Government To Cost Tax Payers Many Millions More Than At Any Previous Time In History Of State

that seek to add to the tax burden of the state. The Democrats have not been alone in their efforts to add to the taxes, as one measure was offered by a Republican member of the house which, if it had not been ruled out by Speaker George Schroder and if it had gone on its way through the house and senate, would have taken many more millions of dollars from the pockets of the taxpayers.

Taxes! Taxes!! Taxes!!! That seems to be a popular subject in Lansing. But not so, back home. It seems inconceivable that the sentiment of the public is different in other parts of the state than it is around Plymouth. As one talks to farmers, truck growers, factory workers, merchants, clerks and others contacted about the streets of Plymouth week-ends, there is a defiant hostility expressed by EVERY ONE to growing legislative expenditures.

Not one or two, but EVERY person the writer talked to over last week-end condemned the increased legislative appropriations being made in Lansing. They not only condemned the free spending of public monies, but they expressed unreserved approval of the effort that had been made by the writer to cut these appropriations.

Is the sentiment favorable to economy in government one finds in rural Wayne county different than it is in the rest of Michigan?

It is because the people about here seem to be more "tax" conscious than in other parts of the state?

That belief is difficult to entertain.

There is little doubt but what the same feeling exists everywhere in Michigan pertaining to a sane reduction in governmental expenses as exists in rural Wayne county.

The thing difficult to understand therefore—if the people want governmental economy and a reduction in taxes everywhere as strongly as they do in this part of the state—is why other legislators so freely vote away the taxpayers' hard earned dollars.

It certainly is not a popular thing to urge or even talk economy in Lansing legislative halls.

Is it because elective state officials and departmental heads wield a much more powerful influence than do the people "back home"?

That probably is a part of the answer.

A Republican representative expressed considerable satisfaction to the writer a few weeks ago over the fact that one of the state departments now under Democratic control had retained at his request two Republican employees. Is it possible that this fact might have had something to do with his opposition to a reduction in the appropriation for the state departments?

This all leads directly back to the benefits of a REAL civil service bill.

If Michigan operated under a civil service system so far removed from politics that even a governor could not influence it, do you suppose that any department head could control through patronage a single vote in the legislature?

No, not one.

There is an entire week remaining for the present session. To review its work will not be possible until after the day of final adjournment. Through a series of articles that will be published later in The Plymouth Mail, an effort will be made by the writer to fully advise the readers of what really transpired during the session of a legislature that accomplished but one thing, the establishment of the longest legislative endurance record in the history of the state.

Public sentiment about the work of the legislature is not at all favorable. Whether it will be overcome later when it will be possible to thoroughly review what has been done and what has not been done, no one at this time can tell. This adverse sentiment has increased rather than diminished in recent weeks. Maybe what will happen during the next few days will change the public attitude towards the present Lansing administration and the legislature. Only time will tell.

There is one member of the house of representatives that the Republicans can turn to in the next session if they should control the house and if he should desire to continue in the legislature, who would make an outstanding speaker. That member is Melvin Lee from Oakland county. Mr. Lee knows thoroughly parliamentary procedure. He is a tireless worker and during one or two sessions where he presided on general orders, the entire work of the day was completed in record time. He knows the routine and he knows how to get things done. Representative Lee is by far the best possibility that the Republicans have as a speaker, providing the tide should turn during the next two years and his party control the house of representatives. Present indications are that that is the very thing that will happen. If one is to judge the public sentiment of the entire state by that of this locality, there are one or two misfits in the house who are said to have speakership aspirations. If the Republicans should control the next house, but so far no one has been heard to say they favored either of them for speaker.

By the end of another two or three weeks, the taxpayers of Michigan will have another batch of commissions and boards to support, with increases in the sizes of a number of others. The creation of something new in the line of commissions seems to be one of the popular pastimes in legislative halls these days.

Keep Your Shoulders Back!

My father used to say to me, "Keep your shoulders back! No matter where you chance to be, Keep your shoulders back! In school, be sure to sit erect; Whenever walking, don't neglect To put this practice in effect— Keep your shoulders back!"

Back! by Lawrence Hawthorne

"Although the way is long and rough, Keep your shoulders back; Although the going may be tough, Keep your shoulders back! You'll find," he said, "the best of men Feel weak and weary now and then, But soon their heads are up again; Keep your shoulders back!"

And so, my son, I say to you, Keep your shoulders back! Face every task with courage true— Keep your shoulders back! Whatever fortune life may hold, Whatever fate the years unfold, Be resolute, alert and bold— Keep your shoulders back!

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

BREAKING POINT SOMEWHERE.

Strikes come so fast and furious nowadays that it's hard to keep up with them.

Wednesday of this week there was another so-called "power strike" in Saginaw and Bay City, when 1500 Consumers Power company employes pulled the electric switches, thereby throwing something like 40,000 men out of work.

