Two-Hour Limit On Auto Parking Made Effective

City Commission Names Several To Jobs

The city commission passed a resolution Monday night limiting parking in the downtown section. The action was taken on the recommendation of a committee consisting of two commissioners, George Robinson and Edward Wilson, and four business men, William T. Pettigill, Stewart M. Dodge, Carl Caplin and Irving Blunk.

The parking will be limited to two hours on both sides of Main street from Fralick avenue and Ann Arbor Trail; on the north side of Penniman avenue from Norton's Meat Market to the postoffice; and on the south side of Penniman avenue from Main street to the west side of the Penniman-Allyn building.

City Manager Clarence Elliott said that appropriate signs would be erected in the restricted areas as soon as possible and plans are being made for strict enforcement of the new traffic regulation.

City Assessor William B. Petz and City Attorney Arlo A. Emery were reappointed by the city commission.

Few changes were made in the appointive posts this year. L. E. Wilson was named to replace Walter Smith on the Board of Review after Mr. Smith decided he would be unable to serve this year. Frank Tomcay was re-named as the other member of the board.

George Robinson, John Henderson, William B. Petz and Henry J. Fisher were again appointed as the city's representatives on the Wayne county board of supervisors.

Mrs. Nellie V. Cash and Miss Rosemary West were named to the board of registration and Ed Gayde was appointed to serve his 30th year as a cemetery trustee.

Ruth E. Huston-Whipple and George Robinson were picked for the auditorium committee and Mrs. Whipple and A. Blunk form the recreation committee.

The commission held the public hearing on the proposed budget as required by law but only two citizens appeared and neither registered objections to the present budget. One, Carleton Lewis, however, urged the commission to inaugurate a plan for the city to collect garbage and this matter was taken under advisement.

The clerk, Clarence Elliott, read a proposed ordinance, which would regulate the maintenance and use of trailers or house cars within the city. The proposed ordinance will be submitted to the Chamber of Commerce for study before the commissioners act on it.

Soft Ball Season To Open Tuesday

The lid will be pried off the 1937 soft ball league season next Tuesday night when the Red and White store team, defending champions, clash with the newly organized Walk Over Shoe aggregation.

The game will begin at 6:30 p.m. at Central playground. Mayor Henry Honorp will pitch the first ball to City Manager Clarence Elliott behind the plate. The Plymouth band will play.

Three other games are listed for the opening week of competition which will end in August. Schraders' will meet the Daisy outfit on May 12, Plymouth Hardware opens against Frigidare on May 13, and the K. of P. team clashes with the Plymouth Mail on May 14. All the opening round of games will be played at Central playground.

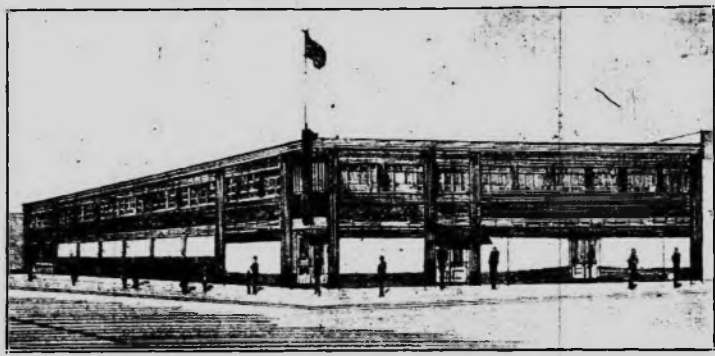

HEALTH REPORT MADE TO CITY COMMISSION

Dr. Luther Peck, city health officer, reported to the city commission that there were eight active cases of communicable diseases in Plymouth as May opened.

These included two cases each of German measles, red measles, chicken pox, and scarlet fever.

Dr. Peck said that during the month of March there were 18 cases of communicable diseases in these classifications reported and two were active at the start of that month. Quarantine signs were taken down on 12 cases during the month.

City Arranges For Public Dumping Lot

Regulations Set Up For Depositing Of Rubbish

By next week Plymouth will have a public dump. The city commission has authorized a contract with Mrs. Kate Allen for use of part of her property on Joy road, west of Beech road, for a municipal dumping lot for ashes, refuse and rubbish.

City Manager Clarence Elliott announced that a short roadway to the site will be completed by the end of the week.

The city commission, in taking action, set up a penalty of $100 fine or 90 days in jail or both for violation of rules and regulations drawn up by the city manager.

The regulations provide that no combustible material is to be placed on the dump, that no refuse larger than a 50-gallon oil drum shall be deposited there; that persons can dump refuse only in places indicated by the caretaker and only when the lot is open.

The most important regulation is that no person will be permitted to dump refuse without a permit obtainable, free of charge, at the city hall.

City Clean-Up Campaign Will Start Monday

Elliott Sets Schedule For Trucks

Dig out your attics and cellars because the annual Clean-Up Week starts next Monday, May 10, and continues for four days.

City Manager Clarence Elliott announced that city trucks would cover each street in each precinct.

Housewives must put their rubbish and tin cans in cardboard containers which can be loaded onto the trucks and none will be returned. He also pointed out that no combustible material, such as wood or paper, ashes or garbage will be picked up.

The trucks will operate on a definite schedule, working one precinct each day.

The schedule follows: MONDAY — First precinct, which is bounded by Ann Arbor road, Main street, Mill street and the Pere Marquette railroad tracks.

TUESDAY — Second precinct, which includes all streets east of Pere Marquette railroad tracks.

WEDNESDAY — Third precinct, bounded by the same railroad tracks, Main street, Church street and Penniman avenue.

THURSDAY — Fourth precinct, bounded by Penniman avenue, Church street, Main street and Ann Arbor road.

Benefit Party For Crippled Children

The Woman's club is sponsoring a card party to be held Thursday afternoon, May 20, at 2 o'clock in the Crystal room of the Mayflower hotel. This party is being given for the benefit of the Michigan Crippled Children's fund. The prizes have been generously donated by merchants.

Arrangements have been completed by Mrs. Harold P. Anderson and her committee comprised of this year's new members.

SOME COMMON SENSE.

"No unemployment insurance can be compared to an alliance between a man and a plot of land. With one foot in industry and another foot in the land, human society is firmly balanced against most economic uncertainties. With a job to supply him with cash, and a plot of land to guarantee him support, the individual is doubly secure. Stocks may fail, but seedtime and harvest do not fail."

