

Townsend Club Circulates Petitions

Plymouth Members Seek Submission Of Issue

Clarence E. Pankow, president of Plymouth Townsend club, chapter No. 1, has announced that the circulation of petitions calling for the submission of a constitutional amendment to the people of the nation which embodies the chief aims of the Townsend old age pension plan are now in circulation in Plymouth and vicinity.

"We hope to be able to give every one in this entire locality a chance to sign. So far, we have met with remarkable success. All of our members are working on the plan and we hope within the next four or five weeks to be able to report that the job has been thoroughly and completely done," he said.

President Pankow states that the aims of the club through the petitions it is now circulating, embody the following seven principles:

Principle No. 1. The Townsend Plan is based on a universal "transaction tax" embracing all sales and services of whatever character. This, as is well known, comprehends the greatest movement ever enunciated in America for democratic principles and humanitarianism.

Principle No. 2. We must restore to the government, where it legally and constitutionally belongs, control of national credits and the issuance and circulation of money. Only by a sound money and national credit system controlled by the government, can the many millions of young people and unemployed hope to have restored their opportunity of home ownership, property rights, and a high standard of living. Let us stop for all time the ownership of national monies and credits by private interest.

Principle No. 3. We demand immediate drastic immigration laws, excluding competition from unnaturalized foreigners with American labor. Our motto—"United States Jobs and Opportunities for United States Citizens."

Principle No. 4. Buy American. Stop importing products that America can manufacture and produce in sufficient amounts to supply our needs. The home market must be saved for American labor and manufacture, and the American farming interest must at all times be protected against the competition of a world-wide market that compels the farmer to set his products at pauper prices and lowers his level of living to that of the peasantry of Europe.

Principle No. 5. Homes and farms must not be confiscated through erroneous theories and methods of valuation and unjust taxation. A correct state and municipal system of property taxes must be made immediately operative, whereby property will be taxed justly on the basis of its annual income or use value and only be charged a tax proportionate to that income or use value. The right to ownership of private property and the profits thereof is the safeguard of American liberty.

Principle No. 6. We demand a minimum standard of wages for labor equivalent at all times to the retirement annuity for the aged, as proposed under the Townsend Plan.

Principle No. 7. No change vital to the American form of government affecting the liberties of the people must ever be suggested by the congress or the president of the United States except through constitutional submission to the American electorate.

Many Attending Cleary College

Local students are among the 512 who enrolled at Cleary college, Ypsilanti, during the first week of classification. According to college authorities, more students are expected during the next week.

The total enrollment for the fall term last year was 450. If no more students would enroll, therefore, there would be an increase of 82 over last year.

Among the local students enrolled at Cleary college are Janet Waldecker, Jane Dodge, Marian Gorton, Betty Jane Griffiths, Viola Lidke, Norma Jean Roe, Robert VanMeter, Elton W. Baker, Marvin Wilson and Henry D. Worden.

To Celebrate 67th Wedding Anniversary On Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Rowe will be honored Sunday at a reception given in honor of their 67th wedding anniversary at the home of their son, Otis Rowe, on Ford road.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe were married October 11, 1870 in Detroit and moved to Plymouth 40 years ago, where they purchased the Young farm on the corner of Ford and Lotz roads. Since that time they have made that place their home. Mr. Rowe has been considered an excellent farmer throughout the last two decades.

He is 87 years old and Mrs. Rowe is 86. Both are in excellent health and both do their share of work about the place each day.

Mr. Rowe has devoted much of his time during the last ten years experimenting with crop irrigation and can be seen almost any day in his fields digging new ditches and filling the old ones.

The Rows have four sons, Otis and Asa of Plymouth; and Willis and Alfred of Belleville. Members of the immediate family and close friends will attend the reception Sunday. So that they may see their many old friends and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Rowe will hold open house from 3:00 o'clock Monday afternoon until 9:00 o'clock Monday evening, and will be glad to greet their friends and neighbors at that time.

Frank Terry Named Chairman Of Committee To Direct Christmas Street Decorations

Chamber Of Commerce Official Starts Work Early

Announcement has been made by President Stewart Dodge of the Chamber of Commerce that Frank Terry of the Sanitary Bakery has been appointed as chairman of the committee which will have charge of the Christmas street lighting for the approaching holidays.

He has delegated to Mr. Terry the responsibility of selecting the members of the committee that will work with him. Their names will probably be ready for publication next week.

During the past three years Plymouth has won much favorable comment because of its attractive street decorations during the holiday period and it is the hope of the officials of the Chamber of Commerce to have the decorations this year as good as they have been in the past, with additional extensions to the colored lights.

An effort is going to be made to have the lights erected immediately after Thanksgiving, following the practice that prevails in some of the other nearby cities.

