

Women find interest in many problems of public concern. Generally these interests are most outstanding when it comes to child, humane or civic moral problems.

Did you ever drive over M-23 between Oscoda and Alpena? If so, of course you have been amazed at the beauty of this drive along the glistening sandy beaches of Lake Huron.

Some 15 years ago the writer was serving as executive secretary to former Governor Alex J. Groesbeck in Lansing. One day into the office walked a woman with a roll of maps under her arm.

The incident took place at the time when Governor Groesbeck was completing his road development program for Michigan—a program that has placed Michigan in the front ranks of all states in the union.

Before the day was over, the maps lay scattered over the Governor's desk. On one side sat Alexander Groesbeck and on the other was Mrs. E. R. McNichol, a woman who has carried on an extensive banking business in Oscoda for many years.

"I'll take it up with the road committee. Leave your maps here," was in substance what the Governor told the caller.

Then along came the primary election campaign in which a lot of climbing politicians and others charged that because the state's expenditures ran something like $15,000,000 per year for the support of all the state institutions, all of its various commissions and other activities, Groesbeck was wasting tax dollars.

It might be interesting at this point to note that from the day Governor Groesbeck left office, the state expenditures started an upward curve that has dumfounded those who know what has been going on in state affairs.

But what about his road program after the primary? It had been his intention to have paved roads during the next term he was seeking from the Indiana state line running along Lake Michigan to the Straits; another up through the part of the state through Jackson, Lansing, Houghton lake and on north to the Straits; another along the shore line of Lake Huron from Saginaw to Alpena and then to the Straits; and from there a paved thoroughfare way across the Upper Peninsula to Superior, Wisconsin. At the rate he was building roads at the time of his defeat, this program would have been completed in the ensuing two years.

But the primary results terminated this energetic and beneficial program. Some of it isn't even finished to this very day.

What about M-23 and Mrs. McNichol? She knew of the Governor's intense interest in highway development, and especially of scenic drives in the northland.

Plymouth Family Reported Safely Out of Germany

Mrs. Reinhold Ruehr, Two Sons Flee to Holland City

Word was received last week by Reinhold Ruehr, grower at the Heide greenhouses, that his wife and two sons, Otto and Norman, who have been vacationing in Germany, are safe.

Before the war broke out, Thursday, August 24, Mrs. Ruehr and sons fled from Germany to Rotterdam, Holland. Mr. Ruehr says that they are now with friends in the Holland city.

Previously they planned to return on a German liner, August 24, but as all boat service from Germany has been discontinued, they will sail on a steamer from Holland soon.

Mrs. Ruehr and sons sailed for Germany on the S. S. New York, Wednesday, July 5. During the summer they have visited in the vicinity of the Thuringian mountains in the central part of the country and the Black Forest in the southwestern part.

Flower Show Is Outstanding Event of the Fall

Much Interest Shown by Local Residents

Plymouth's second annual flower show held last Friday and Saturday under the sponsorship of the Plymouth branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden association brought forth one of the finest displays of flowers ever seen in the city.

Mrs. John Dalton and members of the committee are most appreciative of the efforts of both members and non-members who did so much to make the event such a success.

There were 12 long tables needed to exhibit the many entries. An attractive arrangement of ferns, furnished by the Wayne County Training school, made a very excellent background for the exhibits. They were very artistically arranged by Murray O'Neill, landscape architect.

Another interesting part of the show was the flower prints and paintings shown. There was a table of Vermontware, in orange, yellow, soft blue and brown shown by Mrs. F. R. Hoheisel. The centerpiece was a low bowl of fruit flanked by peasant figures. On two small tables Mrs. C. D. Branigan exhibited some very old china, which drew the attention of many visitors as did the exhibit of miniature vases and the unusual arrangement of flowers by Mrs. Paul Wriedman.

The judges, William Bartel and Mrs. John Dalton, first and second; Mrs. Ernest Threlkoff, first; Mrs. Ernest Threlkoff, second; Mrs. William Whipple, first; Mrs. Ward Henderson, first; Mrs. F. R. Hoheisel, first; one second; Mrs. Thomas W. Moss, one first, two second, one third.

Mrs. Floyd Reddeman, one first, two second, one third; Mrs. Jesse Tritton, two first, one second; Mrs. Max Trucks, one first, one second; Katherine Trucks, one third; Mrs. Paul Wedekind, two first, one second, two third; Mrs. Floy Wilder, two second, three third; Mrs. Austin Whipple, five first; one second; Mrs. Bruce Woodbury, one first.

Members are asked to note the change of date for the tour to Michigan State college, which will be on Wednesday, September 20, instead of Monday, September 18. Those wishing transportation are asked to call any one of the transportation committee, Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, Mrs. Ernest Threlkoff, Mrs. Ralph J. Lorenz, Mrs. S. W. Spicer, Mrs. Max Trucks. The ladies will meet at 10:00 a. m. at the Hotel Mayflower and will have luncheon in Lansing before touring the college.

Woman Elected Board President

At a meeting of the newly consolidated Redford school district, the following officers were elected to the school board Saturday night: President, Mrs. Gladys Tack; secretary, Sylvester Shear; treasurer, Nicholas Pierce; trustees, Frank Cooper and Fred Reinhardt.

Mrs. A. Ray Glider and Mrs. Ralph G. Lorenz plan to attend the annual luncheon of the Phieta Lambda Sigma society, to be held at Plank Tavern, near Ypsilanti, Saturday.

City Attorney Heads Committee

Arlo A. Emery, city attorney of Plymouth and a former resident of this city who is now a resident of Detroit, has been named as the general chairman of the Detroit convention committee of the American Federation of Lutheran Brotherhoods, a non-synodical association of Lutheran laymen, which will hold its annual convention in Detroit, October 11 to 13. The Book-Cadillac hotel will be the convention headquarters, but two of the big meetings will be held outside the hotel and the closing banquet will take place at the Masonic temple. Mr. Emery has for many years been active in Lutheran church affairs and has been one of its outstanding layman workers.

Commissioners Re-Interpret Building Code

Will Rule Asbestos Shingles, Siding as Fireproof

City commissioners at the meeting Monday night resolved to interpret Article 3, section 2, of the building code to mean that asbestos shingles or siding are fireproof and may be used in place of stucco as a fire resisting material for the outside of homes in the residential area within the fire limits of the city.

Formerly within the fire limits, only brick or cement stucco could be used as protective covering for a dwelling. The commissioners felt Monday night that the makers of the ordinance intended that fire resisting materials should be used. When the building code was established in 1930, asbestos shingles and siding were practically unknown.

It is recognized that they have the same fire resisting qualities as stucco or the like. Article 3, section 2, of the code reads as follows: "Single or double residence frame buildings of not more than two (2) stories shall be erected within the fire limits provided they are veneered with four (4) inches of brick masonry or one (1) inch of cement stucco on metal lath. All such frame buildings shall, however, have the roof covered with any approved incombustible roofing."

Kiwanians Hear R. J. McDowell

R. J. McDowell, director of merchandising, education and training for the Secor Vacuum Oil company, appeared before Plymouth Kiwanians Tuesday night at their meeting at the Mayflower hotel.

Mr. McDowell, who lives in Rosedale Gardens, spoke on the subject "The Responsibility of an Individual for the Success of a Business."

His talk was addressed to the club as a whole, but it was directed at each individual in the firmness of its theme. Mr. McDowell told the club the importance of salesmanship and personality for success in the business world. He also told of interesting experiences he has had while working for the company in which he is now employed.

Members and guests enjoyed hearing Mr. McDowell and it was an expressed opinion that more such speakers be obtained for following meetings of the club.

Powell Truck Figures in Accident Tuesday

Two Arabians Killed in Crash Near Novi

One of the trucks of M. Powell and Son of Plymouth figured in an accident in which two Arabian men were killed Tuesday morning at 11:00 o'clock. The accident occurred 500 feet west of Twelve Mile road on Grand River avenue near Novi.

Melvin Mitchell, driver of the Powell truck, and his companion, Anthony Zerlak, both of Northville, were uninjured, suffering only slight facial lacerations and minor bruises about their bodies. The dead men are Faud Marfari, young lecturer on the Arab national movement and a graduate of the American university at Beirut, Lebanon, and Fakir M. S. Shaikh, of Iraq, a student at Columbia University.

According to state police, the accident could have happened in three ways: The Arabian's car either blew a tire, ran off the right side of the pavement and out of control, crashed into the truck as it was brought back to the pavement, or the driver went to sleep. Investigators said that it was improbable that a tire blew because the only tire found flat after the accident was the right front one on the Arabian's automobile. A blowout of that tire would have thrown the car the opposite way in which it careened.

