OUT IN THE OPEN.

Followers of the present state administration have, ever since the session of the legislature ended, endeavored to make it appear that they were the only ones concerned about a proper civil service system for the state of Michigan. It has been the contention of the writer since the hectic days when a good civil service bill was mutilated so badly that its originators barely recognized it, and then made it a law, that the present state administration was NOT for an honest civil service. Now the chairman of that party has come out openly in opposition to it, simply providing public proof of the contention that the editor of The Plymouth Mail has made during the past year.

Believers in honest civil service for the state of Michigan should not be discouraged at what is happening in Lansing today. Even though the present civil service measure we now have is being politically manipulated, it is a beginning in the right direction. Its defects can be remedied by a more friendly legislature and state administration in the future.

However, we would not now have existing in Lansing the present situation if Governor Murphy had not consented to let his state affairs committee of the house practically re-write the original civil service bill that had been passed by the senate. Governor Murphy has no one but himself to blame for the present civil service mess.

NOT FANTASTIC, IT'S VICIOUS.

The Detroit Free Press, the other morning, in commenting about the criminal proceedings instituted by Washington politicians against the Ford Motor company and other automobile manufacturers, called the proceedings "fantastic". "Fantastic" is not the right word. The proceedings are vicious, the products of cheap, hating politicians who would ruin anybody and everything refusing to see eye to eye with their schemes. The excellent editorial follows:

"The indictments secured by the Department of Justice against Ford, General Motors, and Chrysler executives, and against finance companies affiliated with the three big automotive concerns, are based on a plea that the accused have been guilty of some sort of technical violation of the Sherman Anti-trust law.

"But in effect, the action of the Government is a destructive effort to punish the motor vehicle manufacturers because they are protecting a big consuming public (of which most of us are members) from excessive and frequently extortionate financing charges which formerly took millions out of American pocketbooks.

"The company officials are to be dragged into court because their concerns have tried, with a great deal of success, to put an end to a bad abuse, and at the same time help American business by making it possible for the poor man to buy a car and pay for it on the installment plan without being discouraged by mountainous interest exactions.

"As a reward for doing a constructive and generally beneficial thing, the automobile manufacturers are now to be harassed and pilloried.

"And if the government gets its way, automobile carrying charges, mostly reduced to a reasonable figure, will again shoot upward toward the old heights.

"This attitude of the Federal Administration is directly hostile to the common man, particularly the wage-earner, for whom it loudly professes to bleed. It is a slap at recovery.

"And it is an act of gross ingratitude toward an industry which took the lead in pulling America out of the 1929 depression.

Billboards

By James Lewis Hays

I went out for a drive today
To see the robin's nest,
To gaze at rolling country hills
And feel inspired and rest.

The scenery has disappeared
But the billboards are exquisite.
Just take a drive. The things you learn
Will pay you for your visit.

Each mile I read the billboards;
I profited by learning.
I changed to six new kinds of oil
To keep the valves from burning.

I smoked a dozen brands of fags
To make my voice grow sweeter;
I fastened chains to all four wheels
To make the engine feeter.

I'm glad I learned before too late
The charm a garter lends,
What breakfast-food will bring success,
What soap will make me friends.

and would like to help again if federal laws, regulations and policies would leave it half a chance.

"We find it hard to get away from a feeling that the activity of the administration toward the motor vehicle manufacturers is born far more of envy of their services to the Nation than it is of pure zeal for law enforcement. Certainly what Washington is doing is un-economic and anti-social."

STOP THIS THING.

For several years past, countries across the Atlantic have refused to permit money to be sent to any one outside their boundaries. Our own country, from which annually flows many millions of dollars to foreign shores, has never taken a step towards ending the practice of foreigners coming to America, earning big money and shipping it back to their relatives across the sea.

It is one of the many things which is helping to bleed this nation white at the present time. One can gain an idea of how extensive this outpouring of American money is by reading the following report that appeared in some newspapers last week pertaining to the amount of money sent abroad from just the Detroit postoffice:

While strict regulations are being enforced by foreign powers to keep money in their own countries, Detroiters continue to send generous sums to kinfolk overseas by the use of the postoffice money order, a study of the international money order records of the Detroit postoffice reveals, Detroiters in 1937 purchased 67,086 money orders for payment in foreign lands. Perry Matthews, superintendent of the money order division of the postoffice, estimates the total sum sent abroad last year at $838,650.38. Although these money orders were drawn on postoffices in practically every country in the world, a majority were sent to Europe, Matthews said.

The peak year of money order sales in Detroit was 1929. The postoffice issued 89,795 international money orders, for $1,716,607.63.

Matthews attributes the drop in foreign money orders in recent years largely to the depression. The current money orders average $10, while in 1929 the average was about $25.

