

Building And Loan Declares Dividend

Past Year Has Been One Of Best It Has Ever Enjoyed

Announcement was made yesterday by The Plymouth Federal Savings and Loan Association of its regular dividend. The annual report made by Secretary-Treasurer Perry W. Richwine also showed that the local association has had a mortgage loan increase of more than 50 percent in the last fiscal year.

The growing demand for new homes together with the large number of modernization loans leads the directors to believe that the increases in 1937 will even exceed 1936.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Plymouth Federal Savings and Loan Association held Tuesday evening, December 15, the board of directors declared the regular dividend, payable January 1, on the basis of 3 percent per annum.

The association has had one of the best years since the date of its organization in 1919 and from the number of new accounts opened the directors believe that by June 30, 1937, the association will have resources greater than at any previous time in its history.

The local association has financed a large number of new loans in this community and has maintained a sound policy for home financing in Plymouth and vicinity. The fact that the local association has federal savings and loan insurance on investments up to $5,000 is also assisting in adding new members to its books.

The officers and directors have requested that the Plymouth Mail express appreciation of the cooperation which the residents in this community have offered which has made the success of the association possible during the past year.

A Christmas Message

Fr. Frank A. Lefevre Gives To Plymouth Words Of Inspiration

People should treat one another as children of Heaven, according to a Christmas message prepared this week by Father Frank A. Lefevre of Plymouth. Father Lefevre, in the statement, reminds the public that Jesus said one ought to love his neighbor as himself.

If people lived as God's children, this would be a better world in which to live, stated the pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel church.

"It is befitting that the churches whose business it is to keep the inner life of man—the soul—strong and healthy with a spiritual food, should capitalize on this day and celebrate the event that took place in the small town of Bethlehem over 1,900 years ago," said the Father.

"We fear that this day is being too much commercialized. So in order to keep our thoughts riveted upon the real meaning of Christmas, services will be held in the church beginning at 11:45, Christmas eve.

"A very interesting and inspiring program has been prepared by the choir. An instructive message will be given by the pastor. The church itself will depict the memorable scene enacted in Bethlehem: the crib with its silent message," wrote Father Lefevre.

The public is invited to attend the services Thursday night. Father Lefevre also wishes his friends happiness during the Christmas season.

Harry Robinson Again A 'Newsboy'

Down in Detroit all day Thursday stood Harry C. Robinson of Plymouth selling newspapers to his hundreds and hundreds of old friends as they lined about his stand at Kern's corner on Woodward avenue.

Yesterday was the day when the old newsboys of Detroit sold papers so that the hundreds and thousands of little boys and girls of that great city might know the happiness of a real Christmas.

Two Plymouth High School Debaters Win National Recognition

James Latture, member of the Plymouth high school faculty and coach of the school's debating team, has just been advised that Jewel Starkweather and Tom Brock, members of the debating team, have earned a sufficient number of points to receive the Degree of Distinction from the National Forensic League, an outstanding honor.

The degree is the highest honor awarded by the league which has four classes for its honors. The two students have more than twice the necessary number of points for the Degree of Distinction. Jewel has 211 and Tom, 217.

To be admitted to membership, a student must earn 15 points through the point system of the league. He is then awarded the merit degree. Thirty points are needed for a Degree of Honor; 60 for excellence and 100 for distinction.

The league has as its purpose the promotion of interest in public speaking. Thirty-six states have chapters of the league, and the organization has a total of 386 units. The first chapter was formed here in 1913.

The record of Miss Starkweather and Mr. Brock cannot be matched by any two other debaters in Michigan. It was stated Tuesday of this week.

Here's the record of the local students:

Jewel and Tom have each won bronze, silver and gold medals awarded by the Plymouth Student Council for one, two and three years of debating.

Mr. Brock has won the gold pin awarded by the Detroit Free Press for excellence in high school debating two years. Miss Jewel earned the pin once.

In the 61st inter-school debate in which Jewel participated, she has won 26 and lost 10. She has far in her four years of debating. Victory has come to teams of which Tom has been a member in 27 contests of his high school career. He lost four debates. Tom participated in 64 contests.

As a result of having represented Plymouth in the state championship debate tournament May 1, Miss Jewel and Mr. Brock were each presented with a gold wrist watch.

Tom holds the office of president of the senior class. He is also editor-in-chief of the Plymouth Pilgrim Prints department of this newspaper. Her classmates honored Jewel by electing her vice president of the senior class last fall. She is president of the student council and Mr. Brock has obtained much experience while attending high school. Both have debated four years.

D. A. R. Meeting Delightful One

For the third time the Sherwin Hills opened their spacious home at Northville last Friday evening, December 11 to the members of the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, D. A. R., and their guests for the annual Christmas party.

After the salute to the flag, participated in by all those present, Mrs. Sidney Strong, the President of the Chapter presented Harold Koch, who has charge of the music at Greenfield Village. Mr. Koch had with him a quartette from the Minne singers whom he presented and who favored the guests with three groups of songs, delightfully rendered. During an intermission Mr. Koch sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Koch.

Later in the evening, with Mrs. Koch at the piano, Mr. Koch led the entire group in community singing of Christmas songs and carols.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Charles Blackburn, Mrs. C. M. Chase, Mrs. Royal Larkin, and Mrs. Carl H. Bryan.

Mrs. Sidney D. Strong and Dwight T. Reedall, presided at a table made beautiful with gleaming white Christmas trees decorated with blue ornaments. The color scheme was further carried out in the white clings on the cakes. The pleasant evening closed with a social hour.

The regular meeting of the Chapter for the month of December will be held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Wilcox, 676 Penniman Ave., next Monday, December 21. Mrs. Chas. Baker will present a talk on "National Defense" and Mrs. William Roe will give a flag lesson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lela Alexander entertained at a family dinner Sunday, at their home on Mill street.

Training School Programs For Holidays

Hundreds Expected To Visit Institution During Christmas Time

Residents of Plymouth and the surrounding territory will have an opportunity to attend a WPA Federal Theater production, Tuesday, December 29, at the Wayne County Training school.

Government employees are scheduled to present vaudeville acts as one of a series of programs arranged for the Christmas season at the institution. This program will be given at night in the auditorium.

Dr. Robert H. Haskell, medical superintendent, announces that 301 children will participate in the other Christmas programs. Costumes, stage settings and even, in some cases, the back drop are actually constructed by the pupils.

In other years as many as 1,200 people have attended one of the programs at the school. The main day is the first Sunday when a parent and a Christmas opera are presented for the benefit of families of the children and other friends of the school.

A chorus of eighty voices and a cast of nine principal characters will appear in "The Sign of Peace," the pageant, Sunday, December 20, at 2 p. m. It has been arranged for 83 characters and a chorus of 70 voices to participate in the opera the same day at the last half of the program.

