

Brazenness Revealed In Election Scandals Of Murphy Administration Dumbfounds Michigan Citizens

State Employees Assessed In Direct Violation Of Law To Raise Money For Political Slush Funds

By ELTON R. EATON

There has been no delay on the part of the Michigan state legislature in getting down to work. There are some conditions which make it rather difficult for the usual routine to be started, but these conditions are not going to slow down the 1939 legislature as it did in 1937.

The house of representatives lost no time in selecting a speaker. This official is Howard Nugent, a farmer living over near Bad Axe. Speaker Nugent is a quiet, unassuming individual, absolutely fair and independent. When the present session will have ended, he will rank as one of the best speakers of the house Michigan has ever had.

It is interesting to note the remarkable difference in the caliber of the legislature of this year and the one that passed out of existence with the beginning of the new year. Visitors to Lansing during the past few days as they have looked over the new house and senate have commented freely on this subject. Certainly the future looks bright for Michigan from a purely legislative standpoint.

Barely had the Murphy administration closed its doors before skeletons in the dark political closets began to rattle and stonches of scandal filled the halls of the Plymouth Mail will recall that the last legislature enacted a so-called civil service bill. The "friendly" (?) Murphy legislature enacted the bill after placing some 72 or more amendments on the act. It was through these amendments that the door was opened for dirty work of the past two years, and has brought anything but credit and a favorable public attitude towards civil service.

When the measure was before the legislature two years ago the writer worked in behalf of its enactment, advocated it and voted for it. At that time the defects were apparent, but there was no chance of enacting the bill without submitting to the demands of the house majority that controlled all legislation at that time.

Michigan has had so-called civil service for the past two years. What has happened under it?

That is what a special legislative committee will try and find out. So widespread has been the complaint and so many charges have been made against the manipulations of civil service that Senator Elmer Porter, outstanding and progressive senator from the Lenawee-Monroe district, introduced a joint legislative resolution demanding a complete, thorough and immediate investigation of the department. All four members of the house committee appointed to serve with the senate voted for civil service two years ago. The speaker named as the first member of the house committee, the writer of this article. Of the four from the house one is a Democrat, Hon. Charles Sundstrom, of the Upper Peninsula. He too favored honest civil service. The other members of the committee from the house are Nelson Miles of Holland and Edson Root of Paw Paw. The senate portion of the committee in addition to Chairman Porter is made up of Senator Chester Howell of Chesaning, Senator Don Vanderwerp of Fremont and Senator Dotsch, an Upper Peninsula Democrat.

It will be noted that there are three newspaper editors on the committee, Senators Howell, Vanderwerp and the writer. It was upon their request that it was decided that all committee hearings should be open to the public. They believed that it was only fair that the people of the state know all the facts as they are unveiled. Other members of the committee agreed. The investigation is being made for the purpose of trying to find out what the defects in the present act are, why it has been so generally condemned and what can be done to return it to public favor and save its beneficial features.

At the same moment "the great ex-humanitarian ex-governor" was being sworn in as attorney general of the United States, one of the nastiest election scandals in Michigan's history was breaking into print. The alleged "humanitarian" had talked so much about honesty in government during the past two years. While he was unpacking his traveling bags in Washington, former state officials under his administration were confessing to some of the most vicious election law violations that the state has ever known.

Probably the most startling confession so far made in connection with the scandal was that by former deputy secretary of state, Barney Youngblood, when he admitted to Secretary of State Harry Kelly, in the presence of The Detroit News, that the employee of the state had been assessed two percent of their monthly pay checks almost from the day that Frank Murphy became governor of Michigan.

Following is a portion of the dumbfounding admission made by Youngblood as it was printed in the January 7th issue of The Detroit News: "The campaign fund, between $9,000 and $10,000 was raised by a levy of two percent a month on the salaries of employees. I authorized this collection, and the money was collected by Morris and Wasserman, his assistant. Wasserman was in active charge. I know also that the employee paid a week's salary to the campaign fund, but I did not authorize this. The two per cent collection was in effect for about 14 months that I know of. It was decided on after a conference with party leaders in Washington."

There are two things that should be pointed out in this amazing admission. First that the $9,000 or $10,000 mentioned was the amount taken from just one of the many hundreds of offices operated by the state.

The second and most startling admission is in the last sentence, where Mr. Youngblood says that the illegal assessment of election expenses on state employees "was decided on after a conference with party leaders in Washington."

So Washington higher-ups were in on the racket too, were they?

Up to the present time there has been no mention made of just how much of this money was used for the re-election as governor of the present attorney general of the United States, but with the keenly inquisitive mind of the new secretary of state digging into the facts, no one knows where the present mess will wind up. It is (Continued on Page 2)

Youths Discover Two Can Play At Skin Game

The theme of "Yes, We Have No Bananas Today," in Plymouth drug store in the last two weeks was a little too provoking to two Anchorage youths. Two weeks ago Angelo Robelli and Leonard Bourlier came to visit Father V. J. Renaud, formerly of Anchorage, and after seeing a movie stopped in a drug store to have a banana split. "We don't have any bananas," the girl at the counter told them. They took something else.

But when they returned last week-end they were prepared. They went to a movie and then visited the same drug store. "No bananas today," the girl repeated. The youths reached into their pockets and withdrew two luscious bananas.

The girl at the fountain prepared two banana splits. "But," moaned the youths, "she charged us full price even after we supplied the bananas ourselves."

Newburg To Hold Potluck And Sale

The Newburg Sunday school is going to try something new—new to Newburg—at least—at 8:30 p.m. tonight, (Friday, January 13). The Sunday school will sponsor a potluck dinner accompanied by entertainment and to be followed by a big bargain sale.

Proceeds from the sale will help the Sunday school to complete a job undertaken a year ago when its growth forced it to provide new classroom facilities in the church basement.

This project was financed by friends and members of the Sunday school, with non-interest bearing notes, and now it appears likely that the last of the notes will be retired. The dinner and the sale are intended to provide an evening of fellowship and to enable the Sunday school to reach its financial goal at the same time. A large crowd is expected to attend, with interest geared to the bargains that will be shown at the sale.

70 Adults Register For Night School

Night school classes for the second term at Plymouth high school opened Monday night with an attendance of about 70 adult students, a larger number than registered for the fall term. Claude J. Dykhouse, high school principal said.

He announced a change in the schedule of the classes in landscape gardening, which will meet at 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays instead of Mondays. Persons who wish to fit themselves to handle additional work in typewriting, shorthand, machine shop, and other interests still may enter the night school classes, Mr. Dykhouse said.

Reindeer Feed Proves Success

More than 60 members of the Western Wayne County Conservation association gathered at the Hotel Mayflower Monday night to enjoy a particularly fine talk and feast on 100 pounds of reindeer meat. The banquet, one of the finest the club has ever had, proved a great success and all who attended expressed the opinion that the members in charge had done an excellent job.

The main feature of the affair was to be the reindeer meat, served by the hotel in "Italian hunt style" and the sportsmen agreed that it was, indeed, a rare delicacy. The speaker for the affair, Richard Gerstle, deer expert of the Pennsylvania Conservation Commission, was brought to Plymouth by Jack VanCoevinger, Wildlife editor of the Detroit Free Press.

Gerstle dealt with Pennsylvania's deer problem from its infancy. He told of the original deer being shipped to his state from Michigan. He cited the problems his department had had with the herds growing so fast that they became a major problem in the state from the standpoint of damage to farms. He told of the $100,000 the state had thrown away building deer fences to keep the animals off of lands under cultivation. He went into detail explaining the recent open seasons of deer held in Pennsylvania and stated that its Conservation commission was convinced that at least once every two years it was necessary to hold open season on the same.

