Report On State D. A. R. Conference

The 38th annual state conference of Michigan Daughters of the American Revolution was held in Lansing, March 30, 31 and April 1 at the Hotel Olds. Representatives from Sarah Ann Cochran chapter, who spent the three days in Lansing were the state registrar, Mrs. Dwight T. Randall, the regent, Mrs. Sidney D. Strong, vice-regent, Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, and Mrs. Charles W. Horr, Jr. On Thursday Mrs. Irving Blunk, Mrs. Walter Nichol, Mrs. David Mather, Mrs. Charles Root and Mrs. E. J. Cutler spent the day at the conference.

The principle speakers were Mrs. William A. Becker, president general of the national society, Mrs. Frances Parkinson Keyes, who has long been known as a most entertaining writer. Mrs. Keyes now edits the National Historical magazine, the D. A. R. magazine. Cameron Beck of the New York Stock Exchange institute, was the speaker at the banquet on Thursday evening. All of the speakers, with no exception, stressed the vital need of work for good citizenship among our young people. In fact, that was the theme running through the entire conference.

On Friday, Good Citizenship Pilgrims arrived from all over the state—nearly 250 in number. These girls, one from a high school, were chosen by their classmates and teachers for their leadership, dependability, service and patriotism. It was an inspiring sight to see these young women. Each one had filled out a questionnaire which had been judged by three judges. First was read a small list of those who received one or more votes from the judges. Among these was Margaret Bentley, our Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter Pilgrim. Beth Ellen Marcus, of Holland, Michigan, was chosen as the girl who will have a trip to Washington for five days with all expenses paid. One girl is chosen from each state. This entire group of girls was entertained at lunch at Michigan State college and taken on a tour of the campus.

Reports on the southern mountain schools, Indian work, conservation, national defense, children of the American Revolution, as well as others, filled the three days and sent the members of Sarah Ann Cochran home enthusiastic for new effort.

Mrs. Dwight T. Randall, Mrs. Charles W. Horr, Jr., of Detroit, and Mrs. George W. Wilcox of Plymouth will attend the national congress at Washington the week of April 18-22 as representatives of Sarah Ann Cochran chapter.

Plymouth friends of Fannie Kurtz, of Petoskey, will regret to learn that her home burned to the ground Saturday afternoon. Miss Kurtz is a sister of Mrs. Roy Fisher of this city, whom she has visited many times.

In the lives of all of us there are times when things do not go quite as well as they do at other times. Upon these occasions the hobby is something that can carry us through."—Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent of public instruction.

"A hobby is something which is done for fun, something toward which we constantly turn, and it has a definite value in that it becomes a place of refuge when life becomes monotonous and an individual loses his zest for living."—O. Who Was Drunk?

Declarations during the past few days that some one involved in the fatal crash Sunday morning on Plymouth road, just east of the city, had been drinking, have been frequent.

Rumors of this type generally are based upon idle gossip or incidents somewhat related to the tragedy.

In this case the rumors developed from the latter fact. Not one of the boys involved in the crash was drunk or had been drunk.

But one of the sheriff's deputies, called to the scene of the accident, was so drunk, state witnesses, that his associates had to remove him from the scene of the accident to prevent continued disturbance, upon the orders of a Plymouth police officer.

Facts about the affair have been laid before Sheriff Thomas Wilcox.

It was these same deputies who issued the order that the body could not be removed until the coroner arrived. As a result, the remains of the youthful accident victim laid beside the highway for nearly four hours. This barbaric scheme, permitted under a state law for the purpose of enabling patronage "pup" to be played with human bodies, has been bitterly assailed during the past three or four years by The Plymouth Mail. Efforts made to correct the scheme in the legislature at the two last regular sessions have been blocked, no one knows just how.

These same deputies dragged down to the county jail the youthful driver of the car and when his father, as good a citizen as there is in Wayne county, called to see him at the jail Sunday afternoon, he was not only curtly but discourteously refused a right to even see his own son. Mind you, he was there because of a traffic accident and not because of any criminal offense. Such is the administration of justice in Wayne county.

Plymouth Youth Dies In Crash Sunday Morning

Three Other Occupants Receive Slight Bruises And Cuts

James Livingston, 20 years old, a graduate of Plymouth high school who had been employed as a shoe salesman in Ann Arbor, was killed early Sunday morning when an automobile in which he was riding, overturned on Plymouth road, just east of the city limits.

Livingston was riding in a car driven by William Petz, Jr., 20, son of Supervisor William Petz, Sr., of Plymouth. John Kinsey, 20, former Plymouth high school football star and now a sophomore at the University of Michigan, and Alec McConnell, 20, a University friend of Kinsey, were also passengers in the car.

The driver told officers that he apparently went to sleep as his car came over the hill. The automobile struck a truck-trailer, owned by an Adrian creamery, driven by Earl Smith, of Ann Arbor. The automobile continued across the highway, went over the curb and rolled down a 20-foot embankment, coming to a rest on its top.

Livingston was killed instantly. The others escaped with minor bruises.