It is hoped to be able this year to raise sufficient funds to purchase enough additional wiring and lights to cover all of the streets that were not decorated last year.

Warns Of Fences Being Charged

Hunters are being warned by the department of conservation to beware of stock fences charged with electricity. Several charged fences have been reported by conservation officers in southern Michigan, some carrying a shock sufficient to knock a man over.

The fences are used apparently to keep stock within pastures, conservation officers state.

Hunters who attempt to enter private lands without first procuring the consent of the land owner might be severely injured in attempting to climb over a charged fence, it is said. The officers advise hunters to make it a rule to get the consent of the landowner to hunt on his land.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Anderson of Ann street were pleasantly surprised last Friday evening by a group of friends who came to celebrate their 15th wedding anniversary. Guests were present from Dearborn, Detroit, Northville and Plymouth, who presented Mr. and Mrs. Anderson with many nice gifts.

Chief G-Man Talks To Woman's Club Meeting

Cost Of Crime Is Emphasized In Address Given Here Friday

Members of the Plymouth Woman's club opened their fall season last Friday at the Mayflower hotel under the direction of their new president, Mrs. J. M. Bennett. The meeting was well attended and after the interesting speech, Mrs. M. J. Chaffee presided at tea.

J. C. Newman, special agent in charge of the Detroit office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was the speaker and his subject, "Modern Crusade," was one most instructive to those in attendance.

Mr. Newman told of the importance of correct instruction to the young people today and cited that 17 out of every 100 criminals are under 21 years of age. He stated that crime was one of the country's major problems and that there were 4,300,000 criminals in this country at the present time.

To give his audience a better idea of the size of the problem Mr. Newman stated that there were 1,333,526 felonies committed every year and that in the United States there was a murder every 40 minutes, one assault every 12 minutes and a larceny every 44 seconds.

The speaker stated that crime costs every man, woman and child $120 a year each and that the total bill was 15 billion dollars. This amounts to $475 a second that this country must appropriate yearly to combat this problem alone.

Maurice Gerow and Grace Wilson, students in the University of Michigan music school, furnished the musical numbers for the meeting. During the tea music was furnished by a violin trio from Plymouth high school, accompanied by Carol Campbell.

The next meeting of the club, Friday, October 15, will be a 1:00 o'clock luncheon in the Woman's League building in Ann Arbor, following which groups will be shown through the carillon and later a half-hour carillon recital will be given by Wilmot F. Pratt, of Ann Arbor. Reservations for the luncheon are to be made with Mrs. William Morgan or Mrs. Robert Willoughby before Tuesday evening, October 12. Guests will be welcome.

Fire Destroys Old Home

Fire destroyed the house on the old Packard farm last Sunday noon when Herbert Brown, resident on the property drove two miles to Plymouth to notify Charles Thumme that his house was burning. The origin of the fire was not known but when discovered by Mr. Brown he drove into Plymouth to notify the fire department and stopped at the Thumme residence on Ann Arbor street where an alarm was sent to the fire department.

Firemen were handicapped when they arrived on the scene because there was no available water and the truck water was used to save the garage. Some furniture was saved from the first floor but everything in the upstairs was lost. The house located on Sheldon road was owned by Harry Andrews and the house was a total loss.

City Manager Elliott stated that if rural residents would call the telephone operator and tell the location of the fire and state whether there was a water supply available or not, much time could be saved and damage lessened by the quicker arrival of the fire department.

Start Work On New Gas Station

Powell & Son yesterday started excavation for the new D. M. Siskworth gas service station to be erected at the corner of Main and Starkweather. Paul Wood, Plymouth contractor, has been awarded the contract for the construction of the station, which is expected to be one of the most complete stations about here. It is hoped to have it open for business by late November. To bring the site to street level, it is going to be necessary to remove earth to the depth of nearly six feet.

Kiwanis Ready For Annual Charity "Shoot"

Club Hopes To Make Event Its Most Successful One

Plymouth Kiwanians' annual "gun shoot for charity" will take place in the former Collins garage, next to the Perfection laundry on Wing street, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week.

Tonight and Saturday night have been set aside for practice shooting by individuals and teams, but the real fun will begin Monday night when the teams will start competing for special honors.

Individuals can shoot and compete among themselves during the four nights to their hearts' content, declares George Burr, general chairman of the event.

Everything is in readiness and Kiwanis club members hope to make the event the biggest and most profitable one they have ever held.

The committee chairmen are, in addition to Mr. Burr, Carvel Bentley, in charge of tickets; Ray Danol, advertising; Lyke Worden, printing; Henry Fisher, building; Norma Denne and Richard Kimbrough, electric work; Lester Daniels, concessions; Warren Ward, scoring; Leonard Murphy, prizes; Roy A. Fisher, finances; Edson Huston, ammunition; and Ernest Allison, pot shot committee chairman.

