Takes Money From City—Provides No Benefit

Rumors during the past few days that plans are being considered for another "mass" keno game such as operated in this city last winter for several months has brought forth the emphatic statement of city officials that no such thing will again be permitted.

few small keno parties that have been sponsored just before Thanksgiving and Christmas for the benefit of local charities. But "thumbs" are down on any such affair as operated during the late winter for a period of nearly three months, and the order will have the backing of the public.

William Conner Back In Hospital

The many friends of William Conner will be pleased to learn that he has shown some improvement as the result of treatment he is receiving in Harper hospital where he was taken last Sunday. Mr. Conner, who was a patient in the same hospital last spring, has not been feeling the best during the last two or three weeks, and his physician decided that it would be best for him to return to the hospital for a brief time. It is hoped that he will be able to return home in the near future.

Detroit Representatives Try To Revive Reapportionment Issue Their Own Leaders Killed

At No Time During Regular Session Did They Make An Honest Effort To Get Question Before House

(By ELTON R. EATON)
The other day down in Detroit ten members of the state legislature from that city filed a petition with the Detroit city council asking that body to instruct the corporation counsel of Detroit to intervene on behalf of the city in a suit started to prevent the county from paying the state any more tax money until Wayne county had been granted its proper representation in the state legislature.

The council denied the petition. There was a similar petition filed with the city by the Democratic Servicemen's League of Detroit. The first petition was signed by Representatives Joseph F. Martin, Jr., Earl C. Gallagher, Frank Murphy, Michael J. Clancy, Joseph L. Kaminski, Ernest G. Nagel, Joseph F. Nagel, William G. Buckley, John B. Murphy and Stanley J. Dombrowski.

One of the petition signers, Representative Clancy, even wrote to Governor Murphy the other day and demanded that the Governor do something about re-apportionment.

He might as well have barked up a hollow tree. When on the subject of the re-apportionment fiasco during the last regular session of the legislature, the antics being staged just before the forthcoming election by the representatives from the city of Detroit, are of a most farcical nature.

The state constitution provides that every ten years the legislature shall re-apportion representation in the state legislature upon the basis of the last federal census. The last re-apportionment took place some 20 years ago during the administration of former Governor Grosbeck, the last real friend of re-apportionment Detroit ever had in Lansing.

Rotary Governor Speaks To Club

Lisle Alexander Again Named Treasurer

State Legionnaires Honor Plymouth Resident

At the annual state convention of the Michigan members of the American Legion held this week at Battle Creek, Lisle M. Alexander, of this city, was re-elected treasurer of the organization for another year. Mr. Alexander has been active in the Legion for great many years.

The Legion went on record as strongly opposed to the practice of the state giving jobs to aliens and passed resolutions asking Governor Murphy to eliminate from both state and municipal services all foreigners. It urged that the convention was one of the most enthusiastic he had ever attended.

Innis Wins Second Place

Richard Innis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Innis, of 944 East Park Road, Saturday, August 27, entered this section of Wayne county entered in the Detroit News novice swimming meet, held last Saturday at Eastwood Park.

Innis was entered in four events. The first event in which he took part was the state amateur diving contest where he carried off second honors and won a silver medal. In the second event he entered, the 100 meter tree style race, he was taken with a cramp and forced to retire from the rest of the afternoon program.

Redmen Outing At East Shore Beach

All roads lead to East Shore Beach, Walled Lake, at the end of Fourteen Mile road, Saturday, August 27 for anyone wishing to take their families and enjoy a good time. There are plenty of tables for picnic lunches.

Hundreds Present At Songfest

Nearly 500 Plymouth residents Wednesday evening heard the songfest conducted by the young people of the city in Kellogg park. The youthful orchestra, as well as the singers, made a decided hit with the crowd. So satisfactory was the affair that it is probable that it will be repeated.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Wilcox and family of Highland Park, and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Greenleaf, of East Orange, New Jersey, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harrison at a buffet supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Brand and family of Rosedale Gardens have gone to Lansing to live for a year. Their home will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Fowler, of Detroit, during their absence.

Back to School on a Bus

Throughout America September 6 youngsters will retrace their steps to the school room to begin another year's study. Some walk, others ride, but none of the riders have a more unique system than the students of North Carolina where a state-operated bus system is handled largely by the students themselves. About 50 per cent of the bus drivers are of school age, and woe to the motorist who considers them lightly. Drivers appoint monitors, fellow bus riders who stop traffic while youngsters cross the street. Upper picture shows a North Carolina monitor, while below are some of the busses ready to take students home after a day in school. Each afternoon shortly after 3:00 o'clock hundreds of these conveyances carry the children to waiting parents.

Crows Will Fly—Guns Will Boom As Conservationists Hold First Crow Shoot This Week

Saturday And Sunday Set As Official Days

Local sportsmen are anxiously awaiting the arrival of dawn Saturday morning, as that time officially opens the long waited crow shoot, sponsored by the Western Wayne County Conservation association. The shoot will be held on both Saturday and Sunday in the heart of their territory where members who are interested have been divided into two teams for the event.

President Champe stated yesterday that anyone who has not already entered the contest and is interested in doing so, may fill out an application today and present it to club officer to qualify, and be placed on a team. Hunters are privileged to hunt wherever they please but club officers want to remind them that they must have a hunter's license and also a permit from the game warden to carry arms during the contest.

Bill Rambo's team—Russell Powell, Bob Burley, Harry Lush, Bill Pittingill, Walter Anderson, Lisle Alexander, Charles Messmore, Joe Rowland, Fred Erb, Earl Rupert, L. Rice, C. Avery, G. Evans, M. J. Huber, Luigi Gallo, E. Wegener, Bill Rambo, Mr. Combs and Mr. Link.

Champe's team: George Hess, Jack Alexander, Charles Messmore, Warren Harris, F. Reddeman, L. Gerst, William Berker, E. Kenyon, R. A. Ayers, John Crandell, H. Bock, P. Butz, H. Underwood, E. K. Bennett, H. E. Bennett, Ed. Gollinger, and Brick Champe.

Many Register For Primary

Indications of the interest Plymouth people are taking in the forthcoming primary and election are found in the new registration being made at the city hall almost daily. So far there have been nearly 40 new registrations, states City Manager Clarence Elliott.

Any one qualified, who is not registered, can do so any day between 8:00 o'clock in the morning and 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon, except Saturday afternoons. The office will be open until 8:00 o'clock on the evening of Saturday, September 3, the final day of registration before the primary.

Mountain Ash Tree Attracts Attention

A mountain ash, a beautiful tree that frequently produces a little yellow colored berry in late summer, growing in the yard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, about three and one-half miles west of Plymouth on the Joy road, is attracting more than ordinary attention. Many who have driven out to see the tree were not sure that it was a mountain ash, but experts declare it is an excellent specimen of the tree that grows profusely in some of the southeastern states.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Bartlett have been visiting their son, Kenneth, and family in Syracuse, New York.

