fully recovered. When, however, he recovered sufficiently to permit me to leave I returned home and built an addition on my house, as my father had come bringing mother and the rest of the family. I cut my corn and found I would be able to live comfortably. I bought a cow and calf and pair of steers, but they soon ran away and it took me a week to find them.

I first had to go to Brownstown, then to Flat Rock, then to Huron river where I found a tribe of Indians. Their chief was there at that time. He was a graduate of Hamilton college. I stayed with him over night. His name was "Blue Jacket". He was a fine looking Indian and very social. He sent a young Indian with me for a whole day and would not take anything for his services.

He said he did not teach his children to speak English as he thought they were none the better off for it. I went up the river intending to reach a house at a place which was known as Woodruff's Grove. This was the only house on the way up the river before getting to where Ypsilanti now stands. About four miles from the Indian camp I saw a large bear in the trail about four or five rods from me, standing on his hind feet in an attitude of defiance. Every nerve of me called for safety. As soon as I got master of myself I drew my "squaw piece" from my shoulder and leveled it with all caution. I took a good aim at his broadside just below the shoulder blade and "let off". Mr. Bear keeled over once and made a very fine noise as much as to say "You may have the trail." He took to the woods and I took to the trail. I soon met two Indians making towards their camp with full speed and I told them as well as I could about the bear, giving them my right and title to it.

I went on and found the house I was in pursuit of—stayed over night and next day went up to where Ann Arbor now stands. There were a few houses there then, and on the door of one of them was an advertisement of my cattle. It was a public house of course. I went on to Lodi Plains and there found my cattle. I started for home the next morning and when I got back to the public house out came the two Indians and took me into the house by force and there laid on the table the bear skin with a ball through exactly where I had aimed my "squaw piece" two days before. The Indians were pretty drunk and had sold the bear skin to their host and were getting their pay by degrees. They gave me a drink of their "firewater" and bestowed many thanks on me.

I arrived home about 9 o'clock in the evening after an absence of 10 days, hungry, wet and tired as any Michigan pioneer ever was. I now had my house to finish and went to the sawmill and bought 700 feet of whitewood boards in payment for which I went to chop one and a half acres of timber in the flats below the mill.

The boards were paid for in six or seven days. The next thing was to get them home. There was no wagon I could get for four miles. I finally got Mr. Taylor's wagon and one yoke of oxen and another yoke from Mr. Benton and then went to the mill and loaded up the boards—hailed them across the river and up the bank on the east side. I cut a long pole and let the leaders go to the top of the bank. I then fastened them to one end of the pole and the other to the tongue. This was the only way we could climb the bank with 350 feet of light lumber and two yoke of oxen.

When at the top of the bank I unloaded the boards and went back for the rest. I got home finally with 700 feet of boards for my cabin, for my chamber floor, etc. The next day I took the oxen and wagon home and chopped two days to pay for the use of them and one day to pay for Mr. Benton's. The mill was only about three miles away. This was pioneering in a new country. (To Be Continued)

Coming To The Penniman Allen

Plymouth theatre goes will be pleased to know that Manager Harry Lush has secured the showing of "The Great Ziegfeld" heralded as the "Greatest Show on Earth", for five days commencing Sunday, October 25. This extraordinary picture has many and elaborate musical incidents which form the background for the story. The singing and dancing is said to present the last word in entertainment. Due to the fact that it is an unusually long film, there will be but one show each night, commencing at 8 o'clock.

Friday and Saturday, October 30 and 31, Edward G. Arnold will appear in the picture, "Meet Nero Wolfe", with Victor Jory and Joan Perry.

A story as big as the stars it unites, and as great as only the master of musicals know how to present, is that of "Cain and Mable", starring the lovely Marjorie Davies with Clark Gable. Roscoe Karns and Allen Jenkins, which comes to the theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, November 1, 2 and 3, and on Wednesday and Thursday, November 4 and 5, the alluring Myrna Loy co-starred with Warner Baxter in the best love story the Saturday Evening Post ever printed, "To Mary—With Love". They are said to surpass the heights they reached in "Broadway Bill" and "Penhouse".

"Charlie Chan at the Race Track", featuring Warner Oland, Helen Wood and Alan Dinehart, will be the attraction on Friday and Saturday, November 6 and 7. The beautiful and famous Santa Anita race track, scene of many of the turf's most important spectacles, was used for the racing scenes in this picture.

The Hundred-Years' war lasted from 1337 until 1453.

Many peoples, particularly certain large tribes in South Africa, do not mourn or even regret the death of one who has been killed by lightning. They believe that he has been sent for by some god in heaven. Hence it would be profane to show any distress over the act of a deity.

First Step In Common Sense

Conservation Officials To Close Some Northern Lakes

More protection for the great northern pike—that's one of the newest trends in conservation administration.

A few years ago the great northern pike was commonly called a "snake" or a "snag" by many native Michigan anglers, who went in more for wall-eye, muskie or black bass fishing, but the tourists came and were able to get as many thrills out of hooking a great northern pike as any other large-size fish. The great northern came in for a lot of popularity it did not have in many local instances.

Recognizing the increasing importance of this species as a tourist attraction, the state conservation commission has ordered the closing of several lakes to winter fishing or to spring fishing as a means of helping to conserve the fish supplies, especially those of the great northern pike.

