

Demands For Investigations Into State Affairs Numerous — Officials May Do It

New Liquor Commissioner Is Bone Dry—Leon Case Victim Of His Party Bosses

(By ELTON R. EATON)

Present indications are that the many demands for legislative investigations into the conduct of some of the state departments during the last two years will be frowned upon by the legislature. It is known that there are some members of both the house and senate who would like to get to the bottom of the old age pension administration, possibly including the welfare department, the sales tax department, the state health department and some of the divisions of the secretary of state's office that were under the immediate control of the deputy secretary of state.

With one investigation already under way into alleged interference with the civil service administration which is demanding a very great portion of the time of the eight legislators on the committee, there is a feeling that the new department heads when selected by Governor Fitzgerald can dig under the refuse heaps in the various closets of their offices and do about as good a job of fact-finding as could the legislature. However, some of the restrictions that are tying the hands of the department heads that they claim

Early Draft Prepared On Zoning Law

City Planner Explains Purpose Of Ordinance

First drafts of a zoning ordinance have been prepared by the City Planning commission, but ironing out of the details to make it conform 100 percent to the city charter may require several months, T. Glenn Phillips, city planning consultant, announced Tuesday.

He said that ample opportunity would be given residents to familiarize themselves with the details of the ordinance and its effect on city building in a series of public hearings to be held after the final draft has been prepared and before it is adopted by the city commission.

"Zoning is one of the highest types of city planning, as it allows the city to grow in an orderly manner, helping instead of hindering progress, yet at the same time imposing a safeguard on residential and business area values," Mr. Phillips pointed out.

The City Planning commission, appointed February 7, 1938, by Mayor Henry Hondorp, is composed of J. M. Bennett, chairman; Mrs. Maud Bennett and F. R. Hoheisel, serving three-year terms; S. D. Strong, Lisle Alexander and George Burr, two-year terms; and Mrs. Cora Chatter, J. W. Bickelstaff and E. R. Eaton, one-year terms.

During its first year, the commission made plans for playgrounds and parks, recommended the Church street civic center, studied street layouts, considered adoption of plats and made existing use maps. However, it was felt that a consultant was needed to integrate the program, and Mr. Phillips was employed.

"Some persons don't have a very good idea of what a zoning ordinance does," Mr. Phillips said.

Zoning, he explains, quoting from the "Zoning Primer," is just the application of common sense and fairness to the public regulations governing the use of private real estate. It is an effort to provide each district of the town with just the protection and the liberty which are sensible for that particular district.

Zoning, he went on, does not attempt to apply the same building regulations to every part of a city regardless of whether it is a residential or a factory or business district. But the regulations are the same for all districts of the same type.

Persons don't attempt to put their gas range in the parlor and their piano in the kitchen, but cities get such a household effect, he said, when building is unrestricted and factories, homes and apartment buildings are

Plymouth Girl In Out-State Contest

Miss Jewel Starkweather, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Starkweather, was one of four students representing Kalamazoo College at the Seventh Invitational Debate meeting at Illinois State Normal university at Normal, Illinois, last week-end. Twenty-eight colleges from seven states had been invited to participate in this two-day tournament. Miss Starkweather was one of two women making the trip from Kalamazoo college. A sophomore student at the College, she was recently initiated into Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic society, for work in campus forensics. There were 300 students present representing seven different states.

Plymouth Son, W. U. Official Dies At 66

Col. Hough, Mexican War Veteran, Dead

Colonel Ira Duane Hough, division traffic superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph company and veteran of the Mexican border uprising and the World War, died Thursday morning at Brooklyn hospital, New York, after an illness of six weeks. He was 66 years old.

A native of Plymouth, Colonel Hough learned telegraphy in 1888 on the railroad which ran through the town and for the next ten years worked for the railroad and for Western Union. The following seven years he was connected with the Postal Telegraph company, serving as an operator at Memphis and Omaha and as chief operator at Dallas, Texas. He then became circuit manager for Ware & Leland, Chicago and Dallas brokers, and held that post for six years.

In 1912, Colonel Hough returned to Western Union as vice chief of the Gulf division with headquarters at Dallas. He was in charge of the organization of trains, automobiles and boats used to get wires through to Galveston after the destructive tropical hurricane that swept through Southeastern Texas August 16, 1915. Every pole and wire out of Galveston and Houston was flat on the ground and days of concentrated effort were required before service was restored.

When the Texas National Guard was preparing for service on the Mexican border in November, 1915, Colonel Hough enlisted. He was promoted to a first lieutenant before the company was mobilized at Fort Sam Houston in 1916.

When Villa and his band crossed the border and burned Columbus, N. M., Lieutenant Hough obtained a railroad box car at El Paso, equipped it with telegraph instruments set on hastily constructed tables and benches. When the car arrived at Columbus he had ready for service a telegraph office adequate for all needs. All of the official dispatches and news stories were dumped at Columbus by airplane and fled through the box-car telegraph office.

Promoted soon thereafter to the office of Acting District Signal Officer at Brownsville, Colonel Hough reorganized the personnel and rebuilt the entire communications system of the district.

At the start of the World War he was called back into active service, commissioned as a major.

Plymouth Will Elect Three To City Commission Posts In Spring Election, April 3

Rotarians Entertain Local Football Team

Plymouth Rotarians played hosts last Friday to members of Plymouth high school's football team at their regular noon meeting in the Hotel Mayflower. Ray Courtright, assistant to Fritz Crisler at the University of Michigan was the speaker for the occasion and he entertained the boys and club members for nearly an hour with interesting points on scouting plays of other teams and showing a moving picture of the Ohio-Michigan football game.

The program was arranged by the boys work committee of which Harry C. Robinson is chairman.

Michigan Woman Has National Task

Plymouth residents who will recall the visit of Mrs. Fred T. Murphy to Plymouth last winter when she came here to speak at the annual Lincoln Day Charitable dinner held at the Mayflower hotel, will be interested and pleased to know that she has recently been appointed chairman of the important club extension committee of the National Federation of Republican Women's clubs. She has already assumed her new duties and has recently been in Washington attending a meeting of the group.

Mrs. Murphy has been serving as first vice president of the organization since last fall, when she was elected to this important post at a meeting held in Chicago. Her new assignment will not make it necessary for her to give up this other highly important position in connection with the organization.

During recent weeks there have been 22 additional women's clubs join the national organization. It is the hope of Mrs. Murphy, who will be remembered as the former Mrs. Alger, to make the organization a powerful factor in the national campaign in 1940.

Michigan residents look upon the selection as an ideal one, knowing something of the tireless energy Mrs. Murphy puts into any task that she assumes.

Last week she was in New York City attending the victory luncheon held by the organization in that city.

Children Pack Skating Rink

Roller skating has proven so very popular with the young people that provisions have had to be made for nearly 400 skaters. The hours have been divided and now the young people under 12 years of age skate Tuesday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 and the older young people skate from 7:00 to 9:30. At this takes place in the Methodist church hall and it proves great fun for all. Any young person in Plymouth may attend these skating parties and the charge is very small. Skates are furnished.

As there will not be a school dance this week, there will be a dance at the city hall both Friday and Saturday nights. Friday night the dancing starts work at 8:30 until 10:30 and the age group will be from 13 years old and over. This dance is especially for the ninth grade students. The dance Saturday night is for young people from 11 years old to 14 years old and is especially for the seventh and eighth grade students. As an added feature there will be an amateur hour each night. Anyone may compete for the prizes and a good program is planned. The very latest phonograph recordings are used and a good time is had by all.

The story hours held in the city hall are still attracting many youngsters from five to ten years old but there is room for more. The children enjoy the songs, stories and games and find the hour a very enjoyable one. All children are invited to attend. The hours are: Children from eight to 10 years old, 9:00 o'clock; old children from five to seven years old, 10 o'clock.

Flames Damage Smith Residence

The residence of Mrs. John Q. Smith at 1127 Pennington avenue was damaged to the extent of $3,000 last Thursday afternoon when fire, probably caused by an over heated chimney, gave local firemen a battle lasting nearly two hours.

