

Cameron In Church Talk Here Lauds Small Communities, Declares Dictators Kill Religious Freedom

Enthusiastic Approval Of Address Given By Audience

Friday night, over 300 Plymouth residents heard the true story of a kindly Indian who befriended and saved from starvation, the Pilgrims after they had landed in America, because an Englishman had been kind to him, an exemplification of a spirit so badly needed in America today.

Three nights later, untold millions of citizens on the American continent heard the same speaker, William J. Cameron of the Ford Motor company, relate in part the same address he had previously made in this city. In fact, it might be said that the Plymouth occasion was the "pre-view" of an outstanding message to a nation, grasping for words of guidance.

The event was the first community banquet held in the dining room of the beautiful new Presbyterian church. There was a capacity attendance, every ticket having been sold two days before it took place.

Only one brief indirect reference to present national affairs was made and that was when Mr. Cameron told of three interesting events he had attended the previous week. One was his visit to the White House with Henry Ford and his son, Edsel. The other was at a meeting of editors of the country, and another was at an important church event. "The church meeting was the high spot of the week," he declared.

Of the White House visit he commented that after it was over "I was very glad to escape back into the United States."

Applause of the remark caused the only interruption of the entire address.

"These small towns are the country, like them because they are substantial, they are made up of good neighbors. When you enter a place like Plymouth you get a feeling of old New England. Communities like this replenish the large cities of the country with their leaders," said Mr. Cameron.

"They always impress me with the balanced life that exists within them. They have all the advantages of the big cities without their disadvantages.

"Plymouth is an aristocratic name, because the name came to America in the Mayflower.

"The last friendly act the Pilgrims received was in the city of Plymouth, England. Because of this kindness they decided to honor the place where they had settled in America by naming it Plymouth.

"There are two Plymouth rocks in the world, the one where the Pilgrims embarked and the other where they dis-embarked.

"The dis-embarkment at Plymouth rock in America was a "forced" landing, he declared. The wintry winds had blown the Pilgrims over 500 miles from the place they had hoped to land. It was then he related the story of the Indian who had been kidnapped, taken to Europe and sold into slavery. He escaped to England, where he was befriended by an Englishman, who returned him to America the year before the Pilgrims landed.

It was this Indian who extended to the Pilgrims the kindness that had been shown him by his English benefactor.

"Spiritual free men will always find freedom. You can always put tyranny upon Bibleless men. The first thing a dictator does is to strip men of religion. Then they try to fill the vacancy with pagan patriotism. Christianity drove out feudalism," he declared.

Charles H. Bennett introduced the speaker, after expressing thanks to the various committees and the women of the church for the energetic part they had played in making the occasion such an outstanding success.

Music provided by the Dixie Eight was especially enjoyed.

Garbage Calls To Start Twice Weekly Monday

Summer Schedule May Require Longer Hours

Collections of garbage twice a week instead of the customary winter calls of once weekly will begin Monday. City Manager Clarence Elliott announces.

The following schedule of collections was drawn up by Mr. Elliott: Calls will be made in wards 1 and 2 on Mondays and Thursdays, and collections for wards 3 and 4 are slated for Tuesdays and Fridays.

On Wednesdays and Saturdays collections will be made from stores and special jobs will be handled. On those days also collectors will pick up rubbish in addition to as many collections of rubbish as possible on regularly scheduled days.

It may be necessary to lengthen the hours for the three workers on the garbage force at some additional expense in order to take care of the increased work. Mr. Elliott predicted.

Garbage and rubbish collections by the city began last July 1. The city commission has accepted the bid of Ray E. Grandson and Al Brown for disposal of the city's garbage. The contract provides that Mr. Grandson and Mr. Brown will pay the city $500 for the year's garbage, to be delivered by the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Small and son, Ira, of California, arrived Wednesday afternoon for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Jessie Terry, in her home on Elizabeth street.

Commission Members Start Work On Proposed City Budget; Cost Slashes Sought

Additional Sessions Will Be Needed Before Approval

The city commission began discussions of a tentative general budget for the 1938-39 fiscal year Monday night. The discussions will be continued in meetings following the regular session scheduled for next Monday, City Manager Clarence Elliott said.

The bulk of the proposal, and uncertainty as to what exact property valuations will be, have produced the necessity for prolonged discussion on the matter, he said.

One of the principal aims of the budget discussions, he said, will be "an endeavor to cut the cost of budget items as much as can possibly be done."

"I should say that we are about half way through the work on the budget," he added.

The tentative budget, submitted to the city commission by the budget committee, composed of Mr. Elliott and Mayor Henry H. Hondorp, totals $88,457, of which only $71,050 would be spread on the tax roll. The new budget will go into effect July 1.

The estimates are only slightly higher than expenditures for last year, when a total of $86,396 was

Legion Auxiliary Meet Tonight

The regular meeting of the Myron H. Beals Post and auxiliary will be held this Friday evening, May 13 in the Legion hall at Newburg with a dinner at 6:30 followed by business meeting of both the post and auxiliary. This meeting is a week early on account of making final preparations for the poppy sale, which will be held Saturday, May 21, and the district meeting which will be held on Sunday, May 22.

John Henderson Dies After Brief Illness

Death Takes Well Known Citizen Of Community

John Henderson, aged 76 years, and for more than a quarter of a century one of Plymouth's well known citizens, died at his home, 238 South Main street, early last Saturday morning after an illness of only three days. While he had been in declining health for nearly a year, it was not until just a short time before his death that he was forced to give up all outside activities.

Mr. Henderson was born in Detroit, where his father was one of the pioneer shoe makers of that city. The family at one time owned a home on lower Woodward avenue, which is now the center of the business section of Detroit.

It was in 1895 when he married Miss Emma Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Patterson of this locality. For a time after the wedding they lived on a farm near Farmington, which he later sold.

Following this transaction he came to Plymouth where he became manager of the branch of the Detroit Creamery for this entire locality, a place he held for more than 20 years.

Meanwhile, he had become interested in Plymouth business and civic affairs and was elected director of the Plymouth United Savings bank, a position he held up until his death, covering a period of more than 33 years. He was eight years a member of the school board, of which he also served as president. For many years he was also a member of the old council as well as the city commission after this city had adopted the commission form of government.

Immediately upon coming to Plymouth he joined the Presbyterian church and served as an elder and trustee of the church for more than a quarter of a century. He was a member of the building committee that had in charge the erection of the beautiful new church just recently dedicated. In his own right, he was especially proud of the final accomplishment. Mrs. Henderson and one son, Claude Henderson, a prominent attorney, living in Mt. Vernon, Washington, and numerous other relatives survive.

The funeral was held from the Schuder funeral home Monday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, the Rev. Walter Nichol, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment took place in River-side mausoleum.

Special Airplane To Pick Up Plymouth Letters To Be Sent By Air Mail Anniversary Week

Cachet With City's Seal To Mark All Messages

Plymouth will participate in the nationwide observance of Air Mail Week, May 15 to 22, with a special pick-up mail service direct from the city May 19.

The air mail plane, one of 15 extra planes being pressed into service next week to supply special air mail pick-ups in Michigan, will arrive at 3:20 p.m., lay over for 10 minutes, then depart with Plymouth's air mail at 3:30 p.m.

Post office officials stressed the fact that Plymouth residents desiring to use this special one-day service to send business or social air mail direct from Plymouth should have their mail in the postoffice by 3:00 p.m. at the latest.

All mail leaving Plymouth on this special flight will be stamped with a special cachet created for the occasion. The cachet shows the city seal of Plymouth with the slogan, "Plymouth, City of Homes."

This cachet will be used during Air Mail Week only. Special air mail stamps, issued for the national celebration of 20 years of mail service on American air lines, will be on sale Monday and will continue to be sold until the supply is exhausted. Air mail envelopes also will go on sale about Monday and will be stamped with the Plymouth cachet when mailed.

Postoffice officials in Plymouth, as in postoffices throughout the country, are particularly anxious that every resident send an airmail letter on a postal flight somewhere. A careful check will be made of the total number of airmail letters sent from Plymouth on May 19 and during Air Mail Week.

Postoffice officials, however, stress the fact that air mail is available to Plymouth residents every day in the week through connections at Detroit. Air mail letters cost three cents more than regular mail. Delivery can be had to any part of the world, and there is 24-hour service to any air mail point in the United States.

Air mail to Europe is flown to New York, carried over the ocean by liner, then dispatched by plane at the port to its destination. Such air mail letters to Europe, one ounce or less, cost 11 cents.

Air mail throughout the world is comparatively recent, but American air mail service began 20 years ago, May 15, 1918, during the World War.

