

High School Debaters Win First Place In Second Tournament Held Last Saturday in Ann Arbor

Recent Victories Indicate Team Is On Way Towards First State Honors—Winner of Second Place In Last Year's Debates

Plymouth's successful high school debating team won another outstanding victory in a tournament for debaters held at the Ann Arbor high school and sponsored by the high school faculty of that city and the Michigan High School Forensic Association last Saturday afternoon.

With 80 debating teams competing and 44 schools from around the state represented, the Plymouth team easily won first place. The local debaters were Jewel Starkweather, Edith Mettetal, Marilyn Holton, Florence Norton, Jeannette Brown, Dorothy Hearn and Tom Brock.

This is the second tournament held so far this year in which Plymouth has had a perfect record. It won the Pontiac tournament earlier in the season with four straight victories.

Instructor James Laiture, who has directed the team through its many successes, is working night and day to put the team in such condition that it will bring home to Plymouth this year first state honors. It was defeated by a narrow margin of points last year by the Kalamazoo high school debaters.

Among the more prominent squads in debating circles taking part Saturday were Flint Northern, Flint Central, Howell, Ypsilanti Central, Detroit Cass Tech,

Jake Stremich To Erect A Big Addition

Hillside Barbecue To Be Made Into One Of Largest in County

Plans have been completed and work is expected to start within the next few days on a big addition to the Hillside Barbecue, owned and operated by Jake Stremich on Plymouth road just east of the city. The proposed addition will be 25 feet wide and 50 feet long, with the present structure entirely remodeled and enlarged.

Drawings of the popular place which have been prepared by Architect Thomas Mackenzie, indicate that the enlarged structure will be a most attractive one. The addition will be to the west of the present building. There will be an enclosed porchway, with big windows, entirely across the front of the building, new use for the business, with doorways leading directly into a new grill room, a bar room and the big dining room that will occupy the entire space of the new building. Venetian blinds will be used for use windows across the big porch.

There will be a seating capacity for 140 people in the new dining room, with windows overlooking the beautiful parkway both to the south and north.

The structure at present in use will be entirely remodeled and the plans indicate that its style will fit in admirably with the new addition to the west. In fact, when all of the work is completed one would not know but what the entire structure was new.

There is one especially pleasing arrangement. The bar will be entirely separated from both the grill room and the new dining room.

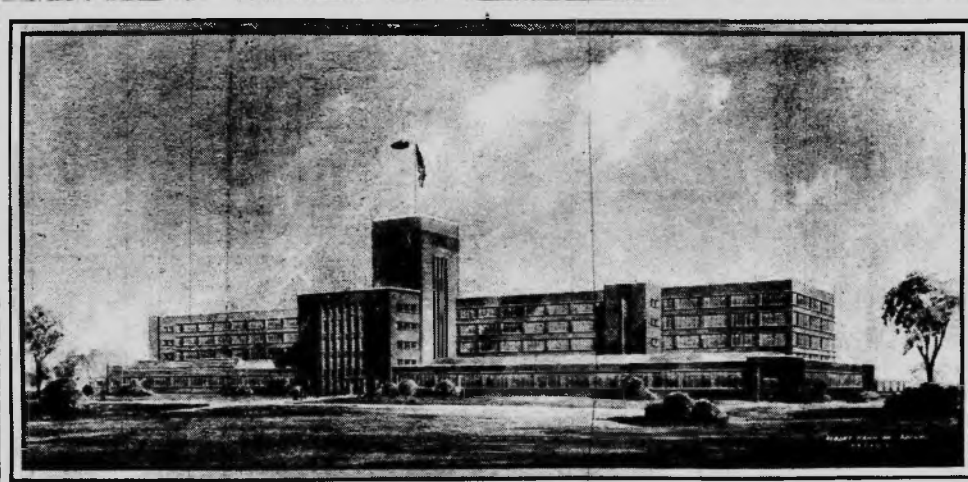

The kitchen capacity will be increased, with considerable new equipment and furnishings throughout. The new dining room will require 26 additional chairs. There will be a full basement under the new structure to provide plenty of storage space.

A neon sign, extending the full length of the building, a distance of nearly 75 feet, will add much to the attractive appearance of the front. The whole structure will be planned in a modernistic, with plantings arranged in front of the building.

Mr. Stremich expects to have bids in from contractors by the end of the present week and if his present plans go through, he will have the new building under way possibly on Monday.

The improvement will be the first important building project for the present year in Plymouth, a year that is designed to be one of the biggest in building the city has had in over a decade.

Construction of Mammoth New Unit For Burroughs Adding Machine Company To Be Started In Few Days

View of First Unit Of Burroughs Adding Machine Company's New Plant Which will be Erected in Plymouth During Coming Spring And Summer.

Contracts Being Let For Plant On Plymouth Road

Hope To Have New Plant In Operation By Mid-Summer or Fall

Plans have been completed and contracts are expected to be signed within the current month for the construction of the first 600 foot, five story unit of the Burroughs Adding Machine company to be erected on the site owned by the company located on Plymouth highway, just east of the city. The site includes 140 acres of land lying between the Plymouth road and the Pere Marquette tracks.

Officials of the company advised The Plymouth Mail this week that unless there are unforeseen delays, the new building will be under way before the first of February.

The new structure is of tremendous size, being 600 feet long, and five stories high. The tower will be 135 feet high. The top of the tower will be utilized for a large water storage tank. The elevator shaft will also be housed in the tower.

President Stanley Backus was in Plymouth Tuesday with other officials of the company checking over some of the final details preparatory to the starting of construction. The plans and specifications were prepared by Albert Kahn, one of the country's famous architects.

The building will be 65 feet wide in addition to a 70 foot one story space along the entire front. The factory floor will be devoted to trucking, shipping, a big gymnasium and a restaurant for the use of the employees of the company.

The front of the plant will be located back only 150 feet from Plymouth highway, and just a few hundred feet east of the east city limits. There will be ample space for future expansion of the plant if the company should ever find it necessary to increase its capacity.

The power plant, which will be housed in a separate structure located to the northeast of the main factory building, will be of sufficient size not only to take care of the needs of the first unit to be constructed but of other units if they should ever be erected.

The two buildings will be connected by a trestle. There will be a switch track built direct from the Pere Marquette main line which lies just north of the

Real Problems of State Forgotten In Message

Most of Governor's Talk Devoted To Issues Disposed Of

(By Elton R. Eaton)
Lansing, Michigan.—There has been much comment during the past few days regarding the message in Governor Murphy's message to the legislature.

Possibly it might be more interesting to discuss omissions from the message.

Practically one fourth of the Governor's message was devoted to a discussion of the unemployment insurance act that was passed and disposed of by the extra session of the state legislature called by the retiring governor. True, it is probable that some amendments to the so-called social security act may be necessary to improve the new law, but the state measure has been accepted by the federal authorities in Washington and given complete approval and is now in force.

Just why the Governor found it necessary to devote so much time to a discussion of a measure already enacted into law he did not explain. He placed considerable emphasis upon the necessity of amending the act so that exemptions would be by number of employees rather than by the payroll basis, which is, in fact, just a mere detail. The last legislature deemed it advisable to consider the plight of thousands of small business places in Michigan which have payrolls of $6,000 a year or less. While the congress drew the division line at eight or less employees, the state legislature placed the exemption division line at a total payroll figure of small denominations. There were two reasons for this: first, because those well acquainted with the constitutional provisions of Michigan find that the Michigan constitution makes it mandatory for ALL classes to be treated exactly alike when it comes to taxation; in the second place, the federal act sought to do the same thing, but in a constitutional way. Therefore, they drew the division line between the "big" fellow and the "little" fellow by exempting the first $6,000 on the yearly payroll. His excellency says that this should not be.

Quoting his words, "No such exemption is permitted by the federal act."

If not permitted by the federal act, then why did the administrators of the federal act in Washington, representing the legal division of this new political power, give their complete approval to the act as originally passed by Governor Fitzgerald's extra legislative session.

This is one of the questions being asked. The state act pertains only to unemployment insurance. It has nothing to do with old age pensions. Unfortunately congress embodied in one law these two features, which has resulted in much confusion.

Merchants Form North Side Civic Group

W. A. Rose Elected President At Meeting Held Tuesday Night

Merchants and business men located on the northerly part of Plymouth joined Tuesday night at a meeting and organized for the first time a civic association to study and act on problems of importance for that section of the town.

W. A. Rose was elected president of the group. William Choffin, group president and Otto Meyer, secretary and treasurer. It was agreed at this meeting that all of the business men in that section meet every Monday night for the remainder of the month until the organization is completely formed and at that time probably meetings will be held once or twice a month.

The objective of the organization will be to promote and further good-will for the north side of the town and to study such problems as fire protection, particularly where the street is blocked by long freight trains. The possibility of a branch bank being opened in that section and many other questions of importance to that section. Merchants and business men in that locality are asked to attend the meetings and make suggestions and offer criticisms so that the group as a whole may study the questions and present a united front in solving them.

So You May Understand Something About The New Taxes You Must Pay

If You Paid Out More Than $6,000 In Wages Last Year, You Owe The State Money—If You Hire One or More, You Are Now a Tax Collector

Because neither federal nor the state government departments have issued to the taxpayers and citizens of the state any information pertaining to the new taxes that are being placed upon payrolls and pay checks, The Plymouth Mail has been requested to publish a brief statement about these taxes.

First—The old age pension tax is now in effect. Every employer who hires one or more individuals, must deduct 1 percent from each pay check every time the employee is paid. For example, if the employer's monthly pay is $200.00, the employer must take out of the check $2.00. He will pay to the state only $198.00. If payments are made on a weekly basis and the pay check is for, say $25.00, then he must deduct 25 cents out

Coming Here To Advise Parents

Mrs. H. F. Mallory of Ann Arbor, authority on child training and author of daily articles for the Detroit News, will speak at Starkweather school, Tuesday, January 19, at 7:30 under the auspices of Starkweather Parent Teachers association.

Mrs. Mallory will speak on the subject, "Behavior Problems" and how to meet them. Following her talk she will answer questions and ask the parents to have their questions written out.

