

16-Point Development Program For Future Needs Of City Outlined In Report Of Activities For Year

Auditorium, Library And City Hospital Are Proposed

The annual report of the city of Plymouth, being printed this week, lists a sixteen-point program for the future development of the city.

Outstanding among the proposals are plans pointing toward construction of a city hospital, city library and civic auditorium and development of neighborhood playgrounds for small children.

The complete program of future needs follows:

1. Continuation of the ten-year program to improve water distribution system in order that more even pressures be obtained in the various districts of the city and that additional supply for fire protection in the business districts be made available.
2. Install master meter at water plant to measure all water pumped.
3. Complete signing of streets.
4. Complete survey of sanitary sewers to determine location of drains of storm water, also a storm sewer survey to determine points at which sanitary sewage is emptied into storm sewers.
5. To determine the feasibility of tapping the county interceptor sewage in order that adequate provision be made for complete sewage disposal.
6. Make a study of the financial needs over a period of at least 10 years and formulate a financial program which will insure a low tax as possible and still provide for the necessary requirements.
7. Adopt a twenty-five-year master plan, and a ten-year financial program.
8. Adopt a zoning ordinance and complete the program for city planning.
9. Clean and beautify Tonquish Creek.
10. Continue tree planting campaign to add street trees and replace trees taken out.
11. Complete the platting into assessors plots of portions of the city not now properly described in the assessment roll.
12. Build a grade separation in order that the north end of the city may be amply cared for in case of a large conflagration.
13. Refinancing of land contracts at Riverside cemetery to provide cheaper interest rates.
14. Continue the improvements on streets either with the use of concrete or black top.
15. Obtain neighborhood playgrounds for small children.
16. Make studies to determine the advisability of building a city hospital, city library and civic auditorium.

1938 Plates Good To March 1, 1939

The present black and green license plates may be legally used on motor vehicles until March 1, 1939.

Prior to 1938, the statute governing registration of motor vehicles provided that the Secretary of State have authority to extend the deadline for use of old plates to not later than March 1, and this was usually done. Then the 1937 legislature, by resolution, still further extended the final date that year to April 1.

The 1937 legislature amended this Act, fixing March as the definite deadline for the use of old plates.

Reciprocity agreements with other states makes it possible for motorists to drive outside the state with their present plates until the deadline established by statute.

People who are expecting to purchase plates in the near future are asked to do so as soon as possible as waiting until the deadline causes the hiring of additional help and expense to the department.

SKATING RINKS OPENED FOR SMALL CHILDREN

Two ice skating rinks intended especially for the use of smaller children, were prepared by the city this week at Forest and Sutherland streets and one at Penniman avenue and Auburn street. The rinks, each with an area of about 100 square feet, were flooded by firemen after ground had been raised to hold water on four sides.

Anyone is free to skate on the rinks but the rinks are meant primarily for smaller children for whom it is inconvenient to go out to Wilcox Park or other rinks.

SNAKE LEAVES HOME FIRST DAY OF WINTER

L. D. Hunt found a live snake about 10 inches long, December 23, as he was hunting about seven miles west on Territorial road. He believed that the snake was only about six feet from the hole it left when Hunt found it.

Yule Week Busy For Young People

Roller skating at the Methodist church attracted more than 50 young people Friday, December 16, and Tuesday, December 27. Although it is generally thought that there is little for young people to do many activities filled the Christmas week.

Tonight, (Friday) there will be dancing at the city hall for young people over 13 years old from 8:00 until 10:30 p.m. Saturday, a New Year's eve dance will be held for young people from 11 to 14 years old. The dance will start at 7:30 p.m. and end at 9:30 p.m. For the very young children, a special story hour is scheduled Saturday. At 9:00 a.m. children eight to 10 years old will attend and another story hour is set for 10:00 a.m. for children from five to seven years old.

Help Is Sought For Protection Of Wild Birds

Club Will Feed Hungry Fowl When Notified

Farmers of Western Wayne County were requested this week to notify the Western Wayne County Wildlife association of cases where wild fowl are starving because of heavy snows which covered foliage.

Members of the wildlife club will bring corn on the ear to feed the birds, if necessary, they told farmers in asking co-operation in the project to protect wildlife through the winter months.

Farmers, or others who find wild birds suffering anywhere in this section of the state are requested to get in touch with Dr. B. E. Champe, president of the wildlife association, or Leslie Alexander, secretary.

This year has been a very successful and enterprising one for the wildlife association. This fall marked inauguration of the Williamson plan for hunting in this area. Farmers, who had been gradually learning of the aims of the association, co-operated to a large extent, and the plan operated very successfully.

The Williamson plan and the feeding of wild fowl in winter months and protecting them throughout closed seasons are primary objectives of the club, which was formed for the purpose of combining conservation and good hunting, which any member will tell you is the same thing, anyhow.

Drive Carefully New Year's Eve Police Urge

Violators May Find Selves Spending Week-End In Jail

New Year's Eve celebrants will find that ginger ale or soda mixes better with alcohol than gasoline, and that a hangover at home is twice as pleasant as one in the city jail, Police Chief Vaughan Smith pointed out this week as the wildest celebration of the year nears.

"We are not planning any special drive against drunk or careless driving on New Year's Eve," Chief Smith said, "but officers on patrol will be on the alert for such cases because they are more apt to appear on that night than any other and because traffic will be heavy throughout the night as parties go from one point to another."

"It has not been the policy of the Plymouth police department to try and get tough about cracking down on violators on New Year's Eve, as singled out from any other night in the year."

"However, drivers who attempt to mix gasoline with alcohol shall remember that the combination may leave them in one of several places, from the undertaking parlor to the city jail."

ROOF FIRE DAMAGE TOTALS ONLY A DOLLAR

Sparks from the chimney started a small fire on the roof of the Henry Pfeiffer home on Monday but firemen arrived immediately after the blaze was discovered and extinguished it. Damage was estimated at only a dollar. Firemen were back in the station within 15 minutes after the alarm was sounded.

388 Tickets Given Drivers Here In Year

Fines Total $1,496 In Second Year Of Violations Bureau

A total of 388 tickets were issued for traffic violations for the fiscal year in the second season since the inauguration of the Violations Bureau in Plymouth, Police Chief Vaughan Smith reported to the city commission.

Fines on these tickets totaled $1,496, of which only about $115 is still outstanding, he said. And the outstanding money doesn't worry the bureau, because a notice is sent to the secretary of state, who refuses to issue a driver's license to the offending motorist until he pays up his fine.

Most of the tickets, 147 of them, were issued for speeding, Chief Smith said. In the improper parking classification 84 tickets were issued.

The violation bureau, of course, does not cover drunk or reckless driving cases, which must go to court for settlement.

"Establishment of the violations bureau, Chief Smith said, 'has been greatly beneficial to the police department, the city and offending drivers themselves. Only about 15 ticket receivers last year elected to go to court rather than pay their violations fines at the bureau in the city hall.'

"The bureau benefits the city because it has saved the municipal judge considerable work. Formerly cases piled up, causing inconvenience to both drivers and police."

"And the bureau is favored by the public. Offending drivers or their representatives may come into the bureau at any time before the court date set on the ticket and settle their case without having to appear at a specific time, although they will have redress to the court if they feel they have a grievance."

