

Poultry Building At Northville Fair Burns

Fair Secretary's Office Also Partly Destroyed

Fire, probably started from a cigarette dropped into dry grass Monday afternoon completely destroyed the frame poultry display building at the Northville Wayne County fair grounds. The adjoining office building for the secretary was partly burned, but Northville's fire department saved it from complete ruin.

The loss is estimated at $5,000, covered by insurance. The biggest loss in connection with the fire was the destruction of hundreds of poultry display pens that were stored in the building.

Some one on the grounds discovered the blaze as he walked by the building shortly after 2:00 o'clock. A portion of the frame wall on the east side of the structure was in blaze.

An immediate call was made to the fire department, but because of the fact that there was considerable straw and other similar dry material stored in the building, it was in flames before the department could arrive. The firemen did a good job, however, in saving from complete destruction the office building, which adjoined the poultry building.

Secretary Dayton Bunn said the matter of re-building would be taken up at the next meeting of the fair board, which will be held within the next two or three weeks.

Fire Destroys Suburban Home

Fire destroyed the home and furnishings of the Raymond Bryant family, located at the corner of Plymouth and Inkster roads, Wednesday morning about 9:15 o'clock. Mrs. Bryant was at home with her two grandchildren at the time the fire started. She was said to have been melting paraffin on a range. The paraffin boiled over on the hot plate and ignited, immediately setting fire to the house.

Mr. Bryant was working in Detroit at the time of the fire and his wife and grandchildren were the only persons in the house when the fire occurred. Mrs. Bryant, when she saw that she was unable to extinguish the blaze, took her grandchildren and hurried to the home of Mrs. Thomas McNulty, who, with the aid of Mrs. Edward Martin, notified both the Plymouth and Redford fire departments.

By the time the Plymouth fire department arrived at the scene of the fire, the entire Bryant home was in flames, and nothing could be done to save the dwelling or furnishings.

The Bryant home is at the extreme eastern end of the fire limits for the Plymouth department, about nine miles from the city.

Move House on Mill Street

Mill street traffic was halted Tuesday when the George Vandecar home located on the north-west corner of Plymouth road and Mill street was moved to 115 South Mill street. Albert Sockow has purchased the dwelling.

The house is a medium sized, two-story dwelling, 30 feet high, and 32 feet wide across the center. It is 20 feet wide across the back and 15 feet wide at the front. The moving is being supervised by George White, who has five men working for him.

In preparation for moving the house, it was jacked up from the foundation, fitted with skids and towed down the four-foot road-bankment to the street. From there it was skidded about three blocks to the present location. The moving on the street was done by means of a truck fitted with a winch.

Telephone and electric light wires and cables had to be taken down in the course of moving, rendering some homes on Mill street without electricity or telephone communication service for a few hours Tuesday.

It is understood that no immediate use will be made of the vacant property from which the house has been moved.

Soldier of Fortune

ARTHUR C. READ

South Lyon Man Speaks to Plymouth Club

Kiwians Hear Ex-Soldier in Chinese Army

Arthur Clifford Read, American soldier of fortune in the Sino-Japanese hostilities, whose home is at South Lyon, was present at the Kiwians meeting, Tuesday evening, August 29. Mr. Read is no longer connected with the Chinese army and recently he has been giving lectures throughout the United States concerning the ten years he was in the Orient.

Herman Bakhaus, former schoolmate of Mr. Read, introduced the speaker who gave a talk entitled, "400,000,000 Fight Back."

Prior to Mr. Read's adventure with the Chinese Army he was with the American army on duty in the Philippines and China for eight years as a soldier and reserve officer.

At the end of his enlistment with the American army, Mr. Read was offered a position with the Chinese as brigadier general by a Chinese patriotic organization. He entered upon this phase of duty with the Kwangtung army near Canton. He was never taken into the actual service, although he was given the title of "Service Member" with the Chinese name of Lee Tok to prevent the possible sacrifice of American citizenship. He was put in charge of anti-aircraft guns. His main duty was to get equipment assembled.

At this point in his talk, Mr. Read digressed to tell Plymouth Kiwians about Chinese face. To Chinamen, nothing is quite so important as having face. In America, it is understood as "saving face." An officer in the Chinese army must not ask one of his men a question because he is above the man in rank and, therefore, should know everything. The lower ranked men must not tell officers anything in order to save the officer's face.

Mr. Read told an interesting sidelight concerning one of his early experiences which had to do with Chinese face.

He had assigned four men, former gunners in the Chinese navy to a battery of anti-aircraft guns. During an air raid, they were detailed to man the guns. At hearing no reports from the battery, Mr. Read investigated and found the men in a shell hole, away from their posts.

He, of course, court-martialed the men who said that they were medics and not gunners in the navy.

Playing in a foursome with Minor Sweet, Lee Jewell and Herbert Cushing, Rambo scored the hole, giving him his first hole in one in over 17 years of playing golf.

Predict Record Enrollment for Fall School Term

Officials Plan for Big Student Increase

When Plymouth public schools open Tuesday morning officials predict a record enrollment. Due to the advance enrollment of new students with Principal Claude J. Dykhouse, which has been going on the past week, extensive home building in and about Plymouth and additional employment supplied by local factories, Superintendent George Smith expects an attendance far greater than in preceding years.

Last year the closing enrollment was 1703 students. The attendance at the beginning of last year was 1676, showing an increase of 27 pupils.

Everything is in readiness for the opening day. Teachers are beginning to arrive in the city, books and supplies have been checked, and several improvements which have been carried out through the summer have been made.

The addition to the home economics rooms has been completed. This additional space will make ample room for the increased attendance in that division of the school. The cafeteria has been enlarged, also the practice dining room, laboratory and kitchen.

General redecorating has been going on throughout the summer months. The doors to the auditorium have been moved closer to the stage, allowing more space for bleachers to be erected. It is planned that a set of pull-down stands will be purchased in the very near future to match those already used. At the present knock-down bleachers are used in addition to those that are ready-made.

Another factor in the prediction of the increased attendance is that practically all school districts are recognizing the dilemma in which the state legislature found itself in the matter of tuition.

The primary fund this year is $12.15 per pupil. According to the state constitution this money has to be sent to the district in which the pupil resides. In preceding years the state paid 100 per cent per capita cost to the high school receiving tuition plus approximately $15 per pupil to each district in which the pupil lived. This means that for every pupil attending high school last year the state actually paid 115 percent of the cost of sending the pupil to high school.

The new law, which took effect September 29, provides for the payment of per capita cost less the primary money which was $12.15 per pupil to the high school receiving tuition pupils.

The difference between what the state pays to the receiving school and 100 per cent of running the school is $12.15.

Kimbrough Opens New Store Here

Announcement is made in this issue of The Plymouth Mail by Richard Kimbrough of the opening of his electric motor shop, Saturday, August 26, in the newly constructed Gustin building at 628 South Main street.

Mr. Kimbrough will handle a complete line of General Electric appliances including refrigerators, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, radios, milk and other beverage coolers and smaller items and also commercial and domestic appliances.

Five people will be employed by Mr. Kimbrough at the Electric Motor shop; three for industrial wiring, a salesman for the shop and a bookkeeper.

Mr. Kimbrough and his staff of assistants are acquainted with the different makes of appliances, having taken over the Detroit Edison repair parts when the company discontinued the service.

Being specialists in electric motor building, Mr. Kimbrough has been rewinding motors for Detroit concerns for the past few years. He also specializes in rewinding hermetically sealed motors for refrigerators.

Labor Day to Be Real Holiday in Plymouth

Residents to Enjoy Last Vacation Period of the Season

Oddly enough, or perhaps true to tradition, Plymouth will celebrate Labor Day by closing up shops and stores as tight as can be done and leave for the final vacation period of the summer months at nearby lakes, cities and parks. Some will spend the day at home in Plymouth.

The city hall, banks, stores—everything except drug stores, theatre and eating places—will be closed from Saturday night until Tuesday morning.

There will be no celebration of any kind in or around Plymouth. However, many local residents are planning picnics at Plymouth Riverside and Cass Benton parks.

Labor day and the preceding week-end will be the last days of vacation from school for children who will enroll Tuesday following the holiday. Superintendent George A. Smith reports that school will be in session from the opening day to Thanksgiving time without a let-up of any kind.

Police Chief Smith has urged because of the heavy traffic that will be on roads over the week-end holiday, that exceptional care be taken by automobile drivers. The greatest number of automobile accidents happen during Labor day week-end. Plymouth has been fortunate this year in not having a single fatal automobile accident, and following this coming week-end, it will be a comparatively simple matter for Plymouth to come through the year with a perfect score.

Many Plymouth residents are planning their last northern Michigan trips for the season. Some are expected to go as far as the upper peninsula.

Student Bus Rates Reduced

Coach Company Makes Cut of Ten Per Cent

Bus fares for school children have been reduced by the Dearborn Coach company, it was announced this week. Children coming to school in Plymouth will receive a reduced rate from that which was charged by the line last year.

Tickets which were 10 cents are now reduced to nine, making a 10 percent decrease. Those which formerly cost seven and one-half cents are now seven.

In the past and it is probably true this year, the cheaper tickets are for those children who come from the district between Plymouth and Middle Belt road. Those who come from beyond Middle Belt road will be charged a fare of nine cents this year.

Tickets are purchased at the superintendent's office. They come in strips of ten making the price per strip at 90 cents and 45 cents instead of the former price of $1.00 and 75 cents.

This reduced rate to Plymouth school children is another expression of the fine service the Dearborn Coach company is giving the people of this locality.

Dog Owners Get Warning

Plymouth residents who have failed to obtain licenses for their dogs were warned this week that immediate action is necessary if they wish to escape prosecution.

Police Chief Vaughan Smith said that his department was canvassing the city to determine which dog owners were delinquent on the dog tax. The deadline passed July 1 when the usual $1.00 fee was increased to $1.50.

Owners of unlicensed dogs will receive warnings by mail and, if they fail to act promptly, will be taken into court. A penalty of up to $50 in fines and costs of the prosecution is provided in the city ordinance covering this offense.

The ordinance also provides police with the authority to impound any unlicensed dogs found on the street.

Dr. F. L. Mock and sons, Carl-ton and Harry, and the former's mother, Mrs. C. Mock, of Lexington, North Carolina, visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Essick, on Maple avenue, Thursday and Friday of last week, while enroute to their home from a visit to the New York World's Fair.