Livingston and his companions had attended a dance in Plymouth Saturday night. Then Livingston offered to drive a car of a friend, who was ill, to Detroit. Livingston did so and Petz drove to Detroit to bring Livingston back. Livingston, Kinsey and McConnell were asleep when the accident occurred.

The injured youths reported the accident to Plymouth police immediately, but inasmuch as the mishap occurred outside the city, the Wayne county sheriff's department had to be called. The office from the county coroner's office was notified promptly but 4:15 a.m. Livingston's body was not removed from the wreck until shortly before 8:00 a.m.

Petz was taken into custody and was held in the county jail on a negligent homicide charge until Monday afternoon when he made a statement to the prosecutor's office.

Complaints were forwarded to Sheriff Thomas Wilcox this week about the misconduct of one of the sheriff's deputies who handled the accident.

The funeral will be held today (Friday) at 2:00 o'clock at the Schrader funeral home.

Tentative Budget Is Submitted To City Commission

Public Hearing On May 2; No Tax Rate Boost Contemplated

A tentative general budget for 1938-39 was submitted to the city commission Tuesday night by the budget committee composed of Mayor Henry H. Hondorp and City Manager Clarence Elliott.

The proposed general budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 totals $89,457, of which only $71,050 would be spread on the tax roll. For the last year a total of $86,396 was appropriated, of which $69,807 was levied on the tax roll.

Estimates of anticipated revenues for 1938-39 total $18,407 compared to the 1937-38 estimated revenues of $18,589.

There are no provisions in the general budget for the cemetery or water funds inasmuch as both are self-supporting. The water budget is $32,575 and the cemetery fund is $7,194. Equal sums of revenue from each are anticipated.

The committee reported that it is anticipated that no increase in tax rate or valuation of individual pieces of real estate will be necessary. The increase in expenditures, it was pointed out, will be taken care of by assessments on property on the tax roll for the first time and by increased revenues.

The committee declared that this year was not the time to increase the tax rate and recommended that the rate be cut if possible. The committee members pointed out, however, that not much reduction is possible, for three years yet because at present $14,000 must be appropriated annually for payments on principal and interest for past indebtedness. This will be cleared in three years.

The garbage collection item shows one of the larger increases, with $4,025 allocated for this purpose compared to $2,150 last year. The committee pointed out, however, that $4,150 was spent for this purpose last year, $2,000 having been taken from the contingent fund when the collection of rubbish was added after the budget was prepared.

A jump in the receipts from the state gasoline and weight taxes, which will give the city $7,000 in revenue for the next year, compared to anticipated revenue of $5,500 last year, made it possible to allot $10,360 to street work, compared to $9,830 appropriated for this year.

This money from the state is designated for capital improvements on highways.

"While the item for capital improvement shows an increased amount," the committee said of the highway fund, "this is due to the fact that the city is obtaining more money from the gas and weight tax which should be used for capital improvements."

The committee recommended that less should be used for dust layer and more for paving, black topping and other permanent capital improvements on the streets during the next year.

For the most part, the committee said, the budget items are similar to those in the budget approved last year. The committee pointed out that with the primary and general state elections scheduled this year that this would call for additional funds for election expenses. Several other items were increased to care for expenses which, during the past year, have been taken from the contingent fund.

Thus, the contingent fund, the committee pointed out, shows the largest reduction. The committee recommended a contingent fund of $2,822 for 1938-39 compared to the 1937-38 appropriation of $4,887.

The commission decided to hold the annual public hearing on the budget on Monday night, May 2. The commission members

Mayor Hondorp Wins Re-election; Mrs. Whipple Returned To Post By 47-Vote Margin Over Anderson

Voters Approve Amendment To Charter In Record Poll As 1000 Cast Ballots in City

Mayor Henry H. Hondorp and Mrs. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple were re-elected as members of the city commission for two year terms Monday in a general election in which a record number of votes were cast. Harold Anderson, the other candidate in the race for the two posts, was a close third.

Mayor Hondorp ran far ahead of the field, polling a total of 646 votes while Mrs. Whipple's total was 543. Mr. Anderson, with 496, ran but 47 votes behind Mrs. Whipple.

The total vote was 1,000, almost twice as many as usually recorded in the non-partisan ballot here.

Mayor Hondorp's city-wide strength accounted for his race leading total. He polled 141 votes in the first precinct, 144 in the second, 173 in the third and 188 in the fourth.

Mrs. Whipple won over Anderson on her heavy margin in the fourth precinct. She polled 199 votes to Anderson's 128 in this district. She also held a margin of 164 to 134 in the third precinct. Mr. Anderson held a lead over Mrs. Whipple in the first and second precincts. The first district gave Mr. Anderson 112 votes to 95 for Mrs. Whipple while the second was 122 to 85.

There was a larger number of single votes cast than usual, approximately 315 votes being unallocated by the final totals. A few of these can be accounted for by spoiled ballots but most, election officials believed, could be attributed to strategy of casting but one vote despite the fact that there were two offices to be filled.