"The bureau actually is a public convenience," Chief Smith pointed out that the largest fine this year on the bureau list is $15, which was for a second offense of speeding over 50 miles an hour.

Most of the fines, he said, were for small amounts for minor violations. "One good thing about the bureau is that the chief, Smith says, is that there is no ticket fixing. The Bureau can't fix a ticket. Either the driver pays the fine or he goes to court."

One city official was ticketed this year. He paid his fine without a court appearance. "No quibbling over the amount of the fine is possible at the violations bureau, Chief Smith says, because there is a scale of fines for all violations and the police officers cannot go over or under the amounts. Only the municipal judge or the city commission can change the schedule of fines."

Right now there is a normal seasonal decline in violations, Chief Smith said. Only two reckless drivers and a few speeders have been apprehended. Last December, the violations book was so full that no one was arrested for traffic violations at all.

December being what it is, Chief Smith has hopes that the nation may attain a goal which only a high number of December accidents can mar—a decrease of 20 per cent in accidents throughout the nation. Fines at the Plymouth Violations bureau can be paid by mail with cashiers' checks or money orders made payable to Violations Bureau, Chief of Police or to Plymouth.

O. E. S. Will Sponsor Instruction School

Plymouth Chapter 115 Order of Eastern Star will join with Orient Chapter, Northville, on January 10 in conducting the annual school of instruction. Mrs. Florence Rykeman, worthy grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Elphinstown, will serve as new instructor.

The instruction school meeting is one of three scheduled to be held in January by the Plymouth organization. The regular meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, a special meeting will be held January 17 to exemplify degrees.

At the January 10 and 17 meetings there will be a covered dish dinner at 6:30 p.m. preceding the meetings.

TOWNSMEN PLAN NATIONAL CAMPAIGN

Plans for action in the national campaign for "Every Town a Townsend Town" will be made at the next regular meeting of the Townsend Towns club at 8:00 p.m. Monday in the Grand hall. The campaign officially opens on New Year's day.

MEETING DELAYED

Because Monday is a legal holiday falling after New Year's day, city commissioners will hold their regular meeting at the city hall at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Police Capture Parole Violator After Search

Felon Returned To Jackson Prison In Short Order

Duncan Chisholm, 45 years old, who lives on Seven Mile road near Northville, was returned to Jackson Prison this week by order of the Bureau of Pardons and Paroles for violation of parole.

He was arrested after a search December 21 in Plymouth after he obtained $4.50 under false pretenses and attempted to cash a forged check.

Chisholm, who was paroled from Jackson Prison in 1935 after serving part of a term on a bad check conviction, admitted in a signed statement that he had bilked Harry Robinson out of $4.50 by telling Mr. Robinson at Bert-Kehr's sale that he had a soft tire while bringing a load of pigs to the sale and needed the money to buy a new tire.

After obtaining the money, he went to Willoughby Bros. Store and bought a pair of overshoes. Later he returned to the store with a check typed out for the amount of $9.80 to Bert Younglove, of Brighton, he said, and attempted to cash it.

Unable to cash the check, he went to the hotel and was waiting for a bus when Russell M. Daane, of the Plymouth United Savings Bank, approached him and asked him about the check.

Earlier Chisholm had had the bank investigate whether Mr. Younglove's checks were good. Chisholm attempted to tell Mr. Daane that his name was Chamberlain and that he had a load of cattle parked on South Main street, but when Mr. Daane insisted on seeing the cattle, Chisholm broke into a run, disappearing through a hole in the wall and leaving the check as he fled.

He was arrested later in a beer garden by Officers Ira Hawk and Lee Sackett and was turned over to the Bureau of Pardons and Paroles which recommended that he be returned to Jackson Prison.

"Snow White" Film Coming To Plymouth

Hollywood's most discussed—and praised—production of the year will be featured at the Penniman Allen theatre, Plymouth, on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, January 8, 9, 10 and 11 when "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" will be shown.

Produced in color, with a parade of rippling song hits, the picture, which took three years to make, will delight everyone who sees it. Critics the country over have given it their highest praise, and the newest popular actress of Hollywood, "Snow White" and the seven amusing dwarfs already have become national sensations.

The management also calls attention to the fact that a special midnight show will serve to usher in the new year for theatre reservations as soon as possible. The picture will be entitled "Hard to Get," an amusing comedy.

For the holiday week-end, also, there will be performances at 3:00, 5:00, 7:00, and 9:00 p.m. both Saturday, December 31, and Monday, January 2.

Hillside Nearly Sold Out On New Year's Eve Party

Heavy numbers of reservations for the New Year's eve celebration party at the Hillside were reported this week by the management. The party promises to be the best ever held at the Hillside.

Persons wishing to take part in the festivities should make reservations as soon as possible to be certain of places. A particularly enjoyable party for celebrants including dancing and refreshments from early to late is scheduled.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Powers, of Grand Rapids, were Christmas guests of the former's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Powers.

Two Teachers Will Join Plymouth Faculty

Brings Staff To Total Of 61 For 1,775 Students

Two new teachers will be appointed as members of the Plymouth high school faculty to take over their duties January 30 at the beginning of the second term of the school year, George A. Smith, school superintendent, announced this week.

The teachers will offer instruction in general shop and in English and history, he said. Miss Genevieve M. Bryce, of Pinconning, has been selected to become a member of the English and history departments. Mr. Smith said, but the teacher for general shop has not been decided upon yet.

The board of education decided that the new appointments were necessary because semi-annual promotions will place 46 additional pupils in high school classes without any lessening of the number already being instructed, as there are no mid-year graduations scheduled.

The student enrollment already was at a record peak with a total of 1,729 registered, and the additional 46 students will bring the student population at the high school to 1,775. The addition of the two teachers will raise the number of faculty members to 61, or a ratio of about 30 students to a teacher.

Wm. Holdsworth Married Saturday

At a quiet wedding ceremony performed at 8:00 o'clock Christmas eve in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Litsenberger, on Randolph avenue, Northville, Marion Litsenberger, their daughter, became the bride of William Holdsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber G. Holdsworth, of this city.

Rev. Harry J. Lord, pastor of the Methodist church, Northville, read the marriage service in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride was lovely in a gown of old gold silk crepe trimmed in blue, and her flowers were gardenias. She was accompanied by her sister, Marjorie, who was gowned in aquamarine silk crepe and also wore gardenias. Richard Loomis, of Northville, was best man.

A reception followed in the home after which the happy couple left on a motor trip through Canada to Niagara Falls planning to return through the states. They are expected home early in the week.

The many friends of the bride and bridegroom in Plymouth extend heartiest congratulations and wish them a long, contented, married life.

Mr. Holdsworth is in business in Howell where they will make their home.

Party Planned At Mayflower Hotel

New Year's Eve celebrants will find the best way to cheer in 1939 will be to attend the special party which will be held at the Mayflower hotel Saturday night. The management pointed out this week.

Early reservations for the celebration party at the Hillside were reported this week by the management. The party promises to be the best ever held at the Hillside.

