

All in Readiness for Hallowe'en Celebration Tuesday Evening

Complete Details Are Announced by Committees

All set and ready to go! That's the way the committees in charge of the annual Hallowe'en party for the children of Plymouth next Tuesday evening.

Now, kids, get on your toes and see what you can do to get one of those hundreds of prizes that are waiting to be awarded to the lucky ones who have made up a funny costume, a spooky outfit or a goblin get-up.

Sure, the bands will be on hand to lead the ghostly parade which starts from Liberty and Starkweather promptly at 6:45 p.m. Don't forget, children, the time and the place. This parade is for children from nine years up, so get ready and be in your place at 6:15.

Remember—nine years and over to be in the parade.

The line of march will be from the starting point down Starkweather to Main and from Main and Starkweather to Penniman avenue where tickets for the lucky boys and girls. From Penniman and Main the parade will proceed to the Daisy parking lot by way of Union street where entertainments will be provided and prizes, and refreshments given out.

Entertainment will be a movie, probably a Hardy Family picture and other features, perhaps even a real live ghost magician.

Parents of Plymouth please note this particularly. Children under nine years will not be expected in the parade.

These children should be sent or taken to the Central grade school at 6:15 where Miss Ruth Hadley will be in charge.

Miss Hadley says that the order of the evening will be a movie, tap dancing, games, refreshments and prizes for the different kinds of costumes. The time will be allotted insofar as possible to allow these younger children to be here at 9:00 p.m.

So it's all set and ready in Plymouth for all the bold bad pirates, witches, goblins, crazy kites, Ferdinands the Bull, Mickey Mouses, fairies, Alices in Wonderland, Cinderellas, cowboys, knights of King Arthur and little pink queens that care to invade the town.

And now for a last word to the grown-ups. This celebration is a community affair designed to safeguard your children, eliminate destructive activity such as has been prevalent in former years and to provide a yearly highlight in the children's lives.

You can help in this activity by contributing a little to defray the necessary expenses.

The ways and means committee, with Walter Harms as chairman, Roy Fisher, Carl Shear and Russell Daane as members, are soliciting these necessary funds.

These men would appreciate your help in raising the funds to stage this children's celebration.

Brings Down Large Hawk

While hunting for pheasants over in the Washington quarter near the Joy road Wednesday afternoon, Edwin Austin, who lives on LaSalle road just off the Five Mile road, was one of the biggest chicken hawks ever seen in this locality.

He noticed the hawk circling over the edge of the woods where he was hunting. As it flew into range of his gun, he fired and the hawk fell.

His wing spread measured four feet and three inches. He brought the hawk home with him and plans to give it to a friend who would like to have it mounted.

More Entries for "County Fair" Being Held in The Mail Display Window

With a flood of some of the biggest quince that ever grew on a Michigan bush, russet apples and a Colchicum, a plant that thrives without moisture or earth in which to grow, that came to the "county fair" being held in the display window of The Plymouth Mail office during the last few days, there was also a half dozen perfect ears of hybrid corn, grown by the Waldecker brothers, at 48625 Warren road, R. F. D. No. 1.

It was the corn that held the center of interest for a few days, because of the fact that three ears brought to The Mail office some weeks ago by Edward C. Hough, seemed to go without challenge for size and perfection of shape, until...

The corn grew by the Waldeckers, it is stated, were only average ears from the big field of corn grown last summer out in Canton township. They easily take first place for size.

The Golden Russet apples were produced by M. H. Longden, 1332 Sheridan road. This variety of apples, popular in the years gone by, has become somewhat rare on the apple market of today. He places the apples in a pit for use in late winter or early spring, when they are at their best.

No Objections at Hearing Monday Night

There were no objections to the newly approved zoning ordinance and map when it was before the public and city commission for public hearing and first and second reading Monday night.

The ordinance will be read in full at the city commission meeting, Monday evening, November 6, for the third and final reading. Three weeks following, the ordinance and map will go into effect as a result of nearly three years consideration by the planning and city commissions.

The ordinance has been under consideration for more than two years and commissioners and City Manager C. H. Elliott feel sure that all possible changes and improvements have been made for the good of every property owner involved.

Week after week for a long period of time there has been a general discussion of the problem before the city commissioners. The planning commission finally heard all requests from Plymouth property owners and submitted...

Kiwanians Hear Plymouth Flyer

Cass S. Hough, vice president and secretary of the Daisy Manufacturing company and Michigan governor of the Sportsmen Pilot association, appeared before the Kiwanis club Tuesday and addressed the organization on a subject concerning modern aircraft.

Mr. Hough gave comparative figures on air fleets of countries in the World War of 25 years ago and that of today. He also compared development of aircraft in the world at the present time. Travel by air was promoted by the World War and it brought the airplane into use as an important factor of war, he said.

He noticed the hawk circling over the edge of the woods where he was hunting. As it flew into range of his gun, he fired and the hawk fell.

His wing spread measured four feet and three inches. He brought the hawk home with him and plans to give it to a friend who would like to have it mounted.

Purity Market Celebrates 12th Year in Plymouth

Market Has Never Missed an Issue of The Plymouth Mail

The Purity Market will celebrate its 12th anniversary of doing business in Plymouth on Saturday of this week. Dave Galin, proprietor of the market has arranged a big birthday sale starting celebration on Friday and Saturday and he invites everyone in this locality to take advantage of his birthday specials which he offers elsewhere in this issue of The Mail.

Since establishing a business in Plymouth, Mr. Galin has never missed an issue of The Plymouth Mail without having an advertisement with week-end specials for the thrifty buyers of this community. He attributes much of the remarkable and steady growth of his big meat and grocery business to the direct results produced by his newspaper advertising.

Mr. Galin originally opened his market in the old Plymouth Hotel building on the corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Main street. When the old hotel building was torn down he purchased the former Plymouth Mail building next to the Penniman-Allen theatre and has constantly modernized and enlarged it until today he has one of the finest markets in Michigan. Three years ago he added a complete grocery line and he has many attractive anniversary specials in this department also listed in his birthday advertisement.

Mr. Galin takes a great interest in all community affairs and liberally supports everything which is for the betterment of Plymouth. He is also active in Rotary club work.

There are over 40 items mentioned in the Purity Market anniversary advertisement which are listed below the regular low prices that ordinarily prevail. Besides these 40 items, dozens and dozens of other bargains will prevail during this special anniversary sale, according to Mr. Galin.

Fix Tuesday, November 7 as Date of Parents' Night at Schools

Announcement was made this week by Principal Claude J. Dykhouse that the annual Parents' night at the Plymouth schools will be held Tuesday evening, November 7.

The schools will be open to the public from 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock for the purpose of showing parents and interested Plymouth residents just what goes on behind the school doors when classes are in session.

As it is now planned, the regular afternoon classes will be held for two hours Parents' night. Students will be required to prepare for the night classes the same as though it were a regular school day. Extra chairs will be in each classroom so that visitors may "sit-in" on the classes.

Guides will be supplied by the Student Council who will take groups through the school buildings including the recently completed Wood addition which houses the commercial department of the high school.

At the end of the session, parents will be given an opportunity to discuss their children's problems with the teachers.

Parents' night is the featured part of American Education week which is being observed this year, November 5-11. The Plymouth public schools have taken part in observance of the week ever since it has been in existence.

Full particulars as to time and classes will be published in next week's Plymouth Mail.

Put Out Fire in Burning Pile of Coal by Moving Coal With Steam Shovel

There's more than one way to put out a fire, if it has to be put out. When a 3,000-ton pile of coal over back of the Eckles coal yard caught fire early Monday from spontaneous combustion, all the water that flowed from several fire hoses didn't check the blaze. So the Powers just moved in a big steam shovel over to the coal pile and began to move the coal away from the fire. When all the unburned coal had been moved from the mass of burning coal at the bottom of the pile, the fire just went out and the steam shovel was moved back to a ditch digging job. Several tons of coal had burned before the fire was put out by moving away the unburned coal.