Police to Curb Recklessness on Bicycles

Chief Smith Urges Parents to Co-operate in Safety Drive

Police Chief Vaughan Smith this week urged parents to make sure that their children thoroughly understood traffic laws before permitting them to ride bicycles to school.

Smith pointed out that under state laws and local ordinances the bicycle is considered on the same basis as the automobile. All members of the police department have been instructed to enforce all regulations on bicycle riders.

"Parents should understand the serious dangers involved if their children ride bicycles recklessly," the police chief said. "Serious injury or death may result if parents do not co-operate by educating their children on safety."

Police will intensify their campaign to eliminate the dangerous practice of two children riding on one bicycle. This is forbidden by ordinance and must be stopped, Smith warned.

Bicycle riders must obey all traffic signals, such as stop signs and lights. Riders should keep to the right side of the street, use arm signals when making turns for left and right, and use a circular stunts on the street or highway. If a bicycle strikes a person or a parked automobile, the rider must make known his name the same as any motorist.

Chief Smith pointed out another dangerous practice which is prohibited by law. It is the "hitching on" of bicycles to cars and trucks. He suggested that children be instructed to walk across dangerous intersections.

The state law specifically provides that "every bicycle shall be equipped with a lighted white lamp in front, visible at least 300 feet, and a reflex mirror reflector of lamp on the rear exhibiting a red light visible at least 200 feet to the rear of such vehicles."

The police department has copies of the "Rules of the Road" and safety suggestions for bicycle riders which will be given to children upon request at the city hall.

Factory Soon to Be Employing Over 200 Workers

Some months from now when the new plant of the Wall Wire Products Company is in full operation and some 200 Plymouth men are cashing pay checks regularly, Plymouth residents can turn to Vice Presidents Earl L. Russell and Ross Heilman, and thank these two gentlemen for having selected Plymouth as a site for this rapidly growing and substantial industry.

Plymouth offered no bonus, no free site, no free factory—nothing, except one of the best industrial locations for which they paid cash, and one of the most receptive and co-operative communities of any city in Michigan, Ohio or Indiana.

In fact, it was the ideal location of Plymouth, with railway facilities extending to the north, south, east and west, besides paved trunk line thoroughfares leading in every direction, a city possessed of all modern conveniences, that influenced the two officials of the company in selecting this city for the industry.

"We traveled over 1500 miles about the metropolitan district of Detroit, going south into Ohio and Indiana and we found nothing that equaled Plymouth as a place for our industry. We had many tempting offers of assistance from other places, which of course were not accepted. Here in Plymouth we found everything we regarded as essential for our industry. And one of the best things about it all is the fine cooperation we have had, not only from the other industries of

City Seeking Co-operation on Rubbish Rules

Householders Warned to Comply With Regulations

The city will refuse to collect rubbish at homes where garbage is mixed in. City Manager Clarence Elliott warned this week.

"The mixing of garbage with rubbish, in most cases due to carelessness, is causing the city considerable difficulty," Elliott said. "The place where we dispose of the rubbish is near a Wayne county park and garbage draws rats and causes complaints on odors. I think the city is producing a bad name in collection of rubbish, but we will have to refuse to make collections at homes where garbage is found in the rubbish," Manager Elliott explained.

Likewise, papers and cigar stubs cannot be placed in garbage for the garbage is used to feed pigs. Collections will have to be refused if the regulations are disobeyed, it is pointed out.

The garbage and rubbish collection service was inaugurated in 1937. It costs only about 80 cents per capita for the city to provide the service. The only charge made is for special services, such as removing rubbish from basements or garages, at the rate of approximately five cents a bushel.

Regulations provide that all rubbish and garbage must be placed in containers and be left in a convenient place. During the summer months garbage is collected twice a week, but about September 15 it will return to the winter schedule of one collection a week. Rubbish is collected once a week.

"It is imperative that everybody co-operate, if the rubbish and garbage collection service is to be kept down," Elliott said.

To Play Return Game With Detroit Team

Schrader's Meet Stoll's Mixed Team Tonight

Harold E. Stoll's mixed softball team from the Register of Deeds' office in Detroit and Schrader's from Plymouth will play a return game at Starkweather playground tonight (Friday) at 6:00 o'clock.

The Detroit team is composed of five men and five women. When they played the Schrader team a short time ago, Plymouth residents saw an exciting game and something different. The women were fully as adept at the game as were the men.

At the first meeting of the two teams, Schrader's eked out a 3-2 win, but they will have a different pitcher to contend with in Friday's game.

John Trusk, rated by all sports-writers to be the best ever to pitch softball, will work for the Detroit team. It is said that already this season he has pitched several no-hit games. His fast ball is much faster than any pitcher's ever seen in Plymouth, and his slow ball carries much deception. He can break the ball to the right or left and up or down. An unusual feature of his pitching is that aside from his regular delivery he is able to throw the ball with his right hand around the left side of his body.

Schrader's team has been near the top of the standings all season and as they beat the Detroit team before, Friday's game is apt to be one of the best seen in or near Plymouth this season.

Chief of Police Warns All Drivers

All motorists of Plymouth are warned by Police Chief Vaughan R. Smith to lock their cars when not in use. This warning comes as a result of complaints from residents that have had their automobiles "borrowed" without permission and brought back a short time later.

"When cars are without occupants, whether in front of homes, in garages, parked on the streets or in parking lots, the keys should be taken from them," the chief said.

Monday night, August 28, the parked car of Elmer Slater, 163 Fair street, was taken by some person who wanted a joy ride. Luckily, it was returned about an hour later. Last year a series of similar events happened.

In order to stop cars from being taken, Chief Smith requests the cooperation of all car owners in not leaving keys in cars to tempt joy riders.

Enjoy Outing at Silver Lake

Eighteen members of the girls' clubs of Plymouth enjoyed a week-end camping trip at Silver Lake which ended late Tuesday night.

Aside from the regular camping activities—cooking their own food, going on hikes and doing camp work—the girls spent much of their time at the near-by Driver farm. There they enjoyed taking part and helping with farm work. They gathered eggs, fed pigs, went to pasture for cattle, filled silo and, believe it or not, some of them actually learned to milk cows.

At the camp many of them passed swimming tests. Mildred Allen, Iris Hill, Jean Crandall, Dorothy Carley and Irene Engleson all passed their 50-yard test. Dorothy Carley swam 175 yards to win the championship of the camp.

Dorothy Roe and Ruth Hadley were camp supervisors and taught the girls a great deal about campcraft, swimming and diving.

It was a tired group of girls that was brought back to Plymouth Tuesday night, but each one expressed her hope for another such outing. Plans are already being made for next year. It is thought that if the girls can get some local organization to sponsor next year's camp, many more features can be introduced. This year the girls financed their own outing.

The Cardinal club was at the camp from Friday until Saturday night. Then the older girls, the Jays, came and stayed until camp was broken Tuesday. Eight Cardinals and ten Jays attended the camp.

Soliloquy

A small boy's impressions of a bleak, sad world as he prepares for one of life's biggest adventures, the first day of school.

"Shucks, Mother, I look awright. Weren't you there when I was bedded my ears? Besides, goin' to school for the first time ain't like goin' to Sunday school. Anyway, I don't want to look like a sissy. What'd Butch and Skinny say then?"

"Well, gee-by, Mother, an' I promise I won't be late if Flash can walk part way with me. He doesn't want to stay in that hot ol' doghouse all day, and you and Dad don't pay no attention to him."

"C'mon, Flash, you don't have to hurry so much. It's me that gotta stay in school all day, but you don't care. Just remember you won't be havin' a gay ol' time, either. You go walkin' alone and go swimmin' alone, an' see how you like that. Then you won't be in such a hurry."

"Gee, Flash, why do boys have to go to school? There's a lotta things more important than readin' and all that stuff. Anyway, if you'll miss me. Specially when there's no one to throw sticks for you. But you be sure to be here when school's out. Then we kin go for a walk, and I'll bet Ma will be plenty sorry she made me go to school."

In French Indo-China, Cao-daiism, a 12-year-old religion with 3,000,000 adherents, has an odd ritual, says Collier's. In its main temple in the city of Tay-ninh, a priest strikes a bell once every minute throughout the day and night to remind all Cao-daiists that truth must constantly be kept in their minds.

Vote Favors the Plymouth Schools

Miss Florence Horsburgh, member of the British parliament, recently was appointed parliamentary secretary to the minister of health, the first woman to become a minister for eight years.

Vote Favors the Plymouth Schools

High school pupils of Livonia school district No. 4, located in Coventry Gardens, will continue to come to Plymouth high school as the result of an overwhelming vote of confidence given the Plymouth schools by the parents of the school district at a special school meeting held a few days ago.

The vote was whether the district would continue to send pupils to Plymouth or to the Farmington schools. The result was 46 to 3 in favor of the Plymouth schools.

There were some differences pertaining to the question of tuition, but that was cleared up as a result of an exchange of correspondence between school officials.

The decision of the parents by such a large vote is pleasing to the Plymouth school officials, as it indicates the favorable attitude of the parents towards the school work that is being done in this city.

Harold Child, of Toronto, Ont., according to the American magazine, papered one of the rooms of his house with postage stamps placed on panels in designs of birds of brilliant plumage. It took him eight years.

Overcooking jelly will cause it to have a strong acid flavor and is likely to prevent proper congealing.

Fried mush or hominy grits are good to serve with fried or baked chicken if there is plenty of gravy to accompany both.

To prepare hard-cooked egg yolks or cheese for a garnish press them through a small tea strainer placed directly over the food.

Try combining two or more kinds of soup. The resulting mixture may be served in the regular way or used as a sauce for other dishes.

Cooked cauliflower mixed with cooked peas and a cheese sauce makes a tasty luncheon or supper dish. Serve it over toast or crackers. (Associated Newspapers—WNU Service.)

Super Shell League Winners

The Super Shell softball team of the Central playground league won the championship for their league in the play-offs last week. Lester Herter and Bill Darnell formed the winning battery.

In the three-game play-off, Super Shell scored 27 runs to their opponent's four. Herter gave up an average of three hits per game.

Thelma's team won the girls' league championship at Starkweather playground. They had an average of 1,000 for the season, going through undefeated. As a post season attraction, they defeated an all-star team picked from the other three teams in the league. Monday they won 15-3 and Tuesday they took the all-stars, 8-6.

