

100 New Voters Expected To Register Before Deadline Expires October 29 For Qualifying For Nov. 8 Election

Electors To Decide Four Issues At The Polls

Next week will be the last chance for Plymouth residents to qualify for voting in the November 8 election, deadline for acceptance of registrations has been set for Saturday, October 29.

Clarence H. Elliott, city clerk, will be in his office at the city hall at the regular hours next week to register voters and, on Saturday, October 29, will be available at his office for that purpose until 8:30 p.m.

Anyone who did not vote two years ago or since then is required to register to vote in the election November 8. Anyone who did vote two years ago or in elections since then is not required to re-register.

However, persons who are eligible to vote without re-registering but who have changed their address or their name through marriage are required to write or visit the city clerk's office to see that the change is made in the registration rolls. If they do not do so they are likely to meet delays in voting.

Mr. Elliott said that about 100 new registrations had been received for the primary September 13 and predicted that there would be a similar number of increases in registrations before the deadline is reached, adding about 200 new voters to Plymouth's lists.

He said that some persons had expressed the belief that if they did not vote in the primary they could not vote in the final election November 8. He pointed out that this belief is wrong and that citizens can vote in the final election regardless of whether they voted in the primary, but that they must be properly registered.

Persons living in Plymouth township can register with Norman Miller and those living in Livonia township can register with Harry Wolfe. Both townships have the same registration deadline as the city of Plymouth, October 29.

Voters will be asked to decide on four state issues in addition to electing congressmen, state officers and county officers.

These proposals are to change the term of county officers from two years to four years, to provide for appointment instead of election of state supreme court judges, to guarantee that gas and weight taxes be used only for highways and to re-organize state relief and welfare agencies.

Hunting Good As Season Opens

Many a Plymouth supper table was graced with meat provided by the ability of husbands and sons—yes, and wives and daughters, too—to line up the mouth-watering piece of a pheasant or the fur of a rabbit.

Hunting was extremely heavy throughout the Plymouth area as the small game and bird season opened last Saturday. However, although five hunters died in Michigan and 14 or more were wounded in the first two days of the kill there were no injuries or deaths reported about Plymouth.

There were plenty of deaths among the wildlife of the area, though, as Plymouth marksmen bagged birds and animals. Hunting was reported good in most instances, although the heavy drive of the first week-end of hunting tended to send wildlife to cover. Dry weather, too, made hunting more difficult for dogs, but heavy rain Wednesday was expected to better matters.

Plymouth Turns Hollywood With Hydrant Rain

Plymouth turned Hollywood Sunday. Curious residents who saw firemen playing three lines of fire hose on various city streets Sunday morning were disappointed when they couldn't find the fire.

The firemen, however, were merely making a rainy day out of a sunny one for the purpose of the Jay's Handy Picture Service corporation of Detroit.

The firm was making commercial moving pictures for a tire company. The picture men took such scenes as those of a speeding car stopping within a few feet of a child who had fallen in the street. It was able to stop in time because the tires were of course, "slippery."

The firm had to have rain to heighten the dramatics of the scenes, but, as employees explained to Police Chief Vaughan Smith, real rain wouldn't do.

They said that real rain isn't heavy enough to look like the real thing in the pictures, so they employed city firemen and equipment to play the pluvius role for them. They worked from about 7:00 to 11:00 a.m. on Church, Liberty and Starkweather streets.

To Welcome Church Bishop Sunday

The services will begin at 10:00 o'clock. He will also deliver the sermon in connection with the ceremonies. Members of the church extend to their many friends a cordial welcome to attend the services.

Hunter Fined For Shooting In City Limits

Shot Enters Kitchen Of Home Police Report

Arthur Fulton, 38 years old, of 270 South Mill street paid a fine of $3 Monday after pleading guilty before Municipal Justice John S. Dayton to charges of hunting within the city limits.

Police Chief Vaughan Smith said that Fulton was arrested after he was reported hunting behind his home. He fired a shotgun in the direction of several houses on Mill street and some of the shot went through the screen door into the kitchen of the home of Mrs. Nicholas Pott, 198 Mill street, where she was ironing. Chief Smith said. She was not injured.

Chief Smith warned that hunters violating the ordinance which prohibits hunting within the city limits would be prosecuted.

He pointed out that the ordinance provides a fine of not more than $25 or imprisonment not to exceed 30 days or both in the discretion of the sentencing judge.

He said that several complaints of hunting within the city and near homes had been received by the police department.

"Persons who attempt to hunt within the city limits are endangering life and property by their actions," he said. "They especially are gambling with death or injury to Plymouth children when they fire their weapons within the city's boundaries. The stakes aren't worth the risk."

Decision Made In Cemetery Suit

Friendly suit of the Detroit Trust against the city of Plymouth and cemetery officials brought an order October 14 by Circuit Judge Harry B. Keidan to adjust the contract held by the Trust for purposes of clarification.

The court ordered that funds deposited on behalf of the cemetery with the trust be administered as a single trust fund instead of individual contracts with separate plot owners. The action does not affect the value of the holdings.

The order also provided that income from the fund be paid to the city annually without prorating the income according to lots and that the city be permitted to spend the income on maintenance of the cemetery without obligation to pro-rate the expenses according to individual lots.

The court reserved the right to change the orders or to issue new ones upon proper notification of the principals to the contract.

$16,685 Is Paid On City's Bonds

The city commission Monday night approved payment of $16,685 on city special assessment paving bonds, cemetery bonds and interest.

The payment leaves a net balance due of $20,000 on the paving bonds, City Manager Clarence H. Elliott said. These bonds are outstanding from 1928 paving projects. Another $20,000 will be paid, he said, before the end of the fiscal year on June 30, 1939.

The Monday payment left a total city debt of $190,330.14, he said. This includes the $20,000 on special assessment bonds, $85,000 in general obligation bonds, $17,000 on water bonds and $8,330.14 on purchase of additional cemetery land.

The bonded indebtedness, which gradually is being wiped out, Mr. Elliott said, represents one of the lowest in the state for cities of comparative population with Plymouth.

Map Of 1860 Found In City Shows Plymouth Village; Lists Business Men

Passing by a house that was being torn down on South Main street Monday, R. T. Willoughby noticed what appeared to be a piece of canvas on a pile of refuse and stopped to investigate.

The old scrap of cloth he found, was a map of Wayne county, published in 1860 by Geil, Harley and Siverd, of Philadelphia. Torn and frayed, the old map was most legible on the name piece and the section of the map that showed Plymouth.

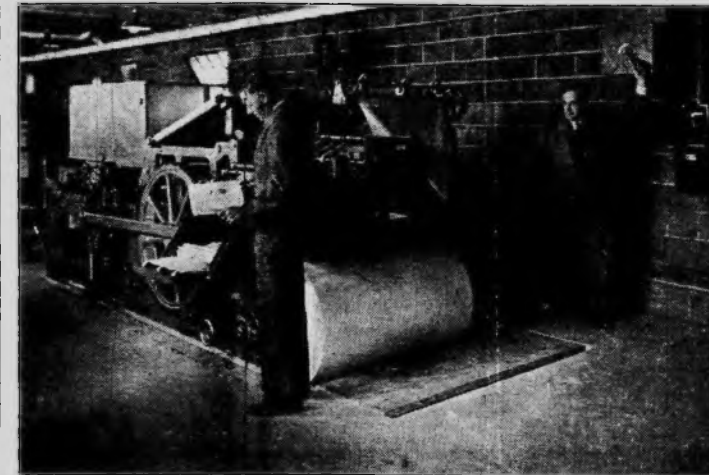

The map had been used as an ink, the contractor, told Mr. Willoughby.

Tonquont creek was shown prominently on the map. No railroads were shown in Plymouth, but the "plank roads" to Detroit and Northville were illustrated clearly. What now is known as Maple street was illustrated as Bowery. The section north of Church street was labeled Fralick's addition. Penniman avenue was called Sutton street and Starkweather was called Pearl street.

The business directory listed four wagon and carriage makers, two blacksmiths and two saloon keepers.

The business directory list as of 1860 was as follows: Dry goods merchants—Fralick and Woodruff, C. B. Crosby, D. Myres and J. Scattergood; hard-

City Children Fingerprinted For Identification

10 Little Fingers Get Ink Job

Nearly every child in Plymouth will have a permanent identification record as the result of an annual project sponsored by the Plymouth police department and under the personal direction of Capt. Charles Thumme.

This week members of Plymouth Boy Scout Troop No. 1, working under the supervision of Capt. Thumme, took fingerprints of grade school and high school children.

The fingerprints will be sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington to be placed in permanent civilian files.

In case of accidental death, or injury, amnesia or cases where it should be necessary to provide certain identification in law suits or other matters in later life, the fingerprints would provide a certain solution, Capt. Thumme said.

He stressed the fact that the children are not required to give their fingerprints but can do so for their own future benefit if they have the consent of their parents. However, nearly all parents are giving the necessary consent, he said.

Capt. Thumme planned to complete the task of fingerprinting the younger children today (Friday).

Only children who were not fingerprinted last year are having the prints taken this year. Capt. Thumme, who is a member of the International Identification association, each year keeps up the project by taking the fingerprints of children new in Plymouth schools and sending them to Washington for the permanent records.

Assisting him this week in the fingerprinting of older children were the following Boy Scouts: William Elliott, Bob Bachelor, John Daoust, Bob Dailey, Bob Daniel, George Blyton, Orliu Lewis and Richard Strong.

The Scouts made a display of their fingerprinting abilities at the Scouting exposition in Detroit this year which attracted very favorable comment.

Tally Ho! Hunter Shoots Red Fox Near Plymouth

Frank Dunn, of Plymouth, nearly shouted "tally ho" when he sighted a red fox as he was hunting pheasants with Ivan Grandy Sunday a mile west of Plymouth.

Getting over his surprise, he lifted his shotgun and pounded shot into the animal that was bounding over the countryside with speedy floating power.

The shot brought the fox to earth long enough for Grandy to club it. Dunn examined his bag and found that the fox was 45 inches from nose tip to tail tip and weighed between 25 to 30 pounds. It had a beautiful bushy tail.

Larger And Faster Equipment Now In Use

Unable longer to bear the burden of a constantly increasing circulation, the newspaper press that for 42 years has served the readers of The Plymouth Mail, groaned, then cracked in vital places and finally gave up the ghost a short time ago. For more than three years the "old Miehle" has been nursed carefully, greased well and new teeth drilled in the cogs in an effort to prolong its useful days.

Three weeks ago right in the middle of a big rush, it finally "kicked the bucket." Experts came to look it over. They decided that the press was hopelessly beyond repair.