Plymouth's Open House at Telephone Office Breaks All Attendance Records for State in Cities of This Size

Over 2200 See How Phone System Works

Plymouth's three-day telephone Open House which closed Saturday night passed into history with a new per capita attendance record for such events held by the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

J. R. MacLachlan, manager for the company here, said today that 2,212 persons visited the company's building during the Open House. He pointed out that this represented 150 per cent of the 1,473 telephones in Plymouth for the highest percentage attendance record in any Michigan community where telephone open house programs have been held.

From the time the Open House got under way at 9:00 o'clock last Thursday morning until its close at 9:00 o'clock Saturday night, there was a steady stream of visitors at the telephone building. They came in all ages, many of them being from the schools of the community.

Official Plymouth was well represented among the visitors. Mayor L. A. Wilson and the entire city commission attended as did Vaughan Smith, chief of police. George A. Smith, superintendent of schools, also was present. The Plymouth Rotary club attended in a body.

"The results of the Open House were highly gratifying," MacLachlan said. "We are particularly pleased that a new attendance record for our open house program was established here. Our thanks are due the people of Plymouth for their interest in the affairs of our company and its employees."

At the building, visitors viewed all the intricate equipment and apparatus that make possible the telephone service. Plymouth's 1,473 local and long distance calls a year.

They also viewed and found very interesting a number of special exhibits, including the "Voice Mirror" which permits one to hear one's own voice just as it sounds over the telephone; a oscillograph which permits a person to see his or her own voice as recorded in light waves; a special array of foreign telephone (Continued on page 2)

Milk Fund Ball at Masonic Temple November 3

Ticket sales for the second annual Milk Fund ball indicate that one of the largest crowds that has ever congregated in Plymouth for an evening of dancing will be on hand Friday night, November 3. The proceeds of the party will provide milk for needy school children this year.

The dance will be held at the Masonic Temple. Tickets are now on sale for $1.00 per couple and may be secured from any member of either the Central or Starkweather P.T.A. Each group has its own tickets and all the money made from the sales will be used in their own organization to purchase milk. Ticket sales made at the door and contributions will be divided equally between the two groups.

The ball is under the direction of the two organizations' presidents, Mrs. Edwin Campbell and Mrs. Jess Hines.

Although the committee in charge of the Lincoln day charity dinner turned over a considerable amount, the last year's dance did not net enough to carry on the program for the entire year and it is the expressed hope of both the P.T.A. groups that Plymouth residents will cooperate to help them raise funds for this needy work.

The committee in charge of raising the funds will make personal calls to each of Plymouth's industrial plants in an attempt to interest everyone in their endeavor.

People interested in contributing to the fund may contact either of the P.T.A. presidents.

Set Fire to Four Park Buildings

Officers Amazed at Destruction of Free Recreational Facilities

Vandals early Monday morning struck another blow at the free recreational facilities provided by the taxpayers of Wayne county for working men, their wives and children.

They broke up picnic tables, piled them high in two of the parkway comfort stations and set fire to the dry wood. Then they hurried to two refreshment stands where boys and girls during the summer months can buy ice cream cones, lollipops and pop corn, threw gasoline on the structures, set fire to them and then sneaked away while flames were destroying these frame structures.

Police are trying to find out what sort of a man or men would deliberately destroy the outdoor playground property used almost exclusively by factory workers and their families, a free playground maintained entirely by tax money.

Plymouth is also vitally interested in who committed the destruction of these playground facilities because Plymouth turned over to the Wayne county parkway system the Plymouth-Riverside park, where much of the destruction was done. The citizens of Plymouth made the transfer a number of years ago because it was their desire to have an important part in the establishment of a playground where not only the people of this city and part of Wayne county but the people from the great city of Detroit could come during the summer months and enjoy a day's outing now and then under the big spreading shade trees and along the banks of the Rouge river.

Although there were four park buildings damaged or destroyed by fire, the fires followed closely the destruction of new plumbing work two weeks ago (Continued on page 2)

James Ford Dies at Age of 77

Funeral to Be Held Saturday

James Ford, age 77 years, prominent resident of Plymouth for nearly a quarter of a century and life-long resident of Wayne county, died shortly before midnight Wednesday night in Harper hospital, Detroit, after an illness of many months.

Mr. Ford, a cousin of Henry Ford, had lived in retirement during the past years in many of his affairs. In fact, during the last few years he had been one of Plymouth's most enthusiastic bowlers and when the new Recreation bowling alley was opened early in the fall, the Plymouth bowlers delegated to him the honor of being the first one to officially open the bowling season of this year. It was the last time Mr. Ford's many young friends in Plymouth had an opportunity to greet him. In fact, he left his sick bed to comply with their request to take part in the formal opening of the new recreation center.

He was born in Dearborn and became a farmer in early life. The Ford farm being located on Joy road. After he left the farm, he moved to Plymouth. Mrs. Ford and two sons, Leslie, of Plymouth, and Orlo, of Dearborn, survive.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 2:00 o'clock from the Schrader funeral home, with the Masonic lodge in charge of the services. Burial will take place in the Ford cemetery on Joy road, near where Mr. Ford spent the greater part of his life. Rev. Walter Nichol will officiate.

Basketball Players to Meet Monday Ev.

Guild Ingathering November 10

Friday, November 10, is the date which has been fixed for the annual ingathering of the Needlework Guild at the Mayflower hotel. This is the charity organization that helps all charities and welcomes to its ranks men, women and children—sole requirement of membership being the annual donation of two new articles of wearing apparel or household linen or a gift of money for the shoe fund. These garments are distributed by persons or organizations whose experience enables them to know the deserving needy in a community, and you are assured that your donation will be used where it will do the most good. The Needlework Guild of America was founded in 1885 and each year cities and towns throughout the country are organizing branches under its banner to help more effectively the less fortunate ones in their own community. Our local chapter was founded in 1932 with Mrs. R. E. Cooper as president, and is steadily growing. Its membership, besides the women who are always willing to sew or buy a little for some needy neighbor, includes various groups of pupils in the schools who make clothing for babies, women in the churches who make warm comforters and clothing, and many men who give money to the hard-working shoe fund.

The annual gathering will be at the Hotel Mayflower, from 1 to 4 on the afternoon of Friday, November 10. Want you join? Call the president, Mrs. Vaughan Smith, or any of the directors, whose names are listed below, and help the charity that helps all charities.

A Hallowe'en Editorial Just For the Boys and Girls of Plymouth
(Mothers and fathers are not supposed to read this)
It has been a long, long time since last Hallowe'en, hasn't it, boys and girls? It seems like ages. But it isn't going to be very long before all the youngsters of Plymouth are going to have one of the best Hallowe'en celebrations ever held anywhere. It was a great time last year. It is going to be better next Tuesday evening. And it was a great record the splendid boys and girls of Plymouth made last year, too!
Think of it! There was only one window in the entire city that was marked up with soap!
Let's step out for a perfect record this year! When the morning after Hallowe'en arrives, wouldn't it be a remarkably fine thing if we could say, "there isn't a soap mark on a single window in Plymouth?" And no property has been disturbed or damaged!
Yes, sir, we are proud of the boys and girls of Plymouth for the fine way they have been conducting themselves in recent years, but if we can go through this Hallowe'en with a hundred per cent perfect record—well, boys and girls, all the daddies and mothers and all the other folks in Plymouth will think the youngsters of our city are being brought up just as boys and girls should be.
That celebration the business men and other people of Plymouth have arranged for you on Hallowe'en evening is going to be one of the best ever held anywhere. Why, there is going to be over 200 prizes to give to the boys and girls—and there is going to be just loads and loads of good things to eat.
And what fun!
Motion pictures too! Right out doors. Of course Dad and Mother

Open House at Telephone Office

directories; and a display of early telephone instruments including a replica of the original invention by Alexander Graham Bell. The "Voice Mirror," incidentally, attracted much attention at the New York and San Francisco fairs.

