Widow of Civil War Soldier Dies

Mrs. Agnes A. Stevens, widow of the late Arthur D. Stevens, passed away Sunday evening, February 7, at her home, 240 North Harvey street at the age of 95 years. Mrs. Stevens was a lifelong resident of this locality. Her husband, who died last fall, was one of the few surviving veterans of the Civil War and his funeral was conducted under the auspices of World War veterans and soldiers from the U. S. army at Fort Wayne. She was married to Mr. Stevens just before he left for the south as a member of the Union forces.

She is survived by her son, Clarence E. Stevens of Ann Arbor. The body was brought to the Schrader funeral home, from which place funeral services were held Wednesday, February 10 at 3 p.m. Interment was made in Arborcrest cemetery, Ann Arbor. Rev. Walter Nichol officiating.

D. A. R. Members To Meet Monday

Mrs. Henry E. Baker, 1973 Sherman avenue, will be hostess to the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter, Monday, February 15. A review of the popular novel, "Gone With the Wind" will be made by Mrs. Ivan T. Pierce.

Mrs. Royal Larkin requests that the ladies bring to this meeting any clothing which could be used by the southern schools. This refers to clothing which would not be suitable for the flooded districts. The D. A. R. wishes in no way to divert clothing needed there to their school projects. The pupils in these schools are so skillful that they utilize, and convert into useful, and attractive articles materials that seem to have little or no value.

Learned, son of Postmaster and Mrs. Frank Learned, better known as "Bud", will be pleased to know that he has received an appointment as a member of the force of the state sales tax administration. Later, it is stated he will probably be transferred to this office, February 17, at the home of Mrs. J. J. Wollast, on Holbrook avenue. The meeting will begin promptly at 2 o'clock. Hostesses will be Mrs. Wolpask, Mrs. Edgar Hoencke, Mrs. Ida Carlson, Mrs. Emil Schilling and Mrs. George White.

Russell Powell To Fish In West Indies

Within the next few days Russell Powell will be on his way to the West Indies for a brief vacation trip. He had originally planned to go to Florida for a few days fishing out in the Gulf stream, but instead, he plans to go to the West Indies where he will try to get some of the big ones around the islands to do a little fishing on the end of his line. He will probably be gone for about three weeks.

Sleet Storm Follows Lightning Flash

This Locality Has Variety of Winter And Summer Weather

This has been a most unusual winter without snow and a winter so far with no cold weather. Up until right now, in fact, the mercury has not been within ten degrees of zero at any time. It did drop once to that low point for a few hours, but just once and that was all. To cap the climax of a snowless and frostless winter, Plymouth and vicinity Sunday night enjoyed for a few minutes a severe electric storm. It thundered and the lightning flashed, and then it rained. Following the sleet storm, the weather cooled off a bit and the rain froze on the paving. Monday morning men hurrying to work in their cars, found the traveling about as bad as at any time during the winter months. At one time there were eight cars in the hollow on Plymouth road just this side of the Hillside barbeque. They could not get out of the hollow either to the east or west, until after the hills had been covered with sand. There were a few minor accidents, with damaged fenders but no serious accidents were reported as a result of the second sleet storm within three weeks.

Gives City Old War Picture

A photograph taken in 1889 when members of the 4th Michigan Volunteer Infantry held an encampment on the battlefield at Gettysburg where they fought for three days during the Civil war in one of the severest conflicts of the nation, has been presented to the city officials by W. E. Hoisington, son of Henry Hoisington, a member of the regiment and it now hangs in a most appropriate place.

The picture was originally presented to the Service Men's club but because of the fact that the club recently saw fit to give the city the old G. A. R. flag that came into its possession upon the death of the last member of that organization in Plymouth, it was deemed best to place the photograph of these old Plymouth Civil war veterans in the city hall.

The regiment which not made up entirely of soldiers from this locality had many members who enlisted in Plymouth, the senior Mr. Hoisington being one of them.

Miss Marie Beegle Weds - To Reside In Redford

They will spend a few days at Coldwater, visiting at the home of the bride's brother, Charles E. Beegle, who is manager of the Goodrich store in that city. He was former manager of a store in Plymouth. The bride is a graduate of the Plymouth high school. The young couple have the best wishes of a host of friends in both Plymouth and Redford. They will make their home in Redford.

A Proclamation

By HENRY HONDORP
Mayor of Plymouth

THE BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA, incorporated February 8, 1910, and chartered by Congress June 15, 1916, have during the past 27 years rendered notable service to the nation. They have done effective work in this community and throughout the country. During the World War their efforts on behalf of Liberty Loan and War Savings campaigns and other measures were outstanding. In time of distress from flood, hurricane, tornado and other disasters they have organized boy service, during the period of economic stress through which the country has just passed, they contributed in many ways to the relief of suffering, and they have rendered noteworthy service in the flood areas this year.

The Boy Scouts have not only demonstrated their worth to the nation, but have also contributed to a deeper appreciation by the American people of the higher conception of good citizenship.

The objective of the present ten year program of the Boy Scouts of America is to provide for the nation a citizenry in which one of every four of the new male citizens each year will have at least four years of Scout training.

During the past 27 years 7,377,008 persons through the various programs of scouting have enjoyed adventure, hiking, camping, swimming, woodcraft, handcraft, fellowship, health and safety, and have learned how to be helpful to others and have been trained to be participating citizens.

During the week from February 13 to the Boy Scouts of America will celebrate their twenty-seventh anniversary. Boy Scouts of this city will represent us at the National Scout Jamboree to be held in Washington, D. C. next June 30 to July 1 and I shall assist with the cooperation of my fellow citizens, in arranging suitable ceremonies at their departure and return.

THEREFORE, I, HENRY HONDORP, MAYOR OF THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH, do hereby recommend that the citizens of this city observe this Boy Scout week for the purpose of strengthening the work of the Boy Scouts of America.

I earnestly recommend that our civic organizations, our churches and our schools cooperate in carrying out a program for a definite recognition of the effective service rendered by the Boy Scouts of America in order that the work of the Boy Scout program may be extended to a larger proportion of the boyhood of this city.

The Boy Scout movement offers unusual opportunity for volunteer service. It needs men to serve in various capacities as leaders of boys. I hope that all who can, will, through the organizations with which they are connected, enlist for such personal service. Anything that is done to increase the effectiveness of the Boy Scouts of America will be a genuine contribution to the welfare of this city, the state, and the nation.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of this city to be affixed. Done this 6th day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven.

HENRY HONDORP
Prof. E. W. Waugh To Give Address Here

O'Connor.

Plymouth High Wins Maximum Credit Rating

Inspector Highly Praises Work Carried On In Local Schools

Plymouth high school has again been approved by the North Central association for three-year period, ending June 30, 1940. As through the past number of years, Plymouth has received such a rating by the inspection committee that it is given the maximum term of accrediting. No school in Michigan or any other state belonging to the North Central association receives more than a three-year term, many receiving less.

The inspector, in writing to Plymouth, stressed especially:

1. The outstanding health work through the facilities of the school nurse and the fine cooperation of the local physicians and dentists.

2. The superior type of recreational program, carried on as intra-mural in the school and continued in the recreation commission in the community.