Junk dealers have just completed the removal of some tons of old metal from the office.

The Plymouth Mail this week has been printed on the latest "Model A" Duplex newspaper press.

Intercommunity Religion School To Open Sunday

Lectures For Fourth Series Announced

The fourth annual interdenominational, intercommunity school of religion will open at 6:30 p.m. Monday, October 24, with an opening rally fellowship dinner at the Plymouth Methodist church, it was announced this week by the Rev. Walter Nichol, dean of the school.

The purpose of the school, he said, is training for Christian service and Christian living. All sessions will be held in the Plymouth church, which is central for the district.

There will be no membership fee, but free-will offerings will be collected on the first, second and sixth nights of the school.

The opening night session will be in the form of a fellowship dinner, for which there will be a slight charge. The speaker of the evening will be the Rev. Thomas M. Pryor, of the Royal Oak First Methodist church.

On the remaining five nights two 50-minute classes will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Students are urged to take work for credit, but the matter is optional. Textbooks will be available on the opening night, it was announced.

Four courses will be offered. "The Prophets and Their Messages" will be the course offered by the Rev. Gustav Ernst, pastor of the Plymouth First Baptist church. The course is described as "a study of the Hebrew prophets and the reasons for which they struggled. To study what prophecy really is and what value there is in the messages of the Old Testament prophets for those who are trying to improve present conditions."

The second course, to be led by the Rev. Thomas W. Smith, pastor of the Northville Presbyterian church, will be "The Church Through the Centuries."

Northville School Filled With Gas By Thieves

Disgruntled Gang Makes Death House Of Building

Thieves disgusted at their failure to obtain any substantial loot in raids on the Presbyterian church and the school at Northville Sunday turned on all gas lights and made a potential death house of the school building Sunday night, Chief of Police Loyal German said.

The school was filled with gas in the morning and had there been a fire or if anyone had entered the building with a lighted match or pipe the building would have been blown to bits, Chief German said.

Discovery of the situation was made early Monday morning. Classes were held as usual but there was a strong odor of gas in the building despite attempts to air it out thoroughly.

Chief German said that the thieves also had turned on all the lights at the church, running up the electricity bill during the night. It was the second time that the church had been entered in two weeks. A few jars of canned fruit in the church apparently was the only loot taken by the thieves.

Methodists Plan Annual Bazaar

Extensive plans are well under way for the annual Christmas bazaar to be given by the ladies of the Methodist Aid in the church, Wednesday, November 2.

Mrs. Russell Kirkpatrick is general chairman of the affair and it is expected that this year's bazaar will be bigger and better than ever before.

Special attractions will include hand embroidered pillow slips, dolls of all kinds and aprons galore. In addition to these articles, there will be a candy shop, bake shop, old fashioned country store, white elephant booth and fish pond for the children.

The supper committee with Mrs. Arlo Soth as chairman, is planning a good old fashioned Methodist dinner with a choice of menu, to be served in the evening. Tea will also be served during the afternoon for those who care to shop at that time.

The public is cordially invited to attend both the bazaar and supper.

SIX OUT OF SEVEN: IT'S A SELLING HEAVEN

If you've ever heard a cow pulling its hoof out of the mud you know what a powerful suction is created, but that's nothing compared to what happened in Plymouth last week.

Everyone knows that there are a lot of used cars on the market, including Paul Wiedman, who had seven machines that he knew would sell if he could just get people to take a look at them.

So he put an ad in The Plymouth Mail. Within two days after publication he had sold six of the seven cars—all to persons who had inquired about them after reading the ad in The Mail.

Six out of seven—you figure out the percentage that illustrates The Mail's batting average.

When you have something to sell remember that The Mail has pulling power many times more powerful than that of a vacuum cleaner. It's a pull which you hear when a cow pulls its hoof out of the mud.

Pair Celebrate Half-Century Together

Many Friends Congratulate Rev. and Mrs. Strasen

The Rev. and Mrs. Charles Strasen celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Friday with a reception for their friends at the Mayflower hotel. Many bouquets of flowers from well-wishers decked the room and there were many gifts, cards and telegrams of greetings from their many friends who were unable to be present at the celebration.

Certain parts of the ceremony duplicated the procedure of the October day 50 years ago when Mr. and Mrs. Strasen were wed.

The family gathered in the lobby of the hotel at 3:00 p.m. and the party of 27 friends, led by the honored couple, marched into the Crystal room to the strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March."

After taking their places at the table, the celebrants sang a toast, "Lebe Hoch," in German to Mr. and Mrs. Strasen.

Following an enjoyable dinner, the pair were hosts at an

Plymouth Woman Gets Hole In One At Country Club

The feeling that a trainer has when his horse wins the Grand National, that a coach has when all 11 of his team are selected as all-Americans, that anyone who wins the Irish Sweepstakes—came to Hilda Gertrude Champe of Plymouth, last Sunday when she teed off on the No. 6 hole of the Plymouth Country Club and sent her ball sailing into the sky to land in the cup 156 yards distant.

Oh, and she wore expressed by Marian Gust and Ja Streng, who accompanied her on the historic round. She walloped the ball with a driver, she said. It was the first time that a woman has made a hole in one at the Plymouth Country club, officials said.

Proceeds Expected To Last Several Months

Sales of tickets for the Milk Fund Ball which will be held at the Masonic Temple tonight (Friday) for the purpose of raising money to provide milk for school children have been progressing at an excellent rate.

Funds raised by the ball are expected to be sufficient to provide milk for underprivileged school children through the early winter months, although it was impossible to estimate the exact amount of money which will be raised until after the ball.

The ball and its charitable purposes have been attracting wide attention and many persons from out of town are planning to attend the affair tonight. On the other hand, many residents of Plymouth have purchased tickets to help to pay the bill, even though they will be unable to attend the dance.

Spurring the ticket sales has been a contest between the Central Parent-Teachers' association and the Starkweather Parent-Teachers' association to see which organization can sell the most. Central sponsored the affair originally and invited the Starkweather group to participate so that both schools could benefit from the proceeds of the party.

Co-operation has been excellent in the attempts to swell the fund. Each organization, however, will maintain separate milk funds from sales of their individually colored tickets. Expenses will be met from the ticket sale at the gate and anything left over will be divided between the two groups.

Request For Water Tabled By City

City commissioners debated the advisability Monday night of granting a request to install water drains on Hamblin avenue in Phoenix subdivision but decided to table the matter to refer the matter first to the township board.

The request was for a two-inch main, which it was argued would be uneconomical as six-inch mains probably would be required to reach near the water main.

On the other hand, there were no financial means of laying six-inch pipe as it would be impossible to assess vacant property for the improvements, and the residents of the water mains installed would be unable to finance the project on a deposit basis, which would be too costly.

The families now are using shallow wells which are considered inadequate. The city commission tabled the matter pending action by the township board.

Club Appeals For Clothing

The need for clothing, especially children's clothing, is again emphasized by the Ex-Service Men's club and through its appeal is meeting with some success, the club believes that more Plymouth citizens may be willing to give, but perhaps are putting off looking over the wardrobes and discarding clothing no longer needed by their families.

At a meeting of the clothing committee, Tuesday evening, Commander Howard Eckles urged his committee to redouble their efforts to secure warm apparel for children before the cold weather really sets in. Any citizen having any articles of clothing no longer needed, may telephone the city hall, leaving his name and an ex-service man will call and pick up the articles. All these articles will be distributed in Plymouth and the Plymouth school district. If you call in the evening phone Harry Mummy or Commander Howard Eckles at their homes.

Workmen are at present remodeling the store and making ready for the changes.

D.A.R. Hears Talk On Future Of U. S. Music

Speaker Traces Difficult Growth Of Art

The Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the D.A.R. had the pleasure of hearing a splendid review of the history of music in America at the regular meeting Monday night at the home of Miss Marian Paddock on Fenner at Beck road. The paper was prepared and read by a member of the chapter, Mrs. Charles H. Garlett, who also played several numbers on the piano to illustrate the different types of music.

A few of the points that Mrs. Garlett brought out were: "Music was forbidden as a trade in New England and a dancing master was fined for trying to start a class. The early settlers thought that to sing

"Man's Melody was only a vain show of art, and objected to tunes because 'They are inspired'... Art could not easily flourish in such a stony ground."

"The nearest approach to a musical atmosphere was to be found in the South rather than in the North."

"The first organ in America came from London in 1713 for the Episcopal church in Boston, but it remained unpacked for seven months as many objected to an organ at divine services."

"Music gradually took hold in New England, however, but 'Philadelphia was the art center in the second half of the eighteenth century and went ahead of Boston in culture, because it was not held down by the Puritan laws.' Boston later became the great musical center, however."

"The father of American orchestras was a German oboe player, Gottlieb Graupner." The Damrasch family of German origin, played a large part in developing orchestral music in this country, and Walter and Frank Damrasch are still leaders in America's musical development.

"Another famous family... is the Mason family, dating back to Lowell Mason (1792-1872), born in Medfield, Massachusetts. His principal work was collecting and harmonizing and which won him the title of 'Father of American Church Music.' Dr. William Mason and Theodore Thomas were the first to give chamber music concerts."

"Daniel Gregory Mason, a nephew of Dr. William Mason, is at present professor of music at Columbia university."

"Steven Collins Foster (1826-1864), whom we have claimed the right to call a composer of folk songs, was born in Pittsburgh. The understanding he showed of the Negro came to him because his parents were Southerners. His 'Oh Suzannah,' 'Old Uncle Ned,' 'Swanee River,' 'Old Kentucky Home,' 'Old Black Joe,' and 'Jeanie with the Light Brown Hair,' are all favorites of ours."

Other composers mentioned were Benjamin J. Lang (1837-1909) and his pupils Arthur Foote and Ethelbert Nevin; also John Knowles Paine, Dudley Buck, George Chadwick, Horatio Parker, Frederick Converse, Mrs. H. A. Beach, Margaret Lang, Mona Lucia Carry, Jacobs Bond, Arthur Whiting, Henry Gilbert, Victor Herbert, John Philip Sousa, Charles Wakefield Cadman and others, including Irving Berlin and George Gershwin.

Mrs. Garlett quoted from Rudolph Ganz in the Sunday New York Times, October 9, "An American declaration of independence in music is ready to be signed... American composers have something to say and are learning to say it."

She also gave some interesting items on many of our patriotic songs. From Rudolph Ganz expressed opinions and from Mrs. Garlett's entire talk, America has a great musical future as she has largely emerged from foreign influences, is shaking off the jazz fad and is working toward something fine and honest and truly American.

