END THE FARCE!

For over six months there has been a constant effort made by politicians, certain newspapers and a group of so-called labor leaders to create labor difficulties in the Ford industries. So far, all of these efforts have failed.

Now certain government officials have entered into a scheme that on the face of it has every ear-mark of being nothing short of a conspiracy, to make it appear that the Ford company has violated some new labor laws because a number of Ford workers gave a good thrashing to some agitators who invaded the Ford properties for no other reason than to create a riot.

The Detroit News, seemingly has entered into a campaign of The Detroit Times to punish the Ford Motor company, for what reason no one knows, by bending every effort to keep alive an issue that outsiders—and only outsiders—have tried to inject between the Ford management and its workers. Maybe The News has not editorially given voice to this support, but it has done a real job in "manufacturing" news to keep alive the campaign being waged to disrupt orderly procedure at the Ford plant.

People in this locality who depend to a very great extent upon Ford success for our own prosperity resent strongly what is being done in an effort to wreck the Ford Motor company.

You can rest assured The Detroit Times or The News would scream to high heaven if some outside agency tried to disrupt the friendly feeling that exists between their "front" offices and other departments.

Day after day there has appeared on the first pages of these two Detroit papers long articles reciting in great detail what the Ford Motor company has been accused of by the government as a result of the few fist fights that were deliberately forced upon Ford employes.

Some political job holders who probably never created a job for a person in their lives and probably never made a success on any job they ever held in private life—providing they ever worked outside of politics—are now conducting a "hearing" into this so-called riot.

There is this one thing about the whole matter—Washington officialdom and some of the big newspapers had better wake up to the fact that the general public, in the smaller communities and in the rural sections at least—is becoming pretty much embittered by the UNFAIRNESS of what is being done.

The time is here for a RIGHT ABOUT FACE movement on the part of high administration officials and some of the big newspapers. The vast majority of the people do not like what is being done and they are not going to tolerate it much longer. How much better it would be if there was started a real campaign which will seek to restore at least a little good will between employer and employe as well as a whole lot of badly needed confidence in public officialdom, both state and national.

For three long years now all we have heard is a song of hate, a declaration that everything is wrong and nothing right!

What a relief it would be if officials in Washington, in Lansing and newspapers and everybody would begin to tell the truth—that this is still the best country in the whole world, that there IS opportunity for those WILLING to work and that there IS plenty to do for those willing to work and that our government still IS a government of the PEOPLE!

The Joys of Yesterday

by Lawrence Hawthorne

I like to sit and ponder
On the joys of yesterday;
So certain is the gladness
That such reveries convey!
I like to view, in fancy,
Many scenes I used to know,
And wander down the pathways
Where fond recollections grow.

The happy days of childhood—
How delightful it would be
If memories could truly
Bring them back to you and me!
So thoughtlessly we lived them,
Always eager for the dawn—
Regretful of their passing
Only after they were gone!

So much of all the gladness
That we find along life's way
Is gained through contemplation
Of the joys of yesterday;
And so, I like to ponder,
In the fireside's friendly glow,
On scenes of home and childhood
In the Land of Long Ago.

In Plymouth and Vicinity—Interesting News of Days Gone By Taken From The Plymouth Mail Files

Superintendent Isbell and son, Egbert were in Ann Arbor this week.
The name of Bowery street has been changed to Maple avenue.
Charles Fisher has moved into his new home on Penniman avenue.
Mrs. Caroline Millard of Detroit, visited at W. T. Petingill's last week.
The Misses Ruth Huston and Czarina Penney are visiting friends at Clarkston.
Mrs. Bert Rae of Kenton, Ohio is visiting friends in Plymouth and Northville.
Miss Alice Woodruff of Detroit is visiting her aunt, Mrs. William Smitherman.
Mrs. Fred Dibble and daughter, Dorothy, have gone to Walled Lake for the summer.
Miss Pearl Joffe, who is attending summer school in Chicago, is expected home Monday.
Arthur Huston had a fine roast stolen from his buggy last Saturday night while in town. The roast was intended for their Sunday dinner.
There has been more or less talk about the introduction of domestic science and manual training in the public school and they have been characterized as mere fads and not worth the expense. The latter is very insignificant as may be seen from the reports printed elsewhere. Their value to pupils taking the course is certainly not lost, either.
W. T. Conner has moved his family to Walled Lake for the summer.
Fred Baird and family of Pontiac visited over Sunday at Edson Huston's.