3. The vocational guidance program, which he found outstanding for a school of our size.

4. The splendid position which the school has attained in debating.

5. The superior quality of our English department.

6. The shop work in general, especially the radio unit.

7. The especially fine record which Plymouth graduates have made in colleges.

The board of Education gladly accepts these fine commendations through the school by the inspection department of the North Central association and is very happy in the fact that the school merits such approval.

Discovery of Skeletons In Old Cemetery Clouds Title To Park

Failure of Village To Remove All Of Bodies Some 17 or 18 Years Ago Gives Church Right to Reclaim Property

When the big steam shovel that dug the basement for the new Presbyterian church a few weeks ago uncovered the skeletons of some 35 or 40 bodies that had at some time been buried in the cemetery that were supposed to have been removed to the Riverside cemetery about 17 or 18 years ago, it probably revealed reasons for what may prove to be complications into the future ownership of the land that was used for the old cemetery and that was owned by the Presbyterian church.

During the past few days it has come to light that when the Presbyterian church board decided the old cemetery property to the village it was stipulated that the property would come under village ownership when all of the bodies had been taken from the old cemetery and removed to Riverside.

The fact that in the small portion of the old cemetery to be occupied by the new church building, nearly 40 skeletons were dug up, provides evidence that the village did not live up to its part of the arrangement by removing all the bodies. It is pointed out that the Presbyterian church board can now legally lay claim to the entire park property if it wishes to do so.

There has been no indication that the board has such a request in mind but it is made clear that it does place the church board in a most advantageous position if it desires to press its claim for all of the land.

The history of the old cemetery is one of the most interesting chapters in the development and growth of this community.

Inquiries were made some time ago among the older inhabitants of the city in an effort to organize a chronological history of the cemetery, but not until copies of the actual land deeds had been found could an accurate story of this Presbyterian property be pieced together.

Although the church location has always been the same, it has changed considerably in relation to the rest of the town. In 1935 when the land for the cemetery was received, the church was located several rods north of the intersection of Main street and North Territorial road was designated as Plymouth Corners.

With the church in 1835, in its present-day location, but out of the village limits, its members decided that the church should be moved to the village had none. It was subsequently acquired in that same year when one Edward Brooks decided to the trustees of the Second Presbyterian Society one and one-quarter acres of land situated in rear of the church to be used as a burial lot. The trustees whose names appeared upon the deed were Ira Bronson, James Purday, Henry Tibbitts, David E. Wilcox and H. B. Holbrook. The land which they acquired was described upon the deed according to a survey made in July of 1835 by Elam Wilmarth.

Having cleaned up and fenced off the property, it was put into use immediately. Years later, one Henry Fraick was instructed to purchase a list of subscribers "an additional section of land to be used also as a cemetery, and by a deed dated December 27, 1853, he received for these subscribers from Dewitt Holbrook and wife a new piece of property lying just west of the original plot.

Following this, on March 30, 1859, Dan Funches and his wife transferred to the Second Presbyterian Society a 20 foot right-of-way to be used as a driveway leading up to a team shelter which the church owned. This structure then stood in a position which today would correspond to the rear of the property belonging to the Detroit Edison company.

More land was annexed on August 2, 1862 when a 20x40 foot plot which had been formerly used as a garden, was transferred to the church. This transfer was given to the Presbyterians.

On July 6, 1874, the trustees of the church decided to the village the two and one-quarter acres which were then being used as a cemetery, with the stipulation that the land thus transferred would revert to the church when it ceased to be used as a burying ground. From that time on it was used as a village cemetery. The trustees whose names appeared on the deed and the date were Amos Stevens, Levy Tibbitts, R. G. Hall, George Starkweather and Francis Fairman.

When a new manse was to be built in 1911, the church purchased from William E. Hoyt, a monument maker and marble worker, his property which fronted on Main street, and the present building was erected in cooperation with the village.

Rocks To Battle Northville Team

The Northville basketball team will meet Plymouth high school at Plymouth Tuesday, February 16 for the second game between the rival schools. The Plymouth team gave the Northville group a rural training in the last encounter and hope to again perform this feat. The Northville team on the other hand is ready to avenge this black mark on their record and will give the home town team a very good run for its money. This does not affect the T. V. A. league standing in which Plymouth is now in a tie for first place with Riverside.

When Homefolks Meet in South

Say mister, can you give a feller two bits for something to eat?

Down in Tennessee where he had stopped for lunch, John Wilcox, who is in Florida with Will J. Conner for a month's stay, stood looking up and down the street when he was greeted with the above words by some one who walked up from behind him.

John's answer, say man, that I'm a long way from home, I'd like to help you but you had better ask some one who lives closer than I do," said Mr. Wilcox without turning to look at the fellow who was "pan-handling" him over his shoulder.

"So you wouldn't help some one from your home town, would you?" declared Arthur Blunk as he laughed at his fellow-townsman he had noticed on the street. The Plymouth traveler who was on his way home with Mrs. Blunk from a brief Florida stay.

According to word from Florida about the incident, the two had a good laugh as they met in Tennessee, one headed north and the other south.

HELL-BENT FOR SOMEWHERE.

The Republican state convention was held down in Detroit the other day. It didn't do for Wayne county what the Republicans hoped it would do.

The important issue that should have been disposed of once and for all by the convention, was the question of whether Wayne county conventions should be ruled by mob tactics or by decent procedure and in accordance with law, but it was ignored by Michigan Republicans.

In fact, the mob system was given the whole-hearted approval by the credentials committee, therefore the question did not come before the delegates for consideration. If it had gone to the floor of the convention and if the Barnard-McKay gangs could have been prevented from voting their counties as a unit, there isn't much question of what the convention would have done to Eddie Barnard's hand-picked Wayne delegates.

When an effort was made to bring before the credentials committee a protest to the seating of the illegal delegation from Wayne county that was selected in the private offices of Barnard instead of in the county convention as directed by state law, W. E. Henry, a Bay City lawyer who was chairman of the committee, played well into the hands of Detroit mob politicians by attempting to prevent a discussion of the protest.

Then came John Dunham of Grand Rapids, another lawyer, who appeared before the committee as the mouth-piece for Frank McKay the "big time political chief" of the furniture city. He told the committee that he was proud, and that he knew Grand Rapids was too, of the fact that Eddie Barnard had once lived in that city. "He is a fine citizen and we are glad that we can come here and tell you that Kent county approves of him and is happy to call him a former prominent citizen of our city. We do not think he should be kept out of this convention," said Mr. McKay's stooge as he painted a pair of wings on the shoulders of his former Grand Rapids buddy.

Then arose the loud-speaker convention ballyhooer and former prominent "distinguished" citizen of Grand Rapids, "Hon." Edward Barnard, who protested that the one lone Republican from Wayne county who was appearing before the committee in a hopeless fight against the rotten, disgraceful and unAmerican political situation in Wayne county, had no business before the committee. "This person," said the loud-speaker, "has no right to even be in the convention hall."

Chairman Henry ruled with Barnard, and said there is "nothing before the committee to consider."

The committee then voted to approve the unlawful procedure that had been followed in the selection of delegates in Wayne county, and decided without a dissenting vote to seat the Barnard delegation.

