

Plymouth United Retires Part Of Preferred Stock

Starts Out New Year In Fine Condition

Announcement has just been made that the Plymouth United Savings bank retires $25,000.00 in preferred stock to start the year of 1938. This amounts to 25 percent of the outstanding preferred stock and giving effect to this retirement the bank will have a capital of $100,000.00 in common stock owned by citizens of this vicinity and $75,000.00 owned by the R. F. C.

This retirement will reflect in a substantial saving in dividends. At the close of each year since December 30, 1934, the bank's statement has reflected a sizeable increase in deposits and the year just closed is no exception with deposits of the bank again showing substantial increases.

The bank has pioneered in banking service in this vicinity by installing during the current year a depository to benefit business men and merchants who find themselves with large amounts of cash or checks on hand after banking hours and make possible the safeguarding of these funds by being able to deposit them at any hour of the day or night.

A rush hour deposit window has been installed to enable those customers that are in a hurry to make their deposits without waiting in line at the teller's windows. Many customers report that this is a great time saver because their deposits are made up at home or in the office and may be deposited in the chute provided at the bank without any waiting and with the knowledge that the money will be received by the bank.

Business saving machines have been added which makes possible more efficient and accurate commercial bookkeeping.

Comfortable chairs and a writing desk have been installed at the front of the bank where one feels at home in the customers' room, available for customers and friends who are invited to use this room for their convenience in meeting their friends or associates. During the period one is waiting one may read a recent magazine or one may prefer to write a letter to a friend. In either case one will find the magazines or the stationery available at one's disposal. Modern safety deposit boxes are available in the separate vault provided for that purpose where valuable papers may be left in perfect safety from fire and theft, provided by the construction of the vault itself and adequate insurance protection.

All of these things materially benefit the customer and citizen of Plymouth and vicinity and the directors of the bank should be congratulated on the forward looking customer-relations program which clearly indicates that they are constantly trying to give the people of the community better banking facilities.

New Year's Eve Traffic Claims Victim

Alfred Everett Killed On Canton Center Road

New Year's eve traffic and fog claimed the life of one man, Alfred Wier Everett, a resident of Canton township, about 7:00 o'clock Friday evening when he was returning to his home after the day's work.

The victim, who had been walking on the pavement on Ford road, a half mile west of Canton Center road, was struck by an auto driven by Rupert Bell of Ann Arbor. The dense fog and lights from an approaching car were attributed as the cause of the accident. Bell said he had not seen the man on the pavement.

Mr. Everett, aged 54 years, is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Everett; three brothers, George Everett of Tecumseh, Frank and Mathew Everett; and one sister, Mrs. Genevieve Wilson, all of Plymouth.

Funeral services were held from the Schrader Funeral home Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Mrs. J. T. Chapman sang and was accompanied by Mrs. M. J. O'Connor at the organ. The Rev. Walter Nichol officiated and interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

Road Board Denies Charges By Clerk

Claim They Say Is Based On Facts

Both Democratic and Republican members of the Wayne county road commission signed an answer to the political charge of the Wayne county clerk pertaining to affairs of the road commission.

The statement, made to members of the ways and means committee of the board of supervisors, discusses the charges in order, as follows:

Pursuant to your request to meet with your Honorable Body in connection with the public charge by Casser J. Lingeman, Wayne county clerk, of the methods of operation of the board of county road commissioners of the county of Wayne, the undersigned road commissioners submit herewith a written answer and report to these unfounded charges, and in addition beg leave to be heard by you, should you desire any additional information concerning the operations of this board.

Our answer and report is as follows:

1. Mr. Lingeman charges: "Unlawful denials of the right of inspection of public accounts and records."

The Board denies this charge. All of the accounts and records of the board by county road commissioners of the county of Wayne are public records and open to inspection to all persons who make a request to the Board or to the manager designated by the Board to be in charge of the office. The knowledge that the Board or its employees have never denied any person the right of inspection of records and accounts of the Board. Mr. Lingeman and his deputy have not been denied this right. They have been officially advised, as appears from the minutes of board meetings kept by them, that the records and accounts of the office of the commission are available to them and to the public upon making a request to the Board or the engineer-manager. The proper functioning of the office requires that individuals should not promiscuously interfere of the various clerks and bookkeepers employed in the office and thus disrupt the orderly procedure of business. Information pertaining to the Board's records can be more regularly and accurately obtained and given through a request as stated. The primary function of the road commission is not that of keeping records for public inspection, but rather the building and maintaining of highways and other public utility facilities, and, consequently, the commission does not maintain a staff of employees at its office.

Yes, And In Michigan We Destroy Hundreds Of Thousands Of Bushels Of Potatoes While Thousands Of People Are Actually Hungry

In a statement made before members of the United States senate a few days before Christmas, Senator William Lempke of North Dakota said in part: "This nation is still in agony. It is still hungry. Millions are still unemployed and millions are suffering from malnutrition—starving because of unmounting and insufficient variety of foods. Unthinking people and the Department of Agriculture still persist in calling this over-production, still continue to talk of surpluses, when intelligent people know that our trouble is under-production, under-consumption and maldistribution. * * * This nation became great because it always had an abundance of wealth, but now we are suddenly asked to believe in the doctrine of scarcity, in obtaining abundant life by destruction. To destroy property is legally criminal, morally and economically wrong, and religiously sinful."

Children Present Program

A group of children from the Wayne County Training school, under the direction of the teachers of that institution presented portions of their Christmas programs before members of the Plymouth Rotary club last Friday night at the Mayflower hotel.

The sketches were entirely different from those of last year. Members of the club were amazed at the excellence manifested by the children in their various parts and the musical numbers were most pleasing.

Following the program the children were treated to ice cream and cake by the Rotarians.

Old Resident Buys First Paper

Older Plymouth residents will be interested in knowing that on the morning Harry Robinson took his corner down in Detroit to sell newspapers with the old news boys of Detroit, that his first customer was Mrs. John Hood, 85 years of age and until seven or eight years ago a resident of Plymouth. She had read in the Detroit papers of the place where Harry Robinson was going to be stationed. As he reached his corner, she crowded up to him and insisted on being the first to buy a newspaper from him.

"Tell all of my old friends in Plymouth I wish them a Happy New Year," she said as payment was made for the paper.

Just yesterday another remittance came to Mr. Robinson for a paper, Ed. Bush, long time resident of Detroit, who in the days when Harry Robinson ran a livery stable in Plymouth, knew the livery owner well, sent him a check for the fund.

Ted Hickey Now At The University

Friends of Lieutenant Ted Hickey, a graduate of Plymouth high school in 1927 and of West Point, will be glad to hear that he is being sent by the army to get his Master of Science degree in engineering at the University of Michigan this year. Ted has been doing construction work at Randolph Field, San Antonio, Texas for six years. He hopes also to study business administration at Harvard, which would mean the army would then probably use him as a liaison officer between the army and industry.

Luncheon Conference Planned By P.T.A. No. 1

Will Use Some Potatoes For The Welfare

State Relents On Plan To Destroy All Surplus

(By E. E. EATON)

According to newspaper dispatches from Lansing, the officials who were determined to destroy about three-quarters of a million bushels of Michigan potatoes, have relented somewhat and will purchase some grades of Michigan potatoes for the welfare.

But not all of the surplus crop will be purchased it was announced. In addition to stating that while some of the potatoes would be purchased and turned over to the welfare agencies for distribution among the suffering, it was also stated that purchase of potatoes for the welfare was only of a "secondary" purpose.

It was frankly stated that the real purpose of destroying potatoes was to keep the price of potatoes beyond the reach of thousands of families who are without funds with which to purchase this food, even though the surplus is not to be sold.

It was with considerable satisfaction that the writer noted the fact that his protest to the destruction of the surplus potatoes had been heeded to a certain degree, although grudgingly by the officials in charge.

After this new decision on the part of the department the following letter was sent to Lansing by the writer in which it was urged that all of the surplus and ungraded potato crop be purchased and delivered to the welfare, but up to the present time no action has been taken on this supplemental request:

"December 31, 1937
Hon. John B. Strange,
Commissioner of Agriculture,
State Office Building,
Lansing, Michigan.

"Dear Sir:
I have just read in the newspapers of your decision to follow in part the recommendations I made to you some time ago that Michigan potatoes be purchased for welfare purposes rather than be destroyed under your surplus crop control plan.
"I wish to commend you for your decision to use some of these potatoes for welfare purposes.
"But why not buy up all of the ungraded potatoes and turn them over to the welfare? Newspapers quote the welfare department as saying it can use 50,000 bushels per month. It can use more than this, as there are thousands of people on welfare who have had no potatoes to eat for months.
"Think of the absurdity of sending out to welfare 'clients' two cans of canned grapefruit juice per month, instead of sending them good Michigan potatoes!
"If you have been able to induce the Surplus Commodities corporation to use tax dollars to buy some Michigan potatoes for welfare, why not get them to buy up all of the ungraded potatoes and deliver them to welfare families? If this was done, it would not in the least offset the potato market, as poor people and the unemployed cannot and do not buy potatoes, as they have no funds with which to make the purchase.
"I hope you will extend your program to include the purchase of the entire surplus crop and see to it that the hungry Michigan are at least having a few potatoes to eat.
"Respectfully,
"E. E. EATON."

