

Dump Heap Is Waiting Bosses

Fee Scandal Break Just at the Right Time

Legislative Action can be Expected Soon

(By ELTON R. EATON)

Persistently and doggedly the writer has over a long period of years fought the contemptible political bosses who have brought discredit and disgrace to the Republican party of Michigan.

Most of the time it has been a lone fight, without help, and frankly at times utterly discouraging.

Time and again a seat in the conventions of my own party has been deprived me because of the fact that I have had nerve enough to tell the voters of Michigan about the manipulations being carried on under cover by these bosses.

Last fall I entered the Republican convention hall at Grand Rapids on my press pass. I had been elected a delegate to the county convention by the voters of my city and at the county convention in Detroit I had been advised that the "delegate committee" had elected me as a delegate to the state convention at Grand Rapids.

But the "bosses" however, refused me credentials to the convention, so I used my press pass to get in.

When I made an effort to vote, Edward Barnard, who is Frank McKay's political henchman, yelled to the chairman that I had no right to vote in the convention.

HE said HE had not put my name on the list as a delegate. The convention being a McKay-Barnard convention, ruled that I had no rights, because the bosses said I should not have them.

So it has been year after year.

But now it seems that they are becoming badly entangled in their own entanglements and the public is just now being provided some of the reasons why the writer has so persistently and so determinedly opposed McKayism and Barnardism in Republican politics.

Many times the writer has stood alone in the Republican county conventions and protested as to what was going on. But there seems at present to be a public awakening to the danger and help is coming from all sides.

There was presented to the legislature the day after it was revealed that Frank McKay had been paid $32,000 for some bond deal in connection with the Blue Water bridge at Port Huron. A "concurrent" resolution demanding an investigation into how it was possible for him to make so much commission on the deal. "Concurrent" resolution must be passed by both the house of representatives and the state senate.

Readers will recall that a bill I had presented to the legislature which had for its purpose the curtailment of Republican politics in Wayne county, thereby breaking up the McKay-Barnard combine, was passed without a single vote in the house against it.

Then it went over to the state senate. There it was killed in a senate committee. It has been revived, however, by the introduction within the senate of another bill which would accomplish the same purpose.

Casting Contest Next Thursday

Plymouth sportsmen have planned a bait and fly casting contest for next Thursday, April 27. The event is scheduled for 5:00 in the afternoon at the north side of Wilcox Lake, on the Riverside Park Drive adjoining Jewell's Clearers and Dyers. Members of the Western Wayne County Wildlife association are invited to meet at the lake to try their skill in long distance and accurate casting. Two trophies will be awarded winners in both the bait and fly-casting contests; one silver cup will become the permanent possession of the winner and the other will be his to keep for the year.

Glenn Jewell is the chairman for the tournament and his committee includes Hugh Horton, William Rambo, Mark Chaffee, of Plymouth, and Tom Edmondson, of Northville. At the monthly meeting which comes on Monday, May 1, a new member will be elected to fill the vacancy on the board of directors.

Houghs Visit E. H. 'Bud' Hansen

In a recent letter from E. C. Hough, who has been spending a month in Honolulu with Mrs. Hough, he tells of a call enroute to Edmund N. Hansen, better known to Plymouth friends as "Bud," who has for several years been chief sound engineer for the 20th Century Fox at Hollywood, California.

Mr. Hough writes: "Bud asked us out to lunch at the Cafe-Paris on the Fox lot and we had the pleasure of seeing many of the leading movie stars in their make-up for the pictures that were being rehearsed that day and after lunch we were shown through the different studios while rehearsals were in progress. Although we were more or less familiar with the progress that has been made in the business of making moving pictures, we were quite amazed at the magnitude of the Fox plant and the tremendous investment necessary to make the pictures of today."

"It may be interesting to know that all the sounds for pictures are fitted in by the sound department after the pictures are shot and for that purpose they have an immense fire proof vault with records of every conceivable sound from the chatter of a monkey to the snore of a hired man after a hard day's work."

Bud's department is responsible for fitting in the proper sounds in the right place and that requires skill of the highest degree. Bud is considered one of the 'big shots' in the business and I was particularly proud to recall that only a few years ago he was one of the 'Daisy boys,' spending all his spare time monkeying with wireless telegraphy and on several occasions rather badly disrupting the village lighting system with his experiments. After leaving Daisy to enter the U. S. Navy, Bud has made rapid progress in the science of electricity and sound and is looked upon as one of the leaders in his chosen field, but with all this success he has achieved, he is still the modest, lovable Bud we knew as a boy and his many friends have reason to be proud that his career started in Plymouth and to know that he still has a deep affection for his home town."

The program is as follows: March, "Youth of America," by Yoder; selection from Sullivan's Operatic Gems; vocal solo, "Goin' Home," by Dvorak; Keith John's "solos," waltz, "Song of Love," by Schubert; soloists, J. Schultz, accordion; R. Kenyon, French horn; R. Lorenz, trombone; saxophone sextet, "Song of India," by Korsakov. A popular tune will be played at this time known as "Donkey Serenade," by Friml; clarinet solo, "Nola," by Arndt played by Donald Mielbeck; descriptive "Hunting Scenes" by Bucalossi; march, "American Patrol" by Meacham; cornet solo, "Columbia," by N. Curtis. The overture "Tournament" by Hicks will be played by the woodwind trio of B. Heisel, J. Gorton and E. Whitaker; religious work from the Hadyin Suite, "Gloria in Excelsis" from "First Mass in B Flat," a waltz "Strausiana" by Seredy will be followed by the singing of "America the Beautiful."

The Beals Post, No. 32 of the American Legion will present an American flag to the band as a part of the program. Harold M. Owen, commander of the local post, will make the presentation and the banner will be accepted by Richard Dunlop, high school drum major.

William Streng, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Catherine Fisher, of Detroit, left Thursday for Toledo, Ohio, where they will spend the week-end with their sister, Mrs. Barbara Kensler. On Friday Mr. Streng will be the honor guest at a party, given by Mrs. Kensler, in honor of his 84th birthday.

Set May 6 to 13 Dates for Clean-up Week Here

Committee to Ask Everyone to Participate

Clean up! Paint up! Fix up! May 6 to May 13 are the days set aside in Plymouth for renovating, painting and cleaning up in general. A committee, headed by William Rose and composed of the following business men are formulating plans to make this event a big one for this city: Leslie DeWitt, Howard Stark, George A. Smith, C. H. Elliott, Austin Whipple, Otto Beyer and Sterling Larson.

City trucks will collect, during the week, all accumulated rubbish that is put in containers and for a very nominal sum will remove any other debris not in containers. Boy Scouts will collect old papers and rags and are also planning to aid those people who are not physically able in cleaning up their yards and basements for them. People wishing this service will be told who to contact in the announcement that will appear in the next issue of The Mail.

J. Merle Bennett Speaks Before Woman's Club

Tells of Growth of Landscaping and Gardening

The talk on "Civic and Home Improvement" given Friday afternoon by J. Merle Bennett, before the members of the Woman's Club of Plymouth, of which Mrs. Bennett is president, dealt chiefly with the history of various types of gardens.

He said that the ideas of terraces and enclosed gardens were given us by Egypt, our public park ideas by southwestern Asia, the Persians, the Syrians and the Babylonians, while Greece originated the idea of potted plants and flowers. Porch boxes, of stone, were first used in Rome, and informal gardens, with their tea houses, originated in China. Formal gardens reached their height in the 18th century under the reign of Louis XIV, whose influence in restoring them reached practically all the countries of Europe. Because these gardens were only for the royalty, however, the peasants not being able to have even a small garden, they gradually declined and in the 18th century informal gardens as used in China took their place, bringing them to rich and poor alike.

When A. D. Taylor of New York asked for a large tract of land for a city park, years ago, people of that community were in a panic, feeling that it was too much land wasted and too far in the country, not being able to foresee the growth of that city. However, it was made into a park, the present Central Park, in New-York City.

Mr. Bennett said that T. Glenn Phillips, who is associated with our city planning commission, and Edward M. Bassett, of New York City, are the outstanding city planning men of the United States. He also said if people building new homes would only plan their landscaping first, looking ahead to the future, their homes and grounds would have a much better appearance. He said that hedges should be used in the front and back and blue spruce should not be planted in front yards. Never use a short evergreen, such as spruce, pine or hemlock, which will eventually grow tall, near a house and do not use curved walks unless there is a special reason for doing so. Fountains are all right in window boxes and gardens in the yard but not at base of trees or polls. That is not good landscape arrangement, Mr. Bennett said.

City Will Hold Hearing on Alley Paving May 1

A special hearing will be held Monday, May 1 on the paving of the alley back of the downtown stores. In spite of constant work the alley is difficult to keep in condition and the commission has decided that the city would save money by having it widened and paved. With the proposed legislation prohibiting trucks from parking on the Main street, such improvements on this back alley become more imperative and this 750 feet of muddy lane would be made into a usable thoroughfare. It is expected that this will be a W. E. A. project and that work would start by June if approved.

City Manager C. H. Elliott was authorized by the commissioners Monday evening to submit the plan to the W. E. A. as a part of the Spring street paving project.

