On November 11, 1937, the Committee met again and at this meeting it was definitely decided to carry out the plan previously decided on with the exception of a Christmas Party for the children. In the December 2nd issue of The Plymouth Mail it was stressed that "although Old Newsboys are the guiding spirits of the movement, members stressed the fact that any man or woman in Plymouth who is interested in the welfare of the poor will be welcomed as a member. There are no membership fees or dues."

Today then, this issue of The Plymouth Mail and the other Detroit papers, which you may have bought, are the tangible results, and the money received for them, every cent of which will be used to provide a Merry Christmas for some underprivileged family, is reward enough for the time and labor cheerfully given by the Goodfellows of Plymouth.

THE OLD NEWSBOYS Barefooted often, and seldom well shod, Observing the high and the lowlights of life, The highways and low-ways daily they trod, In fair weather and cool, in storm and in strife, But learning the hard way, the meaning of life.

Crying their wares in voice treble and keen, Murder and storm, tears, laughter and worth, In alley and buildings, in good times and lean, Their marketplace, ever, the byways of earth, But learning the hardway, privation and worth.

Taking the blouts that along the route came With chin up and smiling, tougher than steel, Losing a corner was all in the game, For pennies unearned might mean a lost meal, But learning the hardway the temper of steel.

Do you, then, wonder as grown up and old They could not forget the kiddies in need, Who might be forgotten and cheerless and cold, Faith unwavering, but heartsick indeed, But for those who learned the hardway of need.

So help them today, those newsboys of yore, Be goodfellows with them to make dreams true, So thousands of kiddies, souls lonely and sore, Will find faith again, through these newsboys and you, Who learned in the hardway, the rightway and true.

In concluding this resume, we believe that no other city of comparable size in the United States can equal Plymouth in civic endeavor and accomplishment. This challenge is based not alone on what a city may do, such as successfully conducting community Christmas, Hobby Show, Sunrise Service, Picnic and Hallows'en enterprises, but on the number of civic-minded citizens of all walks and conditions of life, who with sincere civic endeavor have given of their time and talents to make these affairs so enjoyable and successful.

Plymouth, the "City of Homes" is also the "City of Community Consciousness."

Second Annual Hallows'en Party Arranged

Harry Mumby Heads 1938 Committee

September 21, 1938, at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Civic Committee, orders were given to go ahead with the Second Annual Hallows'en party for Plymouth children, and the duty of carrying this out was placed on Harry Mumby as chairman, and Mrs. Nellie Bird, Mrs. L. E. Wilson, Mrs. R. Willoughby, Mrs. Herbert Swanson, Superintendent George A. Smith of the Plymouth schools and Chief of Police Vaughan Smith.

On September 27th, this committee met with the Civic Committee and completed their personnel by appointing the following citizens to head sub-committees: Music—L. Evans. Safety—Vaughan Smith. Secretary—Sidney Strong. Parade—John Jacobs. Judges—George Chute. Food—Mrs. Harry Brown. Prizes—William Rose. Scouts—J. Rusling Cutler. Films—Harry Lush. Construction—David Taylor. Finance—William Wood.

After much work and many meetings of sub-committees arrangements were duly completed and on Hallows' Eve 1400 attended the Hallows'en party as guests of the community and they were really guests of the entire community as nickels, dimes and pennies, contributed in drop boxes throughout the city, made up a great part of the financial resources.

Everything imaginable to brighten a youngster's heart was awarded for prizes for the best costumes in the parade of Plymouth youth. The prizes, totaling $10, including games, BB guns, slippers, flashlights, watches, dolls and a myriad of other gifts ranging in price from about a dollar to a quarter. These were purchased with funds obtained by public collections in boxes placed about the city for the purpose for many days in advance of the celebration itself.

First Civic Hallows'en Held Was Successful

This first Civic Hallows'en celebration was so successful in attaining its objects, first of entertaining in an orderly manner and in helping with the Hallows'en spirit a large group of children, second in diverting these children from the hitherto traditional pastime of soaping windows and destroying property, and third from endangering themselves by roaming dark streets and byways of the city, that the Civic Committee found public

Community Picnic Proposal Gains Approval

July 12, 1938 the Civic Committee met again and in response to a widespread request from the citizens for a Community Picnic selected a committee to handle the complicated mechanism of such a venture.

Stanley Corbett, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was requested to act as chairman, and Harold Hamill, William Pettengill, Albert Gayde, William Rose, Kenneth Corey, William Wood, Harry Barnes, Harold Anderson, Howard Eckles, David Galen, Irving Blunk, Stanford Besse, Mrs. Lynn Felton, Milton Jacob and Mayor Henry Hondorp selected to assist him.

The date selected for Plymouth's first Community Picnic was August 8, 1938 and on August 12 The Plymouth Mail reported the affair at length in the article below.