Ed Huston and family spent the Fourth with friends at Waterford near Pontiac.
S. O. Judd and Charles Mathers have each purchased an E-M-F touring car.
Mail Carrier Robert Walker is taking a vacation for a couple of weeks. Lettie Anderson being his substitute.
Robert Todd and mother and Miss Lydia Trinkhaus have gone to Bad Axe to visit friends, making the trip in the former's automobile.
The water pressure on the village mains last Tuesday night was six pounds—a startling fact, and one which has caused the village authorities to issue an order limiting street and lawn sprinkling to two hours per day. The annual school meeting will be held at the school house next Monday evening. The terms of Trustees E. C. Hough and Mrs. Ella Chaffee expire this year and as their services have proven very satisfactory to the district, it is hoped they may be returned for another term. They have stood for everything that might advance the interests of the school and to make it what it is—one of the best and most advanced in the state, most favorably commented upon by leading educational men.

Mrs. D. E. Batt, of Detroit, also T. A. Arnsion of Chicago, were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. McNeil. Mrs. Batt is a sister of Mrs. McNeil.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hanson are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Minnesota, for two weeks or more. They left Friday.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

OUR BAD NAME.

Michigan people may feel compelled to spend their summer vacations inside their own state to avoid the ignominy of traveling in other states and listening to the uncomplimentary remarks about Michigan's slot machine legislature and its governor.—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

TO AVOID MICHIGAN.

With Michigan the playing field for labor leaders and the football for strike agitators, with the "gentle-voiced umpire" losing his voice in every crisis, we may add the loss of the tourist trade to the rest of the enormous losses we are sustaining. With daily headlines recounting lawless scenes, the peace-loving tourists of other states will probably develop a blind spot when they look at the map of Michigan.—James Gallery in The Tuscola County Advertiser.

DEFENDS VIGILANTES.

The vigilante or public safety groups have been organized because the public is losing faith in the protection by the state and federal governments. And well they may, because there has been no security of person or property in this state and nation since the beginning of the present year when President Roosevelt entered upon his second term as president and Governor Murphy took the reins of government in Michigan. President Roosevelt was elected with the aid of John L. Lewis' gang and their half million dollar contribution, and Governor Murphy rode in on the president's coat tails, so the stage had no more than been set before the Lewis depredations began, and they have continued since to the great glee of the president.—Adrian Van Koeveering in The Zeeland Record.

EVERYMAN'S RIGHT

Thirty-five years ago, there was a serious coal strike. President Theodore Roosevelt appointed a special commission to settle it. The following extract from that Commission's report is as pertinent now as it was then:
"The right to remain at work where others have abandoned, is

Times Change, Son Finds Out

There is an old saying that a person never grows up. Maybe it is true to some extent. At any rate, there was a time when youthful Dave Nichol out playing with the neighborhood kids or when hurrying home from school, just knew that mother would be on the doorstep to greet him! All boys and girls know that. Dave is now grown up—and lives over in Chicago, where he is one of the re-write men for that great newspaper, The Chicago News. The other day he had a chance to "come home" for a brief visit. "My folks are always home, no use in writing or calling them up," thought Dave to himself. So, when Dave arrived in Plymouth the other day for a brief visit, ran up the steps of the Nichol home, he was surprised when he discovered that the door was locked and there was no answer to his rap on the door. For the first time it dawned upon him that the period had arrived in his life when things are not the same as they used to be. Dad and Mother no longer feel that it is necessary to be constantly on the alert for the return of the sons and daughters of yesterday. Rev. and Mrs. Walter Nichol had gone south for a brief visit with a daughter, now residing in Chattanooga, Tennessee. Dave spent his time visiting among old friends.

part of the personal liberty of a citizen that can never be surrendered. "All government implies restraint, and it is not less, but more, necessary in self-governed communities than in others, to compel restraint of the passions of men which make for disorder and lawlessness. Our language is the language of a free people, and fails to furnish any form of speech by which the right of a citizen to work when he pleases, for whom he pleases, and on what terms he pleases, can be successfully denied.

"The common sense of our people, as well as the common law, forbids that this right should be assailed with impunity. Approval of the object of a strike, or persuasion that its purpose is high and noble, cannot sanction an attempt to destroy the right of others of a different opinion in this respect, or to interfere with their conduct in choosing to work upon what terms and at what time and for whom it may please them to do so.