The play-offs at Starkweather are not completed. The results of last week's games are as follows: Monday, Williams Service 8, Studebaker Champions 5; Wednesday, Newburg 6, Stark 5; Thursday, Stark 1, Studebaker Champions 0 (forfeit); Friday, Williams Service 7, Newburg 4.

PICNIC BASKET A PASSPORT TO FUN (See Recipe Below)

Let's Have a Picnic!

When skies are blue and cloudless and the weather's warm, a picnic basket is the passport to fun. It may be a spur-of-the-moment picnic with a simple lunch prepared from supplies on hand in pantry and refrigerator; or it might be a steak fry or barbecue with the food cooked on the picnic grounds; but it's more likely to be an old-fashioned "family style" picnic for a half-dozen to a hundred hungry guests with plenty of good-tasting food of delicious variety.

Whether your picnic is planned for a family, a Sunday school class, or a lodge, you'll find these foods prime favorites with the guests. Recipes are given here in quantities to serve a family; for a larger number the difference is a simple process of multiplication.

Cream Salad Dressing.
1 teaspoon mustard
2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons flour
1 1/2 teaspoons sugar
Dash cayenne pepper
1 teaspoon butter
1 egg yolk
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup heavy cream
Mix all dry ingredients together thoroughly. Add butter, egg yolk and vinegar. Place in double boiler and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Cool, fold in cream (stiffly beaten) and serve with cabbage salad.

Baked Beans (Serves 6)
1 pound navy beans
1/2 pound pork (from the shoulder)
3 cups water
3/4 cup brown sugar
6 tablespoons molasses
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
Soak the navy beans over night in water to cover. In the morning cut the meat into 2-inch pieces and brown well. Add the 3 cups water, and cook slowly for about 1 1/2 hours. Add beans and continue cooking for 2 hours, or until both meat and beans are tender. Add remaining ingredients. Place in a baking dish, and bake in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees) for about 1 1/2 hours. If necessary, add more water to the beans while cooking.

Camp Coffee.
Early in the day measure the coffee into a sugar bag, allowing 1 tablespoon per cup. Place this in the coffee pot with a little cold water and let it stand all day. Then when nearly time to serve, pour boiling water, which has been previously measured, into the pot. Boil 5 minutes, remove the bag, and your coffee is ready to serve. It will not harm it to let it stand for a while. You will find that this unusual way of making coffee will give you a most delightful, full-flavored beverage, and at the same time saves considerable measuring and pot-watching when you want to be enjoying your picnic, too!

Fresh Peach Ice Cream.
1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 egg (lightly beaten)
2 cups milk (scalded)
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 cups coffee cream
2 1/2 cups crushed peaches
1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
Mix sugar, flour and salt thoroughly. Add the beaten egg and blend. Add the scalded milk and cook as a custard in a double boiler until the mixture will coat the spoon. Add vanilla extract and cool.

Add cream and the crushed peaches, which have been mixed with confectioners' sugar. Pour into container of ice cream freezer and freeze, using 3 parts ice to 1 part salt.

Frankfurters de Luxe.
12 frankfurters
American cheese (cut in strips 1/2 by 4 inches)
12 strips bacon
With a sharp knife make a slit along one side of each frankfurter. In each slit place a strip of cheese. Press together and wrap a strip of bacon around each frankfurter. Fasten with toothpicks. Roast on a charcoal grill, turning occasionally, to cook the bacon evenly. Or place on a toasting fork (or stick), and roast over an open fire for about 5 minutes.

Cabbage Salad. (Serves 6)
2 cups cabbage (shredded fine)
1 stalk celery (cut fine)
3 apples (unpeeled, diced)
2 to 3 green onions (sliced)
1/2 teaspoon salt
Mix all ingredients in order given. Add cream salad dressing and garnish with paprika.

Cup Cakes. (Makes 18 small cakes)
1/2 cup water
1 1/4 cups sugar
2 eggs (separated)
2 cups cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup cold water
1 teaspoon vanilla
Cream the butter, and gradually add about half of the sugar. Beat the egg yolks until very light, add remaining sugar, and beat well. Combine with the first mixture. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt, and add to the batter alternately with the water. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry, and fold into the batter. Add vanilla. Bake in well-greased muffin pans in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) for about 25 minutes. Cool and frost with boiled icing sprinkled generously with cocoanut.

Boil a little vinegar in the skillet after having fried fish. It will make cleaning easier.
Put a piece of wax paper under the trays in the refrigerator and they will come out easier.
Green bananas will ripen quickly if they are placed in a paper bag and stored in a dark place.
In making fancy sandwiches cut a piece out of top slices of bread with tumbler in opening insert slices of olive.
After using the hot-water bottle let it drain, blow it full of air and put in the stopper. This will prevent it from sticking.

Executives of New Industry

the city, but from its public officials and all of the other residents of Plymouth," stated Mr. Russell yesterday.

Mr. Heilman confirmed the enthusiastic praise given by his associate pertaining to Plymouth.

He added that it was a real pleasure to find that it was possible for the company to secure experienced workmen here to do all of the technical installation of equipment necessary.

"In fact, we have also been able to buy in Plymouth practically everything we have needed," said Mr. Heilman.

The installation of the complicated, vast electrical equipment by Stanley Corbett and R. L. Kimbrough, which provides the plant with more power demand than used by the entire city of Plymouth, is just one of the samples of the type of technical service that Plymouth has been able to offer.

Mr. Russell, who is vice president and sales manager of the Wall Wire plant, has been a resident of Detroit for about 30 years. For a number of years he was material supervisor for the Packard Motor Car company and later served in the same capacity for the Timkin Detroit Axle company. Since 1917 he has been with the L. A. Young company in Detroit and was sales manager of that company until recently when he left to come to Plymouth.

At present the Russells reside in Detroit. They have a daughter, Mrs. Harry Dingman, Jr., and a son, Earl L. Jr., who enters the University of Alabama this fall.

Mr. Heilman is vice president and plant manager for the company and has been active with the L. A. Young company in Detroit since 1916. Mr. Heilman started work with the Young company in the office and later was transferred to the tool room where he was in charge of experimental work. From there he spent a number of years in the engineering department and was manager of the L. A. Young plant three divisions. For the last two years he has been assistant general manager of the L. A. Young corporation and was in that capacity when he came to Plymouth.

He also resides with his family in Detroit and both he and Mr. Russell expect to take up permanent residence with their families in Plymouth during the next year.

Installation of approximately $135,000 worth of equipment has been made at the plant and this amount represents a little less than one-half of the total to be installed. Operations will be under way within the next few days and machinery installations will probably not be completed until the latter part of October.

Modern dictionaries all indicate that the preferred name for "a formula or list of ingredients of a mixture, giving the exact proportions together with proper directions for compounding," is a recipe. But it cannot be forgotten that the same definition, since the Fifteenth century or longer, has also fitted the word "receipt." In other words, either word may correctly be employed in this sense; but the present tendency is to restrict this meaning, either in medicine or cooking, to the word recipe.

Cabbages were originally wild plants found on the coast of Britain.

The two positive phases of religion are the inward experience and the outward manifestation. The inward experience is the change of heart or new birth which Christ taught and is what determines our relationship with God. The outward manifestation is the Christian's life. Wedding Vows for Marion Butlin and Bert Wilbur Bacon

The Martha-Mary chapel at Greenfield Village, Dearborn, was the scene Saturday afternoon, August 28, of the lovely and impressive wedding of Grace Marion Butlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Butlin, of Rosedale Gardens, and Bert Wilbur Bacon, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bacon, of Detroit, 130 relatives and friends witnessing the ceremony.

The altar was beautifully decorated with three long baskets filled with white gladioli and white chrysanthemums, one on either side of the altar and the third one in the center, with tall lighted tapers in candleabras, in the background. Gandelabras were also placed in the windows.

Gowned in white taffeta the bride advanced to the altar on the arm of her father where Rev. Charles B. Allen, pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist church, in Detroit, read the service. The bride's gown was made in princess style with a square neckline, dainty trim of seed pearls on bodice, long sleeves, the top being a full puff to elbow and fitting to the hands from elbow. It had a full skirt with long train and had tiny buttons to waistline in back. Her double finger ring veil fell from a coronet trimmed with rings of satin. Her shower bouquet was of white gladioli and baby mums tied with tulle and silk ribbon streamers, the latter having baby mums at intervals on each.

Eleanor Jane Conn, of Detroit, gowned in a cornflower blue brocaded taffeta, was maid of honor. The gown was made with fitted bodice, long full skirt with bustle and a jacket in the same material. She wore a horse hair garden hat and shoes in contrasting shade. She carried a colonial bouquet of roses and delphinium, in light blue, shading to color of dress which was tied with tulle streamers to match.

The bridesmaid was Audrey Butlin, of Lapeer, a cousin of the bride, and the junior bridesmaid was Marilyn Estelle Stewart, of Sandusky, Michigan. Both were gowned in old rose brocaded taffeta, made similarly to that of the maid of honor. They carried mixed colonial bouquets. Hats and other accessories were in matching colors.

Joseph Schaumburger, of Detroit, attended the bridegroom as best man and the ushers were Edward and Conley Bacon, brothers of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Butlin, was lovely in a floor length gown of fuchsia satin made with puffed sleeves. Her accessories were a wide leghorn hat with flower trim and slippers to match the dress. Her shoulder corsage was of ruben lilies. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Bacon, was becomingly gowned in an afternoon dress of green flat crepe with matching hat. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

Preceding the service Margaret Voorhees, of Dearborn, sang, "I Love You Truly" and later, from the balcony, Harold Coch, of the Greenfield Village music staff, sang, "Because."

A reception was held in the home of the bride on Cranston avenue, in Rosedale Gardens, following the ceremony. Garden flowers in bright colors were used in decorating the living room while in the dining room a four-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom, was placed in the center of the table and was flanked by bouquets of white flox, gypsophila and white cosmos, in china rooster holders. Bouquets of white snapdragons and baby pink roses decorated the buffet.

Mr. and Mrs. Bacon left on a week wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the bride wearing a navy blue and white flowered sheer with navy blue coat, hat and accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias. They will reside on Webb avenue, Detroit.

Out-of-town guests to the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Falls, Grand Haven, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pickett, of Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stewart and family, of Sandusky; Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Butlin, of Lapeer; Mr. and Mrs. I. Murphy, Miss Mary Bacon, of Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goodall, of Kalamazoo; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Voorhees, Mrs. Charles Grainger, of Dearborn; and Mr. and Mrs. Sachville Jarvis, of St. Clair.