Leases Theatre In Northville

Manager Harry Lush of the Plymouth Penniman - Allen theatre, it became known this week, has taken over the lease of the Penniman-Allen theatre in Northville and has already assumed charge of the theatre.

The theatre is now open five nights each week, Sunday, Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

Each week will be three changes each week of shows, Manager Lush announced. He has been successful in booking a series of some of the very best motion picture productions of the year to be shown in the immediate future in the Northville theatre.

It is his purpose to maintain the same high standard for the Northville theatre that he has for the Plymouth Penniman-Allen, for which patrons of the two theatres are most appreciative.

It is surprising what results just plain "every day" advertising in The Plymouth Mail will produce. A while ago the Novi Inn started to advertise in The Mail, and immediately the management noticed a large number of people from Plymouth in his place. Dancing Saturday and Sunday evenings, with an excellent band to provide the music and some free movies as well, provide plenty of entertainment for the guests.

The Ex-Service Men's card and bunco party for benefit of the boys' party being carried on by the club will be held, Monday, October 11, 1937 at 8:30 at the Jewell & Blaich hall.

Promotions Come To Two Phone Company Employees

ROY CROWE Advanced to District Commercial Representative

John R. MacLachlan, for the past nine years business office representative for the Michigan Bell Telephone company at Ann Arbor, has been appointed manager of the company's Plymouth area, with headquarters here, according to an announcement by E. E. Reiff of Ann Arbor, district commercial superintendent for the company. The change became effective October 1.

In addition to the Plymouth exchange, he will have charge of the Michigan Bell company's business in Wayne, Northville, Farmington, South Lyon and Wallied Lake exchanges.

Mr. MacLachlan is a native of Milan, Michigan, and studied at the Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti. He has been with the Michigan Bell company since December, 1928, when he entered the business office organization of the company at Ann Arbor. His nine years of training in telephone work well adapts him to take over the management of the Plymouth area exchanges.

Roy E. Crowe, whom Mr. MacLachlan succeeds here has been promoted to a position of greater responsibility, taking over the activities of district commercial representative for the entire Ann Arbor district of the company. He entered the employ of the Michigan Bell in 1912, having been manager at Plymouth since 1924. Previously he had been manager successively at Armada, Romeo, Grand Ledge, and Charlotte, and a member of the business office staff at Jackson. He is a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America, Wolverine Chapter No. 1, and long has been closely identified in the civic life of this community.

New Rotary Executive Here

President Roy Shaw of the Rotary clubs for this district, addressed an overflow meeting of the Plymouth Rotary club last Friday noon at the Mayflower hotel. He had only words of praise for the work that President John Blickenstaff and the new officers of the Plymouth club are doing. The meeting was one of the largest held by the local Rotarians in many weeks.

We Regret It.

There is one thing that The Plymouth Mail strives to do—present its readers correct and fair information. But notwithstanding this care, once in a great while an error will creep into the paper.

There was one error in a recent article that The Plymouth Mail seriously regrets and we hasten to correct it because of the fact that the mistake, due to hurry and incorrect information that the writer did not take time to check, might reflect upon the good work that Mayor Henry Hondorp and his associates on the city commission have been doing.

It was stated in the article referred to that the preparation of the new traffic ordinance cost something like $700, when as a matter of fact the work in preparing this excellent new regulation was but $100, the balance of the item carrying payments for other services.

Plymouth never had a public official who has done a better job than has Mayor Henry Hondorp in watching over the funds of the city and in doing the hundred and one little things that have gone so far in making this such a well-governed city.

Only when the present officials have found it advantageous to the city to make any purchase outside the city has anything been purchased elsewhere than in Plymouth. That is one of the golden rules the present administration strongly adheres to. In his splendid efforts the mayor has had the co-operation of EVERY member of the commission and The Mail has been in strict accord with the carefulness manifested by the present city administration and its economy practices, as well as its attention to needed public improvements. It is because of this fact too, in addition to its desire to always present correct information that this immediate and unsolicited correction is made.

There is one thing that The Mail has especially liked about the way Mayor Hondorp and his associates do business—they believe in letting daylight into city affairs and keeping the voters fully informed as to what they are doing. He does not believe in secrecy when it comes to public business.

If all the cities of Michigan and if the state itself were governed one quarter as well as the city of Plymouth, the taxpayers of Michigan would be pretty well off. The fine spirit shown by the mayor and his associates in the matter makes the writer of the article regret more keenly an error of this kind.