The Smith residence was built forty years ago and was formerly owned by Mrs. Kate Allen. Practically all of the furniture in the house was carried to safety and the damage to the house itself was covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilson were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Felton at Rochester.

Tax Collection For County Pass Those of '38

But City Receipts Fall Slightly Over Last Year

City treasurer Charles S. Garrett pointed out paradoxical tax-collecting figures this week, following the January 10 deadline for payment of county and school taxes without penalty.

He said that the collections of county and school taxes were 3 per cent better this year than at the same period last year but that collections of city taxes dropped 1 per cent below collections for the same period in 1938.

The collections, for the period ended January 17, amounted to $48,043.77 out of a total school levy of $59,488.98 and to $24,595.09 out of a total county levy of $30,334.11, Mr. Garrett said.

Out of the city's total levy of $70,476.27, the sum of $63,385.90 has been collected. These figures resolve into a collection of 81 per cent of the county and school taxes as compared to a collection of 78 per cent last year at this time, and a collection of 86.5 per cent of the city taxes as compared to 87.5 last year.

However, Mr. Garrett noted, collections of city taxes have been steadily mounting to the high level of 83.7 per cent in 1928 in the last 10-year period. The collections dropped abruptly from 83 per cent in 1929 to a low of 71 per cent in 1933, but since then the percentages have been taking on weight. Last year the percentage of collections was 90.2.

Mr. Garrett said that both city and county taxes would be accepted at the city hall for more than a month yet and advised taxpayers to clean up their indebtedness before the penalties are allowed to grow into a sizeable sum. Since January 10, deadline there has been a penalty of three-quarters of 1 percent in addition to the collection fee of 4 per cent.

Clinton C. Dee Witt Townsend Speaker

Elsewhere in this issue of The Mail is the important announcement of the Townsend meeting next Monday night, January 23 in the Grange hall at 8:00 p.m., when Clinton C. Dee Witt, Detroit attorney with facts, figures, charts and his trusty pointer, will be here to prove the claims steadfastly being made by Townsendsites all over the country for Dr. Townsend's all-embracing recovery proposal.

All members are urged to be present at this important meeting to assist in the organization of candidates for the election of club officers for 1939 which takes place Monday, January 30 at 8:00 p.m. and also to help with the work of organizing new clubs in towns allotted to the Plymouth club.

A special invitation is extended to the general public.

Phone Rates Are Mystery To Plymouth

Exact Costs To Be Cleared Up In Few Months

Orders of the Michigan Public Utilities commission providing more equitable Bell Telephone company rates for suburban residents in the Detroit area left Plymouth in the uneasy position this week of being promised something but not knowing exactly what it would be.

The section of the 20-page order which immediately affects Plymouth telephone subscribers reads as follows:

"All calls which are within 40 miles of a Detroit area toll center will take the standard intrastate toll rate based on the air-line measurement between the rate centers."

"Detroit area toll centers" refer to seven Detroit exchange offices in Detroit and to 10 others in areas contiguous to the Detroit city limits—Birmingham, Center Line, Farmington, Southfield, Livonia, Roseville, Royal Oak, Trenton, Wayne and Wyandotte.

The wording of the order would make it appear that the rate would remain unchanged from Plymouth to the downtown center of Detroit, but would diminish in areas in Detroit but between the center of the city and Plymouth. However, this would make it more expensive to telephone areas in Detroit but on the other side of the city from Plymouth.

The Plymouth office said that the order was hurried through and the details had not been ironed out yet and that it would be several months before the new rates became effective anyhow. Exact rates for calls from Plymouth to the various exchange areas set up in the Detroit metropolitan district have not yet been scheduled.

Clarence Elliott, city manager, said Tuesday that he still was at sea as to the exact effect of the order upon Plymouth and that he would go to Lansing to obtain definite data on the situation and to enter protests, if necessary, to obtain for Plymouth rates equitable with those which will be set up in other suburban areas according to the schedule.

Other cities apparently in the same boat with Plymouth are Northville, Walled Lake, Ypsilanti, Belleville, Flat Rock and others. On the other hand, Farmington, Livonia and Wayne will share in the new enlarged Detroit city district benefits.

For example, Wayne may now call anywhere in Detroit for 15 cents. Under the new system, Wayne still would have to pay 15 cents to call the city hall area, but would have to spend only five cents to call residents in the new Zone 6, that area just inside

D. A. R. Celebrates Twelfth Year At Plymouth

Greenfield Village Official Presents Picture Lecture

The annual birthday luncheon of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the D. A. R. took place at the Presbyterian Church, Plymouth, Monday, January 16, and the members and guests met in the parlors until luncheon was announced and then adjourning to the dining room where a very delightful meal was served in a spring-like setting—the tables being decorated with sweet peas, daffodils and other spring flowers.

The speaker of the day, William A. Simonds of Greenfield Village, began his talk "Early Americans" with a quotation: "Time is too slow for those who wait, too swift for those who fear, too long for those who grieve, too short for those who rejoice but for those who love, time is eternity."

His talk was illustrated with beautiful slides depicting objects and scenes from the Village, the first slide showing the floral clock which is the first thing that greets the eyes of visitors and which was brought from Detroit Waterworks park and is made up of 11,000 plants. It gave listeners a very clear picture of Greenfield Village, both from a standpoint of general interest and from the standpoint of Mr. Ford's educational plan. It covered such things as buildings, fine old glass, historical furniture and silver, giving each its place in the building of American history. Near the close of his talk, he mentioned a remark of Mr. Ford's: "What's going to alter our lives is probably happening in the night in a back yard workshop where some crank is thinking by himself."

The music was furnished by Linnea Vickstrom, who sang two beautiful songs, accompanied by Carol Campbell.

The Regent called on visiting Regents for a few remarks on the work of their Chapters and congratulatory telegrams from Mrs. Charles Hurr and Mrs. Frederick Lendrum were read.

Mrs. Strong spoke a few words of welcome to new members.

At the speaker's table were Mrs. S. D. Strong, Regent, Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, vice regent, past regents, Mrs. Dwight Randall and Mrs. Carl Bryant; also regents from other chapters, Mrs. Horace Wilbur of the Ypsilanti Chapter, Mrs. William C. Catlin of Fort Pontchartrain Chapter of Highland Park, Mrs. Robert Gregory of Col. Joshua Howard Chapter of Dearborn, Mrs. Mark Harris of Piety Hill Chapter of Birmingham, Mrs. Jess McNeal of Ezra Parker Chapter, of Fall Oak, also Regent, Mrs. Evelyn Oak. There were many other guests from Plymouth and neighboring towns and cities including Mrs. W. H. DeGraff and Mrs. R. Vint of Royal Oak chapter.

Anyone interested in Greenfield Village or Henry Ford may obtain an interesting booklet, "Ideas on Education" by writing to Mr. Simonds at Greenfield Village.

League Meets With Mrs. Elliott

The Plymouth League of Women Voters held its January meeting at the home of Mrs. C. E. Elliott on Ann street, Friday afternoon last. The president, Mrs. Bruce Woodbury, gave a report on the state league board meeting at Lansing, stating that there would be a merit system association meeting at Lansing sometime in January, and that Mrs. Selhorn from Missouri, one of the officers of the National League of Women Voters would speak in Detroit early in February.

Mrs. S. S. Closson, chairman of the Department of Government and Education, reported on character education in the Lansing schools as outlined in The Christian Science Monitor, on the crisis in state financial aid to the schools, and Plymouth's share of funds.

Mrs. James Sessions, chairman of the Department of Government and Economic Welfare stated some of the subjects which she would use in her program at the next meeting, February 10.

Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple, chairman of the Department of Government and Municipal affairs, reported on the annual report just issued by the City of Plymouth, on the annual report of the city health officer, Dr. Luther Peck, and on the zoning hearings which will soon take place.

Mrs. C. E. Elliott gave a brief resume of conditions in Spain and China, and the proposed armament program of the United States. She spoke for Mrs. Maurice Woodworth, chairman of Government and International Relations. Mrs. Enss made some interesting observations based on her knowledge of conditions in England.