At that time planes did not fly at night and early total mileage was only 435 daily. Today air mail planes fly a total of quarter-million miles through each 24 hours.

Air mail nearly faltered at one point, but pilots insisted they could make a success of it. Because of their determination the aviation industry as a whole benefited and became of major importance in the United States.

Planes carrying mail, express, and passengers traveled over 70,000,000 miles last year. Nearly 200,000,000 pieces of mail and more than 9,000,000 pounds of express was carried by plane last year. In the 20-year period over 1,500,000,000 pieces of mail have been flown to the destinations.

Parcel post, registered mail as well as special delivery and C. O. D. can be utilized in air mail service. The United States rate also applies to Alaska, Canada and Mexico.

The design to be used on all air mail letters sent from Plymouth during the week was designed by City Engineer Stanford Besse. The employee of the postoffice paid for the plate.

Air Mail Week PROCLAMATION By The Mayor

WHEREAS, the post office department at Washington is sponsoring National Air Mail Week from May 15 to May 21 inclusive, and

WHEREAS, This is the twentieth anniversary of regular air mail service in the United States and

WHEREAS, I believe that the citizenry of Plymouth has a lively interest in the development of air mail in our nation.

NOW THEREFORE, I, Henry Hondorp, mayor of the city of Plymouth, do hereby designate the week of May 15 to May 21 as Air Mail Week for Plymouth and do call upon our people to make proper observance of this week by liberally patronizing the air mail and otherwise evidencing their appreciation of the efforts of the post office department to provide this necessary service for our city.

High School Gets Approved Rating From U. of M.

Wins Praise For High Standing Over 38 Years

Recognition of 38 years of scholastic achievements was extended to Plymouth high school this week by the University of Michigan.

The high school received a certificate from the University which acknowledged that qualified and recommended graduates would be admitted to the university without entrance examination.

The certificate further pointed to Plymouth's record of continued approval by the university since 1900 and announced that on this basis the recognition was granted for an indefinite period. The school already holds an accredited rating from the North Central association, good until 1939.

The certificate, which was signed by Alexander G. Ruthven, president of the university; J. W. Smith, secretary, and George R. Carrothers, director of the Bureau of Co-operation with Educational Institutions, read:

"This is to certify that Plymouth high school has been duly examined and approved and has been admitted to the accredited list of the University of Michigan. The qualified and recommended graduates from said school shall be admitted to the university without entrance examinations."

"It is further certified that the said school has been continuously accredited by the University of Michigan since the year 1900 and that this certificate is valid as long as this school maintains its standards for the accrediting of secondary schools as defined by the University of Michigan. Given by order of the committee on relations with secondary high schools of the University of Michigan."

On Wednesday, May 11, Mrs. Harry J. Green gave a potluck dinner in honor of her aunt, Mrs. Janna Cook. The Plymouth guests were Mrs. C. G. Draper, Mrs. Harlow Williams, Mrs. Herald Hamill, Mrs. Carl Caplin, Mrs. Agnes Scott, Mrs. Roy Clark, Miss Clara Tyler, Miss Jean Hamill, and Miss Rebecca Obstunuk, a friend. The Detroit guests were Mrs. A. Allen, Mrs. R. E. Relyea, Mrs. C. F. O'Connor, Mrs. P. Healey, Mrs. O. F. Merrill, Mrs. Charles Needham, Mrs. Ernest Kohler of Northville and Mrs. Roy Bower and daughters of Dearborn. The company comprised Mrs. Cook's sister-in-law, her niece, great niece and great great nieces.

Disaster Strikes Hard At Richland Road Family

Mrs. Roy Graham, 28 years old, is dead, four little children have been left motherless, and Mrs. Helen Graham, a sister-in-law, lies in a critical condition in Receiving hospital as the result of a fire which destroyed the Graham home on Richland road, just off the Stark road and about half a mile south of the Plymouth road, late Tuesday afternoon.

Children in the neighborhood heard a terrific explosion, saw the chimney fly from the roof of the house, and then saw the entire house burst in flames.

The mother had apparently been blown by the explosion to the floor near a bed. She was buried as she lay.

Mrs. George Graham, who had called at the house, ran to the yard with her dress in flames. She fell to the ground and rolled in the grass to extinguish the fire. Her face and hands were terribly burned.

Mrs. Clifford Swarbrick, who lives just the first house east, David Tarbett, and Ernest Felt, other neighbors, ran to her assistance. She was placed in an automobile belonging to Mr. Beecher, who rushed her to the hospital.

Mrs. Alice Morris, living just north of the Graham home on Pine Tree road, was out hanging up clothing at the side of her home when she heard the explosion. By the time she had turned to see where it came from, she declared that the Graham house, a two story frame structure, was in flames, fire coming from the windows and doors.

Three of the little Graham children were at school. Constantine, the oldest is 11, Virginia, 10, Richard, 8, and Janet, who is only five, was playing out of doors. They are children of Mrs. Graham's by a previous marriage.

The Swarbricks immediately opened their home to the crying children and have been providing for them.

The father, a WPA worker, was employed on a new school house being built in Inkster village. He did not know of the accident until he returned home from work.

What caused the explosion is not known. Neighbors immediately suggested that the explosion might have been from the heating stove, as the chimney of the house was the first thing they saw blow from the roof. Others say Mrs. Graham possibly threw oil in the stove. The family has been provided with welfare coal. There was no insurance on the house.

The report that friends are trying to locate the former husband of Mrs. Graham and the father of the four children is incorrect. Mr. Graham plans to build a new home and bring up the children.

The report that friends are trying to locate the former husband of Mrs. Graham and the father of the four children is incorrect. Mr. Graham plans to build a new home and bring up the children.

Mrs. Roy Graham, 28 years old, is dead, four little children have been left motherless, and Mrs. Helen Graham, a sister-in-law, lies in a critical condition in Receiving hospital as the result of a fire which destroyed the Graham home on Richland road, just off the Stark road and about half a mile south of the Plymouth road, late Tuesday afternoon.

Children in the neighborhood heard a terrific explosion, saw the chimney fly from the roof of the house, and then saw the entire house burst in flames.

The mother had apparently been blown by the explosion to the floor near a bed. She was buried as she lay.

Mrs. George Graham, who had called at the house, ran to the yard with her dress in flames. She fell to the ground and rolled in the grass to extinguish the fire. Her face and hands were terribly burned.

Mrs. Clifford Swarbrick, who lives just the first house east, David Tarbett, and Ernest Felt, other neighbors, ran to her assistance. She was placed in an automobile belonging to Mr. Beecher, who rushed her to the hospital.

Mrs. Alice Morris, living just north of the Graham home on Pine Tree road, was out hanging up clothing at the side of her home when she heard the explosion. By the time she had turned to see where it came from, she declared that the Graham house, a two story frame structure, was in flames, fire coming from the windows and doors.

Three of the little Graham children were at school. Constantine, the oldest is 11, Virginia, 10, Richard, 8, and Janet, who is only five, was playing out of doors. They are children of Mrs. Graham's by a previous marriage.

The Swarbricks immediately opened their home to the crying children and have been providing for them.

The father, a WPA worker, was employed on a new school house being built in Inkster village. He did not know of the accident until he returned home from work.

What caused the explosion is not known. Neighbors immediately suggested that the explosion might have been from the heating stove, as the chimney of the house was the first thing they saw blow from the roof. Others say Mrs. Graham possibly threw oil in the stove. The family has been provided with welfare coal. There was no insurance on the house.

Mother of Four Children Burns To Death In Stove Explosion

Disaster Strikes Hard At Richland Road Family

"JEALOUSY OR ENVY."

George Averill, editor of The Birmingham Eccentric, is pretty well known to a large number of people not only in this part of Michigan, but throughout the state. Over a period of many years he has been regarded as an outstanding editor of clear vision and one intensely interested in clean government. His concern about an honest and decent administration of public affairs has not been due to any political aspirations he has ever cherished. His interests have been the same as those of any other good citizen.

Recently, by letter, he called upon an out-state editor, who is strongly supporting the candidacy of Frank Fitzgerald for the Republican nomination for governor, to clear away the mystifying connections believed by the general public to exist between Frank McKay of Grand Rapids and Mr. Fitzgerald. Mr. Averill did so with the object in view, he states, of cleaning up, if possible, one of the vulnerable points of attack upon the Republican party. He attempted to make it quite clear that his one and only purpose in the matter was for the good of the entire state.

But the plan didn't work out in the way that had been anticipated.

