Commissioners Who Will Condemn Land Delaying Tonquish Project To Be Appointed Wednesday

Construction Likely To Start Within One To Two Months

Probate Judge Thomas E. Murphy will conduct a hearing in Detroit Wednesday, July 13, to select three commissioners to condemn property delaying action on the Tonquish Creek drain and to award damages.

The appointment of commissioners follows institution in Probate Court of a petition for a hearing on condemnation of two parcels of property through which the creek runs and which are owned by residents who have refused to release their right of way privileges.

The property is owned by John McLaren and William Pettinfill, jointly and by August Myers. The property is vacant. The commissioners who are to view the property probably will report to the court within a month or two.

Only condemnation proceedings are delaying action on the project, according to Herald Hamill, civil engineer in charge of the work.

Plans and specifications for the $54,000 project are complete and construction can begin at any time, he said. Since there will be personal legal services on the procedure it will not be necessary to advertise for right of way, which will help to speed action on the work. Mr. Hamill added.

The construction work should be completed by October 1, he estimated. The county drain commissioner will ask for private bids on the section of the drain which will be covered and the rest of the work will be done under WPA supervision.

Corbett To Head Citywide Picnic

Definite plans for Plymouth's community picnic this summer are expected to be made at a meeting of committee members in the city hall at 8:00 p.m. Tuesday.

In a meeting last Tuesday members of the Civic committee chose Stanley Corbett as general chairman for the affair and selected a group of residents who will be asked to attend the meeting next Tuesday and serve on various groups in charge of the program.

At this meeting, it is expected, a date and place may be selected for the community get-together. Other details probably will be arranged later by the various sub-committees.

Those selected by the Civic committee for service in connection with the project are Herald Hamill, William Pettinfill, Albert Gayde, Bill Rea, Kenneth Carey, William Wood, Harry Barnes, Harold Anderson, Howard Eckles, Stanford Besse, Henry Hendorp and Mrs. Lynn Felton.

Others who will be asked to participate in the arrangements are expected to be selected Tuesday night in addition to those just named.

The Civic committee, which sponsored the hobby show, the surprise services which will be held a week from Sunday and other activities of citywide interest is composed of James Gallimore, general chairman; Miss Hildur Carlson, secretary; Clarence Elliott, Gurnet Baker, Arno Thompson, Mrs. Sidney Strong and Mrs. Paul Wiedman.

Plymouth Streets Will Be Surfaced

The city commission has authorized City Manager Clarence Elliott to purchase 24,000 gallons of tarvia to cover Plymouth streets. The work was expected to start this week.

Most of the streets in the city and all those which have been tarvied before will be tarvied again this year. Mr. Elliott said. We want to complete the work as soon as possible," he added.

He said that as soon as this project is completed the work will be started on paving Church street.

Night League Organized At Starkweather

A four-team night league is under way at Starkweather, and Coach Jacobi has asked all men and boys interested in playing to come to the school and get on some team.

Games scheduled for next week are:

July 12: Super Shell Farms vs. Starkweather Club.

July 14: Leftovers vs. Champs.

Miss Margery Merriam is spending the week at Devils Lake, Manitowish Beach as guest of Miss Eleanor May and Betty Ann Hewitt.

Betty Mastick Leaves On Alaskan Trip

Betty Ann Mastick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Mastick, is leaving July 9 for Alaska with the Buchanan party. George E. Buchanan of Detroit makes this trip possible for boys and girls who earn a part of the money. This year's itinerary includes a day at the Calgary Stampede and a few days at Lake Louise and Banff. At Vancouver the party takes a steamship through the protected "Inside Passage" to Skagway, Alaska. On the return trip they visit Rainier National Park and Portland where the Kiwanis club, as host, takes the party for ride over the famous Columbia river highway.

Charity Banquet Provides Free Milk For Needy

School Children Get 6,237 Bottles Over Four Months

Free milk was supplied to pupils at Central and Starkweather grade schools this year largely as a result of the Plymouth Republican charity banquet which attracted a large number of prominent Republican leaders from a wide section of the state here last February.

Proceeds of the banquet, which was conducted with extreme simplicity in contrast to the $25 a plate Democratic bonnet dinner conducted in Detroit for the purpose of swelling the Democratic campaign war chest, were donated entirely for the purpose of providing needy Plymouth children with free milk.

For four months these funds, in addition to contributions from the Parent-Teacher Association and an anonymous donor, provided a sufficiency of milk for these children.

The charity dinner provided a total of $125.25 for purchase of milk after the expenses of the banquet were paid. Of this sum, $74.91 was allotted to the Central school and $50.34 to the Starkweather school.

The P.T.A. contributed $27.71 for free milk at the Central school and $15 for the Starkweather school. At the Starkweather school, also, there was a fund of $15.14 contributed from other sources.

This money provided 2,757 free bottles of milk for the Starkweather school and 3,480 free bottles at the Central school, a total of 6,237 bottles of milk for the Plymouth's needy children.

In addition, crackers were provided to serve as a little lunch for the youngsters along with the milk.

Beyond the money already expended for free milk, Starkweather school has $14.29 left with which to send the milk fund off to a good start when school begins next fall.

Skates Puts End To Towing Grab

Following a conference with Chief of Police Vaughan Smith and other residents of Plymouth, Chief of Detectives Roy Skates of the sheriff's office yesterday posted a notice in the department that hereafter deputy sheriffs, in ordering the removal of automobiles wrecked in accidents along the highways, must call the nearest garage to the accident.

There has been widespread complaint during recent months because deputy sheriffs have directed that wrecked cars be taken to one station located somewhere between here and Detroit, frequently having the cars towed directly past garages miles closer by.

So hostile had become the feeling that at the time of the last accident reported on Plymouth road, Biezok Bros. refused to permit their telephone to be used by the officers to call the garage in question.

Chief Roy Skates, when all the facts were placed before him, lost no time in posting the definite order that has already become effective. He expressed appreciation to the Plymouth residents for bringing the matter to his attention. The order given by Mr. Skates, who has many friends in and around Plymouth, will bring general satisfaction to this entire part of Wayne county.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Markham spent the week-end with her father, Harry Norris, in Holly.

Mr. and Mrs. Nilsson of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ayers of Plymouth motored to Traverse City and Harbor Springs in northern Michigan over the week-end.

Mrs. C. G. Draper and daughter, Mrs. Elmore Carney, were luncheon guests, Thursday, of the former's sister, Mrs. Ernest Kohler in Northville when she entertained several guests from Detroit.

Unemployed Begin Registering For Idleness Benefits

Plymouth Office Closing After Aiding Applicants For Week

Plymouth's unemployed began registration for benefits under the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act this week.

A fairly steady stream of those seeking work and compensation for loss of jobs applied at the appointment station at the Plymouth city hall, Mac J. Donnelly, Michigan Employment Commission interviewer in charge of the Plymouth area station, said.

About 225 persons sought interviews in the first three days of operation of the station here, he said.