Ukrainian Chorus To Sing Here

The Ukrainian Chorus, widely acclaimed for its beautiful musical programs of central Europe, will present a performance Tuesday evening, January 24, which will be sponsored by the Stark-weather Parent-Teachers' association. The public is invited to attend the performance, a rare treat for music lovers.

In addition to the musical program, which is always considered one of the outstanding events of the season in Detroit, there will be a short talk on the Ukraine. Since the World War the Ukraine has held the world's interest because of its changes in government, its location on the Black Sea and its western neighbor, Poland.

It lies in the "black earth belt" or what is known as "Europe's granary." With its ever-changing boundary lines in central Europe, it is in constant danger and the talk which will be presented should help Plymouth residents to understand its position and culture.

First '39 Plymouth Baby A Girl—From Northville

Miss Carolyn Ann Burkman became first lady of Plymouth for 1939 on January 4 even if her parents do live in Northville. She gained the title by the simple method of being the first baby born in the city. The young lady, who weighed eight and three-quarters pounds, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burkman, of Northville in the Plymouth hospital. Dr. Russell Acheson was the attending physician.

ROCKS SEEK SECOND NORTHVILLE TRIUMPH

The Plymouth Rock basketball team, which defeated the Northville team by the slim margin of one point when the two teams met for the first time this year on the Northville court recently, will make a bid for their second triumph when the two quintets meet in the Plymouth gymnasium January 17.

The Rocks took the measure of the Northville team in their first encounter by a score of 24 to 23. A big crowd is expected to attend the exciting game which is forecast here.

Lutheran Church Concludes Year

The annual meeting of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church revealed to members of the congregation the fact that the church was in excellent financial condition. The congregation which numbers today 235 communicants and 83 voters contributed during the last year $4,551.94 and also helped swell the church organ fund to $831.26.

It was called to the attention of the congregation by the board of the church that the contributions made throughout the year were all voluntary and no dinners, bazaars, etc., were held for the purpose of raising money. The income of the church in 1929 was $2,578.13 and for each year during the last ten it has shown a steady increase.

New officers were elected at the meeting and they will be formally inducted into office at the 10:30 church service Sunday January 15th. The new officers are: William Petz, president; Oliver Goldsmith, vice president; Walter Schultz, secretary; Otto Beyer, treasurer and trustee; Albert Rhode, financial secretary and chairman of the board; William Bartel, trustee; Edward Hosback, Paul Groth and Oscar Lehman, deacons.

On February 20th four of the officers will conclude ten years of uninterupted service. The officers of the church, they are: William Petz, Oliver Goldsmith, Walter Schultz and Otto Beyer. Mr. Beyer has been treasurer since 1907 with the exception of the years of 1927 and 1928.

WELLINGTON H. DEPUÉ

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, January 4, for Wellington H. DePue, 90 years old, life-long resident of Plymouth community and former farmer, carpenter and railroad employe, who died New Year's day at his home on Liberty street. Active in mind and body throughout his later years, Mr. DePue lived to see his 90th birthday gratified, his family said. He had always wanted to take a ride in an airplane and the desire was fulfilled a year ago. He kept well posted on current events.

He had three other ambitions, he told his family. He wanted to live to be 90 years old and to spend Christmas day and New Year's day with his family. He celebrated his nineteenth birthday anniversary on December 18, enjoyed Christmas day and died January 1.

Over 600 Calls Handled On Police Teletype

13 Cars Stolen; 13 Cars Recovered, Is One Item

The machine that makes such a racket in the police department offices at the city hall is one of the most important agencies in helping to stretch the long arm of the law just a little further in its grasp for criminals.

Now Plymouth is a nice law-abiding town, but you might be surprised to know that the noisy machine, which is a teletypewriter on a county-wide sheriff's and state police system, banged out over 600 messages to Plymouth police and from them to other law enforcement agencies in the last year.

That's a total of more than one message a day, and the majority of them were messages sent out of the Plymouth station.

The Wayne County Teletypewriter Systems statistics for the year of 1938 show also that 13 cars were reported stolen in Plymouth and 13 stolen cars were recovered. If you told Chief of Police Vaughan Smith that that's pretty good he'd answer, "Good? Say, that's perfect."

Other statistics of the teletypewriter show that the Plymouth station reported 18 missing persons in 1938, and 17 persons were recovered. Other items list one hit-run complaint, one robbery complaint, one breaking and entering complaint, six larceny complaints, 15 miscellaneous complaints and three miscellaneous arrests.

For the year, there were 84 broadcasts from Plymouth, 34 messages sent out and 177 messages received. For the county as a whole the teletypewriter handled messages on 15,023 complaints and 11,194 arrests.

Lorenz Builds For D. & C. Store

Construction will start today on a new building to be erected for the D. & C. store by Ralph Lorenz on his property at the corner of Main street and Ann Arbor Trail. Plans drawn by Thomas Moss show the building to be 40 feet wide and 105 feet deep. The building will join the present Simon building and will leave a 22-foot building space directly on the corner.

Plans call for a porcelain enamel steel exterior with plastered walls and ceilings on the interior. A basement will house the heating system and provide store room for the D. & C. store. The building will be so constructed to provide a second story when needed and the same will probably be added when the corner lot is built on.

Aged Resident Of Plymouth Dies At Age Of 90

Mr. DePue Sees All Ambitions Gratified

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, January 4, for Wellington H. DePue, 90 years old, life-long resident of Plymouth community and former farmer, carpenter and railroad employe, who died New Year's day at his home on Liberty street.

Active in mind and body throughout his later years, Mr. DePue lived to see his 90th birthday gratified, his family said. He had always wanted to take a ride in an airplane and the desire was fulfilled a year ago. He kept well posted on current events.

He had three other ambitions, he told his family. He wanted to live to be 90 years old and to spend Christmas day and New Year's day with his family. He celebrated his nineteenth birthday anniversary on December 18, enjoyed Christmas day and died January 1.

Except for two years in his early married life which were spent in South Haven, Mr. DePue had spent all his life in this area. He was born on a farm in Superior township, one of three children of Benjamin and Luisa DePue. His sister, Elizabeth, and brother, Olin, preceded him in death by several years.

He received his early education in what now is known as the Miller school on West Ann Arbor road. He completed his education in Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti, where he met his future wife, Alice Corwin. They were married June 16, 1870. To them were born eight children, of whom five are still living. Mrs. DePue died November 2, 1901.

Surviving Mr. DePue are five children, Mrs. Cora Stireng, of Ypsilanti; Mrs. Lillian Martin, of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Nellie Beyer, of Wayne; Mrs. Winifred Smith and Willard DePue, of Plymouth; and five grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Christmas Cards Put In Refuse Can

So your friends didn't receive the Christmas cards you sent to them?

What's the matter with that postmaster anyway? That's the thought that probably has been running through the minds of a number of Plymouth residents during the last two weeks.

Said one complainant, "I put my cards in the mail box a whole week before Christmas, and they haven't been delivered yet."

Last Saturday Plymouth city employees cleaned out the refuse can at the corner of Main street and Penniman avenue for the first time since Christmas.

Mixed with the papers, candy boxes and other refuse was a large number of Christmas cards that had been placed in the can at the corner instead of being put in the mail box which stands near where the can is located.

Police Officer Charles Thumme who happened to be near at the time, saw to it that the cards were turned over to Postmaster Frank Lurned. Among the cards was a number of anonymous ones, which had been placed a rubber band. The addresses upon these were perfectly good and probably have been delivered by this time.

Next Christmas be sure and put your Christmas cards in the postoffice or in mail boxes if you want them delivered.