Instead of something being done to convince the people of Michigan that Mr. Averill's fears, as to the meaning of this close association, were groundless and that it bore no danger to honest government, there appeared in The Charlotte-Republican Tribune a letter directed to its editor from Mr. Fitzgerald viciously attacking Mr. Averill and his intent in the matter.

It accused him of attempting to "smear" reputations and insinuated that possibly "jealousy and envy" had something to do with his concern about the future of his party in Michigan.

The Plymouth Mail is not in a position to speak for Mr. Averill, but having known him and his intense interest in good government over a period of many years, it is to be regretted that such unjustifiable terms were used. He has not the slightest reason to be jealous of any one and he is not given to "smearing" reputations.

While Mr. Fitzgerald says he has never been under the influence of Mr. McKay, no matter how good or bad that influence might be, he certainly has placed himself under everlasting obligations to Mr. McKay in the letter he wrote to Editor DeFoe.

These are, indeed, grave times not only in Michigan but throughout the nation. The people are in serious distress. Money voted for their relief is being confiscated "within the law" by greedy, loud-mouthed office holding misfits.

Whether it be through the Democratic party or the Republican party, Michigan must be provided a way out of its plight. Certainly, vicious attacks upon men interested only in honest government do not offer any hopeful sign of an accomplishment of the purposes in which people of Michigan are so vitally interested.

WHO IS HE SPOOFING?

The other day Governor Murphy went over to a big political pow-wow in Kalamazoo. During the afternoon he visited the Kalamazoo state hospital. It was his first visit to that institution during the nearly two years he has been governor. In fact, as far as known, he had never before been on the grounds of the hospital.

Then he went to a political banquet and declared that he had "discovered" that the Kalamazoo state hospital was a fire trap, that it was over-crowded and

"It was a glaring example of the desperation of the spoils rule. Republican politicians and their absurd, willful and indefensible statements."

Of course it is not at all surprising to find the Governor trying to make a political issue of the overcrowded condition of the state hospitals of Michigan. He must do something to cover up his abject failure as an executive. But it is going pretty far to try and make this an issue in view of all the facts pertaining to the hospital situation in Michigan.

Not only that, but the fact that the Governor, after nearly two years as chief executive of the state, had not "discovered" this condition until just before election time is an amazing admission of his laxity as an official. Not only does it reveal a disgraceful deficiency of information about the institutions over which he presides, but it is a serious admission of his incompetency.

The condition of the state hospitals might possibly be "news" to the Governor, but NOT to the people of Michigan.

Some two or three years ago, Editor Arthur Stage of the Ann Arbor News, in a series of articles appearing in nine or ten of the biggest newspapers in Michigan, called attention to the deplorable and over-crowded condition in many of the hospital buildings.

But if the Governor does not read newspapers, then in order to find out about the condition of the state hospitals, all he has to do is consult the official records in HIS OWN OFFICE.

We would like to call his attention to a report on this problem made to the state legislature, which he absolutely controlled, during the early part of the last regular session. Senator George P. McCallum of Ann Arbor, who was chairman of the legislative committee that investigated conditions in the hospitals of the state, and the other members of the committee, made a thorough study of the situation and the report presented to the legislature was an exhaustive one, covering in detail the conditions prevailing in the hospitals.

Mr. Murphy said he asked the legislature for twelve millions of dollars and he only received six millions of dollars. Well, Governor, what have you done with the six millions of dollars? Certainly not one cent has been spent in Kalamazoo where you say conditions are worse than in any other hospital in Michigan.

When one knows the facts, his efforts to make this matter political are so ridiculous that they look like the products of one who really is unable to think straight.

How are appropriations made? First, a bill must be introduced in the legislature. Then it goes to the ways and means committee of the house. Who makes up the ways and means committee that considered Mr. Murphy's request? Seven Democrats and four Republicans. After the committee reported the bill out, who voted for it? The members of the house of representatives. The house of representatives had 60 Democratic members and 40 Republicans. All appropriation bills originate in the house. The senate approved the house action. If you didn't get twelve millions, Mr. Murphy, the Democrats, not the Republicans, are to blame as you imply. But maybe the judgment of the Democrats in the legislature is better than that of yourself.

Governor, there is no person in Michigan more responsible than yourself for the "fire hazards" and the over-crowded conditions in our state hospitals. You had hardly warmed the chair in the high office to which you were elected when this problem was OFFICIALLY called to your attention.

You have seen fit to try and make this a political matter. Well it happens that the chairman of that committee who urged that you do something about the hospital situation over a year ago, is a Republican.

Some of our institutions might be old, and some are over-crowded, but they are not half as bad as pictured. Wouldn't it be far better if you as Governor tried to find something good to talk about in our state, instead of slandering everything and everybody?

Don't try to "spoo" the people of Michigan any longer, Governor. They are not quite as dumb as you try to make them out. Then, too, it is not proper for any high official to resort to this type of "faking" in order to build up political issues.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

POLITICIANS USED THE MONEY.

Some people receiving old age assistance have been notified that their monthly allowance, or pension, has been reduced. It has come to our notice that in some instances township supervisors have been charged with being responsible for such reductions, such charges having been made in efforts to defeat said supervisors. This is wholly unfair, as township supervisors have absolutely nothing to do with old age assistance, which is handled entirely by a separate department at Lansing, which department has representatives in every county in the state. If the state administration had not spent so much money for everything else, there might have been money enough left to continue old age assistance on the same basis as before, but this administration is costing far too much money. If anyone tells the recipient of old age assistance that his or her township supervisor had the amount of the monthly allowance reduced, that is simply dishonest—nothing less.—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

EMPLOYMENT CUT DOWN.

Take your own case. Last year our own little business added three employees. Last month we cut them off the payroll. We were not taking enough money to pay them, after we had paid our other expenses and our taxes. The amount our company will pay for social security taxes this year would have met their pay.—Floyd Miller in The Royal Oak Tribune.

LET COMMUNISTS GO.

Governor Murphy's soft heart for the C.I.O. and its communistic tentacles is shown again, this time in his commuting the sentence of an upper peninsula communist who identified himself in the late labor war carried on up there against the timber operators, by bombing two bridges near L'Anse. He was sentenced to prison for from two to four years, a very moderate penalty considering the nature of the crime, but the Governor has made it still more moderate by commuting the sentence to one year, and that will enable him to walk out of prison on May 15th, in time to take up further no work activities in the lumber section of upper Michigan.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

Boy Plays With Matches, Baby Sister Dies In Flames

New Hudson was the scene of a tragedy Monday morning when little Marilyn Campbell, 14-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell was burned to death in a fire that destroyed the Campbell home. Marilyn was asleep in a bedroom when the fire broke out, and in the confusion was momentarily overlooked when her mother frantically sought to get other children to safety. Mrs. Campbell heroically carried out three others, and when she attempted a rescue of the last, the flames barred entry, and she was restrained by neighbors from making the attempt.

A little brother in the family had been playing with matches, it is reported, in the bedroom where the children were together, and a curtain caught fire. Mrs. Campbell was in the kitchen, baking, when the lad rushed into the room carrying the match box. A glance into the bedroom revealed the room engulfed in flame, and Mrs. Campbell rushed in to secure the children. Carrying a three-months-old babe and another child in her arms, and pushing one child before her she made her way safely out, but the flames spread with such rapidity that there was no chance to make a second entry, and she was not allowed to make the trial.

Justice Rush Foster acted as coroner, when the body was recovered, and it was brought to the Richardson funeral home. Funeral services were Wednesday morning from St. Mary's church, conducted by Rev. Foley, with burial in Milford. Surviving are the parents and five brothers and sisters, Dolores 11, Fredrick, nine, Aelene eight, James five, and John, three months old. The father is employed by the Edison company.

The interior of the house was entirely destroyed, asbestos shingles on the sides confining the fire within.—Milford Times.

Fred Campbell is a brother of Edwin Campbell, who resides on Harvey street in this city.

When The Baby Goes To School

That youngster who has been playing around the house like a frolicsome puppy has a way of growing up. On the day he goes to school, a whole new life begins. The protection of home and mother is gone. He is now one of many, treated kindly enough but a part of organized society. Those baby eyes that never had a real task now go to work—a visual adaptation is required. Many children make this adaptation successfully. Others develop "tricks"—brain tricks of which they (and their parents) are wholly unconscious. These tricks get them by for a while, but eventually comes the 4th Grade in which teaching techniques alter. Now those early visual adaptations will not suffice. The visual tasks become heavier. What happens? The commonest escape used by children is SUBCONSCIOUS REFUSAL TO SEE. Before, in a faulty way, the brain tried to do the seeing—now it just gives up—quits trying. Then follows inattention, mischief, play at the wrong time, poor marks—not only in studies but in conduct. Sulkiness under reproof. "I hate school."