But one should not censure too severely, the out-state members of the credentials committee who voted to seat the illegal Barnard gang of delegates, composed of his law clients, former political job holders and others. It is, indeed, difficult for one who has never attended a Wayne county Republican convention to know what sort of a disgraceful affair it has degenerated into, since Barnard's gang of jitney drivers first started raiding these conventions.

One delegate last week received first hand information as to how he operates. Barnard, in picking his delegation, thought he had picked "safe" delegates. But he erred in one, just one. This one delegate demanded a poll of the Wayne delegation. Barely before the convention was over, the telephone in the home of the delegate was ringing and his wife was being threatened by some woman because her husband had dared ask for a poll of the Wayne delegation, something that she knew nothing about. She was not only threatened once, but she states that other calls were received in which she and her family were warned that they had better begin to look out.

Vernon J. Brown, able, clean, progressive Republican leader of Ingham county, declared in his Ingham County News last week that there was just one issue before the Republican convention in Detroit, and that issue was whether a gang of Wayne mobsters should be permitted to control or even influence the party.

Well, they may not do any "influencing" but they will do a lot of controlling, as the Republican party machinery for Wayne county is now owned body and soul by Edward Barnard and Frank McKay.

But there is one bright ray ahead. James Thompson of Jackson was elected state chairman over the conniving of McKay and Barnard. Showing the brand of a "political leader" Barnard has proven himself to be, he told Thompson just before the convention started that if he (Thompson) was elected chairman he would take his delegates and walk out of the convention. Well, Thompson was elected and Barnard and "his delegates" (not the delegates of the Republican party) did NOT walk out.

The members of the credentials committee failed to grasp an opportunity to help restore Republicanism in Wayne county to a decent level. They can assume full responsibility for what may happen in the next election in this part of the state. The people were expecting to have the mess cleaned up, and they refused to act.

Maybe Lawyer Henry knows his politics up in Bay City. And little Johnnie Dunham, who hops around like a jumping jack when Frank McKay pulls the strings, might know all about public sentiment up in Kent county, but they DO NOT know the temper of the people of Wayne county when it comes to letting its political affairs be dominated by such as Ed Barnard and his crowd. They said the lawfully elected delegates should have been at the county convention. Strange as it may seem, most decent folks have no desire to go to a Republican county brawl in Wayne county, and they are going to stay away just as long as tactics played by political mobsters prevail.

The Republican organization of Wayne county, under its new leadership, is hell-bent for somewhere under a full head of steam, but that somewhere is NOT towards the goal posts of victory or decency. Our one hope is that the new state chairman, who is clean and progressive, will be able to do something to help the Republican party in the city of Detroit.

THE COST OF STRIKES.

By George E. Sokolsky

It has often occurred to me that the reason that I hate strikes is because early in my childhood I saw so many innocents suffer from them. Many of our friends and relatives were tailors, buttonhole makers, milliners, white goods workers. Many of them worked in sweat-shops. And they seemed always to be striking.

And those who were always striking, they did not seem to suffer so much. But the wives, they ran up bills at the grocers and butchers. And then their credit ended and they suffered from real hard times. And many of the children came to school without breakfast, and their stockings were worn, and they looked thin and tired.

I never could get used to strikes, having that picture before me all my life. It always seemed to me that a strike was an admission of defeat. What is the use of our civilization if we cannot find a reasonable and friendly way of settling questions of hours, wages and working conditions? There must be a friendly way of doing everything upon this earth.

And so, whenever I see a strike, I wonder who will pay for this one. For everything that happens on this earth has to be paid for, by somebody. There is always a price.

And when it comes to strikes, everybody seems to pay. The worker and the employer, the worker's family and the community—they all pay. For the cost of a strike can be measured in wages lost, in the increased costs of commodities and in actual physical suffering on the part of those whose family budgets are depleted.

What is so astonishing these days is that when wages are rising, when employers are paying bonuses, when hours are reduced, when working conditions, particularly in the mass production industries, are improved beyond anything hitherto on this earth—why should there be so many strikes?

Watch the cold, shivering man and woman on the picket line. It rains. It snows. They walk. They shout, "Don't buy!" "Don't work!" Does any of it make sense?

Nowadays, strikes are not always over hours and wages. Many strikes are called for "recognition of the union". When two organizations like the A. F. L. and the C. I. O., fight for recognition, it is really workers fighting each other as hard as they often fight the employer.

In such instances, the worker takes all the losses, which he can never regain. If the strike is won, all that happens is that a particular union is recognized as the agency for collective bargaining. The worker's pay envelope is not fatter. But he and his family have paid the largest share of the strike bill.

The employer pays, too. He may pay in lost markets; in disrupted business; in public antipathy to his trade mark; in loss of confidence in his ability to deliver goods as ordered.

In a country where everyone lives on credit, few workers have sufficient cash on hand to see them through a strike. There is rent to pay, the monthly installments to meet; and wages have stopped. The most that a strike fund can bring is a bit for food, and that stops if the strike lasts too long. The worker's family rarely has a reserve sufficient to keep all the complex relationships of any kind of American home functioning well during periods of strikes. Fright, uncertainty, the possibility of long hunger and hate—these are greater costs than money can ever pay for.

It seems to me that we are still primitive in our industrial relations in this country. We are still down to the law of the gang; that to the hardest hitter belongs the spoils.

We speak of collective bargaining but to me the very word "bargaining" is bad. For we ought not to bargain about the work and welfare of human beings. Rather should we think of our industrial relations as being the union of the investor, management, the skilled and unskilled worker and the consumer for the production upon this continent of so high a standard of living that all human beings who live here really can enjoy the full fruits of our technological skill.

That cannot be done by strikes. That cannot be accomplished by making men and women suffer. That cannot be achieved by hate.

That can only come from co-operation. That can only come from a reasonable and friendly attitude among all men.

That Men May Grow

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

Nature never seems to grumble
'Cause the weather ain't jus' right.
You don't hear the trees complainin'
When the sun is out o' sight.
Flowers seem to like the showers.
An' there ain't a growin' thing
That don't need the Fall an' Winter
To prepare it for the Spring.

Seems to me that men develop
Somethin' like a field o' grain—
With the sunshine that life brings 'em,
Comes the darkness and the rain.
Guess it takes jus' so much hardship
An' what seems to be tough luck
To bring out a feller's virtues,
And to give 'im strength and pluck!

SENATOR WILKOWSKI

Every time the secretary of the Michigan state senate calls the roll, on convening, on bills and resolutions and on every other occasion, there booms forth the name "Wilowski" and Senator Wilkowski never answers for he is behind the bars in Jackson state prison where he is serving a severe sentence following conviction of the charge of fraudulently changing election returns.

Many are asking why his seat is not declared vacant and a new election called.

As the matter stands there are fifteen republicans and sixteen democrats now holding senate seats. The republicans are content to let the matter rest right there. In all probabilities, were Wilkowski to be unseated, the voters of Hamtramck would re-elect him even though he is in prison. They gave him the largest vote polled for any state senator last November while he stood convicted and before he was sentenced to prison. They voted overwhelmingly on another occasion for a mayor who had been convicted of official wrongdoing and while he was yet in prison.

Representatives of the government unemployment service who were in Plymouth February 5 to register any unemployed that might be found here, announce that they will return here on Friday, February 19 to register members of the Plymouth high school graduating class for this year who have not made their plans for the next year.

