IT IS QUEER.

With farmers, and others who desire help, unable to find men to do their work, the Michigan welfare set-up is demanding the greatest amount of money from taxpayers than has ever before been asked. In this part of Michigan, at least, and from what you can hear about other localities, there is actually a labor shortage existing within the state. Every able bodied man and every able bodied woman who wants to work can find work. Maybe they cannot get just the job they want, but they can find work if they want to. We wonder if our phoney welfare system hasn't developed an army of idlers? There is one thing sure about it anyway, they have destroyed all pride in people. They have educated men and women to believe that they should take only certain selective jobs. Vast numbers able to work, lie around in idleness and vast numbers who are getting big fat welfare salaries as "officials" should be doing something else for a living instead of demanding more money from the taxpayers and living off welfare funds.

A BUSY SUMMER.

Everything points to a busy summer for Plymouth and vicinity. There is considerable building that has already been started and there is much more being planned. The only thing that will stop more extensive development will be continued increase in prices and inability to secure labor to do the work. It has been many, many years since such a condition prevailed and naturally we are all glad that the forthcoming summer looks so encouraging to Plymouth and vicinity.

GOOD JUDGMENT.

Voters can usually be expected to use good judgment on various questions submitted to them, as was evidenced in the last city election when the electors approved all three city charter amendments. The enactment of these three clauses will enable the city commission to develop one of the finest community centers in Michigan. It has already been started and when the city officials finish up the job, the Presbyterian manse has been moved, the vacant lot fixed up, Plymouth will, indeed, have reason to be proud of what has been done. We can thank the Presbyterian church members and the city officials for making it possible for such a fine civic improvement.

WE ARE SORRY.

Sometimes in the best regulated families things seem to go wrong, now and then, no matter how hard you try, to keep things going as they should. That's what happened in one case with a good citizen of Plymouth in connection with The Plymouth Mail. It is just one of those things that is hard to explain, but is deeply regretted. In one of the write-ups just before the city election the name of Carlton Lewis was dropped from the write-up when a correction was made in a proof. To try and overcome this mishap, The Plymouth Mail printed circulars and had them scattered throughout the city, but of course a circular, no matter how carefully peddled, does not reach all the people. Then right on top of that, after the election, came the omission of his name in some way, no one knows how, from the election returns. While Mr. Lewis did not win, he secured a very good vote. The Plymouth Mail regrets, more than any one else, these two errors. But we do wish to tell our readers that no man in Plymouth could show a finer spirit about it than has Mr. Lewis, who has a perfect right to feel offended. Fortunately, for the good of

Suggest Limit On Downtown Parking Here

Merchants Ask City To Pass 2-Hour Ordinance

A plan to limit parking to two hours on certain downtown streets gained support in Plymouth this week.

A recommendation for the passage of a parking ordinance was drafted at a meeting of retail merchants called together last week by Stewart M. Dodge, new president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Police Chief Vaughn R. Smith told the merchants that he believed parking restrictions seem to be the only solution to the city's traffic problem. City Manager Clarence H. Elliott and Mayor Henry Hondorp assured the merchants of their co-operation in the plan.

The merchants adopted a resolution, sent to the city commission by L. J. Murphy, chamber of commerce secretary, suggesting the passage of a city ordinance limiting parking to two hours on Penningman avenue between Main and Harvey and on Main street between Ann Arbor Trail and Fralick (Gravel) streets.

Murphy, in his letter to the commission, suggested that the city officials might be able to work out improvements on the plan.

Considerable sentiment was expressed at the meeting in favor of a 9 p.m. Saturday closing hour and plans for having city band concerts again this summer.

Some merchants favored the selection of some other night for concerts rather than Saturday. President Dodge appointed a committee of Frank Terry, chairman, Irving Blunk and Harold Coolman to meet with officers of the band to arrange details.

Presbyterians To Lay Corner Stone Of Church May 9

Dykhouse Heads Committee To Arrange For Event

The cornerstone of the new First Presbyterian church will be laid on Mother's day, May 9.

Claude J. Dykhouse is heading the committee arranging appropriate ceremonies.

Construction work on the building is progressing nicely and city officials are ready to complete the exchange of property with the church, authorized at last week's election, which will bring great improvements to that area of the city.

At the annual meeting of the church last week Raymond Bachelder was elected treasurer to succeed John W. Henderson, who resigned after several years of service.

Dykhouse and George Wolfram were re-elected to the session, official board of the church, while Dr. G. H. Gordon, Perry Campbell, R. H. Heck, M. G. Partridge and John W. Henderson were re-elected as trustees.

Grade Teachers Hear Miss Roser

At the teachers meeting last Tuesday p.m., Miss Roser, an instructor in the special education department of the Michigan State Normal college of Ypsilanti, gave a very interesting and instructive talk to the grade teachers of the Plymouth schools.

Her subject was "Teaching the Slow-learning Child." This is a subject that is being widely studied in the educational field at the present time.

Miriam Brown Weds Royal Oak Man

Miriam Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brown, formerly of Plymouth, and James Soule, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Soule, of Royal Oak, were married at 4 p.m., Sunday, at the home of the bride's parents at 121 E. Barnes avenue, Lansing.

The Rev. Walter Nichol, of the First Presbyterian church, Plymouth, officiated. Miss Virginia Hallman and James Matthews, college friends of the bride and groom, attended the couple at the ceremony witnessed by 50 relatives and guests.

Mrs. Soule graduated from Plymouth high school in 1935 and attended the Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti. The groom graduated from Royal Oak high school and also attended college at Ypsilanti. The couple will reside at Alder Manor apartments in Royal Oak where Mr. Soule is a member of the police department.

Chief Smith Tells Why G-Men Lick Major Crime

Says FBI's Tireless Scientific Method Is Successful

"Criminals just haven't a chance in the United States due to the progress made in scientific crime detection methods in recent years," said Police Chief Vaughn R. Smith on his return from Washington last week.

"One thing that impressed me during my 13 weeks of special training at the Federal Bureau of Investigation is the dogged determination and tireless, scientific methods of the G-men," he added.

Plymouth's chief, the only Michigan representative among the 34 men picked from 22 states to take the special course, arrived in Washington, January 11 and was immediately assigned to a classroom for lectures given by a large number of experts from various sections of the country.