At urgent requests of local residents, the commission ordered Houghton lake, largest inland lake in the state, closed to all fishing during the months of March and April for a one-year period. The purpose of this order is to protect all species that spawn during that period of the year.

A delegation is expected to indicate at the November meeting of the commission whether residents of Houghton lake will consent to return of that lake to the general classification from the "pike" lake classification together with a closing order on winter spearing.

The commission has ordered Lake Gogebic closed to all fishing from April 15 to May 15 for a one-year period and also removed Otsego lake from the pike lake classification under which fishing for certain species is permitted the year around to the general classification. This lake also was closed to all winter spearing as a means of helping to conserve the great northern pike.

The order closing Indian lake in Schoolcraft county and AuTrain lake in Alger county to all winter fishing was continued for a three-year period. Hardwood lake in Ogemaw county was closed to winter spearing for a three-year period.

Battery of Fast Plymouth Team Visit In Plymouth

Remember back when Plymouth had a baseball team supported by the town and was one of the best baseball teams in this part of the state?

Remember when they played some of the big league teams right here in Plymouth?

That was when Ed Gayde was manager of the team. Well, last Friday was quite a day for Mr. Gayde and some of the old timers who were interested in baseball in the good old days.

Roy Armstrong, now a Ford dealer at San Gabriel, California, was in Plymouth for a brief visit. He was on his way from California to Dearborn.

Mr. Armstrong was the pitcher of this baseball team that could trim anything in and around this part of Michigan.

When Mr. Gayde knew that his old twirler was going to be in town, he looked up Charles Riggs, who now lives in Venice, California, but who has been visiting in Plymouth for a few weeks. It seems that Mr. Riggs was the catcher of this famous old Plymouth baseball team.

So Mr. Gayde had the famous battery of the old Plymouth baseball team as his guests at the Rotary club meeting Friday noon. With them was Harry Armstrong of Detroit, a brother of the California automobile dealer and former Plymouth pitcher.

Legal Battle Over Markham Will Interests Plymouth

California Newspaper Gives More Details About Financial Affairs Of Former Plymouth Manufacturer

Another and more complete newspaper article about the Markham will affair out in Los Angeles has been sent to The Plymouth Mail. Local interest in this case is more than ordinary because of the fact that Markham spent all of his life here before going to California 25 years ago and one time owned the Markham factory that gave employment to many Plymouth people who are still residents of this locality. Markham made a vast fortune in California real estate after leaving here.

The newspaper article taken from one of the Los Angeles papers, follows:

Harlan G. Palmer, Hollywood candidate for District Attorney, was charged with conspiring with Mrs. Blanche C. Markham to secure execution of a will by William F. Markham leaving the bulk of his estate of nearly two million dollars to the woman in trust for life and the balance to Palmer's children upon her death in a petition filed in Superior Court yesterday.

The petition asked distribution of the estate on behalf of Mrs. Maude Lillian O'Brien, daughter of Markham by his first marriage to Carrie A. Markham. Mrs. Blanche C. Markham, 66, is the widow of Markham, who died in 1930 at the age of 80.

In the document filed in Superior Court yesterday, it also was alleged that Palmer, who is attorney for the estate, "with the consent of his co-conspirator, Blanche C. Markham, used or purportedly borrowed, without any order of court permitting him or her to do so, large sums of money approximating $500,000 from the estate, either in person or through corporations that he owns or controls."

Auto Maker Is Club Speaker

Packard Official Tells Kiwanians Of Success Rules

(Omitted from last issue)

What type of man do we try to employ? This question was answered at the meeting of the Kiwanis club on October 13, by a man who has had a great deal of experience in employing men. George T. Christopher, vice-president in charge of manufacturing at the Packard Motor Car Co. discussed this question at that meeting.

He talked about the type of personality and character of the men they hire. He stated that a man must be both qualified for the job and then have an opportunity to use his qualifications. "Don't wait for opportunities to present themselves, go out and make your own opportunities."

Mr. Christopher stated that one's personality is the sum total of his tactfulness, initiative, thoroughness, good judgment, loyalty, not to an individual but to his aims and purposes and ambition.

In order that one may be a leader in later life one must train himself in the art of leadership now. One cannot be a leader unless he has a following and in order for people to follow a leader, the leader must have something they want.

"No matter what your job may be today, do it just a little better than the fellow who had the job before you and do the job better than anyone else could do it. Working in this manner tends to make one a leader. Do not get impatient, but be ambitious," he said.

"An ambitious person is one who gets ahead by his own work; the impatient person tries to get ahead without work."

The talk was enjoyed by all members of the Kiwanis club and several boys from the Hi-Y and Torch clubs at the high school.

Schrader Turns Down Cash Offer

Uncle Sam Wants To Pay Him Money For Growing Grass

Good American dollars, offered him on a good United States government check, have been turned down cold by Fred D. Schrader.

The story is not unlike many being heard these days. It seems that Mr. Schrader, well known Plymouth business man, a few years ago purchased a farm over in Washtenaw county where he might go out early in the morning and late in the afternoon and make believe that once again he is a farmer.

There are eighty acres in this farm. Two or three years ago he purchased a couple of buffalo and he needs considerable range for his buffalo and cattle. So he has never raised many crops. In fact, this year about all he raised on the farm were twelve acres of corn.

