

Employers Given Blanks By Postoffice

First Steps Taken For Enrollment Under Social Act

Postmaster Frank Learned Tuesday delivered to every business concern in Plymouth the blanks that the government requests be filled out in connection with the new law pertaining to social security.

These blanks are for the purpose of securing identification numbers that will be given first to business places and later to workers. Piled up at the Plymouth postoffice are thousands of blanks that are to be filled out by both employers and employees.

After workers secure their blanks, which will be within a few days after the distribution of the blanks to the employers, if they desire they can have their blanks filled out at the postoffice.

The postoffice department is co-operating in getting the machinery of the act under way.

The application blanks were delivered to any person or firm employing one or more persons under the age of 65 years, with the exception of such labor fields as domestic service, agricultural labor, "casual labor not in the course of the employer's trade or business," service on navigable waters, service performed in the employ of the government, the state or a political subdivision thereof, and service to a non-profit organization.

Although only employers of eight or more individuals are to come within the provisions of the act, the information to be supplied on the application forms delivered Tuesday is sought from every employer of even one person.

The application blank information will include a list of employees. The blanks are to be returned to the postoffice by Saturday and they may be put in the mail without postage. Postmaster Learned said yesterday.

At a later date, information relative to the act will be sent to all employers in the county who come under its provisions. The list of such employees is to be furnished by business firms on the application blanks sent to them Monday.

Masons To Attend Roll-Call Tonight

This evening, Friday, officials of Plymouth Rock Masonic lodge expect that there will be the largest turn-out of old members in many years. It is roll-call night and Worshipful Master James Gallimore urges that every member of the lodge be present. The purpose is to renew old acquaintances and to enjoy a real social evening. Rev. Peter E. Soudah, who has spent much time in Ethiopia, will be present and he will give a brief lecture on this interesting country that has just been captured by Italy.

Traffic Signs For Plymouth

Within the next few days all of the county thoroughfares passing through Plymouth will be marked with signs showing traffic speed. The city commission has been advised by the Wayne county road commission. These signs will show speeds of 45 miles, 40 miles, 35 miles, 30 and 25 miles, graduated down from the city limits to the business center.

Experiments tried in other cities show that this form of traffic marking has been beneficial in reducing traffic hazards and in not allowing traffic down to a point where it is more dangerous than higher speeds. The first experiment was on the Dort highway just east of Flint, where it was found to work exceptionally well. Later it was inaugurated in Howell and other cities in the state by the state highway department. It has now been adopted by the Wayne county road commission.

Louis Buehler, P. Prieskorn of Plymouth, Mr. Foley of Wayne and Mr. Penney of Dearborn left Thursday evening on a hunting trip near Sney. They plan to return home Thanksgiving day.

Calvary Church Plans Sunrise Family Devotion Services

"Start your Thanksgiving day with God", is this week's slogan at the Calvary Baptist church. Friends and neighbors of Calvary church are being invited to start the holiday by rallying in attendance at the Thanksgiving Sunrise family devotions to be led by Rev. F. R. Vine, the well-loved pastor of Trinity church of Detroit. This service will be held in the Calvary Baptist church, 456 South Main street, beginning with the sunrise prayer period promptly at 7 o'clock.

Pastor Vine reached thousands this summer through his gospel tent campaigns at which Dr. Walter L. Wilson of Kansas City was one of the outstanding speakers. Richard W. Neale, pastor of Calvary church, says of Mr. Vine, "He is a speaker who radiates energy, enthusiasm, plus real earnestness. I believe this is his first visit to speak in Plymouth. If he receives the hearing such a messenger of Christ deserves, we ought to have a full house. Share your family devotions with us at Calvary as this Thanksgiving dawn."

Civil Service Is Favored

Plymouth Women's Voters League Told Of Its Benefits

The November meeting of the Plymouth League of Women Voters was held at the home of Mrs. W. R. Freyman with the president, Mrs. Ray Johns, presiding. Reports were given by Mrs. Clarence Elliott, chairman of International Relations, by Mrs. Ed Eckert, chairman of Education, and by Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple, chairman of Municipal Affairs.

The program was a study of the proposed civil service bill for Michigan. Mrs. Bruce Woodbury, chairman of the discussion, presented the sections of the bill itself. Mrs. Clarence Elliott gave the history of the question, stressing the need for civil service legislation. Miss Verne Rowley gave a survey of in-service activities of Michigan; 11,807 employees under the present system, including transfers, promotions, services, training vacations and sick-leave, discipline, dismissal, employe welfare, timekeeping and payroll procedure, records, turnover, and superannuation allowances.

The Michigan League of Women Voters has taken a very aggressive stand in favor of the civil service bill.

The Plymouth league also heard reports from the state board meeting at Lansing from Mrs. Sam Spicer, Mrs. Bruce Woodbury, Mrs. James Sessions, and Mrs. Ray Johns.

Deer Hunters Have Good Luck

Some of the Plymouth deer hunters are starting to return from the northlands, with both good and bad reports of luck. Every one back declare they have enjoyed the hunting trip, whether they brought back any game or not.

Probably the most fortunate hunting party was the one that made the shortest stay in the woods. This group consisted of Russell Powell, William Rambo, David Bolton, Dr. Paul Butz and Jake Stremich.

They drove up to Lake county last Saturday afternoon and returned home Sunday with four deer. Fortunately for them they were the first to hunt this season in a new territory.

Dave Bolton, who has made six previous hunting trips to the north, brought down his first deer last Sunday. It was a dandy little spike horn. William Rambo got the biggest one of the party. It was a deer with 18 points on its horn spread.

When M. W. Powell, who had just returned from an unsuccessful moose hunting trip up in Canada, saw the good luck of these youthful hunters, he packed his gun in his car and left immediately for the north woods.

William Pettingill and Frank Rambo, who made a brief hunting trip north came back with one nice deer. They hunted near Baldwin. William Garrett also left for the north to hunt this weekend. Dr. Butz went back with him to the woods to show the Saginaw bay perch fisherman how to shoot a big buck.

Christmas Club Checks Mailed Out

Plymouth United Pays Nearly $10,000 To Local Residents

Over 300 checks went into the mails to members of the Plymouth United Savings bank club this week, placing nearly $10,000 into circulation for Christmas shopping in this city, according to Cashier Russell Daane of the United bank.

"This is more than double the amount saved through the club last year. We are exceedingly pleased over the big growth of the amount because of the fact that we know it helps those who have been thrifty throughout the year and saved their few extra nickles and dimes and because too, we know that these checks will help Plymouth business men," stated Mr. Daane.

Already the club for 1937 has been opened, he stated yesterday. It is interesting to note that throughout the country three hundred and fifty-five million dollars will be distributed to about seven and a half million Christmas club members by approximately fifty five hundred banking institutions and organizations within the next two weeks according to an estimate given out yesterday by Herbert F. Rawll, founder and president of Christmas club.

The estimated average amount for each member is $46.50. The estimate is based upon a substantial number of reports from institutions operating the Christmas club plan in different sections of the country. These banks report, on an average, a 14 percent increase in total accumulations over 1935. The average increase per member distribution so reported has been used in arriving at the estimated figures for 1936.

In the distribution of Christmas club funds this year, New York leads the other states with about $98,500,000.00, while the estimates for Pennsylvania are $36,200,000.00, for New Jersey, $31,500,000.00 and for Massachusetts $28,500,000.00. New York City's Metropolitan district will receive about $52,000,000.00. The Bank of America, N. Y. and S. A. in California will distribute $7,000,000.00. The Bank of the Manhattan company in New York has $3,250,000.00 for more than 80,000 members enrolled at 57 offices in Greater New York.

The Seaman's Bank for Savings in the city of New York has a total accumulation of approximately $1,425,000.00. The banks in Washington, D. C. have $6,300,000.00 ready for distribution representing an increase of 20 percent over last year.

Based upon a former direct-by-mail questionnaire to a considerable number of members of the Christmas club and applying that analysis to the entire distribution for this year, Mr. Rawll estimates that the total Christmas club fund will be used approximately as follows:

|-------------------------------|---------------|
| Christmas purchases           | $149,000,000 |
| Permanent savings             | 89,000,000    |
| Year end commitments          | 28,400,000    |
| Taxes                         | 42,800,000    |
| Mortgage interest             | 21,300,000    |
| Insurance premiums            | 17,700,000    |
| Education, travel and Charity | 7,000,000     |

Praises PWA Job On Union Street

Construction of the new curbing along Union street from Main street to the plant of the Dalseg Manufacturing company has been nearly completed and adds much to the general improvement of the thoroughfare.

"This has been a PWA project. It is a good job and the men on it have worked so well that I feel they are entitled to a lot of praise for the way they have carried the work on," stated Edward C. Hough yesterday in commenting on the work.

"Robert Warner has been in charge of it, I notice. Well, if all PWA jobs had been done as good as this one has and if the men employed on them had worked as well as they did on Union street, there would never have been any criticism of this method of employment. Maybe some have been a little too critical of this kind of work anyway," stated Mr. Hough as he watched the finishing touches being placed on the new curbing and gutter.

Needlework Guild Expresses Thanks For Assistance By Many

The Needlework Guild of Plymouth wishes to thank its members for their helpfulness in making the ingathering for the year such a successful one. Through the cooperation of the city commission a place has been prepared in the city hall where all articles sent in can be carefully stored. It will be the pleasure of the Guild to serve those desiring aid on Tuesday afternoons from 1:00 until 4:00 at the city hall. The dispensing of articles will begin next Tuesday, November 24.

Members Of D.A.R. Hear Mrs. Mooney

High Official Tells Of Ellis Island And Its Problems

The members of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter, D. A. R. met in the pleasant home of Mrs. Pearl Balch and Miss Ruth Gillis at Northville to listen to Mrs. Charles H. Mooney, national vice chairman of Ellis Island talk on the subject "A Day at Ellis Island". She sketched the history of Ellis Island, beginning with the immigration laws of 1884, up to the Johnson Immigration laws of 1921, noting the many changes. Today aliens are examined in the mother country, and are brought directly to the port of New York unless they become ill enroute.

Ellis Island is now largely used for those who are to be deported. These numbers sometimes as high as 600, Mrs. Mooney said. For 13 years the D. A. R. has carried on a work in Occupational Therapeutics employing at the present three full time paid workers. Eighteen other agencies also render social service on the island in one form or another. The island has been enlarged from three to twenty one acres and has twenty seven buildings, two of these being laundries. Mrs. Mooney said the watch word of the island is cleanliness, the bed linen and blankets being changed daily as in the best hotels. The U. S. Marine hospital with 540 beds is also located on the island.

She had with her several very interesting articles which the men had made, and dresses made by the women. The men like to knit so well they take their knitting to bed with them, she said. There were scarfs, a knitted sweater, tooled leather work and many other interesting examples of their work.

The members had brought contributions for this work, and also took up a collection to aid in buying materials and paying the workers.

The Regent, Mrs. Sidney D. Strong presided over the business meeting. Mrs. J. M. Bennett, the Vice Regent presented the speaker, and also Mrs. Fred A. Dibble, who read the first Thanksgiving proclamation written and proclaimed by George Washington. The Regent and the Vice Regent presided over the attractively appointed tea table, the social hour giving the members an opportunity to meet the honored guest. There was also present, Mrs. Christine Sprankle from the Punksutawney Chapter of Punksutawney, Pennsylvania.

The next meeting will be the annual Christmas party to which husbands or guests may be invited. Mrs. Sherwin A. Hill at Greenmead, Northville will again be the hostess. The date is December 7.

Lutheran Ladies Aid Celebrates Half Century of Existence

The Ladies Aid society of the Lutheran church befittingly commemorated the fiftieth anniversary of the founding, November 16, 1886, in a service last Sunday morning.

The pioneer pastor, William Renz, now of Toledo, Ohio, who drew up the society's first constitution was present at the celebration and gave the ladies a very interesting story of the origin of the society, of its struggles and of its successes.