Inspector Hugh M. Clegg, of the FBI, was in charge of the instruction.

"We really went back to school," the chief recalled. "We were given a portable typewriter to use and took page after page of notes on the crime detection lectures given us."

He said considerable time was devoted to instruction on the establishment of statistics and records, administration and organization.

But the studies of case histories on some of the most famous of the G-men's exploits proved the high spot of interest for Chief Smith. The federal agents in lectures described the situation the G-men found themselves in during the chase of Dillinger and other major criminals. The class was instructed as to how to place men and equipment in such round-ups as that of "Pretty Boy" Floyd or "Ma" Barker and her gang.

Then, too, there was laboratory work. The "students" would be sent to a house to search for crime clues in hypothetical cases.

"We had to search for fingerprints, blood-stains and other minute clues which would help us analyze so-called unsolved, difficult cases. Then we put the information gained in lectures to further use by taking the clues we found into the big scientific laboratory where 27 federal agents, each an expert in his own crime detection science, would give us technical assistance.

That's the way the tough cases are cracked by the federal men."

Robinson Believes City Will Meet Housing Needs

Convinced Plymouth Will Build Homes As Needed

City Commissioner George H. Robinson is convinced that Plymouth will meet the challenge for new homes as the need develops.

"I saw prosperity bursting forth from every hamlet and city on my trip back from Florida," said the Commissioner, who with Mrs. Robinson and their four-year-old grandson, Russell, Jr., returned 10 days ago from a two-months stay in Florida.

"I've never seen Florida so busy. They are making steady progress in building and are really coming out of the depression in fine shape. We traveled considerably throughout the state while we were there and every place we were jammed with people. Many people were living in trailers this year because of high rentals but food, except for milk and butter, was cheaper than it is here."

"Plymouth looked good to us on our return. I am glad to see the continued progress the city is making and the building, both of homes and of an industrial nature, convinces me that Plymouth, as it always has in the 26 years I have lived here, will meet the demand for housing as it develops."

The city commissioner said that the big winter season in Florida assures Michigan of a boom tourist season this summer. He spent a month at Tampa and the last four weeks at Lake Worth, near Palm Beach.

Mrs. Hamburger Quits City Post

Mrs. Ruth Hamburger, secretary to the city manager here for the past five years, has resigned, effective today, to take a position with the First National bank of Plymouth.

The popular city hall official, with her husband, H. H. Hamburger, plan to leave Friday on a two-week vacation trip during which they will travel by automobile through several southern states.

Mrs. Hamburger will assume her new duties at the bank on May 1. No appointment has been made of a successor for her city hall post.

Bakhaus Host To Kiwanians

Members of the Kiwanis club were the guests of Herman Bakhaus at the Cloverdale Dairy last Tuesday night. After a trip through Plymouth's largest dairy and an inspection of the ice cream manufacturing plant by those in attendance, the host treated them all to some of the ice cream that was made that afternoon.

All agreed that the dairy was spotlessly clean and that the ice cream was supreme.

Any clubs or business places desiring to enter a team in the soft ball league are invited to attend a meeting at Room 16 of the high school building on Monday, April 19, at 8:00 p.m. Last year the teams which participated in the league schedule were: Daisy Air Rifle company, Frigidaire, Red and White Stores, Wilson's Hardware, Schrader's Funeral Home, Varsity, Plymouth Mail and Knights of Pythias.

Methodist Fair Proves Good Entertainment

The county fair held by the Methodists last Friday and Saturday nights proved to be a very worthwhile affair for all those concerned and those who attended the affair. The setting was typical of a fair and many local merchants had exhibits that added much to the occasion.

The entertainment for the affair consisted of musical selections by the South Sea Hawaiians, a group of boys and girls from Salem, tap dancing by Donna Williams and Jimmie Shetterloe, an act by Clark Dickerson and Upton and a blackface sketch and song by W. C. Smith. Miss Carol Campbell was the accompanist for the musical selections.

Vaccinate 400 Students Here For Smallpox

About 400 students of Plymouth schools were vaccinated for smallpox last week.

This precaution was urged because several Plymouth residents were exposed to the disease at a recent basketball game in Jackson.

How Michigan Looks To The New York Times

"Politically, of course, Michigan piled up the right brand of pluralities. But economically—good gracious! Isn't that uneasy peninsula between the lakes the place where all the trouble that afflicts this nation starts? Didn't the banking panic of 1932 rear its ugly head in Michigan and either maul or strangle the rest of the country? And haven't we now a plague of sit-down strikes made and patented in Michigan and ready for export? We have, indeed. Only a few months ago we thought fondly of Michigan as our greatest producer of automobiles. And now what does she produce? Strikes and strikes and strikes."

Galin Expands Purity Market

Dave Galin will open his Purity Market in its new location in the former Samsen building, which The Plymouth Mail formerly occupied, on May 10.

Galin purchased the Penningman avenue building from the Samsen estate this week and is completing plans for completely modernizing the new store to provide a general market.

He announced that he will add equipment and facilities to provide a general market including full lines of groceries, fresh vegetables and fruits, as well as meats.

Galin plans to establish a full-time delivery service at his new store and will continue to smoke his hams and make his own sausage in his new plant.

Communication

The Plymouth Mail: Acting on your urgent appeal in recent issues of The Plymouth Mail to build houses, we are arranging to construct for sale several small homes in the city of Plymouth, the first of which is already under construction on Palmer street.

We understand from different sources that there will be a ready market for modern homes at moderate prices, and we intend to build the type that will not only be a house but also an up-to-date artistic home.

Owing to our having a completely equipped general wood-working mill, where we specialize in frames, sash, stairs, cupboards, etc., everything, in fact, that enters into the construction of building we are in a position to save the middle man profits on the mill work which is a considerable proportion of the cost of construction in even moderately priced homes.

Our Mr. Penhale's experience over a long period of years in construction work of all kinds, combined with his engineering and architectural ability makes an ideal set-up for advising and carrying out ideas of the prospective home builder.

The writer has also had a life time connection with the building of homes. Prior to the late depression period he built and sold hundreds of homes in Detroit and its environs.

Consequently, we believe we have the set-up, the experience, to give real service in planning and building for those who are interested in having well constructed homes at moderate costs.