Mitchell thinks that the dead man's car went off the right side of the pavement and was hurled across in front of the truck when an attempt was made to turn right. The Arabian's car was completely demolished and the Powell truck is also beyond repair.

Muffari, a native of Damascus, had been in Detroit about four months. He had come to the United States as part of a Syrian delegation to the World's Fair but had stayed on after the others returned home to lecture in this country and in Canada, according to Dr. L. M. Sa'di, an acquaintance.

Dr. Sa'di said that Muffari was at one time Syrian commissioner in the Alexandretta section of Northern Syria.

Detroit Writer to Speak at PTA

Plymouth residents are fortunate in being able to hear Jack Van Coevering, wild life editor of The Detroit Free Press, who will speak at the first meeting of the Starkweather Parent-Teachers' association, Tuesday evening, September 19, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Van Coevering's home is at 8811 Ingram, Rosedale Gardens. He recently finished a book, "Real Boys and Girls Go Birding," (J. B. Lippincott company) which was chosen by the Junior Literary Guild as their selection for this month.

Being an expert photographer, Mr. Van Coevering illustrated his book with dozens of photographs taken by himself. The book has stories of adventure in birding written in a language that every child can understand.

Van Coevering plans that a series of books will follow the one he has just written to cover the field of animal life, fishing and wild flowers. The next volume is intended to be "Real Boys and Girls Go Hiking."

Born in the province of Gelderland in The Netherlands, Van Coevering was taken to Grand Haven by his parents when he was seven years old. After studying at Calvin college and the University of Michigan, he began his career in journalism in 1926 as assistant outdoor editor of The Grand Rapids Herald. Since 1931 he has been wildlife editor of The Free Press.

His talk at the PTA meeting will be particularly interesting to parents and teachers because of Van Coevering's contact with the nature world. It is thought he will speak on a subject pertaining to the books he has written.

Betty Ridley will be included on the program in a number of vocal solos.

Dr. Brisbois to Soon Move Offices

Dr. Harold Brisbois expects to move his office from the Corner building on South outdoor street to his new location on Ann Arbor Trail in the new building erected west of the Mayflower hotel. He is not sure which day the office will be ready, but he expects to be located in his new place by the middle or last of the coming month.

Plymouth Youth at Naval Training School

Stanley V. Passage, who enlisted in the United States navy, Tuesday, September 5, is now at the Great Lakes training station at Great Lakes, Illinois. Passage will be at the Illinois school for three months where he will have training in navy fundamentals covering a wide scope of subjects. At the end of that period he will return home for a 10-day furlough. For the remainder of his six-year term of enlistment Passage will probably be assigned to a training ship to learn some specific branch of naval duty.

He is the 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Passage of Rose street, and a 1935 graduate of Plymouth high school.

City Expected to Sign County Sewage Contract

Agreement Will Save City Nearly $70,000

It is expected that the city commission will sign an agreement with the Wayne county road commission Monday night at the regular city commission meeting for the purchase of the Middle Rouge parkway sewage disposal system.

There are two solutions to the system of Plymouth's sewage disposal. One is providing alterations and improvements to the present plant as outlined by the state health department which includes the hiring of a full-time employe and the other is tapping into the county system that is nearing completion and runs a short distance from the city.

At a special meeting of the commission, Monday night, to consider the proposed agreement, Joseph W. Gross and Mr. Hausman, representatives of the Wayne county road commission, were present and were asked several questions pertaining to the proposed agreement.

It was pointed out that it was about $70,000 cheaper for the city of Plymouth to connect to the Wayne county sewerage parkway interceptor rather than providing the necessary improvements to the present plant. The cost of maintaining an employe at the plant would be $2,000; approximately the same as the cost to the city in using the county facilities.

It is contemplated by the commission to pay for this service out of the present water rates rather than imposing any greater burden on taxpayers. The reality this will mean a reduction in water rates for residents who will be paying the same amount in water taxes when the sewage disposal service is started as they are now, plus receiving a double service.

At a conference called at Lansing, March 19, 1936 to discuss the Wayne county sewage disposal situation, the city was informed that to bring the existing plant up to present standards, it would be necessary to install a glass housing over the Imhoff tank and sludge beds to collect gas and eliminate odor and provide for chlorination of the influent or effluent, and possibly both.

In the event that the city of Plymouth decides to continue to operate an individual sewage disposal plant, discharging into the Rouge river, the state department of health has recommended that certain conditions be met.

For the city to join the county sewer would be less expensive in the long run as it was pointed out by some of the associate Grand Officers and the officers and members are looking forward to a very pleasant evening. All members of the Order are invited to come out and meet the Grand Officers and help make the evening a success.

Board Accepts Resignation

The board of education at its meeting, Monday night, September 11, received and accepted the resignation of Alvina Crumden, who has taught in the Plymouth schools for a number of years.

At the same time the board approved the contract with Melvin Blum to succeed Mrs. Crumden in the junior high school mathematics department.

Mr. Blum is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Manna Blum who live on Irving street. He was graduated from Plymouth high school with the class of 1933. In 1937 he was graduated from the Michigan State Normal school at Ypsilanti.

For the last two years Mr. Blum has taught mathematics in the Decatur schools.

Mr. and Mrs. William Oswald will be the guests of the city of Plymouth at the dinner given at the Hotel Mayflower on Tuesday, September 19, at 7:00 p. m.

The city manager said that there are over 500 members of the association representing cities over the entire United States and Canada. Usually 200 attend and he expects there will be over 50 in the group discussion that he is to conduct.

Mrs. Whipple will speak to the ladies of the association on the subject, "Interesting People and Places in Michigan." Her speech is to be the first 30-40 minutes of the conference, Monday morning, October 9.

Wednesday, September 27, Mrs. Whipple is scheduled to appear before the state convention of the Michigan League of Women Voters and speak on a subject that she is intensely interested in, "The Municipalities of the State in the Gas and Weight Tax."

Saturday, October 28, Commissioner Whipple will speak on "The League of Women Voters and Municipal Affairs," at the Port Huron chapter of the league. Commissioners Hondorp, Robinson, Whipple and City Manager Elliott attended the 41st annual meeting of the Michigan Municipal League at the Hotel Columbia, Kalamazoo, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Although Commissioner Whipple is unable to attend each day of the three-day convention, he was there for parts of it.

Mrs. Whipple attended a meeting of the board of trustees Tuesday evening. She is the only woman member of the board, and her recent election to it marks the first time any woman has had the honor of being a member.

The Michigan Municipal League is the fifth oldest of its kind in the United States.

Establish New Rural Route For This City

Coming to Conduct Revival Meetings

Rapid Growth Forces Addition Part of Route 2 and 3 to Become Route 4 After October 1st

Rapid growth of Plymouth and vicinity has forced the postoffice department to add the fourth rural carrier to the Plymouth office, announced Postmaster Frank Learned yesterday.

The new number 4 route will comprise chiefly 1 part of the present number 2 route which serves the district lying between Plymouth and the Beech road and a small part of route 3.

The new route will start service on October 2 and will relieve the present carriers who serve the district lying east of Plymouth from a part of the tremendous amount of work they have been forced to carry during the last year or so," stated Mr. Learned.

The new number 4 route will serve residents along Plymouth road to Rosedale Gardens, serve all of Rosedale Gardens and as far east as the Beech road. Residents along Schoolcraft road will also be on the new route.

Route number 2 will continue to serve the remainder of the territory that it has in past years. There has been only a slight addition to route number 1. A section of Ford road between Canton Center road and the Beck road will be added to number 1. The new route will add 13 miles to the Plymouth rural route service, making a total of 190 miles of rural service that is provided out of the Plymouth postoffice.

When the new carrier is added, that will make 22 employes of the Plymouth postoffice, states Postmaster Learned.

The postoffice department has not yet announced who will be named as the new carrier, but it is understood that for the present a substitute carrier will take care of the new route, when it is established the first of October.

Lodge Rooms Redecorated

Lodge rooms, parlors and dining-room of the Plymouth Rock Lodge, in Masonic temple recently have undergone complete redecoration. This decoration is the first the building has had since it was built in 1924.

Friday night, September 22, the lodge will have a third degree and supper. The degree work will be exemplified by a team of the Chrysler Motor corporation from Detroit.

