Permit Issued For New Home

Additional applications for building permits were filed with City Manager Clarence Elliott this week.

Penhale-Hubbard, Inc., obtained a permit to build a new home at 884 Palmer street.

Elliott said that building permits were higher than usual this spring. Permits for several other new homes are expected to be issued in the near future.

Chevrolet Has New Service

A recent automotive development with a tremendous influence on the satisfaction which owners derive from their automobiles is the new car conditioning plant which Chevrolet originated three years ago, and which now is an integral part of the manufacturing procedure at all 10 of the company's final assembly plants.

"Conditioning" is the word that best describes the last operations through which every Chevrolet car and truck must go before it is ready for delivery. It consists primarily of inspection and adjustment. The conditioning plant makes sure that the car is serviced with water, oil and grease, that the latter are of the type suited to the season and the locality where the car will be driven, and that the carburetor is adjusted and the engine tuned for maximum efficiency in that locality.

"Never forget a customer"—the central thought in Chevrolet's slogan—sums up the company policies on which the conditioning system is based. The distinction between conditioning and the processes which have preceded it should be clear at the outset. In the manufacturing plants, the workmen and inspectors are concerned with building the product to the specifications laid down on the designers' boards. It is their responsibility to see that every part is in its proper place and of specified quality.

The duty of the highly-trained conditioning plant personnel is to see that the car is actually ready to operate and is adjusted in every detail for the owner to step in and drive away. The men, in the conditioning plant, preparing hundreds of cars every day for delivery, naturally become thorough and expert.

Scenes and Persons in the Current News

1—Papa! at the bearing symbol of the Order of the Golden Rose conferred on Queen Elena of Italy by the pope recently. 2—Mrs. J. Borden Harriman appointed minister to Norway by the President. 3—Masaki Inuma (left) and Kenji Tsukagoshi, Japanese flyers welcomed at Croydon airport after flight from Tokyo to London. The Nipponese flyers received an ovation from crowds gathered to see them land.

More than 60 distinct inspection points, divided into many classifications, are checked on every car. The first classification is the engine, where there are 26 separate operations. Some idea of the scope of the check-up may be gleaned from the fact that the motor is allowed to reach a normal running temperature before the cylinder head, manifold, and exhaust pipe bolts are checked for tightness. The flywheel is viewed through an open port with a stroboscope light, a marvelous instrument in itself, which permits the timing mark on the revolving flywheel to be seen and its position checked.

Next in number of inspections is the road test, with 13 inspection points. As its name implies, it is more in the nature of a wind-up inspection. Here any vagary of operation is checked by an expert whose feeling for "rightness" has developed into almost a sixth sense. A classification called "under car" is next, with eight inspection points. Inspectors working in pits with powerful lights go over some of the most obscure but most important parts of the car. They check, for example, the steering gear-to-frame bolts and the pitman arm nut. They check the drag link and tie rod cotter keys, and also the alignment of the emergency brake cables. At the same time that these under body operations are being performed seven points are being checked by other inspectors on the "upper body" and six more on the lights and electrical connections.

In testing the hydraulic brake system, the lines are put under a pressure of 500 pounds for eight minutes, a tremendous load that could never be duplicated by the strongest driver. It represents a safety factor of at least 10-to-one.

No detail is too small to escape attention. Every nut, bolt and screw is inspected. The air pressure in the spare tire is right, and the trunk cover hinge is working freely. The key is in the ignition lock waiting for a quarter turn to the right. A step on the starter and the response will be the same in any one of the company's 10 assembly plants—a sweet running motor and a car that is ready to go.

Four principal types of camera now are being used by most amateur photographers: box with fitted focus; folding with bellows and movable focus scale; reflex with focusing through ground glass; and miniature taking tiny pictures for enlargement.

CAVALRY LOSES HORSE IN THIS SECTION

If you find a horse browsing around your front lawn any one of these mornings don't hesitate to ask him in and keep him occupied until you have time to call. Lt. Cass Kershaw, who is chief of the searching party looking for this animal. It seems a light bay horse belonging to the Cavalry unit located on Joy road, strayed away from the stables last Tuesday and since that time there has been no word of it. The horse carries the USC brand on the left shoulder and M918 on the neck. Dr. Kershaw says that cavalry members will appreciate any information as to the whereabouts of the horse.

THE TONQUISH CREEK BREEZE

Vol. No. 1 Tonquish Creek, Michigan U. S. A.

BULLETIN!

The BREEZE editor has gone bank robber hunting, so there will be no news items this week. The editor says it's a shame to think that the police haven't caught the fellows who came right into our town and gagged our bankers. It ain't so much as to what they got, but to think they gagged 'em—that's the worst crime of all, so he's gone out bank robber hunting. There will be lots of good news next week.

NEWS FLASH!

Here's one important item The BREEZE cannot leave out this week. Some years ago, late one afternoon just before it was getting dark, two Indians arrived in Tonquish Creek with a medicine show where they had been billed to do some Indian war dances for a week. George Springer, who was then chief of police of Plymouth Corners met the Indians as they followed a cow path down back of the town. They wanted to know from Chief Tonquish if there was a creek here bearing the name of their illustrious ancestor, Chief Tonquish. George showed them the way down to the creek. They took one look and left at 5:15 for the west. These are facts that Creek Historian Charles Finlan has uncovered during the past week.

To show that the Creekers are not afraid of competition, we are running another scurrilous article this week right in The Tonquish Creek BREEZE about ourselves. Who cares what they think or say, when the Creekers are out fighting with all their might and main for equal justice and purity of Tonquish Creek? Here's that vulgar article about ourselves, right where Tonquish Creek news ought to be.