CITY HEALTH OFFICER "TAKES A WALK"

During the past ten days, the health officer of the city has been inspecting many properties within the city limits. His report to the health department has been everything but pleasing. Many property owners are paying no attention to the sanitary conditions about their premises. Rubbish and refuse matter should not be allowed to accumulate. Many lawns are strewn with waste papers and debris — direct violations of city ordinances. Alleys were found congested with materials that should not be allowed to collect. The throwing of wrapping papers and paper bags and other waste upon the streets of Plymouth should be stopped. Let's all be more careful and painstaking in the future, said the health officer as he left The Plymouth Mail reporter.

Frank E. Durtee Passes—Well Known In Plymouth

He leaves his wife, Alice Patterson Durtee, two brothers, George of Northville and Fred of Novi; two sisters, Nettie of Caro, and Jessie of Lansing. The city commission will select a mayor and mayor-protem at a meeting next Monday night.

Several appointments will also be made at the same time including an assessor, two members of the board of review, city attorney, four members to the Wayne county board of Supervisors, one trustee to the Riverside cemetery board, two members of the board of registration, a city treasurer, and two members of the recreation committee.

Former School Nurse Passes Away In Chicago

Word has been received of the death on Monday of Mrs. Robert Hodges, formerly Miss Lillian Bonesteel, a nurse in the public schools of Plymouth.

Mrs. Hodges, whose home was in Alberta, Canada, came to Chicago a month ago for treatment and an operation followed from which she survived only a few days. Her body was taken to her girlhood home in Galesburg, Illinois, where the funeral took place Thursday. Mrs. Hodges spent several years in Plymouth as nurse in the schools and always took a great interest in her work and also in the Presbyterian church which she attended. Her many friends here deeply regret her passing.

Did You Know That

Earlier Closing Will Give Employees Shorter Hours

In line with other Michigan cities, Plymouth business places, except drug stores, ice cream parlors and gasoline stations, will close promptly at 9 p.m. Saturday nights starting on April 24.

A committee of business men have already obtained the signatures of almost every commercial establishment, and expect, before next week-end when the plan will be inaugurated, to have 100 percent support.

The committee reports enthusiastic support from employers who desire to shorten the working hours of their employes which in the past has been as much as 16 hours on Saturdays. On and after April 24, most business places will be open until 9 p.m. instead of the former hours of 10 p.m. or later.

The committee believes that persons in the Plymouth trading areas will co-operate fully by making their purchases earlier on Saturday nights to permit employes of local stores extra time off.

Pontiac, Farmington, Ann Arbor and several other cities already have earlier Saturday night closing hours and Northville and other nearby communities are expected to follow suit.

The business places which have already signed the agreement to close at 9 p.m. on Saturdays, beginning April 24, include:

O. K. Hat Shop, Wild and Company, Norton's Meat market, A. G. Taylor, Jeweler, Plymouth Hardware company, Gayde Brothers, Albert Barrow's Meat market, both Kroger company stores, and William Choftin.

Agnes Thompson, Bartlett and Kaiser, Plymouth Feed store, The Great Atlantic and Pacific store, Sanitary Bakery, William T. Pettungill, Penningman market, Woodworth Bazaar, David Galin, Calvin Simon, Blake W. Fisher, Norma Cassidy, Mrs. C. O. Dickerson, E. A. White Radio shop, D. & C. Stores, Inc., and Wolf Cash market.

M. E. Ladies Plan Many Events

The ladies of the M. E. church held their regular monthly meeting, Wednesday afternoon, April 7. A delightful one-act play entitled, "Sauce for the Goring" was enacted by seven members of the Senior Drama club under the able directorship of Miss Winifred Ford. After a hearty laugh over the clever, ruse used by three up-to-the-minute parents to impress upon their offspring the undesirability of too much slang in their everyday speech, the program chairman, Mrs. William Farley, turned the meeting back to the officers. After the business was finished, ice cream and wafers were served to the ladies.

Many plans are afoot among the various circles of the Aid to raise money as well as promote sociability. The members of Mrs. A. White's circle gave a luncheon on Thursday, April 15, at 1:00 o'clock. Members of several of the churches from the surrounding towns were invited.

Saturday, April 10, a sub group of Circle 1 led by Mrs. William Otwell, held a rummage sale at Mr. Robinson's store, with a bake sale in the adjacent Penningman Market. Tomorrow, Saturday, April 17, another sub group of Circle 1, chaired by Miss Ada Daggett, are making and selling crispy, melt-in-your-mouth fried cakes, plain or sugared, as fancy desires. Orders are being taken in advance by Mrs. Miller Ross, Miss Phila Ferguson, Mrs. Maurice Ferguson and Mrs. Blake Fisher, Jr. These delicious fried cakes may be secured, hot, on Saturday at the church, where they are being made.

On April 28, the last Wednesday of the month, the general Aid is giving a public supper. An excellent menu will be offered. The public is urged to attend, enjoy good home cooking and treat "Mrs. Housewife" prior to Mother's Day to a fine meal minus the aftermath of unwashed dishes.

A very lovely occasion, which it is hoped many of the women of Plymouth will attend, will be the May breakfast given by the ladies of the Aid at 12:30 on May 12. This is to be a gala affair of daily breakfast.

Tonquish Creekers Have Big Meeting—Membership Grows

(By The Press Agent)

Because The Plymouth Mail didn't have any news last week about The Ancient Order of Tonquish Creekers is no sign that the Order is dead. It is alive and kicking.

But the press agent of the organization must admit there's a big internal row going on. It seems that Jack Taylor, a rank outsider, who has no more right to have anything to do with the Creekers than Hugh Johnson or Prof. Tugwell, wants to take an active part in its affairs. He has appeared before two or three meetings behind closed doors and says that he wants the creek made into a polywog farm instead of a big lake where Dr. Butz and Dr. Champe can spend their evenings fishing.

Well, that's the trouble. Who wants a polywog farm right down town in back of the stores where the polywogs would soon be croakers, disturbing the night life of Plymouth?

Official Spokesman Clair Maiben told the press representative a few days ago that that was where the shoe pinched.