Community Makes Improvements

Patrons of the Community Pharmacy were pleasantly surprised one morning this week to see that several changes had been made in the interior of the store. Because of the crowded condition caused by the arrangement of the soda fountain and booths at the back of the store, Mr. Bickenstaff had the change made to use all of the available space. The fountain has been moved to the side of the store and the booths are now at the rear, making a larger seating capacity and allowing the clerks in the store to afford a much faster service to the customers. The change greatly improves the appearance of the interior and will be a big help in caring for the customers.

Adult Evening School At Plymouth High

Second Term To Start Next Monday Eve

Any one who wishes to begin classes in shorthand or typewriting may do so by coming to the typing room on Wednesday, January 10, at 7:00 o'clock.

Last term a very successful class in child psychology was taught by Mrs. B. F. Murray. This term Mrs. Murray will offer a very important class in mental hygiene. This course will deal with mental hygiene of regular family life and should be very interesting to everyone. This class will begin on Wednesday evening, January 12, at 7:00 p.m.

In addition to the above courses, the agriculture department of Plymouth high school will conduct an evening class in horticulture beginning Wednesday evening, January 13, 1938 at 7:00 p.m. in the agricultural room at the high school.

The course will be practical in every respect and will cover fruit growing, vegetable gardening and floriculture. Most of the time will be devoted to the branches of the subject most desired by the class.

Anyone interested in the course is invited to join. All farmers engaged in this type of farming around Plymouth and vicinity are especially invited to attend the class. The course will be held on Wednesday evening of each week from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. for a period of 10 weeks.

Telephone Unites Family

An extraordinary family reunion took place Sunday afternoon when members of Rev. S. S. Closson's family, separated by three thousand miles, conversed together by means of telephone.

A sister, Mrs. Mark A. Sawyer, in Los Angeles, originated the call, and it extended to another sister, Miss Eleanor M. Closson, in Washington, D. C., to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Closson, in Scotts, New York, and to Rev. and Mrs. Closson in Plymouth. All were on the line at the same time and thoroughly enjoyed a regular old fashioned family visit.

Previous to the call, each family was informed about the plan and told at what time to expect it. At 2:00 o'clock, each was summoned and immediately connections from all points were made so that all could speak to each other. One reason for the conference was to extend congratulations to their parents who celebrated their 58th wedding anniversary on Tuesday.

Rev. Closson stated that during the four minutes of conversation, there was no time when all connections to California, New York, Michigan and the District of Columbia were not clear and the voices were heard as plainly as though the call had been a local one.

Patrons of the Community Pharmacy were pleasantly surprised one morning this week to see that several changes had been made in the interior of the store. Because of the crowded condition caused by the arrangement of the soda fountain and booths at the back of the store, Mr. Bickenstaff had the change made to use all of the available space. The fountain has been moved to the side of the store and the booths are now at the rear, making a larger seating capacity and allowing the clerks in the store to afford a much faster service to the customers. Following Mr. Juergens' address, Officer Jack Cross, also of the Detroit traffic department, showed motion pictures that gave correct driving methods and pointed out common traffic practices that are the cause of so many accidents.

Ladies' night will be observed by the club next Tuesday evening, with George Haas acting as toastmaster for the evening. Lester Daniels, program chairman, and his committee are arranging details for the dinner and evening entertainment.

Questions About Re-Assessment

Questions concerning the recent plan for the re-assessment of property in Plymouth have come to members of the city commission and appear below with the accompanying answers, by City Manager C. H. Elliott:

Question: What is the purpose of the re-assessment of property?
Answer: To equalize valuations. Some have thought that the re-assessments would increase the valuations, but judging from the results so far, it appears that they will be decreased instead.

Question: According to the article in the last issue of The Plymouth Mail, the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation is helping to make the survey. Who pays the individuals who represent this bureau of taxation?
Answer: Wayne county takes care of the salaries of the employees of the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation. Their services are merely loaned to the city without charge.

Daisy Out With New Product

Burroughs Plant Ready For Operation In Near Future

Announcement by the Daisy Manufacturing company that it is planning to place on the market four new products during the coming year, the great plant of the Burroughs Adding Machine company nearing completion and with prospects good for its operation within the next 90 days and a general optimistic tone expressed by both industrial and business leaders of the city, Plymouth has every reason to believe that business this year will be as good if not better than last.

While this city, like all other places, has been hit by the new depression and there are several hundreds of men out of work here, practically every business man interviewed this week expressed a general belief that the next 12 months will be good ones.

Nearly all, more or less blamed loss of confidence for the slump, but declared that any stability whatsoever in business would quickly restore the confidence that was destroyed during the past year by industrial turmoil, politics and legislation.

President Roosevelt's message to congress was regarded by many as an indication of a new plan of cooperation that will be helpful toward restoring good business conditions.

Following are some of the statements in which all predict and hope for better business:

Cass S. Hough, vice president and sales manager of The Daisy Manufacturing company—"We are going to do just as we did in the last depression, we are going to put forth every effort to keep our factory going and build up new business. Our problem is somewhat different than that of the usual factory. We make toys and in order to hold to public fancy, we must always be producing something new and different. We are about ready to put four new items on the market and hope to overcome the decline in the demand for other products by producing something new. Our advertising campaign is going to be bigger than ever before and you can rest assured that the Daisy will do all within its power to get its force back to work just as quickly and as steadily as we can possibly do so. This recession can be licked just as it was four years ago, and we plan to do our part in helping to restore good business."

A. S. Lyndon, vice president and treasurer Perfection Sprinkler company—"There isn't much question but what this depression is a strike by everybody against public office holders. I can see no reason for any depression and we are making our plans for this year in the expectation that business leaders will make business good in spite of the politicians. People by what they were doing and we are now paying for it, but there is no reason for it to continue and our company is going to go ahead with the expectation that business will be up to normal, if not better this year than last."

Garnett Baker, manager of Plymouth Tube company—"We are now operating on a 40 hour basis and hope to keep up this schedule just as long as we can. While right now we do not see many signs of improved business, we are hopeful of the future. That is why we keep going as we are. Our force of 40 men all received Christmas bonus checks as well as turkeys. When we are rashed they go to it and help us get out the work. Now that things are slow, we try to keep them going just as much as it is possible. If there is anything the company can do to make business better in 1938 we are to do it."

Paul Wickman, Ford Motor Co.—"I am confident that business this year will be as good if not better than last."

UNMASKING THE SHAM.

Frank Murphy has been doing a lot of bragging about his alleged non-political appointments during recent months. He claims that he makes his selections only upon the basis of good government and that he selects persons interested and outstanding in the division of government to be served. Let's tear the mask off of these phoney claims and look at the actual truth!

Alpena is one of Michigan's finest little cities located up in the northern part of the state. The residents of the community are intensely loyal to it and most enthusiastic in their support of any worthy project.

So when the Alpena Rotary club became one of the first, if not the first Rotary club in the world, to try and lift little crippled children out of their hopeless condition and make them useful and healthy citizens, it seemed that every person in Alpena backed the club in its efforts.

Emmett Richards was one of the officers of the Rotary club during those early days and as its president, he led the organization in this new field of service to humanity to a point where he won for himself and Alpena national distinction.

Then the Rotarians of eastern Michigan and western Ontario in appreciation of Mr. Richards' outstanding work in behalf of crippled children elected him as their district governor. He went about Michigan and Canada always preaching in behalf of crippled children and urging Rotarians to make this work their outstanding endeavor.

Because of what he had done in Michigan and Canada for crippled children, the Rotary International honored him and made him one of its international directors. The organization has even sent him to foreign lands to urge work in behalf of little cripples. For several years he has been president of the Michigan Crippled Children's society. His enthusiastic work in behalf of little deformed boys and girls has almost been a mania with him. No person will ever know how great and beneficial has been his efforts to restore to active lives these little sufferers.

What has Governor Murphy to do with this? It has just become generally known that a while ago he kicked Mr. Richards off the Michigan Crippled Children's commission and appointed in his place some woman politician from Grand Rapids. She supported Murphy in his last campaign. As far as any one knows she has never been interested in crippled children's work. At least her name does not seem to be generally known outside the ward in which she votes.

Mr. Richards is not a political partisan. Every minute outside of his business hours has, for a long period of years, been given to the cause of crippled children.

Cheap Murphy politics must be played in connection with human misery—therefore, a politician must take the place of one who has been devoting his life to the relief of suffering and improvement of humanity. That is the new order of things in Lansing—for the first time in the history of all Michigan!

