Plymouth To Take Part In Tourney In Illinois

Plymouth high school will be represented in the seventh national speech tournament of the National Forensic league at Jacksonville, Illinois next week by two veteran debaters, Jewel Starkweather and Tom Brock, and Edith Metetal, who holds the state extemporaneous speaking championship.

These three seniors will compete with students from 38 other states during the tournament, which lasts from May 3-7. They will be accompanied by their coach, James Latture, and Mrs. Latture.

Jewel and Tom have achieved many honors during their four years of debating and public speaking. They have won bronze, silver, and gold medals, gold pins awarded by the Detroit Free Press for participation in state elimination debates, and gold watches and a bronze, gold-lined cup for the school by competing in the state championship debate at Hill auditorium last year. They both hold Degrees of Distinction in the National Forensic league. As a sophomore Jewel represented the school in declamation and this year was runner-up for the state championship in original oratory. Two years ago Tom won the school, sub-district, and district championships in extemporaneous speaking. At present Jewel is president of the student council, vice-president of her class, and one of the valedictorians having an all 'A' average. Tom is president of the senior class and editor-in-chief of the school paper.

Although Edith has been active in public speaking for only two years, she has won two medals in debate and also wears a gold pin for participation in elimination debates. She has won her Degree of Distinction awarded by the league and will represent Michigan in the national contest in extemporaneous speaking.

In the debate tournament qualitative ratings, rather than win or lose decisions, will be given in the first five rounds to determine which teams are to continue in the race for national honors. From then on each team will be eliminated with two defeats, and with one defeat after the ninth round. The two final teams will debate for the national championship on Friday, May 7 over the N. B. C. network.

Attending this tournament will be particularly interesting as Jacksonville has been the home of many famous men. Stephen A. Douglas practiced law and began his political career there. Among those who attended the college were Anne Rutledge, William Herndon, Lincoln's law partner, and William Jennings Bryan. The debaters hope to have a chance to speak in the same classroom in which the brilliant orator studied years ago.

Large Shipment Of Furs Sold At Good Price

Walled Lake Firm Reports Good Business

William Vreeland, Sr., head of the Vreeland Fur Company at Walled Lake, reported the sale of a large shipment of furs on the New York market this week.

Vreeland, while in Plymouth this week, said that 10,000 muskrat skins brought an average of $1.86 each, one of the highest prices in several years.

He also sold 300 mink at an average price of $10, 300 coon at $5 each and 1,000 weasels at 75 cents each. He said he had shipped 5,000 skunk furs and 2,000 possums to the London market but had not heard yet whether they had been sold.

"Yes, the price on the muskrat skins was exceptionally good," he said, "although we have sold some skins as high as $2.00 this year. But considering the fact that at various times muskrat have only brought as little as twenty-five cents each we were glad to get this good price."

The Vreeland Company buys furs from all parts of Michigan, Ohio and Indiana but many of their skins are brought in by trappers living in the Plymouth trading area.

Women's Play Is A Big Success

"Her Honor the Mayor," the three-act play presented Wednesday evening in the high school auditorium by circle 4 of the Woman's Auxilliary of the Presbyterian church, was a huge success. Each character did her part in a very capable manner, causing laughter galore throughout the whole performance.

The play was about a young fellow, Lester Farmer (Elsie Arscott), running for mayor, who planned a speech against the rights of women to win him the office but did not figure in his fiancee, Eve Greenway (Kate Henderson) turning suffragist. She was so provoked with him that she decided that she would run for mayor. A little later a sedative put in a cup of tea for Mr. Farmer by Eliza Goerber (Rosemary West), the "culud" cook, was taken by Eve instead. While sleeping she thought she had been made mayor and many exciting things happen only to waken and find it all a dream.

In between acts three members of the girls double quartet of the high school sang and Jimmy Shetterloe sat danced and were greatly enjoyed by the large audience.

Mrs. Milton Labie, who directed the play and the whole cast may feel well repaid for their efforts.

Other members of the cast were Hon. Mike MacGoon (Ethel Schlander), Clarence Greenway (Delite Taylor), Mrs. McNabb (Henrietta Dobbs), Doris Denton (Norine Wood), and Rosalie Meyers (Dorothy Phillips).

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wilson have returned to their home in Detroit after spending the winter in Palm Beach, Florida.

Public Hearing On City Budget Set For Monday

City Commissioners Complete Study Of Estimates

The city commission met in special session last night to complete their preliminary study of the proposed budget for the year 1937-38.

A public hearing on the budget has been set for Monday evening, May 3.

The commissioners have already made a few minor changes in the budget recommendations of the committee composed of Mayor Henry Hondorp and Clerk Clarence Elliot.

The recommended budget estimated miscellaneous revenues for the year, July 1, 1937, to June 30, 1938, at $16,589 which would leave only $68,850 to be raised by taxes for city operations. This amount is less than $800 increase over the previous year and will be raised easily by taxes on newly constructed buildings not on the tax rolls last year.

The tax rate and valuations on all other property, city officials estimated, would remain the same as last year.

Manager Lush Books "Maytime" For Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

Patrons of the Penniman-Allen theatre will be interested to know that Manager Harry Lush has booked for showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights without additional admittance charges the outstanding musical picture production of the year, "Maytime."

The show stars two of America's most famous singers, Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald.

Other famous actors in the play are John Barrymore, Herman Bing and Tom Brown, besides a large cast of outstanding players.

The picture, which up to the present time, has been shown only in the larger cities of America, has a commended record crowds wherever released. It recently closed a two week run in Detroit, with attendance records at the theatre where shown among the highest it ever had.

To lovers of musical pictures of the highest type, "Maytime" is probably the outstanding production of Hollywood studios. The sound reproduction of the music in the picture is said to be perfect.

Into the interesting script of the picture has been injected such popular songs as "Carry Me Back To Old Virginia", "Virginia Ham and Eggs", "Cara Nome" from "Rigoletto", arias from "Tales of Hoffman", "Jump, Jim Crow" and scores of other delightful musical selections.