The efforts of foreign nations to retain capital is revealed by the amount of money orders sent here from other countries. In 1929 the Detroit postoffice cashed 5,289 foreign money orders with $158,856.90. Last year $81,182.59 was paid out at the local postoffice on 6,103 foreign money orders. Many of the orders were monthly payments on foreign estates.

Michigan residents living outside of Detroit last year mailed 390,639 money orders to Detroiters, revealing that Detroit is a large market place for the remainder of the state, Matthews said.

No money order is issued for more than $100. At least 100 money orders for one cent each were issued in 1937. These were in payment of unexpected additions of 25 cents to taxpayers income returns.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

BUSINESS MUST BE TO BLAME

Now the real blame for the recession is being disclosed. For a time Washington told us there wasn't any such animal. The new depression, it was claimed, occurred only in the minds of the people. Now, however, it is being admitted that something is the matter with the "works" at Washington. But as usual it isn't the fault of the New Deal but of private business. The Brain Trusters primed the pump all right and then business grabbed the ball and ran away with it. At least that is the statement accredited to President Roosevelt and he has informed the newspapermen that the chief concern of the new monopoly inquiry will be to devise ways and means by which the administration can keep control of the ball when the new pump priming project gets to going good.

It is reassuring to know, of course, that the New Dealers had nothing to do with causing this new depression; that it is all the fault of business. It is of course easily possible for a Republican or Horse and Buggy President to cause a depression but this couldn't be done by New Dealers. When they planned it that way. But when they lose they didn't plan it that way—business just took advantage of a slight fumble and more or less deliberately ran away with the ball, cutting its own economic throat just to spite the reformers.

Of course, it looks a little improbable that the New Dealers could actually "lose the ball," with all the facilities they have for keeping it. They can expand and contract the credit, raise and lower tariffs, increase and devalue the dollar—do about anything they want to—and still they "lost the ball," and business did "all the dirt" to the country.

This must be the true explanation because the President himself said early in his administration that if the New Dealers made any mistakes he would be the first to admit the fact and usher in a change of policy. He hasn't done this so it must be that they haven't made any mistakes.

Of course there is a difference of opinion on this matter even among the pillars of the administration themselves. In a recent speech before the New Jersey Bankers' Association, Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, admitted that the government was partially responsible for the present "depression" and he called it a "depression" by name. He said that the government had made a mistake in "timing" its pump priming program, and that the huge bonus payment in 1936 had helped to bring about the inflationary psychology aiding in the collapse of 1937.

We are sure Mr. Eccles must be mistaken about this, even if he does think that the next pump priming experiment will be better controlled—doubtless through the "anti-monopoly" investigation just started as a smoke screen. With a congressional election coming on we don't think it is fair to blame the New Dealers for anything. To do so might nullify some of the political results of pump priming. It wasn't the fault of the college professors but of our wicked business men who grabbed the ball from the New Deal quarterback and ran in the wrong direction.

The figures quoted for expenditure in the present pump priming plans stagger the imagination. Public expenditures promise to rise to heights never dreamed of even in the first years of the New Deal. At the same time the national debt must necessarily rise to new heights, with a national budget further out of balance than ever. But to get down to figures for a moment. According to the President's request, Congress is to appropriate a little more than two billion dollars for relief and recovery during the next fiscal year—eloquent indication that although we planned it that way the plans have gone awry. But that isn't all. Congress had already appropriated a billion and a half for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation raising the pump priming total to a little more than four and a half billions. But the end is not yet. It is estimated that nearly another billion will be needed to complete the WPA program for the next fiscal year bringing the grand total to be raised for various forms of pump priming and relief to a figure approximating five and a half billion dollars. And this is more than four billion dollars greater than the total relief expenditure estimated in the budget announced several months ago.

Total expenditures for the next fiscal year, therefore, are bound to be more than eleven billion dollars, nearly four billion more than are being spent in the present fiscal year.

It is estimated that the deficit—the expenditures above all possible revenue next year, will be more than five billion dollars. It is estimated that the public debt therefore will be increased nearly four billion dollars, even with a comparatively small part of the deficit paid from money obtained from gold sterilization. All of this indicates that the total debt in another year will have risen to more than $41,000,000,000, and it is still going up.

Even if the pump priming works, it will not take effect for some time—it took three years for recovery to get under way after the 1933 experimentation. Evidently, therefore, greater relief expenditures are to follow. Small wonder then that financiers with far vision are pointing out that the prospect of ruinous inflation is ahead of us.

The Alexander Institute points out that in addition to the national debt of more than $41,000,000,000 already indicated, the federal government has guaranteed obligations in the sum of $4,646,000,000 and the new housing program will cost from two to three billion dollars. Therefore the real government debt at the end of the next fiscal year will be approaching fifty billions! With state and local debts at twenty billions, the total public debt of the nation will be around seventy billions or more than twenty percent of the national income. The New Deal comes high but we must have it. The question is, what will we have next?—H. S. Babeok in The Alma Record.

grounded if the procedure followed and general attitude shown by the commission at the hearing Wednesday morning to determine such valuations is of any significance.