The other day along came a letter to Farmer Fred D. Schrader from Ann Arbor, the county seat of Washtenaw county, asking Mr. Schrader to fill out some blanks.

It seems that if he filled out these blanks that had been sent him by the government and told them that he hadn't raised crops on his play-farm that the government in return would send him some good American dollars taken from the taxpayers who work in the factories, buy bread for their hungry boys and girls and do other things that the government collects taxes for.

"Maybe some would take the money from the government for it, but not me," said Mr. Schrader as he threw the blanks in the waste basket.

That some of the biggest banks along Wall street and some of the richest men in America who own vast amounts of farm land have been paid millions by the government for not raising crops.

But the argument didn't prevail with Mr. Schrader. He declared that he was not entitled to

When You Exchange Lamps please bring your electric bill

It is easy to exchange your burned out lamps for new ones at any Detroit Edison office. There is no charge for lamp renewal service. (The cost of lamp renewals is included in your electric rate). If your BURNED OUT lamps are not the sizes you wish, we will gladly exchange them for other sizes. The only requirement is this: When you exchange lamps, bring with you your most recent electric bill for identification.

This rule requiring identification through your electric bill is partly for your protection, since it keeps others who are not Detroit Edison customers from getting lamps which you pay for in your electric rate. Also, this practice discourages wasteful lamp renewals and provides the Company with the necessary records on lamps passed out.

The Detroit Edison Company will gladly advise you on the correct sizes of lamps for your needs. Keeping your sockets filled with lamps will mean greater comfort and convenience in your home, and will insure adequate light for safe seeing.

Note: Lamps are renewed without extra charge only for residential and commercial customers paying lighting rates and in the following sizes: 25W, 40W, 60W, 100W, 150W, 200W, 300W, 500W, and 3-lite lamp 100-200-300W.

To Mrs. O'Brien, $250 a month for life; to Leigh Markham, $250 a month for life; to a sister, Louise Markham, Detroit, $100 a month for life; to "my friend and chum" Ben S. Sprague, $250 a month for life; to "my gardener" Edward Jenkins, $50 a month while employed by the executrix; to a niece, Isa Markham Mayville, Mich., $150 a month for life; and to "my friend and foreman" E. S. Roe, Plymouth, Mich., $150 a month for life.

In connection with the asserted use or borrowing by Palmer of about a half million dollars, the document stated Palmer and the widow "have never closed the estate, nor has there ever been any distribution of any sort." No additional statements are made in the petition concerning the $500,000.

"There have been payments made to the petitioner and to the other individual beneficiaries named above, but these have been made without authority, as the executrix is given no power under the will to make such payments," the petition alleged.

"As soon as she was married," Mrs. Markham No. 2 "began taking steps to get all of the Markham property for herself," it was asserted.

Palmer, according to the petition, presented the will for probate and "as an officer of the court, concealed from the court the fact that the execution of the will had been procured by the undue influence of himself and Mrs. Markham working in concert to procure the estate for themselves."

The petition asks: That Palmer and Mrs. Markham be removed as attorney and executrix, respectively, and the public administrator appointed; distribution of one-third of the estate be made to Mrs. O'Brien under the Probate Code; that Palmer and Mrs. Markham be required to pay to the estate all sums she has paid out as executrix "and which have been taken from the estate by Harlan G. Palmer or any corporation or corporations in which he is a director, officer or stockholder, directly or indirectly," and that the order admitting the will to probate be set aside.

Kerosene Used For Killing Elder Bugs

Are those box elder bugs still plaguing you? We've heard all sorts of tales about how the pests have "pestered" Plymouth residents in the last week or two, and several suggestions have been forthcoming about how to get rid of them.

Hot water does the trick, but it is rather difficult to pour hot water on bugs on the wing, as it were. Several ingenious householders have discovered that kerosene is the easiest and most effective remedy. It can be applied with an ordinary spray gun, and the bugs stay dead.

For Canadian Veterans

A number of Canadian war veterans reside in Plymouth. Because of this fact The Plymouth Mail has been requested to print the following communication taken from a Canadian paper pertaining to Canadian government care for veterans and their dependents. Local Canadian veterans are also requested to write to C. E. Jarry, 4228 A Fullum street, Montreal, Canada, for additional information they may desire.

"To the Editor: I would like, through the medium of your columns, to inform the unattached Canadian veteran what is being done in his behalf in Canada.

"The present Administration in Canada has expressed a desire to help the veterans of the Great War and has accordingly formed a Board of Inquiry. The United Veterans of Canada, chartered under Dominion Government laws April 2, 1936, submitted through Commander C. E. Jarry, honorary organizer and now leader, the following proposals: (1) All single veterans (unemployed) to receive $1 per day with housing and clothing; (2) all married veterans in need to receive $50 a month and an additional $10 a month for each child under 18 years; (3) widows of veterans, $30 a month and $10 a month for children, with housing and clothing; (4) burial by Government in a decent manner of needy deceased veterans; (5) an additional bonus; (6) all veterans who lived in Canada on Aug. 4, 1914, and served in any other British forces to be included in all benefits; (7) all benefits to include Canadian veterans living in the United States.

"The Government Board of Inquiry accepted the first six clauses for consideration. Commander Jarry informs me that clause seven was not accepted as no Canadian veterans residing in the United States had their names on the petition which was circulated throughout Canada.