The "service" that the city provides for matter left in refuse cans is to see to it that the refuse goes to the dump heap, where there are probably many Christmas cards of former years.

Every mother will be interested in hearing what Mrs. Mallory has to say. Mrs. Hammond said, and everyone is invited to hear the address. There will be no admission charge. Members of the Salem Federated church Ladies' Aid will provide a cafeteria supper in the dining room of the church at 6:00 p.m. preceding the address. Everyone is invited to attend the dinner as well as the meeting at which Mrs. Mallory will talk.

Brazenness Revealed In Election Scandals Of Murphy Administration

quite evident that the former secretary of state, Mr. Case, knew little about what his employees were doing. It was he who started the investigation now being conducted by Mr. Kelly.

Michigan's new attorney general, Thomas Read, has advanced further than any other official in selecting his official family. But Mr. Read had a tremendous advantage as he had worked in past years with many of his newly selected associates and he knew of their excellent qualification. The high type of assistants he has named clearly indicates that Michigan during the next few years is going to have one of the most outstanding administrations from the attorney general's office it has had since the days of Alex Groesbeck. Here too is another case where Michigan citizens will benefit as a result of the administration of an official who knows Michigan, its problems and its needs and who had the gumption to do the thing as it should be done. Not only that, but Mr. Read has the ability to get others to work with him in bringing about the objects he desires to attain and that is highly important.

Governor Fitzgerald's message, according to those who know state government, was a masterpiece. He set forth his aims clearly and without a lot of needless flourish. If taxpayers of the state cared to waste their time to read the "ex-augural" of the "ex-great humanitarian" they could gain some idea of why Michigan at the end of his two brief years as governor finds itself in the most deplorable financial mess with which it has ever been confronted.

Notwithstanding the rapid, efficient steps being taken to properly organize the state government by officials who really believe in honest government, rumors of scandals and needed investigation fill the air. Auditor General Brown, whose inquisitive mind during his legislative days has saved many hundreds of thousands of dollars to the taxpayers of the state, has just uncovered the fact that the Detroit Racing association owes the state over $50,000. Auditor General Brown will get that money for the taxpayers, there is no question about that. Here again is involved some of Murphy's henchmen. There's Frank Isbey, manager of the state fair, and Edward J. Fry, chairman of Murphy's state political campaign committee, who is state racing commissioner. It's all a fine kettle of fish, but taxpayers can rest assured that when the new auditor general starts out to do a job, he usually finishes it up as it should be.

Funny things are happening around Lansing these days. Governor Fitzgerald is in a sort of tough spot when it comes to relieving John Strange of his job as commissioner of agriculture as Strange is an old neighbor of the Fitzgerald family over in Eaton county. Strange has done a fair job as commissioner of the department, and he would like to retain his post. The other day he told the chief executive that he could trim the expenses of his department something like a quarter of a hundred thousand dollars per annum if he was permitted to remain in his position. Thereby admitting that he has squandered during the past two years more than $50,000 of good tax dollars of the people of the state for no good purpose whatsoever. This admission is sufficient cause for the Governor to remove him immediately. Michigan does not need or want in a high position any official who will spend more money than the efficient services of his department justify.

Representative Joseph Warner of Washtenaw county has won for himself a host of admirers around Lansing during the past week. Mr. Warner was a candidate for speaker of the house, but when he found out that the new administration believed it best that the Thumb district of Michigan should be recognized in some high post in the present legislative session, he immediately stepped aside so there would be no conflict in the matter. He did it in a fine spirit and in such a way that even those who were for some other candidate, are speaking in glowing terms of Representative Warner's fine sportsmanship. He had a lot of friends. He has made many more. He will be one of the outstanding figures in the forthcoming session as well as in the next campaign.

Do not be surprised if there is also an investigation of the sales tax department. The affairs of this branch of the state government need a thorough airing, there is no question about that. Maybe a complete inquiry will reveal to the people of Michigan many strange things about the way sales tax money is collected and not collected.

Business - Professional Club Activities

The Business and Professional Women's club met on Tuesday evening at the studio of Hanna Strasen. Mrs. Batis and Miss Dunlop of the Detroit Business and Professional Women's club came to the meeting for the purpose of inviting the local club to an International Night to be held February 16 in the Masonic temple, Detroit. The Windsor, Ontario, club, as well as many of the district clubs, will attend this banquet and entertainment.

Miss Hazel Lickfelt, who is captain of Girl Scout Troop No. 2, which is sponsored by the local Business and Professional Women's club, gave a very interesting report on past and present activities of the troop.

Mrs. Mary Tibbets was by special election made secretary of the club.

Miss Hildur Carlson has been elected recording secretary of District No. 1. This includes the Detroit clubs and those of neighboring cities. Several local members will attend the district meeting to be held in Pontiac on Sunday, January 21.

PSORIASIS

(By O. F. Beyer, of Beyer Drugs)

Not particularly painful, not fatal, or even dangerous, Psoriasis is still an unsightly and disfiguring ailment. Those who are afflicted with this blotchy skin disfigurement will go to any lengths to effect a cure.

Sunlight is the best cure. The body regularly exposed to strong sunshine recovers its normal condition within a short time.

Not everyone so afflicted can afford the time and money for a sunshine cure in Florida or Arizona. But everyone can consult a good doctor, take regular sun lamp treatments, regiment their lives and habits to effect a cure.

Prescriptions for medication in such treatments should be filled by a skilled and reputable pharmacist.

PSORIASIS. (By O. F. Beyer, of Beyer Drugs). Not particularly painful, not fatal, or even dangerous, Psoriasis is still an unsightly and disfiguring ailment. Sunlight is the best cure. The body regularly exposed to strong sunshine recovers its normal condition within a short time. Not everyone so afflicted can afford the time and money for a sunshine cure in Florida or Arizona. But everyone can consult a good doctor, take regular sun lamp treatments, regiment their lives and habits to effect a cure. Prescriptions for medication in such treatments should be filled by a skilled and reputable pharmacist.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH. Holbrook and Harding, Lynn B. Stout, pastor. 615 North Mill street. There is a place of warmth and welcome to all classes of society. It's at Calvary church. Just Thinkin'

by Charles S. Kinnison

Regarding Sunday Dinner

Why is it we gorge like a beast, Almost, when we need food the least? For instance, on Sunday we stuff As though we could not get enough, Tho that is one day of them all The portions we eat should be small— We loaf, like an old lazy dog, But eat like an over-fed hog!

So here's a suggestion from me, To which Wife Dear will agree: Cut down on the big Sunday spread, And try just a luncheon, instead. I'd say this was merely her due— For she needs to rest, same as you. So cut down that big Sunday meal And see how much better you feel.

Postscript: But don't expect me, I beseech, To practice this thing that I preach! (©, 1939, Western Newspaper Union.)

CATHOLIC CHURCH.—Rev. V. Renaud, pastor. Sunday—Mass at 8:00, 10:00 and 11:30. Confessions Saturday nights at 7:30, and before each mass. Societies—The Holy Name Society for all men and young men. All children that have not completed their 8th grade, are obliged to attend these religious instructions.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist. Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of 20 years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00. "Life" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 15. The Golden Text (Proverbs 12: 28) is: "In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death." Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 17: 3): "And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 410): "This is life eternal, say Jesus—is, not shall be; and then he defines everlasting life as a present knowledge of his Father and of himself,—the knowledge of Love, Truth and Life."

L. A. S. Meet At Guthrie Home

There were 18 members present at the annual meeting and election of officers of the Plymouth branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association, held Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John T. Neale, Jr. Mrs. Paul Weidman and Mrs. O. F. Beyer will serve another year as president and vice president. Mrs. Mark J. Chaffee was elected recording secretary, Mrs. Ward Henderson, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. George Cramer as treasurer. The various committees will be chosen by the board members at its meeting this afternoon to be held in the home of Mrs. Ward Henderson.