Popular Young Couple Speak Marriage Vows

Ione Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Perkins, of Commerce Lake, was united in marriage Wednesday evening, at 7:00 o'clock, to Russell Earl Micol, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Micol, of Plymouth, at a wedding ceremony performed by Rev. John B. Forsyth, of Rosedale Gardens, in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a plum color crepe made with a high neckline, elbow length sleeves and flare skirt. She wore a hat and accessories in matching shade.

Leona Eckles, of Dearborn, a niece of the bride, was her only attendant. Miss Eckles wore a crepe dress with jacket in a fall green shade. She also wore accessories to match. Both wore shoulder corsages.

The bridegroom was attended

The young couple will reside in Detroit following a short motor trip.

Maryjane Hamilton and Kenneth Greer Wed-Last Friday

At a quiet home ceremony Maryjane Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coello Hamilton, was united in marriage, Friday evening, to J. Kenneth Greer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Greer, of this city. Rev. Walter Nichol of the First Presbyterian church was the officiating clergyman, the ceremony being performed in the presence of the immediate families and a few friends, the latter being unaware that they were to attend a wedding.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in grape wine crepe having a shoulder length veil which was attached to a tiara of ostrich feathers. Her corsage was white baby mums.

Elaine Hamilton, her only attendant, was attractively gowned in a light weight wool fall model in blue.

The bridegroom was attended by Gerald Greer, a brother.

Mrs. Hamilton, mother of the bride, wore a gown of blue lace and Mrs. Greer, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in fuchsia crepe.

The wedding party took their places before the fireplace in the living room, which was decorated with early fall flowers, to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Murray O'Neil, brother-in-law of the bride. He also played, "I Love You Truly" and "In My Garden."

A luncheon was served after the ceremony with Clarice Hamilton and Mrs. O'Neil presiding at the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Greer left immediately on a motor trip through the Gaspé peninsula. Out-of-town guests to the wedding were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. E. E. Russell, of Jackson and Mrs. Jennie Field, of Poplar Bluff, Missouri. Both remained for the week-end.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Greer are graduates of Plymouth high school. Mrs. Greer afterward attended Bowling Green State college in Ohio and the University of Michigan. Mr. Greer is a graduate of the University of Michigan. They are well known in and around Plymouth and have the best wishes of their many friends. They will reside in Plymouth.

For the purpose of comparison, the following table shows the total appropriations of previous recent Congresses:

74th Congress, 2nd Session	10,129,710,521.78

76th Congress, 1st Session	14,061,598,619.69

Increase over previous high $ 990,697,570.81
At the present time there is a prospect of gross revenues from all sources to be used toward these expenditures of about $7,000,000,000, including postal revenues, leaving a net deficit in sight of at least $5,000,000,000.
At the end of the fiscal year 1939, the Federal direct debt increased $3,264,792,095; and liabilities of government corporations increased $4,500,000,000. We are now permitting the R.F.C. and other subsidiary corporations to borrow money directly with a government guarantee. If debts of these corporations increase at the same ratio as during the past fiscal year, the total increase in debt in the current 1940 fiscal year will approach ten billion dollars.
At this time the public debt is $40,681,294,833 and that of Government corporations is in excess of 13 billion dollars; a total of more than 53, almost 54, billion dollars. It is estimated that assets of Government corporations will reduce this gross total to a net public debt of about 45 billion dollars.

The following table gives a year-to-year history of the increase in the number of employees in the Federal government from 1930 to 1939, both years inclusive:

1930	560,456
1931	571,368
1932	570,000
1933	577,170
1934	580,181
1935	751,269
1936	871,236
1937	855,210
1938	925,260
1939	925,260

In 1939 the number of employees in the Federal government increased 70,050; if the same ratio of increase prevails in the current year, there will be approximately one million employees on the Federal payroll by the end of the 1940 fiscal year. The Federal list of employees has been increased 355,000 since March 4, 1933, an increase of over 60 per cent.

According to figures compiled by Millard W. Rice, legislative representative for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, 199,364 Michigan residents saw service in the World War and it is estimated that 156,128 veterans now reside in the state. According to the same source, 11,763 of these Michigan veterans are now receiving compensation, pensions, or retirement pay. In the United States a total of 4,697,994 were called to the service; 4,026,480 are now living; and 385,656 are now receiving compensation, pensions, or retirement pay.

Michigan Winners Visit Ford Exposition

Michigan's winners in the Ford Motor Company's nationwide sales contest for May are shown here, with other officials, beginning a three-day visit to the New York World's Fair. The trip was their prize. Front row, left to right: Theodor Lawrence, E. G. Wiseman Auto Co., Ypsilanti; J. R. (Gufty) Johnson, Kingsford Motor Co., Iron Mountain; Jerry Pickard, Ford Motor Company representative of Dearborn; H. K. Turner, Ford Motor Company representative of Dearborn; James Melton, famed singer of the Ford Summer Hour broadcast; C. Richmond, Ford Motor Company representative of Dearborn. Back row, same order: Alfred Gross, salesman for R. S. Kingbury, Dexter; R. G. Haigh, Bryant Motor Sales, Detroit; Carl Miller, Fred Miank Motor Sales, Romulus; and Werner Edwards, of the Negaunee Motor Company, Negaunee. Together with the company's crack salesmen from every section of the country, they gathered for luncheon at the Ford Exposition. They heard Sales Manager J. R. Davis predict "a new cycle" in the development of the pioneer American motor company. Davis said 1940 will be the beginning of "the greatest ten years in the history of the Ford Motor Company."

800 Attend Community Sing

It is estimated that 800 Plymouth residents participated in the second annual Americana community sing which was held in Kellogg park, Thursday, August 24.

The fact that the microphone and projector worked none too well at the start of the program detracted from its perfection but the audience was not too critical and entered into the spirit of the occasion.

The young soloists were unusually good and many new voices were heard. Also, the chorus composed of young Plymouth people sang their numbers with enthusiasm and gave a very creditable performance.

A German band under the direction of C. E. Brown played in true German form. Their spot on the program was considered by all as one of the high-points.

Bettering last year's performance, Plymouth residents are already looking forward to the Americana sing next year. These programs provide an unusual opportunity for the city's young talent to come out. It is doubtful if any other city the size of Plymouth helps its young people to put on such a program.

Ruth Hadley, director of the community sing, wishes to thank Dorothy Roe, the accompanist, the children and audience who took part, and the organizations who furnished supplies and chairs for this year's sing.

Here's a Corn Story for Some One to Beat

"Never saw such corn in my life," declared Fred D. Schrader yesterday noon when he drove into town from his farm just over the line in Washtenaw county.

"I've been cutting some for the stock. In fact, I'm afraid if it keeps on growing, I'll have to use a cross-cut saw to get some of it down. At any rate a half dozen hills that I had cut and placed on the stone-boat so weighed it down that my car became stuck in the mud trying to pull it," he declared.

"It was necessary to get the team out to pull the stone-boat over to the field where the stock was grazing. Such corn, I never have seen before," said Mr. Schrader.

Ann Arbor Trail Project Planned

Development of Ann Arbor Trail from the Mayflower hotel west to the new Forrest avenue will be discussed at the city commission next week.

The regular meeting will be held on Tuesday night, instead of Monday, because of Labor day. The city hall will be closed all day Monday.

It is proposed to realign the sidewalk, change the grades and build approaches to Forrest avenue. The new street was provided for after the covering of Tonquish creek. Forrest avenue runs from Wing street to Ann Arbor Trail.

50 Residents Attend Meeting of Planning Group

Commissioners Get Public Opinion Concerning Zoning

Over 50 residents of the vicinity of South Main street and of Maple street near Deer attended a special hearing of the planning commission Monday night, August 28.

The meeting was called for the purpose of obtaining the public's opinion concerning a proposed extension of the business district into their residential area.

Maple street residents voiced their approval of leaving the business area as it now is planned.

The consensus of opinion among the majority of those who live on South Main street was that they wanted their homes left under residential classification and that they wanted no change in the zoning map concerning their residential district from the way it was formerly submitted to the city commission. A few of them wanted their homes placed in the business area, however.

Commissioners were gratified to see so many residents turn out for the special meeting. Those who came seemed to grasp the meaning of zoning and there were no questions that were left unanswered when the meeting adjourned as all were interested and talked freely concerning the matter.

Peach Canning Season Is Here

Now that Uncle Sam has looked over his orchards and has concluded that the 1939 peach crop is going to be about 10 million bushels heavier than last year's, Plymouth housewives have decided that the coming few weeks are not going to pass without accounting for some canned peaches, peach preserves and peach butter on the cellar shelves.

The nation's entire peach harvest is 61,164,000 bushels. After the southern crop is sold, Michigan comes on with what is probably the largest crop of peaches in its history, 2,730,000 bushels of choice tree-ripened fruit, the last of the 1939 crop.

Much of this supply outside the crop grown in and around Plymouth will be handled at the city owned and city operated market at Benton Harbor, where in 1937 more than a million bushels of peaches were sold to buyers from 26 states. After the southern peaches are sold much of the Plymouth supply comes from there.

Probably the favorite for canning is the Elberta peach, which is the standard wherever peaches are grown for home canning. The South Haven and the Fallhaven are also popular varieties of more recent origin. The largest peach of all—one that is preferred by people who are familiar with it—is the J. H. Hale peach.

The era of "yellow journalism" has passed, largely because the unvarnished truth these days is lurid enough.

Band Committee Makes Report

The committee appointed last winter and charged with securing uniforms for the Plymouth high school band takes this opportunity to report on the successful completion of their task and to sincerely thank the service clubs and organizations and the many citizens who contributed and helped the committee on their endeavor.

The band secured its uniforms in early spring and since then the citizens have had the opportunity to see and hear the band in public concerts in the park, at the civic picnic and at the fair.

The committee members believe that Plymouth citizens will agree with them that the boys and girls of the high school band under the competent direction of Lewis Evans, are a credit to Plymouth and the band members, themselves, feel that because of Plymouth's interest and sympathy in their musical efforts they are inspired and encouraged to greater heights of musical attainment.

As will be noted the band members, themselves, pledged the sum of $312.50 toward their uniforms and it is believed this interest on their part and on the part of their fathers and mothers is indicative of their public spirited character.

before the trial began, all were served tea, an example of Chinese hospitality.

It came out that the men were in truth, gunners, but had told Read that they were mechanics in order to save his face. They desired that he had not given them specific instructions concerning the operation of the guns.