Departing from the long established custom of announcing the tentative mine values and then giving representatives of the various operating companies or other persons an opportunity to object to the valuations placed upon their holdings, John Fegan, youthful and inexperienced chairman of the commission, put the operators on the spot by refusing to divulge any information or give any inkling as to what the values of the mines will be until after the hearings have been concluded.

While it may be possible that Fegan is out "to soak the mines", and is hesitant to give the companies a chance to object publicly to the valuations arrived at by the commission, it is more than likely that the new procedure has been adopted simply to indicate to the public that the older system of conducting hearings has been wrong. Statements made by Fegan, who was largely the entire commission, while in Gogebic county, that the mining companies should not be considered as a "favored class" or as preferred taxpayers in the tax assessing policy of the state were made largely for general consumption by the public.

The hearing, or inquisition, which is a better word for it, from our vantage point was simply another scheme to make a play for votes. It appeared to be well planned effort to widen the cleavage between the large and small taxpayer, to foster a hatred between capital and labor. The program is not a new one in contemporary political history: it was simply bringing closer to home some of the same strategy which has been encouraged and nurtured from the federal administration right down through the state and local governments.—Harry L. Tregise in The Wakefield News.

Lost--The Best Years of Your Life

Too many people wait until around 45, when limitation of the focusing power forces them to wear bifocals or "reading glasses". It is a pity. A considerable number of these people have lost the best years out of their lives, so far as seeing is concerned. All of the time, they have had some visual handicap—it could not have been too great—else they would not have been able to overcome it by sheer vitality or adaptability.

But after all, it is like getting along with a ten-year-old car when there are so many modern autos available.

THERE MAY BE MORE TO SEE THAN YOU SEE!
There may be a greater reward for you in extended visual capacity—tasks that call for more than even your abundant vitality can produce. There might be the avoidance of accidents—great and small, for the fall of a medicine bottle, the vexation of some mistake in figuring, the headache that kept you from meeting some important person—all these are as much ACCIDENTS as the fall that breaks an arm or the auto collision that does worse.

It's a queer kind of pride that will keep people from enjoying to the fullest the best years of their lives! What kind of pride is involved in NOT wearing optical lenses if these lenses give you new freedoms?

REMEMBER—NOTHING STAYS PUT. WE ARE EITHER GROWING OR DYING ALL THE TIME. IT'S BETTER TO GROW!

NO BANK KNOWINGLY REFUSES

—To Make Good Loans

Good loans are just as desirous to banks as good sales are to merchants. The banker is just as willing to make a good loan as the merchant is a good sale, but the banker has the responsibility of a "Trustee".

Loanable funds consist chiefly of its customers' deposits. It is good banking practice regardless of law to use all human diligence in lending its funds only to reliable persons. Loans must be for constructive business purposes in keeping with the welfare of the community.

The Plymouth United Savings Bank has ample funds for loans which conform to sound banking principles.

Plymouth Scouts Visit Reservation

Plymouth Scout troop P-3 encamped at the Charles Howell reservation last week-end. One of 15 troops in the Detroit Area council chosen to participate in the dedication services.

The Scouts left Plymouth at 8:00 a.m. Saturday and left in the midst of a light rain. Here, the boys had to bring into light their knowledge and practice of camping in the rain. The camp was pitched in the reservation at 10:30, on the pioneers' trip.

The rain was over at 11:00 a.m. and the rest of the day and Sunday was perfect Scouting weather. At 3:00 p.m. Saturday the dedication services were held and all troops camping were represented by their troop colors. A crowd of about 800 was present and all enjoyed the dedication.

After the dedication services were over the troops were on their own. At night a blind hike was held and turned out to be a great deal of fun for everybody. After the blind hike, Troop 87 from Detroit challenged Troop P-3 to a game of capture the flag. However, no one won as taps were sounded before a game could be completed.

Sunday morning, a frog and turtle hunt was in progress and only five turtles, one large, two medium and two small ones were caught. The large and one small turtle were put back, the two medium turtles will be seen around Plymouth displayed as neckerchief slides, and the remaining small turtle now resides in our Scoutmaster's fish pond.

The frog hunt was more successful as around 50 were caught. After the frog hunt we challenged Troop 67 to a ball game. We went over, expecting to be beaten badly, however at the end of the fourth inning we were leading 18-3, the final score was 21-7 in our favor. Dinner comprised hunter's stew and it disappeared rapidly. At 3:00 p.m. Sunday we were well on our way back to Plymouth.

For being one of the dedication troops, P-3 received a blue streamer for the troop flag. Upon this streamer is printed in gold letters the words, "Charles Howell Dedication Troop".