The meeting was well attended and after Mrs. Garlett's talk those present were given a quiz on Michigan traffic laws by Mrs. Francis Lockwood. Many important points were brought out.

The Good Citizen Pilgrimage for one senior girl from each of the high schools in Plymouth, Northville and Wayne will again be sponsored by the chapter. This pilgrimage is offered to the girl who ranks highest in dependability, service, leadership and patriotism and includes a trip to Washington and attendance at the annual national D.A.R. convention.

Local Friends Back His Candidacy

THEODORE I. FRY

Theodore I. Fry, state treasurer, has the reputation of being a very capable and conservative business man, and has managed the office of state treasurer on that basis, declare Wayne county friends who know him well.

Mr. Fry handled through his office during the last fiscal year $232,452,925.52 of state funds, and he has insured the security of this great amount of money by having laws enacted authorizing the acceptance of United States government, or state of Michigan bonds only, as collateral to secure deposits with banks.

Of the 25 million dollars of bonds purchased for the sinking funds not one bond is in default as to principal or interest, and the market value of these bonds has increased by more than one million dollars.

Mr. Fry has voted for all necessary financial assistance on the part of the state to maintain and operate the public school system, and the distribution of primary school funds has been made promptly each year.

He was elected to the office of state treasurer in 1932 to serve with Governor William A. C. C. He was re-elected in the fall of 1934 to serve with Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald and a Republican administration. He was again elected in 1936.

His supporters declare that he has the endorsement and confidence of the common people as well as those in the field of finance and industry because of the honest, efficient and business-like manner in which he has administered the duties of his office during the past six years.

The Plymouth Mail's New Newspaper Press

printing press, a product of the Duplex Printing Press company of Battle Creek, erected during the last two weeks in the plant of The Mail.

When the final tests had been made, Mayor Henry Hondorp and Stanley Goebel, president of The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, came to The Mail office to formally dedicate the new press to the services of one of America's best little cities.

The press will produce 3500 folded papers an hour, thereby giving to The Mail the fastest press service of any newspaper in the county outside of Detroit.

As soon as the "mess" has been cleared away The Mail intends to invite its readers to come to the office Thursday afternoons and see the new press in operation.

The installation of new equipment at this time has necessitated an additional burden for the publication to carry, but the publisher is one citizen who believes that notwithstanding all the confusion now reigning, better times are sure to come.

"Probation after Death" will be the subject of the lesson-lesson in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 23. The Golden Text (Eccl. 12: 14) is: "God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil." Among the Bible citations in this passage (John 5: 24): "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 110): "This life eternal, says Jesus—is, not shall be; and then he defines everlasting life as a present knowledge of his Father and of himself.—the knowledge of Love, Truth, and Life."

The women who had charge of the various activities of the harvest festival wish to thank all who helped in any way to make the festival such a genuine success and especially friends outside the membership who sent gifts for the memory tree.

The renovating work in our main auditorium is progressing nicely and we are looking forward to Sunday, the 30th of October, when we hope to have the pleasure of worshipping again in our sanctuary. Special services in connection with that event will be announced next week. Remember the thanksgiving turkey supper on the 10th of November in the First Baptist church. Next Monday evening, October the 24th is the beginning of the 4th annual school of religion which will hold its sessions in the Plymouth church. Here is a fine opportunity to get more information and learn new methods of work in church activities. Ask your pastor for details concerning these meetings.

All children that have not completed their 8th grade, are obliged to attend these religious instructions.

BEREA CHAPEL.—Pentecostal Assemblies of God. John Walasky, pastor. Meetings are held in I.O.O.F. hall over Kroger store on Main street every Sunday. Sunday school, 10:00 a.m.; morning worship, 11:00 a.m.; young people C.A. group, 6:30 p.m.; evening service, 7:30 p.m. Mid-week prayer and study at 160 Union street, 7:45. These are the days that we need to pray. Jesus is coming soon friends. Are you ready to meet your maker? Can you stand before Him knowing your sins have been forgiven and your soul is pure and spotless? Remember, there is to be a day of judgment. Christ is our Savior today but that day he is going to be our judge. It pays to think these things over and search our hearts, for "today is the day of salvation, tomorrow may be too late." How sad to pass away to a Christian's grave. Heb. 9: 27, 28 we read the words: "It is appointed unto men once to die, but after that the judgment. So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation. Orchestra practice Sunday, 2:15 p.m.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST church. Our Sabbath school services begin at 2:00 p.m. every Saturday afternoon. They are held in the Jewell & Blaich building on the Ann Arbor Trail. The preaching service begins at 3:15 p.m. Prayer meetings are held every Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the Jewell and Blaich building. CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH. Holbrook and Harding. Lynn B. Stout, pastor. 615 North Mill street. The subject for the 10:00 o'clock hour next Sunday will be "Bible Camels, One Hump and Two Humps." This will be another message on the deeper spiritual life. Come along Christian if you are having a hard time "holding on," and see God's wonderful provision for you. Beginning Sunday night and continuing for several weeks the pastor will be bringing messages on the "Second Coming of Christ." Subject this week: "Is Jesus Christ Coming Back to Earth Again?" Don't play the ostrich act and start to bury your head in the sand of earthly reason, but dig out that old Bible of Mother's and come to church Sunday night and see what God has to say about this great subject. There is a good live Bible school at 11:15 a.m. and B.Y.P.U. at 6:30 p.m. Once more we tighten the string on the bow, let go the arrow and bulls-eye No. 8: "Canning" the preacher will not always "preserve" the church; in most cases it "pickles" it.

NAZARENE CHURCH.—Holbrook and Pearl streets. Robert A. North, pastor. Bible school, 10:00; morning worship, 11:15; young people, 6:30; evening service, 7:30; prayer meeting, Wednesday, 7:30. "Put on the whole armor of God that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil." Eph. 6: 11. Putting off the "old man which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts" (Ch. 4: 22) must be followed up by putting on the "new man which is created in righteousness and true holiness" (Ch. 4: 24). This in turn must be followed by a putting on "The Whole Armor of God." Thus we see God has not only provided an inner righteousness for his people, but also an outward fortification that will enable them to dispel all the fiery darts of the devil. We invite you to come and worship with us. You will hear the "Word of God" preached in all its purity and fullness.

ST. PAUL'S EV. LUTHERAN church. Livonia Center. Oscar J. Peters, pastor. No services in this church on Sunday, October 23.

Elenore Fallot Marries R.A. Kruse

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fallot's home on Territorial and Curtis roads was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday evening, October 15, when their daughter, Elenore, of Ann Arbor, became the bride of Robert Allen Kruse of Ypsilanti.

Artistic arrangements of autumn leaves made an effective setting for the bridal party and the service was read by Rev. C. M. Pennell of the Salem Federated church. Both the bride and her attendant, Miss Florence Clinansmith, wore street-length frocks, the youthful bride's being of teal blue and Miss Clinansmith's of rust color.

Preston Kruse was his brother's best man. Following the ceremony a three-course dinner was served, the entire company being seated at a long table made festive with dahlias and beautifully decorated cakes. In addition to the wedding party and the host and hostesses, there were present Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kruse of Ypsilanti, parents of the bridegroom, and his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Kruse of Inlay City, and his grandfather, Fred Preston, of Mt. Clemens; his brothers, Preston, Richard, William and Jack. Among the bride's relatives were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Houghton, of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Sandel of Detroit, and Mrs. Carl Sandel and little daughter, Carol, of Detroit, and Harold, Flora and Henry Fallot. Other guests were Ray L. Pennell of the House of Correction farm, Russell Sopp of South Lyon, and Miss Gretchen Schuberger, of Ann Arbor. Mrs. Robert Kruse will reside in Ann Arbor.

CHURCH OF GOD.—821 Penniman (upstairs). Sunday services: Bible school, 9:45 a.m.; morning worship, 11:00 a.m.; young people's meeting, 6:30 p.m.; evangelistic service, 7:30 p.m. Week night services: Young people's meeting Tuesday night, 7:30 p.m.; mid-week prayer meeting Thursday night, 7:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome. A thought for the week—"The firing pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold; but the Lord trieth the hearts." (Prov. 17: 3). Only precious metals are tried in the refiner's fire. Even the diamond is polished upon the wheel, and who are we that we should escape suffering if we are to be made perfect before God. If we are willing and obedient under the afflicting hand of God, we are following our great example, who trod alone the way of suffering.

"...to find a better thing or a better way"

Back of the high quality of telephone service you enjoy today in Michigan is the group of several thousand scientists and experts in the Bell Telephone Laboratories and at the headquarters of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, whose sole job it is "to find a better thing or a better way."

The telephone employees who are engaged day by day in maintaining a high standard of telephone service are doing their part, and a most important part, in increasing the quality and keeping down the cost of service; but progress is assured by having a large group of scientists and experts devoted exclusively to seeking ways and means of making the service better and cheaper.

NO CHANCE FOR ARGUMENT

A GIRL ASKED HER CHUM IF she could marry a man who spent all he made? "No, but I think I could love him as long as it lasted," was her reply. We're not egotistical, when we tell you that we carry the best of everything in building materials. Ask "anyone who has done business with us and we're willing to let them be the Judge, the Jury and the Supreme Court."

Women Voters Discuss Problems

The October meeting of the Plymouth League of Women Voters was held last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. E. Elliott. Mrs. James Sessions, who is chairman of the department of government and economic welfare, gave a report on the housing problem from a governmental viewpoint. Mrs. Maurice Woodworth, chairman of government and international relations reported especially upon how the rights of the United States are being violated in the Far East, and upon how the United States has helped Japan, in spite of the fact that our sympathies are supposed to be with China. According to the report, the United States has sold Japan more war materials than any other nation. The report pointed out ways by which our country may help to stop the war in China: By helping Chinese civilians, by stopping the sale of war materials to Japan, especially copper and cotton, and by extending more financial credit to China. The league adopted a resolution offering to help community organizations in some kind of benefit for the Chinese.

Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple reported on municipal affairs. The Michigan League of Women Voters took no definite stand on Amendment No. 1 on which we vote November 8. The state league endorsed the amendment pertaining to the appointment of supreme court judges. The state board recommended a no vote on Amendment No. 3, and a yes vote on the welfare referendum which is Amendment No. 4 on the ballot. A discussion of the reasons for and against the amendments followed.

The program was in charge of Mrs. C. E. Elliott, vice-president and program chairman of the Plymouth league.

The kindergartners and first graders went on a field trip this week. They collected leaves and learned the names of five trees: The elm, maple, oak, ash and poplar were the ones they learned. They drew and colored leaves with crayons. They made an autumn scene in the sand table.