A delightful tea followed the regular business meeting and program which was provided by Mrs. Neale.

Outline of study was read by Mrs. Jess Tritton, program chairman, and members were asked to choose what they felt were most needed by the association. The association voted to have exhibits at the Flower Show to be held in Detroit, March 25 to April 2 inclusive. Other questions of importance were also decided upon.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. George M. Chute Jr., on Monday, February 13. Members are asked to please note the time and place for meeting each month in The Plymouth Mail rather than depend on some one calling them.

Rent Sheet and Check—Will They Convict?

Here are two pieces of evidence to be submitted in the retrial of James J. Hines, alleged conspirator in New York's lottery racket, which opened Monday, January 9. The rent sheet, left, purports to show that Hines did not live in a certain apartment building at the time "payoff" checks were supposed to have been delivered to him there. The check, which first bears an endorsement by J. Richard ("Dixie") Davis, lawyer for the late Dutch Schull's policy gang, also carries a signature, "J. Hines." The defense, fighting District Attorney Thomas Dewey's case, claims this is not Hines' signature.

Five Cars Stuck In Settling Roads

It was spring in January for several Plymouth motorists this week, and a good muddy one, too. At least five cars became stranded in mud or in settling land on Irving and Mill streets as the ground loosened after the frost left it during the warm spell.

Irving street was closed for a period Monday after one car sank a foot and a half into the earth. Four cars became stuck at the intersection of Mill and Amelia streets Tuesday. Installation of sanitary sewers has caused the ground to settle also.

CHARLES FROST SPEAKS ON TOWNSEND PLAN

The Townsend Plan bill has been and is being promised a full and fair hearing soon. If this does take place it is quite possible that this great plan of Dr. Francis E. Townsend will be enacted into law during the present session of congress, therefore the public is always invited to attend all meetings to become better acquainted with the provisions of this plan for National Recovery. Charles Frost will speak on the plan Monday night, January 16, at 8 p.m., in the Grange hall. Come and bring your friends.

At Wheat Parley

Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador to Great Britain, is chairman of the international wheat advisory committee which began its deliberations in London Tuesday, January 10. The last world wheat conference, held in July, postponed action on a proposed quota system for marketing surplus wheat. Since that time world surpluses have increased considerably.

Household Hints

By BETTY WELLS

THOSE things that make a vacant lot a potential homestead cannot be measured by a surveyor nor guaranteed with the abstract. And it's just as well not to take a real estate agent's word for the vital points about a piece of property. Look them up yourself. For the neighbors, the schools, the transportation are as important as the big oak tree or the clump of lilac bushes in your future satisfaction with the lot.

Are the people nearby the type you want to live among? From visits to the schools and the churches, investigations of the clubs and local civic organizations, inspection of the parks and the library, you can glean a fairly accurate idea of the people in the district. Not only the scholastic rating of the school system, but the nearness of the school and the absence of dangerous crossings.

Don't let somebody high-pressure you.

ings, convenience to church, park, library and shopping are added advantages.

Is the street a quiet side-by-side with light traffic or is it a noisy dusty main thoroughfare? Is the alley safe and well kept? What about building regulations that govern the type of structure and the distance it may be set back from the street? Look into piping, curbing and paving improvements and the extent of indebtedness remaining on them. Boundary lines, liability for assessments and taxes, title examination, are matters to go over with an attorney and get with the deed an abstract from a reliable abstract company that proves the title.

Only after these dull details have been settled may you turn to the more interesting part of considering your home site—the personality of the ground itself. Then it is time to gloat over it . . . whether you chose a wooded, tangled spot on a hill or an open rolling elevation for a stretch of velvety lawn. Whether you choose a secluded lot or a convenient one.

Spinning With Rustic Ideas.
Roaming among old farms has set us off on our annual spree of day dreaming about returning to the simple life. You know—get away from it all and settle back in a little gray cottage somewhere or other in the backwoods.

We'd better break down and confess that half the lure is in the idea of remodeling some run-down house that has possibilities. So we're spinning with rustic ideas. Here's our masterpiece:

We'd kalsomine the walls in white—working right over the old wall paper if it was in fairly good condition and we had to cut corners, which we would. And do the woodwork white too, a crisp starch white. This would be for both living room and dining room. Then we'd go over the old floors with a coat of light green paint and add white window shades and white dotted swiss tie-back curtains made very full and frilly. Maybe we'd have valances and tie-backs of flowered cretonne or chintz on a white ground. For rugs, we'd like oval flowered hooks and for the sofa a slip cover in some sturdy washable material in light green; we'd probably add odd sofa cushions of the flowered material! We'd have flowered cushions for an old patent rocker, while two easy chairs we'd cover in light green. We'd prefer white lamp bases with shades of the flowered stuff (we'd make the shades ourselves).

The furniture would be odds and ends of course—the pieces of good wood we'd rub down to their natural finish and wax. The nondescript pieces in the living room we'd paint white. For accent perhaps we'd get some ruby glass to have about. In the dining room we'd like to have a big round flowered hooked rug; then we'd paint the dining table and chairs in light green. And use white fringed mats and napkins (why couldn't they be made out of worn out linen damask table cloths?). And we'd no doubt want glass shelves set in the top part of the dining room windows to hold rows of unusual ruby glass. Flower prints framed in green would just about cover one wall, and chair pads for the chairs would be of the flowered material used in the living room.

Personalities Waiting To Meet You At City Library

A rich and tested personality on the other end of a log has been termed the best university in the world, and a half-dozen such personalities are available to Plymouth residents in autobiographical form, if not on the end of a log.

The autobiographies of past and present personalities of interest and importance are now at the Plymouth library. They include such varied personages as Thomas Benton, the painter; Harriet Monroe, the poet; Young-hill Kang, the Korean author, and others.

The books are as follows: "Unfinished Journey," by Jack Jones, an autobiography of a South Wales miner whose life has been rich and varied.

"An Artist in America," by Thomas Benton. This is a graphic account of the life and wanderings of the author-artist, born in 1889, in Neosha, Missouri, where he was something of a black sheep in an old Missouri family. The book covers his youth in Missouri, his four years of study in Paris and his travels in Ozarks, the deep South and the West, with an interlude in New York.

"East Goes West," by Young-hill Kang, the life story of the Korean author of "Grass Roof." It covers the years from his first arrival in America at the age of 18, to his final adjustment to western living some years later.

"A Poet's Life," by Harriet Monroe, who in 1912, founded the magazine Poetry, which she edited until her death in 1936. She discovered the talents of many young writers later to become famous.

"My Father," by Paul Dwight Moody. This is the portrait not primarily of a man who was a famous preacher but of a sturdy, spirited, dynamic, unpredictable, surprisingly sensitive and tolerant and amusingly whimsical American whom everybody loved.

"Eagle Forgotten," by Harry Barnard, a long-needed adequate biography of Altgeld, one of the most misunderstood and falsely vilified of American political leaders.

"Why Was Lincoln Murdered?" by Otto Eisenschim. New answers to some of the questions provoked by the assassination and a reinvestigation of other matters concerning the Civil War.