The registration will be chiefly for those who do not expect to continue their school work and who will be looking for jobs as soon as school is out.

At the registration conducted a week or so ago exceedingly few filed applications for work in this locality.

Furthermore Senator Wilkowski has a lot of warm supporters in each of the seven other Wayne county districts. Not a single one of these democratic senators desires to incur the disapproval of the Wilkowski following. So in view of the fact that a special election would cost Wayne county at least $25,000, that in all probabilities the senator would be returned to office should one be held, and in the face of the fact that none of the Wayne senators is looking for trouble, it is likely the dull silence, now and then punctuated by a snicker from the galleries, will continue to feature each session of Michigan's fifty-ninth legislative senate.—Vernon J. Brown in The Ingham County News.

KILL THE KILLERS.

And now a capital punishment measure has again been introduced into the 1937 Legislature, largely brought about by the Hammond and Lord atrocities at Monroe and Peck. The sob-sisters and fish-boned gentry will again endeavor to get in their work and doubtless kill the measure. Not until some such fate overtakes their loved ones as befell the above unfortunates will some people abandon the idea of protecting the guilty at the expense of the innocent. The above two recent murders will lend great impetus to the demand for capital punishment in Michigan.—Charles Seed in The Rochester Clarion.

BRIDGE BADLY NEEDED.

The State Highway department has made a desperate effort to provide a better service for autolists across the Straits, having chartered the big railway ice crushing ferry, the Saint Marie, to operate during the winter months, which it has been doing, but many unlooked for delays and stops caused by high winds, drifting and piling up ice, and excessive traffic has caused a great lot of delay, and during the holidays hundreds of motorists have spent many hours waiting for a service they all feel they should be provided immediately upon their arrival at the Straits. All this emphasizes how badly a bridge is needed and how that demand grows.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

THE 25-MILLIONTH

F O R D

HAS JUST BEEN BUILT

IT HAS never occurred before in automobile history that 25 million cars of one make, bearing one name, have been manufactured under one management. The 25,000,000th Ford car rolled off the Ford Rouge plant production line on January 18, 1937.

25 million cars since 1902... more than one-third of all the cars ever built... enough cars to transport the entire population of the United States.

The figures represent a remarkable contribution to the social welfare, the industrial stability and the general progress of our country.

People respect Ford efficiency. They know Ford uses fine materials, the best workmanship at good wages, the most exact precision measurements. They know these things are passed along to purchasers in the form of extra value. Naturally, they like to do business with such a company. That is the only reason it has been required to produce 25 million cars.

Naturally, too, they expect more of a Ford car, more this year than last year — more each year than the year before. They have every right to. The experience gained in building 25,000,000 cars enables Ford to produce today a really superb motor car at a really low price — with the Beauty, Comfort, Safety and Performance of much more expensive cars.

The 1937 Ford V-8 combines advanced design, all-steel construction, extra body room, and brilliant brakes with a choice of two V-type 8-cylinder engines — the most modern type of power-plant on land, sea, or in the air.

The 85-horsepower engine provides top performance with unusually good economy for its high power.

The 60-horsepower engine gives good performance with the greatest gasoline mileage ever built into a Ford car — and wears the lowest Ford price tag in years.

People expect more of a Ford car because it's a Ford — and they get more, for the same reason. It is undeniably the quality car in the low-price field.

Salvation Army Raises $250.00

More than $250.00 has been raised by the Salvation Army in Plymouth and many clothes have been sent to the local headquarters for forwarding to the Army flood relief headquarters in the stricken area. According to Captain Conlin of Plymouth, at Evansville, Indiana, which is under military control, the Salvation Army has been assigned the work of feeding refugees and the food workers. The Red Cross furnishing most of the food. About 14,000 meals are furnished daily, and the paper cups alone for the coffee cost the Army $75.00 per day. Some meals are supplied hot in buildings where the people gather, some are delivered in baskets by auto and boat to marooned homes, while thousands of meals are taken to relief workers and soldiers at their work in flooded areas. The Army's relief work in Evansville is under the command of Adjutant Fred Brewer, assisted at present by Major A. G. Pepper and ten cadets. Major H. Rostett and ten Scandinavian officers take their place this week. About 80 percent of Evansville is flooded.

In New Albany, Indiana, the Salvation Army is cooperating with the Red Cross and the military authorities operating a shelter for 75 men, besides feeding a large number of flood workers and refugees. A 26 foot motor boat, donated by Detroit sympathizers, has rescued many from flooded homes and is used by Salvationists to distribute food and clothes to marooned persons. The work there is under the supervision of Captain Fred Summers, assisted by four field officers from Western Michigan and two women social officers from Chicago.

A large number of refugees from flooded areas are also being cared for by the Salvation Army in many other corn towns and cities in central Indiana.

At Harrisburg, Illinois, in charge of Captain Everett Mover assisted by a number of officers from Chicago, the housing and feeding of all flood victims has been assigned to the Salvation Army, and seven shelters—churches, schools, etc., are occupied. The city is now completely surrounded by water. The colored people are being evacuated and a shelter opened in Carrier Mills, with the Salvation Army in charge.

At Cape Girardeau the Army is caring for 1,000 women and children refugees from Cairo, occupying a large four-story steam-heated building. With the cooperation of the Red Cross, this is now being used for a hospital, with 18 nurses and local doctors. Three nurses were furnished by the Army from Chicago, four by Detroit and the balance by the Red Cross. Medicines were sent in from the Army's Dispensary in Chicago. Major Malcolm Keene is in charge, with a number of officers from Chicago assisting.

This is only a small part of the great work the Salvation Army is doing in this great tragedy and all local help will be appreciated stated Conlin yesterday.

THE LANGUAGE OF YOUR HAND

By Leicester K. Davis

© Public Ledger, Inc.

THE affectionate side of one's character is, of course, one of the most important of temperamental qualities. Affection is expressed in many ways. The form it takes is invariably indicated by the thumb.

The thumb of this type indicates a well-balanced and normal degree of affection coupled with a generous disposition. It is easily recognized. Such a thumb is always well set and pleasingly proportioned. This is notable in its length and in the equal or nearly equal lengths of the nail and middle joints. The first, or nail, joint is firm and resilient; under pressure towards the wrist. Its underside curves gracefully to the nail tip and the sides are usually slightly tapered. The second, or middle, joint is straight, although with a thumb of this type it may be slightly inclined toward slenderness.

The third, or palm, joint is straight without a hint of irregularity. The underside of this joint, that is, the surface nearest the palm, is inclined toward fullness but blends smoothly into the palm.

The position of such a thumb on the hand is also of importance in gauging the qualities of affection. If lying close to the side of the hand when in repose, you may be certain that its possessor has a warm and loyal heart but gives his or her affection with discrimination. If, however, the thumb stands far away from the hand, the conclusion would be that here was a man or woman who found it easy to bestow love more generally. This latter characteristic also indicates a tendency to be overgenerous where the affections are concerned. WNU Service.

Chicago never had a town crier, but the lamplighter, once a familiar figure, still goes his rounds and lights gas lamps in some of Chicago's outlying residential neighborhoods. #### RENEWING WATER PIPES

THERE are many sections of the country in which the water is of a nature that corrodes ordinary metals, or produces deposits in the pipes that in time clog them completely. Both of these effects are greatly increased when the water is heated. When trouble of either sort develops in the water pipes of a house, the only practical remedy is replacement.