Mrs. Walter Hammond, chairman of the Department of Government and its Operation, gave a very enlightening and stimulating paper which she had prepared on county government. She made some startling revelations about the archaic form, the cost, and the inefficiency in our present Michigan system. Then she pointed out what other states have accomplished, that 7 counties in the United States have the County-Manager plan, and that Michigan must try for a third time to get a constitutional amendment which will enable each county in the state to improve its government, if it wishes to do so. Mrs. Hammond's report was admirably prepared and very worth while to all who heard it.

Counterfeit Coins Passed In Plymouth

Counterfeit coins are being distributed in Plymouth, Police Chief Vaughan Smith warned merchants and residents this week. He said that the spurious coins appeared to be principally of the five-cent, twenty-five-cent and fifty-cent denominations.

"I am suspicious of any very shiny coins," he said, especially if they have a leaden appearance. All the counterfeits passed so far are very bright and appear to be fabricated from lead.

Spears Grass Pike Weighing 11 3/4 Pounds

William Morgan didn't want to be doubted when he told about spearing a grass pike that weighed 11 and three-quarters pounds, so he brought the fish into The Plymouth Mail office to back up his story Tuesday. He even had a witness, Henry Ray (Morgan appeared the big fish at Walled Lake Tuesday morning). He reported the catch as fairly thick in the section where he was fishing, running about four inches although he saw thinner ice in other sections of the lake.

Petitions Due Now For Curbs And Sidewalks

Petitions for curb and gutter and sidewalk construction in Plymouth for the coming year should be submitted as soon as possible, Clarence Elliott, city manager, announced this week.

The work, which will be done as a WPA project, probably will get under way in March or April. Cost of the curb and gutter construction is 35 cents a lineal foot and sidewalk construction costs runs 12 cents a square foot, he said.

Projects are desired which will amount to a block or more in length, but curbs work will be done, Elliott said.

Herbert L. Berdan, prominent Detroit real estate man passed away in Harper hospital in Detroit last Sunday according to reports received here by friends. Mr. Berdan, a former Plymouth resident, was born February 23, 1875. He was a brother of Mrs. George Durfee of this city. Funeral services were held last Wednesday at the Christ Episcopal church in Detroit with the Rev. H. W. Pullinger officiating.

Zoning also is a protection to property and health. For instance, if you have just built a nice home and a towering building or a noisy, smelly garage is constructed on the vacant property next to you, you would feel that you were cheated both in the plummeting value of your property as a home site and the decreased health prospects, with sunshine crowded out and smells and noises permitted free entry.

Zoning also reduces the cost of living because taxpayers are not forced to support the burden of blighted areas where no one wants to build a home, factory or store but where public utilities are forced to carry extra lengths of service, raising the costs to others, and streets and sewers have to be kept up just as if the area were useful.

These are only some of the reasons why it is important for the successful and prosperous development of Plymouth to enact a zoning ordinance, Mr. Phillips concluded.

and sent to Washington, where he was placed in charge of procurement for the Signal Corps. At the close of the war he returned to Western Union as division traffic manager at New York. Subsequently he became lieutenant colonel and colonel in the Signal Corps Reserve.

His home was at 2360 Knapp street, Brooklyn. Colonel Hough was a Knight Templar and a Shriner.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Maude Clark Hough, a poet and author; a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Butler of New York, and a son, I. D. Hough Jr., of Los Angeles.

Funeral services were held at the New York-Brooklyn Funeral home, 187 South Oxford street, Brooklyn, Friday night. The American Legion services were at 8:15 p.m. and the Masonic services at 9:00 o'clock. Private services for relatives and friends were held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the Fresh Pond crematory chapel, Queens.

Colonel Hough was a sister of Mrs. Henry Wright of this city. He was the grandson and namesake of Ira Marshall Hough, who settled near Plymouth in 1825 and was one of Michigan's earliest pioneers. He learned telegraphy here under tutelage of John R. Rauch when the old Flint and Pere Marquette station stood near where the Daisy plant now stands. Colonel Hough attended Plymouth high school and was well known to older residents of this community.

The bear was placed on the protected list in Michigan in 1925, being included in that year under the deer law.

Demands For Investigations Into State Affairs

now prevail may not permit them to do as they would like in this matter.

It is probable that the civil service inquiry will continue over several weeks. The committee has such a vast amount of material to check on that the big job to date has been to separate the good leads from the bad.

There seems to be one point that all agree upon, and that is that civil service did not end politics in the various departments. In fact, even the poorly paid cripples who receive just a living wage were compelled to contribute their share to the campaign corruption fund used in an effort to retain Michigan's notorious spoils gang in office.

There is going to be at the head of the state liquor control commission during the next two years, and without much question four years at the least, a total teetotaler. The other day Governor Fitzgerald appointed Muri H. DeFoe, editor of The Charlotte Republican-Tribune, as a member of the state liquor control commission. Editor DeFoe does not drink. He does not smoke and he does not drive an automobile—so you will never read in your newspapers about the new liquor commissioner cracking up as the result of being drunk while driving. But in all seriousness, no governor of Michigan ever made an appointment of any person to any office that out-ranks this one in good judgment. Not only are Editor DeFoe's personal habits of the best, but he is strictly honest, he is a close student of the trend of the public mind, and he has the ability to look through all the painted scenery and see what is going on in the background. Critics of the Governor are at present jumping at every pretext to find fault with him, but from the caliber of the appointments he is making, there is not the slightest question but what it is his determined purpose to give Michigan just the kind of an administration he said he would—honest, efficient and sound.

The alleged intellectuals up in Lansing during the last two years spent something like $150,000 to install some sort of a new accounting system in the budget director's office. It was loudly proclaimed at the time that Michigan taxpayers could know every night at the close of business just exactly how the state's finances stood. Well, it seems that Governor Fitzgerald wanted to know something about how much there was or was not in the cash till the day he took office. What did he find out? Nothing. Did he get the figures the next day? No. The next week? No. When will he know just how the state finances stand? If the former budget director who is working night and day can untangle the financial mess in two months he will be doing a good job. Budget department employees are running around in circles trying to get data that ought to be at their finger tips. It looks very much as though here's another $150,000 of tax dollars thrown down some rat hole.

Senator Chester Howell of Saginaw county never loses an opportunity to do something for the farmers and others in his district. In Saginaw county there is a large number of bean growers. This year there was a tremendous crop and growers are having difficulty in marketing their yield. The other day Senator Howell put through the senate some advertising in the form of a legislative resolution for the bean growers that no amount of money could buy—bean advertising in the news columns of nearly every newspaper in Michigan. If the Senator doesn't do one thing more from now until his term expires, he has already earned his meager two-year salary, that is he has earned it for the bean growers.

Newly elected state officials have already started slashing their payrolls. In every department it is reported that there has been found a general over-loading of people who were hired so they could jam their hands into the pockets of the taxpayers. There are thousands more who are to go and go quickly. Some are making an effort to claim immunity under the new civil service law. But even this poorly drafted act designed by the former legislature to protect needless job holders is not going to save their scalps.

The affairs of the secretary of state's office provide a fair sample of what boss politics of the high-pressure type will do. When Leon Case of Berrien county was elected secretary of state it was known that he planned to appoint a close personal friend named Cecil Runyan of South Haven as his deputy. Mr. Runyan had been Democratic county chairman of Van Buren county and is generally known as a high type citizen. At one time he was one of the executives of a steamship line operating between South Haven and Chicago. But Mr. Case was not to have his own way. The political coyotes of his own party demanded that he appoint Barney Youngblood of Detroit. They also demanded that Hoyt Morris be given a high place in his office. No sooner had they assumed their responsibilities than things began to happen. Mr. Case, the mild mannered gentleman that he is, was shoved aside and the Youngbloods and the Hoyts began to run affairs. Last summer, when Mr. Case found out how bad things were he was about to accept Youngblood's resignation. Then the Governor interfered. Youngblood kept his job and the mess continued on. So had become conditions that Mr. Case just before election ordered an investigation of his own office by auditors. The public now knows the results. The point of all this is that if Mr. Case had had his own way and could have made his own appointments as he desired there would never have been any mess in the secretary of state's office. It's just another example of the putrid system of boss politics.