"The right thus to work cannot be made to depend upon the approval or disapproval of the personal character and conduct of those who claim to exercise this right. If this were otherwise, then those who remain at work might if they were in the majority, have both the right and power to prevent the others, who choose to cease to work, from so doing.

"This all seems too plain for argument. Common sense and common law alike denounce the conduct of those who interfere with this fundamental right of the citizen. The assertion of the right seems trite and commonplace, but that land is blessed where the maxims of liberty are commonplace."—Don Vanderwerp in The Fremont Times-Indicator.

Re-apportionment Problem

 estate business before he was elected to the legislature, is and has been speaker of the house during the past two sessions.
 It has been an inflexible rule, when the Governor and the speaker of the house are of the same political belief, for the speaker of the house to consult with the Governor about committee selections. Therefore, one has a perfect right to assume that Speaker Schroeder consulted with Governor Murphy about his committee selections before they were announced during the early days of the session.
 In fact, it is pretty well known that Speaker Schroeder did extend to Governor Murphy the courtesy of discussing with him committee selections and appointments. The trend of legislation during the last session would indicate pretty well that committee selections were made by the two, even the most minor committee selections.
 As chairman of the apportionment group, Speaker Schroeder announced that Joseph Nagel of Detroit had been named. The other members from Detroit are Joseph Kaminski and Albert W. Schneider. The three members from Detroit are all Democrats. There was no member from Oakland county. The writer was named as a member from rural Wayne county.
 These four members naturally, being from the part of the state that has long been deprived of its rightful legislative representation, could be expected to strongly favor any measure which would rectify the situation.

 Who were the other members of the committee, and were they selected with any idea that they would be for re-apportionment.
 The list of out-state members follow:
 Peter Legg, Escanaba;
 Jesse Miller, Manistee county;
 Maurice E. Post, Kent county;
 Edson V. Root, Van Buren county;
 Homer L. Allard, St. Joseph county;
 William Ward, Grand Traverse county;
 Ole Klines, Mason county;
 Edward Fenlon, Mackinac county;
 Victor A. Knox, Chippewa county.

This committee, with possibly one or two exceptions, comprised some of the best men in the house.
 The districts of every one of these sons, however, under proper re-apportionment of the state, would, in some way, doubtless be affected. Some of the districts of these representatives would probably be abolished altogether; or other districts, or parts of districts, might be joined to their districts.
 Any change in districts might seriously affect the possibility of re-election for some members of the legislature.

Do you suppose that Governor Murphy and Speaker George Schroeder had any idea that a committee made up predominately of members hostile to re-apportionment, such as this committee, would ever consider a re-apportionment bill or consent to one being reported to the floor of the legislature?
 Of course not.

Re-apportionment was killed DELIBERATELY before the 1937 session of the legislature ever started.
 For what reason no one knows except the Governor and speaker of the house. Possibly they felt that re-apportionment, always a controversial question, should not be an issue before the session that just ended. Maybe they had other reasons.

Suffice it to say that they saw to it that the issue was strangled to death and thrown overboard weeks before the Governor read his message to the legislature in which he said re-apportionment should be considered.
 If any serious effort was to have been made to pass a re-apportionment bill, will the Speaker and the Governor tell why the majority membership of the committee was not made up from Wayne, Oakland, Genesee and Saginaw counties instead of being composed almost three to one of out-state legislators who would just naturally be opposed to re-apportionment?

There was but one meeting of the re-apportionment committee called by Chairman Joseph Nagel.

It seems that Representative Harry Glass of Grand Rapids has congressional aspirations, but the congressional district in which he lives contains some rural counties that are still voting Republican and, apparently, Mr. Glass figured it out that if he could get the legislature to change the boundaries of the district, he might have a chance to be elected to congress. He introduced a bill to change the boundaries of his congressional district, as well as one or two others where Republicans had been elected last fall.