There will be three showings of this amazing picture Sunday, two Monday night and two Tuesday night. The prediction can be freely made that the theatre will be packed for each showing—and Plymouth can show to Manager Lush its appreciation for booking the outstanding picture of the year by filling the theatre to overflowing for each performance.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Austin visited relatives in Elmwood, and Berkey, Ohio, Sunday.

G-MEN JOIN SEARCH FOR BANK ROBBERS

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation started a relentless manhunt this week for the gunmen who grabbed $7,500 in a sensational daylight robbery at the Depositors State Savings bank in Northville last Tuesday.

The G-Men are working hand in hand with the Michigan State Police to track down the clever gang of hold-up men who have made successful get-a-ways after robbing eight Michigan banks in the last four months. In each case the job has been accomplished so quietly and quickly that a clean escape was made with but meager clues and descriptions left behind.

In recent weeks the bank crime situation has alarmed Michigan authorities as hold-up after hold-up has been committed without a single capture. State, county, city and federal law enforcement agencies are asking the public to aid in the drive to again rid Michigan of this type of banditry.

Chairmen Selected To Direct Campaign Committees

A drive to double the membership of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce got underway this week when chairmen were named for four campaign committees.

Stewart M. Dodge, president of the Chamber of Commerce, announced that Carl Caplin, Russell Daane, Floyd Eckles, and Elmer Zuckerman would head the groups to solicit every business place in the city. Each chairman will name the remainder of his committee for the two weeks drive.

"Through the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce," said President Dodge in urging cooperation in the city-wide drive, "soliciting among the merchants and industries has been practically eliminated. Now all solicitors must obtain the approval of the Chamber of Commerce before any merchant will listen to the proposition of any solicitor. This method eliminates fraud and unnecessary embarrassment on the part of the merchant.

"Plymouth has made steady systematic progress during the past few years. In the immediate future there will be rapid advancement and development. Progress doesn't just happen in any city. Progress which Plymouth has made in the past, the progress which Plymouth will make in the future, was not and will not be accidental.

"For 15 years the citizens of Plymouth have united their efforts through the Chamber of Commerce in analyzing the needs of the community and in working out the proper activities to meet those needs.

"Orderly advertising of the city's commercial, industrial and educational assets can't be carried on promiscuously by individual citizens.

"Things are happening in Plymouth and will continue to happen because we have here a clearing house for important civic activities. Such an agency is the Chamber of Commerce, an organization which is working for you and for the commercial and civic development of this city every day of every year.

"In this light, the support of the Chamber of Commerce by every citizen able to give is most reasonable. The building of a community is decidedly a cooperative enterprise. No citizen will claim exemption from this responsibility if he is truly interested in Plymouth."

During the past year the Chamber of Commerce has been supported by 75 members but with the pressing need for the extension of activities due to the expansion of the city the committee has set a goal of 150 members for 1937-38.

Less than 40 members were enrolled when the Chamber of Commerce was organized in 1922. The nine directors at that time, Harry R. Lush, Frank Rambo, W. J. Burrows, Ernest J. Allison, O. P. Martin, William Pettigill, Carl Shear, A. E. Blunk and H. J. Fisher, gave freely of their time to make the original Chamber of Commerce a going organization.

It was formed for the purpose of "promoting the commercial." (Continued on Page Seven)

RAMBLING with Editors of Michigan AROUND

ALCOHOL WILL SOON AGAIN BE THE TARGET.

There is evidence that alcohol will soon again become the target of considerable critical attention in this country. Here and there some outspoken critic of the liquor traffic gets attention—and publicity. In some of the churches statistical facts concerning the volume and extent of this business is being called to the attention of those who are opposed to it.

More significant, we think, is the fact that some of the brewers and distillers are attempting to get literature into public places—even public schools—which they hope will justify their business. The number of people employed and the amount of money paid for materials will be emphasized. Also the amount of tax paid by this business will be played up. What is spent by the public for beer instead of bread will not be a part of the manufacturers' propaganda.

The abuses which developed under the prohibition era are too fresh in our minds to demand recounting. The development of bootlegging, gang rule with its attendant horrible list of murders and the undermining of law and order, are still something for this country to look back upon with shame. There is still need for sanity in considering this bothersome traffic.

Several facts always have and always will be prominent in any consideration of this subject. Liquor sale and distribution will always be a problem. It should be so recognized. As a problem, the "profit motive" should be taken out of it. We held at the time Michigan went back into the business, and we still believe, that a minimum of abuse could be obtained if the state itself was the sole distributor.

So long as intoxicants are sold by competing private individuals and enterprises on the same profit-basis as other business is conducted, just so long the desire for profit will outweigh discretion at times. Moreover, the tax, rent, help, and compliance with regulations makes it almost economically necessary for vendors to wink at the law.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican-News.

RAISING CHILDREN.

Italy has encouraged a high birth rate in order to provide future man power for wars; Germany is offering higher pay to married men than to single men and endeavored to stimulate the German birth rate for the same reason—man-power for war (but incidentally Germany has failed in this and the birth rate is decreasing); and Russia is aiming at doubling its population in 25 years in order to have man-power for war. Could anything be more heartless than bringing these millions of children into the world in order that they may become "cannon fodder" for the rulers of nations?—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

WHY SHOULD AN EDITOR TRY TO PLEASE EVERYBODY?

"Should think running a home-town newspaper would be a very difficult job—trying to please everybody." In making the above remark an editor's commiserating friend was well meaning but not too thoughtful.

Running a home-town newspaper is difficult, and must be extremely so for editors who try to please everybody. It has been our observation that editors who try the latter last from one to five years.

An honest editor with convictions is sure to make enemies. On the other hand, if he doesn't he won't have any very strong friends. We do not believe that it will pay an editor to needlessly step on people's toes nor hide behind his editorial "we" to say things about a public official's policies which he wouldn't say to his face under proper circumstances.

But if a man has some experiences upon which to draw, an insatiable appetite for facts, a fairly well established philosophy of life, and a lot of faith in plain, every-day people, we believe that he can helpfully interpret the news of the day, condemn wrong practices and uphold right principles without fear of the type of person who may decide to hate him.