As I was telling you folks I said I'd just up and have my say and then I'd just let the BREEZE lay the dust but when the mailman brought my copy last week I give it a quick look and I got madder and madder. Wasn't it disgusting? This ain't goin' to be any short tussle either, it looks to me like a long battle. Course if it comes to trench warfare, they got me drawing to a bob tailed fawn. They can drop into their own ditch and who'd want to go in after 'em. Gas? They got plenty o' that stuff too. And maybe they want to scrap legal like. Well they got me spar in with a cane in one hand and a crutch under my off arm if they want to law it out. Looks to me as they got most of the lawyers in town on their staff. I guess they got me short for the time being but I pay taxes and I vote so what the—?

I spose I could get the police to rope me off a corner for next Saturday night and I could get a soap box and tell you about this bunch direct lip to ear. But I don't trust 'em. They'd most likely give me and the soap box both the hot foot. So I'm going to spare myself for humanity and try to wake you public up right here in my own column. Don't take me too lightly, this is serious business. Public business if you please. Tonquish creek is your creek. It's steeped in history and everything is steeped in it. Are you goin' to have it drawn thru the mud by this bunch with out even puttin up your dukes? Are you goin' to stick with me and the EDITOR or are you goin' to stick in the creek? Your goin' to get stuck some where you might just as well have your choice.

Just listen to some o' the things the BREEZE had the gall to sling at us people last week. They is goin' to study restockin it with wild life like it used to be. Get that. Why everting that frys or crawls use it for it's home base right now. And they is thinkin of refusin membership to Bill Connor and he carried the first pail of water to prime the darn trickles when they started it runnin. The first Democratic meetin ever held in the State of Mich. was called to order by Bill at its

M. E. Circle No. 1 Meets May 3

Approximately 50 young ladies and their mothers met at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Hill on the evening of May 3. Following the usual business meeting of the Circle of the Methodist church a lovely program was enjoyed. Mrs. William Lyndon, the oldest mother present, recited very beautifully two poems, one extolling Mother, the second describing the joys of spring. A trio consisting of Mrs. Clifford Cline, Mrs. Roy Fisher and Mrs. Gladys Kreiger, accompanied by Miss Carol Campbell sang "Thanks Be to God". Mrs. Kreiger then delighted those present with two lovely solos, one a lullaby, the other a song honoring Mother.

Through the assistance of Mrs. Walter Asman a very charming guest speaker had been procured, a Miss Wei Koo Chang of Shanghai. She spoke of various Chinese customs and then passed among her hearers some views of beautiful Chinese scenes, temples, etc. She readily responded to the many questions asked and everyone felt much better acquainted with China after enjoying this charming native of the Far East.

Corsages were presented to the oldest and youngest mothers and to Miss Wei Koo Chang. Sweet peas were given to all the mothers and daughters and then dainty cookies and ice cream were served. Miss Ada Daggett assisting Mrs. Hill as hostess.

Two loyalist militiamen in the front line trenches before Madrid crouch behind their sandbags and read two books they picked up on their way up from the rear during a temporary lull in the fighting. The man at the left has kept his gun in place, and the other has his where he can get it quickly.

The young women of this Circle have been "doing things" of late. They held a very successful bake sale Saturday, May 8. A group of ten will motor to Lapeer, Michigan Tuesday night, May 11 to be guests of the Mary and Martha Circle of the M. E. church of that city and an expedition to Greenfield village is being arranged by a sub-division of this group for Saturday afternoon, May 15. Anyone interested in joining this expedition please contact either Miss Margaret Clemen or Mrs. Miller Ross and transportation will be arranged for.

The reception and luncheon was held in the Wistaria room of the hotel; Phillip Holmes, stage and screen star was the guest speaker. Mrs. Clarence Elliott and Mrs. Elton Eaton participated in the affair.

Here's something else Stanley Corbett wants to put in high power lines from the wasted current. That sounds like he had an ax at the grin stone. Why not use gas? You could catch enough raw gas with a pitch fork to supply the whole city if you had enough help. But don't look fer them fellows to help you. And they brag that they don't eat crow. Maybe not. Maybe they got to learn to like it like I did with olives. Well I got 'em taken little nibbles and spit it out. Maybe they'll like it before I get thru dishin it out. I pay my taxes and I vote so what the—?

Schrader's Win Opening Game

Plymouth Schrader's opened their 1937 season with a win over the Farmington Merchants. With six pitchers in the starting lineup, it was doubtful as to the hitting power of the Schrader team. Simmons and Trimble were the heavy hitters for the day with two singles and a double. Blondell, acting manager, had a triple, single and three bases on balls while "Chuck" Epps, one of the six pitchers in the lineup contributed a single and double.

Ed Sinta started on the mound for Schrader's but poor support resulted in his leaving the game in the sixth inning. Carroll Lee finished the game and was credited with the victory. Plymouth-Schrader

"Mortals and Immortals" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 16. Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 37: 18): "The Lord knoweth the days of the upright; and their inheritance shall be for ever." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 336): "Immortal man was and is God's image or idea, even the infinite expression of infinite Mind, and immortal man is coexistent and coeternal with that Mind."

Praise and prayer service Wednesday evening at 7:30. George Wepler expresses his experience as to the power of prayer in a bit of verse, which he titles: "THE INNER VOICE."