Distribution of presents after breakfast on Christmas day is expected to create a home-like spirit among the children. A special Christmas dinner will be served at noon, and family visiting will be allowed in the cottages from 2 to 4 p. m.

Only pupils of the school are to be admitted when the pageant is repeated Sunday, December 26, at 2 p. m. It was announced that the Drama club will present a play, "The Silver Thread," Monday night, December 28.

People who like Marionette plays are to be given their inning Tuesday night, December 29, when the "Circus" will be staged. The last part of this program is to be presented by the WPA players.

Younger girls and older boys at the institution will give their ideas of entertainment, Wednesday night, December 30. This entertainment is entitled "Amateur Program."

Basketball will be a part of the Christmas menu at the school. The printed program lists the Wacois-Plymouth high school game for Wednesday night, December 30.

The following boys were responsible for the printing of an attractive program issued for the Christmas season by the institution: Lincoln blocks, Bruno Kislewski and Stephen Berna; linotyping, Stanley Putnam; paper cutting, lock-up, presswork, folding, inserting and stapling by Lorene Sheppard, Alfred Lechner, Worthy Sampson, Edward Blair, Albert Cius and Stephen Pityn.

Stark Clothing Project Has Contest

Members of the Stark Clothing Project of the Michigan State College Home Economics Extension Service in Wayne county met at the home of Mrs. A. Fehr, Monday, December 14, to learn about the color and line of women's fashions.

The subject was discussed by Miss Emma DuBord, home demonstration agent of Wayne county. The members held a contest to learn how many of them could say correctly the number of color lines in pictures Miss DuBord brought with her.

Two prizes were awarded at the meeting. They are said to be practical gifts.

Police Chief To Get G-Man Training in D. C.

Vaughn Smith Will Go To Washington For Special Course

Vaughn Smith, chief of the Plymouth police department, will attend the training school of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, D. C., next month. Chief Smith has been granted a three-month leave of absence from his duties here.

Mr. Smith intends to be in Washington on January 11 to begin taking the instruction. The city has agreed to pay Mr. Smith's expenses. Should he resign as chief within a year after completing the course, Chief Smith will refund the money.

He is the second man from Michigan to be accepted for enrollment for the course. A city, county or state must file a formal application to get its representative admitted to the F. I. B. Police academy.

Only regularly constituted law enforcement officers are allowed to take the course that Mr. Smith will pursue. The school is operated as part of the Federal Bureau of Investigation of which J. Edgar Hoover, the noted crime investigator, is director.

Invitations to take the course are not extended by the bureau to individuals, but to organizations. These police organizations select the man they wish to represent them. Chief Smith was appointed by the Plymouth city commission upon the recommendation of City Manager Clarence Elliot.

Officers chosen for instruction in the F. I. B. course will, when the work is done, be able to return to their departments to assist in teaching officers under them. As result of Chief Smith's trip, Plymouth will benefit directly when he completes the course.

In this manner local patrolmen would learn the latest methods of crime detection. Fingerprint identification, scientific crime detection methods and studies of proper methods of investigation at the scene of a crime are demonstrated by the use of motion pictures.

At F. I. B. training schools, an "X-ray" of the human body is shown on the screen, which, in the form of a movie, affords instruction to the men taking the instruction as to the methods of firearms identification.

Open forum discussions are part of the instruction given to the trainees. These permit an exchange of ideas and experiences for the mutual benefit of members of the class. Errors as well as meritorious features in handling crime cases are discussed for the benefit of the trainees.

Directors of the school determine whether the men are acquiring knowledge by holding frequent written tests. Counselors serve as coaches for the trainees. The services of the counselors are reported to be in demand especially before the tests are given.

Mr. Smith has been chief of police in Plymouth since 1931. Previous to that he was superintendent of the brick plant at the Detroit House of Correction.

Clearing House For Charity Gifts

A clearing house for gifts will be established at the city hall next week. City Manager Clarence Elliott has announced. The clearing house is to start operation Monday morning.

Persons wishing to avail themselves of the services of this clearing house should telephone the city hall. An employe will give the callers names of destitute people to whom articles can be sent.

Needy persons in Plymouth are to be classified at the clearing house. The neediest persons will be placed in Class A. Less needy ones will go into Class B and so on.

Arrangements will be made to aid people in Class A first. Those placed in Class B will get approximately 500. Linoleum in all grades and patterns. National Window Shade.

You will have the time of your life if you will go to the New Years Eve. Make reservations now. Patterson's orchestra, turkey dinner, and dance 'til dawn.

Sends Thanks For Playthings

Tubercular Children Enjoy Gifts Made By Plymouth People

"Just say to the good people of Plymouth that we thank them sincerely for the wonderfully nice lot of playthings we received for the children," stated Mrs. Clara Sharp, supervisor of the children's unit of the William H. Maybury Sanatorium Saturday afternoon when a whole automobile load of used toys and playthings was delivered by The Plymouth Mail.

The toys were brought to the Mail office as the result of an appeal made two weeks ago for playthings for the children—any certainly the response was a wonderful one.

"We can use them throughout the entire year. With a hundred or more children here all the time, you may know that it is rather difficult to keep so many of them as busy as we think it is good for them. They have their rest periods and their play periods; that is those that are able to play, and these nice playthings contributed by the people of Plymouth will help so much in whiling away the long hours and days the boys and girls must remain here to regain their health," added Mrs. Sharp.

Celebrate! Help Crippled Tots

Crippled children will be the beneficiaries of a New Year's Eve entertainment that is to be given at the Hotel Mayflower by the Suburban Shrine club. The Strasen orchestra has been engaged to play for merry-makers who wish to dance.

The crystal dining room is announced as the scene of the party. This room will take the appearance of a night club, with tables being arranged along the outer walls. Dancers are to be permitted to frolic in the center of the room.

Announcement has been made that well-known Detroit entertainers have been engaged to appear on the program. Only a limited number of reservations can be made for the party.

Did You Know That

Mobas Window Shades are hand painted in your home town, latest colors at a reasonable price. You need a few new ones or old ones cleaned up. Just phone 530. Linoleum in all grades and patterns. National Window Shade.

The Starkweather P. T. A. will meet Monday evening, December 21 with the teachers in their respective rooms at 7 o'clock. The regular business meeting will take place at 7:30 o'clock. This will be followed by a public show provided by Miss Elena Mitkof of Detroit. Children must be accompanied by their parents. They will be closed for during the meeting.

Youngest Executive Also First To Be Given Second Term

Cass S. Hough, who since his graduation from the University of Michigan has been associated with the Daisy Manufacturing company, of Plymouth, has just been re-elected president of the Toy Manufacturers of The United States, Inc., at the annual convention held in New York City.