Some of the thoughtful visitors reflected over an exhibit of various raw materials that go into the manufacture of the telephone instruments—products from the far corners of the earth. These raw materials include gold, nickel, chromium, hemp, rubber, platinum, tungsten, wool, lead, silver, mica, steatite, pitch, magnesium, clay, talc, leather, aluminum, cotton, iron, silk, antimony, tin, silicon, gilsonite, coal, and, of course, copper.

Among the visitors were some who could recall the early days of the telephone here or elsewhere. The many years of the modern telephone plant, the ease with which conversation is now transmitted, and the rapidly with which connections are obtained.

MacLachlan said that a large part of the credit for the success of the Open House is due to the dozen men and women employees who served as guides through the building. They were especially trained for the occasion and explained the operation of the complicated apparatus in non-technical language.

MacLachlan was chairman of the committee which had charge of arrangements for the record-breaking Open House. Others who served with him on the committee were Karl A. Schlenderer, plant chief, and Miss Ann Kolody, chief operator, for the company here.

Vandals Continue Destruction

in two new comfort stations between this city and Northville when concrete was poured into the piping, making necessary the replacing of all of the plumbing in the two new structures.

No one believes that the damage is the result of labor trouble as the park property destroyed has been created entirely for the free enjoyment of working people. In fact, the parks are used almost exclusively by factory workers and their families.

The two refreshment stands that burned were owned by the county and operated by Glenn Smith, of Plymouth. The other fires caused damage to be done to public comfort stations.

At 3:30 Monday morning Mr. Smith was advised that the stand on Six Mile road near Hines Drive was burning. He immediately investigated and found it to be completely destroyed. The first call turned in to the Plymouth fire department was when a fire was discovered in the stand in Riverside park on Wood Drive. This fire occurred approximately an hour following the first one. When firemen arrived, the building had burned to the ground.

As two firemen were returning from the second fire, they noticed smoke coming from the comfort station which is located on Plymouth road near the Pere Marquette viaduct. An alarm was given and the department arrived in time to save the building from any serious damage. It was found that the fire started from picnic tables which had been broken up and piled inside the station.

Scarcely had firemen returned from the third fire when a fourth alarm called them to the Springbrook comfort station which is about one mile west of the other damaged station. This fire had been started from paper and boxes. An entrance to the building was gained by breaking out one of the windows.

So far as can be learned there has been no labor trouble in constructing the county projects, according to Stanley E. Wiggins, contractor for the construction. John K. Norton, county road commission engineer, believes that the same person or group of men who destroyed plumbing in two comfort stations two weeks ago are also guilty of the arson acts, as well as painting obscene language on the underpass of the Pere Marquette railroad, one mile east of Plymouth.

The state police, Wayne county sheriff's department and the state fire marshal were notified and are working on the case.

Girls' Clubs Plan Hallowe'en Parties

The Girls' clubs are busy planning Hallowe'en activities. Monday night of this week Mary Helen and Margaret Swanson entertained the Starkweather Junior American Citizens' club and Tuesday night Mary Helen entertained the members of the Cardinal club. A very good time was had by all from the moment they entered to the time they left.

The Central Junior American Citizens' club plans to have its club party Friday afternoon from 4:00-6:30. Elisabeth Braidel, Nancy Broman and Caroline Goodale are in charge.

The Jay club is going to Silver lake Saturday to spend the day which will be climaxed by a hay ride in the evening. The Jays are also helping with the community Hallowe'en party Tuesday night.

The new boys' club had a hay ride party last week and are having their election of officers this week.

From the Berlin Institute for the conservation of meat comes the announcement that the institute's research laboratories have developed an excellent substitute for cork from potato peelings pressed together after a special processing.

Lecturer Tells of Healing of Healing

Many members of the Christian Science church heard an interesting lecture Thursday evening by Dr. John R. Cass, C. S. of Philadelphia, entitled "The Science of Christian Healing."

In part he spoke as follows: "Christian Science, with its scientific Christian system of mind-healing as taught and practiced originally by Christ Jesus, and in this age by Mary Baker Eddy, is a subject of supreme importance and profound significance to the whole world.

"Christian Science is a science, a philosophy, and a religion, a three-fold mode of thought whereby Truth comes to the understanding through Christian Science, thought is repented, reformed, regenerated, purified, and spiritualized—the human yielding to the divine; and, through baptism or the submergence of the human in the divine, consciousness is exalted to the high level of spiritual understanding.

"Christian Science, properly presented and rightly understood, is a 'feast of fat things, a feast of wines on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees well refined.' Christian Science once bids all to this 'feast of fat things' and 'wines on the lees' as it spreads a table of Truth and Love for those hungering and thirsting after righteousness.

"To be scientific, a system of healing or of teaching must possess three fundamentals or requirements: namely: first, principle; second, rule; third, proof. Christian Science meets fully these requirements, as the following quotations from the Christian Science textbook, 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures' by Mary Baker Eddy, reveal: 'The principle of divine metaphysics is God; the practice of divine metaphysics is the utilization of the power of Truth over error; its rules demonstrate its Science' (p. 111); and, 'Science will declare God aright, and Christianity will demonstrate this declaration and its divine Principle, making mankind better physically, morally, and spiritually' (p. 468).

"Mind, not matter, is medicine. Mrs. Eddy states this on page 142 of the textbook: She writes: 'If Mind was first and self-existent, then Mind, not matter, must have been the first medicine. God being All-in-all, He made medicine; but that medicine was Mind.' Health is a spiritually-mental state, not a physiological nor an anatomical one. Healing is a metaphysical or divinely-mental process, not a physical nor a pathological one. It is brought about by the action of impersonal, impartial, universal Principle, divine Mind, Love, operating through spiritual law, to the end of providing peace, power, might, majesty, dominion, and supremacy, even the illness of God good, Mind Love.

"The Principle, rule and proof of this Christian scientific system of medicine are set forth in the writings of Mrs. Eddy, which, together with the King James Version of the Bible form the texts of Christian Science. Christian Science healing is a system of therapeutics identical with that taught and practiced by Christ Jesus."

from using his own good judgment on legislative matters. More than once Representative Sundstrum broke away from party lines in voting on legislative questions when he thought it was to the benefit of the people of the state to do so. Like the writer, he is especially interested in welfare and old age pensions. Probably there is not another member of the house more alert to the interests of the distressed and needy than Representative Sundstrum. He displays an independence and fearlessness that one just naturally cannot help from admiring. Both parties are in need of more men of his type. Michigan would be far better off if there was more independent thinking, more independent effort, and more determination on the part of those in authority to do the things THEY believe would be for the public good. Believe it or not, there are members of the legislature who watch to see how their party leaders vote, before they cast their own votes. Will some one tell what good a member of the legislature of this type is to his district or his state?

Over 700 Attend Church Dinner

Mrs. E. H. Huff, chairman of the fall festival and dinner of Our Lady of Good Counsel church, held last Sunday in the Masonic temple, reports that the event was an outstanding success, and that over 700 people attended.

Mrs. Peter Mandl and Mrs. Lorenz, Sr., were members of the committee appointed to assist Mrs. Huff. They had charge of the kitchen work. Mrs. Huff was assisted by Mrs. Claude Yoe on the dinner ticket committee.