The following boys from P-3 were present at the camp: Scout Master Ferris Mathias, Assistant Scout Master Don Moore, John Moore, Dean Vanlandingham, Charles Nelson, Charles Bulson, No. 1. Hover, Marvin Klein-schmidt, Charles Minthorn, and Harold Young.

Three boys who responded eagerly to our invitations for one boy from each Plymouth troop were George Blyton, P-1; Norman Pearsall, P-2; and Mike Spitz, P-4.

The Scouts wish to extend their thanks to those who helped make this trip a success as to the use of tents and transportation.

Nation Marks Flag Day

June 14 is Flag Day, and here is a picturesque view of "Old Glory" as she flies from a United States revenue cutter, pushing its way up the bay at New York to meet an incoming liner. The Stars and Stripes are displayed locally each year on Flag Day.

Maccabee Ladies Fete Daughters

The fifth annual mother and daughter banquet of the Plymouth branch of The Maccabees was held in Jewell and Blain hall Wednesday evening, June 1. About 80 members and guests enjoyed the delicious dinner prepared by Lady Ethel Micol and her committee, and served by Lady Elizabeth Smith and her co-workers. Lady Anna Wright gave thanks for the privilege of meeting together and for the food before us.

Commander Emerson extended a sincere welcome to every one and Lady Elsie Campbell offered the toast to the daughters, which was responded to by a very wonderful tribute to the mothers, by Zerepha Blunk Kirkpatrick. Dora D. Nicholson, assistant great commander of Detroit made a few timely remarks, then all had the pleasure of listening to a fine program prepared by Lady Hattie White, opening with a vocal solo by Dorothy McCullough. This was followed by a military tap dance executed by little Dorothy Carley and Irene Niedospal—a piano solo by Lyla Mumby, a humorous reading by Betty Brown; an acrobatic dance by Maxine Willard, who is a pupil of the Fox Theatre School of Dancing, followed by a dramatic sketch given by a group of girls from the Plymouth high school, entitled "Thin Ice". All attending are very grateful to these talented young people for such a fine entertainment and to the various committees for their efforts in preparing this outstanding social event.

A prize was presented to the oldest guest present, who proved to be Mrs. McBurney, one of a group of four generations present. Another recipient of a gift was the little two and one-half-year-old daughter of Lady Irene Smith, as the youngest daughter in attendance.

Atwood To Seek Old Post

ORVILLE E. ATWOOD

Former Secretary of State Orville E. Atwood of Fremont is definitely in the race for the Republican nomination for the office to be held during 1935 and 1936, according to Don Vander Werp, publisher of the Fremont Times-Indicator and senator from the 26th district. Senator Vander Werp said that Atwood's one term as secretary of state had proven his fitness for the job and that the public would welcome a return to the Atwood type of service furnished by the department of state during his two-year term.

In the election of 1936 Atwood demonstrated his popularity with the people by leading the state ticket, in the landslide of that year he was 6,600 votes nearer to election than any other Republican candidate for state office. Atwood carried 62 of the 83 counties which was more than were carried by any other Republican candidate. He was the only Republican candidate for state office who received a majority in Kent, Ingham and Mason counties.

that Atwood is needed in the office to re-establish prompt and courteous service to the public. His trained leadership is necessary to eliminate the chaos that now exists.

In 1931 Atwood was appointed director of the motor vehicle division of the secretary of state's office. Through his organizing ability, this office was soon able to render quick and efficient service to the motorists and motor vehicle dealers of the state.

Atwood was appointed director of the Michigan Safety Council made up of organizations and individuals. After a careful study of the subject, the council's recommendations were put in a bill which was unanimously passed by the 1937 legislature. As a result Michigan is leading the nation in the reduction of highway accidents.

During his several terms in the legislature Atwood was a member of the committees which had consideration of motor vehicle legislation. He was the father of the gasoline tax—for highway construction.

Crow Shooting And Fishing Contest Plans Made By Sportsmen

Wildlife Assn. Members Also Discuss Williamston Plan

At one of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings of the Western Wayne County Wildlife Association so far, held at the Mayflower hotel, President Brick Champe discussed with the members prospects of several interesting events for the forthcoming summer, one being a crow shooting contest, another a fishing contest and another an exhibit at the Northville-Wayne County office of hunting and fishing trophies in the possession of members of the organization.

Nearly 100 were present when the meeting was called to order. The crow shooting contest will probably take place in July or early August.

Secretary Lisle Alexander read numerous communications that had been received since the last meeting, one of especial interest pertaining to the making of the Rouge river into a trout stream when it is freed of sewage disposal within the next year.

The letter was from the state conservation department and the association was advised that the state would make a careful check of conditions and if the stream was found suitable to be made a trout stream that favorable action would be taken.

A committee consisting of Howard Hall of Northville as chairman, Mark Chaffee, Bert McKinney, George Hess, Edwin Gollinger and Russell Powell was appointed by President Champe to make arrangements for the fishing contest. The contest will be limited to catches made in Michigan and the committee will decide what kind of fish can be entered in the contest. It will make its report at the next meeting.