Lorenz Plans Construction Of Block

Workmen Will Begin Razing Hotel In June

Ralph J. Lorenz announced plans this week for the construction of a modern, two-story business block at the corner of Main street and Ann Arbor Trail on the site of the historic Plymouth hotel.

The new structure, to be known as the Lorenz Building, will cost approximately $30,000 and will provide space for two modernly equipped stores with offices filling the second story. Workmen will begin wrecking the hotel in June.

Lorenz said that the new building will have 61 feet of frontage on Main street and 89 feet frontage on Ann Arbor Trail. The north side of the building will be 105 feet long. It will be a fireproof structure with a modernistic front.

The Atlantic and Pacific Food stores have leased the northern part of the first floor which will give them 40 feet of frontage on Main street. Company officials announced that they would equip it with the latest market equipment to meet the challenge of rapidly expanding business in Plymouth. The second store space, which will have an entrance on the corner and will have show windows on both the Ann Arbor Trail and the Main street, will be leased by a well-known firm but the name and details are being withheld until the deal is completed.

Lorenz, in announcing the building plans, said: "I have faith in Plymouth's future and I believe the new building will provide the city with much needed business space."

Lorenz said that bids were being obtained both for the wrecking and construction jobs. The city of Plymouth has agreed to cut down the sidewalk level in front of the new building to make it conform with the rest of Main street and eliminating the big drop-off at the corner.

Lorenz is a veteran Plymouth business man, having come here in 1914 after purchasing the hotel property. He was born in Langdon, North Dakota, and as a young man worked on farms and in stores before traveling east.

He operated the hotel for 17 years and six years ago leased it. Then he went into the gasoline business and at present is part of the firm of Lorenz and Ash.

The wrecking of the hotel will mark the passing of another historic landmark in Plymouth. History of the hotel, constructed before the Civil War, is sketchy. As far back as 1853 the hotel, then known as the Adams House, caught fire and was damaged while entertaining a circus troupe. Then at the end of the Civil War everyone for miles around gathered in the Old Adams House and the celebration

Board of Review To Meet At City Hall May 14-15

Property Owners Can Register Objections

The board of review of the city of Plymouth will meet in the commission chamber of the city hall on Friday and Saturday, May 14 and 15, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"This will give the people a good opportunity to find out what valuation has been set on their property for tax roll purposes," City Assessor William Petz said. "If anyone has any objections to raise about the values set they can register their complaint at this time."

Property owners also have the right to appeal the board of review's decision to the city commission at its next meeting.

Valuations on property within the city are about the same as last year with newly constructed property bearing most of the increase in total values. Last year the total valuation was $5,036,000 and this year it is being boosted to $5,100,000.

The members of the board of review include City Assessor Petz, Frank Tomcay and Walter Smith.

Firemen To Hold Open House On Wednesday Night

Complete Plans To Entertain Public

The volunteer firemen of Plymouth will be hosts at an open house on Wednesday night, May 12.

The fire whistle will send the firemen on a trial run at 7:30 p.m. to start the program. With their new truck the firemen will go through both business areas and then return to the city hall.

All the children of Plymouth are invited to the open house but they must be accompanied by their parents. The firemen are anxious for everyone in the city to look over the improvements recently accomplished at the fire hall. The walls are being repainted, a new floor has been put in, and work on the new truck was recently completed.

Movies showing the volunteer firemen in action during the D & C store fire will be shown. Firemen will also be stationed throughout the hall to explain how calls come in, the operation of the truck, and the details of the fire detachment's work.

Doris and Joe Shultz will furnish music for the occasion. The official hosts for the occasion will be the 12 volunteer firemen who are Chief Fred Wagenschultz, August Myers, Frank Dicks, Ernest Wilson, Al Hartung, William Holmes, Fred Drews, Louis Westfall, Dale Rorbacher, LeRoy Jewell, Harry Brown, and Edward Bolton.

Police To Open Drive To Curb Reckless Driving

Chief Smith Warns Drive Safely or Face Fines

Police Chief Vaughn Smith warned Plymouth motorists to drive safely or face the alternative of tickets and fines.

The chief announced that his department would open a drive within the city against careless drivers with special emphasis placed on automobile operators who speed and fail to halt at stop streets.

"I know the drivers of Plymouth want to drive safely and those who don't just fail to realize the hazards their carelessness bring," Chief Smith said. "Anyone who fails to heed this warning will have to face the consequences because we must protect the pedestrians, both adults and children.

"I also strongly urge Plymouth parents to make sure that their youngsters do not play in the streets. We have not had an alarming number of accidents recently but with the advent of spring we surely will have an increase unless both drivers and parents co-operate."

Chief Smith pointed out that motorists given tickets for speeding are liable to fines ranging from $4.00 to $20.00 if they pay them at the violator's bureau prior to the court date shown on the notice. Failure to halt at stop streets costs from $1.00 to $5.00 at the bureau while running the red signal lights makes the driver liable to fines of at least $4.00.

There were thirty guests present who enjoyed playing bridge during the afternoon. The regular Presbyterian ritual will be used in the cornerstone laying with J. R. Bickford, construction superintendent, directing the application of the mortar. Claude Dykhous, chairman of the program committee, will read the list of articles which will be deposited within the cornerstones. The choir, under the direction of Miss Hannah Strasen, will also participate in the program.

The address of the day will be delivered by Rev. Willis L. Gelston, of the Highland Park Presbyterian church, whose father, the late Rev. Joseph Mills Gelston, was minister of the Plymouth church from 1873 to 1875.

Included within the cornerstone will be a list of the present officers and members of the congregation, a list of officers and members of the Sunday school, reports of the activities of the Woman's auxiliary, the Young People's society and the choir.