The ladies were especially pleased to have practically everything served at the dinner donated by members of the parish, the donations including some of the chickens.
Mrs. Polly was assisted by Mrs. John Gillis, Mrs. Rudick and Mrs. Bernash as hostesses. Mrs. Harold Anderson was appointed by the general chairman to serve as chairman of the dinner arrangements. Mrs. Wikie was in charge of the dessert committee, and Mrs. Charles Finlan and Mrs. Peter Delvo assisted in serving. Mrs. Marie Ridley, Mrs. Keller and Mrs. Kiernan, with Mrs. Marie Polly also offered excellent service on various committees named by Mrs. Huff. The ladies were highly pleased with the fine cooperation received from everyone.

State and local expenditures were $8.2 billion in 1928 but were $9.8 billion in 1938; an increase of about one-fifth.

Outstanding Program Arranged for University Press Club Meeting

President Arthur Stace Provides Timely Discussion

The European war situation will hold the spotlight when Michigan's newspapermen gather in Ann Arbor, October 28 to 29 for the twenty-first annual meeting of the University Press Club of Michigan. This year's program, as announced by Arthur W. Stace, managing editor of The Ann Arbor News and president of the Press Club, will include talks by prominent political personages, newspapermen and members of the University faculty.

ARTHUR W. STACE

Highlight of the Press Club meeting will be an "off-the-record" discussion on Friday afternoon, in which Attorney General Frank Murphy and Senator Arthur Vandenberg are expected to participate. On Thursday evening, the visiting newsmen will be the guests of the University's oratorical association at a lecture by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The Thursday afternoon session will be given over to talks and open discussion of the war situation. Dr. Preston W. Slosson, professor of history at the University, and Dr. Charles F. Remer, University professor of economics, will speak. Professor Slosson has just returned from a year as visiting lecturer at the University of Bristol, England, for the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Professor Remer served as director of the Geneva Research Council at Geneva, Switzerland, during the past year.

Also appearing on the Thursday afternoon program will be Drew Pearson, co-author of the syndicated column, "The Washington Merry-Go-Round." Mr. Pearson will discuss "The Washington Scene."

Other prominent newspapermen who will take part in the program are Donald J. Sterling, managing editor of The Oregon Journal of Portland, Oregon, and president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors; S.L.A. Marshal, Detroit News writer; and W. J. Cambridge, assistant general manager of the Associated Press.

The dinner programs have been planned for the club meeting this year. On Thursday evening, before the Roosevelt lecture, the annual president's dinner will be given by Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven, president of the University. On Friday evening, the newsmen have been invited to attend the alumni banquet celebrating the tenth year of Dr. Ruthven's administration of the University. About 2,600 persons will dine together in the Yost Field House.

Women attending the Press Club meeting have been invited to attend a tea at the president's home on Thursday afternoon. Two press organizations will hold luncheons during the Press Club meetings: the Michigan Press association on Thursday, and the editors of the Associated Press member papers on Friday. On Saturday afternoon, the editors and publishers will be the guests of the Athletic association at the Yale-Michigan football game in the Michigan stadium.

Home Extension Groups Have Joint Meeting

The Canton Center Home Extension group had a joint meeting with the Nankin-Livonia group at the home of Mrs. Russell Wendt on Wayne road Wednesday, October 13. Both groups are studying nutrition with Miss Emma DuBord, county home demonstration agent, as leader.

The first lesson was on table service and table manners. Miss DuBord gave a demonstration of the various types of serving in English, Russian, French, and American. The lessons include preparing and serving a buffet luncheon, calorie study, reducing food costs and convalescent meals.

This Friday evening the Canton Center group will meet with Mrs. James Spigarelli of Beck road for a business meeting.

One Killed in Three-Car Wreck

A three-car accident involving a Plymouth youth, Robert Hower who lives on Canton Center road, and causing the death of a Kalamazoo man, Harold Russell, occurred at the intersection of Sheldon and Ford roads Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Mr. Russell was traveling east on Ford road when his car collided with one driven by John Wagner, 233 Melbourne street, Dearborn, who was coming onto Ford road from Sheldon.

The Russell car rolled for 250 feet, finally coming in contact with the Hower car which was being backed out of a driveway near the Howard Zanders home on Ford road. Hower was uninjured.

Russell was thrown from his car as it rolled toward the Hower car. He was taken to the Eloise hospital where he died. Mr. Russell represented the Service Waste Paper company of Kalamazoo and was on his way to Detroit where he was scheduled to give a talk on "Safety."

Medical Exams Given Students

Nearly 200 students who compose the freshman class of Plymouth high school have recently been given medical examinations by Plymouth physicians. The doctors have taken the ninth graders a few at a time each day since school started in September and the examinations were completed this week, announced Mrs. Mary Strasen, public school nurse.

"These examinations, given free of charge are a fine thing for both the students and we of the school faculty because it enables us to know the physical conditions of the students better," Mrs. Strasen said.

"Our idea is to protect the children as much as possible and we believe in so doing, we will also guard the health of all students. If any ailments are found, they are taken care of at the school, if possible."

Pontiac Realtor Opens Offices Here

Offices were opened this week in Plymouth by Roy Annett, of Pontiac, at 278 South Main street. The Plymouth office will be managed by E. H. O'Dell, well known in this section and for many years a land buyer for the Oakland county road commission.

Mr. Annett stated that his firm in conjunction with the Adler Construction company of Detroit will start construction immediately on four homes in Maplecroft subdivision. Six more are scheduled for construction some time early in December. Mr. Annett's firm has taken over the forty lots in Maplecroft and intends to build homes costing about $5,000 on them.

The Annett company has 100 homes under construction in Pontiac at the present time. They will deal in general real estate in Plymouth as well as handling Maplecroft subdivision exclusively.

Blowing out the gas and stepping on it are both a means to an end.

Mrs. Robert Willoughby and Mrs. F. R. Hoheisel attended the Fan Hellenic dessert bridge party held Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Gladys Phelps, in Detroit.

Mrs. Rosa Rheiner was hostess Wednesday afternoon, at "500" entertaining the members of the Plus Ultra group.

All we would get out of it (the war) would be bankruptcy and a long list of dead young men.—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, World War ace.

1927 PURITY MARKET 1939

12th Anniversary Specials - Come Early - Save Money - Join the Fun

Twelve years ago today I prepared an advertisement announcing to the people of Plymouth the opening of the Purity Market, and ever since then I have had a message for you, listing high quality products and informing you of how reasonable you could buy them at the Purity Market. Today, twelve years later, with the same enthusiasm and desire to serve you, I have the pleasure of announcing the greatest event of our business year—the anniversary sale of the Purity Market. There has been a lot of changes in these twelve years. The little meat market "on the corner" that I announced then is an up-to-date, complete food store "around the corner" today. Even the corner building is not there any more. Only one change has not taken place—my promise to serve you to the best of my ability, to give you the benefit of any and all price reductions, to advertise honestly, and to offer for sale that which is advertised. The fact that the Purity Market is enjoying the biggest business success in twelve years is ample proof that you approve of my policy of honest dealings, and I sincerely hope and promise that this confidence will not be betrayed in the future. In behalf of my personnel and myself, I invite you to our anniversary party this Friday and Saturday to get your share of the birthday cake which is offered to you in the form of 40 money-saving specials listed here. With all sincerity—DAVE GALIN.

Michigan Leads Nation in Park Development

State Park System Proves Popular With Visitors

(By Gene Alleman)
The modern American gypsies, the Henry Smith family, have been re-discovering Michigan's 56 state parks.

Whereas Grandfather Smith was content to pitch his tent on any well drained camp site along a lake or stream, Henry and his tribe are spoiled to comforts of civilization. Grandfather may have liked to "rough it," but the present Smith clan goes to a state park and they want conveniences of home.

All of this is merely leading up to the interesting fact, and rather a timely one, too, that the state conservation department has a new problem child on its doorstep, and while officials think they know what to do about it, they're not absolutely sure.