Wilma Scheppe, N. F. Kaiser Wed

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Scheppe announce the marriage of their daughter, Wilma M., to Norman F. Kaiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kaiser, of Gregory.

The wedding was an event of December 17, 1938, in Angola Methodist church, Angola, Indiana, with the Rev. Lester L. C. Wisner reading the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard King were their attendants.

The bride was a graduate of Plymouth high school in the class of 1933. The last four years she has been employed by the Daisy Manufacturing company.

Mr. and Mrs. Kaiser are at home to their friends at 1705 Garland avenue, Plymouth.

Rorabacher-Cash Nuptials Today

About 100 relatives and friends of Evalyn Celia Rorabacher and Hugh Cash Jr. will attend their wedding this evening at the Plymouth Country club, the ceremony to be performed by the Rev. Walker Nichol, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth, before the fireplace in the rustic setting of the club. Pine boughs and lighted candles will be used in the decorations.

"I Love You Truly" and "Lohengren's Wedding March" will be played by Delite Taylor while the bride and bridegroom, with their attendants, Margaret Buzzard and De Cash, brothers of the bridegroom, take their places. Miss Rorabacher will wear a gown of powder blue Victorian crepe, in street length with bolero jacket and will carry a bouquet of Carmelita roses. Miss Buzzard will wear a street length dress of wool in gold color. Don Cash will attend his brother.

Mrs. Rorabacher will wear a tailored gown in teal blue. Mrs. Cash will wear dark blue crepe. Both will wear gardenias.

Miss Rorabacher is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Rorabacher of this city and Mr. Cash is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cash Sr., of Elmhurst, Illinois. The ushers will be Merritt and Leland Rorabacher, brothers of the bride.

A reception will follow in the club after which the young couple will leave on a week's motor trip through the South. Miss Rorabacher has chosen a suit of teal blue wool with dubonnet accessories for traveling.

They will make their home in Dearborn.

They have the best wishes of a host of friends, in and around Plymouth, for a long, happy contented life together.

Guests will be present from Elmhurst, Chicago and LaGrange, Illinois; Grand Rapids, Lansing, Detroit, Ann Arbor, St. Johns, Ferndale and Plymouth.

What's the Answer?

IT HAS been a natural evolution from the form of trial employed by the Romans whereby a man was tried before a judge and a body of judges. In its present form, the jury consists of the minimum amount allowed by law—12. There could be as high as 20. By the Constitution of the United States all criminal cases have a right to trial by jury; also all civil suits where the money in question amounts to $20 or more.

Your University

PERSONS, PLACES AND ACTIVITIES YOU HAVE HEARD OR READ ABOUT AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Early American history could not be adequately studied without the collections of the University of Michigan's Clements Library, which contains many of the original documents relating to the development of the Western Hemisphere from 1493 to the end of the Revolutionary period.

The building of the Clements Library, shown above, and the most important collections within it were the gift of the late Regent William L. Clements, Bay City steel manufacturer. To his gift have been added many other important source materials in the history of America.

The Library's collection of the papers of British generals and statesmen in Colonial America is the most complete in the world. These documents make the collection America's most important for the study of this period. Practically all of the British officials' documents, maps and letters are now in the Clements library. Because of the official capacities of their original owners, these papers are equally important for the study of this period as are those of the Americans of the period. The British papers supplement a large quantity of materials from early American statesmen and officials, including extensive correspondence of George Washington, General Greene and Benedict Arnold.

Phone Rates Are Mystery

the Detroit city limits from Wayne and, in general, bordering Michigan avenue.

On the other hand, where Wayne formerly had to pay only 15 cents for calls to the area in the northeast section of Detroit bordering Gratiot avenue, the new price will be 20 cents. This is the only case, however, where the Wayne rate to a Detroit point will be higher.

There also are residence and business telephone rates, scaled according to the zoning system and optional with the subscribers, but none of these rates are applicable to Plymouth.

Charges to subscribers living within the Detroit city limits on intra-city calls will not be affected by the order.

The telephone company estimates that the savings to telephone users in the new zoning and suburban area will amount to $223,000 annually. What part Plymouth will have in this is not yet known.

The shores of the Great Lakes and the area around Chesapeake bay are among the last places where the American or bald eagle may be seen.

Obituary

FRED WIDMAIER
Fred Widmaier, who resided at the home of his son, Richard Widmaier at 2136 West Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth, passed away early Thursday afternoon, January 12 at the age of 76 years. He was the husband of the late Matilda Widmaier. He is survived by two sons and two daughters, Charles of Northville, Richard of Plymouth; Mrs. Gertrude Durling of Detroit; and Mrs. Laura Muhlolland of Plymouth. Also surviving are 14 grandchildren, four brothers and one sister, Phillip of Plymouth; Mrs. Roca Clifford, of East Detroit; William of Colorado; Christian and Henry Widmaier, both of Plymouth. The body was brought to the Schrader Funeral home. Funeral services were held Sunday, January 15 at 3:00 p.m. at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church, Plymouth. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery, Rev. Edgar Hoenecke officiating.

The hemlock stub was a worry for early forest fire fighters in Michigan because unlike most trees it did not lose its bark when dead and fire would run to the top of a dry stub at a rapid rate from where burning embers would be blown for a considerable distance ahead of the fire.

Churches

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist. Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of 20 years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00.

"Truth" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 22. The Golden Text (Deuteronomy 32: 3, 4) is: "Ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalm 57: 9, 10): "I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people: I will sing unto thee among the nations. For thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds." Certain relative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 286): "The understanding of Truth gives full faith in Truth, and spiritual understanding is better than all burnt offerings."

FIRST METHODIST.—Stanford S. Closson, pastor. 10:00 a.m., church service; 11:30, Sunday school; 6:30, Epworth league; Wednesday, 7:30, prayer meeting; Thursday, 8:00, choir rehearsal.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN church. Walter Nichol, pastor. 10:00 a.m., church school; 11:00 a.m., church worship; 6:30 p.m., young people. Several young people from this church will attend the high school young people's mid-year conference at Calvary Presbyterian church, Grand River avenue on Saturday of this week. Patsy Arnold is chairman of the committee in charge of the young people's meeting Sunday at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, January 29 is young people's day in many churches. All who are interested in the work of Christian education are asked to join a group, including members of the session and Sunday school teachers and officers with their wives and husbands, in a cooperative supper meeting in the church hall Tuesday, January 24 at 6:30 p.m. Miss Marion White of the Board of Christian Education will be present and will speak to the meeting. This is an unusual opportunity for Plymouth.

CATHOLIC CHURCH.—Rev. V. Renaud, pastor. Sunday—Mass at 8:00, 10:00 and 11:30. Confessions Saturday nights at 7:30, and before each mass. Societies—The Holy Name Society for all men and young men. Communion the second Sunday of the month. The Ladies' Altar Society receives Holy Communion the third Sunday of each month. We invite you to attend our regular monthly missionary meeting, Thursday, January 26 at 10 o'clock at the parsonage, 260 North Main street. The purpose of these meetings is to give out information about the spiritual need in the heathen lands, that we might have a clearer vision of our task. Jesus said "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel." We are at present studying the conditions in Latin America. Our devotion and study is in the morning and in the afternoon we sew for our missionaries. The other services will be as usual—Sunday school at 10:00; morning worship at 11:15; young people, 6:30; evening service at 7:30 and mid-week prayer meeting, Wednesday at 6:30 downstairs. A hearty welcome to all at all of our services. You will be a stranger but once. The pastor will be preaching on "Hidden Treasure" Sunday evening. If you come, you will hear about a treasure that is far greater than any earthly treasure. Hear about the man that discovered this treasure and then sold all he had to obtain it. ### Fishing Shanties Cover Lakes

Shanty towns are springing up on hundreds of lakes throughout the state, their populations of fishermen increasing as the ice grows thicker. Benefits of the cold weather which came the last of December were offset somewhat by last week's "spring thaw" and fishing has not been as good generally as it is expected to be later. The explanation, at least in the opinion of many veteran ice fishermen is that the thicker the ice is the easier the fish are to catch, the thinner the ice, the more wary the fish about bait dangled at them.

