

Neighbors Ask Help To Restore Home For Harry Graham And Four Motherless Children

Need Funds For Material—They Will Do The Work

With a saddened heart, but with a will-to-do that wins him immediate admiration, Harry Graham, whose home was destroyed by fire last week and whose wife perished in the flames, declares that he is going to provide for the four little children that were made homeless by the disaster that struck him so quickly. His spirit is all the more honorable when one realizes that he is the step-father of the three attractive young girls and little boy.

He is going to build a new home, right where the other one stood, he says, if only material can be secured. Good neighbors, the kind that make life worth living, both in the vicinity of the Richmond road home in Livonia township and in Brightmoor, where the Grammys lived before moving out to this locality, have determined to help him raise sufficient funds to buy the material so he can start work on the new house.

Kindly neighbors, both in Brightmoor and in Livonia, have said they will not only contribute what little they can, but that they will help him build his new house. "Mr. Graham is a good man, there is none better. No father could be kinder to his own children than he has been to these four youngsters of which he is only the step-father. We are going to help him to the limit," said one kindly neighbor.

That reflects the opinion of every one in the vicinity of where the family now lives and where they formerly lived.

Monday, Mrs. Thomas Neilson, Mrs. Charles McNear and Mrs. Mary West, former of Brightmoor, came to Plymouth to ask the Mail to make a plea for funds from the citizens of this place who are able to give a little something towards the material for a new home.

Of course every one knows that Mr. Graham has been forced to take a WPA job to keep his family going and that does not leave him anything with which to re-establish a home. Neighbors have prepared some clothing for the little girls and boy. The Salvation Army, due to the activities of Capt. Wright, formerly of Plymouth, has prepared to provide for the children at a vacation camp during a part of the summer. Every one has the same kindly interest in the future of this stricken family.

Today, friends are seeking a way to aid this homeless stricken husband, who has four small children as charges who now asks only to re-build the little house and thus provide shelter for Constance, Virginia, Richard and Janet.

But there is no insurance on the demolished home. Graham subsists by the grace of the WPA and it is well understood that this is subsistence and no more.

"What is the neighborly thing to do in a case like this? A man is suddenly stricken by a calamity which will touch every heart with sympathy. He is not in a position to seek aid, but friends are asking for him, asking that those who know him, and those who only know that he is a man in a tragic situation, contribute to a sum to help re-build that modest house where the wife and mother met a terrible death," they said.

Contributions may be left at the Plymouth Mail office and at the Salvation Army headquarters, in charge of Capt. Elwin Alder.

Horse, Stage Coach And Airplane Join To Show Evolution Of Mail Transportation From Plymouth

Cheering Crowds Watch Pageant Of Postal Progress

For the first time in its history, Plymouth dispatched air mail direct to the world Thursday afternoon in celebration of National Air Mail Week. But the air mail went through a vivid pageant of evolution from the earliest hand-carried mail, to delivery by horseback and transportation by stage coach before it was loaded onto a private airplane to be flown into Detroit City Airport.

In the batch of letters were air mail messages from Northville, carried to the Plymouth postoffice by horseback. These letters, in addition to many from Farmington and South Lyon and the heavy load from Plymouth residents, were piled into an old stage coach, lent for the occasion with a team of horses by Henry Ford from his Greenfield Village collection of Americana.

The coach was driven by Harry Robinson, who arranged for the loan of the stage to strike the contrast of early mail delivery by coach with that of airplane transportation. Mr. Robinson, Plymouth auctioneer and former mayor, was dressed in old-style livery for the occasion with a broad-brimmed hat and a cloak. He whipped up the horses and started the jacking coach off to Triangle Airport. At his side on the driver's seat was a guard, armed with a shotgun. Inside the coach Plymouth civic and business leaders rode. A crowd shouted enthusiastically as the coach jerked away.

The coach was met at the airport by the private plane of Cass S. Hough, vice president and sales manager of the Daisy Air Rifle company, Plymouth, who packed the mail aboard and roared off into the sky toward Detroit. A crowd cheered him as the plane circled and sped away.

Mr. Hough thus became the first pilot ever to carry air mail direct from Plymouth. The mail was received at the Detroit City Airport by postoffice men. It then was routed through the Detroit postoffice and sent out over the various airlines for delivery to widely scattered destinations.

Plymouth residents took whole-heartedly to Air Mail Week, postoffice officials reported.

Approval Sought For Three New WPA Projects

Water Mains, Sewers And Sidewalks Planned

Three WPA projects are in process of being approved in addition to the three already in operation in Plymouth. City Manager Clarence Elliott reported Tuesday. His aim in the new projects, he said, will be to place all Plymouth men employed on WPA work on projects within the city so that they will not have to travel outside to get to work at additional expense to themselves.

The three projects to be approved, Mr. Elliott said, were: 1. Installation of water mains. This would include construction of a 12-inch main on Mill street between Plymouth road and Ann Arbor Trail, including all service connections, and installation of a six-inch main on Easter street.

There is also a possibility in this project of placing a six-inch main along a portion of Sutherland avenue.

Elect Mrs. Strong D. A. R. Regent

The annual meeting of Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, D.A.R. was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Reck, on Penningman avenue, Monday, May 16.

Reporting reports were read by chairman Mrs. Bryer. Glenn Jewell, corresponding secretary, on the work of the past year.

The regent, Mrs. Sidney Strong, being unable to be present, the vice-regent, Mrs. Merle Bennett, read the regent's annual report, which was read by Mrs. Glenn Jewell, corresponding secretary. The Americanization work of the chapter for the past year was outstanding, many interesting contacts with other chapters were made, and the Plymouth-Corner's C.A.R. is growing nicely under its sponsorship.

Officers elected for the coming year are as follows: Regent, Mrs. Sidney Strong; vice-regent, Mrs. J. Merle Bennett; chaplain, Mrs. Walter Nichol; recording secretary, Mrs. Glenn Jewell; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Francis Lockwood; treasurer, Mrs. Sherwin A. Hill; registrar, Mrs. Irving Blunk; historian, Miss Marian A. Faddack; directors, Mrs. C. E. Baker, Mrs. George Robinson, Mrs. Dwight Randall, Mrs. Carl H. Bryer.