"Arrangements are being made for Canadian veterans to register at any Republican committee rooms in the Detroit area. There are no fees to pay! Commander Jarry does not draw a salary!"

William Sturgis Is A Visitor Here

W. J. Sturgis, former well known Plymouth automobile dealer, who moved to Detroit some time ago, was a business visitor in Plymouth over the week-end. Mr. Sturgis has recently recovered from an exceedingly serious operation, following which he was confined to a hospital for nearly three months.

He is now in the boat business, selling cruisers, sail boats, marine engines and other marine equipment, being located at 186 East Grand Boulevard.

Hunters!

Do Not Kill Off Every Chance You Have To Hunt

Hunters! Here is a special warning and a bit of advice to you!

You are able to hunt pheasants in and around Plymouth because the farmers who own the land permit you to do so.

But if you do not look out, you are going to kill off this sport entirely.

So many hunters last year cut wire fences, shot chickens and did other things that it is safe to say nearly half the farm lands in and around Plymouth are now posted against hunters.

These deprivations that farmers complain about are not committed by hunters who live in or about Plymouth—but the hunters that do these things come from Detroit and elsewhere.

Your big job, Mr. Hunter, if you want to have a place to hunt, is to try and prevent these fellows that come out from the city and who have not the slightest desire to protect the rights of others, from cutting fences, from shooting at livestock and from killing turkeys and chickens.

Whenever you see some fellow with a pair of wire cutters, try and convince him that he is fixing it so he can never hunt again—not only himself—but others who like to hunt.

Do what you can to help the farmers and retain their friendships so you will have a place to hunt in the future.

All we need now is just a few more bureaus or commissions and the freedom we now enjoy will be "was" instead of "is".

Henry Ford and Gov. Alex Groesbeck Discuss Politics

(By Henry Ford) "Gov. Landon honored us with a brief visit at Dearborn Tuesday, staying at our house for luncheon. This was my first opportunity to meet the man who has brought this campaign back to American issues.

"I gained three very distinct impressions of him: First, he is exceptionally well informed and has had experience along many lines; second, he is able to speak his mind in the frankest possible way—he is open and honest in his opinions; third, he knows where he stands because he has thought things through.

"Gov. Landon's mind has not been warped. My judgment would be that he would be a hard man to turn from the American way of doing things.

"The trouble with the presidency is that a man may say and intend one thing, but pressure may compel him to do something different. Gov. Landon impressed me as a man who would resist pressure. He knows the difficulty of the job before him, but he believes he can make adjustments that will help everything move along smoothly. I think he can.

"He is a business man who knows how to make both ends meet, and he is a sympathetic, thoughtful person.

"He ate out of a dinner bucket for years and he still thinks along with the men who carry dinner buckets. It is not a pose with him—it is his nature. After having this long talk with him I admire and believe in him; I hope he is elected.

"I am not criticizing the New Deal—I only say that we have had enough of it; we have had about all the country can stand. Its intentions may have been good, but its performance was very poor.

"As a manufacturer, I have been its special target for about three years, but I don't hold that against it—it has kept me thinking. All of us have to thank the New Deal for keeping us on the alert for our country.

"From the beginning the New Deal has been assisted by the worst form of capitalism in the effort to destroy competition in this country. This sort of capitalism joins Communism at that point too—to destroy competition. Nobody will have to strive to create better quality or better methods or better wages or lower prices—the Government will attend to everything. You would be surprised how many manufacturers were deluded by that.

"Of course, they awoke out of that dream, because the promises that were made to them could not be kept. No one was to blame for not keeping the promises, only for making them—it is in the very nature of things that they could not be kept.

"But I don't worry about that. They got what they needed.

"Anybody who expects something for nothing is all the better for being disappointed. They learn something.

"What disturbs me is that the New Deal is now making to the workman the same impossible promises that it made to the business man. I doubt if American mechanics are going to regard $15 a month 25 years from now as very much 'social security'.

"New Deal wages were always the lowest possible because they were set at depression levels, and now 'social security' is defined at the level of about 50 cents a day 20 years from now. Everybody must know that it doesn't mean anything.

"Next January we must begin taking money out of our men's pay envelopes and turning it over to the Government. The wage does not belong to the man who earns it so far as this tax on it is concerned; he is not permitted to handle it; his employer must deduct the tax from the pay envelope.

"The majority of the Ford employees will have to endure that for the next 20 or 25 years—unless the act is thrown out or falls of its own weight.

"Making the social system secure is one thing—it is a job for the greatest statesmen the Nation can produce—but pretending to create security for a selected class in an insecure system is a cruel joke—especially when you take their money for it.

"I hope the American workman will inquire into this for himself. He knows as well as anyone that there is no 'something for nothing' even in politics.

"We don't believe the election is going to stop the operation of natural forces. The United States cannot be deflected from its course.

"As for ourselves, we are going along at our own job—stronger than ever. We give competition and we ask for competition; if we must also compete with a false political system, very well.

"We seek ability to pay higher wages, to give buyers more value, to find methods that are less expensive, to keep prices and profits low in order that volume and wages and service may be high. That's the American system; that brought us where we are. And nothing better has turned up to take its place."