If such an editor will not be afraid of fact-founded contradiction—even by himself later on—and will avoid that malicious malady known as "enlargement of the cocco" we believe that with a little business ability he will get along.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

The play, "The Old Maids' Convention" which was held Thursday evening in the L.A.S. hall by the ladies was very well attended. The "old maids" all took their parts very well, and the L.A.S. wishes to thank all who took part, and especially James McNabb and Robert MacIntyre for their wonderful sound effect production.

Mrs. Emma Ryder, who has been spending the winter in West Palm Beach, Florida, arrived home Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Ryder states that just before returning home, she took a very interesting trip to Fort Meyers, Florida, and also enroute home, she stopped over in Cincinnati to visit Mrs. Arthur Pahlla.

Mrs. Harry Bassett of Wayne was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Taylor on Friday evening.

Miss Susan Thurman, who has been spending the last four months in California returned home Friday evening.

Mrs. Edgar Stevens and daughter, Elizabeth attended a shower on Saturday afternoon in West Highland given by Mrs. Gault and daughter, in honor of Miss Leota Prince, who will become the bride of Russel Stevens on Saturday, May 1.

Rev. and Mrs. McClain of Riverview were dinner guests of the Hoffmans on Friday evening.

Callers on Mrs. Clyde Smith and her young daughter, Marilyn, on Sunday were Mrs. Robert MacIntyre and sister, Miss Jean Buchanan of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ayers.

Clark Mackinder, who is in the University hospital, Ann Arbor, continues about the same.

Mrs. Ida Thomas called on her daughter, Mrs. Carl Harris Sunday, who is in Woman's hospital Detroit recovering from a major operation.

Mrs. Thomas entertained six ladies on Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Stella Simmons' birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brewer of Detroit were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James McNabb on Saturday evening. The occasion was Mrs. McNabb's birthday.

The south quarterly conference of the church will hold a potluck supper and business meeting in the L.A.S. tonight, (Friday).

Miss Stella Miller of Ann Arbor was the guest of Miss Lydia Joy on Sunday.

Wednesday, May 5, at the home of Mrs. Bertha Joy, with a potluck luncheon at 1 o'clock.

A tropical toad, pylomedusa, bi-color, lays its eggs on a leaf just before a rain so that they will be carried to some pond to be hatched.

Our notion of the world's toughest job is that of a bill collector for a firm that sells these motor trailer homes on the installment plan.

COST OF OPERATING AN ELECTRIC RANGE

Family of 5 $2.20 per month

This figure is a 4-month average (October, November, December and January) of actual cooking costs in families of five persons, at the rate of 2½ cents (net) per kWhr. Special record meters were installed on these customers' ranges to determine actual cooking costs, and the figure above — about ½-cent a meal a person — is the result. This is the AVERAGE of the cost figures obtained. Some of the actual costs were higher, some were lower. The cost of operating your range will vary with the amount of cooking done, and with the use of retained heat and the waterless cooking method.

Electric Cooking is not expensive!

*These latest figures on the cost of operating an electric range show an average of about ONE-HALF A CENT a meal a person. Actual meter tests were made in homes using electric ranges. The cost figure is obtained under everyday working conditions in ordinary kitchens... the ranges are used by women cooking meals daily for families of three, four and five people, or larger. In the survey, 5 well-known makes and 9 different models of electric ranges were included. These tests prove conclusively that electric cooking is not expensive. 10,000 of your neighbors chose electric cooking during the year 1936. ### Former Plymouth Clergyman Dies

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Petersburg Methodist church for the Rev. Nathan Norton Clark, who at one time served as pastor of the Plymouth Methodist church.

Rev. Clark, who died last Saturday at the age of 95, was the oldest preacher in the Detroit Methodist Episcopal conference.

He entered the conference in 1872 as a circuit rider and retired in 1910.

Advancing years failed to halt his work, however, and after retirement he served as secretary of the historical society of the conference for more than 10 years.

He also delivered many sermons in recent years and for the last 14 years had preached the anniversary sermon at the Petersburg church. For the last few years he had lived in Chelsea.

During his 38 years of active service Rev. Clark served in Forster, Harrisonville, Wayne, Plymouth, Fowlerville, Williamston, Deerfield, Petersburg, Birmingham, Vernon, Saginaw and New Lothrop.

A History Of The Presbyterian Church

The first church of the old township was located in Northville. The following persons were then received as members at this meeting by examination: Henry Tibbits, Mrs. Hannah Stanbrough, Mrs. Mary Bronson, and Mrs. Hannah Peck.

James Purdy and Ira Bronson were chosen deacons and elders of the church.

The meetings were held in a schoolhouse near Plymouth Corners. The first frame schoolhouse in the village of Plymouth stood on the triangle between Church street and Penniman avenue or where that triangle is now; this was probably the schoolhouse used.

Eric Prince held occasional meetings in 1833-1834. The constitution was drafted by Henry Tibbits, John L. Johnson, and David B. Wilcox in June, 1835.

In April of 1835, the trustees, James Purdy, Ira Bronson, Henry Holbrook met at the house of Ira Bronson to select a suitable person to superintend the building of a meeting house, and Ira Bronson was chosen.

The church was formally organized July 14, 1835; Rev. Eric Prince attended this meeting, and it was decided to give Alexander M. McKunkin a call to be pastor at a salary of $200 a year in half yearly payments.

He accepted the call and the Presbytery of Detroit installed him pastor of the church, September 1835.

In the autumn of 1835, the congregation took possession of a new frame meeting-house which cost in the neighborhood of $400.00.

On November 27, 1835, Ira Bronson presented a bill of $386.62 for materials and building, a few other bills were brought in later.

At this time, there were about 35 members; all the material was hauled from Detroit with teams of oxen and it took three days to make the trip one way.