One Minute From Gun Zebras Catch Rocks

After leading by a comfortable margin for three periods, the local high school quintet fell apart and was passed in the last seconds of a thrilling encounter with the Wayne high zebras last Friday, January 6. The hopeless Rocks finished on the tail end of a 25-22 score, marking their second league defeat in as many starts, and their first loss from Wayne in years.

led by "bantam Bobby" Hitt, Plymouth began rather brilliantly. Hitt sank a honey of a corner shot in the first minute, and Ross added a long one before Wayne broke into the scoring column. Ketchum accomplished this on a short shot, and Hitt immediately retaliated with another basket. Brown, captain of the Zebras, dropped one in from the front of the basket, but Krumm made this up with an amazing shot from the middle of the floor. The quarter ended with Plymouth leading 10-6. The Rocks widened their lead in the second period as Hitt, Ross and Ketchum all sank free shots. Smith and Hitt also scored field goals, making the score at the half 18-10.

The second half became a rough-and-tumble contest, with Wayne slowly undermining the Rocks' lead. With Horton, Ketchum, and Brown all looping shots, the third quarter terminated with the Rocks commanding a margin of 21-17. But the worst was yet to come. The last period was pure drama. The Rocks, though they fought all the way, were unable to stave off the stampeding Zebras. Hitt's free shot was their only score. Horton and Ketchum pulled the score to 22-21 with field goals. Then came a double foul that probably decided the game. Smith's throw bounced off the rim, but Angel, of Wayne, sprouted wings in the eyes of the crowd by making his first score of the evening, tying the score. A moment later he received another free shot and made the score Wayne 23, Plymouth 22. Temple finished the scoring as the end neared with a long shot for Wayne.

Hitt was easily the star of the game, scoring 11 points. Brown, of Wayne, was next with eight. Scoring was as follows:

Plymouth	FG.	FS.	T
Ross	2	2	6
Hitt	4	3	11
Smith	1	1	3
Ketchum	1	0	2
Wayne	FG.	FS.	T
Horton	3	0	6
Ketchum	3	1	7
Brown	4	0	8

TIMELY FOUL SHOT BEATS PLYMOUTH RESERVES 18-17

One foul shot, hooped by the Wayne center in the last seconds of play, provided a moving picture climax and spelled an 18-17 defeat for the Plymouth reserves last Friday, January 6, in the Wayne gym. The game proved conclusively that the Plymouth reserves have room for much improvement in the foul-shooting department.

Wayne had possession of the ball less of the time than Plymouth, but the second-string Zebras, when they obtained the ball, made short and effective dashes to the Plymouth basket sinking a good percentage of their shots. Using this method Wayne led 6-0 at the half and added a brace of field goals and as many foul shots in the third period to widen their lead 15-6 at the end of the third quarter.

Plymouth had apparently been reserving her energies for the final period for before the quarter was seconds old, Wilkie took a pass from Johnson and dumped in a short shot. Scarpulla sunk a short followed later by an accurate midcourt basket, and Johnson and Aluia slipped in two points and three points respectively, the latter putting Plymouth in the lead 17-15. Then Wayne awoke and Fountment of that fair city hooped a basket making the score 17 apiece. A foul was then called for Niederer, Wayne center, who took careful aim and cashed in on the free throw for what proved to be the winning point as the game ended immediately afterward.

Scarpulla and Aluia played good defensive games, while Scarpulla also led Plymouth scoring with six points followed by Johnson with five. No one of Wayne's reserves stood out as high score man, although Saunders hooped four foul shots to equal their highest individual score of four points shared by Saunders, Dale and Fountment.

Plymouth's loss was not due to the fact that they were playing tired men; Coach Ingram used 13 players, almost three complete teams. Wayne used only eight boys, everyone but two of whom accounted for at least one point.

The boys competing and their respective points are listed below:

Plymouth—	Wayne—
Robinson 0; Fisher 0; Butz 0; Bloomhuff 0; Dunham 0; Hoffman 1; Johnson 5; Wilkie 2; Aluia 3; Holdsworth 0; Scarpulla 6; Eckley 0.	Fountment 4; Saunders 4; Neidreffer 2; Hoath 2; Gerbstoet 0; Dale 4; Hargreave 0; Caccipio 2.

EDITORIAL: DANGERS OF FLYING SNOWBALLS

With the advent of winter and snow, the throwing of snowballs has once more begun in earnest. In fact, bands of boys have raided the uptown district several times in the last few weeks and staged snowball battles among the parked cars there. Others had the good sense to go over into Kellogg park for their warfare. In front of the high school, there was also a dither of activity, which was adjourned to more open spaces by Principal Dykhouse. But as a result of these melees a window was broken, a pair of spectacles was demolished, and at least a half dozen "shiners" were sustained, to say nothing of minor injuries.

Snowball-throwing is a natural and tempting sport when kept within its boundaries. When it begins to wreak damage, however, it follows that it will be squelched as much as possible. This will not even be thought of, if high school boys will only restrict their inborn hostilities to Kellogg anywhere outside the school district where there is room, or to the petite prairies adjacent to the school building itself. Still, the boys are to be commended for their sense of chivalry in restraining from pelting girls and passersby. Let us keep it up, gentlemen, and keep it up, in the open.

CAST CHOSEN FOR SENIOR PLAY

Senior play tryouts were held Wednesday night. The parts of the play "New Fires" are all doubled, making an exceptionally large cast.

The cast includes: The father, Stephen Santry, Lewis Gilbert; the mother, Anne Santry, Belva Barnes; Dorothy Roe; a daughter, Olive Santry, Charlotte Jolliffe; Kye Moon; the physician, Doctor Gray, Robert Lorenz; Paul Thams; a son, Dick Santry; Don Mielbeck; Bill Ruth; his wife, Eve Santry; Betty Knowles; Jean Hamill; a daughter, Phyllis Santry; Arlene Soth; Linnea Vickstrom; a son, Billy Santry; Don Hewitt; housekeeper, Lucinda Andrews; Jacquotlyn School; Mary Lou Wright; spinster, Suzanne Toler; Shirley Mason; Margaret Allen; a neighbor, Mary Marshall; Barbara Olsaver; another neighbor, Mrs. Marshall; Evelyn Bower; a native, Jerry Sperry; Dick Wilkie; Jerry's mother, Angis. SPORTSMAN OF THE YEAR

With the coming of the new year the small game hunting season in the state of Michigan officially closed. This may be a great relief to those who dislike the constant banging of shotguns and baying of hounds, but to the sportsman it was a sorry day. What would he not give for just one more day in the field to track down his prey?

Mr. X is a very good example of a true sportsman and lover of the great out-of-doors. He was fortunate enough to receive for his birthday a new double barrel shotgun of superior quality and one box of shells. When the opening day arrived out tramped Mr. X with his new gun and shells in hopes of bagging his limit.

The following is a summary of the game he bagged with that one box of shells: Five tin cans, two pheasants, three rabbits, one hawk, two squirrels (fox), one chickadee and four sparrows.

On the last day Mr. X started over hill and dale with one remaining shell in a final attempt to get just one more rabbit. He hadn't gone far when he spied an innocent little bunny nibbling on an old cabbage. There was a loud report; a perfect miss. The rabbit took refuge in an old stove pipe nearby. Our sportsman ran over to it and looked in there was the poor rabbit, very scared but also confident that he was safe. Like a flash Mr. X ran to the other end and turned the damper, returning quickly to try and coax it into coming out. After very little coaxing out it ran and Mr. X caught it and calmly wrung its neck.

A rare group of Tibetan temple paintings are included in the collections of the University of Michigan museums. The paintings are made on native cotton cloth, imported Indian fabrics, and Chinese silk. The material is first sized with glue and chalk and then rubbed with shells to obtain the desired painting surface. Fine examples of this art are rare because monastery authorities seldom dispose of them. The University collection ranks high among the few collections of this type of painting in America.