The committee has been fortunate in securing the Men's chorus from Northville for this meeting. All parents or anyone interested in child training should avail themselves of this unusual opportunity of hearing anyone as outstanding in the field as Mrs. Mallory.

First National Elects Officers

At the annual meeting of the First National bank held Tuesday afternoon stockholders re-elected the same officers and directors to serve again throughout 1937. The only change made in the list was the advancement of Margaret Dunning to the position of assistant cashier.

The officers and directors are: Floyd A. Kehl, president; Russell A. Roe, vice president; Jack E. Taylor, cashier; Margaret Dunning, assistant cashier; Arthur Blunk, Charles L. Finlan, Dr. J. L. Olasaver and George A. Robinson. All of the above named form the board of directors with the exception of Miss Dunning. Directly after the meeting the board selected its committees to serve throughout the new year.

Hit By Auto, Two Are Injured

Driving in the rain last Friday night, George Kenyon of Plymouth ran into Mrs. Blanche Cole, 464 Roe, and her grandson Thomas, who were walking across the intersection of Fenham avenue and Ann Arbor trail to the city park.

Bad vision, the driver says, was responsible for the accident. Both Mrs. Cole and the boy were hurt, although not badly.

It is believed to have been Plymouth's first automobile accident of 1937.

Womans Club Views Play

Members of the Woman's club were entertained Friday by the Senior Drama club under the direction of Miss Winifred Ford of the Plymouth high school faculty, which presented a one act play: "End of the Dance". The characters were as follows: Dr. Gregg, David Hale; Madeline Marsden, Dennis Schmidt; Gerald Marsden, Hal Horton; Nurse, Jean Hamill; Ruth Pennel and Homer Gornall gave two violin solos and also a duet, "Whispering Hope". Joseph Schulte presented two numbers on his accordian.

Women Voters To Meet Jan. 22

The next meeting of the Plymouth League of Women Voters will be held Friday, January 22, at 1:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Seth Virgo, 615 Palgroud avenue. There will be reports from committee chairmen and a special report from Mrs. James Sessions on the food and drug act. At 2:30 the members will divide into two study groups: "Foreign Policy" led by Mrs. C. E. Elliott, and "Municipal Affairs" led by Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple.

United Savings Holds Annual Meet

The annual meeting of the Plymouth United Savings Bank was held Tuesday afternoon at which time stockholders selected their new officers and directors for the ensuing year. Directors elected by the stockholders were: C. E. Bennett, J. W. Blickenstaff, R. M. Daane, F. G. Eckles, Edw. Gayde, John Henderson, E. O. Huston, Cass S. Hough, E. S. Roe, and Paul W. Voorhies.

Immediately following the meeting in which a complete report of the year's activities were given, the directors held a brief meeting and elected the following officers: chairman of the board, P. W. Voorhies; president, C. E. Bennett; vice-president and cashier, R. M. Daane; vice-president, E. O. Huston, and assistant cashier, L. H. Alexander.

Stockholders voted to elect only 10 directors to the board making unnecessary to fill the vacancy created by the recent resignation of F. D. Schrader.

Ice Cause Of Bad Accident

Sleet and rain freezing on the pavements in an around Plymouth caused two accidents late Wednesday afternoon. The more serious of the two happened when a car driven by John M. Sullivan who resides on the Nine Mile road east of Northville, started skidding on the hill in front of the Hillside Barbecue and crossed to the wrong side of the road where it collided head-on with one driven by Miss Ruth McQuestion.

The Sullivan car was completely out of control and neither driver could maneuver on the ice to avoid the accident. Mr. Sullivan was on his way to Northville from Detroit and was taken to Northville for treatment of the cuts and bruises he received.

In the McQuestion car were, besides the driver, her sister Emma and Virginia Zobel. All three were severely cut about the face and badly bruised. They were brought to Plymouth hospital for treatment.

The two cars were badly damaged by the head-on impact and both were brought to Plymouth on orders of the local Police department.

Uses New Plan On Used Cars

The Plymouth Motor Sales Co. announces in this issue an item of special interest to used car buyers in a plan that is limited to 15 days and makes offers that are something new for used car purchasers in this section.

According to Paul Wiedman of the Ford sales and service the increased deliveries of new Fords have raised the number of used ones that the garage has on hand and to move them immediately they have undertaken this unique way of doing it. All R and G Fords of 1900 or more in value will be sold with new Ford batteries during the sales offer and for a 90 day period after the purchase, the Ford garage will pay 50 percent of any service or repairs done at their garage. The complete and authentic details of this new purchase plan are given in an ad. appearing elsewhere in this issue of The Plymouth Mail.

Two Birthday Balls Will Be Held Here On Same Evening

Will Spend Winter Out On Pacific Coast

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wendt and daughter, Ethel, of Wayne Road left Monday for California. They plan to make the journey leisurely by automobile going the southern route. Their destination is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynford Fritz. Mrs. Fritz, formerly Beatrice Wendt, is looking forward to seeing her parents whom she has not seen since she moved to San Francisco last May.

Mrs. Renwick Made President

The Plymouth branch of the National Farm and Garden association held its election of officers, Monday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. J. Merle Bennett with the following results:

President, Mrs. Glenn Renwick; Vice president, Mrs. George Cramer; secretary, Mrs. Sam Spicer; treasurer, Mrs. Louis Tritton; Cor. Sec. Mrs. Ward Henderson; publicity, Mrs. J. Merle Bennett.

Plan Ice Carnival If It Freezes

Like the one-time characterization of prosperity, Plymouth's Ice Carnival is just around the corner. For the minute Old Man Winter makes his blasts sufficiently icy, a sub-committee of the City Recreation committee is all set to stage a skating exhibition and carnival on the Wilcox pond, on the Northville-Plymouth road.

"So far, the weather has held us up", Leonard Murphy, Chamber of Commerce secretary and chairman of the sub-committee said this week, "but as soon as it gets cold enough, our plans will get away". His committee consists of Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple and Arthur Blunk from the city commission, Claude Buzard from the school board and Miss Phyllis Rounour, local fancy ice skater.

Committees Decide To Hold One In Temple, Other In Hotel

Not one but two President's Birthday Balls will be held in Plymouth, Arno Thompson, general chairman of the affair, announced this week.

One will be held in the Crystal ballroom of the Hotel Mayflower and the other in the Masonic temple. City Manager Clarence H. Elliott, chairman of the arrangements committee, confirmed the statement. Both dances, which Mr. Thompson hopes will be the "outstanding social events of the season", will start at 9 p.m. and continue until 1 a.m.

Members of the committee on arrangements, which secured the dance halls, in addition to Mr. Elliott, include Warren Worth and Mrs. P. A. Lacy.

Tickets sell for 50 cents per person or $1 per couple and can be obtained from any member of the committees. For persons 18 years old and under, admission will be 25 cents each or 30 cents a couple. Mr. Thompson said.

Proceeds from this and the thousands of other President's Balls over the nation will go toward finding preventions and cures for infantile paralysis and aiding persons stricken with the disease to recover.

Progress has already been made in this direction since the President's Ball idea was initiated by President Roosevelt, himself a paralysis victim, four years ago. Outstanding is the announcement of a new preventive of Dr. Max Peet, University of Michigan brain specialist and a member of the President's Birthday Ball medical advisory committee.

Dr. Peet revealed that he and a Stanford University pathologist have discovered that a special solution, which, when mixed at proper amounts, will keep infantile paralysis away. He is now experimenting with it as a nose spray, attempting to find out the degree of irritation it causes when used as a nose spray at the University of Michigan hospital in Ann Arbor.

Dr. Peet said his discovery has "real possibilities and proves itself better than known at present."

Dies In Lobby Of City Hall

Barely missing collision with two other automobiles and finally smashing into the rear of a truck driven by Arthur Fulton of Plymouth, J. T. Whitsett of Port Huron was taken to the local police station to be questioned for reckless driving.

Questioning by Acting Chief Charles A. Thumme revealed that Mr. Whitsett was ill, and local authorities were releasing the driver when he slumped to the floor dead in the lobby of the city hall. A local doctor was summoned and the Consumers Power Co. pulmotor was used for nearly two hours in hopes of reviving Mr. Whitsett, who had apparently been overcome by carbon monoxide poisoning, while driving.

He was 66 years old and lived at 2434 1/2 Military street in Port Huron. The Wayne county coroner's office claimed the body.

Fraser Smith Badly Hurt In Auto Accident

Two Others Injured When Cars Crash Out Near Newburg

Fraser Smith, age 74 years, pioneer rural mail carrier in Plymouth who has been retired for many years, is slowly recovering at his home on East Ann Arbor trail from injuries received last Friday when his car was sideswiped by another machine driven by Sidney Eason of New York City. Mr. Smith was turning from the Newburg road onto the Plymouth road when Eason, who was accompanied by Paul T. Demme, 32 years old of Detroit, approached the intersection from the west.

In an effort to avoid hitting the Smith car, Eason swung sharply to one side of the highway but in doing so sideswiped the Plymouth machine, both being overturned.

Mr. Smith was badly bruised, but fortunately he suffered no fractured bones. Mr. Eason, who is manager of the marine department of an automatic sprinkler company at Charleston, South Carolina, was also badly bruised and slightly cut. His companion suffered head injuries and was weak from loss of blood upon his arrival at the Osteopathic hospital in Detroit where the two injured men were taken by Dr. M. W. Hughes, who was called to treat their injuries. Dr. Hughes stated that they were able to leave the hospital Tuesday. Both cars were badly wrecked.

Problems of State Forgotten

During the past few days there has been a flood of slot machines in rural Wayne county. He made considerable reference to this thing in his campaigning, but there is not one word in his message pertaining to it. In what way does he want the state legislature to control state-wide gambling?

There is not a hint in His Excellency's message pertaining to relief for the taxpayers, although the platform of his party upon which he based his candidacy teemed with criticism of so-called extravagance of the previous administration and made a pledge of right economy in its very first plank. Where does he want economy to start?

Michigan's school situation was ignored. There was not the slightest hint as to aid for taxpayers of the hundreds of poor school districts throughout the state. Those in a position to know regard the state's public school situation as one of its biggest problems, especially the need for improved educational opportunities for children in the rural section—and not a word in the message about it.

