

Daisy Worker Over-40 Average One of Highest

Comparative Record Shows That It Even Beats Ford

A recent radio broadcast of William Cameron of the Ford Motor company in which he enumerated with considerable pride the fact that Ford employs a very large number of men over the age of 40 years, attracted national attention because of the facts stated.

But comparative figures with the Daisy Manufacturing company of this city, which employs on an average of 218 people shows a much higher average of elderly people on the Daisy payroll than on the Ford payroll. Few factories in the country can boast of a record anywhere near as favorable as Ford's, but still the Daisy comparative record far exceeds that of the Ford company.

Of the 218 Daisy employees, there are 38 who are between the ages of 40 and 50. There are 26 between the ages of 50 and 60 and 14 between the ages of 60 and 70. There are 10 employed who are over the age of 70. This makes a total of 84 out of the 218 who are working for the Daisy and are over the age of 40 years, a remarkable record.

The Ford record of employment of men over the age of 40 according to federal figures, is the highest of any company in the country. The Ford average of workers employed over 40 is 35 percent while that of the Daisy company of this city is 38 and one-half points. It is a record that not only the Daisy company, but the city has reason to be proud of.

Women Voters To Meet Feb. 11

The Plymouth League of Women Voters will hold its regular meeting Friday, February 11, at 2:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Clara Patterson Todd on Ann Arbor Trail. Mrs. Ray Johns will report on the seminar given in Detroit last week by Dr. Lindeman. Mrs. Maurice Woodworth will give a special report on the international situation. There will also be an account given of the Citizens' Education conference at Lansing last Wednesday. Mrs. Bruce Woodbury will give a talk on "Milk", a subject on which she is unusually well informed. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Clarence Elliott.

The January meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Louise Mulford was very instructive, and concluded with tea served most graciously by Mrs. Mulford. The members who attend meetings regularly are profiting much by the information given to aid them in becoming more intelligent voters.

Unlicensed Dogs Will Be Killed

In an effort to cut down the large number of cases of rabies that have developed in this vicinity in the past several months, Chief of Police V. R. Smith warns Plymouth citizens that all dogs found without City of Plymouth licenses will be destroyed without attempting to find the owner of the animal.

Six persons in the last six weeks have had to undergo the Pasteur treatment, he said. Contrary to most beliefs, rabies are more prevalent in winter months than in summer.

First Robin Comes From The South

Maybe prosperity isn't just around the corner, but every sign points to the fact that spring is here, as Charles Greenlaw reports having seen the first robin of the year the other morning.

"Yes, sir, there it sat, up in a big maple tree on Main street, chirping away just like it would in June," said Mr. Greenlaw.

"It was that morning when it started to warm up a bit, but the wind was blowing cold and before night that robin must have had to go back south as it turned pretty cold," declared Mr. Greenlaw.

Anyway, it is a sure sign that spring is just around the corner.

Bob Baughn Enlarges Heating Capacity

Robert Baughn has recently completed the installation of a new boiler at his greenhouse just off South Main street. The new heating plant will enable him to provide heat for over 12,000 square feet of indoor gardens. While his greenhouses now cover 7,500 feet, he has increased his heating capacity in anticipation of expansion in the not too distant future. His greenhouses not only supply the Rosebud Flower shops with all of its blossoms and plants, but he also provides a large supply for the Detroit market.

Minister Tells Of New Problems Of The Church

Rev. Closson Back From Chicago Conference

Rev. Stanford Closson, minister of the First Methodist church of Plymouth, has returned from Chicago where he had the distinct honor of being a participant in the United Methodist Council that has just closed its sessions in that city. Both new and old problems confronting the Christian faith were discussed. Gambling has reached alarming proportions, the Methodists believe. They actually seek the return of national prohibition. "The organization of economic justice," also was written into Methodist goals by the United Methodist Council, perhaps not a new note for the denomination which originated the famed "Social Creed of the Churches" in 1912.

Methodist leaders from all over the United States including Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, senior bishop of Washington, D. C., Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of Omaha, many other bishops, the Rev. Dr. Roy L. Smith of Los Angeles, the Rev. Dr. Merton S. Rice of Detroit, and laymen including the Hon. Alf M. Landon, a member of First Church, Topeka, Kansas, addressed the council.

This gathering was a principal observance of the 200th anniversary of the conversion of John Wesley, founder of the Methodist movement, which occurred May 24, 1738. Observances will continue five months, reaching a climax on Sunday, May 22, and ending with Pentecost Sunday, June 5.

The United Methodist Council worked through sectional meetings which were organized along functional lines. Members were pastors, laymen, lay women, young people, church administrators, college presidents and other church workers. Each group tried to chart the future of Christian faith and of its particular type of service.

The educators felt that the complexities of modern civilization makes necessary a new type of education for the ministry. "The problem of our society," they said, "is the problem of the character of the social control we shall set up. In the average community society is in danger of disintegrating into fragments."

The young people said that the church must insist upon the maintenance of freedom of expression and action for all people. The women agreed that the home is the center of religious faith and pledged themselves to renewal of family worship, and the use of the home as a center for evangelism.

Episcopal Church To Aid Shriners

The Rev. W. R. Blachford would like to announce to the Episcopalians of Plymouth that February 13 is the date set by the bishop of the diocese for special contributions in aid of the suffering Chinese people. This money is not for restoration of destroyed churches or schools. Its purpose is relief of body suffering. Special envelopes will be supplied at service time.

Basil Cline Jr. Weds Northville Girl

Miss Katherine McKenna of Northville and Basil F. Cline, Jr. of this city were married Friday, February 4, at the Neil Hannaford home in Northville. The young couple, who have many friends in both communities, will reside in St. Louis, Missouri.

No Extension On License Plates After March 1

Chief Vaughan Smith Has No Choice Except Enforce Law

Plymouth auto drivers who have not secured their new 1938 licenses by March 1 had better put their cars up until they get them as Chief Vaughan Smith or none of the other law enforcing officers can this year grant any extension whatsoever.

The license law has been so changed that March 1 is the deadline. That date is now in the law. It was changed because of the discovery in past years of thousands of people who took advantage of the continuous extensions granted and drove their old cars nearly two years on a one year license.