Another committee was appointed to work out plans for a skeet shooting contest between members, if a suitable place can be found for the location of a shooting field.

George Hess of Wayne was appointed chairman of this committee, the other members being Jack Weed of Plymouth, Howard Hall of Northville, Charles E. Messmore of Plymouth and Harry Lush.

There was considerable discussion of the Williamston cooperative land game management plan.

President Champe had secured from the state conservation department several copies of just how the plan is worked out and the association hopes before the fall hunting season starts, to be able to institute the plan for this district.

Farmers in some locality near Williamston have contacted and an effort will be made to have a territory covering something like 2500 acres included under the plan.

The department advised the club that farmers in the Williamston district are enthusiastic over it because it has saved them materially from damage done by trespassing hunters who kill everything in sight except game.

The plan, in brief, says the state department, must be worked out along the following lines:

1. Each project shall contain a block of not less than 1,280 acres nor more than 10,000 acres of farm-game land, of which at least 85 percent is in the association.
2. However, areas of less than 1,280 acres may be accepted under the following provisions:
 - a. They must contain at least 640 acres (one section).
 - b. The land included must be in a solid block; that is, every landowner or lessee must be a member of the association.
 - c. Tickets issued must entitle the bearer to hunt over the entire area.
3. Hunting on the project shall be organized similarly to the Williamston Plan.
4. The landowners or lessees must agree that no charge be made for the hunting privilege.
5. Landowners or lessees must agree to allow licensed small game hunters access to the project as determined by the by-laws of the association. The landowners or lessees are free to formulate their own by-laws, but such by-laws shall not conflict with the general regulations of the cooperative plan.

6. The hunting privilege shall not be retained for the members of any private rod and gun club or any other organization or group.
7. Each landowner or lessee agrees to the following required game management practices:
 - a. To refrain from unnecessary burning of swales, brush, and other suitable wildlife cover, and from unnecessary trimming of fence rows and roadside cover.
 - b. To give reasonable assistance to the department in obtaining such information as the number of game animals killed on the project, number of hunters, etc.
 - c. To permit employees of the department access to the land at all reasonable times for censusing game abundance, checking hunters, etc.
 - d. To give reasonable cooperation in game law observance and enforcement.
 8. The Department of Conservation wishes to direct the attention of the farmers to certain practices that are beneficial to wildlife, and the department recommends that these practices be carried out by the farmers in so far as possible.
 - a. Planting of food patches, providing strips of unharvested grain, or placing corn shocks close to swales, wood lots, marshes, etc.
 - b. Providing winter feed close to winter cover in cases of emergency.
 - c. Maintaining permanent winter cover or nesting cover.
 - d. The use of a flushing bar.

The department agrees:

 1. To aid in formulating game management plans for the area.
 2. To cooperate in game law enforcement.
 3. To furnish signs for reasonable posting of the exterior boundaries and roads on the project area, provided final inspection shows that the specifications and requirements have been carried out in good faith.
 4. To furnish a sign for each farm which calls the attention of the hunter to the provisions of the cooperative plan.
 5. To furnish signs designating safety zones around farm buildings where requested by an individual landowner or lessee. Such requests should be mailed directly to the game division.

In case any member of the organization violates the agreement or charges for hunting privileges, the Department of Conservation reserves the right to cancel the

Mass Meeting For Townsendites

Monday evening Judge Edward J. Jeffries gave an inspiring talk before the local Townsend Club urging them to work hard in their drive and in the election campaign this fall for congressmen.

Twenty-eight new members were added, giving the club a good start toward tripling its membership as this makes 54 since doubling the membership on May 23.

August Fankow, Fred Lute, Paul Last, and William Witt were chosen to represent the Plymouth Townsend Club at the third national convention of Townsend clubs to be held June 19 to 23, inclusive in the Los Angeles memorial stadium and the Shrine auditorium seating 105,000 and 7,000 respectively. Plans are also being laid to accommodate as many as 125,000.

The next meeting will be Monday, June 13, 8:00 p.m., at the Grange hall with W. A. Benton, Detroit business man and strong Townsend advocate, as speaker.

A mass meeting in the Plymouth high school auditorium will take place on Friday, June 17, 8:00 p.m., when another business man, Charles Adair, of the Adair Abstract company, Flint, will give an important address on the Townsend Plan. Everybody is welcome to come and bring their friends.

The committee consisted of Ernest Roe, Stewart Dodge, Carl Shear, Edson O. Huston, and Russell Daane. Working with City Assessor William Petz, the board of review and city commissioners, the committee spent considerable time in discussions of valuations with the prospect in view that a satisfactory result will be forthcoming.