One result, to get the ending at the beginning, was that 1939 legislature's action in authorizing $500,000 more funds for the state parks' biennial appropriation (and that in the teeth of a determined economy crusade) for the express purpose of modernizing state parks throughout Michigan. Through the magic of CCC and WPA, this amount will be pyramided to $2,000,000 or more and the conservation department expects that many dollars to go a long ways to pacify Henry Smith and his youngsters.

Trailer Gypsy

During 1938 the state parks issued a total of 81,000 camping permits. Approximately 188,000 persons lived in tents or trailers for one or more days.

Thirty-three per cent of all camping permits were for house trailers, those miniature houses on wheels that go rolling over highways, complete with beds and dishes and other domestic articles. That meant around 60,000 persons. Put that many people in one place and you'd soon have everything from a police court to a hospital to take care of them. Many state parks are just busy small cities, located miles from a municipality, but with most of city complications arising just the same.

The house trailer was responsible for 31 1/2 per cent of all camping permits in 1938. In the next year it climbed to 35 per cent, and conservation leaders began to wonder if parks might be overrun someday with the blooming things. Traileries

Two Famous "Docs" Meet

DR. ALLAN DeFOE "DOC" MURL DeFOE

Murl H. DeFoe, editor of the Charlotte Republican-Tribune and member of the Michigan state liquor commission, known affectionately among his close associates as "Doc," is entitled to that nickname for more than one good reason. While his own father was an Eaton county doctor, the enlargement of a snapshot taken on the lawn of the modest home of Doctor Allan Roy DeFoe in Callander, Ontario, gives the Charlotte editor another right by inheritance to the nickname he bears. This picture shows the famous quintuplet doctor-guardian in his natural mood and habitat. The second person in the picture is Murl H. DeFoe, of Charlotte. The gentlemen are fourth cousins, the early families of both, in fact, practically all of this name, lived in or close to Bellville, Ontario, near Kingston. The picture was taken last month.

wanted electricity for lighting. They brought radios along and wanted to plug them into the nearest light socket, just as they did back home. It was new and most perplexing.

Today, 32 of the 56 state parks offer electricity at cost. You purchase "juice" according to the fuse, 50 cents per week up.

The campers, whether they live in trailers or in tents, want other conveniences, too. Chick Sales and Grandfather Smith got along together pretty well, but times have changed. But we're getting ahead of our story.

No Camping Fee

The average pleckicker comes with a well-filled basket of food and leaves a few hours later. For him the basic state park law, passed during Governor Groesbeck's administration in 1921, provides that all parks must be open to the public without an admission charge. Indiana charges a park admission of 10 cents per person, but Michigan has always adhered to the idea that state parks should be free.

Concessions are leased on annual contracts. Revenue from such concessions (refreshment stands, etc.) go into the state's general funds to be expended later for any purpose whatsoever.

To the Henry Smiths who ask park caretakers why the state does not provide more modern services in its parks, the stock answer has always been: "We are sorry. We do not have sufficient funds to provide these services free."

When Smith goes fishing, he expects to buy a fishing license. When he goes hunting, he fully is aware a hunting license is necessary.

True, the price of the license in either case is nominal. But multiply the small sum by tens of thousands, and it quickly grows into "big money." Furthermore, the fishing or hunting license revenue returns to promote or conserve the interests of the sportsmen. It enables these services, to an important degree, to be self-supporting.

First Park in 1917

The state park system isn't old. Michigan's first park was acquired only 22 years ago when there wasn't such a thing as a state park commission or even a conservation department.

A virgin pine tract at Interlachen, faced extinction in 1917 when lumber interests, sensing war-time profits, set up operations to reap a fat harvest.

The state legislature was opportunely to save the forest for posterity. Nearly 250 acres of timber were purchased for $60,000.

Mackinac Island, of course, was transferred from federal to state ownership in 1895 with the congressional stipulation that a separate state commission would be created to preserve the historic forts at Mackinaw City and Mackinac Island.

In 1919 the legislature created a seven-member state park commission. Two years later the Groesbeck administration merged various bureaus for forestry, fish and game, geology, law enforcement, forest fire fighting, and so on into one department, and called it the "conservation department." To keep conservation out of politics, a non-partisan commission was created. The law also stipulated that preference should be given in choice of park sites to those on the Great Lakes and then, after that, to those on inland lakes or waterways.

ment of existing parks. Operations were curtailed to a low level.

Then came chronologically and alphabetically the CCC, the CWA, the ERA and recently the WPA, each with millions of dollars of federal relief money. Work projects were needed. The conservation department had a backlog of work, long postponed. Thousands of young men were put at jobs, improving state parks and forests.

Today, four CCC camps are performing forestry work in state forests, some nearby to state parks. The Grayling Winter Sports state park is being improved chiefly through the assistance of the National Park Service and the CCC.

Parks to be Modernized

Times have changed, and the Henry Smiths want more services than their pioneering ancestors. And so, largely through action initiated by State Senator Don VanderWerp of Fremont, chairman of the senate finance committee, the amount of $500,000 was set aside for needed improvements in Michigan's many state parks.

Because the tourist business is Michigan's No. 2 industry, few taxpayers will begrudge the spending of $500,000 to obtain $2,000,000 worth of improvements in our state parks. How to maintain the parks, thus modernized, is a horse of another color.

Gloriette Galloway will entertain some of her schoolmates at a hayride this (Friday) evening.

CORNERSTONE YIELDS RELICS

GLADWIN — Two 1876 newspapers, an 1862 penny, a piece of rock, and a horse chestnut were brought to light when workmen opened the cornerstone while razing the old court house building here. The papers, which were in a tin box, were so crumpled with age that they couldn't be handled. All of the articles will be deposited in the cornerstone of the new court house.

The Newman company is the largest developer of suburban and rural properties in Michigan and at present has 112 separate programs under way within 25 miles of Detroit. The company specializes in five- to 20-acre properties and sells home sites and houses that cost under $2,000. Zoning Ordinance Passes Readings

(Continued from page 1) jected the matter to the city commission for approval. The map and ordinance met with the city commissioners' and residents' approval and now it is up before the general public for a final acceptance or rejection.

The work comes as a result of a campaign started five or six years ago by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce and a number of women and others who are anxious to make this Michigan's best residential communities as well as retain proper regulation over its industrial and business sections.

At a meeting held September 7, 1937, the city commission requested the mayor to appoint, with the approval of the commission, a zoning committee composed of nine members. Mayor Hordorp appointed 11 members on October 4, 1937, with the commission's approval. These members were to serve on a planning committee rather than a zoning committee.

It was discovered that the organization which had been established was not entirely legal inasmuch as no ordinance had been adopted by the city commission setting up a planning commission.

Upon the recommendation of the city planning committee the city commission adopted a city planning ordinance on January 18, 1938, which created the city planning commission. Mayor Hordorp appointed the following individuals to membership on the official planning commission: J. M. Bennett, chairman, F. R. Hoheisel and Mrs. Maud Bennett for a three-year term; Alice Safford, L. H. Alexander and George Burr, for a two-year term; and Mrs. Ray Johns, Elton Eaton and J. W. Blickenstaff for a one-year term. This commission adopted by-laws and elected officers and arranged for its meetings at which the city manager and city engineer, S. L. Besse are ex-officio members.

Since that time Miss Safford has passed away and Mrs. Johns no longer lives in the city. The present planning commission includes S. D. Strong and Mrs. Dorothy Woodbury, who took their positions on the commission. J. W. Blickenstaff, Mrs. Dorothy Woodbury and Elton Eaton are now on the commission for three-year terms; J. M. Bennett, chairman; Mrs. Maud Bennett and F. R. Hoheisel, two-year terms; and Lisle Alexander, S. D. Strong and George Burr, one-year terms.