"Plymouth's community picnic, attended by a crowd estimated at over 2000 persons, was so popular Monday that members of the Civic Committee received numerous requests that the city-wide party be held again next year. "And was the picnic a success with the kids? Let the figures speak for themselves. Arno B. Thompson reported that the children consumed 1320 bottles of pop, 35 gallons of ice cream and 2640 cookies, all free. That would make any party a success where children are concerned. "But more than food was responsible for the entertainment which hundreds have praised as being so enjoyable. Probably most of the people didn't realize it, but they created their own fun just by relaxing and enjoying a peaceful afternoon in the open with their friends and neighbors. "That was exactly the result which members of the Civic Committee, which sponsored the event, were striving to obtain."

Second Annual Xmas Party Planned

Now going back in order to write this history in chronological order, on October 4th the Executive Committee of the Civic Committee met and plans for the Second Annual Christmas Festival were discussed.

At this meeting Arno Thompson was instructed to act as general chairman of the 1938 Christmas Festival, and also at this meeting James Gallimore, Executive Chairman, was asked to contact the Commander of the Myron Beals Post, American Legion, and the Ex-Servicemen's Club as to the feasibility of the Civic Committee taking over the activities of the Old Newsboys' Paper Sale to help finance the Community Christmas Festival.

Hobby Show Plans Perfected

To Be Held In Plymouth High School

This committee perfected plans for Plymouth's first Community Hobby Show, and the following article concerning its scope was carried in The Plymouth Mail on May 13, 1938: "If you are a hobbyist or are interested in hobbies as a leisure time activity, you will want to see the many splendid exhibits and demonstrations that will be on display for your enjoyment, Thursday, May 19, from 3:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the high school auditorium.

In addition to a large and varied group of student and adult hobbies and collections, there will be held the annual high school exhibit of industrial art, home economics and school art with the classes in cooking and woodworking in full operation.

There will also be practical demonstrations in stone cutting and polishing, finger printing and scissor stenciling.

On February 16, 1938, representatives met in response to this letter and elected an Executive Committee to carry on the work in 1938. The Committee was headed by James Gallimore, and consisted of Mrs. Sidney Strong, Mrs. Paul Wiedman, C. H. Elliott, Arno B. Thompson, Garnet Baker and Miss Hildur Carlson, secretary.

First Sunrise Service Held In Plymouth

Dr. Merton S. Rice Address Featured

The following articles in The Plymouth Mail of July 15 and July 22 tell more graphically the story of a successful project: "Plymouth residents weren't fooling this week when they told friends, 'I'll see you at the crack of dawn Sunday.' "A heavy turnout of local residents and others from the surrounding area, neighboring towns and Detroit, are expected to attend the city's first annual sunrise services to be conducted at 5:00 a.m. Sunday.

"The sunrise rites, which will commemorate Plymouth's 110th birthday as a Michigan settlement and the 105th anniversary of the establishment of the first church here, will be conducted on the east side of Whitebeck road in Plymouth's Riverside Park.

"Plymouth Boy Scouts will direct the traffic for the affair. This week a novel feature for the event was suggested by several families who intend to serve a picnic breakfast in the park after the sunrise services proper.

"The services will be featured by an address to be presented by Dr. Merton S. Rice, of the Metropolitan Methodist church of Detroit. Dr. Rice is known widely throughout the nation and Michigan and will hold the interest of an audience.

"The program will be opened with a call to worship by trumpeters. The invocation will be delivered by Miss Susan Thurman, of the Unity Study group.

"The assembly will join in singing a morning hymn, the first line of which is, 'When Morning Gilds the Sky,' after which the Rev. Robert North, of the Plymouth Nazarene church, will offer a prayer.

"The choir will sing 'The Heavens are Telling,' by Haydn, assisted by the trio, composed of Mrs. James Sessions, Edwin Campbell and Carl Bryan.

Paul Zeller, of Ann Arbor, will present a solo, 'The Living God' by O'Hara. A scripture reading will be delivered by Capt. Elwin Alder, of the Salvation Army. "Another hymn will be sung then, 'The Christian Life,' which begins 'Faith of Our Fathers, Living Still.' "The Rev. Stanford S. Closson, of the Plymouth First Methodist church, will discuss 'Plymouth and its Churches' as one of the principal features of the services. "He will be followed by the speaker of the day, Dr. Rice. The choir will join in an ancient spiritual, 'Song in Praise of the Lord of the Heaven and Earth.' The soloist will be Mrs. Maxwell Moon, of Plymouth. "A hymn, 'Blest be the Tie that Binds,' will precede the benediction, which will be offered by the Rev. L. E. Stout, pastor of the Plymouth Calvary Baptist church. "Leslie G. Lee is director of the chorus and Lewis Evans is director of the brass quartet which will open the ceremonies. —Plymouth Mail, July 15, '38.