All this is perfectly within Chinese army regulations because nothing is so important as saving one's face.

Mr. Read said that Chinese executions are carried out for disciplinary measures and accepted methods of putting one to death are used. First the condemned is shot by a firing squad, and then to make sure of death, an officer shoots each one again through the head.

The speaker concluded by explaining very clearly the Chinese-Japanese situation. "Japan can never conquer China," Mr. Read said.

Both countries have enough natural resources or are able to obtain them to carry on war for at least another 10 or 20 years. China has been aided by Russian men and arms. "Regardless if Russia signs a pact with Germany or not, the war can continue for at least 10 years, provided Russia continues to send men and arms into China," Mr. Read declared.

There have been definite advantages that have come from the Sino-Japanese hostilities. Because of dominance by Chinese war lords, Chinamen have been given certain advantages that they never will give up. "The Chinese will benefit in the end," he said.

With his exceptionally colorful background of 10 years in the Orient, Arthur Read was in a position to review the problems of China in a comprehensive and logical manner. He spoke of the good and bad with equal impartiality. He was well qualified to bring Plymouth Kiwanians the vivid inside facts of a China which refuses to be conquered.

IS DAY-DREAMING A BAD HABIT?

DAY-DREAMING may not be a bad habit, but it is certainly a wasteful habit. Its dangers lie in the fact that you are taking yourself more and more out of real life into an imaginative life. This is all right, if you set about it to bring some of the imaginative life into your real life, but if you do not do anything about it, then it is a bad and even dangerous habit. You will soon find yourself going off into a trance, picturing all sorts of impossible things. Better spend that time in active, constructive work which will result in improving your actual life and be helpful to those around you.

Snow Turns Michigan State Fair Into Real State Farm Exhibition

This Year's Fair Promises to Be the State's Best

The 1939 Michigan State Fair which opens today (Friday) will firmly establish in the minds of everyone that this fair is primarily an agricultural fair. Entries are of record proportions. Applications for stalls for horses and cattle have run far ahead of all previous years. The same is true regarding pens for swine, sheep and poultry.

It is evident that the promises made by Dr. Linwood W. Snow, of Northville, general manager, that this year's fair would be a real agricultural fair has had its effect, not only outstate but throughout the nation. A report handed to Dr. Snow early this week by Harry Kelley, director of live stock, showed that in every department, the entries far exceeded those of last year.

A comparison of the 1938 and the 1939 entries shows the following increase:

Horses	1938	1939
Beef Cattle	188	245
Dairy Cattle	320	468
Sheep	500	740
Swine	1,200	1,436
single birds	595	625
single birds	1,243	1,655

The entry coming the greatest distance is that of the Russell Farms at Lake Charles, Louisiana, which is sending 11 head of shorthorn beef cattle. Mrs. Victoria Dreyfus of Brewster, New York is bringing 11 head of Percheron horses of her own and one belonging to Elizabeth

DR. LINWOOD W. SNOW

Douglas of Tilly Foster, New York.

This indicates that from the Atlantic to the Gulf at least the Michigan State Fair has been established in the minds of the breeders as an outstanding live stock fair of the nation.

In the other departments, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture and women's arts the same story is apparent. Record entries have been made in the women's department alone. Needle-work and cooking, baking as well as dress designing are all drawing their full share of entries. The women's speed crocheting contest, which was inaugurated at the fair last year, has been adopted nationally so that those who will compete this year will be sharing in national prizes.

However, none of the other features of the fair that have found favor in the past will not be curtailed.

There will be farm machinery exhibits, harness racing, a rodeo, and a grand array of famous stars of the radio and screen present daily.

The Coliseum will be turned over to the judging of the live stock on next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Wednesday will be the day when the annual auction of the prize winning stock will be held.

Vocational Service Rotary Subject

Rotarians held an interesting meeting last Friday under the direction of their Vocational Service committee. The committee headed by Harold Anderson and made up of rotarians, Harry Lush, David Galin, and Ralph Smith gave club members an opportunity to question them about the operation of their business in order that they might become better acquainted and know more about the problems of other club members.

Plan Barn Party for Rotarians

The frost will be "on the pumpkin" pretty soon—you may rest assured of that when news comes out that Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ayers of East Ann Arbor Trail have issued customary annual invitations to members of the Plymouth Rotary club, wives and friends for the "barn dinner and party" they give every year to the club of which Mr. Ayers is such an enthusiastic member.

The event this fall is scheduled for Friday evening, September 8.

President Floyd Eckles of the club has appointed Harold Curtis, chairman; Harry Robinson, John MacLachlan and Mr. Ayers as members of the committee on arrangements.

During past years this affair has been one of the outstanding of the season in Rotary club events. The committee has not announced what its program will be for next Friday evening. If it should rain, all of the program will take place within the big barn on the Ayers fruit farm, it has been announced.

Men at Work: America's Symbol

Workmen throughout the community, state and nation lay down their tools Monday as America pays tribute to the motive force which built it—Labor.

LOW PRICED HOMES NEAR HERE IN DEMAND

One of the most attractive moderately priced communities in the Plymouth area is Park Gardens, on Fenkell avenue, a half mile west of Haggerty highway, near Phoenix park.

Park Gardens, a beautiful community, offers attractive opportunities to families wishing to own their own home.

Among the homes featured is a model cottage, now open for inspection, that is offered for $350.

"We will make arrangements to build a four-room cottage on one of our half-acre farms with rich garden loam and electricity, for only $19.50 monthly for 30 months," reports Walter Benson.

Building Loans on Increase

James Haskins, director of the savings and loan department of the secretary of state's office, was in Plymouth Monday on a brief business trip in connection with his work for the state.

Mr. Haskins declared that during the first four months of 1939 Savings and Loan Associations of the United States made loans of $270,878,000. Of this amount $77,107.00 was for new construction of homes, $90,000,000 for home purchases and substantially one hundred million dollars was used for repairs and modernization of homes, refinancing and for other purposes. Of the total number of mortgages recorded in the United States for the same period, Savings and Loan Associations made 32.77 per cent of the loans, banks and trust companies 21.62 per cent, insurance companies 5.04 per cent and individuals and other mortgagees 37.9 per cent. The same ratio of increase holds good for Michigan, he declared.

No Mercy for Old Plate Drivers

"Anyone caught after Friday (today) driving a car with old half-year license plates will be arrested," warned Police Chief Vaughan R. Smith yesterday.

It was estimated on August 25 that 325,000 motor vehicles in Michigan were still operating under half-year license plates. Chief Smith suggested that owners of automobiles that are still operating under half-year license plates, visit the Plymouth branch of the Department of State at the Chamber of Commerce and obtain the full year plates and get them on their cars at once. The full-year plates are good until March 1, 1940.

Although the sale of half-year license plates was somewhat above last year's sale in Plymouth for the few days preceding the deadline, it was expected that all automobiles carrying half-year plates in Plymouth would not be licensed to drive after September 1, the deadline date.

"Every automobile must have a full-year license plate on it," Smith said, and he added that there would be no exceptions to the rule set forth by law.

Plymouth Youth Tells of Gold Rush Adventures in Letters of 1849

Now Published for First Time in The Mail

From out of his interesting collection of data pertaining to the early days of Plymouth, Earl H. Starkweather a few days ago sent to The Plymouth Mail for publication two letters written by James D. Lyon, son of a Plymouth pioneer family, while on his way overland to California during the gold rush in 1849.

The Lyon family was among the early settlers of western Wayne county. Just who his parents were, records possessed by Mr. Starkweather do not show, but he was a nephew of Silas J. Young, who owned a farm near the corner of the Lotz and Ford roads in Canton township.

The two letters were addressed to his uncle, and are filled with interesting gossip about his trip westward.

The first letter, which follows, was written from Lexington, Missouri, on May 6, 1849:

"Lexington, Missouri, May 6, 1849

"Respected Uncle,

"Thinking that you might wish to know what had become of me on my 'wild goose chase,' I will tell you something in regard to our affairs, circumstances, etc. In the first place I am happy to say that health—earth's greatest blessing—has been our bosom companion and, as far as I am concerned, it has been dispensed more profusely than at any previous time for the last three years. This notwithstanding that my fare has been such as you would think I could not endure.

"I have traveled day after day in rain (for by the by, it rained all the way through Illinois) and slept in the wagon with my wet clothes on invariably. The fact is I know nothing of and care nothing for, civilized life any more. I have slept in a horse but once, and eaten not more than six meals inside of walls, since I left Plymouth. I rather guess that Aunt Mary would laugh some to drop in upon us sometime when we are preparing and eating our meals to see the style in which it is cooked, and see us all seated in a circle at the Creator's broad table, around our meat dish and tea pot (on account of bad water we have tea at almost every meal), each with his tin cup and plate.

"Our fare is sumptuous which conduces much to our good health and fine spirits. We have for breakfast, bacon, bread and tea, and for dinner, for the sake of a change, we have bread, bacon and tea, and then, to make a variety as great as possible, we have for supper tea, bacon and bread. You may think this rather hard fare, but I assure you that we enjoy it. In some respects we have had rather bad luck, but with us it is all the same as long as life and health remains. You have probably heard of our troubles (the most of which brought some pleasure) until we left St. Louis, as I have written several times to Plymouth.

"There is one small affair which happened on the Salinas (the boat on which we shipped from St. Louis) of which I must tell you. We started on Monday evening, April 18th and went at full speed until the next morning, when smash went the starboard wheel shaft. This was soon disconnected from the other and on we trudged with one wheel—but we went like a hen with one leg, all on one side. For the next forty-eight hours we moved at a full snail gallop, but in spite of her speed she was passed by several boats loaded with Californians who would swing their hats and wave their handkerchiefs as much as to say, 'Come

Assumes New Post

A navy man will take charge of America's new Caribbean Gibraltar today (Friday) when Admiral William D. Leahy, former chief of U. S. Naval operations, officially assumes his new post as governor of Puerto Rico succeeding the retiring Blanton Winship.

He would sink into nonentity when compared with ours in regard to true friendly feeling and social intercourse. The fact is that Californians are brothers and sisters at their first meeting.

"After our social party had broke up, we had a fine ride with the ladies on horseback through the woods and along the banks of the river. To me this was quite romantic and very interesting as I rode in company with a charming young lady from New Orleans with whom I had become considerably acquainted. She was a Californian in company with her father, mother and brother.