Thousands Crowd Plymouth's New Furniture Store Opening Day

Phyllis Rotnour Married Saturday in Detroit Church

Well Known Fancy Skater Marries Henry Grikscheit

Phyllis Marjorie Rotnour spoke her marriage vows to Henry Grikscheit, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Grikscheit, of Five Points road, Detroit, at a double ring ceremony in All Saints church, Seven Mile road, Saturday afternoon, April 15, at 4:00 o'clock. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra F. Rotnour, of this city.

Spring flowers in mixed colors, with lighted white tapers in tall candelabra, formed a background for the wedding party, the Rev. Berton S. Leverenz, of Detroit, performing the ceremony.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. White bridal satin formed the wedding gown, which was made with a heart shaped neckline, long fitted sleeves and short train. Her fingertip veil of tulle, fell in a triple tier from her coronet of plain satin. She carried white Killarney roses.

Evelyn Denna, of Grosse Pointe Park, was the maid of honor and wore a gown of white embroidered and organza over light blue taffeta, made with a low bodice, short puffed sleeves and a floor length circular skirt. Her flowers were Briercliff roses tied with antique gold satin ribbon. The bridesmaids, Eleanor Rostock, of Detroit, Jacquelyn and Jean Schoof, cousins of the bride, and Betty Andrews, of Grosse Pointe Park, wore gowns made the same as the maid of honor but varied in color. Eleanor wearing French blue organza over pale pink taffeta and carrying charm roses, tied with matching ribbon. Jacquelyn wearing pale pink organza taffeta, carrying tallman roses tied with peach satin ribbon. Jean and Betty wearing turquoise blue over matching taffeta and carrying Johanna Hill roses tied with gold satin ribbon. Each wore slippers to match their under slips and little flat shirred hats of blue net.

Gordon C. Fegau was best man and William Vogt, Milton Osmond, James Daly and Roy Levencrented the guests.

Mrs. Rotnour chose for her daughter's wedding, a gown of lace in Copenhagen blue over matching taffeta, while Mrs. Grikscheit, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of navy triple sheer. Both wore navy blue hats and corsages of tiny roses.

Following the ceremony a reception for 150 wedding guests was held in the Masonic Temple, in Plymouth, the bridal party receiving them. The bride's table was centered with a beautiful five-tiered wedding cake in white topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom, and fern leaves were used as a border. The guest tables had potted hyacinths and tulips, surrounded by fern leaves in star arrangement. Robert Rostock, of Detroit, planned the wedding supper and was assisted by Mrs. Arnetta Hance, of Plymouth. The guests were served by the following girls, who wore dainty gowns in spring shades with matching bows in the aprons: Dolores Hance, Dorothy Ebersole, Mary Jane Olsvater, Ardith Rowland, Shirley Reamer and Maxine Willard, of Plymouth.

For traveling the bride chose a dress of gray blue with topcoat of blue and white plaid and navy blue accessories. The young couple will reside at 19360 Five Points road, Detroit, following a motor trip to Ohio.

Mrs. Grikscheit is a graduate of Plymouth high school and has won several trophies in figure skating as a member of the Olympic skating group. Mr. Grikscheit is a graduate of the United States Naval Academy in Annapolis.

The bride's engagement ring was a miniature of his class ring following the tradition of the school. Their wedding rings, which were designed by themselves, signified sports they both enjoy, figure skating and rowing, he being a former member of the Detroit Boat rowing crew.

The happy couple have the sincere wishes of a host of friends in and about Plymouth.

Out-of-town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Teufel and daughters, Jo Ann and Doris, of Toledo, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holmes, Lincoln Park; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nygren, Pleasant Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. James Daly, Toledo; Mr. and Mrs. William Vogt, Saginaw; Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Vogt, Philadelphia; Mrs. Ann M. Miller, of Detroit; Mrs. A. L. Miller and daughter, Ruth, of Rochester; Linford Allen, Prudenville; Mrs. B. J. Cortright and daughter, Betty, of Ann Arbor.

Plymouth's New Mayor

Commissioners at their meeting last Monday night, unanimously elected L. E. Wilson as mayor. He succeeds Henry Honoring who has served in that capacity for the last three years. Mr. Wilson was first elected to the city commission in 1935 and has served continually since. In 1937 he was appointed to the board of review and in the election held earlier this month he led all candidates in the number of votes polled for a seat on the commission. Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple was again re-elected mayor pro tem for the fourth consecutive time.

Dr. O. A. Brines Will Speak on Cancer Control

Public Invited to Hear Speaker at High School

Continuing the educational program for the control of cancer, the local committee of the Women's Field Army has arranged for an illustrated lecture on the subject for adults only in the high school auditorium at 8:00 p.m. Tuesday, April 25.

The speaker, Dr. Osborn A. Brines, a member of the Wayne County Medical association, is well versed on the subject and will endeavor to hear his message of encouragement and enlightenment about a disease so often surrounded by mystery and misinformation. Dr. Brines donates his services and no admission will be charged.

During April men and women are invited to enlist in the army at a fee of one dollar or to contribute any amount in cash to be placed in the stores. Seventy per cent of all collections remain in Wayne county to aid the campaign and 30 per cent goes to the national organization. Many may welcome an opportunity to contribute to this worthy cause in memory of a departed relative or friend who might have enjoyed a wonderful good business, a business that has been growing steadily day by day.

There is no better proof of the development and progress of the city of Plymouth than the opening of two such high grade stores as the new furniture store and the Taylor & Blyton dry goods store. The entire community has a right to rejoice over the advancement of local business institutions. It all provides proof of the substantial growth of a fine city and its business houses.

Picnic Season of 1939 Arrives!

Tables Have Been Placed in Parks

Pack up that picnic basket, polish up the toasting forks—the picnic season has arrived!

Workmen down in Plymouth-Riverside park during the last few days have set up the picnic tables, cleaned out the stoves and placed everything in readiness for the hundreds of Plymouth people who enjoy going down to the park and preparing a picnic dinner.

By the end of another week tables will have been placed throughout the parkway system to the north and down towards Newburg—and then the picnic season will be on in full force.

Those who prefer the south side of Newburg lake for their picnics will this spring find a new comfortable station that has been erected during the winter months.

Workmen have also planted hundreds and hundreds of new trees throughout the parkway.

The picnic season is on! Pack up the picnic baskets, load the kids into the car—and hie to the parks!

Business Place is Distinct Credit to City

Opening of Two Fine New Stores Shows City's Growth

Not hundreds—but thousands upon thousands of people from in and about Plymouth Saturday attended the opening of the new Blunk & Thatcher furniture store on Penningman avenue. So great was the crowd that attended the opening it was difficult at times to move in and around the 'big sales room' that are filled to overflowing with the finest display of new household goods and furnishings ever shown in this city.

The vast number of visitors on the opening day exceeded all expectations. No plan had been devised to count the number of people who visited the store, but an idea as to the number can be gained from the fact that before 6:00 o'clock in the evening over 3,000 souvenirs given only to women had been passed out. This number does not include the thousands and thousands of gifts presented to the children and men and it does not include all of the gifts given out during the evening to women. Besides there were large numbers who did not accept the pleasing little gifts that the store owners endeavored to present to every one who called to express good wishes and see the beautiful line of household goods. It was by far the greatest crowd that ever before attended a store opening in Plymouth.

Both Irving Blunk and Horace Thatcher, owners of the store, were greeted with the enthusiastic and sincere compliments bestowed upon them by the visitors.

Dozens and dozens of beautiful baskets of flowers were everywhere to be seen, the gifts of business associates in the community.

There has been an entirely new front placed in the Schrader building in which the store is located and the entire interior of the store has been refinished and replastered.

Everything for the home is on display. The nursery room where is displayed furnishings for the children's room, the floor covering department and the display of dining room and bedroom furniture occupies the entire second floor of the building. Electrical appliances are in a department at the rear of the main display room.

The new Blunk & Thatcher furniture store is a distinct credit to Plymouth and vicinity.

With the recent opening of the beautiful and greatly enlarged Taylor & Blyton dry goods store, where there is carried every clothing need of the ladies and children, as well as all of the dry goods requirement of the home, Plymouth is indeed fortunate in its retail store development.

Mr. Blyton states that since their fine opening a few weeks ago the store has enjoyed a wonderfully good business, a business that has been growing steadily day by day.

There is no better proof of the development and progress of the city of Plymouth than the opening of two such high grade stores as the new furniture store and the Taylor & Blyton dry goods store. The entire community has a right to rejoice over the advancement of local business institutions. It all provides proof of the substantial growth of a fine city and its business houses.

Will Play for Championship

Final play-offs in the city badminton championship rounds are scheduled for next Monday evening in the high school gymnasium. Mrs. Ethel Miller and Jack DeLaunier will meet Hazel Rathburn and Henry Baker in a mixed doubles match called for 6:30 p.m. to decide the city championship.

Directly following the play-off match the Plymouth team will have a match with Wayne. On Thursday night the Plymouth team will play Ypsilanti. Residents of Plymouth who have never seen badminton played are invited to attend any of these matches at the school. There is no admission charge.