Governor Murphy was in Pittsburgh to make a speech on Wednesday, but notified national guard and state police members to be ready for service, although the guard was not actually mobilized. The Governor promised that a repetition of the last power strike would not be permitted. But can he help it? It is our thought that he cannot prevent it by talk alone, but that eventually he may have to call out the guard and make example of some of the strikers, even to the point of the bloodshed that he and all the rest of us desire to avoid.

Of course, the leaders of the automobile union say that this latest strike was "unauthorized". This is, in other words, a confession of their inability to control their own men. The leaders deplore this kind of thing, or so they say.

They cannot, however, blame their men for doing what they see the leaders do. Union officials have violated the law and court jurisdictions whenever it seemed to suit their purpose, and when their men do not follow the instructions and advice of their leaders, the latter cannot logically kick.

The height of something or other came Wednesday when John L. Lewis, head of the CIO was notified in Washington of the strike. Mr. Lewis grandly promised that the thing would not be allowed to go too far.

In other words, Lewis is running Michigan, not the Governor or any of the other law enforcement officials.

A more complete breakdown of government has not been seen in this state as far back as anyone's recollection runs.

There will be a breaking point somewhere, and when it comes—WATCH OUT! Citizens of this state will not endure this kind of thing forever!—James Gallery in The Tuscola County Advertiser.

THE LEGISLATURE.

We were in Lansing last Thursday and found indications there that the 1937 legislature was finally at work, or at least reputed to be at work. It has not been within the memory of the writer that any previous Michigan legislature was ever in session for nearly five months with so little of accomplishment to its credit. Just why this should be so is not apparent, but the fact that this legislature spent so much time and gave so much importance to the now defeated dog racing bill may be interpreted by some of our readers as indicating something of the reason why. There are some exceptionally high class men in both the House and Senate, but evidently there are not enough such men.—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

GOVERNOR MURPHY.

Under Governor Murphy the citizens of this state have been placed at the mercy of hoodlums, many of them and many of their leaders imported from other states. The other day he returned to the state capitol at Lansing to find it in physical possession of the mob, which he thereupon addressed with flattery and cajolery.

The answer of the mob leaders was given within a few hours. In defiance of its contractual agreements, a C. I. O. union declared a strike, cutting off the electric power service in the city of Flint and the Saginaw valley. In Flint alone some 42,000 men and women were thrown out of work, and great quantities of food spoiled.

Mr. Murphy pretends to be a man of peace, but it is difficult to believe, in view of his acts, that he is not presently engaged in a campaign to overthrow the republican form of government in Michigan and the rest of the country.—George Neal in Orion Review.

WHAT THE PUBLIC THINKS.

A political writer in the Detroit Free Press says that "Rough Box" time has arrived at Lansing, and huge packing boxes resembling rough boxes are provided the members of the legislature to ship back home the books, pamphlets and other things that have accumulated around their desks in their stay at Lansing. "Rough Boxes" are so suggestive for many of that sit down gang who have held up legislation and brought upon our state the most discouraging and disgusting legislative session Michigan was ever bothered with. We do not suggest "Rough Boxes" for the carcasses of those birds but "rough boxes" for their political aspirations and attainments.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

Annual Meeting Scientist Church

Progress of Christian Science expressed in the organization and recognition of 59 new churches and societies; in sales increases of 66 percent for the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer and founder of Christian Science; in an increasingly friendly public thought as reflected by legislative bodies when handling measures involving medical and religious freedom; and in much good healing work; featured reports by church officers at the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist.

The election of Judge Clifford P. Smith of Newton, Massachusetts, as church president for the coming year, and of Edward L. Ripley of Brookline as treasurer, and Ezra W. Palmer of Marshfield as clerk, was announced. The president is elected by the Christian Science board of directors to serve for one year. His duty is to be presiding officer at the annual meeting.

Clifford P. Smith, C. S. B., LL. B., became interested in Christian Science at Mason City, Iowa, in 1895, where he practiced law before becoming judge of the district court of Iowa, the superior court of that state.

The fact that the Christian Science denomination has 2781 branches was cited and Miss M. Rosamond Wright, manager of the department of branches and practitioners, reported further for the year. "Good growth in our movement is shown through the organization and recognition of 59 new churches and societies as branches of The Mother Church, and six new university organizations. Twenty-five of these branches are in Europe, 30 in North America, two in Australia, one in Africa, and one in South America."

Judge Frederick C. Hill, chairman of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, reported 3216 lectures had been delivered during the year ended April 30. Of these lectures, 53 were given in Africa, 54 in Australasia, seven in Hawaii, China, Japan and Manila, one in the city of Mexico, eight in Bermuda, Canal Zone and West Indies, 242 in Great Britain and Ireland, 129 in Continental Europe and Scandinavia, and 2722 in Canada.