Other things deposited will be copies of The Plymouth Mail, the 100th anniversary program, a complete history of the church, and the old records taken from the cornerstone in the old church, lists of all contributors with the amounts given toward building the new

Bandits Enter First National Bank To Grab $6,658.28 Of Plymouth Cash Early Wednesday Morning

Guest Speaker Inspires Autograph Hunters

Mothers and daughters greatly enjoyed the charming talk given by Mrs. Bertha Ashby of the University of Michigan at the mother-daughter banquet, May 4. The entertainment of the evening consisted of two selections given by Girl Reserve verse speakers, a song by a Girl Reserve trio, and a tableau also presented by members of that organization. Three hundred mothers and daughters attended the banquet. Mrs. Donald McKinnon gave a toast to daughters, while Phyllis Stewart presented a toast to mothers. At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Ashby was swamped by girls who wished her autograph; she wrote so many that afterwards she said her handwriting looked different to her.

Employes Forced To Basement Where They Were Bound

Some time after 5:00 o'clock Wednesday morning two men entered the First National bank, either through a hole 20 feet from the ground, made when they smashed the ventilating fan from the wall, or through the back door where the lock was broken, tied the employes as each one entered, and robbed the bank of over $6600. Police are inclined to believe it was the door and that they broke the fan, thinking it was a burglar alarm. Captain Charles Thumme checked the back door some time between 4:30 and 5 o'clock so that if they did enter the door it was after that time. Tire marks indicate that an accomplice drove their car to the back windows of the bank and by climbing up the protecting grills they would have been able to force their way in where they stayed until they placed a piece of white paper in the window to notify the driver of the car that they were ready to leave.

Jack Taylor, cashier, was the first employe to arrive at the bank. He entered shortly after 8 a.m. to be greeted by two well dressed men who stepped from the director's room with leveled guns and ordered him back to the room and told him to sit down. They very calmly explained that it was a robbery and that they meant business, calling him Floyd by error, and informing him that he would not be harmed if he did as told. They also informed him that if the police came he would be forced to go with them.

After explaining their plan of operation to him they asked when the rest of the employes would arrive and then forced him to open the vault and the safe. Nervousness prevented him from opening the combination in the first two attempts and they told him to hurry it up. He replied by asking them if they had ever tried the same with a gun in their ribs and they told him to cool off and take his time and no one would get hurt. As soon as the vault was open they took him to the basement with President Floyd Kehrl who had entered during this time. Kehrl was also forced to sit down while the bandits explained to him that a holdup was in progress and that if he would do as told no one would be harmed.

Both were then taken to the basement where their hands were bound with ropes and their legs taped. One man stood guard downstairs while the other leisurely packed the money away in bags upstairs. During this time both Margaret Dunning and Ruth Hamburger entered the bank and both were taken to the basement where they were also tied and gagged. Mrs. Hamburger complained to the bandits that they were rough with her dress and that the dry cleaning bill she had just paid on the same was wasted. This remark evidently pleased one of the pair and he reached in his pocket and pulled out $2.00 which he handed her saying that it was his own money and to have the dress cleaned again on him.

The bandits were through with their job about 20 minutes after 8:00 and they waited until 8:30 before they were able to leave. In the meantime they talked to Kehrl about his car parked across the street and asked him where he had put the keys, because they thought they would take it. He informed them that they were in the car. But apparently, the driver of their car arrived in the

She was attended by Miss Elaine Gaunt, who was dressed in pink lace, and carried an arm bouquet of talisman roses. The groom was attended by his brother, Harold, and the ushers were Roy Parks and Emanuel Robertson. After congratulations a reception and wedding supper was held at the home.

Among the guests present were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Prince of Detroit, and the grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stevens of Adams street, Plymouth; and Mr. and Mrs. R. RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

"PLAYING MICHIGAN"

The C. I. O. is meeting with a warm reception in Texas. Faced with the possibility of sit-down tactics, the dynamic Jimmy Alford, governor of Texas, declared, "We are not going to permit the transfer of disgraceful episodes in other states to Texas. In other words, we are not going to play 'Michigan'."

"Playing Michigan" is probably destined to become the synonym for rolling over and playing dead when John L. Lewis cracks the whip, a sport that the other 47 states will probably not indulge in to any great extent.—George Welsh in The Grand Rapids Chronicle.

SUSPECTED WALL STREET.

Most of us will remember that some years ago Henry Ford sought a loan in Wall street and it appeared from the terms demanded, both to Mr. Ford and the people generally, that Wall Street Bankers were out to get him. We understand that Mr. Ford suspected that Wall Street and John L. Lewis were in collusion at the present time when Lewis made the open statement that Ford was next on his list. Ford might have believed as an added proof of this collusion the fact that John L. Lewis in 1922 borrowed $200,000 in Wall Street on his unsecured note, and an officer of the bank made the statement at that time that the officers of the union could have borrowed $5,000,000 had they wished to. Consequently it did look bad for Mr. Ford to experience difficulty in making a loan when it was perfectly easy for union officers to borrow as much as he wanted to.—Frank Bryce in The Grand Ledge Independent.

A POWERFUL DICTATOR.

(An editorial by a prominent Michigan Democratic editor.) The recent supreme court decisions and the sit down strikes is the beginning of a readjustment of conditions between employers and employees. This readjustment is bound to result in conflicts more or less severe, but in the end both will know their rights and their limitations.

Most people want labor to have its just reward, but in its enthusiasm and under the high pressure of labor agitators it has gone beyond its legal right. To kidnap property and hold it for a ransom is certainly wrong and the general public is out of sympathy with such conduct.

It seems almost certain that state and federal laws will have to be enacted to control those engaged in industrial strife. If employees are going to continue their kidnaping tactics they should be required by law to incorporate and if circumstances justifies it, be required to give bonds. Employers have rights and property that should be protected as well as the employees.

John L. Lewis, the dictator—and he is a dictator, the equal of whom this generation has not seen—is fighting for the life of his particular labor organization, the Committee for Industrial Organization. He is defying the authority of the courts and inciting his followers to do likewise, and this in democratic America. If this continues his organization will be crushed by public opinion and he will be remembered only as an ambitious bamboozling dictator.—A. J. Richards in The Augusta Beacon.

Miss Ann Farrington, librarian of Herman Keifer hospital, who is in charge of the Riverside Reading group, gave an interesting review of "Heads and Tales" by Malvina Hoffman. Miss Farrington told the group something about the life and trips of the author and some unusual facts about the art of sculpture, the art in which Miss Hoffman is famous. Then Miss Farrington left her personal copy of the book for the members of the group to read.

All of this took place at the April meeting of the Reading group which was held at the home of Mrs. Russell Wendt of Wayne road.