Start Addition To Riverside Mausoleum

Nearly 250 New Crypts To Be Added

Construction has started on the addition to the Riverside cemetery mausoleum which will more than double its capacity. At present workers are placing the foundation and as much of the concrete work as can safely be done this fall will be completed, state the representatives of the A. M. Abbott company of Dayton, Ohio, its builders. The entire structure, however, will probably not be finished before next summer.

Raymond Bachelord, Plymouth representative of the Abbott company, says that all of the 200 crypts in the present building have been sold. The company will place between 225 and 250 crypts in the new addition, which will join the present structure to the south.

Exactly the same material and same style of architecture will be followed in all the construction work. Indiana limestone will be used on the outside of the building and white marble will be used on the interior. After the work is completed, the enlarged structure will have the appearances of being one big building.

Among the many improvements to result from the addition to the structure will be a greatly enlarged chapel and the installation of a heating plant. Mr. Bachelord states that the completed mausoleum will be one of the best and largest in Michigan outside of Detroit.

The last meeting of the Get-Together club was held at the home of Mrs. Jessie Wohn. A social afternoon was spent and a luncheon was served. The next meeting will be at the home of Marjorie Klineschmidt Thursday, October 14.

First Community Fellowship Hour Sunday Eve

Churches Bring Prominent Speaker For Services

Dr. Benjamin J. Bush, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church of Detroit and one of Michigan's best known church leaders, will be the speaker Sunday evening at the first Community Fellowship Hour that has been arranged by the First Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist churches of Plymouth.

He will speak at the First Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock, his subject being a most timely one—"Through European Eyes". Dr. Bush has for years been an outstanding student of world affairs and what he will have to say Sunday evening will doubtless be of utmost interest to everyone. Beside spending considerable time among European nations, he went to Russia a number of years ago and made a study of conditions in that country.

This is the first of a series of fellowship hours that have been arranged by the three churches to continue during the winter months. They will take place the second Sunday evening of each month and will rotate among the churches. The November event will be at the First Baptist church and the December hour will take place in the Presbyterian church. The January meeting will again be back at the Methodist church, the same rotation being followed for the remainder of the year.

In addition to bringing some outstanding speaker to the city for each one of the meetings, special music will also be arranged.

Sessions Takes Over New Station

The many friends of James E. Sessions will be pleased to know that he has purchased the Petz service station on South Main street and that in the future the station will be known as "Jim's Neighborhood Station No. 2".

The station will feature Mobil Gas and oils and all Mobil accessories. It will be managed for Mr. Sessions by George Straub and will be run with the same excellent service that has made Mr. Sessions' No. 1 station so popular. A full line of United States tires will also be at the disposal of his customers.

A beautiful new "flying red horse" sign has been installed at the station and everything will be in readiness for the grand opening Saturday. Favors will be provided and Mr. Sessions invites all of his friends to visit the station on that day.

Townsend Club Meets Monday

The regular meeting of the Plymouth Townsend club will be held Monday evening, October 11, at 8:00 o'clock sharp, in the Grange hall. Judge Edward J. Jeffries of Detroit will speak on the Townsend Plan. It is hoped that all members, their friends and all others interested in the plan will be present. Following the program a light lunch will be served. All members are asked to bring sandwiches, silver and dishes. On the following Monday evening, October 18, the Plymouth club will be hosts at a potluck supper in the Grange hall with the Townsend clubs of this district being guests. George E. Guilen, of Detroit, will be the speaker that evening.

County P.T.A. To Meet October 12

Wayne county council of Parent Teacher associations will hold their first fall meeting at Gibraltar school, near Rockwood, Michigan, on Tuesday, October 12. The business meeting will be held at 5:00 o'clock, dinner at 6:30, and the evening program at 7:45. George F. Hacker, student of Latin America, lecturer and teacher, will speak on "Adventures in Mexico". He will also present motion pictures in color to illustrate his lecture. The Mexican system of education will be given special place in the lecture.

THIRTY-SEVEN FATALITIES

Warnings given by the police department in regard to children on bicycles should be heeded by parents of Plymouth. Although there are serious penalties that can be inflicted on violators, the police do not intend to make arrests unless the situation becomes worse than it is today. Your cooperation with the police department in its traffic drive will do much to keep the city's record free from serious accident and certainly when one compares Plymouth's record with that of Hillsdale, a town not much larger than Plymouth perhaps they can be thankful for persistent police regulation. Hillsdale has recorded 37 fatalities this year and to date Plymouth has none. Surely it pays to obey traffic signals and drive within the speed laws if that kind of driving will prevent Plymouth from having Hillsdale's tragedies.