The Red and White soft ball team, with five victories and no losses, was perched at the top of the Plymouth league standings as the sixth week of play opened Monday.

The new plan of using ten-man teams this year has resulted in faster and closer games. The Red and White team has won two games by a margin of only one run and two games by two runs each. Postponements because of inclement weather have complicated the schedule somewhat.

All games are played at the Central playground and admission is free.

THE TONQUISH CREEK BREEZE

Vol. No. 1 Tonquish Creek, Michigan U. S. A.

The Breeze is back on the job this week, watching the interests of the creek and its neighbors. Watch the Breeze whenever it comes out.

Water Carnival
Creekers Corbett and Schrader have suggested in conjunction with the picnic a giant water carnival to be held on the shores of the peaceful Tonquish. A committee has been appointed to study the suggestion and Leonard Murphy has been directed to visit Cleveland's Aquacade Climax at the exhibition in that city this week-end to gather ideas that might be presented here.

Legal Advisers Richwine and Cutler are at the moment drafting papers to sign aquatic stars for the event and it looks as if the Breeze was about to present its first civic undertaking to the community. Good swimmers, particularly those who can brave the rushing waters of the creek are asked to make application for the event with Pollution Editor Herman Backus, who will have direct charge of all events in the Aquacade.

Special Meeting
Brothers whose dues are paid to date are asked to attend a special meeting Monday noon at the family table in the Mayflower. Those in arrears on their dues may bring sandwiches and apply the regular luncheon fee upon their membership dues, that is, providing that payment will put them in good standing, says Cashier Mahen.

Department opens season on muscles July 1. Creekers interested in getting their supply of buttons apply to want ad manager Russell Powell before Tuesday at high water time. 2-collect

The fire cracker committee is having some job trying to get fire crackers for the Creek's Fourth celebration. It seems that all of last year's supply has been used up.

To take the place of fire crackers, Creeker Paul Butz thinks that an excursion boat run up and down the creek on the Fourth would do a big business. "It would, at least, give the folks a chance to see the sights," he said.

When Glen Smith, the big pop corn man of the town heard about the excursion boat, he immediately put in an order for more peanuts he wants to sell as the boat runs up and down the creek.

Maybe Abe Goldstein will go up in the balloon on the Fourth. The balloonist, who is coming to the celebration, says he will have room for one more, so the Creekers thought Abe might want to take the air ride.

Director Annoyed
Flood Control Director Harold Finlan has been annoyed considerably lately by suggestions as to possible ways of controlling the head waters of the creek. Some want a dam, others would umbrellas the creek.

Picnic Plans Hazy
A former announcement made by THE BREEZE as to plans for the Fourth of July picnic has somewhat confused many of our readers. It was stated that Carl Shear would talk to the assembly and Leonard Murphy would insist that the Auxiliary be invited. Picnic Director J. P. Nalbant says Shear will not talk nor will the Auxiliary be included. In place of the two scheduled events a gigantic balloon ascension may be staged. Inflation is the only problem at the present time that might hinder the actual take-off.

It has been suggested that members of the stream promotion committee contact members of the state highway department in an effort to secure regulation highway signs on both sides of the creek on both Harvey road and Ann Arbor Trail. It is believed that a creek as well known as Tonquish should attract tourist trade. Editor-in-Chief Brick Champe, often back from the north woods, states that signs of this nature appear on waters throughout Michigan and he believes that an effort should be put forth to add to the dignity of Plymouth's tourist attraction.

Reports are current of a record catch being made in the creek back of Penniman avenue of an immense crawfish.

The editor of The Breeze is making an effort to secure a copy of the Fourth of July address by Carl Shear so in case it is not delivered to the multitude, we will be able to publish it in full for those who were unable to hear him and witness the balloon ascension.

THERE'S A MICHIGAN TRAIL
A-WINDING...

THE superb highways of Michigan are something more than efficient arteries of traffic. In the hands of the State Highway Department they have become truly roads of romance... pleasantly winding trails that add tremendously to Michigan's prestige as a great vacation State.

A major phase of the Department's work is the development of highways along our Great Lakes coast-line to give motorists the finest views of lake, shore and forest. Another phase is dedicated to roadside beauty and convenience... the care of trees, landscape projects, rustic drives, parking areas, springs, pools and cascades.

Resident or visitor, we can all gratefully salute a Highway Department that has made motor touring in Michigan a refreshing adventure in convenience and scenic delight.