Still the Governor keeps on trying to tell the state that this is a non-partisan administration. What a sham!

Every appointment he has made since becoming governor has gone to some Murphy supporter or political friend. Possibly it is true that his own party has been ignored, but NOT his own personal henchmen! The Governor is fooling no one except himself.

SEVEN ESSENTIALS FOR HIGHWAY SAFETY

At its recent annual Congress, the National Safety Council reaffirmed its declaration of war on accidents, and asked for:

1. More and better uniform traffic laws, especially in the matters of standard signs and signals and drivers' licensing requirements.
2. Stricter, fairer and more intelligent enforcement.
3. Efficient safety organizations in every state, county and community.
4. More and better traffic engineering, resulting in safer highways.
5. Periodic inspection of all motor vehicles by properly equipped stations operated or closely supervised by state or city.
6. Intelligent safety instruction in all schools.
7. More research into the physical causes and preventative of accidents.

Here is the way to make our streets and highways—

Womenfolk

By James Lewis Hays

"I don't pretend," said Uncle Ben
"To figger out the women.
They rise above real troubles like
Good cream comes up for skimmin',
But when they break a china cup
Or burn a cake they're bakin',
They're apt to cry and just give up
As if they was forsaken."

"I'll own that I don't understand
The ladies—but I love 'em.
Big sorrows that'll best a man—
They raise their hearts above 'em;
Then when a yellow chick is lost
They can't get over cryin'.
It's hard to figger out the girls—which are today more dangerous than a battlefield—safe. There is no royal road to safety, but neither is there any mystery about it. Good drivers, operating good cars, under proper regulations, on well designed arteries, aren't likely to cause death, injury or property damage. The reckless, incompetent or drunken motorist; the mechanically defective automobile; the highway which is structurally years behind the times—these are the triumvirate that are collectively responsible for the annual traffic massacre of 30,000 Americans. And of the three, the first is infinitely the greatest menace.
But, Lord! I keep young tryin'!"

The National Safety Council, out of its wealth of experience, has proposed a long range program that should be put into effect without delay, and should receive the enthusiastic cooperation not only of state and city governments, but of the entire motoring population as well.

STARVATION—"ONLY SECONDARY"!

Following the demand of the writer that Michigan's surplus potato crop be purchased from potato growers by the government and turned over to the welfare department to be distributed to the hungry people of this state, the State Commissioner of Agriculture in admitting his acquiescence to the suggestion, declared that Michigan potatoes were going to be purchased by the government to keep up the price of better grades of potatoes, but that "the furnishing of extra food to relief families will be a secondary reason for the move."

Furnishing food to hungry people only a secondary reason!

What under the sun can public officials of today be thinking about when they say that providing food for the undernourished men, women and children of our state is only a secondary motive for buying up potatoes that they had planned to let spoil in the field pits and dump into the pig pens?

So terrible is the offense against common, ordinary decency in permitting food to be destroyed in times like these, the voters of the state ought to rise up and recall from office every official who is in any way involved in such a heartless thing as the destruction of valuable food in times like these.

Starvation!
It is only SECONDARY in importance to Lansing officialdom!

What care they if men, women and children, in a land of plenty, famish and die?

Apparently NOTHING, as long as it does not interfere with the flow of tax monies via public paychecks into their own pockets.

PREPARING FOR A SIT-DOWN?

Newspapers report that Frank Murphy is making an effort to buy (no, that's not the right word, it should be collect) all of the public chairs he has used since he began his career of collecting tax dollars unto himself. Must be he is preparing for another sit-down.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

WHERE TAX DOLLARS GO.

Some of the salaries now paid under the Murphy administration are nothing less than outlandish compared with those paid under earlier administrations. The private secretary of the governor has usually drawn from $3,500 to $4,500 per year. Major A. P. Loomis who served under the Rich and Warner administrations, received $2,500 per year. Governor Murphy brought his private secretary with him from the Philippines, although he was a former popular Detroit newspaper man. First of all, he gave Mr. Hill the job at $7,500 per year and in recent months has added to this salary to the extent of $5,000 per year, turning over to Mr. Hill's management $50,000 per year tourist-resort advertising funds and diverting 10% of this fund to Hill for his extra salary. This gives Mr. Hill at least $12,500 for his services which may be considered fairly liberal, to say the least.

Barney Youngblood, deputy secretary of state, draws $6,000 per year. The last job he held in Detroit before coming to Lansing paid $4,400 per year. The man whom he succeeds drew $4,500 per year as deputy secretary of state. Many of the division head salaries in the various departments have been increased from $1,800 per year to $2,800 per year and practically all supervisory positions that formerly paid from $2,500 to $3,000 per year now start at $4,000 per year. It is any wonder that an all-time high for expensive government in Michigan was reached in 1937?—James Haskins in Howard City Record.

JUST WHY?

Do you remember last year how the veterans were cashing in on genuine gold soldier bonuses, and then too, practically every auto industry was handing a bonus to every employe, and didn't that make business good in every line of trade. But this year there is no such Santa Claus to pull cash out of the air. Rather the number of unemployed is growing in numbers every year.—J. E. McMullen in The Linden Leader.

HELPING THE OLD.

During the month of November 423 persons received old age assistance in Livingston county. An average payment of $18.74 brought the total paid here to $7,927.00. The highest average paid per case was $22.08 in Wayne. The average for the state was $18.90. Only 16 counties had higher average payments than Livingston. The lowest average per case was $14.05 in Alcona county. Sixty thousand seventy-seven persons in the state received $1,135,602.47.—William Cansfield in The Livingston County Press.

FOR OUTSIDE BUYERS.

Michigan's new used tax was in effect last month and first payments will be due December 15. This is a 3 percent levy on all purchases made outside the state. The rate, it will be noted, is the same as the sales tax, which it is intended to supplement for purchases made outside the state. The buyer as well as the seller, are made liable for its payment and severe penalties are provided for its violation. Those who make a habit of buying from mail order and other out-of-state sources should familiarize themselves with the provisions of the new tax.—Joseph Sturgeon in The Delta County Reporter.

HOW DOES THIS STRIKE YOU

Right on a varnished panel of my desk, in plain sight, I have pasted the following rules, and I pass them along to our readers, feeling they can do no harm. Paste them on the door casing and try to live up to them.

E. L. K.

Forget the faults of other people.

Forget as many disagreeable things as you can.

Forget all gossip as soon as you hear it. If not before.

Forget your enemies and remember your friends.

Forget your doubts and fears and remember hopes and faiths.

Forget your own failures and remember your successes.

Forget the pin-pricks, slights and trivial offenses incident to all life.

Forget to do anyone an injury, but remember to do everyone a kindness.

The Story of the DESERTED CORNER

THIS is an actual experience of a small neighborhood store: A merchant was faced with the problem of drawing attention to the display counters in the back of the store. He found that customers would come in, look at merchandise and show cases in the front half of his store, and rarely walk back to the rear. Consequently, a considerable part of his floor space was dead area—wasted as far as sales were concerned.

He decided to try and pull traffic to this "deserted corner" with the aid of light. He raised the illumination in this particular section to a level higher than that in the rest of the store, focusing the light on his counter displays. Results were immediate. Over 60 per cent of the customers were drawn to the hitherto neglected area.

To pull traffic to inactive sections of your selling space, use LIGHT. To attract attention to special displays and step up the sales of specific items, use LIGHT. To make potential customers notice your show windows, use LIGHT. It is more than a coincidence that the four New York City stores which have the best lighting are the stores which show the greatest net profit. Good lighting can be equally effective for the small store in the neighborhood community.

For competent advice on any phase of your store lighting, consult a Detroit Edison lighting engineer. He can frequently make helpful recommendations on improving your lighting to increase sales. This service is entirely without charge or obligation. Call your Detroit Edison office.

That's New State Spirit Says Haskins

(By James Haskins, In The Howard City Record) Michigan public affairs are at present in the hands of about as ruthless a band of brigands as ever scuttled a ship in the days when pirate stories were all the rage.

Smugly operating under a cloak of so-called civil service, experienced and time-tested state employees are beheaded without hearing or even decent dismissal. That the "civil service" we now have in Michigan is all political—and democratically political, is becoming more apparent as the days come and go. Merit system has nothing to do with the present brand of misnamed civil service.

Even before January 1 when the Murphys took charge much of the patronage turn-over was placed in the hands of the Wayne county new dealers machine—and what an assortment of ward heelers they sent up! It's a riot in the basement of the capitol. She's sure a daisy—this new system!

Governor Murphy's appointment of Richard Frankenstein, UAW labor organizer, who right now is attempting to disrupt Ford factory labor harmony in Detroit, on the heels of endorsement of the governor by the AFL political policy committee, to membership on the emergency welfare relief commission, is a good example of Murphyism. Carlton H. Runciman of Lowell, one of the most successful business men in Western Michigan, was removed without reason or warning to make way for Frankenstein reputed to be an active Communist. He is without responsible standing in the ranks of the New Dealers. George Boyd of Saginaw, also deposed from the same commission, received faint praise from the governor—but in his case he was succeeded by W. A. Nelthercut of Flint, who at least is a democrat. Murphy intends placing most of the welfare relief in Detroit and Flint this winter so as to make more VOTES in labor circles.

