

Presbyterians Open Corner-Stone Box of Old Plymouth Church

Members Have Glimpse of Early Struggles In Building of Original Church and Its Enlargement

Plymouth Presbyterians Sunday morning rolled back the curtain that separates today from the yesterdays and visioned their church as it was nearly 90 years ago when the pioneer residents of this community and locality were struggling to raise funds to build a new brick church to take the place of the old frame building that had served them since 1833.

They saw the handwriting of some of the pioneer members who had sacrificed, so that the little community of Plymouth might have a larger and more convenient building in which to worship.

They saw the pledges of $5 and $10 and $50 that had been made by those who had come "into the west" to make new homes for themselves and their families and to find new opportunities in a new land.

It was indeed an impressive moment when Rev. Walter Nichol, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, opened the copper box found in the foundation of the church that was burned to the ground a year ago.

And when its contents were revealed, the congregation had the unusual pleasure of seeing the original subscription list as well as a sheet of interesting facts that had been contained in the first cornerstone when it was laid in June, 1848, as well as the subscription list and other data placed in the box when the church was remodeled again 32 years ago.

There was a copy of the Plymouth Mail, dated June 10, 1904, in the copper box. In the Mail was found this brief but interesting item pertaining to the first cornerstone laying back 88 years ago.

"The cornerstone of the old Presbyterian church was uncovered last Tuesday and within its receptacle was found a sealed bottle in which had been placed the names and amounts of the subscribers to the building fund of the church, which was erected in 1848. The list was headed by Ebenezer J. Penniman who subscribed $500. The cornerstone of the church was remodeled within the week of this morning (Friday, June 10, 1904) and within it will be placed the original list of subscribers to the rebuilding fund. Other records will also be deposited in the stone."

It was these two old pieces of faded paper, the list of original subscribers and another sheet containing other data of interest in those days that created the great interest.

Interesting too was the fact that Ebenezer J. Penniman, the father of Mrs. Kate Allen, who still lives in this city, was revealed to be the greatest donor to the original church fund. He contributed $500. Ebenezer of the Plymouth Mail will recall an article published in this newspaper a few years ago which told of the important part he took in the organization of the Republican party "Under the Oaks" in Jackson.

Penniman avenue bears his name and the Penniman-Allen theatre is named in his honor as well as that of O. M. Allen, who also played an important part in the early development of this city. He was the late husband of Mrs. Allen.

Thoughtful indeed, was Mrs. Allen at the time of the discovery of the bottle that contained the original records in the wall of the church when it was remodeled 32 years ago.

The records were fading and so Mrs. Allen made copies of the original records that had been made up by her father and these copies were placed back in the copper corner-stone box. While

Navy Band Player Home For Vacation

Gerald A. Hartling, musician, second class, U. S. Navy, is home visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford A. Hartling, of 493 North Harvey street for the holidays.

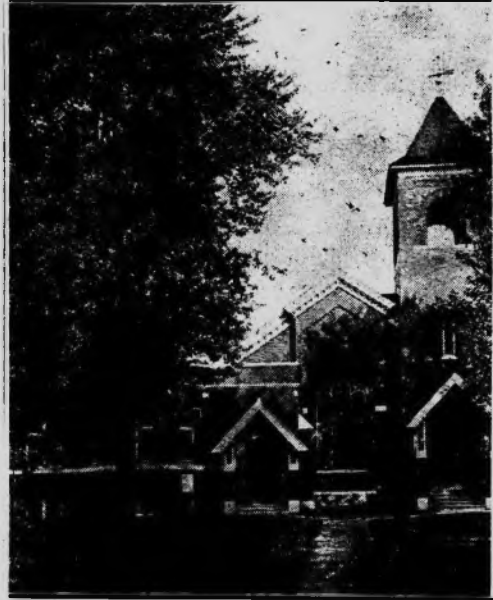

Before his enlistment in the navy, Gerald attended Plymouth high school from which he graduated in 1935 with honors in music. After his graduation from high school he played in Foreman's orchestra of Northville.

He is at present playing first trumpet in the band of the Navy School of Music, at Washington, D. C. He enlisted in the navy at the Navy Recruiting station, Detroit, for a term of six years on March 30, last and was sent to Washington, where he will receive instruction in music for a period of two years and will then be sent to join the band of some ship in the United States fleet.

Before moving to Plymouth in 1930, young Hartling attended the elementary schools in Detroit, where he was a member of the All-City Elementary School band under the direction of Fowler Smith. He will be home until after New Year's and will then return to Washington to continue his studies.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Carney, who spent the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Draper, returned to their home in Chicago, Ill. Monday.

Church Ruins Reveal Historical Data of Community Back in Years Previous To 1848

From out of the foundation wall of this church was taken the old cornerstone box placed there in 1848 and which contained much interesting information pertaining to the early days of the Presbyterians in Plymouth. The box was opened Sunday at the regular services of the church. The above is a picture of the old church taken but a short time before it was destroyed by fire a little over a year ago.

Ten Hurt In One Auto Crash - One Is Killed

Plymouth Adds Its Share To Christmas Traffic Toll

Plymouth and vicinity added its share to the frightful Christmas traffic toll of dead and injured people injured about midnight Christmas eve when the ambulance driver saw a car bottom side up beside the road.

Summoned to an accident on Plymouth road just east of Middle Belt, the Schrader ambulance was speeding to pick up the victims of one crash in which three cars were involved and ten people injured about midnight Christmas eve when the ambulance driver saw a car bottom side up beside the road.