Are there any farmers or fruit growers in Michigan? If so, have they any legislative problems? One would not think so by a careful study of the message. The farmer is entirely forgotten. A badly needed soil conservation program, a farm labor problem that is growing more serious each year, an over-crowded state agricultural college for the training of future farmers, expansion of the work of the extension division of the Michigan State college, are not all of these problems of sufficient importance for consideration by the chief executive in his message to the legislature?

Members would like to know if His Excellency favors the election of judges on a non-partisan basis. Practically all of the outstanding attorneys of the state have been advocating the selection of judges in a way that will be entirely free from political influences. Would not it have been well to say in a line or two if he approves such a step?

Is not the Grand Trunk mess of sufficient importance to the people of Michigan to justify a legislative inquiry? Here's a foreign owned railway operating entirely across the state of Michigan and openly defying the state government to collect its just tax obligations to the state.

Then, too, wouldn't a legislative inquiry into the welfare situation in Wayne county, where needy, hungry people are given "bounteous Christmas baskets" from the Wayne welfare grocery store consisting of green grape fruit and dirty prunes, and reveal to the people of Michigan just how badly public funds are misused in connection with welfare? There can be economy and decency in welfare, just like there can be in anything else.

The highway traffic situation, long considered as one of the most important problems before the state today, did not draw a line of comment from His Excellency. The traffic death rate in Michigan during the final three months of the last year averaged well over 200 per month, a terrific toll for the state to pay for its heedlessness and carelessness. There is not even a suggestion of a study of this situation in the message. Has he some idea about its solution?

The liquor situation, which drew almost daily criticism from His Excellency during his campaign for the governorship, and which was discussed in the Democratic platform, was entirely ignored.

Michigan's tremendous income

State Regent To Talk Here

The Sarah Anne Cochran Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will observe its tenth birthday at the Hotel Mayflower, Monday, January 18 with a party luncheon at one o'clock to which state officers and neighboring Regents are to be invited.

As last year, the State's Regent, Mrs. George D. Schermershorn, will be the principal speaker. She will discuss "Chapter Work as Related to National Policies."

Miss Barbara Horton will sing a group of songs accompanied by Mrs. O'Connor. Miss Ford's Drama Club will give a Chinese Play entitled, "The Lost Princess."

This meeting is always open to the public, and any lady interested in D.A.R. work wishing to attend the luncheon is privileged to do so, and would be made very welcome. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Donald N. McKinnon.

from tourist travel and ways of increasing this business and adding millions to this income, drew no executive consideration. This income would not take a cent out of the pockets of the taxpayers of Michigan, but a substantial increase in the tourist business would so long ways to help carry the burdens of a rapidly growing commonwealth.

It is an unusual thing, but generally true, that public office holders of long years duration seem to think that the pockets of the taxpayers are bulging with money. Little do they realize the difficulty of the hundreds of thousands of taxpayers in getting the pennies, dimes and dollars that now flow in a steady stream into public coffers.

The small loan racket by which the poorest of the poor people of the state are milked of their all by greedy, cold hearted and unscrupulous small loan finance outfits, drew no consideration in the message, although the problem has long been regarded as a paramount issue within the state.

For years every one has known of the hardships imposed upon a very large percentage of the fathers and mothers of Michigan in the purchase of school books at exorbitant prices. It is true, that where parents are willing to say that they are financially unable to purchase books for their children, the school districts will provide them, but most parents are too proud to proclaim before all their neighbors that they are so poor they cannot buy school books for their children. We had hoped that he would recommend a solution of this problem, giving the state authority to print, in its own text books, written and prepared by MICHIGAN educators. This was another omission of the message.

The delinquent tax problem was passed over without even scant consideration.

His proposal for a "study" of the need of consolidating some of the various state departments, is a needless one. Representative Vernon J. Brown has long advocated a consolidation of all of the divisions of the state government having to do with the collection of taxes. It is possible His Excellency is not advised as to the consideration already given some of the things he does mention in his message. He could secure much valuable information from men like Mr. Brown who knows what it is all about.

Conservation, one of the outstanding problems of the state, was forgotten, although there was a suggestion that a state planning commission might be of assistance in the consideration of "long-range programs" for a state where flood damage is practically unknown.

In fact, a careful study of the message raises the question more as to its omissions than to its actual contents.

There is rather an unjust implication in the message that Michigan has never given any consideration to the care of its aged and the poor. Of course His Excellency and every one else knows that this is not correct. The previous Democratic governor, Mr. Comstock and his legislature, four years ago gave careful consideration to this problem. They were badly advised by some one and passed a "head tax" to provide funds for the aged, which of course was not good judgment or constitutional.

The retiring Governor, Mr. Fitzgerald and his legislature, did provide a workable pension system for the elderly needy people of the state. In fact, the VERY system that Mr. Fitzgerald inaugurated for Michigan. His Excellency proposes to retain for the state, his only suggestion being an "increase in our appropriations for the assistance of the needy old persons" "so far as our revenues will permit." So there is nothing new in His Excellency's proposal for old age assistance.

It is quite difficult to find a single original idea in the entire message. Every problem he mentioned has been given previous consideration and discussion. Most of his recommendations are confined in previous legislative suggestions. True, there are some changes he suggested in the state set-up, but these as proposed by the Governor are bulging with additional political jobs, hundreds of them. Possibly the real issues before the state will be placed before the legislature in subsequent messages, but omission almost altogether of consideration of any present-day state problems causes one to wonder as to the reasons why.

The Detroit Free Press, a few mornings ago, reported that the governor is paying $500 a month house rent in Lansing. That is more than the Governor's salary, said The Free Press. As one reads the item, the impression secured was that His Excellency was paying this out of his own pocket. That is not correct. The state of Michigan is paying that rent for him. Old timers around Lansing are amazed at the "rent ransom" demanded for the Halstead home where the bachelor-governor has taken up residence. Good houses in that city generally rent from $60 to $75 a month.

The salary of one state official listed at $7,000 per year, is given in a newspaper article as one of the reasons why the people of the state should pay His Excellency more money. Here is one of the strangest things about public salaries. One official who is listed as being paid $7,000 per year just before he secured appointment to this state job, was pulling every wire he knew how in order to try and get another public job in Wayne county that paid only $3500 per year. Fortunately he got a "break" and landed the state job with a salary of $7,000 when he would have been highly pleased to have had the $3500 a year position down in Wayne county.

These are just some of the exceedingly many important state problems that the legislature should consider, but they do not by any means, constitute all of the issues that should be settled for the good of the state within the immediate future.

Rotarians Hosts To Nearby Clubs

Inter-city Meeting Proves One of The Best Held in Plymouth

Over a hundred Rotarians and Rotary-Anns from Plymouth, Northville, and Carlton, last Friday evening, enjoyed one of the best inter-city meetings ever held under the direction of the Plymouth club. The event at the Mayflower hotel brought together many old friends as well as new ones—and to say that the meeting was anything less than one of the best ever held by the club would be putting it mildly.

Edward Lapham, vice president of the Northville club, speaking for the president, William Forney, who was ill and could not be present, said it was always a real pleasure for the Northville members to come to Plymouth and he hoped that sometime in some way the friendly little organization which he represented, would be able to return the numerous goodwill expressions of the Plymouth club.

President Fred Sabom of the Plymouth organization, then extended a welcome to the newly organized Carlton club and Harry Geiman, who has a legion of old friends in Plymouth, as well as in Northville, expressed the pleasure of his organization in being invited to join with the Plymouth Rotarians in the meeting. Harry Robinson added his usual share to the enjoyment of the evening.

William Wood's program consisted of several musical numbers provided by Cass Hough of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Adcock of Redford and Howard Walbridge, a youthful and very talented piano player from this vicinity.

The address was by "Dusty" Miller, one of the outstanding Rotarian leaders of Ohio. His humorous remarks contained a world of wisdom.

More Good Movies On The Way

Plenty of fun and romantic excitement is in store for Penniman-Allen moviegoers next week with the coming of the picture "Love on the Run" starring Joan Crawford, Clark Gable and Franchot Tone. It will be shown on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, January 17, 18 and 19.

Wednesday and Thursday, January 20 and 21, George Raft and Dolores Costello Barrymore will appear in "Yours for the Asking", a new comedy romance. This picture boasts a splendid cast of such screen favorites as Ida Lupino, Reginald Owen, James Gleason and Richard "Skeets" Gallagher. Rev. F. E. LeFevre, who has been out of films for nearly five years remade herself one of the screen's outstanding actresses by her work in "Little Lord Fauntleroy". Also on the screen will be shown Virginia Weidler, eight years old, in "Girl of the Ozarks", a love story with settings in the sleepy Ozark mountains. It is her first starring picture.

The biggest circus would blush for shame and the biggest zoo would envy the huge collection of animals used in the forthcoming thrilling new jungle adventure romance "Tarzan Escapes" with Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan showing on Friday and Saturday, January 22 and 23. Fifteen cameras were used to film the giant swing of Johnny Weissmuller on the jungle vine over a span of 50 feet. The story is based upon characters created by Edgar Rice Burroughs, and was two years in the making.

Spear Obnoxious Fish Urges State

Spear the dogfish, carp and war-ple. That is the advice of state fisheries men to ice-fishermen who use the spear during January and February, the months to which the use of the spear is limited.

By removing these species of obnoxious fish, which are more or less dormant during the cold months, ice-fishermen may help to improve habitat conditions for game-fish.

List Of Who's Who In Michigan

The first issue of Who's Who in Michigan has been published and is now on file in all of the libraries of the state. Plymouth residents will be interested in the new volume because of the fact that there are a number of residents of the city listed in the publication. No name appears in the volume except by invitation and recommendation.

It is interesting to note that Plymouth had as many listed as Birmingham, a city twice the size of this place, and there were only two less than from the cities of Port Huron and Pontiac.

The complete list of names from this locality follow:

Charles H. Bennett, J. Merle Bennett, Mrs. H. W. Campbell of the Detroit House of Correction staff, Russell Daane, John S. Dayton, Capt. Edward Dennison, Claude Dykhouse, A. Blake Gillies, Cass S. Hough, Edward C. Hough, Freeman B. Hoyer, Floyd A. Kehrl, Rev. F. E. LeFevre, Leonard J. Murphy, August Sherman of the Detroit House of Correction, George A. Smith, E. R. Eaton, Mrs. Clara Todd and Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple.