Second Grade
We are studying about the Indians of the mountains, the Indians of the plains, and the Indians of the desert.

We have made a large teepee. We are making vases similar to the pottery of the desert Indians. We have written stories about these Indians. We have read many Indian books and stories. We have an Indian exhibit on our table. We have two Indian vases, Indian moccasins, gourd, and little puppets. We have an ear of real Indian corn.

Our new books and work book are here. We like to work with them.

Mr. Rohde made us a very attractive cupboard to keep our books in.

June Schwarz has her new glasses. She can read much better with them.

We have three names on the new dental honor roll.

Mrs. Stover brought a plant for our room.

The seventh graders have made pictures of the meridians and parallels and have also made some fine graphs to keep their score in arithmetic.

George Hawes brought a turtle and Robert Hall a frog for study in science. Winston brought a fine large aquarium.

Several boys have made airplanes and the girls are crocheting and knitting as part of their handicraft work.

The boys, girls and Mrs. Holden enjoyed a hike and a wicker and marshmallow roast on a beautiful day after school this fall. Another is being planned for this week.

Seventh and Eighth Grades
The pupils in the eighth grade are exhibiting some excellent leaf specimens collected for science. In history class we are planning a number of projects of our own choice. These projects will include research, oral reports and handwork. The oral work in English is giving us a fine opportunity to practice talking before a group of people.

The seventh grade has completed the unit on maps and graphs and expects a review test any day now. In our English class we have discovered that if we omit conversation from certain stories that they will be very uninteresting. Our new current events papers are keeping us in close contact with the outside world.

The boys' softball team is planning to spend Friday on the bench, after defeating Livonia a week ago. The bench will be at Riverside park where we plan to enjoy a game between the football teams of Plymouth and Duland high schools. The Safety Patrol and Service squad are wearing their new equipment for the year and are working hard to keep the streets safe. They will welcome the cooperation of every person in Rosedale in carrying on their program.

What's the Answer?

KISSING as we know it today (i. e., the touching of lips between two people) was first recorded as practiced among the early Persians. Herodotus tells us that at that time, an equal was kissed on the mouth, an inferior on the cheek. The Romans and classic Greece seemed to practice the custom at about the same time. In less civilized countries, the expression of affection was, and frequently still is, accomplished by the rubbing of noses, patting of arms, breasts or stomachs.

Pair Celebrate Half-Century

(Continued From Page One) open reception for friends from 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Strasen were seated before a bower of autumnal leaves, yellow chrysanthemums and palms. Tea and coffee were served at a table beautifully appointed with lace cloth, golden candles and cream roses. There was a four-tiered cake, a masterpiece in pastry moulded by Marius Bady, of Rosedale Gardens, a friend of the family who also supervised the arrangement of flowers.

At 6:30 p. m. a buffet supper was served. The after-supper program recalled to the guests some of the wedding rites of a half-century ago.

The program was in charge of the Rev. C. A. Brauer, of Ann Arbor, who opened with a reading from the scriptural text which was used by the bride's father at the wedding. Every one joined in singing the wedding hymn.

All of the ministers who were present, as well as Carl Link, Mrs. Strasen's brother, and John Voight, presented brief talks in which they lauded the faithfulness and devotion of Mr. and Mrs. Strasen for each other as well as the devotion given to and received from their children.

Rev. Strasen beamed happily as he arose to respond. He said that he and Mrs. Strasen were thankful for the friendship of those present and for the love which their children had shown for them. Alfred Strasen made a response to his father on behalf of himself, his three brothers and four sisters.

The eight children, accompanied by Ruth Drows, a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Strasen, sang for their parents two German songs which had been taught them by their mother and father.

The first was a German lullaby with which their mother had lulled them to sleep as babies. The other song was an evening hymn which Mr. Strasen had taught the children as they sat about the table for evening devotions.

The program closed with the singing of a hymn, "Abide, O Dearest Jesus."

Among friends who were present at the reception were the following:

The Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Brauer, of Ann Arbor; the Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Rossow, of Northville; the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Washlewski, of Inkster; the Rev. William Hagen, the Rev. and Mrs. G. Bartlett School Herald
The school had a picture taken. The photographer told us a funny story which made us all smile.

The plumbers were here and fixed the well. The old pump was removed, and a new one put in its place.

A new heating system will probably be put in. The furnaces will then be taken out of the rooms and one furnace will do the job of two. When this is completed, the blackboards in the upper room can be moved to the other end, the seats can be changed, and we will have proper lighting.

Due to the teachers' institute there will be no school on Thursday and Friday. We know this absence of school is welcomed by some boys because they will be able to go hunting both days.

The Bartlett ball team met the Sheldon team at the Sheldon school grounds October 7. When the game was over, the score was 21 to 5 in their favor. Another game was played with Canton Center on their grounds October 11. The score was 44 to 8 in favor of Bartlett. A new baseball was bought by the school board and was used in both games.

We wish to thank the school board for the new dictionary. We will keep it in as nice a condition as possible. Try and catch us on the meaning of a word now.

The third grade and also the fourth have made science notebooks.

Roy Henning has 100 percent teeth now.

We have Columbus posters on the walls and jack o'lanterns on the tables and bookcases.

Leona Backhaus had a letter in the Michigan Farmer on October 8. The letter was about her hobbies. Last July she had a drawing of a galloping pony in the same magazine.

The eighth grade is making geometric constructions. It's fun working with compasses, triangles, and protractors. Christmas presents are being made in advance because the design is to be a leaf and there won't be any leaves on the trees at Christmas. Last Friday in art class we made the outlines of leaves. We planned the leaves on a sheet of paper, then held a screen over the paper, and rubber-bred paint through the screen with a tooth brush. There was a clean outline of the leaf when the leaf was removed.

The eighth grade has been studying the presidents in the order that they served their terms. We know 12 of them now.

The P. T. A. last Monday night was well attended. Everyone enjoyed Mrs. Gibson's short talk. Maxine Willard and June Van Meter entertained the crowd very well, indeed. The district is fortunate in having such good talent so close at hand.

The P. T. A. is planning an old fashioned hardtime Halloween party at the school house Friday evening, October 28. There will be dancing, card playing, fish pond and fortunes.

The school Citizenship club is planning to have a candy booth. The money that the P. T. A. makes from the party will go toward a sewing machine for the 4-H Sewing club.

Scouts Wash Behind Ears (That's News)

Have Fine Time In Best Hike Of The Season

Boy Scouts of Troop F-3 had one of the most enjoyable hikes of the season last week-end, members agreed after traveling to the Training School cabin.

The first dinner was an occasion for eight Scouts to pass their second class cooking and fire-building tests as each boy prepared his dinner, which in general consisted of beans or sardines.

After dinner boys divided into teams for a football game. Bill Schoop's "Hillbillies from Dogpatch" humbled Melvin Hunt's "Swamp Rats from Skunk Hollow" by a score of 38 to 6.

The boys had an after-dinner hike then wandered around the camp on affairs of their own choosing. At supper history was made when the boys carefully washed their hands and faces, even behind their ears, under threat of not getting any rice pudding for dessert.

Following supper they engaged in Indian wrestling and push-em-over-of-the-circle contests. Noel Hover, the heaviest Scout of the group, won the latter contest, and some of the contestants were sure that the big supper he'd downed helped him to win. Bill Fulton was voted the booby prize in both contests.

In the evening a game of guessing song titles was led by Don Moore, who played a few bars of each piece on his accordion. Those who guessed right received an apple and the wrong guessers received a black smudge on the face.

Harold Todd had only one mark while Junior Hines received seven.

A snipe hunt later resulted in the customary catch of the peculiar animals.

A football game the next day resulted in the Dogpatch team winning again, by a score of 12 to 0. The Scouts also entered into the spirit of the opening day of the small game and bird hunting season by flushing 10 pheasants and several rabbits.

A hornet's nest was added to the troop's nature collection along with several fungus growths and other specimens.

Fish are believed to be able to distinguish colors.

Harold E. Stoll Visits Plymouth

HAROLD E. STOLL

Harold E. Stoll, register of deeds of Wayne county, during the past few days has been calling upon his many friends in Plymouth and vicinity who are backing him for re-election to his office for another term. Mr. Stoll is fortunate in the fact that he has friends in both parties.

During five and one-half years as register of deeds he has returned to the county more than $195,000.00 in profit over and above the cost of operation of the office or almost $1,000.00 per week profit.

Economy, efficiency and courtesy are the foundation on which Mr. Stoll has successfully administered his office during three terms as register of deeds.

"Time saved is money saved" and realizing this Mr. Stoll inaugurated up-to-date business methods in the register of deeds office and as a consequence service in that office has been speeded up to such an extent that one of the lengthiest processes, that of recording a deed, has been reduced from a former period of 3 to 5 weeks to a present period of only 24 hours.

Courtesy, consideration and service is what the public has a right to expect when transacting business in a public office and that is what Mr. Stoll has insisted that his office staff give to the public at all times.

Believing his responsibilities to be more than merely the designated duties of his office, he has done all he could to improve his office and use his influence, time and money to protect and serve the public. Of outstanding value has been the publication of pamphlets, cards, etc. at his own expense, in which he uses knowledge and information at his disposal to safeguard the public against fraud in property transactions of any kind.

While his name is on the Democratic ticket, his friends predict that it will be the non-partisan voter who will be of the greatest aid to him in the forthcoming election.

Home Laundry Works For Itself

It appears there is nothing new under the sun, even with the appearance of the Bendix home laundry, which does virtually everything for the housewife, in vast quantities except the ironing. This appliance automatically soaks, washes, rinses and damp-dries the family wash ready for the line without attendance on the part of the operator.

Although the home laundry represents a great forward step in the emancipation of the housewife, it employs the time-proven mechanical features and well-known principles to be found everywhere in modern, everyday life, according to C. G. Shear, of the Plymouth Buick Sales company, local Bendix dealer.

The motor of this new home aid is of one-quarter horsepower, in conformity with many other household appliances. The thermostat circuit which automatically governs water temperature in accordance with the nature of fabrics to be washed resembles the bi-metallic strip that swells or contracts with application to heat or cold in oil burners and refrigerators. The mixing chamber in which hot and cold water are blended is similar to the ordinary shower bath adjustment.

In the home laundry the period of washing may be set automatically and the time switch governing this is comparable to the controls of a modern electric sign. The float valve regulating the flow of water is akin to that used in a flushing chamber. The solenoid valve lifting the drain follows the same principle as the magnetized coil that opens doors when a button is pressed.