Fred D. Schrader, who had accompanied the ambulance to assist in the removal of the injured, saw that the victim of the accident, Edward Schmidhe, 39 years old, was so badly injured that he needed immediate hospital care, aided in getting the injured man in the ambulance and instructed the driver to hurry him to Plymouth hospital.

After bringing Schmidhe to Plymouth, they returned to the first call where Mr. and Mrs. Saleniek and son, Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hensel and baby, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Parker, all of Detroit, had been hurt when a car driven by Howard Fetters of Ann Arbor had crashed into the Saleniek car.

Mr. and Mrs. Saleniek and Mr. and Mrs. Hensel and their babies, all in one car, were on their way to Plymouth to attend midnight mass at Our Lady of Good Counsel church.

Peters was driving from Ann Arbor into Detroit. His car struck the Saleniek car in such a way that nearly all of the occupants were injured, mostly by flying glass. He was badly cut about the face.

E. J. Allison New President Of The Shrine Club

Officers Elected For Ensuing Year—Plan Continued Activities

Ernest J. Allison will be the new president of the Suburban Shrine club, having been elected to succeed Fred D. Schrader at the annual meeting of the organization held during the past week.

The new vice president is Harry Marburger of Northville and the secretary-treasurer elected is Arlo Emery of this city.

The board of governors for the ensuing year will consist of the following: Edward Gayde, Ray Honsinger, Northville; George Fuller, and George Gerbstadt of Wayne.

All of the officers have been given the Shrine club since its organization and the new president plans to keep the organization just as active as it has been during recent years.

They will assume their respective duties at the Valentine's party. President Fred D. Schrader relinquishing the duties of his office to President-elect Allison at that time.

Committees in charge announce that the ticket sale for the annual New Year's party which will take place at the Mayflower hotel this Thursday evening has been especially good and a large crowd is expected. There will be the usual famous Mayflower dinner, bridge, dancing and a program of entertainment that will be outstanding, say committee members.

Miss Arline Richardson becomes bride of Elden Biery

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Ray Richardson, of Northville, was the scene of a beautiful wedding, Christmas day, when their daughter, Arline, was united in marriage to Elden Biery, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Biery, also of Northville. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by the Rev. K. S. North, pastor of the Baptist church in that city, in the presence of about 60 relatives and intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom.

The bridal party took their places before a background of tall, stately, silver laden Christmas trees, walking down an aisle marked by ribbon, with Catherine Biery, sister of the bridegroom, Maxine Perkins, George and Harry Richardson, cousins and brother of the bride, being the bearers, while Mrs. Earl Fluelling, of Plymouth, played the "Bridal Chorus" by Schumann.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a lovely in ivory chiffon velvet, with a separate jacket having long sleeves which came to a point over the hand, and a row of tiny covered buttons reaching from the hand to the elbow. A pearl necklace was her only adornment. Her bouquet was composed of calla lilies and baby's breath.

Miss Richardson chose Virginia Lyons, of Detroit, for her bridesmaid. She was gowned in deep rose more and wore silver slippers. She carried an arm bouquet of tulle and roses.

Kenneth Martin of Northville, was best man.

A buffet luncheon was served to the wedding guests during the reception and extending of good wishes to the happy pair. The dining room was decorated in red and white, the table being centered with a large row of white chrysanthemums, roses and snapdragons, and a wedding cake placed at either end, flanked by lighted red tapers.

Mrs. Biery chose for her going away costume, a green sheer wool, made with a pelum, in which she wore brown accessories. Her corsage was purple orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Biery left immediately for their new apartment in Dearborn, where they will be at home to their many friends.

Several lovely affairs have been given for the bride, the final one being a spinsters dinner by Catherine Stalter, Thursday evening, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Stalter, on Randolph street, Northville, preceding the wedding rehearsal in the spacious Richardson home on West Main street.

New Year Promises To Be One Of Busiest Plymouth Has Ever Had

New Chairman Of Plymouth President's Ball Committee

ARNO B. THOMPSON

Following the resignation of Mrs. Cass Hough as chairman of the President's Ball Executive committee that has functioned so successfully in Plymouth since the inauguration of this outstanding social event in Plymouth, the national officials in New York City have selected Arno B. Thompson to take the place made vacant by Mrs. Hough.

The selection of Mr. Thompson as chairman of this important committee will meet with as much satisfaction as did the original appointment of Mrs. Hough. She proved a tireless worker, and Mr. Thompson, during the time he was president of the Ex-Service Men's club and at various times when he has acted as chairman of local charitable committees, has demonstrated the fact that he too is a capable and efficient director.

Mr. Thompson has not yet announced the members of his committee, a right that is delegated to the chairman. He states that he will do so within the next few days as well as reveal other plans for this year's event.

Kiwanians Host To Cub Scouts

The Kiwanis club was host to the Cub Pack that it sponsors, and to a number of parents on Tuesday night, December 22 at the Mayflower hotel. It must have been a huge turkey that was prepared for the party, because nearly 70 people ate their fill and there was no sign of shortage. After the turkey and trimmings had disappeared, and Chairman Rauch had led all in Christmas songs, the Cub Scout Pack, LaBelle put on a short program, including instrumental numbers by LaBelle, Johanness, Young and Kenyon, Cub members of Louie Evans' young band, a recitation by Robert Boyce, and a Pack "howl" led by Cub Kincaid in appreciation for the party.

Santa Claus sent a telegram that he was on the way, delayed by poor sleighing conditions, so while the boys were waiting for him, E. J. Jolliffe, of the Kiwanis club, presented the Pack with a beautiful United States flag. Santa Claus arrived about this time with candy and rattles for each Cub. After the distribution of the presents and the boys had sung "Silent Night" around the big Christmas tree, the party was adjourned.