The credentials committee has poked with favor upon the application of Henry Honorp. It has held up the application of Fred D. Schrader, who thought he was a charter member and then found he wasn't, and it is taking under advisement the question of whether to give an application card to William Conner. There seems to be a feeling that this former Democrat might have some ax to grind in connection with the creek, therefore Tonquish Creeker Finlan thought it might be well to consider this question further. That's all the news this week.

What's The Time? Call Central

Roy Crowe Says The Phone Girls Will Tell From Now On

Anytime you want to ascertain the time-of-day, just lift your telephone receiver and as "central"—she will tell you. For on April 10, the Michigan Bell Telephone company inaugurated 24-hour a day time-of-day service in all its exchanges, statewide, according to Roy Crowe, manager for the company in this area.

Establishment of statewide time-of-day service is in line with the policy of the Michigan Bell company of broadening and improving telephone service in the continuing development and introduction of improved equipment and methods of operation, the speeding of the service, and the reduction of various local and long distance rates and connection and other charges, Mr. Crowe states. Officials of the company believe that, inasmuch as in most communities there has been no point from which the time-of-day could be obtained by telephone, the time announcement service will prove an appreciated addition to the service the company supplies.

Engineers of the Michigan Bell company anticipate there will be a daily average of upwards of 130,000 calls for the time-of-day after the statewide inauguration of the service. In Detroit and Grand Rapids, where the service has been supplied in the past, it has been found that the busiest hour for time calls is between seven and eight o'clock in the morning, and that that hour Monday morning usually is the very heaviest of the week. It is assumed that seven to eight is the hour when a great many people,

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

BACK TO SCRATCH.

There is a bit of disappointment in the state election. The republicans were hopeful that the voters would register a definite disapproval of Governor Murphy's handling of the several major sit-down strikes. The democrats had hoped for an emphatic endorsement. With the exception of Mr. Van Wagoner, whose victory was more or less personal, the results are virtually a tie. No winner will have over 5,000 majority and outside of the highway post the offices are evenly divided. One thing is certain, the 300,000 majority received by President Roosevelt last fall has been wiped out and both parties are back at scratch, which situation, in a way, is a good thing for Michigan when 1940 is considered. It is not beyond a possibility that both parties will come to Michigan for presidential candidates: Vandenberg and Murphy. Both parties are going to need Michigan in this next national test.—Muri H. DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

THEY IGNORE LAW BUT OBEY LABOR DICTATOR! There is a deep-seated conviction that the present epidemic of sit-down strikes is being inspired and conducted by interests which are not representatives of American ideals. By "American ideals" we refer to something different, something more than a mere wage rate. We agree that there must be balance between the wage rate and the cost of living. Workers have a right to demand decent working conditions and pay adequate to feed their families. But there has been something more than mere wage rate which has been very precious in the annals of American history. It has been the right for a man to advance on merit—for the able, ambitious, provident individual to profit according to his disposition and ability.

This might be called the "merit system" for want of a better word. It has rewarded the conscientious worker. It has penalized the indolent loafer.

We have a notion that this will be strangled in mass organization. We feel that it has been strangled to a large degree in the system of mass production. We are not sure but that the present unrest is a natural and inevitable result of our mass production system. Surely "sit-downs" have become a popular fad among workers—and, developments would indicate that in some cases have become a vicious racket in which underworld characters are playing prominent parts.

There is a basic reason, however, which seems to point to a way out. The present wave of unrest is being initiated and sponsored by ambitious leaders—obviously ruthless leaders. They have flouted the law and the courts. They encourage workers to do the same. The organization has developed from the "top down" not originated and grown up from the ranks of workers. It is a form of labor dictatorship. In this respect it is un-American. It is un-democratic. Both the lawless and the autocratic angles of this movement would indicate it will be relatively short-lived. It will, however, during the epidemic, produce a form of fanaticism which will take some months to modify.

There is a deeper and more significant threat in the conduct of this wave of sit-down strikes—this passive resistance to law and order. It might conceivably grow into a form of dictatorship. Even this week John L. Lewis offered his services to settle what the governor of the state of Michigan, the committee representing law and order, and the owners of the property occupied patently and admittedly have not the authority—or possibly the courage—to settle. Consider, if you will, a self-appointed labor leader complacently volunteering to wave his hand, say a word, and get results where constituted authority fails; where government by the people and of the people is sneered at.

Is it possible that America is harboring some form of "brown shirt" or "black shirt" government, and refusing to recognize it as such?—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican-News.

CIVIL SERVICE.

A very good friend of ours recently took exception to remarks made in these columns favoring a civil service system for the state. Possibly there has been some misunderstanding. We do not favor civil service because we believe it is a cure-all for patronage evils. We favor it merely because it offers a way to settle at least a few of these evils in a sane manner. We agree that a civil service system can be abused. The United States government, for example, is doing it right now. Postmasterships, according to a bill sponsored by the president, himself, are supposed to be awarded through civil service tests. But it is common knowledge that this is not being done. But civil service systems can be worked effectively England is an outstanding example. The thing to consider is that under the present patronage system there is absolutely no hope of improving conditions; civil service does provide a possible method. The experiment is worth trying. We can't get a worse system than we have now; we might get a decided improvement.—Dick Cook in The Hastings Banner.

arising to go to work, or anxious to get to work on time, or to get the children off to school, wish to check their time-pieces, and that the number is greater on Monday mornings because many persons neglect to check their clocks and watches over the week-end. Fewer calls are made for time service on Saturdays than on the normal business day, and fewer still on Sundays and holidays.

Eleven o'clock until noon appears to be the second busiest hour of the day, perhaps because of many folks making lunch and other noon appointments.

Another busy period is that from around four until 5:30, when many people begin thinking about getting home or not getting home to dinner, or about getting dinner ready for the homecomers. Time service is light through the dinner hour but between seven and eight it picks up once more, with a great many people making evening engagements or arranging to keep them. There continues some volume of calls until nine or ten, but not so great as during the earlier evening hours, of course, and there is a lessening number thereafter.

As five in the morning approaches, the calls begin increasing in number, with the rising of farm folks, the milkman and others whose work takes them out in the early hours.