Flag coats are to be put into the Plymouth schools, one for each room. The chapter accepted an invitation to attend the annual picnic of Ezra Parker chapter on June 10.

Mrs. Dwight Randall gave a most interesting talk, bringing some of the color and atmosphere of the national congress of D.A.R. Mrs. Edward J. Cutler gave some echoes of her recent eastern trip, reading an original poem, entitled, "Impressions of Longfellow's Wayside Inn." The next meeting will be the annual picnic, and will be at the home of Mrs. Edward J. Cutler, 2050 Ridge road, June 20.

Gliders Take Over Triangle

If you see a plane gliding over the city and if you do not hear the motor running, take another look—maybe it's just a glider. There has been a lot of them flying around here during the past few days.

It is all due to the fact that Chief of Police Vaughan Smith has leased the Triangle Airport to the Detroit Gliders' Council where its members have already started experimental flying without power driven planes.

One glider, the other day, reached a height of over 3,000 feet. Powered planes will use the field to a limited extent.

Commission Refuses Request To Promise Fire Protection For Property On Edge Of City

All of the company's business in the future, Mr. Lee said, will be transacted at the Plymouth office, adding a new industry to Plymouth's business world.

The firm manufactures all types of equipment for cement mills. Specialties are the Lee Process coolers, Lee burner equipment, drag-chain conveyors, mill linings, heat-resisting alloy castings and replacement parts of all kinds.

In recent years the larger part of the company's business has been conducted in foreign countries. The machinery, planned and designed here, is manufactured largely for concerns abroad under Lee processes and designs.

Ann Arbor Physician Takes Plymouth Office

Dr. H. C. Rufus, of Ann Arbor, this week took over the medical practice and offices of Dr. I. J. Kemp, who has been ill and has had to abandon the practice. Dr. Kemp six months ago took over the office from Dr. Nalbant, who moved to Louisville, Kentucky.

Dr. Rufus, who has taken a home at 333 North Main street, graduated from the University of Michigan medical school in 1933. Last year he was resident physician of St. Francis hospital, Miami, and for the years previous had been general practitioner at Monroe hospital and clinic.

Miss Lela Quava, well known Plymouth nurse, who formerly was employed at the Plymouth hospital and later served Dr. Kemp, will continue to serve in the office for Dr. Rufus.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Beyer entertained at a family dinner Sunday with the following as guests: Mr. and Mrs. William Gayde and daughter, Sarah, Miss Clara Wolf, Miss Amelia Gayde and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burgett.

Fears To Jeopardize Buildings Inside The City Limits

A request for guaranteed fire protection for owners of property contiguous to the city limits of Plymouth and those areas which have fire hydrants within 1,000 feet was denied by the city commission at the regular meeting Monday night.

The request was presented in the interests of the property owners by the C. L. Finlan and Son Insurance Agency. The owners sought to have the commission pass a resolution guaranteeing the same fire protection as is available to owners of property within the city limits.

The owners protested that without such a guarantee of fire protection they were unable to obtain sufficiently low fire insurance rates.

The commission, in refusing the request, acted on the recommendation of City Manager Clarence Elliott.

"No further consideration should be given to this proposal," (Continued on page seven)

Services Are Held For Miss Safford At Highland Park

Civic And Business Leader Succumbs At Sister's Home

Funeral services were held at 11:00 a. m. Wednesday in Highland Park for one of Plymouth's most-respected citizens and one of the most active in the business, social and religious life of the community, Miss Alice M. Safford, who died at 5:30 p. m. Sunday. She was 63 years old.

The services were conducted at the home of her sister, Miss Safford's sister, Mrs. Hadley Underwood, 84 Tyler avenue, Highland Park. She had gone there March 8 after increasing illness forced her to relinquish her contacts in Plymouth.

A very large number of friends from Plymouth attended the services.

Miss Safford had been a life-long resident of Plymouth with the exception of eight years she spent in Texas. She was educated in Plymouth schools and at Grand River University. Her graduation she taught grade school at Plymouth for a time.

She was employed in the old First National bank for many years and later worked in the Plymouth United Savings bank. Miss Safford took an early and important part in the legislative work of the city. She was a member of the original Committee of Three that granted the charter to the city of Plymouth and she was a member of the Planning Commission and many other civic organizations.

She was a member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, and at one time was the reader. The Red Cross organization elected her to the position of treasurer, which post she held until shortly before her death.

For 10 years Miss Safford had operated a real estate and insurance business in Plymouth since her return from Texas.

While in Texas Miss Safford held several positions in Dallas, being employed there by a medical clinic, a bank and an insurance organization.

Mrs. Underwood said that cremation would be held at Woodmere and that the urn would be placed in the family lot at Riverdale, probably on Friday afternoon. She said that she would welcome all friends of Miss Safford who cared to attend the laying of the ashes on Friday afternoon.

Miss Safford is survived by her sister and four nephews, Lawrence and Albert Harrison, of Highland Park; Kenneth Harrison of Plymouth, and Don Safford, Jr., of Dallas.

CONGRATULATIONS.

Last Monday, May 16, Harry M. Royal celebrated his 50th anniversary as editor and publisher of The Oceana Herald, published at Shelby. During this half century of public service, Editor Royal has served his county and state well. He has had much to do with the development of that interesting part of Michigan and even though he has reached the age of life when a man is entitled to ease off a bit, he keeps everlastingly at his work. He is an old time Democrat, of the William Conner type, the kind that his party so badly needs in its leadership. The Plymouth Mail extends to Editor Royal its congratulations and best wishes. May he live many more years to serve his community and his state.

ABOUT LEO NOWICKI.

Petitions have been placed in circulation among Democrats throughout Michigan for the purpose of placing the name of Lieutenant Governor Leo Nowicki on the ballot for the Democratic nomination for Governor against Frank Murphy. Any Democrat or any citizen can vote for Mr. Nowicki with a feeling of pride in his act. He is a clean cut, HONEST, and progressive citizen. During his administration of the office of drain commissioner of Wayne county and as lieutenant governor he has demonstrated the fact that he is beyond the reach of grafters and scheming politicians. He is a credit to any political party to which he may belong.

WORKING IN THE GREENHOUSE.