Since the adoption of the ordinance, the planning commission has held 17 regular meetings, three special meetings, two public hearings and a number of special hearings. These meetings have been held in the city manager's office or the city commission chamber with the exception of one public hearing which was held at the Starkweather school on April 10, 1939.

The meetings and hearings have been well attended and have been conducted and participated in with a commendable spirit and interest so that valuable decisions and suggestions have resulted. Accurate and complete minutes of the meetings and reports of the hearings are on file in the office of the city manager who acts as secretary for the planning commission.

Plymouth has been fortunate in having the services of T. Glenn Phillips, one of Michigan's best known authorities on city planning, to meet with and consult with the city planning commission. Mr. Phillips' home is near Northville, and because of his nearness to Plymouth, he has been able to devote much of his time to the city planning problem.

The zoning ordinance contains the most modern features and is the result of many years of experience in other cities. A board of appeals is provided which will undoubtedly insure the workabil-

Young People Attend First Youth Dance

The first Youth Federation dance was held last Friday night at the Central grade school auditorium. Many young people were there to dance to the music of Mike and his Rhythm Kings.

These dances as well as all Youth Federation activities are sponsored by the Plymouth Women's club. Starting tonight (Friday) dancing will begin at 7:30 and end at 10:30 o'clock. The price of admission remains the same.

Jimmie Hunt of the Art Barn faculty is teaching Plymouth young people to dance under the auspices of the Youth Federation. These classes are held separately for boys and girls at the city hall every Thursday evening at 7:00 and 7:30 o'clock. Boys and girls from the seventh to twelfth grades are welcome to attend the classes for a small charge.

Because of the community Halloween party Tuesday night, there will be no roller skating party next week which is usually held in the basement of the Methodist church Tuesday nights every week. Skating will be resumed Tuesday night, November 7.

Principal Claude J. Dykhouse has announced a course in early American dancing to be offered as a night school class starting next Wednesday providing at least 40 persons desire to enroll.

The dancing classes will be given Wednesday nights from 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock by Mr. Mark-wicz from Greenfield Village. Students will be charged $2.50 for the ten-week course. The fee will be reduced if more than 40 students sign up for the course.

Persons who are interested may register with either Mrs. Miller, women's athletic director, or Mr. Dykhouse at the high school.

Mrs. Burden Returns From Florida Trip

Mrs. Ernest Burden has just returned from an interesting trip to Florida, where she visited her sister, Mrs. Sarah Campbell, whom she had not seen in 22 years. She traveled to Hilliard by train, and after spending several days with her sister, she went to Jacksonville and then down to West Palm Beach by bus where she spent a brief time seeing the interesting winter homes and resorts of that locality. On the return trip north, she took the Florida inland route to Winter Haven. It was on this trip that she met a youngster who made known to Mrs. Burden that his most prized possession was his Daisy air rifle, made in Plymouth.

Junior Chamber Takes Part in Nationwide Poll

Young Businessmen Reply to War Questions

So that the United States government may know how the young business men of the nation feel about America's part in the present European war, National Headquarters of the Junior Chamber of Commerce sent a questionnaire to the Plymouth chapter to be filled out and returned to Chicago.

Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce men agreed almost unanimously that the government should not lend money to warring nations. The vote was 10 to 18 against the censorship of radio newscasts so that all propaganda would be barred from the air.

Twelve members of the local organization believed that the United States should help nations in war by sending men to fight while 14 were opposed to the action.

To the question, "Should the United States of America maintain a standing army of 1,500,000 men for defense?" men of the Plymouth organization voted 15-11 against the proposition.

The vote was 12-14 against revising the neutrality law so as to supply warring nations with munitions and supplies. Fifteen believed that food, clothing and raw materials should be supplied while 11 opposed the action.

Beautiful Tree Covered "Hub" of Plymouth's Civic Center

Plymouth residents this week are receiving a printed copy of the annual report of the city government, a copy being delivered to each home within the city by Boy Scouts.

The first page of the interesting report that has been compiled by city officials contains a reproduction of a photograph of the beautiful little park that serves as the "hub" of Plymouth's civic center.

Few cities can boast of such an interesting civic center as Plymouth. On the east side is the city hall and fire department. Along the north side of the civic center is located the Central high school, Methodist church and the parsonage. To the west and south is the beautiful new Presbyterian church, an edifice that has attracted nation wide attention because of its attractive construction. A two-line thoroughfare, with a parkway separating the traffic lanes, borders the southern side of the civic center. To the south of this thoroughfare is another landscaped area that extends from the Presbyterian church to Main street, covering the area where once stood the Presbyterian manse. The page provides a most appropriate photographic preface of the city publication.

A Good Boost for Tennesseans

The Plymouth Mail does not ordinarily publish letters it receives which are not signed, but a few days ago one came to the office that pleads the cause of our newly adopted residents from Tennessee so interestingly and fairly that The Mail is deviating from its long established rule and publishes the letter as follows:

"We would like to have you print this letter about the people of Tennessee who are now in Michigan. We have come here to make our homes and we southerners hope to make you love us as we love you.

"We hope that the people of the north do not dislike us. It was necessary that we come here in order to make a living. We do your hardest kind of work to make our money in Michigan and we spend our money here also. We make debts and we pay them.

"So many people of this state will get down on their knees and beg for the southerners to come into their homes and work for them. We are willing to work and we would like to have you feel towards us as you do towards others.

"If the United States should happen to go to war, Michigan and Tennessee would fight side by side. We in Tennessee need you and you need us. We hope you people would rather not have the people from across the waters here in your town than we folks from Tennessee. After all, this is the United States of America and we are all one people.

"Some people here say why don't you go back to Tennessee where you belong. But they never think that there are more Michigan people out of the state than there are in Michigan."

"We of Tennessee had to leave Tennessee in order to make more room for Michigan people down there. We come here to work and make a living and we hope you people will look upon us as you would other Michigan folks.

"Yours truly,
"The Tennesseans."

Lilacs Bloom at Havershaw Home

Maybe it is fall, but the lilacs at the home of Mrs. Rose Havershaw, 204 North Harvey street, do not seem to know it. They have been blossoming profusely for several days. Once in a while pansies and violets will brave fall winds and bring forth blossoms, but it is rare indeed for lilacs to bloom in the fall time.

Popular Author in Detroit Nov. 1

Lloyd C. Douglas, author of "Disputed Passage," the moving picture which had its world premiere in Detroit last week, will speak before the Detroit Town Hall audience in the Fisher theatre next Wednesday, November 1, at 11:00 a.m.

Dr. Douglas's first Detroit appearance in several years will be doubly exciting for his new book, "Dr. Hudson's Journal," will also be released on this date.

Although Dr. Douglas has never studied medicine, the medical passages in his books are so authoritative that he receives thousands of letters addressed to him as a medic. During his years in Ann Arbor, Michigan, as a popular minister he was in daily contact with the sick and dying, and of course with physicians.

His fan mail is so heavy that a great deal of his time is spent writing advice to the deserving who seek his guidance.

Within three years after the publication of his first novel, "Magnificent Obsession," this clergyman had the fiction minds of a cynical age at his feet and the motion picture producers at his finger tips. His other novels, including "Green Light" and "White Banners" have been sensational moving picture hits.

Dr. Douglas will speak on "The Release of Galatea"—an inspirational lecture based on the story of the Greek sculptor, Pygmalion and his statue, Galatea, which came to life. The theme of his talk is a symbolic way of saying "bringing things to life" is based on his new novel on which he is working.

Federal taxes totaled $3.2 billion in 1928, but were about $5.9 billion in 1938; an increase of about 85 per cent.

Young People to Hear of War

Maurice Floesch, head psychiatrist at the Detroit House of Correction, is to speak at the Young People's Forum Sunday night, announced Mrs. Anthony S. Matulis, director of the discussion group.