As a general thing, the need for replacement first appears in the horizontal water pipes in the cellar. Corrosion will result in leakage, which is visible. Clogging shows by the reduced force with which water runs out of a faucet—when the flow from an upstairs faucet is reduced on the opening of a faucet downstairs.

When clogging is suspected, the water should be shut off and a pipe in the cellar disconnected at one of its joints. This requires two wrenches; one for holding the pipe, and the other, the connection. With the joint open, the interior condition of the pipe becomes visible. On making that examination, I have frequently found pipes so clogged that even a slender lead pencil would not enter. Under such conditions, the only practical remedy is to put in new piping. The deposit is too hard to be taken out by any method that would not be too expensive to apply.

If the material of the old pipes is not corroded, new lengths of pipe of the same metal can be put in. But when there is corrosion, the pipes should be of a metal that will not be attacked. The kind of metal that is proof against attack by the local water can be learned through inquiry among home owners, the owners of apartments and public buildings, and plumbers and steam fitters.

In many sections of the country, copper is resistant to the attack of local water. In the form of flexible tubing, it can be put in with little damage to floors and walls. This tubing comes in 60-foot rolls. It is sufficiently flexible to be pulled up through the walls alongside the old pipes, which are left where they are. A skilled plumber can put new piping in a house with little more disturbance than the cutting of small holes through bathroom walls.

Paroles May Be Subject Of Investigation

Inquiry Request Comes Directly After Supt. Smith Protest

Following closely on the recommendations that Supt. George A. Smith of Plymouth made pertaining to changes in the parole system of Michigan which would prevent misuse of parole powers and do away with politics in the handling of paroles, came a demand a few days ago in the state legislature for a complete investigation of all paroles issued during the past two years.

The resolution requesting the investigation came from Representative Joseph Magnotta of Albiion. Over in Calhoun county last fall Judge Blaine Hatch, a Republican, had strongly opposed the action of the former parole commission and governor in permitting the release of a prisoner who had specialized in robbing aged women.

Supt. Smith has long battled for a change in the parole system of Michigan and the investigation which has just been ordered may result in something being done along the lines that he has recommended.

The petition for the investigation follows in part:

"A resolution authorizing the speaker of the house of representatives to appoint a committee of three from among the members of the house to investigate the pardons and paroles of ex-Governor Fitzgerald, and especially the parole and pardon of Frank B. Scholl, alias C. L. Anderson, alias N. L. Roth, alias Albert Selmin, in December, 1936.

"Whereas, in December, 1936, one Frank B. Scholl, alias C. L. Anderson, alias N. L. Roth, alias Albert Selmin, was paroled after having served but a short time of a first sentence and pardoned with respect to a second sentence for obtaining property under false pretenses the said second conviction having taken place in Calhoun county in which the defendant was accused of obtaining $10,000 of Consumers Power stock from a Mrs. Olive Ellis, an elderly lady of about 80 years of age; and said conviction having taken place while the said defendant was still serving a sentence for a similar offense.

"Whereas, the case of the said Frank B. Scholl, whose parole was granted in December, 1936, by the commissioner of pardons, and paroles under ex-Governor Fitzgerald, and pardon was granted by Governor Fitzgerald against the recommendation of the trial judge and the prosecuting attorney in the case, is in violation of the principles of sound paroles and pardons; and

"Whereas, this illustration is indicative of pardons and paroles granted under the administration of ex-Governor Fitzgerald, leaving some doubt in the minds of the people of Michigan as to the propriety of such pardons and paroles; now therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the house of representatives, that the speaker of the house of representatives is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of three from among the members of the house to investigate the pardons and paroles granted under the administration of ex-Governor Fitzgerald, and to report as to their findings to the house as soon as possible; and be it further

"Resolved, that such committee be authorized to administer oaths, subpoena witnesses or to examine books and records of any persons, partnerships or corporations involved in a matter properly before such committee, and that such committee be authorized to incur such expenses as may be necessary, to be paid from the appropriation to the house of representatives."

"Resolved, that such committee be authorized to administer oaths, subpoena witnesses or to examine books and records of any persons, partnerships or corporations involved in a matter properly before such committee, and that such committee be authorized to incur such expenses as may be necessary, to be paid from the appropriation to the house of representatives."

"Resolved, that such committee be authorized to administer oaths, subpoena witnesses or to examine books and records of any persons, partnerships or corporations involved in a matter properly before such committee, and that such committee be authorized to incur such expenses as may be necessary, to be paid from the appropriation to the house of representatives."

"Resolved, that such committee be authorized to administer oaths, subpoena witnesses or to examine books and records of any persons, partnerships or corporations involved in a matter properly before such committee, and that such committee be authorized to incur such expenses as may be necessary, to be paid from the appropriation to the house of representatives."

New Hardware In Rosedale Gardens

The growth and expansion of Rosedale Gardens is reflected in the announcement of V. R. Kingsley that he will, on Monday, open a modern and up-to-date hardware store on Plymouth road in Rosedale Gardens, with Anson Hearn of this city in charge of the place. Mr. Kingsley, who lives in Rosedale Gardens and is manager of the Hawthorne Golf club, is not a novice in the hardware business. He at one time lived in South Lyons, where he was employed in a hardware store in that city for many years and he just naturally is interested in the hardware business, as a result, he has stocked his store full of the finest supplies that wholesale hardware houses offer and he hopes to be able to fill a demand that such a rapidly growing section as Rosedale Gardens requires.

WITH 800 nurses and 300 trained disaster workers in the field the American Red Cross is easing the plight of flood sufferers in 10 inundated states in the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys. The Red Cross reports that 625,000 persons have been driven from their homes and need urgent assistance. Admiral Grayson, chairman of the Red Cross, has been appointed by President Roosevelt to coordinate all relief effort and has instructed Red Cross Chapters and personnel to spare no expense in meeting needs. Contributing $1,000,000 from its disaster reserve and asking the public to contribute without delay to a $11,000,000 relief fund, the Red Cross is concentrating on alleviating the acute health situation. Red Cross nurses and doctors work feverishly. Immunization centers have been set up, refugee camps established to minimize the dangers of exposure, food, clothing and bedding rushed to key points. More than 39 Red Cross emergency hospitals have been established to prevent epidemic and treat sickness, and serums and anti-toxins have been sped to points where the situation is grave.

Upper Grades Room

Every Friday we have a free expression period. During this period the children make believe they are talking through a microphone. Phyllis Hawkins, an eighth grade pupil, wrote a poem about Tom's first broadcast.

Tom's Broadcast

The broadcast began with a hum and a start. And Allen began with his interesting part. Of a story by one of the authors we know. First he went fast, then he went slow.

Then the others went on with their mouths to the mike. Reading stories and poems that most children like.

Then Tom broke in with his interesting chatter. What he said really didn't matter. The broadcast resumed with educational talk. And most of the children began to squawk.

It was getting tiresome and rather long. So to close the program, Tom rang the gong.

We have started a stamp club. Allen Owens was elected president.

Most of the 4H boys are working hard to get their work done by March 15.