 It was upon his urgent request that the apportionment committee held its one meeting.
 Chairman Nagel brought forth for discussion the bill that Mr. Glass had introduced. Well, the committee figured it might be unsafe to begin tinkering with congressional districts, and so the bill was tabled.
 Then the writer had the temerity to suggest that one or two of the legislative re-apportionment bills be brought forth for consideration by the committee.
 There was immediate hostility to these bills, and just as had been planned, they were executed so quickly that they couldn't even kick. The writer suggested that it might be well to permit one bill which would have increased the senate membership from Detroit and Oakland counties to go to the floor of the house for consideration.
 "No, sir! Never," exclaimed Representative Post of Kent county. "If you can get one of these re-apportionment bills out on the floor, you can't tell what might happen. They might amend it so that it would include the house and we fellows out-state might find some of our districts gone," he said.
 That ended all consideration of re-apportionment for the session. From a purely political standpoint, one cannot blame the out-state representatives from taking the position they do, when it might jeopardize their own political future.
 Wayne and Oakland counties pay into the state treasury about one-half of the entire income of Michigan. They have the population which justifies a much larger representation in the state government. They have long been entitled to this representation under the provisions of the constitution.
 But again the legislature has seen fit to flaunt the basis law of the state—and it looks very much as though those high in political leadership of the majority party from the very section that would benefit by re-apportionment, sold the issue down river, deliberately. For what reason no one knows.
 Out-state members do not say so openly, but if you talk with them quietly when no one is around, they will say that they are opposed to re-apportionment because of the fact it would do no good and Detroit would not improve the caliber of men it sends to the legislature.
 As far as any one can figure it out, there isn't much difference between Detroit legislators and out-state members, especially in the 1937 class of law-makers.
 There is but one way for Detroit to improve its legislative representation, and that is to divide the city into legislative districts. While it would be true that under such an arrangement, certain sections would probably be controlled by racial groups, it is believed that on the whole there would be an improvement.
 Detroit now selects 17 representatives strictly by lottery. Out of some half hundred or more names appearing on the ballots of both parties at primary election time, Detroit electors are supposed to go up and down the lists and select 17 candidates who have a knowledge of state affairs and who have in addition a desire to serve the best interests of the state.
 It is "out of the question for a person living on the west side of the city to know all about a minor legislative candidate living on the south side or east side of Detroit. Once in a while there is some outstanding candidate for the legislature in Detroit pretty well known to the public, but this is not often the case.
 The nomination of candidates by districts in Detroit would doubtless be the first step towards securing additional and better representation in the state legislature.
 But everybody, seemingly, is too busy doing something else to give this important problem the consideration it should have.

"It's easy to cook on my new Gas Range and I have No Failures!"

"The range comes up to, and above, all statements made by the salesman and is unusually economical," so says many a delighted new user.

Science has sifted the cause of cooking failures and found that it is not necessarily the ingredients you use. Far more often it is the lack of control over cooking temperatures and oven moisture. But science has remedied that with the modern range.

And how happy you will be to have splendid success with cooking and baking from the very beginning. This is one of the most mentioned advantages of using a gas range. Women like to be sure of success. Ease, cleanliness and economy are other advantages which they like to talk about... and they are very important features of gas cookery.

Father Lefevre At Anniversary

Father Frank Lefevre of Our Lady of Good Counsel church, a few days ago, enjoyed one of the unusual, but happy, incidents that come all too infrequently in one's life. He was invited to go to Neenah, Wisconsin, to attend the silver jubilee celebration of Father Joseph Van Bogard of that city.

It was 25 years ago when Father Van Bogard celebrated his first mass and for his silver jubilee celebration he invited back all of the officers of the mass, Father Lefevre being one of the number.

The occasion was unusual because of the fact that all who took part in the event 25 years ago are still living and were present to participate in the celebration.

Father Lefevre had the added pleasure of meeting a number of classmates he had not seen for over 22 years. Graduating from Marquette University in Milwaukee, a trip back to Wisconsin, is always one anticipated with pleasure by Father Lefevre, who during the past 17 years has built in Plymouth one of the strongest Catholic parishes outside the city of Detroit.

STOP AND GO DRIVING IS COSTLY

EVERY TIME you start up from a normal traffic stop, you can waste enough gasoline to drive a third of a mile.

To cut the cost of today's stop-and-go driving in village, town and city, Shell engineers developed a way to "balance" gasoline.

This balancing process rearranges the entire chemical structure of gasoline—makes it "digestible" for your engine—just as cooking makes food digestible for you.

Your motor gets the full benefit of Super-Shell's high energy content . . . and you get the savings!

Cabbages And Herring For The Hungry

Michigan's Highbrow Welfare Outfit Again Functions

Michigan's highbrow welfare organization is again functioning hereabouts!