Present at the celebration were four charter members: Mrs. M. Genis, Mrs. I. Livrance, Mrs. J. Streng, and Mrs. C. Kaiser. The ladies served a chicken dinner for all the guests at noon. The offering of over $75.00 was added to the organ fund. Mr. Bartel had arranged for beautiful floral decorations, and the entire day was a success in marking the end of a half century of service of the society.

Victims Of Auto Crash Show Slight Improvement Say Doctors

Attending physicians report that there has been a slight improvement in the condition of Charles LeFever, critically injured in an automobile accident on the night of November 14, when his car collided head-on with another machine on Middle Belt road. While he is not out of danger, doctors believe he has a possible chance of recovery.

He has been advised of the death of his son, Raymond. Doctors feared that the information might cause a disastrous set-back in his condition, but the information as to what had actually happened, seemed to relieve him.

Mildred LeFever, the daughter, who was also hurt in the accident, is making a fair recovery but because of the compound fracture of one of her legs, it is probable that she will be confined to a hospital for many months, it is stated.

Little Betty Jean Curtis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Curtis, who was with the LeFever family when the accident happened and suffered a fractured leg, is making an excellent recovery and may be able to be brought home within the next ten days or two weeks.

Doctors are not sure of the recovery of Harold Kobisch, of Romulus, driver of the other car that was in the collision with the LeFever automobile. Infection has developed in his face and his condition Thursday was reported as serious. He is married and there are two small children in the family.

All of the injured are still confined in Eloise hospital where they were taken after the crash on the Middle Belt road, just south of the Plymouth road.

Early Copy! Please!

Because of the fact that Thanksgiving day falls on Thursday, which is publication day for The Plymouth Mail, it will be necessary for The Mail to be printed next Tuesday night so that all may receive their regular issue on Wednesday morning.

To be able to comply with the request of our readers and advertisers that the paper be issued previous to Thanksgiving day, it will be necessary that all news copy, church announcements and notices, as well as advertising, be in the office Monday, or early Tuesday morning.

If possible to do so, The Mail would appreciate it greatly if some copy could be sent to the office Saturday of this week. You may know in advance that your cooperation will be more than appreciated by the entire staff of The Plymouth Mail.

Hits Parked Car, Badly Injured

Apparently blinded by the glare of the headlights of another automobile, Charles Wall Tuesday evening collided with a parked car near the corner of West Ann Arbor and South Harvey and was seriously injured.

There was no one in the parked car. The impact threw Mr. Wall with terrific force against the steering wheel of his own machine and his head crashed into the windshield.

Several ribs were broken, his face badly bruised and attending physicians fear there may be internal injuries. He was taken to Plymouth hospital where Dr. Harold Brisbols is caring for him.

Mr. Wall is the father of Steve Wall of the Detroit House of Correction.

Overcome By Gas, Dies As Result

Overcome by gas while left alone Monday afternoon, Mrs. Hattie Fordshae, aged 78 years and almost a lifelong resident of Plymouth and vicinity, died in spite of the efforts of physicians to revive her. She had made her home for several years at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Stanley, 746 Mill street.

While Mrs. Stanley was away from the house for a short time during the afternoon, the aged resident in some way had started the gas stove and failed to light the flames. Because of her advanced years, she was apparently quickly overcome and expired before being found.

Her husband, who died a number of years ago, was a well known farmer living west of the city. Another daughter, Mrs. Charles Stacey of Salem, survives. The funeral was held Thursday, Rev. P. R. Norton of the First Methodist church officiating.

Lynn Wilson Is Prize Winner

When Lynn Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Wilson of 334 North Mill street, decided to enter the recent national letter contest conducted by the Rexall drug stores of the country, he called over at the Beyer Pharmacy, the Rexall store in Plymouth, secured all the information he could about the contest, then decided to see if he could not win a prize.

What was the result? If you have seen an ambitious boy hurrying around the city on as fine a looking bicycle as any boy ever had, you might know right away that the youngster won one of the grand prizes in this letter contest.

The subject of the contest was "How The Rexall Store Can be of Better Service to the Community." Among the boys of the nation who were successful in this contest, the Rexall company distributed more than 792 prizes, including $3,000 in cash that was valued among many of the winners.

He was for a number of years medical superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction, and active in Masonic lodge circles as well as the Wayne County Medical society. For many years past Dr. and Mrs. Kimble have spent the winter months in Miami, where they also had a large number of friends among the winter visitors to that city.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his widow, a niece, Roxanna Pennywidow of Cincinnati, Ohio, a nephew Roy R. Pennywidow, Charleston, West Virginia; also the family of Edward C. Hough. There are no children. The body was brought from Detroit, the funeral being held from the residence, 1030 Penniman avenue, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Walter Nicholson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. The body was placed in the mausoleum at Riverside cemetery.

Thanksgiving Day Services At The Methodist Church

The union Thanksgiving service this year will be held in the Methodist church Thursday morning at ten o'clock. Rev. Walter Nichol, pastor of the Presbyterian church will speak.

Seek To End Outside Rag Collections

An effort is going to be made by city officials to stop the collection of old papers, rags and materials of this kind by collectors from outside the city. It is contended that there are local people, boys and girls and the Salvation Army, who collect these wastes and use them to benefit local individuals and local charities. The city officials do not favor giving aid to outside agencies and because of this, an effort will be made to stop outside solicitations of rags, old papers and other similar materials.

On Wednesday of last week Mrs. Perry Hix, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson and their grandson, Russell Robinson, Jr., motored to Onley Beach, Ont. to spend the day with their cousins.

Brief Illness Ends In Death Of Dr. Kimble

Prominent Physician Expires In Harper Hospital In Detroit

Dr. John Henry Kimble, prominent resident of Plymouth and western Wayne county and for over 45 years one of the best known practicing physicians in southeastern Michigan, died Sunday afternoon in Harper hospital in Detroit, where he had been confined because of illness for the past four weeks.

His passing proved somewhat of a surprise to a large number of Plymouth residents who had not learned of his serious illness.

Dr. and Mrs. Kimble, who have been spending the winter months in Miami, Florida, for many years past, did not return home as early this last spring as usual, as they had just erected for themselves a new winter home on a location that Dr. Kimble regarded as one of the best in the southern city and a place that both liked especially well.

It was late in the spring before it was completed and made ready for occupancy this winter. Dr. Kimble had spent the last few days of their vacation in Miami directing the planting of shrubs and flowers about the winter home that he is never to enjoy. Dr. Kimble was born February 15, 1867 at Manchester, Ohio. After completing his early education in that place, he entered the University of Michigan where he spent eight years taking various medical courses offered by that school. He graduated in 1891 with two degrees, Ph. D. and M. D., being one of the honor students of the class.

Immediately after graduation he came to Plymouth where he entered into medical practice. It was on October 4, 1892 when he married Miss Mary Hough, daughter of Lewis Cass and Mariette Hough, pioneer residents of this part of Michigan.

Two or three years later he was employed by the Parke-Davis company of Detroit to represent that company in Alabama and Mississippi in handling medical supplies. For one year during his association with the well known Detroit medical supply company Dr. and Mrs. Kimble resided in Mobile, Alabama and the other year at Jackson, Mississippi. He then returned to Plymouth to resume his medical practice.

During the World War he enlisted for military service and was stationed at Fort Brady near Sault Ste Marie. He soon won a commission as captain and just before the close of his military services, was promoted to the rank of major. It was while he was located at Fort Brady that that military camp was hit especially hard by the influenza epidemic that swept the country. Dr. Kimble won the unusual distinction of not having lost a single pneumonia case during the epidemic, although a very high number of soldiers in the camp were stricken with the illness.

He was for a number of years medical superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction, and active in Masonic lodge circles as well as the Wayne County Medical society. For many years past Dr. and Mrs. Kimble have spent the winter months in Miami, where they also had a large number of friends among the winter visitors to that city.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his widow, a niece, Roxanna Pennywidow of Cincinnati, Ohio, a nephew Roy R. Pennywidow, Charleston, West Virginia; also the family of Edward C. Hough. There are no children. The body was brought from Detroit, the funeral being held from the residence, 1030 Penniman avenue, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Walter Nicholson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. The body was placed in the mausoleum at Riverside cemetery.

The Detroit Home Insulators, Inc., 7704 Woodward avenue, Detroit has announced that C. E. Walbridge is its agent for Eagle Home Insulation for Plymouth and the surrounding territory.

For homes that are uncomfortable, especially the upstairs, hot in the summer and cold in winter, Mr. Walbridge states that he will be glad to demonstrate what can be done to give comfort all the year round and how Eagle Home Insulation pays for itself.

New Senator Hurt In Crash

Successor To John Reid In Hospital At Ann Arbor

There is a possibility that this senatorial district, the 18th, will be without representation in Lansing when the legislature meets on January 5, because of serious injuries received by Senator-elect Tom Burke last Friday when his automobile left the highway and crashed into a tree over near Clinton.

Burke, and a woman companion named Mrs. Elsie Garland of Detroit, were on their way to Detroit on U. S. highway 112 when it is said a tire on a new LaSalle coupe he was driving, blew out, causing the machine to leave the highway.

The senator-elect and Mrs. Garland were rushed to St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor where it was found that their injuries were of an exceedingly serious nature.

Mrs. Garland suffered a fractured jaw as well as fractures of the skull and right arm. Burke has a fractured pelvis, broken face bones, nose and ribs, besides serious cuts about the face and head.

First reports were that both were probably fatally injured but it was learned yesterday that they are on the road to recovery but that the newly elected senator-elect may not be able to be in Lansing when the legislature convenes.

He was elected over Senator John W. Reid of Highland Park in the Democratic landslide. While the new state official came to Plymouth once during the campaign to speak at a local political mass meeting, he had not become well acquainted in this city.

Some of Early Entries in Tourist Picture Contest

Michigan Amateur Photographers Send Contest Pictures

The first week of the East Michigan Tourist Association picture contest indicated that people all over eastern Michigan are enthusiastic about the idea. The association feels that this response may be due as much to the public's willingness to aid in the development of the tourist trade as to its desire to share in the prize money. Whatever the cause, it is nevertheless certain that the people are taking a keen interest in the contest, and that the association's photograph files are going to be swelled with interesting views of East Michigan.

"There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it." 1 Cor. 10: 13. Come and worship with us and we will do thee good. 280 N. Main street.

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL Lutheran church, Livonia Center, O. J. Peters, pastor. Services in English on Sunday, November 22. Special services in English on Thanksgiving day at 2:30 p.m. The customary altar thank offering will be lifted for the benefit of the home church treasury.

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST—Services, Saturday afternoon at 6:30. Main St. Sabbath school, 2 p.m. Bible study, 3:15 p.m. Wednesday, 7:30 p.m. Cottage meeting. Visitors always welcome.

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH—C. M. Pennell, pastor. Sunday, November 22, Thanksgiving and Praise service, 10:30 o'clock. Theme: Our Best Reason for Thanksgiving. Bible school, 11:45 a.m. "An Ambassador in Chains", Acts 28. Memory verse: "I can do all things through Christ which strengthens me." Philippians 4:13. Are you tired, lonely or discouraged? Come and enjoy the happy hymn-sing hour with us, Sunday, evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN church, Walter Nichol, pastor. Services at Masonic Temple, 10:00 a.m., Worship, 11:30 a.m., Sunday school, 6:30 p.m., Young people. The services on Sunday next will emphasize the thought of national thanksgiving. The pastor's morning sermon and the choir music will be suitable for the day and at the Sunday school a short play entitled "Richard and John" will be presented. On Thanksgiving day, Thursday, November 26, a union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Methodist church at 10 a.m. Rev. Norton will preside, the choir of the Methodist church will lead the service of praise and Rev. Nichol will preach the sermon. The Mission study class will meet on Tuesday, November 24, at 6:30 p.m. at the Masonic temple. A committee of which Mrs. Van V. Hale is chairman will prepare the evening meal and arrange for the program. Members pay 25 cents each to defray expenses. Work is going forward in preparation for the new church.