William Moran stayed home from school half a day, Monday, February 8, on account of a tooth ache.

We are having a Valentine party February 12. We shall have refreshments and entertainment.

The 4H club boys are planning a skating party for next week if the ice is all right.

The safety patrol is working hard for a trophy at the end of the year.

We are hoping to improve our school ground this spring.

The janitor has made a book-case for our room so that we will not have to leave the room when we wish to get a book—thank you.

Allen Owens expresses his opinion of Abraham Lincoln in verse.

Lincoln was a tall gaunt guy. With a ready smile, he never told a lie. He stood six feet with his shoes off.

I bet he never lived to see his muscle get soft. His feet were big; his nose was long.

But you can tell by his eyes that he never did wrong. He studied very hard; he learned to debate.

The only trouble was, that he stayed up too late. He was the Republicans' good selection.

They wanted him to win the election.

It wasn't long before we had to fight.

And freedom for the slaves came into sight.

You have all heard the story of how Grant took Lee; And Lincoln proclaimed that the slaves were free.

The war was hardly over. When we found that Lincoln was no more.

He had been shot by a thoughtless man. The grief and sorrow went all over the land.

Lincoln had died, but had served his cause.

Every time we speak of him, he deserves a large applause.

Bennett Garage Complete One

Workmen have practically completed one of the finest private garages in this entire vicinity for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennett at their home on South Main street in Plymouth. The garage has been constructed with the idea of protecting one from the wintry and stormy weather as well as eliminating, as far as possible, the many inconveniences associated with automobile storage.

The structure not only provides protection for their cars, but it has also been constructed so that a recreational room is provided on the second floor of the building. This is one of the little things that Mr. Bennett has desired all of his life and now when fancy dictates he can go to the second floor of his garage, play pool, read, write or rest just as he pleases.

The doors to the garage are so arranged that they can be opened from the automobile by an electric attachment. The driver does not have to leave his car in order to operate the doors. Back in the old days when a fence gate could be operated by pulling a weighted rope, thereby permitting Old Dobin and the buggy to pass through without the driver getting out of the buggy seat, everybody regarded the "swing gate" as one of the biggest steps ever taken towards perfection. But now down at the Bennett garage the doors open and close by the simple pushing of a button within the automobile.

From the recreation room on the second floor one has a beautiful view over the Bennett floral gardens that from early spring until late fall are a mass of colorful flowers. Mr. Bennett and his associates certainly have a most delightful place to while away the hours they desire to spend in pleasant indoor recreation.

Among the Moors, if a wife does not become a mother of a boy, she may be divorced with the consent of the tribe and can marry again. This continues until she does give birth to a male child.

Find Skeletons In Old Park

The pastor's residence was then erected.

Finally in 1915, after the new Riverside cemetery had been opened, the village decided to close the Presbyterian lots as a health measure, since they were in the center of town and surrounded by residences. The land accordingly was returned to the church. However, since the property could no longer be used as a cemetery, the church in the past year decided to the village to be used as a park with the provision that the bodies in the cemetery at that time would be removed to Riverside at the expense of the village. This requirement was supposed to have been fulfilled in the years of 1915 and 1916, and the village then took over the land as a park. But the recovery of portions of the remains of so many people who had been buried in the cemetery and who were supposed to have been moved to Riverside cemetery, under the agreement with the village, places the park ownership back in the control of the church, if its board should desire to press its claim for ownership of the land. However, as far as can be learned, the board has no intention of reclaiming the old cemetery.

Obituary

MRS. MINNIE WAGNER

Following an illness that had confined her to bed for more than two and a half years, Mrs. Minnie Wagner died Monday, February 8 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Oral Rathbun on Kellogg street. For years Mrs. Wagner had been a well known resident in the vicinity of Farmington, Northville and Plymouth and until illness made it impossible for her to leave her home, she was active in Methodist church affairs. Minnie Rush was born in Farmington, November 20, 1876 and was united in marriage to Gust Wagner, December 18, 1895. After their marriage the new home was established on a farm near Farmington. Two daughters were born to this union. Clara Wagner Mummy, and Alice Wagner Rathbun. Her husband preceded her in death, October 16, 1933. After his death Mrs. Wagner made her home with her daughters. Quiet and unassuming, Mrs. Wagner's public activities, recovery of portions of the remains of so many people who had been buried in the cemetery and who were supposed to have been moved to Riverside cemetery, under the agreement with the village, places the park ownership back in the control of the church, if its board should desire to press its claim for ownership of the land. However, as far as can be learned, the board has no intention of reclaiming the old cemetery.

Plymouth Wins To Tie Rouge

The Plymouth Cagers, depending largely on their speed and accuracy, defeated the League leading Panther quintet from River Rouge, Friday, February 5, in one of the fastest moving tilts of the Rocks' 36-37 schedule to boost themselves right into a tie with their visitors for first place.

Cotton-top Moe led his teammates in the scoring venture with a total of eleven points vested in 3 double duffers and 5 free tosses. Credit should also go to Captain Bob Egge, who by his good work under the baskets and excellent passing at the right time, kept the Plymouth team well in the lead.

The Rouge five stood relationally to their task even after the backbone of the team, Monday, was put out of the game on fouls. The Plymouth team surged into the lead in the first quarter and held it throughout the entire game although the Rouge five in a last display of power in the fourth quarter drew up within four points of the Rock score.

The Rock team took the lead in the first minute of play as Egge sunk a charity throw and a field goal. Edlof canned two and Ross one to stretch the lead and as the quarter ended the Panthers had a four point handicap to overcome. Mondon and White kept Rouge in the scoring with field goals while the Plymouth team was swishing their charity throws through the hoop to retain their lead and double the handicap against the Panthers. The score at half time was 17-11.

As the second frame progressed the Rouge team crept gradually upon the Blue and White score although Moe sunk two field goals and Egge swished one through. This was mainly due to Mondon who was as successful as Moe with two conversions and backhanded work active as he sank three rift throws. Mondon and Martin both left the game after their fourth foul. The River Rouge team made its last stand as White and Weverlight each made a field goal along with numerous charity tosses. The lone Rock field goal was a long shot by Martin that made the grand total for Plymouth 31. The final score on both sides of the pasture was 31-27.

CENTRAL P. T. A. HEARS GIRLS' OCTET

The girls of the high school double quartet revived one of their favorite numbers of two years ago, the "Czechoslovakian Dance Song", to sing before parents and teachers of the Central school last Tuesday night. A second selection was entitled "Sing Little Banjo." The girls' trio of Edith Mettelal, Florence Norton, and Jeannette Brown, with Patricia Cassidy as alternate, sang two popular songs, "Blue Moon" and "I Love My Contrabass." The musical part of the program, a group of fifth, sixth, and seventh grade boys sang "Home on the Range" and "All Through the Night." The same group also sang at the Methodist church on Wednesday. Joe and Doris Schultz added several guitar and accordion duets.

GIRL SCOTTS JUDGE WEIGHTS

A novelty program was introduced by Miss Killham at the Wednesday night meeting of the Girl Scouts for first class is the judging of weights and distances.

A suitcase, an alarm clock, an iron dog, books, a flashlight, and a notebook were some of the articles to be judged for weight. A Nancy McLaren proved to be the best judge, for her answers came closest to being correct.