"No one can change that deadline but a lot of drivers apparently don't believe it," said Secretary of State Leon D. Case. "These persons are going to learn March 1 that the state now has an auto license deadline that really means something."

Only 110,000 out of 608,000 owners of registered motor vehicles in Wayne county have obtained 1938 plates to date. The 608,000 registration included 533,654 passenger cars, 47,268 commercial cars and the remainder in trailers and motorcycles.

All offices of the secretary of state have been prepared for weeks past to give comfortable and expeditious service to all seekers of licenses. Appeals for early buying have been made by Secretary Case through newspaper and radio publicity but the public has remained apathetic and the various offices have had but little to do.

As the result Secretary Case predicts the worst last minute rush for license plates in the history of Michigan.

"Unemployment, of course, has caused many car owners to postpone purchase of plates," said Secretary Case. "I am convinced, however, that there are many thousands of persons who have been able to get plates but have just neglected to do so. If all those still without plates make application it would be utterly impossible for us to take care of them. Thousands will be without plates March 1. Many other thousands who get plates will do so only after taking turn in long lines outside of our offices. For their sake I hope the weatherman cooperates with mild temperatures."

Ladies' Night For Rotarians

Members of the Rotary club and their ladies last Friday evening enjoyed something entirely different and something new for club members. It was a buffet bridge dinner at the Mayflower hotel. When President John Blickenstaff turned the affair over to a special committee, little did he realize that such a pleasant program would be carried out. Those who did not care to play bridge, had the opportunity of taking part in some domino contests in which Charles Bennett revealed himself to be sort of all-Plymouth champion domino player. Prizes were awarded for high scores in bridge. Three high school students presented a number of excellent musical numbers during the early part of the evening.

Plymouth Skater Wins High Place In Mid-West Fancy Skating Contest

MISS PHYLLIS ROTNOUR

Miss Phyllis Rotnour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Rotnour, and champion Plymouth fancy ice skater during her high school days, returned from Cleveland Saturday night with new honors among fancy ice skaters from all parts of the country—she won fifth place in the Mid-West Ice Carnival held in that city last Friday and Saturday.

It was her first appearance among the top-notch amateur fancy ice skaters of America and to win a place among the best in her first appearance in this group is an outstanding distinction.

Miss Rotnour recently won first honors in The Detroit Times fancy skating contest held in Detroit.

Kiwanians Hear Detroit Minister

Members of the Kiwanis club had the privilege of hearing the Rev. W. Perkins of the Cass Avenue Methodist church in Detroit at their regular meeting at the Mayflower hotel Tuesday evening.

Rev. Perkins, introduced by Carvel Bentley, chairman of the evening's program, spoke on the work of his somewhat unusual church in one of the heaviest populated centers in the city. He told how his church had ceased to be a church in the general sense and become one of the largest local centers in boys' and girls' work, having a membership of over 1500 active young people.

He explained how he has provided exceptional facilities for recreation all the year round and what system he employs in formal and religious education. As a result of these methods, they have won the young people into the church, rather than forcing them to attend church and Sunday school. Rev. Perkins explained also how, according to police statistics, juvenile delinquency has been reduced 70 percent in that district.

Lieutenant Governor Jerry Neuhaus of this district from Chelsea, will be present at the next meeting of the club Tuesday evening. All Kiwanians are urged to attend. One hundred percent attendance is desired.

Display Papers Of Civil War Days

In the display window of the Dodge drug store is an especially interesting and timely display of copies of Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper. The paper shows views made at the time of Abraham Lincoln's assassination. The papers are original copies of the famous Leslie's Illustrated of Civil War days. Frank Burrows, who loaned the papers to Mr. Dodge, has almost a complete file of these original Leslie's Illustrated Newspapers covering the entire period of the Civil War. The pictures have attracted much attention among people passing along Main street.

Mrs. William Greer was hostess at a luncheon, Wednesday, to her sewing club.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Ray Gilder and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Olin and son, Dickie, will spend Saturday and Sunday in Battle Creek, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Lacy, former residents of Plymouth.

Three More Leave For Florida

When the sun comes up Saturday morning over the Atlantic coast and casts its bright rays over the palm trees of Florida, there will be basking in its warmth three more Plymouth residents. Russell Powell, David Bolton and William Pettingill, having left early Thursday morning for the southlands.

Mr. Powell will join Mrs. Pettingill at Miami Beach, where she recently went to be with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lush after an interesting trip to Mexico City.

Russell and David expect to go on down to Key West where they will try some of the fishing off the docks at that place. Both of these enthusiastic followers of Isaac Walton who have tried deep sea fishing are not so enthusiastic about it. Following a fishing trip off the tip end of Florida, they expect to visit some of the interesting places in Florida before returning home late in February.

Detroit Editor Is Woman's Club Speaker

The Woman's Club of Plymouth held a very interesting afternoon, Friday, in the Hotel Mayflower when the Northville chorus, directed by Leslie Lee, very ably sang three numbers and Lee A. White of the Detroit News gave a very instructive talk on the way news of various forms is sent to the paper, questions asked of The News and how they handle same. Mr. White said ideas differ in different states in regard to the freedom of the press, one bill which had originated in one house was killed in another, the reason for that being that the bill restrained the press. This is the only country that has an uncontrolled press, one in which editors can print what they deem is right.

Mr. White prefaced his talk by quoting "Taint so much not knowing 'as knowing so much that ain't so" and closed with "If an ass looks in the mirror can't he see an ass look out."

Tea was served by Mrs. William Kaiser and her committee. The next regular meeting will be held on Friday afternoon, February 18.

Mrs. Mark Hubert and daughter, Margaret, of Charlotte, and Mrs. Russell Estill, of Lansing, who attended the funeral of their cousin, Mrs. Eldon Kracht, Tuesday, were supper guests of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stoneburner.

Plymouth's Lincoln Day Dinner For Charity A Record Event

Dinner Menu Delights Vast Crowd

Mayflower Staff Wins Praise For Efficiency

New honors and glory came to Plymouth's popular Mayflower hotel Wednesday night when the hotel staff under the direction of Manager Clair Maben served an over-flow crowd of 600 people or more, in no longer a time than it takes to serve a regular dinner. Naturally there was plenty of hurry, but there was no confusion, no bungling, no crashing of dishes, and as usual at the Mayflower, everybody had all they wanted to eat.