(By Alex J. Groesbeck) There is one thing in this campaign about which there is no uncertainty or guessing—and that is that anyone can vote for Landon with a positive assurance and feeling of safety and confidence. That, to my mind, is accountable for his growing strength. His election will not be followed by broken promises, mounting deficits, confiscatory taxation and regimentation of workers, business and industry.

These—and the threats of more of them—are the major issues of this campaign.

If Landon is elected, we will experience a marked improvement in business of all kinds and a substantial lessening of unemployment. For these reasons I believe that Michigan will go Republican this year.

The voters of our state are going to do a good job for their country. They have a pretty good idea of what a government should be like and have become tired of following a lot of experiments.

I think also that they do not relish the meddling of Washington officers in their state affairs. It is pretty difficult for me to square such conduct with the public welfare.

Out in Nebraska an independent is endorsed for the Senate. In Minnesota the whole Democratic ticket is withdrawn so that the Farmer-Labor candidates and Communist platform can be put over.

That just doesn't go down with the average voter. It savors too much of expediency and bossism.

Then, too, there has been a wholesale abandonment of the Democratic Platform. Its pledges and those of Roosevelt in 1932 have been junked. People don't like that sort of thing.

Neither do they relish being told that the soldier bonus is out of the way when everybody knows it was paid by borrowed money. The veto of the bonus was one of the President's weakest acts. Its payment contributed more than any other one thing to the upturn in business.

The very heavy importations of foreign-made goods and farm products are becoming very significant. The farmers and working men cannot be fooled as to what this means to them. They know what it means because they have felt the effects of them before.

I have been very much interested in the loose manner in which the New Dealers handle facts. They just don't seem to care much about them. For instance, witness the absurd claim that they have been solely responsible for the improvement in business in Detroit and elsewhere, particularly the automobile business. There is nothing to support any such claim.

The truth of the matter is that the people themselves have taken charge of the job of recovery. It is their energy, initiative and industry that are accomplishing things. They don't need anything but a fair chance and freedom from interference. They already have moved way ahead of most New Dealers.

Governor Landon fully appreciates the situation and well knows that what the country needs most is a quick return to sound governmental practices.

The constitution is not in danger of destruction. No one should be concerned about that. I think it is more revered and honored today than ever before. A few may poke fun at it and say it belongs to another day, but that does not harm. Let them talk. They always have and always will, so, why worry?

I don't know why Roosevelt keeps slamming that old friend 'Model T'. Of course, she can't talk back very much. There was a time though when she could. In those 'forgotten' days she was the old reliable and always brought everybody back home. So what?

This, of course, is an important election. The voters, I am sure, fully understand the issues involved. In my humble judgment they again can be counted upon to decide them in a commonsense manner, and thus put an end to the innumerable disputes, antagonisms and needless controversies that beset the nation.

Times do change. In the old days the bad man made notches on his gun barrel; today it is dents in the fenders.

Township Saves Money

Supervisor Tells How He Cut Costs In Welfare Support

Plymouth residents will be interested in the statement of Supervisor John Sherwood of Sumpster township in which he points out that that township has saved many thousands of dollars as a result of having refused to contribute more money to the county welfare fund. This township has for some time been taking care of its own welfare cases and that is how it has saved so much money.

The following is taken from the Belleville Enterprise:

"In an effort to cut down the expense of welfare and the overhead involved in handling the extending of welfare aid to those in need, Supervisor John E. Sherwood, and the Sumpster township board took over the administration of welfare for their township on August 1, 1936.

"In a conversation with Mr. Sherwood recently, the writer was informed that the saving had been very worthwhile, both on the amount of money dispensed as well as for the expense of handling. Mr. Sherwood stated that the township's monthly payment to the county welfare department was set at $360 by the county.

"Mr. Sherwood believed that the township could operate on considerably less than this amount and so the administration of aid was taken over. Mr. Sherwood states that now the average month's dispensations run around one hundred dollars, a fine annual saving.

"Sumpster township will take care of its own only," stated Mr. Sherwood. "If welfare dependents move in from other townships or counties they must be taken care of by the board from where they come. We will take care of the aged, disabled and sick of our township who have to have care."

"Sumpster township is one of a very few to take over the duties of welfare. Huron township was the first in the county to start the handling of their own direct aid."

Joe Brisbois Starts Working For Money For Trip To Alaska

Little Joe Brisbois, ten-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Brisbois, has joined the George E. Buchanan Alaskan tour club and hopes, if he can make enough money, to be able to take the trip to Alaska with the Buchanan youngsters in 1938.

That's nearly two years away, but the young man has figured it out and it will take him that long to make the money necessary for the trip.

"I'm going to clean snow off sidewalks for everybody who will hire me this winter and I'm going to sell things and I'm going to do lots of things to make nickies and dimes," says the young lad.

The boy, under the Buchanan rules, must make $100 of his expense money, he must borrow $100 to be paid back after the trip and his parents must provide $100 towards the trip. So, you see little Joe is going to be a pretty busy youngster for the next couple of years.

The Buchanan party spends one month in Alaska every summer. Joe became interested in the trip through a young friend in Detroit who is working towards a tour to that interesting territory.

Clyde Smith Tells of Record

New Hudson Stock Cars In Speed And Endurance Tests

Forty official stock car records for endurance and sustained speed over long distances have just been broken by the 1937 Hudsons and Terraplanes on the Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, under supervision of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association, according to word received here. Clyde Smith, 1382 South Main Street, Plymouth, representative of Hudson Motor Car Company.