This time the welfare "boys and girls" delivered right to the front door of their "clients" in this locality some more products from the "surplus commodities" division.

It was the first delivery in over two long months. What did the "clients" get on this last trip of the "surplus commodities" truck through rural Wayne county?

Four heads of cabbage and 12 herring to each family!

Yes sir, that's what the "clients" are supposed to eat until the truck comes again.

Cabbages and herring! Well, Michigan's legislature dumped something like $50,000,000 of tax dollars into the laps of the welfare politicians to dish out during the next year.

There ought to be a lot of cabbages and herring for the needy—and lots and lots of dough for payrolls and expense accounts for the guardians of the welfare "clientele".

And to think that the Michigan legislature has given two more years of life to the rotten, inefficient, wasteful, welfare outfit that PAID welfare politicians have been building up out of PUBLIC funds—a welfare organization that has not only been brutal in its treatment of the needy, but uses the type of intelligence as indicated by the delivery of cabbages and herring to the hungry!

The legislature not only gave the welfare two more years of life, but enlarged its field of operations to include every welfare activity in the state.

Watch the squandering spread—and watch the army of welfare payroll recruits grow by leaps and bounds!

Schraders Take Two Games

Behind the seven-hit pitching of Harold Pankow, Plymouth-Schrader's defeated the strong Garden City team Monday by a score of 4-1. Pankow pitched one of the best games this year, keeping the hits well scattered. Except for an error committed by the Plymouth team in the ninth, he would have had a shut-out.

Schrader's scored all of their runs in the third inning on successive blows by Simmons, Lee, Blondell and a triple by Santa. Garden City's starting pitcher, Scott, was forced to leave the mound in the third when he was spiked. During the play which injured Scott, Blondell scored on a wild pitch. An examination revealed that Scott's injury was not serious and he finished the game at first. A summary of the game follows:

Plymouth . . . . .004 000 000—4 7 2 Garden City . . . . .000 000 001—1 7 2 Batteries: Plymouth—Pankow and Westfall; Garden City, Scott, Hill and Tatro.

Summary of Sunday's game follows: Plymouth . . . . .000 450 100—10 12 3 Farm'ton . . . . .010 000 025—8 14 5 Batteries: Plymouth—Epps and Westfall; Farmington, Jones, Dorman and Hersner.

Jacobi Directs Playgrounds

The summer recreation program is now underway with its many varied games for children of all ages. It is under the leadership of M. H. Jacobi, newly appointed high school athletic director, and Miss Jean Dunham.

The playgrounds are supervised by Charles Stitt and Wesley Dunn at Central school, and Asa Rowe and Leon Van 'Bonn at Starkweather school. The past week was devoted mainly to organization, and with making the children familiar with the many games. The second week of this program will be featured by softball games between teams representing Starkweather and Central.

Box hockey tournaments will be held throughout the week, with Jackson tournaments being held for girls between the ages of six and 12 years, and from 12 to 16 years. Both boys and girls will soon again begin a course in leathcraft.

Of great interest is the forthcoming all-star game which will have an almost equal number of favorites on each team. The evening ball games are becoming more hotly contested and popular as the final series time draws near.

Those in charge of the program are desirous of having ladies twilight softball league formed. Those interested in participating in this league are urged to see either M. H. Jacobi or Miss Dunham.

The American Red Cross operates under a charter granted by Congress in 1905.

If You Have To Work For A Living--

A YOUNG fellow who drives a big truck and is on the road most all night came in to see if his glasses were all right. They worked fine during the day, but when he got into his cab and pushed that old hooker through the night, he kept edging to the front of the seat and leaned way out over the wheel to see the road better. When he finished the trips in the morning, he was as limp as a rag—just all tuckered out. He said if he couldn't get some help he'd have to quit his job. That wasn't so good for he had a wife and a small baby.

For daytime work, his lenses were just right. The man who prescribed them had done a good job. But what did the business daytime, was all wrong for that work. Ever think of that?

Now, when he climbs into his cab at the beginning of his run, he puts on a pair of lenses especially designed for his night driving. He can see the headlights of cars coming at him clearly and still see the side of the road with ease. He finishes his trip fresh and fit—not all fagged out, any more. His job depended on the help he got from his friend the Optometrist, who knew what it was all about.