Those splendid boiled potatoes came from the Schrader farm, popularly known as Schrader's buffalo ranch. They were boiled with their jackets on. And how the vast crowd enjoyed them!

The salt pork was specially prepared in Northville. Mrs. Harry Clark of Base Line road, popularly known as one of the best cooks in this part of the state, gave to Manager Maben her recipe for frying pork so that it was most delicious. E. M. Eogart of Northville, a descendant of one of the first families to locate in this part of the state, prepared the pork and his method is the one used in the long ago, and never did salt pork taste better than the large portions served at the Lincoln charity dinner at the Mayflower.

The corn bread, plenty of it for all, was also specially prepared from a recipe so long used by the mother of Mrs. Maben of the hotel.

It is needless to say much more about the menu. A 50-cent piece bought what, to hundreds, was a better dinner of good, substantial food than was enjoyed by the public office holders who ate boneless squab roasted in kingly fashion at $25 per plate.

Apparently, it was just the plainness of it all that proved so popular with the crowd. The Michigan beans came from Clinton county. The corn meal used was the product of counties in the central part of the state. The maple syrup came from Eaton county. The sugar was the product of Michigan sugar beet fields. The milk came from dairies about Plymouth.

Even the paper dishes used were Michigan produced, being manufactured in Monroe.

Words of "Michigan, My Michigan" sung at the dinner, were written by Douglas Mallock, a former Muskegon resident, who has gained national distinction as the "lumberman's poet". Mr. Mallock now resides in Chicago. Orlow Owens of Northville led the singing.

Mrs. Ida Mae Hendrix, 82-year-old voter of Northville township, was probably the oldest person at the banquet. No one more thoroughly enjoyed the event than did Mrs. Hendrix.

Many freely commented that this was one dinner that everybody felt free to attend. The price was low, the meal was substantial—in fact, it was an affair just for plain, good everyday folks. That is the way everybody who attended felt about it.

Plymouth's police department did a good job in helping the hundreds of auto drivers to find parking places. Every available parking place for blocks about the hotel was filled.

Valentine Tea At Methodist Church

A silver Valentine tea is being planned by Circle No. 4 of the Methodist Ladies' Aid in the dining rooms of the church for Thursday afternoon, February 17, at 2:30.

An interesting and varied program, consisting of music, specialty dancing, and a demonstration and discussion of antique glassware will be presented. The public is cordially invited to attend.

TOTALS LATER

Because of the fact that all returns had not been made Thursday forenoon by members of the Lincoln day dinner ticket committee, it will be impossible until next week to state just how much there is to turn over to the King's Daughters of Northville and the Plymouth School Children's Aid Fund. Jack Taylor and Lisle Alexander are handling the funds and will be able to make the report for next week's issue of The Mail.

February 18 Is Date Fixed For Annual J-Hop

Students Plan Something New And Different

The Plymouth high school gymnasium will be the scene of much frivolity on Friday evening, February 18, from 9:00 until 1:00 o'clock. The annual J-Hop is to be presented by the class of 1939.

The theme of the party is that of an ocean liner coming into the harbor, lighthouses and buoys lining the side walls of the gymnasium. The reception room will be a travel bureau. Del Delbridge and Ray Gorrell present Eddie Minich and his orchestra.

No one will be allowed to attend the party if he does not have an invitation. If a person wishes to secure one of these, he must submit his name and address to one of the following persons: Mary Jane Parmalee, Rockwell Smith, Betty Smith, Annabelle Brown, Joyce Shoemaker, Lorraine Welch, Shirley Sorenson, or Mary Katharine Moon.

A large crowd is expected in spite of the dance coming so soon after the Senior Prom.

The date is February 18 from 9:00 to 1:00 o'clock.

To Paint Mural On P. O. Wall

An early day street scene in Plymouth will, in the very near future, be painted on the western wall of the postoffice lobby, states Postmaster Frank Learned who has been advised of the awarding of a contract by the government for the work. The entire interior of the postoffice is being decorated for the first time since its completion, the work being done by some Ohio painting and decorating contractor.

The mural that will be painted will in part be taken from an old time photograph of Main street, showing the arrival of the stage coach bringing mail to Plymouth from Detroit.

In the old days, the arrival of the stage with the mail sack was always the outstanding daily event in the town.

Marion Tefft In College Play

Miss Marion L. Tefft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Tefft, will play a leading part in the play, "Pharaoh's Daughter", to be given Sunday night, February 13, at the First Methodist church in Ypsilanti.

Miss Tefft, who plays the part of Amarna-Ra, an Egyptian princess, is one among 30 people in the cast which is directed by Miss Floy L. Edison, associate professor of speech at State Normal college in Ypsilanti.

Hundreds Are Unable To Secure Tickets

Popular Interest In Affair Was Big Surprise

Plymouth's first Lincoln day charity dinner, given for two purposes, one to assist in raising funds to aid the children who are in distress due to unemployment of their parents the other purpose being to rebuke publicly the present office holders for their recent $25 and $100 banquet feasts for the purpose of raising money for questionable election purposes, was a far greater success than anyone had ever dreamed it would be.

The 500 tickets were entirely sold Wednesday morning. So insistent was the demand that even the few that had been retained for expected outside visitors were taken. Some 100 or more "crashed the gate" so to speak, and many hundreds more were turned away because there was not sufficient room to take care of the crowd.

It is needless to say that it was without question the largest banquet ever held in Wayne county outside the city of Detroit.

The plain food, and the spirit that prompted the event seemed to hit almost spontaneous public approval.

It was evident several days ago that the crowd would be far greater than could be accommodated in the upstairs dining rooms of the Mayflower hotel, so the banquet committee was forced to take immediate steps to provide larger accommodations. There had been a suggestion of going to the high school auditorium. Then the big basement of the Mayflower hotel was visited and it was figured out that this place would provide a much greater seating capacity than the school.

Steps were immediately taken to place it in order and when the work was finished the afternoon of the dinner, there was a vast dining room ready for almost 500 guests. The over-flow was taken care of in the hotel's main dining rooms.