The re-election is a distinct honor to Mr. Hough as it is the first time in all the years of this nation-wide organization that its president has been elected for a second term.

When he was elected last year he was the youngest man ever selected for this important executive position, and he still qualifies for this distinction.

The membership of the organization, according to reports made at the convention, produced toys during the year 1936 representing a total value of more than $200,000,000. While it is a fact that it has never been much publicized, the toy manufacturers of this country represent one of its greatest and most stable industries.

Mr. Hough states that from reports made at the convention, it is the general anticipation of all manufacturers represented that the year 1937 would be the greatest in the history of the toy industry.

Early Copy, Please!

Members of the Plymouth Mail staff suggest that people who have material that they wish published in next week's issue bring or telephone the names, stories or ads on Monday or at the latest Tuesday morning.

Christmas this year falls on Friday. The owners intend to print the Christmas issue Tuesday. This arrangement will permit subscribers to receive their papers Thursday. It would be convenient for the force if some copy is left or telephoned Saturday, tomorrow.

The staff agrees that it will do its best to see to it that subscribers get their copies in the Thursday morning mail. For this reason, the force asks the co-operation of the public.

Then too, the postoffice employes will appreciate it greatly if they can have this community assistance.

Near "Tragedy" Exploded

Bank's real estate office of Burton E. Giles and Perry Woodruff roared for a minute. The noise sounded like the report of a big 300 pound gun.

"I'm shot!" exclaimed Perry as he reeled towards the stove and grabbed for a spot over his head. His associate in business jumped from his chair to offer assistance to the "wounded" man.

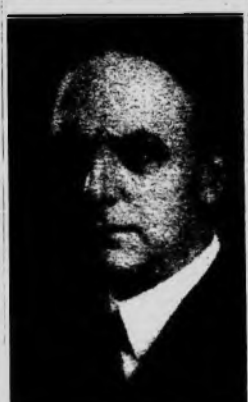

"Here's the bullet," declared Perry as he began feeling under his vest, his face getting redder and redder as he fumbled about in an effort to get the chunk of lead.

By this time Mr. Giles had reached his side. "Why, it's nothing only a cork," said Bert as he looked at the "bullet" that had struck Perry in the chest.

"Now what do you think of that?" said Perry. "I thought sure I had been shot."

The story is not a long one. Two or three days ago there was purchased a gallon jug of cider and some one thoughtlessly placed it in back of the stove.

The list of new books reads: "For the smaller children: 'Sambo and the Twins'; by Helen Farneman; 'Ted and Nina'; by Marguerite de Angell; 'The Golden Basket'; by Ludwig Bemelmans; 'Tammie and the Puppy'; by Dorothy Bryan; 'To Market We Go'; by Jane Miller; 'Chesley'; by Ruth Carroll; 'The Smiths and Rusty'; by Alice Dalgliesh; 'The Story of Ferdinand'; by Munro Leaf; 'Oak Tree House'; by Katherine Gibson.

For older boys and girls: 'Kagga's Brother'; by M. I. Ross; 'All the Mowgli Stories'; by Rudyard Kipling; 'Circus Boy'; by Harriet P. Christmas Shoppers Like Entrance

C. O. Dickerson, employe of Woodworth's store, has constructed a unique entrance to the toy department. This department is located in the basement. Favorable comment was expressed this week on the appearance of the entrance.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wittwer are planning to entertain their friends by giving the Senior Prom this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terry were dinner guests Sunday, of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Allen in Detroit.

Comm. Voorhies Starts Action Which Means Big Savings

Paul W. Voorhies, prominent Detroit attorney and member of the Michigan Public Utilities commission whose tenure of office will probably end with the change of state administrations soon after the first of the year, has not forgotten his old home town, as evidenced by the fact that through his efforts the commission has just issued an order which will bring a reduction in telephone rates to over 800 patrons within the city of Plymouth.

The new rate becomes effective on and after December 26. It provides a flat reduction of 25 cents per month on all forms of urban main service.

The action of the commission, taken upon the initiative and request of Mr. Voorhies, who has closely followed the telephone rate case through its years of consideration by the state and the commission, comes as a complete surprise to residents of this city, who had not been advised that the matter had been taken up by the commission for consideration.

The telephone company itself had made possible a consideration of the rate case for Plymouth through the fact that a number of years ago it had requested the commission to give consideration to the rate differential fixed by the commission for numerous cities of the state, including Plymouth.

Contrary to general belief, all telephone rates are fixed by the Utilities commission and not by the company and when the company constructed a new telephone plant in Plymouth a number of years ago the commission advised several cities that a number of years ago it had requested the commission to give consideration to the rate differential fixed by the commission for numerous cities of the state, including Plymouth.

Local business men have at various times requested consideration of the local rate, but because of the general rate case pending for the state during the past several years, no action has ever been taken upon the Plymouth rate until the order just issued by the commission.

Women Voters League Meets

The Plymouth League of Women Voters held its December meeting at the home of Mrs. Edward Eckert, on Blunk avenue, Friday, December 11. Mrs. Bruce Woodbury gave a report on the state board meeting which was held at Lansing, December 8.

Mrs. Woodbury and Mrs. James Sessions led the discussion of the proposed welfare reorganization bill, some form of which will come before the legislature in January.

Elton R. Eaton, representative-elect from the fifth legislative district, gave a talk on Social Security legislation and other prospective bills. He has been gathering information on the former subject since his candidacy was announced last summer.

He is one of the 20 legislators appointed recently to sit with Governor-Elect Murphy's Social Security committee. Captain Thumme revealed that information when he spoke at a meeting of the Northville Rotary club Tuesday of last week.

Clay tablets were used to receive the imprints of the fingers, he said. The Plymouth police officer then traced the history of finger printing to the present time.

Diners at the meeting ate venison provided by the president of the club, W. E. Forney. The Presbyterian church was the scene of the meal, and Captain Thumme appeared as the principal speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terry were dinner guests Sunday, of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Allen in Detroit.

THE LANGUAGE OF YOUR HAND

By Leicester K. Davis
© Public Ledger, Inc.

AS YOUR understanding of the language of the hand increases, you'll find its practical application helpful as well as entertaining. Knowledge of the significance of the types of hands alone will inform you of their owner's characteristics and enable you to gauge both business and social contacts with certainty as to the kind of man or woman you are dealing with.

The Spatulate Type of Hand.
This type will be readily recognized by its irregular shape, which is sometimes most noticeable on the palm side, in the space bounded by the base of the fingers, the wrist and edges of the palm.

The fingers and thumb of this type may vary, in some hands being of medium length, in others possessing surprising length. The fingers, as well as thumb, however, are characteristically broad and chisel shaped, with large, flat pads on the side opposite and extending beyond the nail. The thumb is somewhat loose-looking and more often than not is of almost abnormal length from the beginning of the nail joint to the nail tip.