Elsewhere in the home laundry may be found mechanical features common in modern life. The clutch used to change the speed of the laundry's perforated, drum-like cylinder is an over-drive type like that employed in automotive free wheeling. The discs holding the axles of the new machine resemble the wheel construction of an airplane landing gear, and a belt is used in the same manner as a fan belt in an automobile.

Religious Drama To Be Given Sunday Evening At M. E. Church

"Brothers" is the name of the drama to be presented at the Methodist church here Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. by members of the Drama club of Brightmoor Methodist church of Detroit.

The scene of the play is laid in an American home during the World War, and ten years later. The family includes Dr. Blake and his wife, their daughter, two sons, one of whom enlists with his buddy, Marjory's fiance, Bertram, the younger brother, is too young to go; but in the years that follow, it turns out that he remembers, perhaps better than any of the rest, what the war has meant and what it has cost. A touch of humor comes through the presence in the home of old Uncle Peter, a Civil War veteran, with his stories of Civil War days. From first to last, the play presents a vivid and gripping picture of the actual relationships that are faced and met when war occurs.

The cast, which includes four members of the club who appeared here last spring in the drama "Smoke," is as follows:

Dr. Blake, M. S. Ludwig; Mrs. Blake, Mrs. Osborn; Marjory, the daughter, Miss Vera Walker; Alan, Robert Goudie; Bertram, the boy, Donald Gibson; Bertram, the man, Alden Brown; Jim, Marjory's fiance, Eugene Buckley; Uncle Peter, Frank Brown; and The Honorable Cecil Duxbury, Nathan Bennett.

Tibbett At Ann Arbor Oct. 27

LAWRENCE TIBBETT

Lawrence Tibbett, baritone, distinguished in opera, concert, and motion pictures, will make his fifth appearance in Ann Arbor when he opens the Sixtieth Annual Choral Union concert series on the evening of October 27, according to Charles A. Sink, president of the university school of music.

Mr. Tibbett will be followed on November 7 by Arthur Rodzinski, leading the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra. On November 22, Jose Iturbi, pianist, will appear in recital; and on November 30, Kirsten Fagstad will come to Ann Arbor for the third time. The pre-holiday portion of the series will be brought to a close on December 7, when the Boston Symphony Orchestra will make its thirteenth appearance in Ann Arbor. It will be led by Serge Koussevitzky.

After the holidays, musical activities will resume on January 10, when Josef Hefmann will appear in recital. On January 25, the Budapest University Chorus under Viktor Vaszy will be heard. Yehudi Menuhin will appear in recital on February 15; and on February 27, Gregor Platigorsky, violin cellist, will come to Ann Arbor for the third time. The pre-festival series will be closed on March 9, when the Roth String Quartet of Budapest will be heard.

The May Festival will take place during the four days, May 10, 11, 12 and 13. Six concerts will be provided. The Philadelphia orchestra will come for the fourth consecutive year. It will be under the baton of Eugene Ormandy, who made so profound an impression at the past two years. The University Choral Union under Earl V. Moore will also be heard, as will the Young People's Festival Chorus of several hundred students from the schools of Ann Arbor. Negotiations are pending with a list of distinguished soloists, both instrumental and vocal.

China is so vast a domain a worm can go thousands of miles inland to turn.

FRACTIONAL HEALTH

(By O. F. Beyer, of Beyer Drugs)

To estimate the number of persons that know, through one or more manifestations, something is amiss in their bodies, and yet do nothing about it, would be merely hazarding a guess.

Many conclude that they are at least eighty-five or ninety percent healthy, and consider the fractional balance is not a matter of great concern, while, as a matter of fact, even a one per cent disorder may insidiously, or otherwise, increase to a degree where healing measures of the doctor of medicine are permanently hindered.

The joys of life are measured by the unmistakable exuberance of perfect health—not eighty-five or ninety per cent health.

The one man who can aid you in the restoration of that ten or fifteen per cent is the efficient doctor of medicine; and you can help him in bringing about the desired condition by your careful choice of a druggist to fill his prescriptions—if medicine is necessary.

Benton To Tell Of The Townsend Plan

On Monday evening, October 24 at 8:00 p.m. in the Grange hall W. A. Benton of Detroit will explain the most important advantages embodied in the Townsend Plan for all the young people as well as those on up to 60 years of age and over.

The youth of the nation should especially study and become a part of this great movement and help to put over the program which the Townsend National Recovery Plan organization is advocating, declares Clarence Pan-kow.

Young people all over the country are forming their own clubs as they study conditions and see the need for this plan of Dr. Townsend's, he says.

Samuel Backus, Democratic candidate for congress in the 17th district will also be present Monday evening.

MY FLAG

What is back of it? When you've taken off your hat to the flag—have you ever tried to see the long line of folk who made it possible?

Think a moment! Under the flag, government by the people first grew. Every brave man who struggled for liberty in civilization has given something to make such a flag possible. The builders of the pyramids who also built our alphabet—the thinking Greeks whose Lemnians with a handful of picked fighters, held the Persians at bay at Thermopylae long enough to save European civilization. The Romans and their laws and citizenship wherever Caesar's Legions went; the brave Von Winkelried, the Swiss patriot who opened for his comrades a hole in the line of Austrian spears by gathering an armload into his own breast—these men unknowingly were making America's ideals possible.

The "Magna Charta" which the English barons with swords in hand forced King John to sign—this gave us freedom from unlawful treatment and fixed our rights of trial by jury.

Columbus, facing a trackless sea—storms without mutiny within! Captain John Smith of the Virginia colonies, saved by Pocahontas from naturally hostile Indians; the Mayflower with its Puritans; the Catholic settlers in Maryland; the French priests from Canada to the Gulf, the Huguenots in the South; the Quakers in Pennsylvania—all these have helped to build, as more recent millions, the America our flag represents.

Excellent Service — We Deliver

It looks like Five Years from Now!

THE vast Buick factory is a grand place to visit, these days. Down the roaring aisles, throughout the sprawling bays there's a feeling of great things happening. They're building something ultra, here at Buick, and they know it. It looks like five years from now, they'll say of this dazzling 1939 Buick, and they're not talking of appearance only. They're talking of "catwalk-cooling" that floods air under forced draft to ease the temperature of your engine. They're talking of BuicOil springing and the soft shock-smothering spirals that give you the true "full float" ride. They're talking of that Dynaflex great eight engine, instant with life and wringing good from every drop of fuel. They're talking of wheels that camber to let you take the curves more safely—of new visibility—up to 413 square inches more glass in SPECIAL and CENTURY models. They're talking a thousand and one details of Buick that you'll never know nor need to know but that to their schooled eyes spell a better built automobile. You can see this car they're talking of at the nearest Buick showroom. When you do see it, think of what the men who built it are saying, not boastfully, but with quiet sureness. They know. And they're saying, "Looks fine for '39!"

Red Rocks Defeat Undeclared Dundee, 19-0

Red was the color instead of the customary blue and white. The Red Rock gridders went out after blood and got it. They conquered the blue and white, undefeated Dundee eleven, by the score of 19-0. Plymouth's plays were mostly line bucks and end around runs.

The first quarter totaled the home team 11 points. Plymouth kicked off to Dundee, who after a first down and a five-yard penalty was forced to punt. On the first play a Plymouth griddler clipped and was penalized 15 yards. Leach then put his toe to the ball and it bounded out to the opponents' 25-yard stripe. Dundee started a march which netted a first down on a line buck and an end around run. Hitt dashed up, intercepted a pass, twisted and turned for 27 yards, and was finally dropped on the Dundee 6-yard marker. Gettleson, after a line smash to the 4-yard stripe, took the ball back and around to the 10-yard line. The point was converted by a pass to Prough. Plymouth to Dundee's 25. Dundee punted to their own 44. Plymouth's ball; Prough gained 18 yards on an end around. Joffile netted 11 more yards on a punt. The ball was again put in scoring position by Gettleson on the 10-yard stripe. The quarter ended with Plymouth leading by seven points.

The teams changed ends with the ball on Dundee's 10-yard mark and Plymouth's 10-yard mark. A line buck took the pigskin to the one-yard line where Ross pushed the ball over for the six points. The kick for the point was blocked. The rest of the first quarter was a punt, followed by Plymouth receiving a 15-yard penalty for holding. Dundee was backed to her one-yard line but punted to safety. The whistle blew for the half with Dundee trailing by 13 points.

In the second half Plymouth kicked a 20-yard field goal. Following plays were incomplete passes with the Rocks intercepting a pass. After receiving a 15-yard penalty, Plymouth punted out on the Dundee 30. The out-of-control fumbled the pigskin and Plymouth received on the Dundee 25-yard line. Prough took the ball to the 7-yard stripe where Leach bucked and plunged barely over the line. The touchdown was disputed but the officials decided that the ball was carried over fairly. The point after the touchdown was again blocked. Plymouth kicked off to 20, and the ball was returned ten yards to the Dundee 30. Dundee promptly took the ball to Plymouth's 37-yard mark. Ross netted nine yards after which Baker, substituting for Leach, jumped the line for a first down. At the point the third quarter came undramatically to an end.

The fourth period was a punt duel. With the ball in Plymouth's possession on the Dundee 49-yard stripe, two incomplete passes forced Ross to punt out on the 3-yard line. Dundee booted the pigskin to their own 40 after a first down and an incomplete pass. Plymouth relinquished the ball on downs. Ross intercepted a pass on his own 35 but was dropped on the 40-yard stripe. The next play ended the game as Plymouth's 37-yard mark. Dundee eleven, their first defeat in three years, by the handsome score of 19-0.

The starting lineup: Dundee Joffile LE, Boldt Krumm LG, Lorenz LT, Keinhart Curtiss C, Austin Olson RG, Sontor Darnell RT, Steimor Prough RE, Murdock Ross Q, Halle Hitt LH, Roland Gettleson RH, Leach F, Beasley Referee: J. Kazusky; umpire: E. Vick.

Substitutes: Plymouth—Erdelyi, Dunlap, Biall, Hall, Scappula, Baker, Klotz, Matis, Herter, and Petroszewsky; for Dundee: Kruger, Rathke, Martin, and Mathes.

Classes for beginners will be given every second week alternating with the dances for the students as a whole. The new dances will be taught the steps by the sponsors. FORMER P. H. STER WINS BERTH ON WAYNE UNIVERSITY STAFF

Miss Marilyn Holton, former student of Plymouth high school, who is now attending Wayne University, has succeeded in becoming a "regular" of Wayne's paper, the Detroit Collegian. Miss Holton won a scholarship to Wayne mainly because of her work in debate while attending Plymouth high. Marilyn is also working on debate for the university.