His mother is trying to be a good mother. She even tried "glasses" but the boy wouldn't wear them. He'd leave home with them on—hide them all day—and put them back on when he returned from school. Doesn't that tell a story? No child rejects anything that is an obvious help. Re-adaptation of the whole visual system was what was needed. This boy had an I.Q. of 112, showing his natural ability. But by scolding, society was creating a "bad boy"—making a problem case out of him. A few weeks' work with a professional optometrist made startling changes in that boy. You might think this is the story of an overnight transformation—it isn't! The boy never became a high-mark student. He passed his grades successfully and became a normal school child. Why not high marks? Go back to that I. Q.—he was intelligent and saw the value of passing his grades but instead of using his newly-won ability to "grind" over his lessons, he used the time for all-round development and so stood well in classes, sports and games. The most important change took place in his character. He threw off the sulky, obstinate, evasive disposition that had been forming so dangerously and became a cheerful, happy lad eager to match himself against the problems of a growing boy—knows a solitary, quarrelsome child.

Rotarians Told Of Insurance Safety

Plymouth Rotarians heard considerable about life insurance and its stabilizing influences on the nation at the meeting last Friday noon when Thomas F. O'Keefe, well known Detroit insurance representative, addressed the club. Mr. O'Keefe was brought to Plymouth as the result of the activities of the committee of which Dr. Paul Butz is chairman.

He told the Rotarians how and where their insurance premiums are invested so that when payment falls due, there will be no question about settlement.

During the year, farm mortgage loans decreased by $54,000,000 and city mortgages increased by $38,000,000 reducing the percentage to total assets from 20.3 percent to 19.3 percent. Bonds and stocks were increased during the year approximately $1,397,000,000. This class of assets showing a gain in proportion to total from 52 percent to 55.7 percent. Government bonds increased about $874,000,000. Policy loans and premium notes showed decrease of $160,000,000 and the percentage of assets so held decreased from 13.4 percent to 12.4 percent. The gain in real estate amounted to $22,000,000, the percentage of assets so held decreasing to 8.1 percent. Bonds and preferred stocks amounted to $13,491,000,000 or 55.7 percent of the assets, of which only 1.7 percent is represented by stockholdings, he declared.

At the end of the year railroad securities will approximate $3,134,000,000 representing 12.9 percent of total assets. From 1906 to 1937 this item decreased in ratio to total assets from 34.8 percent to 12.9 percent. Public utility securities in amount of $2,826,000,000 represents 11.7 percent of total assets. Domestic, state and county, and municipal securities amount to $1,300,000,000 or 5.7 percent. Other corporate securities total $1,178,000,000, an amount equal to 4.9 percent.

Farm loans which reached a peak of $1,982,000,000 in 1927 have decreased to $802,000,000. In 1924 this item represented 18.7 percent of the assets and has now declined to 3.3 percent. Mortgages on city properties reached their high in 1931 when they totalled $5,253,000,000. These have been reduced to $3,884,000,000. This item represented 30 percent of the total assets in 1929 and has gradually receded to 16 percent. Policy loans between 1911 and 1921 represented between 12 percent and 14 percent of the assets and increased until at the end of 1932 when it represented 17.9 percent. Policy loans outstanding at present is approximately $3,014,000, or only 12.4 percent of assets. U. S. government bonds total $4,416,000,000 or 18.2 percent. The speaker asked if there was anything which reflected greater stability than such investments as these.

Poppy Day Sale Saturday, May 21 in City Of Plymouth

Preparations for the observance of Poppy day Saturday, May 21, are being completed by Myron H. Beals unit of the American Legion auxiliary, John Meyer, unit president, announced today. Arrangements are being directed by Leon Merriman, chairman of the Poppy day committee, assisted by a large corps of workers from the unit. Plans are being developed to distribute memorial poppies in every part of the city.

"Honor the World War dead and aid the war's living victims, is the meaning of the memorial poppy," said Mr. Merriman. "The poppy, which bloomed so strikingly among the trenches and battle graves in France and Belgium, became the flower of the dead during the war. Ever since the war it has been worn in all English-speaking countries annually as an individual tribute to the men who gave their lives in the conflict.

"The little red flower takes added significance from the fact that it is made by the war disabled, and that it contributes to the welfare of the disabled men and the dependent families of veterans. Everyone who wears a poppy on Poppy Day, not only is showing remembrance and honor for the men who died in the war, but is giving help to those who still are bearing the burdens of the war in suffering, privation and lost opportunities. All contributions made for the flower will go to support the rehabilitation and welfare work of the Legion and Auxiliary which means so much to the disabled veterans and the families of the dead and disabled.

"The women of the Auxiliary are making great efforts for a successful Poppy day this year and are hoping that everyone in Plymouth will catch the spirit of the day, and will join with them in honoring the dead and aiding the disabled."

W.C.T.U. To Hear Famed Speaker

Mrs. Margaret C. Munns, treasurer of the World's and the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will speak Friday evening, May 20, at the North-western Baptist church, Grand River avenue at Clarendon, Detroit.

A college-bred woman, she has traveled widely in the United States and has made numerous trips abroad in the prosecution of her life work. As treasurer of the world's W.C.T.U. she is in close touch and almost daily correspondence with the 50 countries which are linked together in this organization. Thus she is a woman of world vision and world sympathies as well. She says: "Alcohol education is sorely needed among all classes of people. A knowledge of what alcohol is and what it does is the crying need of the day. No human being knows the cost in lives, damage to property and insurance payments of automobile accidents caused by drivers who were apparently in control of themselves but whose higher faculties were numbed by alcohol. To attack this tremendous problem will

Chicken Thieves Raid Farms

Chicken thieves are again operating in this locality, according to the following news item taken from the Ann Arbor News:

Sheriff's officers today were again baffled by the growing discrimination of the county's chicken thieves who Friday selected 22 of the best Plymouth Rock hens from the flock of 35 belonging to David King on Milford road.

The thieves worked swiftly and made their selection carefully leaving the white leghorns and setting hens. They are obviously after those fowl that will bring highest market prices.

Tracks showed the marauders walked a quarter of a mile through two grain fields to reach the coops, having left their vehicle on the Pontiac road.

Deputy Richard Klavitter, who investigated, said there was unmistakable evidence the King theft, is connected with several other recent cases of chicken stealing in Washtenaw county. To date, most of the thefts have occurred in the western part of the county although that section has now been covered quite thoroughly and it is believed the poachers may change their territory.

Thanks!

"Dear Mr. Eaton:

"We wish to convey our sincere appreciation for the fine editorial on Dr. Townsend's pardon which appeared in the April 29 issue of The Plymouth Mail. You expressed most clearly what every conscientious and truly democratic American citizen should feel regarding the president's act.

"May we also thank you for the kind notices and articles which you have published about the Plymouth Townsend club's meetings and activities.

"Very truly yours,
 "CLARENCE E. PANKOW,
 "President Plymouth Townsend club."

"Dear Editor:

"Probably few of us, when tossing a pebble into the water, give thought to where the waves may reach. And this letter is no exception. If I knew all the reactions I might restrain this impulse.

"Not every day does a North Dakota rancher, visiting his native state, have the chance to scan the pages of other than the great dailies. But my friend called my attention to your editorial page of April 29, 1938.

"May I express my appreciation of your defense of free speech and the right of petition as expressed in your editorial on the Townsend pardon?

"But may I chide you a bit in connection with your selection of exchange articles?

"You quote from the Royal Oak Tribune under the caption, 'Give Them Jobs.' May I suggest that there is thus exposed a state of mind that is unhealthy? Just why do you use the third person, 'Give them jobs?' Are these to whom you would give employment some one apart from ourselves? Are we to infer that we are, unfortunately, in debt to some one and the best we can do is to 'give' them something?

"The Royal Oak writer is grievously in error as to what ails the country. It is not JOBS we need, but the PRIVILEGE OF CONSUMING what is produced. If we can put overalls on a machine and have it PRODUCE, while we go fishing, just why should we refuse to play?

"Was it not OUR money which, loaned to certain ones, that permitted the machine to be built? Why, then, do we refuse to claim the product of the machine? Certainly we can amply compensate the ones who think out new ways of permitting us to go fishing more often, but to permit them to lock up the product, and permit it to be dispensed only on THEIR terms, seems to me an anachronism.