Miller-Geer School To Hold Reunion

The annual reunion of the alumni of the Miller-Geer school will be held next Sunday, August 28, at the school. A potluck dinner will be served at 12:30 o'clock, with a business meeting and program following. A cordial invitation is extended to all former students of the school as well as those attending at the present time. Friends and residents of the district are also invited.

Better Get That New Auto License!

Police Chief Smith Issues Warning To Half-Year Holders

Including Friday, August 26 there are only five more business days in which more than 150,000 Wayne county owners of motor vehicles must get full year green license plates to replace the first half year white plates.

The absolute deadline on the white plates is midnight, August 31 and Leon D. Case, secretary of state, warns that under the new law he cannot grant an extension of time. Any car found operating with a white license plate after the August 31 deadline will be impounded or the driver arrested, declares Chief of Police Vaughan Smith.

The regulation green license plates are on sale at all offices of the secretary of state at half price since July 30 but the demand has been very slight.

At the main office in Detroit, for instance, only 5387 green plates, at half price, were sold between July 30 and August 20. At the 30 other branch offices throughout Detroit and Wayne county the demand has been equally small.

Up to July 30 a total of 195,342 first half year white plates had been sold in Wayne county and all of these will have to be replaced by green plates if the owners of these cars wish to continue operating them after September 1.

Secretary Case warns that all of his Wayne county offices will be jammed during the last three or four days of the sale and that although every effort will be made to give prompt, efficient service it is inevitable that the very late comers will have to take their turns in long lines.

Thumme Back From Convention

Police Captain Charles J. Thumme has returned from the international convention of fingerprint experts that has just been held at Columbus, Ohio. Captain Thumme declares that delegates were present from nearly every continent on the globe, some officers being in attendance from Europe, South America, Mexico and Cuba.

"It is impossible for any one to attend such a meeting and not be benefited by it," declared Mr. Thumme. "Not only that, but the assistance of careful fingerprinting to police officers the world over is now fully recognized. The police in foreign countries have records that are equal to ours and their knowledge of fingerprint work is nothing less than remarkable," he said.

Expect Record Enrollment When Public Schools Of Plymouth Open On Tuesday, September 6

Supt. Geo. A. Smith. He announces that everything is in readiness for the opening of school, September 6.

Superintendent Smith Tells Of Improvements

School vacation days are nearly over and everything is in readiness for the opening on Tuesday, September 6, announced Superintendent G. A. Smith yesterday. He is expecting a much larger enrollment than ever before, exceeding that of last year's new record.

The board of education has had two WPA projects in operation during the summer, getting the building and grounds ready for fall opening.

The addition to the Central grade school has been completed, including the new stairways and fire escape.

The additions to the boys' and girls' locker rooms are nearing completion and it is hoped to have them ready for the opening of school.

The library has been materially enlarged and will be used as a study room. The new machine shop has been completed and machinery is being placed.

The gymnasium floor has been refinished and the roofs renewed. The high school building has been completely painted inside.

Textbooks for both grades and high school (free for the grades) have arrived and are being checked and put in place.

The teaching staff is intact and everything after a busy summer, points to being ready when the boys and girls arrive on the opening day.

The prospects are that the attendance will be materially increased, as has been the case in the past several years, due to the natural growth which Plymouth is experiencing.

With industrial conditions starting to pick up and men being called to the factories again, the probabilities are that many boys and girls who could see jobs which would prepare for the looking ahead to a brighter future and, for that reason, will be ready to return to school.

The apprentice training course which was new last year by the machine, Carleton and Windsor, these added courses represent the endeavor on the part of the board of education to keep abreast of the times in education and to furnish to each boy and girl opportunity for training in the line of work for which they are best fitted.

Sues To End Township Claim

Another chapter in the controversy between Salem township and its former treasurer, Glenn C. Burnham, was started this week when Mr. Burnham filed suit against the township board in circuit court, asking the court to compel the defendants to discharge a judgment of $437.28 obtained against him September 27, 1934. Mr. Burnham bases his suit on an action taken at the annual township meeting April 4, 1938.

The case goes back to October 7, 1932, when the township began suit against Mr. Burnham alleging a shortage of $2,937.28 in his accounts. Trial was started April 24, 1933 and after some testimony had been taken the jury was discharged and the matter referred to Joseph C. Hooper, circuit court commissioner.

Mr. Hooper's findings were reported August 31, 1933 and an order confirming these findings filed September 21, 1933. Circuit Judge George W. Sample handed down his decision allowing a judgment of $437.28 on September 28, 1934, and the judgment has remained unsatisfied to date.

However, the matter has remained a controversy which has split the township into two factions. It was again brought up to the township meeting this spring and during the discussion it was emphasized that at no time did the township board authorize the retaining of attorneys or the prosecution of Mr. Burnham. By a vote of 81 to 32 the present board was instructed to discharge the judgment.

Mr. Burnham charges the board has taken no action and requests the court to carry out the decision of the electors. A certified copy of the minutes of the township meeting is attached to his bill of complaint.—South Lyon Herald.

American Egrets Seen Near Brighton

A report to the department of conservation of four American egrets being sighted near Brighton brings the information that although these birds are not a permanent resident of Michigan or even common visitors they are seen in certain sections during this time of the year.

The American egret is described as "a frequent post-breeding visitor in Michigan north to Gratiot and Montcalm counties." The four seen near Brighton were feeding along a small pond near the Ann Arbor road.

Sandhill cranes have also been reported in the same vicinity as well as in Chandler's marsh near Lansing and in the Waterloo area. The blue heron is sometimes mistaken by uninformed observers for the crane. One sure means of identification is the fact that the sandhill crane flies with its neck extended straight out while the heron doubles its neck back. The heron is a fairly common inhabitant of Michigan.

Mrs. Kenneth M. Lloyd and three children, of Youngstown, Ohio, are visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Luther Peck, arriving Tuesday.

Norma Jean Stevens, who had been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stevens, the past week, returned to her home in Holly, Wednesday.

Dr. and Mrs. Richard Olin of East Lansing were dinner guests Tuesday, of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Olin. They were accompanied home by their grandson, Dicky Olin.

Harry German To Pitch Sunday

The Detroit oldtimers in baseball will cross bats with the County Oldtimers at Riverside park, Plymouth, on Labor day at 2:30 o'clock. A number of the country boys belong to the Detroit association but on this occasion the players will be divided.

Davey Jones, an ex-Tiger, will manage the city fellows with Bobb Veach acting as field captain. Harry German, Sr., has rounded up the country boys and Harry Wolfe will captain the team.

The combination of city and country oldtimers won games at Detroit, Carleton and Windsor and it was necessary to play many as 19 men in a game in order to have all the veterans take part. It will be different on Labor day as the division will make two very strong clubs who will strive for the victory.