Witness Murphy's action relating to the state tax commission. Threats of removal without charges. Twenty-two experienced field workers—the complete staff—told to go at one swoop! Orders from on high about ten days ago displaced Melville McPherson who has been a member of the state tax commission since the first administration of Governor Green. He served under the Green, Brucker, Comstock and Fitzgerald administrations and was re-appointed early in 1936 for a six-year term, this time as chairman of the commission. He is succeeded by John N. Fegan, a Sanit Sta. Marie lawyer, 28 years of age, utterly without experience in taxation matters. He served for a few months this year as assistant attorney general, being assigned to the liquor commission. This experience, of course, should fit him for the job which will pay something like $7,000 a year and still the governor boldly claims that there is no politics in his administration. Perish the thought!

That the long arm of the cheapest kind of sabotage is being used even in the smallest jobs, witness the notice given on December 9th to Frank Reed, steward of the Michigan state hospital for epileptics at Wahjamega, who was told his services would not be needed after that day and that he was to resign immediately, which he did. This, of course, is in preparation for the great system of "democratic civil service" that went into effect January 1.

Fred A. Chapman of Ionia, served a few months as warden of Ionia reformatory. Mr. Chapman is a man of finest attainments, a man of broad business experience and undoubtedly the most popular resident of Ionia, but he was displaced for an unknown school teacher who Mr. Murphy knew when he was a university student. The new incumbent is utterly without business experience and while he is rated by the governor as an experienced criminologist, his chief duties so far at Ionia have been to fire men holding the most inconsequential stations in the state service, positions that drew salaries in the very lowest brackets—and many of these men who were dismissed were returned World War veterans, many incapacitated for hard manual labor.

The state health department now goes under the axe. It was one of the best health organizations in the United States and Dr. C. C. Slemmons of Grand Rapids headed it since 1928. But that makes no difference to the plunder-bund artists.

Business Leaders See Upswing

as you may call it, will start flowing and bring conditions back to normal almost as quickly as the water will find its level. Confidence will break the dam. I see more and more of it every day and I am sure business will be good again before we know it."

Elmer Gooderman, Plymouth Felt Products company, and Allen Industries plant, "Automobile plants are going to start operating again on the 17th of the month. That will mean better business immediately. Business is not going to let any depression lick it. The middle classes have money but they became frightened and stopped spending their money. As I personally see it just as soon as they have confidence again, we will be on top of the slump."

Harold Coolman, Oldsmobile, LaSalle, Cadillac dealer—"It looks pretty much to me as though the fellows who were rocking the boat last year have been dropped overboard and that we are now on the way up hill again to better business. I look for almost an immediate improvement. Everybody lost confidence during all the troubles last spring and summer, but these troubles have ended and we will be enjoying good business before the month is over. We have all got to pull together to do it and from what I hear that is what most people have decided to do."

Howard Stark, manager A & P store—"Business and the government will cooperate together, there is no question about that. I am sure that by June every man in Plymouth will be at work."

Stewart Dodge, president of The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce—"Business is bound to be better in the near future. I think when things get straightened around that this will be another good year for Plymouth. It ought to be at its best. Business can do a whole lot towards restoring confidence, and that is all we need."

Calvin Simon, merchant—"Give men jobs and business will be better. There can be no business when men are not working. Work is the solution of the whole business."

Herald Hamill, civil engineer and construction consultant—"Business dug the country out of the depression before and it will again this time. As I see the situation, if the public officials would leave business alone and quit their efforts to try and regulate everything, you wouldn't have any of these business depressions or recessions as some call them now. I anticipate that business men will work just as hard as they did before to get out of this situation as quickly as possible."

Walter Harms, compensation, liability and fire insurance—"We are not going to be in this depression very long. I look for almost an immediate improvement. Attempts of government office holders to regulate business is the cause of the present slump. What has been going on frightened everybody. People resent dictation and they resent the ever increasing tax load. If they could go right back and take all government interference out of business, let government act only as referee and see to it that business and everybody else play the game fairly, that would end most of our troubles. I see no reason why we shouldn't be back in good business before spring."

Clarence Moore, Plymouth Stamping company—"There is no question but that things are pretty tough right now, but I am optimistic enough to think that we will be out of this thing before spring. We all know the causes of it and there is no use in saying much about that. But the people who have everything they possess invested in business will not let any depression bring ruin to them. In our business contacts I notice plenty of evidence of an effort being made to start things going up again."

M. D. Powell, trucking and construction excavation—"There is just one thing needed and that is confidence on the part of the people. If we can get that back, our steam shovels will be busy digging basements for hundreds of new houses and business blocks all the year. I know of any number of projects under consideration. Some of them were cancelled last year because of what was going on. Just the minute people know there is going to be no interference and can get back some confidence, there will be plenty of business and plenty of work. But men have got to make up their minds that they must give something in return for what they get."

Carl Shear, Buick and Frigidaire dealer—"There is only one thing we can do and that is hope that there will be an improvement in the near future. We are confident that business will be on the way up."

Road Board Denies Charges

to the duty of giving out record information to inquirers.

2. Mr. Lingeman charges: "The juggling and illegal use (and perhaps misuse) of public funds." The Board denies this charge.

The absurdity of this charge was just recently emphasized and established by the audit and investigation made by the auditor general of the state of Michigan. The result of that audit, requested by Mr. Lingeman, has just been publicly announced and must be known by him. It showed conclusively that there had been no juggling or illegal use or misuse of public funds. In addition to this recent audit all of the transactions of the board of road commissioners are continuously checked and audited by the Wayne county board of auditors. All road funds are kept by the county treasurer and all disbursements are made by him through the board of auditors. Further, the books, records and accounts of the board of Wayne county road commissioners have been regularly audited by reputable certified public accountants for the past 20 years. These audits were made on a monthly or quarterly basis. In accordance with the requirements of the statute the board of road commissioners has annually prepared, printed and submitted to the board of supervisors a report of all of its transactions. Copies of these reports are available to the public and any and all officials.

3. Mr. Lingeman charges: "Unlawful 'day labor' construction of roads resulting in excessive costs." The Board denies this charge.

The Board has, at all times, except for 1933, 1934, and 1936, advertised for bids on projects involving the expenditure of $500.00 and upwards. It has received and accepted low bids in a total amount of between seven and eight million dollars during the past 10 years. In each case where no bids were received in response to the advertisement a statement was filed with the county clerk advising him of that fact and that the Board would, of necessity, proceed with the work by day labor. Materials costing in excess of $500.00 used in the construction projects upon which the Board has proceeded by day labor are purchased through public advertisements and awarded to the low bidder.

A yearly program for 1933 and 1934 was not advertised because of the lack of funds occasioned by the impounding of road moneys in closed banks and the offset of weight and gas taxes due the county by the auditor general against taxes collected by Wayne county and payable to the state. The yearly program in 1936 was not advertised because every resource of this commission for road construction was conserved to assist in meeting the city's share of the Detroit street widening contract with the state, which, by its terms, would expire in July, 1937.

4. Mr. Lingeman charges: "Double salaries." The Board denies this charge and denies the payment of double salaries to the commissioners or any employee of the commission. The only salary received by the commissioners is the sum of $3,000.00 per annum from the county general fund provided for by an ordinance adopted by the Wayne county board of supervisors on Tuesday, October 23, 1923, and approved by the governor on December 3, 1923.

5. Mr. Lingeman charges: "Star chamber" and "rubber stamp" methods of operation; neglect of duty and misconduct in office; transaction of Board business unlawfully taken over by one commissioner and by employees." The Board denies these charges. All of the business of the board of county road commissioners is actually and fully transacted at the regular meetings held Tuesday and Friday of each week at 10:00 a.m. These meetings are open to any one who desires to attend. No business is transacted except by a quorum and with the concurrence of at least two commissioners. The minutes of the Board meetings are a complete record of the transactions and accounts of the Board. These minutes are prepared and kept by the county clerk or his deputy as provided by law. By resolution of the board of road commissioners, Mr. Lingeman, as county clerk and clerk of the board of road commissioners, has been requested and directed to attend the meetings of the Board and to keep a record of the proceedings and transactions of the board at such meetings, and of the receipts and accounts as passed upon by the Board.

6. Mr. Lingeman charges: "Irregular handling real estate operations." The Board denies this charge.

The general highway law applicable to counties provides that the board of county road commissioners is a body corporate and may hold and convey title to land. It provides for a method of conveyance. Pursuant to this law the board of Wayne county road commissioners, as a board, holds title to any land required for its highway development program. Title to land acquired by the Board is taken and held in the name of the board in its official capacity or in the name of the county of Wayne. All of the real estate transactions of the board have been reviewed regularly by certified public accountants in the course of the various audits made of the board's records.