The men or women whose hands are of this type are usually inclined to restlessness if their creative and emotional natures are held too much in conventional restraint. The spatulate type, with palm much wider at the finger base than wrist, indicates a fair measure of emotional control. When the reverse occurs, there is apt to be a decided tendency toward impetuous speech and conduct.

Those with spatulate type hands are happiest and most successful in activities which loose their tremendous powers of energy, quick thinking, originality and creative abilities amid surroundings that are as free as possible from conventional restraints.

UNUSUAL
By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

INVITED up some folks last week To see a sample of our climate, Of which I often highly speak. In hours poetic even rime it, They landed in a burning sun, The hottest known in many seasons. And so my boasting days are done, For many reasons.

The sun went down, the clouds came up, The rain began to run in rivers, And, when we sat us down to sup, The guests began to get the shivers. Just what they thought that night of me.

Who bragged about this place of places, They did not say, but I could see It in their faces.

And then we had three days of fog (I'd bragged of sun, times without number). The foghorn blew, that prooking frog, And no one got a wink of slumber. It rained from seven until ten, And then it blazed from ten till seven. I'll never boost a place again, Not even Heaven.

Making Windows Attractive.
Even though there may not be anything outside a window to make the view attractive, it is possible to make the window itself quite picturesque. Glass shelves, supported by brackets, will serve as bases for colored glassware or fragile figurines. Plants and flowers, and odds and ends from household collections may all adorn such shelves, and when taste is used in the assembling, the general effect is decoratively attractive.

Rain does not clear the air of impurities, according to tests in 14 industrial cities by the U. S. Public Health Service.

In the United States, $18.15 is spent yearly, per capita, for candy, ice cream, and sodas, but only $1.10 is expended for books.

Electric Ranges

There's no better gift than the modern ELECTRIC range! At a price to fit your purse, electric cooking has many advantages:

ECONOMY OF OPERATION: Less than a cent a meal per person is the average cost of using an electric stove. Electric cooking is NOT expensive—it is well within reach of the average family.

MORE HEALTHFUL COOKING: Foods are steam-cooked, not boiled. The precious juices of meats and vegetables do not boil away. Nourishing elements and important food values are retained. Cooked to melting tenderness in their own juices, meats and vegetables have a delicious natural flavor.

COOKING WITH PURE REFINED HEAT: As clean as sunlight! Electric heat does not blacken pots and pans; cooking utensils remain bright and shiny after long use. Your kitchen, too, stays sparkling and pleasant for a much longer period of time. The dirt is removed at the power house.

The I. E. S. Better Sight LAMPS

Nothing you can give for Christmas can compare with eyesight protection. This Better Sight lamp is approved by the Better Vision Institute. A translucent bowl under the shade prevents glare from the bulb and diffuses the light. Some light goes to the ceiling and is reflected back, so that the whole room is softly illuminated. For reading, writing, sewing and similar visual tasks, you get enough light—as shown by a Sight Meter—a generous supply for safe seeing. The Detroit Edison Company does not sell these lamps.

Yuletide in Old New York

There was a not time in old New York when Christmas rolled around. The Dutch were a merry people and the streets rang with joy to commemorate the birth of Christ in 1654, for instance, the city fathers declared themselves a Christmas holiday that began December 14 and lasted until three weeks after New Year's day. That was a real Christmas vacation!

Better Prices For Your Pelts

Fur pelts poorly prepared are worth only three-fourths the price those skins would bring if properly stretched and fleshed. Says B. T. Ostenson, instructor in zoology at Michigan State college. "Two types of skinning procedure open and cased, are used depending on the animal," says Ostenson. "For an open skin the first cut is made from the point of the chin straight to the tip of the tail along the under side of the body. Side cuts are then made to this from the sole of each foot by the shortest routes. A skin should be peeled rather than cut off the body. The less a knife is used the better, as slips occur even when care is exercised. Even a small gash in a pelt reduces its value. "For a cased skin a cut is made from the sole of one hind foot to the sole of the other, on a line running along the rear edge of the hind legs and beneath the tail. The tail is cut along the under side its entire length and the bone is removed. If this is not done the hair of the tail is likely to come out when the skin is dressed. "After the cuts have been made, the hind legs and feet are skinned out to the toes, the toes and feet being cut on the under side. The skin is peeled back from the body. The fore feet are opened from the wrist to the toes and skinned out in the same manner as the hind feet. The ears are cut off beneath the skin close to the skull and the thick cartilage in them is removed. Care must be exercised in skinning over the eyes for the knife must be kept cutting close to the skull to avoid cutting the eyelids." Any fat or muscle adhering to a skin should be removed immediately, as fat causes skins to become brittle and worthless, while muscle invites decay when conditions are unfavorable for rapid drying. This "fleshing" is usually done by scraping the skin (which is drawn over a rounded post) with the back of a knife, a dull file, or the square edge of a stick of wood, the scraping always being done from the head toward the tail. In conclusion, Ostenson suggests cased skins be stretched as evenly as possible, flesh side out, over pointed boards or wire stretchers. Open skins are usually nailed out on any convenient flat surface, flesh side exposed but with some provision for circulation underneath. Fur skins should not be salted although thick hides as cow and horse are salted. Pelts should be dried in a shady well ventilated place such as an open shed.

BIG SANDY ROLLS

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

THE old Big Sandy rolls along. As though the world were nowhere wrong. Rolls as it rolled in other years. Before the doors of pioneers. Rolls as it rolled when men were men, For there were few complainers then. Rolls as it rolled when womankind Some good to do could always find.

The old Big Sandy rolls away Hour after hour, day after day. Rolls as it rolled before men thought They toiled too hard who something wrought. Rolls as it rolled when fruits and flowers Were counted oftener than hours. Rolls as it rolled when work was found A meeting place, not battle ground.

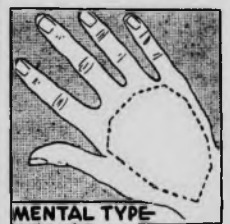

The old Big Sandy rolls along And knows that nothing's really wrong. Rolls as it rolled, while men must burn Their fingers, then to truth return. Rolls as it rolled, as age has smiled So often at a wayward child. Rolls as it rolled down through the past. And as it shall roll till the last.

THE LANGUAGE OF YOUR HAND

By Leicester K. Davis
© Public Ledger, Inc.

ONE may successfully veil the true man or woman from the eyes of the world in many ways, but the identity which the hand reveals cannot be concealed. Closely observe the hands you see. Impress upon your mind the characteristics which disclose their owners' traits and personalities.