Paroles Survey Underway Here

A survey of parole records is being conducted at the Detroit House of Correction.

The work is directed by S. J. Gilman, of the department of justice, Washington, D. C., Michigan supervisor for the Attorney General's survey of parole conditions being conducted throughout the nation.

Ten men are working on the records and the project will not be completed before late in June. The survey is also being conducted at Marquette, Jackson, and Ionia penal institutions, and in the state parole office at Lansing.

Gilman said President Roosevelt suggested the need to determine existing conditions and that Attorney General Cummings turned the job over to the department of justice. After paroles are surveyed recommendations for plugging weak points in each state system will be drawn up by federal officers and forwarded to officials of each state.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.—Loyla Sutherland, minister. "God took endurance, toll and pain, afflictions, burdens, trouble. To make the testing double; Smiles and tears and joys and woes. Linked each to the other, And in the crucible of time, Was coined the name of 'Mother'." At 10:00 o'clock our message and music will be appropriate to Mother's day. You will hear our three choirs in special music. Bible school at 11:15. At 6:30 the girls of our B. Y. P. U. will serve as hostesses to the mothers and friends who can possibly come. A program will be given by the girls and you will not want to miss this hour together with your girls. At 7:30 we bring to this church one of the most prominent women in Baptist work in Michigan, Mrs. Ellen Crow, vice-president of the Detroit Missionary Union. Mrs. Crow will be a guest at the 6:30 meeting, and then will bring a Mother's day address at the 7:30 service. We congratulate our Presbyterian neighbors in the laying of the corner stone of their church this coming Sunday. As a part of the church in Plymouth we rejoice with you in this success. The monthly meeting of the aid society will be held next Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Shackleton on Holbrook. All our ladies are urged to be present for important business. Our ladies regret the cancelling of the Friday night suppers, but a seeming siege of illness on the part of not a few made it necessary. Remember the mid-week service on Wednesday evening.

Gelston, D.D., of the Highland Park Presbyterian church will be the special speaker. W. T. Conner and C. H. Rauch will represent the local church. C. J. Dykhouse, chairman of the committee will tell of the contents of the corner-stone box, and the pastor, assisted by the choir will lead the worship service. Ralph Reed, who was with us last Sunday morning, will speak at both services this Sunday; morning worship at 10 o'clock, evening evangelistic message at 7:30. Young Peoples' Fellowship, Sunday evening at 6:30. Bible school at 11:30 a.m. Any who wish transportation to Sunday school, will receive such by meeting by 11:20 in front of our former location. Someone asks the question, Why is the Bible so different from other books? The answer is this. The Bible is read today because it is worth reading. Eight hundred out of every thousand books are forgotten in one year because there is so little worth remembering. But the Bible lives because it is God's Book. It lives because its author lives; because it is so simple and yet so deep. The child in the nursery may glean truth from its pages, the philosopher finds keen delight in its profundity. Only the man who is ignorant of its teachings can say he has outgrown the Bible. Man has not let the Bible alone because the Bible has not let man alone. It has been said of Lew Wallace that he determined to write a book and expose supernatural Christianity. He started to read the Bible and found it to be true. Instead he became the author of Ben Hur. It will live as long as one sinner seeks forgiveness. It will live long as one soul wishes to know and live the truth. (E.B.)

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH.—"The Law of Thy Mother", 10:30 o'clock on Sunday morning. Where will you be on Mother's day? Where does mother want you to be? Sunday evening hymn sing, 7:30 o'clock. We welcome mothers and daughters to attend our banquet on the evening of Friday, May 14.

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN church.—Edgar Hoenecke, pastor. Sunday services, 10:30 a.m. Sunday school, 9:30 a.m. Ladies Aid, first Wednesday, 2:30 p.m. Mission society, third Wednesday, 2:00 p.m. Men's club, third Wednesday, 8:00 p.m.

Lydia Joy, a bride-elect of this month, was honored with a miscellaneous shower and luncheon on Friday of last week, given by Mrs. Richard Brewer (Joy McNabb) of Detroit, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McNabb in Newburg. The luncheon was served at small tables with the honored guest and a few others being seated at a larger one, the color scheme being carried out in pink and white. M. S. C. Secretary Gives Interesting Talk On Germany

J. A. Hannah Tells Kiwanians of Present-Day Conditions

Plymouth Kiwanians heard an interesting word picture of the present-day Germany given by John A. Hannah, secretary of Michigan State college, last Tuesday night.

Hannah, who made his third visit to Germany last summer as the United States government delegate to the International Poultry conference held at Leipzig, toured that country for five weeks as a guest of the Third Reich.

"After the war," Hannah said, "the German people were very much discouraged. The people were not used to a republican form of government. It was all new to them.

"Then after going through a period of very high monetary inflation, property values were destroyed, everything was in chaos. Hitler took hold of the situation when everything was at this low ebb.

"He entered upon the policy of building homes, cleaning out the cities' slums and made other improvements. A factory, for instance, was placed out in the country and homes were built around it. New communities were built up in this manner throughout the entire nation. All these homes are modern and convenient. They were given a home and a garden plot. Every home owner can have a garden plot if he wants one. These industrial communities make a fine arrangement in case of war.

"It enables them to scatter their munition plants rather than to have them concentrated in the large cities. All these cities and communities are connected with the finest kind of highways in the world.

"Only citizens are allowed to vote in Germany. To be a citizen you must be a member of the party, the National Socialist Workers party of Germany. No Jews are allowed in the party or to be members of the party.

"In the schools the German children are taught that the Germans are a superior race of people and at the age of 14 they are placed through a series of training in the youth program. The boys are taken around over the country to see the beauty of the country so that they will be proud of their nation.

"They believe in building up the body to a strong physique and are given extensive physical training. At 18 the boys become members of the party and are taken to camps to do manual work for six months. They are taught to honor and respect work and during this period they are engaged in building roads, ditches, bridges, factories, clearing away slum districts and building modern homes.

"It is necessary for every youth to spend two years in the army before he is 25. This may be done either before or after he attends college. Every young man is encouraged to attend college if possible.

"The girls are also brought up through a period of special training, which includes physical education, and they are trained to be good housewives.