The re-election of Mayor Hondorp and Mrs. Whipple, both who had served on the city commission for five years, leaves the commission intact. Other members, who did not face election this year, are George Robinson, L. E. Wilson and Arthur Blunk.

Members of the commission will select a mayor for the next year at the meeting on April 18. Annual appointment of city officers and committees will be made later in April also.

The voters also approved the amendment to the city charter which would provide for payment, after July 1, of $3 to each member of the city commission for each meeting attended. In the past few years the commission has met from 40 to 45 times a year although each member could receive pay for only 30 meetings a year, or a total of $90 annually.

The amendment carried in each precinct with a total vote of 642 yes, and 312 no. Only 573 votes, or 60 percent, was needed for approval.

The vote on the amendment, by precincts, follows:

No.	Yes	No
No. 1	125	64
No. 2	127	66
No. 3	187	88
No. 4	203	95

The program for this week is as follows:

Friday, 3:30-5:30—Games for young people; 8:00-11:00—Dancing.

Saturday, 9:00-10:00. Story hour for 8-10 years old; 10:00-11:00. Story hour for 5-7 years old; 2:00-5:30, games for young people; 8:00-11:00, dancing.

The Friday and Saturday afternoon game periods are for all young people in the community. The program includes billiards, ping-pong, cards, and many other suitable indoor games. Come and bring your friends. The dances are attended by a member of The Woman's club and the music will be good. It is hoped to have a large attendance for all hours. Membership cards will be issued later and a nominal fee will be charged.

The attendance at the story hours last week was very gratifying, nearly 100 youngsters being present.

KROGER ENLARGES MEAT DEPARTMENT IN STORE

M. J. O'Conner manager of the meat department of the Kroger store, stated this week that the company has completely remodeled the meat market in the store on Main street. A new Frigidaire electric refrigeration unit is the biggest change made and the system now cools both the display counter and the storage box.

The change makes room for the store to carry a much larger supply and variety of fresh meats for its customers. An electric water heater was also installed at the time of the improvement.

SLANDERING MICHIGAN.

Out from the Governor's office in Lansing recently came another screed about an effort "going to be made to make Michigan the foremost state in the Union in health matters," and with it the always miserable insinuation that Michigan is far down the line in matters of health progress and everything else.

Up until the last year, most people in Michigan thought this was a pretty good state, that it ranked well along with other great commonwealths in matters of progress and development. In fact, in many activities most of us have had the idea that Michigan was foremost and especially so in public health work.

Now comes the assertions that we are about as low down among the states as it is possible for a commonwealth to sink to.

Well, if the Governor knows anything at all, he knows that these insinuations are NOT TRUE. He knows that Michigan's health department ranks well among the best—that Michigan now leads the nation in the prevention and treatment of tuberculosis and that there has NOT one single serious epidemic swept Michigan in years.

If he keeps on with his mouthings about how miserable a state Michigan is, maybe he will get some people to believing this is about the lowest down place in all the nation.

He has already done plenty to smear the good name of Michigan but it seems that he is not yet content to quit the job of despoiling the standing of a glorious state.

Dr. Slemmons, who has been state health commissioner during administrations of both Democrats and Republicans, was previous to his appointment to his position, health officer of the city of Grand Rapids where he won national distinction for his good work. Grand Rapids, like the great city of Detroit under the able direction of Dr. Vaughan, ranks among the first in the nation as the healthiest of all municipalities.

The faction of the Republican party that elevated Dr. Slemmons to the state health commissioner has not always been in accord with the writer. But by his record Dr. Slemmons established the fact that his selection to this important post was one of the most satisfactory appointments from a public standpoint ever made by any Governor.

Now comes the smearing process—the job of discrediting the good work he has done with the implications that Michigan has a real public health problem on its hands.

That is a pure slander of Michigan as well as Dr. Slemmons and his entire staff.

More recently the Governor applied the same coat of smear to Michigan's state library by indirect insinuation that the department didn't amount to so much. We would like to ask him where he was when an effort was being made during the early months of his administration to do something for the state library. Michigan, among the states which have libraries, is high up the ladder—but still the Governor would have the world believe that we are barely beyond the heathen stage. Stop this slandering Michigan and try to find something good to say about our state, Governor!

FIFTY YEARS!

Fifty years is a long time—it is a half century. History has been made and unmade in much shorter periods.

Over in Cassopolis the other day, citizens of that fine little community, gave a banquet in honor of William H. Berkey, editor and publisher of The Cassopolis Vigilant. The occasion marked the end of a half century of newspaper service to the village and the beginning of what we hope will be another half century of happiness and enjoyment for Editor Berkey.

The tribute paid him by his home town was a worthy one. He not only has been a good citizen for Cassopolis, but for the state of Michigan. He has been more than that, he has been and is one of Michigan's great citizens.

THE SHAME OF IT.

Old men, some of them long past the age of 80 years, have come to the office of The Plymouth Mail recently, asking if the reason can be found as to why their old age pensions have been cut. Some protest as strongly as their feeble condition permits to this slash in the small amounts the state gives them to live upon.