Regulations for the 1939 ice fishing season are the same as last year. In general they are: Four hooks and two lines are again the legal maximum. A fisherman may use two lines with hooks on each, or one line with four hooks or less, but in all cases the lines must be under immediate control, set lines having been outlawed. Tip-ups are classified the same as lines or poles and subject to the same restrictions on the number of hooks.

All inland lakes except designated trout lakes and a few closed to all winter fishing or spearing are open. All species of fish except brook, brown and rainbow trout, black bass, grayling and sturgeon may be taken through March.

Conservation officers report that the majority of fishermen prefer minnows for calico bass and bugs, worms and grubs for bluegills. Minnows also are used extensively for the yellow perch. Bluegills comprise the largest percentage of the average catch from southern Michigan lakes while the farther north the fisherman goes the more likely he is to get a larger percentage of perch and pike, although both species are also taken in southern waters.

The spearing season also is underway now to continue through February with the following species legal prey: carp, suckers, mullet, redbone, sheepshead, lake trout, smelt, pike, muskellunge, whitefish, ciscoes, dogfish and garpike.

ACTIVE AND INTERESTED AT AGE OF 94

MRS. ANNIE MASON CHARNOCK

Two weeks ago there appeared in The Plymouth Mail an interesting article concerning the celebration of the 94th birthday of Mrs. Annie Mason Charnock, former Plymouth resident, at her home 1880 Montic Vista avenue in Pasadena, California. She was a school girl in the village of Plymouth more than half a century ago and her father was the village blacksmith. After leaving Plymouth she became one of the best known home missionary workers in China but for the last 20 years has lived in California. Many of the older residents in Plymouth read the recent article with interest as they recalled her school days in this city. Few of them had heard of her whereabouts in many, many years. The birthday cake shown in the picture with Mrs. Charnock was made by an old time friend, wrote Mrs. Charnock to The Mail.

Many City Parks About Here

The standard set by the American Park association, the National Recreation and the American Association of Park Superintendents is that there should be an acre of park for each hundred people in the city. Measured by this standard the cities of the Detroit area do not make a good showing.

Detroit with a population of approximately 1,600,000 has 3200 acres of parks or one acre to 500 people. Ypsilanti with 12,000 people has 48 acres or one acre to 250 people. Ann Arbor with 28,000 people has 180 acres of parks, one acre to 149 people. Howell with 4200 people has 23 acres of park, one acre to 183 people. Pontiac with 90,000 people has 390 acres of parks, largely undeveloped, one acre to 237 people. Mt. Clemens with 14,000 people has 35 acres of park, one acre to 400 people.

There are six parks within the city of Plymouth. The city is also partly surrounded by the county park system. It does not seem likely that this deficiency will ever be corrected within the cities themselves. It would be too expensive. Such parks as are secured will be made largely by demolishing slums, but these will be of small area. If the cities are to have large parks within the city limits they will get them by extending their corporations.

There is a definite need in the cities for ample playgrounds for children and for neighboring parks, where mothers may go with their babies, the infirm and aged may sit in the sun, and the neighborhood may do its gossip, but the large parks that are being acquired at the present time are nearly all in the country.

This seems to be the natural solution for Detroit, because it has the greatest concentration of autos in the world with many superhighways and the prospect soon of a number of parkways running out into the surrounding country. These make the drive itself highly recreational. Most people probably prefer to visit a park 20 or 30 miles away along a pleasing highway rather than to go to a park of the neighborhood to which they can walk.

Ideally park land requires water, woods, meadows and hills. It is very difficult to find all of these in any built up city. People left to their own devices always seek their recreation on the banks of lakes or streams. It is there that summer colonies develop and values are oftentimes ten to a hundred times as great as that of the land lying back of them.

The present park acreage of the cities of this district as a whole is only about one-fifth of that required if they are to meet the standard of one acre to each hundred people. It seems quite impossible that this new acreage should be acquired within the cities. Consequently wisdom must give to our cities the council of our state shield, circumspect (Look around you)

Local Representative Faces Much Work

State Representative E. R. Eaton from this district has been appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives as chairman of that all important house committee on social aid and welfare. This committee will have under its jurisdiction all preliminary discussion of the new state welfare and old age pension law. He is also vice chairman of the elections committee of the house and a member of the labor committee as well as on the metropolitan affairs and state military committees. The committee assignments that he was given provide a vast amount of additional work. In addition to these regular committees, he is a member of the special legislative committee of inquiry into the conduct of the civil service problem during the last year and a half.

Ford Starts Home Building

Subdivision and construction plans for the first section of the housing development planned by the Ford Foundation were revealed in considerable detail Tuesday evening in a letter to the city council, in which that body was asked to take steps as soon as possible to provide necessary public utilities to serve an area of 93 acres.

The letter, signed by R. C. Russell, of the foundation, disclosed that the first tract to be developed, lying north of Airport Drive and east of Greenfield road, will furnish housing facilities for 250 families.

Plans provide for a business section at Greenfield and Airport, the construction of 50 single homes, terraces to house 80 families and apartments for 120 more. Four acres of ground have been set aside for park and playground purposes, also a 13-acre school site.

The single homes will be built along cul de sac, with driveways ranging from 50 to 90 feet in width, thus eliminating all through traffic in the residence area and affording the utmost safety for children. The houses are to face away from the main thoroughfares.

It was also revealed that the general public will be eligible to rent or purchase property in the development. Persons other than Ford employees may purchase building lots 60 feet or more in width and construct homes to meet their own requirements so long as they conform to restrictions set forth in the deeds.

Since water, sewers and street facilities must be provided before the development can get under way, the next move is up to the city council. Accordingly, the foundation's communication was referred to the committee of the whole for further study, with a view to determining the cost of such installations.

This was the first announcement of a definite program to be made since Henry and Edsel Ford deeded approximately 1,200 acres of land to the Ford Foundation, more than a year ago.

At the north edge of the development a strip of land, 50 feet in width, is to be utilized for a dense planting of trees, for the purpose of screening the residence sites from the Michigan Central Railway.

No difficulty is anticipated in securing FHA mortgage insurance in the area, since the deed restrictions will be well within Federal Housing requirements.—Dearborn Independent.

Rocks Drop Third in Row To Ypsi. 19-13

The luckless Plymouth Rocks dropped to rock-bottom with their third successive defeat last Friday, January 13, this time at the hands of Ypsi's rampaging Braves by a score of 19-13. Ross, receiving the tip, tried for the first score of the game but missed and the ball went to Ypsi. Wilson, a quick-natured, fast-thinking negro, received the ball and after the short game of catch with Alward he lost the ball to the Blue and White. Ross fouled and Wilson was given a chance to score the first point of the game, but he failed. It seemed just a matter of seconds before Ross fouled again but Wilson missed a second time. At this point Prough was put in for Ross. With energy restored Pitt passed to Smith who shot and sank it, thus giving Plymouth a 2-0 lead. This score caused the Ypsi men to shout wildly. It seemed as though the Braves were entirely one-handed as all their shots at any distance were single-handed. It looked as though the football season was in full swing again as Wilson would be moving quickly and would let out a loud "65."

Prough passed the length of the floor to Pitt but to no avail as it was too high and bounced out against the wall. Alward of Ypsi then took the ball and with a clear floor ahead dribbled down but was fouled by Krumm while shooting. He scored the first point for Ypsi, leaving the first quarter at a 2-1 lead for the Rocks.