Eleanor Parmelee, with a party of Detroit friends, left Friday, on a ten days' visit in Miami, Florida.

Legislative Bill Aimed to Take Hand of Politics out of WPA; Would Stop Political Solicitations from Workers

Seeks to end all Connivance

Public Demands Something be Done to end Racket

by Elton R. Eaton
It was about a year ago this time when the WPA started to repair the paving on Main street between Penniman and Fralick avenues.

For weeks and weeks some 30 or 40 men carried bricks here, there and everywhere.

First the bricks taken up near Penniman avenue, were carried up near Fralick. Then the same bricks were carried back. How many times the bricks were removed from one place to another no one could definitely check. The men were not to blame for this. Apparently the big downtown "bosses" wanted to keep the job going as long as possible.

Others mixed concrete and some would lay the brick. Some of the men worked diligently. But most of the work was done by some dozen or so of those given employment by the government because they could not secure work elsewhere. The men should not, however, be blamed because of the way the work was done. The system seemed to be the "spirit" of the hour.

Most of the men seemed to resent the "stalling." A very few thoroughly enjoyed it and took every advantage of the right to draw pay for work not done.

"It is about one of the 'stallers' that this is written, in connection with the purpose of this article.

Employees of business places along where the work was being done, frequently commented on the fact that the fellow would put in his time day after day and never carry a brick, raise a shovelful of gravel or replace a tool that had been used on the job. If he ever picked up a shovel, it was used as a prop upon which to lean. He declared that "the president said he was going to feed us, and he's feedin' me, so what?"

One day late in the summer, he strolled into the office of The Plymouth Mail with a bunch of political cards.

He urged the writer to vote for those that had been "feedin'" him.

When the writer responded that it was the taxpayers who had been feeding him and not the office holders, he argued the point and said it didn't make any difference, he was out to "get some votes for my party."

Then election day rolled around. Again the same fellow stopped the writer and said "You ought to do somethin' to help us fellows today by votin' with us."

He declared that all WPA workers had been given the day off and told to help "get the vote out."

During the time he had worked on the street job, he had solicited membership in some sort of an organization that later turned out to be a high pressure political group and from what can be found out, apparently some of the money it collected from WPA workers was used for political purposes.

The day dragged along. Up and down the streets trod this WPA worker after votes. Frequently he would consult with others who had been employed on the job along Main street.

The more the writer saw of it, the more intense became the disgust at what was going on.

The WPA worker was not entirely to blame for what he was doing. He knew what he was expected to do, and he was doing it. He was going to protect the job that was being provided him and paid for by the taxpayers so he and the members of his family would not have to go hungry.

That was last fall. What is happening now?

WPA workers who use the shovels and pickaxes in the streets are being paid off—and at the same time salary increases are being given to WPA office workers.

There may be politics about it and there may not be any politics in it.

In a desperate effort to take the dirty hand of politics out of the WPA in Michigan, the writer has introduced into the legislature a bill which will make it an offense to inject politics into a system designed to aid those in distress. The proposed measure provides that:

"Any person who shall solicit or accept contributions of money or any other valuable thing from any person employed on any project involving any work or labor of any kind on any public street, highway, ground, building or structure for political purposes.

"Any person who shall solicit or accept any money or valuable thing from any person, group, association or organization which shall directly or indirectly divert all or any portion of the money or valuable thing so collected to any person employed on any project involving work or labor of any kind on any public street, highway, ground, building or structure financed in whole or in part by village, township, municipality or state funds shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

"Any person who shall promise employment on any project involving work or labor of any kind on any public street, highway, ground, building or structure as a reward for political activities on behalf of any person, group, combination, or association shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

"Any person who shall make inquiry into the political beliefs, tenets, or activities of any person who has registered for employment on any public relief project or program involving work or labor on any public street, highway, ground, building or structure shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

"Any person who shall either directly or indirectly threaten to deprive any person employed or registered for employment on any Public Work Relief project or program involving work or labor on any public street, highway, ground, building or structure of the political beliefs, tenets, principals or activities shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

Maybe this measure will be passed and maybe it will not be passed. It would help to keep the filthy hand of politics out of the welfare situation. It would prevent the WPA worker from being kicked here and there by a bunch of greedy political job holders, if it could be enacted into law.

Women's Class Will be Shown T. B. Movie

Our old belief that every child must have a mother is one of the so-called "childhood diseases," and the sooner the better, has been discarded in the light of present day scientific knowledge, declares Dr. Georgia Mills of the Michigan Department of Health. Doctor Mills will lecture before the women's classes here next Tuesday at 3:30 o'clock at Starkweather school on the topic "Preventing Communicable Diseases."

Many of these diseases are recognized as preventable today if measures are taken before the child comes into contact with disease carriers. These measures will be explained by Doctor Mills who will also describe how communicable diseases, including tuberculosis are spread, the value to the community of quarantine and isolation, how immunity may be obtained, and the importance of vaccination and immunization in crucial early years of childhood. The Michigan Tuberculosis association will show a sound picture on tuberculosis.

Final Zoning Hearing is Set for Next Monday

Committee Urges All to Come and Learn About Plan

Residents of Plymouth who live south of the Pere Marquette tracks are especially urged to attend the final hearing of the proposed zoning ordinance in the city hall on Monday, April 24 at 7:30.

Hearings are held on such ordinances before they are passed so that every one may have the chance to discuss the measure, and laud or disapprove special features in it before it becomes a law. As the ordinance stands, it is far too technical for most people and so in order to help them understand what they are getting, two hearings were arranged for the proposal.

On Monday the final discussion of the ordinance will include an explanation of the bill by a man who has followed the development of the project through its development and a period of questions and answers for the public enlightenment. The zoning committee needs the help of the public; they know that there are some objections to parts of the ordinance but a group opinion on the subject is necessary to start action. So the commission urges all citizens of Plymouth, regardless of where they live, to attend the hearing, because the ordinance will affect all of Plymouth.

Petitions are Circulated

Petitions were circulated early this week among local merchants and residents for signatures in hopes of gaining enough support to secure fire apparatus for the north end business section of this city. A special Chamber of Commerce committee headed by Fred D. Schrader has taken the initiative in placing the question before Plymouth residents after they agreed that additional protection for that section was necessary.

The question was presented to the Chamber of Commerce at one of its recent Monday meetings by W. A. Rose, proprietor of the Plymouth Hardware, who stated that residents in that area felt that as long as they are paying their share of city taxes there could be no question about the placing of fire fighting apparatus there for them.

Main basis for the controversy is the Pere Marquette railroad which at times delays traffic on Main street while trains are crossing, making it impossible for fire trucks to reach the north side.

Barbers, who were also originally surgeons, wrapped bloody bandages around poles to dry. People came to recognize a barber's place by the bloody rags. Barbers took advantage of the advertising and later painted red stripes around a pole.

Soul's Price Theme of Union Service Sunday

Rev. Speer of Ypsilanti is Speaker

"The Price We Pay for Having a Soul" was the stirring message brought by the Rev. Gordon Speer of Ypsilanti when he spoke at the union services in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening.

Rev. Speer took his subject from Jesus' question: "What will a man give for his soul?" He told the audience of Biblical characters who sold their souls cheaply because they did not realize what they were doing, and added that when a man is aware of the value of his birthright, he won't sell it at any price. His stories of Judas, Damos and Cain were alike, because these men all grasped the pleasure or satisfaction of the moment, not realizing the distant pleasure they had forfeited by so doing.

He recalled the experiment of Lorenzo Dow. Lorenzo was an old-time minister who set out to see what price people would ask for their souls. He met an old man on his journey and told him that he would pay him a dollar if the man would promise never to pray again. The fellow agreed because, as he told himself, he was not a praying man anyhow. Later, however, he began to worry that sometime he would need to pray and would not be able to, so he sought out Dow. The promise never to pray again had seemed easy when he made it, but he soon regretted his bargain.

"If only our temptation could come like that of Faust," Rev. Speer continued, "we should have the choice of doing right or wrong. But our temptation is usually so subtle, so hidden that we don't realize that we are selling our heritage."

To illustrate this, he told the Old Testament story of Lot. When Lot is first mentioned, he has just pitched his tent toward Sodom, but the next time, he is in Sodom, mixed in its affairs, and eventually in its destruction. Rev. Speer said that most people were like that, leaning slightly toward evil, they are soon destroyed by it. Such men, regardless of physical strength, may be moral infants in the world, because the really great men are the mental and moral giants. He explained this by saying that our greatest mistake is putting material things above spiritual. Rev. Speer summed up his points by emphasizing the value of absolute sincerity, the need of a deep appreciation of human beings and appreciation of spiritual realities.

"There are people who say that religion is only wishful thinking, but brother love and divine worship have never left a thing but beauty, good and glory. The Church may fail, although it need not if everyone gives his time, energy and devotion, but Religion is the light that never fails," he said. He concluded by urging everyone to be honest about his faith; either to give up religion altogether, or to be entirely religious.

The next and last union service will be on Sunday, May 14 in the Methodist church; Dr. Blakeman of Ann Arbor will speak that evening.

Michigan's area is equal to that of England and Wales.