A staff varying from two to 10 persons was required to aid the applicants. Applicants were registered for appointments in central offices for their districts, varying according to the location of their homes.

Applicants were required to register for employment under the State Employment Commission as well as for claims for compensation, for unemployment, according to the provisions of the Unemployment Compensation Act, Mr. Donnelly explained.

In this way, applicants are made eligible for jobs as well as for unemployment benefits.

Applicants were required to certify that they were totally unemployed and that they had earned at least $50 in each of any three of consecutive calendar periods or a total of $250 in any period of not more than three of the five periods.

These calendar periods, starting after April 30, were listed as No. 2, April 1, 1937, to June 30, 1937; No. 3, July 1, 1937, to September 30, 1937; No. 4, October 1, 1937, to December 31, 1937; No. 5, January 1, 1938, to March 31, 1938; and No. 6, April 1, 1938, to June 30, 1938.

Only wages in periods No. 3, 4 and 5 will be used to compute weekly benefit rates and total benefits, it was explained.

Applicants also were told that they could not register for benefits unless they had their social security number.

WPA workers were warned that they are not eligible for benefits at this time and should not register for benefits as long as they are working for the WPA.

Mr. Donnelly said that the Plymouth appointment office was scheduled to complete its work this week and that hereafter an itinerant registration officer would take care of the duties in both Plymouth and Northville.

This employe of the commission will visit the communities to interview applicants living in the area at regular periods, he said. The Plymouth appointment office, one of 51 in Wayne county, was established temporarily for the purpose of speeding the registrations in the face of an anticipated flood of applicants.

His Neighbors Elect Him President

HAROLD STEINTRAGER

At the first meeting of the newly organized Plymouth Gardens Improvement association held a few days ago, Harold Steintrager, one of the new workers in that community for its upbuilding and general advancement, was elected president of the organization.

Mr. Steintrager is a hustler and so are all the other officers selected. As a result the rapidly growing community is expecting much good to come from the organization they have just started.

Holiday Drivers Avoid Accidents

Despite a heavy flow of holiday automobile traffic through Plymouth, over the three-day Fourth of July week-end, no accidents were reported, Chief of Police Vaughan Smith said.

This made the second year that Plymouth has spent a Fourth of July holiday season free from traffic accidents.

Although fireworks were evidence in the city there were no casualties reported, Chief Smith said that a number of firecrackers were confiscated under state law but no arrests were made.

Those shooting off the fireworks were principally small boys, he said. As far as could be determined, there were no sales of fireworks within the city itself, what supplies there were apparently being brought from without the city.

Farm Loan Assn. To Meet In Wayne

Plans have been completed for the annual meeting of the Wayne County National Farm Loan association which is called for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, July 12, at the Wayne county library in Wayne, says Secretary-Treasurer R. A. Pence.

It is believed this meeting will bring together the largest percentage of members that have met for several years. The program is expected to be the most informative and to provide for the most complete answer to all questions of any such meeting previously held.

"I know the members will be interested in the fact that have been listed on large charts, including the financial report," Mr. Pence said. "It is going to be easy for every member to learn just where our association stands. We are going to invite questions from the membership and try to make this meeting the most useful one ever held."

"One thing I would like to emphasize—this is our own meeting. The association belongs to the farmers who are members of it, and it's going to be a family affair." In the past we have sometime had a representative of the federal land bank to discuss questions, but this time we are going to have it all to ourselves."

Pedestrian Hurt In Auto Crash

George Unjuran, of 653 George street, Detroit, was injured seriously Sunday night when he was struck by an automobile driven by Bert Leadbetter, of Plymouth.

Mr. Unjuran was taken to Eloise hospital where physicians said this week that he was resting comfortably. He suffered a fractured knee, hospital attendants said.

The accident happened at Plymouth road near Stark road as Unjuran was walking along the highway.

Board Of Education Purchases Leach Place At Cost Of $12,000 To Gain Room For School Expansion

Will Get Markers For Graves

The Ex-Service Men's Club of Plymouth wishes to call to the attention of anyone who may be interested in the fact that there are four or five soldiers' graves in the several cemeteries around Plymouth which do not have a monument.

Any relatives of any soldier of the United States wars, Civil, Spanish-American or World War, on application, can receive a government monument for the soldier's grave.

The application must be made by a relative but the Ex-Service Men's Club has these applications and is ready and willing to assist in filling them out and erecting them on the graves.

Anyone interested may get in touch with the club's monument committee, Harry Mumby, John Jacobs or Arno B. Thompson, secretary of the committee.

Destroy Weeds On Vacant Land, Manager Says

Clean-Up Requested For Appearances And Public Health

The city has completed cutting of grass between sidewalks and streets or highways, City Manager Clarence Elliott announced this week in connection with a plea to Plymouth residents to do their share by clearing their property of weeds and debris.

Mr. Elliott urged that owners of vacant property have weeds on their land cleared as soon as possible before the weeds get too dry and seeds start blowing about the city.

There are three reasons why the city is requesting owners of vacant property to clear their land of weeds and debris before the weed pollen starts scattering," Mr. Elliott said.

The first, obviously, is for esthetic purposes. Plymouth is termed the "City of Homes" but when vacant property grows high with weeds and is covered with trash the sight tends to last in the visitor's mind longer and more distastefully than the appearance of our attractive dwellings.

The second reason is based on public health protection. Residents who are afflicted with asthma and various forms of hay fever literally would breathe easier if the noxious weeds which cause their discomfort in the summer months were destroyed so that the pollen would not fill the air.

"In addition, on this point, weeds frequently are breeding places for mosquitoes and should be destroyed for this reason alone.

The third point in favor of taking the effort to clear vacant property of weeds is that the weeds are a nuisance to persons who have improved adjacent property but who, nevertheless, have to do double duty when their neighbor's weeds start fresh patches growing on the land and ready cleared. Not only that but owners who expect to sell their property can make it more attractive in the eyes of prospective buyers by cleaning out weeds and trash, giving the property an orderly appearance."

Buildings Will Be Ready For Use By Students In Fall

The board of education announced this week that it had taken over the old Leach place from Mrs. Madeline Wood at a price of $12,000.

The action was taken as a result of the vote in the school election on June 13 which gave the board of education the go signal on projected plans to increase school facilities.

The board will place a request for a WPA project to arrange the interior of the newly purchased house for use as class rooms. It will be possible to have six recitation rooms on the two floors of the building.

In addition, the 30 by 50 brick building at the rear of the property will be joined to and become a part of the girls' physical training shower room. The building also will serve as a field house for athletic events on the school track.

The board of education is busy at the present time in having the school buildings cleaned and serviced during the summer for use when school opens in the fall.

WPA crews are engaged in painting the buildings, re-servicing the roofs, enlarging the boys' shower room and grading the school grounds.

The WPA grading addition project is practically completed at present, it was announced.