The program, devoted entirely to an appeal to restoration of common sense and honesty in state and national government affairs, was as interesting as the menu proved to be delicious.

The committee invited all four prominent Republican leaders who have been mentioned as possible candidates for governor as well as those who have announced their candidacy, to be guests at the event.

All were present except Harry Toy, who had previous to the receipt of the committee's invitation, accepted another one.

James F. Thomson, prominent farm leader and chairman of the Republican state central committee, acted as toastmaster. Melville McPherson, another prominent farm leader, who has been on the state tax commission and is regarded as one of Michigan's best posted tax experts, was the first speaker. Mrs. Fred T. Murphy brought greetings from women voters.

The other speakers were Hon. Frank D. Fitzgerald, former governor, Chester O'Hara, who convicted high county officials a few years ago of the notorious attempt to change thousands of votes in order to control a state election, and O. L. Smith, former prosecuting attorney of Great Lakes county, deputy attorney general for a number of years, later United States district attorney and now one of Detroit's outstanding lawyers. Mr. Smith's address was an earnest plea for the return of all that is good and decent in the administration of public affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Van Vleck of 248 Union street are the proud parents of an eight pound and 12 ounce baby boy, Charles Evans, born Thursday, February 4, at Ford hospital in Detroit. Both mother and son are doing nicely. They will return to Plymouth Sunday or Monday.

IT IS A GOOD SIGN.

In these troublesome times one of the most hopeful signs for the future is the spirit of cooperation on the part of the people who still retain the true American ideals. The old neighborly spirit, the willingness to extend a helping hand to those in need is not dead, not about here anyway.

Many, many cases have come to the attention of The Mail during recent weeks of assistance freely and gladly given by neighbors and associates to those in distress. Thank God, there are some people who still believe in fighting their own battles, even though it sometimes looks most discouraging.

The other day a family in need was discovered by two women, who themselves do not find it an easy matter to get along in this world. Did they pass by and say let some one better off than we are look after the parents and children in need? No, they did not. From their own meager funds they purchased food that the family needed so badly.

This is not just an isolated case, there are hundreds of them about here, hundreds of neighbors who have sacrificed a bit so that their more unfortunate acquaintances might have the bare necessities of life. It is this spirit of sacrifice, this spirit of neighborly devotion to the welfare of others that is bound to bring the nation out of the mess it is in.

"ALL—I OWE TO MY ANGEL MOTHER."

A little girl, reared in poverty in the backwoods of Virginia, destined for a brief and none too happy life, was to grow up and bear a child whose career more than fulfilled her highest dreams for him.

Born at Patterson's Creek, Virginia, in 1784, Nancy Hanks went at the age of twelve to live with her aunt and uncle, Thomas and Elizabeth Sparrow, in Mercer county, Virginia. She had a chance to attend school there, and made the most of it. In a community where many of the men could neither read nor write, she learned to do both.

She was skilled at needlework, too, and hired out to families in the neighborhood. Though she worked for wages she was never regarded as a servant, but sat at table with the household wherever she went. Report says she was tall and handsome, with a frank, open countenance and a voice pleasing both when she sang and when she talked.

A young apprentice named Thomas Lincoln was learning the trade as carpentry in the shop of Joseph Hanks, uncle of Nancy. The two young people were attracted to each other, and were married on June 12, 1806. Thomas took his bride home to a tiny house fourteen feet square.

He could not write his own name until the ambitious Nancy taught him how. But his ambition could not keep pace with hers. Her disappointment at his easy-going ways was forgotten in her children; first, a little girl, Sarah; then, in 1809, the son known to history as Abraham Lincoln.

Between this child and this backwoods mother there was a powerful bond of sympathy. They understood each other

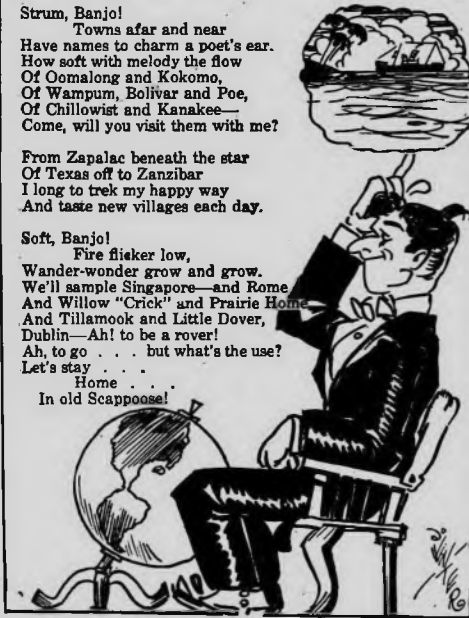

Wander Wishing

BY JAMES LEWIS, M.A.

Strum, Banjo!
Towns afar and near
Have names to charm a poet's ear.
How soft with melody the flow
Of Omalong and Kokomo,
Of Wampum, Bolivar and Poe,
Of Chilliwist and Kanakee—
Come, will you visit them with me?

From Zapalac beneath the star
Of Texas off to Zanzibar
I long to trek my happy way
And taste new villages each day.

Soft, Banjo!
Fire flicker low,
Wander-wonder grow and grow.
We'll sample Singapore—and Rome
And Willow "Crick" and Prairie Home
And Tillamook and Little Dover,
Dublin—Ah! to be a rover!
Ah, to go . . . but what's the use?
Let's stay
Home . . .
In old Scappoose!

without words. Perhaps she felt in him her own fierce hunger for learning, for a larger, richer world.

She was thirty-four years old, and Abraham Lincoln was nine, when she fell ill of an epidemic disease known in southern Indiana (to which the family had migrated) as the milk sickness. In seven days she was dead.

Abraham helped his father to make her coffin out of green lumber cut with a whipsaw, helped to bury her in a forest clearing. There was no ceremony. This troubled the boy until several months later, they secured a wandering preacher to deliver a funeral sermon over the lonely grave.

His mother's influence stayed with him always, and was voiced in that most famous of filial epitaphs: "All that I am or hope to be, I owe to my angel mother."

WHAT A SCHOOL CAN DO.