Assessor Petz has been working to properly equalize the tax spread throughout the city and after the conference between the city assessor, board of review and tax association committee, it is believed that a recommendation to the city commission will be made that will prove satisfactory for the present year.

proved highways in the country, together with such related work as bridges, grade separations, sign-boarding, parks, public comfort stations, tree planting, road-side decorating, tourist camp sites, superhighways and safety work.

Mr. Hines had been a member of the Wayne County Road Commission since its inception and served as its chairman continuously for more than 15 years. Under his direction the first mile of concrete road in the world was built and he also played a leading role in developing and devising machinery and methods for building concrete roads economically.

Developments by the commission under Mr. Hines included the "belt finish" which now is in general use wherever concrete roads are built; the mechanical finishing machine and the mechanical center safety-line strip-marker.

In commenting some time ago on the work done by the commission, Mr. Hines said:

"No device or method developed by our organization ever has been patented or copyrighted by us, although others outside of our organization have attempted to do so, infringing on our previous use. They have been given freely to the world in the interest of better and cheaper road construction."

The commission was the first road-building organization to successfully resurface an old concrete road with a thin concrete wearing surface, and was the first to divide roads into traffic lanes in the interest of safety by use of white stripes. The commission was one of the first to adopt and carry out a snow-removal program, and the first to build and maintain public county comfort stations.

For his outstanding work in highway development, Mr. Hines was awarded the George S. Bartlett Trophy in 1935. The same Vindicated!

It was an alligator! The alligator was over two feet long! It lived in Newburg lake.

Howard Stark, genial manager of the A & P store in Plymouth, stands vindicated. What he saw in the lake two weeks ago when down there testing out a new casting reel he had just purchased, was just what he said it was—a fairly good sized alligator.

Last Saturday a group of young people from the church now served by Rev. P. Ray Norton in Detroit, came out to the park to spend the day. They saw the alligator crawl up on the bank and grabbed it before it could get back in the water. It was turned over to the park keeper who had it sent to the Detroit zoo.

The alligator was several inches over two feet long. How long it has been there no one knows.

Can You Shoot?

After many lovers of the fine art of shooting had expressed the wish for a shooting range in Plymouth, plans were laid for The Sharpshooters Club. Here, both the accomplished marksman may keep in practice and the would-be rifleman learn how to shoot.

Both Long and Short Ranges

Many gunners prefer the long range, and yet there are many who like the short. To satisfy both, each has been installed.

Shoot For Practice or Prizes

Again, some like to shoot for the pure love of target practice, others like the extra interest that comes with prize shooting. The famous 4-G Target carrying a standing cash pot, and a daily high long range cash prize will be offered.

Membership Applications Welcome

In order to promote crack shots and a greater fraternity among the various rifle clubs of the county, those who shoot above the average are invited to join the club.

Misses State Champs By One Point

TENNIS TEAM PLAYS SENSATIONAL SEASON

During the year 1938 the tennis team completed the most successful season in the history of Plymouth high school, setting a record of 18 dual match victories and suffering no defeats. In addition to this the team won the T.V.A.A. championship and added a beautiful trophy to the show case. Not stopping at this the team went on to win the regional championship adding another trophy to the first. Continuing into the state meet the team missed the state championship by one point but received a trophy as runner-up.

The outstanding player was Gordon "Cotton top" Moe, who lost only four matches in 29. He was defeated in the T.V.A.A. finals by Richard Lazar of River Rouge. The following week he won the regional championship held on Plymouth park courts. This victory entered him in the state meet where he triumphed, to be the only Plymouth player to win the coveted state championship.

James "Jim" McClain, along with a sophomore, Bob Norman, attained the highest percentage. Lawrence "Smitty" Smith also contributed to Plymouth's cause by holding the next highest percentage.

Bill Norman and Howard Anderson won the regional championship in the doubles tournament.

William "Pod" McAllister, a junior, was the only other regular player.

The schedule for the year was as follows:

INTERESTING BITS ABOUT PHILIPPINE ISLAND SCHOOL SYSTEM

Mr. Weatherhead, commercial geography teacher at Plymouth high school, worked and taught in the Philippine Islands for two years and had an excellent opportunity to observe the school system in that tropical land of the world.

The school system is very highly centralized; at its head is the director of education who issues to the teachers through superintendents; they, in turn, reach the teachers, including those in the remotest parts, through the school principals.

The schools are planned very similar to those in this country with the exception of the eighth grade; this class is eliminated in their school system. The textbooks are similar to ours but in some instances, the material has been re-written to fit in with the environment of the Filipino. Occupational courses are taught much as in our schools; the girls are taught such work as hand weaving and embroidery; the boys are taught agricultural work and work with metals and wood—especially the native narra and mahogany.

The extra curricular activities are much the same as those of the American school with the exception of character building clubs such as Girl and Boy Scouts, Girl Reserves, and Hi-Y. The teachers and students are very respectful and cooperative toward each other. Not every boy and girl has the opportunity to attend school and those who have that privilege take every advantage of it.

