How The State Budget Is Being "Balanced" To Cover Up Tremendous Increased Costs At Lansing

Present Administration Deliberately Threw It Out Of Balance Last Winter To Fool Taxpayers Now

(By Elton R. Eaton)

Big things are going on in Lansing these days. Reports say the governor is "balancing the budget". That's BIG news—so BIG that it's about time for some one to prick the bubble and see how much air there is on the inside.

So that one can get the background of the whole situation and know just how ridiculous are the efforts to fool the taxpayers at this time, it is essential to go back a few months to the regular session of the state legislature when the GOVERNOR and his cohorts deliberately threw the budget out of balance by demanding higher and higher appropriations for political henchmen and newly created political boards and commissions, and to cover up increased costs of the state government. They knew at the time just what they were doing! They knew the over-burdened taxpayers wouldn't stand for what appeared to be a general sky-rocketing of salaries and other state expenses. They had promised an economical government, but they KNEW that state expenses would be higher than ever before as a result of what they were doing, therefore it was necessary to do some juggling of the figures.

So here was the scheme to fool the public—"We'll have the legislature vote bigger appropriations than ever before. Then when the legislature goes home, we'll cut them down, but still leave them higher than they were two years ago," was the way these new smooth state politicians planned. They figured correctly. The legislature went for it with hammer and tongs. The scheme also fooled some sincere Republicans, except TWO.

The unfortunate part of this article is the fact that the writer must be more or less personal about it because of the part he played in an effort to keep the budget from getting out of balance last spring when it was in the making.

On pages 1595, 1596, 1597 and 1598 of the house journal for the regular legislative session will be found a list of some 79 amendments that were proposed by the writer which if enacted would have cut state appropriations for public job holders by millions of dollars.

What happened to them? Well in the first place one would have thought that the writer when he offered the amendments, had committed high treason by daring to suggest reductions in the appropriation bills then pending.

As the clerk read the various slashes the amendments intended, some Murphy legislators not even rising from their seats, called out, "don't take up the time to read them", "what's he trying to do, keep us here all summer?" Another wanted to have the amendments "considered" read, so they could be disposed of without the necessity of the clerk reading them entirely through. "It's time to adjourn now," he added.

After the clerk had finished reading the proposed amendments even two or three free spending Republicans joined with the Murphys in protesting the slashes the amendments proposed. They squealed like big fat porkers being shoved into the slaughtering pen.

Think of the absurdity of it—a member of the legislature suggesting reductions in the appropriations the Governor wanted! Mister Reader—the writer will confess to you now that a most uncomfortable half hour was spent by him after he had suggested such a thing as reductions in these staggering appropriation bills that now rise up to haunt those who voted for them. It was just like stepping into a hornet's nest.

Don't let any one fool you! Governor Frank Murphy and the whole caboodle of his official family WANTED AND DEMANDED the passage of the appropriation bills just as they went to the floor of the house from the ways and means committee.

What happened to the amendments that the writer presented which would have reduced the appropriation bills by millions of dollars?

They were OVERWHELMINGLY DEFEATED. After their defeat came the vote on the main question—the appropriation bills. A strong party leader of the majority choked off additional debate by demanding "the previous question".

Name Chairmen Of League Committees

Women Voters Hear About State Convention

The October meeting of the Plymouth League of Women Voters was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Ray Johns, Friday afternoon. Reports on the state league convention in Lansing, September 29 were given by Mrs. Johns, Mrs. Maurice Woodworth, Mrs. John Dalton, and Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple. The president appointed the chairmen of six of the seven departments for the ensuing year as follows:

Government and Operation, Mrs. S. N. Thams.

Government and Municipal Affairs, Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple.

Government and Economic Welfare, Mrs. Edward Eckert.

Government and Foreign Policy, Mrs. Maurice Woodworth.

Government and Child Welfare, Mrs. John Dalton.

Government and Legal Status of Women, Mrs. Maude Bennett.

Government and Education, to be appointed later.

The general program chairman for the year is the second vice president, Mrs. Clarence Elliott, who is planning some unusually interesting programs.

Mrs. Woodworth's report on the Lansing speech of Prof. Remer was especially timely because of the last three week's developments in the China-Japanese conflict.

The next meeting of the League will be held on November 12.

Legion Auxiliary Installs Officers

The installation of the officers of the American Legion Auxiliary, took place on Friday afternoon at 2:30, at the home of Mrs. Melvin Guthrie on Newburg road. Mrs. Lida Murphy, state president, of Northville was the installing officer, and the new officers for the coming year are: president, Mrs. Vera Guthrie; first vice president, Mrs. Beth McClain; second vice president, Mrs. Marie Anderson; secretary, Mrs. Lucille Keefer; treasurer, Mrs. Gertrude Simmenetti, historian, Mrs. Gladys Ryder; chaplain, Mrs. Ida Thomas; sergeant at arms, Mrs. Alma Moyer.

After the installation, Mrs. Murphy presented Mrs. Cecily Evans, retiring president with her past president's pin, and Mrs. Francis Ayers presented her with a lovely compact as a token of remembrance from the unit. Mrs. Guthrie was presented flowers and Mrs. Murphy an engagement book from the unit by Mrs. Evans. Mrs. Murphy then gave us a very interesting talk on her trip to the national convention in New York City. Mrs. Ryder gave two readings, after which ice cream, cake and coffee was served.

The next meeting of the post and auxiliary will be held tonight, Friday, October 15, in the Legion hall, with a 6:30 supper. Mrs. Alma Moyer in charge. It is hoped a good crowd will be out to support the new officers for the coming year.

Annual Red Cross Membership Campaign

The usual annual solicitation for Red Cross memberships and donations to the American Red Cross will begin in Plymouth on Monday, October 18. Red Cross booths will be open in the Plymouth United Savings Bank and the First National Bank on Monday morning, October 18, and will continue until Saturday evening, October 23, after which date, the following week, a house-to-house canvass will be made for the convenience of those who may have failed to take out or re-new their memberships at either of the Red Cross booths.

Big Hallowe'en Party For Boys and Girls

Civic Committee Formed To Entertain Youngsters

Plans are under way for a huge Hallowe'en party to be held Saturday night, October 30, for all the "kids" of Plymouth, both big and small. Rev. Walter Nichol advanced the plan and is met with such general support that representatives of every Plymouth organization are meeting tonight at the city hall to formulate definite ideas for the big affair.

A committee consisting of Walter Nichol, Charles Thumme, Jake Stremich, James Gallimore, Garnet Baker and Harold Anderson have made the organization plans and called a meeting in the city hall this evening for anyone who might be interested in helping.

In years past Harry Lush has entertained the children of the city at a theater party in cooperation with the police department and the result has been most favorable from the stand point of store keepers and housewives who had no windows to wash the next morning. Because of the thoughtfulness of Plymouth children and because the committee felt that both old and young could enjoy an affair of this kind the plan has gone forward and it appears that a real party will be the result.

Parents will favor the plan because they can be assured of their children's safety and protection by the police department from traffic and the fire department and Boy Scouts will join together to make the affair a success for everyone.

Prizes will be awarded for costumes, favors will be given to everyone, entertainment will keep all amused and a lunch will be served to those that attend. More complete details will be announced in future issues of The Plymouth Mail.

Rev. Edgar Hoenecke attended a Lutheran conference in Genero, Ohio, from Sunday until Tuesday. On Sunday he was present at the celebration given in the Lutheran church for Rev. John Gauss, who had been their pastor for the past 40 years.

Archie Collins, Life Long Resident, Expires

Community Mourns Passing—Funeral One Of Largest

By Rev. Lucia M. Stroh

Plymouth was saddened last week when it became known that Archie Collins, of Sheridan road, had expired after an illness of many weeks in Marine hospital, in Detroit, Thursday, October 7.

Archie Henry Collins was born in Plymouth, November 27, 1891. Here he was reared and attended school. In the year 1917, November 22, he married Miss Blanche Hanchett.