Tells Aims Of Big Food Stores

A. J. Robinson, speaking in a recent national radio broadcast, referred to chain stores as a helpful solution to relieving rising food costs and the accompanying hardships worked upon a part of our people. He said:

"There is no mistaking the fact that chain food stores are a very definite part of almost every community and, for the very good reason that they have done so much to keep the price of good food close to actual cost. Usually, they are the busiest stores in any neighborhood for it is natural for families to want to save on their food expenditures, and very real savings do result from the efficient methods of store-keeping practiced by the chain food stores. They have shortened the time and reduced the expense of bringing food products from farm and factory to your home. They give you fresher foods and charge you less for them. They have grown in number and spread out, for the same reason that makes any business or industry grow—because people like them and like their low prices.

"And there is urgent need to maintain low prices for foods. You have heard this statement: 'One-third of the nation is ill-nourished, ill-clad and ill-housed'.

"We of A&P, believe one of the reasons why so many of our people are ill-nourished is because of low incomes and high food prices. It is not the people's choice to go hungry or be ill-nourished and not one of us wants to see this condition go on in the land where there is plenty for all.

"One effective remedy for this situation is for the federal government and the various state governments to encourage the chain food store industry, and every other kind of food store, which can demonstrate its ability to sell merchandise at low prices.

"This will enable every family with low incomes to buy greater quantities of nourishing foods and improve the well being of 30 million men, women, and children who, in our president's own words are now classed as 'ill-nourished'."

STOP and GO all year round

ROUND TOWN 4 OUT OF EVERY 5 MILES YOU DRIVE ARE STOP AND GO

SUPER-SHELL

JUST "starting up" after a normal traffic stop can waste enough gasoline to drive your car a third of a mile.

To reduce the waste of stop and go, Shell engineers developed a way to "balance" gasoline.

This balancing process completely rearranges the chemical structure of gasoline... makes Super-Shell

"digestible" for your motor... just as cooking will make some foods digestible for you.

"Motor-digestible" is the best way to describe this gasoline.

Under all stop-and-go driving conditions, you'll find your motor gets the full benefit of Super-Shell's high energy content.

And you get the savings!

Super-Shell is on sale from coast to coast. There's a Shell station in your neighborhood.

Bosdick, of the Redford Baptist church, performing the ceremony. White snapdragons and palms banked the altar and white tapers burned in cathedral candelabra.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a white crepe romaine frock with a finger tip length cape. She wore an off-the-face hat of white felt and a corsage of purple orchids.

The bridesmaid, Harriet Schroder, sister of the bride, wore a gown of turquoise crepe having a bolero jacket. Her hat was a white felt also. She wore a corsage of gardenias and sweetheart roses. The bridegroom chose as his only attendant, Richard K. Portman, of Cleveland.

Mrs. Schroder, mother of the bride, chose a gown of gray laughing water crepe and a hat of navy and white felt. She wore a corsage of Johanna Hill roses.

A reception in the Grand Rapids lounge followed the ceremony with 25 relatives and friends present. White snapdragons and white tapers with a wedding cake decorated the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Latta left immediately on a motor trip south. They will be at home after June 19, at 2312 Canterbury road, Cleveland, Ohio.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Latta are graduates of the University of Michigan. Mrs. Latta is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha and Mr. Latta of Pi Kappa Alpha.

They have many friends in and around Plymouth who wish them success and happiness in their life together.

The guests were, Mr. and Mrs. John Schroder and son, Jack, and Abbie Melow of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Meredith, Lois Zimmerman, Emily Grimes, Linn Williams and Dr. Frank Etzler, of Detroit, Dorothy Elliott, of Holly, Dorothy Saro, of Royal Oak, Leith Jane Abele, of Sandusky, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Clark, of Pontiac, Miriam Carey and Robert T. Herkner, of Ann Arbor, Robert Cathcart, of Cleveland, and Albert Schwem, of Ferndale.

The dairy cow's habit of eating dirt and chewing wood on the stalls is considered a sure sign the animal's ration is deficient in mineral matter.

Plymouth Finishes Season By Nosing Out Ferndale 7-6

The Plymouth Rocks rang down the curtain on the baseball season last Thursday, June 10, by defeating the Ferndale aggregation on its own diamond. Bob Hitt hurled the entire route for Plymouth, winning his third game, and as Plymouth has only three wins to her credit, Hitt is the only Rock pitcher with an average above .000.

An interesting feature of the game was the parade of Ferndale players in and out of the game. There is a rule in the Ferndale squad to the effect that anyone dropping a ball or making such error is put out of the game as soon as possible. Consequently Ferndale used 16 players. Only three or four of the original team were still in the game at its end.

The umpire was the best we have seen this year. We do not know his name, but he really had the so-called "eagle-eye". Incidentally, he is going to work the city series at Navin field this week.