TEACHERS TO ATTEND DISTRICT INSTITUTE NEXT THURSDAY IN DEARBORN

In accordance with Michigan school law, every county is entitled to an annual county teachers' institute and a provision of the constitution of the Michigan Education association provides that every school system having 100 teachers or more may establish a district of the Michigan Education association. Since the faculty of Plymouth scarcely approaches the century mark, the outer belt schools have combined their numbers under the name of the Wayne county district in the Michigan Education association. There is to be an all-day institute of the members of the Wayne county district at the Calvin theatre in Dearborn on Thursday, October 27, beginning at 8:00 a. m. The program will be an address entitled "The New Technique of Living," by Miss Phyllis Bottome, who has written many books of note among which were "The Reservoir of Private Worlds," "The Advance of Harriet," and "Strange Fruit."

To determine the general consensus of opinion among the local teachers a vote was taken Monday night to decide whether the faculty would take their day off to attend this institute or to attend the Schoolmasters' club in the spring at Ann Arbor. The outcome of the vote was that the majority favored the district institute in order to uphold their local organization.

LOCAL BOYS TELL OF THEIR IDEAL

"Boo hoo! I haven't got a boy friend," cried Sally. "All the other girls have dates while I sit at home." Perhaps Sally would feel better if she read the opinions of a number of local high school boys who recently named their ideal characteristics in their liked best in a girl. She could make a check-up of herself and probably improve. Ten boys submitted their opinions and the most popular trait was neatness. Seven out of ten named neatness while six wanted their girl friends good-looking and five thought a pleasing personality was important. Courtesy was named by three boys and good nature and blonde hair tied in two. Among the others were friendliness, love for fun, and sensible.

Ten out of 14 girls wanted their boy friends to be courteous. A good sense of humor ranks second highest followed by athletic neatness and an all-around good sport. Others named were a love of fun, good personality, practicability, and a nice dancer. The most important of either group can be easily obtained with a little effort. A pleasing personality, neatness, a sense of humor and courtesy are traits that are not only necessary in high school life but they will be necessary for our future lives as well. High school age is the time to develop these worth-while characteristics.

JUNIOR LEADERS' CLUB ELECTS STUART PRESIDENT

At the Junior Leaders' club election held Tuesday, October 11, at noon, Iona Stuart was elected president, Marion Gordon, vice-president, and Dorothy Rowland secretary-treasurer. The club is composed of girls from the seventh and eighth grades and its aim is practically the same as that of Senior Leaders' club, which is mainly officiating at noon games. New members largely made up the club this year. They are Norma Jean Bauman, Dorothy Carter, Annabelle Heller, Irene Niepold, Dorothy Rowland, Mary Margaret Stout, Irene Engelson, Barbara Martin, Lila Mungler, Velda Rorabacher, Elizabeth Horvath, and Dorothy Smith.

PEACE! IS IT TEMPORARY OR LASTING?—EDITORIAL

In the past few weeks we have seen a crisis arise over a matter so trivial that it seemed scarcely worth considering at the time. We have seen it settled by a four-power conference at Munich; but we are wondering whether or not this peace is to be lasting. While everyone gave a sigh of relief at the news that the war was averted, all must look beyond the present. Questions that were on everyone's tongue when the last crisis arose seemed to be answered when the four powers signed a satisfactory agreement. But how can we expect to avert war when we wait until a situation arises and then trust to luck that it will be settled?

Nearly everyone at the present blames Hitler for the last crisis when he disengaged as to the way he was to occupy Czechoslovakia. The present unrest in the world is attributed to Hitler. If one wants to see what Hitler will do next, use his famous book, "Mein Kampf" for reference. All of the things he has taken thus far are following directly the outline of his book that he wrote while in prison. Things that are yet to be fulfilled according to his book are:

- To get back the lost German colonies in Africa and the Pacific.
- To keep France helpless, while winning Britain as a potential ally or at least neutral.
- To "liberate" the German speaking populations in countries of important German minorities such as Switzerland, the Netherlands, and Denmark.
- To invade the Ukraine, make war on the Soviet Union, and crush communism at its source with the aid of Japan.

The next step that Hitler takes may be any of these inasmuch as all the steps he has taken so far are following the outline of "Mein Kampf." If we wish to avert another crisis like the one just passed, the major powers must be prepared for action and not wait until peace is a matter of Lady Luck's smile. Watch Hitler! He will fulfill his desires as long as he can gain what he wishes without a war until he is prepared for it.

Is this peace temporary or lasting? It will be temporary as long as the powers continue in the same rut and style as they have done in the past. The countries mainly concerned can make peace lasting if they wish to. Let us hope that they do.

SQUAD FOR RIVER ROUGE DEBATE SELECTED

In an effort to select the three necessary speakers for the negative team to represent Plymouth in the forthcoming debate with River Rouge an elimination speaking contest was held Thursday, October 13. The speakers were Virginia Rock, Robert Daniels, James Leo Schmitz, Phyllis Hawkins, Glorieta Galloway, James Buckerman, Marvin Hauk and Doris Buzzard. The best given topics dealing with phases of the proposed alliance with Great Britain, the debate topic for this year. The speeches were six minutes in length.

Each speaker was supposed to take his assigned topic, build a case, and present it, present it, and prove it.

Mr. Smith, superintendent of schools, and James Latture, coach of debate, collaborated in their opinions and after much discussion selected Doris Buzzard, Marvin Hauk and James Leo Schmitz. The debate will be held on October 26 at 7:30 o'clock. The Plymouth team will be upholding the negative side of the question.

Two veterans of River Rouge team, Willard Adams and Ernest Pacheco, will be on the team again this year.

Doris Buzzard and Marvin Hauk were on the local team last year.

The River Rouge debate will be held Tuesday, October 15, here in the grade school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. The Plymouth team will be upholding the negative side of the question.

A GIRL ATTENDING THE DUNDEE GAME

She dashes from the school at 3:35 with the gang that has talked her into giving them a ride down to the park. Piled in the car she puts her mind half on her driving and half on the conversation about what kind of team Dundee has this year. Arriving at the bridge, she slows down to show, but steps it up when someone asks her to. Having parked the car and found a bleacher seat right behind the team, she looks around for the girl friend whom she was to meet. Seeing her standing at the end of the bleachers she proceeds to stand up and holler to come over and sit by her. She is answered by someone in back commanding, "Down in front." "Thanks she'll watch the game for awhile. Upon viewing the active eleven she is rather disgusted to see they have red jerseys on not that she doesn't think they're cute, but how can she tell which is the boy friend with no number on the back?

Time out is called and she thinks about time for a yell. Those boys are the slowest things getting out and leading a yell. Now if they had girl cheer leaders—a cheer leader comes out and she proceeds to exercise her lungs with the rest of the spectators on a long OOO! cheer, being pestered by classmates to buy a hot-dog she gives in. The girl friend comes over and they ask the people to move along please to make room for her to sit down. Being settled, she remarks what a swell tackle Prough made in the second inning. She doesn't seem to remember it but asks if she has seen the good looking halfback on Dundee's team.

The boys coach calls the boy friend name and watches the former giving him instructions. Pays very close attention to the game for the next ten minutes. Wonders what the boy in back meant by "That was a bad end-around play. Fine! But she wasn't talking about football."

The crowd commences to cheer so she joins in thinking it was about time Plymouth made a touchdown. Finds out later it was only a first down they were in. The Hitts take a few minutes on what a fast down is, and consoles herself thinking not everyone knows everything about football. The whistle blows for the half and she and the girl friend walk over to the car to fix their hair and smear more paint on.

Back at the field she dives into a long story about last night's date. This finished she remembers she is at a football game and asks the boy in back what the score is. Puts half her mind on the game and half wondering what she'll wear to the dance tonight and if the boy friend will get the car. Buys a candy and glances over to see if the kids that want a ride home are near, joins in with the crowd chanting "Block that kick." Watches the next two plays and begins to enjoy the game when the final whistle blows. Asks someone what the score is and then tears home through the park with a car full of screaming kids and the horn blasting as loud as possible. Swell game!

HONOR ROLL RESULTS

The honor roll lists just issued show that the girls of Plymouth high school are either more studious or more intelligent. They will probably argue for the latter but the boys will disagree for they mature more slowly. In the senior class the girls make up 85 per cent of the honor roll. The eighth grade ranks second with 83 per cent of the honor roll made up of girls.

The rest of the classes rank as follows:

Freshmen—75 per cent girls; Sophomores, 73 1/2 per cent girls; Juniors, 70 per cent girls; Seventh grade, 66 2/3 per cent girls.

These percentages show that the differences between senior girls and boys is greater than between seventh grade boys and girls.

The most intelligent class seems to be the sophomores with 16 and one-half percent on the honor roll. Second place is awarded to the seniors with 13.6 per cent on the honor roll. The other classes follow: Juniors—12.9 per cent. Eighth grade—10.3 per cent. Seventh grade—6.3 per cent. Freshmen—6.1 per cent.

Most of us know that the honor roll is a list of those students whose marks on their report cards are 85 or better. An equals 85 to 100 per cent and is "excellent"; a B equals 80 to 84 per cent and is "very good." Many students receive C's which are considered "good" but do not enable the student to be on the honor roll. On the present honor roll list the high school has 177 A's and 253 B's. It has been computed that only 12 per cent of the Plymouth high school students are on the honor roll.

PLYMOUTH DROPS HARRIERS' MEET TO ROUGE

In a three-team meet at Wayne, last Friday in which Wayne ran against River Rouge and the latter against Plymouth, the Rocks' harriers lost their first meet of the season to Rouge by only six points with the score 25-31. In the race between Wayne and River Rouge the latter lost a little of its glory by being beaten by the score of 25-26.

Plymouth did very well over the mile and three-quarter course considering that their star was not running and that this is the first time most of the team have ever run in competition with other schools. The boys' time and positions are as follows: P. Harshen, second, time 9:51; R. Marshall, third, time 9:53; E. Keller, sixth, time 10:05; H. Wilson, ninth, time 10:36; and F. Potts, eleventh, time 10:44.

The local freshmen 11 battled for naught with Farmington's junior high school Thursday, October 13, as the game concluded in a scoreless tie. Farmington threatened but once, this time by a punt. The Farmington miniature griders worked their way up to Plymouth's 2-yard line, but the Rockettes held their own for four downs. They then gained the ball and Captain Bill Slater, freshman quarterback, kicked a 20-yard field goal. The game was an air-tight battle all the way.

The team, which consists mainly of eighth-graders but includes seventh and ninth graders, is coached by Mr. Sutherland. Lack of suits compelled some of the boys to stay out of the game, but this will probably be remedied later.