1938 Will Leave Plymouth With Only Friends And Good Will; Election Biggest Issue Of Year

Highlights of 1938

Following are some of the happenings and events that made front page news in Plymouth and the surrounding area in 1938:

Jan. 1—Alfred Wier Everett, of Canton Township, was killed by a car as he was walking on Ford road a half-mile west of Canton Center road.

Jan. 8—Mrs. Glenn Shirreff was injured so severely by flying fragments when stove at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thorpe exploded that her leg had to be amputated. Dr. Luther Peck was elected to the Board of Directors of the Plymouth United Savings Bank.

Jan. 17—Owen E. McGuirk, of Detroit, was killed when he was struck by a train at the Mill street crossing. C. M. Mather, founder of the Plymouth Lumber and Coal Co. and a leader in city government, died.

Jan. 28—Plymouth Masons observed the seventy-sixth anniversary of the founding of the lodge with a dinner at which Attorney O. L. Smith, of Detroit, was the speaker. The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce was reorganized and Stewart Lodge was elected president.

Feb. 9—Attention of the state was directed to Plymouth when an inexpensive Lincoln Day dinner was served here with the proceeds, $124, used to provide milk for undernourished Plymouth school children. Former governor Frank D. Fitzgerald was the principal speaker.

Feb. 18—Plymouth residents skidded to work on slippery streets and sidewalks after a severe ice storm visited the city. In the night thieves obtained about $100 by breaking into the school safe. The robbers also entered several stores.

Feb. 20—Arthur J. Todd, south Main street grocer, was wounded when two young bandits attempted to hold him up in the store. The thieves obtained a small amount of loot.

Feb. 25—Dr. Luther Peck, Plymouth health officer, was awarded the Rotary Club bronze plaque for the most outstanding services to the community. Plymouth opened successful dollar sale days.

March 4—Sales were good as Plymouth took part in the National Used Car Exchange Week. March 5—Three bandits entered the high school and other places and took musical instruments and other loot. They were captured in Detroit and the stolen articles returned.

March 7—Little Irene McIntyre, riding her bicycle, was killed by an automobile. March 12—The Plymouth high school basketball team captured the regional championship.

March 21—The Burroughs Adding Machine plant opened here with an employment list of about 100. March 28—Mrs. Minnie W. Brande died in a fire at her home on Schoolcraft road.

April 4—Henry H. Holdsworth and Mrs. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple were re-elected to the city commission. April 11—The Western Wayne County Wildlife Association elected Dr. B. E. Champe as president.

April 15—Plymouth high school debaters won the Michigan championship in the National Forensic League Tournament. April 18—After a verbal tilt with Mrs. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple, Henry Holdsworth was re-elected to third term as mayor.

April 27—Stanley J. Corbett was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce. May 2—William A. Blunk, pioneer business and civic leader died. Charles Garlett was appointed city treasurer.

May 6—An audience of 300 heard an address by William J. Cameron, of the Ford Motor Co. May 7—John Henderson, former Plymouth manager of the Detroit Creamery, died. May 10—In a tragedy that struck a third generation, Harry Graham, 28-year-old, and mother of four young children, perished in a fire that followed a stove blast at her home on Richland road. Neighbors took up contributions to help the young husband go through a new and take care of his orphaned children.

May 19—Plymouth took wholeheartedly to a fun-filled celebration of National Airmail Week, in which a pageant showing the carrying of the mail by horseback, stagecoach and airplane was demonstrated. Residents rode hobby horses this week as the Civic Committee sponsored a highly interesting and successful hobby show.

May 22—Plymouth American Legionnaires were host to the American Legion's seventeenth district convention. June 12—Electioners in the school election refused to approve a proposal to raise the assessment limit 1.6 mills but passed projects to provide free text books (Continued on Page 2)

Housing Boom, Charity Dinner Other Features

No one will shed a tear over the passing of 1938 at midnight Saturday, but it was a good year for Plymouth, a year of many struggles but also of many accomplishments. There was no peak of prosperity in 1938 as there was in the fall of 1937, but optimism rose steadily throughout the year and business looks with more confidence to 1939.

Most important of the developments of the year from a local and state standpoint, especially as regards the future, was the defeat of Governor Murphy in the state election November 12 and the election of a Republican state government.

From a strictly non-partisan viewpoint, the election was the biggest incentive to business of the year, although there were no immediate effects visible.

Whether a state government that is avowedly sympathetic toward both business and the working man can help to get business on the path toward prosperity despite the hamstringing of business by the Federal Government is something that remains to be seen in the brand new year starting Sunday morning.

The year of 1938 was undoubtedly a peek for widespread and successful community enterprises. Outstanding among the events well attended by the residents of the city at large were the community projects sponsored by the Civic Committee.

These included a hobby show, sunrise service, community picnic, hallowe'en party, Christmas carols in the seven years that records have been kept by the city.

A total of 152 building permits were issued by the city during the fiscal year ended June 30, and construction continued apace since then.

The annual city report shows that the 152 permits issued included 14 new homes, four new business places, 133 improvements and alterations and one new church.

The total valuation of these buildings, considered conservative, amounted to $138,929. Although this figure falls short of the $203,608 in construction for the previous year, it must be remembered that the larger figure included $60,000 for the Presbyterian church.

While building increased, damage through fire diminished in the last fiscal year to an absurd low. Fire loss for the 1937-38 fiscal year amounted to only eight cents per capita and totaled only $435 in the 31 fires, of which 22 were inside the city limits.

Tragedy, drama and humor rubbed shoulders through the months of 1938, beginning with a traffic death last new year's day and culminating in the death this month of a factory glider pilot. This summer a young landed pilot from Triangle field landed in Edsel Ford's yard and didn't know who his friendly helper was until the chauffeur told him.

The world's most popular topic of conversation—the weather—also showed few shows to keep minds off of financial worries and the possibility of war.

There was a severe ice storm in February, the hardest rain in years in August and—just to top things off—a cold wave and hard snow, the first of the season, this week.

New Officers To Take Reins Of Kiwanis Club

Officers for the new year will be installed Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the Plymouth Kiwanis club by Edwin A. Schrader, of Plymouth, lieutenant governor of the district.

Warren Worth will take over the reins of the presidency from George Burr, who gave a report of the activities of the year under his leadership at this week's meeting Tuesday.

He reviewed Kiwanis club activities of importance which included work from "Triop" club, Cub Scouts, the University of Michigan hospital for crippled children, the high school agricultural club and other projects. Tribute was paid at the meeting to Robert Jolliffe, who is leaving the post of secretary of the organization after four and a half years of continuous service in the office.

Entertainment was provided by the McAllister boys, who sang and danced.

Death, the handmaiden of the hurrying year, came in several guises at the point of a gun just outside town, at the end of a noose for Tony Chebatoris in near-by Milan because he killed a bystander in a Midland bank robbery, and both suddenly and ripely to end the activities of many prominent in the civic and social life of the city. And traffic continued to take its toll. The eyes of the nation were drawn to Plymouth last February when a small group of citizens organized a simple dinner party with a menu of salt pork and corn meal mush in resentment against the $25-a-person banquets held to refurbish the war chest of the state and national Democratic party.