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN church, Edgar Hoenecke, pastor. Have you made your plans for Thanksgiving? Have you included "giving thanks" in those plans? If not, your plans are a contradiction in themselves. Thanksgiving services begin at 10:00 and close at 11:00 a.m. This will give everyone an opportunity to Go To Church First.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL church, P. Ray Norton, pastor. 10:00 a.m., Morning worship, 11:30 a.m., Sunday school, 7:00 p.m., Epworth league. The Epworth league this Sunday night will hold its meeting at the Children's Village on the Six Mile road. "Soul and Body" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 22. Among the Bible citations is the following (Eph. 4: 4): "There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 477): "Soul is the substance, Life, and intelligence of man, which is individualized, but not in matter. Soul can never reflect anything inferior to Spirit."

ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH—Rosedale Gardens. Masses: Sundays 8:00 and 11:00 a.m. Holy Days 7:30 and 9:00 a.m. Week day, 8:00 a.m. Confessions before each Mass. Catechism class after first Mass. Benediction after second Mass. Baptism by appointment.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH—Richard W. Neale, pastor. About 100,000 souls pass from time into eternity every twenty-four hours. Which mean that each time the writer's heart beats the shadow of death crosses some path. To those whom Christ has saved, in His grace, death means sudden glory. But what of the heart that has sins unconfessed and unforgiven? Jesus said, "I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." (John 14: 6). Meet Christ by faith at Calvary this Sunday. The pastor preaches on the following themes this Sunday, D. V.: 10:00 a.m. "Fruit or Fungus—Which?" (Galatians 5: 22-24); 7:30 p.m. "Why a Man Must be Born Again" (John 3: 1-18). We meet each Wednesday for our church family prayer meeting at 7:30 p.m. This evening at 7:30 there will be a special cottage prayer meeting at the Burden residence, 364 Adams St. Join us in faith and fellowship there. Sunday school with classes for all, welcomes you at 11:30 each Lord's day. Clinton Postiff's class took first place last Sunday, with the Men's class trailing a distant second. This coming Sunday is the National Day of Prayer. Periods of worship and prayer begin at 9:00 a.m., 2:30 p.m., and 7:00 p.m. While America spends billions for the revival of business and commerce, shall we not devote time and energy to prayer for spiritual revival among God's people? We'll look for you at Pastor F. R. Vine of Trinity church leads our Thanksgiving Sunrise family devotions on Thanksgiving morning at 7:00 o'clock sharp. Your hearty support will make the prayer, song and praise periods long to be remembered for joy and fellowship.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH—Loya Sutherland, minister. Once each year this church has the joy and privilege of having a Deputation team of students from the University of Michigan. These students are connected with our Baptist Guild House at Ann Arbor and carry on a most wonderful Christian work from this center. This team will be comprised of both under-graduate and post-graduate students and they are to be with us for the entire day. You will hear them at the 10:00 o'clock service. They will take charge of the young people's hour at 6:00 o'clock and, again for our evening gathering at 7:00. Bible school meets at 11:15. Because of the great tragedy which has come within the circle of our church, all meetings of the Aid society and etc. are postponed. The pastor wishes to express his personal appreciation of the fine Christian kindness which has been shown by our membership and the entire community. These are solemn days indeed and the words ring out again from our hearts: "Therefor be ye also ready." An attendance record is being kept of our membership for the month of November, we hope none will need to appear with a complete non-attendance at the end of the month.

BEREA CHAPEL—Assemblies of God, Pentecostal. Jesus said, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature." This is the commission Jesus left us and that is our purpose and aim. We are holding services in the I. O. O. F. hall on Main street above the Kroger store. Sunday, 10:30 a.m. worship service. Sunday school at 11:00 a.m. and evening service at 7:30 p.m. We also hold our Thursday evening services at 7:45. The location where they are to be held to be announced each Sunday. All are welcome. Pastor John Wajaskay.

CATHOLIC CHURCH—Rev. F. C. Lefevre, pastor. Masses at 8:00 and 10:00. Confessions Saturday nights at 7:30, and before each mass. Societies—The Holy Name Society for all men and young men. Communion the second Sunday of the month. The Ladies' Altar Society receives Holy Communion the third Sunday of each month. All the ladies of the parish are to belong to this society. Children of Mary—Every child of the parish must belong and must go to communion every fourth Sunday of the month. Instructions in religion conducted each Saturday morning at 9:30 by the Dominican Sisters. All children that have not completed their 8th grade, are obliged to attend these religious instructions.

Feather party, Masonic temple, Saturday evening, Nov. 21, at 8 o'clock. Turkeys, ducks, geese, etc. Everybody welcome.

MRS. IDA HELEN VAN VLEET
Final rites for Mrs. Ida Helen VanVleet, former well known resident of Plymouth, who died Sunday, November 15, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leola Frederisly at Billings, Montana, were held Thursday forenoon from the Schrader Funeral home in Plymouth. The chapel was filled with old friends and neighbors who knew Mrs. VanVleet well and held her in high esteem.

Mrs. VanVleet, whose home had been in Denver, Colorado, since 1933, was taken ill while on a visit at the home of her daughter in Montana. Members of the family brought the body to Plymouth on the Schrader funeral home in Plymouth. The chapel was filled with old friends and neighbors who knew Mrs. VanVleet well and held her in high esteem.

Mrs. VanVleet was born in Salem, Michigan, December 1, 1871, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. McCormick, well known pioneer residents of that locality. Mr. McCormick died in Plymouth in 1913 and Mrs. McCormick also died here in 1907.

The family lived in Plymouth until 1909 when they moved to Charlotte, Michigan. It was in 1917 when they moved to Trinidad, Colorado where they engaged in the elevator business, moving from there to Denver, in 1933. While residents of Plymouth, Mrs. VanVleet was a member of the Methodist church and at the time of her death she was an active member of the First United Presbyterian church of Denver.

Besides the husband and two children she is survived by four grandchildren, Wayne and Betty VanVleet and Vera and Buddy Frederisly; also two sisters, Mrs. Clara Hearn, Plymouth, and Mrs. Ethel Hakes of Lansing.

DR. JOHN H. KIMBLE
Dr. John H. Kimble, age 68 years, a resident and doctor of medicine here in Plymouth for a number of years, and who resided at 1036 Penniman avenue, Plymouth, passed away at Harper hospital, Sunday noon, November 15. He was the husband of Mrs. Mary Hough Kimble. The body was brought to the Schrader Funeral home, and later taken to his late home, from which place funeral services were held Wednesday, November 18, at 3 p.m. Rev. Walter Nichol officiating. Interment was made in Riverside mausoleum.

poison early Monday afternoon, November 16th. She was the widow of the late Charles Forshee. It was in February, 1877 when she was married to Esek Walker and to this union was born two children, Jennie Evelyn and Luella May. Several years after the death of Mr. Walker she was married in March, 1903 to Charles Forshee, and resided on a farm in Wayne county until after his death, when she moved to Plymouth and has continued to reside here since.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Harry Stanley of Plymouth and Mrs. Charles Stacey of Salem Township, Michigan; four grand-children and five great grand-children. The body was brought to the Schrader Funeral home, from which place funeral services were held Thursday, November 19th at 2 p.m. Interment in Riverside Cemetery. Rev. P. Ray Norton officiating.

IN TRIBUTE TO MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK

Through a flash! Upon the ether waves. The world is saddened. By a worded phrase! No more the voice of one great singer here. Beloved Mme. Schuman-Heink—Beloved and dear. Stilled the voice of one dear mother. Whose song has stirred the whole world over. And now the nation bows in prayer. And bids farewell to one so fair. Loyal to the dough-boy friend, Loyal to the very end. Loyal to family, fond blessings to share. Loyal to God, was her most loyal prayer.

Church Wedding For Miss Gertrude Miller And Edwin Hicks

At 4 o'clock, Saturday, November 14, occurred the marriage of Gertrude Marie Miller, daughter of Mrs. Mary Miller of Plymouth, and Edwin Douglas Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Hicks of Dexter.

The wedding ceremony was read in the Evangelical Lutheran church of Livonia by Rev. O. J. Peters, of Wayne, Mt. Schultz of Wayne, played the bridal march as the wedding party took their places before an embankment of palms.

The bride wore a wedding gown of white satin, with train and a veil of net fastened to a band of satin. She carried an arm bouquet of white rosebuds and white pom poms.

Evelyn Wolff, of Ann Arbor, was maid of honor, wearing dark green chiffon velvet with matching accessories. Her flowers were burnt orange roses and violets.

Thelma Vaughn, of Dexter, bridesmaid, wore a gown of wine chiffon velvet and carried tall-man roses.

Robert Lyndon, of Dexter, and Elwood Minock, of Ann Arbor, attended the bridegroom. The ushers were William Urquhart and Raymond Pote, of Dexter.

Mrs. Miller wore a gown of green silk crepe while Mrs. Hicks chose rust crepe.

A reception for 40 guests was held at the home of the bride on Farmer street, Plymouth. The guests were seated at a table decorated with a three-tiered wedding cake, trimmed with yellow rosebuds and bowls of yellow pom poms were placed at either end of the table.

After a short wedding trip, to Detroit and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Hicks returned to Plymouth and are at home to their many friends at 287 Farmer street. Best wishes from a host of friends are extended to the happy couple.

Guests were present from Mason, Dexter, Ann Arbor, South Lyon, Detroit and Plymouth.

Among the parties given in honor of the bride, previous to her marriage, were two miscellaneous showers, one given by her two nieces, Evelyn and Alice Wolff, at their home in Ann Arbor, and the other at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bakewell, on the Plymouth road.

Miss June Frederick Wed To Ronald Hesse Last Saturday

June Louise Frederick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Frederick of this city, spoke her marriage vows to Ronald Frank Hesse, son of Mrs. Frank Hesse, of Warren road, at 7:30 o'clock, Saturday, November 14. The Rev. P. Ray Norton, pastor of the local Methodist Episcopal church, performed the ceremony in the home of the bride, before the fireplace which was banked with palms and huge baskets of chrysanthemums with tall candles being placed on either side, giving the only light during the impressive ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony Edwin Campbell, of Plymouth, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because" with Mrs. M. J. O'Conner, also of Plymouth, accompanying him on the piano. Mrs. O'Conner then played Lohengrin's wedding march while the wedding party took their places.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was lovely in a Redingote gown of white satin, the coat being of the satin and lace, made with long light sleeves, pointed at the wrist, and collar fastened at the front with buttons of lace, the skirt swept gracefully from the waist into a train. Her veil, of finger tip length, was of white net, edged with lace, fastened to a crown of pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses and white chrysanthemums tied with long white satin ribbon.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Franklin Knapp, Jr., of New Hudson, who wore a gown of deep rose crepe, made with high neckline, small collar trimmed with rows of stitching which also trimmed the short puffed sleeves, a girdle of black velvet and sandals of rose. She carried a bouquet of tall-man roses and bronze bebe mums.

The bridesmaid was Arline Hesse, sister of the bridegroom, and was gowned in royal blue taffeta, made with full circular skirt and bolero jacket, the skirt being trimmed at the bottom with a band of rose velvet with which she wore sandals of blue. Her arm bouquet was of pink roses and white bebe mums.

The bridegroom chose Leon Curtis for his best man and the usher was Russell Magraw, a cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Frederick chose for her daughter's wedding, a gown of royal blue velvet with full sleeves of chiffon and velvet shot with tiny gold beads. Her corsage was of tall-man rosebuds and bronze bebe mums, while Mrs. Hesse, mother of the bridegroom, wore wine velvet with short puffed sleeves trimmed with shirring at the shoulder. Her corsage was of white rosebuds and bebe mums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home with about 60 guests present. The bridal table was centered with a large wedding cake ornamented with a miniature bride and bridegroom with lighted tapers on either side. The other tables were centered with crystal bowls of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Hesse left immediately after the reception for a southern motor trip the bride wearing a dress of rust crepe trimmed with brown fur, a brown coat and accessories of brown.

The young couple are popular in this community. The bride graduated with the class of 1935 of Plymouth high school. They have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and happy wedded life.

After December 1, the couple will be at home in their new apartment on West Warren road.

Miss Dorothy George And Walter McLean Wed On Sunday

Miss Dorothy George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. George of Waterford, was united in marriage to Walter McLean, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McLean, on Sunday, November 15. The ceremony was read at 1 o'clock by the Rev. P. Ray Norton in the Methodist parsonage.