Plymouth got its runs in the first, second, and fourth innings, and fought to keep its three-run lead for the rest of the game. A walk, a two base error in the outfield, and successive singles by Trinka and Curtis brought in only one run, although another was nipped at home plate in the first inning. Another walk, another error, and two more hits, one a very lusty double by Orland Egloff, tallied three runs in the second. Plymouth batted all the way around in the fourth and produced three more runs, welling the total to seven. Hitt opened with a single, but was forced at second by Hobbins. Egloff got to first safely on an error but Hobbins, whom he had advanced to third, was out at home a moment later on Trinka's grounder. Then Sabough, Ferndale pitcher, blew up. He gave three successive passes and virtually gave Plymouth the ball game. By walking in two runs he gave the Rocks a lead which they never quite relinquished.

Ferndale had scored in the first on a hit, stolen base and she scored again in the fourth, mainly on errors. Two errors let two men on base, and they later scored, along with another counter, on a single, and a walk. This brought the Ferndalers to within three runs of Plymouth. They squeezed one of them across through catcher's interference, stolen bases, and an error, and another with a long double by Prescott and a single by DuBois.

That brought them within striking distance, one run behind Plymouth. However, it was the seventh and last inning. There were tense moments as the gallery waited to see if they could score. D. Bulman walked. He stole second. Could he get any farther? Coen popped up, but that was only one out. F. Bulman, brother of the man on base, was next up. He popped what looked to be a sure Texas League single into short right field. But no, Hobbins ran at full speed, took the ball over his shoulder, whipped it to Trinka, who clapped it onto D. Bulman, who had been half way to third, completed a double play, and pulled the ball game out of the fire. Ferndale did not score.

Hitt allowed five hits, three walks, and struck out six. Sabough and Walker allowed the same number of hits, seven walks, and struck out three, between them.

Fielding high spots: Egloff's leaping, one-hand stab of Coen's fly, robbing him of a double. Wes Hoffman's running catch of Fuby's fly, and the double play that finished the ball game.

STANDARDIZED COURTESY
(Omitted from last issue)
Standardized courtesy seems to me to be one of the most serious breaches of etiquette, and yet it is probably the most commonly practiced. Too many people do not have the ambition to be original enough to write a few words of thanks or appreciation. They would rather choose to send a two-for-a-nickel card with a sentimental verse. Perhaps they think it is courtesy, but the question which comes to my mind is why send a card at all if it has to be one of which there are hundreds identical to it? Indeed, there is no true significance to the verse. How much more thoughtful it would be to write a few words—simple perhaps but sincere to say the least—which are original and significant.

—J. Starkweather.

9A FIFTH HOUR ENGLISH CLASS HOLDS "WALLY" PARTY

In spite of the rain, Miss Lovewell's 9A English class had their "Wally" party Wednesday afternoon. The class had made a bet, one side that "Wally" Simpson would not marry Edward when he was no longer king, the other that she would.

The losing side brought the refreshments, having planned a picnic in the park. When, however, the rain spoiled the park idea, the party was held in state at about 3:45 in Miss Lovewell's room.

SENIORS BID FAREWELL TO GIRL RESERVES

Twenty-seven girls participated in a beautiful and impressive ceremonial, held at Mary Holdsworth's home last Tuesday, June 8, when the seniors turned over their responsibilities to the juniors who will carry on next year.

Opening with a word of prayer and a responsive reading led by the retiring president, Ireta McLeod, the ceremony continued in simplicity, and sincerity, as Miss Fiegel, after a short speech, presented to the seniors ribbons representing their years of membership in the club. Then, as Ireta, saying farewell for all the seniors, gave her lantern symbolizing the guiding spirit of the Girl Reserves into the hands of her successor, Margaret Bailey, all the girls changed places, and the seniors were on the outside of the circle of light. The seniors said goodbye in "Farewell To Thee", and the juniors answered with a duet by Doris Schmidt and Marion Luttermoser. Closed with prayer, another senior farewell was history.

However, the girls brightened up a bit when refreshments were served and as songs were sung before an open fireplace, but as "Follow the Gleam" sounded many eyes glistened with tears as they realized how short a time remained until the last goodbye.

SCHOOL HOLDS LARGEST HONOR ASSEMBLY

At one of the longest honor assemblies in the history of the school over 100 students of Plymouth high school last Thursday received awards for their outstanding work in debate, forensics, drama, athletics, art, and scholarship.

Introduced by Jewel Starkweather, president of student council, Mr. Latture presented bronze, silver and gold medals for outstanding work in debate, Miss Walldorf gave bronze medals for outstanding work in declamation, oratory, and extemporaneous speaking. James McClain presented tickets to a play at the Ann Arbor drama festival for outstanding work in dramatics.

As a nucleus for next year's club there will be approximately 10 boys to decide who will be allowed to enter. Only freshmen and sophomores are eligible.