The Mental Type of Hand.
In the systems of palmistry practiced by the ancient Greeks, this type was also called the hand of the philosopher, and with good reason. You will recognize it by its long and markedly angular appearance. The Mental Type of hand is invariably thin, with fingers long and inclined to be thin, with prominent knuckles which give the fingers a knotty look. The nail joints of the Mental Type are often of unusual length, slightly tapered, with broad nails.

The thumb of this type is always of great length, this being most noticeable within the space between the second and the nail joint. The palm and undersides of the fingers are quite flat.

Possessors of the Mental Type of hand are invariably great readers and of a scholarly turn of mind. They are nearly always conservative and deeply analytical in approaching any problem, refraining from an expression of positive opinion until painstaking research and deduction have produced incontrovertible evidence.

In the hand of this type with square rather than elongated palm, we are sure to find indication of the man or woman who puts his or her love of study to practical use in religious endeavor, literature or science. With the Mental Type of decidedly elongated palm, however, there is apt to be a tendency to scorn the use of scholarly attainments as a means of acquiring wealth and worldly goods.

Phone Rates To Be Reduced In City

The order makes a general reduction of 25 cents per month on each kind of service offered by the company, and means a savings of several hundreds of dollars per month to the telephone users of Plymouth.

Mr. Voorhies, who had served the state as former attorney general, was appointed to the public utilities commission by Governor Fitzgerald after it was too late for the state senate to confirm his appointment and from what can be learned it is the intention of the new administration to drop all Fitzgerald appointees as soon after the first of January as possible.

The order of the commission pertaining to the Plymouth telephone rate case follows:

In our order, dated July 1, 1936, we ordered reductions in various rates and charges of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, which, in the aggregate, will result in a very substantial reduction in the company's revenues.

As stated in the July 1, 1936 order: The number of exchange rate schedules in force in the territory of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company should be reduced. Existing inequities and discriminatory rate conditions as between exchanges should be eliminated, higher rates being required for certain exchanges and lower rates for others. Although certain necessary steps in such procedure may bring about slight increases in the company's revenues, and others result in decreases, the overall change will be as nearly offsetting as possible.

As one step in this program the Commission has concluded that as to urban classes of service a lower rate schedule should at this time be made effective for main stations at the Plymouth exchange.

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED by the Michigan Public Utilities Commission as follows:

1.—That the main station rates shown below be effective for the Plymouth exchange on and after December 26, 1936:

Within the base rate area:
Monthly flat rates: Business individual line, $4.00; 2-party line, $3.50; 4-party line $3.50 (available only outside the base rate area).
Monthly flat rates: Residence, individual line, $2.75; 2-party line, $2.25; 4-party line, $1.75.
Semi-public service: daily guarantee 13 cents on local messages only.

2.—That within a reasonable period following the receipt of a certified copy of this order, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company shall make and file with this commission its telephone tariff modifications to comply with this order.

3.—The commission realizes that it may be necessary and proper to make other orders in connection with rates at this particular exchange and, therefore, it reserves jurisdiction to make such further order or orders as the circumstances may require.

Publishers Announce New Book By J. Merle Bennett

Plymouth Resident
Writes New Volume
Entitled "Roadsides"

J. Merle Bennett of Plymouth is the author of a new book "Roadsides", announcement of which was received recently from the Stratford company Boston publishers.

The book was written to explain how and why highway development should be practiced. Mr.
Bennett has written the book in a strictly non-technical manner in order that untrained persons can thoroughly understand the significance and importance of beautification of roads.

The price of the book, $3, indicates that the publishing firm considers the volume one which the public would be willing to pay well. Eighteen illustrations are included on the 233 pages of the book. The covers are faced with green cloth, and the title is stamped in gold lettering.

People who are technically trained, according to the announcement from the publishers, will find the information given in this book easy to read and understand and readily usable.

Mr. Bennett's volume is also intended to do more than this.

It should excite a permanent and convincing interest in trees, shrubs and other plants, to bring out the importance of natural surroundings, to explain how they can be used to the best advantage to present and explain all the problems involved in roadside development and to show how everyone can effectively support this public service.

Mr. Bennett's book is designed to provide all the authentic information on the subject of roadside development which is available at the present time. The author bases his book on 18 years of experience and observation in many parts of this country and Canada.

To add interest and broaden the field of usefulness of roadside development, some history of this work is given in the volume.

The chapter on trees, which outlines their history, contains information that warrants widespread reading of the book. It has been stated that "anybody who has a garden, an interest in trees and shrubs or a desire to improve the roadsides or streets will find the book useful."

Macmillan, the noted book firm, published a volume by Mr. Bennett in 1929. The Plymouth man is also the author of many magazine and newspaper articles.
Mr. Bennett received his bachelor of science degree in forestry from Michigan State college in 1919. He became interested in trees while in the lower grammar grades of public school, and this interest naturally led him to select forestry as his major subject.

The author of "Roadsides" was employed by the Michigan State Highway department for three years after his graduation. While holding this position, he received practical experience in surveying, designing and building roads and constructing bridges.

Mr. Bennett also further learned how to preserve the natural beauty of roadsides. The Plymouth resident-author, in this period, co-operated with public utility companies in highway beautification.

Bennett has the distinction of having started the first organized program of roadside development in the United States. This occurred while he was working under the Wayne County Road commissioners in 1922. This board originated the term "roadside development." These county commissioners built the first mile of concrete highway in the world.

This type of hard-surfacing is generally recognized as the best one if the builder is not limited as to the amount of money spent.

Road and park conditions have been studied by Mr. Bennett in 15 states and Canada. His study also includes the economic utilization of country roadsides.

Mr. Bennett's book has a dollar-and-cents phase for property owners. Highway development increases the value of abutting property. Then too, beautification improves the appearance of any community. This is hinted at by the sub-title of the volume, "The Front Yard of the Nation."

The Mail congratulates Mr.
Bennett in obtaining a publisher for his book.

they do for food, rent, clothing

New Licenses To Fish Needed Soon

The department of conservation today reminded fishermen that their general fishing licenses expire on Jan. 1, the date on which the new fishing licenses for 1937 go into effect.

All dealers and conservation officers in various parts of the state will be fully supplied with the new licenses before that date.

With hunting on the wane due to the expiration of legal open seasons, fishing through the ice will be one of the outdoor pastimes that will help sportsmen bridge the long winter months.
Authorities expect that well over a half-million licenses will be sold in 1937.

There are no major changes in fishing regulations for the new year, fishermen men say. Regulations limiting the number of lines that may be used legally remain in effect. Not more than two single line lines, with one hook to each line, is permitted each fisherman and these lines must be "held in the hand or under immediate control." In the case of smelt fishing any number of hooks may be used on a line.