Miss Catherine Nichol And John F. Randall Wed Christmas Day

At four o'clock on Christmas day at the home of her parents in Plymouth, Catherine Nichol became the bride of John F. Randall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight T. Randall, of Detroit.

The bride attended the six o'clock Christmas dinner at the home of her parents, where the bride and groom took their places before the lighted Christmas tree which made a background appropriate to the day. The bride's father, Reverend Walter Nichol, read the marriage service. The guests included only the members of the immediate families.

The young people are both graduates of Plymouth high school and are well known in Plymouth. Mrs. Randall is a graduate of the College of Wooster, Wooster, Ohio. Mr. Randall was graduated from Michigan State college and spent a year at Yale Engineering school, New Haven, Connecticut.

After January 1, they will make their home in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Work on Burroughs Plant To Start Soon—Daisy Makes Big Drive For Business—Other Local Concerns Expect Big Year

Probably not for a score of years has a New Year looked brighter to Plymouth than does 1937.

While surveyors are busy driving stakes to mark out the foundations for a new factory unit for the Burroughs Manufacturing company to be located just east of the city limits that is to be erected during the early spring, the advertising and sales department of The Daisy Manufacturing company are working overtime preparing for the biggest business drive ever made by the company. The officials hope to increase the business of the company by more than $150,000 during the coming year.

The Plymouth Mail expects within the immediate future to be able to announce definitely the complete plans of The Burroughs company as it pertains to its Plymouth development. All that can be said now is that the news will be good news and that the plans of the company as announced early last fall will be carried out in detail.

Construction of the new Burroughs plant and the big drive for new business to be made by The Daisy company does not constitute all the good news for this locality.

The Plymouth Felt Products company is just now completing a new warehouse which will enable it to add considerable to its output, and that means more workers.

The Plymouth Stamping company, The Universal Sprayer company, The Dun Mar company, The Dunn Steel Products company, The Hamilton & Sons Rifle Manufacturers, Penhale-Hubbard company, National Window Shade company, Perfection Sprinkler and Bieszk Automotive Shop company all report excellent prospects for business during the next year.

There is almost a sure prospect that the Plymouth Tube company will be forced to erect a big addition or an entirely new factory building within the year.

Already The Ford Motor company has enlarged the Nankin mills plant, so that there are now employed there nearly 50 workers instead of the former eight or nine men.

In addition to these exceedingly favorable prospects for the new year, every Plymouth merchant reports that his business was far better during the holiday season this year than for eight or nine years past. In fact, some say that all previous sales records were exceeded. Not only have stocks of merchandise been increased, but some of the stores are planning considerable expansion within the next twelve months. In fact, if the plans of one of the well known merchants of the city goes through, his store will be almost doubled in size.

In addition to what local manufacturers and business men are doing to help make business better during the next twelve months, both the state highway department and the Wayne County Road commission have under consideration considerable work in this locality. The county road commission has started the construction of a new bridge across the Rouge at Nankin mills in anticipation of the extension of the parkway system to that place within the next two or three years. Officials state that there are prospects of some condemnation proceedings before this part of the parkway can be completed. All in all, the New Year looks exceedingly good for Plymouth.

Voorhies Quits Commission

Lansing dispatches reveal the information that Attorney Paul W. Voorhies has sent his resignation as a member of the Michigan Public Utilities Commission to Governor-elect Frank Murphy, to become effective Friday, January 1.

Commissioner Voorhies stated that it is his desire to leave state service at that time so that he might devote all of his attention to his private law practice in Detroit.

One of his last official acts, an account of which was published in The Plymouth Mail two weeks ago, provided for a flat reduction in telephone rates for this city. It was stated at that time by the late Mr. Voorhies that he intended to resign, that it was probably one of his last official acts in view of the fact that Governor Fitzgerald failed to send to the senate for confirmation, the appointment of Mr. Voorhies and some 50 or 60 others he had appointed to important state positions.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Everett entertained their "500" club at a Christmas party in their home last week. There was a Christmas tree and a real Santa Claus, who left gifts for each member of the club.

The next meeting of the Plymouth Grange will be held in the hall on January 7.

Mrs. Florence Baum of Flint will spend the New Year holiday with her sister, Mrs. Winfield Scott.

The Lily club will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hauk on Tuesday, January 12.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Bryan and family and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Gates attended the funeral of Mrs. William Haeger in Detroit on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Bryan and family of Plymouth road had as their Christmas day guests, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Everett entertained at a six o'clock dinner on December 24, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clisbide of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. George Hesse of Plymouth, Tenn.

Heavy Fog and Rain End Old Year

Old 1936 is ending its part in history for this locality by giving Plymouth residents something different in the line of winter weather. Up until this time there has been exceedingly little snow anywhere in Michigan, but late Tuesday afternoon a regular London fog settled over this part of the state that was about as thick as any fog this locality has ever experienced. It practically ended automobile driving for Tuesday night and those that found it necessary to be upon the highways were forced to travel at an exceedingly low speed.

The fog did not lift Wednesday morning when a heavy downpour swept over Plymouth and vicinity.

Highway department officials report that no where in the lower peninsula has there been any snow on the ground since early December. Christmas day was followed by three or four days of bright, warm sunshine, such as residents in Tennessee enjoy early in March. Predictions are made for snow today. So far, there has been no zero weather, the lowest temperature about here being about 10 above.

Gospel Campaign To Start Sunday

Rev. and Mrs. L. E. Sparks of Windsor, Ontario, will begin a gospel campaign over Plymouth and Nazareth church located at 280 N. Main street, next Sunday. This will be the second visit of the Sparks to Plymouth. They are former missionaries to Burma and have had many years experience in pastoral and evangelistic work.