When you have heard a great symphony orchestra play, doubtless one of the things that impressed you was the intense interest of each musician. Every move made by the players is with exact precision. In fact, their seemingly amazing interest in the music they are producing is almost as delightful a feature as the music itself.

Recently, Plymouth was represented at the charter presentation to a new Rotary club in Oxford, a fine little rural community in the northern end of Oakland county.

One of the features of the evening's program was a series of musical numbers by the Oxford school band.

As these 50 or more youngsters entered upon their part of the evening's program the nearly 400 guests gathered from all over this part of Michigan and Ontario, were immediately surprised at the rapt attention these boys and girls were giving to the thing they were about to do.

Like veteran symphony orchestra players, these youngsters presented to the Rotarians one of the finest band musical programs they had ever heard. There was no laughing, no giggling, no horse play. Just like old time symphony orchestra players, these school children seemed to regard their place in the band as a distinct honor to them. It is doubtful if there are many band organizations of any kind in Michigan that can compare in any way with the Oxford school band.

After the evening's program had ended, it was learned that the little Oxford school some two or three years ago had won second national honors in a band contest held in Oklahoma among schools from all parts of the United States.

Oxford is to be congratulated for maintaining such a fine school organization. The boys and girls are not only entitled to congratulations but outstanding praise as well because of their accomplishments and conduct, denoting the outstanding musicians that they are.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

ILL FIX IT

Last week an up-state member of the state legislature, in Lansing to attend the sessions of the state association of supervisors, parked his motor car in the area at the rear of the capitol building. He had done this before but since he was last in Lansing the superintendent of the grounds had banned all parking except for a few places assigned to high public officials. When the supervisors closed their business session the up-state legislator failed to find his car. He reported its loss only to discover that it had been towed away out of town and impounded in the state highway garage.

Promptly a minor office holder wrote these circumstances to the other members of the legislature. He cautioned them about the trap but closed his words of caution by suggesting that if the members would come to his office whenever they desired to park their cars, he, the minor office holder would "fix it".

If there is one evil more than another from which this state and this nation suffers today, it is the ability of cheap politicians to "fix things". Fixers are found everywhere. They infest the liquor control administration; a grand jury is being discussed to smoke them out of the purchasing division; jobs are sold; contracts awarded, all through this business of "fixing". And for it all the taxpayer

RIGHT ABOUT THIS.

Petitions are being circulated in various counties of the state asking that five county offices, sheriff, prosecutor, clerk, treasurer and register of deeds, be put on four-year tenures. Better not be too hasty in signing. Two-year terms have been far too long for some of these officers—as you can readily recall.—Charles Seed in The Rochester Clarion.

LIGHT for a low-ceilinged Recreation Room

★ ★ A ROOM with a very low ceiling—such as a basement recreation room—presents a special lighting problem. The lighting fixtures used in a room of ordinary height may hang as much as 12 to 18 inches from the ceiling. These are obviously impractical here.

There are three solutions—any or all of which may be used, depending on the size of the room to be lighted. A recessed glass panel almost flush with the ceiling will provide good general illumination, when used in conjunction with other lighting and eliminate any danger of bumping one's head on the usual projecting type of light fixture. Wall brackets are another possibility. Graceful new plastic wall urns are an attractive variation of the usual shaded bracket, and supply a good quality of indirect illumination. Finally, there are floor lamps and table lamps with a reflector bowl under the shade to diffuse the light. These have the advantage of being portable, and may be used alone or in combination with the other two types of lighting fixtures mentioned above.

For helpful suggestions on your home lighting, call in a Detroit Edison Home Lighting Advisor. He will show you how to measure your lighting with the Sight Meter, and help you with any lighting problem you may have. If you wish, he will make a complete lighting survey of your house, and give you expert advice on types and arrangement of lamps, fixtures, etc. No charge or obligation! This is part of our service.

Prison Life Goes Over "The Air"

Vast numbers of people in this part of Michigan were virtually taken right "behind the bars" of The Detroit House of Correction Saturday evening by Duncan Moore of radio station WJR when he dramatized prison life as it is out at the Plymouth institution. Radio listeners heard some of the regular routine of prison life, they heard the stories of inmates, who always profess innocence, and they heard the stern but good advice of Captain Edward Denniston and Deputy Warden Blake Gillies to the inmates.

As the thousands of WJR listeners sat about their radios, they learned of the way troubles between inmates within the prison are settled. Deputy Warden Gillies in these affairs assumes the role of prosecutor, defender, jury and judge and his verdict is final.

There was the story of the oldest woman inmate in the institution, serving life for murder, then came the tale of a dope victim who declared that her prison term was proving of benefit to her.

The brief story of life behind prison walls as so ably presented by Duncan Moore was as interesting a radio program as there has been on the air in many a day.

Maccabees Have Installation

About 70 friends and members of the Lady Maccabees were in attendance at the installation of officers Wednesday evening, February 3, when Lady Ethel Emerson of Detroit was installed as the new commander.

After a few words of welcome by the retiring commander, Grace Martin, and the singing of "America", Dorothy Roland and George Rathburn, both Junior Maccabees with 10 uninformed members of the Emerson guard team acted as escorts to the installing officers, Ladies Mable Dicks as supreme installing officer, Alicia Estep as supreme mistress-at-arms and Dora Wood as supreme chaplain.

Other officers installed were: Past commander, Elsie Campbell; lieutenant commander, Grace Martin; record keeper, Edna Magraw; chaplain, Elsie Bovee; sergeant, Bessie Salow; mistress-at-arms, Clara Mumby; first lady of the guards, Vaneta Aigue; second lady of the guards, Mary G. Sackett; sentinel, Mary T. Sackett; picket, Elizabeth Smith; banner bearers, Ethel Micol, Ethel Grammel and Elicia Eckles; musician, Thelma Spring.

In appreciation for her services, Lady Dicks was presented with a gift from the Hive by the retiring commander, Lady Martin, and she in turn for her faithful work for the past year was presented with a gift. Lady Ethel Emerson made the presentation and spoke briefly to the members of the Hive, as their new commander.