A skating party is planned for next Tuesday night at Newburg lake which will take the place of the regular night meeting.

VARSITY CLUB

The pennants are coming! Don't forget to get yours. Let people know you belong to Plymouth high school. "Get your pennant." That is the slogan that the club is taking up now to induce more school spirit and as a campaign to make money for the club to carry out their certain ideas. The club did well by selling popcorn at the last game and are becoming well organized. Later on with added funds, the club plans on making more pennants through the cooperation of the massed training shop in inducing more advertising of school activities.

Miss Frantz's pupils are constructing a postoffice and studying about them in connection with Valentine's day. They have been making Valentine animals of paper hearts.

Howard Regal, formerly of Miss Weatherhead's room, has moved to Detroit. The children are making Valentines in art class.

RESERVES DROP OPENER

Plymouth's second team dropped the first game to River Rouge last Friday, due mainly to being greatly out-sized. The Rocks got off to a good start with two field goals after a few minutes of hard playing, but their lead was short-lived. The rest of the quarter was all River Rouge, with Plymouth trying vainly to hold them.

The Panthers were halted for a time at the beginning of the second quarter and it looked as if Plymouth had a chance. Then the advantage of size began to assert itself and Rouge drew ahead again. As the half ended the score stood 12 and 8, Mr. Kazluskys doing a very fine job of arbiting.

After the rest at the half the Rouge team began a passing attack on the Plymouth team. The ball was passed around in mid-court and finally White of the Panthers broke free to score a field goal which was the best play of that quarter. The quarter ended and it looked as if Plymouth had a chance to get ahead in the end again.

When play was begun again Rouge started another passing attack on the home team but it failed to materialize into anything. The Panther coach sent two substitutes just after Norman of the Rocks made a field goal from back of the red line. As a final effort our coach sent in some fresh men but they couldn't stop the Panthers who won the game by a score of 28 to 16.

GIRL RESERVES PLAN CEREMONIAL

To the senior Girl Reserves has been given the task of preparing and conducting a simple worship service for the end of officers' training conference at the Y on Saturday, February 13. At the request of Miss Hunter, Detroit secretary, the Plymouth club will undertake this responsibility of planning a service in which about 100 officers from high school clubs in Detroit and vicinity will participate. Members who have volunteered to make arrangements are Barbara Hubbell, Phyllis Stewart, Norma Jean Roe, and Marian Gorton.

Members of the 1936 Indiana University football team used 13 1/2 miles of tape during the grid season.

STUDENTS EXERCISE VOCAL CHORDS

Students certainly had their vocal chords "whetted" the last 15 minutes of third hour last Friday morning. They lustily cheered for the basketball team and its coach, Kenneth "Beef" Matheson. "Beef" introduced each player very informally, and then gave the students a pep talk. The school band furnished music for the meeting, and cheers were led by those "ouncing bucks" Billy Thomas and Ed Mulry, well known freshmen.

STAMPING GROUND

At last Ye Old Stamper is back on his feet—being fully recovered from an attack of examination fever—and raring to get back into harness and pick up the scattered threads of this poor, old, neglected column—even though A. Hege, with that famous smirk on her face, wants to know "What column?"

This department hopes that its readers—that's A. H. children breaking in again, "What readers?"—won't mind if it takes time out and says something about Wilkie. It appreciates his special brand of humor. In fact, thinks he argued. Of course, I fell for it's "O. K." The other noon Ye Old Stamper found him devouring a great chocolate double dip and remarked how nice it was to be rich and have such luxuries. "But this is Jewish ice cream," he argued. Of course, I fell for it's "how's that?" "A 'cone' he replied. I have his word of honor that this is original. However, prose isn't his only medium. He also has a command of poetry and turns out some fairly stinging remarks via that field.

All of which reminds Ye Old Stamper to mention the fact that he likes light verse and welcomes the efforts of any amateur scribe. Who knows? Perhaps this untread space of mine may some day be another "Conning Tower." Well, at least a "Random Shot".

Miss Walldorf tells me that some of her brilliant speech students still fervently believe that they breathe from the abdomen rather than the diaphragm.

While the subject of boners is still fresh in my mind, Miss Heam saith that one of her Latin bookworms covers the work of the postman and the costume he wears. They are constructing a postoffice which they will use on Valentine's day. They have set aside one corner of the room for a library; they have made posters and book covers to illustrate the stories they have read. Gene Schiffo has been absent because of illness. Mrs. Newton and Mrs. Welch visited school last Friday.

The students who were new in Miss Rathbun's room introduced themselves to the group by giving biographical talks; these contained information concerning their names, ages, addresses, birthdays, and other data which they thought the class would be interested in knowing. They have organized a citizenship club; each person who has performed the duties of a good citizen each day receives one point, and the one having the most points at the end of the month will receive a prize. As a project to illustrate the life of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln they are making colonial dishes from wood, voice squad cabins, and cotton wigs.

Miss Sparling's students elected officers for this semester. Sam Barry is president, Bernard Jarski is vice president, Lois Ridley is secretary, Gordon Meldy is treasurer, Bernard Jarski is captain of the safety patrol, Erma Elzerman is lieutenant, Berdina Norgrove is captain of the girls' service squad, Lois Ridley is lieutenant of the girls' service squad, Eugene Niper is captain of the boys' service squad, Sam Barry is lieutenant of the boys' service squad. The boys have begun a volley ball tournament. Lois Ridley, Barbara Johnson, and Eugene Niper were the only people to receive penmanship final certificates.

Miss Bock and her students have changed rooms. The 4A's have chosen William Bauman and Lawrence Eckers as new spelling contest leaders; last semester Norma Jean Bauman and Rosemary Herter were captains. Rosemary's team won. The new fifth grade captains are Rosemary Herter and George Newton. The Holland mural is finished and looks very nice. They are now studying the desert, and are planning to make booklets illustrating life in this interesting country.

Miss Maunula's pupils are making an Eskimo project to illustrate Alaskan life.

A wet sleeve may earn a fortune for John Billman of Washington. So annoyed was Billman by rain dripping from the roof of his car on his arm that he invented a rubber device to protect an arm poked out the open window of a car. Billman says his royalties from sale of the device already are enough to support him.

DO YOU KNOW JIM JENKINS?

This Africa of the Moons the call of the Muezzin and the sound of water flowing from fountains," writes Jim Jenkins in one of his World Letters. It sounds interesting doesn't it? You say you have never heard of Jim Jenkins' World Letters! Well, I must say that you have been missing something. It's been going on right under your nose for weeks and weeks and you haven't discovered it. You see, Jim trots around some part of the globe every year and writes a letter a week (he gets paid so he has to keep his promise) to the numerous schools that buy his letters. This year he is traveling in Africa and the countries around the Mediterranean where he will write thirty eight letters. The letters are accurate descriptions of these places and he describes them so vividly that the reader feels he is actually seeing them. If you are interested in these letters you will find them in an attractive notebook on the magazine rack in the high school library.

STARCKWEATHER NOTES

The kindergarten B has 12 beginners. The A group learned the poem "Snow Man". They made red construction paper sleds.