Arthur C. Read who recently appeared before the Kiwanis club of Plymouth, has been secured as guest speaker. Mr. Read is from South Lyon and recently returned from China where he was a soldier of fortune in the Sino-Japanese hostilities. He served two years as an officer in the war and also eight years in the Philippines with the United States Army, making a total of 10 years in the Orient.

The subject of Read's talk will be entitled "Two Years With the Chinese Army." The banquet supper will begin at 6:30. Visitors are welcome. Arrangements for attendance can be made with Oscar E. Alsbro, secretary of the lodge.

Thieves Attempt to Loot Office

Thieves were unsuccessful in their attempt to burglarize the office safe of the Plymouth Lumber and Coal company at 308 North Main street Wednesday night.

It is thought the vandals were frightened away when Patrolman Ira Hauk inspected the premises at 11:30 p. m. as he discovered the attempted crime then. Nothing was stolen except a few cents from the cash register. Police Chief Vaughan Smith said that this attempt at burglary might have some connection with a similar case at Northville where the thieves broke in and entered the offices of the telephone company, Monday night, September 4, and also an attempt to break into the Plymouth telephone company's offices the following Friday night.

It is thought each time the thieves were frightened away. Another similarity in the cases is that each time the robbery has occurred early in the evening.

Jewel Starkweather and Betty Shaler, of Bellevue, who spent the last two months at Mackinac Island, were week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. Knight at their cottage on Lake Michigan before returning home. Last week-end the young ladies attended a house party in the home of Marjorie Jean Brown, in Highland Park, with a few other classmates of Starkweather college. On Sunday evening will leave for another year at Kalamazoo college.

Wrong Day Through error it was announced in last week's Norma Cassidy Dress Shop advertisement that the store would be open on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The store is open on Tuesday and Saturday evenings instead of the days previously announced.

Bowling Fans Attend Opening of New Alleys

Plymouth Rocks Bowl Match With Detroit Team

Nearly 500 bowling fans from Plymouth and vicinity attended the grand opening of Parkview Recreation Tuesday night.

As a special event on the program, Manager Robert Todd arranged for the women's team of John C. Cowan, county auditor, from Detroit to roll a match with the Plymouth Rocks, Plymouth's oldest organized bowling team. Members of the team are William Lomas, Harry Lush, Bill Downing, Homer Williams and Matt Powell.

Captains of teams in the leagues met Thursday night to organize for the fall and winter season. It is expected that there will be an increase in number of teams in the league this year as there are more alleys in the new building to accommodate bowlers than in the one on Penniman avenue previously used.

The alleys at Parkview are reputed to be among the best in this part of the state. They are modern in every detail. All equipment is new and of the latest design, both for beauty and practicality. The alleys have been approved by the National Bowling association, a fact in itself which means that conditions are perfect for Plymouth bowlers.

With this approval, Parkview Recreation alleys may be used for tournaments.

Special materials have been used to make the building practically sound proof which was proven Tuesday night when the alleys were constantly in use from 7:30 until the closing time at 11:45 p.m.

Plymouth is fortunate in having these new and up-to-date facilities for bowling. Every item to make bowling conditions perfect has been arranged for by the builders, Manna Blunk and Robert Todd.

TOUCH-DOWN TACTICS

UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA...
by Tom R. Blalock
Head Football Coach

This is the second in a series of six outstanding diagram plays by leading college coaches from Grantland Rice's new Football Guide.

Although there are a lot of the so-called razzle-dazzle plays being used these days, we find that one of the good old reverses to the weak side of the line frequently will gain as much ground as any other play, and after all, that is what wins most games.

I believe that if the high school player will secure a good, well-founded foundation of the fundamentals of the game, he will greatly enhance his chances of making the college teams. The fundamentals can best be mastered in the execution of power

Telephone Golfers Take City League

The Bell Telephone golf team won the championship of the third annual Plymouth golf league played at Hilltop Country Club for 15 weeks the last summer. They garnered 51 1/2 points barely noosing out the Barbers who ended the season with 50 counters. The team representing The Plymouth Mail placed third with 48 points, closely followed by Metro-Lite with 47 1/2.

Trophies were awarded to members of the winning team who were John Powers, Jack McAllister, Earl Markham, Floyd Steers and Howard Wood.

The winners and the Barbers were constantly fighting for first place all season. The Barbers have been close to winning for three years, but have been nosed out each time at the finish. Homer Jewell, Lee McConnell, Al Conery, Art McConnell and John Henderson played for the second place winners.

Previous to this year, the Banner Beer team won in 1937 and the Sanitary Bakers took first place honors last year.

Casey Partridge, pro-manager at the club, announces that improvement has been seen in the league each year and many more changes will be installed next year.

Final standings are, Bell Telephone, 51 1/2; Barbers, 50; Plymouth Mail, 48; Metro-Lite, 47 1/2; Newburg Fords, 45; Jewell Cleaners, 44; Sanitary Bakery, 41; Mac's Service, 40 1/2; Blunk and Thatcher, 39 1/2; Wild & Co., 38; Todd's Cash Market, 35 1/2; Maybury San., 34; Union Paper and Twine, 33 1/2; Ken and Ork, 20; Bill's Market, 17; Cloverdale, 15.

Crop Conditions Above Average

Growing crops made good progress in Michigan during August and harvesting reports for small grains and hay were higher than average production of commercial apples, total peaches and cherries. Grape production is very slightly below average on account of declining acreage. The composite index of the 16 principal field and fruit crops increased four percent from last month, and is about one percent higher than a year ago and 16 percent above the 10-year (1929-38) average. The index is one percent below 1935 and 1937, but exceeds each of the other eight years of record.

August weather was favorable for late beans in most of the major producing counties of Michigan. Crop correspondents reported the condition of all field beans at 77 percent, five points below a year ago and one point below last month. The 10-year average decline in condition from August 1 to September 1 is 12 points. Compared with the reported condition of year ago, the South Central and South Eastern districts are lower by 16 and 14 points, respectively, while the west central, central, and Thumb districts report about the same condition as in 1938. Total production of field beans for Michigan this year is estimated at 3,942,000 bags, or two percent above the 10-year (1928-37) average of 3,861,000 bags. The crop of 1938 was placed at 4,567,000 bags and the 1937 crop totaled 4,333,000 bags. The United States crop of field beans is estimated at 13,073,000 bags, 14 percent less than the big crop of 1938, and about 3.5 percent above average.

Michigan potato prospects improved during August except in some eastern counties where rainfall was insufficient. The current estimate is for a production of 27,625,000 bushels, about 7.5 percent less than last year's crop and about 7 percent above average. Production in the 18 surplus late potato states is estimated at 282,177,000 bushels, about two percent more than a year ago and one percent below average.

For the United States as a whole the supplies of food crops appear adequate for ordinary needs. Wheat and bean production is about average and the same is true of potatoes and sweet potatoes considered together. Rye and rice are 12 percent or more above average. Sugar cane and sugar beets are both very large but not exceptional crops. The total production of fruits and nuts is expected to be well above average.

MICHIGAN, MY MICHIGAN

The primary election had passed by several weeks. Fall had arrived and the weather was bad. One Monday afternoon a telephone call came from Osceola. Mrs. McNichol wanted to see the Governor again. She wanted to bring to Lansing some road officials from up along the east side of the state who were interested in the re-location of M-23 along the lake. She wanted to talk about it again.

"Better come this Monday evening or it may be too late," she was advised.

It was nearly 10 o'clock in the evening when Mrs. McNichol came into the Governor's office without any road officials with her. Bad roads and the storm, she explained, had tied them up elsewhere and they were coming on to Lansing in the morning. But bad roads and a cold, sleety fall rain did not keep this woman road booster from getting to Lansing that night. Although she arrived at 10 o'clock it was well after midnight before she had her interview with the Governor. People, who were interested in state problems back in the days of efficient, honest and good state government, recall that Governor Groesbeck seldom quit work much before 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning.

The meeting of the state administrative board followed on Tuesday morning. At its session M-23 was re-located to follow its present route along the lake shore. That action was one of the last, if not the last, official proceedings of the Groesbeck administration pertaining to his road development program for Michigan.

As the writer drove over this beautiful stretch of thoroughfare Labor day, there seemed to be one thing missing. The original Groesbeck proposal pertaining to this development provided for a parkway development over a very large portion of the area between the paving and the lake. There are but two or three small roadside parks between Au Gres and Alpena. There should be not less than five or six big state parks between Tawas City and Alpena along M-23, all lying between the paving and the lake. East Tawas, Tawas City and Osceola communities have done well to provide civic tourist parks, but the state has done practically nothing to develop

NYA Providing Jobs for Young Men

Venture Started by Rotary Provides Aid

(By Gene Alleman)
LANSING—Near a picturesque, peaceful hamlet of Water- loo, midway between the cities of Jackson and Ann Arbor, Uncle Sam is conducting a novel educational experiment for Michigan youth.