NEW EXHIBITION AREAS IN SOIL CONSERVATION

Without extensive travel, nearly every farmer in Michigan soon will be able to visit demonstration areas in soil conservation service work in the lower peninsula. Approval of a new demonstration area to be set up in response to requests in the Grand Traverse cherry, potato and general farming area is announced from Washington, D. C., and regional offices of the soil conservation office in Dayton, Ohio. A peninsula extending into Grand Traverse Bay, an area in the mainland due east of the bay and farms south of Traverse City near Kingsley are to be farmed in new ways of conservation by farmer cooperators. Dump Heap is Waiting Bosses

Somewhat fearful of what might happen to a "concurrent" resolution in the senate demanding an investigation into this McKay affair because of its action on my anti-Barnard bill, I opposed the concurrent resolution and have demanded that the investigation be ordered by the house of representatives through some agency that will in no way be influenced by the elements under investigation.

Not only do I favor an investigation that will be free from all influence of the McKay machine, but I also favor an investigation that will cover ALL of the bond dealings of McKay and his associates for the last dozen years. The "concurrent" resolution provides only for an investigation of the Blue Water bridge deal.

I am in favor of taking in everything under the investigation and going to the bottom of things.

There has never been any doubt in my mind that these elements have sought to control the politics of Michigan for financial purposes only. From what one reads in the newspapers, it begins to look as though my views have been correct.

Before the week is over and by the time you read this, there is no question but what some definite action will have been taken in the legislature towards a clean-up of this mess.

Keep this prediction in mind—if the Republican party can clean house of the McKays and Barnards, and the kind of politics these individuals represent, and restore CLEAN, HONEST government within Michigan, it will be in power for years and years to come.

Faults are thick when love is thin.

REBEKAHS ENTERTAIN ASSEMBLY OFFICERS

On Friday evening of last week Plymouth Rebekah lodge No. 182 had another very pleasant meeting when they entertained the assembly officers, also visitors from Rebekah lodges in Wayne, Grandale, Brightmoor, Saginaw and Detroit. After the regular business meeting the tables were set up and beautifully decorated in pink and green with birthday candles at each place.

Before being seated the room was darkened and each person lighted his candle, making a very pretty effect as Mrs. Florence Dornier, chaplain of the A. R. A. offered prayer.

Much credit is due Mrs. Edna Gray and her committee for the delicious luncheon honoring especially each member who had a birthday in March and April.

After supper Mrs. Mabel Hunter, acting as toastmistress, called upon the assembly officers, guests and the birthday members, who all responded with pleasing remarks. Then with a few well chosen words she presented Mrs. Rose Silkstone, president of the assembly of Michigan with a gift from the lodge. Eighty Rebekahs were present and another treat is in store for them as there will be initiation and refreshments at the next regular meeting.

DOWN THE WRONG WAY

EATON RAPIDS (MPA)—Little Beverly Anne Zentmyer swallowed a nut meat while eating candy. A short time later she was rushed to the hospital where she underwent an operation. Instead of sliding down her throat like all food should, the nut meat lodged in the little girl's lung. The operation to remove it was successful.

It might be assumed that frosts and freezing weather are of interest only in the more northerly parts of the United States. As a matter of fact, freezing temperatures have occurred at some time in every section of the country with the exception of the Florida Keys. In normal years all parts of the country except southern Florida, the Gulf coast, southern California and certain favored areas in Arizona experience frost.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.—Rev. G. H. Enss, Th.D., pastor. There are again several candidates for baptism waiting for the next baptismal service. The day of Pentecost falls this year on the last Sunday in May. Dr. Enss is planning to administer the ordinance of baptism on that Sunday. All those who desire to be baptized are asked to prepare themselves for that sacred act on that day. As the Lord's blessing rests on His service, let us be diligent in His service. Let us have regular services, Sunday 10:00 a.m. morning worship; 11:15 a.m. Sunday school; 6:30 p.m. B. Y. P. U.; 7:30 p.m. evening worship; Wednesday 7:30 p.m. prayer meeting. There will be a special business meeting on Wednesday night, May 3rd, to complete the annual election of officers.

Last Tuesday night at their monthly meeting the Loyal Daughters announced the result of their praise-worthy efforts to make a special contribution to the church work. It was above all expectations. They had the sum of $210.00, of which the larger part was presented to the church treasury in addition to the contribution made for the church hymnals. The Ladies' Aid week before put on a successful chicken dinner, and the Ladies' Bible class has undertaken to put up a much needed fence on the west side of the church lot. We thank you all.

The public is cordially invited to this service. Thursday, April 27, 1:00 p.m., big spring luncheon for the ladies. Anne Campbell, Detroit, will be in charge of the program. This gathering will be held in the church dining room. Thursday, 8:00 to 9:00—choir rehearsal. Come on time.

Next Sunday we will be favored by some special numbers on the piano accorded by Romaine Lee. The pastor's morning message will be "An empty-handed worshipper." The evening service will begin with 45 minutes of congregational singing and instrumental numbers. You will enjoy the old hymns. Don't miss this service. "The old-fashioned hymn sing at the Klidston hall in Newburg will be held again next week Thursday at 7:30 p.m. On May 1 we are beginning a series of Gospel meetings with Jacob & Mildred Cope of Kansas City, Missouri. Watch for further announcements next week.

"Probation after Death" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 23. The Golden Text (Psalms 23:4) is: "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Rpmans 8: 5, 6): "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 487): "Life is the origin and ultimate of man, never attainable through death, but gained by walking in the pathway of Truth both before and after that which is called death."

Livonia Center News

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Myrl E. Leiphart was the scene of a farewell dinner last Friday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Berry, residents of the Livonia Center section, on Westmore avenue for the last three years. Although party feeling ran high, there was yet a heavy heart in every one present, for this dearly couple have, in no small way, endeared themselves in the hearts of everyone who has come in contact with them. Twenty-five friends and neighbors were served at the dinner and four tables of games followed. To show their love and respect for Mr. and Mrs. Berry, their neighbors presented them with a gift of a nice electric waffle iron, and waffle-making accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Berry are leaving soon for Detroit where they will make their home.

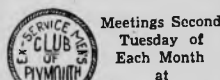

The Missionary association of the Livonia Union church met at Mrs. Leiphart's home, Tuesday, with potluck lunch served.

Park to Have New Sidewalk

Work began Tuesday of this week on a new sidewalk around the civic center between the stone wall and the curb. People parking their cars at the center, known as Central park, have found the ground too soft for comfortable walking and inconvenient when they are in a hurry to get around to the school house. This new and narrow sidewalk is being installed so that the drivers can get out of their cars and get around to the front door of the school without any inconvenience. The commission approved the proposed plans for setting out trees at the center and the city manager will advertise for bids on the work so that planting can be done early this year.

GET THE FACTS ABOUT THE TOWNSEND PLAN

Introduced as... General Welfare Act, H.R. 2 Established by ... Dr. Francis E. Townsend
AND HELP REBUILD AMERICA!

After six long years of vain and futile effort on the part of state and federal government, largely devoted to unintelligent and wholly uncoordinated experiments, there is yet no indication of any inclusive and effective recovery from the economic downfall of 1929-32.

Meanwhile, throughout most of this six-year period, there has been growing, under the guidance of Dr. Francis E. Townsend, a popular movement in favor of the Townsend Recovery Plan, which he originated.

It was originally put forth as an Old Age Pension plan and was widely condemned by the unthinking and financial powers, because it seemed to call for a pension of $200 a month to each person over 60 years of age. It became misrepresented and maligned as just that and nothing else.

The truth is that the Townsend Recovery Plan is a comprehensive, logical, practicable plan for the rehabilitation and stabilization of the whole national economic structure. It is the only plan thus far prominently advocated that will save the nation from a premature and politically controlled—and therefore corrupt and dictatorial—lapse into communism on the one hand, or a bloody civil war on the other.

Its aim is purely one of social justice and economic security for all worthy people of every age. It is designed to provide opportunity for youth, profitable work for young manhood and womanhood, security for the middle-aged to enjoy the fruits of their own individual labors, and comfort for the aged, which has been denied them under the present system of industrial peonage and financial brigandage, not to mention political banditry.

The plan—embodied in a bill known as H. R. 2—proposes to collect a tax of 2 per cent on all business transactions; to set up a revolving fund with this tax, which shall be divided monthly, pro rata, after administrative costs are paid, among all eligible applicants. Two hundred dollars per month is the maximum payment, as provided by the act.

Eligible applicants are defined as all citizens of the United States, 60 years of age or over, free from criminal record, who will retire from gainful occupation and agree to spend the monthly annuity payments within the borders of the United States within 30 days from the time they receive them for American-made goods.

Restrictions placed upon the spending are such as would prevent the money from being used to support able-bodied sons and daughters in idleness. The money may not be given away, beyond certain liberal percentage to churches and charities. It must be paid for bona fide goods and services, to the end that trade shall be stimulated and employment of labor increased.

The plan proposes to abolish poverty in the United States. It would do so, since it would establish and maintain buying power in every countryside, hamlet, village and city in the country and require that buying power be used.