"THE BOOK OF BOOKS"

Born in the East and clothed in Oriental form and imagery, the Bible walks the ways of all the world with familiar feet and enters lands after land to find its own everywhere. It has learned to speak in hundreds of languages to the heart of man. It comes into the palace to tell the monarch that he is a servant of the Most High, and into the cottage to assure the peasant that he is a son of God. Children listen to its stories with wonder and delight, and wise men ponder them as parables of life. It has a word of peace for the time of peril, a word of comfort for the day of calamity, a word of light for the hour of darkness. Its oracles are repeated in the assembly of the people, and its counsels whispered in the ear of the lonely. The wicked and the proud tremble at its warning, but to the wounded and the penitent it has a mother's voice. The wilderness and the solitary place have been made glad by it, and the fire on the hearth has lit the reading of its well-worn page. It has woven itself into our deepest affections and coloured our dearest dreams; so that love and friendship, sympathy and devotion, memory and hope, put on the beautiful garments of its treasured speech, breathing of frankincense and myrrh.

Above the cradle and beside the grave its great words come to us uncalled. They fill our prayers with power larger than we know, and the beauty of them lingers on our ear long after the sessions which they adorned have been forgotten. They return to us swiftly and quietly, like doves flying from far away. They surprise us with new meanings, like springs of water breaking forth from the mountain beside a long-trodden path. They grow richer, as pearls do when they are worn near the heart.

No man is poor or desolate who has this treasure for his own. When the landscape darkens and the trembling pilgrim comes to the Valley named of the Shadow, he is not afraid to enter: he takes the rod and staff of Scripture in his hand; he says to friend and comrade, "Good-by; we shall meet again"; and comforted by that support, he goes toward the lonely pass as one who walks through darkness into light.

ANOTHER TAX TO PAY.

The Federal Social Security Act sets up an unemployment insurance system, an excise tax being imposed on employers of eight or more persons. The rates of tax applicable for the respective calendar years are: for the calendar year of 1936: 1 per cent of the total amount of wages payable by an employer with respect to employment during the year, regardless of the time of actual payment; for the year 1937: 2 per cent, and for the year of 1938 and subsequent years: 3 per cent.

The tax on the 1936 payrolls is due on Jan. 31, 1937 (this is the due date for payment of the tax for subsequent years) without notice or assessment. The tax may be paid in four equal installments, the first on Jan. 31, the second on April 30, the third on July 31 and the final on Oct. 31. Failure to pay any installment when the tax is due speeds payment of the whole tax.

An employer is any person who employs eight or more individuals (excepting those in the exempted classification) on a total of 20 or more calendar days during a calendar year, each such day being in a different calendar week. Such an employer is subject to the tax. It is not necessary that the eight employees be the same individuals, nor is it necessary that the 20 weeks be consecutive, nor that the eight individuals be employed at the same moment of time. For example, a man who has six regular employees and one extra on a day (such as for Saturday rush) throughout the year and one extra on one day a week during 20 weeks (five months) of the year is liable to the tax. A man who has seven regular employees and one extra employed for at least 20 weeks (even one day a week) is subject to the tax. Those men employing less than eight persons are not subject to the tax.

Employees in the following classifications are not eligible to receive unemployment compensation and employers of such employees are not subject to the tax: agricultural labor, domestic service in a private home, officers or members of a crew of a vessel serving navigable waters of the United States, individuals employed by members of one's own family, employees of the Federal Government, employees of a state or political subdivision, employees of non-profit making institutions organized for religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purposes.

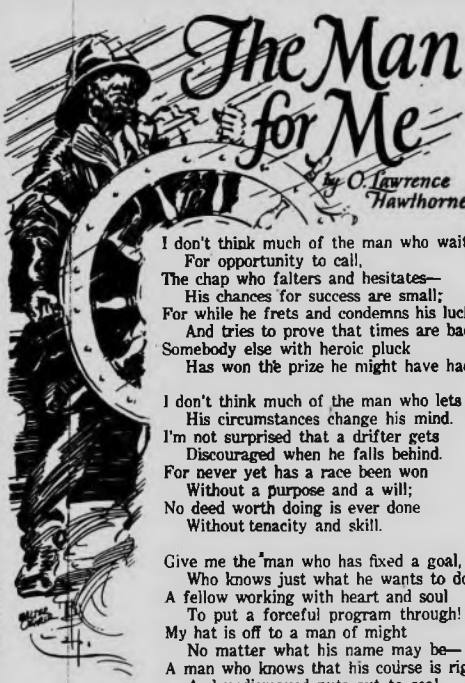

The act makes no distinction between classes or grades of employees. Thus, superintendents, managers and other superior employees are employees within the meaning of the act. In discussing the relationship of employer and employee, regulations of the unemployment compensation tax state in part:

"Generally the relationship of employer and employee exists when the person for whom services are performed has the right to control and direct the individual who performs the services, not only as to the result to be accomplished by the work but also as to the details and means by which that result is accomplished. That is, an employee is subject to the will and control of the employer not only as to what shall be done but how it shall be done. It is not necessary that the employer actually direct or control the manner in which the services are performed; it is sufficient if he has the right to do so . . ."

Employers are required to keep careful records and the advice has been given that detailed data is preferred to meager information—so that it will be easier to check up in the future should any investigation result. It has been advised that the employers' records should be complete enough to give: the total amount of remuneration payable in cash or other medium with separate records of total wages for exempted services, total wages for services outside of the United States and total wages for all other services.

As to filing returns, the law states that "not later than January 31, next following the close of the taxable year, each employer shall make a return of the tax under this title for such taxable year . . ." That means that the tax on 1936 payrolls must be returned by Jan. 31, 1937, this being the due date of the tax, although the levy may be paid in four equal installments.

No unemployment compensation funds are available as yet—and under the provisions of the Federal Social Security Act, no payments of such compensation can be made before January 1, 1938.

The Man for Me

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

I don't think much of the man who waits
For opportunity to call,
The chap who falters and hesitates—
His chances for success are small;
For while he frets and condemns his luck
And tries to prove that times are bad,
Somebody else with heroic pluck
Has won the prize he might have had.

I don't think much of the man who lets
His circumstances change his mind.
I'm not surprised that a drifter gets Discouraged when he falls behind.
For never yet has a race been won Without a purpose and a will;
No deed worth doing is ever done
Without tenacity and skill.

Give me the man who has fixed a goal,
Who knows just what he wants to do—
A fellow working with heart and soul
To put a forceful program through!
My hat is off to a man of might
No matter what his name may be—
A man who knows that his course is right
And undismayed puts out to sea!

CHRISTMAS

In the manger of a stable,
Lay the Christ child, just born.
With nothing for His comfort
Save the donkey breath, to keep Him warm.