"They haven't left me enough to buy the food my wife and I so badly need, say nothing about fuel and clothing," said one very old man. "I do not know what we will do, except to slowly starve to death."

Think of it!

While the great "humanitarian governor", under the cover of darkness, approves "hidden" payrolls which enables his political henchmen to draw double salaries from the taxpayers of the state, his workers are cutting the assistance that the legislature voted to helpless old people so there will be sufficient money for the greedy politicians. Meanwhile, the old people are suffering from insufficient food and worry.

In the name of decency—and for mercy's sake—why does not Frank Murphy wake up to the miserable condition flourishing under his administration and practice just a bit of the "humanitarianism" he talks so much about?

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

THE PARABLE OF THE SIX CARPENTERS—

A man who owns a farm near Eaton Rapids called at the Journal office Friday and told the following facts and emphasized that "this happened in Eaton Rapids" and just this spring. He, in commenting on reluctance of people to work in these days of dire need, said he needed a carpenter for a few days and asked someone if he knew of one he could get. O, yes, the man knew of one who had been on relief and would be pleased to get a few days work; told the farmer where to find carpenter No. 1, which he immediately did.

The carpenter would be pleased with the work but after thinking it over decided that he'd better not undertake it as his tools were scattered round in several places and it would be quite an effort to locate them so he guessed he'd not make the effort for just a short job. The would-be employer asked him if he knew a man he could get. O, yes, there was so-and-so at such an address who was very good and would like the work. Carpenter No. 2 was found and interviewed, was interested but he couldn't get that day for he had promised his wife to do a few little jobs at home but could come the next day. The farmer said the next day wouldn't do and came down town where he saw a man on the corner who recommended carpenter No. 3 who could be found just over here. No. 3 was found in a card game which he couldn't get away from for 15 minutes so the farmer waited. No. 3 did do carpenter work but his mother wasn't well, so he didn't dare leave her but he knew of a person who did good work and would probably be glad to. No. 4 lived on the opposite side of town from No. 3 but the seeker, still undaunted because he needed the work done, found No. 4 and had the same experience. Came back to the man on the corner and was asked if he didn't get his man and when told "No" was directed to another in another part of town. No. 5 couldn't get away either, so being directed to No. 6 the farmer finally secured him and he did the work. This, in our town where so many sigh for work, until it approaches them and then they duck.

We were reminded of the Bible story of the man who invited his friends to a feast and "they all with one accord began to make excuse," and with much the same kind of reasons as the five carpenters did.—Robert Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Journal.

COURSE OF EMPIRE—

Without fanfare or flourish, during the fortnight, America has extended its sovereignty over the greatest expanse of new territory since 1867.

The westward course of empire having halted at the Pacific nearly a century ago, America's newest territorial expansion lies far from these shores down in the bleak wastes of Antarctica, that vast white continent of jagged peaks and high plateaus on which the South Pole lies.

To nearly one half million square miles visited by the land parties, or observed from air by the planes of Admiral Byrd's expedition, President Roosevelt has laid claim in the name of the United States. Notification of this bid for sovereignty in these polar zones has been sent to Great Britain, Russia, Germany, and Argentina. By reason of exploration, these nations also have a stake in that snow-encrusted land.

Of what use, it may be asked, can this frozen chunk of Antarctic be to us? Of that continent's 5 million square miles, all of it, save possibly 100 square miles, is permanently sheathed with ice. It is entirely uninhabited. Neither tree nor plant breaks the monotony of its ghostly white terrain, nor can it host a single land animal bigger than an insect. The major part of the continent is a 6,000 to 10,000 ft. high plateau. When the temperature rises to 60 below zero F., you say "Ah, it must be spring!"

But 71 years ago on March 30 everyone was asking, "Of what use is Alaska?" when we bought it from Russia for $7,200,000 in gold. It, too, was considered a white elephant, and a frozen one as well, but the value of its exports to the United States in 1936 alone topped $300 million!

So who today can say with certainty that the richly inventive stream of scientific progress and more exhaustive exploration will not force that region of snowy skies, and ice choked seas to yield up? Foolish or farseeing, America's course of empire now stakes a claim on a polar continent!—Phil T. Rich in The Midland News.

Former Residents Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

An event of more than passing interest is the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, South Lafayette street, this city, which will occur Sunday, April 3rd, when their children, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. King, and son, Robert of this community, Mrs. Smith's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steffy of Ann Arbor, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Galligan of Stockbridge, will come to help celebrate the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are esteemed citizens of South Lyon. They purchased a home and moved here last fall. Many years of their lives were spent on farms between here and Ann Arbor, always near Pontiac road.

Mrs. Smith, who was the former Elizabeth Steffy, was born on the Zeeb farm in Emory, Northfield township, June 29, 1865. When she was 11 years old her mother died, after which time she made her home with an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Ketter, about two and one-half miles north of Ann Arbor, until her marriage.

Mr. Smith was born at Dearborn, January 21, 1861. He lived there until about 17 years old, after which he lived in Ann Arbor and Northfield.