The subject of Mr. Floesch's talk will be "Some Psychological Aspects of the European Situation as Seen by a European."

Being a native born Austrian, he is particularly qualified to give such a talk. Mr. Floesch was educated abroad and at the University of Michigan. His talk will center around and emphasize the psychological aspects and the European background of the present war.

The Young People's Forum, a discussion group, has been spending the last two weeks in a study of the present conflict in Europe. Last Sunday evening a German native, Mrs. Rheinfeld Ruetz, who recently returned from a trip to her country, gave a fine talk concerning Germany. Her address was particularly interesting because of the fact that she has a vivid memory of Germany as she knew it as a young person as compared with Hitler's Germany of today.

Meetings of the Young People's Forum are held at the Art Barn on South Main street every Sunday evening at 7:30. Any person interested in discussing and possibly learning more about problems of the present day is invited to attend the meetings.

Stamping Co. to Receive Safety Plaque

Award Given for No Accidents in Year Ending July 1

For the year ending July 1, 1939, the Plymouth Stamping company, located on North Main street, had no accidents in which man-hour time was lost. For this fine safety record the company will receive an engraved plaque from the Employers Mutual Liability Insurance company of Wausau, Wisconsin.

Each month for a year the company made a report of accidents and man-hours of work performed to the insurance company who sponsored the no-accident contest.

In the 30,972 man-hours the Plymouth company worked there were no lost time accidents. The contest embraced 2,734 employers and 160,000 employees.

Contestants were divided into industry groups arranged according to the degree of hazard involved. The accident frequency of the Plymouth company was very low among others of its industry group, the company sponsoring the contest announced.

"Our workmen were advised of the contest last year even before it began," Mrs. Nellie Curry, partner in the firm declared.

"They were constantly reminded of the fact by posters which were placed in the shop. The workmen were always alert and guarded against accidents because they knew that an award such as the one we are about to receive is an honor seldom given to workers who are constantly in danger from heavy machinery."

Mrs. Curry said that one man is employed in the factory just to keep sheet metal piled and out of the way, a prime safety factor.

The winners of the contest were determined on a basis of accident frequency, a figure determined from men-hours of work performed and number of accidents.

Annual Methodist Christmas Bazaar

According to Mrs. James Latture, in charge of arrangements, all details have been worked out for the annual Christmas bazaar to be conducted by the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church next Wednesday evening, Mrs. Harry Mumby and Mrs. Arthur Blunk are in charge of dinner arrangements; Miss Mable Spicer is chairman of the dining room committee and Mrs. John Elyton is chairman of the committee in charge of the afternoon tea.

The fancy work and apron booth will be in charge of Mrs. Squires. Mrs. Soth will have charge of the candy booth, Mrs. Sutherland the baked goods, Mrs. Besse, the dolls and Mrs. Carl Martin the roadside market.

"Everlasting Punishment" will be the subject of the lesson-lesson in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 29, 1939. The Golden Text (Ezekiel 18: 31) is: "Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit; for why will ye die, O house of Israel?" Among the Bible citations in this passage (Proverbs 28: 13): "He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 22): Justice requires reformation of the sinner. Mercy cancels the debt only when justice approves."

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN church. Walter Nichol, pastor. 10:00 a.m. Sunday school; 11:00 a.m. morning worship; 6:30 p.m., young people. Interest in the effort to secure pledges or cash covering much of the indebtedness of this church has marked the past two weeks. The response has been encouraging. Approximately 83 per cent of the amount asked for has been subscribed and there are several reports still incomplete. The amount in pledges and cash reported is now over $19,000.00. The thanks of the church go to the men who have carried this campaign through, and to all the friends of the church who have supported them. The young people's meeting Sunday evening will be in charge of the president, Robert Daniels. A worship service will be held. The junior department of the Sunday school under the leadership of Mrs. R. A. Roe, Mrs. E. T. Watson and Miss Phyllis Stewart will hold a social get-together in the dining hall of the church on Monday, October 30, 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. This will be a Halloween party. The board of trustees will hold the regular monthly meeting Wednesday, November 1 at 7:30 p.m. The annual bazaar with lunch and dinner will be held Wednesday, November 15, at the church hall. The women are making careful preparations for a fine day.

George Woodward, the chalk artist, will begin meetings with us Sunday morning. He will draw for the children in the Sunday school. If you do not attend any Sunday school we invite you to visit us this Sunday. We are sure you will want to come back again. Plan to attend our services throughout the next two weeks. This young man is a very good preacher and a talented artist. We will be looking for you.

ROSEDALE GARDENS PRESBYTERIAN church. John B. Permyth, minister. Children of the junior department will have their first party of the winter term Friday evening, October 27, in the church basement. Mrs. Watt Graham heads this department, and committees for the party are made up of pupils and teachers. Sunday, October 29, will be observed as Reformation Sunday, being the Sunday nearest the anniversary of the Protestant Reformation. "Back to a United Christian Church," will be the sermon topic. A large congregation last Sunday morning heard Rev. Leonard Dickerson's course speak on "Maintaining the Spiritual Glow." Mr. Duckett and Mr. Forsyth exchanged pulpits for the day. The nursery and beginners department, which has been meeting in the club house during the morning worship service for the past five Sundays, is growing steadily. There must be many more families who should begin to avail themselves of this new opportunity to attend church, and to start their children's religious training. All children under five years old are accepted.

Last week was wonderful night after night we were permitted to sit and listen to the old, old story of the love of God in Christ Jesus, which story to the person who has found Him precious, is ever new and fresh. Now starting another week—well, all I can say is that it is as wonderful as the first. We are coming to CALVARY CHURCH Sunday and Monday nights the place was filled to the doors. (these notes are written Tuesday morning) but best of all men and women, boys and girls, are not only finding Calvary church, but are finding Jesus Christ of Calvary as their own personal saviour, apart from which these services or any church services are just an empty show. Evangelist Ward and the Ormans will be with us the remainder of the week and over Lord's day. This is your time to hear the servants of the Lord. Come to church tonight. Bullseye No. 50. "Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

PETER RABBIT TELLS HIS STORY

WHEN Peter Rabbit could get his breath after his long, hard run from the Green Forest to the dear Old Brier Patch he had a wonderful story to tell. It was all about a stranger in the Green Forest, and to have heard Peter tell about it you would have thought, as Mrs. Peter did, that it was a very terrible stranger, for it had no legs and it had no head and it had no tail. At least, that is what Peter said.

"Then I started for home just as fast as I could make my legs go."

Forest, for you know, my dear, I always try to be home by the time jolly, round, red Mr. Sun gets out of bed and Old Mother West Wind gets down on the Green Meadows." Mrs. Peter nodded. "But somehow time slipped away faster than I thought, for, or else Mr. Sun got up earlier than usual," continued Peter. Then he stopped. That last idea was a new one, and it struck Peter as a good one. "I do believe that that is just what happened—Mr. Sun must have made a mistake and crawled out of bed earlier than usual," he cried.

Mrs. Peter looked as if she very much doubted it, but she didn't say anything, and so Peter went on with his story. "I had just realized how light it was and had started for home, hurrying with all my might, when I heard a little noise at the top of the hill where Prickly Porky the Porcupine lives. Of course, I thought it was Prickly himself starting out for his breakfast, and I looked up with my mouth open to say hello. But I didn't say hello. No, sir, I didn't say a word. I was too scared. There, just starting down the hill straight toward me, was the most dreadful creature that ever has been seen in the Green Forest! It didn't have any legs and it didn't have any head and it didn't have any tail, and it was coming straight after me so fast that I had all I could do to get out of the way!" Peter's eyes grew very round and wide as he said this. "I took one good look and then I jumped. My gracious, how I did jump!" he continued. "Then I started for home just as fast as ever I could make my legs go, and here I am, mighty glad to be here!"