HOMES NEEDED

The constant demand for homes and apartments in Plymouth is becoming a very serious problem. During the last few weeks several people have visited the Mail office in hopes of getting information that might help them locate some place to live. Unfortunately the housing situation in Plymouth is so tense that many of these people have been forced to look elsewhere for homes and to keep pace with the normal growth of the city it will be necessary for home or apartment construction to start here soon. With an increase of over 125 children in the public schools it is readily seen that the town is growing and as yet the building program is not in keeping with the growth.

EVERYBODY LOST AS USUAL

Eaton Rapids is a little community over in the southeastern corner of Eaton county, about half the size of Plymouth. For years and years the chief income of the people of the community has been from the Horner Bros. Woolen mills. The company has been able to maintain a stable payroll by soliciting and bringing to Eaton Rapids orders for woolen goods that could be made and marketed in any other part of the country as easy or easier than there.

But Eaton Rapids has for years been the home of the Horners and they have worked diligently to build up a substantial business, one that would provide their neighbors with steady employment. To them Eaton Rapids is the "home town" and they have in more ways than one manifested their affection for the community where they have spent their lives.

But what has happened in Eaton Rapids?

Last May there was a strike called by a portion of the employees of the woolen plant. The strikers seized possession of the plant and refused to let workers who desired to continue employment go into the factory.

For nearly five months the plant has been in idleness. Everybody—EVERYBODY—in Eaton Rapids suffered as a result.

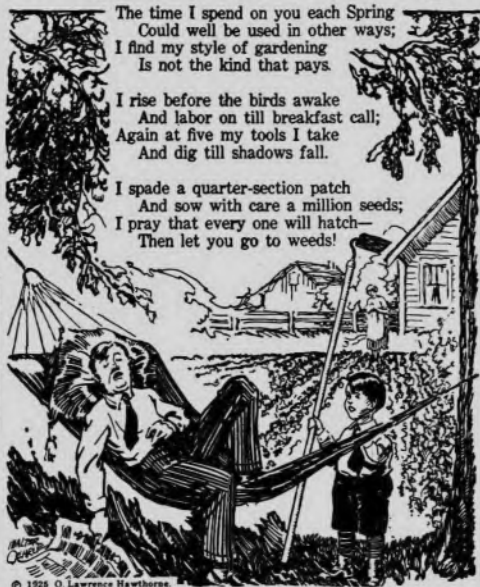

A week or so ago when the fall winds began to blow a bit chilly and the first signs of an approaching winter were felt in the air, a number of the Horner workers, long out of employment, decided to take matters in their own hands.

They marched to the factory, pushed aside the picket lines, entered the factory and prepared its machinery for operation.

As they did so, several hundreds of the townspeople headed

To My Garden

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

The time I spend on you each Spring
Could well be used in other ways;
I find my style of gardening
Is not the kind that pays.

I rise before the birds awake
And labor on till breakfast call;
Again at five my tools I take
And dig till shadows fall.

I spade a quarter-section patch
And sow with care a million seeds;
I pray that every one will hatch—
Then let you go to weeds!

by a band marched down to the factory. "While the crowd was in front of the mill," says the Eaton Rapids Journal, "the Horner mill whistle blew in all its glory for the first time in fourteen weeks, which was greeted by a roaring cheer from the crowd. It is estimated that there were at least 1,000 people who participated in this demonstration."

Who won the strike?

Nobody.

The workers lost an entire summer's income. The factory lost business it may never regain. Eaton Rapids lost, everyone in the town lost—and there has been injected into this good little city over in Eaton county a feeling of animosity that may for a generation or more prove to be a millstone around the neck of the community always pulling the good little city down and down. What the final outcome will be, no one can tell.

The situation there, as elsewhere, is directly due to the damnable campaign of discord and ill-will that self-seeking politicians, who never did a thing in their lives to help anybody except themselves, have been preaching.

Surely there is a way, there MUST BE A WAY, to bring about better conditions for everybody without resorting to the tactics that result in nothing except losses, ill-will and discord and actual distress.

The prayer of the nation might well be for some new apostle preaching the benefits of honest toil, good-will and true neighborly spirit to rise up and lead us out of the turmoil and strife that a lot of false political prophets have led us into.

WHY WORRY?

If the cost of worry in the past year or so could be measured in dollars and cents, the World War debts—one of the things a lot of people are worrying about—would appear an insignificant sum.

Worry is contagious. A fellow down at the mouth starts crying on the shoulder of a fellow who thought conditions weren't so bad, and soon has the latter crying too.

And to what end? Energy is sapped. Ambition is shelved. Business is curtailed. Gloom shrouds everything. And the cost of worrying keeps right on mounting.

You can't sell worry. You can't collect on it. You can't see it. But, oh, how you can feel it. And the harm it does. And the costs it piles up.