It is rivaled in scope only by a similar undertaking at Passamaquoddy, Maine, where engineers once sought to harness ocean tides for hydro-electric industrial power.

Every county in Michigan is represented at Waterloo.

More so than any other project, it exemplifies the vast state-wide program of the National Youth Administration, known to most citizens as the NYA, and for which the United States treasury will pour into Michigan $3,250,000 during the 1939-40 fiscal year. Because this federal agency was the only one under Paul McNutt's wing at Washington to receive from Congress an increase in federal appropriations (WPA funds being cut, for example), we journeyed 47 miles from the state capital to Waterloo (M-92 between Chelsea and Stockbridge) to examine first-hand this unique venture into "new education."

How It Began
Three years ago the Ann Arbor Rotary club, inspired by Dr. Max Peet, a surgeon at the University of Michigan, made a survey of high school graduates. Many of them were found to be unemployed. Their parents could not afford the price of a college education.

"A 'learn as you work' camp was suggested.

The National Park service had just started to convert a rugged lake-woods-and-farm area near Waterloo from unprofitable agriculture to public recreational use. Land was acquired along Cassidy lake in Jackson county at $1 a year.

The National Youth administration agreed to build and maintain the camp.

This came into being "Cassidy Lake Tech," a junior college-vocational training school for boys, 18 to 21 years of age, situated a short distance from Chelsea and Stockbridge amid a beautiful setting of woodlands and small lakes.

Here come boys from every section of Michigan to work for hours each day, except Sunday, on productive projects for the National Park Service and also to engage for three hours each day in "work experiences" designed to fit them for a job. Permanent lodging, county club style, were constructed.

Co-operative Living
The boys receive $30 a month. The government then deducts from this amount the "cost" of what is called "co-operative living" that is, the expense for food, heat, living, medical and dental services, and so on—estimated at $20 a month. This leaves $10 a month with which a boy may buy clothes, haircuts, luxuries, etc.

Uncle Sam supplies the cost of equipment and administration whereby competent instructors known as "counselors," supervise work-study in a woodshop, machine shop, automobile shop, and an outdoor agricultural area.

"Work experiences" are also available in such subjects as aviation, mechanical drawing, forestry, commerce, music, and even cooking. (The cook school, for example, is said to be the only one of its kind in Michigan. A recent "graduate" is now assistant chef at the Statler hotel in Detroit). Forty boys are transported one day a week to the Ann Arbor airport for training as ground technicians.

Each youth arrives at 8:00 a.m., goes to a central mess hall for breakfast in shifts at 8:30 and 7:00 o'clock, and then follows a work-study schedule which is also maintained in two shifts.

While one group of boys is in class from 7:30 to 10:30 a.m., the other shift is busy elsewhere at work on national park projects. The afternoon program is just the reverse.

Twelve boys and a counselor reside in a cottage. New cottages, just built will make possible an enrollment of 775 youths.

Discipline consists of only the rules of ordinary living, keyed mostly to the Golden Rule. Boys may enroll and depart at any time. Absent are the usual relationships of teacher and pupil. Everyone lives and works to gether in a communal style radically different from the traditional American school.

The Experiment
This rural experiment for vocational experience is the answer of the National Youth Administration to the modern complaint: There is less and less work in America today for boys of high school age, consequently, graduates are "too young" for industry.

A factor in this situation, it is confided, is a conviction among NYA leaders that Michigan public schools outside of the larger cities are neglecting the field of industrial education, and this in a state that ranks high in industrial development.

As vocational apprenticeships risk hostility of organized labor, the Cassidy Lake "Tech" carefully avoids the implication of apprenticeship training. Instead, the boys who help to construct buildings under the guidance of union carpenters are known as "carpenter-helpers." The distinction seems a fine one.

Until a new regulation was made in Washington, the camp provided much of its own food in form of garden produce, eggs, chickens, and meat. These activities were conducted by boys as a "work experience" in farming, a sort of co-operative self-support. Washington saw too much chance for abuse; now the war department supplies all food on requisition orders. Administrator McNutt thus can sidestep any scandal over possible mishandling of food money.

Other NYA Projects
According to NYA authorities, there are 60,000 young people in Michigan of unemployable age who are eligible for federal work assistance. Of this number, approximately 24,000 will be helped during the coming year.

Under the direction of Orin W. Kaye, state youth administrator, the government is to provide work projects for 8,200 boys and girls. Here are some examples: A concrete experience self-support at Belding where 62 boys live in cottages and receive supervised "work experience" in growing produce and livestock. Food that is not consumed at the farm is available for relief.

A wigwag residential resort school for girls, training them for jobs at summer resorts. (In cooperation with public schools, hotel training courses were offered last spring at Ludington, Benton Harbor, Charlevoix, Traverse City, Manistiquic and Grand Haven).

Resident camp at Ironwood for training in construction and landscape. A federal resettlement housing project is used for this program. Resident vocational camp at Cheboygan, utilizing a former music camp along the Straits. Boys are given "work experiences" in landscaping, woodshop and forestry.

At Michigan State college an old fraternity house is being used as a "co-operative" for 28 boys who study and work 16 weeks in cottages, training them for jobs in agriculture.

Other resident work projects are at Houghton and Marshall. Elsewhere throughout the state are 47 work centers where boys go daily for supervised vocational training.

Program is Growing
The NYA also extends a helping hand to high school graduates who desire to obtain a college education but whose families lack financial means. Forty-one colleges and 736 high schools in Michigan are benefited by NYA activity. For colleges the maximum allowance per student is $20 for undergraduates and $30 for graduates; averages are $10.66 and $15.27 respectively. For high schools the maximum allowance per pupil is $6 per month; the average is $4.36.

The new allocation for Michigan will permit 15,000 boys and girls to continue educational studies in Michigan high schools and colleges. Of this number 10,000 students will be in high schools and around 4,300 in colleges.

"Cassidy Lake Tech," as the boys call it, is an interesting experiment in education. It is half junior college and half work camp. Class credits are unknown, although the camp has become an accredited high school district. The director is not a pedagogue. He is D. L. Miller, former probate court officer in Wayne county.

Last January around 100 boys were at Cassidy Lake. Today there are 178. By October 1 the enrollment will reach 275. In one West Michigan city 600 boys have registered for admittance to this country school at Waterloo. And why not? The jobless boy gets three square meals a day, daily experience at useful work to fit him for a place in the world, and a jolly good time in addition to "10 'pin-money' a month.

'In Order to Form a More Perfect Union'

On September 17, 1787, George Washington was the first man to sign his name to the Constitution of the United States. During the past 151 years that document has stood firm in a world sorely tried by warfare, dissension and strife. On September 17, 1939, every-day patriots here and throughout the nation, pause to honor those men who signed the immortal document of "We the People of the United States."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith are enjoying a trip to Niagara Falls, New York.

Doris Buzzard will leave Monday for Lansing, where she will enter Michigan State college.

Robert Lorenz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Lorenz, will, on the same day, enter the Wayne University in Detroit planning to take a special course in commercial art.

Rev. and Mrs. Edgar Hoenecke entertained the following guests over the week-end, who came to attend the Harvest Festival held Sunday in the Lutheran church: Professor and Mrs. O. Hoenecke and daughter, Edith. Mr. and Mrs. G. Pfeiffer and Truman Radtke, of Saginaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bryan, Mrs. Flora Clark of Northville and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Simmons were entertained Sunday, by Mr. and Mrs. William Greer at their home on South Main street, it being a surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Simmons, whose birthdays are this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Moon, who accompanied their daughter, Mary Catherine, to Grandville, Ohio, where the latter entered the Denison University for her freshman year, were guests of the former's cousin, in Louisville, Kentucky, for a few days, returning home Wednesday.

"It has been 33 years since I moved to Ann Arbor from Plymouth, but I have taken The Mail ever since I left there. I am enclosing money order for another year, from an old subscriber," wrote Mrs. A. D. Lyndon, 304 East Jefferson, Ann Arbor to The Mail this week when renewing her subscription for another year. The Lyndon name stands out prominently in the early history of Plymouth.

Cards received in Plymouth from Police Captain Charles J. Thumme and his family indicate that they are on their way home to Plymouth and will probably return some time this week-end. Captain Thumme has been attending the National Fingerprint convention in Tulsa, Oklahoma and after the session was over he motored with his family to the coast. In a card received at The Plymouth Mail he tells of visiting Lester, Helen and Ralph VanDeCar, former Plymouth residents, who now reside in California.