They also sing and give instrumental numbers. Services will be held at 11:15 and 7:30 on Sundays and every evening except Saturday at 7:30. The public is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Maugh of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roe of Milford and Dorothy Roe of Royal Oak were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mastick.

OFF TO A NEW YEAR.

We are off to a New Year, a year filled with new hopes and new opportunities. The old year was fairly good to Plymouth and vicinity. The New Year is going to be better, far better. And it will be amazing what we can all do to help make the next twelve months the most outstanding in the history of our good little city, if we PULL together.

Each boost will help us along in our progress. There is so much more satisfaction in boosting, too. Good words help a lot.

Maybe some of our ideas as to what should be done or not done, differ, but if we combine our efforts to pull for bigger and better things, we cannot help but get somewhere. No community ever got anywhere playing the penny-ante way, and fortunately Plymouth is not bothered to any extent by that spirit. We have a good background. We have the facilities and the location. We have the right spirit, so let's be thankful for all the good things that came to us during 1936 and determine NOW to make 1937 the biggest and best year we have ever had.

Plymouth—Michigan's MOST PROSPEROUS CITY—isn't that a goal worth working and boosting for? As a matter of fact, we haven't got to go so very far to be able to make that claim right NOW. At any rate, we are off to a better and happier year than we have ever before enjoyed.

BACK TO THE RAILROADS.

If something isn't done to stop the slaughter along Michigan highways, the time is not very far distant when travel by railway trains will be the only safe method of transportation in our state. While hundreds of thousands of people travel each year by train and no one is ever killed or hurt, a report has just been issued by the Michigan state highway department showing that over 600 people died as the result of traffic accidents during the three closing months of 1936. Over 200 in October, 202 in November and more than 200 in December! What a terrific toll to pay in human life!

If that many people were killed in railway accidents in a year's time, people would rise up in holy horror and declare that rail transportation should be abolished.

The amazing thing about such a tremendous loss of human life by automobile accidents seemingly does not cause a ripple of unusual public interest.

Something some day will happen to cause the enforcement of safety along the public highways. The innocent who are traffic victims are entitled to some protection, and the innocent are going to get it, some time in some way.

SCUM.

We do not care to state that all of the Republican office holders of Michigan or any other state have been good officials. We do state, however, that the vast majority of them have been trustworthy, that they have tried to the best of their ability to serve the public well. Of course, there are exceptions, just as there is in every party. The outgoing Republican administration in Michigan has created a fairly good record. Most of the officials have possessed a real desire to give the people honest and conscientious service.

How unfortunate it is that out of this great number of worthy public servants there has now and then seeped to the top those who would smear a coating of scum over all of the good things that have been done.

There are some individuals who fail to realize the fact that it only takes one act to ruin all the good work of years. People have the unfortunate faculty of remembering the dark spots longer than they do all the good things that might have been accomplished. But that is natural. One will recall for years and years a physical injury, and never once give thought to years and years of perfectly good health.

The parole commissioner, Joseph Armstrong, who should never have been appointed to office in the first place, has in the last few days accomplished a perfect job in smearing the outgoing Republican administration with a thick coating of scum. His recommendation that those who violated the election laws of the state in a brazen attempt to cheat the will of the electorate be turned free is about the most contemptible disregard of civic decency as has ever come to public attention. This is in no way a party matter. Those who are behind prison bars knew better than to do what they did. Both Democratic and Republican judges have decided that they were guilty—and now for a Republican office holding misfit to come along and recommend their PARDON is an affront to every decent person in Michigan.

The outgoing Governor should have given him a good swift kick out of office. The new Governor will be doing the people of Michigan a favor by sending Parole Commissioner Joseph Armstrong back to the obscurity from which he came about as quickly as possible after he takes the oath of office Friday noon.

With Friends Once More

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

What joy it brings to see again
Those good old friends I used to know—
To meet the women and the men
Who were my playmates long ago!

The same dear smiles are here today
That greeted me in childhood years,
Though temples now are touched with gray
And eyes have learned the hurt of tears;

The same glad grip of cordial hands
(Yes, even warmer than of old!)
That bears to him who understands,
The finest message ever told;

The same unselfish kindness
And thoughtful hospitality—
Small favors that alone express
True friendship's great reality.

Oh, life is richer than before
And lighted with a deeper glow.
For I am with my friends once more—
Those good old friends of long ago!

THE NEW YEAR

Amid the gay and deafening roar.
Of whistles, bells and shouts,
We welcome in the New Year,
And chase the old one out.

Every one is gay and happy,
Forgetting all their cares,
This is one night of the year,
No one should know despair.

We dance and sing the old year out,
And toast the new one in,
And well we may, for on this day,
A new leaf we begin.

But does the old leaf tally
As you check it one by one?
Or are there things you run across
You wish you hadn't done?

There are so many little things,
We do without a thought,
Things we'd never say or do,
If we knew the pain they brought.

Let's start this year right,
And with experience of the past,
Don't make New Year's resolutions,
Unless we can make them last.

—Charles E. Allen

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

STOP LIGHT SIGNALS.

In trying to get from one side of the street to the other before the light shows red pedestrians must sometimes wonder how the length of the time signal is determined. Probably several averaged sized people were found to cross the street in an average length of time. But was the test ever made when the streets were crowded? When cars were trying to get around corners and mothers were struggling to get children and bundles across?

Signals which are too briefly timed result in confusion and save no one any time. If the purpose of such timing is to aid cars through downtown traffic without a change of gear then it is decidedly unfair to pedestrians. And after all, there are side streets for cars to travel and park but the main thoroughfare is for the busy shopper.—William S. Charles in The Dearborn Independent.