Proceeds of the Plymouth Lincoln Day dinner were turned over to the school to provide milk daily for undernourished children.

New industries came to provide employment and wages to be spent in Plymouth, and other new industries were discussed which may eventuate in the unfolding of the new year.

The year was a busy one and it held its share of happiness, but a new milestone hides the future, which may be better. All right, you there off stage. Get the hook and pull that year from the platform. The next act is 1939.

What's the Answer?

By EDWARD FINCK

WHY DOES A DOG TURN ROUND AND ROUND BEFORE LYING DOWN?

THIS is an inbred instinct dating from the days before dogs became domesticated and their only habitat was the wilds of uninhabited countries. They were forced to "make their bed before they could lie in it" and did this by turning round and round, trampling the grass and brush beneath their feet, driving away insects.

Plymouth Vicinity

The Perry Richwine cabin on Ann Arbor Trail was the scene of a Merry Christmas party with the children and grandchildren, twenty in all, of Mr. and Mrs. George Richwine gathered about the great stone fireplace, enjoying the exchange of gifts.

NO CHANCE FOR ARGUMENT

WHEN A MOTORIST WENT TO get his battery he asked the mechanic: "What's the charge?" He was told that it was two and a half volts. "How much is that in American money?" asked the customer. There's no charge or obligation for letting us give you an estimate on your lumber needs but it gives us an opportunity to quote prices that might be to our mutual advantage.

Short Courses Open January 3

Ten short courses open January 3 at Michigan State college for special work in poultry, horticulture, dairying and dairy manufacture, forestry, general agriculture, agricultural engineering and home economics.

These eight-week schedules constitute the midwinter portion of the 45th year for short course work at the college. Men and women who cannot get away from their farms for a longer period find valuable training condensed into the winter courses arranged by departments with R. W. Tenney, short course director.

Courses that open January 3 to March 3 offer a term in general agriculture which includes livestock studies, work in farm crops, soil management, farm management and accounts, personal and business relationships, farm dairying and recreation.

The dairy courses take up farm milk production or provide for an efficient training in butter making, market milk and ice cream making. Poultry training fits the student for all phases of handling poultry and eggs for market, including a lecture course on diseases.

In horticulture students can enroll in the course in practical floriculture or in commercial fruit production. Home economics offers foods and nutrition, child care, clothing, home management, home furnishings and art appreciation and dramatics.

Park maintenance and arboriculture is limited to high school graduates or persons who have had one year or more of experience or practical training. Forestry and wild life conservation is another comparatively new course. Agricultural engineering applies practical engineering principles to farm practice to lower costs and improve working and living conditions.

Showers of confetti, rice and rose petals were thrown over the Rev. Richard Batterbury, vicar of Scremerston, England, and his bride in reply to the ban which he imposed recently on this form of greeting newlyweds.

Your University

PERSONS, PLACES AND ACTIVITIES YOU HAVE HEARD OF READ ABOUT AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Geographer Robert B. Hall, widely-known authority on the affairs of the Far East, has been the leading figure in establishing the University of Michigan as America's foremost center for Far Eastern studies. The Institute of Far Eastern Studies, of which he is director, is now in its second session in Ann Arbor.

Bringing together authorities on the cultures of all the Far Eastern countries, the Institute offers the most complete program of study in the languages, economics, political science, history, sociology, and fine arts of the Orient that has ever been available in this country. Beginning this year, it makes possible either elementary or advanced concentration courses in the Chinese, Japanese, and Russian languages. Further, the wide selection of courses offered allows the student to specialize in any one country or phase of the affairs of Eastern Asia.

During the course of the first Institute in 1937, the outbreak of the Sino-Japanese war gave new emphasis to the need for such a program of study. The western reverberations of this conflict amply demonstrate our need for greater understanding of the civilizations of the Far East. Michigan's long and fruitful association with the peoples and governments of the Orient, through its faculties and students, makes it the logical center for Far Eastern studies in America. It enrolls more Far Eastern students than any other American University. Chinese students at Michigan last year alone numbered 168.

Poultrymen Due For Unwise Boom

Attractive egg prices coupled with comparatively low feed prices already are giving poultrymen in Michigan and other states a wrong picture of the immediate future in poultry.

This warning, issued by C. G. Card, head of the poultry department of Michigan State college, can be used to advantage by those with flocks in Wayne county, it is pointed out by County Agricultural Agent E. I. Besemer.

If hatcheries and farm flocks turn out a record hatch this next spring those watching the poultry industry expect that egg prices likely will be low next fall and winter. They also predict large amounts of poultry dressed for the market. Card consequently is warning against any undue expansion, either among those now in the business or among persons who think the industry is attractive enough to warrant entering business purchasing equipment, birds and feed.

From reports of the current egg laying contest at the college some red hens are offering unexpected competition to the little white hens. In the first two months of the 17th annual competition, the high individuals rate five Rhode Island Reds and one White Rock, sharing honors with four White Leghorns. Three of the Reds are at the top.

"Production of these general purpose breeds," comments Card, "offers a challenge to the Leghorn breeders. It also is a challenge to the breeders of the heavier fowl to continue to improve production of their stock."

Popcorn Jumps Into Soup, Salad

Popcorn popularity is no longer confined to the hot, buttered "crispy" munching while watching the fire burn to coals. It has taken its place among the aristocrats of foods.

The hors d'oeuvres platter frequently holds heaps of crisp, salty popcorn. It adds an attractive touch as well as being tasty and appetizing, observes Miss Jeanette Lee, foods instructor at Michigan State college.

A few of the white flaky kernels may be placed as a garnish on a bowl of steaming cream soup or they may be served as an accompaniment to soup or fruit cocktail instead of the traditional salty crackers.

When the crowd drops in for the midnight snack after the party—a big bowl of popcorn may find a welcome place amidst the array of cheeses, cold meats, fancy pickled fish and crackers on the buffet.

"Popcorn makes a fine substitute for potato chips as an accompaniment to a fruit, meat or fish salad," says Miss Lee.

Crisp, hot popcorn served with milk or cream makes a delicious breakfast cereal.

Large tin cans of popcorn, already popped, can be purchased at most grocery stores. It is convenient to have on hand in this form. Low prices for popcorn due to an unusually large supply are expected to coax many persons to dust off the corn popper this winter.

Redouble Efforts To Cut Accidents

The Michigan State Police will concentrate on traffic control during the remaining days of 1938, according to Commissioner Oscar G. Olander.

Last year 46 percent of the December traffic fatalities occurred during the last twelve days of the month—twelve deaths occurring on Christmas day.

"We are assigning all available men in the organization that can be spared from routine police duty to traffic patrol, in an effort to prevent a repetition of last year's holiday toll," Commissioner Olander said.

"If we are to accomplish what we have set out to do—lower the

1938 Christmas day fatality list, we must have the cooperation of both drivers and pedestrians, he said. "Every driver is asked to adhere strictly to driving regulations, and pedestrians to heed traffic signals—move with the green light and walk on the left-hand side of the road."

It must be remembered that cars cannot be brought to a halt as readily on wet, slippery streets. Therefore parents should share the responsibility of reducing child fatalities by guarding against the careless use of sleds and skates during the holiday vacation.