Mary Kathryn Moon entertained a group of friends from Plymouth and Northville at a dinner party, Friday evening at her home. Her guests were Belva Barnes, Barbara Olsaver, Jacquelyn Schoof, Hal Horton, John Gattfield, Jack Selle and Scott Cole from Northville. After the dinner the guests enjoyed a treasure hunt. Miss Moon will enter Dennison college at Grandville, Ohio, this fall; Miss Olsaver leaves next week for Carleton college at Northfield, Minnesota, and Miss Barnes will enroll in the University of Michigan.

Ted Osborn, who has spent several weeks visiting his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Delton Osborn, in Monroe, and his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Miller in this city, returned to Hollywood, Monday to resume his work with the Warner Brothers studio. While in Monroe, Mr. Osborn's latest picture, in which he had a part, "Bill of Rights" was released and he appeared in person in the Monroe theatre. On Wednesday of last week Mrs. Miller and Mr. Osborn visited two of their sisters, Mrs. Charles Bunn in Freeport, and Mrs. Max Kayser in Caledonia, for the day.

Word has been received by Plymouth friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Towle, of River Rouge, formerly of Plymouth, that they were in an automobile accident near Grayling while on their way to the northern part of Michigan for the Labor day week-end. Their car skidded in the gravel, ran into a tree, turned over and went over an embankment. Mrs. Towle received a broken shoulder and the other occupants of the car, Mr. Towle, Vivian, and the former's friend, received minor injuries. Mrs. Towle has been in the Grayling hospital but is expected to return home this week.

Paul Thams, son of Dr. and Mrs. S. N. Thams, of this city, a June graduate, has been chosen to receive a four-year engineering course at the Edison Institute at Greenfield Village. This is the first time that a student has been selected from Plymouth, in fact, most of them, in the few years it has been established, have been chosen in or around Dearborn. They are selected by their scholarship and interest shown throughout their school days and requirements are much higher than for college. The young men attend school in the morning, then in the afternoon are busy in some department of the Ford factory. Paul is a very fortunate young man to receive this training.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Larzelere and son, Richard, of Detroit, and Mrs. R. E. Larzelere, of Webster, New York, were entertained at dinner Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Dykhouse.

Mrs. F. H. Coward, of Muskegon, spent Thursday visiting Plymouth friends while Mr. Coward made a business trip to Detroit.

Obituary

MILFORD G. LOCKWOOD
Milford George Lockwood, was born November 20, 1920, three miles east of Salem. He is the sixth son of Harry Byron and Lena M. Lockwood. For many years Milford, with his family, lived near Salem. It was during these years that he, with other members of his family, found peace and salvation in his Savior, Jesus Christ, and then united with the Second Congregational church of Salem, where he was a faithful member until his death. Last Wednesday morning, September 6 at 10:30 a.m. while helping a friend and neighbor drill a well, he met with a very sudden and untimely death by electrocution, near his present home. 38-515 Joy road, near Newburg. Milford was always a faithful and obedient son to his dear parents. His happy, cheerful disposition endeared him to his schoolmates, Sunday school classmates and friends, as well as his family, who will greatly miss him. He leaves to mourn his loss, the parents, his grandmother, Mrs. Anna Misch, eight brothers, Willard, Henry, Albert, Russell, Arthur, James, David and Frederic; two sisters, Marion and Pauline; one brother, Melvin, preceded him in death 11 years ago, June 10, 1928. There are many uncles, aunts, cousins and other relatives who will miss him. His death has been a great shock to all, but we must go with the old patriarch Job: The Lord hath given, the Lord hath taken, blessed be the name of the Lord. Our Father in Heaven doeth all things well and has called his precious sheep into his eternal fold and safe keeping. Funeral services were held at the residence on Joy road Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Milford's pastor, Rev. Lucia M. Smith, minister of the Salem Congregational church, officiated. Mrs. Julia Foreman and Mrs. Velma Scarross sang two beautiful hymns that were a great comfort to all. Interment was made in the South Lyon cemetery.

Plans to Re-Enlist in U. S. Navy

Donald Boyd, U.S.N., is visiting his mother, Mrs. Grace Boyd, South Main street, for a few weeks. His term of enlistment just ended in the United States navy, but he will re-enlist when his furlough is over, October 22.

Four years ago Donald signed up with the navy and was sent to Norfolk, Virginia, for a period of "dry training." But soon he was stationed on the U. S. S. San Francisco which plies the west coast of the country. The home port is Long Beach, California.

Boyd is a second class controlman. His particular duty is to aim and control the big guns. Much of this operation is done by instruments.

"One of the high points of my life in the U. S. navy was last spring during April and May," Boyd said. "I went on the navy's good-will tour to South America. The boats put in at all of the larger ports and it really was a great experience to see how Latin-Americans live."

The U. S. S. San Francisco is one of the navy's heavy cruisers. Stationed on it are 650 men and 50 officers. "We have our regular duties to do every day, but each night something different is usually done in the way of recreation. I read most of the time, and sometimes there are wrestling and boxing matches. Some of the men play cards and other games for relaxation." Boyd said.

Boyd plans to stay in Plymouth until his furlough is over. He says that it just happened that his term of enlistment is over or he wouldn't be given this leave in view of the European situation.

Must Pay Tax on Vending Machines

Continuing to plug loopholes in the collection of sales tax, the state board of tax administration has ordered all vending machines licensed. Walter F. Reddy, managing director of the board, announced today. The new ruling of the board requires that each individual machine must have a location license and the owners of them must make monthly reports of their sales.

Every vending machine owner must have the general sales tax license and pay the regular three per cent tax on the gross proceeds of his vending machine business.

Reddy explained that if an owner is already a licensed retail dealer he will not have to pay for the individual machine license but he must include machine sales in his regular returns to the state board of tax administration.

Engineers estimated recently that 36,000,000 acre feet of water, worth about $36,000,000, flow uncontrolled and unused each year from Texas watersheds into the Gulf of Mexico.

Something new, even for California, is this ostrich race in which the world's largest birds pull sulkies, something similar to those used in trotting horse races. Nothing was said about the supposed tendency of the ostrich to bury its head during a stubborn mood—perhaps allowances are made.

Team Looks Good in First Workout

After seeing his team in action Friday in a light scrimmage, Coach Anthony S. Matulis, new sports mentor at the high school, says that prospects for this year's team look much better than he expected.

Much of the action the last two weeks has been in the form of conditioning exercises, blocking and tackling practice, drill, signal practice and light scrimmage.

Only 10 lettermen are back from the 1938 squad. They are, Neil Curtis, George Petrozewski, Douglas Frough, John Baker, Bayliss Erdelyi, Bob Sessions, Shirley Dunham, Joe Scarpula, Jim Burchall and Jack Gettelson.

There are 65 aspirants to this year's team and each was given a chance to show his ability in the scrimmage Friday. Having never seen his men in action before, the coach expects to have numerous scrimmages during the next few weeks to determine which of the boys deserve to be left on the squad.

"The starting lineup will be from those who show up best in practice," Coach Matulis said. Each boy, from the lowliest freshman to the most dignified senior will be given a fair chance to make the team.

Virtually every position will have to be won through the player's own ability. The coach knows nothing about past records. At the present he desires only to make a winning team and develop material for next year.

"It looks now as though we will have a good starting team, but reserves will have to be taken from those fellows who have played very little football," Matulis said.

Much action can be expected to be seen around the football camp as the Rocks' first game is only seven days off. They open the schedule away from home with Redford, September 22. The first home game is with Birmingham, September 29. October 6, the Rocks will play at home when they meet the Ecorse team; Dearborn away, October 13; Wayne, away, October 21. Agdin at home, the Rocks are scheduled to play Ypsilanti October 27; Clawson, November 3 and Northville, November 10.

Sky Gliders Idle Over Week-End

(By Skysailor)

Activities at Triangle Gliderport were at a low ebb during this last week-end as far as flying was concerned. Considerable rainfall on Saturday discouraged most pilots and very few put in an appearance.

Sunday about 30 pilots came out but were disappointed to find that the wind velocity was excessive. It has been found that, although gliders are able to fly in winds up to 35 miles per hour, the accident rate becomes appreciable and many pilots are likely to land outside the airport.

The best of a poor situation was brought out as all hands became busily engaged in making long needed repairs. More work was accomplished than during the preceding six months. Hangar doors were repaired, tracks above the doors were straightened and fastened on again. Roofs were patched. Motors in the towing equipment were tuned up or overhauled.