A third project under the direction of the board of education and functioning through the WPA is a program for renovating and repairing books. The work is being done through the Wayne county library and the books and text books which need attention are being repaired in preparation for the opening of school next fall.

Dedicate Wayne Postoffice

Postmaster Frank Learned of this city and Fred Van Atta of Northville were among the guests who attended the dedication of the new postoffice at Wayne last Thursday evening. The elaborate ceremonies arranged by Postmaster Learned and Postmaster Howell were carried out with precision in spite of a rain which made it necessary to transfer the program from outdoors to a church.

Father Leo J. Rohrer presided as chairman and Mayor R. W. Fisher welcomed the guests to Wayne. A history of the Wayne postoffice that was of more than ordinary interest, as well as most complete, was presented by Charles A. Butterfield, superintendent of schools. Alvin W. Angerer spoke in behalf of the postoffice employees and Postmaster Howell made a brief and timely response. Other speakers on the program included a number of public officials, Lieutenant Governor Leo Nowicki being the chief speaker.

Milford Gets WPA Sidewalks

Milford's $25,000 WPA job for maintenance and construction of sidewalks began this Thursday afternoon. A large number of WPA workers from other nearby sections reported for work. In all some 56 workers have been assigned to the Milford job. Most of the men have been on other projects and were transferred here.

Work was begun on Detroit street at the corner of Main street, along the former S. L. Rowe property now owned by Leroy Darling. By afternoon, sections on Detroit street between Union and Hickory had been taken out, preparatory to rebuilding.

The job is really underway and running smoothly, according to Floyd Sands, foreman of construction. Lack of trucks and working tools kept many of the men in idleness this Thursday. Many of his men coming from these jobs had not received transfer slips, and were therefore not eligible to be put on the job, Thursday.

The project is set for five months and the federal government provides funds for all labor, totaling $20,951. The village supplies material at an estimated cost of $3,850. Village officials state that they have no jurisdiction over who is hired by WPA. According to regulations, WPA labor is taken from relief rolls, and all applicants for work on the job at Milford should apply at the relief office in Pontiac.

A load of concrete, and more tools arrived this Thursday afternoon—Milford Times.

REAPING THE WHIRLWIND.

Not since the days of wildcat banking in Michigan has there prevailed in the state government at Lansing such utter confusion and such a deplorable condition of state finances as at present. Every time the clock ticks the state is sinking deeper and deeper into the red. In order to keep the payroll machines in operation for the benefit of Michigan's greatest army of payroll patriots old age pensions are being reduced and thousands upon thousands of needy, aged people are being cut entirely from all state support.

Obligations of the state are going unpaid. As a result the small merchants, coal dealers and supply men are carrying the state welfare load. Many of them have not received one cent for the supplies delivered to the welfare since January first. The state government figures that it is far better to keep its big regimented force of job holders functioning because of the approaching election than it is to pay its just debts.

But this condition should not be surprising. People who are not in the habit of paying debts usually give little thought to the necessity of paying any sort of an obligation when it is due.

As a result there is a very large number of small business men throughout the state who have been forced to borrow money at the banks in order to save themselves from bankruptcy.

The political plunderbunds cannot honestly say the present condition is entirely to blame for all that has happened.

They were warned during the early part of the last session of the state legislature more than a year ago that the wild, cock-eyed appropriations they were making would lead to just what has happened.

When the writer of this editorial presented a series of some 78 amendments to the appropriation bills, they were voted down. Saving tax dollars was the last thought they had in mind. The one purpose seemed to be to get every penny that could be squeezed out of the taxpayers of the state and turn just as many of the dollars as they could into the pockets of the political job holders.

If the present state administration had used any common sense at all at that time, the present tragical condition could have been prevented.

But what cared the spenders when they knew that the governor wanted the tax dollars and wanted the appropriations made so that he could use the condition thereby created for political reasons?

Do not, for one second, think that all of the Democratic members of the legislature agreed with the crazy appropriations program that was carried out. There were many of them who realized that the Murphy administration was headed directly for the plight in which it now finds itself, but because of administration politics, they were unable to do other than support his program.

If the people of Michigan could know just half the truth about all of the things taking place today within the state government, they would be amazed beyond belief—yes, even in these days when officials in high place sell their own birthright for gain.

The Little Town

I've tramped the cities up and down,
From north to south and east to west,
But after all, the little town,
It seems to me, is best.
I like its quiet restful days—
Without the rush and noise,
I like its unpretentious ways,
I like its girls and boys.

The little town provides its thrills
The same as cities do—
But theirs is not the pace that fills
Life's cup with bitter brew;
They find their fun in simple things,
With little pomp and show,
And yet, true happiness it brings,
As those who've tried it know.

Perhaps some think that I'm a "rube"
To feel the way I do—
And some might say "That guy's a boob!"
And maybe that is true.
But, "rube" or not, I'd be content
To be of small renown—
Have quiet fun, pay little rent,
Within some little town.

the innocent young truck driver who was shot to death in cold blood without being given a chance of any kind to defend himself. Governor? The killing was as cowardly as it was needless. As long as the federal laws say this ruthless killer shall be hanged for the offense he committed, why step in the way of the mandate of the law? The governor knows, as every one else knows, that the sort of a thing he is asking of the president is the sort of a thing that every crook in the world asks for. It helps to defeat the ends of justice. But what of justice, just so long as a vote or two here or there can be gotten by such tactics? The dead truck driver can't vote, but killers running at large can.

HE'S MASTER WHISKY SALESMAN.

Amazing are the things going on in these days of "nutty-deal" politics. The Saturday Evening Post has just revealed that the United States ambassador to the Court of St. James is America's master whisky salesman. He created a fortune of many millions of dollars by importing liquors to the states from the British Empire, the nation to which he is now ambassador.

His attempt to "laugh off" the charges has turned out to be a sort of hoarse, sickly giggle.

According to newspaper reports, Kennedy with "a grin" commented as follows after reading the section of the article pertaining to himself:

"I admit I am the ambassador, but I deny that I am the premier Scotch whisky salesman in this country. I do like, however, to be the best in everything."

Reading further in the article he added he never had bought "one-cent's worth of insurance from Jimmy Roosevelt." He had needed nobody's help in getting public positions, he said. "Kennedy," he said, "is able to get along pretty well without help from anyone."

Apparently, he has done pretty well, however, as he is now rated among America's richest men, his fortune made from the profits of whisky and stocks.

But is good government attained by appointments of this type?

RAMBLING with Editors
AROUND of Michigan

ANOTHER EDITOR BEGINS TO SEE THE LIGHT.

We are impressed, and not a little concerned, at the growing number of fluent and more or less influential men in public life who are deliberately, cunningly, yet openly, planning to make the federal government the "central government," in all that term implies. Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., of Wisconsin, in a recent article in a nationally circulated magazine, advocates "Taxes Should Be Higher." Senator LaFollette needs no biography to acquaint people with him. He is a young man, who inherited his father's office in the U.S. Senate. He calls himself a progressive. Others will say he is a socialist, a radical, and a political opportunist.