On Wednesday, September 30, 1937 a group of citizens representing all the patriotic, fraternal, service, women's and church organizations of Plymouth, met in the city hall for the purpose of coordinating all activities related to general community interest and as a clearing house for all organizations in the city that carry on charitable work.

It was not intended that this organization should take over the work of an organization which was already carrying on a definite charitable or civic activity, but that it would assist and cooperate with any of its affiliated organizations and by keeping records enable all to function more efficiently.

The new group was named unofficially the Plymouth Civic Committee, and its first act was to elect the following as an executive committee to carry out its objective: This committee was made up of Mrs. Sidney D. Strong as chairman, and the following as members: Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple, Mrs. Hildur Carlson, James Gallimore and Harold Anderson.

Its first civic function which seemed to be desirable was the taking over of an activity which in the past had been carried on by a small group of citizens interested in children, at their own considerable expense in time and money. This was the Annual Hallows'en celebration originated by Captain Charles Thumme, Harry Lush of the Penman-Aiken theatre and Mr. and Mrs. Elton Eaton of the Plymouth Mail. These citizens with the help of small contributions from their friends provided the smaller boys and girls with free apples, doughnuts, and free tickets to a special show at the Penman-Aiken theatre.

The Civic Committee, realizing the burden involved on these public-spirited citizens and realizing that every year more and more children were participating and making the undertaking a greater responsibility, promised to take over this activity as a community project.

As a result, in 1937, the Civic Committee appointed a Hallows'en Committee, composed of representative citizens who carried out and successfully entertained the children, among 1250 children, apples, peanuts, candies and noisemakers, supervised a costume parade of children and distributed prizes for best, funniest and most original costumes.

Plymouth Mail Reports In Full Sunrise Service

1500 Residents Worship At Dawn

"When morning gilds the skies, my heart awakens cries," sang nearly 1500 residents of Plymouth and nearby communities last Sunday morning at the first sunrise service ever held in this community.

The big audience gathered in a beautiful park just east of the Whitebeck road, saw the sun break through the clouded morning sky as the service opened when youthful trumpeters, located on distant hills and groves, gave forth the call to worship.

Miss Susan Thurman gave the invocation and Rev. R. North of the Nazarene church offered prayer. The choir of more than 50 voices, under the direction of Leslie Lee of Northville, led in the singing of the hymns. Lewis Evans of Plymouth directed the instrumental quartette.

Mrs. James Sessions, Edwin Campbell, Carl Bryan of Northville, Paul Zeller of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Maxwell Moon sang solo numbers.

"The benediction was delivered by Rev. L. E. Stout of the Calvary Baptist church. "James Latture, chairman of the committee that had charge of the program, has requested The Mail to express the appreciation of the committee to everyone who assisted in making the event such an outstanding success. Even the weather man did his part, as the heavy rainstorm that swept this part of the state did not begin until nearly an hour after the services had ended. —Plymouth Mail, July 22, '38.

AA HISTORY CLASS VISITS GREENFIELD VILLAGE

The AA history class, taught by Mr. Balden, visited Mr. Ford's Greenfield Village Tuesday, December 6. There is the museum, the school system with 250 students and the village.

All information given in this article was obtained from students' written accounts of the trip.

The museum was a copy of Independence Hall and Edison's footprint and Burbank's shovel were left in the cornerstone. The floor in the museum is made of inlaid oak wood from India.

Among the interesting curiosities things the students saw were old implements used on a farm, pewter ware and pressed glass, Longfellow's desk, a copy of McGuffey's and his partner's desk, a clock made in 1800, a man's law office and the chair in which he was shot, the oldest windmill in America, erected in 1833 and moved from Cape Cod to Greenfield Village, a general store, started in 1854, which served the community faithfully until 1927 when it was moved to its present site, and a power section which will, when it is completed, be run by compressed air. At this same place were the largest and smallest mazda lamps ever made and sections of trans-atlantic cable.

STAFF MEMBERS ATTEND PRESS CONFERENCE

Four members of the Pilgrim Prints staff attended the annual press conference at Wayne University, Thursday, December 8.

An interesting program was arranged for the delegates by the members of the University paper, the "Detroit Collegian."

At the opening session a motion picture entitled, "From Trees to Tribune," was shown. It dealt with the make-up of a newspaper from the first minute details to the finished edition.

One thousand miles from Chicago on the St. Lawrence Gulf huge trees are carefully selected with a view to future reforestation. The trees are then cut into lengths and piled along the river banks. In the spring they are stamped and floated down the river where they are sorted and made ready to be changed into paper. The logs are put in a large tank and kept in steady motion, thus removing the bark by friction. They are then sorted and sent to a "chipper." The resulting chips of uniform size are treated with chemicals and pressed between heavy rollers until all the moisture is gone. The wood is then formed into huge rolls of paper which are stored in warehouses until they are needed.