FLAT TIRE LEADERSHIP.

A ship without any pilot or rudder goes somewhere, but usually on a shoal or sandbar where it is wrecked. Unless some real leadership is injected into the Republican party at the state convention on February 5th, it is going to mean two years drifting with nothing in sight but disaster. The present Republican State Central Committee and its executives, is entirely controlled by men in office who had but one idea in view, to hold their jobs. Chairman Lawrence managed campaigns and never consulted the members of his committee in their congressional districts who were presumably named to look after party affairs locally. During entire campaigns there was never a meeting of the committee so disaster resulted in the end. It is generally understood that Lawrence desires to remain in charge, although he has not announced his candidacy. During the special session next week the Republican members of the legislature will no doubt hold many confabs upon the future of the party they represent. Much will depend upon the unity of this portion of the Republican party as to the future. Several liberal minded Republicans who understand the "grass roots" citizenship are willing to make sacrifices at this time for the party, but do not care to take the initiative if the men who are in control of the delegates wish to continue present policies without any set policies or leaders who are willing to take command and try to do something.

Mr. Lawrence is a nice gentleman who makes a good General when there is no war in sight; valueless in times of conflict.—Milton Carmichael in The Detroit Courier.

IT SEEMS TO BE TRUE.

Someone once said that "all the world loves a lover." In the case of Edward David Windsor, late King and now Duke of Windsor, that is definitely true. As citizens of a world that is always yearning for deep human affection, all of us undoubtedly wish abiding happiness to be the divine right of Kings, as well as commoners.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

SOMETHING MORE TO WORRY ABOUT.

Among the good friends who just now have our most profound sympathy, in the distress which their evidence is Frank M. Sparks, of the Grand Rapids Herald, and his sidekick, Frank R. Kent, constitutional complainer. Having just completed a political campaign of combined worry and confidence, their complex now jumps four years in an expressed concern that Franklin D. Roosevelt, who has been the bogey man of their dreams for the past four years, may again present himself to the people as a candidate for the presidency. The enthusiasm with which the people rallied to his support and that of his supporters in the past two campaigns prompts their worry now. Why worry, boys? The people have very definitely taken the burden of government from your shoulders for another four years, why not enjoy the relief from responsibility? Of course, if this is the sort of thing that you prefer, in your insistence and comprehension on the "American Way," then no one, we hope, will disturb your fancy. That's one thing written in the Constitution which we hope will never be disturbed.—Rex Royal in Oceana Herald.

IT'S BETTER NOT TO KNOW.

If you could pay all your taxes, direct and indirect, in one lump sum instead of in a multiplicity of little sums of which you are mostly unaware because of the indirectness of the tax, we doubt if you could stand the shock. Just another case of "what you don't know won't hurt you."—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

Turkeys Sell Like "Hot Cakes"

"If I buy a hundred live turkeys for the Christmas trade, do you think I can sell them?" asked Dave Galin of the Plymouth Purity market of The Plymouth Mail's advertising man the other day.

"Sure, all you have to do is advertise them in The Mail," was the advice given.

The Plymouth Purity Market purchased 100 fine young live turkeys for the Christmas trade and then Mr. Galin let the public know what he had done in his regular advertisement in The Mail.

Was the advice of the advertising man good advice? This is what happened—Mr. Galin had sold his 100 live turkeys before noon Tuesday and in order to take care of the demand that came to the store from his advertisement, he had to hustle out and find almost as many more young turkeys as he purchased in the first place to take care of the orders that came to his store from this one advertisement.

Many friends of Mrs. Linus Galpin will be glad to know that she has sufficiently recovered to be able to be removed to her home from the University of Michigan hospital where she has been for some time. She was badly hurt and a bone in her back fractured a year ago when she fell in her home. A specially designed brace made in the hospital has been of great assistance to her. Mr. and Mrs. Galpin are now residing at the corner of Joy and Godfreedon roads. She made her first visit to Plymouth last week since last summer.

IT'S BEEN MADE A STOP HIGHWAY. To Plymouth residents who drive on the Plymouth road to Detroit it has been observed in the last few days that the junction of the Plymouth road and the Ann Arbor trail has been made a stop highway for east bound traffic on Plymouth road. So when you approach the junction of these thoroughfares after you cross the Newburg road, begin to slow down so you can come to a complete stop before entering the combined highways.

May the New Year be full of happiness and may we thank you for the business that has been ours during the past year!

The Parrott Agency

THIS IS SOMETHING DIFFERENT. While sitting in their home the other night listening to police calls on their radio, Mr. and Mrs. Will Farmers of Starbuckweather avenue were given a real surprise when they heard a police report from Grand Rapids which told of the hold-up of Paul Farmer, Jr., grandson of the Plymouth residents. The young man is employed as an attendant at a gas station. A bandit drove up and ordered nine gallons of gas put in his car. As the young man walked around to the side of the car to collect, the bandit pointed a gun at him and asked for his cash. He lost $14 in the robbery, but fortunately escaped without injury.

Once again we are able to say to you —

The original subscription list can still be read, the other sheet containing the following data is so badly faded that it can only partly be read. This data is taken from the copy made by Mrs. Allen:

Plymouth, July 24, 1848
This day commenced the brick work of the Second Presbyterian Society church.
Mason work by Adolphus Brigham and George Peters.

Wood work by Christopher G. Cramer
Johnathan Shearer and Henry Fralick, building committee.
E. S. Shepard, pastor.
Erastus G. Landon, Luther Safford, Johnathan Shearer, Henry Fralick, trustees.
The town of Plymouth in 1845, 1846, 1847 and 1848 voted by majority from 66 to 165 against license for sale of intoxicating drinks.