"In Germany the attitude toward the Jews is unusual. If a Jew is in business only Jews can patronize him. All citizens take an oath not to patronize him. A Jewish doctor or lawyer can be patronized only by Jews. The Jews are not allowed to enter college. There isn't room for them.

"As a result of this agitation and restriction the Jews are leaving the country. They are not allowed to take any property with them and only enough money to get to their destination.

"The government's reasons for the hatred against the Jews are as follows:

1. The Jews are not place for Jews for it is always Jews first and Germany second; and this cannot be.
2. The Jews lost the war for Germany. This was done by fomenting labor trouble during the war and the Russian situation was controlled by Jews.
3. When Germany lost the war the Jewish attitude and agitation caused chaos after the war.
4. The Jews had most of the jobs.
5. The Communist party in Germany is a Jewish party and communism and Nazism are diametrically opposite.

"The religious situation is more or less newspaper talk. All the various churches hold their services each Sunday. The churches must get along together. Hitler says he is a Catholic. The Pope says he is not. It is made difficult for the Catholics to get instruction.

"Hitler as a man is frail and small of stature. He has a snap in his eyes and his mouth and jaw indicate a man of a very strong mind and will.

"I sat in the stadium at the Olympia games. They were wonderful. The torch bearers and the various programs that were put on were beautiful but the most magnificent and impressive sight that I will always remember was when the crowd of 130,000 spectators stood and gave the Nazi salute and shouted 'Hell Hitler' as Hitler entered the stadium."

Hannah also told his Plymouth audience of the recent strides made in enrollment at Michigan State college. There has been an average increase of 650 students each year for the last four and now there are 4700 enrolled with 5200 expected next fall. He brought two students from the college music department, Miss Leone Schavey, a soprano, and her accompanist, Miss Marjorie Loring, to provide musical numbers.

Leonard J. Murphy, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was chairman of the program committee and made the arrangements to bring Hannah here for his interesting address.

First National Bank Hold-Up

alley back of the bank and they left.

Police traced their escape out east on Ann Arbor Trail to Middle Belt and Schoolcraft roads where they stole a parked car along the road belonging to Charles Wolfstrom and there abandoned the first car which was stolen from Detroit. Police recovered Wolfstrom's car in Detroit late Wednesday night.

Descriptions given by bank employees state that both men were around 25 years of age, one weighing about 170 pounds and the other about 160. Both were of dark complexion with blue suits and grey hats. One of the pair limped and during the hold-up called his partner Al and Brady. Both were armed with guns of a small calibre.

Chief of Police Vaughn Smith responded immediately to the call sent by Kehrl and left instructions from his office to call state police and the federal bureau of investigation officers who came to Plymouth almost immediately.

Throughout the day the officers checked the case and finally concluded that the men were apparently not the same ones who entered the Northville bank. Their methods were entirely different and were similar to those used lately throughout the Central states.

During the holdup Paul Last of Plymouth entered the bank before leaving for his farm to secure some money that he needed that day. The bandits opened the door for him and took him to the basement with the others where he was also bound and tied.

Jack Taylor told police yesterday that the men were well acquainted with the bank and knew the employees by name. This is the second affair of this kind he has been in, as the bank was held up 11 years ago. It is Plymouth's fourth bank robbery, two others occurring at the former branch bank of the Plymouth United on Liberty street.

Throughout the 20 minutes the thugs conversed freely with their prisoners and told Margaret Dunning that she might have the opportunity of identifying them some day on the witness stand and it behooved her to get a good look at them. They placed papers on the floor for the bank employees and Mr. Last to lie on and were most considerate when tying their hands and binding their feet.

Taylor stated that they went about their business in a most cool and collected manner and were as serious about the small details as the larger ones. He said they were very courteous and that they told him some day he also could help to identify them because in this business they catch up with you sooner or later.

President Kehrl announced immediately after the holdup that the bank was fully insured against holdups and the loss was completely covered so that neither the bank nor its depositors will feel the loss.

Livonia Center School News

(Omitted from last week.)

The eighth grade is making plans for graduation day. They are all hoping they can say "au revoir" to the old school and start into high school.

The Livonia Center school named its baseball team the Livonia Midgets. They have won three out of five games. The lineup is Ralph Graham, catcher; Johnny Eskra, pitcher; Robert Carlson, second base; Allen Owens, third base; and Jack Bickley, short stop. The outfield is Robert Cort, right field; Harry Litwicki, center field; and Elmer Smith, left field.

They have planned games in the future.

The sixth, seventh and eighth grades are selling candy to buy baseball equipment. The teacher buys large amounts at a time so he gets it cheaper. Our average amount each day is about 35 cents.

We started our final examinations Thursday, April 22. We hope every one is ready for them.

We are working hard for our dental health banner. We have held it for two years.

Friday, April 23, we had a card party at our school. We want to thank McKinney and Schaffer store for the lamp they donated; Harvey's Market for the box of dishes they gave us for table prizes; and Mr. Litwicki for the plant he gave us. Pedro and bridge were the two card games. The admission was 25 cents per person. The refreshments were cake, cocoa, coffee and sandwiches. The card party was sponsored for baseball supplies. The profit of the card party was about $22.70.

A teaspoon of salt added to each quart of water used in cleaning spinach, watercress and other small-leaved greens will help to draw out small insects which may be in them.