Personally we believe he is another of the breed to which belongs our own Governor Murphy—a young man who is ambitious for POWER. His brother, Gov. Philip LaFollette, is that way. Washington is lousy with smart, cunning, university trained young men who are fascinated with the prospect of having a prominent part in spending the taxpayers' billions and glorifying themselves. They honestly believe they are much better qualified to rule the destinies of the people of the United States than are the people themselves.

In his article, Sen. LaFollette says: "Since the foundation of our government, federal functions have been progressively enlarged, regardless of the political party in power. We may as well face the fact at the outset that the federal government alone has access to the most lucrative tax sources."

We are not here concerned with the purpose of the senator's argument which was designed to show that through the federal government alone, could there be an equitable leveling of taxes between rich and poor. We do call attention to the rapidly increasing and bold demands that the federal government "take charge" of all our affairs, collect all our taxes—and by the same token allot all benefits which come from taxation.

Perhaps the destitute family, on relief looks upon a government check as a life saver and will vote for its continuance; Likely the WPA laborer, while not satisfied with his pay, thinks it spells a measure of security.

It is possible that a few farmers getting their reward for idle acres may have conflicting opinions regarding the benefits of such a system.

State, county and municipal governments may smirk when they get a WPA or a PWA handout from the federal government, yet:

If any and all of these various beneficiaries have the sense that God gave geese, they know that they are surrendering their opportunities, their liberties and their chances for an American reward for their ambition, their labor, their skill and their initiative. They are simply getting a PART of their own tax money. We care not how sincere the Roosevelts, the Murphys, the LaFollettes and the Frankfurters may be—the fact is as plain as the nose on your face that they look upon themselves as super-men. They are shot through with egotism and a tremendous craving for power. They look upon themselves as gods. These super-spenders build themselves up in the eyes of the people by spending the money that laboring men, business men, manufacturers and other gainfully employed earn. They boost their own stock by tearing down the very interests which have made America the richest nation in the world. They are able to do this because of a depression and because of the squandering they have themselves practiced with government funds.

We see no easy road ahead. We do not believe that the Republican party or any other new party, or ism, can cure the mess we are in overnight. We, the people, must tighten our belts. We must live within our incomes. We must pay our debts. Labor, business and industry must be encouraged. We must look ahead and plan, build and work. Wealth must be created. That cannot be done with the federal government heckling, fighting, taxing and ridiculing the very foundation of our free competitive system. We must forget forever the bed-time stories. We must look for and find—and elect—sound leadership.

President Roosevelt, in spite of his great personal popularity is no fairy prince. Governor Murphy waves no magic wand—just magic words, and they don't fill an empty belly. There are dozens of others like them—men who never in their whole lives ever successfully ran so much as a popcorn stand. They never heard a garden, plowed a field, or milked a cow. They never bought raw material, processed it and made it into a useful article and finally sold it. They never have had to meet a payroll, borrow money to carry on a business and finally pay it back with interest.

If you will examine the personnel of public offices—particularly in federal offices of importance—you will find an increasing number who practice politics in college, study law and go out and get themselves elected or appointed to some public job where their pay check comes out of the taxpayers. They develop the complex that they are a superior lot; that they have a peculiar ability and brains; that they are made to govern; that the common herd who work for a living are supposed to pay tribute to them and to their ambitious schemes.

When will Americans wake up?

It may be as Senator LaFollette says in his plausible article that "Taxes Should Be Higher." There is no question about it if we pay off the national debt which has been doubled in five years. But while we are doing that... while we are paying it off and are being taxed on everything from the talcum powder which is sifted on us when we are born to the casket which encloses us when we are finally laid away, are we going to let the fairy princes and the magic wand manipulators continue to run us further and further into debt?

If we do, we deserve just what we will get.

What is that?

Bankruptcy, confiscatory taxes, and a dictator.—Schuyler L. Marshall in The Clinton County Republican-News.

WHO ARE THE "MEANIES," GOVERNOR?

For fifty years William H. Berkey has published The Vigilant at Cassopolis, Michigan. That proves him worthy of the name of a substantial citizen. So when he recently addressed an open question to Governor Frank Murphy, asking the Governor to name Michigan persons who are opposed to justice for all, we clipped Mr. Berkey's comment and here it is:

"The following paragraph is strictly for Gov. Murphy, but the rest of you may read it if you wish. Now Governor, at Kalamazoo the other day you said this:

"The demand for balancing the budget comes from people who want to break down the spirit of multitude, reduce their standards of living, starve them into submission."

Those words are unworthy of a man in your position. If you believe them yourself, you lack the knowledge a man should have to be governor, and if you don't believe them but said them anyway, then you have stooped to the level of a common demagogue who chooses words that will stir up one class of our people against another at a time when we should by all means be working together in harmony.

If you are honest in your belief, we challenge you to name residents of your own state who want to 'break the spirit of the multitude, reduce their standards of living, and starve them into submission."

"We don't ask you to name all of them, but name a half dozen of the more prominent ones and then prove your statement. We dare you to, Governor."—George Averill in Birmingham Eccentric.

Unprecedented as the manner of holding the public hearing on the county mine valuations may have been to those who have followed these meetings for many years, the figures arrived at by the state tax commission when announced this week were equally as startling, and particularly to city and school district officers of Wakefield.

Why the city of Wakefield should be expected to take the brunt of a reduction of nearly $700,000 in valuation while other communities receive sizeable increases, is really beyond the limit of understanding unless one is to believe the hearing of two weeks ago was but another political maneuver pure and simple. There were many bigwigs of the favored political party in evidence at the meeting and these leaders made doubly sure that they were heard in the request for higher mine valuations in their bailiwicks. Wakefield, unfortunately, failed to make any public or private protest on its mine values, believing as it had in the past that some semblance of familiarity with the big task would be used in determining these mine valuations.

It would appear from the valuations that Wakefield, which has a lower tax rate than any other city in the county, has been made to pay the freight for the increases given elsewhere. Perhaps such action was to be expected. It is in line with the manner in which all public relief and expenditures have been administered. Capable municipal or school government in absence of bonded indebtedness or a pay-as-you-go system of public improvements are not real virtues in this day and age. Careful management and spending are not attributes to be encouraged among cities and school districts any more than such worthwhile qualities are encouraged by those who administer the public relief fund.

It is a necessity and a blessing, it would appear as one studies the mine values and the financial conditions of the communities in which these mine operations are located, to live in a community where there is a large and potential strength at the election box and to be head over heels in debt. These factors are apparently prerequisites for any favorable consideration from either our national or our present state administrations.—Harry L. Trezise in The Wakefield News.

Plymouth Students Enter Cleary College

Janet Waldecker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waldecker; Donald Sutherland, son of William Sutherland, of Ann Arbor road; and Viola Lidke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lidke, are among the 154 students, who enrolled during the first two days of registration for the first summer term at Cleary college, Ypsilanti.