Probably the most pleasant occupation in all the world is employment in a greenhouse. There you spend your time amidst the most beautiful things grown from the earth. The other day there was a news dispatch from Marquette which told of the release of brutal, cold-blooded Murderer "Gypsy" Bob from solitary confinement in Marquette prison to work in the greenhouse of the institution. His release from solitary followed quickly on the heels of a visit made to his prison cell some weeks ago by Governor Murphy, who stultified his high official position by seeking out this vicious-killer to talk to him. He is known to have killed three men. Each one was slaughtered in a cowardly, cold-blooded way. Now Governor Murphy has rewarded a career in crime by giving Gypsy Bob an opportunity to use hands, dripping with human blood, to contaminate nature's most beautiful products.

WHY DO THEY DO THESE THINGS?

Because of the fact that the federal government has taken something like one hundred million dollars and dumped them into the muddy Missouri river up in Montana to build a dam at Fort Peck, supposedly to "improve navigation" in the river, there has been more than usual public interest in this project. In fact, there has been so much said and written about the Fort Peck dam that the editor of The Plymouth Mail took a trip up there last year to secure first hand information about it.

Readers of The Mail will recall the article telling of this project which appeared in the paper a short time after the visit.

Of all the foolish ways that have been found to spend tax dollars, the Fort Peck dam is probably the prize of them all. To the people of Montana, the excuses given for its construction provide a big laugh, but they do welcome the flow of our dollars into their state. It was pointed out in The Mail last year that the purposes given for the expenditure do not exist. One purpose was said to be to improve navigation in the Missouri river, of which there is practically none since the advent of the automobile truck. The other reason for the construction of the dam was to provide "flood control" for the lower Missouri

Etiquette

By James Lewis Hays

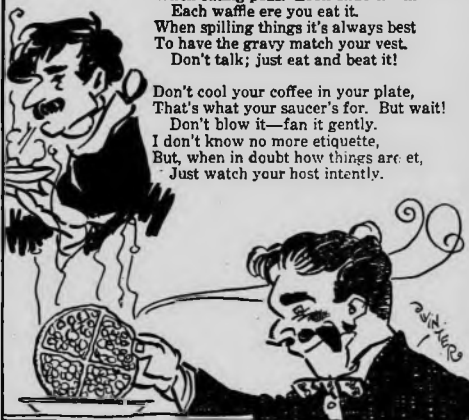

Folks, you must meet Aunt Dulcie Crutch! Who talks on etiquette and such!

Ahem! Dear friends—to say it plain, Bad manners give me such a pain! Now, please don't be offended. Who wants to know their etiquette And how their vittles should be et? You do? Now ain't that splendid!

Don't dent the caseknives with your teeth When eating peas. Look underneath Each waffle ere you eat it. When spilling things it's always best To have the gravy match your vest. Don't talk; just eat and beat it!

Don't cool your coffee in your plate, That's what your saucer's for. But wait! Don't blow it fan—it gently. I don't know no more etiquette, But, when in doubt how things are et, Just watch your host intently.

river. Well, the floods that do the damage along the lower Missouri and Mississippi generally take place in February or March. The run-offs in the upper Missouri above the dam take place in June. However, there hasn't been much said lately about the flood control "purposes" of the dam.

The other day down in Washington there was passed a bill in the house of representatives making an additional appropriation for the development of electricity at the dam and the construction of transmission lines for the purpose of "furnishing power for irrigation and to rehabilitate the lands in the immediate vicinity of this dam."

It was with utter amazement a few days ago when the writer discovered a brief talk reported in The Congressional Record by Congressman Dondero of this district in support of this additional expenditure for the Fort Peck dam.

Of all the foolish ways to get rid of tax dollars this proposed power development at Fort Peck to "help" to "pump water on the land" is absolutely senseless.

It is unbelievable that men elected to congress would for one minute look with favor upon such a proposal. There is apparently only one excuse for it, and that is abject ignorance of what they are doing.

The bill provides that the power development shall be "for the benefit of the general public, and particularly of domestic and rural customers."

What are the facts about the situation?

Fort Peck dam is located in the northeastern corner of Montana. It is about 60 or 75 miles from the Canadian boundary. It is farther north than is Isle Royale in Lake Superior. The population of the entire state of Montana is just a trifle over 500,000, barely twice as many people living in the state as in Oakland county in which Congressman Dondero lives.

There are practically no white people living in the Missouri river valley on alleged "farms" between Fort Peck and the Dakota state line, or west of the dam up the valley for miles and miles. An Indian reservation occupies practically ALL of this land. The Indians use the land chiefly for grazing purposes. Little effort is made to raise crops of any kind. Here and there one can find a patch of field corn that does not grow as big as pop corn back in this state.

The Congressional Record quotes another congressman as saying that some 150,000 people have been driven from "their farms" around the Fort Peck reservoir and are now living in the Montana cities on WPA.

It is doubtful if there are 150,000 people in the entire state of Montana living on "farms".

The Congressional Record printed the statement some weeks ago that there were less than 50,000 unemployed or working on various government projects in that state.

The biggest population center in the Fort Peck dam district is located in the city of "Wheeler" Montana, where some 4,000 or 5,000 painted women thrive off the tax dollars that flow into the pockets of the workers and then into the hundreds of brothels that flourish in the Fort Peck district. The new congressional appropriation will be welcome news to the occupants of these joints.

What about "farming" in the Fort Peck district?

THERE IS NONE!

The people of Montana do not think an effort should be made to convert this land into "farming" purposes. It is true that the congressmen from that state want federal dollars and all they can get of them under any pretext that can be devised, but congress under no circumstances should expend one penny for the purposes set forth in this appropriation bill.

For many years after the opening of the northwest territory Montana was one of the finest grazing states in the nation. For years its cattle and sheep industry was of such vast importance that it had a direct influence upon the entire nation.

Then came an effort to convert this grazing territory into "dry" farming land. It was a failure—and Montana looks upon it now as a serious error. In the past few years the good people of Montana who have the state's real interest at heart have been carrying on a campaign to have land owners restore former grazing conditions in that state. Any old timer up around Fort Peck will relate these facts to you.

The population of northeastern Montana outside of the Fort Peck dam workers and prostitutes, is so small that there is not an average of one person to the square mile of territory.