This is the first time in the automobile industry's history that a company has established new models as official performance and endurance record holders before announcing the new cars to the public, it was pointed out.

Included in the records is the highly-priced unlimited class closed car record for 24-hours, which was captured by the Hudson, and the unlimited closed car record for 1000 miles, which was broken first by a Terraplane Brougham and then smashed by a 1937 Hudson. The 24-hour record captured by the Hudson betters one set in 1934 by a high-priced ultra-streamlined car.

Besides the 24-hour mark, every time and distance record for closed cars, regardless of size, or price, was broken by the Hudson from 500 to 2000 miles and from six to 24 hours. This includes nine official unlimited closed car records.

Besides the unlimited records, Hudson broke 23 Class C closed stock car records. This class includes all cars with piston displacements up to 305 cubic inches, which takes in practically every American stock car regardless of price or size. These records were for 10 to 2000 miles, and for one hour to 24 hours.

Riggs Leave For Home In Far West

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riggs of Venice, California, who have been spending the past two months visiting among old friends and relatives in this locality, have left for their home out on the Pacific coast.

"We've had one of the finest visits possible. In fact, we rather hate to start home, our visit here among old friends having been such a delightful one," stated Mr. Riggs.

The Riggs left here a number of years ago to make their future home out in the Golden state. For years the family was prominent in Plymouth business circles.

Hunter Brings Down Big Wild Goose

Louis Yeager, who brings The Detroit Times to Plymouth each day of the year, was one of the lucky hunters Sunday after he shot a wild goose that after being dressed, weighed nearly seven pounds. Yeager and some of his friends were hunting pheasants up near Marlette. They heard a flock of geese coming over head and thought from their appearances that they were about to land. Hiding in the weeds, the hunters saw the geese drop towards the ground and as they swung directly over the hunters, Yeager fired and brought one down. It proved to be a big one.

Commission Notes

Plymouth, Michigan October 5, 1936

A regular meeting of the City Commission held in the City Hall, October 5, 1936, at 7:30 P.M.

Present: Mayor Hondorp, Commissioners Blunk and Robinson.

Absent: Commissioners Whipple and Wilson.

The minutes of the last regular meeting held September 21st were approved as read.

Commissioner Whipple arrived.

The Mayor appointed Comm. Whipple on the Auditing Committee in the absence of Comm. Wilson.

Mr. Ford Brooks was present and requested that the City Commission have the pavement repaired in front of the Schrader Building and remove the tracks leading to the vacant lot just West of The Plymouth Mail office.

It was moved by Comm. Whipple and supported by Comm. Blunk that the Manager be instructed to have estimates of the necessary work prepared. Carried.

It was moved by Comm. Whipple and supported by Comm. Blunk that the Manager proceed with the plans and specifications for a 12" water main on Evergreen avenue beginning at the intersection of Penniman and proceeding North approximately 400 feet. Carried.

The reports of the Chief of Police and Municipal Judge in City Ordinance Cases were read.

It was moved by Comm. Robinson and supported by Comm. Blunk that these reports be accepted and placed on file. Carried.

The Health Department's report was read by the Clerk.

It was moved by Comm. Robinson and supported by Comm. Whipple that the above report be accepted and placed on file. Carried.

The Manager presented a three page financial summary which he recommended be published in The Plymouth Mail.

It was moved by Comm. Whipple and supported by Comm. Blunk that the City Manager be authorized to publish the above summary in The Plymouth Mail at the lowest possible cost. Carried.

It was moved by Comm. Blunk and supported by Comm. Whipple that the Annual Audit for the year ended June 30, 1936, be accepted and placed on file. Carried.

A communication was received from the Universal Power Sprayer Company of Plymouth.

It was moved by Comm. Whipple and supported by Comm. Blunk that the Manager be instructed to prepare specifications for a sprayer and advertise the same. Carried.

Chief of Police, V. R. Smith, was present and requested that violators of one-way street regulations be fined $2.00 for the first offense and $5.00 for the second offense.

It was moved by Comm. Robinson and supported by Comm. Whipple that the violation of "One-Way Streets" may be settled at the Violations Bureau prior to the Court date shown in a notice given by the Police officer for the fine of $2.00 for the first offense and $5.00 for the second offense. Carried.

It was moved by Comm. Robinson and supported by Comm. Blunk that bills in the amount of $3,862.10 be allowed.

IN THE KITCHEN

While modern youngsters may not think in terms of "grandmother's cookie jar" as their fathers and mothers did, nevertheless they are "cookie-minded." The cookie jar has become a whole series of varied-sized tins labeled "flour", "sugar", etc. In other kitchens you will find modern cookie jars, really decorative pieces which put grandmother's crock to shame.

Nevertheless, it is the contents which count—ask any youngster. So Mother has the job of keeping up the supply which is depleted each day by a hungry band of after-school raiders. To aid her, therefore, we are offering new recipes for her to try, with a gingerbread thrown in for good measure.