This game at Riverside park will see such players as Veach, Jones, Stanaage, Dugray, Feltrath, Darling, Menoskey, Dietrich, Reske, LaBond and Augie Baumann representing the Detroiters. The team from the country, will consist of Wolfe, German, Licht, Martin, Hood, Hans, Standish, Jorski, Curtis, Drinkert and Hobbins and others.

Augie Baumann and Feltrath will do the pitching for the Detroiters while German and Hood will be on the mound for the country boys. Dugray, Reske, Jorski and Curtis are the catchers in the line-up.

There are 700 members belonging to the Detroit Oldtimers association and players eligible must be no less than 40 years of age. These players, regardless of age, are still active in baseball this summer and have made many younger players wonder if they themselves will be as active in the game some 25 or 30 years from now.

Miss Mabel Zacharias and Mrs. Florence Smith, of Flint, and Miss Alice Lakeman, of Detroit, were guests of Miss Minna Brems on Main street from Monday through Thursday of last week.

KEEP OUT OF IT.

News dispatches report that the Republican National Committee has recommended that Republicans in Georgia enter the Democratic primary to help re-nominate Senator Walter George for the United States senate. The Republicans of Georgia should do nothing of the kind. No Republican has a right to enter the primary of any other party to help nominate any candidate of that party, no matter what the issue might be. Neither has a true and honest Democrat any right to enter the Republican primary. Such a proposal is a step directly away from the clean, honest method of party selection of candidates, and no Republican should follow the suggestion of the Republican National Committee.

"OUR FATHER'S FRIENDS."

Recently Editor William H. Phelps of The Michigan Christian Advocate wrote an editorial for his paper under the above heading. It was a tribute to his own father, one of the finest men southwestern Michigan ever produced. There is so much good and so much inspiration in the editorial that it is published in full as follows for the benefit of the readers of The Mail:

Drop not a friend who was your father's friend, go to his house when you are in trouble, for a neighbor near is better than a brother far away. Proverbs 27: 10 (Moffatt).
Some of the "proverbs" of Solomon, when checked with the wiser words of Jesus, have to be qualified or cancelled, but not this one. It is still up-to-date and sound advice.

Take time to think down the line of your father's real friends. Perhaps you had not thought of them in years, but the list grows as you think back. Perhaps you felt so strong in youth that you did not care a fig for your father's friends. Perhaps he was not wise in letting you grow up without contact with his own friends.

If we think of our own father's friends, perhaps it will prime your memory to think of your own fathers and their friends.

The picture of the Editor's father hangs in the Advocate sanctum and helps the memory of his friends. It was not easy for him to make friends; he was retiring, even timid. He won his friends, not by effusive offers, but by the slower and better way of real service. He proved his love by his service to his friends "and so he bound them to him."

He had his friends in all walks of life. The Dutch celery growers trusted him in the dark, a trust born of square dealing. One Dutch saloon-keeper would not trust his money to any other bank, the only saloon account our bank carried, which suggests that it might also be profitable to study our fathers' enemies.

Big men trusted him because they knew he was not out to make something "on the side," for himself. His bank was a

Friendly People

Friendly people can be found
In every town, the world around.
Where'er I go, I'm sure to find
At least one soul whose smile is kind.
He may not have one souch of style,
But yet be blest with such a smile,
As touches me in such a way
To cheer me up, for all the day.

His color may be white or brown
(And likely, he's without renown)
His face may show the smudge of dirt,
And dark and greasy be his shirt.
He may be found within a store—
It may be she who mops the floor.
I've even found policemen, who
Forgot themselves, and smiled at you!

And I have also learned that I
Can find a quarrel with half a try.
If I am surly, cross and sour,
I'll meet my match, within the hour!
But if I smile, and pleasant be,
My smile is soon returned to me.
And so it is, my whole life thru—
I'm apt to get my honest due.

sacred stewardship to serve the community, not an institution to milk the city for the stockholders; and the stockholders did not suffer under this program of service.

Father's church friends were numerous. Many were the guests in our home and their friendship became a priceless heritage. The greater men and the lesser lights met at his table and both came to love him.

What those friendships have meant to this writer is beyond the pen's power to record—not in preferment—but in spiritual guidance and understanding.

Our first presiding elder was Dr. Levi Master, our father's fast friend. No man ever had a better "Elder." He loved us for Father's sake and we loved him for a like reason.

Father had some strong friends outside the church, but he never won any of them by compromise.

Father's day is past and most men are wearing a new tie, but the fathers of today owe it to themselves to think of their father's friends of yesterday.

"LET 'EM STARVE."

The other day Vernon J. Brown of the Ingham County News in an address in Detroit pointed out some of the inconsistencies in the financial statements being issued by the Murphy administration. He quoted the Governor's own statements made three weeks ago that the state legislature should appropriate $10,000,000 additional for welfare purposes. Later the Governor said the "discovery" of additional funds would make only a $3,000,000 appropriation necessary. Mr. Brown commented that if the Governor waited another two or three weeks that he might find another $3,000,000 somewhere.

The Governor apparently didn't like this statement, so he told the Detroit newspaper reporters that Mr. Brown and his kind represented the type of people who would permit the unfortunate people of Michigan to starve.

This statement coming from the Governor pretty well reflects his true character. He knows, if he has the ability to know anything at all, that there is NOT A SINGLE PERSON IN MICHIGAN who would permit anyone to starve, if they could help it. He knows that Mr. Brown and those of his party would go to the limit to help people in actual distress.

But to tell the real truth about Mr. Brown and his party would not serve Frank Murphy's purpose. He would prefer to issue the distorted and misleading statement that he did, because he apparently thinks that such a false statement would serve his purpose better.

It would be interesting to know just how MUCH money the Governor ever took out of his own pocket to aid any person who might be in actual hunger. Would it be unkind to suggest that the total sum might not be as much as he ever paid in taxes, and that is nothing at all.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

VICTIM OF POLITICAL BOSS.

The WPA work program is wrong because it has exploited the worker who is a victim of disturbed times. It has made him the victim of cheap political bosses who have capitalized their influence in the inner councils of the Democratic party to further their own selfish ends.—Joe Sturgeon in The Delta County Reporter.

CHEATING THE AGED

We have received a number of complaints from aged local people because their old age assistance checks have been materially reduced in amount. One old gentleman, wholly unable to work and possessing no means of his own, was reduced to an amount that will not properly sustain him. We regret that there is nothing we can do about it. The state of Michigan as it is now is spending so much for job-holders' salaries and other things that there is not sufficient money left to pay the old age pensions at the rate at which they were granted after recommendations by the investigators.—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

WHAT WILL THE SAPHEADS DO?