The bill says the power is for "rural" customers. Leaving out the Indian population, it is doubtful if there are enough "rural" customers in that entire section of the northwest to buy enough power to pay the wages of two WPA workers.

Why do not members of congress look into the real facts before voting to squander money in this way? Private citizens have enough interest to spend their own resources and take the time to get first hand information about these things. Why under the sun have not members of congress and other public officials interest enough in these matters to get the real facts? We cannot answer the question for you.

Apparently, our public officials are under some sort of a "spell" and there isn't much use in looking for any improvement until something happens to shake off the bewitchment that now seems to control them.

But we wonder if the real reason for the development of power at Fort Peck is not to provide the mining industry of that state with additional electrical power?

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

WHAT OTHERS THINK.

The clear-thinking Detroit News, commenting upon the Governor's Kalamazoo address, in which he blamed Republicans for the over-crowded condition of the state hospitals, said:

Unfortunately the Governor's Kalamazoo speech was made under conditions which stressed partisan politics. There is no issue between Democrats and Republicans concerning the need to provide proper hospital facilities for the insane. The Governor's defense of the unbalanced budget was hardly to the point. The funds needed to make the hospitals adequate are not large in comparison with huge expenditures of the state which contribute little or nothing to public safety.—The Detroit News.

THE AMAZING TENT COMPLEX

The proposal of the Oakland County Relief Administrator, S. S. Skelton, to start a tent colony in Royal Oak to help "house" the poor folks who can't find homes is the defeatist approach upon an important problem.

This country has plenty of land—acres of it upon which taxes have not been paid. It has enough idle builders to erect a million homes in one summer. It has sufficient materials to make these houses from glass, or from metal, or from wood, or from clay. Or it can use combinations. It has banks so full of what is sometimes called money, but which largely is government debt, that it can finance all the homes any nation ever would need, at trifling interest rates. We have enough air and sunlight and rain to keep the folks who might dwell in these houses in health and comfort.

But we sadly lack brains.

We lack courage.

We lack initiative.

We apparently lack common sense.

Otherwise, we would scorn the proposal of anyone, and particularly any official, of trying to get rid of his relief-charges—folks caught in the economic jam—by putting them in tents for the summer. Apparently that would enable all the officials to go on a holiday and forget their headaches—for the summer, at least.

Oakland county had summer-tent-colonies last year—up until the middle of November. Rather frosty it got, too. And it was found that the communities did not care very much for folks living that way—it was gypsy-like and unhealthy.

Other residents, more comfortably ensconced in houses, did not wish their children to mingle with the offspring of these home-less nomads. In fact, the issue got so hot on the cold days that fires were not needed in the homes of some of the irate citizens. So after a time, the tent colonies were folded up and moved thither—apparently into the county storage barracks that house the snow-plows. But now that the plows are no longer needed, we must take out the tents for use by the poor people as homes.

And why? Because rents are so high? And why are rents so high? First, because the cost of building a house on the time-payment plan doubles its expense. Then rents have to cover taxes. And taxes are absorbing more than 20 percent of all income. And builders, when they get going, want to retire after building a dozen or so houses. And laborers, getting but a few days work a year, expect those few days to keep them in comfort and style the rest of the year. It all sounds silly, but who wants to dispute these facts?

We think it is high time for every community to get a copy of the federal housing act and require its officials to spend a few evenings away from their pleasures to see wherein that act can be applied to relieving the housing shortage.

Strange as it may seem, most housing officials do not know that individual family homes can be built under the terms of the federal housing act. It is NOT required that we build homes in elongated, barracks-room fashion. It is not necessary that we construct tenements after the New York housing committee's lead. It is not necessary to suppose that all poor folks are descended from the original cliff-dwellers of this country, and ergo, must live in some kind of a catacomb abode.

We believe that when responsible officials and patriotic builders

FARM FROLIC POSTPONED ONE WEEK

The "hick" party, or Farm Frolic, has been postponed one week as the High Steppers are unable to play June 4, so reserve June 11 for the costume party. A dance will be given June 4 and good music is promised.

The dance this week, Saturday, May 21, will be a new type for us. It is a combination of modern and old time dancing under the able direction of former Plymouth high students: Mary Jane Hamilton and Kenneth Greer with Mr. M. O'Neill. Come and do the Virginia reel and square dance with us as well as modern dances. Young people in Detroit and other cities are forming dancing clubs for the purpose of learning to do the older dances, so come and join in the fun. Saturday, May 21, the High Steppers will play again and if you haven't heard them since they added to their membership, come and enjoy an even better orchestra. Just four more dances so be sure to attend all of them as we close the season, June 11.

You may play ping-pong and pool each Friday afternoon, 3:30-5:30 and Saturday, 2:00-5:30 in the recreation room of the city hall. Come and bring your friends.

Be sure and read about the theater party, sponsored by the Woman's club for the benefit of the recreation. It is in this issue. Plan to attend.

The ruddy turnstone gets its name from its habit of walking along the shore and turning over stones with its long bill.

and earnest laborers get their heads together, they will be able to put into operation the best phases of the federal housing act, get sturdy but economical single dwellings under construction, and make it possible for the people of this country, whether in poor or modest circumstances, to live better than the American Indians who were the original, migratory tent-dwellers.

The manner in which most communities have faced the housing problem is a sad commentary upon the resourcefulness of their responsible officials and leading citizens. It is time that the matter were given as much consideration as now is accorded some trivial matter at a luncheon club.

Tent colonies for our people! A disgrace. We have been provided abundantly with all the things needed to build as many desirable, economical, habitable, though humble, homes as we may wish.

All we have to do first is to get the cob-webs out of our brains. —Floyd McGriff in The Redford Record.

Dear Mr. Auto Driver

Ask the judge of your local traffic court what the commonest reason for accidents is. He will tell you the driver said, "I did not see". If your courage is up to it, ask your coroner what reports he gets after an automobile accident and he will tell you the surviving driver will say, "I didn't see the other car until it was right on me". Over and over again, in office, in factory, in school and in the store you will hear the words, "I didn't see". Are these all "alibis"? Believe me THEY ARE THE TRUTH. This capacity for seeing that we take for granted is capable of queer tricks and NOT seeing is the commonest thing people do who think they have good eyesight. How many miles do you drive a year? How many times do you take your loved ones with you? Your life and the lives of all your passengers depend on the efficiency of your vision as it functions day and night. You may be a grand day driver and a dangerous night driver. You may be safe out on the open road and dangerous in the city—or just the opposite. How is your perception of movement? How wide are your visual fields? How soon does visual fatigue set in with you? Of course, you see all right—but for how long? There's so much more to seeing than just sharp vision.