In the home office of the paper news is gathered from everywhere by reporters. Linotype operators set up type and iron molds made from this type are set up for each page of the paper. These molds are put in place ready for the printing. One huge machine prints the papers, assembles and folds them, and then divides them into neat piles ready for distribution. The outgoing papers are wrapped and fastened into bundles. The other papers are sent to news boys and newsstands all over the city.

The motion picture was edited by the Chicago Tribune.

During the afternoon clinics of round table discussions were held, followed by a matinee dance in McClester hall. A dinner was served to the delegates in the University building and a play entitled "Tonight at 8:30" was given as the final round of entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. William Morgan were hosts, Thursday evening, at dinner and bridge, the guests being laid for the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Carvel Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. ## State Horse Shoe Pitching Title Retained

Bobbie Hitt Wins Third Successive Championship

“Adding a note of civic triumph to the civic holiday, Bobbie Hitt, Plymouth state horse shoe pitching champion, won his third successive title and set a new record for accurate pitching in the state-wide contests held in Plymouth's Riverside park, which was also the scene of the picnic.

“A large majority of the business places in the city were closed by pre-arrangement among the merchants so that as many as possible might attend the picnic.

“In addition, when it became known that employees of the Daisy company wanted very much to be able to participate in the civic celebration, Edward C. Hough immediately re-arranged the working schedule so that the workers could put in the time on Friday and have Monday free to attend the picnic.

“A large number of the Daisy employees participated in the proceedings. Altogether, nearly half of the residents of the city attended the picnic, it was estimated.

“In the athletic and stunting program held in connection with the picnic in the afternoon there were the following results:

“The firemen defeated the businessmen in a tug-o-war.

“In the early afternoon softball contests, Schrader's defeated Plymouth Hardware, and a team composed of married women won a victory over a team comprised of single women.

“The married women also triumphed over the single women in a tug-o-war.

“In the evening softball games, the Rotary Club defeated the Kiwanis Club, and the American Legion won in a contest with the Ex-Service Men's Club.”

—Plymouth Mail, August 8, '33

1400 Children Frolic In Parade

“The night was clear with a slight nip to it—just enough to whet their appetites.

Boy and Girl Scouts were given credit for considerable help in aiding those in charge to guide the program smoothly. The high school and the American Legion won in a contest with the Ex-Service Men's Club.”

This was Plymouth's unique contribution to the welfare and happiness of its children consummated, and it is expected that like last year, following this affair, other communities will be anxious to plan and follow in like manner.

First Civic Hallow'een Held Was Successful

opinion approved wholeheartedly of their endeavors.

On November 3, 1937, the Civic Committee met again and in response to public demand took charge of plans for a Community Christmas Festival.

The Executive Committee, headed by Mrs. Strong, on the suggestion of Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple, ordered that the committee keep a file of underprivileged children and families, and Harold Anderson, Mrs. Mary Jewel Sparling and Charles J. Thumme were appointed on this committee.

Mrs. Whipple suggested, and the committee concurred, that the Christmas plans should include the following:

- 1st. Food, Clothing, and Toys for the Needy.
- 2nd. Christmas Remembrances of suitable nature to the Old Age Pensioners, the Aged and Shut-ins.
- 3rd. A Community Carol Sing.
- 4th. A Party for the Children.

munity effort to spread Christmas cheer.

On January 12, 1933 reports of the various sub-committees were presented to the Civic Committee and at this time an organization committee consisting of Mr. Gallimore, Mr. Elliott, Mrs. Arlison was asked to mail a letter to each Plymouth organization, reporting the work done and asking them to send representatives to elect an Executive Committee for 1938. The letter follows:

“Christmas has come and gone and all that remains is memories, but they should be very pleasant ones for you and your organization, as it was through your wholehearted cooperation that the kiddies of Plymouth and others were made happy who might otherwise have been disappointed.

“The Treasurer reported receipts of $348.50, expenses $348.23, leaving a balance of 27 cents. When all bills had been paid, One hundred and twenty-five children were supplied with clothing, and families who received baskets of food included 175 persons. Money, food, clothing and toys were donated by organizations and individuals.

“The Community Hallow'een and Christmas celebrations have been so very successful that the public is in favor of a permanent committee to take charge of community work the year round. Will you therefore select someone from your organization to attend a meeting on the evening of February 18, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Council Chamber of the City Hall, at which time a permanent organization will be formed, and please see that your representative is prepared to present any ideas or suggestions that you may have for future community work in Plymouth. If you will notify the Secretary whom you have selected, she will send that person a reminder of the meeting.”

Increased gasoline taxes in Belgium have caused many owners to store their cars.