According to Doctor Owen J. Cleary, dean of administration, there are more new students in school than there have ever been before. Some of these come from Canada and nearby states, as well as from the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

WE AGREE ABOUT THIS

Two questions which will confront voters this fall upon which they should inform themselves early in order that they may vote intelligently. One is the state welfare law, which provides a state welfare set-up, and the other is a proposition to take the election of judges out of the hands of the people and leave their selection to a board which is provided for in the law. We do not profess more wisdom than others, but our own reaction to such propositions is that too much government is already out of the hands of the people who have to pay the bills, and that as a people should not surrender any more of the prerogatives which are ours. We believe that evils in welfare can best and quickest be cured when welfare is wholly in the hands of our elected local officials, and that the people should by this time be sufficiently intelligent to elect their judges. If they are not, then all our education has been a failure.—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

NO ONE IS FOOLED.

The false front both men and nations put up, fools nobody but themselves. It doesn't take long for the public mind to penetrate real characters from the make believe who strut and blare. As for instance take a look at Germany that hasn't sufficient rations to maintain an army in war more than a month, but the bluff works as a sort of scare crow.—J. E. McMullen in The Linden Leader.

A Present With A Future

The same seeing apparatus: eyes, nerves, muscles, lenses and all that goes to make up eye-sight, that you are using right now will have to do your seeing for you 20 years from now! Ever think of that? So far as you can "see", the machinery may be doing pretty well right now. You are young, full of vitality and can make what compensations, concessions and adjustments that are required to do your seeing—as far as you know. BUT if you are making compensations, adjustments and concessions NOW, a look ahead will tell you that what is now merely a temporary adaptation may be frozen into a terrible habit by that time.

To speak non-scientifically, the body does wear out—we can see it happening all around us. Some parts seem to go before others. It is better to wear out than to rust out, but it is better yet to remove the unnecessary loads, frictions and wear elements before they seriously affect the mechanism. Your present seeing capacity and comfort is no guarantee of what you can do in the future. If you are making concessions right now in order to see comfortably (adequately), would it not be wise to find it out? And overcome the wasteful and hurtful compromises that may be going on? In most cases it can be done. Sometimes with lenses alone, sometimes with orthotics alone—sometimes with both.

A budget plan of easy payments is available for those who desire to take advantage of it.

Dead Crow Ends Scouts' Dispute

The senior patrol of P-3, now called the Black Arrow Patrol, went on an automobile hike Saturday.

The patrol left Plymouth at 9:30 and had Jerushom lake, 42 miles out Penniman avenue as their destination. During the trip to the lake several very old cemeteries were visited, the oldest marker found being dated 1810.

Nearing the lake, the Scouts saw a crow in the woods. As it did not take flight, the boys immediately caught it. It was a young one, not yet able to fly. It was put in a box and dubbed "Sam".

The patrol was up in arms as to who was to be the trainer of the bird. However, the crow settled this, as it died that night.

At the lake the boys swam and then went on a turtle hunt and caught two small mud and one long snapper turtle. Upon exploring the woods they found and captured a small tree toad. It was the first one several of the boys had ever seen. Leaving the lake at 3:00 they next visited Long lake, and the patrol tried to catch fish. None were caught.

At 4:00 they left for Plymouth and on the way back passed the farm where dogs are raised. They saw 12 large St. Bernards in a yard. Reaching Plymouth at 5:30 they had a flat tire just as they entered the city limits. The next patrol hike will be the first Saturday in August.

Planning To Take Vacation Trip To The Cool Upper Peninsula? Then Visit The National Forests

Maps Of Roads In Forests Now Available

Recreation maps of Michigan's Upper Peninsula national forests are now ready for distribution by the forest supervisor's headquarters at Escanaba.

The Hiawatha, Marquette and Ottawa forests of upper Michigan, originally founded as continuing sources of timber supply, are fast becoming great outdoor summer playgrounds for mid-western Americans. Thousands of resorters now enjoy their cool green depths at trifling expense, camping along the streams and lakes found everywhere in the woods, or joining one of the numerous cottage and cabin colonies which have materialized in dozens of lovely woodland locations.

The maps show the boundaries of each forest, the federal and state and other motor roads, trails, rivers, creeks, lakes, Indian reservations, parks, game refuges, guard stations, tree nurseries, improved camp grounds, picnic grounds, shelters, lookout stations, airports, lighthouses and other features of interest to summer visitors.

The three Upper Peninsula national forests cover approximately 2,000,000 acres. The Marquette forest is in Chippewa and Mackinac counties in the eastern part of the peninsula; the Hiawatha extends over large parts of Alger, Schoolcraft and Delta counties in the peninsula's center; and the Ottawa is located on parts of Iron, Houghton, Ontonagon and Gogebic counties in Michigan's extreme northwest.

While tenting and trailer camping appeals to many visitors in Michigan's summer-cool Upper Peninsula — air-conditioned by mighty Lake Superior and closer to downstate than any other summer resorting area — the hotels and tourist courts of the region can now house comfortably from 35,000 to 38,000 summer guests.

There is no charge for the recreation maps of any forest, which can be used to advantage in conjunction with a state highway map. They can be obtained by applying or writing to the United States Forest Service, Supervisor's headquarters, Escanaba, Michigan.

THERE'S ONLY ONE MACKINAC ISLAND, and every American should see it. Mackinac is well named 'The Fairy Isle,' and if there was ever a cool fairyland in all the world, it is here. Superlatively lovely, Mackinac is a truly cosmopolitan summer resorting place. The old fort is worth going a thousand miles to see.

ONE OF THE DELIGHTS of summering along St. Mary's River, in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, is the never-ending procession of lake shipping, almost unbelievable in extent and variety. This picture was taken at DeTour, lovely summer resorting town at the mouth of the river in Chippewa County.

AU SABLE FALLS, GRAND MARAIS, in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, near the Nagow Wudjoo sand dunes of Longfellow's "Hiawatha." It was here that Pau-Puk-Keewis, the Ojibway Indian fairy, was fond of dancing his Beggars' Dance in the light of the northern moon. Admiring the falls are Barbara Speir, O. D. Drejer, and R. B. Bergelin, of Grand Rapids.

Michigan's newest auto ferry, the "City of Munising," christened recently and placed in service at the Straits of Mackinac, is the largest of the State's White Fleet, the new boat has an over-all length of 339 feet and a capacity of 120 automobiles.

Auto Club Warns Car Owners

With a reasonable amount of care on the part of the driver there is no reason why an automobile should not perform just as well during the Summer months as it does in cooler weather, according to William A. Ochs, manager of the emergency road service department of the Automobile Club of Michigan, in Detroit. Annoying delays and extensive repairs can be avoided to a large extent by checking ten places in the car, Mr. Ochs records, compiled over a ten-year period, show.