So keep your gaze on the other side of the picture. Cheerfulness and optimism are just as contagious as worry. They cost nothing. And their value is inestimable.

Instead of sitting down and worrying, try standing up and doing. Don't bother about worry. Spread sunshine.

Get yourself in this much brighter, better habit, and the first thing you know you'll have the other fellow doing it too.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

TAKING ROTTENNESS OUT OF THE ROTTEN PART OF POLITICS

Will civil service in Michigan be a farce? It can be made just that. There are plenty of politicians who will make it an empty farce, if they can. Governor Murphy seems sincere in his efforts for REAL civil service. We hope he succeeds. Here's why:

—An ammunition plant in New Jersey blew up, killing 87 people, making 10,000 homeless and destroying $3,500,000. The politically appointed inspector of this plant was a salesman. He admitted he knew nothing about his job;

—Out of 35,000 rural mail carriers on civil service, but four were arrested for dishonesty. Out of 14,000 politically appointed postmasters, 136 were arrested for dishonesty (year 1935). Civil service will not cure all political ills. It will help if honestly administered.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican-News.

NO MORE INTEREST IN COMMUNITY GOOD WILL

Our neighborhood village of Springport has done away with their annual Community picnics. Why? Following is what the Springport Signal said last week about it: "At present the prospects are there will be no Community picnic this year. The meeting Monday night was attended by two men. These picnics have been held regularly for the past ten years and we believe they have been very effective in building good will for the town. Just at present, however, there seems to be no interest in having them continued.—Robert Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Journal.

ABOLISH THE TRAFFIC "FIXER"

Every reader is familiar with the enormous loss of life through highway accidents in this country every year and many have seriously pondered the problem of safety.

Recently, an experienced police officer declared that one of the greatest handicaps in enforcing traffic regulations was the "fix." The officer said, "Nowadays almost everyone, from the ditch-digger to State Senator, has a friend in the police department or knows someone who has." Given a ticket for violating traffic regulations, they appeal to the friend who, too often, finds it hard to refuse them.

In conclusion, this official expressed the opinion that we would soon have better drivers and safer highways if everyone knew that there would be no "fixing" of a traffic summons. This observation is essentially sound. Unless those who violate traffic laws are apprehended and punished, the fatalities on highways and streets will continue to increase.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

HE WRITES ABOUT FLAGS.

Flags have a special meaning in Washington. When the flag is flying from the mast on the White House it means the president is in Washington. The capitol flag in the center of the main entrance is perpetually displayed both night and day, as are the flags on the House and Senate office buildings. When any member of Congress dies the flags are placed at half-mast. Flags over the Senate and House of Representatives chambers are on the masts when the respective houses are in session.—Muri DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

You may think it doesn't matter what kind of a lamp you buy, so long as it is attractive and matches the decorative scheme of the room. But if you are buying a lamp to give LIGHT—for reading, sewing, studying, playing cards, or any other close-seeing task—then you want only one kind of lamp: the reflector lamp. These famous lamps were developed to help guard against eyestrain. They are made in hundreds of attractive styles by many different manufacturers.

For example, a reflector lamp corrects the evils of glaring, spotty or insufficient light. A translucent bowl under the shade diffuses the light, giving it good distribution both upward and downward. The bowl controls the quality of light by diffusing and preventing glare. Part of the light is reflected to the ceiling to provide general illumination. A reflector lamp furnishes soft, even, restful light that enriches the color and beauty of a room and its furnishings, and helps to prevent eyestrain.

There is a reflector model exactly suited to your needs—styled for your home and to fit your pocketbook. See the wide assortment of these smart new lamps today.

The TONQUISH CREEK BREEZE

Published at Tonquish Creek, Michigan. The People's Watch Dog. Vol. I No. 13

Rut Powell, undercover man for Matthew Stephen Powell, the people's candidate for high office in the creek, has been busy organizing the coon hunters for the forthcoming election. Rut says he is getting the coon hunters ready for the coon season but the knowing politicians of the town say it is for sinister political purposes.

The creek has been getting along fine for the past three or four weeks until that disturbing element over in the office of the other sheet had to come back to town. We'd like to know why some Kikapoo injin or cowboy didn't do his duty when he had the chance. Now there's going to be nothing but trouble round about here. Wait until The Breeze gets through with him!

Carl Shear, who has been doing a lot of talking about roadhogs lately, seems to be changing his campaign tactics. First it was law and order, now it's something else. He favors lettin' road hogs run in the roadways just like any other hogs. That shows the results of his early training on the back forty.

Oak Holler claims it felt a slight earth tremor Tuesday night, but Creekers are pretty safe in saying that it wasn't strong enough to shake 'em loose from their foggy doctrines that has enabled Tonquish Creek to step out way ahead of the procession.