7. Mr. Lingeman charges: "Disbursement of funds for professional services, etc., without authority therefor." The Board denies this charge.

The Board has had its books audited annually by certified public accountants. We consider this good business procedure. The practice originated in 1917 when the board of county auditors employed public accountants to audit the road books. After that audit was completed the board of road commissioners continued the practice at the suggestion of the board of auditors and paid for the same out of road funds.

The volume and nature of the operations of the board of Wayne county road commissioners require the full-time services of an attorney-at-law to appear for the Board in condemnation proceedings for the acquiring of rights of way and to generally advise the Board and its employees in the transaction of its business. The board of supervisors by ordinance authorized the payment of the salary of an attorney by the board of county road commissioners.

8. Mr. Lingeman charges: "Loose and irresponsible purchasing methods, etc." The Board denies this charge.

The purchasing methods used by the Board are patterned after the methods used by the city of Detroit. Department heads present requisitions for necessary materials to the purchasing agent. If the purchase is for less than $500.00 informal bids are received from at least three vendors. If the purchase is to amount to over $500.00 sealed proposals are advertised for, received and publicly opened, read, tabulated and submitted to the Board for action with a recommendation of the purchasing agent approved by the engineer-manager. After consideration by the Board at a regular meeting the lowest responsible bidder or the bids are rejected by a majority of the board. We are informed that the report of the audit of this board to the auditor general verifies this as the purchasing procedure employed by this board.

While we welcome both this investigation by your honorable body and the audit by the auditor general as a means of clearing the atmosphere of the unfounded charges of the county clerk, yet neither this procedure nor a continued broadcast of charges can settle the issue from which it all emanates. The county clerk claims that the law gives him complete jurisdiction over the offices of this board. We disagree with him and believe that a proper construction of the statutes would continue the road commission offices in the charge of and under the direction of the Board, as they always have been in the past. We here repeat our former recommendation to Mr. Lingeman that he submit his contention for a decision to the only forum having the jurisdiction to finally determine the question, namely the state courts. A continuation of the tactics heretofore pursued of broadcasting indefinite charges and insinuations and asking for investigations thereon can serve no good purpose, and will only burden the public with expense and disrupt the orderly procedure of its business, as has been the case up to now.

Our only aim is to have and always has been to properly and legally conduct the business of actually and fully transacted at the regular meetings held Tuesday and Friday of each week at 10:00 a.m. These meetings are open to any one who desires to attend. No business is transacted except by a quorum and with the concurrence of at least two commissioners. The minutes of the Board meetings are a complete record of the transactions and accounts of the Board. These minutes are prepared and kept by the county clerk or his deputy as provided by law. All of the real estate transactions of the board have been reviewed regularly by certified public accountants in the course of the various audits made of the board's records.

7. Mr. Lingeman charges: "Disbursement of funds for professional services, etc., without authority therefor." The Board denies this charge.

The Board has had its books audited annually by certified public accountants. We consider this good business procedure. The practice originated in 1917 when the board of county auditors employed public accountants to audit the road books. After that audit was completed the board of road commissioners continued the practice at the suggestion of the board of auditors and paid for the same out of road funds.

The volume and nature of the operations of the board of Wayne county road commissioners require the full-time services of an attorney-at-law to appear for the Board in condemnation proceedings for the acquiring of rights of way and to generally advise the Board and its employees in the transaction of its business. The board of supervisors by ordinance authorized the payment of the salary of an attorney by the board of county road commissioners.

8. Mr. Lingeman charges: "Loose and irresponsible purchasing methods, etc." The Board denies this charge.

The purchasing methods used by the Board are patterned after the methods used by the city of Detroit. Department heads present requisitions for necessary materials to the purchasing agent. If the purchase is for less than $500.00 informal bids are received from at least three vendors. If the purchase is to amount to over $500.00 sealed proposals are advertised for, received and publicly opened, read, tabulated and submitted to the Board for action with a recommendation of the purchasing agent approved by the engineer-manager. After consideration by the Board at a regular meeting the lowest responsible bidder or the bids are rejected by a majority of the board. We are informed that the report of the audit of this board to the auditor general verifies this as the purchasing procedure employed by this board.

While we welcome both this investigation by your honorable body and the audit by the auditor general as a means of clearing the atmosphere of the unfounded charges of the county clerk, yet neither this procedure nor a continued broadcast of charges can settle the issue from which it all emanates. The county clerk claims that the law gives him complete jurisdiction over the offices of this board. We disagree with him and believe that a proper construction of the statutes would continue the road commission offices in the charge of and under the direction of the Board, as they always have been in the past. We here repeat our former recommendation to Mr. Lingeman that he submit his contention for a decision to the only forum having the jurisdiction to finally determine the question, namely the state courts. A continuation of the tactics heretofore pursued of broadcasting indefinite charges and insinuations and asking for investigations thereon can serve no good purpose, and will only burden the public with expense and disrupt the orderly procedure of its business, as has been the case up to now.

Our only aim is to have and always has been to properly and legally conduct the business of

Cub: "What is your maxim, Mr. Baldwin?" Stanley Baldwin: "You can't abdicate and eat it, too!"

Wayne county road commission, to give it a fair and impartial business administration, in order to construct and maintain our highways and other transportation facilities at as low a cost as possible, compatible with the necessities of the county's transportation system.

Respectfully submitted,
Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne

Hotel Mayflower, Idyl Wyld Golf club, and Hillside Barbecue were the party centers for this community, and each have reported a pleasant and successful evening.

Of especial interest at the Hillside party was the troupe of night club entertainers brought from Detroit who gave a high class type of performance, consisting of dancing, singing, and novelty acts. A turkey dinner, with all the furnishings, along with the music of Don Patterson and his band, was featured at the Idyl Wyld club, and guests at the Hotel Mayflower were entertained with much good fun and an elaborate vaudeville show.

Prior to New Year's eve, practically all reservations in all three places were taken and it was feared for a time that there would not be room for all guests, but, unfortunately, due to the heavy fog and bad condition of the roads on Friday evening, quite a number of reservations were cancelled at the last minute, so that none of the parties entertained as many guests as they had anticipated.

The TONQUISH CREEK BREEZE

Published at Tonquish Creek,
Michigan

Times have tightened up in the Creek. Storekeepers refuse to take eggs in exchange for groceries because they have found so many rotten ones. Harold Finson blames the last Tonquish Creek flock for the bad eggs. The hens drank flood water and polluted the eggs, he says.

Purity League President Clair Mahen says Santa Claus brought him a new pair of ear muffs for Christmas. He needs 'em down where he has to make a living.

Elmer Zuckerman is thinking of going into the felt boot business. He examined some Abe Goldstein sold to Stan Corbett the other day and he says they are made out of just plain ordinary fuzz. They are a long way from being 100 percent pure wool. That's what he told Abe's customer.

Another sub came in and paid for his BREEZE the other day, trading a half cord of slippery elm that's so green it just slides in the print shop stove. He did leave a peck of good potatoes that in some way escaped the attention of Lansing politicians. That's why the BREEZE is out again this week.

Constable Matthew Stephens and Bert McKinney spent the week-end working out Matt's new bounds on rabbit tracks. Matt has been elected constable by default on the part of a liberal element candidate, he needs a body guard.

The People's Watch Dog

Vol 1 No. 13

When Santa came to town he left a tin horn for Doc Butz to blow his fishing and big game hunting stories through. The fish are so big that folks about the Creek thought a horn would help in the telling.

Constable Powell thinks he has uncovered a mystery. He got out his finger print records the other day and his bloodhounds and he discovered that the only people in the Creek who ever reported being robbed are members of the Purity League. The latest victim was Leaguer Stu Dodge, who reports that some slicker got away with some of his chattels. Constable Powell and his bloodhounds have yet secured no clue, but they are suspicious.

Mark Chaffee has joined the Creek's postmaster, Franklin Delino Learned, in high-haiting the Creekers who eat sour kraut, boiled potatoes and main-dining room left-overs down at Creeker Mahen's eating house on the banks of the Tonquish. They now eat at side tables by themselves. Creeker Mahen denies that he is depriving any piggies of their boiled potatoes by feedin' 'em to Tonquish Creek folks, who patronize his place. He says he thinks some of the local wood cutters who are now resting until the next Christmas holiday season need a potato a day to keep in fit condition to walk from their cabins down to his restaurant.

When Santa came to town he left a tin horn for Doc Butz to blow his fishing and big game hunting stories through. The fish are so big that folks about the Creek thought a horn would help in the telling.

Phone Company Cuts Charges

The Michigan Bell Telephone company has accepted an order issued at the close of the year by the Michigan Public Utilities commission eliminating the charge of 15 cents per month for the handset telephone and a charge of 10 cents a month in certain rural areas for the desk type telephone.

Acceptance of the order was indicated in a statement by George M. Welch, president of the company.