SENIORS PLAN FUTURE OCCUPATIONS

The 101 seniors who will be graduated next month show a great variety of interests in the work they plan to undertake after leaving school. Of this number, 17 are certain of work, having found jobs in stores, dairies, homes, sales rooms, and one in a children's hospital. Thirty-seven, approximately one-third of the class, plan to attend college next fall; the schools they are considering in making their choices are Michigan State college, the University of Michigan, Wayne University, Albion, Olivet, Cleary's Business college, Michigan State Normal college, Western State Teachers' college, the Detroit Art school, Detroit. One is going to Fairfax Hall, Virginia, and one to Lock Haven Teachers' college, Pennsylvania. Thirty-nine have taken an academic course, 34 general, and 26, commercial. Some have majored in home economics, agriculture, or mechanics. If their plans succeed, the class of '37 holds future farmers, nurses, teachers, lawyers, auctioneers, librarians, beauty shop operators, social workers, musicians, and artists.

HI-Y DISCUSSES MEDICAL PROBLEMS

(Omitted from last issue)
The Hi-Y club interested itself in a study of cancer and quack doctoring at its weekly meeting Thursday, May 13. The first discussion was led by Bob Wilkie who explained the controversy over the relationship between milk and cancer; those who believe there is a connection point to the Eskimos, the Indians, and South African tribes who drink no milk and have no cancer.

They also show that in Holland, Switzerland, and New England where milk consumption is great, cancer is very prevalent. However the majority of cancer authorities do not accept this theory. Bob explained, but he had little time in which to disprove it. Louis Jennings then briefly discussed the predominance of quack doctors in this country. He told how the Spiritualists, Indian doctors, and other fakes were harming many people, causing people to believe they had some serious illness although there really was nothing wrong with them. This is especially true in treatment of venereal diseases. After the two reports had been given, the boys asked questions and discussed the two problems for the remainder of the period.

TENNIS TEAM TO BE INTACT NEXT SEASON

Plymouth will lose none of her tennis team next year as none will graduate. On next year's team Plymouth will have five seniors who have played since their freshman year. The season team average for this year is .669. It will be noticed that all of the team but one had an average of more than .500.

NORTHVILLE FORFEITS GOLF GAME

The Northville golf team forfeited the last game of the season to our local golfers Tuesday, June 8. After about 15 holes Northville was so far behind Plymouth that there was no chance of their winning and they forfeited the game.

The golf team has had a good average this season. All of the members have worked hard. Jack Ross, Don Hewitt, James West, Bob West, James Heller, Milton Hieke, and Murray Rowland received letters for their efforts. Anyone who would be interested in playing golf next year will have a chance to try out for the team at the beginning of next season.

SENIOR BIOGRAPHS

Helen Weage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weage, was born in Bloomingdale, Michigan. She now resides on Union street. While in the tenth grade at Quincy school she was school declaimer and at Roosevelt school in Ypsilanti she was school orator and was in the Junior play. She is a member of the debate squad and Debate club at present. Helen would like to attend Michigan State Normal college, studying social science after graduation. Her hobby is debating and her pet peeve is people who make a fuss over nothing.

Another senior who has attended Plymouth schools since kindergarten is Laurabelle Wilkerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Wilkerson of Pine street. Although Laurabelle was born in Detroit, she moved to Plymouth before she was a year old. During high school she has been a member of the girls' glee club for four years. Laurabelle has chosen an odd food for her favorite—tomatoes. As music is her hobby she enjoys playing the piano often. Next fall she will attend Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti in preparation for a career as a teacher of kindergarten or some other early elementary grade.

Robert Wilkie, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Wilkie, has been a regular student in the Plymouth high school. Bob, whose chief hobby is sports having been on both the baseball and basketball teams, claims to be the only senior in 101 who is able to jerk a soda in 59 seconds flat. The classics (Liszt, Gounod, Brahms and Irving Berlin) plus a little of the finer ballet dancing seems fascinating to Bob, but he also has the typical masculine characteristic of being hungry, the only remedy being a bowl of chili con carne. Strange enough for a high school senior, the fairer sex has no sway over this gallant senior's mind. During his four years Bob has been an active member in both the Hi-Y and Varsity clubs. After graduation, he intends to go to some college to take up a course in pharmacy.

Lloyd Trinka, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Trinka, has been a student in the Plymouth school since admission from the rural house of learning. Lloyd, better known as "Trink", is very interested in sports having been on the varsity baseball team for four years, the football for two, and also on the basketball squad two years, including the last championship squad on which he held a worthy position. Along with sports Lloyd likes to hunt and fish and also enjoys eating, especially a good bowl of chili con carne. Besides hot foods (the Spanish characteristics) he enjoys Cab Calloway's music but complains that he is unable to fall asleep while studying history if the dark skinned band leader is performing. Lloyd takes a decided dislike also to conceited people, a quality for which we could shake his hand. After graduation, Lloyd plans to work for a year before entering college.