It would eventually wipe out all forms of public charity, such as community chests, poor farms and poor houses, doles, WPA, FWA, etc., since it would assure continued and even increased demand for the products of industry, the services of professional people, the means of transportation and communication.

It would simplify the taxation system of the country by substituting a simple direct tax for the complicated and unjust taxation schemes now foisted upon the country by a greedy political hierarchy.

The spending provision in the Recovery Plan would bring immediate benefits to every class of people. The farmers would find a readier market and a better price for food products. Labor would have plenty of work producing goods and rendering services. Salesmen would find more buyers for their wares. Doctors and nurses, dentists and oculists would be busy beyond any previous experience. Merchants would again be heartened by the merry peal of the cash register.

Everybody, in the course of making his living, has to sell something—his time, his muscle, his products or his goods. Unemployment, pauperism, the need of relief doles and "made work" have all arisen from the lack of buying power throughout the nation. It is this lack of sustained buying power that the government has failed to cure. In fact, its uncoordinated experiments have defeated themselves, since buying power has declined steadily, so far as a majority of the nation's producers are concerned, ever since 1929. Increased taxation, increased numbers on relief or on low-wage work projects, and a general loss of confidence in the future, have led people to withhold purchasing power, if they had it, and have tremendously cut down the purchasing power of millions, until they have practically none left.

Buying power, and the resultant consumption of goods and services, are not stimulated by the so-called "subsistence wage," since it is evident that those who are now employed are supplying all that is needed for a bare "subsistence" level or standard of living. Some large and universally distributed group or class of people MUST be provided with quick, effective buying power AT ONCE, and THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY. It could be young people going to school, but it is not deemed good for the young people themselves, nor good for society that they should have the weakened morale nor the general attitude which such a gift would be likely to give them.

It could be the parents of children. One country in Europe, it is said, pays a bonus to the parents upon the birth of each child. However, we are still individuals and most AMERICAN parents would prefer an opportunity to support their own children rather than accept government gifts, as a price for their human liberty.

But here are the people of 60 years and over. Their days of active usefulness are nearly over. Most of them have done their life's work, have earned a few hours of leisure and repose. Many of them are broken in health and need the services of doctors, dentists, oculists, nurses and so on. Many of them are compelled by financial stringencies to continue working. Their rewards are small, so they cannot have the professional attentions they need.

What could be more appropriate than to make these aged people—of whom every community has its share—the medium through which to distribute the much-needed buying power that will soon spread employment, prosperity, opportunity and happiness to every family and individual in the land? It is just that they who have toiled through the heat of the day shall enjoy their reward in the cool of the evening. The nation owes it to them, more especially since the government failed in its duty to protect the sanctity of their possessions in the case of millions who were robbed of their life savings in the wild speculations of 15 to 20 years ago.

The two per cent transaction tax is less than the discount that any merchant would be glad to grant his customers for cash payments at the time of purchase. Let the purchases made by elderly people, which now average about $27 per month, jump up to $75 per month, which they would probably be during the first months of operation of the Recovery Act. At once this money would begin to circulate throughout the community, more people would be in a position to buy more goods, employ more help and build the new houses and buildings that are badly needed, and pay cash for more of the things they need.

It aims to reward labor and service more liberally and as fully as possible and consistent with the maintenance of what is known as the profit system. Its effect would be to spread profits out to a larger proportion of the people, without greatly reducing the profits of any legitimate enterprise. In other words, the increased consumption of goods and employment of services would extend opportunity for profitable work to the millions who are now, and have long been, almost or wholly without employment or income.

Annual Civic Hobby Show to be Held May 4 and 5

Exhibits to be Displayed in Gymnasium

Plymouth's hobby show will be held on Thursday and Friday, May 4 and 5 in the high school gymnasium from 7:00 until 10:00 o'clock each evening, according to Glenn Jewell, chairman of the committee for the show.

It is time to start getting displays ready; every kind of an exhibit will be welcome in this odd-show of the year. If your hobby happens to be collecting autographs, stamps, dolls or miniature china penguins you are asked to bring it to the gymnasium in two weeks. A watchman will be hired to guard the collections which will be kept at the school for two days and nights.

Exhibitors will be glad to learn of the new features to be incorporated in the show; glass collectors will be assured of a safe place for their glass because the tables are to be braced against the wall. Last year many people were afraid that their articles might get handled and broken. This year's show should be almost accident-proof because Boy and Girl Scouts will be guarding

Newlyweds Will Live in Saginaw

Lovely in its simplicity was the ceremony performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Nelson of Salem when their son, Richard and Evelyn Elizabeth Heltunen of Houghton, Michigan, were united in marriage Saturday evening. The Rev. Lucia Stroh of the First Congregational church of Salem performed the ceremony.

Before an improvised altar in the bay window of the living room which was banked with palms, and large baskets of lilies, stocks, snapdragons and ferns, the candlelight service was read at 8:00 o'clock.

The small nephews and cousins of the bride and groom who held long white satin ribbons to make an aisle from the open doorway to the altar were David and Everett Long of Lansing; Robert and Charles Frey, of Northville; and Barbara and Virginia Drake of Detroit.

Mrs. Reva Richards of South Lyon, a cousin of the groom, sang "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony. Mary Jane Bradley, of South Lyon, played the Wedding March by Lohengrin.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white silk marquisette over white satin. Her dress was fashioned on princess lines with bouffant skirt on which were bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley tied with lover's knots. A halo of white rosebuds and lilies-of-the-valley circled her finger-tip veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses tied with white tulle.

The maid of honor, Ruth Heltunen, sister of the bride, wore powder blue lace over matching satin and carried a bouquet of roses tied with peach satin ribbon. The groom's only attendant was Thomas Estep, of St. Louis, Missouri.

Mrs. Nelson chose for her son's wedding, a deep blue silk lace gown, worn over navy taffeta. Her corsage of white roses and orchid sweet peas was tied with white satin and silver ribbon. The bride's mother was gowned in black crepe and she also wore a corsage of roses and sweet peas.

Following the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served from a table covered with a lace cloth over pale blue. The table was centered with a large wedding cake, decorated with white roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom; tall, light tapers which were tied with pale blue tulle bows flanked the cake. Two silver urns were placed on the ends of the table at which the bride's sisters, Mrs. Long, of Lansing, and Mrs. MacNaughton, of Detroit, presided as hostesses.

Mrs. Velma Frey of Northville who is the sister of the groom, served the wedding cake to the 70 guests. The members of the wedding party ate at the bride's table which was decorated with tall tapers and a low bouquet of sweet peas.

The bride graduated from Houghton high school in 1934 and has since been employed in Ann Arbor. Mr. Nelson graduated from Plymouth high school in 1928 and two years later entered Michigan State Normal college where he majored in modern language. He received his A. B. degree and life certificate from this college in 1934. He is now employed by General Motors and is located in Saginaw.

The happy couple received many beautiful gifts. They left for a 17-day motor trip through the southern and eastern states, and on their return, will reside in Saginaw. For traveling, Mrs. Nelson wore a brown tailored suit with brown shoes and hat and chapeau accessories.

Immediate friends and relatives were present from Royal Oak, Detroit, Dearborn, Northville, Ann Arbor, Whitmore Lake, South Lyon, Lansing, Houghton and Plymouth.

Need Fireman for New Dearborn Hospital

The opening of the new Veteran's Hospital in Dearborn has recently created new positions to qualified workers in various fields. The latest civil service examination to be announced through the local officials is for a senior fireman for this hospital.

They are to be filed with the latter before Friday, April 28. The examination for this position requires no written test; applicants will be judged solely on experience. They must have at least six months experience in firing with coal and three months in firing with a mechanical stoker. The position is open to men between the ages of 18 and 55. Any further information may be procured at the local post office.

Secret is Out About "Smelters"

Matt Powell and Bert McKinney have been going up north "smelt fishing" for the last half dozen years or so.

Sometimes they would bring smelt home and sometimes they would not.

They came home from Alpena the other day after another smelt fishing trip—and would you believe it—up until they made this trip in the spring of 1939, these "smelters" didn't know that you had to wade out into the creek and dip the smelt with dip nets!

How did the folks back home get the facts? That's the interesting part.

Carl Caplin and Dr. Paul Butz drove up to the same creek to do a little dipping the other day. These two well known Plymouth sportsmen were busy dipping up big nets filled with the wigglings smelt when Matt Powell and his fishing partner drove up to the creek, stopped and watched the other two Plymouth fishermen.

"So that's the way you get them, is it?" asked Matt of Carl. "Sure, it's the only way you can get smelt at this time of the year," responded Carl and Doc in unison as they dipped out another batch of smelt.

"No, it's not the only way to get smelt at this time of the year," said Bert. "We're going down to the smelt house and buy our supply right now."

So that's the way the two gentlemen fishermen from Plymouth get the smelt that they bring home from the north springs and pass out among their friends.

Attention! New Express Rates

New revised rates affecting railway express shipments went into effect April 15, 1939.

For example, charges have been reduced on packages of first and second class traffic weighing 21 pounds or less regardless of distances shipped.

For short distances charges are reduced on packages weighing as much as 50 pounds. While on heavier shipments rates result in slight increases, when taken into consideration with the reductions in the lower weight brackets, the increases are counter-balanced by the savings effected, as shown by preceding comparisons.