The Inner Voice calls me to pray while in the round of daily care; And so I pause to intercede For someone, known to God, in need. The name, I may not even hear; The trial, itself, may not be clear; Still I can raise my heart in prayer— God knows the need, and answers there. Bless mystery of communion sweet. When thus my blessed Lord I meet: To heed His call as best I may, Gives joy to me through all the day. Go to church Sunday! Come to Calvary. (A.E.B.)

Shriners To Meet In Detroit

Nobles of the Mystic Realm of Shrinedom throughout North America, will don their jaunty red fezzes and trek to Detroit this year for their sixty-third annual international convention. The dates set are June 22, 23 and 24.

Not since away back in 1897 has the motor city been host to Shriners. At that time high-stepping horses were the vogue on the beautiful tree-shaded streets of the quiet town on the banks of the azure Detroit river, which separates it from the great Dominion of Canada. Today with a population of nearly 2,000,000 Detroit truthfully is the city dynamic, known throughout the civilized world as the center of the vast automobile industry.

In 1897 only a hand full of the comparatively young organization's members made pilgrimage to Detroit. Already word has come to Moslem Temple, the host unit there, that at least 100,000 of the frolicking sons of Allah will descend on the motor city this year for a few days of gaiety. They will come from California and Florida, from Maine and Washington, from Alaska and Hawaii, from Quebec and British Columbia, Chicago, Cleveland, Los Angeles, Miami, Philadelphia, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Sioux City, Seattle, San Francisco and scores of other towns will send delegations here.

And while Shriners everywhere else are making plans to join the caravan to Detroit, the Shriners of Moslem Temple are making lavish preparations to entertain their guests.

Tunis E. Stinson, recorder of Moslem, who has gained an enviable record as "big boss" of the Shrine Circus there—known as the largest winter circus in the world—is director-general of all convention arrangements. To Stinson falls the gargantuan task of coordinating the 42 committees appointed and of supervising all arrangements.

Judge Clyde I. Webster of the Wayne county circuit court who is Imperial Potentate, was largely instrumental in inviting the Shriners to Detroit.

Heading the corporation formed to promote the huge meeting is Judge DeWitt H. Merriam, immediate Past Potentate of Moslem, also of the Wayne Circuit court. Other executives laboring night and day to whip the "big show" into shape are Charles E. Swales, assistant director-general; Richard E. Moore, Frank H. Tout and Vaughan Reid, vice-presidents of the corporation; Guy W. Moore secretary; George C. Johnson, assistant secretary; T. Allan Smith, treasurer and James H. Garlick, assistant treasurer. Moore is present illustrious Potentate of the host Temple. All these men have been active in Shrine work for many years and are well known to the nobility throughout the continent.

Urges Farmers To Make Inquiry

Rural rehabilitation clients of the Resettlement administration in Wayne county are being urged to participate in the 1937 soil-conservation program of the agricultural adjustment administration, according to Gordon Brewster, rural rehabilitation supervisor.

Calling on the county supervisors to advise the clients of the importance of this, Roswell G. Carr, the resettlement administration's state director of rural rehabilitation in Michigan, has said:

"It is important that the clients of the RA give full cooperation to the agricultural adjustment administration and the state extension service in the effort now being made to encourage the planting of soil-conserving crops this year.

"We should not only encourage clients to participate in the soil-improvement program, but aid in any other way through the community activities to discourage a tendency to increase soil-depleting acreages."

It was pointed out that the rural rehabilitation clients, in the same way as other farmers in Wayne county, can contact either the members of the county agricultural conservation committee or the agricultural extension agent, whose offices are located in the Calvin building, Dearborn. Applications for soil-conservation agreements are now being accepted so that cooperators may make their plans before spring seeding.

Mr. Overman, after a decade of work in his barn, during which time he refused to tell any one what he was doing, took a great contraption into a field, got into it, and with the help of two sons started a fire under it. There was an explosion, and the rocket disappeared into the air. Then, 22 years later, Mr. Overman returned with his moon story.

Mr. Arnheim swam eight hours a day, came down through the Great Lakes, the Erie Canal and the Hudson River.

Drunk Drivers On The Increase

The number of operators of motor vehicles in Michigan who are being snared annually by the provisions of the state's financial responsibility act has shown a steady increase, since the law became effective October 17, 1933, inspection of Department of State records discloses.

Leon D. Case, secretary of state points out, however, that while increases in motor vehicle registration are a factor, other considerations enter. In the first place, although the law was drafted to bring to book those who cause damage for which they cannot or will not pay, more than 91 percent of the total persons involved by the act have been convicted of drunk driving, rather than because of unsatisfied judgments arising out of automobile accidents.

Inability to meet damage judgments arising out of crashes constitutes one of the smallest number of causes for ruling drivers off the state's highways, there having been only 247 such instances out of a total of 10,828 from October 17, 1933 to April 29, 1937. The number of operators deprived of the privilege of driving during the same period for drunk driving is 9,872. For the first three months of 1936, a total of 887 drunk drivers were ruled off the road, but for the same period of the current year, drunk drivers trapped by the act totalled 1088, an increase of nearly 23 percent.

Motor vehicle operators are brought under the act for a variety of reasons, most of which were originally regarded as not likely to involve many drivers. Forty times as many drivers are barred from the highways because of drunk driving than because of failure to pay for damage they cause, a summary of the records discloses.

W. C. T. U. Meets With Mrs. Stark

The Plymouth Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold its May meeting next Thursday, the 20th at 2:30 p.m. at the home of L. B. Stark, 647 Maple avenue.

It is hoped there will be a good attendance of the members. Any one interested in the temperance work will be welcome at all W. C. T. U. meetings.