BILL* for the finest cooking that money can buy:

COST OF OPERATING AN ELECTRIC RANGE

Family of 3 $1.70 per month

This figure is a 4-month's average (October, November, December and January) of actual cooking costs in families of three persons, at the rate of 2 1/4 cents (cost) per kilowatt-hour. Special record meters were installed on these customers' ranges to determine actual cooking costs, and the figure above — about 1/2-cent a meal's portion — is the result. This is the AVERAGE of the cost figures obtained: Some of the actual costs were higher, some were lower. The cost of operating your range will vary with the amount of cooking done, and with the use of retained heat and the waterless cooking method.

Electric Cooking is not expensive!

*These latest figures on the cost of operating an electric range show an average of about ONE-HALF A CENT a meal a person. Actual meter tests were made in homes using electric ranges. The cost figure is obtained under everyday working conditions in ordinary kitchens... the ranges are used by women cooking meals daily for families of three, four and five people, or larger. In the survey, 5 well-known makes and 9 different models of electric ranges were included. These tests prove conclusively that electric cooking is not expensive. 10,000 of your neighbors chose electric cooking during the year 1936. SEE THE NEW ELECTRIC RANGES ON DISPLAY AT DEPARTMENT STORES, ELECTRICAL DEALERS, AND THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY.

WEST BAPTIST CHURCH—Loyd Sutherland, minister. Were you in church last Sunday? If not, why not? We are seeking with our sister churches to have you find such help as you need for every day living as a Christian. We consider at the 10:00 o'clock hour, "The Source of Life". Text: "Everything shall live whither soever the river cometh." What about the good old days, so called, as compared to our present modes and manner of living? 11:15, Bible school. Because of the fact that most of our young people will be in attendance at a state wide B.Y.P.U. gathering at Battle Creek, there will be no 6:30 meeting here. It is expected that 1000 young people from all over Michigan will be at these services next Sunday, and we are most happy to make it possible for our group to be there. At the 7:30 service we are to have a combined service with the Salvation Army. Colonel Habkir, with his assistant, Capt. Kohler will conduct this service. Col. Habkir is to give his most celebrated sermon on "Black Sheep". Both these men are talented musicians. During each evening this week these workers are in special services at the Detroit House of Correction. You will not want to miss this meeting next Sunday evening which is to be held in this church. It is expected now that our local Kiwanis club will attend in a body. The Loyal Daughters hold their monthly meeting next Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Esther Minthorn, on Church street. Remember always our mid-week service on Wednesday evening.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN church—Walter Nichol, pastor. Services at Masonic temple, 10 a.m. worship, 11:30 a.m., Sunday school, 7:00 p.m., young people. The Ready Service class will meet in the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cutler on Ridge road, Tuesday, April 20 at 1 p.m. There will be the usual cooperative dinner and an interesting program. A large attendance is expected. Circle No. 2 of the Woman's Auxiliary will serve the church supper at the Masonic temple on Wednesday, April 21, at 5:30 p.m. Mrs. Edward Hauk is chairman of this circle. Mr. Dykhouse is at work with his committee on the corner stone laying exercises which will be held on Sunday, May 9. Any suggestions as to what should be included in the corner stone box should reach this committee soon. The work of the masons on the new church is approaching completion. The tower is up almost to full height. It gives a fine balance to the appearance of the building.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist—Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of twenty years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00.

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 18. Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 51: 17): "The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and contrite heart. O God, thou wilt not despise." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 51): "Sorrow for wrongdoing is but one step towards reform and the very easiest step. The next and great step required by wisdom is the test of our sincerity, namely, reformation."

No trace of the chicken thieves who stole between 50 and 60 chickens from Verne Forshae a week ago Sunday night, has been found. The police from the sheriff's office stated they were "investigating" five other such depredations in this vicinity. However, if they ignored some of the evidence as they did in this case, the investigations would not be likely to prove too productive.

Prayer and praise service, Wednesday evening at 7:30. It has been well said that the prayer meeting proves the popularity of the Lord Jesus Christ. Will you share this blessing with us? In Matthew 11:29, the Lord Jesus said, "Learn of me." It was the presence and power of God which made the disciples so powerful. Others noticed they had been with the Lord. Their very lives glowed with Christ. The like of their messages had never before been heard. Paul says "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus" (Philippians 2:5). To have the mind of Christ means to be in fellowship with Him. We can only do this as we learn from Christ Himself. Those who have learned of Christ, are today content only as they preach His unsearchable riches (A. E. B.)

Spirit of Service

A SERVICE that is vital to public welfare puts a special responsibility on those who supply it. Many workers recognize such an obligation. And they include the 8500 men and women behind your telephone in Michigan.

Time and again telephone employees have shown self-sacrifice in the public interest, have faced danger with courage and perseverance. The operator choosing to stay at her switchboard during fire or flood; the plant man maintaining circuits in a heavy storm—their devotion to duty has become a tradition.

Emergencies bring them to your attention, but their spirit of service is in effect day and night, week in and week out. They know the public importance of their work. And they do it well—with skill, promptness and courtesy.

Without that spirit, Michigan would not have the kind of service it is getting today—as fine telephone service as there is available anywhere in the world.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

New Power Development To Create Lake East of Kalamazoo

Editor's Old Swimming Hole Going To Be Bottom Of Lake

Manager Lew Price of the Plymouth office of the Consumers Power company didn't know it the other day when he brought to the office of The Plymouth Mail a news article that was all about the old swimmin' and fishing hole of "ye editor" back in the days before professional well-faring became the chief thought of most folks.

It seems that The Consumers Power company has decided upon another power development in the Kalamazoo river and that the new lake that is going to be created, is going to put that old swimming hole right in the bottom of that lake.

The announcement made by Dan E. Karn, vice president of the Consumers now located at Jackson, another former Kalamazoo resident, states that the new development will be a steam electric generating plant.

The plant will be named in honor of the late Bryce E. Morrow, whose early devotion to electrical development brought him the personal friendship of Thomas A. Edison and Charles P. Steinmetz and who, at the time of his death in 1936, was chief engineer and manager of the production and transmission department of Consumers Power company.

For the past several months the utility has been making thorough engineering surveys of a number of sites along the river, final decision of which depended upon which would be most economical in all respects. Major equipment for the plant has been purchased and it is expected that construction will commence immediately in order that the first unit may be in operation by June 1, 1938.