This frame building was used until the fall of 1849; then was sold to Henry Holbrook; he moved it and sold it to the Baptist society for a church; received $110.00 for it. Later the Lutheran congregation purchased it and when they built a new church, the little old frame meeting-house was converted into a wagon shop and for many years stood on the corner of Spring and Starkweather avenue. On January 1, 1838, there remained a debt of $105.00 from the society to Mr. Shearer.

Members up to 1937—James Purdy, Elizabeth Purdy, Peter Smith, Elizabeth Smith, Louisa Hammond, Fiedella Hammond, Lydia Hammond, Deborah Bradner, Samuel Stanbrough, Ira Bronson, Henry Tibbits, Hannah Stanbrough, Mary Bronson, Mrs. Hannah Peck, Lewis Purdy, Daniel Smith, Laura Grant, Levi Van Inwagen, Ann, Sally, and Jane Van Inwagen, Mrs. Bethiah Johnston, Prudence Woodruff, Hannah Barns, Electa Bradner, Nancy Rotenshugh David B. Wilcox, Nancy Stevens, Polly Cargill, Jane Fralick, Sarah Holbrook, Mehitabel Safford, Lydia Dean, Fanny Dean, John Lindsay, Marian Lindsay. It is inferred that these members were subscribers for the first meeting house.

In 1849 a brick church was erected; this cost about $750.

A son of Eleazer Bennett took care of the first meeting house, and Peter Kiersey took care of the first brick church in 1850-1852. The first committee chosen to sell the slips or pews was Henry Fralick, John Kellogg and Benjamin Barker.

Four sold at $12.50 each; eight at $10; eight at $8; four at $7; six at $6; ten at $5 each. The last mention of the renting of the pews was in 1879. In 1869 some of them rented for $30 each per year.

April 15, 1876, a meeting was held to hear the report of a builder from Detroit.

He had made an examination of the church and found that this plank that had been laid under the foundation, had rotted away and caused the south side to settle and crack; and the rest of the church was in bad condition; a new roof was needed, a furnace and stained glass windows were suggested.

The estimated cost for the repairs and changes was $2500. A committee was appointed: G. A. Starkweather, C. W. Hicks, and Amos Stevens, to get subscriptions.

The pledges were made and work started June 9, 1876 and in January 1877, the church was ready to re-open.

The dedication sermon was preached by Rev. John A. Baldwin of Detroit; prayer by Rev. James Du Bar of Northville.

Industrial, civic and general welfare of the community" when Plymouth had a population of less than 3,000, and the Chamber of Commerce has played an important part in each step of development of the city to a 1937 population of approximately 5,500.

During the early days of the chamber of commerce the spare time officers directed their work toward bringing about civic improvements and in 1926 the group took a step which only recently brought the Burroughs Adding Machine company to Plymouth.

In 1926, when the late Allen Horton was president and Cass Hough was secretary the Chamber of Commerce set aside one day in May for a Burroughs day.

On this day officials of the Burroughs company were brought to Plymouth to convince them of the advantages of bringing their industry to this city. A year or so later the company bought a site for a plant and in the fall of 1936 starting building their plant, the construction of which is now progressing rapidly.

This is but one of the many farsighted things brought about by the long time planning of the Chamber of Commerce.

In 1928 the Chamber located its offices in the Mayflower hotel and in 1929 hired its first paid secretary, the late Berg Moore. L. J. Murphy took over full time duties in this post on the death of Moore in 1935.

Throughout the last 15 years the Chamber of Commerce has been the clearing house where barriers could be broken down and groups of merchants with related problems could once and for all reach agreement.

We have two more names added to our dental honor roll. They are Earle Bassett and George Petraszewsky.

We have a sign of spring on our auditorium window sill. There is a robin's nest with one egg in it.

Dorothy Rorabacher returned last week having recovered from the mumps.

We are busy taking Stanford achievement tests.

The lower grade teachers' zone meeting was held here last week, Tuesday.

Lower Grade Room

We have been building a garden in our room. We planted some flower seeds in it. Robert Rorabacher brought us two tulip plants. We have some tomato plants in our garden too. We have many plants in our room.

Juanita Norris brought a cotton plant to school. It came from Tennessee. Juanita's grandmother brought it to her.

Gains Recognition In Art World

ably fine reproduction of the kitchen, was exhibited in February in the 132nd annual Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts show at Philadelphia and last November was part of the 47th annual American Paints and Sculpture exhibition at Chicago. Previously it was on display at Detroit.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Rousseau, who live on Ann Arbor trail in Newburg.

Angeline isn't quite sure just what started her on her career in painting.

"Perhaps it was an attractive paint set I saw in a Detroit show window when I was ten years old," she replies laughingly to all inquirers. "Anyway, dad got it for me and I started in with it." The only formal art training she has had was six weeks while attending Marygrove college where she graduated with an A. B. degree in English in 1932. She graduated from Plymouth high school in 1928.

Her specialty is portraits as anyone who visits the Chateau Rousseau discovers from the paintings on the walls. One of her best in this classification is one she painted in 1931 of her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Catherine La Fond of Plymouth.

Since 1932, with her parents, she has operated the Chateau Rousseau and although she is kept pretty busy waiting table this has stimulated her art.

"At first we just hung up some of my pictures to fill in the bare spaces on the walls," she said.

"Pretty soon people started to ask questions and now when anyone interested in art comes along they stop in. This way I find I can pick up quite a bit of knowledge."

And many people have pressed her to sell them one of her paintings or to contract to paint a portrait of them. She has several orders piled up and hopes soon to catch up.

Although she works with water colors, charcoal, pastel, pen drawings, pencil work she admits she likes portraits in oils best.

D. A. R. ENJOYS REPORTS OF STATE CONFERENCE

Mrs. Earl Mastick's pleasant home welcomed the members of the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, D.A.R. Monday afternoon, April 26. Mrs. Sydney Strong, the Regent presided over the business meeting.

The most important transaction was the reading of the proposed alterations to the by-laws, which will be acted upon at the next meeting.