"Improperly adjusted points in the distributor account for nearly one-third of the 'can't start' calls received by the club," Ochs said. "This is not the fault of the manufacturer, but of the motorist who neglects a seasonal check of this vital spot in the motor. Burned out points and fouled spark plugs have ruined many a vacation or business trip, and frequently cause the coils to go, due to overtaxing as a result of poor or improper ignition. No distributor can be properly adjusted without removing it from the car," Ochs added. "The old idea of filing the scored points does not work in most cases in the present-day high speed car, except in instances where the points are not really bad and the filing is expertly and evenly done."

Batteries, which have taken exceptional abuse during the cold winter, account for a large percentage of emergency calls," Ochs reports. "Here again a reasonable amount of care will save trouble and perhaps the cost of a new battery. And while your service man is checking the battery, have him examine the battery cable, another source of annoyance, for vibrations or corrosion may have worn it almost through."

"We hear a lot about vapor lock in the present-day car," Ochs continued. "Overheating is the principal reason for this, and overheating may be due to lack of oil or water, or it may mean that bugs and grasshoppers have stopped up the radiator preventing proper circulation of air. Releasing the accelerator occasionally during fast driving tends to reduce motor temperature, too. The motorist who checks these things and keeps his carburetor adjusted and cleaned will remove the principal reasons for vapor lock, unless a careless mechanic has bent the fuel line too close to the motor block.

Wiring, starter, and flooding the carburetor by ill advised use of the choke make up the ten points," Ochs continued. More miles per gallon of gasoline, reduced oil consumption and fewer repairs more than offset the small cost of timely adjustments. This is especially true during the summer months with increased use of the car."

of your neighbors have switched to electric cooking—
here are the reasons why!

An electric range provides the latest and most modern method of cooking. That is what appeals to most of the 10,000 families in and around Detroit who have switched to electric cooking during the past year. That is why more than 60,000 of your neighbors prefer an electric range to any other cooking method, and are now enjoying the advantages that only an electric range provides.

What are these advantages? Your dealer will be glad to point them out to you, one by one, on any of the ranges he has on display. He will mention the CLEANLINESS of electric cooking, with pure heat from a glowing wire—heat as clean as sunlight. He will mention the ease with which you can have a bright, sparkling kitchen. Walls and curtains stay fresh for a much longer period of time, and there is less frequent need for redecorating. Cooking utensils, too, remain bright and shiny after long use.

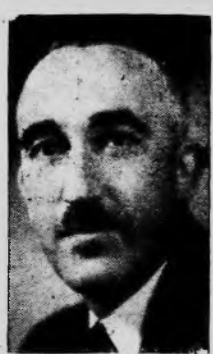

Your dealer will tell you about the BETTER FLAVOR of electric cooking. Meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices, with delicious natural flavor sealed-in. You will learn about the modern waterless cooking method which retains precious minerals and important food values. You will discover the ADDED LEISURE that an electric range makes possible... extra hours of freedom away from the kitchen. You will appreciate its COMFORTABLE COOKING in warm weather — an electric range does not raise the kitchen temperature one degree.

Stop in at your dealer's today and see for yourself the convincing superiorities of electric cooking!

See the new electric ranges on display at department stores, electrical dealers or at your Detroit Edison office.

His Outstanding Work Wins National Award For Consumers

H. J. Gallagher Pioneer Advocate Of Rural Electrification

H. J. GALLAGHER

In eleven years H. J. Gallagher has seen two great dreams come true.

Born and raised on Mackinac Island, where there are no farms, Gallagher studied farming at Michigan State college because he liked it. For some years thereafter he was a successful farmer in Ingham county and a member of the Michigan State college faculty.

It was during this period that he began to visualize the day when electricity would drive drudgery from farm home and farm yard. But no sound plan of cheap and comprehensive rural electrification had been developed. Neither farmers nor power companies had been convinced of the soundness of electricity on the farm.

With the backing of his superiors at Michigan State, Gallagher set out to establish an experimental farm line to demonstrate that rural electrification would be not only a boon to farmers and farm wives but also a sound investment for forward-looking utility companies. A Michigan committee on rural electrification was formed, and a plan devised under which Consumers Power company agreed to build an experimental line, eight miles long, between Mason and Dansville. Special low rates were established, and farm customers along the experimental line were enabled to obtain electrical equipment on favorable terms.

Gallagher's first dream came true the evening of February 4, 1927, when he saw electric lights shining in farm homes along the line as he drove to the dedicatory ceremonies.

Electricity on the farm continued to be Gallagher's special goal as he rose to a professorship in the Michigan State college faculty. In 1935 he left the academic field to accept the post of farm service supervisor with Consumers, whose lines extend into 46 counties, including much of Michigan's best farm land as well as many comparatively unproductive areas. Meanwhile a plan had been worked out in cooperation with Michigan State college, the Farm Bureau, the State Grange, and the Michigan Public Utilities commission under which Consumers was building free lines where rural customers averaged five to the mile, and supplying service at standard city rates.

Gallagher's second dream was realized a few days ago when, in behalf of his company, he accepted the Thomas W. Martin Award of the Edison Electric Institute—a plaque attesting that in 1937 Consumers Power company had made the greatest contribution to rural electrification.

Twelfth Small Ford Motor Factory In Michigan Is Under Construction

New Carburetor Plant Rises At Milford

—Courtesy Detroit News

Twelfth "little factory in a meadow," a carburetor plant of the Ford Motor company, is under construction at Milford. A view of the plant as it will appear when completed is shown above.

Part of Henry Ford's ideal of farm-and-factory combinations for workers in little towns, the new factory will be 200 by 60 feet and will have many windows, spacious lawns and bordering trees.

It is understood that all workmen, except a few technicians, will be from nearby farms and villages. They will be encouraged to cultivate farms or gardens in their spare time.

Two small hydro-generator stations producing nearly 450 horsepower will provide power for the plant.

Other small Ford factories in Michigan all of which encourage their workers to add to their income by producing some or all of their garden supplies, manufacture valves at Northville, sagas at Waterford, generator cutouts at Phoenix, taps at Plymouth, twist drills at Newburg, dial faces and engravings at Nankin Mills, lamps at Flat Rock, starters and generators at Ypsilanti, welding electrodes at Dundee and soy bean products at Tawas and Saline.

Bride Takes Trip Over Lake Route On Which She Was Born

SENTIMENTAL JOURNEY. Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Wood (above) had a reason for taking a honeymoon trip on the D & C boat City of Detroit III. Mrs. Wood, the former Dorothy Hansen, was born on a D & C boat 21 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Wood, of Plymouth, will always associate two of the most important events of her life with Lake Erie boats.

The first happened July 25, 1917, when she was born on the D & C boat City of Cleveland III enroute from Buffalo to Detroit.

The second happened last Saturday when she embarked on wedded life with Clifford O. Wood, 29 years old, Plymouth Seamless Tube company employe. For a wedding trip they took a voyage on another D & C boat, the City of Detroit III.

Mrs. Wood decided that since she was born on a boat leaving Buffalo she would take her honeymoon on a boat bound for that city.