"We want the public to know that we are bearing down hard on drinking drivers which is, of course, a particularly grave problem throughout the holiday season."

The state troopers have been instructed to be especially alert for persons driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

"When you have been drinking, don't drive," Commissioner Olander warns.

Shooting deer with bow and arrow will be permitted in southern Wisconsin for one month this fall.

To pay the debts of his father, who failed in business 40 years ago, Henrik von Zernikov-Loss, an engineer, has left $192,000 to Kristiansund, Norway.

"Rabbit Fever" Warning Given

Although more cases of tularemia, the "rabbit fever" which has caused more than a dozen deaths and afflicted several hundred persons in Illinois and western states, are usually reported in Michigan during December than during any other month of the year, no serious increase of the disease in this state is expected. Only 12 cases, none fatal, have been reported in Michigan this year, three of them in Detroit and the rest scattered throughout the state. For the last few years the number of cases occurring annually in this state has averaged from 15 to 20. A slight increase in the number of cases is usually noted in December, especially in the Detroit area, due to the fact that more rabbits, both wild and marketed, are eaten during this month than during any other. At least a number of the cases occurring in Detroit have been traced to rabbits imported from other states for sale in meat markets. Michigan rabbits cannot legally be sold.

Tularemia apparently is not prevalent among Michigan rabbits to any serious degree. During the last three years, only 13 persons outside of the Detroit area have contracted it, and no positive rabbit case has ever been found among the animals tested by the state department of conservation. The disease is quite common among the western jackrabbits and is found in southern Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky.

However, although rare in Michigan, the possibility of the disease being present especially in emaciated appearing rabbits calls for care in handling the animals. Tularemia is extremely infectious although it has a low fatality rate of only about 4 percent, and is found in rats, mice, and squirrels as well as rabbits. In fact, many animals are susceptible to it. Caused by a microbe, its prominent symptom is fever. In humans, its action varies. It may effect the eyes, cause pneumonia, attack the glandular system or manifest itself in other ways. The glandular type is most common.

Since it can be contracted through the skin even when there is no cut or open break, the use of rubber gloves in handling rabbits is a wise precaution.

That you'll be sitting on top of the world in 1939, is our wish: we're appreciative of the chance to serve you.

But It's True

Passengers and crew-members on coastal vessels frequently reported seeing the two strange friends and there has been no satisfactory explanation of the Lake Calagan mirage. The effect of the sun beating on snow is the same as it is during extremely hot weather.

Society

There were about 75 relatives and friends took the opportunity, Friday, of attending the silver wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Parmalee and extending congratulations. The genial hosts received both afternoon and evening guests coming from Detroit, Ann Arbor, Walled Lake, Farmington and Plymouth. A buffet luncheon was served from a table of beautiful appointments, a cover of lace being used with a gorgeous centerpiece of snapdragons, chrysanthemums and carnations, interspersed with spikes of silver and green foliage, flanked by silver peacocks. Mr. and Mrs. Parmalee were the recipients of several gifts of silver including 25 dollars. Mrs. Parmalee will be remembered by many in this vicinity as Ethel Chapman, daughter of the late Dr. Chapman and Mrs. Chapman of Walled Lake.

Phyllis Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Stewart, who attends the State Teachers' College in Lockhaven, Pennsylvania, has been spending the holidays in their home on Holbrook avenue. Miss Stewart has been interested in dramatics, helping with the production of several plays and has served on the Pan Hellenic council as a representative of the Alpha Sigma Tau sorority.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Woodworth of 234 Ann street entertained at Christmas dinner at their home last Monday. Guests included Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Burnett of Holly; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Baker of Ann Arbor; and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Woodworth and children, Marcia and Alan of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Vosburgh and daughters, Yvonne and Connie Kay, of Fenton, and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Holmes and daughters, Kathryn and Barbara Jean, and Dayton Churehman of Detroit, were Christmas supper guests of their parents and grandparents, respectively. Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Jewell entertained at dinner Christmas day. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Cable, of Detroit, Miss Laura Mendenhall, of Chicago; Mrs. R. R. Parrott, Mr. and Mrs. George Turner, Carl Blach, Mr. and Mrs. Durward Jewell and daughter, Connie Lou, of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Todd and son, Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thinkhaus, Lorraine Welsh and Donna Anderson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Dunham.

in Pontiac at a family dinner Christmas day. Other guests were present from Northville. William Stang spent the Christmas holidays with his sister, Barbara Kensler in Toledo, Ohio. He attended the very impressive Christmas eve candle light services at the First Congregational church after which he was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Chapin at a Christmas eve buffet supper.

Miss Mabel Spicer was a guest on Christmas day and Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Hays Powless at a Christmas house party in their home on West Davison avenue, Highland Park. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wakely, Ernest Powless and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ford of Port Huron were the other guests.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Wernet and son, William, also Mrs. Helen L. Wernet, of Detroit, their guest, attended a family dinner, Christmas day, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fritz in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steinmetz were dinner guests, Christmas day, of her sister, Mrs. E. J. Drewry, in Ann Arbor, the party being held in the Allenel hotel, after which they went to the home of Mrs. Drewry.

Mrs. Edson O. Huston entertained a few friends of Mrs. Nellie Shattuck-Naylor at the Hotel Mayflower, Wednesday evening, as a farewell for Mrs. Naylor, who leaves next week for a visit to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stoneburner, daughter, Margaret, and Mr. and Mrs. William McFarlane were dinner guests, Christmas day, of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart in Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Becker entertained at dinner, Christmas, Mr. and Mrs. Byron P. Hicks, of Owosso, and Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Blunk and daughter, Jean, of this city.

Mrs. G. I. Friday and daughter, Marilyn, of Ewing, Nebraska, arrived Wednesday of last week for a month's visit with her mother, Mrs. Jessie Terry, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Parmalee and daughters will be dinner guests, New Year's day, of her brother and wife, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Chapman in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Blunk entertained at their home on Williams street for Christmas dinner. Mr. and Mrs. David Mather, Mrs. Charles Mather, Mrs. Mable Newman and daughter, June.

The Get-Together club will meet at Beyer's hall, January 5. The ladies on committee are Mina Taylor, Laura Waterman, Hattie Taylor and Gladys Ebersole.

Mr. and Mrs. Ragnar Blomberg will be the guests this (Friday) evening, of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wyels, in their home at Rosedale Park.

William Thams, a student in the University of Oklahoma, surprised his parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. N. Thams, arriving in time for the Christmas holiday.

Mrs. Helen L. Wernet, of Detroit, was the guest of her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Wernet, from Friday until Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edson O. Huston were Christmas day dinner guests of the latter's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reichnecker in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Jessie Terry entertained at a family dinner, Christmas day in her home on Elizabeth street, having all her children and their families present.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stewart and three children of Port Huron were among the dinner guests, Monday, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Kirkpatrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Ragnar Blomberg will attend a dinner party, New Year's Day, in the home of Mrs. A. E. Blakney, in Rosedale Park.

Rev. C. H. Enss entertained the members of his Sunday school class, Monday evening, at Christmas party. Games were played and gifts exchanged.