Never put off until tomorrow what you can get somebody to do for you today.

Finds Old Copy Of The Plymouth Mail Printed On Silk For "Bina West Hive"

Paper Issued By Local Women Over 42 Years Ago Is Most Interesting Publication

The Gay Nineties in Plymouth were so gay that one time The Mail came out printed on silk cloth.

The occasion, April 13, 1895, was the special edition which was written and published by the Ladies of the Macabees, while Editor Myles F. Gray took a back seat. With 16 pages of silk more in two sections, the silken edition was managed by Esther Vickery, commander of the "Bina West Hive" of Plymouth as editor-in-chief.

Miss Mary Conner, then record keeper of the chapter, was advertising manager, and in an article thanking Plymouth and Northville merchants for their patronage she wrote: "In this edition of The Plymouth Mail we make our first appearance in the field of newspaper work as advertising managers, and with it, also, we beg to retire." The task of an advertising solicitor must have been as arduous then as now, for Miss Conner concluded her article: "Oh ye editors of country newspapers! You have our heartfelt sympathy, which can only come from experience."

It was Miss Conner who brought the silken issue of The Mail to the office Saturday. While looking through some old records the other day she happened to discover the paper she helped issue and now so highly prizes.

The editors of the special edition point out, in another article, that their aim was to make that issue of The Mail "not a newspaper but a paper that will prove as interesting to our children and grandchildren of the future as it does to the present generation." Much of the paper is stereotyped material dealing with national and international events or telling the story of Easter and April Fool's day. Several columns deal with local news, various fraternal societies and church affairs, and many are devoted to semi-humorous poems.

Choice among them is one written by Miss Nettie Pelham, giving a boost to "the ladies who are always glad to try the very latest fad, whereby some money may be had" and who "greet you with their finest bow, and make you buy a paper now". Another deals with the personnel of the L.O.T.M. in 12 verses of heroic couplet, ending rather critically of the opposite sex.

"We're often asked, in mild surprise, 'What L.O.T.M. signified. It means just this, as each one sees."

The "Ladies of the Macabees". But there are members, in our band.

Who'll tell you these letters stand For something far beyond your ken. 'Tis simply this, 'Leave Out The Men!'"

Miss Pelham's poem, giving the ladies all the credit for expert financing, reads:

"Who is it that are always glad To try the very latest fad Whereby some money may be had?"

The ladies. Who is it that from troubled sleep Will wake to solve the problem deep Of how a harvest they shall reap?"

The ladies. Who is it that from troubled sleep Will wake to solve the problem deep Of how a harvest they shall reap?"

Who is it that from troubled sleep Will wake to solve the problem deep Of how a harvest they shall reap?"

Who is it that from troubled sleep Will wake to solve the problem deep Of how a harvest they shall reap?"

Who is it that from troubled sleep Will wake to solve the problem deep Of how a harvest they shall reap?"

Who is it that from troubled sleep Will wake to solve the problem deep Of how a harvest they shall reap?"

National Leaders Plan Gigantic Ball to Honor President and Raise Infantile Paralysis Fund

A group of proteges of the Warm Springs, Ga., Foundation, where infantile paralysis sufferers are treated. Below, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, whose birthday January 30 is inspiration for the nation-wide parties to raise funds for the fight against infantile paralysis, and Colonel Henry L. Doherty, national chairman of the ball for the fourth year.

The nation's biggest social event, the celebration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's fifty-fifth birthday anniversary, is set for January 30, with more than 5,000 communities throughout the country planning parties to raise funds for the philanthropy closest to the Chief Executive's heart, and for infantile paralysis sufferers.

Colonel Henry L. Doherty, for the fourth year chairman of the national celebration, is being assisted by many of the country's foremost leaders in plans for the events. Among those on his committees are: Vincent Astor, Postmaster General James A. Farley, Ambassador Joseph E. Davies, Will H. Hays, Carl Byoir, general director, Colonel Edward M. House, Edsel B. Ford, Walter P. Chrysler, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, Patrick Cardinal Hayes, Bishop

William T. Manning, Harvey S. Firestone, J. P. Morgan, General John J. Pershing, Owen D. Young, Howard Chandler Christy, Charles G. Dawes and Admiral Cary T. Grayson.

Society leaders, radio, motion picture and theatrical stars are joining forces to make the celebrations the greatest series of parties ever staged.

Meantime in cities, towns and hamlets throughout the nation millions of Americans are making preparations for parties that will eclipse in size and colorful entertainment those of any previous year.

Who is it now the public hail, Assured, indeed, they will not fail To edit well the Plymouth Mail?"

Who is it that have made a vow To greet you with their finest bow.

And make you buy a paper now?"

The ladies.

The fashion notes show women with uncut hair entwined about their brows, wide, long flowing skirts. Queen Elizabeth puff sleeves and waists so slender you could almost encircle them with your hands. Chief organizations of Plymouth, in those days of gaiety, when men still argued the Civil War and the Spanish American War was yet undreamed of, in addition to the L. O. T. M., were the Women's Christian Temperance Union and the Grand Army of the Republic. An article dealing with the latter concludes: "sick and destitute soldiers are always remembered and cared for."

In another column, a woman who did not permit her name to be used under such a daring work, writes on "political equality for women", quoting Susan B. Anthony and Francis E. Willard as "the ladies of our day, so fine, so smart, so enterprising".

Advertisements were plentiful, despite jaments of Miss Conner. Many of them told of such long despised houses as Mabley, Harvey and Company and Taylor Woolfenden. Harry C. Robinson's livery and sale stables makes a bid for public patronage, and the Markham Manufacturing company announces its speciality in "iron pumps, gas pipes, fittings and plumbing in all its forms".

J. R. Rauch, maintains "low prices conquer" and says his dry goods, staple clothing, grocery and crockery store (which also handled several other things) is endorsed by 5,000 customers. In an advertisement below this, M. N. Johnson and company of Northville announces "fine cheap clothes" for men and boys.

P. Gayde tells Plymouth that he is a dealer in "groceries, provisions, crockery, etc. etc." and L. C. Hough and Son describe their "field, garden and flower seeds, at prices that will please".

C. G. Draper, jeweler, "calls your attention to his line of birthday and wedding gifts in watches, clocks, silverware and novelties", and George Vandecar proclaims himself a "tensorial artist". James Hewitt wishes "to inform citizens of Plymouth and vicinity" that he is ready to do anything in the line of plumbing.

In 1894, four per cent interest on savings was paid by the Home Savings Bank in Detroit, which maintained a separate department for ladies. N. E. Freer is a local attorney at law, while A. Pelham indicates that he is a dentist by the picture of false teeth.

Charles F. Bennett is the proprietor of the Central Meat Market on Sutton street, while Charles Brems manufactures and deals in "buggies, sleighs, wagons, farm implements and everything that you want from a first class business shop".

Daisy Girls Now In First Place

According to Manager Earl Gray of the Community Basketball league, B. Smith, a player on the Schrader team, has played in every game without a foul being called on him since the series started. Miss Hammond, on the Daisy girls' team, has accomplished the same remarkable record. Jewell on the Buick team has an equally free foul record, but missed one game.

The Daisy girls' team has had the best team attendance record, with only one player absent from the first game of the schedule. Wild's team has the best record for the boys, with only five absences during the series.

Following are the standings:

Girls' Standings

"I'd like to buy a telephone call"

WHEN you call a telephone number on the other side of town you are making an important purchase. You say in effect:

"Give me the use of miles of wire, of cables under the street, a section of switchboard and all the other equipment needed in the central office. I shall need one kind of current to carry my voice and another to ring the bells that signal the other party. I may need the services of an operator or two. I want all your equipment to be in perfect working order so that my call is clear and goes through without interruption. I would like this all arranged to connect me with my party instantly—and at a cost of a few cents."

Telephone people are asked to do this millions of times a day and find nothing unusual in the request. But to do it at the price you pay for telephone service—in fact, to do it at all—has taken many years of the most skillful and unremitting research, engineering and organization.

Telephone service in the United States is the most efficient, dependable and economical in the entire world.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH—Richard W. Neale, pastor. Our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, declared to gathered thousands: "I am the Bread of Life." (John 6: 25). He had broken five loaves and two fishes with the Creator's power and it sufficed to fill a multitude. Think of feeding every resident of Plymouth with one loaf's lunch. This was more than the Son of God! Having filled their stomachs He next offered to fill their souls. What grace! And did they gladly receive Him as their Bread of Life? Not as a multitude. Then, as always, it was the few who believed. They said unto Him, "What shall we do that we might work the works of God?" Jesus answered, "This is the work of God: that ye believe on Him whom He hath sent. All that the Father giveth me shall come to Him, that he may not cast out." (John 6: 28, 29, 37) Neighbor and friend, come to Calvary and study the Word of God with us this week. Our pastor preaches on Sunday at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday school well comes you at 11:30 a.m. We meet for prayer, Bible study and fellowship each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. The Young People's Fellowship, Ella Kalnz, leader, meets each Friday at 7:30. The topic this Friday is, "What is Faith?" A Friendly, Bible church, 455 South Main street.

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH—C. M. Pennell, pastor. The subject of the message on Sunday morning, January 17 will be "Eating Angels' Food." Service begins at 10:30 o'clock. Bible school 11:45 a.m. "Jesus the Water of Life." John 4: 7-26. Memory verse: "Whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst." John 4: 14. Hymn-sing, 7:30 o'clock. Rosser Williams of Sheldon Methodist church will speak on "Building Character Through Self-Denial."

ST. PAUL'S EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH—Livonia Center. O. J. Peters, pastor. Services in English, Sunday, January 17. Holy communion will be celebrated in this service.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Walter Nichol, pastor. Services at Masonic Temple, 10 a.m. worship, 11:30 a.m. Sunday school. The Young People's society is planning to journey to Christ church, Cranbrook on Sunday afternoon, attended the 4 p.m. vesper service there and enjoy the carillon music. Mr. Dykhouse will accompany the young people. All who wish to go are asked to be at Sunday school Sunday morning that plans for transportation may be completed. The Ready Service class will hold its January meeting on Tuesday of next week at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Jewell on Ann Arbor road. There will be cooperative dinner at 1:00 o'clock with an interesting business and program meeting following. The new church building is now up to the first floor level. Watch it grow.