One of the high lights of the project will be the large lake extending up the river toward Galesburg that will be formed by the dam which is one of the items of construction now being planned. According to Mr. Karn, the shore line will be improved for recreational sites and the lake will be stocked with fish. A large supply of water for cooling and condensing purposes in connection with the efficient operation of a steam generating plant is a prime requisite, explain Consumers engineers.

Bryce E. Morrow, in whose honor the plant will be named, was born in 1873 and came to this country with his parents when very young. He was educated in the public schools of Schenectady, New York, and went to work for the Edison Machine Works in that city in 1888, when he was 14. He assisted Thomas A. Edison and Dr. E. A. Kennelley in tests of the first alternating current generator built at the Edison Works which later became the General Electric company. He later became closely associated with the electrical wizard, Charles P. Steinmetz.

Mr. Morrow's technical education was obtained by private study and through lecture courses at Union college. He had charge of equipment installation at various locations for the General Electric company and for a number of years was head of the testing department, resigning from that concern in May, 1902, to become operating manager for the Hudson River Power company at Mechanicsville, New York. A year later he became operating manager for the Hudson River Electric Power company, formed through the merger of several power companies operating in the Hudson and Mohawk valleys.

After three years with the Utility Mutual Insurance company which he joined as chief engineer in 1912, Mr. Morrow came to Jackson, November 29, 1915, as manager of production and transmission for the Consumers Power company. In 1922, management of the electrical construction department was added to his duties and they were again increased in 1929 when he became chief engineer of the Consumers Power company.

His activity in accident prevention included chairmanship of the company's central safety committee and of the safe practices committee of the National Safety Council, having been a member of the committee on dangerous machinery appointed by the New York department of labor. Mr. Morrow held numerous other safety committee posts at various times and also took an active part in the affairs of the National Electric Light association in which, during 1910 and 1911, he was chairman of the committee on protection from lightning.

He was elected an associate member of the Edison Pioneers in 1921, having been connected with the Edison organization between the years 1886 and 1900, the period specified for that honor.

On October 29, 1935, the grade of fellow in the American Institute of Electrical Engineers was conferred upon Mr. Morrow. That honor was in recognition of his contribution to the electrical industry, his early years devoted to the development of power companies of the east and more than 20 years during which his ability in organization, administration and leadership was a dominant factor in the progress of the Consumers Power Company.

During his life Mr. Morrow developed a keen sense of the value of friendly relationships with his fellowmen and was widely known and held in affectionate esteem for his charitable and very human qualities.

D. A. R. Children Meet On Ship

Plymouth Corners society, Children of the American Revolution was represented by Betty Ann Mastick, junior president of Plymouth, Jane and Winfield Holden, grandchildren of Mr. and which would be of use in disarming a prisoner or in subduing an insane man. Then we had daily calisthenics and there were chinning bars, bicycles and rowing machines for other exercise work. Oh, yes, there were others who lost much more weight. One fellow in the class dropped nearly 40 pounds.

Mrs. Donald P. Yerkes, of Northville, Sally Ann, Zedonna, Mari-belle, Charles, and Mrs. Charles W. Horr, Jr., senior president of Detroit at the second meeting of the society held on board the sailing ship, the J. T. Wing, anchored at Waterworks park, Detroit, at 10:00 a.m., Saturday, April 3.

The class spent one full week at the Quantico Marine base on the Potomac river, 40 miles from Washington, but it wasn't any vacation trip at that. Chief Smith and the rest lived in the Marine barracks and learned how to operate all types of firearms including machine guns, high powered rifles, pistols and tear gas guns.

"Every night our shoulders would be so sore and lame we were sure we wouldn't be able to hold a pistol the next day," the chief recalled. "But after a couple days our arms toughened to the task and our marksmanship improved rapidly, even while firing from moving automobiles or at moving targets. The week spent at the base convinced me of the value of regular target practice and if possible I would like the Plymouth police force to have regular monthly practice sessions."

The idea behind the Federal Bureau of Investigation system of bringing local officers from all parts of the country for special training is two fold. In the first place it co-ordinates the crime detection forces of the nation—city, county, state and federal. Secondly, the men who receive the training Chief Smith obtained are capable of assisting other local officers in their areas of learning the newer, scientific methods of combating crime.

Plymouth Debaters To Represent Michigan In National Contest

Two members of Plymouth high school's debate team have been invited by the executive council of the National Forensic League to represent Michigan in the national tournament at Jacksonville, Illinois, from May 2 to May 7. The fortunate contestants are Jewel Starkweather and Tom Brock who have participated in over 60 debates in four years with a loss of only four. Their coach, Mr. Latture, and his wife will accompany the team. There are two ways for a school to have the opportunity to attend the conference—by winning the state championship of the National Forensic League or by receiving a special invitation from the head of the association. Since no state contest is being held this year in Michigan, Plymouth is competing through invitation. It must be remembered that the national organization and the Michigan High School Forensic Association in which the local team participated until two weeks ago are entirely separate organizations. The Michigan High School Forensic Association is a state group sponsored by the University of Michigan, while the National Forensic League is made up of nearly 500 high schools throughout the 48 states and is sponsored by a number of colleges. Each year it conducts a tournament for the best teams from each state. Last year in Oklahoma City 29 states were represented in speech work which includes declamation, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and the most important, debate. These other forms of public speaking will be contested in a state tournament at Dearborn in several weeks. In this contest, several other Plymouth speakers will attempt to win and go on to Jacksonville with the debaters. Carol Campbell and Leo Schmitz will represent Plymouth in declamation; Jewel Starkweather, Florence Norton, or Richard Gilles in oratory; and Edith Mettetal, Tom Brock, or Edward Landau in extemporaneous speaking.

HOME NURSING CLASS CARE FOR BABY

The eighth grade girls have been studying a chapter entitled "The Care of the Baby" in home nursing. A mother brought her two month old baby to class and Mrs. Strasen demonstrated to the girls how to bathe and dress him. Then they discussed the proper foods and times for feeding a baby. To see these girls with strained eager attention attending to this demonstration as if they were "looking in" on one of the world's greatest wonders was to realize how soon the "eternal feminine" shows itself.

CENTRAL GRADE NOTES

Miss Marion's kindergarteners won the P. T. A. Major Bowes amateur contest, receiving $5.00 as their prize. With the money, they intend to buy pictures for their room. Sally Ann Holcomb tap danced in the contest, and Ronald Broquet sang a solo. The kiddies are eagerly watching their spring gardens grow. They have made umbrellas for window decorations.