The program was given over to the reports of the State Conference at Flint, Mrs. Chas. W. Horr, Jr. of Detroit, told of the exhibits, and stressed the importance with which this work was regarded. To captivate the enthusiasm, and interest of the child, and to develop a love of country, and to plant ideals of high endeavor is an objective worthy of every effort on the part of all our members. Mrs. Horr was appointed at the Conference, State Organizing Chairman, of C. A. R., a very great honor, as she is the first one to be appointed to this office in the United States.

Mrs. John F. Root reported what she learned at the round table discussion of National Defense. Startling indeed was the revelation of methods and means being used to undermine our institutions and destroy our democracy. Moscow has its agents everywhere, and communist, anarchists, and socialists are penetrating every level of our society, with a view to destroying all that we hold as our inalienable and sacred rights. And we are so sure "It can't happen here," that very few are aroused to the dangers. Every speaker uttered a no uncertain note of warning.

Mrs. Charles Root reported on the Junior American League, an effort to interest all children, whether of Revolutionary ancestry or not, in love of flag and country.

Mrs. Strong and Mrs. Randall, added to the reports as given, and brought to the members a vivid word picture of various happenings, and experiences, including the strike at the Hotel Durant.

The banquet Thursday evening with its beautiful pageantry, and colorful gowns, was greatly enhanced by the presence of several distinguished guests, and most prominent among these, was Mrs. William A. Becker, president general, who was present Thursday afternoon and Friday. One of the most delightful speakers at the banquet was Mrs. Emma A. Fox, who had told her audience that "Life Begins at Ninety." Surely hers is going strong at ninety, and her keen wit, and clear vision make her always welcome on any program.

The conference sent those who attended home tuned to greater effort along those lines that will preserve our country to those ideals which our ancestors died to obtain. Will we lose them, because we are so sure, "It can't happen here?" It has happened here. Will it continue and spread?

Ecorse Outpoints Rock Trackers

The Plymouth trackers, crippled by the recent output of report cards, made a good showing against the visiting team from Ecorse but lost by a mere 9 point margin Friday, April 23. The Rock group captured the first notch in many of the running events but did not have enough of the second and third place men.

In the field events the Rocks also made a good showing—Egge taking top honors in both the high and broad jump and Towle pole-vaulted 8' 3" to eliminate all of the Ecorse men. The new additions to the track team, Bodnar and Workup, did very good work, the former taking first in the mile and Workup second in the shot-put event.

SENIOR BIOGRAPHIES

George Bakhaus is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bakhaus of Warren road and entered Plymouth high school in his freshman year after being in Stone school, South Lyon and Ruddiman school, Detroit. He plans to engage in dairy work after graduation from high school. While in high school his favorite subjects have been bookkeeping and typing and his club activities have been in the Hi-Y club. George's hobbies are horseback riding and ice skating.

Orice Beeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Beeman of Northville, was born in Scranton, North Dakota. He moved to Northville when very young and attended Kindergarten there. He moved to Plymouth at the time he entered the second grade and stayed with this year's seniors until the fifth grade when he moved to Owosso. That grade and the sixth and seventh were spent in Owosso and Laingsburg. Then "Ricey" returned to his former schoolmates and has been with us ever since. However, he is now residing in our rival town and attending school here. He has been in Torch club and Hi-Y the qualified periods of time and is also a member of the Radio and Airplane clubs. Experimenting with radio and tennis seem to be his hobbies, and his "pet peeve" is a girl who would two-time him. Last vacation Orice spent two weeks at Torch lake and this summer expects to go to North Dakota. By combining courses in radio, forestry, and aviation "Ricey" would like to be a government forestry employe. He is also interested in Diesel engines.

A girl who loves to eat chili with Jean Dunham is Virginia Cline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cline. Virginia is a small curly haired girl with an interest in art and is rather vague about her future, but if Bill consents Virginia would like to take an art course at Michigan State college. Her favorite subjects are art and typing and her leisure hours are spent sketching. Virginia has been a member of Leadership club, Girl Reserves, Glee club and Junior chorus and is usually seen with Bill, or Madolyn or Jean.

Sidney Dethloff, son of William Dethloff of Stark, Michigan, was born October 10, 1918 at Livonia Center. After attending school there for several years, he entered Plymouth high school's freshman class. Sid has been active during school in both music and athletics. He has been a member of the band and glee club and has participated in interclass sports. His favorite hobbies are fishing and baseball while his favorite subjects are bookkeeping and physics. Sidney does not intend to continue his schooling after graduation.

One of our true blondes is Margaret Goebel. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goebel, who reside on Mill street. Margaret was born in Ypsilanti where she attended Woodruff school until the third grade when she entered Plymouth Central school. As a hobby Margaret chooses dancing, and conceived people are her special dislike, while ice cream seems to be her favorite dish and "Liebestraum" her favorite song. She has an ambition to be a night club singer but—expects to attend Cleary's Business college in Ypsilanti after graduation.

Irene Granger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Granger, Northville, was born in Detroit and attended four schools there before coming to Plymouth high as a freshman. In addition to maintaining a high scholastic standing, Irene has sung in the junior chorus and the girls' glee club and holds a membership in the Girl Reserves. When not in school she keeps busy by reading, cooking, rollerskating, or playing tennis; as for baseball, she is a loyal Tiger fan. Jack Benny is her choice among radio entertainers. Irene has been taking a college course, but her plans for the future are still indefinite.

Miss Sly's pupils made health posters in relation to health rules. The fourth graders have been making maps of the states they are traveling through while journeying across the continent.

Miss Weatherhead's pupils have completed their Palmer Method papers and have sent them in to the company. In art they mounted pictures for the coming exhibit. In bird study the second graders are learning about the woodpecker.

The children in Miss Widmayer's room are now traveling through Norway in geography. In bird study they will have completed the group with their study of the sparrow for this week. Peggy Campbell is still absent.

In 5B arithmetic Miss Carr's pupils held a contest between the Golden Eagles and the Silver Ghosts. The Ghosts frightened the Eagles by a score of eight to three. The 5A group are now holding their contest. The Silver Stars are ahead of the Golden Stars by a two to one score thus far. In art class the boys and girls are making cut-flower posters. They have learned about three birds thus far in bird study—the flicker, the meadowlark, and the bronze grackle.