The second period began with Ross in Birchall's position. Ypsi scored a field goal in the first second of the period and also fouled Ross, who missed by only portions of inches. This was made up by Pitt, who made a field goal, putting Plymouth in the lead once more. After careful decision on a little tussle it was decided that Smith was fouled and Ypsi made good this chance for a point. Pitt shot wild and during an automatic two minute time-out he was replaced by McAllister. Once more Smith's aim was good as he used a shovel shot that sent through without touching the rim. Ypsi shot much without accuracy so they went once more into the regular scrimmage in which Ross was fouled. The Rocks gained a point by this free throw. Down in Ypsi's territory a "Brave" in the corner made a very good one-handed shot which was followed up by Ross' third foul and his replacement by Birchall. One of the Braves fouled Smith and was replaced but Smith made the extra point, putting Plymouth in a 8-6 lead at intermission.

The third period was started with a foul by Smith and another point by Ypsi, but a Brave with a good push shot put his team in the lead again. Wilson lost the ball to the Rocks but a door seemed to lure them and the ball was passed to it instead of a player. Ypsi scored again and caused the substitutions of Ross for Birchall, and Pitt for McAllister. Wilson was down the floor again and another two points were obtained by a pass to another Brave. The third period closed with a score of 13-8, but with Ypsi ahead this time.

The last period looked a little better, opening with a field goal by Smith, but Wilson equalled this with a corner shot. Pitt scored with a shot over his guard. Smith fouled and his opponent made good his gift shot. Pitt made a field goal and Smith a free throw and after a foul by McAllister the final whistle blew and the Rocks plodded off the floor with a 19-13 defeat.

Plymouth Rocks Down Northville 24-18

RESERVES SUFFER ANOTHER ONE-POINT DEFEAT

Another reserve game was lost to worthy opponents with a score of 15-14 on Friday the 13th at Ypsilanti. It was close from the very beginning as our reserve team followed Ypsi's first two points with a field goal and a free throw.

At the beginning of the second period Bud Mats, a former member of Plymouth high school, was put in for Ypsi and started off with a field goal. A whole new team was put in for Plymouth but nothing more of any importance happened during this period.

After the half Johnson and Scarpulla scored and Bloomhuff and Hoffman were put in for Butz and Wilkie.

The third quarter was started with a point by Johnson when fouled by Mats and this point tied the score 11-11. Three more points by Johnson caused Ypsi to take time out and after a rest four more points by Ypsi ended the game with the score 15-14.

The players were: Plymouth — Fisher, Dunham, Hoffman, Bloomhuff and Robinson. Substitutes: Scarpulla, Butz, Wilkie, Johnson, Aluia and Holdsworth. Ypsilanti—Berklich, Gable, R. Deyer, Hockier and Gaudy. Substitutes: Mats, E. Deyer and Wall.

FRESHMEN TO CONDUCT THEIR FIRST DANCE

Reserve the night of January 27 to do your dancing to the accompaniment of the Hi-Steppers student dance orchestra, which was chosen by Bruce McAllister, Francis Weed, Grace Squires, Myrl Whitesell and Phyllis Nichols, the orchestra committee of the freshman class who stage the party.

The other committees are as follows: Chaperones: Ruth Drews, chairman; and assisted by Marie Ann Miller, Nancy Dunham, Charles Bowdlear and Dudley Martin.

Refreshments: Betty Jewel, chairman; and assisted by Ruth Keefer, Lessie Jean Ebert, Beatrice Schultz and Jacquelyn Oppen.

Floor: Philip Kisabeth, chairman; and assisted by Eldon Martin, Bob Kirkpatrick, Joseph Measel and Bob Sessions.

Cleanup: Bob Whitaker, chairman; and assisted by Harry Wooster, Lee McConnell, Kenneth Perkins and Harold Stevens.

Publicity: Joan Steinhurst, chairman; and assisted by Virginia Garrison, Betty Kaiser, Nancy McLaren and Bud O'Leary.

Ticket: Russel Ash, chairman; and assisted by George Chute, Albert Donovan, Doris Lee and Leona Neidospal.

Remember the date, Friday, January 27, 8 to 11.

The local quintet defeated their old rival, Northville, for the second consecutive time this season last Tuesday, January 17. Jack Ross, of Plymouth, and George Houghton, formerly of Plymouth but now of Northville, led the two teams in the number of points scored. Captain Ross scored 13 points and George Houghton 10. Both teams were clicking more on their passes than they were on their shots. In the first few minutes of the game Ross and Houghton made back with a long run almost the length of the court to sink one. A very nice angle shot by Smith and free shots by Birchall and Ross ended the quarter with the score standing 10-5 in favor of Plymouth.

Bill McAllister opened the second quarter with a clean shot from the side, and Duguid retaliated by sinking two baskets in succession. Ross, taking some accurate passes from Birchall, scored six more points, Norman and Smith one, finishing the first and most exciting half of a rough and tumble game.

Closer guarding kept both teams from making any field goals in the third quarter. Ross came out from a quarter over the basket to pop one over his shoulder. With a few minutes left to play George Houghton, Northville's star of the evening, made four more points in a final attempt to come out on top, making the final score Plymouth 24, Northville 18.

Scoring was as follows:

| Plymouth   | FG | FS | T  |
| Hitt       | 0  | 0  | 0  |
| Smith      | 1  | 1  | 3  |
| Birchall   | 0  | 1  | 1  |
| Ross       | 6  | 1  | 13 |
| Krumm      | 1  | 0  | 2  |
| McAllister | 1  | 1  | 3  |
| Norman     | 1  | 0  | 2  |

"JITTERBUG" DEFILES "JITTERS"

Plymouth high students danced to the rhythms of the Hi-Steppers orchestra in the school auditorium Friday, January 13. The dance was sponsored by the student council. Although the dance was not as successful as several former ones, the student council cleared $15.00. Popular tunes of the day were dedicated to Jake Shoemaker, Milton Humphries, John McClain, Jean Anderson, Harold Welch and Jack and Shirley. A very fast piece was dedicated to Don Hewitt, a "jitterbug" who danced very slowly to spite the dedicators.

RESERVES REDEEM SELVES IN 24-25 NORTHVILLE SET-BACK

The Plymouth second team redeemed itself in the eyes of Plymouth fans by trouncing Northville's reserves 24-18 last Tuesday night. They had previously been defeated by the rival quintet 25-21 at Northville.

Northville displayed an all-around lanky team, but it remained for the comparative midget, Jack Wilkie, to lead Plymouth scoring tanks with ten much needed points. Jack dropped in four of this total in the opening seconds of the game to make Plymouth's only score in the first quarter, while Eaton, tall Northville forward, made use of his "boarding house reach" to shove in five. The addition of two more Northville baskets totaled the score 9-4 in their favor at the first quarter.

The lead varied consistently in the later periods; poor guarding on both sides led to many campouts which in turn furnished many unearned points. Each team battled desperately for the elusive lead, and as the fourth quarter flashed by, the Rocks had the advantage in a 20-19 score. This dogged ball handling continued until with three minutes to play, Plymouth graduated into the lead. The game concluded as Holdsworth pushed in Wilkie's foul try.

Few penalties were inflicted by the referee, Boglarsky, and Plymouth hooped a much better average of these than in preceding games.

The Northville team was reportedly weakened by the promotion of Hartner, second team star, to first team status. Competitors and their respective points are listed below:

| Northville | FS | FG | T  |
|------------|----|----|----|
| Eaton      | 1  | 4  | 9  |
| McArthur   | 0  | 3  | 6  |
| Widmair    | 0  | 1  | 2  |
| Orr        | 1  | 2  | 5  |
| Funkel     | 1  | 1  | 3  |
| Plymouth   | FS | FG | T  |
| Aluia      | 0  | 1  | 2  |
| Erdelyi    | 1  | 1  | 3  |
| Dunham     | 0  | 0  | 0  |
| Johnson    | 0  | 3  | 6  |
| Holdsworth | 0  | 1  | 2  |
| Butz       | 0  | 0  | 0  |
| Wilkie     | 2  | 4  | 10 |
| Robinson   | 0  | 0  | 0  |
| Hoffman    | 0  | 2  | 4  |
| Fisher     | 0  | 0  | 0  |

WHY DO WE HAVE EXAMS?