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH—Edgar Hoencke, pastor. Regular service, Sunday morning, 10:30. Ladies' mission society, Wednesday, 2 p.m. Men's club, Wednesday, 8 p.m. At the annual meeting held Tuesday evening a budget of $3500 was adopted for the year. The same officers were elected.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist—Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of twenty years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00.

"Life" will be the subject of the lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 17. Among the Bible citations is the following: (1 John 5: 11): "And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in His Son." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following: (p. 487): "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days of strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality."

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH—Loyla Sutherland, minister. The 10 o'clock service is to be a definite time of consecration and prayer. Sermon subject, "What Can I Consecrate to God?" In regeneration we give up our old things for God, but in consecration we give our good things to God. There will also be three short talks given by members of the church who will represent their own department. 11:15—Church school. 8:00—Rev. Sutherland with the boys of the B. Y. P. U. will lead a discussion on "Why Join the Church?" The older folks as well as the younger are invited. 7:00—We are to have a special feature service which is to be led by several laymen from the Dexter Boulevard Baptist church in Detroit. These laymen will tell us what part of manhood of the church is playing these days in the work of man to Christ and the building up of the Kingdom of Christ. If you want to hear what some real live men are doing for their church, come and hear these men at 7 o'clock. On the 24th of this month this church sponsors a "Back To the Bible" revival mission. Our special leader will be Rev. O. W. Stucky of Detroit. Rev. Stucky was extended a call to Plymouth many months ago, and he is one of the accredited Evangelists of this present time. We cannot as a church and minister feel that the day of revivals is past, and that souls are no longer to be openly won to Christ. Many months of prayer and preparation have been put behind this campaign and our faith is definite in that we believe men and women and boys and girls will find the New Way in Christ Jesus. We solicit your prayers and your interest in this whole-hearted endeavor to build up Christ's Kingdom in Plymouth. Full announcements will appear next week. The January meeting of the Loyal Daughters will be held next Tuesday evening, Mrs. William Green of South Main street being hostess.

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH—2nd Sunday after Epiphany. Morning prayer and sermon, 10 a.m. Church school at 11:15.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH—P. Ray Norton, pastor. 10:00 a.m. morning worship, 11:30 a.m. Sunday school. 7:00 p.m. Epworth League. Circle meetings of the Ladies Aid will be held one ahead one week in order that the big family supper could have right of way for Wednesday night, January 20. Plans are being made for a big crowd. The Booster Sunday school class is planning its January meeting, 4:00 or Friday night, January 22. In addition to the usual program, Miss Ford will present a play for entertainment.

ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH—Rosedale Gardens. Masses: Sundays 8:00 and 11:00 a.m. Holy Days 7:30 and 9:00 a.m. Week day, 8:00 a.m. Confessions before each Mass. Catechism class after first Mass. Benediction after second Mass. Baptism by appointment.

CATHOLIC CHURCH—Rev. F. C. Lefevre. Sundays—Mass at 8:00 and 10:00. Confessions Saturday nights at 7:30, and before each mass. Societies—The Holy Name Society for all men and young men. Communion the second Sunday of the month. The Ladies' Altar Society receives Holy Communion the third Sunday of each month. All the ladies of the parish are to belong to this society. Children of Mary—Every child of the parish must belong and must go to communion every fourth Sunday of the month. Instructions in religion conducted each Saturday morning at 9:30 by the Dominican Sisters. All children that have not completed their 8th grade, are obliged to attend these religious instructions.

Scouts Hold Big Rally

The Boy Scouts had a big rally Wednesday night, at Wayne County Training school, in spite of all the rain and fog. The feet and clothes of many of the boys were very much dampened but apparently the spirit of the boys was not dampened at all. It is of special interest to note that all nine of the troops in Plymouth district were represented. This is the first event in some time where that has happened. Approximately 118 Scouts competed in the various contests and there were nearly 300 people there all together.

The contests were judged by C. K. Loomis, Sr., who was for many years actively associated with Scouting. He was assisted by William Hodson, Jr., field commissioner. The score keeper was William G. Hodson ASM, RG-1. The winners were as follows:

The second place was taken by: Knots RG-1; Signaling RG-1; Compass P-3; First Aid N-4.

Several comic contests were held; among them was the "Furlong" pardon, did we say furlong, we meant "Long-Fur". The winner from N-2 had a wonderful...

ful growth extending the full length of seven inches.

The troops had been invited to enter a special event, fire by friction. Only three teams, however, entered. The winner, Richard Strong of P-1, made fire in 30 seconds.

Field Executive William P. Church was present at the affair and expressed amusement at the number of persons present and the enthusiasm of everyone, considering the weather.

Announcements—Swimming, WCTS, Friday, the 15th; Scout Masters meeting, WCTS, Monday the 18th; The Scouters Annual Conference and dinner, Masonic Temple, Detroit, January 23.

Skating Above Wilcox Dam

The Recreation Commission through the cooperation of the Federal government has arranged to have Charles Stitt in charge of the skating on the ice just east of Plymouth and Northville road and just out of the city of Plymouth. Mr. Stitt will be in charge at the ice Monday through Friday from 4:00-8:00 p.m. to assist the younger children with their skating and to insure, as far as possible, that the surroundings will be safe for their skating. On Saturday the ice will be supervised from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and from 1:00-5:00 p.m. This supervision will make it possible for parents with children who are not old enough to compete on the ice at Newburg lake to have a splendid opportunity for supervised skating.

The following organizations and their officers are cooperating with the executive committee for the success of the President's Ball:

Suburban Shrine club, Fred D. Schrader; Rotary club, Fred Sabom; Independent Order of Odd Fellows, William Tege; Knights of Pythias, Loren J. Goodale; Independent Order of Redmen, Eugene Patrick; Rebekah lodge, Mrs. Hazel Roach; Eastern Star, Mrs. Winifred Downing; Chamber of Commerce, Elton R. Eaton; League of Women Voters, Mrs. Ray Johns.

Parent Teachers association, Starkweather school, Mrs. William Schoof; Central school, Mrs. Paul Wiedman; Pythian Sisters, Mrs. J. R. McLeod; American Legion, Harold P. Anderson; Ladies Auxiliary, American Legion, Mrs. Chauncey Evans; Kiwanis club, Mrs. J. R. Strong; Woman's club, Mrs. George Burr; Ladies of Macabees, Mrs. Oliver Martin; high school Student Council, Tom Brock; Masonic lodge, James Gallimore.

Something About The New Taxes

Each year after 1949 it will remain at three percent, the deductions from the pay roll being just three times as great as they are this year. The employer, if he is still in business that long, will not pay roll of more than one percent to match that which has been taken from the pay roll. Remember, this is for old age benefits only. Farm laborers and domestics, teachers and all public employees are exempt from this tax. Each employer becomes a tax collector and is responsible for the tax collection.

In addition to the above tax, there is another one now due that employers in Michigan with a total pay roll of more than $6,000 per year must pay before January 30 of this year. This tax is for unemployment insurance. Every employer in Michigan under the act that the federal government requested the Michigan state legislature to pass at the special session held in December must pay nine tenths of one percent of his total payroll for the year 1936 providing his pay roll exceeded a total of $6,000 last year. This tax is payable to pay another three percent to match that which has been taken from the pay roll in 1936. This is for old age benefits only. Farm laborers and domestics, teachers and all public employees are exempt from this tax. Each employer becomes a tax collector and is responsible for the tax collection.

Rocks To Play Dearborn Tonight

The Plymouth quintet will meet the Dearborn Pioneers Friday, January 15 on the local floor to decide who will hold second place. The standings at the present have River Rouge first, and Dearborn, Plymouth, and Wayne in a three-way tie for second. Both of the teams have had one defeat and this game promises to be one that will employ all the skill and speed of both teams as they have been going rather strong so far. The game will start promptly at 7:00, and the Student Council hopes for a large turnout.

Masonic Lodge Of Ancient Origin

Masonry was compared by the ancient religions of the orient last Friday night by the Rev. Harry Soudah, minister of the Garden City Presbyterian church, in an address at the regular meeting of the Plymouth Rock Lodge, No. 47.

His talk, first of a series of three, traced the Masonic movement from its earliest beginnings, telling how it originated out of the mysticism of the orient, which centuries ago came to the Western World. Such an understanding of it, he indicated, is a help in realizing its true significance today.

Approximately 50 members, including some from Northville, attended the meeting.

Mr. Soudah will develop his theme Friday, February 5, and again Friday, March 5, according to James Gallimore, past master of the Plymouth chapter, who was influential in bringing him here.

plant, to the east of the new factory, leaving space for box cars to be entered under cover.

While no definite time has been set for completion of the plant, officials, it is known, hope to have probably 140 or 150 employees from their Detroit plant, and the new Plymouth unit by early fall.

The new factory will house departments that are making products auxiliary to the company's principal lines, such as correct-posture chairs, chair cushions, machine rollers, printing covers, roll paper and other allied products.

The removal of these departments from the Detroit plant to Plymouth will enable the company to enlarge the output of its Detroit plant, which is providing typewriters and cash registers, which have been added to the tremendously growing line of products of the Burroughs company, will be produced from the Detroit factory, the removal of the other departments from the Detroit plant providing considerable space in the Detroit plant for additional expansion.

Stanley Backus, president of the Burroughs company, when he made the announcement some time ago about the possibility of a construction of a new plant in Plymouth, stated that it was the intention of the company to so design the new factory unit as to allow for future expansion, if necessary.

"The company's principal plant and offices will remain in Detroit," he stated.

It was late last summer when Mr. Backus and a number of other high officials of the Burroughs company came to Plymouth to inspect the prospects of the new plant.

At a luncheon held at the Mayflower hotel, Edward C. Hough, an official of the Daisys company, in introducing Mr. Backus to the guests who had been invited to meet Mr. Backus and talk with him about his plans, pledged every possible assistance on the part of the business men of this city in aiding the company in its Plymouth development. Mr. Hough has been one of the few who has closely followed and aided in this possible increase in the business activities of Plymouth from the first move some ten years ago when the 140-acre site was purchased.