Just a babe in the manger
Wrapped in swaddling clothes,
Sent to us as our redeemer,
Near two thousand years ago.

In the East, there were three shepherds.
With their herd each was content.
Until a star shone in the heavens,
Then on to Bethlehem, they went.

A little gift each had ready
And presented it to Him,
Then on their knees they fell,
To praise the new born King.

And King was He immortal
Until the day He died,
Now He's King of earth and heaven,
A million angels by His side.

Can you spare a few moments,
When you rise on Christmas morn,
To remember that you're celebrating
The day that Christ was born.

—Charles E. Allen.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

EUROPE LIKES WAR.

There has probably never been a time since you or I have been reading the newspapers that there has not been a war scare in Europe. There seems to be but one thing that will prevent European Nations going to war, and that is what they call "lack of preparedness". Just as soon as they have funds and fighting equipment sufficient to wage war, away it goes and a war is let loose. They seem to want it even when a few diplomatic words would prevent it, so, why get excited in this country when war in Europe has been a matter of course since hundreds of years before America was even born.—Frank Bryce in The Grand Ledge Independent.

ABOUT VAN WAGONER.

Murray D. Van Wagoner, democratic state highway commissioner, is a smart politician. As the main patronage office holding democrat for the past two years, Van Wagoner has been building up good will and telling all his callers to come back if, as and "when the democrats get back into power". Now, with all the highways leading to Lansing cluttered up with democratic office seekers, Mr. Van Wagoner is down in Mexico or some other out of the way place, where democrats are few and far between. Incidentally, all the chatter about Van Wagoner not being a candidate again is the bunk. Will the democrats renominate Paul Voelker, who went in as superintendent of public instruction when Van Wagoner was successful? Our guess—and that's all it is—is "no".—Muri DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

IT JUST CAN'T BE POSSIBLE.

News from Lansing brings the cheering information that the Murphy administration in all probability will consider reformation of Michigan's pardon and parole system. If there is one thing more than another in Michigan's affairs that needs a change it is the parole system—a system which has become so inept as to approach a public disgrace. The morning newspaper seldom fails to record some deed of violence done by a parolee.—Vernon J. Brown in The Ingham County News.

THE U. P. EDITOR IS RIGHT!

There is still talk of a bridge across the Straits. The people of St. Ignace, Cheboygan and Mackinaw are for it almost 100 per cent and they have hopes that before many years the eighth wonder of the world will be the bridge connecting the lower and upper peninsulas, and why not? Isn't this one state? The saving in time for automobiles and trains crossing would be a tremendous factor in "selling the bridge".—Claude Riley in The Ontonagon Herald.

DISCARDING THE OLD.

One reason the depression lasted, once it got under way, was because people stopped buying. Even if we needed new things and had in our possession still a few remaining dollars we yet refused to spend. And the tighter we drew our lips and purse strings, the tighter fitted the lid on the depression. Europeans practice this policy of frugal spending their entire lives, and it is always a cause of amazement to them when visiting in America to see our waste, or to see what appears to them as waste for they would drive a car as long as it could take them places, and they would get out of our junk pile old shoes and clothes which we discard.

But is our policy one of waste? When we discard a thing because we have found another reasonably better to warrant the change we are giving life to industry, and a stimulus to business, which in turn benefits each individual. Think of these things when you hesitate to buy the new car or radio. We Americans enjoy life as we go along. The Europeans find their pleasure knowing there is a bag with a few hoarded francs or pounds in it, planted under a plank of the kitchen floor. It will never draw any interest or do any one much good.—George Neal in The Orion Review.

Penniman-Allen Offerings

All the familiar characters of James Fenimore Cooper's immortal classic, "The Last of the Mohicans", come to life on the screen of the Penniman-Allen theater on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, December 20, 21, and 22. It is an unforgettable story of glorious adventure, heart stirring romance and thundering conflict for a nation yet unborn. Randolph Scott heads the imposing cast as Hawkeye, the handsome and daring Colonial scout hero of the story. Binnie Barnes, Henry Wilcoxson, Bruce Cabot and Heather Angel are also among those featured.

Whole communities were used for necessary background in the picture. In all, over 5,000 extras, of whom half were full blooded or part Indian were given employment in the picture. A glimpse of the world in which your great great grandchildren will live can be seen in the picture "Things to Come" which will be shown on Wednesday and Thursday, December 23 and 24. It is the headlines of tomorrow. The world a hundred years from now and the story is as amazingly exciting as the setting itself.

Fashion conscious women (and what woman isn't?) will be given a preview on 1937 fashions when "The Gay Desperado", the new Pickford-Lasky romance, starring Nino Martini comes to the theatre on Friday and Saturday December 25 and 26. Ida Lupino and Leo Carillo are featured in this ray, colorful action-filled story of a laughing, dashing, singing senior below the Rio Grande, who saves his neck and wins the girl with the charm of his rolden voice.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist—Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of twenty years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00.

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, December 20. Among the Bible citations is the following (Psalms 28: 5) "Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation: on thee do I wait all the day." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 565): "Spirit imparts the understanding which unifies consciousness and leads into all truth... Spiritual sense is the discernment of spiritual good. Understanding is the line of demarcation between the real and the unreal."

CATHOLIC CHURCH—Rev. F. C. Lefevre. Sundays—Mass at 8:00 and 10:00. Confessions Saturday nights at 7:30, and before each mass. Societies—The Holy Name Society for all men and young men. Communion the second Sunday of the month. The Ladies' Altar Society receives Holy Communion the third Sunday of each month. All the ladies of the parish are to belong to this society. Children of Mary—Every child of the parish must belong and must go to communion every fourth Sunday of the month. Instructions in religion conducted each Saturday morning at 9:30 by the Dominican Sisters. All children that have not completed their 8th grade, are obliged to attend these religious instructions.

Calcium, carbon, hydrogen, iron, magnesium, nitrogen, oxygen, phosphorus, potassium, sulfur, sodium are the 30 elements necessary to plant growth.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH—On Sunday morning at 10 o'clock we shall have the privilege of hearing Dr. and Mrs. Henry Boyson, who are just concluding their furlough and Dr. Boyson sails on the 15th of January for interior Africa, where they have served some years as missionaries. Our auditorium will be darkened to make possible the showing of pictures of their place and sphere of work, and they will also have many curios that will be of special interest to the children. 11:15, Bible school, 6:00.—This will be a special service for our young people and the program will be given by the Dearborn B. Y. P. U. This service will begin promptly at 6 o'clock closing promptly at 7:00. 7:30—At this hour some 30 members of the church and Sunday school will present a most beautiful pageant entitled, "Holy Night" by Mary M. Russell. This is the most extensive and elaborate pageant that has been given for some time in this church and you will want to see the decorations, hear the songs and see the Story of Old told again in just a little different way than the usual. Please note the hour of beginning is one half hour later than our usual service. We are asking our membership and the friends of this church to bring a special tithe offering on the Sunday of the 27th, when the pastor will bring a Christmas message and at the evening hour the three choirs will present a program of Christmas music. The full program will appear next week. We take this occasion to wish all our friends a Merry Christmas, and with the hope that we shall not go amiss of the central truth of this season—that God came to this earth, and thus made a way for perishing humanity to be saved.