"If my cattle drift away from home in a blizzard they don't ask 'Whose hay is this?' They eat from any haystack they come to, and if strange cattle come to my ranch I feed them with my own. I never knew a true cattleman to ask for more than equal restitution.

"I understand that I am to be permitted to address the citizens of Plymouth on May 9. I trust I may have the privilege of greeting you and getting your approach to this question of creating consumer demand for the products of industry.

"Very sincerely,
 "DWIGHT I. TODD"

Society News

On Thursday evening, last, Miss Alice Bakewell entertained at her home on Plymouth road, 16 young ladies at a kitchen cream, cake and coffee were served in honor of her friend, Miss Frieda Schuster of South Lyon, whose marriage will be an event of the near future. The young ladies spent the evening making a bride's book which was later presented to Miss Schuster together with many other gifts for the kitchen. The dining table from which ice cream, cake and coffee were served, was made attractive with blue candles and yellow flowers, the color scheme for the party. Guests came from South Lyon, Ypsilanti, Salem, Northville and Plymouth.

Alice Bakewell was the guest of honor Saturday evening at a delightful miscellaneous shower given by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tholson in their home on Blunk avenue. There were about 50 relatives and friends present from Detroit, Plymouth, Northville, Melvindale and Wayne. The bride-to-be received numerous beautiful and useful gifts. A delicious luncheon was served at a late hour.

The annual meeting and election of officers of Sarah Ann Cochran chapter D.A.R. will be held Monday, May 16, 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Nettie Dibble with Mrs. George Wilcox and R. H. Miss Jennie Flagg And Arthur Mills Wed Last Saturday Evening

A wedding of interest to their many friends, was that of Miss Jennie Flagg, sister of Mrs. Homer Burton, North Harvey street, and Arthur Lyndon Mills, of Adams street, which took place Saturday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Burton home.

Palms, Easter lilies, hydrangeas and tall candelabra provided the background for the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. S. S. Closson. The couple were attended by Mrs. Burton and Hawley Mills, son of Mr. Mills. During the ceremony Mrs. J. T. Chapman sang two numbers, "Oh Perfect Love" and "Oh Love Divine and Golden".

The bride was attired in a Royal blue floral print dress with full length matching coat of chiffon with which she wore a corsage of yellow roses and forget-me-nots. Mrs. Burton wore blue lace and her flowers were pink roses and candy tuft. Light refreshments were served during the evening from a beautifully appointed table. Among the guests present was Mrs. William Lyndon, who is past 81 years of age. She entertained the guests by reciting poems and singing songs which caused much merriment.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills will spend a few days in northern Michigan and on their return will reside at 349 Adams street. Mr. Mills is an engineer on the Pere Marquette railroad and has resided in Plymouth for the past 20 years. Mrs. Mills was formerly from Sarnac Lake, New York, but for the past two years has been living with her sister here. Their many friends extend congratulations.

DELIA ENTRICAN

In the death of Miss Delia Entrican, Plymouth lost one of her citizens whose life has had a large place in the history of this community. Miss Entrican was born at Novi, December 5, 1883. In 1876 she came to Plymouth as a teacher in the public schools. Here for thirty years she labored as one of the most helpful and successful of teachers. Endowed by nature with a strong body, a fine mind, excellent teaching ability, and a personality which impressed itself upon her pupils Miss Entrican exercised an unusual discipline and control in her classroom. Her pupils learned that the standards of her school must be respected and they loved and admired her for it. Many of the citizens of Plymouth today remember with kindly gratitude their training under this remarkable woman. Unfortunately, ill health interfered with Miss Entrican's work. She was stricken with arthritis and found it necessary to give up her teaching; but she had made a plan for herself in Plymouth and continued to live here, helpful by word and work and especially by the patient spirit she manifested in her suffering. There had come to Plymouth at the same time as Miss Entrican, Miss Ella Smith who later became Mrs. Elmer Chaffee. These two young women became friends. They lived together and when Ella Smith married, Delia Entrican found a home with the Chaffees. And so the two women have been close companions for some sixty-three years. Miss Entrican fell Saturday evening at Mrs. Chaffee's home, breaking a hip bone. She was taken to Plymouth hospital where everything possible was done for her. But the shock proved too much for the worn, pain-wracked body and she died Sunday morning. Funeral services were held from Schrader Brothers funeral home on Tuesday, May 10, at 3:00 p.m. Rev. Walter Nichol officiated and Mrs. Moon and Mrs. McAllister sang. The bearers were former scholars in Miss Entrican's classes. The floral tributes were many and beautiful and a large company of friends attended. Burial was made in Riverside cemetery.

JOHN W. HENDERSON

John W. Henderson, who resided at 230 South Main street, passed away early Saturday morning, May 7, at the age of 76 years, after a lingering illness. He is survived by his widow, Emma Patterson Henderson; one son, Claude J. Henderson of Mt. Vernon, Washington; one grandchild, Mrs. Katherine Willhite of Portland, Oregon and one great grandson. Also surviving are three brothers and two sisters, Thomas J. Henderson of Tree Top, Traverse City; James J. Henderson of Big Rapids, and Robert Henderson of Sandusky; Jessie Henderson of St. Louis, Missouri; and Mrs. Mary Brown of Rochester. The body was brought to the Schrader funeral home, from which place funeral services were held Monday, May 9, at 3:30 p.m. Two beautiful hymns were sung by Mrs. J. T. Chapman, Rev. Walter Nichol officiated and interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

Editor, 82 Years Old Sets Paper By Hand

Editor J. E. McMullen of the Linden Leader, has just celebrated his 82nd birthday. He is one of the two oldest active editors in Michigan. The other is "Matt" Blosser of Manchester, but the difference between the two lies in the fact that Editor McMullen still "sets" his entire paper by hand. Editor Blosser uses a machine. The following is what Editor McMullen wrote for his paper about his birthday: "Well, folks, yesterday, May 4, I celebrated my 82nd birthday and enjoyed it working hard setting up ads and writing copy day off, several of my friends sent birthday greeting cards, besides a goodly variety of eats. But I am only a boy along side of Wil-son Soule, who will soon be celebrating his 101st birthday. However, good as I feel, much of my trying qualities have disappeared, and it's wonderful the amount of rest I can take without a single grumble, but don't worry, I'll likely be hanging around 200 years yet, while I'm sorry to say, my life partner is slowing down, and with the several bad falls she has had her physical condition is not from what I would like it to be."

Garden Club Told Of Flower Arrangements

There were 22 ladies present at the meeting Monday afternoon, of the Plymouth branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association, held in the home of Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, Mrs. Lee Joslin, of Birmingham, was present and gave an informal talk on her idea of a garden. A committee was chosen to make plans where the club with the city co-operating would plant petunias, the association flower. Several of the members plan to attend the Annual Michigan Horticultural luncheon meeting at Bloomfield Country club on Tuesday, among them being Mrs. Paul Wiedman, president, Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, Mrs. Carl L. Cowgill, Mrs. Ward Henderson and Mrs. John T. Neale, Jr. They will have the privilege of visiting the gardens of Mrs. W. D. Thompson, the Sly sisters and the Booth estate. Mrs. Wiedman was in Jackson on Tuesday and Wednesday attending the state convention of the association. Following the talk by Mrs. Joslin, Monday, Mrs. Bennett served tea to the ladies.

Woman Motorist Fined After Chase

Mrs. Marcia C. Lenox, 28 years old, of rural route 2, Wayne, arrested after a chase through town last Friday, was fined $25 and costs of $10 for reckless driving. She admitted that she had been drinking. Chief of Police Vaughan R. Smith said.

Patrolman Carl Greenlee, who made the arrest, said that Mrs. Lenox was driving south on South Main street, about 1:30 a.m. He followed her out of town when her car zig-zagged back and forth across the road. When she refused to halt for a siren warning, he threatened to stop her machine by blocking it with his car, he said.

After being held at the jail for several hours, Mrs. Lenox and her husband, who was in the car with her, were sent home in a cab. She was brought before Judge John S. Dayton for sentence later in the day.

The arrest and conviction was one of a series since Chief Smith started a safety drive against speeding and reckless driving in an effort to reduce accidents which have caused one death and several injuries this year.

Schrader Defeated In Opener Sunday

The Schrader-Haggerty team of the Michigan Inter-County league was defeated in the initial game of the league schedule by the hard-hitting Trenton team Sunday afternoon, 7-2.

Although defeated, the Schrader team showed enough to make many believe that they will be hard to keep down and out of the play-offs. Several brilliant fielding plays on both sides brought rounds of loud applause from the large crowd which gathered to watch the opening game.