Edward Dely's team still remains at the top in the spelling contest in Mr. Berridge's room. The 6A geography pupils are studying Czechoslovakia and those in 6B are beginning a study of Africa. In 6A arithmetic the boys and girls are working on graphs and in 6B on denominate numbers. In the soft ball league Clare Ebersole's team, the Cardinals, are leading.

Mrs. Holliday's pupils have written a history of Plymouth and have made booklets containing this information. In art class they made built-up bird posters.

PLYMOUTH NINE DROPS TO BUSCH AFTER LEADING FOUR INNINGS

Plymouth high's baseball team met the Busch aggregation from Centerline at Riverside park on Friday, April 23, and lost its second game of the season, due mainly to pitching troubles and fielding errors on the losing side. Bob Hitt began the pitching task for Plymouth, and pitched brilliant ball during the first four innings. He set down the first ten men in order, and the Busch batsmen did not garner a hit until the fifth frame. But Hitt blew up to the sorrow and anxiety of the Plymouth fans, in the fifth inning. A single, a double, an infield error, and two more singles came in rapid succession, throwing away Plymouth's lead and tying the score at four runs each. Kenneth McMullen, who substituted for Hitt, finally put down the rally for the time being.

Plymouth had gotten off to a good start in the first inning. Hitt had walked but was out at second through fielder's choice on Hobbin's hard grounder. With two out, Trinka had looped a double past center field, placing Hobbins on third. Leach next up, had also doubled, driving in Hobbins and Trinka with Plymouth's first runs.

The Rocks had flushed their scoring in the third inning. Trinka had walked and had taken second as Leach received the second pass of the inning. When Curtis knocked a high fly to center with two out, it looked as though Plymouth's threat was over, but Hudake misjudged the ball and it went as a two-bagger. Two runs scored on the error, and until the fifth inning it looked as though Plymouth had the game in the bag.

Busch continued its fifth inning scoring spree into the sixth. McMullen handed two passes out to open the inning. It was these two passes and an infield out that gave Busch the three runs it scored in that inning.

If they had been prevented, which could easily have been done, Busch would not have scored on the two fluky singles which it hit, and Plymouth might have won. James Kelley, the third freshman pitcher to be put in by Plymouth, entered the game at this time and finished the game.

Plymouth threatened in the last inning, but nothing came of it. Martin walked with one out, and stole second while Jennings struck out. Bassett, batting for Kelley, hit what looked to be a sure single. But White, not the "Tigah Man" but the Busch right fielder, tore in at top speed, dived, caught the ball three inches from the turf, rolled over, and—came up with the ball. Just one felder in a hundred could have done it, and he was the one.

Pregel pitched the entire game for Busch, allowing seven hits, four runs, six walks, and two hit batsmen. Hitt allowed four hits, no walks, and two runs, McMullen walked two and allowed two hits, and Kelley gave three hits. All three of Plymouth's pitchers were freshmen. Trinka of Plymouth and Hudake of Busch were the leading scorers, each scoring two runs for his team. Hits were about evenly divided.

GOLF SEASON BEGINS

The golf team defeated their Dearborn opponents at Dearborn in the first game of the season by the big margin of "three" strokes. The golf course was really too soft and wet to play a good game. Shory Heller was practically swimming for a couple of balls that went a little bit wild into the ponds that had formed around the course from the abundance of rain lately.

Ross—34; opponent 55.
Heike—96; opponent 98.
Hewitt—92; opponent 88.
Heller—124; opponent 118.
Totals—386 and 398

At 6:30 our young people begin some studies of the Old Testament characters—this Sunday evening we will study David. The meeting is in charge of Jean Compton. At 7:30 the pastor will speak on "The Present Crime Wave and What Shall We Do About It?" Has this astounding increase in crime, strikes and judgment anything to do with the prophecies of God's Word? If I were you, well, I just wouldn't come! This church will have on this Wednesday evening given honor to Charles Grainger, who has for 25 years served as treasurer of the church. It is not often that one individual gives so many years of faithful service in one office, and we wish to tell our every appreciation of this loyalty to the church. On this Friday afternoon a large delegation will be visitors to the Detroit News. All those who are going on this trip must be at the parsonage not later than 1:30 on Friday. The monthly meeting of the Missionary society will be held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Shackleton on Holbrook. Among the Bible citations in this passage (Matt. 25:29): "For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance; but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 262): "Consecration to good does not lessen man's dependence on God, but heightens it. Neither does consecration diminish man's obligation to God, but shows the paramount necessity of meeting them."

location. Beginning Sunday, May 2nd, you are welcome to worship with us in the building formerly occupied by the Lapham's general store. Note address at the top of this notice. Sunday morning worship, 10 a.m. will be in charge of the Rev. Ralph Reed from Detroit. Mr. Jaqua, who was with us last Sunday, again God willing expects to conduct the service Sunday evening at 7:30. A large group of young people will assist with the service. Bible School at 11:30 a.m. Transportation will be provided for those children who wish assistance to Sunday School. All wishing such transportation, meet in front of our former location at 11:20. Young Peoples' Fellowship meets at 6:30 each Sunday evening. Most of us are familiar with the well worn notice—"The mid-week prayer meeting will be held in the church on Wednesday evening, at 7:30. All are welcome." Week after week this announcement is repeated, yet very few new faces do we see. Instead let us call it a "praise meeting." There ought to be more praise than prayer, more thanksgiving for blessing received than requests for things to be granted. In Matthew 18:20, the Lord Jesus said: "Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them." Therefore, we announce the Master's reception will be held in the church on Wednesday evening at 7:30. We will want to hear the Lord speak from the Scripture; and to fellowship with Him in prayer, praise and testimony, as He leads. Meet with us at Calvary.