The kiddies in Miss DeWaele's room are making community posters and also those on safety projects. They have learned a new song entitled "Red and Green Lights". They are still working on their penmanship papers. Elton McAllister was Safety Patrol boy for the last week.

Dora Rutherford of Miss Landon's room has moved to Salem. The children have learned a poem about a turtle.

In Miss Weatherhead's room the pupils made a perfect attendance record one day last week. The Bluebirds have a new reader entitled "Friends About Us". In bird study they are learning about the Oriole and the Wren. The boys and girls had a spellopp last week. Patricia Burton has returned from Florida.

The volleyball team from Mr. Berridge's group of boys defeated Starkweather's team two sets to one. The pupils in his room are learning about the gold finch in bird study. In geography the 6B pupils are studying India, while those in the 6A are learning about Germany.

Noel Hover has returned to Mrs. Holliday's room after his trip South.

CLASS NOTES

Mr. Latture's classes in civics are now rounding up their study of state government. All groups have written projects on the subject in order to gain a knowledge of the more intricate details of the government of our state. In order to complete the projects they used the Michigan Manual and other literature issued through the secretary of state. The groups will, upon the completion of their study of state government, begin work on local government.

This week senior high art classes started two large murals which will be used to decorate the art room.

The fifth hour public speaking class has formed a club for the purpose of practicing parliamentary law. The club is called the "Youth Discussion Group." Officers are elected every two weeks. Douglas Miller was elected president. James McClain was chosen as vice-president. Weltha Selze was selected as secretary-treasurer, and Robert Egge was given the-ahorse of sergeant at arms. Merle Fisher and Tom Brock were appointed to plan topics for discussion for the next two meetings.

Plymouth Leads State In Speech

The Plymouth chapter of the National Forensic League has been informed by the executive council that it ranks first in Michigan in the speech activities of the league members for April. The standings are computed by totaling the number of members in each chapter and the degrees that chapter has won. Plymouth with seven members and six degrees of distinction, the highest possible honors, has a total of 27 points. River Rouge with 20 and Muskegon Heights with 15 follow the local school. The achievement of Plymouth is quite unusual since this is the first year it has actively participated in the league and since its activities have been almost completely limited to debating. The members of Plymouth's chapter are: Marilyn Holton, Jeannette Brown, Dorothy Hearn, Florence Norton, Edith Mettetal, Jewel Starkweather, and Tom Brock.

SENIOR BIOGRAPHIES

Jeannette Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brown of Lansing, is one of the few seniors who has spent all of her school years in good old P. H. S. She was born February 7, 1920 in Plymouth and has always been one of the most studious members of the class. She has been a member of Girl Reserves for four years. Pilgrim Prints for two, taken part in inter-class sports for three years and has her school letter. She was vice president of the class in her junior year and secretary in senior year. She is one of the two valedictorians of the class, having an all A record. Her favorite orchestra leader is Andre Kostelanetz and her hobby is playing the piano. She particularly likes the music of Chopin and Debussy. Jeannette would like to be librarian and hopes to attend Michigan State college next year.

after graduation, she will have a chance to try her abilities as a housewife.

Elton Bakewell, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bakewell of Plymouth road, has been a pupil in Plymouth high school since his entrance from the Newburg Intermediate school. Elton, commonly called "Bud," is strictly a Newburg product which may explain his flair for cherries, especially atop a chocolate sundae, and the color—blue. After leaving school Bud plans to raise hogs with which he will establish one of Plymouth's biggest hog ranches.

Patricia Cassidy, the tall and dark-eyed younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Cassidy, lives with the family on Harvey street. During her years in high school, Pat has played a leading part in class activities. She has won her school letter, has participated in interclass activities, has been a soprano in the double quartet for three years, an active Girl Reserve, is secretary of the Student Council, and played the part of "Jo" in the senior play. After graduating Patricia hopes to study foreign languages at the University of Michigan to help realize her ambition to teach in the West Indies. She is interested in aviation and would like to adopt it as her hobby. At present her favorite actor is Spencer Tracy and her pet aversion, she says, is hypocrites.

Irene Cieslinski lives on Hazelton avenue, Detroit, and attended four schools there before coming to Plymouth high as a freshman. These were Oak, Beach, Fisher, and Coolidge. Irene, who is taking a commercial course, is a member of the glee club, Girl Reserves, and drama club. She was in the Senior play this year and is taking part in interclass sports. She has also represented the class in the Student Council and stunt night. When not busy with school work Irene likes to read, sew, or draw, and she hopes to continue either as a dress designer or in a business career. Among her favorites are Shep Field's orchestra and Gladys Swarthout, opera star.

Doris Compton is one of the several seniors who has been with the class ever since entering kindergarten here 13 years ago. She is the third daughter of Harold Compton and lives with her family at 592 Mill street. While in high school, where she is finishing a commercial course she has been a member of the Junior chorus and glee club, and has taken part in the Muscald every year. Much of her leisure time is spent in sewing or in bicycling, her favorite sport. As Doris plans to be married soon

Rock Trackers Lose To Dearborn

TENNIS TEAM NOW SELECTED

The tennis season started off with a bang. Eleven enthusiastic players have tried out for the team. The boys that managed to make it were: G. Moe, L. Smith, A. Anderson, B. Norman, J. McClain, B. Norman, and B. McAllister. The tennis team has a new apparatus to restring rackets. Anyone who has a racket that needs to be restring can get it fixed for a very reasonable sum if he asks one of the members of the tennis team.

STARKWEATHER NOTES

The fifth and sixth grade girls of Miss Sparling's room have chosen teams and are playing a baseball tournament. The craft class made some very nice copper plaques; in art they made cut-paper pictures.

Miss Farrand's sixth grade geography class is studying the interesting country of India. The fifth grade class has finished the studying of the north central states; they are now planning maps of Michigan.

Miss Bock's language class has begun bird books containing stories and pictures of cardinals, bob-links, kildier, and English sparrow. The fifth grade made product maps; the fourth grade is studying about the picturesque country of Holland. Madeline Gears is absent; she has a broken arm.