YUGOSLAVIAN HANDWORK ON DISPLAY HERE

The old saying, "A woman's work is never done," holds true with bitter irony in the country of Yugoslavia. The women there work all day as dressmakers or as field hands for 20 dinars a day, which would be about enough to buy a pound of sugar in our country. A single dinar is worth about two and three-fourths cents in American money.

Several pieces of Yugoslavian handwork have been on display in the various rooms in the high school during the week. These are all hand made and complete to the smallest detail. The clothing and decorations are crocheted by hand. Many, many tedious days of work were required to finish the gifts in time for them to go to friends and relatives in America.

ROCKS MEET WAYNE ON GRIDIRON HERE TODAY

Today Plymouth will meet Wayne, here, for the annual battle. For the last two years the battles between these two schools have been fierce with close scores. Last year Plymouth won 6-2 and the year before played to a tie. Plymouth will be outweighed but has a better showing in the past schedule. The line-up will include Dunham or Curtiss at center; Lorenz, Olson, Thams or Petroszewski at guard; Krumm, Darnell, Hull, or Erdelyi as tackles; Joffile, Prough, Birchall or Sessions at ends; Ross or Herter at quarterback; Gettleson, Hitt, Wilson or Scappula as halfbacks; and Baker, Leach or Maxcy at fullback.

WOOL-GATHERING

(by Pansy the Poetess)

As I sat there in school day
A little mouse peeked out at me
From underneath a stool.
His pointed nose and sharp black eyes
So plainly I could see
That as I sat there looking,
I thought he smiled at me.
Of course I wasn't certain,
'Cause I heard somebody say,
'Wake up you lazy scholar.'
And scared the mouse away.

MR. LOVITT TO TEACH G. B.'S AND HI-Y DANCING

All members of the Senior Girl Reserves and Hi-Y now have an opportunity to learn to dance, learn new steps in ballroom etiquette. Mr. Lovitt, from Dearborn, is the instructor who started the class off yesterday, but for the next four Thursdays from 11:45 to 12:25 student instructors will take over the class. It will be the place of the regular meetings of these groups for five weeks and we hope all members will cooperate and take advantage of this offer. Every member is urged to bring his lunch and take part.

GOOFY GATHERINGS

One of the biggest surprises this school ever received, we believe was when Jim Stevens got on the honor roll. Have you a secret? How did you do it?

News reached us recently that Kye Moon's father likes to call her "Small Fry," My, My!

When we stopped to think of it, Miss Lundin teaches some boy-crazy girls, doesn't she? She teaches "H. E."

Harold Fischer seemed to be a bit mixed in American history the other day. Hitler's book named "By Battle" Harold called "My Struggle." We'll let you write that one, Harold.

On the subject of movies we hear that Elmer Kroeger is interested in the Jones family, (or is it just one member?)

Mr. Evans says a good barometer is a good weather prognosticator. A bad barometer means bad weather.

We dedicate this week's poem to Miss Fiegel.
It ain't no fun
If you can't chew gum.

THAT INTERLUDE TOY—THE YO-YO

The annual Yo-Yo craze has hit Plymouth in customary good form. Past experts are brushing up on old tricks and thinking of new. Even the corner hitchhiker has a yo-yo describing various flamboyant gyrastics from his fingers. Everywhere we see these streamlined tops manned by seniors and second graders alike. A miniature edition offered the minors who would be in the latest style. A usually sedate teacher was seen recently endeavoring to make a Yo-Yo sleep.

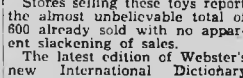

The Yo-Yo is warranted to keep on the hand in the pink of condition, as those attempting to perform on one will agree. This toy can be had in all of the latest colors. Some performers have reached a surprising degree of accuracy, being able to control the gadget at will. In fact, some are so expert as to miss a vital part of one's anatomy by fractions of inches.

Stores selling these toys report the almost unbelievable total of Yo-Yos sold with no apparent slackening of sales.

The latest edition of Webster's new International Dictionary deigns to stoop to include the Yo-Yo in its pretentious pages. Its definition, with strings attached of course, follows: Yo-Yo "A spherical top attached to the operator's finger by a cord looped around its grooved middle. By running the top up or down the cord, it may be made to assume various diverting motions and positions." In some cases the motions and positions which the Yo-Yo assumes are diverting enough to turn the average student's mind to lighter and more carefree thoughts than study. The author of this definition little guessed the full import of his words.

In years gone by our fathers played with a similar toy and thought they were abreast of the times. Today on a much more greatly commercialized basis we work the Yo-Yo to be in the latest fad. In years to come there will undoubtedly be the aforesaid Yo-Yo to cast at least one shadow upon the school teacher's peace of mind.

There is but one question which through all the years has remained unanswered: What satisfaction can anyone derive from making a Yo-Yo move up and down a string?

Getting Old? Never! ROMEO—Soft living is not the way to keep healthy; at least that is what Mrs. Helen Timma seems to believe. She recently celebrated her 98th birthday in the following manner: early, assisted with housework; picked three bushels of apples; prepared supper for the family; retired after greeting friends.

Elsa Maxwell Next On Town Hall Series

Elsa Maxwell, America's number one hostess and "giving" who speaks at Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher theatre Wednesday, October 26, at 11 o'clock, is perhaps the most talked-about personality in society today.

A small-town girl from California with an incomparable talent for making friends and keeping them, Elsa is distinguished for her friendships with princes and paupers and with most common and uncommon people; for her dominating role in the social life on both sides of the Atlantic and her own talent as pianist and composer.

She is most famous for her original parties where big business rubs shoulders with royalty and the members of America's oldest families cavort with stars in all fields. Her only philosophy is "Let's have fun."

She has watched royal princes, grand dukes, movie stars and vaudeville hoofers scurry for first prize in a treasure hunt. She has captivated the Bernard Shaw with her brittle wit. She has known and entertained a host of dignitaries, and made them forget their dignity and really enjoy themselves.

In her Town Hall subject, "To-day Society is Different," Miss Maxwell will discuss the radical changes in American society since the days of Ward McAllister and the part she herself played in this change. She promised to be unsparring and frank in her criticism of the social leaders of yesterday and today, a promise which may mean fireworks, for Elsa's actions are as unpredictable as her parties.

Since the people have voted twice to keep Uncle Sam out of the League of Nations, it would be humiliating to find him crawling under the tent.

Predict Good Deer Hunting

Although the 1938 deer season does not open until November 15, one of the most frequent inquiries being received by the department of conservation these days is: What are the prospects?

That, like the stock summer fishery, is a question which conservation officers are cautious about answering, for the reason there is no means of guaranteeing any hunter a kill.

Nevertheless, information which the game division of the department has accumulated on hand bears directly on the question of how good are the chances for getting a buck this year.

Estimates made on the basis of deer census drives and reports from hunters and from other sources indicate that Michigan now has more than a million deer including about 600,000 does, 450,000 fawns and 150,000 bucks. Estimates indicate slightly less than 100,000 important deer in the lower peninsula and about 900,000 in the lower peninsula.

Although the record of kill is not believed exact in all cases, due partly to the fact that it was not until last year that hunters were required by law to report their kill, an important part in the number of bucks shot during the last three years are: 1935—30,000; 1936—31,000; 1937—40,000. The number of deer hunters licensed in 1937 was 157,349.

The number of deer in Michigan in the present time exceeds that of any other time in the history of the area, consequently hunting should be good in fact, it may be better than it will be in the future since the feeding conditions which have played such an important part in building up a tremendous deer herd are becoming less instead of more suitable. Hunters' luck, however, influenced as it is by weather conditions is difficult to predict. Good tracking snow, which weather with a quiet trail or snappy crackling foot may spell the difference between success and failure for many hunters this year as it has many years in the past.

No one can make us believe that designers of millinery haven't been on vacation for many months. It is too evident that the current women's hats are entirely unprejudiced.

Your Michigan—And Mine

Spring in The Fall

CARO—Spring may be apple blossom season, but nevertheless there is an apple tree near this city that was in full bloom in September. A 10-year-old Sweet Bough owned by Wesley Towns of Reese has produced this phenomenon for a second year. It bore a heavy crop of apples in August.

And More Spring

BAD AXE—Late in September, when most people are picking their raspberries in cans, James Richardson was picking them from his own bushes. The berries were larger than the first picking early in the year.

It's Tall Here, Too

JONESVILLE—"Out where the tall corn grows" may mean Michigan as well as Iowa. An 11-foot stalk of the Red Cob variety was cut this fall by Alton Morgan. It had four well-filled ears and two starters on the stalk. The corn was grown for ensilage.

History of The Diamond

CRYSTAL FALLS—That people of this city have been baseball enthusiasts since "way back was proven recently when Andy Skovera discovered a 51-year-old ticket while remodeling his house. The ticket was for a dance in the village opera house, July 26, 1887. The National league was 11 years old then, and the American league didn't exist.

Baby's Crying Welcomed

HARTFORD—Here's a time when a family was fortunate that its baby cried in the night. Mr. and Mrs. George Duwell owe their life to the cries of their two-year-old daughter. When they got up to investigate, they found their home on fire. They escaped just before the walls fell in.

Teacher's Pet?

COLOMA—A couple of apples that would gladden the heart of any lad who wants to make an impression on his teacher were brought to the Courier office here recently by Marion Potter. Each weighed one and one-fourth pounds, both measured over four and one-half inches in diameter, and one measured 15 inches in circumference.

Predict Good Deer Hunting

Although the 1938 deer season does not open until November 15, one of the most frequent inquiries being received by the department of conservation these days is: What are the prospects?

That, like the stock summer fishery, is a question which conservation officers are cautious about answering, for the reason there is no means of guaranteeing any hunter a kill.

Nevertheless, information which the game division of the department has accumulated on hand bears directly on the question of how good are the chances for getting a buck this year.

Estimates made on the basis of deer census drives and reports from hunters and from other sources indicate that Michigan now has more than a million deer including about 600,000 does, 450,000 fawns and 150,000 bucks. Estimates indicate slightly less than 100,000 important deer in the lower peninsula and about 900,000 in the lower peninsula.

Although the record of kill is not believed exact in all cases, due partly to the fact that it was not until last year that hunters were required by law to report their kill, an important part in the number of bucks shot during the last three years are: 1935—30,000; 1936—31,000; 1937—40,000. The number of deer hunters licensed in 1937 was 157,349.

The number of deer in Michigan in the present time exceeds that of any other time in the history of the area, consequently hunting should be good in fact, it may be better than it will be in the future since the feeding conditions which have played such an important part in building up a tremendous deer herd are becoming less instead of more suitable. Hunters' luck, however, influenced as it is by weather conditions is difficult to predict. Good tracking snow, which weather with a quiet trail or snappy crackling foot may spell the difference between success and failure for many hunters this year as it has many years in the past.