The teachers frowned as the weeks rolled around. With a speed that they'd like to condemn. Their worry, despair, plus hurry and care. Make exams a burden to them. They'd like to know why the students will try to cheat in such obvious ways. Or why pupils expect their papers all checked. As soon as they're written in spite of delays.

The students all feel that they get a harsh deal. When the teachers expect them to write. For an hour or two on things they once knew. So they think exams are for spite. They cram and they fret; they worry and bet. That the teachers enjoy all they see. Of their huge stack of books and pupils' worn looks, 0 and 0. And they ask, "Why should tests have to be?"

Both would like to forget that exams are here yet. Forget all their work and their sorrow.

And so for relief from this toil and this grief— Exams'll be over a week from tomorrow.

NEW OFFICERS IN LIBRARY CLUB

The library club at its regular meeting Monday elected its officers for the second semester. Nominations had been made the previous week. The new officers are president, Paul Thams; vice president, Robert Amstutz; and secretary-treasurer, Richard Wilkie. The new officers are all boys while those of the first semester were all girls.

EDITORIAL FINAL EXAMS

The time is rapidly approaching when some nine hundred students of Plymouth high school will be entering the various classrooms for their final examinations. Whether or not this will be their "zero hour" will be a result of their assimilation and application of the subjects which the faculty have tried to drive home.

The first five months of the school year are almost over. It is, of course, too late to try to "cram," although doubtless many will try this method of clearing the precipice that exams present.

If the students find that they have fallen into the abyss of careless work and half-hearted attempts at completion of their tasks and because of them have failed their exams, they have learned a great object lesson. They know now that such habits are bound to come to light at the time of exams. If, by some stroke of luck, they pass their tests in spite of these things they should resolve to double their efforts during the next five months in an attempt to eradicate partly their shortcomings of the past.

Final exams should not be dreaded nor considered a harrowing experience but simply a check-up on the students themselves. Only by such a system can students discover their weak points, and it, too, aids the teachers by pointing out where they have failed in clarifying various phases of their subjects. May the forth-coming exams serve as stepping stones to a better scholastic standard for the next semester!

THE SCOOPSTER

Spring comes quite often now or at least it seems so to Jimmie Stevens, who is now taking up singing. His favorite song is "The Cambells are Coming." Kye Moon is back to horses and their "Brays" again. We have heard rumors that the Senior play is to be a great success—at least the actors and actresses are really something!! Robert and Robertson should go together and I guess they do. As soft as a good head of cabbage—as quiet as Bob Hull—as peppy as Bill Thomas—That's 12th grade history. Goodness, goodness, it seems that the best and poorest have changed places—at least when a couple of boys come crashing through with A's on the last physics test. It seems that Mr. Fountain has found an easy way to scramble eggs—you might ask him about it. The "Little Four" who started the gossip paper gave up in despair because most of the news was about themselves and any way it was too hard to type it all, but if some one would donate a mimeograph machine to the most worthy cause they might continue. If anyone has anything in the way of news for this column—how's about coming across with it? All that turns up now are subtle jokes by Louis Gilbert. Fare thee well my friends and my resolution for this year is a bigger and better column!

There are six separate "forests" of fossilized wood in the Petrified Forest National Monument.

That Man! That Picture!!

"MATT" POWELL and his "Ghost" Fish

The Plymouth Mail has received the following for publication:

"The Plymouth Mail, Dear Editor:

It has just been brought to my attention that you published a picture of my fish in your paper last summer. But you didn't say I caught it. You said some one in your town caught that fish. That's what I don't like. I don't know who you said caught the fish and I don't care. All I want you to do is publish the facts. Here are the facts, and I don't want you to change one word of it.

"Last summer I was up in Canada fishing. There were two men there from some where in southern Michigan. One said he was the best fisherman in the town. He said more than that. He said he was the best fisherman in Michigan. He said a fish never got off his line once he had him on. It was all big talk and I knew it at the time. Maybe he can catch some kind of fish but not live ones.

"There was another man with him. He didn't do so much talking, but he seemed to prod the other fellow along. The fellow that did all the talking was the one that you had in your paper holding up my fish.

"I'm a woman and I like to fish and I know a lot of other fishermen just like the one you had in your paper. They do a lot of talking, stand around on the shore watching real fishermen catch fish then they go home and tell the folks back there how they caught the fish. There had ought to be a law against them.

"It seems a shame that the good fishermen have to be bothered by such folks.

"I will tell you just how that picture was taken. I came to shore in my boat with that big 44 pound trout and another one almost as big. The man you had in your picture was standing on the dock. He asked me where I got the fish. I said I caught them. Then he said he had never caught a fish as big as that in his life and he asked if he couldn't have his picture taken with the big one.

"Of course I said he could. Then he grabbed the big trout out of my boat and the little fellow with him took the picture you had in your paper with the other fellow holding up the fish I caught.

"That's the last I heard of it until about Christmas time some one sent me a copy of your paper with THAT MAN holding my fish.

"Would you call that being a good sportsman to do a thing like that? Of course you wouldn't. It's just being smart, that's all. I demand that you publish this letter so the people will know the truth about that fishing business. I've heard a lot of fishing stories and the like, but this one beats any I ever heard—THAT MAN letting the people think he's the one who caught my fish and having his picture in the paper with it.

"Print this and send me a copy of your paper.

HAZARDS OF HEALTH

(By O. F. Beyer, of Beyer Drugs) There are certain occupations which definitely affect one's health. It may be that your job is one that rates A1 with insurance companies and yet one that saps your nervous energy and leaves you physically drained, nervous and weary.

There are rules for living under such a strain, as necessary, as important to your health as certain physical guards thrown around hazardous occupations.

One of these is to get a doctor's advice. Tell him frankly what your job is—how it affects you, what your reactions are to the weariness which drags at your health.

His skill and advice are all important. An all around man is your doctor. He knows life, he knows people. He can help you surmount your particular difficulty.

A QUEER WORLD

Not so long ago some people and newspapers were condemning Col. Lindbergh because at sometime in the past he had accepted a decoration from Germany in honor of his leadership in the development of aircraft. The government that bestowed the honor upon him was at that time regarded as a "friendly" nation to America and the two countries exchanged the usual courtesies. But that didn't seem to count when it came to berating an individual for doing what most people regarded as a courteous thing at the time.

During the past few days there has been a lot of war talk coming out from Washington and the necessity of preparing for war. Along with all of this important news comes the announcement that Col. Lindbergh recently provided his government in Washington with some of the most valuable information it has ever received pertaining to Germany's military air development. In fact it was the data dug up by the American ace flyer in Germany that has caused the President and our government to give immediate and serious consideration to the necessity of bringing its aerial forces up to a position where they can withstand any attack that may come from foreign shores.

In view of what Col. Lindbergh was doing for his country at the time he was in Germany and in view of recent developments, wouldn't it be rather the decent thing for his critics to back-track a bit and give him his just desserts?

THE BAD PART

Any right thinking citizen will agree that the government in these times must provide assistance to those in need and it must provide work for those who are able and willing to work and cannot find work. For several years past government assistance has been absolutely essential to the distressed.

But the vicious part of it all has been the contemptible use for political purposes of funds provided for those in distress and in need of employment. If there is any one serious indictment of the present administration it is in this thing chiefly.

Recently there was prepared by a Washington newspaper writer some interesting figures to show how welfare funds and WPA funds were used in the last election for the purpose of influencing votes.

The story of those "Gold Dust Twins"—politics and relief—is vividly portrayed in official figures he has compiled of the works progress administration, showing how, through the political primary and election campaign period of 1938, hundreds of thousands of persons were put on the pay rolls and how those pay rolls mounted by hundreds of millions of dollars, only to be drastically cut down immediately after the November elections.

The accompanying tables, the figures supplied by the division of statistics and economic research of the WPA, of employment and outlay for comparative periods from May to December, for 13 states, as a cross-section of the nation from New England to California, and Washington state to Georgia, disclose some extremely interesting situations.