Population of township by census of 1845 was 2602.
Plymouth division of No. 7 of Sons of Temperance numbers about 90 members.
Ebeneszer J. Penniman writes above paper July 24, 1848.

(Editor's note—Records show that Plymouth township at that time consisted of the present townships of Canton and Northville townships. Canton was the first township to be created from the original Plymouth township and later Northville was made into a separate township. The first Presbyterian church built at Northville was originally known as the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth. This information accounts for the "big" population of 2602 in 1845.)

From the faded record of subscriptions made by Henry Fralick, early pioneer and loyal church member, was taken the following copy of pledges which went to help build the first brick Presbyterian church in Plymouth:

Henry Fralick, trustee.

Then came from the little old corner box data that to present day residents of Plymouth will be most interesting than that contained in the original documents, as more of the names are familiar to Plymouth, and many of them are still active in community and church affairs.

It is interesting to note that Charles H. Bennett, who was a member of the building committee when the church was remodeled in June, 1904, is chairman of the building committee which today has in charge the construction of a beautiful edifice to take the place of the one erected in 1848, enlarged in 1904 and that burned down in December, 1935. He was also the largest giver at the time of the church remodeling, his donation being for $300.00.

Following is the list of contributors who provided the money for the church improvements:
Plymouth, Michigan, June 9, 1904.
We the undersigned, do promise to pay the sums written opposite our respective names, for the purpose of repairing the Presbyterian church in the village of Plymouth or building a new one. Said sums to be paid to the treasurer of the Trustee Board of said church, as follows: One fourth of said sums to be paid when work on the church is commenced, and one fourth at the expiration of each succeeding six months, until four payments are made:

There was a sheet of paper on which was written the names of the members of the minister's family, as follows:

Rev. Thomas B. Leith, pastor.
Mrs. Louisa A. Leith
Marion B. L. Leith-Reiner
Campbell Hamilton Leith
Katherine Belle Leith
Minnie Elizabeth Leith
Thomas Stephen Leith
James Currie Leith
Donald Gordon Leith

In The Michigan Presbyterian, a church publication found in the cornerstone box, dated May 12, 1904, was found the following item pertaining to the church repairs made that year:

"Rev. Thomas B. Leith of Plymouth paid us a short visit this week. Rev. Mr. Leith reports affairs in Plymouth in a most progressive stage. Plans are being arranged for repairing the church to the extent of $3,000, which will place the present church in a most excellent condition."

A copy of the Herald and Presbyter, another church publication printed in Cincinnati and St. Louis, Mo., dated April 20, 1904 was in the box.
There was also a copy of The Westminster, a Presbyterian publication issued in New York, dated June 4, 1904.

Rev. Nichol announces that all of the material found in the cornerstone box will be placed back in the new cornerstone box when the cornerstone of the new church is laid this spring.

New Postoffice For Wayne

Nelson Griller, structural engineer, of Washington, D. C., arrived in Wayne last Friday to make preliminary investigation before the building of the new postoffice is started. He has made a survey of the property, took elevations and soil tests and measured the lot.

Postoffice buildings are being constructed all over the country and are very similar except for the foundations. In some locations the ground contains alkali which eats away the concrete. In other localities there is quick sand. In order to meet all requirements the ground is analyzed before specifications are made for the foundation. Another item taken into consideration is how deep the basement must be for the sewer.

After all data is obtained the specifications will then be written. The next step will be the advertisement for bids. It will probably be late winter or early spring before work is started.

The new postoffice will be located at the southwest corner of Park and Newberry streets on property purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Raymo. $70,000 has been appropriated for the site and building. The cost of the site was $8,500, leaving a balance of $61,500 for the building. The plot includes two lots.—Wayne Dispatch.

Commission Notes

Plymouth, Michigan
December 21, 1936

A regular meeting of the City Commission held in the City Hall, December 21, 1936, at 7:30 p.m.

Present: Mayor Hondorp, Commissioners Blunk, Robinson, Wilson and Whipple.

Absent: None.

The minutes of the regular meeting of December 7th and the special meeting of December 14th were approved as read.

The report of the Municipal Court in City Ordinance Cases was read by the Clerk.

It was moved by Comm. Blunk and supported by Comm. Robinson that the above report be accepted and placed on file. Carried.

A communication was received from William Wood Insurance Agency.

Walter Harms, Roy Fisher and William Wood were present to discuss compensation and liability insurance.

It was moved by Comm. Whipple and supported by Comm. Wilson that action on the matter of compensation and liability insurance be postponed for a special meeting to be called before the next regular meeting. Carried.

The Clerk was requested to notify the seven insurance agents who maintain offices, of this meeting in order that they might be present.

It was moved by Comm. Robinson and supported by Comm. Whipple that permission be given to the Burroughs Adding Machine Company to tap into the Sewage Disposal Plant, provided that a reasonable rental charge is made for the service. Carried.

The City Manager recommended that the Annual Report for 1935-36 be printed at the Plymouth Mail.

It was moved by Comm. Whipple and supported by Comm. Robinson that the City Manager's recommendation be accepted. Carried.

It was moved by Comm. Whipple and supported by Comm. Wilson that $400.00 be transferred from the Contingent Fund to the General Fund—Attorney's Account.

Ayes: Mayor Hondorp, Commissioners Blunk, Robinson, Whipple and Wilson.

Nays: None.

Charles A. Fisher was present concerning the property on the corner of Penniman avenue and Main street.

Leonard K. Murphy, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was present. He stated that the Chamber of Commerce had perhaps misunderstood the City's action relative to membership dues, and reviewed the action which had been taken. He also discussed the Christmas lighting for this year.