Toasted Oatmeal Cookies

1 1/2 cups oatmeal
1-3 cup sour milk
3/4 cup shortening or meat drippings

2 cups brown sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 1/2 cups pastry flour

1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg

1 cup seeded, chopped dates
1 cup chopped nut meats
Sprinkle the oatmeal in a pan and brown lightly in a moderate oven. Remove from the oven, place in a bowl, add the sour milk and let stand for 5 minutes. Cream the fat and sugar until smooth. Add the beaten eggs and vanilla and mix thoroughly. Add the soaked oatmeal, then stir in the flour, sifted with the soda, baking powder, salt and spices. Mix until smooth, then add the dates and nut meats.

Drop from a spoon on greased baking sheets. Bake in a moderate oven for about 15 minutes.

Almond Ice-box Cookies

Cream 1/2 cup butter, gradually add 3/4 cup sugar, 1/4 cup brown sugar and 1 well-beaten egg. Sift 1 1/2 cups flour, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 3/4 teaspoon cinnamon. Blend ingredients and add 1-3 cup sliced blanched almonds. Shape in rolls, wrap in waxed paper and chill over night. Cut in thin slices and bake in a moderate oven.

Cheese Cookies

1 pound grated cheese
1 cup butter
1 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1 pinch red pepper

Mix together and roll very thin. Bake carefully in a moderate oven.

Gingerbread

Postal Stamp Sales Increase

Nearly 40 Percent More Sold in August Than Last Year

According to records just compiled by Postmaster Frank Larned, the stamp sales at the Plymouth postoffice increased 39 percent for the month of August this year over the same month for 1935.

This increase is in proportion with the other increases shown recently in the postoffice business.

There has been a steady increase in the amount of mail both outgoing and incoming. Parcel post mailing has also increased. Of course a considerable portion of this increase is due to more business at the Daisy factory but there has been also an increase of population in the city during the past year. That has aided materially in the increase.

Duck Hunters Go To Northern Lakes

Mr. and Mrs. William Pettigill, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lush and Mr. and Mrs. William Wood left Tuesday for Long lake, up near Alpena where they will spend a few days duck hunting. Hunting in the vicinity of Alpena is said to be remarkably good this year and these six hunters expect to bring back—maybe—the limit.

Fish Column

By The Fish Editor

The editor of the fish column of The Plymouth Mail is getting pretty sore.

When it comes to dealing with fishermen, everything is all hunting-dory but when it comes to dealing with rabbit chasers who claim to be hunters, that's different.

If something gets into the paper that doesn't just suit them, they howl just like hound dogs. It seems that a lot of these rabbit fellows also claim to be big game and duck hunters. They went up to Saginaw bay on the opening day of the duck hunting season and what happened?

Well, according to the best information available, they got lost among the bull rushes and didn't do any hunting.

The editor of the fish column has reason to believe this story because he didn't see any evidence that would indicate that anybody shot anything that looked like a duck.

It is not claimed they didn't do some shooting, because they must have done that as one of Bill Rambo's decoys came back so loaded down with shot that it sinks now when placed in the water. So that's evidence they did do some shooting.

But they are sore at the editor of the fish column because he blazed forth to the world the fact that they got lost in the bull rushes.

One of the double-barrel boys even said he knew a feller running for office who had better look out if he kept on printing the real news about the ill-fated hunting expedition to Saginaw bay.

Well, the editor of the fish column said he didn't care a whoop about getting votes by suppressing news that was of interest to real fishermen and real hunters.

Dave Bolton let the cat out of the bag, as Myron Mawhorter would say, when he asked Matt Powell, who is going up in Canada with Bert McKinney to hunt for grizzlies, moose and wolves, how it happened that when they started out the moon was in front of them and an hour later the moon was back of the boat.

Now the fish editor would like to know if any school boy wouldn't know from that that the duck hunters were lost, especially after Matt had told Dave that he couldn't understand how the moon could travel around the orbit in less than an hour.

Then Dr. Erick Champe said something maybe he shouldn't have said. He told Clair Maben down at the family table at the Mayflower hotel the other day that he was going to carry a compass with him from now on when he went up to Saginaw bay to hunt ducks. If Dr. Champe wasn't lost on the opening night, can some one tell why he wants a compass on future trips up to the bay? That's something more the fish editor wants explained.

He wants to know why Matt Powell is so sore he won't even speak to the fish column editor. Would he be sore, if the story about getting lost wasn't true? Of course not.

Jack Taylor, the money changer over at the First National bank, who lugs an old musket around on these hunting trips, is O. K. when it comes to fishing for goggleeyes—but as a duck hunter, he is a lemon pie—and he has a peeve about the news getting out about him getting lost. The other day the editor of the fish column, who has always been able to make a loan up to two bits at Jack's counter, was turned down flat on another two bit loan he wanted. Jack said he wasn't making loans to anybody and everybody who came along.

He might just as well have said that the fish column editor wasn't anybody. That's something the fish column isn't going to forget.

These duck hunters might just as well know it right now, but there will be no more news in the fish column about duck hunters. They're boycotted from this day henceforth. Unless, of course, there might be a nice big fat mallard left on the front door step when the editor was looking some other way so he wouldn't know which one of the hunters was the penitent one. You see if he didn't know which one did it, he would have to forgive all of them for what they have said and done during the last week since the big news about them getting lost got into print.

William Hester Tells Of New Wire Idea

A new telegraph service which will enable sports fans to encourage warriors on the gridiron and in other contests, has been inaugurated by the Western Union telegraph company, it was announced today by William Hester, local manager.