Next Saturday afternoon, May 14, at 2:30 p.m. Art Superko, former captain of the University of Michigan baseball team and later playing with Toledo in the American association will bring his All-Collegian Stars and furnish opposition for Manager Joe Schomberger's Schrader-Haggerty team.

The next league game for the Schrader team will be played Sunday afternoon at Inkster. The game will start at 3:00 o'clock and it is hoped that fans will turn out in support of their local ball club.

Start Work On City Budget

water funds, as both are self-supporting.

An increase in state gasoline and weight taxes will give the city $7,000 in revenue for the next year, as compared to $5,500 for last year. This revenue will make it possible to allot $10,360 to street work, an increase over the $9,930 appropriated for use this year.

The money from the state is earmarked for capital improvements on highways.

The budget items are practically the same as appropriations for last year. Additional funds will be necessary, it was pointed out for election expenses, due to primary and general state elections scheduled for this year.

Expenses which have been met in several instances from the contingent fund last year are allotted to specific funds for the coming year, thus increasing them but not enlarging total expenditures.

The garbage collection item, for instance, shows an increase from $2,150 last year to an estimated $4,025 for the next year. Actually, however, $4,150 was spent for this purpose last year, as $2,000 was taken from the contingent fund when the collection of rubbish was added after the budget had been prepared.

The eighth grade graduation exercises will be held on Friday evening, May 20, at 8:00 o'clock. Miss Mary Jameson will be our speaker.

The boys played three ball games last week. On Monday they played with Livonia Center and were beaten 10-7. On Wednesday, Rosedale won 8-5. On Friday, Livonia gave us a very bad beating, winning 23-12.

The life span of quadruplets amounts to four or five times the length of time taken for them to reach maturity.

Elm School Scouts Enjoy Potluck Dinner

The Elm school Parent-Teachers' association had an excellent turn-out at its potluck supper Friday evening. There was a number of good entertainers who were engaged by Mr. Oberdorf of Poe road.

The Boy Scouts of Elm school made 10 bird houses which were auctioned.

During the evening festivities they were presented with a troop flag by the P.T.A. The big surprise of the evening came when P. Williams presented the Scouts with a beautiful American flag, a present from Draper Allen, managing director of the Michigan State Board of Tax Administration. Mr. Allen, who is interested in all Boy Scout work, had planned to present the flag in person but due to business demands, was unable to attend. A telegram from Mr. Allen was read, sending his felicitations. The Scouts wish to thank Jack Whitehead for the very splendid manner in which he conducted the festivities of the evening.

"Mortals and Immortals" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 15. The Golden Text (1 Cor. 15:48) is: "The earthy, such are they also that are earthy; and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Phil. 3:13, 14): "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended; but this one thing I do, forgetting the things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Heaven and Hell, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 248): "We must form perfect models in thought and look at them continually, or we shall never carve them out in grand and noble lives!"

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST church. Our Sabbath school services begin at 2:00 p.m. every Saturday afternoon. They are held in the Jewell & Blach building on the Ann Arbor Trail. The preaching service begins at 3:15 p.m. Prayer meetings are held every Tuesday evening at 7:30, in the Jewell and Blach building. Sunday school, Sunday at 10:00 a.m. There is a wonderful increase in attendance. Divine worship, 11:00 a.m. A most beautiful Mother's Day service was commemorated last Sunday to a fine large audience of earnest worshippers. Evil shall slay the wicked and they that hate the righteous shall be desolate. Ps. 34: 21.

Plan to see your high school boy or girl in the fascinating cooking, art, and woodworking demonstrations at the high school, May 19, at 7:30 p.m.

A team of horses owned by John S. Wood of Crozet, Virginia, died at the same time - one reared up and fell dead on the other which was killed by the fall.

Many Hear Science Lecture

Charles V. Winn, C.B.S., of Pasadena, California, was the interesting speaker that members of the Christian Science church and friends heard speak Tuesday night in the high school auditorium. He said in part: "Let me ask you to go back in thought over a long lapse of centuries and contemplate one of the most dramatic scenes in history. It occurred during the ministry of our Way-shower, Jesus the Christ. As he went about doing his beneficent works among men and women, a man came upon him who had been blind from his birth. With that sublime compassion and unfeeling tenderness with which he was endowed, and relying on that ever-present power of God by means of which he did his mighty works, he restored the man's sight. One would naturally suppose that those who witnessed this beneficent result accomplished would rejoice and be glad, but the carnal mind, even as it does today, began to question Jesus' authority to perform such mighty works. In justification of his actions and in explanation of his glorious mission he declared, in these sublime words which for all time explained the reason for his coming and the purpose of his loving ministry: 'I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.' " "With such a tangible proof before them as the blind man's healing, what hopes this ringing declaration of truth must have aroused! What courage it must have inspired! How faith must have increased in God's healing presence! To those who for so long had been feeding on the dry husks of doctrines, rites, and ceremonies, what a source of encouragement it must have been to witness an incontrovertible proof of a living, divine afflatus which would bring into evidence that fullness of life divine which could and would destroy all human ills. Christian Science has come to this age to acquaint humanity intelligently with this same ever-abundant divine life. It is a simple, every-day, humble seeker for good; I am come that you might have life and that you might have it in all its fullness and unfeeling grandeur. "The Psalmist sang, 'Thou wilt show me the path of life: in thy presence is fullness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.' What is this path which leads to the fullness and richness of life? Jesus, our great Master, revealed it for all time when he declared, 'And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent.' To know God, then, is life eternal - that abundant life where limitation, disease, and mortality are unknown. To gain the unlimited and affluent sense of life is the great privilege of everyone and leads to that fullness of joy which is man's true heritage. To reach the high goal we must understand the great fact that life is purely and entirely spiritual. The human mind, unenlightened by divine life, has very largely thought of life as material, organic, mortal, and heritable. The consecutive stages of life, largely in terms of physical processes, mortal events, or material conditions. And yet, upon careful thought and close analysis, we can readily see that human life is mortally mental and not corporeal. In speaking of 'my life,' 'his life,' or 'her life' to what do we refer? Do we not have in mind what one thinks, what he knows, that of which he is conscious? Such phrases as, 'He leads a very peaceful life,' 'He has a very happy life,' 'His was a very useful life,' show us conclusively that we frequently think of life entirely apart from bodily conditions or the physical concept of it. In thinking back over some of the beautiful experiences which have come into our lives, the surrounding conditions and attendant circumstances have largely faded from memory, but the love and graciousness expressed linger on and on. Sometimes the human events do not readily recur to thought, but the kindness which shaped the events is never forgotten. We may know very little about the material conditions or personal habits of someone and yet, as we observe his kindly deeds and noble acts, we think of him in the words of our immortal Shakespeare, 'He hath a daily beauty in his life.' What a beautiful thing to be said of anyone!"

Division No. 3 of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will have a Spring luncheon, Wednesday, May 18 at 1:00 p.m. at the church. Linda Lee, garden editor of the Detroit Times will be the guest speaker. There will also be other entertainment. The tickets are in charge of Mesdames George Chute, Claude Dykhouse, Steve Wall, Paul Wiedman, Clyde Smith, Clyde Fisher, Herald Hamill, Fred Schaufele, Walter Schaufele, Ray M. Mettetal, Leslie Daniels, Jack Miller.

Two Plymouth Delegates Attend National Contest

Doris Buzzard and Marilyn Holton, winners of first place honors in the state National Forensic league contest, attended and participated in the annual National Forensic league contest at Wooster, Ohio from May 2 to May 6. There were over 700 contestants from New Hampshire to California, and from far up in Minnesota to Shreveport, Louisiana. Besides the usual events of debating, extemporaneous speaking, humorous readings, dramatic readings, oratorical declamation, and oratory—poetry reading and a student congress were organized. In the poetry reading division Tom Malone of New York assisted in judging. The student congress was a dramatic presentation of students who conducted their business just the same way as the United States congress conducts its business. They not only discussed national bills but also bills pertinent to the affairs of the National Forensic league. Doris Buzzard and Marilyn Holton participated in three rounds of extemporaneous speaking after which she was eliminated. Doris Buzzard, contesting in humorous reading and dramatic declamation participated in six contests and was then also eliminated.

The National Forensic league provided two banquets for the contestants on Monday and Tuesday evenings. At the banquet on Tuesday evening awards for outstanding service were presented to the deserving schools.

Mr. Latture and Mrs. Latture accompanied the two girls. Mr. Latture entered the coaches' contest in the after dinner speaking division and was awarded second place.

The tournament taught the contestants a great deal about speech work and although they did not bring home any trophies to Michigan—they are better fitted to compete another year by the experience they gained.