The meeting was then turned over to Lady Winifred Downing, chairman of the entertainment committee, who presented a very interesting program. She first introduced the Stevens sisters, Thelma and Martha, who entertained with several numbers of waltz, clog, fox trot and military dances, accompanied on the piano by their mother, Lady Mamie. Soth entertained the group with several piano solos.

Mrs. Michael O'Connor sang two beautiful solos with Carol

Campbell playing the accompaniment. Miss Campbell also entertained with instrumental music. The Emerson guard team gave a very splendid exhibition of their drills and floor work after which all retired to the dining room for refreshments and social hour.

The ladies are planning a dessert bridge, and "500" party and food sale, on Wednesday afternoon, February 16 at 1:30 with Angie Blunk acting as chairman. The Junior Court will meet at 4:30 on the same day, and the regular meeting of the Lady Maccabees at 7:30.

Lady Emerson has requested that all officers and members be present at the meeting Wednesday to help make plans for the activities of the Hive during the coming year. Practice for initiation will also be held and it is expected that Assistant Commander Dora D. Nicholson will be able to be present this evening.

Trip To Mexico City Easily Made

"An automobile trip to Mexico City from Plymouth is just as easy and as convenient as an auto tour of Maine or Florida, and exceedingly interesting," stated Robert Willoughby the other day upon his return with Mrs. Willoughby from a trip to her home in Louisiana and then on down to Mexico and the western coast of that country along the Pacific.

"The roads are paved all the way and the mountain driving in Mexico is perfectly safe. There are guard rails wherever necessary and automobile service stations that serve you as well and as quickly as do the stations on this side of the line," he said.

"Mexico City is a most interesting place. Hotel accommodations are all that one could ask, and the rates are exceptionally reasonable. Mexico is making a special appeal to American tourists.

"Probably the most interesting place we visited was Guadalajara, a beautiful old Mexican city directly south of Mexico City on the Pacific coast. Everything is interesting across the line and one should not hesitate to take the trip because the new highway is in ideal condition and is as good as any of the hard surfaced roads we have up in this country. They use black top paving material down there instead of concrete, but the road is just as good as though concrete had been used to pave it. Mexican officials are courteous and go out of their way to aid you."

"The trip to Mexico City can be made easily in five days, states Mr. Willoughby.

News Of Basket Ball League

Don't forget that the games between Hi-Speed vs. Red and White and Perfection vs. Schrader scheduled to play on Wednesday, February 23, will be postponed owing to the father and son banquet being held on that night. These games will be played Thursday, February 24.

The Monday night games were both hard fought games, especially the girls' game. Coolman defeated Red and White with a score of 28-25. It was difficult to think of picking the winner until the game was over as both teams seemed so determined to win.

The boys' game was a defeat for the Daisy team, the score being Blunk 29, Daisy 18. Had the Daisy team scored in this first part of the game as they did the last quarter, the result might have been different.

On Tuesday, the Daisy girls met the Hi-Speed girls for the fourth time of the season.

The Daisy team had been victorious on two of the former games and had met defeat once. The Hi-Speed team was the only one to defeat Daisy and that was the first girls' game of the season.

The Daisy team was again victorious, defeating Hi-Speed with a final score, 36-24.

The boys' game on Tuesday was another victory for Plymouth Plating who defeated the Schrader team to the score of 33-20. This leaves Plymouth Plating still in first place without a defeat.

Wednesday night, the first game was played between Chevrolet vs. Wild's and resulted in Chevrolet defeating Wild's with a score of 46-29.

The second game was between Perfection vs. Wilkie, resulting in Wilkie defeating Perfection with a score of 44-12.

The following is the standing of the various teams:

Boys' teams	W	L	Pct.
Plym. Plating	10	0	1.000

Pontiac Honors One Of Its Citizens Who Has Honored Pontiac

An unfortunate conflict in events prevented many Plymouth friends of State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner from going to Pontiac Wednesday evening to attend a banquet given in his honor by the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

Commissioner Van Wagoner, who is especially well known in Plymouth has not only a host of friends made years before he became highway commissioner, but many others that he has won by his administration of state highway affairs.

The banquet given him Wednesday evening in his home city attests to the high esteem in which he is held by the citizens of his home town.

It is interesting to note in this connection that the recent "extortion" banquet held in the Book-Cadillac hotel by federal and state office holders for the purpose of collecting a campaign slush fund was ignored by employees of the state highway department.

White officials outside the department whispered along the line to highway employees that "it would be well for you to attend or else" the indirect threat didn't amount to much and as a result there was but a smattering of highway department workers at the banquet, which cost those who attended $25 per plate.

The Pontiac banquet was attended by several hundreds of Oakland county residents as well as by many from other parts of the state.

Because of the steady increase in membership of the Newburg Methodist church, it has become necessary to make extensive improvements and additions to the church building to accommodate new-comers.

Five Sunday school rooms have been added, and they are now being painted and decorated. Furnishings for these rooms have been donated by friends. In addition a new heating system has been installed in the basement of the church.

The new rooms will be dedicated for use at a service on February 27, when Dr. Sidney D. Eva will speak.

Newburg Church Enlarged

The women of the church will serve the banquet and a program full of interest and reference to the history of the church will be presented. There will also be special musical numbers and an anniversary address by Rev. Dr. Leslie A. Bechtel, of the Calvary Presbyterian church, in Detroit. The friends of this church are asked to remember the date and join with the members in their services.

Now that the ice is off of the roads, there is a noticeable increase in fast driving and carelessness on the part of motorists, members of the police department have observed, and they wish to remind drivers that for the safety of themselves and others they will be liable to prosecution if they continue to disregard driving rules.

At the meeting of the Kiwanis club last week, Inspector Ed Kunath of the Detroit narcotic squad, was introduced to the members by Steve Wall, chairman of the program committee.

Inspector Kunath told of his experiences in combating "dope rings" and of the various ways and means that drug addicts will employ in order to get their product. He displayed various opium pipes, opium, marijuana, and several instruments used in administering the drug. He explained the methods used by the underworld to drag innocent victims into the rings. Inspector Kunath was particularly anxious to explain the new dope weed, marijuana, which has grown so prevalent in Michigan, and gave out a special plea to Kiwanians to exert every effort to stamp out the evil that is endangering so many of the youth in our country.