The great popularity of the twenty-five cent birthday telegram of congratulations to points throughout the United States, with suitable messages supplied by the telegraph company, and thirty five cents when messages are prepared by the sender, has resulted in Western Union establishing similar rates for these pep messages, Mr. Hester said. Suitable messages have been prepared for the convenience of persons who do not wish to compose their own telegrams. The rate remains the same regardless of the length of the fixed-text message or the distance to the point of destination in the United States.

Graphic Outlines of History By Schrader Bros.

"Pikes Peak or Bust" In 1789 our Western boundary was the Mississippi, and at that time there seemed no prospect of extending it—but with the acquisition of the Louisiana territory in 1803, and the Mexican territory in 1845, the movement westward to Oregon and Colorado was begun. "Pikes Peak or Bust" was a popular slogan.

Our service is one of quiet dignity, of respectful observance, of careful attention to detail.

Golf Course In Good Condition

Manager Milton Partridge of the Plymouth Hills Golf course has advised The Plymouth Mail that his lease for the golf course runs for three years more and that he intends to operate it for the benefit of Plymouth golf players just the same as he has for some time past.

"The grounds right now are in especially good condition and we will keep them that way for late fall playing and early spring playing, he said.

I guess it is true that the land has been sold to a Detroitor, who plans some time to build there, but of course my lease runs for three years more and I intend to operate the course during that time. The grounds are in ideal condition and present indications are that there will be lots of good golf weather between now and the time snow flies," he said.

Northville News

Arrangements are being made in the village to entertain Col. Frank Knox, vice-presidential candidate of the Republican party, Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald and Wilbur M. Brucker, Republican senatorial nominee, at a rally on October 30.

Present plans are for Wayne county candidates to take part in the celebration, driving from Detroit in a parade of more than 150 cars. There will be a special flag raising ceremony at the parking lot adjoining the Pennington-Allen theater as the climax to the activities. Dr. L. W. Snow is in charge of the arrangements.

Work on the PWA reservoir project was resumed last week by the H. B. Culbertson company, Detroit contractors, after having lapsed since June when government funds ran out. The government recently advanced $11,500 for the work, and the contractors are proceeding on the strength of this grant. The village council has insisted that no bills be presented until the remainder of the government money has been received.

Following some discussion, the council voted to pay $275 to the contractors for expenses incurred during the summer plus $87.50 for cement. The reservoir is supposed to be completed by December 15.

After several weeks of argument pro and con, the village council last week decided to change the parking ordinance to allow angle parking downtown. Objections to parallel parking, voiced by business men and shoppers, were so strong that council members reversed their previous stand. Angle parking is now permissible on the north side of Main street from Center to Hutson, on the south side of Main street to Church street, on the east side of North Center street, from the fire hydrant to Dunlap street.

The Union Leadership Church school was inaugurated Thursday evening of last week by Dr. Peter F. Stair of the Stratmoor Methodist church in Detroit. This five-weeks course of intensive study will be joined by the local Methodist, Presbyterian, and Baptist church, and the Plymouth Methodist church. Many attended the opening meeting from Plymouth and Novi. The first meetings are scheduled for the Northville Presbyterian church and the final sessions for the Plymouth Methodist church.

Mrs. Otto Stahl was buried Wednesday afternoon, October 7, with services held at the Lutheran church, Rev. W. E. Kuech of Detroit officiating. Burial was in Clarenceville. Mrs. Stahl, who resided on the Six Mile road, died October 3.

When the will of Philip Grennan was probated before Judge Edward Command last week it was found that the estate amounted to about $1,000,000 in real estate and approximately the same amount in personal property.

Fifteen members of the Northville Methodist church, including Rev. and Mrs. Harry J. Lord, attended the quarterly conference meeting for charges in the Wayne county district Thursday evening, October 1, in Wayne. The Rev. William E. Harrison, of Ann Arbor, district superintendent, was in charge.

Miss Lois M. Brookman, foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Clark of Meadowbrook, East Eight Mile road, and Harley D. Wolfrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Wolfrom of Farmington, were married at 4 p. m. October 3 at the First Presbyterian church in Northville. Rev. Harold C. Whitfield performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Clarence Wolfrom, of Warren, was matron of honor, and Mrs. Harold Pankow, of Plymouth, the bridesmaid. The best man was Clarence Wolfrom and the ushers Dr. Mark A. Gardner of Detroit, Leo Fendl of Farmington, Carl Ash of Detroit, and Floyd Northrop of Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolfrom will reside at their new home, Six Mile road and Haggerty highway. Mr. Wolfrom is employed at the Ford Motor company plant in Northville and Mrs. Wolfrom, who was graduated from the University hospital school of nursing in Ann Arbor last February, is on the staff at Maybury sanatorium.

The annual Harvest Festival will be held Wednesday, October 21, at the Presbyterian church house. Mrs. H. B. Clark, general chairman, is being assisted by committees from the Women's Union and Nellie Yerkes auxiliary.

Miss Geraldine Huff was elected president of the Nellie Yerkes auxiliary of the Presbyterian church last week at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Darrell Nollar, with Mrs. Joseph S. McCluskie as assisting hostess. The program had to do with the American negro and the devotions were led by Mrs. Harold G. Whitfield. The next meeting will be October 20, with Mrs. Karl