STUDENT COUNCIL DANCE HELD FRIDAY, 13TH

To the rhythm of the Hi-Steppers orchestra Plymouth high students will dance tonight (Friday) in the school gym from 8:00 o'clock until 11:00. As the dance is sponsored by the student council the orchestra, committee, namely, Arlene Soth, chairman; Wesley Hoffman and Norma Coffin decided it would be appropriate to obtain an orchestra of the students. The admission will be 25 cents as usual. Other committees are: Chaperons, Dorothy Roe, chairman; Signe Hege, publicity; Robert Daniels, chairman and Russell Ash, floor; Bill Aluia, chairman; and Bill Wernett.

PETS AND MORE PETS

This article is written for the purpose of bringing to your attention some unusual and probably humorous qualities of some of the students' pets.

Alan Bennett made a habit of collecting crows, but upon inquiry of your columnist, it was found that all but one flew away. (Maybe it was the rations, Alan).

Susan Millard's dog has one feature in its makeup that distinguishes it from the ordinary run of dogs. It seems that she is able to dance—and on her hind legs, at that. So, boys, if you're ever lacking a dancing partner, you might borrow Susan's dog.

A certain boy was heard to remark to Miss Hearn one day, "Oh, you'd better not come in my yard."

"Why?" inquired Miss Hearn. "Well," now, I'll tell you. It's 'cause he chases all the other dogs out of the yard."

At first, he was quite bewildered at the laughter of the class, but he joined in with the rest as he realized what he had said.

Elburna Shradler's pet cat, a white angora called Cotton, weighs about 15 pounds and has one oddity in that one eye is a perfectly lovely green and the other a beautiful sky blue.

Virginia Rock's dog, a German shepherd plus bound called Prince, is able to do numerous tricks. He sits up, plays dead dog, pounds on the piano (but certainly not tuncful), and best of all, as far as he is concerned, he brings his dish for his dinner.

MUSIC GROUPS ENTERTAIN

Two music groups entertained on Friday, December 23. The first was the Girls' Double Quartet which sang for the Rotary club at the Mayflower hotel. The double quartet is composed of eight girls under the direction of Miss Dora Gallimore. The songs they rendered were "Come, Oh Ye Shepherds," a Spanish folk song, and "Christmas Bells." The girls wore white choir robes with black ties. As a Christmas gift each was presented with a box of candy.

The other feature was two brothers, Bruce and Jim McAllister who sang and tap-danced for the Christmas assembly in the high school auditorium. First they sang "My Blue Heaven" and Bruce tapped. Jim sang a solo, "Small Fry," in the manner of a torch singer. The boys finished together with "Alexander's Ragtime Band" and "Darktown Strutters' Ball." Neither has taken lessons in tapping or singing but they have been singing together for about two months.

NOTICE

The Freshman dance has been changed from January 20 to January 27 because the Student Council dance will be held this Friday, January 13.

ROCK QUINTET MEETS NORTHVILLE FOR SECOND TIME

The Plymouth eagers will again meet Northville, this time on their own court next Tuesday, January 17.

In the first combat between these two, Plymouth came out victorious by one point. If the Rocks had not lost Jack Ross and Bud Krumm they no doubt would have kept the eight point lead which they held until the last three minutes of the tilt.

This is only the second home game, so let's have a big turn out.

INFORMATION ABOUT CLASS ROOM WORK

Miss Saffell's geography class has just completed booklets on their past studies.

Notebooks made by Miss Cary's bookkeeping class on Potter practice sets have been completed and some are exceptionally well done. The 10A class is finishing the R. W. Collins practice sets and the 11B the French and Green sets.

JORDAN WINS PLACE ON ALL-STATE BAND

Walter (Bud) Jordan, flashy drummer of the Plymouth high school band, secured a position in the drum section of the all-state high school band in tryouts held at Ann Arbor on Thursday, December 29. Bud, a tall, blond senior, earned his place in competition with nearly 50 applicants from all over the state of Michigan. He is a snare drummer among a group of eight accepted for the percussion department of the organization.

The band, which will comprise about 180 pieces in its final form, will give its annual concert at Orchestra hall, in Detroit, on the evening of Friday, March 24, and tickets are 50 cents. Final details and arrangements are still being made.

Interesting

A direct correlation is drawn between depression years and the ratio of delinquents and speech defective children in Michigan schools by the Speech Clinic of the Institute for Human Adjustment at the University of Michigan. The clinic has found that the percentage of delinquents and defectives for 1929 is relatively low and that it is harder to find nine year old speech defectives than it is seven, six, or five year olds, who were born in the midst of the depression.

UNIFIED TELEPHONE SERVICE MEANS CHEAPER SERVICE FOR YOU

IF THERE WERE NO BELL SYSTEM, with its 25 regional telephone companies, your telephone service would probably cost more. Local service in some areas would lag behind that in others. Long distance calls would be greatly complicated. Duplication of manufacturing and research, with duplication of expense, would mean higher telephone rates.

Instead, these telephone companies centralize their manufacturing in the Western Electric Company, their research in the Bell Telephone Laboratories. Whenever one company develops an improvement, it is promptly shared with the others.

This makes for economy and, because of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company's membership in the unified Bell System, means better telephone service at a lower cost to you.

Be Careful About Auto Fumes

During the winter season there are between 500 and 700 Americans marked for death—a useless, avoidable death. Most of them will die in their garages while warming up the motors of their autos with the garage doors closed. Some will die while sitting in their cars with the windows closed and the motors running. Several may die while working the engines of their machines to the utmost in attempts to get out of snowdrifts in which they have become stuck. Some will die while driving their autos along the road. A few will die huddled around foul-smelling and poorly adjusted room heaters. We know this not only because of past experience, but also because studies have revealed new facts—hitherto unknown ways carbon monoxide has of snuffing out a man's life. Much has been written about carbon monoxide, but most of it has been by way of locking the barn after the horse is stolen. Here are some of the facts of which we are now certain.

1. Frequently there is no warning headache or dizziness. Unconsciousness and death can hit you like a blackjack in the hands of a thug.
2. Carbon monoxide is not heavier than air, but very slightly lighter.
3. Automobile exhaust pipes are not the only source of carbon monoxide. It is a product of incomplete combustion and may be given off by improperly vented oil heaters, coal burners, and oil stoves.

4. No person is immune, nor can anyone build up an immunity.
5. Acute poisoning as well as chronic poisoning caused by repeated exposures may leave serious after-effects.
6. You don't have to be inside a garage with the doors closed to be endangered; if you have a leaky exhaust pipe or a leaky manifold heater, your closed car will do as well.
7. You are in danger if your exhaust isn't able to escape freely. There have been many cases in which cars and trucks have backed up against a hard snow bank which obstructed the exhaust pipe; the exhaust has escaped in some manner, perhaps around a gasket, and persons in the car have been asphyxiated.
8. It does not take a concentrated amount but only one fifth of the one per cent carbon monoxide in the air to put you to sleep.

THEREFORE:

1. See that the doors of your garage are open when the motor of your car is running.
2. Provide ventilation if you are using an oil or coal heater in the room or any combustion heater without a flue.
3. Have your car tested, both when it is in motion and when it is parked, for the presence of carbon monoxide.
4. Have your car inspected for a leaky exhaust system.
5. Remember that when you park with the motor running the exhaust has a tendency, especially when the exhaust pipe is partially obstructed, to curl up under the car and gather there. See that a car window is open when you park with the motor running.

Rev. Sutherland Sends Greetings

Postcards received by Plymouth friends from Rev. Loya Sutherland, former pastor of the Baptist church now residing near Battle Creek, advise that he has been suffering during recent weeks from sinus trouble and has been confined to his home. He states that he is somewhat improved, but not entirely recovered. In his card to The Plymouth Mail, Rev. Sutherland requests that greetings from Mrs. Sutherland and himself be extended to all their Plymouth friends. His health has made it necessary for him to give up all of his activities.