For bird study Miss Maunula's pupils made booklets containing pictures of robins and crows. They have learned the poem "April".

Miss Rathburn's pupils wrote diaries of an imaginary stage coach journey in the year 1850. Each day they have an arithmetic drill; one person in each of the three rows has a chance to work a problem correctly. One point is given the person who does so.

Two girls in the kindergarten composed the words and music for two songs. These will be put on huge posters and will be illustrated. Jean Curtis wrote "The Flowers" and Jacqueline Showers wrote "The Easter Bunny". The kindergarten A's can recognize their own names. Miss Stader's pupils are practicing for their gold and silver star buttons for penmanship. They have decorated the walls and blackboards with paper chickens and ducks and are now planting seeds which will be transplanted out doors as soon as the weather permits.

University, Detroit, was the critic judge. The declamation contest in which Carol Campbell participated began at 4:15 p.m. Charles Youmans of Dearborn was awarded first place with his selection "The Call to Arms". Janice Bemis of Ecorse was placed second with her selection "Don't Die on Thldr". Carol Campbell of Plymouth was very close to second place. Only after much deliberation was it decided that Miss Bemis was just a little better. Carol's declamation was "Labels".

The oratory contest was held at 7:15 p.m. Douglas Vernier of Dearborn won first place with "A Heaven of Peace". Richard Gilles of Plymouth was awarded second place with "The Enemies of Youth" attacking the dope problem in the United States.

The extemporaneous speaking contest was held at 8:15 p.m. Clyde Ebling of Dearborn was placed first. Barry A. Lifford of Ypsilanti was awarded second place and Edward Landau of Plymouth was very close to second. Edward was the only tenth grader in this contest and his subject was more difficult than Can't get around it...

"It's Buick again!"

EVERY flock has to have its leader—and you'll find plenty of proof on the road this summer that Buick's the pace-maker of this year's crop of cars.

So if you'd rather feed dust than eat it, you'll take the wise step now, and make sure that when summer comes you're up front in the driver's seat of a Buick.

There's no getting around the power a Buick can pour into the job of getting you there quick and quiet and easy—its valve-in-head straight-eight engine gives you the soaring flight of an eagle when you want to cover ground.

It's got a steady, fretless, road-leveling gait that makes travel effortless as light chasing shadow, whether you're just loafing along or shooting for a record distance for the day.

In this marvel car you ride in seats like easy chairs. You finger controls that seem to sense your next wish in advance.

You've got brakes to halt its thunderbolt action and bring it gently down to rest with the smooth lightness of misting rain.

You've got a car that's a young man's fancy, light-footed, eager, adventurous—a car that's any man's pride so honest is it in the solid worth of every nut, strut, bolt and thread.

Why handicap yourself this summer when so plainly it's Buick again for value? You'll find this great straight eight easy to buy as the average run of sixes — and if you get your order in now you'll be leading the parade in a bellwether Buick when summer gets here.

LOWEST BUICK PRICES EVER!
At today's prices, a big Buick valve-in-head straight eight costs little more than the average six outside the lowest price field! Compare delivered prices and learn how little more buys a bellwether Buick.

West Attends Farm Truck Show

A. R. West of the A. R. West, Inc., 507 South Main street, Plymouth, has just returned from Detroit where he was guest at a big dealer meeting of the International Harvester motor truck organization. The occasion was the announcement of an entirely new line of International motor trucks.

Mr. West is most enthusiastic about various improvements incorporated in the new Internationals. The complete, new line consists of 26 models in 75 wheelbases, with gross vehicle weights ranging from 4,400 to 62,000 pounds. They include conventional four-wheel units, six-wheelers, with both dual drive and trailing axle, and cab-over-engine types. Powerful truck engines, numerous wheelbases, a variety of rear axle ratios, two-speed rear axles, and multiple-speed transmissions, especially in the heavy-duty models, permit accurate selection to satisfy many special hauling needs.

Mr. West also stated that much was said at the meeting about International Harvester's expansion of research, engineering laboratory, manufacturing, and proving ground facilities. The two big truck works in Fort Wayne, Indiana, and Springfield, Ohio, were enlarged by addition of new buildings and new, modern machine equipment. At Fort Wayne an axle manufacturing unit with 125,000 square feet of floor space was built. Engine production departments were also enlarged. At Springfield Works, where light duty International trucks are manufactured, new buildings totaling more than 300,000 square feet of floor space were erected. These include a new assembly unit, one of the most modern in the automotive industry. There are three parallel assembly lines, each almost 1,200 feet long. Other new buildings provide greatly increased cab, body and sheet-metal parts production and painting facilities.

work against the ravages of every form of seditious activity. To pack the court is virtually to destroy the integrity of the constitution. It is to let down the bars to European autocracy.

Is capital so fearful of losing its hold that it will stoop to any form of autocracy rather than face the issue in the old democratic way? If so, let it remember that under Hitler, German industrial tycoons may be operating their plants, but their capital and most of their profit belongs to the government. Let it remember, too, that while European labor is a slave to autocracy it is a rebellious uneasy slave. It is a slave with a red flag up its sleeve—the bloody flag of revolution that could make the sit-down strike of today look like a pie-throwing contest in comic opera.

An Editorial

(By Helen Gilbert)

All over the world today the trend is toward autocracy. Labor under Mussolini, Stalin, Hitler, and their ilk has fared rather badly. The autocratic merging of legislative, executive, and judicial branches of government has protected capital at the expense of labor because it has held a distorted and biased interpretation of the proletarian constitution it had sworn to uphold. The hue and cry in America today is social justice—this same cry that created disaster in Europe may easily lead to disaster here unless the cloud that covers the real issues is lifted so that the common people, the American Democracy, may express themselves as a true democracy and not as the befuddled puppets of some autocratic demagogue. By packing the court Mr. Roosevelt assumes a dictatorial power as extensive as that in many European countries. Here as in Europe the people will find themselves with a constitution so twisted and distorted that their freedom will be coerced, their homes in jeopardy, and social justice—in the finest sense of that much abused term, an impossibility. Under Mr. Roosevelt that power might not be abused. But eventually, in all probability, it would be.

It is foolish to assume that the Supreme Court is an obstacle to social justice. If that is true then the good old American constitution is also an obstacle to social justice. For 150 years the constitution has been our chief bul-