Achievement Day On May 12th

The Wayne county home economics executive committee has set Wednesday, May 12 for their annual achievement day. Because of the steady, gradual growth of this work in Wayne county, the place of meeting had to be changed from Wayne Methodist church to Wayne County Training school at Northville where more space is available. Six hundred women are making plans to complete all project work so as to exhibit the various articles completed in the different crafts. The following projects were studied this year by the 71 groups enrolled: Legal phases of home management; home furnishing; clothing; nutrition; drama; home nursing; landscape gardening; reading. In order to facilitate the noon meal for such a large number, a "planned community meal" will be brought by each group. The nutrition group leaders planned the luncheon at their last meeting so that it would meet all requirements of a balanced meal. The nursery established for the day will be for mothers who cannot leave children at home. Mrs. Lucy Sheppard of Wayne has been engaged to have supervision of the nursery. The extension service in Wayne county is sponsored by the following agencies cooperating: U. S. department of agriculture at Washington, D. C. The Michigan State college, East Lansing, Michigan and The Wayne County board of supervisors. Miss Emma DuBord, county home demonstration agent and the Wayne county executive committee composed of 10 women from the 10 districts have supervised the 71 groups organized throughout the county. Michigan State college has supplied the following specialists who have met with leaders in the various projects: Miss Eleanor Cramer, clothing; Miss Robert Hensley, nutrition; Miss Julia Pond, home management; O. I. Gregg, landscape gardening. The Wayne county school superintendent's office has supplied leaders in home nursing and the Wayne county library has given splendid leadership for the nine groups organized in the reading project. Guests are always welcome on achievement day, so plan now to attend. The following chairmen have been appointed to work with committees to make final arrangements for achievement day: General arrangement, Mrs. Marshall Herrick, Northville; program, Mrs. Walter Wilkie, Cherry Hill. Exhibits: clothing, Mrs. Howard Atwood, Northville. Home furnishing, Mrs. George Sloss, Wayne. Nutrition and home nursing, Mrs. Raymond Corbin, Dearborn. Luncheon, Mrs. Glenn Gordon, Plymouth. Hospitality committee, Mrs. George Harris.

VISIT OUR HOSPITAL

National Hospital Day

May 12th

—PROCLAMATION—
Mayor Henry Hondorp issued the following proclamation this week:

“The approach of National Hospital day again summons to mind the many blessings that have been bestowed upon us in the year just past by the self-sacrificing men and women who conduct the hospital in this city. It is altogether fitting that this observance should fall on the anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale, the British war nurse to whom we trace the high standards of the modern nurse and much of the high standards of the modern hospital. We are in a new era of healing; the old pest house has gone; it has been replaced by a vast scientific structure whose cost amounts each day as some new advance is made in medical science. Behind the imposing walls of our hospitals is private philanthropy. In honoring our healing institution and the surgeons, physicians and nurses who conduct it we must also honor those broad-visioned men and women in private life who give so much of their worldly possessions to provide those costs which our unfortunate accept as charity. Now, therefore, I, Henry Hondorp, mayor of the city of Plymouth do hereby designate and set aside Wednesday, the 12th day of May, 1937, as Hospital day to be observed by all the people of this city.”

Alice Lee Weds William Arthur

At a quiet home ceremony, held Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, Alice Jordan Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lee of Saline, spoke her vows to William A. D. Arthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Arthur, also of Saline. The bride's gown was white satin, with lace yoke, made princess style with long sleeves, full at top but close fitting from the elbow and ended in points over the hands. A finger tip veil of net with butterfly medallions on veil formed a cap of coronet style. Her bouquet of gardenias, roses and lilies of the valley was tied with a wide satin ribbon of white. Ruth Lee, a sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor, and Thelma Lee also a sister, was bridesmaid. Ruth wore a redingote model of aqua blue satin with pleated flouncing and coat of lace. Thelma wore a gown of the same style in pink. Each wore a dainty wreath in their hair matching their arm bouquets of roses and sweet peas which were tied with pink tulle. Horace Arthur, Jr., brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Ernest Arthur, another brother, attended the bridegroom. Albert Shear, of Redford, cousin of the bride, and William Carr, of Saline, were ushers. Bruce Shear, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer carrying it on a white satin pillow. He wore a suit of white linen. The flower girls were his sisters, Barbara Jean and Geraldine Ann Shear, of Redford, each wore white organdie and carried bouquets of pink and white sweet peas. Mrs. Lee, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Arthur, mother of the bridegroom, were gowned in dark blue lace over taffeta. About 100 guests were present at the wedding and reception which followed, guests coming from Ohio, Detroit, Lansing, Hartland, Pontiac, Yale, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Hudson, Redford, River Rouge, Plymouth and Saline. The bride's table had a beautiful four-tiered bride's cake at one end, a bridegroom's cake at the opposite end and a lovely

Plymouth Beaten By Northville 8 to 1

The Plymouth nine took a lacing from Northville last Friday, when the visiting team piled up eight runs to Plymouth's one.

Trinka was touched for one run in the second inning; three in the fourth; four in the seventh. In the second, Hockins opened with a single to center, Hardesty was safe on an error by Hitt, Hockins going to second. Then bases were filled when Leach erred and Hockins scored on a fast ball. At this point "Trinka" bore down and struck out Garchow. Myers and Bauman to end the inning.

Hardesty opened the inning by arriving at first safely when Hobbins fumbled his hit. Westphall singled to center and Garchow forced Hockins at third, Trinka to Curtis. Westphall stole third but was out at the plate, Hitt to Martin. Myers walked. Westphall scored when Bauman was safe on a fielder's choice. Hanson singled to right. Wolfe was safe on Hitt's error, scoring Myers and Bauman. Way ended the inning by lining to Hitt. Again in the seventh Northville put two singles two walks, one error and a double to score four runs. Plymouth's lone run came in the fifth inning when Hitt walked and Curtis sent him to third with a single. At this point Martin squeezed Hitt home, when he sacrificed himself to score Hitt.

SENIOR BIOGRAPHS

Another "little gal" who comes from the vicinity of Newburg lake is Jean Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bennett. Jean was born in Detroit and during her high school life has attended a different school in every grade. In the ninth grade she was at McMichael's in Detroit, in the tenth at Northwestern, the eleventh at Cooley, both in Detroit, and in her twelfth and last year she entered Plymouth. California seems to be a favorite pastime of Jean's for she has been there four times. She has also visited in northern Michigan a number of times. Her pet aversion seems to be drunken people; she hates to see them. Chocolate cake and bananas are her favorite appetizers. After she finishes school Jean would like to become a stenographer or a private secretary, and later on she may attend a business school.

David Hale, who, although born in Northville, has been a student in the Plymouth schools from the kindergarten on up, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Van Hale of McClumpha road. David, who plans to enter Michigan State college in the fall to take up an agricultural course, intends to be a farmer and knows quite a lot about it already. In his spare moments he likes to trap skunks and once made the idle boast that he would rather trap skunks than dance. David prefers red above all other colors and favors Horace Heidt's Brigadiers in the line of orchestras. His favorite foods are dried apricots and lettuce or any food containing a number of vitamin E calories. David also plans to form a sort of cooperative farm plan that is: all his children are going to cooperate on the work.