THE MICHIGAN CYCLOTRON

Above is shown Michigan's new cyclotron, or "atom-smasher," which has been rebuilt from the machine first constructed at the University over two years ago. Research with such equipment is uncovering a vast amount of new information on the inner structure of the atom and the effects of radiation on plant and animal tissue. Construction and operation of the Michigan cyclotron have been under the direction of Prof. James M. Cork and Dr. R. L. Thornton, who is shown with the new machine in this picture.

The cyclotron bombards a target element with particles of heavy hydrogen. Within a vacuum chamber, behind Dr. Thornton's right hand in the picture, the particles are given a spiral motion by an accumulation of high voltage pressures and the action of a 90-ton electro-magnet, which is made up of the large oil-cooled coils above and below the vacuum chamber and the huge iron frame surrounding the whole machine. Electrodes carrying alternating charges of about 50,000 volts are within the chamber itself.

Traveling at a speed of 18 or 20 thousand miles per second, the particles are discharged directly into the target, knocking off particles of that substance or being absorbed by it. In either case a new substance, or isotope, is created.

Study of these atomic changes and of the effects of radiation from the bombardment process and from the artificially created elements is opening up whole new fields of research to the physical and biological scientist.

Youth Finding Fun On Wheels

Roller skating is fast becoming a most popular sport in Plymouth. At least with the young people. Every Tuesday night about 50 boys and girls between the ages of 11 and 17 gather at the Methodist church for the sport. The hours are from 7:00 until 9:30 p.m. and skates are provided.

All young people in Plymouth are invited to attend these skating parties, which are offered as a part of the Youth Recreation program sponsored by the Plymouth Women's Club and are under the direction of Ruth Hadley.

Another popular phase of the recreation program is the dances held in the city hall. As there are school dances, there will be no Friday night dances in the city hall, but these will be dances each Saturday from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m. for young people from 11 to 15 years old.

For the younger children, there are two story hours each Saturday morning in the city hall. Games, songs and stories comprise the program and it proves very entertaining to the children who attend regularly. All children from five to 10 years old are invited to attend. The programs start at 9:00 a.m. for children eight to 10 years old and at 10:00 a.m. for children five to seven years old.

Euclre Club Series Continues

The Canton Center-Cherry Hill Euclre club played its seventh round January 3 with Wagenschultz and Waldecker out in front by seven full games by setting down Gotts and Blackmore eight games to five. C. Finnigan and Elliott swamped Zeigler and Johnson 10 games to three which was very serious to them as they were right on the leaders. P. Hix and J. Cash fought hard to defeat the West boys seven games to six and climbed up a notch while F. Waldecker and Theisen won from Freedle and Buckner eight games to five.

More Deer Killed Than Year Ago

A larger kill of bucks was recorded by the first 20 percent of the deer hunters to report on the 1938 season than was reported by the same percentage of hunters for the previous season.

First tabulations to be completed in the department of conservation where the reports are being received included the cards of approximately 32,000 hunters, or an estimated 20 percent of the total number of 1938 hunters. Of these 32,000 hunters 35.2 percent reported killing bucks compared to 32.5 percent for the first 20 percent to report on the 1937 season.

However, hunters who have good luck are the first to report and the percentage of kill usually declines as the number reporting increases. For instance, where the percentage a year ago was 32.5 for the first 20 percent of hunters to report it declined to 30.4 when tabulations included 30 percent of the reports, to 28.5 percent after 40 percent had reported and to 25.8 after 65 percent of the reports had been tallied.

Hunters who are successful are more inclined to delay making their reports.

Indications are that the pre-season prediction that about 160,000 deer hunting licenses would be sold will be borne out fairly closely when all reports have been received.

In addition to tabulating the kill, game division workers also are segregating and analyzing other information contained in the reports such as residences of hunters, where they hunted, their occupations.

LOOKING UP!

The new year is but a few days old, but already there is every sign that business during the next twelve months is going to be better. Not only is business going to be better, but it is already better. Up and down the streets of Plymouth you hear only favorable comments from the local business men. Automobile dealers report improved sales over a year ago. More men are working and bills are being paid more promptly. All of these things go to make business better. Then, too, there is a better feeling among people. The fear that has gripped this community and the state during the last two years has largely disappeared. That fear did as much as any one other thing to make business bad. But fortunately it no longer prevails. Yes, the year of 1939 is going to be better—and the people themselves have made it possible.

BONDS.

The information coming from city officials that there is no hope for a city hospital, library or auditorium for at least two or three years in the future because of the necessity of paying bonds about to fall due, is a pretty good object lesson for the city to study. Of course back in the old days the issuance of bonds to develop city improvements was regarded as about the only ways money could be secured for such a purpose. But in more recent years has grown up a pretty strong feeling among the taxpayers—and they are the ones who pay the bills—that when a community anticipates a future need, that the money should be raised in advance. That is, the city should raise so much money this year above the actual needs of the city, so much next year and so on until there is a sufficient amount of cash on hand to pay for the proposed improvement. In this way there is no interest to pay on the obligation. A very large part of the bonded indebtedness of the city yet to be paid is the interest charge. The Plymouth Mail has frequently urged that the raising of funds for future requirements be done in advance of the expenditure. Might it be suggested that Plymouth's excellent city administration give thought right now to these future anticipated needs and see to it that when the library, the hospital or the auditorium becomes a necessity, that there is MONEY ON HAND to pay for these civic needs?

MILK FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN.

School officials announce that the funds for milk for children who need this nourishment will be exhausted within the next few weeks. Fortunately a year ago at the Lincoln day charity dinner, held at the Mayflower hotel, a sufficient amount of money was raised to purchase the needed supply until the end of the school year, with a small amount left over for the early days of the fall term. Then due to the splendid work of the two Plymouth parent-teacher organizations, an additional amount was raised to provide for the early winter months. This money will soon be gone. Would not it be an excellent idea for the good people of Plymouth to begin laying aside a few extra pennies each week so that when the Lincoln Day Charity dinner takes place, they will have a good sized amount to turn over to the milk fund? There are many, many school children who need this little assistance badly.

The committee that will have charge of the Charity dinner plans to follow the same arrangement as last year. It is proposed to sell tickets for 50 cents each. If any one desires to pay more for a ticket, the surplus will go to the milk fund. Last year there was raised considerably more than $200. Maybe this year the amount can be doubled. Anyway, let's set $400 as the goal and see if it cannot be reached?

IT'S A JUMBLED MESS.

State Treasurer Miller Duncel in the few brief days that he has held the office of state treasurer has found out that the Murphy administration has left Michigan without sufficient funds to pay operating expenses. As a result hundreds and hundreds of school teachers will be required to wait for several weeks for their pay checks that were due in December. The state has no money with which to pay its obligations to the various school districts.

Not only is there no money for this purpose, but it has been discovered that so vast is the total of unpaid state obligations that the state will probably have to set up some sort of a financial plan to handle these old accounts.

For over a year the citizens of Michigan have heard almost constant chatter on the part of the former governor about the "building" program being carried on to relieve the badly congested conditions in the various state institutions. The legislature made provision for these proposed structures two years ago by ear-marking a certain portion of the liquor revenue funds for construction purposes. Was the money used for that purpose? No. It all went into the general fund and was spent to pay the great army of needless political job holders that have been inflicted upon the taxpayers. During the closing days of the old administration with not a cent of money set aside for the payment of the obligations as provided by law, contracts were let for many new buildings to be erected THIS YEAR.

The contractors have the contracts, but the state has no funds with which to pay for the work to be done. The cash has gone into the pockets of thousands of needless political job holders. It will be months before Michigan will fully realize how deplorable is the financial condition of its state government.