They were married at the Ketter home on April 3, 1888. His niece, Minnie Lindemann, King of Detroit, now of Florida, was bridesmaid; Frank Steffy of Ann Arbor was best man. Rev. Beiser of the Lutheran church of Ann Arbor read the service.

Their first home was three miles north of Ann Arbor, where they spent four years. For 30 years they lived on or near the Pontiac road, between South Lyon and Ann Arbor.

They were the parents of a daughter and son who live near South Lyon.

In the year 1918 Mr. and Mrs. Smith moved to Plymouth where they lived for nearly 20 years, coming to South Lyon last fall to make their future home.

Mrs. Smith, one of a family of five children, has a brother and sister living.

Mr. Smith, who was one of a family of eight children, has three sisters and a brother living.—The South Lyon Herald.

BORED OF EDUCATION

Many a really intelligent boy or girl seems, to the parents, to be unaccountably listless about school work. Marks fall short of the desires of the proud father and mother. Reports of inattention and increasingly disturbing behavior come home from school. It is found that scolding and "long serious talks" with the child do no good. The plain fact is that your boy or girl is bored with education—not because there is anything wrong with the school or the teachers (although they bear the brunt of the blame!) but because the visual mechanism of the child is not adapted to do the close work demanded by our modern educational program. The child is not in the least blameworthy. We are endowed by nature with a visual system designed for living outdoors. Nature has not yet caught up with the rapid progress of man in what we call civilization. From a natural point of view it is but yesterday that mankind moved indoors and now does 75% of his work there. The seeing function, then, is planned for distant vision — hunting, watching for danger on far horizons. But the demands of our schools lie within four walls—books are not read across the room, but within arm's length. Why blame your boy or girl for being inattentive, when fatigue caused by close work eats up all the attention of which they are capable? It is no matter for scolding or "talking to" the child. This is nothing that can be met by an appeal to the intelligence. In truth, the child is exhibiting sound, natural intelligence in its very act of ignoring study. That is nature's defense against an excessive neural demand that would rob the growing body of necessary nerve impulse distribution. What must be done is to recondition the visual mechanism so that it can cope with book study without fatigue. That does not necessarily mean "putting glasses on a child" although that, conceivably, could be the greatest blessing the child has ever received. Vanity that keeps a child defenseless against the near-point demands of school work may result in a life time of inferiority and anti-social feelings. However, your professional optometrist goes at the problem analytically — to discover in which nervous system the fatigue lies and then sets a course of visual rehabilitation that enables the child to do its book work successfully. This work of optometry has been successfully demonstrated for over five years and constitutes one of the greatest triumphs of the profession.

Livonia Township Hall Completed

Residents of Livonia township will have the first town hall they have had in eight years when township officials open their new building Saturday. Fire razed the old town hall eight years ago and the new one was built on the same site one-quarter mile east of Farmington road on Five Mile road.

The building was planned so that when necessity demands it may be turned into a fire hall and a wing may be added on the west side of the new structure for future offices. According to Township Clerk Harry S. Wolfe, the building was constructed at a cost of $4,000. The hall is fire proof with a steel and concrete roof, insulated and has a cement floor. The front will be bricked and the grounds around the building will be landscaped.

Temporary offices for the supervisor, treasurer and clerk will be provided in the building and it was used for the first time last Monday for voting. Township officials will arrange to have some office of the township at the hall throughout the day so that residents of that section may for the first time easily locate their officials in the future.

studying about Mexico. They have carved articles out of soap to represent things from Mexico. They have also made clay dishes, and have made people out of clothes-pins. An interesting activity they have engaged in is tapping pictures. They have cut pieces of tin from cans and mounted them on wood. Pictures were then drawn on the tin and tapped out.

Forty percent of the proceeds went to the class and the remaining amount to the seed company. Donna Day, treasurer of the club, reports a balance of more than $10.00 in the treasury. The class plans to use the money for new books for the classroom library, and for a picture for the room. This chart showed the names of each pupil in the room with the numbers of books read and the names of the books. George Waters headed the list with the largest number of books read in the three months period just past.

a penny will pay for almost 2 hours of good lighting AT A CHILD'S STUDY DESK

A CHILD at a study desk deserves good lighting... his task should not be made more difficult by the glare or shadow of faulty illumination. One of the new study lamps fitted with a 150-watt bulb is an ideal and inexpensive solution to the problem of lighting the desk or table at which he works. These lamps are moderately priced, and the cost of operating a 150-watt bulb for almost two hours is only a penny. The study lamp will find favor with other members of the family, too—its soft, pleasant light is well-suited for all ordinary seeing tasks. A diffusing bowl under the shade assures a high quality of illumination, eliminating glare, and makes for restful, comfortable seeing. You will want one or more of these lamps in your home. Vacation Trip Discovered To Be A Wedding Trip

An exceedingly brief vacation trip, so brief that few knew he was even out of town, has just resulted in the news becoming known to his host of friends that Floyd Kehrl, president of the First National bank, was also on a belated wedding trip. The bride was formerly Miss Shirley Thomas of Detroit. The wedding took place sometime ago, but it just seems that Mr. Kehrl has been so busy banking that he hasn't had time to tell his friends about it and it wasn't until he took a brief vacation trip that his marriage became known about the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Kehrl are residing at 728 Burroughs avenue.