No one can make us believe that designers of millinery haven't been on vacation for many months. It is too evident that the current women's hats are entirely unprejudiced.

THE WELFARE ACT.

At the state election which will take place on November 8, the voters will be asked to reject or approve one of the most important questions submitted to the electors in years.

The surprising thing about it all is the fact that with less than a month before election, there has been little, if any discussion of such an important question. Proponents of the measure, most of whom expect to retain present welfare positions if the act should be approved, are about the only ones who have said much about it. Naturally they are for it.

Because of this fact, and because the question is so complicated and involved that the average person has not the time to analyze it and discover its real purposes, it is essential that certain important facts about the measure be given to the public.

There has been considerable stress given by the advocates of these laws to the provisions providing for the financing of future welfare activities.

In some propaganda issued by the Michigan Municipal League a few days ago there was put forth a purely speculative and misleading set of figures based upon assumption as to some sort of a guess-work proposal for future distribution of welfare funds.

There is no need to consider this statement or any other theory that might be advanced.

What does the law provide? It is proposed that the state commission shall consist of five members, serving staggered terms so that no one state administration can ever make a complete change of the personnel of the commission.

This commission will have absolute control over more funds than all of the other agencies of the state government combined. Michigan has never seen fit to give to the state department of education complete control over all funds used for educational purposes. Neither has the legislature ever delegated to any other branch of the state government so much authority to use its own discretion with handling such a vast sum of money as it is proposed this commission shall control.

No one knows just how much money these five men will have under their absolute control. Based upon figures for the last two or three years it will certainly not be less than $35,000,000 and it may go as high as $60,000,000 or more.

Mind you, no matter what may be the administration in the use of this money, it is a dangerous thing for the state to delegate to one commission which is beyond the reach of the people such absolute control over such a vast sum of money.

There has been no discussion of the provision of the law upon which is based the distribution of the funds to the various counties, except the "assumptive" figures used by the Michigan Municipal league, based entirely upon a guess-work premise of its own creation.

Section 17 of the act creating the state commission says that "on the basis of showings made to the commission * * * distribution to each county * * * shall be in an amount not less than that expended * * * for general public welfare, exclusive of state and federal funds, during the previous month."

What does this poorly drafted, complicated and somewhat misleading section mean?

Simply this; that each county will receive from the state only an amount of money to match that which has already been expended by the county for welfare.

According to the report of the state emergency welfare commission for the year 1937, Wayne county spent $4,125,502 of its own money for welfare purposes.

It is the intent of the new law that counties shall receive no more from state and federal funds than the amount raised and spent in the county from its own funds.

How can the counties of the state raise funds to match federal and state funds?

In just one way—levy additional taxes upon real estate and personal property.

Last year, according to the same welfare department report, Wayne county received from federal and state funds a total of $5,974,455. Under the new law, in order to secure that amount of money for welfare and mothers' pensions, it would be necessary to raise by TAXATION upon real estate nearly $2,000,000 more than was paid by the county last year.

The state pays its share of welfare funds out of the general fund. The general fund is made up chiefly of money collected by the sales tax.

Here we have the same taxpayers paying into the state's general fund, by means of a sales tax, the state's share of the appropriation for welfare, and the same taxpayers paying their county share to the county treasurer by taxation upon their homes, farms and personal property.

The statement has been made that the new law will relieve the taxpayers of paying their share of the county levy for mothers' pensions. Such an idea can only be created as a result of the poor and misleading construction of the act. The same taxpayers will pay for it, just exactly as they have in the past. The money will come out of the sales tax and real estate tax.

The new law dumps into the general welfare administration puddle, the widowed mothers who are now doing a splendid job of raising their children without the stigma of constant welfare department supervision. That is the chief change as it pertains to the mothers' pension administration. It takes away from them all of the dignified benefits that prevail under the old law. Not once in the 25 years of administration by the probate judges of the mothers' pensions has there ever been a hint of graft. Can the same thing be said of the welfare administration?

There are many other important phases of these laws which are entirely escaping public notice.

One of these is the provision which will require such institutions as the Sarah Fisher home, the Methodist Home for Children, the Felician Sisters and all other charitable and religious organizations caring for children, to secure a state license in order to carry on their work.

Can any one tell why such a wonderful institution as Villa St. Felix, erected and maintained near this city by the Felician Sisters to provide a home for and to educate and rear orphaned girls into splendid womanhood, should be required to be licensed by the state before it can continue such beneficial charitable work?

Can any one tell why St. Felix should be subjected to persistent and regular "inspection" by state political job holders at any time and under conditions specified by some state agency?

What will be the provisions set up by the state board under which licenses for these institutions can be secured? What will be the annual or monthly state fee to secure such a license?

Even the charitable homes maintained for aged people, such as the Masonic home at Alma, for aged members of the lodge, will fall under the domination of state inspection, under such "rules and regulations" as the state board may set up. What is to prevent the state, under this law, from putting its own supervisors in charge of these places, thereby making more political jobs?

Irrespective of what the advocates of these measures say, we are, in one quick step, immediately "Hitlerizing" the great state of Michigan. If you question the accuracy of this statement, just read paragraph (E) of Section 13 of the state law setting up the state department of public assistance.

Section 13 in part reads: "The department shall have and be vested with the following additional powers and duties: (E) To visit, INSPECT and LICENSE persons, societies, organizations, associations or corporations engaged in the business of receiving, maintaining or placing out children; boarding homes for children; and maternity and lying-in hospitals, in accordance with the laws of this state"; etc.

It will be noted that there are no exceptions under this law. All charitable, fraternal and church organizations are included.

Permit one to ask, what have the good people, who are devoting their lives to the rearing of needy, orphaned and homeless boys and girls, done that they should now be LICENSED by the state and subjected to regular inspection in order to continue their work for humanity?

There is but one answer—and that answer is found in the persistent desire of a certain few to place under state domination all religious and charitable institutions of all kinds, and create more political jobs for the taxpayers to support.

The claim is made that the act will provide "home rule" in the administration of these new welfare laws. That claim, except for Wayne county, is absolutely incorrect. Wayne county, in paragraph two of Section 5 of the act creating the various county commissions for Michigan, is provided the "home rule" that all other counties in the state are denied.

Amendments that the writer prepared which would have given "home rule" to all counties were rejected by the house legislative committee on welfare and they were also rejected later on the floor of the house under "unit" rule voting which prohibited many opposed to the measure from voting as they really believed.

There is no "home rule" in the welfare act, except for Wayne county. But even for Wayne county, the state commission will control the welfare purse strings.

If there had been proper consideration of these acts during the last session of the legislature, with intelligent discussion of the various provisions and a pro-public disposition prevailing upon the part of certain members of the legislature, these major defects could have been eliminated at that time. There were no public hearings and amendments were quickly rejected.

There is no objection to any proposed consolidation of welfare activities. It is necessary and it should be done.

But the contents of the measures that have been enacted to bring about this purpose are so generally obnoxious to the public, once they are fully understood, that they should be overwhelmingly defeated. If this is done, the next legislature can very quickly enact a welfare consolidation act that will meet with general public approval.

Vote "NO," by all means, on question No. 4 on the ballot.

WHO WANTS WHEAT?

The farm plan is also in trouble about wheat. Unlike cotton it has not lost its foreign market, providing the price can be made cheap enough abroad. So, just because it is the cheapest way out, the government proposes to subsidize foreign wheat shipments, and pocket the loss. The foreigners will then buy the wheat cheaper than the price in the domestic market.—Fred Keister in The Ionia County News.

BANNING TRUCKS ON HOLIDAYS

There is considerable discussion of the question of limiting the use of highways by trucks on holidays and certain hours on Sunday. In Wisconsin, trucks are not permitted on the roads between 1:00 and 11:00 p.m. on Saturdays and between 9:00 a.m. and midnight, on Sunday. Minnesota has somewhat similar regulations and other states are looking into the advisability of such regulation.

The basis advanced for the ban is that it will promote safety on the highway. Some opposition is expressed by farmers who fear that the regulation will hamper the use of trucks to transport their produce. This objection is met by the proposal to except trucks carrying milk and perishable foodstuffs from the restriction.

Whether such a ban is wise, or not, is a matter of opinion. Whether it will injure legitimate business interest remains to be seen when it gets into general operation.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

That Broken-Neck Look

This happened to a brother optometrist and I learned a lesson from it—so may you.

She was the librarian of the town's Public Library—a dryly humorous maiden lady. She came into my friend's office late one afternoon, saying, "I wish you could do something for my neck, Charles"—she's known him from his childhood. Charles laughed. "You want a bone doctor—not an optometrist for that." "I'm not so sure," was her reply. "You haven't been over to the library in a long time: not since you gave me these bifocals. Now I'm not a tall woman and when I have to look for book titles on the top shelf, I have to cant my head 'way back and it's an undignified position for a lady of my years. Besides, it does hurt my neck. What can you do for me?"

To his credit, Charles blushed at his failure to take this visual demand into his calculations. The upshot of it was that the dear lady got a pair of "double bifocals." Probably you have never seen them, but, in addition to the regular reading segment (with a little added focal length) at the top of the lens. Now the librarian is happy as she merely looks up naturally and sees the titles of the books on the top shelf as easily as she did in the days when she wore no glasses at all.

For all whose work requires them to look up: shoe-clerks, painters, stock-keepers, paper-hangers, butchers who have to consult dials on their scales and the like, the "double bifocal" is a blessing. If this is one of your troubles, let me see if I can help you.

A budget plan of easy payments is available for those who desire to take advantage of it.

"I'll put in your oil free if I forget to check it"

(UP TO THE FULL MARK)

YOU'RE just asking for trouble if your engine hasn't got enough oil. A new set of pistons and a cylinder rebore job will set you back plenty.

To save you headaches, every one of us Shell dealers listed below is making a special offer.

Bring your car into any one of our stations. If we show up on checking your oil we'll bring your oil level up to the full mark free.

And the oil we put in will be our Golden Shell—the oil that's especially made for stop-and-go driving.

Maybe you never knew before that stop and go calls for a certain kind of oil. Well, it does, and here's the reason why:

You average ten cold starts a day. If your oil is slow-flowing, one start can cause as much wear as 50 miles of steady running.

Golden Shell changes this. It's fast-flowing. The second you step on the starter it coats each engine part with a tough oil film that doesn't break down... even under the heat of steady running. In fact—

There's no finer oil at any price than Golden Shell.