The bride's attendants were Miss Helen George, sister of the bride and Miss Sylvia Smith of Detroit. Both the bride and her attendants wore afternoon dresses of various shades of rust with black accessories and had corsages of mums and roses.

The groom was attended by Donald Smith and Will Crosett, both of Detroit.

After the ceremony the bridal party left for the home of the bride's parents where a wedding dinner was served to a host of friends. The table centerpieces as well as the house decorations were of yellow and bronze mums. Just before dinner the wedding cake was cut by the bride and served by the bridesmaids. After dinner Mr. and Mrs. Walter McLean left for their home in Detroit where they will reside. Guests were present from Detroit, Northville, and Plymouth.

Miss Eleanor Smith And Max Preston Wed—To Reside Here

Miss Eleanor Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Starkweather avenue, was married to Max Preston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Preston of Northville, Saturday evening at the residence of Father LeFevre. A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Bernice Smith, sister of the bride was her only attendant and Ben Wall acted as best man.

The bride was attired in a brown suit with accessories of rust color and she wore a corsage of yellow roses and baby breath. The bridesmaid wore a green suit with accessories of matching color. The young couple will reside on Mill street.

Saline Girl Becomes Bride Of Sheldon Baker

The marriage of Leila McCallum, daughter of Mrs. Olga McCallum, of Saline and Sheldon Baker, son of Mrs. Lois Baker of Plymouth, was quietly performed at 8 o'clock, Saturday evening, November 14, in the home of the bride by the Rev. Adolph Lederer, pastor of the Lutheran church of Saline. Only the immediate families were present at the ceremony.

Mrs. Baker and daughters, Doris and Mary Frances, and H. M. Strang of this city attended the wedding.

The young couple have many friends, who extend to them best wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

V-8
60 HORSEPOWER

Good Performance with Maximum Economy

Displ., 2,616 in. Stroke, 3.2 in. Displacement, 136 cu. in.

THE New Ford V-8 for 1937 is the most beautiful Ford car ever offered. It is built in only one size—one standard of roomy comfort and modern appearance. But you may have either the improved 85-horsepower V-8 engine for maximum performance—or the new 60-horsepower V-8 engine for maximum economy. The smaller engine makes possible a lighter car—lower operating costs—and a lower price.

When you drive the 1937 Ford with the 85-horsepower V-8 engine, you are master of a power plant that gives everything you can possibly demand in speed and acceleration. Today, improved carburetion enables it to deliver its thrilling performance with unusually low gasoline consumption.

The new 60-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine delivers V-8 smoothness and quietness—even at speeds up to 70 miles an hour—with gas-line mileage so high that it creates an entirely new standard of economy in modern motor car operation.

We invite you to see this new Ford car, and arrange to drive one equipped with the engine that fits your needs.

FEATURES

APPEARANCE—A newly designed car. Headlamps recessed in fender aprons. Modern lid-type hood hinged at the back. Larger luggage space. Spare tire enclosed within body. Completely new interiors. Slanting V-type windshield opens in all closed cars.

COMFORT AND QUIET—A big, roomy car. Extra space in the body, not taken up by the engine under the hood. Comfort of the Center-Poise Ride further increased by smoother action of the long-tapering springs, with new pressure lubrication. New methods of mounting body and engine make this a quieter car.

SAFETY

BRAKES—New Easy-Action Safety Brakes, of the cable and conduit control type. "The safety of steel from pedal to wheel." Self-energising—car momentum is used to help apply the brakes. Tests show that about one-third less pedal pressure is required to stop the car.

BODY—Not an ounce of wood need for structural strength. Frame structure all steel, sheathed with steel panels—top, sides and floor. All are welded into a single steel unit of great strength. Safety Glass all around at no extra charge.

Basketball League Games

First of Series To Be Played Tonight— Several New Teams

The first games of the Community Basketball League will be played tonight, the Wilkie team meeting the Main team in the first contest of the evening and the Schrader team contesting with the Buicks for the second game.

At a recent meeting an 84 game schedule was adopted by the captains, with a play-off series for the championship.

Other regulations adopted require the captains of each team to carry his or her full quota of players and use every one of those present in uniform, sometime during the game.

There are several new captains and several new sponsors this year. Players are required to hold season tickets.

The first games are played at 7 o'clock and the second starts at 8 o'clock, according to Earl G. Gray, general manager of the league.

Following is the schedule for the first two weeks:

Friday, November 20—Wilkie vs. Main; Schrader vs. Buick.

Tuesday, November 24—Daisy vs. R. & W.; Wild vs. Independents.

Wednesday, November 25—Hi-Speed vs. Smitty; Daisy vs. Wilson.

Monday, November 20—Hi-Speed vs. Daisy; Buick vs. Daisy.

Monday, December 7—R. & W. vs. Smitty; Wilkie vs. Wilson.

Wednesday, December 9—Main vs. Wild's; Independents vs. Schrader's.

First Township Tax Only $154.40

Early Settlers Not Burdened With Levies On Property

Editor's Note: This is the seventh installment of the story of pioneer life in Plymouth told by one of the first settlers, A. B. Markham, at the annual meeting of the State Pioneer society on February 6, 1877.

This summer a tax was levied and collected for the first time. The township was taxed $154.40 of which $87.50 went to the county. More than half of this sum was paid by the return of non-resident lands and the rest paid in money. $66.90, was paid to the supervisor of the town. There were 140 tax payers. I was the collector.

The tax was to be collected by the first of February therefore January was the month to do it. The snow was deep and I plodded through woods and snow for about two weeks collecting. I then counted up and found I had collected enough to pay off by throwing in my fees all but $50. The most remaining unpaid was in the south part of the south township about ten miles away. I went and split rails for Mr. Benton for sixty-two and a half cents per hundred and got the money and paid off and have ever since been satisfied to live without office.

About this time John Miller and Israel Nash built a grist mill near where Northville now stands. Compared with mills today it was not much but it answered the purpose designed for that time.

It was in 1827 I decided to go west on a pioneering expedition. I got a pony of Mr. Thomas who lived on the Rouge near Conrad Ten Eyck's tavern. I borrowed a saddle of one of my neighbors put up some "bread and dinner" for the journey and some tobacco as a token of friendship for the Indians with whom I expected to associate during my journey. I forded the river and passed a few houses where Ann Arbor now stands and went to Saline and found Mr. Sidon from whom I gathered some information. I then went on toward Pocomog in the western part of the territory where some of my relatives had settled in 1825.

After leaving Saline I saw no houses until I got to Jones' where Jonesville now stands. Here I found Mrs. Jones only. She was in a small log cabin with only half the floor laid—no other person—save Indians nearer than Allen's Prairie three or four miles away. She said Mr. Allen had just settled there. I stayed all night for all houses were public houses at that time. floors or no floors. A fine dish of venison with hot johnny cake and some cold beans composed our repast. With a few blankets and my saddle for a pillow I laid down in the corner of the cabin hearing my pony munching his scanty bundle of stalks as he was tied to the corner of the cabin outside.

I had a good sound sleep and in the morning fed my pony then made a fire in one corner of the cabin for there was no fire place or chimney in the half unfinished dwelling. After eating a good breakfast as the cabin afforded I called for the bill when the noble and venturesome wife replied as the first pioneer of Jonesville "Not anything unless you are willing to pay a shilling for the corn your pony ate, we too are pioneers." I thanked my hostess and took the trail for the west.

I passed several beautiful prairies. At one beyond Bronson's the name of which I have forgotten a poor fellow was buried at the bottom of the well by the caving in of the earth. After sympathizing with these people for their loss I passed on across the prairie where Coldwater now is. A small log house was there known as Godfrey's trading house. Here I found a trading Frenchman by the name of Coquillard and a few Indians all of whom were social and friendly. One could speak poor English but I obtained a good deal of valuable information in regard to the settlements and the country in general. These Indians told me I would be safe in pocket and in person if I did not meddle with their rights. This I found to be correct after being much with them over a week.

A few miles further I struck Coldwater River and on the west bank I found another trading house but found no pioneers there. At these trading houses there were Frenchman who were trading with the Indians for their furs and skins paying them in trinkets of all kinds and little silver coin.

Soon, I came to White Pigeon, the most beautiful spot of ground I ever saw. Not a bush or stone was to be seen. Not a furrow had been plowed or a fence built.

I went down the St. Joseph River where the village of Niles now stands and forded the river with little trouble. I found a log cabin containing a man and wife who seemed perfectly happy. I stayed with them over night.

The next morning I went up the river on the west side to visit a place known as Cary's Mission. I found the fine farm of several hundred acres and on it were two or three good log houses, several small log houses, out-houses, huts, etc. I saw Mr. and Mrs. Cary. They were fine looking white persons teaching the Indians the English language and Christian religion. There were many tribes of Indians near by who were all being taught, by these missionaries. I learned the Indians were not so well pleased with the missionaries. They had Indians as servants or helpers. All these helpers could speak English and were very polite.

After dinner I took the trail to strike Chicago trail and when eight or ten miles from the mission I found many wigwags and many Indian families all who seemed to be well situated in their way. I called at one of their dwellings and talked with the head one. He seemed very intelligent. He could speak some English and I could speak some Indian. Among other information I found the Indians were not pleased with the missionaries. He said they were no benefit. It was not useful to learn English or Yankee tricks. He said the missionaries made the Indians clear their lands, make their buildings for them and till their corn, etc all entirely without pay.

Ruins of Tower at Jamestown
From 1676 until 1907, this ruin of the tower at the back of the church was all that remained of the Jamestown settlement after Bacon's army burnt the town. At the time of the Tercentenary celebration in 1907, however, the church was restored in the original form.

The quiet dignity and charm of the properly appointed service is exemplified by our ceremony.

Not Blamed For Auto Death

Plymouth Driver Is Called Blameless In Accident

When Lawrence Frazer, 42 years old of 1309 East Jefferson avenue, stepped from a street curb near the corner of West Grand Boulevard and E street in Detroit early Sunday morning, he walked directly into the front of an automobile driven by Lawrence H. Marsh, who lives at 220 Ann street, Plymouth.

Mr. Marsh made every effort to bring his car to a stop, but Frazer was hit in such a way that his head crashed to the paving with sufficient force to fracture his skull and he died within a short time after the accident.

The well known Plymouth carpenter, after he had made his statement to officers who came to investigate the accident, was not held in connection with the fatality.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsh had been in the city for the evening and were returning to their home in Plymouth when the accident happened.

The largest number of women ever entertained by the New York Giants on a ladies' day is 4,379.

Cuts Tires On Car On Wife's Caller

Hubby Shows Resentment To Visit Of Northville Gallant

If your wife has left you, or you have left your wife and if you should happen to be the husband and you find out that some other gentleman is calling upon your wife, you had better not cut the tires of the automobile of the young man who is calling upon your wife while the automobile stands in front of the house where your wife is staying.

If you do, the Plymouth police will surely get you. Yes, it's a true story—and it all happened right in this quiet, peaceful busy city of Plymouth.

It seems that some time ago a wife walked out on her husband and didn't come back. That's the report.

The other night the husband discovered that a dashing young gallant from Northville had been calling at the house where his wife was staying and according to his "confession" all written out carefully, and tucked away in the files of the Plymouth police department, he just couldn't stand it to think that even though his wife was not living with him, that some one else was trying to find a place in her heart.

Zip, went one tire. Then another and another, until there were three flat tires on the automobile that belonged to the young gent from Northville who was upstairs making a neighborly call.

It was rather late in the evening when the youth from Northville went down to get in his car and start home.

He had gone but a few feet when he discovered that the air in the tires had joined with the cool evening breezes on the outside of the tires.

And what does a young man do when he is in such trouble? Why, just simply call the police.

To make a long story short, the guilty one was soon found, his confession was written and the next day he was taken before Judge John Dayton who placed him on a year's probation with the understanding that he must purchase three new tires for the smiling young gentleman from Northville who was calling upon his wife.