Never was there a more happy band than the about sixty of us who were on the banks of the Gasconade.

"Saturday we started across the country with our teams for Lexington, leaving a part of our little number (11 in all) to ship our provisions at the first opportunity. We were eight days in crossing, in which time we had some rather hard fare, as well as much rare sport. The people through this section of the country are the least tinctured with civilization of any that I ever saw, and the most ignorant.

"As a specimen of what some of them are I will tell you of a short chat which we had with a lady, the wife of a Missouri planter. She asked us where we were from and I answered 'Michigan!' 'Michigan,' she exclaimed, 'Oh! I know now. That's in Ohio. I reckon I seed some from that afore coming past here.' Then turning to her daughter she says 'Is that right Fanny?' Fanny now started up and after putting on many haughty and aristocratic airs replied 'Yes, maw, don't you mind it. I calculate that's the place whar Lewis Cass is Capital, ain't it?' 'O surely,' says the mother, 'I mind it mighty well now.'

"In regard to cholera and other diseases which are prevalent here I had thought that I would not speak but lest (by hearing false reports) you should imagine it much worse than it is I will give you a true statement of it, or as near as I can. At St. Joseph there has been several deaths from smallpox. At Independence they may average three or four each day from smallpox and cholera together. Here there are two or three cases of cholera each day but mostly among the slaves. But if a person takes care of himself he is in no danger of taking the disease.

"We shall leave here for the far west by way of Independence as soon as we can break our steers which we have bought. Oxen are worth $40 a pair, good horses $80, corn 25 cents, and such wagons as ours $125. All are going with oxen or mules—mostly with oxen. We shall very likely be five months in crossing the country but this does not in the least dishearten us. I shall not turn back until I see California and participate in its riches and pleasures or poverty and miseries.

"I stand upon you, this fragile bark, and buoyant with hopes, wild waves, and upon this I shall sail until I am either wrecked, or laden with desires satisfied. The idea of returning without accomplishing that which I set out for is horrifying. Tell the folks that I shall write to them from Independence. And now, dear Uncle, accept the respect and thanks of your friend, for I must bid you a long and affectionate farewell. Remember and write to me about the first of July, addressing me at San Francisco.

"JAMES"

"P.S. Uncle excuse all imperfections for I am destitute of conveniences."

"You may think I have forgotten Edwin but no I supposed him in New York. I commenced writing to him once, but tell him when he returns to surely write to me and I will answer to the best of my ability."

"JAMES"

City Officials to Attend Conference

It is probable that Mayor L. E. Wilson, several members of the city commission and City Manager Clarence Elliott will attend some of the sessions of the Michigan Municipal League to be held in Kalamazoo September 13, 14 and 15 when welfare, WPA, liquor control, parking meters, home rule government and taxation will be among the subjects discussed.

Invitations to attend the conference have been sent to all city and village councils in the state. Between 300 and 400 officials are expected to register for the three-day meeting.

Principal convention speaker will be Walter J. Millard, field secretary of the National Municipal League, who will address the annual league banquet on Thursday evening, September 14. Wednesday's dinner speaker will be Earl Mallory, executive director of the American Municipal Association, national federation of 42 state leagues of municipalities.

Another meeting expected to attract great interest will be that held on Friday morning, when Walter Gries, chairman of the state social welfare commission, will explain administration of relief under the 1939 welfare legislation.

A luncheon on September 13 will open the program, and will be followed by a general session devoted to topics of state-wide concern. Thursday, September 14, will be taken up with round table meetings for ten groups of officials: mayors and councilmen, clerks, finance officers, engineers and public works officials, attorneys, electric utilities superintendents, civil service commissioners, assessors, village officials, and city managers. These meetings have proved of special benefit to delegates at past conferences and have assumed increasing importance on convention programs.

Many special features are being arranged for visiting delegates by Kalamazoo city officials. Tours to city parks, the civic center and recent utility plant additions are planned, as well as a program for wives of visiting officials.

15 of 25 First Families at Tercentenary

When 25 Puritan families crossed the sea from England in 1639, they founded the town of Guilford and agreed not to desert each other in the new land. This month, 300 years later, direct descendants of all but 10 families still live in Guilford, Madison, Conn., nearby, also celebrates its tercentenary this year. Attracting 15,000 visitors and directed by Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin, inset, the celebration will get under way Saturday to continue for three days.

An Open Letter

Life came on the wings of death, so to speak, at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Starnitz Monday morning, on Ann Arbor road. Life, when their little daughter Joan's rabbits were being born, and death at the same time in the form of a large black shiny car that struck and killed the child's dog in front of her eyes and her home.

It was a tragic affair to be witnessed by a child waiting on her pony for the dog to come to her. If you had stopped, sir, you would have seen my girl sobbing her heart out and calling and shaking her dog, trying to awaken it once more. Had you witnessed that heart rending scene, you might have found your heart—and stopped to comfort her. We lost something that we all loved. I wonder if you know how that feels? My child, too, is ill from fretting.

I don't know who you are, or whether you live in Plymouth, Ann Arbor, or Detroit, but I sincerely hope you see and read this letter, and learn to stop when you hit an animal so you won't break another child's heart.

War Scare Forces Change in Landing

Apparently the threat of war in Europe forced a change in the plans of Miss Helen Roe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Roe, to land in Seattle from a trip she is just completing from Japan. A cablegram was received Monday by Mr. Roe from his daughter sent from Honolulu, in which she advised him that because of reasons she could not give in the message, she was landing at San Francisco instead of Seattle, as she had originally planned to do. Miss Roe, who is a teacher in the Detroit schools, has been spending the summer in Japan. She has made many trips to the Orient.

Inventions Help Eye Work

Inventive genius has been applied to the profession of optometry, with the result that equipment is now available for producing 11,000,000 combinations of lenses, and for detecting any refractory ailment of the eye. Dr. John A. Ross, Plymouth optometrist, said last week.

While mechanics of the profession have been progressing, the professional standards of its practitioners have been advancing, Dr. Ross said. The student of optometry must take a four-year course of study. Numerous text-books and journals are available for further study.

Restyling and improvement of eyeglasses also is going on, Dr. Ross added, with the result that modern spectacles no longer give one a too-scholastic or severe appearance, but in fact enhance appearance.

"This is particularly true of women," Dr. Ross reported. "The women who suffer eyestrain develop crows' feet about the eyes and a generally strained expression. Correctly ground and fitted eyeglasses remove the strain, relax her countenance and benefit her appearance. Eyeglasses can be fitted which are not conspicuous and the most sensitive woman can be assured that they will add to her dignity and composure.

One of the most ingenious pieces of equipment now used by optometrists, Dr. Ross explained, is the refractor. This is the device which makes possible a maximum of 11,000,000 lens combinations. It replaces the old trial-case, a collection of trial lenses in a case.

Another useful device is the ophthalmometer, employed for examining the eyeball to determine the degree of astigmatism, or irregular curvature. The ophthalmometer also is used to examine the cornea of the eye for scars and other conditions interfering with vision.

Still another device is the pro-jecto chart, a projector which throws various chares for the examination of vision upon a screen.

An interesting feature of the projecto chart is a slide for projecting pictures of animals, fruits, faces and other objects. This slide is used when the eyes of pre-school children, who cannot read, are examined for visual defects.

net read, are examined for visual defects.

A device known as the ophthalmoscope is employed for detecting diseased or abnormal conditions of the eye. Patients with such conditions are referred by optometrists to physicians.

Dr. Ross is a graduate of the Northern Illinois College of Optometry in Chicago, Illinois, and for a number of years was an associate professor there.

Does Obscurity Await Historic Mackinac Island?

Famous Resort Fails to Interest Tourists

(By Gene Alleman)

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich.—What's "wrong" with Mackinac Island?

Here is an enchantingly lovely isle in the Straits between the lower and upper peninsulas, proclaimed by the Daughters of the American Revolution to be "Michigan's most historic spot."

Its past parallels the founding of the United States. In 1674 Father Marquette established a Catholic mission of St. Ignace at what is now St. Ignace. Long before 1700 the French built frontier forts at St. Ignace and Mackinac City, retaining control there until their disastrous defeat at Quebec in 1759 at the hands of the British. In 1763 the Ojibway Indians, inspired by crafty Pontiac, massacred the inhabitants of Fort Michilimackinac through a ruse of playing a ball game.

In 1780 the British moved Fort Michilimackinac from Mackinaw City to Mackinac Island, and Canadian border disputes kept the island under the British flag until October, 1796, when Fort Mackinac was turned over to the first American commander. This transfer was the final incident of the Revolutionary war. For nearly 100 years, up to 1895, the fort was manned by regular army troops of the United States.

Talk about history! Such, in a nutshell, is a glimpse of the glorious and stirring background of Mackinac Island. Yet for a decade the island has been declining as a place for summer residence. Only a few weeks ago Governor Luren D. Dickinson suggested that the governor's cottage there be closed permanently.

With all this rugged history behind it, why should Mackinac Island have fewer summer residents than it had ten or 20 years ago? Intent on fathoming the reasons, we spent a week-end recently at the Fort as a guest of the state park commission, following a tourist conference at the Grand Hotel. Here is what we observed.

Facts About the Island

But first, a picture of the island itself.

In March, 1895, Michigan's senator James McMillan put through Congress an act authorizing the secretary of war, upon application of the governor of Michigan, to turn over to the state "for use as a state park, and for no other purpose," the military reservation and buildings and the national park lands.

The legislature created a commission, consisting of five members who serve without pay, to administer the park.

The park contains 1,041 acres of which 500 are covered with hardwood and 400 with spruce, hemlock, cedar and other soft woods. There are 40 miles of roads, 60 miles of trails and paths, and a boulevard which follows the encircling shore line for a distance of nearly nine miles.

On a rocky hill, reaching an elevation of 200 feet above the Straits, is Fort Mackinac (original) and Fort Holmes (a reconstruction).

Isolation, Pro and Con

Consider the geographic factor of isolation. The results are both good and bad.

Because the island is constantly "air-conditioned" by breezes coming over the waters of the Great Lakes, Mackinac Island has long been a summer haven for hay fever sufferers and a refuge from excessive heat. However, these virtues cannot be claimed exclusively by Mackinac Island; many other spots in Michigan possess climatical benefits of equal degree.

Then there is the little matter of mosquitoes. The island boasts, apparently without contradiction, that it is devoid entirely of the insect pest.