The American Bar association has gone on record as being opposed to the un-Americanism of the NLRB set-up, claiming that this federal agency is purely in favor of labor, and therefore sets up one class against another. It recommends that the Act be changed so that employers be given fair play in hearings. You may rest assured that the NLRB WILL have to be changed, or there'll be a revolution in this country that will upset somebody's applecart.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

NO FOOLING IN ROCHESTER

An ordinance forbidding picketing of any nature in Rochester will receive its first reading at next Monday night's meeting of the Village Council. This is a wise movement, begun at a most opportune time.—Charles Seed in The Rochester Clarion.

HE'S RIGHT.

Why worry about Governor Murphy's call for a special session of the legislature, for you'll pay the fiddler whether you like it or not.—J. E. McMullen in The Linden Leader.

TO BE EXPECTED.

The announcement by Henry Ford that he would put twenty-three thousand men to work in his Ford plant this week will perhaps spur the UAW branch of the CIO to set all wheels in motion now to cause his Ford company trouble, and another close of the plant or make Mr. Ford accede to CIO and NLRB one-sided rulings about labor.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

Political Relief

We are convinced the American electorate cannot be permanently bribed. We believe the American people are awakening to the dangers of the present system of huge federal grants. However good the intent, however necessary relief on a national scale may be, however great the effort to keep the handling of the money honest, the system is a menace to true representative government. It is wide open to abuses that destroy democracy.

There is too much opportunity to use relief money as a campaign fund for the party or faction in power, and millions of people believe it is so used. There is too much temptation to use the allotment of federal funds to influence votes in congress, and millions are convinced that it is so used. And they do not like it. Such incidents as the charges of WPA abuse in Kentucky and Administrator Hopkins' interference in the Iowa primary are arousing the people as they have not been aroused. And those now aroused include multitudes who have been friendly to the general program of the Roosevelt administration. The moral sense which seeks social reform rebels at politics in relief.

As the fundamental dangers of this system become better known we believe there will be a revolt against it which will either radically reduce federal grants or set up some non-partisan, non-executive control of them. Christian Science Monitor.

New Books About Foreign Lands

Following are some of the new books at the Plymouth library pertaining to some of the countries beyond the seas that will be of especial interest just at this time because of international conditions:

"Children of the Rising Sun," by Willard Price. The author seems occasionally to over-estimate some of the qualities he is praising. He gives a first-hand account of Japan and its drive for empire.

"Passports for Asia," by Beatrice Borland. A sincere and naive account of the travels of a young society girl.

"Daughter of the Eagle," by Nexhmie Zaimi. Now a student at Wellesley, she was born in Albania, and gives a fascinating picture of that country.

"King Zog's Albania," by Joseph Swire. A sound and readable description of the country and its people, with a good deal of rough travel without fretful insistence upon the inconveniences.

"Allah Dethroned," by Lilo Linke. She is certainly gay, certainly enthusiastic, but she is not afraid to record the occasions when her gaiety and enthusiasm flagged and she began to sigh for Occidental comforts. Although she started with no knowledge of the Turkish language, she learned much of the life.

A large coral deposit is found on the north shore of Drummond Island.

WATCH OUT FOR THE FOURTH GRADE

The critical time in school life seems to come first to children entering the 4th grade. Up to that time, visual demands are not great, but at that point, in most school systems, the subject matter and the teaching methods both change. Children who have managed to make some kind of visual compensation up to that time can no longer "fudge" along with poorly developed visual skills and begin scholastic failure. The next development is likely to be behavior failure and the first thing everybody knows, there is a "problem child" to be dealt with. Before your child enters the 4th grade, it is the part of wisdom to see that "reading readiness" has developed and that its visual skills are up to coping with the social and educational problems of its life. It is cruel to thrust a child unprepared into this new world that could be so stimulating and helpful.

.. these new cost figures may change your mind!

How much do you think it costs to cook on an electric range? The latest figures just released may surprise you. A survey has been made of actual cooking costs in families of 3, 4 and 5 people, covering a period of one year's time. Results of the survey are as follows: Average cost for a family of three — $1.55 a month; family of four — $1.73 a month; family of five — $1.93 a month. These are AVERAGE figures, at the rate of 2 1/4 cents (net) per kwhr.

To obtain these cost figures, 5 well-known makes and 9 different models of electric ranges were included. The ranges were used by women cooking meals daily, in ordinary kitchens and under everyday working conditions. The tests prove conclusively that electric cooking on today's modern ranges is NOT expensive!

Why not enjoy the cleanliness, convenience and comfort of an electric range in your kitchen this summer? Sixty thousand families in and around Detroit have chosen this up-to-date cooking method. Ten thousand of your neighbors switched to electric cooking last year. Once you have discovered the many advantages of an electric range, you will wish you had installed one in your kitchen long ago.

See the new electric ranges on display at department stores, electrical dealers or at Detroit Edison offices.

Trout Fishermen Back From North

"It's my happy fishing grounds from now on," declared Glenn Jewell the other day when, in company with Mrs. Jewell, he returned from Isle Royale in Lake Superior where they have spent the last three weeks on a fishing trip.

"Never enjoyed better fishing in my life, and never enjoyed a vacation more than we did this one," he declared. They left from Copper Harbor, making the trip over to the Isle in five hours. Their lodge was at Chippewa Harbor, where accommodations are ideal, he said. "Had good luck fishing every time I was out. Caught trout anywhere from three to 15 pounds. One fisherman landed a trout weighing 42 pounds on a fishing outfit that cost him only a dollar and a half. Mrs. Jewell spent her time hunting for green stones along the shore. The Isle is a wonderful place to visit," said Mr. Jewell.

Dr. Paul Butz, his wife and son, who have just returned from a fishing trip up at Batchawana Bay, on the Canadian side of Lake Superior, are just as enthusiastic about the good fishing they had at that point. Dr. Butz landed several Mackinaw trout that weighed about 15 pounds. He, too, declares that that place has become his permanent fishing ground.

Russell Powell and Harold Finlan spent a few days fishing at the same place while Dr. Butz was at the Bay. Mr. Powell caught a number of big trout.

Much of the stone used in construction work in early Detroit was quarried on Stony Island, lying in the Detroit river between Grosse Ile and the Canadian shore.

Any Concern -- who buys his friends usually pays an extravagant price for them.

A Call to Defense of Our Schools

By Editor Keddies in The Manistee County Pioneer News

From Manistee county goes a call to village school officers all over Michigan to join forces to protect our schools. A cut in state support of from 30 to 40 percent is threatened, a cut that will certainly cripple our high schools badly, and which, in the opinion of members of our Legislature familiar with the state's finances, is unnecessary and unwarranted.

That the state of Michigan is hard up, we all know, but—our state pours out millions for highways, though the motorist is surely able to pay sufficient taxes for a roadbed for his car to run on, without taking funds intended for other purposes.