Present, Past And Future As Told By A Plymouth Collector

(By J. D. Merritt)

More news of a Plymouth stamp club will be published as soon as a large enough roster of Plymouth collectors has been compiled. Think of the fun in bartering and rooking (and being "rooked") by brother philatelists at club meetings. Exhibitions could also be staged in which more philatelic brethren could be added to the fold. This will be your club, stampites, so send your name and address to this writer at once.

Now, for the promised news of the Indian coronation set. Correspondents in Simla state that India is not to have a special commemorative issue, but the new Edwardian stamps will be held back until the Coronation. The reason for this is the Indian authorities do not wish to incur the expense (tight-wads!) of an intermediate issue, while they must maintain the custom of having stamps showing the King crowned as this has a special appeal to the Indian people. The denominations of the new set will remain unchanged but it is understood that pictorial designs featuring landscapes will be incorporated in addition to the Royal portrait. They will, therefore, be larger than the definite Georgian issues and follow the same horizontal format as the Delhi, Air Mail and Jubilee issues. The design for the portrait, which was made at the government printing works at Nasik, will shortly be forwarded to His Majesty for approval, but the completed designs will not be available to the press for illustration until April, 1937. . . . In addition, it is fairly certain that Great Britain will take the opportunity of commemorating the coronation with a special issue. Where the Crown colonies are concerned the prospect is, to say the least, doubtful, as it is understood that following the flood of Jubilee stamps the Crown agents for the colonies are against another spate of commemoratives. . . . With regard to Newfoundland I understand that a Coronation set is in the course of preparation, and certainly Canada, New Zealand, Ceylon, South West Africa and Southern Rhodesia will either issue new complete sets or special Coronation short sets.

All indications show that the Boulder Dam will be the next U. S. commemorative to be withdrawn from the philatelic agency.

This stamp, with its wealth of detail, offers an almost unlimited field for every collector possessed of a fairly active imagination to discover a hidden picture of his long dead but still lamented William goat—or whatever he wants to find. We have been shown by different collectors (all fervently in earnest) hidden pictures of Washington, Lincoln, F. D. R., a cat, a goat and one philatelist's paternal grandfather. Who knows but what each and every one of you have a personal portrait incorporated on a U. S. postal adhesive? (Hidden, of course, from the gaze of the vulgar multitudes.) Well, as I mentioned before, go armed with an unsharpened imagination when searching for philatelic invisibles.

WHY NOT?

We had hoped that Governor Fitzgerald might see fit to appoint former Governor Chase S. Osborn to fill out the short unexpired term in the United States senate created by the death of James Couzens. It is true it would have been for a brief time only and during that period there might not have been occasion for the former Governor to take any part in the deliberations of the United States senate. But it would have been a fitting climax and a tribute to one of Michigan's outstanding citizens. We doubt greatly that the selection of the successful Democratic candidate in the senatorial contest will give him much of an advantage in Washington, if any at all.

It is strange what amazing things time accomplishes. Time gives one a chance to look back over the years with a clear and unbiased vision as to what has happened. In the turmoil and in the conflict of the hour, one's idea of the moment is frequently biased by circumstances and desires. But as the years roll on and on and one is able to look clearly at the problems that were, it is nothing more than amazing how different things look to us.

When Chase Osborn was governor of Michigan, he was more far-seeing than many were willing to give him credit for, at the time. Think of it, a quarter of a century ago he was urging the state legislature to adopt civil service for Michigan! He was urging grade separations long before many realized the coming of new transportation methods. He was urging the consolidation of numerous state departments and he was fighting for economy in the conduct of the state's business.

He was so far advanced of his time, that there was bound to be conflict, to be hostility on the part of those who were not as far seeing as he was. Then, too, there is always a very large class who regard politics purely as a matter of spoils, and real economy in government does not help the political spoilsmen.

Frequently it has been said that not until long after an administration has served the public, can its real value to the state or nation be known. Well, that is true, indeed, of the Osborn administration. He was progressive—far ahead of his time—he was the soul of honesty—and he was for clean and decent government. Time has proven all of these statements.

Why shouldn't a great state bend every energy to bring honor and distinction to one who has been unsparing in his services to his fellow citizens?

END THIS DANGER.

The other day over at Northville a well known citizen of that community was badly wounded and narrowly escaped death when a bullet from a downtown shooting gallery went wild. It was by the merest chance that he was not fatally wounded and only the fact that the bullet was deflected slightly when it struck a rib prevented a death. The bullet was fired from a 22 rifle, similar to those used in the shooting gallery that flourished for a time in Plymouth.

The Northville shooting gallery was immediately closed after this near fatal accident, as is always the case—always AFTER.

Some weeks ago there was a shooting gallery opened up in Plymouth in one of the downtown stores. The target range happened to be in direct line with one or two other downtown business places where people are employed. Fortunately before the shooting gallery was closed here, no accidents happened.

But there were a number of people who at the time considered making an appeal to the police authorities of this city to end the danger that existed. The complaint was not made because of the fact that many people do not like to make protests, fearing that even a legitimate complaint might be misconstrued.

Now that the Plymouth gallery is closed and no one will suffer financial loss of any kind, this is the RIGHT and PROPER time for the police authorities of Plymouth to see to it that no more shooting galleries are opened ANYWHERE in Plymouth where human life might be endangered. A shooting gallery in a basement where wild bullets would only hit a concrete wall might be all right, but a shooting gallery in a frame building cannot be regarded as a safe place in which to discharge powerful, though small firearms.

City authorities should see to it that no similar hazard is again established in this city, unless located in some place where there isn't the slightest chance of any one getting shot, and even then Plymouth police should first pass upon its safety provisions before permitting it to operate.

THE WRONG RESIGNATION.

Lansing newspaper dispatches carried the information a few days ago that Howard Lawrence had resigned as state banking commissioner, the resignation taking effect January first. Well, that was a sort of needless resignation, because the banking commissioner knew that that was the day he was going to be ousted out of the office anyway.

But there was one resignation he should send in that he didn't send in. Howard Lawrence is chairman of the Republican state central committee. He shouldn't wait until January first or any other time to resign from that job. He should do it NOW!

It was back in 1927 when Fred Green became governor of Michigan. That was the year that marked the beginning of the steady decline of the Republican party in Michigan. Well, Fred Green not only wanted to control every detail of the state government, but he wanted to control the machinery of the Republican party. So he took Mr. Lawrence, a bookkeeper in Green's factory over in Ionia, and made Lawrence his executive secretary in Lansing and also had him elected chairman of the Republican state central committee.

From that day to this Lawrence has been chairman of the state central committee. From that day to this, the Republican party of Michigan has met defeat after defeat and it has gone down to about as low an ebb in public estimation as it is possible for a party to fall to.

We not only believe that this "pious" Ionia factory bookkeeper should quit immediately as chairman of the Republican state central committee and go back to keeping books for Fred Green, but we believe that the time has come for a complete re-organization of the Republican party.

We believe, and believe firmly, that the Republican party can be given a good cleaning from within, a cleaning that will satisfy the voters of the state and nation. All the refuse, every one who has been accused of having dirty hands and every one who has profited in any way through political spoils, all of the self-starters and the misfits must be taken from high places within the party and dumped on the rubbish heap. There is still plenty of good material left within the party to do the right kind of a cleaning job, and when that task has been finished, you can be assured the Republicans can go forward again with the respect and confidence of the voters of good old America.

The vote that has been steadily increasing for the Democratic party in recent years is more of a protest vote against certain influences within the Republican party as it has functioned in the past twelve or fourteen years than it is a vote in approval of the Democratic party. There is no question but what millions of decent Republicans regarded Roosevelt with more favor than they did their own party selections—but because they have voted in two or three elections for the Democratic party is no sign that they will do so permanently. NOT if the Republicans CLEAN THEIR OWN HOUSE.

SANTA CLAUS COMES TO TOWN.

Noticed in the papers the other day where Andy Mellon, he of the Mellon millions, was a heavy contributor to the Republican campaign fund in Michigan. Isn't that something for Michigan Republicans to be proud of!

Wonder just why the Pittsburgh millionaire was so concerned about the campaign up in Michigan that he would give so much money to help it win out in the election? Was there some one on the Republican ticket he was especially interested in? Or was it just because he wanted to do something for good old Michigan? During the early days of the primary campaign there were rumors that Mr. Mellon was especially interested in the Republican primary contests.

Wouldn't it be well for the officers of the Republican state central committee to explain to the decent Republicans of Michigan, the Republicans who believe even yet that there is some semblance of respectability in politics, just how it happened that Mr. Mellon made a contribution to the Republican campaign fund of Michigan? Who was the individual that contacted Mr. Mellon about the contribution, and what was the reason advanced to Mr. Mellon to cause him to hand over $5,000 to the Michigan Republican state central committee?

Five thousand dollars is a lot of money. Few about here make that much in a whole year. It might prove a bit embarrassing, but it would provide interesting information to have the entire "inside" story of Mellon's contribution to Michigan's Republican state central committee revealed to the public in detail.

ONE MINUTE BIOGRAPHIES OF MICHIGAN GOVERNORS and their ACCOMPLISHMENTS

By Elton R. Eaton

ALBERT E. SLEEPER

No. 27

Michigan has had three governors who devoted most of their time, during their administrations, to problems arising from wars. The first governor was Greenly, who during the Mexican conflict gave practically all of his time to aiding Michigan troops below the border line. Austin Blair will always be known as Michigan's war governor. Albert E. Sleeper, who was the state's chief executive during the World War, spent much of his time and effort in support of various war measures. He appointed numerous boards and commissions to assist him and traveled around the state urging the public, through addresses, to assist the state and national government in war work.

Governor Sleeper, who was born in Bradford, Vermont, December 31, 1862, came to Michigan in the fall of 1884. Early in his career he entered the banking business. His financial interests expanded rapidly and at the time he was governor he was active in the control of many financial institutions in the eastern part of the state. Business made it necessary for him to move to Bad Axe.

His first entrance into politics was in village affairs. He was elected a trustee of the village of Lexington, where he located when coming to Michigan. Later he was made village president, then a state senator, and after serving in the legislature for two terms he was nominated and elected state treasurer. In the primary election of 1916, he was made the nominee of the Republican party and served two terms as governor.

Goldfish, served in the World War. By placing them in water in which gas masks had been washed, it was possible to detect the nature of the chemicals employed.

The Southern association attendance will return to the million class this year for the first time since 1931 if fans continue flocking to games at the rate so far shown this season.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

BACK TO THE INDIANS

How long would it take for a state such as Michigan to revert to the wild state in which it was found by the French explorers? Not very long. A herd of deer roam several sections of Ingham county today. The big buck captured last week in Bunkerhill township was such a fine specimen that he was taken north to help restock Ogemaw herds.

If not a furrow were turned in Ingham county in 10 years nature would almost have the county for her own. Have you seen the vacant subdivisions around Detroit? If you have then you have noticed that the sidewalks and roads built 10 years ago have been broken up by the elements and that bushes and even small trees are growing through the broken concrete and the gravel.

Wilderness prevails in New England where a generation ago there were farms. Roscommon and other counties only 150 miles north have been reclaimed by nature.

A great civilization once existed in what is now Mexico and Central and South America. Big cities flourished and probably their residents believed that their civilization would always stand. Yet it fell and for centuries the palaces and the pyramids lay hidden beneath the jungle.

As the age of the world is computed this nation and all European nations have not made a dent in time. Michigan has been a state for 100 years. If geologists are to be believed, this part of the earth has been supporting life of various kinds for 500,000 times the 100-year span of Michigan.

We count our history in Michigan by referring to the administration of various governors. We mark events by Sleeper, by Osborn, by Warner, by Fingree, by Green, by Comstock and by Fitzgerald. A thousand years from now some scientist may be poking around to find some token of the present era.

Civilization is not permanent. It is a continual battle and when civilization fails to press forward it is shoved back rapidly. We don't mean that because a deer was captured last week in Bunkerhill township that Ingham will soon become one with Nineveh and Tyre. We do mean that nature is continually reclaiming her own and that few things, civilization included, are permanent.—Vernon J. Brown in The Ingham County News.

AN ALLY FOR PEACE.

The motion picture may well turn out to be the most powerful single teacher in checking future wars. For no other agency can so vividly and horribly bring home to the peoples of the world a true picture of what war is actually like.