To this union one little son, Kenneth Myron, was born. Five years later the little one passed away, and preceded his father in death twelve years ago.

In 1918 he enlisted for service in the United States army, where he served for nine months, part of the time being spent over-seas in the ammunition train division.

This past year he served as the commander of the Ex-Service Men's club. He was also a member of the Myron H. Beals Post, of the American Legion in Plymouth.

Mr. Collins was a very active member of the Odd Fellows Order, attaining the high position of Past Noble Grand of Tonquish Lodge, No. 32.

Up until his illness Mr. Collins was employed in the Daisy Manufacturing company where he worked for the past ten years, serving as foreman the last year.

He also played in the Plymouth band for many years. In all these various social orders he was highly esteemed and will be greatly missed.

For many months Mr. Collins was in failing health. Thursday, September 16, he was taken to Grace hospital and from there to the United States Marine hospital in Detroit where he passed on.

Mr. Collins gave his heart and life to Christ his Lord, ten years ago and then with his dear wife and a large class of candidates united with the Congregational church of Salem, Easter morning, April 8, 1928. The fellowship and association with his Lord and Savior and the little Salem church were always very precious to him. The pastor and the church doubly mourn the loss of this sincere upright man of God.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his dear wife, Blanche, one brother, Daniel J. Weltzer, of Detroit, one aunt, two uncles, many relatives and a host of friends.

Funeral services were held in the Schrader funeral home, Sunday, October 10 at 4 o'clock. Rev. Lucia M. Stroh, pastor of the Salem Congregational church officiated and brought a comforting message to all hearts from Matthew's Gospel, 6th chapter verses 19 to 34, Mr. Collins' favorite scripture text. Rev. J. Sutherland, pastor of the Baptist church gave prayer. Mrs. Allenbaugh and Mrs. Sutherland sang two beautiful hymns, "In the Garden" and "The Old Rugged Cross." Tonquish Lodge, No. 32 then administered their service and the last sacred rites in a very touching and impressive manner, after which the Ex-Service men and the Legionnaires marched with the body and funeral procession to the grave, where he was buried with full military honors. The Boy Scouts also joined in this service. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Berden from the local Salvation Army organization, will go to Chicago today to be present at the Salvation Army congress to be held in that city to welcome to America Evangelists Booth, the commanding general of the organization. Captain Lindstrom states that the event promises to be one of the most outstanding in the history of the Salvation Army. The local representatives of the Army will remain in Chicago over Sunday.

Prof. Lowell Carr Speaks Here Tuesday Eve

Community Invited To Hear U. of M. Educator

Lowell J. Carr, Ph. D. associate professor of Sociology at the University of Michigan, will be the speaker at a general community meeting to be held in the Starkweather school on Tuesday evening, October 19, under the sponsorship of the Starkweather P. T. A.

His subject will be "Organizing The Community For The Control of Juvenile Delinquency", and because of the general interest in this important problem, it is urged that as many of the parents as possible of Plymouth and vicinity be present.

There is no admission charge and the meeting will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock, states Mrs. John Arigan, president of the Starkweather P. T. A.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Men's Chorus, a musical organization composed of Northville and Plymouth residents.

Professor Carr is one of the outstanding authorities in Michigan upon the subject he will discuss in his Plymouth address. He is a former state editor of the Detroit Free Press. His first appointment to the staff of the University came in 1920 when he was named as an assistant in Psychology at the school. Since that time his advancement has been rapid. He is the author of a number of books, some of them dealing with the subject upon which he will speak while in Plymouth Tuesday evening.

Officials of the Starkweather P. T. A. have requested that emphasis be given to the fact that the meeting is for the entire community and they hope for a large turnout.

Chief Smith Has Dog Permits

Hunters will be interested in knowing that Chief of Police Vaughn Smith has a number of permits which can be used in transporting hunting dogs outside of Wayne county. Because of the fact that there is a quarantine of dogs in this part of the state, hunters are urged to get these permits if they plan to take their dogs outside of the quarantine district.

Independent Daisy Employees And Company Enter Into Contract For Next Year

Work Out Plan Which Provides For Way To Settle All Possible Differences

An agreement that assures industrial peace and the same kind of friendly relations that has prevailed for over half a century between the employees of the Daisy Manufacturing company and its employees, with the exception of one brief period last spring, has been worked out by members of the Independent Daisy Employees association and their attorney Judge Ford Brooks. It became known yesterday. It is also stated that officials of the company have given their approval of the proposed contract that will prevail for one year, and at a meeting held at the Mayflower hotel Wednesday night, the agreement was signed by an overwhelming percent of the employees. The association worked out a plan whereby the signature of each employe was requested and so apparently satisfied were they with the contract negotiated by their committee that there was no hesitation in entering into the agreement.

Mayor Names Planning Commission

Members To Work Out Program For Future Development

Mayor Henry Rondorp, complying with official action taken by the city commission, has just announced the appointment of a combined city government and civic committee to serve as members of a city planning commission.

The members named by the mayor are Charles Fisher, George H. Robinson, Ruth Huston-Whipple, Mrs. Maud Bennett, Elton R. Eaton, Alice Safford, Mrs. Ray Johns, Edward Gayde, Lyle Alexander, Edward C. Hough, J. Merle Bennett, F. R. Hoheisel and George Burr.

It is expected that the first meeting of the committee will be held sometime in early November to take first preliminary steps toward an important civic improvement.

Proper city planning has been a matter under consideration for sometime but this is the first official step taken by the city government to bring about a proper and regulated development of this fast growing community.

T. Glenn Phillips, one of Michigan's best known landscapers and civic planners in Michigan, nearly a year ago consulted with local officials about the problem and urged the desirability of some action of this kind.

It is generally felt throughout the city that a well defined civic plan will be of untold value to Plymouth and that is what the committee hopes to work out.

The minimum wage scale is an advance of two cents per hour over the prevailing scale. The seniority rule has in the past prevailed, it is understood, but it has now been included in the contract.

Legion Dances Start Saturday

American Legion dances will start Saturday night, October 16, in the Legion hall at Newburg. Plans are all arranged and the committee consisting of Harold Anderson, William McClain and A. K. Brockelhurst announced today that the parties will be chaperoned by legion members and that Plymouth parents can send their children to the parties and know that they will be perfectly safe.

Sod Schaffer and his rhythm masters will furnish the music this season. Everyone is invited to attend.

Daane Attends Bankers' Convention

Russell Daane has been in Boston this week attending the annual convention of the American Bankers association. The convention, because of financial conditions throughout the country is regarded as one of the most important ever held by the association. Following the convention sessions, he will stop in New York city for two or three days on business matters.

Harvest Festival At Northville Church

The ladies of the Presbyterian church in Northville are making plans for their annual Harvest Festival to be held in the church, all day, Thursday, October 21. There will be booths of fresh vegetables, fruits, baked goods, jelly and jam as well as fancy work and aprons. Luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and dinner will be served at 5:30 p.m.

Miss Ora Rathbun who returned to Grand Rapids for several weeks treatment following an unsuccessful sinus operation there last August, has again returned to the home of her sister, Mrs. Will McCullough.

The Independent Daisy Employees association has filed articles of incorporation and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: president, Arthur Lock; vice president, Harry Micol; secretary, Vincent Herter; treasurer, Georgiana Allen.

The members of the board of directors, which also constitutes the bargaining committee for the workers consists of Arthur Lock, chairman; Fred J. Drews, Louis Westfall, Jennie Westfall, Floyd B. Sherman, Fred Schaufele, Mary Murray, Flora Gerst, Florence Smith and Harry Micol.

The contract as it has been prepared, gives the association exclusive bargaining rights for the ensuing year, establishes the right of seniority, fixes a minimum wage for women at 55 cents per hour and for men at 65 cents per hour, provides a two weeks vacation with pay for those who have been employed by the company for more than five years, and a week's vacation period with pay for those who have worked for the company more than six months and less than five years.