From the Michigan Union: Read April Current History and learn something of the enormous cost of crime in the United States. The department of justice puts the figures annually at fifteen billion dollars and states that a murder is committed every 45 minutes somewhere in the United States. The highest percentage committed by any one age is done by boys of nineteen. More than 1,500,000 serious crimes were committed in this country during the year 1936 according to the research department of the government. Now watch the newspaper and note after the account of the crime these words, "the prisoner admitted he had been drinking". Let us help people to know the truth. It is time to begin to stop crime at its source by stopping traffic in liquor.

Perfection Wins Opener 12 to 11

Ray Levandowski's single in the eighth with the bases loaded scored three runs, as Williams showed the fans some base running, and his single in the ninth scored Hovey from second with the winning run over Ace of Clubs in the Michigan Inter-County league opener.

Richards, the new first baseman for Perfection showed the fans that he can hit by getting the first home run of the season along with a single.

Warren Bassett was the starting pitcher and looked good in the box, but was relieved in the sixth by Panosian.

The victory started Manager Ray Levandowski's 12th season as manager. When asked what his team would do this year, he replied: "Our team will be in the play-offs next fall."

Next Sunday the league leaders will clash when Belleville meets Perfection at Riverside at 3 p.m. A good game is expected, so let's come out and cheer your team on to victory. Plymouth Perfection

Who Gets The Welfare Cash?

(By ELTON R. EATON)

How has the millions we have spent for welfare been spent, and who has been getting it? The writer presented these facts to the state legislature a few days ago:

I am glad that the members of the Ways and Means committee have followed the commendable course in placing this additional deficiency appropriation bill for a million dollars for the use of the State Emergency Relief commission, before the members of the House without items included for other departments and purposes. That will enable us to discuss this welfare question without in any way involving other appropriations.

I, for one, believe that the time has arrived to call a halt on this squandering of millions of dollars that we think we are voting for welfare purposes. It was right after the session started when the legislature appropriated $6,000,000 in another deficiency appropriation bill for the Emergency Relief commission. I voted for that bill at that time, but I decided that before voting for more money for the commission to spend as it pleases, I would try to find out more about how it has expended these millions.

There is no person in this House more willing and anxious than I to see to it that those in distress are provided with the food, shelter and clothing they need—but I want it understood that I am utterly opposed to a system which is being built up with the one idea in view of keeping on the public payrolls, forever, a new brand of professional "carpet-baggers".

Michigan is being libeled and those in direct charge of our welfare administration are squandering vast sums of money in an effort to sell members of this legislature, the newspapers and the public, on the idea that we are still deep in the depression and that our welfare problem has just started, and that they need this million and many more millions of tax-earned dollars for this year, next year and other years to come.

In an effort to create a "build-up" for their claims as to the necessity for all of this money, they have compiled tabulations, which I charge are incorrect, and in some cases, deliberately distorted to serve their purposes. They are based upon supposition, and there are no substantial facts upon which many of the conclusions are reached. There is no better place to begin a discussion of the waste and improper use of welfare monies than right at the top of the organization.

Professor William Haber of the University of Michigan is the welfare administrator for this state. As a professor at the University he is paid a salary of $6,000 per year. That salary is $1,000 more per year than the salary of the governor or any other elective state official. It is $1,000 per year more than we pay the president of the Michigan State Normal, who has direct supervision over nearly 1800 students.

Probably no other man in Michigan or any other state, has been able to get on six different public payrolls, most of them running concurrently a part of the time and some of them all the time during the depression period.

At the beginning of the State Emergency Relief commission's existence, he had himself appointed deputy administrator at a salary of $2400 per year. This was soon jumped to $6,000 per year.

When the Works Progress Administration was started in Michigan he was appointed deputy administrator of this governmental agency and soon became its director at a salary of $6,600 per year.

Up until the first of February, 1937, he received a salary of $2400 per year as director of the National Youth Administration in Michigan. How much he received from the WPA and the National Youth Administration in expense accounts, I do not know.

About the time he became relief administrator for the state, his salary as a professor at the Michigan State college was not cut off but reduced to a part time basis and he received a salary from the Michigan State college up until September 1, 1936, of $1500 per year.

He is reported to have given a lecture a day early in the morning to some class.

For some unknown reason he had his name dropped off the State Emergency Relief commission payroll for a period during 1936, but it went back on again in October and remained there until this session of the state legislature convened, at the rate of $2100 per year.

As a member of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission he is authorized to take from the funds of this organization $2500 more per year. He assisted in the drafting of the law passed at the special session of the state legislature in December, which gave him this new access into public funds.

In the little time at my disposal, I turned my attention to another way Professor Haber has found to secure a considerable portion of welfare funds for himself. One needs a lightning calculator to check them all.

In one period of last year, covering less than six months, he drove his automobile at the rate of five cents of welfare funds per mile, a distance of more than half way around the world, at a cost of nearly $700 of welfare funds. When he has ever found time to do any "professing" at the University or the State college, is more than I can understand.

His expense account, paid out of money that we have voted to buy food, fuel and clothing for the unfortunates, shows that day after day, week after week and month after month, he kept his car almost in constant motion for which he never failed to enter a mileage charge.

I have not the time to read all the items in some of his expense accounts I have been able to secure, but I will give you some of the totals. Apparently he could not wait for the end of the month to file his claims, so he presented them every two weeks, in order to get his so-called expense money. His SERA expense accounts during 1936, totals for two weeks' periods follow:

"I don't ask much from life," he said; "I don't want fame or wealth. All that I ask is my own share Of cheer and peace and health. All that I want is happiness— The simple joys you find Where folks are loyal and sincere And neighborly and kind.