News reels of the Spanish conflict show homes and buildings and cities being blown to shreds by bombs; they picture men and women lying dead in the streets; they reveal the utter futility of victorious armies marching into wrecked and bloodstained cities. Yes, it is a hideous picture! But the very fact that people everywhere can see it with their own eyes may eventually make them determined to avoid this barbaric way of settling disputes.—Don Vander Werp in The Fremont Times-Indicator.

WHAT SHOULD BE DONE?

Seventeen years ago a man who had been sent up for several years in Jackson prison escaped. He was one of the gang which tunneled under the wall. He has just now been apprehended and it has been found that he is living honorably and maintaining a good reputation in Chicago. What should be done with him? Personally, it seems to us, that it would be a good system to put him under rigid parole and not back in our big crime school at Jackson.—Frank Bryce in The Grand Ledge Independent.

YOU BET!

Nice to turn on the radio and not get a shovelful of political bull in the ear. Isn't it?—Joe Haas in The Holly Herald.

A FORECAST BY A DEMOCRAT.

The crushing defeat of the Republican party at the polls Tuesday will not annihilate the party as some have already claimed, but it will no doubt cause a re-alignment in which a more liberal element of the party will take control. Tuesday's election indicates a change in political thinking among the masses.—H. J. Richardson (Dem.) in The Augusta Beacon.

THE FUTURE.

What will the next four years hold for the United States? No one can say, definitely, even including President Roosevelt. But let us all hope and pray that the victory Tuesday will not upset the head and heart of the President—for now more than ever this nation needs to be guided by the steady hand of a courageous man with both feet on the ground.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Naylor left the first of the week for St. Petersburg, Florida, where they will remain until next April. While they spent last winter at Orlando, they plan to spend most of their time this year in the larger city on the Gulf coast. Mr. Naylor stated that they might stop in the northern part of the state for a brief time, but they expect to be in St. Petersburg by the first of December.

"We see more people there we know and there is much more going on in that city than in Orlando, so we have decided to spend the winter at St. Petersburg," stated Mr. Naylor just before leaving.

Wiedman Shows New Ford Cars In This City

Plymouth Dealer Is Enthusiastic Over The Ford For 1937

Paul Wiedman of The Plymouth Motor Sales is about as busy an individual as there is in Plymouth since the arrival of new models of the Ford cars for 1937.

Mr. Wiedman, who has been "burning up" the roads between Plymouth and Dearborn during the past few days preparing to inaugurate the new Ford cars in this locality, is enthusiastic over the many improvements.

It presents definite advances in modern streamlined styling, and is powered either with the 85 horsepower V-8 engine now in use in more than 3,000,000 motor cars, or a brand new 60 horsepower V-8 "economy" engine, which is a smaller counterpart of its elder brother.

Disclosure of the new lighter "economy" 60 horsepower engine as an optional power plant for the new Ford V-8 for 1937 will set at rest definitely rumors of a new "baby" Ford which have been circulated in the automobile industry for the past several years.

The new cars present many outstanding features, principal among which are:

Two engine sizes, a brand-new 60 horsepower V-8 which makes its first bow in the American motor car market, and the famous 85 horsepower V-8, with a number of important refinements. Either is available in the single chassis.

New cable-and-conduit control "soft easy action" brakes, with the "safety" of steel from pedal to wheel.

New body lines in which the "tear drop" form has been used wherever practicable.

A de luxe five-passenger club coupe is the newest of the eleven body types available, five either with or without de luxe equipment and with either engine size, six with de luxe equipment and the 85 horsepower V-8 engine only. All closed body types have clear-vision ventilation system.

All-steel body, including new all-steel top, as well as steel structure, steel panels and all-steel floor.

Improved "finger-tip" steering, with increased wheel leverage.

Ford V-8 de Luxe Touring Sedan for 1937

THE Ford V-8 de Luxe touring sedan pictured above is a roomy family type car especially suitable for touring. Baggage can be stowed away in the deep luggage compartment, leaving the interior of the car unobstructed. The new grille, new bumper, headlamps recessed into fender aprons and slanting V-type windshield that opens, highlight the car's new lines. Seats are wide enough for three. The rear compartment is filled with robe rail, foot rest and pillar lights. The body type is available with the 85 horsepower engine, with or without de luxe appointments, or with the new 60 horsepower V-8 engine without de luxe appointments.

Increased comfort, including new quietness of operation.

The new car, according to those who previewed it at the Ford dealer meeting in Detroit last week, is the most beautiful Ford ever built. Its sleek lines flow without a break from the smart radiator grille, through the new shield-type hood, the new slanting V-type windshield and the smoothly moulded steel top to the graceful reverse curve of the rear quarter.

The interior treatment is modern. Upholstery is pillowed, with wide pleats. Seats are wide, deep and soft-cushioned. The instrument panel is grained, with the dials and engine controls in front of the driver. Glove compartment is at the right side. Starter button is on the dash, the hand brake at the left under the panel, out of the way of front seat passengers.

From a mechanical standpoint the most important development in the new Ford is the 60 horsepower V-8 engine. Although new to America, it has been built in England and France for more than a year for Ford cars designed for the European market. There it has been an outstanding success.

The engine was developed primarily to give the American motoring public maximum fuel economy. Its introduction marks an important deviation from the continuous trend during recent years toward higher horsepower and extreme performance. It permits a lighter car with resulting greater economy. Equipped with the engine, the car's top speed is about 70 miles an hour, comfortable cruising speed 55 to 60 miles an hour. All the refinements of the famous 85 horsepower V-8 are incorporated in the smaller unit.

Major improvements also have been made in the 85 horsepower engine. From an engineering standpoint most important is the use of the new cast alloy steel pistons. Having approximately the same rate of expansion under heat as the metal of the cylinder blocks the new pistons can be fitted more closely. They are also more resistant to wear. These two features result in maintaining low oil consumption over longer periods.

The new engine cooling system improves substantially engine heat control. The two water pumps are of higher circulating capacity and are located at the bottom of the cylinder blocks, giving more positive force pump action. The pumps are automatically lubricated and are self-sealing. A fan of new design has its entire circumference located directly behind the radiator core where it can operate most efficiently. The improvements in the cooling system will be the most noticeable when the engines are operating under difficult conditions, particularly in hot weather or under heavy load.

The engines are cushioned at four points in rubber. Two rubber mountings are now used in the rear mounting, one on either side of the transmission. The cushions are similar to those used in the front mounting.

Virtually as important mechanically as the new smaller engine is the new "easy-action" braking system. It has greater stopping efficiency, with easier pedal action. Operated through cables in conduits, the brakes have controlled self-energizing action. Rotation of wheels assists in increasing the braking force, once the brakes are applied.

The new braking system operates quietly. Important features such as full length, large area brake linings, self-centering shoes and floating wedge actuation are continued.

The third important mechanical improvement is "finger-tip" steering. This is accomplished by two refinements in the gear design. One is to give the driver greater leverage through the wheel by increasing the steering gear ratio to 18.2 to 1. The gear is also of a new worm and roller type, reducing friction. The combination gives the driver a pleasing new ease of steering.

Motorists who drive the new car for the first time will note at once a new quietness of operation. Bodies are insulated effectively to prevent sound transmission. The body is also cushioned in rubber on the frame, each body bolt being surrounded by rubber. There is no metal-to-metal contact.

The new all-steel body designs are important for the fact that no wood is used anywhere in the body structure. The huge steel stamping which forms the finely-moulded top of closed cars runs from the top of the windshield back to below the rear window and from side to side down to the top of the door and side panels. Eleven body types are available, including the new de luxe club coupe seating five passengers. The new coupe is closely coupled, with an enclosed rear seat.

The Tudor, Fordor, Tudor touring and Fordor touring sedans and the five-window coupe are available either with or without de luxe fittings and with either engine size. The roadster, phaeton, club coupe, convertible cabriolet, club cabriolet and convertible sedan are de luxe types, available only with the 85 horsepower engine.

Six smart colors, including four which are new this year, are available. De luxe cars will be available in all six colors. The two most popular colors, black and Washington blue, as well as a new color, gull gray, are available in both standard and de luxe types. The other three colors—bright vineyard green, autumn brown and bright coach maroon—are available only in de luxe types.

The new body designs permit unusually roomy luggage compartments in all cars. Except in the coupes, cabriolets and roadster the spare wheel and tire is carried in the rear compartment. In these types space is provided back of the driver's seat. The luggage compartments in the sedans are large enough to carry five pieces of luggage of average size, as well as a number of smaller articles. In the single-seat models the compartment may also be reached by tilting forward the passenger seat back.

France has 800 manufacturers of agricultural implements, or about twice as many as before the World War.

Best of Pictures Booked Here

Manager Harry Lush Offers Public Cream of Bookings

Patrons of the Penniman-Allen theatre will be pleased to read that Manager Harry Lush has booked for the next few weeks some of the best pictures produced during the past few years. Among them is the long awaited production of "Anthony Adverse", one of Hervey Allen's best novels which comes to the theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, November 22, 23 and 24. This picture is a dynamic drama on a gigantic scale. Frederic March has the stellar role and Olivia de Havilland the leading feminine role. Others in the cast include Edmund Gwenn, Claude Rains, Anita Louise, Louis Hayward, Ralph Morgan and hundreds of others.

"My Man Godfrey" starring William Powell and Carole Lombard opens on Wednesday and Thursday, November 25 and 26 with a matinee on Thanksgiving day. It is a brilliant, modern romantic comedy. William Powell portrays the role of a butler who does his best to battle in spite of bottles and battle axes, for the nuttiest family in America. Miss Lombard has ample opportunity to live up to her reputation of being one of the most smartly groomed stars in Hollywood. She wears 24 new gowns in the picture. Assisting in the cast are such stars as: Alice Brady, Gail Patrick, Jean Dixon, Eugene Pallette, Alan Mowbray and many others.

On Friday and Saturday, November 27 and 28 comes "The Gentleman from Louisiana" bringing back the ever popular Eddie Quillan in a made-to-measure role especially fitted to his rare abilities as a comedy and dramatic star and whose latest sensational role was in "Mutiny on the Bounty" Charlotte Henry, one of the screen's most publicized leading ladies, plays a grown-up dramatic role as "Linda", a confirmed daughter of the turf who'd rather watch a horse race than eat.

"The Charge of the Light Brigade" co-starring Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland will be shown on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday November 29, 30 and December 1. This picture, heralded as one of the biggest productions ever filmed by Warner Bros., has an all star cast of 20 noted actors in the important roles, and over 15,000 extra people.

"Pepper," Jane Withers' new Twentieth Century-Fox picture opens on Wednesday and Thursday, December 2 and 3, which promises to be the greatest hit in the mischievous miss' succession of triumphs. Irvin S. Cobb and Slim Summerville, two of film-land's most popular funsters are featured with Jane.

With new songs to sing, new steps to dance and new things to do, Shirley Temple will appear on the screen on Friday and Saturday, December 4 and 5. Frank Morgan, Helen Westley, Robert Kent, Astrid Allwyn, Delma Byron, the Hall Johnson choir and the inimitable Stepin Fetchit are featured in the cast supporting Shirley.

Shoots Record Sized Coon

Lewis Ford, Starkweather avenue, one of the best coon hunters in this part of the state, brought down last Friday, what is believed to be the biggest coon shot in this part of the state in several years. The coon, weighing close to 27 pounds, was located in the woods some 10 miles west of Plymouth and after a chase of a little over a mile, it was treed by one of Ford's coon dogs. When Mr. Ford shot the coon, its valuable pelt was damaged but little by the bullet that brought it to earth from the top of a tree some 60 feet high. Several about the city who saw the coon Saturday declared it to be one of the largest they had ever seen.

The "grey" in greyhound is the Icelandic word for dog, and has no reference to color.

The New York Times and the Boston Transcript are the only two daily newspapers in the United States that do not publish comic strips.

Rocks Romp Over Northville Eleven

The Plymouth team again beat their Northville rivals before a very appreciative crowd who stood the chilling winds of November when the Rock team had their annual scramble with the neighboring boys Friday, November 13, on the Orange and Black's own trapping ground.