This provision, it is stated, has been included in exceedingly few of the contracts that have been made during the past few months anywhere in the country.

The minimum wage scale is an advance of two cents per hour over the prevailing scale. The seniority rule has in the past prevailed, it is understood, but it has now been included in the contract.

There are many other provisions in the contract which provide ways for settlement of differences. It also outlaws all so-called sit-down strikes and other tactics of this nature.

While Detroit papers have been filled with articles during the past week pertaining to the efforts of Sheriff Wilcox and his force to solve the murder of Alonzo Elliott, 73 years old, at his home southeast of Plymouth, September 8, 1936, up until late Thursday as far as could be found out, no warrants had been issued charging anybody with the crime.

No Warrants In Elliott Case Yet

Practically all the members of the family and relatives have been in Detroit this week being questioned by the officers.

Elliott was killed while he sat listening to his radio late one evening. Some one stood on the porch of the house and fired a load of shot into the back of his head, killing him instantly. The killer stood so close to the screen door through which he shot, that only a small hole was made through the wiring by the discharge of the shot gun.

Arthur Moe Member Of U. of M. Band

Arthur Moe, of Plymouth, is a member of the Varsity Band at the University of Michigan. The band made the first long trip of the year to Chicago to play for the Northwestern-Michigan football game in Evanston, Saturday, October 9. While in Chicago the boys played for the Chicago Alumni club at the Palmer House. Mr. Moe is in the graduate school at the university.

KEEP THEIR DIRTY HANDS OUT!

President Roosevelt in his Bonneville dam address made to the nation over the radio, said

"The transmission of electricity is making such scientific strides today that we can well visualize a date, not far distant, when every community in this great area will be wholly electrified."

One can well agree that what the President says about "rapid strides" being made in the field of electrical development and progress is true—but that progress is due entirely to the initiative, inventive skill and work of men and concerns far removed from the field of politics.

It wasn't some smooth talking political office holder who invented the telephone. It wasn't some politician who developed the telegraph. It wasn't any "new dealer" existing through a pay check created by money taken out of the pockets of the taxpayers who invented or developed the steamship, the railroad, the automobile, the radio, the electric light, the electric dynamo or a SINGLE ONE of the hundreds of things that have written human progress into the world's history.

No—the politicians or public office holders of this nation or any other nation invented or made any "scientific strides" in anything except ways to put their hands into the pockets of the taxpayers and take from them the money so badly needed for the development of things that bring more comforts and pleasures to the people of the world.

The President talks about "scientific strides" but the very administration which he heads has placed every conceivable political obstruction that cheap, pettifogging politicians could think of in the paths of the hard-working scientists and manufacturers who are devoting their lives to make the world a better place in which to live.

It was individual effort and initiative and brains which developed the electrical advantages we enjoy today—and it is political blundering and four-flushing which RIGHT NOW is not only discouraging, but actually BLOCKING the "scientific strides" the President so glibly talks about.

Unless there is a right about face on the part of the politicians running this nation and they stop FIGHTING business, stop TAKING the people of the nation to a point where they can no longer foot the bill, there will be no more "scientific strides".

The time is here—NOW—for public officialdom to begin working out ways and means to HELP and ENCOURAGE business development or soon there will be no business for them to rant about—and when there is no business, THERE WILL BE NO MORE PAY CHECKS for public office holders. There will be NOTHING for anyone!

THE FACTS AS THEY ACTUALLY ARE

There is some talk among "old time" Republicans about their next candidate for governor. It seems that there are some of them who have not yet discovered the fact that times have changed, that we have new problems to face, that the old Mellon-McKay back-door brand of politics is a thing of the past. As a pretty good index of the trend of thought of those who know what it is all about, we reprint the following editorial written by Editor George Averill and published in his Birmingham Eccentric last week:

A few weeks ago we suggested in this column that Michi-

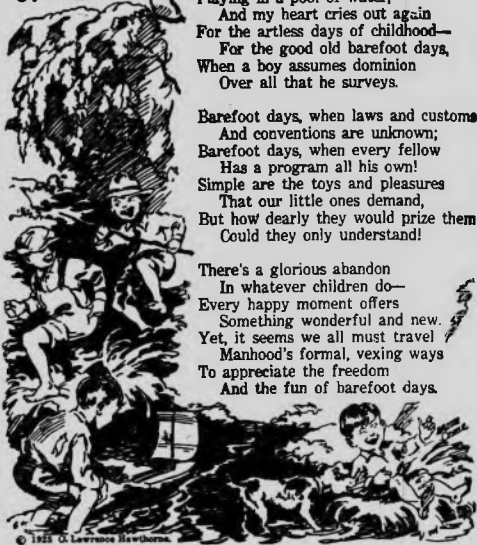

Barefoot Days

From a window of my study
I can see four little men
Playing in a pool of water,
And my heart cries out again
For the artless days of childhood—
For the good old barefoot days,
When a boy assumes dominion
Over all that he surveys.

Barefoot days, when laws and customs
And conventions are unknown;
Barefoot days, when every fellow
Has a program all his own!
Simple are the toys and pleasures
That our little ones demand,
But how dearly they would prize them
Could they only understand!

There's a glorious abandon
In whatever children do—
Every happy moment offers
Something wonderful and new.
Yet, it seems we all must travel
Manhood's formal, vexing ways
To appreciate the freedom
And the fun of barefoot days.

gan Republicans will not place many candidates in state offices unless they rally to the support of outstanding, crusading, and able men. We even went so far as to express the belief that Frank D. Fitzgerald, former Governor who served one term was defeated by Frank Murphy, should subordinate himself in favor of another—even in favor of Harry S. Toy.

Our good friend Murl H. DeFoe, Charlotte editor, later printed this comment: "It would be interesting if some of the newspapers now charging Frank D. Fitzgerald with not being a strong candidate for 1938 would explain how it happened that he lead the Republican Presidential candidate by a quarter million votes."

Editor DeFoe's thought has been commented upon by other loyal Fitzgerald newspapers in Michigan, all of whom seem to believe that "Fitz" still ranks tops in Republican circles for 1938.

Personally, we like "Fitz," even though we have been one of his friendly critics in the past; and "Fitz" and his friends know that we like him. But in considering 1938 one must view the problem impersonally, and that is what we are trying to do right now. There is no question but what the former Governor from Grand Ledge is popular in Republican circles out-State; and he has many friends in Detroit, too. Not so many, apparently, as Frank Murphy, present Democratic Governor who hails from Detroit, where plenty of votes are located.

Frank D. Fitzgerald also knows State affairs pretty well, too.

But Frank D. Fitzgerald is not a crusading leader of the colorful type needed to win an election against such able opponents as the present Democratic leadership provides. Even his closest friends have never tried to prove that "Fitz" was anything but a good desk man, capable of executing plans provided by others. A Governor has to be more than a desk man, in these days, as all observers of politics must agree.

Besides, "Fitz" unfortunately is known to have as one of his strong aides and supporters a chap named Frank D. McKay, of Grand Rapids; McKay, a former state treasurer, is often referred to as "the power behind the throne" in Republican circles of the past.

Another phase of the matter is that Mr. Fitzgerald represents the public's memory of "conservative Republicanism", and in the light of current demands by the people it seems that voters want more "liberalism" in state affairs. It will be difficult for a conservative of Fitzgerald's type to swing over to liberalism to the extent of getting the rank and file of a majority of voters to become convinced of the conversion.

Personally, we have no quarrel with the former Governor who has given Michigan more than a score of years of public service. We do know, too, that he has a great host of friends in this state, and will win many votes in any election; but whether he will win enough is the question that interests all Republicans, isn't it?

So, that's the way we think about it, anyway.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

THAT'S WHAT THEY ALL SAY!