The soaring season is drawing to a close. Thermal activity will gradually become less as winter approaches. However, training of glider pilots will continue all through the winter. Also, occasionally a soaring flight may be made on a cold front. There is much to be learned about flying a glider aloft and go cross-country safely.

Several dealers in the area have expressed the belief," said Agricultural Commissioner Elmer A. Beamer, chairman of the board, "that unfair trade practices, such as the giving of rebates, have a direct bearing upon the prices that may be paid to producers. These practices, dealers declare, should be brought to the attention of the board before they tend to break down the existing price structure and place many dealers in the position of being unable to pay the producers."

Information pertaining to these examinations may be obtained from Mrs. Beatrice Schultz, local secretary of the U. S. Civil Service commission, and assistant mistress at the post office.

Following the plan employed by certain cotton mills in the South, Chicago factory owners are painting their huge skylights blue or white to reduce the inside temperature of the building and also reduce reflected glare on machinery. This method may also be practiced on attic windows or skylights with effective results.

Milk Hearing on September 18

The Michigan Milk Marketing Board will conduct a hearing, September 18 in regard to the declaration of the existence of an emergency in the Detroit Milk Marketing Area. Such a declaration, if found necessary by the board, would result in the establishment of retail prices for milk in Detroit. The announcement of the hearing followed protests by dealers in the area that price of $2.08 per hundredweight for milk delivered in Detroit by producers would result in failure to pay producers because of losses sustained through the price and unfair trade practices.

"Several dealers in the area have expressed the belief," said Agricultural Commissioner Elmer A. Beamer, chairman of the board, "that unfair trade practices, such as the giving of rebates, have a direct bearing upon the prices that may be paid to producers. These practices, dealers declare, should be brought to the attention of the board before they tend to break down the existing price structure and place many dealers in the position of being unable to pay the producers."

Beamer said that the dealers would be expected to furnish concrete evidence to support their contentions that the present price of $2.08 per hundredweight would cause dealers to operate at a loss. The board chairman declared that the board expected to receive considerable evidence and facts in regard to the cost of milk to distributors and the cost of processing and distributing milk in Detroit.

Nearly 300 Tax Collectors in City Take Your Dollars

Every Clerk Helps Get Some of the Hidden Taxes

Plymouth has an estimated 278 "unofficial tax collectors" who indirectly are helping local, state and national governments harvest their annual revenues, the National Consumers Tax commission declared today.

The unofficial, and generally unwilling, "tax collectors," according to the NCTC are the proprietors and employees in the 78 local retail stores.

"There are 8,905 official tax levying and spending governmental agencies in Michigan," said Mrs. Melville Muckleston, president of the nation-wide women's organization. "But every clerk behind a store counter is actually a tax collector, too."

"In every sale, these clerks collect fractions of hidden taxes that have increased the cost of production and distribution of the article purchased. These taxes, of necessity, must be passed on to the consumer as a part of the price. A major share of all local, state and national taxes now are hidden to the consumers who pay them this way."

"The store clerks, of course, don't realize it any more than the customer does, but every ring of the cash register represents not only a sale but a tax payment."

The NCTC now has study groups in approximately 5,300 communities in 44 states in its educational campaign to expose "unnecessary consumer-penalizing taxes," Mrs. Muckleston said. The crusade in this state is led by Miss Leatha C. McGee, of Detroit, state director.

Prepare to Aid Tubercular

Trustees of a fund that is built penny by penny from the sale of Christmas seals, the executive committee of the Michigan Tuberculosis association met in Lansing last Saturday to consider the possible effects of war upon tuberculosis work and on the sale of the 1939 seal.

Dr. John Alexander, Ann Arbor, president of the association, called the meeting at which were also Dr. Bruce Douglas, Detroit; Dr. George A. Sherman, Pontiac; Curtis Wylie, Grand Rapids; Harry Bennett and F. E. Mills, Lansing.

War has been second only to ignorance as a cause for the spread of tuberculosis, Theo. J. Werle, executive secretary, reminded the committee after reviewing active coverage of an eight point program carried on by the association in 1938. The most urgent need, he declared, is the findings of workers in all fields, was to attack the problem of help for patients leaving sanatoriums, Mr. Werle stated.

Cured, but in few cases restored to their former working strength, many discharged patients are unable to make adjustments and take up life again in communities unprepared to play any part in the after care of the tubercular, Mr. Werle said, and suggested that in making plans for 1940 program for the relief of this class be considered. He prophesied that there would be the usual annual increase in public demand for the association's services.

Though it may become necessary to alter tuberculosis programs because of world unrest, the valuable research on the disease conducted by the National Tuberculosis association would be continued, Dr. Alexander declared. Done under the direction of a leading scientist in the tuberculosis field, Dr. William Charles White of Washington, D. C., this work is also supported by the Christmas seal fund.

While at the convention, Mr. Kimbrough attended classes in which instruction was given in modern methods of lighting homes, business establishments and factories. Much time was devoted in studying types of new fluorescent lighting.

The convention was exclusively a General Electric corporation affair. The complete appliance line was shown to these men from this part of the country who are connected with the corporation.

Mr. Kimbrough is the Plymouth dealer for the General Electric line. He also specializes in electric motor re-winding and servicing all makes of electrical appliances.

2. The price structure affecting producers, dealers and consumers in the Detroit Milk Marketing Area.

No More Special License Plates

The Plymouth branch office of the Secretary of State has been notified that on and after March 1, 1940, all trick license plates will be taboo in Michigan. The familiar designations such as PDQ, BOO, IOU and OUT 3, will be missing from the highways.

The 1940 automobile license plates will be uniform for every car, no matter by whom owned. The plates will have two letters and four numbers, the letters designating the county in which the plate is issued so that law enforcement officers can tell at a glance where the car is registered.

"There will be no more of the confusion that resulted from the practice of issuing a huge variety of license plates which placed an almost insurmountable impediment in the way of police agencies in their effort to enforce the law and track down criminals," said Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly.

When Mr. Kelly took office last January he found in existence an astonishing array or variety of confusing license plate numbers. Hundreds of requests for similar numbers were on file, but these were promptly denied. It was of course impossible for Mr. Kelly to recall the hundreds of "special" numbers which had been issued formerly.

Uniformity of 1940 license plates will make possible a key filing system from which information can be given speedily to officers concerning any car that is sought, a very important matter in police work.

It is reported that a saving of approximately $50,000 will result in the discontinuance of special plates. The saving will be in the cost of the plates and in the administrative and accounting costs at Lansing.

Decision to abandon the practice of issuing this type of plate was reached after a conference by Mr. Kelly with representatives of the Michigan Sheriffs association, the Michigan State police and Detroit police.

Plates for 1940 will show black letters and numerals on a silver aluminum background.

All types of dancing for beginners and advanced classes will be taught. Private lessons may also be had.

Rotarians Guests at Ayers Farm

When ladies of Rotary left the Harry Ayers fruit farm out on East Ann Arbor Trail last Friday evening, they carried with them baskets packed with some of the finest assorted fruits grown in Michigan. Peaches, bigger and better than any ever grown in California, plums, pears, grapes—just about everything produced on a fruit farm, were tucked away in the baskets.

The event last Friday evening was the annual visit of Plymouth Rotarians and their ladies to the Ayers fruit farm. Dinner was served in an attractive outdoor setting created by the placing of freshly cut corn stalks around the tennis court.

President Floyd Eckles introduced Harold Curtis, who had charge of the program. Through his efforts the "Tophatters' Orchestra" of Plymouth provided a pleasing musical program during the serving of the dinner. Then followed another musical program sponsored by the Safety Boys of the Dearborn police department under the direction of Lieutenant John Bartowiak. The songs and orchestra numbers were interspersed with brief safety talks by the Dearborn police officer.

Following the program a number of the visitors enjoyed old time dancing.

Ypsilanti Man Killed in Crash Near Plymouth

Harold D. Wolfgang, of Ypsilanti, died Saturday in Beyer Memorial hospital at Ypsilanti from internal injuries received when a towed car in which he was riding collided at Canton Center and Ford roads, six miles south of Plymouth, with one driven by a Detroit, Harold Jasch.

John Burtis of Ypsilanti, driver of the car which was towing Wolfgang's and stepfather of the dead man, told state police he failed to see the Jasch car.

SPRING-FALL GAS BURNER

SOLVES YOUR BETWEEN-SEASON HEATING PROBLEM

Try letting that furnace shovel alone for two months. You know what a job it is to regulate your furnace during the fall... cold in the morning, too hot the rest of the day... warm weather for a while; then rain and chills for days.