The young couple will return to Plymouth Sunday to take up their residence at 230 Plymouth road, where Mrs. Fred Gentz, Mr. Wood's grandmother, also lives.

They had arranged to drive their automobile to New York City after leaving the boat at Buffalo and will return to Plymouth by automobile.

They were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Alfred Hansen, 4836 Vancouver avenue, Detroit. Mrs. Wood formerly was Miss Dorothy Cathery of Detroit III.

The bride was lovely in a wedding gown of white sheer marquisette, trimmed in ivory satin ribbon and fashioned along princess lines. Her corsage was of talisman roses.

Miss Ruth Alice Hansen, sister of the bride, attended her. She wore yellow marquisette trimmed in green satin ribbon. She carried a corsage of sweet peas and baby breath. Mrs. Hansen, mother of the bride, wore a gown of royal blue lace with a corsage of sweet peas.

Mr. Wood was attended by Harry Yeager, of Detroit.

Following the ceremony, a wedding reception was held in the home and was attended by 40 relatives and friends. The table, which was covered with a beautiful cloth of satin and linen, was centered with a tiered wedding cake flanked by low bowls of tea roses and baby breath.

Mr. Wood has been an employe of the Tube company eight years. He attended the University of Michigan college of engineering.

Considerable favorable comment was excited by distribution last week of a letter from the city to about 2,500 local taxpayers, explaining actions of the city in respect to matters affecting the taxpayers. City Manager Clarence Elliott said.

Over $8.00 Of Your Telephone Bill For Year Is For Taxes

About 40 relatives and friends joined Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ware, Sunday evening, in the celebration of their 20th wedding anniversary in their home on Holbrook avenue. The evening passed most pleasantly with music, both solos and group singing. Refreshments were served at a table centered with a large bowl of garden flowers. Guests were present from Detroit, Buffalo, New York, Northville, Metamora and Plymouth.

Mrs. Margaret McKay of Ken-ton, Manitoba, arrived Wednesday at the home of her sister, Mrs. William Conery on Rose street for a two months' visit. This is the first time the sisters have met in 45 years.

Mr. and Mrs. George Martin of Rochester were guests, Wednesday, of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Terry. They, with a group of friends, enjoyed a picnic supper in Riverside park that evening.

Mrs. Maud Bennett left Thursday for Cheboygan, where she will spend some time with her daughter, Mrs. John Paul Morrow, and family of Algonac, where she is for the summer.

Mrs. Jessie Terry returned home, the latter part of the week, from Ewing, Nebraska, where she visited her daughter, Mrs. G. I. Friday, the past six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morgan, Mrs. Violet Hissong and Mrs. Agnes Forward of Greenville were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Conery from Friday until Monday.

Ernest Archer spent the weekend with Stanley Schieve in Muskegon.

State Digs Deep Into Your Pockets For Your Dollars

Total tax bills of the Michigan Bell Telephone company for 1937 amounted to $5,066,000, an increase of 14 and one-half percent, or $637,000, over the previous year. It was revealed at Lansing Thursday, June 30, by Frank L. Hall, the company's tax attorney, when he handed a check for $1,413,954.90 to State Auditor General George T. Gundry. The check represented one-half of the $2,827,909.80 the Michigan Bell will pay into the state primary school fund, the other half to be paid before November 1.

The Michigan Bell company's 1937 tax bill is divided as follows: To the state of Michigan, property tax, $2,828,000; other taxes to the state, $255,000; to the Federal government, $1,948,000; to others, principally municipalities, on property that is not at present used in operation of the telephone business, $35,000.

The company's state property taxes constitute the largest payment by any public utility into the primary school fund, from which it will be returned to the 83 counties of the state in proportion to their school population, thus going directly into local school channels.

This tax bill amounted to $8.02 per telephone. The net operating revenue from one-third of the company's 631,614 telephones was required to meet the bill. The taxes amounted to $556.00 per employe; were equal to 40 percent of the operating payroll; and accounted for more than 16 percent of the company's total expenses.

Under the Michigan law, telephone companies, and telegraph railway, express and car-loading companies pay taxes to the state, in lieu of local taxes, on property and plant used and useful in conducting their businesses, such taxes being placed in the primary school fund.

Northville Pushed Out Of Lead By Plymouth Club

Schrader-Haggerty Goes Into Tie For First Place

The Plymouth Schrader-Haggerty team knocked Northville off the pinnacle of the Inter-county Baseball league by a score of 9 to 4 in a crowd-exciting Fourth of July contest at the Northville fair grounds. In the bargain, the Plymouth team advanced to a tie for the leadership of the league, sharing the top of the heap with Wyandotte.

The Plymouth team, which is managed by Joe Schomberger, who also plays the position of catcher in some of the games, advanced to an 800 percentage with eight games won and two lost.

The Northville game climaxed a series of three victories, two of them in league competition, over the Independence Day weekend. All the games, especially the one at Northville, attracted large crowds.

The winning pitcher of the Northville game was Dobozy, who held his opponents to one hit until the eighth inning and retired the side in order for the first four innings. H. Williams was at the other end of the battery.

Northville started their ace hurler, Dinty Moore, but yanked him in the sixth when Plymouth put the Indian sign on his pitches. Bowman occupied the mound for Northville for the rest of the game. G. Westfall was behind the plate.

Warren Bassett, Plymouth left fielder and heavy slugger, had a perfect day. In five times at bat, he made four hits and was walked once.

Rivalry between the teams kept the game at a high pitch of excitement throughout the nine innings. Plymouth players were on their toes the whole route, snoving the best form of the season in their determination to push Northville out of the league lead.

Northville had four runs, six hits and one error. Plymouth had nine runs, 14 hits and one error.

Plymouth played two other holiday week-end games, both on the home grounds at Riverside park.

Sunday, in a league contest, Plymouth Schrader-Haggerty defeated Plymouth Perfection in a close race to victory, 2 to 1. George Molnar went the route on the mound with Schomberger behind the mask. Molnar did a fine job, allowing only five well-scattered hits. Pansonian and Ellis comprised the Perfection battery.

Schrader-Haggerty had two runs, three hits and two errors. Perfection had one run, five hits and no errors.

In an exhibition game the morning of July 4 Plymouth Schrader-Haggerty administered a 10-to-5 drubbing to Salem. Superko started but gave way to Pitcher Rundy after the third inning. Harold Williams was the catcher.

Anderson pitched the game through for Salem, with Rhubach catching. Plymouth made 10 runs, 16 hits and no errors to five runs, six hits and four errors for Salem.

League Will Hold Star Game July 17

The annual All-Star game of the Municipal Softball league will be held Friday, July 17, at 6:30 p.m. on Central field, managers decided this week. Added attractions will be music provided by the classes under the direction of Mr. Evans and a girls' game directly preceding the All-Star tilt. Boy Scouts will act as ushers. The lineups and managers for the game will be announced in next week's paper.