The defunct and smelly legislature now only spoken of as a horrible bit of state legislative history, before they gaped their last, resolved to investigate the conservation department, and set forth reasons for and what to investigate. They also appointed commissions to investigate the liquor commission and other major state activities. Perhaps that was to throw the public off their own crooked trails. Anyway the mess has abandoned the capitol, and all state organizations, the highway department, the schools, the liquor commission, the conservation department, the agricultural department, the treasurer, the auditor general, the attorney general, and the governor can breathe a sigh of relief and thank God the awful thing has at last come to an end.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

IT'S A RACKET

The growth of rural electrification in Michigan has for six years been greater in this state than in any other state in the union, which may or may not be news to most of us, because in this section of Michigan we happen to be served by a company which has lacked either the capital to become a part of this great electrification increase which was not practicable; or possibly it lacked the vision or foresight to undertake the job. The following paragraphs from the Michigan Farmer of last week, on the subject of rural electrification may be of an interest to our farmer readers who desire the benefits of electric service:

Ten years ago only 5,000 farms in the state of Michigan located along transmission lines were receiving high line service. Today over 73,000 Michigan farm families have the numberless services of electricity at their finger tips. For the past 6 consecutive years Michigan has led all of the other 47 states in the Union in the number of annual extensions into rural areas. At the same time farm folks have enjoyed a rate that is below that in effect in any other comparable state. Michigan's progress in the field of rural electrification is observed in all parts of the country.

When the Rural Electrification administration was born we had visions of still more rapid expansion, with the program being carried into areas now unserved or where the existing power companies are not financially able to do the work. We anticipated a cooperative program between the federal agency and private utilities that would far surpass anything in the past. But apparently our vision was wrong because federal efforts to date have apparently been largely in or adjacent to the areas being served by the larger companies that have been responsible for most of the growth up to this time.

Frankly we are wondering just what we may expect to come out of this. Is it going to become a cat-and-dog fight, with programs slowed down to a snail pace or stopped entirely?

Our desire in the whole matter is to have the farm folks of Michigan receive electric energy at the earliest possible date under conditions and rates that will be profitable to them. Whether it is through REA or private utilities makes not the slightest difference to us, but we do believe that they should know in advance very definitely what they are going into, and view the future with clear eyes. Verbal promises can be cheaply made and dearly paid. Going into a venture blindfolded is like signing a blank check, and there is very little excuse for either one. We noted in Mr. Allemen's letter in last week's Vigilant that "one of the cards in Governor Murphy's new deal" for Michigan has been rural electrification through federal cooperative associations." Just why it should be called one of the governor's cards we do not see, because rural electrification plans are going on under federal provisions in Michigan now. A state law was introduced covering the organization of rural electric cooperatives and was passed by the House, but was killed in the Senate because of provisions which were deemed to be contrary to the best interests of the farmers who were to be served. There was much controversy over this bill, and for our comments the Vigilant was severely condemned by a few, but we believe that even those few are probably glad now that the bill was killed, for it is better to wait and get a good bill than to have had a bad bill passed. In the meantime rural cooperatives are proceeding under present laws and appear to be fairly well protected for the present. The State Farm Bureau and the State Grange were also condemned because they fought the proposed law, but when the provisions of that law are better understood by the farmers of Michigan we believe they will give due credit to those organizations for the fight they made—and are making for a better and safer rural electrification law.—Wm. Berke in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

BUT WE HAVE NO GOVERNMENT!

State liquor store employees seek $1.00 pay and 40 hour week hours under C.I.O. influence. They ask for a 40 hour week and $1.950 as a minimum wage. When political patrons begin to cede to the patronage spreaders then it is time for our state government to take the bit in its teeth.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

Suggestions for Eye Hygiene

BATHE your eyes daily. They require cleansing as much as other parts of the body. The eye is an extremely delicate piece of mechanism and needs care, so make an eye cup part of your bathroom equipment and use it regularly.

WATCH your distribution of light. Do not read in the dusk and do not have bare or unshaded lights, even in your kitchen.

DO NOT come directly from the dark of the theatre into the glare of the street. Linger a few minutes in the lobby—reach the brightness by degrees.

DO NOT start your children into kindergarten until you have investigated games, lighting arrangements, and how often the eyes are rested from close vision tasks.

WHEN READING or watching a motion picture, rest the eyes occasionally by closing them. The eye has a lubricating system that will wash the eye and relieve the fatigue.

RELECTING SURFACES such as glass topped desks or dressing tables, or even a highly polished schoolroom desk, should be abolished or adequate means be at hand to protect the eyes from their highly reflecting possibilities.

BRIDGE PLAYERS should have a lamp that diffuses the light, giving each player well lighted cards. Such a scientifically perfect lamp is made by the Illuminating Engineering Society and it is artistic enough for any room.

IF you have undue eye fatigue after doing your daily tasks; if you have blurred vision, consult your Optometrist. Your eyes are long suffering and do not complain until forced to do so by lack of other means to compensate. If you have extreme nervousness or digestive upsets, suspect your eyes. The eye and stomach nerves are so closely related that they react on each other definitely.

YOU do not see with your eyes. They are really the end organs of the brain. They take the pictures by which the brain judges depth, distance and other things necessary to good judgment. Know that your eyes are presenting true facts for your brain to use if you would be a success in your chosen vocation or avocation.

REMEMBER that your eyes are serving the hand which guides your automobile. Do you dare accept your judgment that your eyes are behaving as they should? An accident causing a death would leave you burdened forever. If you were certain that your eyes had not tricked you—if you had your optometrist's assurance that your eyes were serving you faithfully, you would have the consolation that the accident was unavoidable. No need to worry oneself with torturing "ifs".

THE PUBLIC is realizing the importance of a yearly "check up" on various parts of the body. Certainly the eyes are no less important than teeth or tonsils—but that delicate and important part of our physical equipment is often neglected until the fear of actual blindness sends one scampering for eye protection. Revise your thought of vision. Understand that inefficient eyes promote nervousness, irritability, and slows all the body processes until our judgment is not reliable.

State To Plant Walnut Trees

The one-time popular autumn sport of "nutting" may be revived in southern Michigan in future years as the result of a program for the planting of nut-bearing trees being considered by the office of the state forester here.

Several bushels of seeds from walnut and hickory trees have been collected at the Wolf Lake state fish hatchery near Kalamazoo and at the federal re-settlement administration land project in Allegan county.

These seeds will be planted by CCC workers at the state hardwood forest nursery near Wolverine to produce young trees for planting purposes. The trees will be planted wherever possible on state-administered projects in southern Michigan.

It is believed that neither walnut nor hickory trees could be planted in the northern counties with as high a percentage of survival as in the southern part of the state, in view of the fact that the natural range of these trees in Michigan is more generally in the southern counties.

Intensive agriculture and the cutting of many farmwood lots has greatly reduced the number of walnut and hickory—nut trees in southern Michigan during the past 40 years. By plantings, authorities believe, productive groves of these valuable species can be developed.

Queen Victoria, mother of Edward VII, was very strict with her son. She insisted that when he went out for the evening he report to her on his return. Despite this Edward, while Prince of Wales, established a reputation as something of a man-about-town. A cleft tongue defied expert surgery for the first 42 years of Miss Northwood's life, and during that time she did nothing at all in the way of endeavor. But, when the fourteenth operation proved successful, she turned immediately to literary work.

How The State Budget Is Being "Balanced" To Cover Up Tremendous Increased Costs At Lansing

(Continued From Page One) did not feel so hostile to the writer as these few paragraphs might indicate. While they did vote against the writer's amendments and for appropriations that had been demanded by the Governor's official family, some of these Democratic members confidentially told the writer that they did not approve of the excessive appropriations being made and they did not like to vote for them.

"But what else can one do, the Governor's crowd wants these appropriations and they will have to be made, that's all there is to it," said one Democrat when discussing the matter privately. Even Clyde Stout, Democratic chairman of the ways and means committee, openly stated on the floor that he did not believe in voting such big appropriations, indicating at the same time that there wasn't much else that could be done about it.