Cap Blows In Creek, Gets It Full Of Smelt

(Special Correspondence)

Matt Powell and Bert McKinney went up to Thunder Bay the other day to do some smelt dipping. It was a peculiar series of events which enabled them to return home with smelt for all of their friends. In fact, everybody is reported to have been eating smelt during the past few days—but the only difficulty with the report seems to be the fact that no one has been able to find out anything about it.

Now comes the report that the two smelt dippers went to Thunder Bay without dipping nets, but determined to do some dipping anyway. They waded out into the stream, and—Matt's cap blew off into the creek as he made a dip. He grabbed for it and put it back on his head. Immediately smelt began to wiggle about in his hair. Some got down under his collar. When he retrieved his cap he had dipped it full of smelt and didn't know it until smelt began to swim over his face and neck. Matt refuses to deny or confirm the story.

Baseball Nine Faces Successful Season

Having lost the services of only one regular player through graduation, the Plymouth baseball team faces a successful season with at least a dozen experienced men on the 1938 squad. Lloyd "Butch" Trinka, husky first baseman and pitcher on last year's nine, is the only player not returning to service. Enough boys have come out to make up six teams, but it is a cinch that only nine of them will be on the home diamond when Plymouth opens the season against River Rouge on Tuesday, May 3.

Every position on the team is open to whoever proves he can hold it down best. The outfield seems the most secure division, with Gilles, Leach, and May heading the corps of patrolers of the outer orchards. It is very possible, however, that some worthy lad may secure a position there. Several spots on the pitching staff are open, since sophomores Bob Hitt and Jim "Curveball" Kelley are the only leaguers among those now getting into shape. Hamilton Newman, who pitched for Clarkston high before entering Plymouth this year, seems a cinch for a place, but otherwise the pitching department is wide open. Ray Martin, regular catcher last year, and Neal Curtis, who finished the season when Ray was injured, will probably divide the catching duties or five other lads are giving them lively competition. The infield will experience the biggest battle of all letter-men Krumm, Egloff, Hoffman, Folsom, and a host of rookies are striving for places, and it would be guessing to say who will be where on May 3.

NEW TYPE SPEECH BEGUN BY SPEECH STUDENTS

An experimental type of speech was begun in Miss Waldorf's fourth hour speech class, that of short story telling. The individual students each selected a story and, after having it well in mind, sat in front of the class and, imagining the audience a kindergarten group, told the story. The whole class acted as critics, and suggestions for improvements were offered to the teller of the tale. As this work developed in class, a suggestion was made that each person select a story and tell it to a group of children in both Central and Starkweather schools. Miss Waldorf conferred with Miss Sparling and Mrs. Bird and a plan was developed. Each teacher of the kindergarten, first, second, and third grades made a list of stories the children liked best and the speech students selected the grade they preferred and story they wished to tell. The program for Central school was:

Kindergarten — Mrs. Lage, "Snipp, Snap, Sneer and the Red Shoes," told by Hazel Curtis. First grade — Mrs. Dishrow, "The Bremen Musicians" told by Howard Wahlbridge. First grade, Miss Campbell, "Millions of Cats" told by Betty Ann Mastick. Second grade, Miss Inge, "Jack and the Beanstalk" told by Robert Kenyon. Second grade, Miss Weatherhead, "Epaminondus" told by Bonnie Jean Drake. Third grade, Mrs. Bird, "Zeke, the Raccoon" told by Leo Schmitz.

The program for Starkweather was:

First grade, Miss Thompson, "The Sheep and the Pig Who Made a Home" told by Edward Landow. Second grade, Miss Slatcher, "Cork, the Mouse and the Little Hen" told by Roger McClean. Second grade, Miss Parmalee, "The Sheep and the Pig Who Made a Home" told by Edward Landow as substitute for Betty Smith. Third grade, Miss Fletcher, "Tom Thumb" told by George Bennett.

The principal reported the results to Mr. Smith and this type of work was very successful. The students are very anxious to continue this work and it was suggested that assembly programs be given at the two schools.

FRESHMEN TAKE FIRST IN STUNT NIGHT

Before a record breaking audience of 700 the freshman class received first place in stunts Friday night, April 1; sophomores, second; and juniors, third. The judges were Mrs. Bird and Miss Sparling, and the voting audience which counted one-third. In ticket selling the freshman class again took first place with a sale of 132.75; the sophomores second, selling $28.60; juniors third with $18.75; the total proceeds were $182. This has been the largest stunt night ever held in Plymouth high school.

PLYMOUTH PLACES SECOND IN SPEECH CONTEST

The speech contest under the auspices of the Twin Valley Activity association and sub-district contest of the Michigan High School Forensic Association was held Thursday, March 31 at the Dearborn high school. The representatives from Plymouth were Ronald Cook, declaimer, James Leo Schmitz, orator; and Marilyn Holton, extemporaneous speaker.