The Rock team being much stronger and heavier than their rivals had the game well in hand most of the time, putting down the few scoring attempts made by Northville with comparative ease. From the first few plays it could be seen that the Plymouth team would not encounter heavy opposition and this impression grew stronger as the game wore on. The Northville team did not give the Rocks much to think about in the course of play except in their last quarter attack which took the Rock team for a sixty or more yard ride. This game marked the closing of the 1936 football season for Plymouth and athletic ventures will now center around basketball.

Northville opened the first quarter by getting off a poor kick to the Rocks in midfield. The Plymouth backs collected quite a bit of territory in the first few plays and were stopped by the rival team. A new backfield was substituted in the Rock lineup at the first of the second quarter and by a few fast moving plays soon set the stage for the first touchdown. A pass from Innis to Ross carried the ball within one yard of the goal line and was quickly carried over by Ross for the Rocks, the remaining portion of the game was quite even with neither team making much ground. Thus the first half ended with Plymouth leading by six points, 6-0.

The second half opened slowly with both teams resorting to their punters but the Rocks soon applied the pressure to their opponents and a nice end run by Gilles gave the Plymouth team 15 yards and also brought the ball to scoring territory. Ross carried the ball through Northville center for the second touchdown. They failed in their second attempt for the extra point. Rudick opened the fourth quarter by scoring the third touchdown of the game by a good end run from the 12-yard line. The Northville team finally got going and by end runs and line bucks took the Rocks down into their own 30-yard line. Thus the annual conflict between the Rocks and Northville drew to a close with the Plymouth team wearing the victor's laurels by the score 18-0.

SCHOOL DAZE IS THIS YOU?

It all happened at the Northville-Plymouth football game. She was cold and he was the strong, protective type. No wonder she was cold, for her long blonde hair was bonnetless, her feet rubberless and her body . . . well, a leather jacket covered a fraction of it. The wind and cold played havoc with her skirt and hide and go seek through her hair; it was merciless. But along came Him and after a few furtive glances and remarks that she was cold, he was like a hero rescuing the maiden in distress, for his arms went around her protectively, shielding her from the gusts of wind. Unconscious of the crowd, they remained that way until the end of the game. Ah! me! Ain't love GRAND?

SENIORS ORDER CAPS AND GOWNS

Preparations for graduation exercises went a step farther last Wednesday morning when the seniors were measured for caps and gowns. This year the class is renting them through the Cotrell and Leonard company of New York. They will be blue with white tassels instead of the conventional black, and will be of cotton instead of wool.

The lightning of winter thunder storms is said to be more dangerous than that of summer storms.

GIRL SCOUTS MEET WITH MRS. WITWER

The Girl Scouts of Troop I met with Mrs. Witwer at Barbara Olsaver's house, on Wednesday, November 11. For the next meeting it was decided that the girls were to bring material to start a dress for some child. These dresses are to be donated to the Red Cross. After the business meeting two tap dances, steps, the 3's, and 7's, were learned. After this, the girls were divided into groups and individual dances were made up. The older girls of the troop will meet with Mrs. Witwer again in two weeks.

Miss Fry and Miss Waldorf went to the auto show at Convention hall Saturday night. Sunday night, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, they attended the Ford Sunday evening hour. Barbara Olaver had dinner with Kye Moon Monday night. Miss Lovewell, with the boys in her second hour English class visited the WWJ studios in Detroit Tuesday afternoon. The Misses Allen, Cary, Lickly, Fiegel, Lovewell, Hauf, Killham, Kees, Frantz, Gray, Lundin, Tyler, Hearn, Mr. and Mrs. Dykhouse and Mr. and Mrs. Rowland and Mrs. Johns attended Father Hubbard's lecture "Ice Inferno" at All auditorium in Ann Arbor. Several of these had lunch at the Colonial Inn there, before the lecture. Mr. Dykhouse was a member of one of the Detroit News hikes Sunday afternoon. The group, consisting of 21 members, hiked around Riverside park and studied nature.

GIRL RESERVES FORM INTEREST GROUPS

Any Senior Girl Reserve who wishes to knit, crochet, embroider, or sew may have the opportunity of learning to do so by joining one or more of the interest groups which the Girl Reserves are organizing. Pat McKinnon is chairman of all the groups and will be an instructor in knitting. Until those who are learning to knit, crochet, etc. have learned how it is done they will meet once a week at the different homes. This week Miss Wells has invited them to her home. The Junior group was fortunate in having Mrs. Steinhurst, beauty specialist, explain the care of the skin, at their last meeting. She demonstrated her points by giving a facial to one of the girls. Wind blew a large tree across the yard of Mrs. George Howard at Tarboro, N. C. The tree cracked open, revealing a swarm of bees and much honey.

PUPPETS INTEREST JUNIOR HI ART CLUB

The Junior HI Art club is busily working on its puppet theatre. Some of the members are making puppets for the play while others are making individual ones. The dolls' heads are modeled of clay and are covered with paper mache. The clay is then removed and the puppets resemble real people as closely as possible—such as Chinamen and witches. The bodies are made of wood held together with screw eyes. The club members hope to present the play before a large group in the near future. Nearly 66 per cent of the brides in London during a recent period of three months, were under the age of 25. Average life of Presidents of the United States has been 69.9 years. The average hereditary monarch of Europe has lived for 53.6 years. Kansas leads the world in stony meteorites. One-sixth of the world's known stony meteorites, which were not seen to fall, have been found within the borders of this state.

CHEERING THE CHEER LEADERS

The five freshman cheer leaders who lead the Plymouth rooting section this year make up the largest group of cheer leaders Plymouth has ever had. Under the supervision of Mr. Dykhouse, they seem to be doing exceptionally well and are getting better as they go along. The five boys are Joe Scarpulla, president of the cheerleading class; Ed Mulry; and Dick Wilkie. The cheer leaders do not get any cheers for themselves—they get them for the other fellows.

CLASS NOTES

Miss Ford's modern history students have been conducting their own class very successfully for the last few weeks. The students, with much enthusiasm, teach, mark, and criticize the class. Last week different groups dramatized events from the life of Napoleon with the class guessing the particular incidents. The biology class has completed the study of honey bees and is beginning flies and mosquitoes. Mr. Lature's students have been making a study of professions and vocations in their civics classes. Miss Lovewell's ninth graders, after studying creative poetry are writing original poetry. Miss Waldorf's speech classes have completed special occasion speeches and are beginning business interviews. Miss Fiegel's twelfth-grade American history classes have finished a study of the Constitution and are now studying the first years of its existence in the United States. The ancient history class is completing its unit on Greece and will soon begin studying about Rome. The 7B geography class is studying the South American countries and making projects of the different industries. Some of the students have made booklets on coffee raising in Brazil, rubber plantations in the Amazon and live stock raising in Argentine. The 7A history classes, after studying about French and Indian War, are making maps of North America showing the frontier line of the French and English colonies.

CENTRAL GRADE NOTES

Miss Marjan's Kindergarteners have started work on Christmas presents. For Thanksgiving they have colored pictures of a turkey drawing a pumpkin and wagon and a pilgrim boy holding a pumpkin pie while a turkey stands by his side. The children have learned two Thanksgiving songs entitled "The Pumpkin Ran Away" and "Thanksgiving Day Is Coming." The "Three Billy Goats Guff" story has been dramatized by the kiddies. The children in Miss DeWaele's room have made a gumdrop tree to illustrate a story of that name. Two bedrooms, the living room, and the dining room have been furnished in the children's doll house. Arthur Segnitz has brought an open staircase for the house. Pilgrim pictures and other drawings significant of Thanksgiving have been made. Miss Frantz's pupils are taking up the subtraction of numbers. They have begun Thanksgiving activities by decorating their room and learning the story of the first Thanksgiving. They are also learning about customs of the Pilgrims. Mrs. Carl Martin and Mrs. Kinz visited Miss Weatherhead's room last week. The third grade pupils are making Indian pottery of clay. They are studying and learning a poem entitled November. For book week the children are sending home to their parents booklets containing the names of children's best books and authors as a guide for selection of books for their children. Miss Sly's pupils have learned the poem "Injun Joe" as part of their Indian study. Barbara Dely is absent from Miss Widmayer's room because of illness. Harold Willis has left for Royal Oak, and Beverly Bovee from Starkweather and Margaret Steven of Waterford have entered this room. In 4B geography the pupils have finished their trip across the United States and are going to South America, while the 4A pupils are traveling in Switzerland. For health class the children have made posters concerning exercise, fresh air, and teeth. In art they are making silhouettes—each one telling a story in the lives of the Pilgrims since leaving Holland. The 4A spelling teams in Miss Hornbeck's room tied for the first time last week. Each team missed only one word. The pupils have learned how to correctly address envelopes and are going to learn to write proper letters. In art they are painting Indian designs on paper plates to represent Indian dishes. Miss Carr's pupils have finished maps in art class of the United States and India. Thelma Steven has entered from Waterford. The children are decorating their room for Thanksgiving. Mr. Berridge's 5A geography pupils are making physical maps of Australia, while the sixth graders are studying about India. The British soccer team is looking forward to playing Starkweather's championship team on Tuesday, November 24. For Book Week Mrs. Holliday's pupils have been divided into four groups to dramatize the books, "Bad Little Hannah", "Five Little Peppers", "Huckleberry Finn" and "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm." The leaders of the groups are Margaret Jean Nichol, Jack Kenyon, Jean Crandell, and Ione Stuart. Book jackets have also been made for book week. The students have illustrated the stories of Robin Hood and Rip Van Winkle.

OUR NEIGHBORS

Bananas were a luxury fruit in France 20 years ago. Hardy and fierce hyenas are found in all sections of Ethiopia. A reformatory of 5,200 banisters has been established in China. The Congo region of Africa has been under Belgian rule 70 years. Putting rings through children's noses has been banned in Tripoli. Scotland is claiming it produces the finest moleskin in the world. Holland has 17,000 acres devoted to the cultivation of flower bulbs. More than 100 patients and a doctor were poisoned recently in Osaka (Japan) sanitarium. Much of the Australia's gold belt, which is 2,000 miles long and 300 miles wide, has never been touched according to a government report. A football team in England has a hedgehog for a mascot. A passage 100 feet long can be dug by a mole in a night. Bolivian Indians wear underclothing only on religious holidays. An old stone mill in Newport, R. I., was built by Eleventh century Norsemen.

STARKWEATHER NOTES

Miss Stader, mistress of the second grade, has just completed a unique device to aid her pupils in reading and arithmetic. This is a representation of a small boy at a blackboard. He asks the children questions. This is done by the manipulation of a disk behind the board. November 12 was a red letter day; every one was present and no one was tardy. The 2A reading class is reading a new book, "The Children's Own Readers." Miss Farrand's room is being painted. The 5B and the 5A are having arithmetic tests in addition. Robert Bovee's team won two arithmetic downs. Dorothy Fisher won the spelling bee. Miss Stuke's pupils are discussing homes. They made cut paper illustrations of houses and also pictures of homes and houses for their booklets. They drew picture from their reader "Art Stories." Gloria Young, Virginia Wellbaum, Billy Wellbaum, and Suzanne Maddox have entered this class. Miss Sparling's 6th grade has moved back into its newly decorated room. They have chosen arithmetic teams with Ramona Wilson and Bernard Jarsky as captains. Ramona Wilson's team is ahead, 31 to 24. The girls have finished their German Bat Ball tournament and are now playing long ball. The boys are playing a soccer tournament. Miss Bock's students are planning health posters on various subjects, such as food and exercise. The 5B's made booklets on teeth. The 4B's are studying Switzerland in geography. The art classes are illustrating scenes of the West which the 5B geography class studied about. Edward Wallace has journeyed all the way from Tennessee to join this class. The Kindergarteners are learning Thanksgiving songs. They colored pictures of turkeys and saw a live turkey which is displayed in a store in north village. The Roman emperor, Caligula, provided his favorite horse with an ivory manger and a golden drinking goblet.