It was moved by Comm. Whipple and supported by Comm. Robinson that the check for $25.00, which had been returned by the Chamber of Commerce, be again sent to Secretary Murphy. Carried.

It was moved by Comm. Blunk and supported by Comm. Whipple that bills in the amount of $2,448.72 be allowed. Carried.

It was moved by Comm. Blunk and supported by Comm. Wilson that the meeting adjourn. (Time of adjournment 9:53).

HENRY HONDORP
Mayor
CLARENCE ELLIOTT
Clerk.

What Was Happening In The Country
The Year Presbyterians Built
Their First Brick Church in Plymouth

When Plymouth Presbyterians were hustling around trying to raise $2700 back in 1848 to build a brick church to take the place of the old frame building that served them as a house of worship for nearly 20 years previous to that time it is interesting to note that the slavery question was one of the big issues before the nation at that time. Plymouth was a hot-bed of abolitionists, like nearly all northern towns. Maybe some of the very Presbyterians who were out hustling subscriptions for that old church also helped more than one escaped southern slave on his freedom in Canada.

And what were some of the other things the people of Michigan and the nation were doing and thinking about when this church-going little community, sometimes called "Plymouth Four Corners" in the old days, were building the first brick church ever erected in this locality?

In 1848 gold was discovered in California. Some from this place took part in the rush to the new country out on the Pacific coast where it was said gold could be found anywhere. In fact, some of the very names found on the original subscription list to the church fund were the names of some of the early gold hunters that went from Plymouth. These were Jonathan the Shearer, John Bennett, an uncle of Charles H. Bennett, Michael Conner, father of William Conner and one of the Fralicks, who all went to California from Plymouth in 1852 to hunt gold. The companion of Michael Conner was one of the Starkweathers from Northville. They took the train from Detroit to Michigan City. That's as far as the railroad went in those days. They started out afoot across the continent, like all the gold hunters did in those days. Starkweather and the Shearer, John Bennett, an uncle of Charles H. Bennett, who continued on to the California gold fields. One of William Conner's prize possessions is a piece of gold his father brought home to the family from California a year or two later. Henry Baker was another gold hunter who left Plymouth to go to the coast, later returning to his native community.

Abraham Lincoln was a member of congress at that time, having been elected for one term, being defeated when he made his second run.

The war with Mexico had just ended and the United States had annexed as territory all of that part of the country now known as Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Nevada, Arizona and California.

Detroit didn't have a population of twice the population of Plymouth today. The census taken in Detroit eight years before the "new" Presbyterian church was built showed that it had only 9,102 residents.

The Irish famine was taking place. The famine is said to have caused more than 300,000 deaths in Ireland, due to the failure for several years of its potato crop, the chief food of that nation. People died from starvation and fever at such a terrific rate that the survivors began leaving the country by thousands, the vast majority of them coming to America. The potato crop failure was due to a blight that the people did not know how to control in those days.

There were no sewing machines in Plymouth at that time, as Elias Howe had just invented it the year before and the machine had not yet been placed on the market.

Wisconsin was admitted to statehood the same year Plymouth Presbyterians were building the old brick church.

That was also the year that the jurisdiction of the United States government was extended to the Pacific coast.

There were no railroads in Plymouth. The Michigan Central, partly built two or three years previous by the state, had not been completed to Lake Michigan, although the following year the tracks were extended that distance.

John Quincy Adams died in Washington that year.

Michigan had but one state's prison, and that was at Jackson. There were only 119 inmates locked up there at the time.

The University of Michigan had seven professors and 83 students.

Michigan residents were all excited about the building of plank roads. There was a piece of plank road over on Grand River. Main street in Plymouth was regarded in the spring time as one of the muddest thoroughfares in the state. Great towering trees and a soft earth kept the road from drying out long after highways in the open offered "good" traveling.

Epaphroditus Ransom of Kalamazoo was inaugurated as governor, being the first executive of the state to ever take the oath of office in the new capitol building at Lansing.

Fish Slaughter
Season Opens Jan. 1

Residents of the Plymouth community can legally spear fish on inland waters beginning January 1. Local nimrods are warned that the spear is permitted by law to be used through ice only.

The open season extends through January and February. A person may legally capture such game fish as great northern pike, grass pike, or pickerel, lake trout, muskellunge or suckers through the ice in that period.

The law also permits various species of non-game fish to be speared.

Use of lights is not allowed under regulations announced by conservation authorities. Neither can fish be speared in lakes which have not frozen over.

Activities
Among Scouts

The Cubs enjoyed a fine Christmas party given for them on Tuesday night, by the Kiwanis club. The party was given in the tree and Santa Claus was there in person to distribute the gifts. There was much song and laughter. The Cubs furnished a portion of the entertainment. The Kiwanis club received a fine surprise in the form of a gift from the club of an American flag and a pack flag.

The Scouts of Troop P-1 held their regular meeting Thursday evening, but "just for fun". Scouters, don't forget the Annual Conference and dinner January 23.

The Scouts of the district are enjoying the privilege of swimming every 1st and 3rd Friday night at the Wayne County Training school. The Scoutmasters should keep in mind that the privilege is extended only to active Scouts and are asked to cooperate with the school in this regard.

She "Tells" Harry

"I'm going to tell you what I know you are," said a big colored lady who pushed her way through a crowd to buy a Good Fellow newspaper from Harry Robinson the other day down in Detroit when the Old Newsboys were conducting their newspaper sale to raise money for needy Detroit children.

"What's that?" asked the well known Plymouth business man.