To ascertain specifically how these important revisions affect your business, consult your local railway express agent.

OIL DOES THINGS
COLOMA, (MPA)—Just what an oil boom can do to a man was illustrated by a bet made by two local play boys, William A. Cross and George W. Bell. Cross wagered 60 beers (he is a tavern keeper) against $9 in cash with Steward Bell that by July 4, 1940, there will be oil wells within a five-mile radius of Coloma. The bet was drawn up in legal fashion, and attested by a notary public.

P. E. O. Delegates Attend State Convention

3-day Session at Detroit-Leland Attracts Many

Thursday afternoon when the annual three-day P. E. O. convention opened at the Detroit-Leland hotel, Plymouth delegates, Mrs. Perry Richwine and Mrs. Vaughan Smith were present. Mrs. Carl Boyle is presiding at this convention which is being attended by delegates and members of the state organization. Detroit chapters U and V are hostesses and have as co-chairmen, Mrs. Walter Jorgensen and Mrs. J. D. Roach. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. R. L. Hills and Mrs. Paul Nutting attended the opening session, and last evening Mrs. S. N. Thams and Mrs. Albert Curry were present for the program of music and a costume play by members of Chapter P of the sisterhood. J. R. Witwer is acting as chief guard at the convention, having been recently appointed by the state president. On today's calendar, the election of officers for the ensuing year is the outstanding event. Dr. Henry Hitt Crane is to be the speaker at the banquet in the hotel this evening for delegates and their husbands. Perry Richwine and Vaughan Smith will attend. Mrs. J. H. Langdon, of Chapter U which is one of the hostess groups, is to be the toastmistress. Committee reports, followed by an educational hour are scheduled for tomorrow morning. During the hour of entertainment, Miss Louise Knudson, of Ferris, will be soloist. Mrs. C. L. Forman of Chapter F, will be the song director and Mrs. N. G. Wann of Chapter V, pianist. Two national leaders of the P. E. O. are present at the conference; Mrs. Chellie Stevens Wright of Denver, president of the Supreme Chapter and Mrs. Winona E. Reeves of Chicago, editor of the P. E. O. Record.

Elliott Hears Tax Expert

City Manager Clarence H. Elliott attended the luncheon-meeting of the Detroit Economic club at the Book-Cadillac hotel Monday noon. The speaker for the day was Mark Graves, of Albany, New York, who is commissioner of taxation and finance of New York state. Speaking on "The State and Local Fiscal Problems," Mr. Graves told the 500 assembled business men of some of the advantages of having a unified state tax bureau. He explained the tax situation as it now exists in Michigan; revenue is collected in six or seven bureaus, and such a system is not to be expected to function as well as if the units were centralized. How state and local taxes tie up with national revenue was another point in Mr. Graves' discussion. The present debt in local budgets is almost equal to the debt in the national treasury so new taxes are inevitable. The trouble lies in the fact that they are not unified enough. Mr. Graves, who is also president of the National Tax association and who has given 31 years of service to New York in the state bureau is well qualified to speak on this subject. The lecture was most enlightening to those who attended.

Plymouth Women Hear About Fair

MRS. FRED T. MURPHY

Members of the Plymouth Woman's club last Friday afternoon heard much about the New York World's Fair from Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, chairman of the Michigan Woman's Advisory committee from Michigan, who came to this city to discuss briefly the interesting features of the event. Mrs. Murphy, who was selected to this high position in connection with the fair by the New York commission directing the historical event, declared that the World's Fair celebrates the 150th anniversary of the inauguration of George Washington as president. This is its theme: "A happier way of American living and the Amusement Area. The interdependence of men, and the building of a better world of tomorrow with the tools of today," she said. The fair has been planned to express that theme in a thousand different ways. There are 1,216 acres of the fair. That area is divided into two main districts—the Exhibit Area and the Amusement Area. The Amusement Area is a self-contained section along the shores of Fountain lake. The Exhibit Area has as its axis Constitution Mall, which runs from the Theme Center to the Federal Building. The Theme Center is marked by the Perisphere and Trylon. Within the Perisphere is a gigantic diorama called Democore, which dramatizes the official theme against the background of a future industrial center and satellite areas. Federal Hall is flanked by buildings and exhibits of our own states and of foreign nations. Among the chief centers of interest on the Mall are the Lagoon of Nations, statues representing the Four Freedoms established by the Bill of Rights, and a heroic statue of Washington. The exhibits as a whole treat with the entire field of man's achievements and exemplify the tools of today with which the world of tomorrow can be built. They are grouped under these general headings: "This Machine Age"; "World, Nation, State, City"; "The Art of Living"; and "The Arts." To emphasize the basic elements in the world of tomorrow, the fair has arranged seven focal exhibits on Communications, Transportation, Production and Distribution, Food, Health and Education, Science, and Community Interests. Structurally, the fair is a vast design of mural art, heroic sculpture and color. The unbroken walls of the buildings invite bold color and expansive design; murals are inevitable, murals in almost every medium. The broad avenues, open courts, pools and fountains invite statuary; hundreds of sculptural adventures are to be found there. Of color, there is a unified plan with zones radiating from the all-white Theme Center; each structure in each zone has a specified color as its dominant note. The plan is based on the rainbow progression. Lavish lighting effects will be used to create night spectacles—gigantic fire and water displays—over the Lagoon of Nations and Fountain lake.

Newburg Lake is Duck Rendezvous

Ducks, ducks, ducks—thousands of them—during the early part of the week attracted large numbers of people from Plymouth out to Newburg lake. Where they came from and just when they arrived no one seems to know. A number of days ago there were probably two or three hundred on the lake, but Sunday there must have been several thousands of them. For many weeks past, local hunting fans have been amazed at the large number of ducks of all kinds that have been seen on lakes and ponds in this part of the state. Some would remain only a few days, and then apparently wing their way northward. A few days later another flock of a different variety would land on the same lake or pond and remain for a short time. Prospects are indeed good for some mighty fine duck hunting this fall.

1940 License Plates to be Black on Silver

License plates for the year 1940 will be black numerals on a silver aluminum background. The silver aluminum paint used, will bond to the metal of the plate and the plate will not be subject to chipping as with the enamel now used, making the new license plates more durable; also this color background will tend to eliminate reflections and minimize glare. The New York World's fair commemorates the 150th inauguration of George Washington as president. The Golden Gate exposition commemorates nothing. It celebrates the opening of the San Francisco bay-Oakland, the Golden Gate bridge and opening of trans-Pacific airlines.

Local Salesman Wins Contest

A member of the sales force of the Consumers Power company is among 231 salesmen in various sections of the country who stood highest in gas refrigerator sales during March, thereby receiving a cash award for his selling achievements, it was announced today by R. H. Smith, local manager of the company. The winner was among several thousand gas utility sales employees who were contestants in a nation-wide selling campaign known as the "Rigging Up" contest. The winner is William J. Shekell of 1135 Starkweather. Commenting on successful selling during the "Rigging Up" contest, Mr. Smith stated: "High sales of gas refrigerators during March, a month that is cold and wintry in most parts of the country, shows the growing interest of housewives in 'all-year-round' refrigeration, in contrast to the way in which prospects formerly waited for the approach of warm weather before purchasing a refrigerator. "Moreover, the selling of so many refrigerators in March is an indication of the bigger volume of sales that can be expected during the next few months. "The 'Rigging Up' contest is part of a more extended campaign now under way known as the 'Man-the-Sales' contest, an announcement of which has already been made. In this longer contest, which will continue until June 30, models of the famous clipper ship, 'The Flying Cloud' will go to company winners. Individual cash awards amounting to more than $30,000 will be divided among salesmen throughout the country making the highest records during the campaign. The contest is conducted by the American Gas association refrigeration committee in collaboration with Servel, Inc., makers of the Servel Electrolux gas refrigerator, and the Association of Gas Appliance and Equipment Manufacturers.

PROF. FAGERSTROM SPEAKS AT ROTARY MEETING

Prof. S. E. Fagerstrom, of the department of history at Michigan State Normal college spoke to Rotarians last Friday on America's economic position before and after the World War. He showed the members how in the history of this nation, exports had continually exceeded imports yet, before the war the United States was a debtor nation because England was lending a great deal of money to finance American industries and railroads. When the country came out of that world conflict a creditor nation, it continued to export from one to three billion dollars worth of goods more than it imported. He also said that the government and industries began to make vast foreign loans which have not yet been repaid and that this is not the kind of credit that the country needs; more foreign markets are necessary if the United States expects to continue selling more than it buys, he concluded.