Mr. Backus, then, and more recently, has expressed his pleasure and satisfaction with the friendly attitude extended to him and his company not only by the business men of the city, but by the city and township officials. All have worked hand in hand to aid in a development that will mean so much to the growth and prosperity of this locality.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH—Richard W. Neale, pastor. Our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, declared to gathered thousands: "I am the Bread of Life." (John 6:35). He had broken five loaves and two fishes with the Creator's power and it sufficed to fill a multitude. Think of feeding every resident of Plymouth with one loaf's worth. This was none other than the Son of God! Having filled their stomachs He next offered to fill their souls. What grace! And did they gladly receive Him as their Bread of Life? Not as a multitude. Then, as always, it was the few who believed. They said unto Him, "What shall we do, that we might work the works of God?" Jesus answered, "This is the work of God: that ye believe on Him whom He hath sent. All that the Father giveth me shall come to me, and him that cometh to me, I will in no wise cast out." (John 6: 28, 29, 37). Neighbor and friend, come to Calvary and study the Word of God with us this week. Our pastor preaches on Sunday at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday school well-comes you at 11:30 a.m. We meet for prayer, Bible study and fellowship each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. The Young People's Fellowship, Ella Kainz, leader, meets each Friday at 7:30. The topic this Friday is, "What is Faith?" A Friendly Bible church, 455 South Main street.

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH—C. M. Pennell, pastor. The subject of the message on Sunday morning, January 17 will be "Eating Angels' Food." Service begins at 10:30 o'clock. Bible school 11:45 a.m. "Jesus the Water of Life." John 4: 7-26. Memory verse: "Whoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst." John 4: 14. Hymn-sing, 7:30 o'clock. Rosser Williams of Sheldon Methodist church will speak on "Building Character Through Self-Denial."

ST. PAUL'S EV. LUTHERAN church—Livonia Center, O. J. Peters, pastor. Services in English, Sunday, January 17. Holy communion will be celebrated in this service.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN church—Walter Nichol, pastor. Services at Masonic Temple, 10 a.m. worship, 11:30 a.m. Sunday school. The Young People's society is planning to journey to Christ church, Cranbrook on Sunday afternoon, attend the 4 p.m. vesper service there and enjoy the carillon music. Mr. Dykhouse will accompany on Tuesday of next week at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Jewell on Ann Arbor road. There will be co-operative dinner at 1:00 o'clock with an interesting business and program meeting following. The new church building is now up to the first floor level. Watch it grow.

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN church, Edgar Hoenecke, pastor. Regular service, Sunday morning, 10:30. Ladies' mission society, Wednesday, 2 p.m. Men's club, Wednesday, 8 p.m. At the annual meeting held Tuesday evening a budget of $3500 was adopted for the year. The same officers were elected.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist—Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of twenty years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00.

"Life" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 17. Among the Bible citations is the following (1 John 5: 11): "And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 487): "The understanding that life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days of strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality."

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH—Lova Sutherland, minister. The 10 o'clock service is to be a definite time of consecration and prayer. Sermon subject, "What Can I Consecrate to God?" In re-creation we give up our bad things for God, but in consecration we give our good things to God. There will also be three short talks given by members of the church who will represent their own department, 11:15—Church school, 6:00—Rev. Sutherland with the boys of the B. Y. P. U. will lead a discussion on "Why Join the Church?" The older folks as well as the younger are invited, 7:00—We are to have a special feature service which is to be led by several laymen from the Dexter Boulevard Baptist church in Detroit. These laymen will tell us what part of manhood of the church is playing these days in the winning of men to Christ and the building up of the Kingdom of Christ. If you want to hear what some real live men are doing for their church, come and hear these men at 7 o'clock. On the 24th of this month this church sponsors a "Be to the Bible" revival mission. Our special leader will be Rev. O. W. Stacky of Detroit. Rev. Stacky was extended a call to Plymouth many months ago, and he is one of the accredited evangelists of this present time. We cannot as a church and minister feel that the day of revivals is past, and that souls are no longer to be openly won to Christ. Many months of prayer and preparation have been put behind this campaign and our faith is definite in that we believe men and women and boys and girls will find the New Way in Christ Jesus. We solicit your prayers and your interest in this whole-hearted endeavor to build up Christ's Kingdom in Plymouth. Full announcements will appear next week. The January meeting of the Loyd Daughters will be held next Tuesday evening, Mrs. William Greer of South Main street being guest.

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL church—2nd Sunday after Epiphany. Morning prayer and sermon, 10 a.m. Church school at 11:15.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL church—P. Ray Norton, pastor. 10:00 a.m. morning worship, 11:30 a.m. Sunday school, 7:00 p.m. Epworth League. Circle meetings of the Ladies Aid society were all put ahead one week in order that the big family supper could have right of way for tonight.

ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH—Rosedale Gardens. Masses: Sundays 8:00 and 11:00 a.m. Holy Days 7:30 and 9:00 a.m. Week day, 8:00 a.m. Confessions before 8th Mass. Catechism class after first Mass. Benediction after second Mass. Baptism by appointment.

CATHOLIC CHURCH—Rev. F. C. Lefevre. Sundays—Mass at 8:00 and 10:00. Confessions Saturday nights at 7:30, and before each mass. Societies—The Holy Name Society for all men and young men. Communion the second Sunday of the month. The Ladies' Altar Society receives Holy Communion the third Sunday of each month. All the ladies of the parish are to belong to this society. Children of Mary—Every child of the parish must belong and must go to communion every fourth Sunday of the month. Instructions in religion conducted each Saturday morning at 9:30 by the Dominican Sisters. All children that have not completed their 8th grade, are obliged to attend these religious instructions.

Scouts Hold Big Rally

The Boy Scouts had a big rally Wednesday night, at Wayne County Training school, in spite of all the rain and fog. The feet and clothes of many of the boys were very much dampened but apparently the spirit of the boys was not dampened at all. It is of special interest to note that all nine of the troops in Plymouth district were represented. This is the first event in some time where that has happened. Approximately 118 Scouts competed in the various contests and there were nearly 300 people there all together.

The contests were judged by C. K. Loomis, Sr., who was for many years actively associated with Scouting. He was assisted by William Hodson, Jr., field commissioner. The score keeper was William G. Hodson ASM. RG-1. The winners were as follows:

Knobs—P-1; Signaling—P-1; Compass P-1; First Aid P-1; The second place was taken by Knobs RG-1; Signaling RG-1; Compass P-3; First Aid N-4.

Several comic contests were held; among them was the "Furlongs" parson did we say "Furlong" we meant "Long-Fur". The winner from N-2 had a wonderful ful growth extending the full length of seven inches. The troops had been invited to enter a special event, fire by friction. Only three teams, however, entered. The winner, Richard Strong of P-1, made fire in 30 seconds.

Field Executive William P. Church was present at the affair and expressed amazement at the number of persons present and the enthusiasm of everyone, considering the weather.

Announcements—Swimming, WCTS, Friday, the 15th; Scout Wasters meeting, WCTS, Monday the 18th; The Scouters Annual Conference and dinner, Masonic Temple, Detroit, January 23.

Hospital Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wagenschutz of West Point Park are the parents of a baby girl named Katherine Letellia. She weighed 6 lbs. and 4 oz.

Margaret Miller of Kellogg St. entered the hospital Monday for observation.

Richard Bucknell of Rosedale Gardens is recovering from burns he received recently.

W. H. Murray is improving.

King Mstet, of Uranda, Africa, is reputed to have had the largest harem in the world. Seven thousand wives were in his seraglio.

Skating Above Wilcox Dam

The Recreation Commission through the cooperation of the Federal government has arranged to have Charles Stitt in charge of the skating on the ice just east of Plymouth and Northville road and just out of the city of Plymouth. Mr. Stitt will be in charge at the ice Monday through Friday from 4:00-8:00 p.m. to assist the younger children with their skating and to insure, as far as possible, that the surroundings will be safe for their skating. On Saturday the ice will be supervised from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and from 1:00-5:00 p.m. This supervision will make it possible for parents with children who are not old enough to compete on the ice at Newburg to have a splendid opportunity for supervised skating.

Something About The New Taxes

Each year after 1949 it will remain at three percent, the deductions from the pay roll being just three times as great as they are this year. The employer, if he is still in business that long, will be required to pay another three percent to match that which has been taken from the pay roll. Remember, this is for old age benefits only. Farm laborers and domestics, teachers and all public employees are exempted from this tax. Each employer becomes a tax collector and is responsible for the tax collection.

Masonic Lodge Of Ancient Origin

Masonry was compared by the ancient religions of the orient last Friday night by the Rev. Harry Soudah, minister of the Garden City Presbyterian church, in an address at the regular meeting of the Plymouth Rock Lodge, No. 47.

His talk first of a series of three, traced the Masonic movement from its earliest beginnings, telling how it originated out of the mysticism of the orient, which centuries ago came to the Western World. Such an understanding of it, he felt, is a help in realizing its true significance today.

Approximately 50 members, including some from Northville, attended the meeting.

Mr. Soudah will develop his theme Friday, February 5, and again Friday, March 5, according to James Gallimore, past master of the Plymouth chapter, who was influential in bringing him here.

Ex-Service Men Elect Officers

The Ex-Service Men's club and the Ladies' Auxiliary held their monthly co-operative dinner Monday evening in the Jewell-Blanch hall. Following the dinner the new officers for the ensuing year were installed.

The Ex-Service: Commander—Archie Collins. Vice Com—Howard Eckles. Sec'y—Arno Thompson. Treasurer—Carl Blach. Officer of the day—Harry Hunter.

The Auxiliary: President—Myrtle Brown. Vice President—Ruth Gardner. Treasurer—Clara Mumby. Secretary—Mabel Hunter. Chaplain—Alice Vandervent. Color Guard—Esther Jacob.

Rocks To Play Dearborn Tonight

The Plymouth quintet will meet the Dearborn Pioneers Friday, January 15 on the local floor to decide who will hold second place. The standings at the present have River Rouge first, and Dearborn, Plymouth, and Wayne in a three way tie for second. Both of the teams have had one defeat and this game promises to be one that will employ all the skill and speed of both teams as they have been going rather strong so far. The game will start promptly at 7:00, and the Student Council hopes for a large turnout.