It should also be stated that he was not presiding in the house when the writer's amendments were under consideration.

The writer said during his campaign that he thought state expenses under the Republican Fitzgerald reign were too high and the pledge was made that an honest effort would be made to try and reduce the costs of the state government if elected to the state legislature. When the Democratic appropriation bills came before the house, the amounts were of such vast totals it was almost impossible to conceive of public officials asking for so much tax money. In presenting the series of slashing amendments a campaign pledge honestly made was being carried out. Any one associating constantly with farmers, small home owners and workers, cannot help but know that the tax burden is nothing less than a ball and chain around the necks of most people today.

Of course there must be taxes, but NOT TAXES to send some welfare director down to Atlantic City for a vacation, to provide big automobiles for the joy rides of beer lapping political job holders and pay a lot of political hirelings unreasonable salaries for sitting around looking wise, but possessing no knowledge of their work or of the state.

It might be well to go back to the early days of the legislative session for a little additional background to all of this set-up for the big political propaganda now being dished out to newspaper readers almost daily in Lansing.

When the legislature convened in January, there was on the desk of each member of the house and senate, the state budget for the years of 1937 and 1938 that had been prepared by the budget director.

In it, he showed what the appropriations had been for each state department and each state institution during the two previous years.

The book also showed the amount of the appropriation each state institution and department was asking for the years of 1937 and 1938.

It ALSO contained what the budget director had recommended as the total amount of cash believed essential for the proper conduct of these institutions and departments.

Appropriation bills were being prepared to conform more or less to what had been recommended by the budget director.

Then came the swarm of new political job holders, politicians who had "done their bit" to help win the election. They looked over the budget book.

They saw the big totals, running up into the five, six and even seven figures. They gasped in glee!

"Baby, look at that! Say, if there's that much money lying around here, there must be more.

Let's get MORE, MORE, MORE! Do you think we're here for our health?"

And how they went after those hard-earned taxpayers' dollars! Only those who were on the sidelines, can tell you.

And so it was that the pay checks of new state department heads and new state political job holders began to jump skyward.

Mind you, the first pay checks a lot of these new job holders received were higher than they had ever been able to make before in any job.

So filled were some of the offices with new appointees that one in walking through the various state departments would have thought an over-flow state political convention was in session. They all had to be paid and they all wanted more money.

Then the Governor came back from another vacation and he gave his approval to all that was being done.

The old budget director who had served through various state administrations held up his hands in horror at the squandering of public funds. He told members of the legislature, he told EVERYBODY where state finances were headed for.

"There will not be tax money enough to pay the bills", he warned.

It wasn't long after a news story had appeared in some of the state papers that the budget was going to be out of balance if appropriations were not cut or NEW taxes provided, that it was rumored around in Lansing that Governor Murphy was going to appoint a new budget director.

Soon came the word that a fellow named Harold Smith over in Ann Arbor who had profitted pretty well off tax earned dollars was going to take the place of the old budget director who had so strongly protested the increased appropriations.

The old budget director was told to take his vacation and the new man then appeared on the scene. His time hadn't "officially" started when he took over the budget job.

After that there wasn't much more talk in official circles about the budget being out of balance. It is true that newspapers now and then said something about it, but that was all.

And then, lo and behold, after the regular session had adjourned and the members had gone home, the new budget director made the GREAT and timely discovery that the budget was out of balance!

So we read in the big daily newspapers today, four months later, that the Governor and his "budget director" are burning the midnight oil trying to balance the budget! What a farce!

Why is it a farce and how can they juggle the figures to fool the taxpayers?

That's easy, easy to get away with too, unless some one takes a little time to go back and do a little checking on appropriations.

How is this budget trick being done?

Let's take Governor Murphy's own office, the executive office for one example.

The total amount of money appropriated for this office for 1936 was $40,000.

The present legislature appropriated $57,000 for the governor's office for 1937.

Governor Murphy and his budget director cut this appropriation to $55,300, to "balance the budget."

And yet Governor Murphy has for his own office about $15,000 MORE than did his predecessor.

Suppose "we" go down stairs a minute into the attorney general's department, and see how the "budget has been balanced" in this department.

In 1936 the attorney general was appropriated a total sum of $177,825.

The present legislature appropriated $224,950 to the attorney general's department for 1937.

Newspaper dispatches the other day said this total had been cut by the "Governor and his budget director" to $218,200.

You will detect that this "budget balancing" total remains over $40,000 higher than it was during the previous administration.

It is only a couple of blocks in Lansing over to the state office building, from the capitol where is located most of the state departments.

Up in the Michigan public utilities department it is noted that the legislature gave this office in 1936 a total of $98,000 upon which to operate the department. Many taxpayers thought that was too high, the writer being among the number who had that thought.

Well, the Murphy legislature appropriated $317,500 for the public utilities commission for 1937.

Governor Murphy and his budget director have just "cut" this amount to $238,194.

That's a big cut, the "budget director" will say. But it still remains almost $150,000 higher than it was for the previous administration.

On the floor above the utilities commission is the office of the state department of agriculture.

This department in 1936 was appropriated $252,000. That, in the opinion of the writer, is higher than it should have been that year.

Well, the Murphy legislature came along and appropriated $465,650 for this department for the year of 1937. Governor Murphy and his "budget director" the other day reduced this amount to $377,771. Yet the department has more than $125,000 for this year than it had in 1936.

There has been a lot of comment by Lansing visitors as to the general ill-kept appearances of the capitol and state office building. The floors are not as clean as they should be, everything looks sort of messy like, including the grounds.

The legislature in 1936 gave to the superintendent of the capitol $232,000 to use in keeping things slicked up a bit.

The present Murphy legislators didn't think that was enough and at the REQUEST of the capitol superintendent increased the appropriation for this year to $308,850.

The other day Governor Murphy and his budget director "reduced" this amount to $277,965.

That's about $45,000 higher than it was during the previous administration.

So it goes on and on through all the various appropriation items, higher, HIGHER, HIGHER than ever before!

But the Governor is "balancing the budget!"

It was not "outside" influences on the legislature as some critics claim which brought about these big appropriations. It all came from the political powers that now control the state government. Governor Murphy vetoed one appropriation bill, a bill providing $250,000 for snow removal in the Upper Peninsula. What happened after this display of "economy?" At the special session he called in July following the regular session, he sent a special message to the legislature asking for the re-actment of the very appropriation bill he had vetoed a few days previous.

What a joke—what a farce it all is, if it wasn't such a serious matter for the poor devil working in the fields or in the shops in order to get enough cash to keep body and soul together.

The present state administration deliberately and knowingly put the budget out of balance to accomplish the purpose of raising state expenses without the taxpayers knowing the real truth.

Michigan taxpayers are being looted, their pockets are being picked by a lot of useless tax eating politicians.

They are being given a lot of false propaganda about the "budget being balanced" to cover up the trick. The state officials know it is phony and it is about time the taxpayers know it.

How To Hunt And Do It Safely

As a guide to the quarter-million or more hunters who will be afield during the opening days of the upland shooting season in Michigan conservation authorities here suggest a hunting code, embodying many essential points of sportsmanship.

While it is believed that the great majority of Michigan hunters try to observe both the written and unwritten laws of their sport, it is also thought that few would fail to benefit from occasional reference to the "rules" in printed form. The code follows:

Keep in mind: That hunting was once the sport of kings and princes and is regarded by them as an honorable and chivalrous pastime. That today it is the sport of the common man. Do nothing to degrade it. Be considerate of others always.

Do not use intoxicating beverages while hunting. Buy a hunting license and carry it at all times afield.

Keep a copy of the Michigan Game Law Digest in your hunting jacket, your car or your suit coat.

Study the game laws. Be firm in your decision to observe them. Learn by practice to handle and shoot a gun safely—before you go hunting.

Adopt the slogan: "A gun is always loaded." Do not forget it. Select an experienced hunting companion. Avoid the individual who is careless or dangerously excitable under fire.