PLYMOUTH WINS TOP HONORS IN T. V. A. A. CONTEST AT WAYNE

Winning a first in declamation, a first in extemporaneous speaking and a tie for second in oratory, Plymouth students captured top honors in the T. V. A. A. speech contest held April 5 at Wayne, River Rouge, Wayne, Ypsilanti, Dearborn, Ecorse and Plymouth were represented in these contests. William Orr, representing Ypsilanti, won first place with his oration, "What is the Remedy?" while Bob Daniel, delivering "Totalitarianism vs Democracy—Which?" and Elsie Schwartz of River Rouge, presenting "The Future?" tied for second. Jim Zuckerman won first place for Plymouth with his declamation, "The Weighted Scales" and George Gerstadt of Wayne placed second with "Let Us Have Peace." Speaking on "Is Hitler a Statesman?" Virginia Rock won first in the extemporaneous contest. Leon Lutz of Wayne rated second with "What of Europe's Jews?" The judges were Miss Susan Stinson of Roosevelt high school, Ypsilanti, Mr. Bernard Knitted of Trenton high school and Mr. Richard Morely of Roosevelt high school, Ferndale. In the final average, Plymouth captured first place, four points ahead of Wayne, second place winner. As a personal gift, each first place winner received a book. The two winners of Plymouth will represent the school in the district contest to be held on or before May 5 at Melvindale. The Plymouth contestants were coached by Miss Irene Walldorf, instructor of speech.

PLYMOUTH'S 1899 BASEBALL TEAM

(By Wesley Hoffman)

The Plymouth high school baseball team started their spring training two weeks ago when Mr. Jacobi put up a notice on the bulletin board saying, "All boys interested in baseball report for practice to-night. That night about 75 fellows came on. After Mr. Jacobi had looked over all the boys for a week and had watched them carefully, he cut his squad to 30 members. There are five veterans who will probably keep their regular positions. That makes four positions open to some rookies who can make the grade. Mr. Jacobi says, "If I can find four new players who can fill the spots that were left, I think that we will have a pretty well balanced club." The boys that are sure of positions are as follows: Bud Krumm, Bob Hitt, Wes Hoffman, Bob Folsom and Larry Newman.

OF ALL THINGS

(Contributed)

Well, here we are back again with more of the honest truth of old P.H.S. We reckon most of you might have forgotten us but we have not forgotten you. If you think so just cast your little peepers on what follows. It's all in fun though, so take it on the chin and smile pretty. First on the list is a newcomer in the person of a little sophomore girl letting her junior boy friend down for Clayton Kelly. Good luck to you Clayton. Take your name off the back of your car, Clayton, and then maybe we wouldn't know so many things. Speaking of cars it seems as though Neal Curtiss did a nice job of wrecking his and along with it he wrecked a little girl just enough to keep her from going to the Northville Hop with Marvin Hawk. Competition is fine, boys, but you can carry it too far. You know everything really should "Sailie" along smoothly. Here's a fair way to do things. Joe Scarpulla traded gals with Gerald Greer and both seem to be happy. How about you girls, do you mind? All right Bob, Jim didn't keep that date with Barb either.—It must be spring. Have you noticed all the "hot" shirts floating around? Bye now and be careful.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET

The plans for the mother and daughter Banquet to be held on May 9 have been worked out more in detail and the menu is: Tomato juice, creamed chicken, mashed potatoes, peas, hot biscuits and gravy, gelatin salad, ice cream, cake, coffee, milk, relish and pickles.

The program will consist of the following talks:

"The Girl of Today, the Woman Tomorrow," Ruth Ash; "Who's Who," Dorothy Roe; "Mother Knows Best," Arlene Sotb; "Little Women," Mrs. Harry Brown; "My Mother and I," Mrs. H. S. Mallory, Extension Service, University of Michigan; "Time to Go," audience; "Following the Gleam," Taps.

In addition to this, there is to be a skit and dance given by the girls and songs for the whole group led by Girl Reserve song leaders.

As everyone probably knows, this is the fifteenth annual banquet and as the seating capacity is limited to approximately three hundred, it is best to secure tickets early. All Girl Reserves are selling tickets or if anyone cannot be reached by them, the tickets may be obtained by calling the high school. Every woman and girl is invited and urged to come and enjoy a pleasant evening together.

JUNIORS ARE BEST BEHAVED CLASS

The second student government traffic court brought 38 law breakers, who held a total of 48 tickets, to the witness stand. These students were from all the classes — seventh through the twelfth. Of the total number of tickets issued the junior class received only seven per cent or six tickets, the seniors and freshmen were tied with 12 per cent or five tickets respectively, the seventh and eighth graders also tied with 20 per cent or eight tickets each, and the tenth graders ranked last with a percentage of 29 or 15 tickets.

Of the 38 arrests made 32 students appeared in court to receive their sentences or hear harsh admonitions from the judge. Since the system of student government has been conducted with marked success for the first few weeks of its existence it is probable that it will be continued.

THE COMMITTEES CHOSEN FOR FRESHMAN DANCE

The freshmen have chosen their committees for the dance they plan to give April 28. These are as follows: Publicity, Nancy McClaren, chairman; assisted by Bruce McAllister, Ruth Drews, Charles Bowdler and Dorothy Ritchie; orchestra, Frances Weed, chairman; assisted by Carmel Stitt, Bob Brown, Gladys Davidson and Bob Birch; tickets, Harry Wooster, chairman; assisted by George Chute, Russel Ash, Harold Cockran and George Ross; refreshments, Richard Virgo, chairman; assisted by Ione Stuart, Sally Haas, Dorothea Hance, and Virginia Dunham; chaperons: Phyllis Nichols, chairman; assisted by Betty Jewell, Owen Gorton, Janice Downing and Jerry Farrar; floors, Phillip Kisabeth, chairman; assisted by Kenyon Olds, Dudley Martin, Bob Hancock and Harold DeWolf.

CORRESPONDENTS—THE LIGHTER SIDE OF FRENCH CLASSES

Most people enjoy writing letters, particularly if they are sent to countries where a foreign language is spoken. Perhaps that accounts for the popularity of correspondents in the French classes in the high school.

For the sum of a dime, a student may receive the name of a boy or girl in France to whom it is understood he will write. Although American girls can write to French boys, the process cannot be reversed because of certain French customs and rules of etiquette.

The first letter may be written entirely in English, but the second must be at least half in French. These letters contain pictures of the students, their homes and the cities in which they live, descriptions of themselves, their favorite movie stars and the points of interest they have visited in the United States. Their replies contain statements that, yes, the French correspondents have heard of Shirley Temple, Deana Durbin, Henry Ford and Niagara Falls. It is with great pride that the French students point out the ownership of a telephone, a radio, or that supreme luxury—an automobile. Few of the families have more than one of these things and rare it is indeed when they have at three. As a rule, the English of the French students is better than the French of their American correspondents. This is probably due to the fact that French schools give more in a year's course of study than do American schools.

YOUTH FEDERATION ACTIVITIES

They say that if you make a better mouse trap, the world will beat a path to your door. We haven't built a mouse trap but we have proved the old saying true—for the young people of Plymouth are flocking to the roller skating sessions held each Tuesday afternoon and evening in the Methodist church, now that the floor has been smoothed over. A capacity crowd skated Tuesday night and all commented on the difference and if the large numbers keep coming there may be two nights of skating instead of one. Private parties can be arranged at any time. Youngsters and their older brothers and sisters are all welcome. The time is 3:30 to 5:30 for all under 12 years and 7:00 until 9:30 for the older group. If you are a jitterbug, a rug-cutter, or merely a dancer you will enjoy the dances for young people at the city hall. As there is a band concert at the high school Friday night, there will be no dance Friday at the city hall but Mike and his Rhythm Kings, those musical maniacs of swing, will delight the ears of the younger crowd Saturday night from 7:30 until the late hour of 10:00 o'clock. The music is really slick and the floor smooth, the gang attends so why don't you just truck on down to the city hall Saturday night and join in the jam session. There will be just a little over two months more of dancing so make hay while the sun does shine.

Story hours held each Saturday morning in the city hall will be continued through spring and summer. Now that the sun shines the boys and girls will be able to play in the park and the games, songs and stories are new and different. All children between the ages of five and 10 years old are urged to attend. The time is 9:00 o'clock for children eight to 10 years old; 10:00 o'clock for children five to seven years old.

THE LIFE OF A TROPHY

Consequently, Jim Zuckerman, our bright and shining light, suggested Ro-vir-re-glo-jim I (Robert, Virginia, Irene, Gloriette, Jim), not a bad name if I do say so myself.

Incidentally, all three contestants in the sub-district contest are sophomores. Mark my words, that class is going somewhere (Where?) Their slogan is: Veni; dixi; vinci—I came; I spoke; I conquered. (We hope it works.)

The Federal deficit for the years 1931-1939 amounts to more than total government expenditures for the 125 years, 1789-1913.

A CREDIT TO PLYMOUTH.

Not hundreds, but thousands of people Saturday visited the beautiful new furniture store of Blunk & Thatcher on Penniman avenue. It was opening day, and what a grand day it was, not only for the new store owners, but the city of Plymouth as well. It inaugurated for this district the services of one of the finest and most complete furniture stores in Michigan outside the city of Detroit. While it is by no means one of the largest, it is one of the most modernistic, complete and attractive furniture houses within the state. Plymouth congratulates its owners and we hope for them the success they are bound to have.

DON'T FORGET!

During the last few months the city has removed a large number of old trees, some partly dead or not in a healthy condition. There is no question but what they should have been removed, as they provided a certain amount of danger to pedestrians.