That means wasted fuel; useless work. Cut it out. Here's relief... try our new Spring-Fall Gas Burner. Solves your between-season heating problem. Users shut. Automatic—uses gas only when needed, then shuts off. Thermostat controls it. Change back to coal, coke or stoker any time weather demands.

TRIAL PLAN FOR YOU

Try the burner—prove its helpful and healthful benefits right at home. You don't have to buy it now to do this. We will install it for a trial during September and October... April and May. You keep it right there, ready to use, during any of the months in between. There is an installation payment of $1.50 a month only for these four particular months. Then if you keep the burner, this $6.00 will be credited as your down payment and the purchase may be completed on regular easy terms.

The burner fits right in your furnace door and goes to work. Can be instantly placed... or removed and hung inside the furnace when not in use. No changes needed in furnace.

Thermostat controls heat at any desired level. Patented burner design uses "a little gas for a lot of heat"... more efficient than solid fuel. You'll be pleased with the economy of this plan compared with what you pay for solid fuel to cover the entire season. Installations now in use prove it. Let us give you the figures. (Priced at only $66.50 cash installed complete with thermostat.)

"Matter" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 17. The golden text (Psalm 73:26) is "My flesh and my heart falseth; but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever." Among the Bible citations is this passage (1 John 2:15, 17): "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof, but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 356): "So-called material existence affords no evidence of spiritual existence and immortality. Sin, sickness and death do not prove man's entity of immortality."

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST church. Our Sabbath school services begin at 2:00 p. m. every Saturday afternoon. They are held in the Jewell and Blagk building on the Ann Arbor trail. The preaching service begins at 8:15 p. m. Prayer meetings are held every Wednesday evening, 7:30 in the Jewell and Blagk building. Young People's Missionary volunteer meetings are held every Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Heiler, corner Main and Brush streets.

Three Favorite Recipes
Hominy and Cheese
As a means of utilizing leftovers, try baking hominy flakes with cheese. Leftover hominy grits from breakfast, placed in a buttered baking-dish and alternating with layers of cheese, are very delicious. Over the top pour 1/2 cupful of rich milk or cream and bake until brown.

Tomato Cups
Select solid, round tomatoes and dip in boiling water. Drain, and strip off the skin. Set on ice to chill thoroughly. Chop hard-cooked eggs rather coarse, and mix lightly with mayonnaise dressing. When ready to serve, hollow out the center of the tomatoes and fill with the chopped egg and mayonnaise. Serve each tomato in a lettuce leaf, topped with a spoonful of mayonnaise and sprinkled with a little paprika.

Lemon Tapioca Pudding
3 tablespoonfuls minute tapioca
3 tablespoonfuls of sugar
1/2 tablespoonful of salt
2 cupfuls of milk
1/2 cupful of water
1 egg
1 teaspoonful lemon extract or 1 tablespoonful lemon juice
Mix the dry ingredients, add the milk, water, and the beaten egg yolk. Cook over a direct fire, stirring constantly, until the mixture thickens. Remove; add a lump of butter the size of a walnut. Let cool; then add the lemon extract or lemon juice and the well-beaten white of the egg. Mix and serve with a maraschino cherry on the top.
Delicious Pork Chops
With Apples
Select loin chops and have them boned by the butcher. Form them into a circle, holding them in place with toothpicks. Slice tops from each apple and hollow out to remove the core. Season the chops and place an apple on each one. Fill the centers of the apples with brown sugar and place a small lump of butter on the top. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) for 1 hour. These are delicious and very different.

Reception Salad
1 package lemon fruit gelatine
Juice from 1 large can of crushed pineapple
Crushed pineapple from the can
2 Philadelphia cream-cheeses, mashed with 1 small can of pineapple
1/2 cupful of celery, cut fine
2-3 cupful of walnut meats, cut fine
1/2 pint of whipping cream
1 pinch of salt
Mix the lemon fruit gelatine with the pineapple juice, which has been boiled. When it begins to set, add the other ingredients in the order given, and allow the mixture to stand, in individual molds until set. If for a reception, and not to be served individually, mold in any attractive, fancy mold. Serve on crisp lettuce.

THE PRICE OF LIBERTY.

As the world seems just now to be emerging into another conflict that may involve all the great nations in battle, it will be interesting to review briefly the cost in human lives, misery and finances the wars in which the United States has taken part since its beginning. Congressman George A. Dondero has sent out some interesting data to newspapers that he has secured, which shows the price that has been paid. It follows:

War for American Independence:
Number of soldiers mobilized	395,000
Killed in battle	7,000
All other deaths*	70,000
Total deaths	77,000
Wounded	6,000
War of 1812:
Number of soldiers mobilized	527,650
Killed in battle	7,377
All other deaths*	28,123
Total deaths	30,000
Wounded	4,000
Indian Wars, 1790 to 1898:
Number of soldiers mobilized	130,000
Killed in battle	unknown
All other deaths*	unknown
Total deaths	unknown
Wounded	unknown
War with Mexico:
Number of soldiers mobilized	107,631

All other deaths*	12,896
Total deaths	14,445
Wounded	3,393
Civil War (Union Army):

All other deaths*	249,458
Total deaths	359,528
Wounded	275,175
Spanish-American War:
Number of soldiers mobilized	280,564
Killed in battle	700
All other deaths*	5,772

World War:
Number of soldiers mobilized	4,791,172
Killed in action	35,931
Died of wounds	14,785
Died from other causes	122,558
Total deaths	205,690
Wounded	2,056,990

*All other deaths, includes deaths due to wounds, disease and accidents.

The pension cost of the War for American Independence was finally paid in full in 1906 when the last widow of a Revolutionary soldier died. The last soldier of the War of 1812 died in 1905 and one beneficiary of a soldier of that war is now drawing pension payments.

Pensions for veterans of our Indian wars and their dependents, 1812 to 1938, have already cost nearly 77 million dollars. Pensions for veterans of the war with Mexico and dependents, 1848 to 1938, have exceeded 81 million dollars.

Pension costs for soldiers of the Union Army in the Civil War and their dependents, to June 30, 1938, amounted to nearly eight billion dollars. As of June 30, 1938, there were 5,048 veteran-beneficiaries and 67,142 dependent-beneficiaries receiving pensions chargeable to the Civil War.

Pension costs for soldiers of the Spanish-American War and their dependents have already amounted more than one billion dollars. As of June 30, 1938, there were 169,700 veteran-beneficiaries and 81,471 dependent-beneficiaries receiving pensions on account of that war.

World War veterans and their dependents have received, to June 30, 1938, pensions exceeding three and one-half billions.

Since 1783 to 1938, inclusive, the United States has paid $13,128,000,000 to veterans and dependents of all wars. This aggregate figure and the pension total given for veterans and dependents of the World War do not include $3,732,000,000 paid in adjusted compensation nor $244,191,900 for the $60 discharge bonus. In addition to the adjusted compensation granted by the federal government to veterans of the World War, 26 states, including Michigan, enacted bonus legislation.

The foregoing figures are based upon statistics from the war department, the veterans' administration, and other official sources. In some instances, particularly with reference to the number of wounded, the figures represent reliable estimates of the war department.

THE STATE PAYROLL.

There is no question but what there are too many people on the state payroll. There has been for the last six or eight years. Each administration that has gone into power has proclaimed long and loud about its intentions to cut down the number of state employes, but instead of making the promised reductions, the number of employes has increased.

Metropolitan newspapers have much to say about the growing numbers on state payrolls, and rightly they should.

But it has remained for alert Joseph Creighton of The State Journal of Lansing, outstanding Michigan political writer, to dig up the fact that the number of employes on the federal payroll in Michigan has, in the brief space of five years, jumped to a total far greater than the number employed by all the state departments, institutions and commissions combined. It might be mentioned that Mr. Creighton is the newspaper writer who last winter dug up the facts about the $100,000 rake-off that Frank McKay et al made on the Blue Water bridge project at Port Huron.

His interesting article, which in itself is a good editorial, follows in full:

"If this could have been told over a bridge table or over the back fence, it would make a good guessing question: How many Michigan people work for the federal government?"

"The answer is startling. On January 1, 1939, the official total stood at 20,064, and when you consider that in general each job means that a family is being favored politically, you have something to consider when you start calculating election returns. You also, incidentally, have something to consider when you start adding up the cost of government.