Drive reasonably and safely. Respect the speed limits as you drive through towns.

Do not hunt so near to Towns or villages as to endanger the residents.

Understand the Horton Tresspass Law and its application in farm-game areas.

Remember that under provisions of the Horton Law, a farmer may have you arrested for entering his premises to hunt without permission, even though his land is neither fenced nor posted. Always ask for the privilege of hunting on a farm. If, after investigation, it appears that no one is home, leave quietly. Do not hunt on the premises.

Be quiet. Do not sound your horn so as to attract the attention of the landowner or to annoy the occupants of his house.

If the hunting privilege is granted, inquire if there is any place where hunting might be hazardous or where property might be damaged. Avoid that place.

Be polite. Introduce yourself to the owner. Park your car out of the way in the yard. Invite the landowner to go hunting with you.

Prevent your dog from chasing or otherwise annoying stock. Do not kill cats on a farm.

Do not fire your gun within 200 yards of a highway, farm house or domestic animals, especially animals in harness.

Do not climb fences. Use the safe if possible or crawl under it. Remember to close the gate.

If you have been responsible for any damage or find that damage has been caused by others, report the damage to the land holder.

Do not run when approached by a stranger. Have a clear conscience and you will have no impulse to run.

Observe and follow the spirit and letter of the law and others will respect you and enjoy your companionship.

Do not compromise others or be compromised by a violation of the law.

Remember that rowdism and vandalism have no place in the sportsman's code.

Cooperate with the conservation officer. The conservation officer is employed to serve you and to protect your rights. The sportsman has nothing to fear from him.

Learn to distinguish readily the legal game species. Always be sure of your target before you shoot.

Be fair. If you find hunting good, remember the other man. Leave some of the game for him.

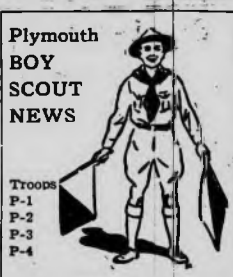

Do not forget that the law forbids the cleaning or dressing of game in the field so as to destroy identity of sex or species. Wait until you get home.

Show your game to the land holder. Offer him some of it. Thank him for permitting you to hunt on his land.

Leave a clean camp. Be careful in disposing of lighted matches and cigar or cigaret butts.

Do not post land you do not own or hold by lease.

Do not forget, discard or lose the report form attached to your hunting license. Use it to report your game kill before February 15.

The 1937 Fall Camp Brady "Overnight" is now history. Last Saturday forty Scouts and men from the Plymouth district went up to Brady and thoroughly enjoyed themselves, in spite of the rather threatening weather. The three troops that were not represented surely missed it. Ask any of the boys that went about the night hike through the woods and tangled shrubbery. Ask them how nearly like Indians they sounded trying to sneak quietly through the woods. Ask them how many "donkeys" Dick Loomis found among them on the swamp road. Ask them what happened to the three boys who skipped out from the hike. Ask them what became of "Mike's" grand meals. Let them tell you about the football and the Paul Bunyan tales and the stunts around the campfire and the tree hike and the tests passed. Let them tell you about the championship paper knife carving contest with the few jack knives present passing all around among the boys. Boy! A good time was had! Mr. Warner said "It was a GOOD hike".

A summary of the summer Camp Brady work of our district has been compiled by Headquarters for the commissioner. It shows that eight Scouts from two Troops spent thirteen camper-weeks at Brady, not counting five Scouts and an assistant scoutmaster from RG-1 who spent a week there in their own tents. One first class rank was won, also twelve merit badges, one star rank and one life. Two of the boys received special citations: Orlyn Lewis of P-1 for troop leadership and Robert Dalley of P-1 for industry and perseverance.

Several of our troop committees went to Dearborn high school last night to attend a troop committee's round table. Committee chairman Hraoid White of N-1 was a discussion leader at the Round Table at the Washington school in Royal Oak, on Wednesday night.

The next district event is the Court of Honor at the Plymouth high school, Thursday night, November 18. One Eagle rank will be conferred, besides quite a lot of other advancement and veteran awards.

The Training school swimming pool is out of commission for repairs. Notice will be sent around when the swimming schedule can be resumed.

Mr. Henry took Cub Pack 620 for a nut hike out to Spicer's farm last Saturday. The boys had a lot of fun. They cooked their own lunches.

Mr. Thompson, Scoutmaster of RG-1 has moved away from our territory. At present the Troop is being carried along by the committee and the assistant.

Boys' Benefit On Monday Eve., Oct. 18

The boys' benefit, sponsored by the Ex-Service Men's club, which was postponed, will take place Monday evening, October 18, at 8:30 o'clock. Cards and bunco will be the games for the evening and it is hoped there will be a large attendance.

Announce Engagement Of Mamie Kingsley To Colorado Minister

At a party given Friday evening, October 8, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of 1117 South Michigan avenue, Chicago, announced the engagement of Mamie C. Kingsley, daughter of Charles Millard, of Plymouth, to Rev. George Benjamin Kellems, D. D., of Pueblo, Colorado.

Mrs. Kingsley is a former Plymouth resident and has many friends in and around Plymouth.

Rev. Kellems is recognized as one of America's foremost evangelists. Albert W. Luce, Colorado Springs, Colorado, instigator of the nationally known "Easter Sunrise prayer meeting" in the Garden of the Gods, has the following to say about the well-known evangelist:

"George B. Kellems, one of a family of great evangelists, in whose heart burns the unquenchable fires of the Faith, and whose ministry in many states worthily upholds a noble family name, is known and loved throughout the entire brotherhood."

Dr. Kellems is also founding a very unique church which will be known as "The Church of the Highway". This church will be under the plan of the "Council of the Federated Churches of America."

The marriage ceremony will take place in the First Christian church of Pueblo, Colorado, of which Dr. Kellems is pastor.

Rev. Homer Kellems, nephew of the groom will perform the ceremony.

Townsend Club To Entertain

There were over 50 present at the meeting of the Townsend club held Monday evening in the Grange hall, who listened attentively to the very interesting and instructive talk given by Judge Edward J. Jefferies, of Detroit. Many questions were asked by members of the audience, following the talk, showing the keen interest they have in the Townsend Plan and its results. Sandwiches, fried cakes and coffee were served later by a committee.

On Monday evening, October 18, the local club will be hosts to the clubs of the district at a potluck supper, planning to serve at 6:30 o'clock. All are asked to bring their own silver, cups and plates and one hot dish for the table.

The following letter from a former Plymouth resident, Charles E. Riggs, now residing in California, was read at the last Townsend meeting:

"Wish you were here to enjoy this wonderful summer weather we are having. Michigan is alright and Jessie and I did enjoy the visit there last year and hope to come again sometime, but, I like the weather here at this time of year.
"I am writing to tell you about the Townsend convention. Don't let anyone tell you that the plan is dead. There were 25,000 in the Pan Pacific auditorium, in Los Angeles, recently to hear Dr. Townsend expound the principals of the Townsend plan. Crowds began to pour into the building at an early hour. My mother, Jessie and I were in this great crowd of people.
"Dr. and Mrs. Townsend led the grand march and most every one dressed in colonial style. Mother sure looked much younger dressed as they did years ago. We had the pleasure of shaking hands with Dr. and Mrs. Townsend. He is a very wonderful man and very popular in California, and is a fine speaker.
"I have tried to tell you about this convention because I know you are very interested. Tell your Plymouth club to get busy and help put this plan over."

Dearborn Victorious Over Plymouth by Last Quarter Touchdown

Using a heavier line and a lighter backfield than Plymouth, Dearborn scored the only setback on the home team's schedule to date. Plymouth's backfield weighed only slightly heavier than Dearborn's while Dearborn's line was at least ten or fifteen pounds to a man heavier than Plymouth's.