Ever think that your job depends on your visual capacity? Don't kid yourself by thinking that if you can see for long distances you are all right. You may be using only one eye and not know it. Lots of people do.

Optometry is for efficient eye sight.

THE TONQUISH CREEK BREEZE

Vol. No. 1 Tonquish Creek, Michigan U. S. A.

The BREEZE is singing another tune this week. We are going to heap showers of petitions upon the brow of Creeker. Notice The BREEZE calls him a Creeker? Well, there's a reason. He has given up all allegiance to the Purity League and says he will have nothing more to do with it. He wants to be a regular Creeker. "Why there is more honor in being just an ordinary Creeker than there is in being president of the Purity League," said he. "From now on my heart and my soul are in the future of Tonquish Creek." Now that's a pretty good come down from his high falutin' stand last week. It just goes to show the power of The BREEZE and freedom of speech.

"CREEKER" MABEN

Fishing in the pure waters of The Tonquish

Seeing that Creeker Maben has gone forward and seen the light, The BREEZE this week is printing the first picture to ever appear in our fast growing paper. The picture is of the reformed Purity League president, standing in the pure, sparkling blue, babbling brook fishing for fishes. Note the rushing waters, the blooming wild flowers, the rocky river just naturally formed from dumping cracked up paving blocks onto the side of the creek, the beautifully arched bridge, the clear sky and the background, with Creeker Paul Butz standing high on the bank just as did the great Napoleon as he looked for new worlds to conquer. There is a beautifully enlarged picture in colors of this amazing scene hanging over the family table where the Creekers meet each noon to discuss the burning issues of the flourishing village of Tonquish Creek and the future of the babbling brook so dear to the heart of every loyal Creeker. Creeker Maben declares it ain't true that there is any garbage or any other refuse in the creek. "Why, it's the purest trickle of water I ever stood in. It smells just like a June rosebud. I'm pretty sure at folks who want to have such a thing of beauty covered up. Maybe they think it is this new fangled thing they call 'progress' to want to do something like that, but I'm telling you as a Creeker I will fight it to the last ditch," roared Creeker Maben as he climbed up the rolling banks of the Tonquish.

The two remaining members of The Purity League, Stew Dodge, and Stan Corbett, held a secret meeting, it has just become known, to try and find some more folks who want to join the league. Well, The BREEZE don't wish them any good luck in their foul designs. All this talk about hidin' from view forever the creek where in-he'd better store up some of the pure water from the creek for future use. The BREEZE would like to know why he is interested in the pure Tonquish waters.

Editor Breeze— I see by The BREEZE something about the Purity League. Will you tell us in your paper what the Purity League is and who makes up its non-paying membership? What has it done and what does it stand for? Constant Reader.

Answer— The Purity League is made up of one or two folks who ain't so pure as they would have the world believe. They have come to town long since Tonquish Creek was settled. They are a sort of straggling mess, here today, gone tomorrow and spend most of their time squatin' along the banks of the Tonquish lookin' for floating objects on the water. They tried to run The BREEZE out of business and got a good licking doing it. The BREEZE is always ready for a good fight. It must be a pretty bad outfit when they have to go down back of Powell's log wagon house to hold their meetings. As a matter of fact, the Purity League is made up of nothing more noise than Tories. They are all blue-blooded Tories, that's just what they are. More later.

Editor. Creekers! We are faced with invasion by the enemy and we have got to fight! Rally to the defense of our proud past and all that the pure, babbling Tonquish represents in our lives. The BREEZE is hereby issuing a call to arms! They want to forever ruin our creek and hide its fair face and name! CREEKERS! TO ARMS! Who knows but what they might invade our peaceful homes next! Meet at sunrise at Schrader's buffalo ranch, and march four abreast to the village hall! If you haven't got any shot-guns, maybe some pitch forks might come in handy. Remember Bunker Hill! Don't shoot till you see the whites of their next! It's our creek we look from the In-juns. Old Chief Tonquish would scarp us all if he thought we would let 'em ruin the natural beauty of the babbling Tonquish. TO ARMS! FIGHT THE ENEMY as Finlan! THE PLAINS! I'll Remember. Creekers will meet at SCHRADER'S buffalo ranch to organize the Creek Home Guards. Cap'n Schrader will form a mounted squad of bareback riders, and drilling will begin at sun-up. There will be more military news in The BREEZE next week. P. S.—The flood, being over, Harold Finlan will have charge of the military water wagons.