Mobas Window Shade continues to lead the Plymouth Recreation Bowling league in taking three games away from Goldstein's. Howard Johnson led the Shade boys with a 558 count. Goldstein's scores will not be mentioned.

Northville Stroh's, led by Card and Paulger, took three games from the fast slipping Plymouth Mail-Schrader outfit. Card topped the lumber for 558, while Paulger counted 528.

Maybury San took undisputed possession of second place in the standings by taking two out of three from Bill's Cripples (names will not be mentioned). Wilde was high for the San with 531. Paul Richards having a 222 and 201 in a 582 total.

Service Steel came to life and topped three from Golden Glow. Homer Williams shooting 518 for the Steel team.

Something About The New Taxes

In addition to the above tax, there is another one now due that employers in Michigan with a total pay roll of more than $6,000 per year must pay before January 30 of this year. This tax is for unemployment insurance. Every employer in Michigan under the act that the federal government requested the Michigan state legislature to pass at the special session held in December must pay nine tenths of one percent of his total payroll for the year 1936, providing his pay roll exceeded a total of $6,000 last year. This tax is paid only by the employer. There are a large number of employers in Plymouth who come under the provisions of this act. The money is to be used to pay workers who are laid off from jobs until they are re-instated. The act hits a city like Plymouth pretty hard as there is exceedingly little "lay-off" of regular employes practiced among local industries and concerns here that have a pay roll of more than $6,000 per year. These "lay-offs" involve chiefly industries in cities like Detroit, Pontiac, Jackson, Flint, Lansing and Grand Rapids. However, little Plymouth concerns must pay a tax to help support these big city workers when they are not employed. Not only is the tax now due and payable for the tax now 1936, but the 1937 tax is due and payable within a year. This rate likewise increases. While for 1936 the rate is nine-tenths of one percent, for 1937, the employer with a payroll of more than $6,000 must pay two percent of his total pay roll, less the $6,000 deduction. Then for next year and the three years following, the tax goes to three percent.

"Big business" has a way of passing this tax along to the consumer, but because of competition and other conditions, there is not the slightest opportunity for a Plymouth employer to pass a cent of this additional tax cost along.

No effort has yet been made to plant, to the east of the new factory. Lots of space for box cars will be entirely covered.

While no definite time has been set for completion of the plant, officials, it is known, hope to have probably 140 or 150 employees from their Detroit plant, in the new Plymouth unit by early fall.

The new factory will house departments that are making products auxiliary to the company's principal lines, such as correct-posture chairs, chair cushions, machine and office covers, roll paper and other allied products.

The removal of these departments from the Detroit plant to Plymouth will enable the company to enlarge the output of its Detroit plant.

Typewriters and cash registers, which have been added to the tremendously growing line of products of the Burroughs company, will be produced from the Detroit factory, the announcement of the departments to Plymouth providing considerable space in the Detroit plant for additional expansion.

Stanley Backus, president of the Burroughs company, when he made the announcement of the time ago as to the possibility of a construction of a new plant in Plymouth, stated that it was the intention of the company to so design the new factory unit as to allow for future expansion, if necessary.

"The company's principal plant and offices will remain in Detroit," he stated.

It was late last summer when Mr. Backus and a number of other high officials of the Burroughs company came to Plymouth to discuss the prospects of the new plant.

At a luncheon held at the Mayflower hotel, Edward C. Hough, an official of the Datsy company, in introducing Mr. Backus to the guests who had been invited to meet Mr. Backus and talk with him about his plans, pledged every possible assistance on the part of the business men of this city in aiding the company in its Plymouth development.

Mr. Hough has been one of the few who has closely followed and aided in this possible increase in the business activities of Plymouth through the first move some ten years ago when the 140-acre site was purchased.

Mr. Backus, then, and more recently, has expressed his pleasure and satisfaction with the friendly attitude extended to him and his company not only by the business men of the city, but by the city officials. All have worked hand in hand to aid in a development that will mean so much to the growth and prosperity of this locality.

Rocks Trounce Ecorse 30 to 20

Their new warm-up jackets of blue and white must have brought the basketball boys luck Friday night, January 8, for they trounced Ecorse by a margin of 10 points with a score of 30-20.

Plymouth drew first blood when Egloff taking the tip-off dribbled down the side and sent the ball through the net for two points. Both teams played a very fast game intercepting passes, and sickening to their men, but an Ecorse man stuck too close resulting in a foul on him which Martin missed. Egloff also returned a foul which the Ecorse man put through the hoop. Ross, by dribbling, weaving, and passing, scored a basket for Plymouth with a score of Plymouth 4, Ecorse 1. Ecorse fouled Innis but he missed the throw. An Ecorse man in the scramble saw Egloff about to shoot and grabbed his arm giving Egloff two free throws but he only made one. From the floor came a wrangling of arms. Ecorse was down the floor and one was through giving them two more points. Time was then called by Plymouth. In this period Plymouth changed from their regular white shirts to the blue ones. Innis made a score by giving one shot which the Ecorse man added to their score. Ross directly afterwards fouled another man who missed his try on the throw. Martin also fouled an Ecorse man which made three fouls in a row on Plymouth. The Ecorse man had an eagle eye and added more to their score. Ross received a good pass from Martin and again scored for Plymouth. Ecorse again got the tip-off and shot down the floor again from the red line on a long, high, arching ball. All one could hear was the swish of cords and leather as it passed through the hoop without touching the rim. Time for the quarter was called by the referee.

In the second quarter Ekke got the tip-off and a pass back so that he again rang the bell for Plymouth. Then the unexpected happened. A black cat again started across the floor but turned back to the relief of everybody. Ecorse was holding Ekke who got two free throws making 4 of them. Ecorse again fouled Klein-schmidt who added another point to Plymouth's score. Ecorse from the red line put through another of her fine shots. They fouled Ross and missed his throw. Ecorse took it off the backboard and scored for Plymouth again. Ecorse in turn shook loose Plymouth and they scored also. The half ended with the score of Plymouth 15, Ecorse 13.

This half opened with a flash of passing. Egloff sank one from the corner. Ecorse in turn also scored. Moe then scored adding two points for Plymouth. Martin followed the same as Moe. Time was called by Ecorse. All this scoring was the result of good passing. Moe again scored and Ecorse also scored for their team. The scoring was so quick and fast one hardly had time to write it down. Ecorse fouled Moe who rang the bell for Plymouth and again Moe added two extra points. Time was called by Plymouth. Ecorse fouled Moe for two throws but he missed both; however, he scored a basket to make up for the free throws. Quarter was called. Ecorse fouled Willie who missed two shots. Ross fouled an Ecorse man who also missed his shot. Krumm also fouled but this man made it.

Moe scored two points again. Ecorse fouled Ekke who missed his throw. Willie also got a throw from Ecorse but missed. Ecorse scored two points in a key passing play. Innis fouled a man but missed the throw. Innis again fouled the same man but missed again. The end of the game saw the score with 20-30 for Plymouth. Plymouth 20, Ecorse 20.

GIRL SCOUTS LOOK BACK AND AHEAD

Do you know what a campership is? It is a week at a Girl Scout camp, to be given to girls who earn the most proficiency badges and are most active in the scouting project. At the last meeting the girls recalled their experiences of the past year and planned many things for this year. They have already decided upon making hammered brass book-ends and door-stops as a handicraft project. A court of awards has been planned for soon after spring vacation and the group discussed plans for the whole troop taking a trip to some place of interest such as Niagara Falls. They give an idea of other interesting activities they hope for skating parties, a sleigh ride, a trip to the Cranbrook Observatory, the annual cookie sale and anniversary tea (it is to be in the form of a George Washington party).

There will be many hikes and all the Scouts look forward to the swims at the Training school swimming pool.

Too, the Girl Scouts had a very interesting calendar last year. They enjoyed the week-end of swimming, boating, hiking, and having a lot of fun at Moon's Cottage at Walled Lake. This was a result of the Girl Scout Cookie sale on April 25 of which Betty Martin was the chairman. The past year also marked the first anniversary of Troop 1 which was celebrated by a tea. For Girl Scout week they arranged a display in a window of the Connor Hardware and attended the Methodist church in a body. The Scouts also visited Greenfield village, saw Colleen Moore's doll house when it was in Detroit, and attended "Romeo and Juliet" at the Cass theater. They contributed money to the Red Cross dresses to the Goodfellows, and helped to make a nappy Christmas for two needy families. Last, but not least, of their activities, during the past year, they had their fingerprints recorded at the city hall.

STARKWEATHER NOTES

The kindergarten B's are making a bird feeder to put outside the window. The kindergarten A's are reading stories about Dick and Jane and about half of them can write their first name. They are studying the calendar and the weather; each day one pupil stands up and tells the class the name of the month, the day, and gives a brief weather report.

Miss Rathburn's pupils are making Eskimo pictures. They are also making Eskimo notebooks with igloo covers; these booklets contain original stories about the lives of the Eskimos. Phyllis Lee is absent because of the mumps.

Miss Bock's pupils are working on their Holland mural which they plan to use for the art exhibition in the body of the school. He broke his arm shortly before Thanksgiving. Edward Wallace has moved to Tennessee. Herman Pirby is absent because of illness.

The 5B geography class is studying the West. South Central states. The 4B are studying China. They are making a health contest.

Miss Stuke's students had a toy day. The pupils brought the toys such as dolls, trains, tinker toys, and creator sets to show each other. The 1B's have finished their readers; they are reading "Pets and Playtimes." They are checking up on their counting and number work before they are promoted.

Miss Sparling's history students are writing biographies on famous men whose lives are not discussed in their text book. The girls' handicraft class is working on cloth designs. The 6B geography class is studying the Balkan countries.

Miss Stader's second graders are decorating the blackboards and wall panels with paper cuttings of snow scenes. Miss Edwards and Stewart visited their room, and was very much interested in "Jack," the boy Miss Stader designed to help them with their arithmetic. Last Monday they had a perfect attendance record. They also had a toy day.