The school having the best average won the trophy. Dearborn high school was awarded this trophy. The remaining schools were in this order: Plymouth second, River Rouge and Wayne tied for third and fourth, Ecorse fifth, and Ypsilanti sixth. The judges were Drs. Scott, Kopp, and Carlright of Wayne university. Mr. Latture was of the opinion that the representatives of Plymouth had done their best work and were to be highly commended.

STARKWEATHER NOTES

The number two class in the 2B is enjoying a new reader entitled "David's Friends at School". Monday, March 28 no one was absent nor tardy both morning and afternoon.

The fourth graders in Miss Slatcher's room are making Easter bunny pictures. The children have made another flower box and planted many seeds. The nasturtiums have already sprouted in the first box. In connection with their social study of the cave men, the pupils have made clay models of the caves in which the people lived.

The fourth graders in Miss Benz's room have read a story entitled "Wag Tail" about how a tadpole grew into a frog. The children have been studying water life—both fish and plants. They have started to build an aquarium and already have six tadpoles.

Marilyn Vershure's spelling team is still ahead, having won for five out of eight weeks. The children have finished their study of Switzerland and have begun their study of Holland.

The boys have started playing baseball in Miss Sparling's sixth grade, which is a hopeful sign of spring in spite of the wintry blasts of late. The children have been enjoying their study of Germany in geography. In art study they have been learning how to make landscapes and how to arrange their objects on the page.

Charles and Sylvester Truax were transferred from the Central school and enrolled in Miss Farland's room. Frank Verish is another new student who has entered from a Detroit school. The children are practicing their spelling for the bronze medal award. The pupils who will spell in this contest are William Bauman, Dorothy Glass, Betty Lou Arnold, Jack Vershure, Grant Willis, Franklin Garrison, Donald Rock, Phyllis Thompson, Madeline Gearns, Helen Schoof.

POEM FROM THE RED SCHOOL HOUSE

Miss Hearn recently received a complaint in rhyme from her Latin students. She showed them up, however, in the end by telling them that it borrowed its rhyme from a poem by Longfellow and that it was quite the rage of the little old red school house days.

Life is real and life is earnest,
But it could be made sublime
If we were not kept studying
Latin all the time.

Every one is dead who wrote it;
Every one is dead who spoke it;
Every one must die who learns it;
Happy death, I think he earns it!

A snake is able to swallow an egg that is four times the size of its head.

BOOKKEEPING STORE CHANGES MANAGEMENT

Miss Cary's 10A bookkeeping class has received word from R. W. Collins, owner of the Collins Hardware company, that he does not intend to return to Plymouth at present and has decided to purchase a business in Florida, whose weather he prefers to that of Michigan. Accordingly, the offices will be closed and the employees are leaving for Florida to assist Mr. Collins in making his new store a success. In accordance with his wishes, a new group will take over the work of finishing the firms business in Plymouth.

The general office will be administered by James Butler and Shirley Burnham in their usual efficient and peppy manner. The banking division will be safe in the hands of Lynton Ball and Dorothy Ann Richards. They have a reputation among their associates of being exacting in the minute details. Katherine Spitz has taken over the sales division and Virginia Stringer the purchase department. Although the adjusting and accounting part of the company will be worked overtime in closing the business, Mr. Collins felt safe in leaving its management to Joseph Schultz and Jean Hadley.

The store is humming with activity in its last days under the name of R. W. Collins, even though the office force regrets closing its business relations, which have always been most pleasant, with Mr. Collins.

SPECIALIST IN LANDSCAPING SPEAKS TONIGHT AT BANQUET

The annual banquet for the home economics and agriculture departments will be held tonight (Friday) April 8, in the high school auditorium.

The program is as follows:

Invocation, Rev. W. Nichol; dinner music, Carol Campbell; community singing; chairman, Betty Knowles; toastmaster, Douglas Eckles; introduction of honor guests, Miss Lundin; piano solo, Ruth Drews; presentation of awards, Mr. Lynch; talk on "Modern Lighting", Representative of The Detroit Edison; vocal solo, Linnea Vickstrom; address, Mr. Kelly, assistant state supervisor agricultural education; musical selection, Orlan Egloff; talk on "Landscaping", Prof. Gregg, specialist in landscape gardening, Michigan State college.

SPECIALIST IN ALLERGY GUEST OF TEACHERS

A general meeting of all the teachers in the Plymouth school system was held Tuesday, March 29 at the Starkweather school.

Doctor Cohen, specialist in allergy in the research laboratory of the university hospital at Ann Arbor spoke to the group on the subject of allergy. Allergy is the sensitivity of a person to pollens, feathers, foods, etc. The outstanding point of his speech was that allergy was a functional, not organic disorder. He stated that the skin and mucous membranes of the body had a resistance power 15 times greater than the muscular tissue in order to ward off harmful germs.