Plymouth won the toss and elected to receive. Dearborn kicked and Krumm got the ball and ran only a few yards when after drawing the tacklers to him he lateraled to Gilles who gained five yards. The home team began immediately by sending Krumm through the line on two plays which gained five and two yards. Gilles then surprised the visitors, smashed the line but was piled up with only a gain of barely a yard. An end run by Boer netted only one yard, and a fake punt materialized into an end run by Kelly for fifteen yards. Boer then tried a pass which was incomplete and an end run which the home team line smothered before it materialized for a loss of two yards by Dearborn. Then it being their third down and hoping to surprise Plymouth, Dearborn punted. On their first down, on a reverse in which Ross carried the ball, after faking to Gilles, Plymouth gained six yards. Dearborn was penalized on the next play for being off-sides five yards. An end run by Egloff and a smash through the line by Krumm gained thirteen yards and a first down. Krumm took the ball on the next play and gained five yards while a line buck by Ross gained three yards and another smash by Krumm gave Plymouth a first down. On an end run by Krumm for nine yards his ankle was hurt and he had to be relieved by Leach. A smash through the line and an end run gave Plymouth another first down. Then on a triple reverse Ross and Egloff figured to give Gilles the ball for an end run of twenty-three yards and another first down. Egloff then skirted left end for four yards and a touchdown. A line buck by Gilles failed to give Plymouth the extra point.

On the kick-off Egloff caught the ball and with good blocking took a few strides and then punted the ball, a play which caught Dearborn wholly unprepared and Moe got down the field fast and fell on the ball before Dearborn had even so much as touched it. On the next two plays Boer of Dearborn skirted Plymouth's ends and ran for gains of thirty-five and four yards. A pass which Egloff knocked down, a line buck for four yards and a reverse terminating in an incomplete pass by Boer gave Plymouth possession of the ball. A line buck for seven yards by Ross and on the next play Plymouth was off-sides and penalized five yards. Plymouth punted and the quarter ended.

The second quarter began and Dearborn lined up. Then came an act by the visitors with which Plymouth did not know how to cope. The visitors' entire line shifted to the right of the center and the backfield did likewise. Then Boer ran around the right end and gained seven yards. A completed pass by Boer for five yards followed and a line buck in which Boer fumbled, but a Dearborn lineman fell on the ball for a gain of three yards. The visitors on a spinner and end run combined gained only two yards. Boer punted thirty-five yards. A smash by Leach for one and a line buck by Ross for two yards preceded a punt of thirty-five yards by Gilles. Dearborn called time out. Boer passed but Captain Sackett intercepted it and ran for twenty-five yards. An end run and another triple reverse in which Gilles fumbled and a visiting lineman fell on the ball. Boer punted forty-five yards. Egloff was smothered on the next play for a loss of four yards. An incomplete pass by Egloff and a completed one from Egloff to Ross gained five yards. Gilles punted and Dearborn called time out. On a status of liberty play the visitors lost eight yards when Olson broke through and made the tackle. A pass by Boer to Kelly gained back the eight yards lost. A line buck and a pass by Dearborn netted only four yards and Plymouth received the ball. On four smashes Plymouth placed the ball twenty yards closer to the opponents goal. A punt by Gilles of thirty-five yards and an incomplete pass by Boer ended the first half.

After the rest and the kick-off Dearborn began to batter its way toward the "Rocks" goal. In five line bucks Boer cracked out twenty-seven yards and on the next play he skirted end and ran for what, at first, most of the crowd took to be a touchdown but one of the Dearborn's linemen had a fifteen yard penalty called at his expense and the touchdown was no good. On three more end runs Dearborn gained twenty-two yards and then punted. An end run by Gilles netted a scant 1/10 yards and Gilles then punted. Dearborn used the peculiar shift of the whole line again but the "Rocks" solved it and smothered the play for a loss of eight yards for the opponents. An end run by their quarterback Boer gained the yards back. On a play in which Boer started to pass but was hit before he could get it off the ball was fumbled. Dearborn recovered. Boer punted out of danger. An end run and a smash through the line by Gilles and Ross gained seven yards. Gilles punted and Dearborn called time out. Two end runs by Fitzpatrick and Dearborn received a first down. Then Boer took the ball and smashed his way around end for approximately nine yards. The visitors ran an end run for a first down and another for a loss of eight yards. Then Boer called a play on which he passed to Kelly who lateraled to Richardson a play which gained only three yards. A line buck and a pass failed to gain for the opponents a first down. Plymouth tried an end run for no gain and then punted to end the quarter.

In the final quarter a slice through the line and an end run by the opponents on which Moe was hurt gained for the visitors a first down. Jolliffe replaced Moe and on the first play the play came past his end. Although on the ground on his back Jolliffe stopped the play by grabbing a leg of the runner as the play went past him. Then on the succeeding eleven plays Dearborn marched slowly but surely toward Plymouth's goal. Then Boer who had taken the ball on the last five plays fumbled and the home team recovered. Dearborn smothered Plymouth's play for a yard loss and Ross fumbled but a Plymouth man recovered. Gilles punt was blocked and the home team received a ten yard penalty.

SECOND TEAM BOWS TO DEARBORN LADS

Plymouth high school's second team suffered defeat in its first start at Riverside Park last Wednesday, October 6, at the hands of a second-string Dearborn team by a score of 18 to 0. The loss was laid to the fact that the team had practiced only a week prior to the game, not enough time to produce a very smooth running football machine. Dearborn did all its scoring in the first half, which proved that the team needed practice.

The team consists of thirty-three men, thirteen of them in the backfield. These are as follows: Gettleison, Baker, Matts, Krumm, Butler, Herter, Keller, Patrick, Butz, Norman, Wilson, Hitt and Scarpulla. Packard, Wiklie, Aluia, Birchall and Robinson are ends; Schmidt, Kiof, Branch, Lorenz, and Reeder are tackles; Fisher, Bennett, Felton, Thomas, and Reeder are guards, and the two centers are Dunham and Dahmer. Virgo, Dalley and Smith are substitutes.

The team has quite an extensive schedule, and a good season is hoped for.

CLUB NOTES

The members of the junior high art club are devoting their time this year to painting in water colors and making block prints. One student is painting a mural which will be used as a project in history. The club meets on Tuesdays under the direction of Miss Fry.

The Hi-Y club held its last outdoor meeting of the fall season last Thursday when the forty-three junior and senior boys in the club separated into two groups, one playing touch-tackle football and the other shuffleboard.

The Home Economics club was organized under the leadership of Betty Knowles, president; Mary Jane Parmelee, vice president; Sophie Saner, secretary; Patricia Moon, treasurer; Ruth Fulton and Marie Korte, club reporters. Thursday, September 30 the club, with the mothers of the girls as guests, welcomed the new members with a service followed by refreshments. October 15-16, the State Home Economics annual meeting will be held at Flint. Our club hopes to send representatives.

JUNIOR SCIENCE CLUB GETS UNDER WAY

A new teacher, Mr. Wallace, is this year's adviser to the Junior Science club. The purpose of this club is to give Junior high school students an idea of the underlying principles of chemistry; the members are pupils who have a curiosity to satisfy about the composition and structure of matter. The work is carried on by experiments made in the chemistry laboratory using chemcraft sets purchased by the pupils as sources of material.

As yet there have been no officers elected, but they expect to choose some in the near future. The members, seventh to ninth graders, inclusive, are George Chute, Richard Coward, Valbert Groth, Noel Hover, Lawrence Jones, Jack Kenyon, Robert Kirkpatrick, Paul McLean, Philip Klisabeth, Walter Patrick, Keith Spratt, Gerald Olson, Clyde Wiseman and James Wellman.

Plymouth high school this year witnessed the largest enrollment of students in its history, as well as the largest single increase of students. At the present time there are seven hundred ninety-four students registered, an increase of one hundred and four over last year's six hundred and ninety. Mr. Dykhouse estimates that approximately one thousand students will be enrolled for the second semester, necessitating, perhaps, a staggered program of classes. Under this system study hall for senior high school would be abandoned and classes would run in three shifts.