There's been a strange, suspicious looking individual hanging around down under the big swamp elms at the bend of the creek near Harvey lately. They claim he is lying in wait for some surveyor who has a notion that the Tonquish is going to be buried. Abe Goldstein says that is not it at all. He's lying there for a chance to see some of Abe's invented creations, says Abe.

The Purty League has come up for another breath of fresh air. Stan Corbett, its loudest talking member, says the league is going to have no more Miss America shows at any county affair. "It's debasing," says Censor Corbett. Editor Champe of The Breeze staff wants to know how this guardian angel of the Creek's morals knows anything about what Miss America was or is. Will Mr. Corbett please answer that one in next week's Breeze?

There's something going on out at Creeker Schraders's buffalo ranch. Nobody seems to know what it is, but there's something, that's sure. Watch The Breeze.

Hunters! Do Not Carry Loaded Guns in Car

Loaded shotguns or rifles may not legally be kept or transported in or on an automobile under Michigan hunting laws at any time, reminds the department of conservation.

The reminder is given to all sportsmen who wish to keep within the law during the fall hunting season. It is not legal for a hunter to stand or ride on the running board of his car with a loaded shotgun or rifle. Conservation officers who found hunters thus breaking the law last season were forced to take them into custody.

The law states that hunting guns should be unloaded both in the magazine and in the barrel when placed or carried in or on an automobile.

Garden City New Baseball Champs

The Gas House Gang from Garden City won their second successive inter-county league championship by downing the Cass Benton nine by the score of 3 to 0. Waldo Emerson Scott pitched his second shut-out in the play-off series, allowing Cass Benton five hits while striking out eight men. Aided by Johnny O'Brien's spectacular fielding, Scott pitched one of his best games of the year. The O'Brien-Higgins combination. Garden City's keystone sackers, executed two double plays to squelch two Cass Benton rallies. It was also O'Brien's snappy bit of fielding that snuffed another rally in the bud when O'Brien's snap throw from deep short stop caught a Cass Benton runner sliding into third base. Between Scott and O'Brien, Garden City was able to keep its head above water and rout the opposition.

Garden City scored all of its runs in the first and second innings. Joe Higgins opened up the game with a walk. Tatro promptly sacrificed and O'Brien smashed a double along the left field foul line scoring Higgins. In the second inning Hill doubled and Smith hit an infield single. Smith stole second. Scott hit a slow grounder to second base on which Hill scored, but Golin threw the ball over first base permitting Smith to score from second. From the second inning on Eddy Wiltenberg held the local team to one hit, and did not allow a man to get beyond second base.

Garden City has won 11 out of the last 12 games that the local team played, coming from behind on several occasions to get into the play-offs. After losing the first game of the play-offs, Garden City won six straight games to cop the championship in the first division in the Michigan Inter-county league. Next Sunday Garden City will play Ecorse, the champions of the red division of the same league, a double-header.

Plymouth Rocks Win Third Straight

By losing to Plymouth Friday the Rochester Falcons became the third team in a row to fall to score on the home lads. So far this season Plymouth has set up a pretty good record although none of the contests have been league games. In their first game Plymouth won from Flint School for the Deaf, 18-0; the following Friday they won from Redford Union 26-0; then Friday last they beat Rochester in their best exhibition 28-0. Plymouth had the advantage throughout the entire game and was in danger of being scored upon only once.

The outstanding part of the whole game was the beautiful team work by Plymouth. Although the Rochester eleven outweighed the Plymouth team considerably, Plymouth was able to tear holes in the Falcons' line and were in their territory most of the time.

Plymouth started bad with a poor kick-off by Marvin Sackett, the Plymouth captain, which went only to the 45-yard line. But this loss was soon overcome in the exchange of punts where Plymouth gained 20 yards. It was early in the first quarter when the Rocks scored their first touchdown. Rochester was on her own 10-yard line. Marcott charged the line and was hit very hard by several Plymouth huskies; the ball bounded out of his arms and Prough, standing nearby, caught it before it hit the ground and ran across the line. The extra point kick was wide of the goal post. Later in this period Plymouth scored another touchdown on a very well executed double reverse around left end. The play worked so fast that the Falcons did not know where the ball was and half of the spectators didn't either. Egloff carried the ball. Sackett kicked the extra point.

The second quarter was Plymouth's best. They made many long gains on end runs and also set Rochester back by breaking through the line. In this period Egloff scored his second touchdown on an end run, jumping over the last would-be tackler. Jacob then put in the young substitutes to give the regulars a rest. Immediately Rochester took Plymouth back to their one-yard line, but Plymouth sent in their regulars and warded off the only real threat of Rochester.