TORCH CLUB PLANS TO SEND BOYS TO HAYO-WENT-HA

Once again the Torch club will send delegates to Camp Hayo-Went-Ha next summer. It was decided at the November 12 meeting of the club to maintain a point system as a means for choosing the club representatives in the annual conference. This point system gives either for or against a boy for his conduct during the year. At the end of the year, the ones having the most points are chosen to represent Plymouth Torch club at Hayo-Went-Ha. Two boys, Gerald Green and Paul Thoms were chosen to keep the point record. The boys who were at camp last year are going to tell of their experiences in some future meeting.

BARBARA DELY IS ABSENT FROM MISS WIDMAYER'S ROOM

Barbara Dely is absent from Miss Widmayer's room because of illness. Harold Willis has left for Royal Oak, and Beverly Bovee from Starkweather and Margaret Steven of Waterford have entered this room. In 4B geography the pupils have finished their trip across the United States and are going to South America, while the 4A pupils are traveling in Switzerland. ## Plymouth High Again Member

Local School To Compete In State Debating Contests

Plymouth high school has become a member of the Michigan High School Forensic association and will compete in the various state-wide speech contests to be sponsored by the association this season. Miss Irene Waldorf and James E. Latture, of the high school faculty will coach the contestants.

Over 300 high schools throughout the state have enrolled to date, and additional enrollments are coming in daily to the association's office in Ann Arbor. It is hoped that a record enrollment will be reached this year.

The major activities directed by the Michigan High School Forensic association consist of state-wide interscholastic contests in debate, oratory, declamation, and extempore speech. The earlier part of the season is devoted to debate, the other speech contests, opening in the early spring.

The debates will be conducted in two series again this year, a preliminary series and an elimination series. The preliminary series will open on November 27 for the great majority of schools. Three succeeding preliminary debates will follow on December 11, January 15, and January 29. Each member competing in the association's regular preliminary schedule will debate twice on the affirmative and twice on the negative of the subject to be discussed. Also, each will debate two times at home and two away.

The topic to be argued in all debates sponsored by the Forensic association will be that of "Government Ownership and Operation of Electrical Utilities." Much interest has already been aroused because of the timeliness of the subject.

Those schools attaining the required number of points in the preliminary tilts will enter the elimination series which opens on February 19, and which terminates in the twentieth annual state championship debate to be held in Hill auditorium, Ann Arbor, on the evening of April 30. In this series, losing schools will drop out of competition and winners will be paired in each succeeding round until there are but two remaining schools. These will be brought to Ann Arbor, expenses paid, to compete for the state championship.

Various awards are presented through the courtesy of the University of Michigan and Detroit newspapers. To each school taking part in the elimination series, a beautiful wall plaque trophy of American walnut will be presented. The design is taken from the University of Michigan shield. To each debater will go a lapel button or pin replica of the plaque.

Each debater participating in the twentieth annual state championship debate will receive a beautiful engraved gold watch. The two competing schools will be presented with bronze loving cups, as will the semi-final teams. Competition in oratory, declamation, and extempore speech is conducted in three series, school, sub-district, and district contests. No state championship contest is held in these activities. Here, also, awards are presented. Each sub-district winner will receive a Webster's collegiate dictionary, with his or her name engraved in gold on the cover. Each school winning in the district contests will receive a wall banner.

Three hundred and fifty-two schools participated in these various activities last season. It is estimated that nearly 14,000 Michigan high school students took part. They were heard by a total audience of over 112,000 persons. Hundreds of awards have been presented through the association since its inception in 1917. Dr. William P. Halstead, member of the speech department of the university, will continue as manager of the association this year.

Thousands of packages of material have been furnished by the library extension service of the University of Michigan, under the direction of Miss Edith Thomas, to aid contestants in their preparation.

Lone Democrat Once Elected

Plymouth Republicans 44 Years Ago Made L. C. Hough Senator

While voters in this part of Wayne county have been manifesting a bit more interest than usual in the legislative outcome because a Republican happened to have been elected to the legislature in the face of a Democratic landslide, it is much more interesting to turn back the pages of local political history to the year of 1892 when this same locality elected as a member of the Michigan state senate the only Democratic member of the upper branch of the state legislature, when everything else went Republican.

That Democrat was Senator Lewis Cass Hough, father of Edward C. Hough, of this city.

But the Republicans in the senate treated Senator Hough fairly well, as they made their Democratic associate a member of several important committees, including the then all powerful committee on public improvements.

Senator Hough, who had the unusual distinction of being the lone Democratic member of the senate during his term at Lansing, according to the Michigan Manual, was born in Canton township, graduated from the Plymouth high school when 17 years of age, taught school, later went to a business college and served as village president of Plymouth as well as supervisor of Plymouth township.

When elected to the senate, he won over his Republican opponent, John G. Hurst, in a Republican district by a very substantial majority.

Snow Delays Southern Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stevens, who left Plymouth about two weeks ago to spend the winter at St. Petersburg, Florida, have arrived there after an interesting trip and are now nicely located at 980, 13th avenue, South.

Surprising as it may seem they were delayed for a day or so in Kentucky while snow plows cleared away an eleven inch fall of snow that blocked traffic.

Except for this brief delay in the mountains of Kentucky and Tennessee, the rest of the trip was a most pleasant one.

They write that the weather is ideal in Florida at present, that they keep open their windows and doors and are thoroughly enjoying the warm days and nights. "It is just like summer," they write.

Tests show that industrial workers in some instances can do 10 to 35 per cent more work when bad lighting is changed to good.

The Post Office department in Washington has established a stamp museum containing exhibits of stamps and stamp history.

If a guest spends three days at a large metropolitan hotel of today he is served by at least 60 persons, from bootblack to manager.

It costs the taxpayers of the United States approximately $2,000,000,000 a year to provide public facilities for their 30,000,000 boys and girls.

Old D. U. R. Worker Writes Thumme

Now Patient In Wisconsin Hospital From Army Service

When Emil Nordman, one time employe of the old D. U. R. when the street cars rattled down through the thoroughfares of Plymouth, received a copy of The Plymouth Mail some weeks ago telling of the annual picnic held in Riverside park by the old employes of the company who reside in this part of the country, it brought back to him memories of old, according to a letter just received by Captain Charles Thumme of the Plymouth police department.

Street car riders of years gone by recall that there wasn't a motorman between Detroit and Kalamazoo who could kick the old trolley bell louder than could Motorman Thumme, or who could get the old hand brakes of the car quicker than the Plymouth police officer of today.

The letter from Mr. Nordman, who has been confined to a World War veterans hospital in Milwaukee since the end of the war because of wounds received and damage to his lungs by gas, was filled with interesting information about the hospital where he is confined and the excellent treatment given patients by the government.

He took occasion to declare that he was surprised as he looked through The Plymouth Mail, to find that it is a much better paper than The Ypsilanti Press.

AMERICAN AFFAIRS

Heart trouble has increased 61 per cent in this country, since 1900.

The world-renowned wildlife sanctuaries of Louisiana cover 400,000 acres.

The pillar of New York's fur trade used to be the beaver; now it is the muskrat.

Since 1933 gangsters have stolen 2,017 firearms and 273,326 pounds of ammunition from National Guard armories.

It is claimed that geologists have probed less than 2 per cent of the potential oil-bearing areas of the United States.

The small population of Isle Royale, Lake Superior, is ice bound from mid-November to May first, with no telegraph or telephone to the mainland.

The Speed Cop Always Wins

If you have violated a traffic regulation in Plymouth and you see the speed cop hot after you but because that new car of yours can run right away from the speed cop, one should not make the mistake of thinking that's the end of the story, even though many miles of country dust and highways separate you from the speed cop when the race is over.

The other night a young business man was stepping on the gas a bit harder than he had intended to. In fact, he was rolling along at a speed much faster than he had any idea that he was going when he suddenly discovered that a traffic cop was on his trail.

Being headed for the country, he kept on going directly towards the corn fields and pumpkins. It was only three or four blocks and in that short space he had completely out-distanced the speed cop.

Round one for the speeder. Next morning sitting on the curb stone in front of the young man's place of business was Captain Charles Thumme of the police department.

"I've got a warrant here for some traffic violations. I guess we had better go down and see the judge," said Charlie in his most gentle voice.

Judge Dayton carefully explained to the young man that even though you are able to kick up the dust in the speed cop's eyes, if he was able to get your license number or if he knew you were driving the car, he could issue a warrant for your arrest, no matter how far out into the country you drove your car ahead of the cop's.

Round two—for the police department, plus a few dollars in a traffic fine.

New Settlers Like Alaska

Son of Rotz Family Visits With Old Plymouth Friends

"Why, it's colder here than up in Alaska where we now live," declared William Rotz, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rotz, who left Plymouth some two years ago as members of the settlement party sent to the Mantansuka valley by the government when he visited in Plymouth with old friends for a time last Saturday afternoon.

The young man left his home in Alaska a few weeks ago to study radio and electrical refrigeration in Chicago. He was on his way to Philadelphia where he will complete his course before going back to Alaska.

He spent a portion of his time while in Plymouth, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Ruetner, who aided the Rotz family in preparing to leave for their new opportunity in Alaska.

The young man declared that it was much colder here than in that portion of Alaska where they live.

"In fact, you had more snow here the winter before we left than we had up there last winter. There is no better hunting or fishing in the world than right where we now live. We can catch almost any kind of fish at any time and we can have all the wild game we care to shoot," he said.

He says that his parents are perfectly happy in their new home and are thoroughly enjoying life in the far distant territory.

Corn-Borer Resisting Seed Corn Michigan State College Offers

Parents at the left and center have helped give birth at Michigan State college to the new Michigan Hybrid No. 561 which yields more grain and will enable farmers in the state to grow more corn in spite of borer infestation.

Scientists attending the annual meeting of the American Society of Agronomy in Washington learned the history of development at Michigan State college of a variety of corn which enables farmers to "live with" the European corn borer and even increase grain yield.

In a paper submitted to the agronomists at Washington by A. R. Marston, corn breeding expert in the farm crops department at the college, results of a 10 year program of progress were described. Specifically, the farm crops department has developed Michigan State college of a variety of corn which enables farmers to "live with" the European corn borer and even increase grain yield.

In a paper submitted to the agronomists at Washington by A. R. Marston, corn breeding expert in the farm crops department at the college, results of a 10 year program of progress were described. Specifically, the farm crops department has developed Michigan Hybrid No. 561 first distributed in 1936.

Parents originally used by Marston were a commercial Michigan adapted yellow dent corn and an unadapted but borer resistant variety obtained from South America and known as maize "margo." The latter was tough stalked, but the grain was merely "tough" to look at, says Marston. Although Michigan's infestation

WHEN ENTERTAINING

FOR the hostess who must prepare and serve everything, such dishes as may be prepared the day before will save her strength, good looks and enjoyment of her guests. Every hostess enjoys serving something a little out of the ordinary, and by observing the dainty things in homes and shops she may make her entertainments very much worth while. There can be nothing more gratifying to a hostess than to give pleasure to her friends. One can do marvelous things with just a pickle. Cut into the thinnest of slices, spread in the form of a fan on a tasty sandwich it not only garnishes it but adds an appetizer as well.

Slice inch-sized pickles into very thin slices, place on open-faced sandwiches that have been spread with cream cheese. Put one slice in the center of rounds, on the tiny slice place a spot of whipped cream or cheese mixed with cream and dust with cayenne or paprika. If finger-length sandwiches are used, place the round of pickle at the end and at the other end a spot the size of a quarter of finely shredded carrot.

A Man's Salad.

Prepare a half dozen hard cooked eggs by cutting into halves and removing the yolks, mash the yolks with butter, add mustard, salt and cayenne and re-fill the halves of egg white. Arrange on lettuce and cover with a sour cream dressing or a mayonnaise with plenty of sour cream added. If liked shredded onion may be sprinkled over the lettuce before placing the eggs.

Here is another that the men like: Take one head of lettuce, three or four green onions or a slice of Bermuda onion finely minced, three or four slices of sweet or sour pickle and one hard cooked egg. Use the lettuce in nests on the salad plate, shred the coarser part and mix with onions, pickles, and finely chopped egg. Serve with french dressing.