Nature Speaks

How little thought we give to our bodies, as long as we are blessed with the well being of good health. It is only when Nature speaks to us, again and again, warning us with repeated twinges of pain that something is wrong, that we begin to pay attention to the human machine. When Nature thus points to a maladjustment, it may well be that the entire difficulty can be corrected by a return to normal adjustment, through

Plymouth Wins Exciting Game With Ecorse, 32-26

"When you come boys, come a-tudden." That seemed to be the feeling with which the two teams of Plymouth and Ecorse met. From the tip-off whistle to the end of the game it was one whirlwind affair. Both teams had built up a grudge against each other in the previous game in which Plymouth was trampled to defeat. Had Referee Leadbetter called the fouls very closely the teams probably would have cooled down but instead he was inclined to overlook the minor ones let the battle rage. The Ecorse coach seemed to be stirring his boys up instead of cooling them down. In one instance he went out on the floor to argue with the referee. This made Ecorse feel they had a right to howl and made the bitterness grow stronger. Each boy on both teams was keyed up to the point of fighting, but not until the fourth quarter did it show itself to the referee strongly enough to send two of the players to the showers.

The Rocks had the upper hand throughout the whole game and were masters of each quarter except the last when Ecorse made nine points to Plymouth's five. The visiting quintet was slow in getting started and were kept far behind in the first quarter 9-0. They came back strong in the next quarter scoring 11 points while the Rocks collected eight. In the third quarter Plymouth added more points to her lead making ten points to Ecorse's six. The final score 26-32 was not as impressive as the 43-32 Ecorse victory over Plymouth but a win is all that is necessary.

Lineup: Ecorse—Horton, F.; Vedo, F.; Trondle, F.; Sweringen, C.; King, C.; Dunn, G.; Oltean, G.; Allain, G.
Plymouth—Moe, F.; Gilles, F.; Eitt, F.; Egluff, F.; Sackett, C.; Ross, G.; Krumm, G.; Martin, G.; Prough, G.

SECOND TEAM SHOWS TRUE FORM

The Plymouth second team combined fine passing, excellent defense, and brainy playing as a whole, to beat the Ecorse second team by the overwhelming score of 19 to 5.

Plymouth's marked improvement over the last home game was a source of amazement to the many fans.

The high scorers on Plymouth's side were Harold Leach, with three field goals and one good foul shot, and Rockwell Smith, with three field goals. The high scorers for Ecorse were Beebe, with one field goal, and J. Alopian, with the same. The only score made by Ecorse up to the third period was one foul shot.

The Plymouth team was strengthened by the addition of Joe Scarpulla.

CHANGES MADE IN SCHEDULE BECAUSE OF LARGE ENROLLMENT

Do you wonder that the schedule has been changed? There were approximately 840 pupils in Plymouth high school at the beginning of the second semester Monday, January 31. The new people in school number 63 altogether; of this number 47 are seventh graders and the remainder have come here from other schools. Mr. Dvkhous said that not more than 10 or 12 people had left this school to move to other cities.

With a large number of pupils like this, one can readily see that it was necessary to make some changes. The former third hour activity period was eliminated and the hours were lengthened to 55 minutes each, making six hours in all. Since the halls are so crowded, it was necessary to have five minutes instead of the usual three or four between classes. The clubs and activities formerly held in the third period are now being held during the noon-hour, after school, or during the class period.

Since there will be many more students entering in September, it will be necessary to make some other changes.

FIRST DEBATE SET FOR FEBRUARY 15

The first elimination debate is scheduled for Tuesday, February 15 at Howell. The Howell affirmative vs. the Plymouth negative. In the first round 64 schools will be eliminated. Thereafter one-half of each group will be eliminated in every round. The forthcoming debate will be a very interesting one. The Howell team is a veteran team and an outstanding contender for the championship. Last year they were victorious as far as the quarter finals. According to Mr. Latture if the team can win they have a chance of winning more, however, he seems to feel that they do not have much of a chance since the members of the team are new this year.

STUDENTS ENTERTAINED WITH LIGHT OPERA

Plymouth high school students were entertained in a joint assembly last Wednesday by the Davies Light Opera company. The company, which consists of a soprano, a tenor, a bass singer, and a pianist, regaled its enthusiastic audience with a wide variety of selections ranging from "There's a Gold Mine in the Sky" to "One Alone" from "The Desert Song".

The program was arranged in two parts, the first consisting of a solo by each of the three singers; then the trio joined in singing several classical as well as modern songs of which "The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" is a striking example.

William Davies, the tenor, sang "Home on the Range" and was joined in the chorus by the audience.

While the singers were dressing for the second part of the opera which was a modified form of "The Student Prince" but which contained the most important songs of this famous opera, Miss Marie Adolph, pianist, entertained the audience with a selection played entirely with the left hand. One not able to see the player yet to hear would have felt sure the melody was played with both hands. Miss Adolph also played "Turkey in the Straw".

The two men performers came upon the stage at the end of the selection dressed in tight fitting white soldier's garb. The lady was dressed in a simple peasant's costume.

While singing various songs such as "Drinking Song", "The Students' March Song" and "Golden Days", the group executed several dance steps.

To the many Plymouth pupils who had never seen an opera before as well as the pupils who had, this was a highly interesting experience.

Rinehart. Radio favorites: Benny Goodman and Fibber McGee. Most interesting experience: A trip up north for a week-end. Plans after leaving school: Do some kind of work in Detroit or Plymouth.

AUTHOR OF "ENGLISH AT WORK" VISITS HIGH SCHOOL

Seeing the author of the text book which they are at present using—"English at Work" by Helen Rand Miller—was the unique experience of the members of Miss Lovewell's fourth hour English class. Mrs. Miller spent an afternoon at the high school in Misses Lovewell's, Allen's and Killham's classes. Mrs. Miller is the author of "English at Work", books I and II, a collaborator of "Let's Read" and several other textbooks. She is chairman of the National Council of Teachers of English, and a member of the department of English in Evanston township high school, Evanston, Illinois. This year she is acting as critic teacher in the University high school at Ann Arbor; that is, she aids in the training of student teachers of the department of education at the University of Michigan.