Dorothy Hauk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Hauk, was born in Nankin township, and attended Hanford school, before coming to Plymouth her freshman year. Dorothy, who lives on Warren road, just off Canton Center, wants to take up beauty culture after graduation. Her hobbies are sewing and dancing and her favorite subject is home economics. Dorothy's one and only is Lester.

Loretta Hauk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hauk, a tall, dark senior, usually seen darting around the halls with mimeograph papers in her hand, was born in Garden City, and now resides on Beck road, Loretta attended Hanford school, near Cherry Hill, before coming to Plymouth high at the beginning of her freshman year.

Loretta would like to attend Cleary college in Ypsilanti and be a stenographer. Her favorite subjects are shorthand and typing and her hobbies are dancing and going to shows—especially in Wayne where Tommy lives. Don't tell anyone, but it is rumored that maybe Tommy will change Loretta's plans of attending college. Loretta's pet hate is people who lie, and her closest girl friend is Hilda Buehler.

Dorothy Hearn, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hearn, was born seventeen years ago in Detroit, although the family now live on Plymouth road. When she was six years old Dorothy spent an exciting two months with her parents and sister in traveling through southern England and Wales. She has also enjoyed trips to Canada and through several states, including New York, Kentucky, Virginia, and Washington. D. C. During her high school years Dorothy has been active in debate, Girl Reserves, and inter-class sports, having won two letters. She was secretary of the class two years ago and last year won the girls' ping pong championship. She is an enthusiastic tennis player and ice skater and possesses an enviable stamp collection. Among her list of favorite authors she places Dickens first. Dorothy wants to continue school next year so that she can become either a librarian or a lawyer.

Elizabeth Hegge was born May 21, 1918, in Oslo, Norway. After living in both Norway and Germany she came to Michigan with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. G. Hegge, and entered Plymouth schools in the fourth grade. While in high school Elizabeth has been active in dramatics, Girl Reserves, and Leaders' club; she has participated in the musicale and stunt night each year and both the class plays. For hobbies she prefers knitting, reading and music. Dickens and Ibsen are her favorite writers and she enjoys hearing the compositions of Beethoven and Tschalkowsky. Elizabeth hopes to continue her studies by enrolling in the University of Michigan next fall.

Mary Holdsworth, the dark-eyed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur G. Holdsworth, was born in Detroit. Before entering Plymouth high in the sixth grade she attended the Roosevelt and Pleasant Ridge schools. Sewing and knitting are her favorite pastimes. Perhaps you've noticed her sweaters, most of which she made herself. Mary would rather swim than anything else and spends much of her time in the water in the summer. When she completes Plymouth high school last year after attending the Detroit schools of Fairbanks, Cook, and Cooley, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hudson, who live on Main street. While in this school he has been active in football, baseball, Varsity club, and Hi-Y. Bob has been secretary-treasurer of Hi-Y for two years. The technical and scientific side of life appeals to him since his favorite subjects have been chemistry and physics and since he intends to study air conditioning after graduation. However, this scientific point of view has not hindered him from pursuing various hobbies, most important of which has been June. Other hobbies are reading, dancing, and movies. Bob particularly likes the dance music of Hal Kemp and Horace Heidt.

her high course she hopes to attend Michigan State college where she will major in English.

Delores Holman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Holman, lives on Plymouth road. Before entering Plymouth high in the eleventh grade she attended the Fisher Intermediate school and the Redford Union high school. In the line of food she likes Italian spaghetti best and her idea of a perfect color is red. After she graduates, Delores plans to work for about a year and then get married.

Hal Horton, youngest son of Mrs. Allen Horton who lives on Pennington road, is another senior interested in mechanical work. He intends to take up automobile body designing as a vocation but has chosen no particular school for further study. Hal is completely an outdoor boy and enjoys hunting, fishing, riding, and camping. In high school he has belonged to Hi Y and Drama club.

Betty Housley, familiarly called "Pat" had her origin in the deep South where she began school in Saint Anne's convent of Fort Smith, Arkansas. While still in the grade school she moved to Plymouth where she now lives on Ann Arbor Trail with her mother, Mrs. Claudia Housley. Betty's high school interest has been almost completely centered in athletics. She is vice-president of Leaders' club and was general chairman of the Play Day with Wayne. She is one of the few girls who have earned high school letters while a sophomore. Betty's other club activity is Pilgrim Prints. Betty has a strange vocation in mind after graduation. We can't tell whether she's kidding us or not. But she swears that she is going to study to be a veterinary for horses, dogs, and cats. This career, she hopes, will ultimately lead into raising horses for sale. Betty's boy friends are restricted to her one and only for the time being—Orlan, while her best girl friends are Phyllis Dickerson and Patricia Burton.

Robert Hudson, who entered Plymouth high school last year after attending the Detroit schools of Fairbanks, Cook, and Cooley, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hudson, who live on Main street. While in this school he has been active in football, baseball, Varsity club, and Hi-Y. Bob has been secretary-treasurer of Hi-Y for two years. The technical and scientific side of life appeals to him since his favorite subjects have been chemistry and physics and since he intends to study air conditioning after graduation. However, this scientific point of view has not hindered him from pursuing various hobbies, most important of which has been June. Other hobbies are reading, dancing, and movies. Bob particularly likes the dance music of Hal Kemp and Horace Heidt.

COST OF OPERATING AN ELECTRIC RANGE

Family of 5 $2.20 per month

This figure is a 4-month's average (October, November, December and January) of actual cooking costs in families of five persons, at the rate of 2 1/4 cents (net) per kw-hr. Special record meters were installed on these customers' ranges to determine actual cooking costs, and the figure above—about 1/2-cent a meal a person—is the result. This is the AVERAGE of the cost figures obtained. Some of the actual costs were higher, some were lower. The cost of operating your range will vary with the amount of cooking done, and with the use of retained heat and the waterless cooking method.

1/2-cent a meal* per person:

Electric Cooking is not expensive!

*These latest figures on the cost of operating an electric range show an average of about ONE-HALF A CENT a meal a person. Actual meter tests were made in homes using electric ranges. The cost figure is obtained under everyday working conditions in ordinary kitchens... the ranges are used by women cooking meals daily for families of three, four and five people, or larger. In the survey, 5 well-known makes and 9 different models of electric ranges were included. These tests prove conclusively that electric cooking is not expensive. 10,000 of your neighbors chose electric cooking during the year 1936. THE TONQUISH CREEK BREEZE

Vol. No. 1 Tonquish Creek, Michigan U. S. A.