Marvin Terry is leaving today, Friday, for Ravenna, Kentucky, to spend the New Year holiday week-end with Lelia McLemore.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Rogers, of Detroit, were luncheon guests, Tuesday of last week, of Mr. and Mrs. Edson O. Huston.

Antarctic Story Declared Hoax

A century-old account of one of the most remarkable Antarctic exploring cruises of all history was declared a fake today by Professor William H. Hobbs. Speaking before the Association of American Geographers meeting at Harvard University Professor Hobbs called false both the story of the Antarctic explorations of James Weddell of the British Royal Navy, alleged to have taken him farther south than anyone has ever gone on such a course, and the Weddell map of the South Shetland Islands.

In exposing the hoax Professor Hobbs said that the narrative of Weddell had all the life and color which characterized that of a notorious explorer within the opposite polar region whose story was also proven to pure fiction. Unlike his later imitator, Weddell "got away with this" for 104 years, the geologist explained, and thanks to the British Admiralty's vast expanse of the southern hemisphere is still known as the "Weddell Sea."

This sea which Weddell claimed to have penetrated in open water has since been found to be perpetually covered by a dense pack ice, the most formidable mass known to exist anywhere, and is recognized as wholly un navigable, Professor Hobbs told the Association of Geographers. It was in this mass of pack ice, Professor Hobbs continued, that two other exploring ships, Flichner's Gauss and Shackleton's Endurance were beset and drifted, the latter to be crushed and sunk. Moreover, he said, the drifts of these vessels firmly hold in the grip of the pack ice indicate a northerly drift of the pack which would successfully resist the advance of even a stronger vessel in a southerly direction.

As for the map of the South Shetland Islands which Weddell is generally credited with preparing in 1824, Professor Hobbs said that a careful study on the subject has shown that Weddell was never on the south side of the island groups, and not within a distance of 25 miles of their northern shores. The map was copied, he contended, with names of most features altered, from the suppressed and generally inaccessible map made by the American explorer, Palmer, and the English explorer, Powell. This map had been made two years earlier, and a single copy exists in Great Britain today in the collections at the Hydrographic Office of the British Admiralty.

Beautiful Riverside Mausoleum Nearing Completion

THE SIZE OF THE MAUSOLEUM is determined as to the number of compartments, and those available are limited in number. If you have not already made your reservation, do so now—delay will not work to your advantage.

A LITTLE THOUGHT will convince you that entombment in Riverside Mausoleum costs no more than a lot, monument, and other cemetery expenses.

A MODERN HEATING PLANT, lights, ventilation, permanency of construction and ready accessibility to every compartment are provided.

PERPETUAL CARE is assured from an endowment fund, the interest of which can be used for the care and maintenance of the building only.

Come out to the building and see for yourself the progress of construction. A request will bring full information with no obligation to buy.

Mrs. Van Eps spent Christmas in Ferndale with her children.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thompson and small son, Blaine, spent Saturday in Detroit.

Carrie Lampman spent Christmas day with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. LaRue at Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Tillotson of Canton, are the proud parents of a baby daughter, born the first part of this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Sedwick Donovan and family were Christmas day guests of Mrs. Donovan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Fitzgerald at Whitmore lake.

Mrs. Hattie Hollaway and Mrs. Blanche Robinson of the Mayflower hotel spent Christmas in Detroit with their children and families.

Miss Miriam Jolliffe, who this month, received her degree from Michigan State Normal, has accepted a teaching position in Lapeer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jackson were in Fenton last Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Alice Andrews, aged 34 years, who had spent most of the last several years at their home on Sheridan avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hix entertained the latter's brothers and sisters and their families, at a Christmas eve party, the guests coming from Lakeview, Denton, Garden City, Dearborn and Detroit.

Michael Klinski entertained at a Christmas party given in his home on Ann Arbor road. All the members of his family and grandchildren attended. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Michael Klinski Jr., of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Klinski and children, Mary Lou, Edward Jr. and Jerry, of Joy road; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kanka and daughter, Barbara, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Owen Sackett and children, Marilyn Ann and Edward Owen, of Northville; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Klinski and son, Kenneth, of Ann Arbor road; Miss Martha Klinski, who had a guest from Monroe; and Walter and Frank Klinski. All celebrated a very Merry and Joyous Christmas and wished their father and grandfather many more such occasions.

My only suggestion would be that ball fringe might be a little bit light and insignificant with venetian blinds. I rather think I would have a more important looking trimming, otherwise your idea sounds very nice. However, if you want to have draperies, why not have a plain beige material in a texture of interest. The extra chair I'd have in a smart shade of beige.

On Modern Furniture. It seems that modern isn't always modern after all. No, because it takes more than a straight line and a dearth of curlicues to make a piece of furniture modern. Anyway, that's what the strictly functionalists hold as they snoot the straight-liners, who, we might add, do plenty of snooting on their own, so no hard feelings.

Of course, both groups claim functionalism as their creed, but the real McCoy has to be designed and built for the space and not carried in by the van. At least that's how you do it scientifically, and that, by the way, speaks well for built-in furniture designed by the architect who plans the building.

We've just seen a smooth and spanking modern home created from start to finish by an architect. And we don't mind saying that it makes sense. In the small dining room, for instance, space is saved by having built-in leather sofa seats around one corner of the room of it. This corner serves graciously for meals with extra chairs for the two outer sides of the table, yet it doesn't monopolize all the space in the room. It likewise makes a pleasant corner for tea, a fine place to study, a nice place to chat or loaf, (remember how comfortable it is to sit and talk with your elbows on a table?)

Another pleasant trick was the dancing spot in the middle of the floor. There is a carpet all over the floor, but in the center space in the room, a square of carpet is seamed and snapped to the floor so that a large square of polished floor can be opened up for dancing with no trouble at all. The chairs there range themselves around this open space in sociable array.

A small house thus achieved precision of operation and a sense of spaciousness and graciousness along with the rather glib casual air that goes with smart modern living.

Not all weather influences work quickly. The cold ocean current that affects southwest Africa in winter takes a year on its journey.

Household Hints

By BETTY WELLS

THERE'S not much a lady can do in these troublous times to keep the world from going where everybody assures us it is headed—and that is straight to smash. And so we might as well go on about our business of making the world a pleasanter place while it lasts. That's what most of us are doing, and the funny part is that it turns out to be a big help to the state of affairs. For the more we buy, the more work people have and the better times get. So more power to our readers who write in for advice.

A. R. R. writes: "I would like advice on our living room. We have an Oriental rug with a muberry background and a good deal of blue in the pattern. Sofa and one chair are blue while the main furniture is mahogany and the walls are white. I am planning to buy another armchair but am uncertain as to color. Also I am perplexed about the curtains. There are venetian blinds at the windows. Would you suggest draperies and if so what material and color; or what could I use for curtains instead of draperies? I thought of plain white marquisette hung straight and to the floor and finished with blue ball fringe down the center and across the bottom. Then I plan to have a wall paper-border of a harmonizing color all around the window frame and to the floor as a finish for the curtains. What do you think of this? I need an extra big piece of furniture, such as a cabinet or secretary. What would be your suggestion?"

Plain straight hanging curtains draped with a wall paper border.