The order also reduces the charge for changing the type of instrument at the time of establishing residential service, if an instrument is already in place, and reaffirms the charges in the company's filed tariffs of rates in all other instrument change cases.

Mr. Welch's statement follows: "This is not a good time for the Michigan Bell Telephone company to face a reduction in its revenues. With the sharply increased cost of operation during 1937 which this company experienced in common with other concerns, the revenue was no more than was required. With a continuation of present business conditions even for only the early part of the year, it is certain that our net income for 1938 will be less.

"When the handset was offered to customers of the company on an optional basis in 1927, a charge of 50 cents per month was made for it because of its greater cost and to prevent the wasteful junking of hundreds of thousands of still useful instruments. The rate was reduced to 25 cents in March, 1928, and in June, 1934, it was limited to a charge for 18 months. In July, 1936, the rate was reduced to 15 cents per month for 18 months.

"We have had in mind that the charge would be eliminated entirely when the old sets remaining in use should reach such a level as to permit their replacement without too great waste. While in my judgment we have not reached that point, and although the elimination of the charge will have a substantial effect on the company's revenue, we are accepting the order because of our desire to cooperate with the commission in determining a distribution of charges for telephone service that will be most acceptable to our customers."

Ayers Writes Of California

In a letter to members of the Plymouth Rotary club, Harry S. Ayers, who is now enjoying the winter in California, writes that the Pacific coast has been enjoying some ideal weather.

"We drove through from Plymouth to Santa Monica in just six days. The first night we spent at Springfield, Illinois, 436 miles from Plymouth, the next day we drove 380 miles to Kansas City, then the next day to Syracuse, Kansas, a distance of 489 miles, then to Albuquerque, New Mexico for the next night, covering 459 miles and on to Kingman, Arizona for 492 more miles, the next day to Boulder dam and to Santa Monica, a distance of 410 miles," he writes.

"When we reached California, everything looked exceedingly dry and laws were all burned up except on grass where they kept it sprinkled. Shortly after we reached here it rained for three days, and how that did start things growing.

"Last Friday there were three Michigan people at the Rotary club here. We are all getting along fine and enjoying an ideal winter," he concluded.

MANNERS OF THE MOMENT

By JEAN

Too much apologizing is worse than no apologizing at all. Far worse.

Take, for example, the girl who wonders if your car is full and asks you very nicely and apologetically for a ride home from the bridge party. She insists that she doesn't want to be in your way, or to bother you at all, but she just wondered. So you cheerfully say you can squeeze her in, thinking that four in the front seat has been done before.

"I Do Hope I'm Not in the Way."

fore, and for so short a distance no one really minds.

But then your extra guest makes the whole trip miserable by continuing to apologize all the way home. She does hope that she isn't in the way—when every one is obviously squashed to a pulp. She really didn't mean to be any bother at all. And if you'll let her out at the next corner she can walk home. It's only a mile and a half. She keeps it up until you are ready to take her at her word—which would surprise her no end. Probably if you did it once, she'd be more careful with her soft-soap.

It's high time that she—and all of the rest of us—learned that when an apology is needed one is enough. And please make it short and snappy if you're anywhere near us.

WNU Service.

CENTRAL NOTES

A special Christmas assembly was held in the auditorium on Tuesday, December 21. An interesting Christmas story was told by Miss Squires.

"Merry Christmas" was the title of the poem memorized by the pupils in Miss Sly's room. A Christmas booklet containing the stories of the celebration of Christmas in foreign lands was made.

The membership of Miss Weatherhead's has been increased by the enrollment of Alan Wingrove of Royal Oak. Arthur Bartell is absent because of the chicken pox. The pupils were weighed Monday morning. A Christmas party was held Thursday.

To make the study of Norway more interesting for her geography class, Miss Robinson showed them some movie reels of that country. The painting of the Holland mural has been started. The ornaments for the Christmas tree were made by the art class. The decorating committee made Christmas bells and trees with which to decorate the windows and put new paper on the cupboard windows. James Wingrove has entered from Royal Oak.

Miss Jewell's pupils held a Christmas party for which they drew names. They wrote Christmas stories, finished Christmas posters and made gifts for their mothers.

Miss Campbell's pupils made Christmas toys, trees, and decorations from paper. They are now able to distinguish pennies, nickels and dimes from other coins. Mary Wingrove of Royal Oak has entered.

Miss Hornbeck's geography class saw films of Egypt, the Union of South America, Norway, and Belgium. "Boyhood of Raleigh" by Millais was chosen for picture study. Booklets concerning the birth of Christ were made as a special Christmas project. Names were made and drawn and gifts exchanged for the Christmas party Thursday afternoon. Norma Robinson was chosen captain of one of the squads for gymnasium work.

The enrollment of Mr. Berridge's room has been increased by James Wiltse. The 5B geography class is studying the west south central states. The sewing class has completed its pillows. Christmas cards and room decorations were made in the art class. Names were drawn for the Christmas party.

GOINGS ON

AROUND P. H. S.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year, or am I a little late? At any rate the holidays were bright and gay and everyone had a marvelous time. Every day last week seemed like Saturdays with perhaps a couple of extra Sundays thrown in. The freshman class really stepped out and had itself some parties. Tuesday night Jeanette Detling had a party and invited Lorraine Hixs, Ruth Wellman, Ardith Rowland, Mary Jane Olsvater, Jack Crisp, Arvel Cutner, Herman Trick, and Jack Butz. On Wednesday night Pat Mason, of Rosedale Gardens had still more of the Freshman class at her home. Her guests were Marjorie Merriam, Arvel Cutner, Mary Ellen Dahmer, Warren Hoffman, Dorothy Waters, James Zukerman, Maty Jane Olsvater, Jack Crisp, Marion Coward, Orlynn Lewis and Lynton Ball.

Tuesday night Barbara Olsvater entertained Shirley Sorensen, Arlene Soth, Veronica Marti, Belya Barnes, Jacquelyn Schoof, Shirley Mason and Eye Moon. The guests played "Michigan" and refreshments were served later in the evening.

Belya Barnes, Shirley Mason, and Eye Moon saw "True Confession" Thursday afternoon at the Michigan.

Doris Schmidt spent part of her vacation visiting her sister in Detroit.

Gladys Hammond attended the ice carnival in Northville Sunday afternoon.

Vivian Grosvenor of Farmington spent New Year's day with Lois Schaufele.

Betty Earlow and Margaret Erdelyi entertained Bill Thomas, George Houghton, Ruth Kirkpatrick, Joe Scarpulla, Pat Bralder, Doug Prough, Jean Schoof, Ed Holdsworth, Jane Springer,

WHY NOT READ NON-FICTION BOOKS?

Why is it that the circulation of books in the school library consists mainly of fiction and of the American Boy, American Good Housekeeping, and Popular Mechanics? Is light fiction practically ALL the students of this high school read? The student librarians can always tell when a non-fiction book report is required or when the necessity of a special report demands attention because then and then only, do the other types of material cross the desk. Do the students not realize that they are robbing themselves of an essential feature of their background?

Non-fiction books are to be read for pleasure as well as for gleaming information. Certainly anyone would be interested in reading "Skyward" by Byrd, "We" by Lindbergh and other of these type. Why not give them a trial?

ROCKS MEET OLD RIVALS

The old feud between Plymouth and Northville will be continued Tuesday night January 11 in a duel on the Plymouth high school basketball court. The high spirits of Northville displayed before the football game and then the defeated should make the game even more important to the invaders from the north. Coach Jacobi has no report on the success of the Northville team but if they can be compared with last year's team it should be a nip-and-tuck contest. The only team Plymouth and Northville have both played is Redford Union. Both of them defeated Redford by very small margins; however, nothing can be determined by this because it was early in the season and both teams have come a long way since then. The game begins at 7:00 o'clock.

Tonight the home lads will pit their ability against that of the Dearborn Cagers at Dearborn.

Next Friday the Rocks will meet Wayne here.

CAMPAIGN CONTINUED AGAINST ATHLETE'S FOOT

Last year because the condition of girls' feet in the gym classes was brought to the eyes of the faculty, periodical inspection of their feet was suggested. This suggestion was put into practice last year and it was revealed that girls who were not taking showers regularly (since shower taking was optional at that time) were the ones who had athlete's foot. Since that time additional showers have been added and shower-taking is now compulsory. Recently a sponge pad containing a strong disinfectant was placed in the locker room. Each girl must step on this after taking her shower.

Inspection of the feet last week by the nurse, Mrs. Strasen, revealed a much better condition in general. By continued use of this pad it is hoped to clear up entirely any cases of athlete's foot.