"I've never wanted public place, Or power over men; I'd rather take a few good friends Out fishing now and then! I'd rather have a little home, With flowers at the door, Than all the riches and renown Most folks are striving for!"

Do not for one minute think that the wheels of his car stopped turning after the start of this legislative session.

He has been paid 2018 welfare nickels for that many miles he piled up during the last two weeks of January alone. The total for January and February was over $500.00.

In one expense account of last year there was a notation that led to an interesting discovery.

The welfare funds for Michigan financed a week's stay for Professor Haber at the Ritz-Carlton hotel in Atlantic City during the delightful month of May in 1936, where he enjoyed the sea breezes and strolls along the board walk. But this was merely a side-trip from Washington, and the same notation led to the revelation of another pipe line Professor Haber has into the pockets of the taxpayers of this state and nation. The notation said that the railroad fare to Washington and return had been paid from the funds of the Works Progress administration, although our welfare money financed the Atlantic City side trip and stay. He did have a WPA expense account, but how MUCH he received from it, I do not know.

These accounts demonstrate how fast this professor operates. Let us trail him for a minute by his expense accounts. He checked out of the Ritz-Carlton in Atlantic City during the day on May 26th. Apparently he went back to Washington, as we paid his fare there from the city by the ocean in New Jersey. He probably reached Washington on the 27th of May, and then hied homeward on the 28th, for the very next day, May 29th, we find him wheeling it again on welfare funds in his little old automobile, to the tune of another 168 welfare miles. The next day away he went again for 173 miles, and so on and on.

Delving in the Federal Emergency Relief commission funds, there was discovered more expense accounts that the professor had filed in order to add to his fast growing pile of silver and greenbacks taken in salaries, automobile mileage and other expense account items, every penny of it coming from welfare and other public funds.

Members of the House, so serious is this matter that I believe we would be justified in a legislative investigation of all of his activities in connection with all public monies, that he even charged one expense account item up to the University last spring, but apparently he found it not so easy for one to get his hands in University funds, for I have discovered but one small expense account item paid to him by that institution.

My own inquiry has been necessarily only superficial, and how far we would get with an inquiry into his public financial income, I do not know, as they say he is smart and I believe he is, as he apparently has out-smarted at least two one-term republican governors.

That part of the Federal Emergency Relief commission expense account I have been able to secure is chiefly for automobile mileage

Laundry Adds Minor League Player to String

The Perfection Laundry team of Plymouth will undoubtedly boast one of the hardest hitting sluggers in the Wayne Inter-county league this season in the person of Ralph Regan.

Regan played with the Peoria of the Three-I-league, class B circuit of Illinois and Indiana in 1935. Though just a kid of 17 at the time he came up with a batting average of .313, which isn't so bad for the first year in organized ball.

A first baseman in his own right, Ralph, or "Dutch" to those who know him best, stands six feet, three inches tall and weighs 197 pounds. Right in harmony with Regan's hitting is Manager Ray Levandowski's cage coaching. An experienced man in baseball, Manager Levandowski is likely to produce many unexpected plays which will make more runs.

From the outlook at the present time, barring injuries and etc., the local aggregation looms as a real contender for the championship this year. Garden City, champions of last year again remains the team to beat. Inkster appears to be stronger this year, and Wyandotte, a new entry to the league is definitely in the running.

The schedule for the Inter-county league will be published in the near future.

RAMBLING with Editors of Michigan

JOB DEPENDS ON SPENDING.

Our state legislature is considering taking the welfare business from the local officers and placing it with the federal or state agency. Aside from the political features of the proposition, it would, of course, add materially to the expense. Furthermore, it would be a source of an ever increasing welfare load. Just what kind of judgment is it to set up, an agency whose tenure of office depends upon spending YOUR money? To hold their jobs they must spend and spend and spend.—Frank Bryce in the Grand Ledge Independent.

HIKING THE GAS TAX.

State Senator D. Hale Brake has introduced a measure into the state legislature which, if adopted, would increase the gasoline tax to four cents per gallon, an increase of one cent per gallon over the present levy.

Senator Brake asserted that this measure was intended as a substitute for one now pending which would divert from 8 to 10 million dollars from sales tax revenues to assist the state highway department in a program of trunk line maintenance.

Neither the Brake measure nor the one which it is intended to replace is likely to win the approval of motorists and the general public. In the first place, what evidence is there that the present 3 cents a gallon tax is inadequate? With the aid of that tax the present highway commissioner has done an excellent job of maintaining the state's highways and building new ones. It has been fortunate, too, that in late years federal aid for highway maintenance and construction has been given much more freely than in the past, and Commissioner Van Wagoner has taken full advantage of the fact.

So far from the fact that the sales tax revenues will be tapped to provide road money, the exact opposite is the case. The money derived from the gasoline tax is always a tempting target for legislators looking for funds to finance their pet projects. At every session of the legislature there are attempts to divert funds from this source for other purposes than those for which the tax was levied; namely, the construction and maintenance of highways.

The motorist already carries more than his share of the tax burden. It will require far more proof than has yet been furnished that road fund revenues are inadequate to convert Michigan motorists to the idea that a hike in the gas tax is either right or necessary. In the meantime someone should put the brake on Brake—George Welsh in The Grand Rapids Chronicle.

PROSPERITY BREEDS RELIEF.

In 1934, a year of deep depression relief costs in the United States amounted to slightly more than two billion one hundred million dollars.