Before the advent of the automobile and hard-roads, transportation to northern Michigan and Mackinac Island was mostly by lake boats. Travelers from the East came by way of Buffalo, Cleveland, Toledo or Detroit; from the Middle-West, via Chicago.

Tourist travel then was not mobile. The family stayed for the summer, or at least for the whole vacation period.

Today, the average tourist travels in his own car. He parks his machine at either Mackinac City or St. Ignace or puts it in a garage; he boards a steamer or a speedboat, 75 cents round-trip; on the island he hires a horse-drawn carriage to get his party and their baggage to a hotel or their cottage. This takes both time and money.

What Can You Do?

Consider next the island's recreational facilities.

If you can afford a sailboat or a horse, the island would probably keep you contented as a well-filled kitten for weeks on end. The waters of the Straits are ideal for sailing; a yacht club offers every desired service. Like Bermuda, Mackinac Island excludes automobiles, and 40 miles of roads await the equestrian; no honking of horns, screeching of brakes, and carbon monoxide fumes. But yachting and horseback riding costs money, too.

If you like to golf, the island has a scenic course at the Grand Hotel. The grounds fee is $1.65.

Because the water at the Straits is uniformly cool (remember the big ice jam there last winter?) outdoor bathing is limited to a hotel pool the waters of which were being warmed artificially early in August. Lacking is the familiar sand beach at most Michigan resorts where youngsters and oldsters alike may relax, sun-bathe, or swim at their heart's content and usually without cost.

If you are content to don a pair of boots, swing a staff, and hike over miles of shaded woodland trails, Mackinac Island is superb.

A motion picture house in the town offers current cinemas for 40 cents. For fishing, you must travel elsewhere. Dancing and entertainment are available at the smart Grand Hotel for a cover charge. Prices are comparable with those in the best night clubs, and the entertainment is astonishingly excellent (and also clean) when you consider the distance from Chicago or Detroit.

(This is not press-agency; we paid our own bill.)

Automobile-Age

In this speed-crazed age of automobile Mackinac Island has been left behind in the mechanical modernization. No automobiles!

Such is the restriction imposed by the town council with the moral support of island summer residents and the state park commission. The old rule of livability for year-round residents comes from carriage fares. Proprietors of most business shops, and we presume all hotels, live elsewhere except during the summer season.

A carriage ride for any minimum distance costs 50 cents. Except for bicycles, horses provide the only means of transportation.

Harvey Campbell, Detroit Board of Commerce, thinks the island is destined to have a continued decline in tourist trade largely because, as he colorfully phrases it, "the island is on a manure-dump." He deplors the swarms of flies. His remedy is the Detroit-made sightseeing bus, used at the New York and San Francisco world's fairs, with fares at popular prices.

Sentimental lovers of Mackinac Island cling to the idea. A chugging, noisy bus would ruin the island's tranquility. It would create hazards. Preposterous!

"Why put scores of townspeople on relief?" countered a member of the state commission. "Carriages provide their only means of earning a living. And what's the hurry, anyway?"

We present the situation as it is, without personal bias. Certainly, this island paradise for horses is unique today in the United States. And in all places—Michigan, home of motor transportation!

New Tourist Habits

Times have changed, and so have tourists' habits.

Each year the traffic count at the Straits goes up.

More and more the modern traveler, like a gypsy, takes to the open highway, lured by the fascination of new scenic conquests yet to be made.

In his trail have sprung up overnight cabins. During the last year at St. Ignace more than 80 new overnight cabins have been built. At St. Ignace, Marie's cabin facilities have been doubled in the same time. Then the house trailer is becoming a factor also. At Michilimackinac state park, adjoining Mackinac City, 450 more travelers were accommodated there up to August 1 of this year than in the same period last year.

Where the great American family formerly stayed put in one spot, such as Mackinac Island, for a vacation season, now it is "on the go." Gasoline stations, barbecue stands, overnight cabins, hot-dog stands and the like are reaping a harvest. National park officials report the greatest attendance this year in history.

As all of these tourist facilities may be obtained at reasonable prices, today's traveler is economy-minded. He has a mental conception that Mackinac Island is a place which only the well-to-do can afford. This belief is seemingly shared by Governor Dickinson who preferred to rent a private cottage on a lake in southern Michigan than to use the state-owned cottage at Mackinac Island, reserved by the legislature for use of the governor as a summer residence. Maybe his reasons were that he preferred fishing. In a press conference he said he couldn't afford to go to Mackinac Island, clinching the point with a comment that it had cost him $15 a day back in 1927, to stay at a hotel on the island during a conference of state governors.

What It Costs

On the matter of expenses, what does it cost the state to maintain Mackinac Island state park and Michilimackinac state park at Mackinac City?

From Superintendent Ladd's park records we learned that the state received $10,900.72 in revenue last year (ending June 30, 1939) and spent $38,000, making a net expense of around $27,000. In 1931 receipts totaled $13,536; they were $16,494 in 1934 and $12,065 in 1937. House leases for use of state land brought $5,470 last year; carriage concessions, $643; stable concessions, $200; camping and trailer fees at Michilimackinac state park, $2,238.

Up to this year the legislature and usually provided $500 a year for upkeep of the governor's cottage which is a simple white frame dwelling with a spacious porch overlooking the Straits, a large living room with a fireplace, and all suitably furnished in a manner to be found in thousands of summer homes everywhere. Governor Dickinson vetoed this expenditure for 1939-40. Occupants furnish their own food; the state provides water, electricity and laundering of mens and bed sheets.

The commission employs six year-round workers and nine others during only the season.

Future of the Island

What is "wrong" with Mackinac Island? What can be done to restore its former popularity? As perhaps the greatest shrine of history in the entire Middle West and certainly in Michigan, Mackinac Island will probably always continue to draw thousands of visitors. It will always be included in the itinerary of lake steamers. For scenic lure, if for no other, the island will be a leading summer magnet.

According to two members of the state commission, the island suffers from a misconception that it is expensive for tourists as based on prevalent prices elsewhere for cabin, meals, and the like. The fact that overnight accommodations may be obtained for as low as $1, that meal prices are as reasonable as similar accommodations elsewhere—these facts are not known, or at least not believed. In any event the public feels that such accommodations are very limited in number.

Furthermore, friends of the island agree that Mackinac needs skillful state advertising, if it is to compete with other states whose scenic wonders have been brought within easy access of millions in the Middle-West by modern automobiles and modern highways. They believe such would benefit the entire state, and the very fact that Michigan comprises two peninsulas and that the island is between them bears out this conclusion somewhat convincingly.

Perhaps low-cost recreation could be provided—shuffle-board courts, for example, or an open-air dancing pavilion—which would appeal to people in a moderate income bracket and yet not convert the island into a "Coney Island."

In any event, Mackinac Island is well worth a minimum of a full day's visit. Once there you will surely leave with a hope that you can return again soon.

How to Keep Blooms for Winter

Here Is Idea for Plymouth Flower Lovers

Plymouth flower lovers who regret to see the beautiful blooms of late summer and early fall fade away, have requested that The Plymouth Mail publish a portion of an article appearing in the September issue of Better Homes and Gardens, by Fae Huttenlocher, associate editor, which tells of a way to preserve some of these blossoms for winter joy. In part the article follows:

Here's something that's easy, fun, and excitingly new—cutting some of your flowers now and drying them in sand for fresh winter bouquets. Imagine what that means. Bouquets of your own flowers, grown in your own summer garden, for Thanksgiving and Christmas and those bright winter afternoon parties; bouquets that keep their color and summery crispness for weeks, even when your fireplace is roaring.

I came across this successful method of preserving flowers when I saw the exhibit of sand-dried flowers at the Missouri Botanical Garden, in St. Louis. I could scarcely wait until I reached home to try the idea. Here's how it's done.

The materials are simple: several large clay flower pots, several sheets of thick wrapping paper, and some sand that's been sifted and washed until it's clean and thoroughly dried in the oven or sun and cooled.

From your garden select and cut flowers that don't drop their petals quickly. Those which respond best to drying, holding both shape and color, are chrysanthemums, daisies, zinnias, marigolds, partially opened roses, buds, orchids, yarrow, cornflowers, narcissus, waterlilies, cosmos, and gaillardias. Flowers that lose their petals quickly, such as tulips, flax, poppies, and full-blown roses, won't dry satisfactorily.

Be sure the surface of the flowers and foliage to be preserved is dry. Cover the drainage holes in the pots with the heavy wrapping paper. Cut the flower stems of a length so that when the flowers are standing upright in the sand inside the pots, the flower tops are just below the pot rim. Pour a 2-inch layer of sand into the pot and stand the flowers in it. Don't let the flower petals touch. Carefully pour more of the dry sand around the stems, foliage, and flowers until they're completely buried. Label each pot with names of flowers and the date of burying. Store them in a cool, dry room for two months.

In the two months after I stored my flowers, I played with the thought of investigating them. But I didn't, knowing that premature exposure to the moist air would spoil everything. When the time of entombment was up, I invited some friends in to share the excitement of unearthing my buried treasures.

Each pot was gradually inverted, allowing the sand to pour out slowly. The blossoms emerged like lovely butterflies from their drab cocoons.

Now why do flowers keep when dried this way? Because, in the absence of moisture, normal physiological breakdown doesn't occur. There is some shrinkage in drying and the tissues become quite brittle but there's no decay, though some colors fade. If protected from moisture, wind, and strong sunlight, the flowers last for several months to a year. If you want, you can keep them in pots longer than two months; they keep better in the sand than out of it. If the sand absorbs moisture in storage, the flowers rot.

Music Soothes Tiny German Refugees

The spirits of these tiny waifs from Germany were buoyed temporarily when one of their numbers struck up a tune on her violin as 150 refugee children arrived at the Liverpool, London, station. Scouts Return From Week-end Camp

Fifteen Boy Scouts from Plymouth Troop 3, with their leaders, spent an enjoyable week-end camping at Joslin lake near Utahville. Much of the time was occupied by boating, swimming and fishing. However, the fishing activity showed little result. The Scouts also had an experience of running upon a nest of belligerent hornets, who added their point to the camping enjoyment.

The summer camping trip is an annual affair for Troop 3 and is enjoyed by all the Scouts. Fine weather prevailed over the entire week-end. Transportation was provided by the Eckles Coal and Supply company.

State Legion Keeps Alexander

It just seems that Lisle Alexander, cashier of the Plymouth United Savings bank, cannot get rid of that job as financial official of the American Legion organization of Michigan. At the state convention held last week at Escanaba, Mr. Alexander was re-elected to the position he has held so many years.