Henry Worden, better known as Hank, is a newcomer to the class of '37 entering from Cooley high in 1936 but believes that the Plymouth school has more spirit than those of Detroit. Henry's chief hobbies are photography and sports, mainly golf, claiming he is able to turn in a score of 69 without pushing. Hank will count when other folks play golf they count the score of the next 17 holes. Strange enough, Hank as a rule does not favor the fairer sex with one exception. Hank, however, enjoys physics in school work and Horace Heidt's Brigadiers in orchestras. If someone would like to become acquainted with Henry, all he would have to do is invite the lad to a supper of French fried potatoes and steak. Henry has been an active member in both the Hi-Y and Senior Drama club taking a leading roll in the senior play and four others. He is usually seen with Marvin Wilson or may be found playing first on one of the local indoor teams. After graduation, Henry plans to take a business course at Cleary college in Ypsilanti.

THE KITCHEN SINK

(Omitted from last issue)
(Take-off on Joyce Kilmer's "Trees")
I know that I shall never think Of a sight as hateful as a sink. A sink whose grimy sides are hid By dishes waiting to be "did"; And piled around, in stern array, The pots and pans just spoil my day! There's nothing worse, I really think Than dirty dishes in the sink.

Lois Rowe, English II.

I think that I have never known, A place more peaceful like than home. A home whose door is open wide, Where love and happiness abide. A home that shelters parents kind, And children feel the ties that bind. A home where we may find our rest, At evening when we've proved the test. Poems are made by fools alone, But a real mother makes a home.

Charlotte Welch was born 19 years ago in Medford, Massachusetts, where she and her parents lived for five years before moving to Michigan. She attended school in Flint, Detroit, Redford, and St. Petersburg, Florida, before entering Plymouth high as a junior. That she has enjoyed many hours of travel is evident by the fact that she has visited every state east of the Mississippi except two. During her high school years she has taken a commercial course and belonged to junior chorus. As yet Charlotte has no plans for next year.

PLYMOUTH TRACKERS LEAD IN WAYNE RELAYS

The Rock track team finished the spring season as they took many of the first place notches in the annual Wayne Relays held on Belle Isle, Saturday, June 12. Egge, who captained the team in the '37 season, captured two firsts taking the high jump, and then the broad jump with a leap of 20'2". The Medley relay team consisting of Joffile, Scarpulla, Keller and Burton D came in second. Towle was third in the pole vaulting event as was Worpkup in the shotput. VanLandingham and Birchall held fourth place positions in the high jump and shotput. The team received medals for their very good performances and led the other three contesting teams in scoring but no award was given for this.

This meet draws the track season to a close and the team, although weakened by last year's graduation, has had a very good season.

WHAT A PITY THERE ARE NO LOVE LETTERS IN STOCK

(Omitted from last issue)
What a pity there are no love letters in stock! Will no one take care of the fond lovers—the lover who stammers and stutters when whispering sweet nothings, the shy lover who adores at a distance, the poetic Romeo who cannot write verses, the busy business man who has no time to compose words of love? Ladies and gentlemen, a problem vital to the life of the nation confronts us: Where is the justice of American democracy? Where is the charity of our church people? Where is the Americanism of the American Legion and the Daughters of the American Revolution? But, above all, where is the spirit of our enterprising profiteers? We have relieved misery and made fortunes by standardizing Christmas greetings, Mother's day sentiments, birthday good wishes, and we have even commercialized the stork! But we have failed in our trust to Cupid. Arise, America, exploit the love-birds!

STARKWEATHER NOTES

Writing dictation sentences is a new experience in connection with the spelling assignment for Miss Stader's pupils. A mural called "A Journey to Health" is being drawn by the students. Miss Farrand's pupils have finished their standard achievement tests. Wellington LaBelle has moved to Wyandotte. Miss Rathburn's pupils have completed the story of "The Adventures of Ulysses".

GIRLS ATTEND MEET AT EAST LANSING

(Omitted from last issue)
Ten girls from the Home Economics club attended home economics day at Michigan State college in East Lansing, Friday, May 14. They were greeted by Dr. Dye and President Shaw after which they went through the dormitories, gymnasium and all the home economics class rooms. Then they enjoyed a luncheon and style show after which they saw the tensile strength of sheets, testing of textiles, experiments with white rats, block printing, and various art principles. After that they saw garments made by classes, hat remodeling, and the making of new ones. To end a very interesting day they were entertained at a play entitled "High School Girls' Room" and a tea.

Tuesday night the boys and girls Home Economics clubs enjoyed a picnic at Riverside park and at which they divided up into groups of two or three and cooked their own meals.