CLASS NOTES

Miss Ford's modern history classes have been busy for the past few weeks preparing history projects. The class was divided into many groups of about six in number. To these groups were assigned various crown colonies and British possessions over which the students were to prepare reports and projects of any type. These were given in class and the student body graded the individuals concerned.

In the senior science department under Mr. Evans the physics class has lately been carrying on some experiments in the laboratory in an effort to find the heat necessary to melt ice and the heat of vaporization of water. In sound, the class has been experimenting in resonance and the wave lengths of different tuning forks. They also tested some of the thermometers for freezing and boiling points. One of the more interesting experiments was for the pupil to find the relative humidity of various parts of the building.

The fourth and sixth hour chemistry classes have been planning for their projects which are due before the school exhibit. Although their experiments have not been started as yet, they have nearly all decided on their subjects. The chemistry classes go into the laboratory on an average of one to two times a week.

This year for the first time there has also been organized a new class in science called senior science. During the first semester the pupils who took it studied the essentials of chemistry and they are now studying the main points of physics.

Mr. Dykhouse's commercial arithmetic class has been making notebooks in which they compiled their studies of the following topics: Questions in office practice, office dress, voice culture, telephone conversation, and other problems dealing with office work. They have been studying during the past week about various systems of office filing, office records, time payment plans, classes of mail, and telegrams. In the regular textbook work the students are learning about the banker's six percent-sixty day method for finding interest.

The president of the United States receives his salary twice a month.

WIDE VARIETY OF NOON ACTIVITIES OFFERED PUPILS

For the pupils who do not live in the immediate vicinity of Plymouth as well as those students who regularly bring their lunches to school, a wide variety of sports is offered at the noon period. Included in this list are baseball (indoor), shuffleboard, tennis, horseshoes, and even a backboard and basket for those wishing to increase their proficiency in shooting free throws. The only organized sport of those mentioned will be interclass baseball. After the girls volleyball tournament which is now being played in the school gym. The gym will be available at noon only on days when the weather is unfavorable for outside play.

The clubs meeting during the noon period this semester will continue to meet at noon.

No doubt many pupils will avail themselves of the varied activities offered in the noon period, but let us hope they will not forget there is another place to which every studious pupil is welcome! namely, the library.

QUEER DOIN'S

As we sit here gazing around in the library on this beautiful spring morning, we see that it has had its effect on a pair of seniors—"Isn't um just my cute little ducky-lambie wambie?" — It seems that Johnny Cripe has rather bad eyes lately. At least the other day when he saw the fair Lorraine at the library door, he had a hard time keeping his one eye open. Better see about some glasses, Johnny. Rumors have it that Lewis Gilbert, the "Einstein" of the geometry class, has been slipping lately. What's the matter, Pete? It seems there is a certain junior gal who has been counting the days until the Muskegon schools let out for spring vacation. Oh well, they'll be out pretty soon now, Ruth—cheer up. And here is something we've wanted to put in here for a long time—things we admire in different people—What we like about—Gerald Bordin, his ability to generally turn up in history class late every day—Mary Jane Olaver, her beautiful hair. Milton Eiske, his efficient librarianship; Bob Beyer, his "way" with the gals; Ivan Packard, his liking for the library after school; Lucille Otto, her good nature; Marion Luttermoer; her facial expressions in the library; The other day Bob Brown was heard to inquire anxiously if there REALLY might be a girls' golf team. Just be patient, Bob. How are all the candid cameras coming along, all you fans? All those "shots" would, indeed, come in verra, verra handy if we were to have a Pityean this year, but anyway if you keep 'em, boys you will always be able to show 'em to your great grandchildren. It seems that Alfred Cutler has an idea that the physics equipment ought to be lubricated somewhat. Don Hewitt, upon being asked in history class what was the opposite of democratic, replied, "Republican". Buzz, buzz, buzz, here comes a bug flying in the window—hm, looks like the "love bug"—sure enough, he's at it again. It seems to be coming this way, so before it does something to us, too—we'll sign off. Don't let it get you—or wouldn't you mind?

Dead and Deader.

No two persons on earth are EXACTLY alike. Each of us differs to some degree physically, mentally or spiritually.

'Twas a Hard Winter FOR ROADS

With the spring thaw many roads—of materials that can't take it—have become almost impassable from "frost boils," "honey pots," ruts, bumps and chuck-holes.

Soon you will see load restriction, warning and detour signs—while repair crews spend the equivalent cost of miles of needed new pavements... But on concrete roads, please notice, there was no "spring break-up." Year after year concrete roads can take it—with low-maintenance.

Twelve months a year concrete carries you swiftly, safely, economically, saving gas, tires and car wear every mile you drive.

Grease Job--

Was $1.00 - Now 75c

Our former price of $1.00, covering chassis lubrication, checking of battery and tires has been reduced to 75c. — The wise owner protects both his investment and his time. Lack of periodical care, especially in the spring, leads to costly repair bills, and lay-up time adds to the loss—

It costs a great deal MORE to neglect your car than it does to take care of it—so don't delay.