While on the school ground or in the classroom the student is not allowed to speak or write anything except English. Mr. Weatherhead says that it is not always possible to enforce this rule when groups of students are together as they hear English only at school.

The natives resent the American influence in the islands; the present attitude is that the Americans are not a necessary part of the educational system; Filipinos feel that native teachers should take over the educational system.

Mr. Weatherhead's criticism of the school system is that too much emphasis is given to general education without sufficient stress being given to occupational courses, the Filipino himself being more intent on acquiring a liberal arts education and a diploma which he pre-supposes entitles him to a white collar job of which there are very few in a country that as yet has barely begun to develop its natural wealth of resources. Another criticism is that the native teachers have charge of the students in the primary grades and it is very difficult for American and foreign teachers to teach the pupils English because habits that are hard to break were formed in the lower grades.

STYLE SHOW GIVEN BY HOME ECONOMICS

At the end of the year every girl in the Home Economics group prepares an outside project as part of her semester work. The projects that have been handed in are both varied and interesting. As a grand finale to the work a style show and tea was given for the friends and mothers of the home economics group. About 75 guests watched the girls model street clothes, beach clothes, school clothes, evening clothes, and others of the various costumes made by the girls during the school year.

Hitt Passes Mark For Strikeouts As Nine Downs Wayne

HITT ALLOWS YPSI ONE HIT

Another win was safely tucked under the belt of Bob Hitt last Friday, as the Rocks enjoyed a rollicking nine-nothing shut-out at Ypsi's expense on Friday, June 3.

Although his mates bawled four balls behind him, Bob came through by allowing only one hit, a sharp double down the left field line by Fleeting, the Ypsi pitcher who seemed the only man able to hit the ball where the Plymouth fielders weren't. Only one Ypsi man was able to reach third; after getting a life by a fielder's choice, he feached the hot sack when Gordie Robinson fell down and let the ball scoot past into right field. A quick peg from right field, however, trapped him between third and home where he was tagged out after an exciting run down.

Nine Plymouth batters faced the Ypsi pitcher in the first inning and collected four of the Rocks' nine runs. Ham Newman and Wes Hoffman started it off by getting successive walks; Hitt, then attempting to lay down a bunt, popped to the pitcher who threw wild over first enabling Newman to reach third and Hoffman second. After Leach walked, Darnell doubled to center scoring Newman and Hoffman and sending Leach to third. All concerned were safe on a fielder's choice which Krumm hit into, scoring Leach and Darnell. Seven of the Plymouth's runs were put on base either by walks or errors on the Ypsilanti fieldmen. Plymouth won not because they played brilliantly but because Ypsi gave them very poor competition.

The game was unusual in that no arguing was done as to the umpire's ability to call plays correctly.

As a last gamble, Ypsi inserted a new pitcher in the seventh inning. First man to bat against him was Tommy Houghton replacing Bob Folsom in center. Feeling sorry for the poor pitcher, Tommy slapped a looping triple to right but remained reposingly on third as Larry Newman popped to short, Gordie Robinson popped to first and Ham Newman grounded out, short to first.

Ypsi's pitcher, a port side, relied mainly on a tantalizing half speed curve which he was not able to control perfectly and as a result walked ten Plymouth batters who accounted for five of the Plymouth runs.

In the seven innings Hitt pitched, only 28 rival batters faced him of which seven reached the first base on fielder's choices or errors. Thus with 15 games won out of a possible 20 and with but one more contest, with Ferndale to go the Rocks, although on top, have a very good season in back of them.

HITT PITCHES TO TENTH VICTORY AND NEW SCHOOL RECORD

Plymouth knocked Ferndale's pitchers for eight hits and eight runs while Bob Hitt allowed five hits and seven runs. Our hero has hurled 13 games in all, lost four, won nine, and tucked six strike-outs under his belt to set a new school record. The locals are tied for second place in the league, winning 16, losing six. These boys deserve a multiple cheer.

In the first and second for Plymouth nothing happened; same for Ferndale, but in the third: Plymouth — Robinson led off and received a one-way ticket to first. Ham Newman singled to left sending Gordie to third. Hitt man popped to first, one out. Hitt singled to fill the bases. Leach drove a triple to deep right, clearing bases but Hitt was out at the plate. Darnell walked and Krumm popped to third baseman ending the inning, two runs, two hits. In Ferndale's half Sabbaugh was mowed down by Hitt. Coen singled, Bulman walked, Jim Coen got on on Hoffman's error, two men scored. Kolos popped high to the catcher and Imhoff grounded out, Robinson to Krumm. The foes collected two runs and one hit.