FARM MANAGEMENT CLASS FIELD TRIP

Friday afternoon, May 6, the farm management class went on a field trip to Mr. West's farm machinery store on South Main street.

Mr. West showed the boys the different farm machines and pointed out the recent improvements that had been made in them. One outstanding tendency in the new machinery is to get away from the use of wood and to make the machinery all steel which will increase its period of usefulness.

Mr. West showed the boys one of the first reapers ever built and one of the first grain binders which was built in 1882. Both machines have been fairly well preserved and are still usable.

The boys enjoyed their trip very much and wish to express their appreciation to Mr. West for his time and for assembling and arranging his machinery for this trip.

PILGRIM PRINTS STAFF GOES TO ANN ARBOR

Nine members of the Pilgrim Prints staff attended the Friday session of the Michigan Inter-scholastic Press convention held in the men's Union of the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. Reporters heard talks on feature writing, editing, and advertising. Dr. Marion Magoon of the Michigan State Normal college discussed a pattern for feature writing which she invented and is using in newspaper writing. Under this pattern she showed how a successful feature article could be written by beginning with a "news peg" or interesting item as the subject of the article; reverting to the past to pick up the origin of the subject matter; returning to present time and discussing more fully the aspect of the material in the present; and going on into the future to predict or prophesy. The prophesy, she said, might be humorous or serious but never pessimistic; articles of a defeatist nature just do not sell—are not wanted by editors.

Dr. Magoon recommended "New Yorker" and "Cotton" as the two contemporary magazines having the best feature writing. She advised young journalists to study them carefully.

Professor Milo Ryan of Wayne University summarized briefly his talk at last week's convention and discussed the development of the headline and the part it has played in "yellow" or sensational journalism. The headline should, he said, give briefly an adequate and accurate statement of the article's heads. He believes that accurate representation of news is difficult under the rigid form of present day headlines; the new stream line or rocket type of headline would do away with the evil.

Professor H. McCluskey talked on vocations suitable to those interested in journalism. He cited the different phases of journalistic work such as advertising, editorial work, and reporting. He informed the members of his class that people of that age have a less chance of getting a job. The older one got the better his chances of finding work were. He also said that the best possible education was one that was well rounded and fitted a person to work into several jobs instead of equipping him for only one position.

Professor Donal Haines, of the journalism department at the University of Michigan, talked about the problem of sports writing on weekly publications. He explained that most readers of these papers have a general idea of what happened at a game and hence the reporter must bring out things which the average spectator does not see—deciding points, strategic plays, brilliant support, statistics, and other things. Following his talk he answered questions concerning the subject.

PLYMOUTH NINE HUMBLER ROCHESTER DESPITE 11 ERRORS

The Plymouth nine defeated Rochester hardly here last Tuesday, May 5, making enough errors to last the season through, and winning only by its prowess at the bat. Plymouth chalked up 14 runs, 10 hits, and 11 errors to the vanquished foe's six runs, four hits and eight errors. Thus, it may be seen that the contest must be shabby affair with little interest.

Hovey, Waterman, and Engleson pitched for Plymouth in that order, with Waterman getting credit for the victory. Hovey lacked the stuff he showed against the same team when he beat them last week with two hits. Although the opposition failed to get a hit off him, his teammates perpetrated eight errors behind him before he was pulled in the third due to wildness. The score was then tied at three. Waterman, who replaced Hovey, held the enemy quiet with two hits and no runs until the last frame, when he retired to give Engleson a chance. Ernie was a mite wild, and he combined a pair of passes and as many singles with a two-base error by Bassett to give Rochester its final hit.

Plymouth pounded away at Rochester's pitching during the entire game. The Rocks started with one in the first on Martin's mighty triple and Hitt's single, added two in the second on Newman's fourth and a quartet of errors, and garnered three more in the fourth on singles by Leach and Krumm, a pass to Hoffman, two errors, and a number of stolen bases. With two out in the fifth, however, Plymouth began an uprising that netted six runs, surpassing all previous efforts. It was opened by passes and errors, pushed along by a hit batsman and Waterman's single, and finally culminated when "Ham" Newman belted the first home run of the year to the tennis courts beyond right and center fields. Plymouth finished up in the sixth with Hitt's scratch infield single, Darnell's Texas leaguer, and Robinson's fluke single, producing two runs.

"Ham" Newman takes today's batting honors with his homer and single. Hitt had three more and Martin with a triple, gain second and Darnell, Leach, Robinson, Krumm, and Waterman trail with a single apiece.

Eleven errors are a great many, but it may be the law of averages strewn up the courts. Tuesday's perfect game against River Rouge.

LOCAL GOLFERS DEFEAT RIVER ROUGE

The high school golfers defeated River Rouge on the Plymouth Country Club course May 9. The weather was not very ideal for a good game but our boys came through with a win.

Joe Archer 3, opponent 0; Jim Heller 2½, opponent ½; Bob Brown, ½, opponent 1½; Dick Dunlop 3, opponent 0. Totals, Plymouth 10, opponents 2.

The Plymouth team has a score of 8 out of a possible 10 for the season.

SCHOOL MUBICALE TONIGHT

Don't forget the musicale to be held in the Plymouth high school auditorium tonight at 8:00 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for students. The orchestra, band, glee club, junior chorus, seventh grade chorus, and other special numbers will appear on the program.

Watch also for notices of the operetta, "Riding Down The Sky" to be held May 27.

FRESHMAN TEAM DROPS FIRST GAME

A team composed mainly of freshmen on the baseball squad journeyed to Redford last Friday afternoon, May 6, and lost its initial contest, a game with the fast-stepping John Grace intermediate school team. Dick Porteous, relying solely on his curve ball, pitched the greater part of the game, and was charged with eight runs. Don Smith finished with Kiof catch. The final score was 9-7, Plymouth being on the short end.

GOINGS ON AROUND P.H.S.

Virginia Stringer, that short dark-haired little girl, staunch pal of Rita Archer, is moving to Los Angeles, California. Sorry to see you go Virginia. The best of luck and remember us.

Evelyn Bower and Ingrid Ericson say they spent all week-end building a "Caesar's Bridge" for Latin. What's more they have some more pounded fingers to prove it.

Dorothy and Evelyn Bohl, Carolyn Bowers, Ruth Roediger, George Bennett, and Patie Schuler saw the Greenfield village mixed choir at the Ford Sunday evening hour. Rumor has it that Pete Gilbert can do an imitation of Cab Calloway. Girls can you imagine it?

Margaret Erdelyi and Marilyn Jenkins, went to Monroe on Saturday. Helen Lissell and Elburna Schroder spent Sunday there—H-m-m-m, wonder what Monroe's got?

Dot Waters and Shirley Mason saw "Tovarich" in Detroit Saturday.

Margaret Zimmerman had a party Saturday night. Her guests were Herle Gehringer of Detroit, Shirley Burnham, Eugene Bakeswell, Charles Hadley, Kenneth McMullen, Dorothy McCullough, Joe Schultz, Pete Samsell, Gus Hartz, Helen Hill, Emily Sanner, Leroy Westfall, and Doris Schultz.

Ruth Roediger and June Bakeswell saw Cab Calloway at the Michigan Saturday.

Linnea Vickstrom spent the week-end in Flint.

Betty Johnston and Muriel Kelley attended the Michigan theater Saturday evening and saw Cab Calloway in person.

ROUGE OVERWHELMS PLYMOUTH TRACKER

Plymouth lost another track meet to River Rouge by the score of 97 to 7 last Tuesday, May 10. With only one first place won by McMullen in the mile, and only one pole vaulter and two persons taking third places Plymouth did as well as could be expected.

"ROCKS" PRACTICE WITH NORTHVILLE

The Plymouth track team held a practice meet with their aged rival Northville last Wednesday, May 4. A small crowd attended and watched the showing which was not very good because of injuries and stiff legs. McMullen, VanLandingham, Olson, Prough, and Scarpulla were the main attractions.

PLYMOUTH NINE LOSES IN 17-8 SCORE

"Who can hold the Ferndale team?" asked Coach Jacobi of his Plymouth Rocks.