"Look at these ladies what am jamm'n' around hea! You'se a ladies' man, that's what you is," she declared as she passed him a good sized coin for one of his papers.

The big crowd laughed, and kept on buying papers from him. The sum he turned into the treasury at the end of the day's sale was one of the largest he had netted in recent years, although not the largest.

"It's a wonderful thing, the good that the Old Newsboys do with the money they get from that sale. And it's wonderful the way that people buy the papers," said Mr. Robinson upon his return home from Detroit after one of the busiest days he had ever spent selling papers.

NAZARENE CHURCH—Robert A. North, pastor. Bible school, 10:00; morning worship, 11:15; young people, 6:30; evangelistic service, 7:30. Why not start the new year by coming to hear the Sparks sing and preach at the Nazarene church. Many are making New Year resolutions; why not make one of yours to start to church and Sunday school the first Sunday of 1937. Rev. and Mrs. Sparks are fine singers. They are former missionaries to Burma and have had many years experience in pastoral and evangelistic work. They will conduct both morning and evening services on Sunday and each week night except Saturday, at 7:30. These services should be a blessing to all. If you are a sinner we urge you to come. Or you may have been converted but your life is powerless and passionless and you are not enjoying victory. If so come and hear of a second work of grace that will give you purity of heart and power for service. Everybody is welcome to come and hear these vital gospel messages. 280 N. Main street. # What To Do and What Not To Do When Building In Winter

Director of Federal Housing Administration Gives Some Timely Advice To Prospective Winter Home Builders

Precautions to be used in building houses when the weather is cold are listed by Raymond M. Foley, Michigan director of the Federal Housing Administration. Plymouth residents will probably be interested in what Mr. Foley has to say because he visited this city some time ago at the request of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce in an effort to create interest in home building here. He writes that winter-home building is going ahead in the metropolitan area of Detroit with unprecedented speed.

Extra expense would likely result if the recommendations are not followed. Some of the houses are being built under the supervision of the F. H. A. Should frost or freezing damage the buildings, they will not be approved by the F. H. A. inspector, declares Mr. Foley.

There is special danger in letting footings become damaged by freezing. To build on damaged footings would be like building one's house on the sand which the Bible warns against.

Persons who build houses on damaged footings will be compelled to spend more money than they otherwise would have done. Time will also be wasted, and dissatisfaction would be the result.

The F. H. A. has concern because many houses are being built with a view of receiving coverage by an insured mortgage provided for in the national housing law.

Recommendations include: Order all materials to be delivered perfectly dry. Upon delivery unload all materials on to plank platforms. Protect all materials of whatever nature against moisture, snow and contact with bare ground. Cover concrete block or brick with tarpaulins.

Pour footings same day excavation is completed if possible. Otherwise protect bearing soil.

More Work If He Carries Out Plan

Ford To Have All Car Parts Made In Own Factories

Just as soon as it is humanly and economically possible to do so, the Ford Motor company together with its various branches large and small, will make a good many of the parts which go into the manufacturing of Ford cars and which are now being made by other concerns it was learned today, states the Dearborn Press. The condition said to have prompted this step, is the numerous delays in the delivery of parts by firms who have been forced to halt production because of labor difficulties.

Employment at the Rouge plant was until a few days ago, around the 80,000 mark. Labor trouble, in the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Co., and glass plants, placed approximately 12,000 of this number either on the idle list or on a short week basis. This, it was declared, was one of the few instances which have at some time or other seriously hampered production and caused no little expense and anxiety in the Ford organization. Reports from strike centers indicated that unless settlements were reached within 24 hours, production here would be curtailed even more and that workers would be placed on an abbreviated work schedule.

A terse statement, sent out by N. W. Ayer and Son, Inc., advertising counselors for the Ford Motor Company said: "Labor trouble in some of the industries that supply materials to the Ford Motor company will effect production in several branches next week. Some of these branches will suspend operation for a few days until new supplies can be sent them."

Reading between the lines of this brief statement and combining the reports emanating from a number of places, leads to the one conclusion—that the Ford Motor company had definitely decided to place the complete production of its products under its direct supervision. Whether this would mean an increase in the factory space at Dearborn or the construction of more branch factories was a matter of speculation in financial circles in New York, Chicago and Detroit.

The question of wages has been one with which the Ford Motor company records will reveal, has not been troubled. Compiled data by the government will show that the Ford Motor company has not only led the movement for a good wage, but has always paid considerably above the average wage in the automotive industry. Statistics will also prove that it has been the policy of the company to increase wages whenever possible. All of which serves as sound basis for the conclusion that it has decided to sever any connections with wage battles, which have been forced upon it through conditions existing in the parts manufacturing field, by becoming the manufacturer of Ford and Lincoln cars in the entirety.

Nephew Killed In Plane Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Daane have returned from Grand Rapids where they attended the funeral, Tuesday, of Hubert Daane of Dallas, Texas, a victim of the recent plane crash in that city which claimed the lives of six people. The dead airplane radio mechanic was a nephew of the Plymouth banker. He had installed a radio in the plane and was in the craft to test it on its first flight.

The accident, which occurred the day before Christmas, happened when a new twin-motored ship was being tested out by the officials of the Braniff Air Line company of Dallas. Interference, it is reported, by two other planes, caused the twin-motored craft to fall when one of its motors went dead.

As the big ship hit the ground, it burst into flames and all of the occupants were burned to death. Among the victims were high up officials of the air line company.

Mr. Daane, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Daane of Grand Rapids, had planned to make aviation a profession. His father, a brother of Russell Daane of Plymouth was a former well known University of Michigan track star. The young victim of the airplane crash was married last summer to Miss Josephine Decotera of Dallas.