Anonymous Writer Has Plenty To Say About "The Breeze"

Comes To Defense Of Plymouth's Best And Only Newspaper

(Contributed.)
Well, here's my story and you can take it or you can leave it but I pay my taxes and I vote and so what the — I drop myself down in my so-called easy chair and picks up THE PLYMOUTH MAIL to bring myself up on the local news as I got in the habit of doing every week and everything is hoky poky 'till I get over to the end of the paper and I find a corner fenced off and labeled THE TONQUISH CREEK BREEZE. That stops me for a second look. That smells of something spicy. I read it up and down twice and I get madder each read. What body checks me first is the disparaging statements about our Editor. Course he aint perfect. He's a congressman or something up at Lansing, Mich. and he wouldn't be up there if he was without a blemish inside and out. But he's got to have some rights on his own paper aint he? Don't he pay taxes and vote so what the — Well, after I get over my first flush about him bein put on the griddle like that I go on and read the rest of their airy remarks and who's who on their staff. Now some a them boys has been here longer than me and some aint. Some of em knowed this Tonquish creek when it started from an eve trough leak and has watched it through it's growing pains to the mighty waters it is today. Roughly I'd say they is able to handle their own department if the old river will give em anything to handle, but why this big staff? That creek generally speaks for itself. Just walk along it's grassy banks anytime you dare, shut your eyes, and your nosell tell you who, what and why. They don't need that much help and they say more will be added. Why? Thats what want to know. Maybe I'm talking out a mesh but I pay taxes and vote so what the — And there's another thing I don't like about this new paper. It's full a politics. They come right out with it and then they deny it in the same line. Aint that proof? You don't find that kind a business in the paper of the Editor who their kickin about. He aint polticick. I guess he's republican. And they send Abe Goldstein away on a trip to see beauty contests. If that aint money wasted and say—where is this money comin from? Even that sounds grafy to me. I'll dig up some dirt out of this creek yet if you'll give me a chanct. And here is another thing. Do they want any outside help. They do not. Didn't Jack Taylor try to tell em somthin and was snubbed. This Taylor knows more about pollywogs and mud holes and carp and things than the whole staff but they wouldn't listen to him. Even hinted that the money question come into the thing. He don't have to stand for that. He pays taxes and votes so what the — Now I aint a bug or nuts or somthin but I could tear that staff apart and throw em together again and not raise a fever and I'll do it if I keep my health. And I got some ideas about that body of water that might be good ones and I'll unlose them some a these days if it ever warms up. Maybe I'll say fill it up and maybe I'll say build it up, but I'll say somthin. Why not, don't I pay taxes and vote so what the — And I aint hidin behind no skirts or baskets either. I'm comin right out and bein in the open just like the Breeze. Signed— The Tonquish Phantom.

THE TONQUISH CREEK BREEZE

Vol. No. 1 Tonquish Creek, Michigan U. S. A.

The Ancient Order of Tonquish Creekers had a real surprise at their last meeting.

Brother George Wilcox, pioneer Creeker, came down to the meeting and gave the members an address upon wild life as it used to be in the woods along the banks of the Tonquish. The members appreciated his interest in their work and his offer to assist in forest restoration in the Tonquish valley. It seems that we are gaining influence and new power each day in spite of the opposition of the opposition editor.

Historian Charles Finlan has finished digging into the records that for a time clouded the membership of William Conner.

At the next meeting of the Creekers he will be able to report that everything is in order, that the reasons that caused the adverse action on the membership of Mr. Conner have been removed and he sees no cause for worry over what will happen when the card is taken up for consideration. That's how careful the Creekers are in doing business.

The Toddholow Enterprise has been added to the exchange list of THE BREEZE this week.

The Toddholow paper is what might be called a gee-haw bang up good paper. Congratulations to the Toddholowers.

Matt Powell, moose editor of THE BREEZE, thinks maybe he'll have the moosehead that hangs over the table where THE BREEZE editorial staff does most of its work, put up on a post down by the Tonquish.

Matt thinks he noticed a sort of wistful look towards the creek in the eyes of the moose the other day.

Application of Glen Smith to run a pop corn stand down by the creek has been turned down by the Creekers.

The Creekers fear maybe the burnt popcorn might contaminate the habbling brook. The application was not only turned down, but it was torn up when Attorneys Richwine and Cutler decided that it was not in legal form. Try and get our competitor to print any news like this about Smithy.

THE BREEZE is getting ready to start a campaign against washubs.

Some of the prominent Creekers of the community informed THE BREEZE editor the other day that they had found out that some of the men folks in the Creek have become so lazy they are making their wives dump the dirty wash water in the creek instead of out back of the hen houses. Watch for the washub campaign.

There has been some dissatisfaction with the arrangements Abe Goldstein is making for the Tonquish Creek 1937 beauty show.

He insists on keeping everything in the dark—and the Creekers are opposed to things done that way. THE BREEZE favors some daylight on the beauty show contest.

Want Ad Manager Russell Powell has started some agitation to have some red horse planted in Tonquish creek.

He says it is in keeping with the general trend of the times to re-stock popular fishing grounds. When asked as to why he insisted on red horse, he says that kind of fish will be about the only kind able to fight the garbage and other refuse that some of the modernists insist on feeding Tonquish fish.

Our medical editor, Paul Butz has been spending the week-end up at Tawas studying the ways carnival queens are selected.

He has in mind a permanent queen for Tonquish creek. THE BREEZE would like to know why he isn't up looking over the squaws for this job.

Creekers are wide awake and ready at all times.

It seems that we are going to crown the Queen of Tonquish soon and of course Director Henry Hondorp of our public relations department is going to do the job. So he'll know all about crowning queens, he slipped up to West Branch the other day to see how they crowned the trout queen. Now he is all ready for the creek crowning.

Technical Editor Stanley Corbett read in one of the big city newspapers the other day where the legislature had voted to let some folks build some high power lines out in the country, providing they can get some of the taxpayers' cash with which to do it.

Being a technologist, he thinks maybe the Creekers can get some of the public's easy money. He wants to stage a demonstration, build a dam across the creek, furnish power to his home and THE BREEZE plant. He wants to be the builder, the manager and the cashier of the new Tonquish creek power development. THE BREEZE suggests that the Creekers hold a meeting so all the members can get in on the cash, if there is any to be had. While

THE BREEZE is willing to get its share, maybe it would look better to those on the outside if all the Creekers were in on the "take" in the proposed Tonquish TVA development.