He had no opposition. In fact, he had told some of his friends that he thought it was about time some one else looked after the finances of the organization, but when the delegates to the convention heard of it, there was a general demand that he be retained for another year. So Mr. Alexander will for another year handle the cash of the big American Legion organization of Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander returned to Plymouth last Sunday after enjoying a 10-day vacation in northern Michigan. On their way to Escanaba they spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. Mark Chaffee at their new summer home on Twin Lakes near Peacock, Michigan and on their return they fished two or three days in the vicinity of Hunter's Home near Mio where they stayed.

Everett DeRyke, editor of The Milan Leader, and one time reporter for the editor of The Plymouth Mail when employed by The Gazette in Kalamazoo, is the new commander of the Legion in Michigan. Mr. DeRyke has had much to do with the creation and success of the Boy State at East Lansing.

Building New Park Rest Rooms

Another comfort station is under construction in the parkway system, the site being just off the Northville road and a short distance north of the Six Mile road. The location is regarded as an excellent one, as it will serve a large portion of the park which has become exceedingly popular with park visitors during the last year or so because of playground facilities in that district.

The outlet is being connected with the trunk line sewer that was completed during the early summer.

To the west of the place is also located the flowing spring that provides the thousands and thousands of picnic parties and others with some of the coldest and best water found in this part of the state.

It is understood that one or two other comfort stations are to be built in the near future in the vicinity of Plymouth.

Plymouth Teams to Play Labor Day

Schrader-Haggerty and Plymouth-Allen baseball teams will start a three-game series at Riverside park, Labor day, September 4. The two remaining games in the series will be played the following Sundays. All games will start at 3:00 o'clock.

So far this season each team has beaten the other once. Schrader-Haggerty took the Allen team in league play, and at the Northville-Wayne County fair, Plymouth-Allen beat Schrader-Haggerty.

As these teams are the only baseball aggregations from Plymouth, each wants the distinction of being the top city team and they have taken this three-game series to determine who can claim the honor.

Sunday, the Taylor Athletic club will come from Detroit for a game with the Allen team at Cass Benton park. The Detroit team is said to be one of the leaders in their league.

Plymouth-Allen's youthful 16-year-old pitcher, Dawson, is scheduled for mound duty. So far this season he has lost only one game in eight starts.

The same day, Schrader-Haggerty will meet the Amazo Sales team at the Riverside park diamond.

SCHOOL DAYS.

Next Tuesday morning begins an exceedingly important period in the lives of thousands of boys and girls in and about Plymouth. That is the day that the doors of the public schools will open for another term. It is the day that the doors of preparedness for opportunity—for life—swing wide for all to enter.

It is sometimes difficult to impress young people with the necessity of tending strictly to their studies. Frequently the subjects seem uninteresting and of no purpose to the pupil. Maybe the ideas of the students about some of the subjects are correct. Maybe they are uninteresting, difficult problems that help to create the ability to do things, to accomplish something, that makes it so important for each pupil to strive for good marks.

The future of Michigan, of America, rests entirely upon the boys and girls who will Tuesday morning trudge off to the school rooms to gain the knowledge and training, especially the training, that is so important to them as well as the nation.

Michigan or the nation cannot hope to endure upon the accomplishments of the past. It will be the things that the school boys and girls of today will do that will maintain our country as the leader of the world, or cause it to decay.

There is a pretty good story—said to be historically correct—that explains well our point about the Tomorrow.

A young officer aglow with triumph dashed into the presence of Napoleon. He had just achieved a great victory and he expected praise and a pat on the back.

Instead of praise, his Emperor asked the young man this challenging question: "What are you going to do tomorrow?"

After all, the goals we've achieved, the heights we've climbed, the victories we've won are all behind us. Too often while basking in the shining light of work well done we are lulled to slumber. A home run king can't continue to wear the crown on the strength of the hits he made yesterday. A salesman can't continue to lead the force because of last year's sales. A business firm can't maintain its leadership just because it did big things in the past. America cannot continue to go forward because of the achievements of its past leaders.

For men and business firms and the nation the question is the same: "What are you going to do tomorrow?" Our future depends upon what we do with our tomorrows. If we use them to point to what we did yesterday it is time for the dirge! If we use them to push onward, to grow bigger, to reach upward, the banners will continue to wave and "Forward March" will be the order of the day!

So, boys and girls, you see how essential it is that you be prepared to do the things now that will help you become success winners of tomorrow.

The important part of your school work is in accomlishing the tasks to which you have been assigned. If you are a success winner in your school days, you are surely headed in the right direction—and a school room success winner is the boy or girl who learns HOW to work.

THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER.

The following paragraphs are from a speech of the Hon. John W. Gwynne of Iowa in the House of Representatives at Washington, Thursday, July 6, 1939:

"It should be borne in mind that the maintenance of the country newspapers is a matter of vital importance to the entire country. It is the most typically American institution that yet remains. Within recent years there has been a tendency to concentrate industry and population in a few large centers. To meet the problems arising from such an unhealthy condition, we are now being told that large powers must be concentrated in Washington. I am convinced that is not the remedy and that it will only hasten the destruction of free government. The American people will some day learn that neither monopoly nor bureaucracy can exist in a free country. We need to adopt a policy that will restore prosperity and importance to the independent merchant and to the small town. When we do that, most of our troubles will be solved.

"The country newspaper is the representative and the spokesman of the farmer, the independent merchant, and the small town generally. Its influence in both local and national affairs can hardly be over-emphasized. Its columns are always open for announcements and regulations pertaining to the various Federal activities, such as the agricultural adjustment program. Its editorial section has never succumbed to the influence of the counting house. Nowhere is the American type of government and the individualistic form of society being more ably defended."

A "PEACHY" EDITION

Progressive, alert H. J. Kertz, editor and publisher of The Sentinel-Leader at Sparta, last week issued a special edition of his newspaper dedicated to the peach and apple industry that does so much to make his part of the state one of Michigan's prosperous centers. The publication was filled to overflowing with information and data about the peach and apple industry of Kent county, especially that section located around Sparta. It was well illustrated, the numerous views showing the well kept orchards and homes of the Sparta fruit district. This year's crop is going to be the greatest in over 40 years, and if prices are not messed up, Sparta and vicinity face a prosperous year. Editor Kertz is to be commended for issuing such a splendid edition. It has given Sparta and its fruit industry a tremendous amount of very favorable advertising.

DRIVE SLOWLY WHERE CHILDREN ARE PLAYING

With reports reaching us of the death of several children on our highways during the last week it again seems our duty to warn autoists of the necessity of slowing up and having their cars under control when approaching children playing along the highway, or even on the parking between the pavement and sidewalk in cities.

So often, as happened in this vicinity a few days ago, youngsters playing along the highway become thoughtless and dash directly in front of an approaching automobile, meeting sudden death. While drivers are not held directly responsible for these tragedies, in many cases these little lives might have been saved had the motorist taken his foot off the accelerator and slowed down at the sight of children. What are a few seconds lost compared to the life of a child and the endless grief and heartaches of the parents and others who loved the child more than life itself?

As the traffic officer on the poster says: "If it was your child you'd care." Let's all guard the lives of all youngsters as we would guard the lives of our own flesh and blood.—Robert Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Journal.

WHERE COURAGE IS NEEDED

There are many persons in public life today who are money honest but are just plain run politicians because they lack the normal stamina to speak out against the crookedness about which they have sufficient knowledge to stop. The average citizen would be stunned to see the list of public men who have earned the right to this political classification. Moral honesty is sometimes just as difficult to prove as corruption.—Murl H. DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

SPENDING HAS FLOPPED

Apparently the only protection the nation has against further sizeable increases in the staggering national debt lies in the reluctance of Congress to again raise the legal debt limit. That limit is now set at $45,000,000,000. And the current debt comes uncomfortably close to that mark.

The recent proposed plan whereby the government's lending power would be increased almost $4,000,000,000, which would appear neither in the budget nor the debt, is designed to eliminate the protection of the debt limit. No plan ever devised could do more to promote eventual national bankruptcy. It is proposed that this money be spent for all manner of purposes—roads and bridges, rural electrification, waterworks, etc. If it is spent to use trick bookkeeping methods to spend $4,000,000,000 in these ways, why not spend ten, twenty, fifty, a hundred billion? It wouldn't appear in the debt.

Isn't it about time, instead of proposing schemes to get around the debt limit law, that our legislators considered putting not increasing expenses—and balancing, not further distorting, an inflated budget? Spending for spending's sake has been a flop—and one of the most costly flops in world history. Let's try economy—it certainly couldn't produce any worse results.—James Gallery in The Tuscola County (Caro) Advertiser.

THIEVES EVERYWHERE

Petoskey officers, particularly the Sheriff's department, advises people to lock their car when they go to the bathing beach, because a number of thefts from cars have been reported. This is sensible and necessary advice to give all auto drivers, and it followed would save the law enforcement officers a lot of hard work and grief and would save auto owners and drivers great expense. To lock the keys in your car when you park it anywhere, on the beach, on the street or even in your garage invites thievery and auto stealing and all that follows.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

FUSSING ABOUT UNDESIRABLES

Yes, the United States has lots of undesirable people. There are Communists, Fascists, Nazis, spies, opinionated youths, and watchmen and policemen in industrial plants. There are also strikers, picketers, drunken drivers and many other extraordinary varieties of men and women. Harry Bridges is a thorn in the side of the American Merchant Marine but why is it necessary to prove he is a Communist when he says he is not is just a funny notion. The Communists have a national political party, and we pay attention on the ticket and their weakness is exposed on election day.

In the olden days the "reds" had different names for the way we designate them today. Some of their "dangerous doctrines are popular political theories of the present age.

In a country as big as ours there are people who believe in every sort of thing, which is the reason there are over 300 kinds of Orthodox churches, several hundred varieties of radio programs, several thousand different ways of helping the poor, and innumerable games, and ways to gamble, including new chain-letter schemes.

So, keep your shirt on! Our population is all right, it just gets noisy and obstreperous at times, but the "desirables" keep an overwhelming majority. Besides, most people are trying to find out what is wrong in our country, for the very good reason that they want to help straighten things out. American voters turn wrongs into rights, and all we have ever had to do was to give them time.

That is the story of human progress from the beginning, and the American system is now on the march.—George O. St. Charles in The Dearborn Independent.