In the last two periods Rochester began throwing passes as a last desperate effort. Plymouth intercepted or knocked down five of the six thrown. Plymouth ran reverses in the third and fourth periods which fooled the opposition entirely.

In the three games Plymouth has played the team has run mostly reverses, smashes, and end runs. Passes seem to be out of the game as far as Plymouth is concerned. The "Rocks" have a very wide variety of reverses which work very well.

In the last game Plymouth ran a very good reverse in which three backfield men handled the ball and finally finished in an end run which gained 16 yards. The line-ups were:

Plymouth	RE	Harris
Prough	RT	Fabino
Evans	RG	Knapp

"SMILIN' THROUGH" CHOSEN AS JUNIOR PLAY

"Smilin' Through," a romantic comedy by Allen Langdon Martin, in three acts has been chosen as the play of the class of 1939. It promises to be the most unique thing ever presented in the way of drama by the high school. As might be recalled, this is the play which brought fame to Jane Cowell. It has packed houses on both sides of the Atlantic for several seasons. The play opens with a ppplogue which has a wistful sweetness unlike anything ever seen on the stage. It unfolds the story of a woman who is slain by a bullet from the hands of a spurned lover on the night of her marriage. At her death, she promises her sweetheart that she will return in spirit. "Smilin' Through" the mists that separate the hereafter. Fifty years later her lover, still bitter from the murder of his bride-to-have-been, stands between the happiness of a young couple who are in love. The memory of his own disappointment finally changes his mind, however, and the union of the lovers forms a thrilling and gripping climax. The spirit of the murdered sweetheart has returned to help the pair achieve the happiness she had lost 50 years ago.

McCLAIN ELECTED STUDENT COUNCIL LEADER

The precedents of former years were followed this year as a senior was again elected to the office of president of the student council. James McClain was elected president; Ivan Packard, vice president; Jeanette Schwartz, secretary; and Mary Lou Wright, treasurer. Members of the council have been recently selling miniature blue and white megaphones; also the student council tickets are now on sale.

The complete and final list of the members includes James McClain, Gerald Bordine, and Jeanette Schwartz from the twelfth grade; George Bennett, Gerald Greer, Veronica Mort, and Mary Lou Wright, eleventh grade; William Aluia, Robert Eilt, Ivan Packard, and Richard Strong, tenth grade; Jack Butz, Robert Daniels, Paul Harsha, Robert Norman, Ardith Rowland, and Lilly Wickstrom, ninth grade; Bayliss Erdily, Nancy McLaren, and Jack Wilkie, eighth grade; Marvin Kliensmidt, Rebecca Rose, and Ione Stewart, seventh grade.

The dates upon which the play is to be given are December 9 and 10.

DeLAURIER CHRISTENS SCHOOL MASCOT

Jacques DeLaurier, besides being an excellent left guard, proved that he is also an excellent parson at the christening of the school mascot, "Rocky" at a pep meeting of over 100 students in the auditorium before the football game with Rochester Friday. Rocky was one of Donald Schmidt's prize Plymouth Rock roosters before he was selected by the football squad for the role of mascot. For the ceremony Rocky wore a blue felt jacket on the sides of which were white letter "P's". When he led the band at the game he received even more applause than captain Marvin Sackett, who firmly believes that Rocky was the sole reason for the team's victory. Between games Rocky stays at the chicken house of Jacques DeLaurier, Jacques' puppy his sole companion.

DO'S AND DON'T'S FOR FRESHMAN GIRLS

Don't stand at a boy's locker to talk to him.

Don't walk through the halls in the morning or at noon in the hope of talking to some boy. It isn't worth it.

Don't wear bright red fingernail polish. It isn't appropriate.

Don't wear a lot of make-up. Wear lipstick if you must but use even that sparingly.

Have your hair look nice but don't wear it in a mass of curls around your face. Keep your hair natural for school. Wear it formally for formal parties.

Don't wear high heels even if your mother will let you. Oxfords are the shoes for school.

Join all the social clubs that you have time for and join in all social events. It won't take long to discover that school is fun.

Sweaters and skirts are preferred to silk dresses.

Don't copy your favorite senior girl. You have a personality of your own. Use it.

Attention Motorists and Truckmen
Automotive engineers as well as owners and drivers of cars, trucks and buses, are talking about the strange mineral that can save the price of a rebore job costing from $45 to $150, as well as pistons and rings. Saves up to 50% on oil, and as much as 40% of the gas. Avoid having your car laid up in the shop for several days. Think of these savings.
Costs less than one tank of gas yet will last for 10,000 miles of driving. Imagine the smooth economical miles of driving with new car zip.
If you would like to avoid that expensive rebore job, buy METAL. Complete service costs only $195 for car or truck motors.