Take Pennsylvania, for instance, the state against which have been directed the most serious charges of wholesale political corruption in relief of the whole country.

The week ended May 7 there were 230,432 persons on the WPA rolls in the Keystone state. For the week ended November 12, which was election week, there were 290,552 on the rolls. For the week ended December 17, five weeks after the election, the number had dropped to 264,023. During the campaign period, the rolls went up 60,120 and in the next five weeks dropped 26,529, just when Winter was coming on.

The Pennsylvania primaries were held early, on May 17. Between the week ended May 7 and the week ended May 28, there had been added 14,404 to bring the total to 244,836. But the upsurge did not stop with the primaries, for the Republican Party had again come to life in Pennsylvania and was showing its oldtime spirit of fight.

By July 2 the number had grown to 264,379; by September 3, to 270,735, only 6,356 added in two months, and then as the Fall campaigns got under way mounted week by week for another 19,817 to reach the election peak.

For the month of May, WPA spent $15,307,093 in Pennsylvania. In July the outgo was $17,618,282, in September, $18,204,799, and in October, the month immediately preceding the election and the last one for which money figures were available today, to $19,394,088.

Thus one finds that there was $4,087,596 more "distress" that needed to be relieved in Pennsylvania when the leaves were falling in October than when they were budding out in May, but by mid-December things were so much "better" that almost half of those extra reliefers put on in the campaign months were able to shift for themselves, what with no more elections until 1940.

Michigan, another old Republican state that, like Pennsylvania, had gone New Dealish under the Roosevelt regime, presents a vastly different picture. Michigan got its relief early, before its primaries were held.

The Michigan primaries came on September 13. The week ended May 7, Michigan had 155,649 on the WPA rolls. On September 3, 10 days before the primaries, the number was 202,296. The "recession" set in at that point. By November 12 the number had dropped to 159,136, just 3,487 more than were on the rolls on May 7. The primaries had pretty well demonstrated to political students that Michigan was lost to the Democrats this year and those indications were fully borne out in the November 8 returns.

Michigan WPA'ers drew $9,305,884 in May, $12,311,446 in July, $14,410,586 in September and $11,437,746 in October.

It was only in Michigan among the 13 states analyzed that there was a decline before election. The pruning came afterwards in all the others.

The tables tell the story for other states:

|               | May 7   | Nov. 12 | Dec. 17 |
|---------------|---------|---------|---------|
| Massachusetts | 106,669 | 133,476 | 126,999 |

BUT HE GOES HIGHER

The humanitarianism of the New Deal is not to be doubted in various respects, but we still insist there is no mercy in the policy of Administrator Hopkins in building up the relief rolls during the summer and then chopping them to smithereens when the dead of winter sets in, and the elections are over.—The Charlotte, North Carolina, Observer (Democratic).

THE CITIZEN'S DUTY

No matter what the Macomb county citizen's private belief in the rightness or wrongness of organized gambling may be, it seems to us that his duty is clear.

As long as there is an anti-gambling law in the statutes of the state of Michigan he must support it. That is the responsibility of being a citizen. We see no other course.

For the citizen to say "Suckers have always gambled and they always will," or, "a majority of the people want legalized gambling," is to miss the point completely. The law is there, and if we want our laws, our liberties, our rights, our democracy to mean anything we must obey, respect and support our laws—and fight for their enforcement, too.

If the citizen feels that the majority of the people of the state desire the legalization of the gambling racket, let him press for the repeal of the anti-gambling law. In the meantime he must not wink at the law's violation.

Further, if it turns out that the governors, the sheriffs or the prosecutors he has elected are failing to do their duty as he is doing his, it then becomes also his duty to join in a popular protest against official laxity. If, in the face of aroused public sentiment, his officials refuse to obey the desire of the people and the command of the law he must go further and work for the impeachment of such officials.

To do otherwise is to invite the complete breakdown of law and its enforcement, and to open the way for an era of benighted lawlessness.

As to vice itself, we believe that organized gambling, legal or illegal, is the worst kind of economic waste. The worst kind, because not only does it support a large group of characterless persons in parasitical idleness out of the earnings of those who toil, but it is also moral waste. It brings poverty, misery and suffering to the families of the breadwinner who gambles and the wrecking of his own character.

We believe that the law can be enforced. It would cost money, and it would require the support of the people. But the money it takes to suppress it would not be a fraction of the money it now takes to keep it going.

Until it is enforced or repealed it is clearly the duty of the Macomb county citizen actively to support the present law.—Emerson O. Gildart in The Utica Sentinel.

GETTING THE "DOUGH."

Have just been reading how Rex Tugwell's wife under her maiden name of Grace Falke is keeping her $4,800 job at the Youth Administration in Washington and spends her week-ends with Mr. Tugwell in New York. The Tugwells have certainly done well out of the New Deal. It reminds us of a Detroit State Senator who four years ago had his wife on a state job under another name until they were found out. Such incidents tend to shake the faith of people in their government.—William Beskey in The Casopolis Vigilant.

CIVIL SERVICE LAW

This is what Representative M. Clyde Stout of Ionia, a Democratic member of the legislature for a number of terms, and who is also a member of the Crime Commission, says about the state Civil Service law which he aided in drafting: "It is full of loopholes and will allow the incoming administration to 'kick out the back door' any state employee." He also said "that under the present act, civil service examinations do not pertain to the work of the department for which they were intended and that they are filled with silly and stupid questions."

Here is a perfect picture of the present civil service law and what is true of this law is true of most of the so-called civil service laws. A law that would require certain qualifications for a position, would be right and just, but when a law like the present one has only the object of making a life job for someone, that is different.

We never have believed in a civil service law that covered the whole government service, because it is not practical. If a board of directors of any large company became dissatisfied with its manager and replaced him, would it be fair or practical to the new manager to insist that he must not make any changes in the employees? Then just how do you expect a new administration of the opposite party to make a success with a set of employees of the opposite party in charge? Did we hear someone say they are non-partisan? They are, they are not the kind of people that make good citizens under a government like ours that is a two party government.

Again under old civil service just how can the young people be expected to take an interest in government? A blanket civil service law is neither just nor practical.—By H. T. Johnson, Sarnac Advertiser.

WHAT AVERILL SAYS

Any effort on the part of Michigan Republicans to scrap the so-called Merit System that was set up under Governor Murphy will be received chillily by the voters, we think. We feel that Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald will heaven any attempt on the part of other Republican leaders to discredit a plan that honestly seeks to take public employees out of politics.—George Averill in The Birmingham Ecceentric.

"WHAT OF THE FUTURE"

Practically every speaker, and most of the rest of us have asked that question over and over again. But we don't mean anything by it. It is what is called a "rhetorical" question,—little more than a gesture of speech.

The truth may be that we do not want to know about the future. If we did, we would study the conditions that exist now—and derive from them some hint of what is to come.

This carelessness of the future is consistent—we ignore social, political, economic and personal futures alike. It is particularly unfortunate that we do this in matters of bodily welfare. It is practically impossible to convince young people that they may not always have the luxuriant growth of hair, the full set of teeth, the proper posture, the undeformed feet, and the unconsciousness of eye-sight, all of which they enjoy in the full vitality of youth.

Yet we older folk sadly realize that we might, if we had taken thought of the future, have more hair left, have better sets of natural teeth, might not carry around the protuberant belly, might still have corn-less and bunion-less feet, and far better sight IF we had begun to think of the future a lot sooner. Why is this?

BLIND MAN'S BUFF

Have you ever hunted in the dark to turn on a light? Aside from the lurking ambush of an open cupboard door (a favorite object to bump into in the dark) there are many good reasons for not putting up with this annoyance. One's time can be spent much more pleasantly than in groping for a dangling chain on a light fixture in the center of the room. A light switch on the wall by the door costs very little, and pays for itself many times over in convenience and safety. Telephone any electrical contractor for an estimate on this work. (We do no electrical wiring.) The Detroit Edison Company.