A number of Creekers noticed "Bill" Gayde strolling down along the Tonquish the other day. Bill says he was looking for a nice, easy place to launch his famous fishing boat, the "Bluegill". He expects to open his 1937 fishing season soon and has come to the conclusion it might as well be done on the Tonquish as anywhere else.

Hats off to the flood defenders of the Tonquish Creek settlement! For five nights these sturdy and daring men folks have slept in their offices and stores ready to answer the call to duty to protect women and children from flood waters. Russ Powell, who does a trucking business in the village, had his fleet of trucks all lined up ready to dash to any spot along the creek where sandbags might be needed to keep the usual flood waters under control. Walter Harms, that faithful old defender of river bottom fame, didn't even sleep during all the time the flood was raging. Night and day he was there to protect women and children against the raging torrents. "Quick To The Rescue" will forever be the watchword of the Creekers.

Flood Controller Harold Finlan has had the surplus sandbags removed from his office down by the creek. He says he slept on them each night during the big flood.

As Creeker Fred Schrader stood on the bridge at midnight keeping his weather eye on the swirling waters, he thought he saw the hencoop from his farm, out west of town go bobbing down in the flood waters.

A Communication.
The BREEZE—Sir— Editor and after this date please do not mention my name in your humorous paper anymore. I know that paper I want my name in, and it is not The BREEZE. One notice is sufficient. Signed—Jack Warner (Editor's note—We will print this paper to suit ourselves without outside or inside influence.)

John Wilcox's reforestation plan for the valley along the creek has set the old timers thinking. The question is whether the trees to be set out should be slippery elm as he recommends, or tamaracks. Some Creekers want tamaracks. They think maybe that some outsiders might get the idea that there are some slippery folks in the Valley if we planted slippery elm—and of course there are none.

There will be a clam bake Friday night, the 13th, down back of the old cow barn near the deep hole in the Tonquish. Bring own clams and dishes. Leonard Murphy and members of the Ladies' Auxiliary will be in charge.

While fishing in the Tonquish just east of Harvey road the other day, Paul M. D. Butz hooked a microbe. He isn't sure yet what kind of a microbe it might be, but The BREEZE editor thinks it might be a microbe he knows over in Toadshlow.

Public Relations Director Henry Hondorp has started plans for the annual picnic and round-up to be held at day-break on the morning of the Fourth of July at the Tonquish creek picnic grounds. Meanwhile, Creekers are busy clearing off the trees, logs, chicken coops and some sewage left on the grounds from the recent flood that got away from Flood Controller Finlan.

The BREEZE has just received a special dispatch from its Lansing correspondent who is up there hot on the tracks of our competing editor-representative. He wires Creeker Bill Hester that he isn't quite ready to make his expose yet, but it will be soon.

The main speaker for our Fourth celebration will be Carl Shear, who sacrificed his aspirations to become president of these United States in his battle for the purity of the Tonquish. Like all famous men, his beneficial work for humanity was not fully appreciated until too late. His address will be upon the subject "The Riparian Rights of The Tonquish Creekers." That's a deep subject and one of paramount interest to our settlement.

Because of requests from wash-tub manufacturers The BREEZE has decided to put off its wash-tub campaign until after it has cleaned upon the editor of the competition. After that cleaning, we'll start on the wash-tubs in spite of the wash-tub trust.

The editor of the Hickory Corners Meteor was a welcome caller at The BREEZE office the other day. He's planning a campaign against red ants in his town when the weather gets hot.

Glenn Jewel went up on one of the tributaries of the Tonquish to do a little fishing the other day. He says the further you get away from the main stream the less you notice its familiar odor. He missed it.

BULLETIN!
The BREEZE has just received the following telegram from its famous Lansing gum-shoe correspondent—"I have just caught up with the editor of our opposition. I saw him turn around a corner, stop and look to see if any one was following him and then hurry down the street. He landed at the Pere Marquette depot where he talked with two strange looking fellows. We are watching him close and will keep our eyes on him day and night, for the benefit of The BREEZE readers. We will keep watching him, just like the readers of The BREEZE are doing. Why did he go to the depot? That's what we will try and find out about next week. Your correspondent, Watchful Dick Jr.

Abe Goldstein has been spending the week consulting with some Indian squaws about entering his beauty show to be held soon down by the Tonquish. There seems to be some hitch somewhere about the beauty contest, as Abe has refused to say much to his fellow Creekers about it.

The Roast the "Cook" Forgot!

This perfect roast roasted itself in an uncovered pan while the "cook" spent the afternoon in the garden! No one peeked at it. No one basted it. No one even turned the oven on or off! The automatic Heat Control and the Clock Control of his modern gas range took entire charge of the roasting job!

Leave Oven Watching to your Automatic Gas Range

MEATS keep all their natural rich, juicy savour in the oven of a modern automatic gas range. They are browned crisply and evenly without basting and without oven watching. For the Automatic Heat Control maintains just the degree of temperature you select—from start to finish. Insulation keeps heat in, while ventilation lets excess moisture escape. And many of the new gas ranges also have a "Clock Control" that actually turns the oven on and off for you—in your absence!

Broiling in these new gas ranges is faster, easier, as well. The new high-speed broilers actually grill in double-quick time. Drop in at our showroom and see the many other ways modern gas ranges have simplified the entire job of cooking! And, don't forget—gas is not only quicker and more economical—gas appliances require a minimum of upkeep expense.

- BAKING
Baking requires even heat throughout the oven and unlimited range of baking temperatures, for light, evenly browned cakes, pies, breads. Gas gives both!
- ROASTING
Gas gives you the even ventilation which produces crisp, juicy roasts. Excess moisture is allowed to escape, preventing that "steamed" flavor.
- BROILING
Gas gives you the intense heat needed to brown meats so fast that loss of juices is prevented. Full flavor is saved.
- "WATERLESS" COOKING
Is faster, easier with GAS! Its instant high heat brings foods to a boil sooner. Its greater flexibility provides extra low simmer heat.
- FRYING
Perfectly speedy frying requires instant high heat—even spread of heat under the skillet—numberless heat variations. Gas gives all three!