Our state pours out millions for welfare, though supervisors in every county in Michigan are demanding that relief be turned over to local control to cut out gross extravaganzas.

Our state has greatly enlarged all the state departments and added new ones, with tremendous increase in payrolls and operating costs even though salary cuts have just recently been made effective.

Is it the will of Michigan that these things should be paid for at the expense of our children's education? Manistee county believes "No," and asks the other 32 counties to join in a determined demand to our state officers that they give our schools what is their legal right and due.

This threatened cut of one-third or more in revenue will not fall so heavily upon the one-room rural school. This is because by a once-and-once-only turn of fortune's wheel the inheritance tax on the James Couzens estate has boosted the primary fund by several millions. This fund, distributed according to census and not by enrollment, will put the small school offering only the eight grades minimum on Easy Street for this school year 1938-39.

But the high schools, particularly the smaller village high schools which are not supported by a heavy assessed valuation of wealth and industry, will feel the slash grievously.

Is it not a tragedy that the tax on the estate of Senator Couzens, who gave so freely for Michigan children, should be made the occasion for depriving these very children of their chance for school training? Michigan schools must unite to make their will heard. This is just what our Manistee county school officers are calling upon them to do.

This call for a united front to defend our schools does not come from the teachers, alone. Their interest might be misinterpreted as merely a yelp against decreased salary checks. No, this call comes from school officers—taxpayers, every one—men and women elected by the citizens, and who serve at little or no salary because they have the interest of the schools and the children at heart.

They realize that the conditions of today call for our youth to be well-trained, in industry and in citizenship. They realize that a worthwhile education is necessary investment, not only for the individual but for the commonwealth as well. And they realize that a worthwhile education calls for a well-equipped school plant and thoroughly capable teachers, all of which cost money.

They and the citizens of the communities they represent are glad to put up the money. They have already done so. But after the cash is raised, and collected by the state, they don't like to see it diverted to some other purpose—to pay off the army of state employees, to smooth out the roads the gas tax should pay for, or to pour down the endless relief hole.

The cut comes with greatest severity on the consolidated school. Say what you will about the policy of school consolidation, it was a policy fostered by the state, and encouraged by the laws our legislators enacted. High standards, for equipment, for teaching, and for transportation, have been established. Whether our state can afford to encourage still further consolidation may be a question, but certainly it must live up to the assurances on which the present consolidations have been founded. To fail to do this would be an unardonable breach of faith.

Certainly our schools as well as every other government unit, must economize severely. That they are willingly doing. All they ask is that the state play fair with them, give them their share of what revenue is collected, and not divert it to other funds, less important and far less remunerative in longtime benefits.

Urges Defeat Of Welfare Laws

Unless the people of Michigan vote NO upon the proposed welfare re-organization laws that will be submitted to the electors at the November election, there will be created permanently another great horde of political job holders for the taxpayers of Michigan to support, Elton R. Eaton, editor of The Plymouth Mail and a member of the state legislature, told members of the South Lyon Kiwanis club Monday night.

He briefly reviewed the enactment of these measures by the last session of the legislature and of the unsuccessful fight that was made to give local control of welfare to the various counties and cities.

"Amendments that would have provided the people of Michigan with some control over the administration of welfare were defeated by political manipulation," he declared.

So opposed, apparently, are the people of the state to the welfare laws that when the petitions were circulated demanding that these laws be submitted to the voters, there was not the slightest difficulty in securing a sufficient number of signers, he said.

"There is only one way for Michigan to handle its welfare problem and that is to allocate back to the counties and cities in proportion to population funds for local administration, with a certain amount held back by the state for use in localities where the need might be greater than elsewhere.

"Why force a city like Detroit or some county to go before some welfare commission in Lansing and beg for welfare funds? Why give to any state board a right to say just how much money a city or county can have for welfare purposes? It is your money. You paid it through the sales tax into the general fund, except that portion provided by the government, and why shouldn't the cities and counties of the state

Vote Only One Ballot Sept. 13

The new primary law insuring secrecy of party choice had been clarified today by County Clerk Caspar J. Lingeman, secretary of the Wayne County Election commission.

"Many voters seem to be worried, fearing that they will lose their vote by making a mistake in marking the ballot," said Lingeman. "There will be no danger of this if directions are followed carefully. I know that having voted in the same manner for many many years, many will find it difficult to change the procedure without misgivings," he said.

Mr. Lingeman has outlined the steps to be taken on Primary Day, September 13, after entering the polls. These steps are reproduced here briefly and clearly for your benefit, and it is suggested that if you are in doubt as to this new procedure you clip this article and take it to the polls with you.

1. A Democratic and a Republican ballot fastened together will be handed you.
2. Mark the party ballot of your choice.
3. DO NOT MARK THE OTHER PARTY BALLOT.
4. Tear ballots apart at upper left corner.
5. Fold each ballot separately so numbered corner is visible.
6. Hand both ballots to inspector and indicate to him which one you voted.

Judge Murphy Urges All To Vote

Citizenship carries with it not only the privilege of voting, but it also imposes a serious responsibility. It becomes our duty to study the records and the background of the many candidates paraded before us in order that we may vote intelligently when we are called upon to do so, he declares.

Probate Judge Thomas C. Murphy enjoys the distinction of being the only Democratic incumbent judicial officer up for reelection at the coming fall primary and general election.

Orphaned at the age of three years, Judge Thomas C. Murphy has now holds through constant effort on his own part and through the assistance of his many friends. This unfortunate circumstance in his life has afforded him unusual opportunities to gain the experience which is requisite in the office of probate judge. Before this court are brought the problems of orphans, minors and widows, as well as those of the mentally afflicted and impoverished individuals. Evidence of Judge Thomas C. Murphy's interest in his work has been brought to light in his publication of a "probate manual." This book has found its way into the hands of thousands of lawyers, ministers, doctors, social workers and others whose work brings them in contact with the problems of life that are brought before the probate court.

The judge voluntarily spent untold hours outside of his regular duties in the editing of the "probate manual"—in the printing, binding and distribution of it in order that it might save the time of both court and counsel and speed up procedure generally, and to familiarize the people with the various matters handled before his court.

Judge Thomas C. Murphy's tenure upon the probate bench and his record in office have stamped him as possessing outstanding judicial qualities both in experience, temperament and training so essential in order to understand the many problems of family life administered in the probate court.

In fact, if one were asked to recite the desirable qualifications for an ideal judicial officer, it would sound like a personal description of Judge Thomas C. Murphy.

It is men of this character who

Why does a barber's pole have stripes?

LONG ago, a barber served in two capacities—barber and surgeon. He "bled people"—i. e., when a man felt sick he thought he had too much blood in his system and he went to the barber to have some of that blood removed from his body. The barber pole stood for the staff the patient held as he was being bled. The red and white stripes were for the bandages used in the operation, the white for the bandage used before the operation, the red for the dressing of the wound after it was over. The gold ball at the top of the pole represented the other end of the business—the brass basin from which the customer was shaved.