MAGCABEES HAVE CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Magcabee Christmas party, held Wednesday evening, December 21, was an enjoyable affair for the 50 members who attended. Opening with a delicious dinner served by Lady Clara Mumby and her co-workers, it was followed by a program under the direction of Martin in which the Junior Magcabees had an active part. The Magcabee double quartet favored with several Christmas carols and Lady Grace Howard presented a reading depicting the olden time family and the simple gifts they were able to give to their children and how gratefully the shiny tin cup, the neck of striped peppermint candy, the rag doll and the bright new penny were received. Then Mr. and Mrs. Santa both put in an appearance and after a clever dialogue, distributed presents from the Christmas tree to all.

The next regular meeting of the Hive will be held Wednesday evening, January 4, at which time two candidates will be initiated, consequently all officers are asked to appear in white. The Emerson Guards will drill that same afternoon at 5:30, followed by their usual potluck supper. Plans will also be completed that evening for the installation of the newly elected officers and practice will be held for that event directly after the Hive meeting.

Your Michigan—And Mine

WANTED TO VOTE

Harbor Springs—David Ducker, who was visiting here at the time of the November election, must have been pretty anxious to vote. He sent to Columbiaville for an absent voter's ballot, and when it failed to arrive on time, Ducker boarded a bus and traveled 250 miles to his home town—to cast his vote.

A QUEER POTATO

Rochester—Do potatoes grow on the vine like flowers? There is a Rochester lady who always believed this, and this year found proof. To the local newspaper office this lady brought a picture of a potato vine, showing a fair-sized potato hanging from the center of it.

EASILY NAMED BABY

Scottville—Election helped solve the problem of naming a son, born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Erickson on election day. The father's name, you see, is Frank, and the first names of both grandernatorial candidates is Frank. So why not name it easy and name the baby Frank.

DOG SHOWS HOW

Three Oaks—When a horse slipped and fell in a creek near here, he presented a problem. The owner, a crew of neighbors struggled to raise the horse, but the more they worked, the quieter the horse laid. Then a dog showed them how. He nipped the horse on the leg, and old hobbin hopped up without any help and walked out of the water.

IMPRESSIVE SAFETY

Flushing—Although this impressive safety act was staged as a Halloween stunt, it should be good any time. A man wearing a huge death's head, a long black cape, long rattling fingers, and carrying a "father time scythe" appeared on Flushing streets one night. On the scythe appeared the words, "Use common sense in driving—I'm out to get you."

CHIEF RINGS ALARM

Ferndale—Although the chief is usually called to fires, Don Post, Ferndale fire chief, reversed the procedure and did the calling recently. When someone knocked on the door of the chief's home and told him the house across the street was on fire, Post sent in the alarm.

THOSE POLITICAL STEPHENS

Scottville—Stephens, Stephens, and Stephens sounds almost like a law firm, but it is the line-up of a Republican family here, all three of whom hold public office. Rupert Stephens Sr. is Mason county's next legislative representative. Lloyd is a Mason county coroner, and Ruper Jr. won the Republican proctorship in Manistee county.

To celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the declaration of New Mexico as a United States territory, a series of stamps will be issued depicting the evolution of transportation since 1888.

THE FLIGHT OF THE YEAR

The old year has gone by pretty fast. It doesn't seem long since we bid it welcome and made merry over its arrival. But in a brief while it will be gone, like all the other years that have preceded it down through the centuries. It will become just another year, a mere speck in the space of time.

Time seems to fly too fast for the most of us. There is so much to do, so much that we should accomplish, so much that needs to be done that the days are altogether too short and the years not long enough.

Each second of the time, each day, each week and month of the old year has gone forever.

How well we used that time that was given to us, no one is a better judge than ourselves. We alone can answer the question. We alone can decide whether we made the best of it, or whether we whiled it away with no benefit to ourselves or those about us.

Possibly it is well to reflect a bit over the past. The only good that can come from it, will be in helping us to chart our course for the New Year.

Never before in the history of time have the problems been so many and so important as at present. There has been forced upon a once happy, prosperous nation an unrest, a distrust and a neighborly antagonism never before known in America.

To overcome all that has been done to drag America down in the past few brief years, will require the combined power of every right-thinking individual in America.

America wants to go ahead. America will go ahead. Every REAL American wants to help his neighbor. There are no hatreds in the hearts of honest Americans and there is no distrust and no animosity in the heart of the good citizen of this country.

We believe in the future, we believe in the sincerity and honesty of mankind.

It's indeed unfortunate that we must include in our New Year's resolutions a determination to RESTORE in our country belief in mankind and its purposes to go forward in a world FRIENDLY to all.

If during the NEW YEAR about to open a new page we can re-establish confidence, good will and belief in the ideals of mankind, it will be the outstanding twelve months in American history.

THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

When the editor of the famous New York Times pats weekly newspapers on the back and advises them on how they should be published in the future, that's news. Here's what the New York Times says:

"How many people in this city, which draws every day new recruits from small towns, read piously the home weekly? There must be a lot of them, and papers of that sort are always interesting for their pictures of life and society in their communities."

"So when the editor of The Fredonia Censor tells the

by Charles S. Kinnison

Night, for Rest

The weary duties of the day,
Whose hard demands I must obey—
The night smooths out and takes away,
And soothes my restless heart.
Night brings to me a peace of mind
Which, thru the day, I cannot find
And 'neath its spell, benign and kind,
My little cares depart.

I love the daytime hours of light,
Thru which I work and play and fight,
But still, without the dark of night,
The day-light hours would pall.
To carry on life's merry quest,
We need the Day, with which we're blest,
But oh, how sweet, the hours of rest,
When evening shadows fall!

So, every day, when night comes down,
I leave the turmoil of the town
And quit my struggle for renown,
Forget my golden goal—
And let my footsteps homeward wend,
Where song and laughter sweetly blend,
And put my troubles all to end,
And rest my weary soul!

newspaper institute at Cornell that the weekly newspaper of the future will be 'breezier and smaller,' many of us sit up and take notice. How can it be smaller if it is to have 'more kinds of news and more columns?' If the town grows its newspaper must, and the story of club and church and school, social, municipal and athletic affairs, births, marriages, a week's history, must lengthen.

"Perhaps the short item will have its place always," says our editor doubtfully, but he is sure that the weekly of the future 'will carry less of these and more long human-interest items.' What, pray, has more human interest to the persons it concerns than 'the short personal item'?

"This social register is deeply prized. It is a happiness to many to have their names in the paper. It satisfies human curiosity to keep tab on the movements of one's neighbors; and the gregarious instinct is fed by this short conspectus of the week's social movement.

"Our judgment in the matter may be erroneous, but many of us have a dislike of that word 'breezy.' How can you be 'breezy' in the report of a rummage sale in the Methodist church or an account of a baseball or football game between the home high school and a team from out of town?"

"In a small place people are likely to be touchy. It is so easy for what is meant to be a breeze to seem a gale.

"In Kansas there are country editors who spoof one another pleasantly and without malice, but that requires discretion as well as talent.

"In State and national politics its editorials can be as 'fluent and fire-tipped' as it pleases, unless it is willing to take them ready-made from the State and national committee."