"I tried," sighed Pitchers Hovey, Waterman, Kelly, and Pratt as they saw 17 Ferndale players trot across the platter as the result of the last pitching, combined with the rest of the team's equally bad fielding, on Monday May 9. After watching this complete washout, as far as Plymouth was concerned, from behind the plate, Ray, Little-Red-Hen Martin, decided he had as good control as any preceding pitcher, so with Larry Newman catching and Ray pitching the team looked fairly good the last two frames. Plymouth also scored four of her eight runs in these two innings although her greatest rally was in the fifth. After Wes Hoffman had grounded out to second, Bob Folsom started off proceedings by working the Ferndale pitcher for a base on balls. A single by "Butch" Krumm and a free trip to first for Jim Kelly, whose curve seemed to steer clear of the plate, loaded the bases to prepare a perfect situation for "Ham" Newman. This worthy crippled the ball in far right center and chased all three runners around the bases but stopped at third himself, netting the Rocks three runs. Ray Martin then lowered his batting average by swinging his bat lustily three times and failing to connect, and Bob Hitt popped a high fly to the catcher ending the inning.

Bob Folsom chose yesterday to jump out of his batting slump by singling to center.

Plymouth looked more like a wide awake team in the fifth. With two outs and Krumm on third as a result of a double and an error by Ferndale, Larry Newman signaled for the hit and run and popped a Texas Leaguer single.

Although the paper prophesied rain, no doubt many of the players felt it hailed.

PLYMOUTH DEFEATS RIVER ROUGE TENNIS TEAM

River Rouge was defeated by Plymouth 4-1 Monday, May 9. This puts Plymouth in first place in the league. The game took place here.

Summary: Singles—R. Lazar (RR) defeated Moe (P) (3-6) (6-4) (6-2); Smith (P) defeated H. Lazar (R) (6-4) (6-4); McAllister (P) defeated Jeanette (R) (6-4) (6-3). Doubles: W. Norman and Anderson (P) defeated Pery and Phillips (R) (9-7) (8-6). R. Norman and McClain (P) defeated Prinkwath and Danville (RR) (4-6) (7-5) (6-3).

PLYMOUTH LADS WIN TENTH VICTORY

Trenton tennis team fell victim to Plymouth 5-1, Thursday, May 5, at Trenton. Moe lost his second game to Julian (6-4) (6-4). Smith defeated Anderson (6-0) (6-3). Bill McAllister defeated Westphal and Lutz (6-3) (3-6) (6-4). McLain and Bob Norman defeated Casteller and Bailey (6-1) (6-1). Holdsworth defeated Morrison (6-1) (6-3).

OVER 300 AT MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET

Over 300 mothers, daughters, and friends were present at the annual mother and daughter banquet held last Monday night, May 9, in the auditorium of the Plymouth high school.

Margaret Bentley, a charming toastmistress, introduced Jane Taylor who gave a toast to the mothers. The response was given by Reverend Cora M. Pennell. The address was given by Mrs. Helen Gibson Hogue, mental hygienist from Highland Park. In her talk she stressed the importance of developing a personality—not the superficial or outward kind, although that, too, is important, but the inward force which is the thing that does great things. A strong inward personality can be developed by relationship and one's environment. She cited examples of boys and girls who had been backward and lacking in personality, and she told how, through wholesome relationship, their inner selves had become highly developed.

The Estep family was represented at the banquet by four generations and there were several families with three generations present.

The program was concluded by a series of pantomimes put on by Girl Reserves representing the American girl in each stage of her evolution from Indian times to today.

Songs were led by Doris Schmidt and Marion Luttermoser and also by the quartet composed of Ruth Pennell, Doris Schmidt, Veronica Marti, and Dorothy Roe.

NINE WHIPPED BY DEARBORN

The Rocks lost their second T.V.A.A. league game last Tuesday, May 10, in a game featured by very bad umpiring on the part of Dearborn's arbiter. The lads had good reason to utter the well known cry, "We were robbed" many times during the game, and they did so. In one instance Ray Martin was on second and smacking a double. The Dearborn coach with several boys without uniforms, came on the field and reported that Ray had not touched first base, and although several Rocks averred that he had, Martin was called out.

Bob Hitt pitched for Plymouth, and was charged with nine hits and 10 runs, including two doubles and a pair of triples. He received very poor support, his mates making eight errors under him.

Plymouth's offensive efforts were limited to three hits and two runs. Hitt doubled in the first but was left stranded there. He walked in the fourth, went to third on Darnell's two-bagger and scored on an infield error. Newman got a pass in the sixth but was forced by Martin, who stole second. Hitt walked again, and worked the double steal with Ray, who finally scored as Darnell struck out. This finished the Rocks' tries at tallying.

Plymouth will certainly try to murder Dearborn when the two teams play a return engagement here on May 27.

FUTURE FARMERS' WEEK

Several of the agricultural students accompanied by Mr. Lynch went to Michigan State college at East Lansing Wednesday evening, May 4 to attend the annual Future Farmers' Week activities on Thursday.

Some of the things of special interest to the boys were: The Michigan State college campus, the college livestock, F.F.A. radio broadcast over the college station WKAR, the judging contests, and the R.O.T.C. military parade.

The military parade was staged especially for the F.F.A.'s by the Michigan State college R.O.T.C. unit which is composed of about 2500 college students. There were five branches or divisions represented in the parade, namely, military, field artillery, coast artillery, field artillery and cavalry. The military parade was probably one of the most outstanding events to all of the boys attending as it was the first one most of the boys had ever seen. The parade was very colorful and impressive.

LOCAL GOLFERS DEFEATED BY REDFORD UNION

The high school golfers were defeated on their own course by Redford Union May 10. The fact that the Redford Union golfers were state champs last year might account for Plymouth's loss.

It was lucky for our team that Jack Ross saved them from being skunked.

Plymouth was defeated last year by Redford 10 to 2.

Summary: Jack Ross 1, opponent 2; Jim Heller 0, opponent 3; Joe Archer 0, opponent 3; Dick Dunlop 0, opponent 3. Totals, Plymouth 1; Redford, 11.

LOCAL TENNIS TEAM TRIUMPHS OVER ROCHESTER

The local lads defeated Rochester 7-0 Friday, May 6, at the Rochester high school. Summary: Singles—Moe (P) defeated Hibbert (R) (6-1) (6-0); Smith (P) defeated Trevethon (R) (6-1) (6-0); McAllister (P) defeated Schueller (R) (6-8) (6-4); Holdsworth (P) defeated Hunt (R) (3-6) (6-3) (6-1). Doubles: Anderson and W. Norman (P) defeated Sibert and Hay (R) (6-4) (6-2); McClain and R. Norman (P) defeated Moser and Blome (R) (6-2) (6-4); Butz and Getleson (P) defeated Theriault and Wattles (R) (6-3) (5-7) (6-4).

PLYMOUTH ERRORS LOSE ECORSE GAME

The Plymouth high nine committed five errors last Friday, May 6, and two of them proved to be the deciding factors in placing Plymouth on the wrong end of a 4-3 score. Bob Hitt pitched fairly good ball for Plymouth, restricting Ecorse to nine runs, some of them flukes that landed where the Ecorse diamond juts into a highway in left field. Bob struck out six.

Hoffman and Robinson made the decisive blunders. In the first inning Burns of Ecorse, singled, and was forced at second by Koual. Koual reached second on an error by Hitt, and went all the way home when Hoffman muffed Tibble's hard grounder. Later this same Koual, Ecorse shortstop, reached first on Robinson's miscue, took second on a pass, and scored on Tibble's single. Two successive doubles by Bedo and Tibble produced another Ecorse tally, a triple by Flopan who hit two during the afternoon, and two each of errors and singles resulted in Ecorse's final and fourth run.

Hitt scored two of Plymouth's tallies. In the first he walked, stole second, and scored when Bedo and Tibble produced another Ecorse tally, a triple by Flopan who hit two during the afternoon, and two each of errors and singles resulted in Ecorse's final and fourth run.

AMATEUR HOUR TO FEATURE RECREATION DANCE

The Recreation dance for this Saturday, May 14, will feature an amateur hour. It promises to be a very good one judging from the number of entries received. The High Steppers will play as usual at Keith and Kay will sing.

Next Saturday, May 21, an unusual program is promised. Three young people from the University of Michigan will provide both the music and the entertainment. There will be dancing as usual and a large crowd is anticipated. More about the program next week.

Mothers! Don't forget to send the children to the Story Hour held each Saturday morning in the city hall, 9:00, children aged 8 to 10 years; 10:00, children aged 5 to 7 years.

Norma Coffin, Roy McAllister, Ellen Nystrom and Rockwell Smith spent Saturday evening dancing at the Armory in Ann Arbor.

Sportsmanlike Driving—Watch His Crests

There is a popular song entitled "One Never Knows." It is apropos of driving at hill crests. One never knows what lies just over the crest. The road may be clear or cars may be piled up in a bad accident. The Sportsmanlike Driver always slows down when approaching a "blind" hill crest.