JUNIORS PLAN J-HOP FOR FEBRUARY 18

Now that Christmas vacation is over and school has begun the Juniors have set to work on the plans for the annual J-Hop to be given February 18 in the high school auditorium. Dorothy Roe has shouldered the responsibility of general chairman. Working under her as chairman of the different committees are Betty Knowles, for decorations; Bob Brown, for construction; Don Mielbeck for music; Mary Jane Parmalee, for invitations; Betty Mastick, for chaperons; Bob Kenyon, for floor and dressing rooms; Jacquelyn Schoof, for pro-

HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNUS VISITS DENMARK

Jens Pedersen, who graduated from Plymouth high school in 1933, is visiting the birthplace of his parents—Denmark. As yet, Jens has not gathered enough material to write a letter dealing with anything but first impressions and hastily-drawn conclusions. In a card to Mr. Dykhouse, he promises future letters dealing with various topics of interest in that country. One of the most surprising things which Mr. Pedersen has observed is the social-mindedness of the Danish government and the individual citizen.

"The Dark Before the Dawn"

We are all familiar with that well-known proverb "It is always darkest just before the dawn." We have had financial panics and depressions. Now the new term is "recession". This so-called recession is man-made and can be quickly remedied. Live normally, think sanely, buy wisely, get value received and pay bills promptly. If we all take our part in such a program, the "recession" will be beaten back into the corner to make room for people to live normal lives and be happy.

Our Wish for you is HEALTH, HAPPINESS and PROSPERITY FOR 1938.

William Cameron Of Ford Company Tells Of Politicians Efforts To Regulate And Control Business Which Has Always Meant Low Pay

For First Time, Company Answers Attacks

Of such vast importance, and so outstanding because of the common sense it expressed, the address of William Cameron of the Ford Motor company, delivered Sunday evening over the radio, is published in full, as follows: that those who did not hear it, may know what he said: "In our talks on this hour we sometimes speak of business—usually of business at its best. We are not ignorant of the other sort; on occasions when we speak directly to business men we handle it without reserve. But it is relatively unimportant in the interpretation of national tendencies for it does not point the way American business is going. We are not going in the direction of the best, nor of the bad.

"However, in dealing with politics and business, the statement of a few qualifying facts may be a good way to begin the new year. There is nothing new or recent about the attempts of politicians and business to use and control each other. "An important cause of the American Revolution was the interfering efforts of government to control business. Some of the most predatory developments of business since that time have come from government's endeavor to help business. "The two fields have always been cleaner when kept apart. But there are seldom enough wise heads in each field at the same time to see this. When business—a certain type of business—is not trying to run government, government—a certain type of government—is trying to run business, with results invariably harmful and sometimes ruinous to both.

"It should be understood, therefore, that meddling with business for political reasons did not originate within the last five years. Politics became entangled in false social theories long before that.

"In McKinley's time Mark Hanna's full dinner pail was the bait used to catch votes—and it caught them. Mark Hanna was a business man. All of us youngsters were thrilled when the first Roosevelt attacked the 'economic royalists' of his day whom he more effectively named 'malefactors of great wealth'—he loosed his sling like little David at the Goliath 'interests'—and 'interests' became a great word with us because no one could define it.

"And then, by the relentless logic of development, which brings good and bad alike to flower, the

Boyce Named High Priest

Plymouth Masons will be interested to know that John A. Boyce, president of The Depositors' bank in Northville, has been named the new high priest of the King Cyrus chapter No. 133 of Detroit.

In an open letter addressed to "Companions", in the last issue of The Masonic World, Mr. Boyce outlines some of the particular goals the organization will strive for in the coming year. He says: "We are going to endeavor this year to make more work available for the membership. We have plans already under way for a Steward's club... the purpose of which is to develop special degree work and afford an opportunity for the development of new rituals."

City Commission Meets Monday

Seven special assessment rolls were confirmed by the city commission in a meeting Monday evening in the city hall. All of the rolls were small, the largest being made for a water main on Beach street for $418.93. The others included appropriations for sanitary sewers, storm sewers, sidewalk, and curb and gutter.

A resolution, thanking Mrs. Alice V. Strong and her committees, for their splendid work on the Christmas community fund, was passed by the commission. It was felt that the community Christmas this year was particularly well managed, and no complaint has been heard from any source. Otto Beyer was appointed by Mayor Hondorp to serve on the cemetery board, and the resignation of E. C. Hough from the planning commission was regrettably accepted.

In accordance with Act 285 of the Public Acts of 1931, an ordinance was passed establishing and regulating the city planning commission through its first and second reading.

City Manager C. H. Elliott was authorized by the city to purchase 1600 feet of four-inch cast iron water pipe to be used at Riverside cemetery for the new water distribution system.

Chinese Professor To Speak Here

Dr. Chiang, professor in Nanking University in China, will address listeners at the Community Fellowship hour at 7:30 o'clock at the Methodist church Sunday evening. This service is one of a series of monthly union meetings arranged by the First Baptist, Presbyterian, and Methodist churches.

Dr. Chiang, who is at present doing part time work as a professor and student at the University of Michigan, will speak on a subject of timely interest, "The Present Crisis in China". At 8:00 o'clock, preceding this service, there will be a union youth meeting at the Methodist church where John MacLachlan, of the Bell Telephone company, will show moving pictures, provided by that company, on "Making the World a Neighborhood". A luncheon and brief devotionals will precede the meeting. The public is cordially invited to attend both meetings.

WOMAN'S CLUB The Woman's Club of Plymouth will meet this afternoon for its first meeting of the new year in the Hotel Mayflower. The meeting will be called at 2:15 sharp and the president, Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, hopes to see as many members present as possible and hear the very Rev. Kirk B. O'Ferrell, dean of St. Paul's cathedral, Detroit, speak on "Interpreting Italy—1937". Mrs. Henry E. Baker is program chairman with the assisting committee, Mrs. John F. Root, Mrs. Walter Nichol, Mrs. J. J. McLaren and Mrs. Ada Murray.

whole entanglement became complete in what its sponsors call the New Deal.

"The New Deal is not political in origin. Its nucleus, the NRA, was the invention of business men—business men of a certain type. It was concocted in certain business counsels to attain certain businesslike ends, and business supported the candidate that agreed to accept it. This, of course, is ancient history now, but not so widely known as it should be.

"The question is, why did business want it? To answer that, first find what kind of business wanted it. There are two types of business man—the man who makes business, and the man who is made by business.

"To the first type, his business is his life, his character, his service; to the second, his business is mostly his meal ticket and social pedestal. The first will sacrifice almost anything rather than principle; the second will sacrifice almost anything for business.

"It is this second-string man—the man who was made by business—who is willing to shoulder his responsibilities on government and who takes a prominent part in weird political schemes of 'planned economy'. Not the old stalwarts, not the creators, not the inventive builders, but the follower, the imitator, the second-string man to whom business is a springboard to something more congenial. He is the only type of business man with whom politicians seem to be at ease.

"Because it promises to relieve him of the brain sweat and often agony of creative business management, because it assures profits on obsolete methods by some cost plus or price-fixing plan; because it promises to get rid of the competition of troublesome independent business men, and because ultimately it halts the natural American tendency to increase wages.

"Political control always does that. Monopoly and lower wages are its characteristics. Under the codes, these matters seemed to be beautifully arranged—Government called it 'co-operation' then; today it is 'criminal collusion'."

"So business got what it asked for, some will remark. Yes, only it was not representative business that did the asking—it was not business at its best. Those who asked doubtless got what they deserved, but the unfortunate consequences were not confined to them—American business in general was affected.

"And the political side of the matter? There was no statesmanship strong enough to refuse what was asked, because there was no statesmanship wise enough to know that what was asked was wrong. It was only shrewd enough to see that those who asked were soft and could be driven, and it has driven them.

"Usually in our history, when business has given signs of taking a wrong tack, statesmanship has been far sighted enough to guide it wisely back, and when legislation took a wrong tack, practical business sense could correct the error. But when poor political sense and poor business sense combine, the result is what we see—a whole flock of unwelcome chickens coming home to roost.

"No statesman has yet appeared who will see and say this: Policy still rules over principle; all the political aspirants accept the now overgrown and ready-to-burst economic and sociologic heresies.

"The ear of the nation is listening for a new voice, not the voice of one asking for office, but the voice of one who will at least warn us to consider our ways and be wise."

New Insurance Office Opened

Harold J. Curtis, new local manager of the Connecticut General Life Insurance company, who is located at 583 West Ann Arbor Trail, comes to Plymouth from Detroit where he has been located for the past 15 years. Mr. Curtis is widely known in Detroit, both in business and financial circles, and Plymouth citizens are glad to hear of his entry into business here. The Connecticut General Life Insurance company, founded in June, 1865, at Hartford, Connecticut, reports a two million dollar increase in business during the year of 1937 over the previous years, and one billion, one hundred million dollars in force. Among more than 300 United States life insurance companies, the Connecticut General Life rates fifteenth in size and enjoys a reputation for sound business methods and considerate treatment of all with whom it has business dealings.

With this thought in mind, the Plymouth office was opened, and it will, furthermore, mean a new convenience to the policy holders in this vicinity. In addition to all the standard forms of life insurance, the Connecticut General issue group insurance of all kinds, accident insurance and annuities.