This increase is due mainly to the new subdivisions which have recently developed in rural sections about Plymouth and the moving into Plymouth of employees of the Burroughs company.

Although two teachers have been added to the teaching faculty in order to accommodate the increase in student numbers, classes are larger than ever before. There are forty students in the agricultural biology class of Mr. Lynch; thirty-seven in both Miss Kilham's English classes and Miss Lovell's English group. Thirty-five and thirty-six is common in many other classes. This increase has necessitated three home economic classes instead of the customary one.

With the coming of cold weather, when students who bring lunches will be forced to eat inside, two or three rooms will be opened to provide ample space for everyone. At present room 13 is being used.

ever there will be a later notice in the paper concerning this course.

All are urged to come and make use of the excellent opportunity to further their learning.

NIGHT SCHOOL HAS A GOOD START

Classes in shorthand and typing are being carried over from last year under the direction of the new commercial teacher, Mr. Fountain.

There is a course in World history to be offered to Ford Trade school students. This will be held every Monday and Wednesday nights. This program was arranged to enable the Trade School students to complete their high school learning and graduate with their own class. Ten and a half credits is allowed for a completed trade course. There is to be a class in child psychology every Wednesday night from seven until nine o'clock under the instruction of Mrs. Belle Murray.

The class in dramatics will be directed by Miss Winnifred Ford every Monday evening from seven until nine o'clock. This is offered to everyone and has already attracted a large number of the alumni of Plymouth high school.

There has been some request for an art course and if there is a sufficient demand there will be started next spring under the auspices of the Plymouth Parent-Teachers' association a course in landscape gardening which will be available with an instructor from the Wayne university. How-

The Senior Girl Reserves have decided that the all-girls' party will be held Monday, October 25, in the auditorium of the high school; this is a party given annually by the Senior Girl Reserves to which are invited all the girls from the senior high school.

Mrs. Steinhurst was not able to come to the last meeting, but Jane Taylor, chairman of the program committee, announced that Mrs. Weir of the "Effie A." beauty shop has consented to talk at the next meeting on such things as care of the face and hair and use of cosmetics.

For the remainder of the period the members went down to the lunch room for a song meeting; Margaret Bentley and Doris Schmidt led the singing.

P. E. S. BAND HAS A NEW PROJECT

The band this year is the largest Mr. Evans has ever conducted. Because of the increase in instruments the tone and quality has improved a great deal over that of last year. In all there are 55 pieces. Among these is a new baritone horn purchased by the school during the summer. The band has as its project this year uniforms for the group. At the football games they have been unable to parade the field as is their usual custom because of the lack of uniforms.

Catholic U. Next For U. of D.

Next Saturday at Washington, D. C., the University of Detroit football team plays Catholic University in the first of the five road games that comprise the majority of its remaining schedule. Only twice more this fall will the Titans have a chance to perform before their home fans.

The game with Catholic University is one that the Titans particularly want to win because they feel that fate cheated them of a victory two years ago when the teams last met. On that occasion, the Washington contingent came through with a victory in the last few minutes of play by means of a well-executed forward pass after Detroit had apparently assured itself of a victory. Giving the Catholics all credit for putting over a fine play to win, the Titans still felt that they had had enough of a margin up to that point to earn the decision.

Detroit, as usual, will be giving away plenty of weight when it meets Catholic U. The Flying Cardinals will have a marked advantage in the line, where they will average at least 150 pounds, even though one of the end positions is occupied by one of the lighter candidates. Not only are the Cardinals heavier than the Titans, but they have had more experience, with five two-letter men available and three others who have won a single award.

Catholic U. is coached by A. J. "Dutch" Bergman, a former star halfback at Notre Dame, who was a freshman when Gus Dorais was finishing his spectacular career at South Bend. He thus learned the original Notre Dame "system" under Harper and the Cardinals are using this style of play as modified by "Dutch". This is his eighth season at Catholic U. and he has made a very good record considering the material and the competition.

Detroit would feel better about its chances in this game if Jim Piper star left-halfback, were in contention to play. Jim sustained a fracture of the ankle in the Western State Teachers College game on October 1, however, and there is little chance of his seeing action any more this year. He was the best punter and passer on the squad and with the Cardinals having so much advantage in power, it looks as if Detroit would have to rely on these two things in the impending game. However, Gus Dorais has very capable passers in Ed Palumbo, Roger Hayes and several others who rate better than average. The kicking has not been very satisfactory so far, though Palumbo has had some success with quick kicks. The Titans have several better hunters than Ed on the squad, but none of them possesses his ability in other departments. Some hope is held out that Dave Ripley, last year's star quarterback, may be available for the Catholic U. game. He sustained a leg injury in practice before the season opened and did not play in either of the first two games.

The TONQUISH CREEK BREEZE

Published at Tonquish Creek, Michigan The People's Watch Dog Vol. 1 No. 13

Some mention was made in a recent issue of The Breeze about mysterious activities out at the Schrader Buffalo ranch west of the city. There's a lot been going on out there that folks don't know much about so the inquiring editor of The Breeze who keeps right abreast of everything took it upon himself to find out so our exclusive readers would know what's what. What we found out was a plenty. For some reason only known to himself Creeker Fred Schrader is going to build a "retreat" back in the tall timbers on the ranch. In the first place we want to know just why there is any need for a retreat hereabouts? Why should it be necessary to go back in the woods in some old log hut to commune about doings in the Creek? We have been finding out some things about these "bees" that Creeker Schrader has been having out at the ranch. It seems that before he can get the public out to his retreat he's got to build a bridge across a swamp. The swamp is up in the headwaters of the Tonquish. Well, in order to build the bridge, he's got to saw up some bridge timbers. So they moved a buzz saw in and would you believe it—the corn is so big out in his back 20 that he actually sawing up the corn stalks into bridge timbers. John Haggerty went out to see the operations the other day and he thinks the whole business is a lot of baloney. In the first place, he thinks a retreat in the woods is only for broken-down, rheumatic creekers and the fellows who live in past ages. In the next place he says it's a nutty idea to use corn stalks for bridge timbers, even if they might be big enough to buzz up. Matt Powell is going to have his election committee look into the affair. He's afraid it might be injected into politics.

The Purity League has called a meeting for next Wednesday night. At that time there will be a report made on the inside doings of the Powell-Shear election campaign. So far the Purity League has kept its hands off, but President Stanley Corbett who went over to the nearby fair to clean it up, says he has some information that will turn the creek upside down.

Maybe the Purity League can find out just why it is that every-time there's a football game, a half dozen car loads of rooting rooters stop to see Purity Leaguer Russ Cutler to ask him where there's a wet refreshment place in the Creek. There's a lot of explaining that can be done hereabouts.

tical party for? Can it be that the moneyed interests of the Creek are trying to get control of the stamp-striking business? (By Telegraph) Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan—I have your inquiry as to what Harold Finlan was doing up in the Soo when he was supposed to be fishing for fish in our north woods. We put our best investigator on his trail and we find out that he didn't go fishing or that he had no intention of fishing, no-matter what he may have told the home folks. He came up to this place and spent his waking hours looking at the locks on the river. He said he had a flood in a creek down in his town he wanted to control. It got away from him last spring and sort of messed things up and he thought if he could put some locks in and lock the creek up, it would do the business. But he couldn't figure the locks out and he is now having that done for him. "Scoop" Jim.

Clare Mahen, former president of the Purity League, has been seen whispering around with Abe Goldstein lately. Abe was in company with Stan Corbett when this inside worker of the Purity League made an investigation of the Miss America show last August. It is rumored they want a legit opinion from Barrister Perry Richwine about Miss America.

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 17. The golden text, from I. Cor. 1:9, is: "God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalm 51): "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me. Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; and uphold me with thy free spirit. The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart. O God, thou wilt not despise." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 201): "The way to extract error from mortal mind is to pour in truth through flood-tides of Love. Christian perfection is won on no other basis."