How Education Leader Would Bring Aid To Rural Schools

State Official Has Recommendations For Legislation

The cause of public school education, particularly in the state's rural areas, would be greatly aided if the 1937 legislature adopts the major portion of the program of improvement publicly advocated this week by Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent of public instruction.

While the whole program constitutes a comprehensive plan for betterment of the entire public school system, much emphasis was laid by the state's school head on educational problems peculiar to the areas outside metropolitan districts.

Underlying the whole proposal, which was in the form of the biennial report of the Department of Public Instruction to Governor Fitzgerald, as required by law, was the basic contention that the public school system must receive substantially more state aid in order to meet existing social and economic conditions. Public schools now receive $38,000,000 annually from the state, including the primary school fund.

Following are the phases of the Elliott plan which would particularly benefit the rural areas:
Payment by the state of all tuition costs now charged non-resident pupils for 7th and 8th grade instruction in city and village high schools, which pupils must pay at present.

Increase of the state's payment of tuition for non-resident high school students. The state now pays $65 per pupil per year, but the report points out that in many cases actual costs are considerably higher, the difference being met by local taxpayers.

Relief from the present overcrowded condition in many schools, particularly of the consolidated type, by direct assistance from the state to school districts for the construction of new schools.
Higher pay for county school commissioners "commensurate with their educational qualifications and responsibilities".

Revision of the whole body of school transportation legislation which at present lacks uniformity in different districts, as to legal and financial arrangements.

Reorganization of school districts where economy and increased efficiency would be brought about, with consent of local residents a primary condition.

While enactment of legislation conforming with any one of these recommendations would be reflected in easing the cost of education in rural areas, the other points in the program would be beneficial throughout the entire state.

Summarized, the more significant recommendations are: removing the office of superintendent of public instruction from partisan politics by making the office appointive by an enlarged state board of education; higher salaries for all teachers, modification or repeal of the "teachers oath" of allegiance law to avoid certain abuses; tenure act to protect "efficient" teachers from being dismissed capriciously if such a measure can be agreed on; prevention of use of state aid funds for purposes supposed to be met by local taxation.

Rabbit Hunting Season Nears End

The legal open season for hunting rabbits in southern Michigan counties comes to an end New Year's day.

January 1 is the last day on which rabbits may be hunted south of the north line of Town 16 north and east of Saginaw bay, including all of the Thumb district. Conservation authorities announce north of that line and west of Saginaw bay, including all of the upper peninsula, the rabbit hunting season continues open to and including January 31.

Scout Activities Numerous

Holiday Period Finds Youngsters Filled With Pep To Do Thing

Get out your calendar and chalk up Saturday, January 23rd, 1937, as a red letter day for Scoutmasters, assistants, troop committeemen, commissioners, board members and other scouts and their ladies. That is the date of the annual Scouters conference and dinner. No Scout can afford to miss the splendid inspirational program which is being prepared.

A winter camp will be conducted at Camp Brady beginning December 26, and continuing through December 30. Parents, this would make a fine Christmas present for any scout!

The Scouts of Troop P-1 visited the office of Dr. John J. Nalbant at 518 S. Main street Thursday evening. The doctor gave the boys some fine instruction on "Personal Health" and "First Aid". The Scouts appreciate very much instruction such as this.

Assistant Cubmaster Wellington LeBelle took charge of the Cub meeting last Friday evening. Present at the meeting were Scoutmaster Mathias and Scouts Van Landingham and Bulson, all of Troop P-3. Scout VanLandingham showed the Cubs his collection of moths and butterflies and related his experience in making the collection.

Cubmaster Henry has been greatly in need of assistance in the handling of the Cub pack. The pack is divided into dens and each den should have an adult or Boy Scout leader. Thanks to the efforts of Scoutmaster, Mathias, Scouts Van Landingham and Bulson are now going to act as den leaders. The cubmaster can use more assistance.

Capt. Thumme with the assistance of Scout Thams, P-1, finger-printed Troop P-3, last Thursday evening. This work is rapidly going forward and soon all the Scouts, both boy and girl, as well as many others will have their fingerprints on record in the civilian files.

One Scout in the district already by his own saved up to go to the "Overnight" at Camp Brady on next May 15 and 16. How's that?

All parents who wish to attend the Christmas party given for the Scouts by the Kiwanis club at the Mayflower hotel on December 22, kindly so inform Cubmaster Henry before December 19. The cost will be sixty-five cents per plate for the adults.

Troop P-1 enjoyed a hike last Saturday afternoon. The weather was grand for hiking and it certainly sharpened the appetites for supper which was eaten at the new Cutler residence on Ridge road. After supper a number of the boys were initiated into the Royal Order of Siam. McAllister did his obsequies the loudest and funniest but still had to be given the third degree, ask him!

Parents, do you want Christmas suggestions for Scouts? If so drop in at 215 S. Main street and see the Christmas number of the Scout Administrator.

Farm Hand Is Reported Missing

The family of Will Crawford has been wondering the past month about the disappearance of their former hired man, one Mike Gardner, who left their place Sunday, Nov. 9, leaving behind his few spare clothes, watch, and a small sum of wages due him. To date he has not been heard from, although Mr. Crawford has made some attempts to locate him through newspapers and his description was broadcast over the state police radio station.

Gardner had worked for the Crawfords about five weeks this fall. He is described as a good willing farm worker, about 27 years of age, 5 1/2 feet in height and weighing about 150 pounds. He was last seen by Mrs. Bert Farrell on the Sunday in question as he went past their house, on foot, apparently bound for Milford. On that day he asked Mr. Crawford for a small sum of money which was given him and the family left to spend the day in Plymouth. When they returned at night, Gardner was missing and has not been seen since. On the day of his disappearance he was clad in a blue serge suit.

It is not suspected that he has come to any particular harm, but his sudden disappearance without any explanation, especially in view of the fact that he neglected to collect his wages and left his clothes behind, indicated his intention to return. His employer states that it was his purpose to keep Gardner all winter, and the man's strange disappearance has caused him no little wonderment.

Mr. Crawford hired Gardner from Milford and he had worked for Arthur Koch, who lives near the Bird school. So far as known he had no relatives and came from some section of Ontario.—Milford Times.