The Recreation department also wishes to announce that it will sponsor a free trip to a Detroit Tigers baseball game late in August. To be eligible for a ticket a boy must play in at least 12 of the 17 scheduled games in the Neighborhood leagues or attend handicraft or group games on the average of three days a week.

The universal appeal of our handicraft projects cannot be too strongly emphasized. Besides providing occupation for leisure time many beautiful and useful articles can be made. Pupils can make practically any objects they choose out of a store of available materials, and the cost is very low. For example, a leather key case costs but four cents to make and a novel but useful fruit basket of paper about the same. This work is carried out at both Central and Starkweather schools morning and afternoon and sample articles are on view at both places. An exhibit will be arranged for the very near future. The art class conducted by Mr. Welch will resume Monday, July 11, meeting at Central school at 1:30 p.m.

Tournaments scheduled for this week are checked for girls at both schools and the boys will compete in shuffleboard at Central and horseshoes at Starkweather.

All the girls of the Leaders' Club who are working at the schools are requested to meet at Central school on Monday morning, July 11, at 8:30 sharp. After several practice games resulting in lopsided scores it was decided to split the Neighborhood Softball league into two groups, the Senior, for boys over 12 years old, and the Intermediate, for boys 12 and under. Central, Forest, Penniman and Starkweather teams comprise the Senior group, and the Mill, Sheridan, Robinson and Phoenix Sub teams, the Intermediate. A complete schedule of games follows:

Inkster shut out Garden City by the score of 1 to 0 last Sunday afternoon at Garden City. Sherwood pitched the entire game for Inkster and allowed but three hits, all of which were scratch hits. Lovell Hill started on the mound for Garden City and was charged with the defeat. Hill developed a sore arm and was relieved by Fowler.

Newsted attempted to bowl over Higgins on an attempted steal of second after being out by 20 feet. Higgins took offense to his actions and laid a few on Newsted's jaw before other players could intervene.

If you had earned a couple of college degrees, one of them because you had written a thesis about some obscure or disputed point concerning fish behavior, and if you knew more about fish habits than 999 out of a thousand men, the chances are the average fisherman would consider that it would not be quite sporting if you used that special knowledge in seeking out and catching the biggest fish in the lake.

The average fisherman, also, might consider that you were a most selfish person because you did not share that special knowledge with him.

But you would be wrong, if you are an average fisherman. Some questioning of technical men in the Michigan department of conservation and members of the Institute for Fisheries Research at the University of Michigan, operated by the department, discloses that particular knowledge of fish habits, is no guarantee that one will catch fish. In fact the department's technical men admit that their luck is nothing to brag about.

However they do volunteer the information that grass or great northern pike should be biting best on frogs or large minnows, plugs or spoon baits. They add snappings to the list for wall-eyed pike.

This information is not based on any fool-proof recipe for good fishing—because there isn't any such—but upon what is known about the habits of certain species of fish, as to habitat and food.

Recommended for large and small mouth black bass are plugs, flies, spoons, worms, frogs, minnows and crawfish. Worms and minnows will continue to tempt perch—it is hoped—and in addition to these it is suggested that bluegills show an interest in grasshoppers and artificial flies.

But there is no use inquiring about the best places to fish. The technical men say they do not know.

But It's True

The wolf and its strange companions were found by Charles Cooke near his farm at Craigstown, Canada, in July, 1923.

Dablon fell through an open door of the shaft in a Boston hotel, fractured his skull, in January, 1934. Mary noticed that muskrats made a point of rubbing their teeth against bristling, wet surfaces. The amazing feature of the story about the Harriases is that they died many years apart.

Crop Condition Reported Good

Small grains, hays, and pastures are in excellent condition in Michigan, according to Grant D. Clark, associate agricultural statistician for the Michigan Co-operative Crop Reporting Service. Indicated yields for winter wheat and rye are well above average, and in the case of winter wheat the outlook is even better than was reported a month ago. Such spring sown grains as oats, barley and spring wheat were planted somewhat earlier than usual under very favorable conditions. In general, stands are good and growth has been rapid due to ample moisture and seasonable temperatures. Frequent rains during the latter half of May helped the planting of corn and other row crops, particularly on heavy lands.

The Michigan winter wheat crop is expected to yield 22 bushels per acre on the basis of the reported June 1 condition. This compares with an average yield of 20.2 bushels and with 18.5 bushels obtained in 1937. Total production is expected to reach 19,580,000 bushels as against 18,426,000 bushels harvested last year, and the 10-year average production of 15,682,000 bushels. If this production is realized, it will be the largest since 1915. The condition of spring wheat, at 84 percent of normal, is two points above average, but three points below the condition reported on June 1, 1937.

The condition of Michigan oats and barley on June 1 was 86 percent of normal. For barley this is six points above average and four points above the condition for the corresponding month last year. Oats are seven points above average and eight points above a year ago. Dry weather at seeding time enabled growers to get the seed into the ground without the usual delays from inclement weather, and growing conditions have been favorable since sowing.

What's the Answer?
By EDWARD FINCH

WHAT ARE DREAMS AND WHY DO WE DREAM THEM?

DREAMS are the means by which Nature insures to us the rest which we should otherwise lose did we not dream. When the entire brain is unconscious during sleep we do not dream. But when a portion of it is awake and some force from the conscious penetrates to it, a dream is set into motion. For instance, we are asleep in a hammock on a hot day. The sun creeps on us and the heat of it causes that portion of our brain which is not entirely asleep to start dreaming that we are on a hot dry desert. The glare of the sun becomes the bright blinding glare of the desert. Were the dream not set into motion, the sun would awaken us.

Buick Sales Go To Third Position

Buick's forward strides in sales during the past year have resulted in the award to this manufacturer of choice of third position in the allotment of space at the 1939 National Automobile Show in Grand Central Palace, New York, according to word received today by C. G. Shear, local Buick dealer, from W. F. Hufstader, general sales manager.

"When the annual automobile show opens this Fall the spotlight will be on Buick because of this distinction," Mr. Shear said. "According to the information from Mr. Hufstader, choice of space is granted by the Automobile Manufacturers' Association, which sponsors the New York show, on the basis of the dollar volume of sales by members of the association during the 12 months ended May 1. By virtue of having achieved the third greatest dollar volume during the period, Buick wins the right to one of the choicest display spaces in the great exposition hall."

Mr. Shear said the Buick shift to third position will constitute the major change in arrangement of displays at the National Automobile Show this year. Buick climbed to its present place from sixth position last year, he said.

In his letter to dealers, Mr. Hufstader praised the Buick retail organization for the splendid achievement.

"You will be proud to learn," he said, "that Buick has been awarded third choice of space at the National Automobile Show in New York this Fall, having achieved third greatest dollar volume of sales among A. M. A. members for the year ended May 1."

"This is indeed an outstanding record and congratulations are due Buick dealers and their salesmen, who accomplished it. It is a tribute to the entire dealer organization and to the splendid Buick car."