With the return of prosperity, relief costs have been considerably cut—OR AT LEAST THAT IS WHAT ONE MIGHT LOGICALLY EXPECT!

As a matter of fact, however, relief costs for 1937 will be two billion four hundred million. This is an INCREASE of three hundred million dollars for "relief" expenditures over the mid-depression year of 1934.

One could write columns explaining this absurd situation. Boiled down to its basic elements, however, the answer would undoubtedly be—TOO MUCH POLITICS.—Dick Cook in The Hastings Banner.

What is the "Low-price Field"?

YOU hear a lot about "the low-price field" these days. A good many cars claim to be in it. So whenever the low-price field is mentioned, remember: Until Ford came, no average American could own a car.

Today all Ford prices are still low—with the prices of the 60-horsepower Ford V-8 $30 to $60 lower than those of any other car of comparable size.

But with Ford, "low price" doesn't merely mean low figures on the price tag. It means much more than that. It means low prices and low costs all the car's long life. Low prices for service—for parts—and, above all, for operation.

Both Ford V-8 engine sizes are economical to operate. The 85 horsepower gives greater gasoline mileage this year than ever, and the "60" delivers the highest mileage in Ford history.

Private owners, cab companies, fleet operators all report that the "60" averages from 22 to 27 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Check and see how much Ford saves you.

Do you wonder why we are asked to vote another million because there is a "deficiency" in the welfare funds?

I know full well that I have not even scratched the surface—and I know that with such an example of money grabbing on the part of the director of the State Emergency Welfare Commission, that the spirit to "get and get all you can" just cannot help but extend right through the entire ranks of the organization.

I was anxious to have that resolution passed I presented some time ago, demanding from Professor Haber and his department complete data as to salaries, expense accounts and other income enjoyed by every one associated with the SERA, because I feel that it would reveal to us the real reasons of why they demand so many millions from the taxpayers.

In order to keep this vast welfare financial system going, and to impress members of the legislature, as well as the public, with the necessity of voting increased millions for welfare purposes at a time when there is an actual labor shortage in Michigan, Professor Haber is constantly having prepared, statistics of various kinds for our consideration.

Along about the time this second deficiency appropriation bill was introduced for the welfare commission, there appeared on the desks of the members of this House, the Michigan Emergency Relief administration bulletin on public relief statistics for the year 1936. It purports to show reasons which make necessary this and other appropriations. It also sets forth claims as to the low costs of welfare administration in Michigan.

There is an expression that is frequently used in connection with statements that conflict with the actual facts. While I do not charge that the tabulations in this report are deliberately faked, I do contend that they have been compiled upon assumption, that they are unsupported by facts, and that they have been distorted in such a way as to convey impressions that do not conform to actual conditions. Important omissions are also noted in an effort to impress us with the necessity of voting this million of dollars and the many more millions they expect to receive from us. When you have time, study the data on page 6 of that report, pertaining to crop productions in Michigan and farm income. The assertion is made, without any qualifications of any kind, that Michigan has just gone through seven years of sub-normal crop production, when as a matter of fact Department of Agriculture official records show nothing of the sort. We have had two drought years, but try to find in that welfare report any reference to drought conditions as being the cause of reduced harvested acreage in 1934 and 1936. They do discuss, however, depression problems in connection with crop conditions.

There is a total omission as to the amount paid Michigan farmers in 1934 and 1935 from government corn, wheat and hog benefit payments amounting to practically $10,000,000.00.

This money the Commission is asking from us is to be expended, in part, for the support of the unemployed. How many people are unemployed in Michigan? His report sets forth the fact that in 1935, the average number employed in Michigan totaled 487,030 in manufacturing industries. There is not the slightest basis for any such total. As a matter of fact, it is about as correct as the Literary Digest election poll of last fall.

There is one place where he could have secured accurate figures as to the number employed in manufacturing industries in Michigan for the year 1935, and that place is the office of the United States Department of Commerce in Detroit. Their figures show that instead of only 487,030 being employed, there were 530,805 working in manufacturing industries in Michigan that year. Everyone knows that there has been a constant increase in industrial employment in Michigan since, but Professor Haber's report says that in 1936 there were but 510,850 working in factories in the state. His total for 1936 is considerably below the total of the Department of Commerce report for the year 1935.

If one is willing to deal in the kind of speculation that fills Professor Haber's report, it is safe to predict that there were more than a hundred thousand more men employed in 1936 than Professor Haber claims. The state department of Labor and Industry has no reports which in any way check with the tabulations Professor Haber provided this body, as to the number employed in Michigan.

But it is essential to him and his cohorts that a constant studied effort be made to keep us believing, and the public believing, that there is a vast army of unemployed people in this state that must be provided for.

Every able-bodied man and woman in Michigan today could have a job if they wanted to work. Farmers need help. Housewives need help. Builders need help. Everywhere there is help needed—but Professor Haber has educated his welfare clients NOT TO WORK.

What about the new-fangled carpet-bagging system of welfare accounting? And how much of the money we have appropriated to them, and they are asking us to appropriate to them, goes for salaries and expense accounts? Try to find out from their reports if you can. If you have the report, turn to page 24 and study it for a minute.

The last column on the page is headed "Administrative Expense". The average person looking at the report would immediately think that that was all that was paid in salaries and expense accounts, a total of $1,634,554.16.

The next column to it is labeled "Social Service". One would naturally say "why, that's social service", but what is this social service column that totals to another $1,611,200.58? It's just like the other column, it is made up of salaries and expense accounts and maybe some prunes and grapefruit.

The next two columns are practically blank, but the next one headed "Relief Service" should also be labeled "Salaries and Expense Accounts".