Boy Scout News

P-3 went on another hike May 7-8 to the Training school cabin. The boys left Plymouth at 9:30 a.m. and reached the cabin around 11:20. Upon arrival, fire building and cooking tests were passed. At 1:00 p.m. a tree climbing contest was held with Harold Young being the winner.

Throughout the afternoon a baseball game was in progress. As the field was short the fielders spent most of the game chasing balls between the trees. In the seventh inning the bat was broken so a chunk of fire wood was put in service and did a credible job as a bat.

At supper, and through the other two meals, Noel Hover showed that he had no idea of giving up his eating title, as he put away more than any three boys.

After supper a game of monopoly and a choir were in progress. The choir made the most noise. Don Moore had his accordion and the boys had a very enjoyable evening. The boys had quite an argument as to who was going to sleep outside, but Nature settled that question, as it rained and no one went out.

Sunday morning, a water fight was in progress with no one the winner. In the afternoon, another ball game was started and continued until the boys came home. At 4:30 p.m. the boys started home, the worse for wear, but wiser in mind and knowledge.

Few mysteries were recorded on this hike. One was, where did those marshmallows disappear before firelight and how did one monopoly player get all the $500 bills?

Three members of Scout troop P-3 completed the state Red Cross first aid course. This course started some 11 weeks ago with a class of 30 conducted by Mr. Rea from Detroit. Of the 30, only 21 finished the course. Among these were the three Scouts from P-3. This course taught the fundamentals of first aid and was well worth the citizens' time. P-3 is proud to have three boys to take the course and complete it with flying colors.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Celebration Dinner A Surprise

Mr. And Mrs. Ira Wilson Greeted By Over 125 Members Of Family And Old Neighbors At The Mayflower

Monday evening, Ira Wilson, former sheriff of Wayne county and now head of the important Wilson Dairy interests of Detroit, outstanding in Michigan as one of the state's leading business men, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, drove out from their home in Detroit to Elm, the farm settlement east of Plymouth where they lived during their early lives. The occasion was an unusual one. They wanted to visit again the neighborhood where 50 years ago they had disrupted the routine of the day by driving over to Wayne to the Methodist parsonage and getting married.

On the wedding day, down across the road from the Wilson farm, "little Mary Smith" had gotten up especially early that morning to churn the butter for her mother. The other night, when she drove by the farm 50 years later, she looked at the place where she had put the milk pans to dry out in the sun after she had washed them that morning after the churning. Down the road a bit, they stopped again while Ira Wilson looked over a field that he had helped his father plant to corn the day before the wedding. He had worked until dark that night in order to finish the planting before the wedding day.

Travel by crossroads over to Wayne was pretty slow in the old days. The roads were sandy and were not as straight as they are now. So it was pretty much of an all day's trip over to Wayne, where the marriage took place.

After Mr. and Mrs. Wilson had visited the neighborhood where they had been brought up and spent the early part of their married life, working from sunrise to sunset each day, they came in to Plymouth where they had expected to meet some of their children at the Mayflower hotel for dinner on their golden wedding anniversary.

When they walked into the Crystal dining room, little did they expect to find some 125 members of the Wilson and Smith families and old neighbors there to greet them. The affair was one of those real surprises that worked out just as planned without a thing to upset the arrangements.

As they entered the room, the orchestra started to play "Here Comes The Bride".

Greeted by their children at the head table, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were given a seat next to Harry Robinson, garbed in "ministerial" attire. Back in the days when Ira Wilson was a farm-hand about here, Harry Robinson ran the livery barn in Plymouth. During all of their lives they have been steadfast friends and associates.

With all the pomp and dignity of an elaborate marriage ceremony, Ira Wilson and Mary B.

Work Is Authorized On Curbs And Gutters

There were no objections raised Monday night at a public hearing on adoption of the curb and gutter project on the west side of Union street from Hamilton street to Dodge street.

The city commission authorized the city manager to proceed with the project as soon as possible.

An unusual aspect of this project was that every owner of property abutting the project signed the petition for the work and taxes on all this land for 1937 were paid 100 percent.

WPA crews are working on the curb and gutter project on the east side of the street at present and will begin work on the west side as soon as the present project is completed, the city manager said.

"Where Quality Counts"

Smith were wedded again for another fifty years, with their jovial "ministerial" associate of more than a half century performing the ceremony in the following words:

"We are gathered here tonight to unite in holy matrimony two of our beloved friends. Therefore, I, being invested with the authority by Jack Cowan of the Wayne County Road commission, do now ask Miss Mary Smith of the first part and Ira Wilson of the one-half of the first part to stand and clasp hands—and Miss Smith of the third part and Mr. Pearl Wilson of the fourth part to rise and support them.

"Do you, Ira Wilson, solemnly swear 'dam' to take this Mary Ann to be your lawful wedded wife, to keep in good clothes and hipstick as long as you do live? Say, 'I do.' Do you, Anna Smith, swear (any oath will do), to live with this bird as long as you may live, without running a bottle exchange, to supply him with cigars and other necessities of life. Say, 'I do.'

"It now becomes my duty as a surgeon to hand you this ring which you will place on the third finger of the lady's hand and now in the presence of this assembled mob, I ask you both again, 'Do, or do you not want to be man and wife?' And may God have mercy on your souls."

Following the ceremony, the golden wedding anniversary dinner was served to the guests. Until long after midnight, the wedding party lived again the days 50 years ago "down on the farms" around Elm, where good, substantial, loyal American citizens were then, as today, the main crop that pioneer families and their descendants are chiefly concerned about.

Legion Warns Of Communist Move Dangers

Urges Every American To Fight Red Movement

Members of the American Legion in Plymouth, states Commander John Moyer, have joined hands with their national organization in fighting the anti-American movement that is sweeping the country.