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 4): "To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done."

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH—Loyla Sutherland, pastor. At 10:00 o'clock the pastor gives the third in a series of talks on "Growing Together in The Christian Family." We shall discuss some of the religious elements in the growing life, especially love and reverence, also religion as a way of life in the home. This entire month is set aside by our denomination as missionary month. We shall give emphasis to missions hereafter for the remaining Sundays. Because of this emphasis it is most fitting for our people that this Sunday night Prof. Chiang of Nanking University will be the speaker for the Union Fellowship service to be held Sunday evening at the Methodist church. Prof. Chiang will have a message indeed for this hour in which his own land is being thrust into war. For the young people's hour we are to have John R. MacLachlan, local manager of the telephone company. Mr. MacLachlan will speak on the subject, "Making the World a Neighborhood" and will show moving pictures of the use of the telephone all around the world. Remember this is for all the young people. Meet promptly at 6:00 o'clock at the Methodist church. The monthly meeting of our missionary society will be held next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ida Stanley. Also, the aid society meets at Mrs. Stanley's home on Thursday afternoon. Mid-week prayer and study service Wednesday evening at 7:30.

The pastor will bring a message on "Signs That Jesus Foretold for Our Times". The Sunday school session follows at 11:45 a.m. Prayer meeting, Wednesday evening, 8:00 p.m., at the parsonage. Next Thursday, January 13, the Ladies' Auxiliary society will convene at the home of Mrs. Charles Payne in Salem for dinner at 12 o'clock. All in the community are cordially invited to the dinner and meeting in the afternoon. We wish all our members and friends God's richest blessing upon the new year.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN church. Walter Nichol, pastor. 10:00 a.m. Sunday school; 11:00 a.m. worship; 6:30 p.m., young people. The young people of this church will meet with other young people of the community at the Methodist church Sunday evening at 8:00 p.m. The program, two reels of pictures promises to be one of fine interest. There will be a supper for the young people to be followed by the illustrated program. At 7:30 p.m. Professor Chiang of the University of Nanking, China, will speak to the union Sunday evening congregation. This address should be of unusual interest to the community young and not so young. The leadership training school will open Wednesday, January 12. A supper will be served by the women of this church. Rev. Dr. R. C. Stanger of Bethel Evangelical church, Detroit, will be the speaker at the opening meeting. Churches of Northville, Novi, Newburg, Salem and Plymouth are invited to join in this school. For five Wednesday evenings, classes in four courses will be conducted. ## Famous Woman Explorer To Speak In Detroit Next Week

On January 12, exactly one year from the date of the tragic airplane crash which cost Martin Johnson his life, Osa Johnson comes to the Detroit town hall in the Fisher theatre to tell some of the highlights of a career which has sent her to the wildest jungles and the "never-never lands" of the world. The famous woman explorer, who recently headed a Hollywood movie expedition into darkest Africa, will lecture at 11 o'clock with her exclusive moving picture, "Jungles Calling"—films packed with the most thrilling highlights from the Johnsons' adventuresome career.

During 27 years Osa and her famous husband spent only three in civilization. Together they circled the globe six times on important expeditions and explored the vanishing frontiers in Africa, Australia, India, the South Seas and Borneo. In Africa, they set up the only permanent home they ever had, near Nairobi, Kenya Colony, and started those long safaris, first on foot, later by motor car and eventually by air, that left such an exhaustive record of the animal and native life of the Dark Continent.

Such motion pictures as "Simba" on the life of the lion, "Congorilla" on the gorilla of the Belgian Congo and "Baboons" resulted, together with a host of books: "Lion", "Safari", "Camera Trails in Africa", "Over African Jungles". Mrs. Johnson wrote a couple of books on baby animals, "Jungle Babies" and "Jungle Pets". The pygmies of the Ituri forest made a sound record, the first to come out of Africa, the Lumwa natives, armed only with bows and arrows went on a lion kill, the Turkanas came to their rescue near desolate Lake Rudolf.

From Africa they went to Borneo, taking one of their amphibian planes re-christened "Spirit of Africa and Borneo" and their picture of Borneo was the last to be made before Martin Johnson's fatal accident.

Tickets are on sale now at Grinnell's Music store, Detroit.

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

EVERYBODY HUNTS FOR HONEY

SUCH a funny time as there was in the Green Forest. All, or nearly all, the little people who wear fur went about with their heads up until you would have thought that their necks would have ached. Perhaps they did, but no one seemed to care. Only Jimmy Skunk and Prickly Porky went about their business just as usual. When they met their neighbors gazing up into tree tops they would laugh and say to themselves: "How foolish!"

What did it all mean? Why, just this: Everybody was hunting for the storehouse of Busy Bee. Yes, sir, that is just what everybody but Prickly Porky and Jimmy Skunk was doing. And the funny part is that no one wanted any one else to know what he was doing, yet everybody knew. You see, it was this way: Buster Bear, who had come to live in the Green Forest, is very, very fond of honey. Buster is so big and has such great, cruel looking claws, and such long, sharp teeth, and such a deep, fierce sounding growl, that nearly all the little people who lived in the Green Forest, or sometimes came up from the Green Meadows to visit there, were afraid, very much afraid of him. Jimmy Skunk wasn't. Jimmy isn't afraid of anybody.

Now it happens that Buster Bear had given Reddy Fox a terrible scare when Reddy was trying to catch Jumper the Hare, and Jumper had wished that he could do something in return for Buster. Buster had asked Jumper to keep his eyes open for the storehouse of Busy Bee, for he was very, very hungry for some honey, and Jumper had gladly promised that he would, though he didn't think there was much chance that he would find it, because, you know, Busy Bee usually chooses a hollow high up in a tree, and Jumper cannot climb trees.

Sammy Jay had heard all this and straightaway Sammy had made up his mind that he would find that honey and tell Buster Bear and so make Buster Bear his friend.

Then he remembered how terribly frightened Reddy Fox had been when he met Buster Bear. Sammy had made fun of Reddy and called him bad names, and so they were anything but friends. But now that he had had his fun at Reddy's expense, Sammy wanted to make up with Reddy. You know, they are both scamps, and usually it is best for scamps to be friends. Here was a chance to make up with Reddy. He would tell Reddy how he could make Buster Bear his friend by finding some honey for him, and Reddy would be so grateful that he would forget his quarrel with Sammy.

It all worked out as Sammy had planned. Reddy was so much afraid of Buster Bear that he was willing to do almost anything to make him his friend, so when Sammy told him that he knew a way, Reddy wanted to know what it was. Sammy told him and Reddy started off right away with his head tipped back looking up in the tree tops for signs of Busy Bee. Sammy Jay cackled, for Sammy meant to find that honey himself, and he knew that Reddy Fox, being unable to climb, would have very little chance to find it. But Reddy is smart. Yes, sir, he is smart. He knew just as well as Sammy did that he hadn't much chance for finding that store of honey himself, so he went to Happy Jack Squirrel and to Chatterer the Red Squirrel, who knew all the hollow trees, and promised them that if they would find the one where Busy Bee was storing her honey and would tell him, he would promise not to try to catch them any more. They wondered what Reddy could want with honey, but, of course, they agreed to hunt for the hollow tree with the honey. Then they discovered Jumper the Hare looking up in the tree tops, and he told them how he was hunting for honey for Buster Bear. Right away they guessed why Reddy wanted it, and made up their minds that they would tell Buster themselves if they found it, and so make him their friend. Of course, news like that travels, and pretty soon everybody who was afraid of Buster was hunting for honey.

Army Head Is Promoted

At a New Year's eve service on Friday evening, Lieut. Kenneth Larsen of the Salvation Army announced the promotion of Lieut. Edwin Alder to the rank of captain, made by the commissioner of this territory.

Lunch was served by the ladies of the corps earlier in the evening, and the 30 minutes before midnight were spent in noting advancements and new and higher ideals were fixed for 1938. Congratulations were renewed and pledges made by everyone to attain the new standards set by the corps. During this service the auditorium was in complete darkness except for an illuminated cross, and music was heard from the piano.

The schedule for the coming week is as follows: Friday night a social for the cast of the Christmas play; Sunday school on Sunday at 10:00 a.m.; Holiness meeting at 11:00 a.m.; Young People's legion at 6:15 p.m.; open-air service at 7:15; and inside Salvation meeting at 7:45. Thursday afternoon, Ladies' Home league will meet at 2:00 o'clock; junior singing practice at 4:30 p.m.; and Corps Cadet class at 7:30 p.m. A hearty welcome is extended to everyone.

British police arrest an average of 300 persons a month for failing to have radio licenses.

Farmall Tractor owners will tell you that horse-drawn machinery is needless. Farmall Tractors do more work in the field each day with their up-to-the-minute power, and when night comes, they snap the switch and call it a day.

Ask us to bring a Farmall out to your farm for a demonstration.