How many millions in salaries and expense accounts are hidden in the next two columns no man knows, and I doubt if any one can ever find out.

There is one thing I am sure of, and that is that the people of Michigan who have most needed this money, have been getting it through the smallest end of the horn.

The professor, I have heard indirectly, would like to place the greatest part of the blame for squandering of welfare money that has taken place, upon the county boards. Don't let him fool anyone upon this point. There are members in this House who have served upon these county boards, and to show you the extent of Haber's domination of these welfare matters, he has told county boards that ALL of their welfare funds would be cut off if they didn't do just as he told them to do.

"We'll cut off your funds"—what does he care about helping those in distress just as long as his salary and expense account money out of these appropriations keeps rolling in?

Did you know that Professor Haber has set up a complete school system in Michigan extending from the nursery room to the freshman in college? Did he ever ask this legislature for permission to use a million or two of these welfare dollars for his educational institutions? Let me read to you what Professor Haber says about his school system that was established out of these welfare funds:

On page 254 of Professor Haber's 1936 report, he says: "Three thousand teachers, research workers, rehabilitation agents, librarians, health service workers, recreation leaders, home visitors, and an equally large number of college students were given employment on these projects at a cost of over one and three-quarters million dollars. The complete program of this department compared, in size of staff, with the school system of the state of Oregon—in the size of its student-body it equalled the combined enrollment of the schools of Flint, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Battle Creek and Jackson. Expenditures for this program amounted to a sum as large as the total cost of elementary education in the state of Idaho."

On page 264 of the same report he says this about the subjects taught in his school system:

"Workers' education classes offered to men and women an opportunity to train themselves in clear thinking on questions closely related to their daily lives as workers and citizens. Its purpose was to stimulate an active and continued interest in the economic problems of the times and to develop a sense of responsibility for their solution. The program concentrated on classes in economics, economic history, history of the labor movement, collective bargaining, and current problems. Classes in parliamentary procedure and public speaking were also held to equip workers to administer their own organizations and to discuss their own problems more effectively."

So you see we have been educating soapbox orators out of welfare funds. Out of these appropriations, we provide vacation periods for the weary willies of the nation. We have gone into the money lending business.

Through our co-ops we are financially backing an office furniture factory, a shirt factory, we have invested our cash in grain, mint and cattle farms, the fish and fish-smoking industry, potato crate making, canning factories, a lake ferry system, the tanning business, shoe making, the baking business and we even have money invested in a piggery.

We have been asked for this appropriation to assist in caring for the "case loads" that the State Emergency Relief commission says it is carrying. Their reports say that there was an average throughout last year of 72,172 "case loads" in Michigan.

In view of the fact that "case loads" go to make up the total number on welfare, including the unemployed on welfare, the "case loads" these appropriations pay to support are of interest to members of the legislature.

What is a "case load"? If at any time during the year 1936 you received from the welfare a pair of shoes, or if you were given one unripened grapefruit from California by the welfare, or if you were a college student, and received welfare assistance in working in the cloak room or elsewhere, you went to make up the "case load", even though you had never returned for additional welfare help.

It is essential that Professor Haber and his followers keep up a big standing army of "Welfare clients", as without this army the legislature is liable to cut off his funds. If a welfare client takes a job to earn a few extra dollars, he is threatened with banishment from Professor Haber's army by the welfare commanding officers.

To support these "case loads", there was taken out of the sale tax money we paid into the state treasury last year on the food and clothing we buy, a total of $12,834,249.96. Townships, villages and cities paid a total real estate tax of $8,696,046.18 into these welfare funds that Professor Haber has so liberally spent for himself and to educate his welfare clients to live in idleness. The federal government's contribution was less than a million dollars. From now on the state taxpayers MUST pay all.

Michigan was one of the first states to come out of the depression. It is prosperous now, and it has been for the past two years, give the credit where you may.

The services of the State Emergency Relief commission are no longer needed.

With the establishment of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission, the problem of taking care of those without work goes into the hands of another agency, supported by a tax upon pay checks, and payrolls.

For those unable to work, the sick, the cripples, mothers and dependent children, the legislature should use its own judgment in setting up an organization at once, that is not dominated by carpet-bagger professors and their like. This should be the last appropriation made to the welfare commission, and its worthless and squandering existence should be ended at once.

FURTHER, the legislature SHOULD request the Governor to demand Professor Haber's resignation from every state institution and department he is associated with and end at once his TAX EX-EMPT income from the tax funds of the state.

Knowing his type as I do, he will without question charge that what I am saying about the squandering of welfare millions is all politics.

That is the usual answer when it comes to making a public accounting. But being of the minority party, I have nothing to gain politically, nor has my party, by the over-throw of the present wasteful and extravagant welfare system.

Such a thing as this could never have happened if the public had some way of knowing what was going on and if our elected officials had exercised proper alertness.

There is but one way to stop the waste of public money and that way is to let the public know how the money is being spent and who is getting it.

I know it is not a popular thing, from the standpoint of getting votes, to come in here and oppose the powerful welfare political machine and those who live, without working, off the doles this machine passes out. But it seems to me that the taxpayers are entitled to at least a little consideration.

If we voted an appropriation of $50,000,000 to this welfare machine you may rest assured that these carpet-baggers would be back here for another deficiency appropriation.