Archaeologists exploring Alaska and the Aleutian Islands are frequently guided to sites covering prehistoric villages by flowers. At the village trash heap the earth became mixed with ashes, rotted wood, animal bones and refuse, thus making a soil different from that of the region and in which spring plants differed from those common to the neighborhood.

Detroit Representatives Try To Revive Reapportionment Issue

of the house. Possibly they felt that re-apportionment, always a controversial question, should not be an issue before the session. Maybe they had other reasons.

Suffice it to say that they saw to it that the issue was strangled to death and thrown overboard weeks before the legislature convened.

If any serious effort was to have been made to pass a re-apportionment bill, will the Speaker and the Governor tell why the majority membership of the committee was not made up from Wayne, Oakland, Genesee and Saginaw counties instead of being composed almost three to one of out-state legislators who would just naturally be opposed to re-apportionment?

There was but one meeting of the re-apportionment committee called by Chairman Joseph Nagel.

It seems that Representative Harry Glass of Grand Rapids had congressional aspirations, but the congressional district in which he lives contains some rural counties that are still voting Republican and, apparently, Mr. Glass figured it out that if he could get the legislature to change the boundaries of the district, he might have a chance to be elected to congress. He introduced a bill to change the boundaries of his congressional district, as well as one or two others where Republicans had been elected.

It was upon his urgent request that the apportionment committee held its one meeting.

Chairman Nagel brought forth for discussion the bill that Mr. Glass had introduced. Well, the committee figured it might be unsafe to begin tinkering with congressional districts, and so the bill was tabled.

Then the writer had the temerity to suggest that one or two of the legislative re-apportionment bills be brought forth for consideration by the committee.

There was immediate hostility to these bills, and just as had been planned, they were executed so quickly that they couldn't even kick. The writer suggested that it might be well to permit one bill which would have increased the senate membership from Detroit and Oakland counties to go to the floor for consideration.

"No, sir! Never!" exclaimed a rural member of the committee.

"If you can get one of these re-apportionment bills out on the floor, you can't tell what might happen. They might amend it so that it would include the house and we fellows out-state might find some of our districts gone," he said.

That ended all consideration of re-apportionment for the session. From a purely political standpoint, one cannot blame the out-state representative for his position they do, when it might jeopardize their own political future.

Wayne and Oakland counties pay into the state treasury about one-half of the entire income of Michigan. They have the population which justifies a much larger representation in the state government. They have long been entitled to this representation under the provisions of the constitution.

But again the legislature has seen fit to flaunt the basis law of the state—and it looks very much as though those high in political leadership in the majority party from the very section that would benefit by re-apportionment, sold the issue down river, deliberately. For what reason no one knows.

Out-state members do not say so openly, but if you talk with them quietly when no one is around, they will say that they are opposed to re-apportionment because of the fact it would do no good and Detroit would not improve the caliber of men it sends to the legislature.

There is but one way for Detroit to improve its legislative representation, and that is to divide the city into legislative districts. While it would be true that under such an arrangement, certain sections would probably be controlled by racial groups, it is believed that on the whole there would be an improvement.

Detroit now selects 17 representatives strictly by lottery. Out of some half hundred or more names appearing on the ballots of both parties at primary election time, Detroit electors are supposed to go up and down the lists and select 17 candidates who have a knowledge of state affairs and who have in addition a desire to serve the best interests of the state.

It is out of the question for a person living on the west side of the city to know all about a minor legislative candidate living on the south side or east side of Detroit. Once in a while there is some outstanding candidate for the legislature in Detroit pretty well known to the public, but this is not often the case.

The nomination of candidates by districts in Detroit would doubtless be the first step towards securing additional and better representation in the state legislature.

But everybody, seemingly, is too busy doing something else to give this important problem the consideration it should have.

Detroit members of the legislature, and their Governor, can fool no one on this re-apportionment issue. They killed it and the sideshow now being staged can impress no one, except possibly themselves.

Boy Scout

Cub Pack 620 of Plymouth, last week-end, went on a hike to the Training School cabin. The Cubs showed that they, as well as the Boy Scouts, could go camping. The Cubs arrived and got their camp settled. After lunch, until supper, they were always on the go. They hiked through the woods for an hour. Next, a game of capture the flag was played. The Cubs showed that they, as well as the Boy Scouts, could go camping. The Cubs arrived and got their camp settled. After lunch, until supper, they were always on the go. They hiked through the woods for an hour. Next, a game of capture the flag was played. The Cubs showed that they, as well as the Boy Scouts, could go camping.

Captains and Robbers was next played. The captains corralled the robbers in 12 minutes. The robbers' revenge was completed, as in the second game, the robbers held out until the game was ended and all were still at large. Supper consisted of meat and noodles, boiled spuds, ripe tomatoes, orangeade and butter. Ghost stories were the main feature at camp fire, the den chief of the Oriole den telling two hair-raising stories. Someone at this time suggested a snipe hunt, but the ghost stories had scared the boys so that only three were willing to chance it. A sham battle with some mystic intruders was held and then the boys hit the bunk.

The events of the day had tired the boys thoroughly, and they immediately fell asleep.

Breakfast consisted of pancakes, bacon and eggs. After the meal it began raining and spoiled the rest of the day. However, the rain did not dampen the boys' appetite, as they made hunter's stew, baked potatoes, bread and butter, orangeade and rice pudding.

Melvin Hunt celebrated his 12th birthday on the hike and his mother baked a huge cake for the occasion. The cake was delicious, as not a crumb was left. The boys left after dinner and much the forer for wear, but happy, reached home safely. Then the den chief and Cubmaster Ernest Henry were asked how they enjoyed the hike and they replied, "Ph-u-u-u-u-u."

A Communication

My Dear Editor:

Lately we have heard many things about the "benefits" of the Townsend Plan. Those over 60 are to be given a monthly sum not over $200, crime is to be abolished, the poor houses closed and all the young be put back to work.

There are about 10 millions of eligible people over 60 and if each of these were spending $200 a month, the business would be very desirable. No doubt about that. And I, for one, would like to see them spending $200 or more per month.

But where is the money to come from to give them the $200 per month? That is the question.

The Townsend speaker in the park Monday night explained that a mere two percent transaction tax would do the job. When pressed for an average cost per family per year, he guessed at $48.

Now there are about 30 million families in the United States. Using his figure the 10 million would get only $14.40 a year, less administration costs. His arithmetic was wrong, if his sincerity was right.

The plain fact is that the tax per average family would be about $800 per year, compared to an average income of about $1200. Since the tax burden now is about $400 per year per family we have reached our limits.