NEW BLEACHERS

The new set of bleachers in the gymnasium are of the folding type, seating 120 students. The seats, costing $500, were purchased from the Wayne company of Pennsylvania. The purpose of these bleacher seats is to accommodate students who heretofore have watched athletic activities in the auditorium at noon standing. They are useful in that they may be immediately folded when the noon bell rings so that the janitors will be able to dust the floor before the first gym class in the afternoon begins. These bleachers are also useful as a seating place for those members of the team not actually competing.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Will the students please list this schedule out and keep it for future reference?

First hour classes, Wednesday, January 27, 12:30-1:55.

Second hour classes, Wednesday, January 27, 2:00-3:30.

Fourth hour classes, Thursday, January 28, 8:30-9:55.

Fifth hour classes, Thursday, January 28, 10:00-11:30.

Sixth hour classes, Thursday, January 28, 12:30-2:00.

Seventh hour classes, Friday, January 29, 8:30-9:55.

CENTRAL GRADE

Miss London's pupils are doing fine hand cutting in art class.

Miss DeWaele's pupils are also doing fine hand cutting work. The Wren reading class is using the book "Art Stories" as a reader. The Bluejays have finished their reader entitled "City and Country". Jack Campbell is very ill and won't be back to school this semester.

The children in Miss Prantz's room are making a library in which one of the children acts as librarian. Some of the new books they have read from their library are "Up in the Air", "Little Ones", and "Scamp". The "White House Bunny". They have also been looking over new books which the boys and girls got for Christmas.

Billy Whitaker of Oklahoma has entered Miss Weatherhead's room. In art class the children are learning to cut letters for book posters. They are starting their review work in spelling. Mrs. Fred Sockow visited the room last week.

Mrs. Bird and Miss Maunula's pupils are making health posters showing good and bad teeth. They also made health buntings.

The fourth graders in Miss Sly's room have colored maps of North America which they used for booklets. In health the pupils have been studying the care of the teeth and have made posters depicting them.

Miss Hornbeck's pupils made grotesque paper faces in art class. The 4A geography students are making kangaroo booklets on Australia, while the 5B pupils are learning about the west with their state studies. The 6A students of Texas and Oklahoma. They also learned about sugar cane and how sugar is extracted from it.

Miss Carr's pupils also made grotesque faces of paper. They have been reading Robinson Crusoe set up to illustrate the story of that story-book hero. In geography they made some very nice booklets about Egypt.

The 6B geography pupils in Mr. Berridge's room are studying Spain and Portugal, while the 5A students made reports on their favorite states. In 5A language the class made posters on the use of correct English. The whole room has been working on declamation.

Mrs. Holliday's pupils are painting boxes with poster paints and are making designs on them. The 6A history class is studying about the World War.

LAST WEEK—

Tryouts for the senior play were held. Some hearts broken, some happy.

School wasn't the same Monday morning. I guess vacation and New Year's Eve were too much for many.

Helen Weage decided to come to school for a change, starting a new fashion note by wearing her ring on a small gold chain around her neck.

Senior girls beat the freshmen the other noon which is nothing unusual.

Jack Ross, Lloyd Trunks, and Bob Wilkie concocted a new basketball play Tuesday night. How is it? W—e—l—l, it isn't perfected yet.

The age old feud between Plymouth and Northville was renewed Tuesday night. More power to Plymouth!

Rumors of a girl's Play Day with Wayne are being heard. Everybody's wearing their Christmas to school.

Dave Hale has done it again! He's really surprised you truly by learning to dance—and doing it well. Gosh, maybe there's hopes for Louie Jennings, yet.

There ought to be a Youth Federation dance EVERY Saturday night like the last one. Some fun.

PLATHEAN STAFF ELECTS EDITOR

The Plathean staff has elected its editor and assistant editor for the 1937 annual. The editor-in-chief is John Moore and the assistant, Robert Wilkie. Other department editors appointed by John are: Janet Oswald, Art; Marian Gorton, seasons; Ireta McLeod, classes; Barbara Hubbard, activities; John Moore, athletics; and Robert Wilkie, snapshots.

THINGS I'D LIKE TO SEE—

A swimming pool for the school has been the main hindrance. The League championship. A new popcorn at the Dearborn game which will help a great deal. A committee for the popping and selling of the corn has been chosen—Olsen, Konasaki, Rutherford and Gilles. Hudson and DeLaurier head the selling committee. The club made an agreement to go in a body to the Northville game.

EDITORIAL—WHY BE LATE?

"Mr. Dykhouse, I overslept this morning."

"Mr. Dykhouse, the freight train held me up this morning."

"Our car froze up."

"Mother wanted me to go to the store for her this morning, Mr. Dykhouse."

"I didn't get a ride until 8:25 Mr. Dykhouse."

The bus was late this morning.

These are a few of the excuses Mr. Dykhouse hears day after day, week after week. Do you not think that he gets disgusted with many of the students who enter his office morning after morning, often with excuses that do not hold water? Did you ever stop to realize that every time you are late the record of our school goes down? Did you not know that the tardy record is sent into Lansing and compared with that of other schools? The reasons for tardiness may be an investigator to analyze our system and see what is wrong! Certainly a school with our scholastic standing can have an excellent attendance rating as well.

The reasons for tardiness may be placed under three classifications—the fault of the students, the fault of the parents, or circumstances which neither have control over.

In the first group, the case in which the student is at fault, come fooling around in the halls, turning off the alarm and going back to sleep or refusing to get up when called, and forgetting something and returning home for it. The railroad seems to be an excellent excuse for the students living on that side of town; probably many trains that never existed have made the tardy record of Plymouth decrease!

Often the parents are at fault! About 8:15 some morning the mother discovers that she is out of some household necessity. She thinks nothing of saying, "Wait a minute, Bob. I want you to go uptown and get me—"

"But ma, I'll be late!"

"Never mind! Here's the money. Now hurry!"

Please, mothers of P. H. S. students, please check your household essentials before the stores close at night or go to the store yourself. The walk and fresh air will pep you up and start the day right.

The third division contains circumstances over which neither the parents nor children have control. The principal factor in this group is the bus—either being late or breaking down. Certainly students dependent on this vehicle for transportation cannot be blamed when it is late or breaks down. One can't expect the Dearborn Coach company to be able to care for so many buses as well as we can care for our own cars. But this does NOT include carelessness.

The record of Plymouth high school is what we, the students, make it! Certainly we are as proud of our schools as other Michigan pupils are of theirs.

GIRL RESERVES DISCUSS CODE POINTS

The intermediate Girl Reserves, advised by Miss Hearn, spent their meeting last Thursday in planning a system of points by which they will be able to earn their honors during the next semester. In the junior group, Dorothy Roe led a discussion of the club code, slogan, and purpose, considering their meaning and significance. Pat McKinnon led the senior girls in the playing of games requiring good logic and thinking. Next week the girls will elect officers for the second semester.

SOCIAL NEWS

Edith Mettetal, Barbara Hix, Jewel Starkweather, and Carol Campbell heard Betty Jaynes at the Masonic temple in Detroit, Sunday night.

Shirley Sorenson spent Saturday night with Arlene Sath.

Mary Holdsworth spent the week-end with Barbara Knisley.

Friday night, Barbara Knisley entertained Mary Holdsworth, Astri Herge, Jacquelyn School, Lois Schaufele, Weltha Sells, Louise Johnson, Dan Carmichael, Hal Horton, Jack Sells, Bill Donnelly, Bill Pez, Bob Wingard, and Jack Hull at the Yacht club, after which they went to Barbara's for lunch.

Marian Lutermoser spent Thursday night with Doris Schmidt.

Elizabeth and Astri Herge entertained Weltha Sells, Florence Norton, Patricia Cassidy and Pat McKinnon at dinner, Saturday night.

Lois Schaufele attended a party at Betty Van Hove's in Northville, Saturday night.

Ireta McLeod visited friends in Ann Arbor Sunday.

CLASS NOTES

Miss Lovewell's ninth grade literature students are memorizing "The House by the Side of the Road".

Miss Waldorff's 10A English class has completed its study of personal letters and is beginning the study of formal and informal invitations. The seventh hour public speaking class has formed a speech club and is studying parliamentary law; the fifth hour class is preparing appreciation talks and working on extemporaneous talks or papers. The English classes are reading George Eliot's "Silas Marner".

The Junior Hi Art club is making linoleum block prints, while the senior high school art students are making copper plaques and etching bracelets in copper and German silver. They are having much fun with this work and find it very interesting.

At the end of the third marking period the beginners in typing are led in the speed tests by Laurabelle Wielden with a score of 36 words a minute, Charlotte Jolliffe and Doris Buzzard follow with scores of 33 each, while Dorothy Schmidt's score is 32. The advance students are led by Loretta Hauk with a score of 69, Marilyn Martin and Pollyanna Wright with scores of 52, and Irene Beckwith with a typing speed of 49 words a minute.

The First Aid class are practicing bandage, shoulder, elbow and slings. The girls who wanted extra

GAB ABOUT GARB

When fashion dictators are temporarily at a loss for new ideas they go back through the centuries to some age-old style, reproduce it in detail, label it "new" and people buy eagerly. That accounts for the full skirts, tight waists, huge sleeves, and feminine "froutron" in vogue this year. From the colors this year we could conclude that women of the world wish to be noticed—reds, purples, vivid oranges and greens are at their height. Renaissance colors they are called. Loud splashy prints are in—combined with jangly bracelets and vivid sandals (that sounds like South Sea Island influence). "Charm bracelets" are a fashion note which cannot be over-looked. And oh, have you seen those tinkly, gold bell bracelets? The almost forgotten gentle art of embroidery is to be revived at a whim of Lady Fashion. Dainty flowers are being embroidered on crandy frocks and not-so-dainty ones on peasant-type dresses of rougher materials. Zippers are seen everywhere—skirts, sweaters, dresses and purses (probably they are an outcome of the American need of speed). Flat heels on all types of shoes came back with a bang some time ago and the prediction that they were just a fad and would not last has been overthrown, for their ever-increasing popularity insures their being here for some time. All these things, highlights of the present-day fashions, are gradually giving way to even newer styles and the coming Coronation has given designers inspirations, a great many of which have already been worked out. A bright shade of red has taken its name from this event—Coronation Red.