Commander Moyer urges every one in Plymouth and vicinity to read the following statement, prepared by the organization:

"Weeds are growing by leaps and bounds across this continent of ours. You may be aware of this, as the Legion is, but here are some facts and figures which will awaken every red American.

"In 1928 there were cast 36,287 Communist ballots; in 1930, 82,851. In 1934, 248,617 Communist ballots were cast! Yes, this was in our United States, the birthplace of the principles of justice, freedom and democracy. The workers under the red banner of catastrophe are becoming numerous and bold. You and the American Legion must fight these destroying forces and keep Old Glo. waving 'o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave."

"Within the walls of our school rooms are treasured the jewels of our nation, the youth of America. They constitute our real wealth and are constantly subjected to open or insidious attacks by America's arch-enemy, the red propagandist. These red betrayers seek to portray Communism as an earthly realization of Paradise when the true facts prove that the only Communist country in the world today, Russia, is a living hell.

"Our job, yours and the Legion's, is to purge our schools of this red poison. We must know what our children are taught and by whom they are taught. We must get the true facts before them. Crafty red literature and cunning red instructors painting rosy dreams of an Utopian state, that only exists in these wily schemers' words, must be ruthlessly eliminated. Legal means are open to us to scotch this snake.

"Find out what your child is learning in school. Examine his text books, scrutinize all the subjects in his classes, investigate his teachers and, if you are warranted, bring any undesirable subject, book or instructor to the attention of the school board for IMMEDIATE ACTION. Get it or carry the fight further until you get the necessary action."

Parkway Road Wins Award

At the Michigan Horticultural society luncheon meeting, held Tuesday at Bloomfield Hills Country club, various certificate awards were given for outstanding improvements throughout the state during the past year. Among them was one to Wayne county, which was accepted for the board of county park trustees by James Merle Bennett, superintendent of Wayne county parks. This was for the development of the Edward N. Hines Drive through the Middle Rouge parkway.

Ten members of the Plymouth branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association attended the luncheon. They were Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. O. F. Beyer, Mrs. J. W. Bickelstaff, Mrs. Carl Cowgill, Mrs. Ward Henderson, Mrs. John T. Neale, Jr., Mrs. George Cramer, Mrs. Milton Laible, Mrs. M. J. Chaffee and Mrs. Austin Whipple, who accompanied Mrs. C. W. Gill of Ann Arbor. They had the pleasure of visiting the gardens of the Sly sisters, Mrs. W. D. Thompson and the Booth estate. Some of the guests had luncheon at the Fox and Hound Country club, owing to the large number attending.

Land Tax Sales Moving Slowly In County Lists

Not Likely To Hit Plymouth For Nearly 90 Days

Plymouth property listed for sale for delinquent taxes probably will not be put on the block for about 90 days as county listings and sales are progressing slowly, Charles Garlett, city treasurer, said Tuesday.

About 700 pieces of property in Plymouth are listed for sale, but marked developments in payment of the delinquent taxes in order to maintain possession of the property are expected before the listings actually come up in Plymouth, Mr. Garlett said.

At last reports from the county treasurer, he added, only property in Brownstown township had been placed for sale, and as the sales are being made alphabetically by townships, it will likely be some time before the sales reach the Plymouth listings. Little tax-burdened property is being sold, largely to persons interested in certain lots.

Property which is tax delinquent for 1935 or prior years, unless the taxes are being paid under the statutory installment payment plans, is scheduled for sale. Anyone wanting to save their real estate from sale by paying up their back taxes may do so by calling at the county treasurer's office in Detroit on or before May 30.

The 700 pieces listed for sale in Plymouth are less than one-fourth of the total of 3,350 pieces of real estate which comprise Plymouth. Many of the lots listed for sale are vacant, although some include homes.

Evolution of Mail Transportation

Even in the early part of the week it became apparent that residents were taking to the idea of sending business and social mail by air this week in commemoration of the 20th anniversary of the establishment of air mail service in the United States.

Sales of air mail stamps and covers were heavy, unprecedented in the history of the Plymouth postoffice. Many of the stamps and covers were purchased for inclusion in stamp collections, it was believed, but even with the absence of these, actual mail to be sent by air was extremely heavy.

The pick up of Plymouth mail by airplane was being duplicated in thousands of communities over the United States this week as national and local postoffice officials pressed the advantages of the observance to attract the attention of the public to the speed and economy of air mail.

Many Plan To See Horse Show

Many from in and around Plymouth are planning to attend the Northville Riding and Hunt club horse show which will be held Saturday and Sunday, May 21 and 22 on the Seven Mile road between Haggerty highway and Newburg road.

The following entries for the various events have already been made: Michigan State college, East Lansing; Katherine Mairburger, Northville; John Hettche, Northville; Doris Blackwood, Rochester; Glenn Elles, Detroit; Mrs. Lewis Bredin, Grosse Pointe; Red Brook Farm, Birmingham; G. A. Garnham, W. D. McCullough, Charles T. Fisher, Jr., and W. O. Briggs, Detroit; John Fritz, Ann Arbor; Jimmie Casson, Jackson; Dr. Furstenburg and Dr. Ruthven, Ann Arbor; and Evelyn Grennan of Northville.

Among the many reservations for boxes for the show is the Mayflower hotel.

Hearing Scheduled On Phone Rates

The city commission, Monday night, instructed City Manager Elliott to attend a hearing in Lansing, May 25, to be conducted by the Michigan Public Utilities commission on Michigan Bell telephone rates in Detroit metropolitan areas.

The utilities commission is seeking to have the telephone company show why rates should not be reduced to suburbs continuous to Detroit on a distance basis.

It has been proposed to base the rates on the distance from the Detroit central exchanges to the suburban points. These distances would be marked into five-cent zones, with an increase of that amount for each extra zone space from the telephone points.

For instance, where it now costs Plymouth residents 20 cents to telephone to Dearborn, under the new proposal, the cost would be cut to 10 cents. Zones on the other side of Detroit would be proportionately more expensive.

"If the plan is adopted, the net saving to Plymouth in the course of a year would be about $1,200," Mr. Elliott said.