Most of us want a lot of things we can't afford and this fine gift to the aged is one of those things. Why not face the facts?

ABOUT the best way to ruin a well engine is to run dry on oil. To keep this from happening, all of us Shell dealers listed below have a little proposition for you.

Hop into your car and drive to any one of our stations. If we don't look at your oil without your asking, then you put the finger on us. We'll bring your oil level right up to the full mark entirely free.

We'll use our Golden Shell Oil, too, the kind that's made especially for today's stop-and-go driving.

Maybe you never knew that stop and go calls for a certain kind of oil. Well, it does—and here's why: You average ten cold starts a day. If your oil is slow-flowing, one start can cause as much wear as 50 miles of steady running.

Golden Shell changes this. It's fast-flowing. The second you start it meets each engine part with a tough oil film that doesn't break down... even under the heat of steady running. In fact—

There's no finer oil at any price than Golden Shell.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isa. 9: 6): "For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder; and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 583): "Christ, The divine Christ of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error."

Recreational Program Success

The recreation program this summer has proven a highly successful and growing project. In the past, Plymouth had two centers, one at Central and one at Starkweather school. This summer several neighborhood fields were used for softball games. In the afternoon, there were four teams in the senior and eight teams in the intermediate league. In the twilight league, Central had eight men's teams and four women's teams. At the Starkweather school a four-team league was organized.

Various tournaments were held and the winners are:
Detroit News tennis singles—Gordon Moe.
Detroit News tennis singles—Norma Coffin.

Plymouth tennis doubles—C. Bentley and H. Baker.
Plymouth tennis doubles—(women) not finished.
Checker tournament—(boys)—Steven Dely.
Jackstone tournament (girls)—Joan Gilles.

Shuffle-board tournament for boys—Ed Holdsworth.
Mumble-de-pep (boys)—Jack Baker.

Checker tournament (girls)—Paula Hoenecke.
Croquet tournament (girls)—Carmel Sitt.
Horseshoe tournament (boys)—Jim Highfield.

The handicraft output this summer was five times that put out a year ago. Last year only leathercraft, woodcraft, and basketry were handled. This summer basketry, woodcraft, leathercraft, papercraft, metalcraft, and soap carving were undertaken.

Plymouth's attendance at the playgrounds was 16,658 people. The attendance figures alone show the vast interest and need of playgrounds and recreational centers for young and old folks, for this summer's attendance will be close to 25,000.

Last year's attendance at the Mr. Jacobi, recreational director, announced that last year there were four WPA leaders and this number has been increased to eight this summer. He also said that he was well pleased with the cooperation and fine sportsmanship shown during the games and tournaments this summer.

There are four aims of recreation to bear in mind. First, the hygienic aim, to build health. Second, the recreative aim, to build an active and joyful program for leisure time. Third, the educational aim, to develop certain physical, mental and moral qualities and abilities. Fourth, the civic and social aim, to promote companionship, cooperation, and sportsmanship. Children and grown-ups must and will play. Through wholesome play, health, character, and citizenship are developed. It is highly important that full recognition be given this fundamental part in the building of our city so that ample and equal opportunity be given to all to participate in recreational activities during their leisure hours by furnishing the facilities and providing leadership. Mr. Jacobi and his assistants through the cooperation of the City Council and the board of education have done much toward accomplishing this end. The recreation leaders wish to thank those who helped to make this summer's program a big success.

Manuel Quezon, President, Philippine Islands; "Under existing legislation, the responsibility for teaching religion is placed exclusively on parents, guardians and the church, but not upon the government."

Juan Negrin, Spanish Premier: "Nearly two years of hard struggles, two years of a war in which the most inhumane procedure has been used against women and children, have not broken down the decision of our people."

Plymouth Garden News

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul French, of Stark road, a son, Anthony, August 20, at 1:40 a.m., weight seven pounds.

Marygayle Schaffer of the Red and White store is now enjoying a much needed rest at the home of her parents.

Sod Schaffer and Don Johnston of the Red and White store put on a floor show at Walled Lake, Sunday, August 21, with Larry Funk's orchestra. The people of Plymouth Gardens would like an opportunity to see this local talent sometime.

Mattie Powell caught a 47-pound lake trout in Lake Superior. His picture with his catch is on display at the Red and White store if you don't believe it.

Walter Dann now has his cabin finished at Thunder Bay river at Alpena.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jackson and twins, Charlotte and Claudette, from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, surprised his sister, Mrs. Al Ziegler with a visit last Saturday a.m. and are spending a few days with her.

There will be a locked box at the Red and White store on Plymouth road and Stark road in which people of Plymouth Gardens may deposit any news or items for The Plymouth Mail. Pencil and paper are also supplied. Please let us have your cooperation.

There will be a meeting of the school district Monday evening, August 29, at Stark school relative to placing the children until such a time that our new school building is completed.

We are happy to state that Dr. Miller in collaboration with Miss Reed and the county superintendent of schools will continue to serve this area until September 6. This has given us almost three months of dental service for which the people are more than thankful as it has saved the teeth and health of over 150 children for some years to come.

The Newburg church garden party will be held at Mrs. John Campbell's, Thursday, August 25 at 2:00 p.m. It is expected that between 55 and 60 guests will attend. The afternoon's entertainment will consist of music and bridge. The lunch will consist of ice cream and cake.

Bill Simpson of Wayne road was seen last Monday p.m. polishing his new V-8 Ford.

John Campbell has purchased a new irrigation system and guarantees it to be burglar proof. But the reward still stands for the return of the old one.

Dr. Miller loaded down his car with his outdoor motor and spent the week at Houghton lake. We understand he had a very enjoyable time except for meals which were very disappointing.

Detachment of Lt. Kershaw's troop had an enjoyable time at their daily demonstrations of their military maneuvers at the Northville fair.

Here is a true fish story, equal to any that Ripley could tell us. Jim Horen, formerly of Wayne road, was visiting friends at Green Lake last Saturday. While riding around the lake with Mr. Krueger he saw a large fish, made a grab for it and landed a 16-inch pike with his hand. Believe it or not.

How really attractive Mrs. Ray Bowser's home is with its asbestos shingles. This home represents many hours of hard labor on Mr. Bowser's part, but we know that the sense of satisfaction he gets from his efforts, is ample remuneration for the energy expended.

The school board has just purchased a set of reference books as an additional aid for the teachers and pupils for this coming year.

Our school maintenance man, Noble Phillips, has just about completed the painting of the inside of our old school, it is so bright and cheerful and done in such a workmanlike manner that the school board is proud of the work.

A tribute to a man, who is doing and has done throughout the summer a truly worthwhile work, and without stint of personal effort and labor, Tony Kreger, our playground supervisor. To have supervised the play periods of our children, to have taken them on innumerable trips to the park, baseball games in outlying districts; to hold the various contests among the children has released the care of their mothers, has raised him high in the esteem of the school board and all the parents in the district. Tony, we cannot tell you in words, how we appreciate your work, but to you, Tony Kreger, and your principal, Miss Pape—Thanks.