"It can be conservatively estimated that the total number of Michiganders on the federal payroll has jumped a good 500 since January 1, for the exodus from the state house in the direction of Democratically-controlled Washington, since Republicans moved into Lansing, includes some fairly prominent people who can be recalled easily. How many run-of-the-mill employes have been absorbed by Washington is anybody's guess.

"The information is timely, in view of the speech Saturday of James F. Thomson, Republican state chairman, who called attention to the fact that the Democratically controlled state highway department had shown a conspicuous payroll bulge as the result of its understandable efforts to take care of as many as possible jobless Democrats left over from the state-house turn-over. It appears that Washington officials are also willing to help.

"The total of approximately 20,500 Michigan voters on the federal payroll, does not, it should be carefully borne in mind, include the vast WPA payroll, which is undergoing a reduction as the result of congressional action at the recent adjourned session.

"Michigan's WPA payroll for executive officials and office staffs alone—leaving out all others, who total thousands—includes approximately 600 persons. Their total annual payroll comes to $1,143,820, and their salaries run from those of $1,200 a year clerks, to the altogether imposing figure of $7,000 paid Abner Larned, state WPA administrator.

"But the thing which really carries the punch for the unsuspecting bystander, is the realization that the so-called 'regular' federal government employes who are Michigan people, far exceed the total number of people who work for the state. It would be difficult to argue the contention that the vast majority of federal employes are Democrats, despite the recent executive order of President Roosevelt that nearly all but cabinet officers were to be 'frozen in' under federal civil service, for which no competitive or qualifying examinations were given as the result of the Roosevelt order.

"Congressman Albert J. Engel (R) of Lake City, former state senator, had the figures on federal payrolls for Michigan compiled for him, as the week closed. On January 1, the official figures showed 19,526 full-time employes, and 438 part-time employes, making a total of 20,064.

"As to increases since then, one has only to think of a handful of former Governor Frank Murphy's close associates who migrated with him to Washington after his defeat for re-election, to take jobs he obtained for them shortly after taking office as attorney general.

"William Brownrigg, former state civil service czar who used to sit around thinking up questions about the egg-laying habits of peacocks joined the heira for Washington early in January, as Murphy's civil service exponent in the department of justice, and hopped up in the news just the other day for asking, characteristically enough, for $53,000 more for civil service. He always wanted more money than he had, even in the palmy days of 1937 when he had $340,000 to run Michigan's civil service law—into the ground.

Harry Glass, former Grand Rapids Democratic legislator, whose imitations of President Roosevelt giving a radio speech have convulsed hundreds, has landed in the department of commerce at Washington, in a better job than he ever had in Michigan.

"Joel R. Moore, former Jackson prison warden and Hilmer Gillette, former director of state corrections commission have joined that happy haven on the Potomac. So has Warren Huff, Brownrigg's temporary successor. Huff's successor, Kenneth C. Pensabaker, recently resigned to break precedent by going to Minnesota, to take another civil service job.

"Murphy offered a job to Norman H. Hill, his executive secretary, but 'Norm' thanked his boss with a grateful smile and took one that should last more than two years with the Flint Chamber of Commerce. But Edward G. Kemp, Murphy's legal advisor for years, stayed in the shadows of his mentor and only the other day became assistant attorney general by appointment from the former governor. The list of some 20,500 Michiganders on the federal payroll even includes 'Lightning,' the colored chauffeur who has been making left turns against red lights while piloting Murphy for nearly 20 years.

"Familiar names stand out here and there on the list of approximately 800 'personal services' officials of the WPA, headed by Larned. And they are doing right well at that. Charles S. Weber, former secretary of the state administrative board who used to grow weary 'stiff-arming' those who approached him bearing gifts, then getting out press statements about his having received telegrams from agents is director of district No. 2, WPA, at his home city, Grand Rapids, and drawing down $4,200 a year for it.

"Herman M. Pekarsky, former director of the old age assistance bureau here, appears in the employment division of WPA in Grand Rapids, at $3,300 a year. A note from the dim past, when William A. Comstock was Democratic governor (not, he emphasizes, a new dealer), is recalled when one sees the name of Mrs. Agnes M. Little, who is a secretary in the operations division at Lansing, at $1,600 a year. Mrs. Little was Comstock's personal secretary back in 1933-34.

"But the outstanding development of the week was the disclosure that while the state payroll is about 18,000, including the governor, the federal government has more than 20,000 Michigan voters on its payroll, not counting, it should be added, a former governor, the red-headed Frank Murphy."

SEEING THINGS

Speaking of the Governor, that Detroit chap who wanted to start a recall petition because Mr. Dickinson publicly uttered his views on liquor, is all wet. Anybody who would seek to recall the Governor on such an issue has little sense of humor at all. After all, cocktail lounges really don't provide restful slumber; and women sitting on high-legged stools at a bar seldom give the passersby a run for their money, even though they may unwittingly display sheer finery. —George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

WAKING UP AT LAST

While the Democrats are trying to lead the public to believe that the Dickinson administration is ruining the Republican party, surveys of the entire state do not confirm this view. When the legislature meets in special session next January the majority members will do more than give consideration to welfare and pension problems. A sane program is being prepared that will mean a lot in the 1940 campaign and this will include giving the voters and taxpayers the inside dope on the Murphy Deficits and show how they will cripple the state for the next five years. At the present time the sentiment appears to be growing in favor of a bond issue to take care of these debts and spread the same over a decade. Governor Dickinson is having a study made of the Boards and Commissions created in recent years to see how many of them can be abolished without any injury to the public. —Milton Carmichael in The Detroit Courier.

YES, WHY?

A committee of industrial experts appointed to investigate the state's purchasing department has found that the practices in vogue are unethical and wasteful. Why, oh why can't a public official, elected or appointed, conduct public business as he would conduct his own? Why can't old-fashioned honesty and business practices come back into public affairs? Why this chiseling, favoritism and political play up? It's discouraging. It's disgusting and damnable. —Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

THE THREE WAYNE VOTES

In a syndicate article under The National Observer heading last week, it was set forth that Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg labored heroically to lose himself the Republican delegation from Michigan to the national convention in 1940 with his untimely attack on the 'sp-lending' bill. The article went on to relate that while the senator was issuing a scorching blast against the bill that Mayor Richard Reading and other Detroit city officials were button-holing other senators urging that the bill be passed so Detroit could grab $40,500,000 for a subway. Mayor Reading was quoted as saying that "Vandenberg will be

The difference in viewpoint between Michigan's senior senator and the mayor of Detroit is that Senator Vandenberg endeavors to do what is best for the entire nation while Mayor Reading's primary interest in Washington last week was to grab off a chunk of cash for Detroit. The Mayor was thinking of the next election while the senator was thinking of the next generation.

Of course, even if Mayor Reading made the remark about the three votes, he didn't mean it. The mayor of Detroit knows that his city could have had a subway years ago had the people of Detroit wanted one. The subway issue has been up in Detroit on numerous occasions and there have always been as many or more in opposition as there were who favored it. Detroit people would not for a minute consider using their own money for a subway, although the mayor and a lot of other Detroit folks would probably favor using federal money for a subway, an air fleet or a stratosphere balloon. In fact, that's the trouble with federal money; it spends too easily.

Mayor Reading was not only willing, but anxious to saddle the nation with another huge debt so that he could point with pride at a hole in the ground in Detroit. Senator Vandenberg was willing to vote according to his convictions regardless of whether he received three or 300,000 votes in Detroit. Detroit officials would sell their support to the "sp-lending" bill for the promise of a subway. The senator stood by his convictions regardless of the threats made by Detroit officials.

Naughty children when they are denied candy, often fly into tantrums, weep, wail, throw themselves on the floor and kick their feet. The wise parent does not give in to their clamor. Usually as the children grow older they realize that their parents did right in denying the requests for candy every time they were made. Surely there must be more than three people in Detroit who will realize before 1940 that Senator Vandenberg acted as a wise parent should act. —Nelson Brown in the Ingham County News.

GETTING HIS NAME IN THE PAPERS

All the governors from Pingree to Fitzgerald—combined—have not had the publicity given to Governor Dickinson in the last thirty days. Pingree and his potato patches, plus his far-well Bacchanalian dinner served in the House of Representatives hall was big news, but in those days there were no news collecting agencies, feature writers, staff photographers and that sort of thing. Governor Murphy was national copy during the General Motors strike but for sustained follow-up—day in and day out—Dickinson's blast against "high life" rings the bell. Of course the setting—the governors' conference—explains the news value. Suffice to say the governor's clipping bureau has had a near collapse trying to keep up with the material. —Muri H. DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.