Approval Sought For New Projects

project calls for placing sanitary sewer taps along Mill street between Plymouth road and Ann Arbor Trail. This also would include a sanitary sewer on Irving street between Williams street and the Pere Marquette railroad tracks.

3. Construction and repair of sidewalks. Repairs of sidewalks have been requested along a few streets in Plymouth, Mr. Elliott said. In addition, there is a possibility that new sidewalks will be laid in front of the vacant Lorenz block, Mr. Elliott said, combined with leveling of the walks. The walks now are about two and one-half feet above the street level.

These projects probably would require a few additional workers besides those already employed on the three projects now in operation. An attempt will be made in connection with the new projects to use all Plymouth residents, Mr. Elliott said, taking in Plymouth workers now laboring on tasks outside of Plymouth.

"We are trying to get jobs for Plymouth men within the city," Mr. Elliott commented. "These men can't afford to spend even $5.00 a month for gasoline and oil to drive out to projects beyond the city limits when that money must come out of their pay of $65.00 per month."

There are about 100 Plymouth men employed on WPA projects of which number 60 are engaged in work within the city.

The three WPA projects now in operation and which are nearing completion are:

1. Curb and gutter work. This project has been engaged on the east side of Union street between Hamilton and Dodge streets. Authorization was granted by the city commission Monday night to start the same type of work on the west side of Union street within the same limits. Work began on the east side May 11.

2. Tree and landscaping operations. Workers are busy in the park beautifying the terrain at present, and are sodding the grounds of the city hall in addition to other projects which will do much to make the "City of Homes" a more beautiful home city.

3. Repairing of Main street. Traffic on Main street has been detoured one way since last week when work began on the project of repairing the street. The street tracks of the former interurban line will be eliminated. The bricks are being removed, cleaned and replaced to give a smoother surfaced and better appearing road through the center of Plymouth.

Dr. Luther Peck attended the two-day session of the Homeopathic State Medical society, convening Wednesday and Thursday at the Hotel Statler in Detroit.

Society

The ladies of Circle 3 of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church may feel well repaid for their efforts in preparing their spring luncheon held in the church Wednesday for it was a decided success. There were nearly 200 present. The tables were made attractive with large bowls of spring flowers, the luncheon was pleasing to all and the service was splendid. Following the luncheon a program of interest was given; first, a talk by Linda Lee, garden editor of The Detroit Times, on grouping of flowers for a border of a garden. She told of the variety of colors that come in the early spring then as the season advances of the flowers of other colors and shades that blend. She told what kinds to plant in shady spots and many other interesting points to garden lovers. Miss Lee's talk was followed by a Hawaiian selection, played by Harold Hill, two piano solos by Ruth Dews and two readings by Mrs. Maurice Woodworth.

Mrs. Robert Mimmack entertained the Past Matron's luncheon club Wednesday taking her guests to the spring luncheon given by the Presbyterian ladies.

Mrs. Levi F. Eaton, of Northville, was the luncheon guest, Wednesday, of Mrs. Howard Stark.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Fisher visited his brother, Fred, in Utica, Sunday, who is ill with heart trouble.

Commission Refuses Request

Mr. Elliott said, "because the people of the city of Plymouth should have first call for fire protection. They bought the fire equipment and have to provide for its upkeep and for the pay of firemen."
"If this resolution were passed it would mean that the fire department would have the same responsibility in these outlying areas as in the city of Plymouth itself. But if there were two fire calls at the same time the city fire department would have to answer the city call and ignore the other."
"It would also mean that if the department answered a call in one of these areas and a fire broke out in the city of Plymouth shortly afterward the city would be risking fire losses at the cost of protecting non-city areas."

Popular Young People Wed

Palms, tall baskets of dogwood and candelabras with cathedral tapers were used as a background for the wedding of Zerepha Louise Blunk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Blunk, to William Arthur Kirkpatrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. Kirkpatrick, at 4:00 p.m. Saturday, in the Methodist Episcopal church, the Rev. P. Ray Norton, of Ionia, played Lohengrin's Wedding March as the bridal party took their places.

The bride was lovely in a wedding gown of white Bemberg chiffon, made with short puffed sleeves and short train. She wore a circular veil of illusion caught in a coronet of seed pearls and carried an arm bouquet of white iris, gardenias, and snapdragons. The young couple knelt on white satin hassocks while they were united in marriage.

Miss Blunk chose Marian Taylor, of Detroit, for her maid of honor, Ruth Kirkpatrick, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. William Bake, Mary Lorenz and Elaine Hamilton as her bridesmaids. Their gowns were of green tulle with off-the-shoulder puffed sleeves and full skirts. Each wore a yellow bow in her hair and carried yellow snapdragons.

Mr. Kirkpatrick chose Robert Stoll, of Battle Creek, a fraternity brother, to serve as best man. Melvin Blunk, cousin of the bride, Guy DeKeiper, of Midland, Jack Smith, of Ann Arbor, and Lawrence Hutchinson, of Flint were ushers.

Mrs. Blunk wore a gown of dusty pink lace with hat and accessories in the same shade and a corsage of pale blue iris and sweet peas while Mrs. Kirkpatrick wore powder blue crepe and lace with navy blue hat and accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Hotel Mayflower for 125 guests from Hagerstown, Maryland; Ann Arbor, Unionville, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Pontiac, Salem, Lansing, Marquette, Dearborn, Port Huron

Board To Review Tax Assessments

All taxpayers on property in Plymouth are urged to attend a meeting of the Board of Review in the commission chamber of the city hall on Friday and Saturday, May 26 and 27.

Hearings will be held for the purpose of reviewing the assessment roll for the year 1938. All property has been re-assessed this year to bring the rolls up to date and there are considerable changes, although the total assessed valuation may not change materially, Charles Garlett, city treasurer, said.

All taxpayers who believe that they have not received a fair valuation on their property for the tax assessment will have an opportunity at the review to make themselves heard, William B. Petz, city assessor, said. He added that any persons dissatisfied with the decision of the Board of Review could appeal to the city commission at its next regular meeting after the board's review.

He warned that the meeting of the Board of Review offers the only chance for presentation of protests or suggestions concerning the assessed valuations placed on local property.

Rocks Beat Wayne In Extra Innings Baseball Battle

The Rocks triumphed over the "Friday the 13th" jinx last Friday by defeating Wayne high school's team in a game of nine innings.