It is near the end of the school garden project and it has been a satisfaction to the children from beginning to end. For many of them it was the first time they had planted a seed, cared for a plant and saw it mature to edible vegetables.

Dr. Miller is going to Ann Arbor for two years to accept an assistantship in the orthodontic department of the dental college which will lead to a master's degree in orthodontia.

Thirteen of our local boys and girls were left at Briggs stadium when the bus left for Plymouth Gardens, due to a mix-up in schedule one evening last week.

There being a double-header game, the children scattered to get autographs of the players. When they finally assembled again they found their bus had left them stranded in a big ball park. The young Robinson girl used her common sense and walked to the Trumbull police station, told them the situation and was sent back after the rest of the gang. Upon arriving at the station the police in charge had some fun showing them through and letting them blow whistles, etc. Finally, the Detroit police transported the boys and girls to Plymouth. A total of 43 were present to represent Stark, who took part in the day's races and ball game after which refreshments were served which consisted of hot dogs and buns furnished by Peters Sausage company and Ward Baking company through McKinney and Schaffer store, also ice cream which was purchased by Plymouth Garden Improvement association.

Thursday, August 18, the same group went to see the Tigers play the Chicago White Sox, through the generosity of Walter Briggs, Sr., who gave Mr. Kreger a letter to admit them in the ball park. A good time was had by all.

This week we are having a "ring the horn" tournament with an entry of 18.

John Bowser won the hand tennis tournament defeating Roland Leclair in the finals 21-17, 16-21, 24-22.

Most of the boys and girls who went to the ball game in Detroit last week had never seen a major league game, but were quite thrilled in watching the Tigers win.

Wonder who the small boy was who was disappointed because the Tigers didn't have tails and because he didn't see any bulls in the bull pen?

Gordon Stokes won the 50-yard dash in the eight-year-old class at the picnic. His sister, Velma, also came in first in her class.

What's the Answer?

UNBELIEVABLE as it sounds to us today, it was once the practice of men to wipe their noses on their coatsleeves. One day a king, on reviewing his troops was offended at the sight and conceived the idea of sewing buttons on the sleeves of his soldiers' uniforms at the point where it was lifted to the nose. It cured the soldiers of the practice, they developed the habit of carrying nose cloths about with them and the people of the kingdom took it up. Handkerchiefs were established as a hygienic necessity but the practice of buttons on the sleeves was never dropped.

Autos were thicker than bees in June on the Plymouth road Sunday.

The Lavender division of the Tonquish Sunday school membership contest under the leadership of Perry Hix, won the contest by 30 points out of a total of 280. The contest was a grand success.

There are some indications at this writing that free mail delivery in the village may be a possibility in the near future.

The Truesdell family reunion was held last Wednesday at the old Truesdell homestead in Canton now occupied by Carlos Truesdell and family. Ninety-five relatives were present, five from Indiana and from all parts of Michigan. A picnic dinner was served on the lawn after which a short program was given. The election of officers was as follows: President, Charles Truesdell; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Louis Truesdell.

Fifty years ago a report was circulated on a Sunday that a sail boat on Whitmore lake in which were Jack Holloway, Will Conner and H. C. Robinson and two other gentlemen was capsized and that Mr. Holloway came near drowning, being saved after having gone down the second time, by someone grabbing him by the hair of the head; that he was so far gone that he had to take to his bed and was under the doctor's care. The party arrived home on Tuesday except Mr. Holloway, who went through to the city on Monday, and they deny that part of the story in which it was said that Jack came near drowning. With his usual amount of mischief he endeavored to climb the mast, and the boat tipped over. His going to bed they say was for the purpose of drying his clothes.

The age of Norway and white pine can be approximated by counting the whorls of outside branches, one whorl being formed each year. This is not a dependable check on the age of jack-pine which often puts out two whorls in a season.

Five hundred beavers are to be used in water conservation projects in southern Idaho. The beavers will be trapped in northern counties estimated to have a population of about 10,000 of these animals and will be transported to the southern part of the state.

Crops To Break All Records

The outlook for Michigan's crops, taken as a whole, continues unusually favorable, although somewhat below a year ago. The composite condition of leading crops as of August 1, 1938, was 99.9 percent of normal, the third highest for any August during the 10 years for which records are available. A year ago the index was 81.2 and in August 1935 it was 80.6. The index for this year is depressed by the fruit items as the condition of everyone of the general field crops was reported above average and above the August 1 condition a year ago. The production index for the five fruit crops is 39.9, the lowest for any August during the 10 years for which records are available, and less than one-half of the August 1937 index of 81.8.

Early threshing returns indicate that some wheat fields are not yielding as well as expected earlier. Orange leaf rust was very prevalent in most fields and there were some reports of black stem rust. The preliminary estimate for the state is placed at 22.0 bushels per acre, 0.5 bushel below the July estimate, but 3.5 bushels above a year ago and 1.8 bushels above the 10-year (1927-36) average. Total production of winter wheat is estimated at 19,580,000 bushels compared with 18,420,000 bushels in 1937 and the 10-year average of 15,682,000 bushels. The production of spring wheat is estimated at 247,000 bushels. The total wheat crop of 19,827,000 bushels is the largest production since 1919. With corn threatened by drought in the Western Corn Belt, and with oats severely hurt in some states and showing prospects for only average production, the production of feed grains this season is not expected to exceed the average production prior to recent drought years, but large supplies of last year's grain, equal to nearly one-fourth of the production, were still on farms on July 1. The numbers of livestock are low and increases in livestock and poultry during the current year are not expected to increase feed grain requirements by more than five percent. If nothing happens to the corn crop, the total supply of feed grain per unit of livestock will probably be larger than in any of the last dozen years.

The growing condition of Michigan beans is relatively good in all districts. Moisture has been deficient in some areas, but much of the bean district has had sufficient rainfall for good growth. Fields are clean and stands are generally good. The growth of tops varies widely between different fields due to varying dates of planting. Michigan's potato crop is estimated at 29,944,000 bushels compared with 28,634,000 bushels harvested last year and the 10-year average production of 25,267,000 bushels. Most areas have had sufficient moisture and some sections have had an abundance. The growing condition is relatively high in all districts. Early potatoes are being harvested with reported yields running considerably above the usual yield for the early crop.

In sharp contrast to the universally favorable outlook for all field crops, fruit production in Michigan will be far below that of last year. While good field crops are common to nearly every locality in the state, fruit prospects vary greatly between sections and also between individual orchards in the same area. With a much smaller fruit crop than last year for the country as a whole, the price situation should be greatly improved for growers. But not all growers will be benefited as many have little or no fruit this year.