Mrs. Ella Grennan Passed Away Sunday

Mrs. Ella Grennan died at 5:40 p.m. Sunday at Farm Crest farm, Northville, estate of her late son, Philip H. (Phil) Grennan, president of the Farm Crest Bakeries and a pioneer in Detroit polo. Mrs. Grennan was 77 years old last January. Although she had been a partial invalid for the past four years, her death came unexpectedly.

Funeral services were held at the William R. Hamilton Co. Chapel, Cass and Alexandrine avenues, on Wednesday. Burial was made in Oak Ridge cemetery, Chicago.

Philip Grennan died last September. Mrs. Grennan leaves three other sons, R. M. Grennan, of Detroit; Ernest L. Grennan of New York City, and Kenneth L. Grennan, of Chicago.

She was born near Elgin, Illinois, and spent most of her life in and near Chicago until the death of her husband, a lively stable owner, about 25 years ago.

Since then she had spent many of her winters in California and divided the remainder of her time between her sons. She lived on the Grnman farm on the Six Mile road near Northville about eight years.

Sunday school convenes at 11:45 a.m. We expect all the parents to come with their children. The Children's day service held last Sunday was very lovely and impressive and enjoyed by a splendid attendance. Three children were baptized. The Crusader class will give a wienie roast party in the park near Phoenix Saturday evening, June 26. Ward Clark is the host. CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH—Corner Hardenburg and North Holbrook avenue. Sunday morning worship at 10 o'clock, evangelistic service at 7:30 p.m. Mr. J. C. Beatie will again be with us, speaking at both services. Bible school at 11:30. God has been pleased to send us some new faces. Will you come too? Prayer and praise worship each Wednesday evening at 7:30. The importance of such a service cannot be emphasized too strongly. So often the daily tasks which confront us causes the prayer life to wane. The New Testament was continually given to prayer. In Paul's epistles, great emphasis is placed upon prayer. It is no wonder such great strides were made, and such great work done. Christian people agree that a spiritual revival is needed. God has supplied the conditions recorded in II Chronicles 7:14: "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their evil ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sins, and will heal their land." Another girl who belongs to that famous Girls' Double Quartet, is Madolyn Weller, who resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Weller at 1128 Palmer street. While in high school Madolyn has been a member of Glee club, Drama club, Girl Reserves, Leaders' club, and double quartet. She is now treasurer of Leaders' club. She has also had a leading role in both the junior and senior plays, participated in class sports, and earned both school letters. Madolyn's ambition is to become a singer with some large orchestra. Her pet peeve is stuck up people and there are four things she just LOVES to do—eat, sleep, dance, and swim.

Another girl from the south is Pollyanna Wright, who resides with her aunt on Ann Arbor Trail. Polly was born in Ft. Smith, Arkansas and has attended schools in Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee, Texas and Louisiana. While in school she has belonged to the Girl Reserves, Junior Chorus, Glee club, and has been in the musicale for four years. Polly likes to sing and one may find her singing in the bathtub as well as in Glee club. Her favorite subject is shorthand, although she gets better marks in typing, and her hobbies are collecting scrapbooks and souvenirs. We might add that she has a hope chest, which is a terribly important hobby. Polly has always been fond of sour things, such as pickles and me, and her pet peeve is noney people. Wayne King is her favorite over the radio, and she longs but for one thing—a sweet cousin.

TEN REASONS why you should BUY REAL ESTATE NOW

Every fundamental factor affecting real estate values has changed for the better. These ten points form the basic, urgent reasons why you should buy now. Study them carefully.

- 1: PRICES are low. Though on an upswing from their bottom levels, Plymouth real estate prices are still lower than the average for the past decade.
- 2: Prices are definitely rising. Actual price increases are being reported for many types of property. Plymouth brokers say that the rise will continue steadily.
- 3: RENTS are going up. The present level of rental prices warrants the purchase of a piece of property as a good investment.
- 4: Building Costs are rising. Cost of building, a vital factor influencing real estate values is increasing under labor codes and improved business conditions.
- 5: A Home Shortage is here. Due to curtailed building activity during the depression, the shortage of homes will not be relieved for some time to come.
- 6: Wide Selection in choice properties. No matter what your preference, there are homes of every type in every price class, on the market in Plymouth today.
- 7: Mortgage Money is easier to get. Real estate credit is available. Finance companies announce they have substantial sums to be placed in sound mortgage loans.
- 8: Informed Investors are buying now. Under present conditions, say experts, well-selected real estate is the soundest investment you can make for sure profit and long pull.
- 9: Insure Wealth—Buy real estate today. As prices continue to rise, your dollar will buy less goods. Avoid deflation of your wealth by converting your capital into property.
- 10: Your Own Home. There's real enjoyment and satisfaction in living in your own home.

These basic economic factors indicate conclusively that now is the time to buy real estate. We are only at the beginning of the big advance, according to real estate experts. Get into the advantageous "buyers' market" existing today.