Miss Stader has 31 new scholars. They are studying the work of the postman and the costume he wears. They are constructing a postoffice which they will use on Valentine's day. They have set aside one corner of the room for a library; they have made posters and book covers to illustrate the stories they have read. Gene Schiffo has been absent because of illness. ### GIRLS PEEK AT DRUM MAJOR

Richard Dunlop had an invisible audience last Tuesday, third hour, as he twirled his baton to the music of the band. "The Leaders' club girls were simply fascinated by his maneuvers, and took a few minutes off to watch the unsuspecting boy. Had Richard known that behind all those posters in the lunchroom window was a roomful of girls, he probably would have been pink around the ears and dropped his baton. But if he promises to keep up the good work, the girls promise not to peek at him from behind posters—although it IS a temptation.

CLASS NOTES

Miss Lovewell's 9B class is studying Scott's "Lady of the Lake"; they are making pictorial maps.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH—Loyla Sutherland, minister. Moody centennial celebration. Because of last Sunday being the closing Sunday of our special meetings, this church will observe a Moody day this Sunday. Since the Moody was one of the early students of the Moody school and personally knew Mr. Moody's son and daughter and his son-in-law, we shall speak at the 10:00 o'clock hour on "The Secret of a Great Ministry". At 7:00 o'clock we will observe a service of story and song. Several of our young people will tell something of Mr. Moody's life and we shall join in singing the hymns that were the favorites of Mr. Moody and Mr. Sankey and tell how these hymns came to be written. Rev. Sutherland will sing "Oh What Shall the Harvest Be", the first record he ever heard as a boy on one of the first phonographs. This will be a good old fashioned sing, come and sit with us about the organ, and warm your hearts with the hymns that stirred two continents. We give grateful thanks for the many good things that came to us under the ministry of Rev. Stucky and his family. Only eternity will reveal all that was accomplished. May God bless and keep those who found Christ as their Saviour. No—our Men's Fellowship has not quit! February 22nd will be a great night. I'll Pay My Way

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH
I'll pay my way along life's road,
However heavy is the load
I'll pay my way for what I find,
With kindness try to pay the kind,
I'll pay my way to ev'ry child
That ever looked at me and smiled,
I'll pay my way—not take men's aid
And go my way, my debt unpaid.

I'll pay my way, pay God above
For His, by giving others love,
I'll pay my way, for ev'ry tear
That sorrow sheds gives someone cheer,
I'll pay my way, not walk alone,
My lamp unlit, my light unshown,
I'll pay my way—and, if forgot,
I'll pay my way if blest or not.

Mother's Cook Book

ABOUT FROZEN DISHES
BY ADDING a little quick-cooking tapioca to various frozen dishes, the cream may be thinned and the product just as good or better for most occasions. The tapioca prevents the formation of ice crystals, and so makes it possible to use combinations of milk and cream. When using a mechanical refrigerator, simply set the control for freezing desserts and forget all about it until the freezing is complete.

Frozen Pudding.
Add three tablespoons of quick-cooking tapioca to two cups of milk, with one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt; cook in a double boiler for 15 minutes, or until the tapioca is clear and the mixture thickened. Add one-half cupful of milk, three tablespoons of corn syrup and cook until smooth. Cool and strain through a sieve, then add the tapioca mixture; add two egg whites beaten stiff with two tablespoons of sugar. Fold in one cupful of cream whipped, one teaspoonful of vanilla, twelve blanched, sliced and toasted almonds, two tablespoons of candied pineapple, diced. Turn into a freezing tray and freeze three to four hours.

To prepare toasted coconut bique, use the above recipe, adding one cupful of toasted coconut, crumbled, in place of the fruit and nuts.

Frozen ginger pudding is prepared the same way, adding four tablespoons of ginger syrup and one-fourth of a cupful of pecan nuts coarsely chopped. Serve as usual.

KNOW THYSELF

WHY DO SOME PEOPLE FEEL THEY ARE BORED OR DISGUSTED?

IT IS a queer trick of our subconscious minds that most of us are really envious of the things that we claim to be disgusted with. Likewise, when we try to give the impression that we are bored by something, it is quite likely that we are actually jealous because we ourselves cannot do that particular thing, or we feel that someone else is doing it better than we can. Our ego is pinched, and we must find a way to minimize the thing or person that is causing it. We just pretend we are bored above that sort of thing. People with inferiority feelings are more likely to exhibit this trait than people with self-confidence and social adequacy.

Another Long Distance Rate Reduction
ON JANUARY 15, 1937
Eight reductions in about ten years have substantially cut the cost of Long Distance telephone service.
Further reductions in Long Distance rates became effective January 15th.
Many rates, for calls to points outside of Michigan more than 42 miles distant, are reduced.
All day rates for such calls are reduced. Many night and all-day Sunday rates for such calls also are reduced.
The reductions for the first three minute-range from 5 cent to $1, depending on distance.
It costs less now to do business in distant cities—quickly, personally. It's easier for far-apart friends to keep in close touch.
Sample rates listed in the table below definitely indicate the downward trend during the last decade.

Thoughts on Thinking

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

What I think of thinking is rather hard to print. And what I know of knowing I'd hardly dare to hint.

What I see of seeing I would open up your eyes, and how I'd talk of talking, would fill you with surprise.

For I have talked to talkers who only thought they thought, and I have seen the seeing. See only what they sought. I've known but very few who really knew how little. In fact they really knew.

And so I think our thinking is hardly worth the name. And so I know our knowing is very much the same.

And all our seeing seeing is what we want to see. And all the talkers talking, talk very much like me.

A big company is establishing a chain of milk bars, and farmers are opening others. Hot milk drinks with fruit flavors are in demand.

IMPROVING MICHIGAN ROADSIDES

III. A SURVEY FINDINGS

Many interesting facts were disclosed during a recent study of the roadside conditions. Michigan makes no effort, no attempt to control the use of highways for advertising purposes by means of signs erected on adjacent property.

No state permit is required for such signs. No restriction is placed on the way in which they are placed. This way is demanded. And this contrary to the recommendations previously stated, by one of the highest highway authorities, "absolute control of the highway right-of-way and all its surroundings should be given to the highway authority."

There are certain highways of the state which offer illustrations of the effort to combine beauty and utility. The highways from Saginaw to Bay City along the Saginaw river and the new Duane highway from Benton Harbor to South Haven are examples.

These two highways serve to illustrate the type of roadside which is being advertised in taking a stronger hold than many realize. As you go north from South Haven motorists find their attention begins to slip away from safe driving and scenery for signs begin appearing at the rate of six to the mile between South Haven and Douglas and 14 to the mile between Saugatuck and Holland. This means showing a sign on the average of every six seconds. No scenery can come to cope with such distraction.

High Average Per Mile

So far north where the distance between towns is greater and on the 40 miles of rural roads between Whitehall and Livingston the average drops to four to the mile. From Traverse City to Charlevoix the average drops to four but from Charlevoix to Petoskey the average is eight signs to the mile.

There is an average of 10 signs per mile from Petoskey north to Harbor Springs and on the long distance from Petoskey to Mackinac the average is eight.

Holland with its attractive show entrance along the shores of Black Lake is crowded with signs on its roads. Many of these signs are an attractive entrance on the south with its park and woods and glimpses of blue water but a string of small signs to spoil it.

Such conditions will grow worse and offset all effort to improve Michigan roadsides. What responsive national organizations think is to follow.