In the evening Mrs. Miller was entertained at dinner in the Hotel Mayflower by the teachers of English at Plymouth high school.

MR. BENTLEY ENTERTAINS APPRENTICE BOYS

Carvel Bentley was host to all the boys who are taking the apprentice course on Wednesday evening, February 2. The party was held in the recreation room at his home, 1381 Sheridan avenue. The 16 boys present were divided into two teams in a double header dart-ball game; Ben Darnell's team won both games. The same team also won ring-the-hook, and Hermie Esch's team was victorious in the bowling swing-ball games. Hermie Esch, Earl Beckwith and Bill Darnell hit home-runs in the ball game; Harold Hills was the champion ring-the-hooker, and Bill Darnell had the highest score in the bowling swing-ball game. The boys also played ping-pong.

After enjoying themselves in this manner for about two hours, Mrs. Bentley served "mountains" of sandwiches, candy bars, chocolate milk, and chocolate-pops. Elmer Slater ought to work in a dairy judging from the quantity of milk he drank. The quantity of sandwiches that Charlie Hadley ate was also astonishing.

Upon leaving the house one boy was heard to remark, "What time do we come next Wednesday, Mr. Bentley?"

STATE TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD IN YPSILANTI

Mr. Latture, as state chairman of the National Forensic League, is head of the state speech contest. Since the Plymouth high school does not have the necessary facilities for a large contest of this kind, it is to be held in Ypsilanti under the auspices of the Michigan State Normal college and the Pi Kappa Delta fraternity and is scheduled for April 15 and 16.

There will be contests in debate, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and oratorical, humorous, and dramatic declamations. The winners in these various fields will be eligible to attend the national tournament.

MARILYN HOLTON WINS SPEECH CONTEST

The preliminary elimination contest for an extemporaneous speaker to represent the school in the Twin Valley Athletic association contest was held on Tuesday, January 25. The participants in the contest were Bob Amstutz, Virginia Rock, Leo Schmitz, Robert Daniels, Helen Lissul, Edward Tandean, Marilyn Holton, and Marvin Hauk. The three persons chosen were Lew Schmitz, Marvin Hauk and Marilyn Holton. The general topics were John T. Lewis, and Modern Youth and War. Marvin Hauk and Leo Schmitz spoke on the former subject with its different phases and Marilyn spoke on the latter.

The second contest to determine the representative of the school was held on Monday, January 31 and Marilyn Holton's forceful speech on "Will Youth Fight" carried off top honors. The judges who rendered the decision were Miss Allen, Mr. Bentley, and Mr. Balden.

The contest is to be held at Ecorse high school on Thursday, March 31. On this same day there are to be contests in oratory and declamation.

In the Junior high speech activities there is to be a contest in story telling for members of the seventh and of poetry reading. This contest will be held at the River Rouge high school on the afternoon of Thursday, March 24.

SALVATION ARMY GIVES ASSEMBLY

The Salvation Army gave an assembly for the junior high students on Monday, February 7. A band of men and women of the eastern part of Michigan's group made up the assembly which took up the hour in full. Out of the people who took part only two members help the army in Plymouth, Captain Alder, who made

CENTRAL GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

Since many pupils have been promoted during the past week the different rooms have not had time to definitely begin their regular routine of study.

There are fifteen new students in the kindergarten B this term and 39 in the A section. The morning group is learning how to color with their crayons and have colored a cup, a ball, and a large bowl. Both groups have learned the song, "The Cow".

The first grade in Miss Campbell's room has 29 new pupils. The room has two other new members along the aquatic lines—namely Goldielocks and White—two goldfish.

The students are learning to write their names and keep within the lines on their ruled paper. They hope to be painting their house next week.

There are 36 children in Mrs. Disbrow's first grade now. They are making furniture out of orange crates for their playhouse. The students have decorated the room with Lincoln silhouettes and colored toy soldiers.

Miss Weatherhead's second grade has nine pupils in the two B group and 23 pupils in the two A. Last Tuesday the room had a perfect attendance for the first time in three months. The art class has started a safety project.

Miss Inge's class has started a safety project in art. They had a museum as a civic project but have decided to turn it into a doll house.

Miss Jewell's third grades had a party last week. The losing spelling team captained by George Henry gave a party for the winners captained by Nancy Brown.

They have finished their study of forest friends of Michigan and are making booklets to summarize the material covered. The room has 13 new third graders making a total of 35 third graders.

Miss Sly's third grade has made health posters about milk. In art they have been painting a large mural showing the Pueblo Indians in their natural surroundings. To further their study of Indians they are making a Pueblo village out of card board boxes.

Miss Robinson has an entirely new group this semester of three A's and four B's. The students are enjoying the radio they have in the room. They have been making Washington booklets. Mr. Berridge has two new pupils from Miss Carr's room and nine from Miss Robinson's group with 42 in all. The five A's are studying the South Atlantic states in geography while the five B's are taking an imaginary airplane trip around the United States. The five A's have begun working with fractions.

Mrs. Wall and Mrs. McClain visited the room last week. The pupils have a new American history book written in story form which they combined with their reading and enjoy very much.

Miss Carr's fifth graders have 16 new classmates from Miss Widmayer's room. The five B's and five A's are finishing their hygiene course and have made posters illustrating different phases of it. In spelling three boys making straight A records for the first semester were Harold Schultz, Stanford Besse, and Arnold Phillips. The five A's made two language posters. This term the pupils are making booklets on Washington and Lincoln.

In Miss Hornbeck's room people that were not tardy nor absent all term were Helen Bowden, Marion Oldenburg, Doris Hackenberry, Geraldine Hix, Ruth Brown, and Harry Krumm. Louis Smith's and Ralph Roscow's spelling team lost the contest so they gave a party for the winning teams Norma Robinson's and Nina Jean Lawson's.

The six B's have made charts showing three or four generations of their families. This shows our connection with Europe. The continent of Europe is studied in the sixth grade.

Mrs. Holliday now has 43 members in the sixth grade. John McClain is on the Safety Patrol and Dorothy Rowland on the Service Squad this week.

One of the most recently developed sources of light is the use of neon gas, which glows red when an electric current is passed through it.