Flood Control Director Harold Finlan wishes THE BREEZE to correct a mistake that was made last week.

Controller Finlan says it will take three horse power hours to do flood damage repair along the Tonquish. It was his mistake, not THE BREEZE! THE BREEZE does not have to eat crow unless it wants to.

NOTICE

It has come to the attention of THE BREEZE that there is some gossip going on about the financial backing of this journalistic venture. For the benefit of the gossipers who are questioning our financial integrity we want it known now that THE BREEZE is financially responsible and that it has a direct connection with the biggest financial giants of the town. One owner is rated in Burn & Bradshaw as being worth three cents on every dollar. They all have the where-withal and THE BREEZE hereby serves no lice if there is any more gossip about our financial standing, lawful steps will be taken. ### Hired.

THE BREEZE takes great pleasure in informing our readers that we have engaged a Lansing correspondent to watch the editor-representative of our competitor up in Lansing. ### Financial Director Fred D. Schrader has taken up with the flood controller the question of floating some bonds to get some sandbags in case the Tonquish food gets out of control.

He denies that he intends to float the bonds down the creek, as the opposition to THE BREEZE insinuates.

Spray Now To Save The Fruit Crop Says Wayne Farm Leader

Whether it's for fruit prospects in a small home orchard or in a large commercial tract, an adequate spray applied now before buds burst out into foliage will control the serious orchard pests such as San Jose scale, red mite and aphids.

In the office of County Agricultural Agent E. I. Hessemer, Dearborn there are copies available of the newly revised spraying calendar, extension bulletin 154 of Michigan State college.

Materials and methods are outlined in detail in this publication. Several materials are suggested in the calendar to control all of the pests named above during the dormant period.

In survey reports ranging from Indiana border up into the Traverse City area of the commercial fruit belt the entomology staff at the college finds that few San Jose scale have come through the winter alive.

County agricultural agents and members of the college entomology department are offering to cooperate with orchard owners or farmers to help determine doubtful cases. Orchard inspections this month offer easier means of detecting pests and applying treatment.

Orchard sprays have a definite place in pest control in orchards. Trees will stand concentrations at this time that would injure the foliage seriously after the buds have burst.

The surveys conducted in the fruit belt indicate that the red mites have suffered mortality similar to that of the San Jose scale. The winter weather has taken care of many of them. Aphids are not as numerous as usual but on varieties known to be susceptible spray is recommended.

Cost of producing crops such as wheat and corn is influenced most by the yields obtained, says County Agricultural Agent E. I. Hessemer. In recent studies at Dearborn State college some cost figures on corn crops indicated only a few cents difference in operating an acre of land. Yields averaging 53 bushels gave a bushel cost of 38 cents. Other yields of 30 bushels cost 71 cents a bushel. The expense of producing a bushel of wheat varies in the same manner according to yield. From one farm average of 21 bushels a cost of 87 cents a bushel was far more profitable than another farm where total costs per acre were only slightly less, yet yields were down to 12 bushels to the acre and per bushel cost was $1.53. The figures indicate the profit in good soil management and selection of fertility by wise cropping.

Farmers in Michigan planning to supply markets, households, resorts, and tourist camps with truck crops this spring and summer will find a little extra compensation from other farmers. Planting intentions in Michigan and in other states for 1937 truck crops indicate an increase in practically all of these crops. Largest increases are to be in cabbage, watermelons and onions. Slight declines are indicated for asparagus, early beans, peas and lettuce. More tomatoes are to be set out this spring, the survey shows.

Science Lecture Heard By Many

A large and interested audience heard the address delivered in the high school auditorium last Thursday evening by Louise Knight Wheatley Cook, C. E. S. of Kansas City, Missouri on the subject "Christian Science, Its Practical Availability".

In part, she said:

"If anyone is under the impression that Christian Science is difficult, hard to understand, may I disabuse his mind of that at the very outset? Christian Science does deal with the most stupendous facts of existence; yet these facts may be set forth with simplicity. Jesus, the Christ, the greatest teacher the world has ever known, did this. Those who followed him came in many cases from the humbler walks of life, were unlettered and unlearned, and yet so well did they assimilate the tremendous truths he taught that they continued to put them into practice long after he had left them."

"Nearly twenty centuries went by, and then one who had long been an earnest searcher for truth, a New England woman, Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, while reading in her Bible of the healing of the man taken with the palsy, was herself healed of a physical difficulty said to be incurable. With this healing came the conviction that all the mighty works of Jesus were founded not upon his human personality, but were based upon an ever-operative, ever-available, and exact science. Her own experience had proved this to her own satisfaction, but she must have added proofs which would convince an unbelieving world that there was a definite rule underlying Jesus' words and works, removing them from the realm of the miraculous and super-natural to that higher realm where they could be recognized as the most divinely natural and inevitable occurrences in all the world. For three years she devoted herself to the discovery of this rule, and eventually placed the results of her investigations in her book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." And then a sleeping world woke up.

"The field which Christian Science opens before us is inconceivably vast. Human conjecture has, as yet, glimpsed but a small part of the change which it is destined to make in a world sadly in need of some radical readjustment. And Christian Science is radical. It upsets human theories, breaks down pretense and sham, shatters conclusions accepted unthinkingly but never investigated, and carries thought steadily and surely from provable premise to provable conclusion. Its basis rests upon the scriptural authority that since man was made in the image and likeness of God, and since God is Spirit, man is, must be, spiritual.

"Claim your birthright as a child of God. Do not be afraid to claim it, and to claim it all. Remember who you are. As the father in the parable once said, "Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine." Not a little bit. Not just a part. But all. Never allow a sense of lack of anything to remain in your thought. Rejoice that you know this. It is the inalienable right of every child of God to possess that inward peace which is the natural outcome of his understanding of his oneness with the Father."