Plymouth had a big fifth inning. Hoffman received a walk, on the first pitch to Hitt stole second, the throw was wild, he took third, the throw was again wild and Wes trotted home with a run. Hitt then walked, Leach singled, sending Hitt to third. Darnell doubled, scoring Hitt and Leach. Krumm grounded out, Folsom singled scoring Darnell. Newman walked, Robinson also walked, Ham Newman struck out, Wes second time up got on as a ball went through second baseman's legs, scoring Folsom and Robinson. Hitt grounded out second to first ending the rally. Total — six runs and three hits. In their half Ferndale received three runs and two hits on two singles and two triples. All went smoothly until the last half of the seventh when Ferndale collected two more runs. Coen singled, Bulman grounded out, Jim Coen got to first on Wes' error. Kolos fanned, Imhoff singled scoring Coen and Jim Coen; Elmsinger batting for Surby was also struck out. The batteries were Plymouth, Hitt and Newman. Ferndale: Sabbaugh, Elmers and Bulman. Totals: Plymouth, eight runs, and eight hits. Ferndale, seven runs and five hits.

DOROTHY ROE TO GO TO CAMP CAVELL

Dorothy Roe, the newly elected president of Senior Girl Reserves, will be this year's delegate to Camp Cavell. It has usually been the custom for the new program chairman to accompany the president, but this year the ruling is that only the girl elected for president next year is to go. Camp Cavell is a Young Woman's Christian association camp and is attended each year by delegates from various Girl Reserve groups.

The camp is on Lake Huron about 25 miles north of Port Huron, and covers 30 acres of meadows and woods. It contains a dock, tennis courts, athletic fields, craft wigwams, dining hall, a shower house, and the first unit of an infirmary, added in 1936.

It is under the leadership of Miss Faye F. Frazier, who has directed it for the past 14 years.

On the first flight of the Hong Kong Clipper to China, the ship carried 43,865 letters from the United States to China.

Graduation Plans For Cleary's

Graduating students of Cleary college, Ypsilanti, have chosen Norman Hunt, of Jackson, president of the class. Mr. Hunt, who will speak for the students at the commencement banquet on Saturday, June 11, has been prominent in campus activities and served as president of the Men's Union this year.

Approximately 250 students are expected to graduate on June 11. This number may be increased by several whose credits are not as yet adjusted. It is the largest graduating class in the history of the college.

The program for the commencement week-end will start on Friday evening, June 10, with a reception given by the undergraduates for the graduates, their friends and the alumni. Miss Florence Ehnis is the faculty member in charge of the undergraduate reception. She will be assisted by Miss Alice Quigg and Miss Phyllis Mondoc. All members of the faculty will be present to greet friends of the college and returning alumni.

On Saturday afternoon at 2:30, in the Cleary college assembly hall, the commencement exercises will be held. Dr. R. W. Fairchild, president of the Illinois State Normal university, Normal, Illinois, will be the principal speaker.

Graduates completing one-year courses will be presented to President Cleary by Harold Kilian; one and one-quarter-year course, by Miss Mabel Marsh; two-year secretarial course, by Miss Hazel Worden; two-year accounting and business administration courses, by A. B. Curtis; four-year secretarial and accounting courses, by George Weins; and commercial teachers' course, by Miss Irene Hines.

This year the first students will receive the degree of Bachelor of Science. One has completed a four-year course in secretarial training and one in accounting. These courses were instituted in 1933. The other graduates have completed two-year courses, for which they will receive the degree of Bachelor of Commercial Science, or Associate of Science; and one-year courses for which diplomas will be awarded.

Doctor Lee A. White, of the Detroit News, will be the guest speaker at the banquet at Charles McKenny hall at 6:00 o'clock. Dr. White has held many important positions in business, civic, and social organizations of Detroit, and is nationally known. According to Miss Hines, registrar, about 300 reservations for the banquet have already been received.

Following the banquet, there will be dancing until 12:00 o'clock.

Perfection Drops Another Game

The local Perfection Laundry club dropped its fourth straight game, after winning the opening game of the season.

Even in defeat to the second place Northville Merchants, which was by the score of 10-7, the local boys are rounding into form and will be a much stronger club with the addition of Don Scheffler a star catcher.

Ray Urbanak had a perfect day at bat for the local lads by collecting four singles in four at-bats. He also was a star in the field by starting two double plays. Taylor also collected two singles in four attempts at the plate for a .500 percentage in batting.

Next Sunday at Plymouth Riverside park the local laundry boys will take on the Ypsilanti Central Specialty company in a game, scheduled to start at 3:00 p.m.

VACATIONISTS BRING MONEY but what brings vacationists?

a sure answer—

CONCRETE ROADS

No matter what they like when they get there, vacationists never enjoy "roughing it" on the way. Of two attractive vacation centers, tourists choose the one that's on their favorite kind of road—concrete.

Everybody profits—directly or indirectly—from tourist trade. And everybody profits directly from concrete.

Concrete highways are always ready for travel. They cost less than other pavements of equal load-strength. Save a big share of road maintenance funds. Save on car operating costs. Reap these benefits—pave with concrete.