WITH VANDENBERG'S BLESSING

Ex-Governor Frank Murphy, who has just been appointed United States attorney general, will undoubtedly be confirmed by the senate and become a part of the Roosevelt cabinet.

Senator Vandenberg is saying he would not oppose Murphy's confirmation, excuses his action by saying Murphy is a "presidential agent." He adds this blessing: "I am happy to add that despite our political disagreement we have always been warm friends, and from a purely personal standpoint I am glad to commend his many splendid and engaging personal qualities."

It is close to a paradox that one who was defeated largely on the ground that he condoned the illegal sitdown strikes, now finds himself the chief law enforcing agent of the United States and that with the blessings and support of his opponent, Will Murphy, who personally opposes capital punishment even for the most hardened thugs, be in a position now to enforce the mandate of the federal law or will he recommend leniency to the courts and failing there, to the President? His situation will be watched with keen interest by the Michigan majority which put him out of power.

The Vandenberg statement comes mighty close to a bid for the support of Murphy's friends. Vandenberg, who has long been a loud-mouthed critic of the New Deal, should be the last person to confirm Murphy. Any other course is tantamount to outright endorsement, despite the pretty words he surrounds himself with in his announcement.—Phil T. Rich in The Midland Republican.

CIVIL SERVICE CHANGES

James Thomson, chairman of the republican state central committee, certainly made a tactical error when he sent word to chairmen of the several county committees that the republican legislature could be expected to materially change the civil service law and open it up in response to demands of patronage seekers.

Perhaps Mr. Thomson had no such thought in mind. Perhaps the closing paragraph of that letter was not intended to mean what it would appear to mean. Perhaps that last paragraph was merely an after thought and that its inferences were not carefully considered. Better perhaps that we give Mr. Thomson credit for merely desiring to point out to the respective county chairmen the futility of setting up patronage bureaus for rewarding party workers.

At any rate, civil service is with us. The Michigan civil service law was launched by Frank D. Fitzgerald when he was governor in 1936. It was Governor Fitzgerald who suggested a commission to study systems of other states in order that he might save himself and those who might succeed him from the pressure for jobs which kept him from his duties and responsibilities as chief executive. It was a Fitzgerald commission which drafted the bill which finally became law in Michigan. The incoming administration cannot afford to entertain even the thought of scuttling civil service.

Certainly the act needs some change. Few new experiments are found to be perfect right at the first. Necessary changes can be made without weakening the act or departing from the general principles of the merit system.

Probably the greatest weakness of the existing law is the administration it has suffered from. Tests for qualifications should have some relation to the jobs being filled. Blanketing in those on the payrolls last July was wrong but the law permits dismissal of those not competent. Many well qualified and experienced employes, dismissed for political reasons before the qualifying tests were given, are now denied the benefits given those less qualified who took their places. This can be remedied and it should be. Those who for years have given good service to the state and who, because of the character of the so-called examinations and the conditions under which they were given, failed to qualify should be given another opportunity with credit for length of service added for their benefit. Certainly the state government cannot safely assume an attitude toward employes which it would condemn in an individual.

Neither should Senator Porter's suggestions that elective officials be given administration of the law be taken seriously. In such a case there would be no merit system at all. Far better to repeal the law than cripple it in that fashion.

Certain of the common labor types, such as janitors, watchmen, messengers and rest room attendants should be taken out from under the law. Certain other classifications do not yield readily to strict civil service tests alone. In this last mentioned group are found attendants in mental hospitals, guards and keepers in prison, and certain types of investigators having confidential relationships with administration officials.

The system as it now is set up is costing a great deal. Too many are engaged at too great a cost in administering a function of government which it was hoped might effect savings. Good common sense and an honest regard for the rights of the employes, the interests of the taxpayers and efficiency in public service is required. To this the Fitzgerald regime should devote its best efforts. Beyond this it should not go.—Vernon J. Brown in The Ingham County News.

AD KEPT TOURISTS AWAY.

Michigan's four tourist associations can breathe easier now that Murphy has been named out of the list of tourist attractions, and the books and pamphlets issued by those associations will devote more to telling about our state's wonderful out-of-doors than about our indoor attractions and characters.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

WHAT ANOTHER EDITOR SAYS.

Newspapers have announced the appointment of Ex-Governor Frank Murphy to the cabinet of President Roosevelt, in which he is now Attorney General of the United States, the most important legal position to which a lawyer may aspire except that of Justice of the United States Supreme Court. A White House secretary said the President considers Mr. Murphy a great public servant. Just another case of "distance lends enchantment," for the people of Michigan, who have lived closer to Mr. Murphy for two years, thought differently and said so in no uncertain terms on November 8. The secretary also said the President has "a high regard for Murphy." Why shouldn't he? Did not Mr. Murphy, as mayor of Detroit, take Mrs. Roosevelt's brother at a time when he needed a job and elevate him to the high position of city comptroller of Detroit? And after the C. I. O. had contributed a half million dollars to the Presidential campaign fund, did not Mr. Murphy stand gamely by the C. I. O. in their sit-down strikes and while they took possession of other people's property in Flint, Lansing, Pontiac, Detroit and other Michigan cities? And did not Mr. Murphy keep in constant touch with the White House while doing this? Is he not a man who bends to the President's will and isn't that the type of man the President wants in such a key position? But, what's the use in being too critical! There's nothing you can do about it until 1940. The fact remains that Mr. Murphy has practiced law but very little, if any. His legal experience has been limited to a recorder's or police court judgeship in Detroit, and all his other active years have been spent as an office holder. We think of an attorney general of the United States as a man of great legal learning and experience, but times have changed.—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

Once a man had a right to what he earned . . . now he has a right to what's left after taxes are paid.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican-News.

WERE THEY TRYING LEEBOVE?

Mr. Livingston, who shot and killed Mr. Leebove, was acquitted on the ground of insanity. This, as is well known to all who follow murder cases, is a broad and comprehensive defense which takes in all the law leaves out. From the beginning of this case it was evident that Mr. Livingston was to get off. Maybe he should but it is not a good commentary on the administration of law that a man should take it into his own hands nor that continued drunkenness should render an individual unaccountable to the law for a killing. But maybe in this instance they were trying Leebove and not Livingston. It happens quite regularly in our court system.—T. O. Huckle in The Cadillac Evening News.

SURE, IT WAS JUST CAMPAIGN BUNK.

Gen. Frank T. Hines, chief of the Veterans Administration in Washington, has informed the Upper Peninsula communities, who have been feverishly engaged during the past several months in trying to land a proposed veterans hospital, that the proposal has been rejected.

The Veterans Administration has decided it would be better to expand existing facilities for the care of veterans at Milwaukee and Detroit, believing that the needs of the sick and disabled will receive better attention where more complete staffs of medical experts and adequate equipment are available.

Gladstone, Iron River, Negaunee and other communities were bidding for the veterans' hospital, and each had been led to believe by the politicians seeking votes last November that it had the best chance. Governor Murphy and Congressman Lucke were represented as favoring the Gladstone site, while Congressman Hook of the Twelfth district gave much encouragement to the Iron River boosters.

The word has been let out that probably later the Upper Peninsula would be considered for a veterans' hospital. This is just enough of an excuse to encourage revival of the project in the spring of 1940, when another important election will be held.—Escanaba Daily Press.

A man brought his wife in to have her eyes examined and I invited him into the refraction room while I made the visual analysis. "I can see fine," he said, "but my wife complains about her eyes after she sews." He happened to be sitting so he could see my chart as I worked with his wife, and as I worked, he found that she could read several lines smaller than he could. When I got through with the lady, he asked me to examine him, and to his great surprise, his eyesight was poorer than his wife's!