Mr. Chairman, I have an amendment I wish to offer: Amend section 2, line 6, after the word "board", by adding the following: "No part of this appropriation shall be used for telephone calls, telegrams or traveling expenses to any meeting called to discuss welfare legislation, or for any other expenditures of any kind tending to influence legislation, and the administrative board shall not approve any expenditures for any purpose whatsoever except for the relief of those in actual distress; and provided further, That before granting any request for welfare relief, from monies hereby appropriated on or after this date, a statement supported by affidavits from township, village, city or county officials as to the necessity for such welfare relief, must be filed with the county welfare commission and with the administrative board and approved at public meetings of county welfare commissions to which such requests have been presented and by the state administrative board.

(The amendment was passed by a vote of 57 to 11.)

MADDY DIRECTS CHORAL ENSEMBLE

Three hundred boys and girls from the schools of River Rouge, Wayne, Ecorse, Ypsilanti, and Plymouth, participated in the second annual T.V.A.A. music festival, held in Central high school, Ypsilanti, last Friday evening. In all the group songs they were directed by Mr. Joseph Maddy, of the University School of Music, and were accompanied by Mrs. Roland Schafer. The audience was rather small but applauded favorably after each selection.

The chorus opened the program by singing "I Love Life" by Mana-Zucca, and "Dear Land of Home" by Sibelius, after which the boys sang Romberg's "Auf Wiedersehn." Competently accompanied by Clara Mae Cochran, the girls' sextet from Ecorse then sang a familiar number, "Pale Moon." After the entire girls' chorus "Where My Caravan Has Rested" by Lohr, and "Nightfall in Granada" by Buono, the girls' octet from Plymouth sang "Robin in the Rain" and then a more difficult selection, "Spirit Flower", by Campbell-Tipton. Those in the octet were Madolyn Weller, Norma Jean Roe, Linnea Vickstrom, Jean Hamill, Patricia Cassidy, Florence Norton, Barbara Hubbell, Jeannette Brown, and Carol Campbell accompanist. Kenneth Thayer, of Ypsilanti received a great deal of applause for his baritone solo, "Homing", by Del Riego. River Rouge was represented by a mixed quartet that sang two compositions very well: "When Through the Night," by Liszt, and "Country Gardens", an English folk song. The entire chorus then concluded the concert with the singing of "Will You Remember", from "Maytime", and the beautiful "Good-night, Beloved", by Rinsuti.

The singers from Plymouth were coached by Miss Gallimore and were all glad to have the experience of singing in so large a choir.

Many Die in Zeppelin Hindenburg Explosion

This remarkable picture was made just as the giant German dirigible Hindenburg burst into flames and exploded as it was preparing to land at Lakehurst, N. J., following a fight from Germany. Ninety-eight persons aboard were plunged to earth in the flaming wreckage. Thirty-four died almost instantly and of the 64 rescued, many were horribly injured. An explosion of a gas cell in the stern was blamed for the disaster.

STARKWEATHER NOTES

The kindergartners entertained their mothers last Friday with a special Mother's day program. The hand played, they sang spring songs, and recited poems. These little busy bodies are enjoying playing store.

Miss Stueky's art class decorated its bulletin board with colorful pictures of fairy flowers; the class is drawing pictures of family helpers—such as the milkman, mailman, eggman and grocerman.

STAMPING GROUND

Sometime ago ye olde stamper prophesied when he pleaded for poetry that this column might one day become another "Random Shot" or at least a "Random Shot". Well, at last you reader if there are any at this late date, will have an opportunity to judge whether or not it will. Here is some poetry which a few of the brilliant members of Miss Allen's first hour class have been inspired to put on paper and submit for publication.

SPRING HOUSE CLEANING

There was a young man from Vancouver
Who sold a cleaner named
"Hoover"

He went up to a house
As quiet as a mouse
And now he's a furniture mover.
—J. D. and J. M.

TAPS IN THE HAID

There was once a tap dancer gay
Who danced and shouted "Hey!
Hey!"

But he slipped and fell
No more will he yell
Cause now he's tetchin' in the haid!
—J. T.

TWO GUESSES, WHO IS IT?

His face is as black as blank
verse
His nose is funny to see
And as for his nose
Well, it runs north and south
And is wide as wide as can be.
—M. H.

THESE TEACHERS

In days gone by I used to think
That teachers were quite dumb
But when I hit this English class
I knew that I was done.
—H. E.

Don't send your complaints.
You didn't have to read this thing, you know.

That fact puts a special obligation on this Company to see that, so far as possible, telephone service in Michigan is available to anyone, at any time. That accounts for the public telephone. Here's the DRUM-MAJOR of the motor car parade

If you know a leader when you meet one, you'll see the moment you try this sparkling Buick why it's called the out-in-front car of the year.

You'll go for the way it goes for you—serene, steady, gallant as the figurehead on a buoyant ship—you're in for a thrill every time you put it into action.

You handle a wheel that turns as easy as the pages of a book. You press the treadle—and sink inches deep back in the soft cushions with the swoop of its take-off.

You click off miles by the score, the hundred—and no matter how far you range or what gait you travel, you can't get a whine out of that softly whispering engine!

The answer is you've got a car that was born to go places the way you want to go—smoother, safer, steadier than any car you've known.

Power in this flashing Buick is the power of eight straight valve-in-head cylinders. Its gait is the level gait of a car built close to earth with enough bulk to hold it there. Its maneuverability is the quick mobility of a charger.

Yet the crowning touch of its creators was none of these but the figures they succeeded in writing on its price tag. The hard-to-realize fact is that this great straight eight can be bought for less than some of today's sixes!

There's just one way to get the true picture of Buick's standout value, and that's to drive it yourself. See us soon and get your order in, and you'll enjoy a summer like you've dreamed of!