Bob Hitt went the route for Plymouth on the mound and allowed Wayne a total of eight runs, several which were unearned, and nine hits. Wayne collected three runs in the first inning but Hitt warmed up in the second and struck out all three batters; however Ray Martin, the third scribe on the last batter roll to the screen enabling the batter to reach first and eventually score.

Before Hitt could induce the next man to ground out, two runs crossed the platter. Ham Newman demonstrated the duties of a good lead-off batter by walloping two doubles and a single besides a walk in four official trips to the plate. Ham also scored two runs.

Newman, Martin, and Hitt were the first three batters in the first and fourth. All three scored both times.

After Plymouth tied up the score at eight all in the fifth, neither side was able to tally against the other until the Plymouth half of the ninth. (Only seven innings are ordinarily played.)

The game was delayed several minutes in the ninth because three playful men engaged at fistfights in far left field. At this crucial point, Wayne inserted a new pitcher whose synchronous wind-up was a source of wonder to the spectators. The fans for the last batter roll in establishing perfect muscular coordination by counting the different phases of his wind-up.

First batter for Plymouth was our own Butch Krumm. This worthy eyed several beautifully thrown pitches from Wayne's smiling hero and then blasted the next pitch in far left field. The ball rolled approximately half way up the hill and Butch was over half way around the bases when the fielders recovered the ball. He reached home standing a clean home run, giving Plymouth another hard fought win.

PLYMOUTH PULLS OUT OF SLUMP

The Rocks ended their three-game slump Thursday, May 12, by excelling Centerline in batting, fielding, and pitching as they came up, with honors, on top of a 10-4 score in a game played at Centerline.

Ray Martin, erstwhile Plymouth catcher, occupied the pitcher's mound throughout the game and allowed only four hits while top honors in the field of swat go to Harold Leach, Wes Hoffman, and Bob Folsom, each getting two out of four. Only one error was credited to Plymouth, Willie Darnell letting the ball slip through his fingers.

If Martin keeps pitching the way he did Thursday Larry Newman has a high bid for the vacated job of catching and the Rocks have a much brighter outlook on the outside league competition games.

SENIORS SELECT COMMITTEES FOR CLASS NIGHT PROGRAM

The seniors have started preparations for their farewell to P. H. S. by selecting the committees for the closing days of school. Elizabeth Lueke and Ellen Nyström are to write the class poem and Marion Luttermoser the class song; Dorothy Adams heads the committee to write the class history; Jeannette Schwartz the will, James Marshall the prophecy, and John Taylor and the bards made up a group of about 300 students, over 200 of them appearing together in the finale.

ANNUAL MUSICALS A COLORFUL SPECTACLE

The musically minded students of Plymouth high school under the direction of Miss Dora Gallimore and Lewis Evans presented the annual musicals Friday night. As has been the custom the girls wore summer formals in pastel shades which added color and beauty to the affair as a whole.

The seventh grade, junior chorus, the girls glee club, the mixed chorus, the double quartet, and the orchestra and the bards made up a group of about 300 students, over 200 of them appearing together in the finale. The selections by girls' glee club, the mixed chorus and the finale were numbers used in the Twin Valley Music Festival held in River Rouge the first part of this month.

One of the outstanding numbers was the "Pearl Market" by the double quartet. A yellow light was thrown on the girls with shawls thrown over their heads in keeping with the theme of the piece. Another piece "The Message of the Bells" was sung with an obligato of soprano voices which gave the effect of ringing bells.

Tennis Team Wins Championship

Having tucked 14 straight dual matches under their belts so far this season the local racketeers battled in earnest Saturday and Monday for the championship of the Twin Valley league. Their efforts were not in vain because after the dust of battle had blown away, Plymouth high had won the championship. All pre-season dope indicated a close race between Plymouth and River Rouge and it turned out just that way. Previous to the league tournament, Plymouth had defeated all Twin Valley teams in dual matches and coming down to the semi-finals in the tournament found Plymouth and Rouge with both their doubles teams still in the race. Howard Anderson and Bill Norman, playing No. 1 doubles for Plymouth, defeated River Rouge's No. 1 doubles (6-0) (6-2). This enabled them to enter the final round of the tournament. Bob Norman and Jim McClain took care of River Rouge's No. 2 doubles team (3-6) (6-4) (6-1), thus enabling these two lads to enter the final round of the tournament and compete with the No. 1 doubles team from their own school for the doubles championship of the league. Here we find both of Plymouth's doubles teams in the final round of a tournament in which two teams from each of six different schools had entered. Jim and Bob upset the dope by defeating their own school for the doubles championship of the league. In the singles Gordon Moe defeated H. Lator of River Rouge in straight sets (6-4) (6-1) in the semi-final round which permitted him to play R. Lator of River Rouge, who had defeated Hayes of Dearborn in the semi-finals, for the singles champion of the league. Gordie put up a great fight, but after two and one-half hours of hotly contested tennis, he was defeated in three sets (3-6) (8-6) (8-6) and lost the singles championship to the Rouge lads. Both boys exhibited a fine brand of tennis and the closeness of the contest indicates that both boys were practically on a par.

In the early rounds of the tournament Bill McAllister and Lawrence Smith won their first round matches to gain a couple more points for Plymouth.

Mr. Bentley, the coach of the team, states that the success of the team this year is due to team balance and not individual stars. This team balance aids materially in tournament play. These same boys plus Ed Holdsworth and Jack Gettleson will enter the state class B regional tourney at Ypsilanti Saturday, May 21. It is hoped that they continue to play the quality of tennis which they have exhibited so far this season.

PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEM INSTALLED IN HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

This is a definite improvement for now those seated in the rear, may hear as well as those in front. The speaker is portable, light in weight. It will be used for public addresses and song leading.

February 30 may occur in leap years under these conditions: Eastbound ships crossing the 180 degree line in the Pacific on February 29 of a leap year enter the official date for the next day as February 30. If they reached the line on any other day in the year they would enter the next day as the duplicate of the date just passed. Hence there would be two January 24s, two July 15s, etc. The "February 30" entry has just become a habit. Consider the possibilities of being born on a ship as it crossed the 180-degree line under the conditions described.