A CHANGE NEEDED

The Plymouth Mail has frequently expressed its views as to the viciousness and unfairness of the Wagner labor law. In the court of decency, of REAL JUSTICE and of AMERICANISM, such an unfair measure would be immediately discarded. When a law makes it a crime for one group of citizens to express their views and extends to another group the right denied the others, then that law is NOT A LAW. It is a piece of legislative machinery set up to RUIN AMERICA. Members of congress who voted for it were driven to support it by every conceivable political scheme.

The new congress can serve our country in the same patriotic way as did the soldiers of the Revolution if they will write into this measure at least a few paragraphs that provide ALL AMERICANS the EQUAL RIGHTS provided under the constitution. If congress fails to do this within the next few months, it is failing to serve the nation as it should.

Only through fairness, with a recognition of the rights and responsibilities of all, with sane, deliberate and a friendly, cooperative spirit can there be a restoration of industrial peace. The man who produces is just as much entitled to be heard as the man who initiates, manages and sells the products of industry. But the man who conducts industry is just as much entitled to be heard as the man who aids in the production. That is where the present Wagner act has failed miserably. Not only has it failed because of its un-American provisions, but it has failed because of its miserable administration.

If congress will write into the law provisions that will set up a semblance of decency, of fairness and of cooperation and create an Administration that has the spirit to build rather than tear down, a long step will have been taken to place this country back on the road to progress and development.

REP. MARTIN DIES SAYS:

"There is nothing as deceptive and misleading as a label pinned upon a person by himself. The most conservative political parties in France have the most radical names. As a matter of fact, the true definition of 'liberal' is one who believes in liberty and yet many of those who style themselves 'liberals' are the strongest advocates of governmental regimentation and bureaucracy under which every semblance of liberty is lost.

"The Nazi Party called itself the Liberal Party of Germany. The Communist Party called itself the Liberal Party of Russia and the Fascists called their party the Liberty Party of Italy. And yet all of these so-called parties destroyed liberty in their respective countries.

"True liberalism means belief in freedom of worship, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and freedom of assemblage. The words 'conservative' and 'liberal' have been very loosely and carelessly used in the United States in recent years."

SURE THEY WERE!

Before the November elections, the federal government promised plenty of WPA and now it has reversed itself. Elections went against the New Deal. Is it possible that the former promoters were made as "political bait"? A majority of the voters failed in their own WPA (we pledge allegiance), and now Hopkins et al, put on the robes of frugality.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

YES, IT IS A SLANDER

We never hear or read that statement about the "ill fed, ill housed and ill-clothed one third" of Americans that we do not experience a feeling of resentment against the speaker or the writer who says it. We do not believe that one-third of our people are in that deplorable condition, and we believe that most Americans live better today and have not only more of life's necessities but more of leisure and of comforts than they did 20 to 40 years ago. The standard of living in America has been on the up-grade for more than the half century that we can remember, even though the working hours have been very materially shortened. All this has come about gradually and without any great social revolution fostered by theoretic reformers. Rather it has been by a process of evolution and under conditions which permitted the person with ability, initiative and industry to get ahead and finally own a business or a farm or a factory of his own. There has always been a large class who could not do this, and another large class who would not, but these have always been either able to care for themselves by their labor or cared for by the public, and there is no formula for so leveling off things in America that all will share alike. All the leveling schemes level from the top down and not from the bottom upward, just as has been proven in the last five years; and the pity of it all is that when you level off the fortunes of those who are able to and do employ labor you have done more damage to labor than you have to its employers. Why can't we drop a lot of these fancy governmental schemes for a while and get back to personal industry, thrift and integrity as a basis for American worth and American prosperity?—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

JUST THE PERCENTAGE. THAT'S ALL

Some folks become jittery when they learn about ten or twenty deer hunters being killed or dropped dead in camp because of heart ailments, but if those jittery ones will just pause and remember, that in every-day life a greater percentage of people die than suffer the end in deer hunts. Nearly two hundred thousand people in the Michigan woods naturally demands a greater mortality than is ever recorded.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

TOWN "KICKERS"

There are many boosters who are always satisfied with their town and who let folks know it. But every city, no matter how large it may be, has its allotment of kickers. There is no community that does not need some improvements. Nor is there a community where no controversy exists among its citizenry when attempts are made to do something about the needs of the town. There are always defects in management and public service and there are always those constant fault finders who call attention repeatedly to these defects. As a general rule the biggest home town kicker is usually last to try to do something constructive to remedy the fault. A bit of bustling about to get folks interested in repairing the need, to create sentiment in favor of the improvement, is much more apt to carry results. We will always have the man who thinks the small town should have all the advantages of the large one, who is eternally dissatisfied with things in his home place. The majority of us feel that we in the small town have much that a large place can't offer us.—William A. Irving in The Sandusky Republican-Tribune.

JUST A CRAZY IDEA.

The farm plan is in trouble about wheat. Unlike cotton it has not lost its foreign market, providing the price can be made cheap enough abroad. So, just because it is the cheapest way out, the government proposes to subsidize foreign wheat shipments, and pocket the loss. The foreigners will then buy the wheat cheaper than the price in the domestic market.—James Gallery in The Tuscola County Advertiser.

Interesting News of Days Gone By Taken From The Plymouth Mail Files

Frances Truesdell and Ernest Reddeman were quietly married at the bride's home in Canton last Wednesday evening by the Rev. D. C. McNaev of Wayne, in the presence of a few relatives and friends. The bride is the youngest daughter of the late P. L. Truesdell and has resided in Canton all her life, and the groom is one of Canton's estimable young men. The happy couple have the best wishes of many friends for a prosperous wedded life. Mr. and Mrs. Reddeman will reside on the Truesdell homestead.

C. H. Bennett has purchased a fine new Cadillac car.

Louis Gebhardt is building a new house east of the Van Vleet place on Ann Arbor street.

The Woman's Literary club held an open meeting Wednesday evening in Grange hall. Each member was permitted to invite one guest and about 100 members and guests were present. The subject of the evening was the "Public School." The meeting opened with singing by the high school girls' glee club. Miss Florence Caster read an interesting paper on "Play Grounds and Public Parks." Miss Isabelle Hanford gave a talk on making the school more of a social center, and she told of the work that has been done along that line in some of the larger cities. Mr. Isbell gave an instructive talk on the "School of Today," and in a brief way compared the school of yesterday and the school of today. He spoke of the great thought that is being exercised for the welfare of the pupils today, mentally, morally and physically. Rev. Joseph Dutton was present and gave an impromptu talk. The program closed with a couple of fine selections by the ladies' quartet, after which light refreshments were served.

H. C. Robinson conducted a large auction sale at Linden last Saturday.

August Schaufele and family and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reddeman attended the Truesdell-Reddeman wedding at Canton last Wednesday evening.

The people at Stark were surprised Wednesday morning to see two M. E. ministers with guns and a determined look upon their faces get off the morning train. The farmers corralled their stock and drove their chickens to a place of safety, then ran to see if wives and children were right, but the ministers packed all houses until they came Rose Lawn, where they called and the last seen of them there were going south in company with Ed Hoisington, with vengeance protested against rabbit family and from until judgment day you never hear from another bit.

We are certainly having weather and farmers are having a great time to do their plowing or any other work.