But we should not forget that it takes a long time to grow trees of the immense size of those that have been removed. Certainly it is our desire and intention to have the Plymouth of 25 years from now as beautifully shaded as it is at present.

This is tree planting time. To take the place of all the trees that have been removed, the city should at least plant five trees for every one that has been removed.

This week, right now, is the time to do it. The city officials have been doing a mighty fine job for Plymouth and they can continue their splendid services by planting 500 young trees NOW.

AN EDITORIAL BY A WOMAN.

When business enters the door, scruples too often fly out the window. That's the indictment Nina Wilcox Putnam levels against business relations in a recent Rotarian Magazine article. Drawing upon her own experience in commercial transactions, the widely known author, in presenting the woman's point of view, outlines a set of simple, practical rules for improving business relations. Here they are:

"First, be sure you know what you want before you enter into any business transaction. Think the matter through clearly, and refuse to compromise on cheap substitutes, either material or ethical.

"Never allow yourself to be rushed into a hasty decision either by overenthusiasm or by false pride. One of the most frequent causes of business failure is our natural unwillingness to admit to the other fellow that we may not be able to 'put it over.'

"Never buy anything you can't pay for. Don't take a chance on something turning up later to cover your indebtedness. That sounds like putting the brakes on a lot of creative enterprise, but genuinely creative enterprise is never a gamble.

"Be sure you give what you are being paid for. All business growth, be it in the selling of apples or in the selling of ideas, is built on repeats.

"Never use your personal affairs as an alibi for non-performance. The purchaser is interested in the goods he gets, not in your private problem.

"Never be 'smart alecky' or affected in your manner when a business deal is involved. Your approach will be anything but welcome. A direct, simple, and natural manner is your best introduction to any client or prospect.

"Never try to get something for nothing. The effort, always futile, is spotted immediately and brands you indelibly as a fake. People don't forget that sort of thing and they are not reluctant to spread the news.

"Never, NEVER lose your temper no matter how wholly wrong your business contact of the moment may be. By losing your temper you put yourself at a disadvantage. Many a deal has been consummated satisfactorily to all parties because one of them kept cool.

"Don't waste your own vital energy by brooding over a bad business deal or a business injustice. Forget it and go ahead with something new.

"Always fulfill your contracts on time, or a little before time if possible. The upstage gesture of delay is an empty one, no matter how important you are. He who can be depended upon is the one who gets results.

"The successes of dishonesty and charlatanism are usually brief, believe it or not—just like the success of crime in a lesser degree. 'Getting away with it' is not business success; it is slack-wire performance on a rusted wire.

"Above all, assume that the other fellow is at least as decent and honest as you are. Distrust engenders distrust. Faith often begets faith in the most surprising degree."

GAS TAX

The federal tax on gasoline, which since its enactment in 1932 as a "temporary" measure has taken $1,175,000,000 from the pockets of American motorists, is cited as the outstanding example of duplicating and discriminatory taxation by Dr. Finlay G. Crawford, Syracuse University, in his new book, "Motor Fuel Taxation in the United States."

The duplicating federal tax falls heavily upon the "typical motorist" who, with earnings averaging $20 to $30 a week, is least able to bear the burden of discriminatory taxation.—George O. St. Charles, in The Dearborn Independent.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY

The present relief set-up is such that the relief workers must keep the "case load" at a high peak or some of them would lose their jobs. It was advocated that the relief set-up be taken out of government control and placed in local control, and expensive investigators dispensed with or the force cut to a minimum.—Wm. Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

OUR HEROES

Oh to be as popular as the wooden dummy named McCarthy! It is the famed Charlie who recently mowed them down when he arrived by train in New York, with his mouth-piece Edgar Bergen. A headliner, the nation's favorite radio artist, the love of young and old, this toast of the town has won all hearts. When you realize that Walt Disney has had some of his drawings hung in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, that a cartoon named Mickey Mouse shares honors with Charlie McCarthy and that a contented Ferdinand the Bull is coming into his own, you know that Americans are pleased with the simple and wholesome things. We rather like bowing to a rouse and a wooden dummy than to a soldier. We would rather smell the flowers with Ferdinand than watch the marching feet.—William A. Irving, in The Sandusky Republican-Tribune.

THE ANSWER

A decided Republican come-back as evidenced all over the country in the last election is convincing that Rooseveltian extravagance and strangulation of business is not the way to an American recovery.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

CIVIL SERVICE

The people of Michigan issued a mandate in November to the governor and legislature to put the state on a sane and business basis and cut "isms" like the civil service, so called, that has cost the taxpayers $100,000 without giving the state a single benefit. The law has deprived the state of employees who have faithfully served the state for years, but could not answer the "fool" civil service tests that had nothing to do with the work they had to do. The assessment made by Charles S. Furritt, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee last week for the spring campaign shows how non-partisan they are and how they are expected to serve the Democratic party—not the state.

Just how can a party be expected to give the state the service the people demand with a setup like that? The self-appointed reformers and the loud-mouthed advocates of civil service have not a single foot to stand on as far as the benefits that have or would be brought about by civil service. This expense, cut out, would be a nice item to help balance the budget and would be a benefit to the state service.—H. T. Johnson, in The Saranac Advertiser.

WHAT THEY DO UP NORTH

The state legislature this week was due to consider a measure to give state trunk line maintenance back to those counties which want it. During the past few months there has been an effort made to have the state highway department to take over the maintenance work in Gogebic county, leaving only county trunk and township roads under the supervision of the county road commission. To the credit of the Gogebic county road commission, it has kept its hundreds of miles of highway in good repair with its limited funds and has met every emergency of snow removal with prompt dispatch. No state organization operating in this county could have done the job as cheaply and as well. And what is more, Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, is fully aware of the efficiency of the organization and has wisely turned thumbs down to the Democratic politicians of the county, who have virtually demanded that the state take over the work in this county.—Harry Tregise in the Wakefield News.

WOULD USE THE LASH

It is sickening to learn that some of the men on WPA jobs spend their money for liquor. This work is provided for these men at the expense of the taxpayers so that they can earn money to help support their families. It is relief work; yes, to put it bluntly, it is charity, and the man who will take charity money and use it to buy booze does not deserve charity, but does deserve six months, every thirty days. There is altogether too much of this spending of WPA money for booze in this community and, as we said, it is sickening to the taxpayers who have to foot the bill. We presume it is also sickening to the wives and children of those who mis-spend their money.—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

Interesting News of Days Gone By Taken from The Plymouth Mail Files

The free delivery of mail in this village is now practically assured to take effect July 1, if certain requirements exacted by the postal department are complied with, and there is every reason to believe that they will be. The government has recently made a large appropriation for the free mail delivery in villages for experimental purposes, and through the efforts of Congressman Samuel Beakes, Plymouth has been selected as one of the villages in Michigan where the experiment is to be tried out. Post Office Inspector Howe was in the village last Friday and went over the town thoroughly. The requirements that must be met are that the village council must see to it that street signs be placed at every corner throughout the village. The houses must be numbered and some sort of a receptacle into which the carrier may place the mail is to be provided by the patrons. Nearly 80 percent of the houses in the village are already numbered, and there is not a doubt that our citizens will only be too glad to provide some sort of box in which the mail matter can be placed.

The churches of Plymouth had designated Sunday, April 28 to observe the go-to-church Sunday movement in Plymouth. Everybody in town will be given an invitation to attend the church of their choice on that day.

EFFICIENT SEEING

Devoted to Eye Welfare for Everyone

How To Lead A Dull Life

Neglect your eyesight. First you gradually stop reading, for it is too hard to follow the lines—they all seem to run together. After all, isn't one picture worth a thousand words? If any one tells you to wear glasses, just laugh at them—those wrinkles around your eyes and above your nose are a lot more decorative than a smart, rimless mounting; and that squinting you do,—trying to see things may give lots of people the impression that you are pretty sour, but those who know you well will remember your good heart.

You won't be able to see more than 50% of what you look at, but who cares about that? All this talk about scenery, looking at mountains and down valleys, and at the rocks along the rivers and the ocean is just the bunk.

As time goes on, the movies will tire you more and more—the radio is good enough; who wants to see actors? And if you fail to recognize people on the street, maybe it is better that way. You won't be bothered with so many friends.

That job you once worked so hard to get, turned out to be a fake—it was all figures and it was so easy to make mistakes. Anyway, figures give you a headache. What do you care if that red-head got the job after all?

All this talk about eyesight! You see as much as you want to, don't you? The picture magazines are pretty good and you can still read the comics in the paper. How do you know anybody else can see any better than you do?

IN THE SPRING SEE YOUR DOCTOR

(By O. F. BEYER, of Beyer Drugs)

Spring, the most delightful season of the year, brings its own disorders. Vitamins planted by last year's sunshine are fading from the system, heavy winter diet has left certain poisons, there is a heaviness of body and often of spirit which is regularly characterized as "spring fever."

There is no need for suffering with spring fever. The common sense way to combat this drugged, draggy feeling is to consult your doctor.

A change of diet, a good tonic, extra rest and plenty of outdoor exercise will probably constitute his advice. But don't take anybody's word for it. See your doctor.

Follow his advice—have his prescription filled by a qualified and certified druggist.