Mrs. Peter had listened with her mouth wide open. When Peter finished she closed it with a snap and hopped over and felt of his head. "Are you sick, Peter?" she asked anxiously. Peter stared at her. "Sick! Me sick! Not a bit of it!" he exclaimed. "Never felt better in my life save that I am a little tired from my long run. What a silly question. Do I look sick?"

"No," replied little Mrs. Peter slowly. "No, you don't look sick, but you talk as if there was something the matter with your head. I think you must be a little light-headed, Peter, or else you have taken a nap somewhere and had a bad dream. Did I understand you to say that this dreadful creature has no legs and yet that it chased you?"

"That's what I said!" snapped Peter, a wee bit crossly, for he saw that Mrs. Peter didn't believe a word of his story. "Will you please tell me how any creature in the Green Forest, or out of it, for that matter, can possibly chase any one unless it has legs or wings, and you didn't say anything about its having wings?" demanded Mrs. Peter. Peter scratched his head in great perplexity. Suddenly he had a happy thought. "Mr. Blacksnake runs fast enough, but he doesn't have legs, does he?" he asked in triumph. Little Mrs. Peter looked a bit discomfited. "No-o," she admitted, slowly, "he doesn't have legs, but I never could understand how he runs without them."

"Well, then," snapped Peter, "if he can run without legs, why can't other creatures? Besides, this one didn't run exactly; it rolled. Now I've told you all I'm going to. I need a long nap after all I've been through, so don't let any one disturb me."

"I won't," replied little Mrs. Peter, meekly. "But, Peter, if I were you I wouldn't tell that story to any one else."

Soccer Games Feature Fall Recreation Program

A fall recreation program featuring soccer games between Starkweather and Central grade school teams has been planned by Lester Daly and Charles Stitt, leaders of the program.

Last Thursday evening the two teams played at Starkweather playground resulting in a scoreless tie for the junior group and a 3-1 win for Starkweather in the intermediate division.

The schedule calls for two games each week between the two teams and will be carried out until the weather makes it too cold for desirable play.

Games will be played alternately at the two playgrounds. Next week's game is to be at Central playground.

Plymouth Bows 33-6 Under Heavy Wayne Cannonade

Those football experts who make it their business to forecast the score of every gridiron clash involving their favorite team would have been figuratively right but physically wrong had they tried their luck at the Wayne-Plymouth game at Wayne, Friday.

Scattering the law-of-averages to the four winds, Plymouth high school's gridiron combination allowed Wayne to pour plenty of backfield speed and weight through and around its line for three quarters to total a 33-6 victory.

Two facts pulled the dopsters' choice to a Plymouth win: Last Friday, Dearborn and Plymouth fought to a 12-12 tie; the week before, Dearborn rebuffed Wayne 6-3. It was thought likely, then, that Plymouth would punish Wayne by at least that score.

Things turned out differently. Scoring twice in the first quarter and once in every quarter thereafter, Wayne cut the Plymouth line to pieces. On their first touchdown, a 65-yard run on a simple double reverse, Cacioppo, Wayne halfback, snuffed it off with neither the opposing line nor backfield. He was chased fruitlessly all his long run up the field.

When Plymouth backfield played back of the ends, Horton and Cacioppo, Wayne halfbacks, knifed through the middle of the line for numerous first downs. A play almost identical to the first score, a double reverse with the left end handling the ball, swept across Wayne's thirteenth point which was lifted another notch on a perfect conversion of the extra point by Ketchum. Four long line "rips" and a ten-yard pass set up Wayne's second touchdown.

Only in the fourth period did Plymouth begin to show some football sense. Red Herter and Bob Norman, quarterbacks, began mixing their signals. Plymouth passes began to click; runs brought results.

Plymouth's lone score was accomplished with two minutes remaining in the game and with half the Plymouth bench on the field. Working in a running and passing attack with a combination of both, the Plymouth eleven, composed partly of second team men, showed the form they should have in the first half.

After Birchall had downed the kickoff on his own 40-yard line, Plymouth saved itself from a shut-out by using some backfield strategy. After Curtis and Scarpulla had run the ball to a favorable position, Plymouth sprung two pass-laterals intermitted by a yard-gaining end run by Scarpulla. The second fooler ended with "Pinky" Folsom on the ground safely over the goal. Bob Norman tossed him the winning lateral after receiving a two-yard pass from Bob Hitt.

Raymond, hard running Wayne fullback, sizzled 15 yards through left guard for a third Wayne touchdown.

Wayne's third quarter score was the most potent example of the type of football played Friday. With three line crashes Horton put Wayne on the 17-yard line. His mate, Cacioppo, then hop-scotched over the Plymouth line and through the entire Plymouth backfield for a touchdown.

When Bob Hitt's flat pass was intercepted on Wayne's 15-yard line, Cacioppo paraded around left end on the next play to Plymouth's 30. Horton bulleted through gaping holes in the Plymouth line three times for Wayne's final score.

Crater Lake, Oregon, formed by the sinking of the central part of a mountain, has a very blue hue. Although the lake is extremely rough, one may go out in a boat and look into the mouth of the crater which is still about the water's level.

Mount Rainier in Washington had a most interesting characteristic in its belt of flowers at the edge of the timber-line which was over 50 miles long. Flowers bloom all season and at that time there was a striking combination of white avalanche lilies and red Indian paint brushes.

Driving northward they entered Victoria, British Columbia, where they saw the oyster beds. This city was most picturesque with flower baskets hanging from every street light. In this vicinity there was a great number of totem poles of all shapes and sizes which were sold to tourists. Victoria is supposed to be most like the cities of England.

The Grand Coulee Dam near Spokane was the most impressive man-made project I have seen," said Miss Fiegel. "It will probably be the biggest thing ever done. There truly seems to be a need for this irrigation project for there are very few trees and while we were there the mercury reached 112 degrees."

Yellowstone National park, although it was like a state park in that it had a great abundance of wild life, differed in the numerous and unusual geysers. The regularity of Old Faithful will never cease to be a modern miracle.

While we traveled through the Black Hills of South Dakota and the Bad Lands which were unusually hot and quite picturesque in their different shades and colors of the dried mud and powder sand.

Some motorists believe traffic cops think of Sunday only as a day of rest.

NOON HOUR RECREATION SCHEDULE ARRANGED

To accommodate students who are unable to go home for lunch, a complete noon hour schedule has been arranged. To those interested in clubs there are several that meet during the noon hour. Among these are Senior Leadership Club, Junior and Senior Glee, Reserves, and H.Y. Early American dancing is again taught on Wednesday noons by the Ford instructor, Mr. Markiewicz. Dancing to recordings will be held in the gym on disagreeable days.

STUDENT DIRECTORS OF DRAMA PRESENT TRAGEDY

The drama club is planning one-act plays, each under student direction. These plays are to be given without any faculty aid. Melodramas, farces and tragedies are the types to be enacted. Dorothy Waters, Jean Anderson, Lorton Ball, Eileen Bird and Jean Tompkins are the directors. Lorton Ball's group will present a tragedy on October 31.

EXCUSES AND MORE EXCUSES

Every morning from 8 to 8:30 one sees a line of boys in Mr. Dykhouse's office and a line of girls in Miss Allen's room. These people are all absentees with various excuses ranging from illness, the greatest excuse used, to all things imaginable.

A FOOTBALL GAME—FROM A GIRL'S VIEWPOINT

Here come the two teams on the field. Isn't it thrilling to see the boys in their uniforms. My goodness, I don't know Oscar had such g-e-a-t big shoulders. What? You say they're padded? Oh! There goes the kickoff. Say isn't that Jane Johnson in that perfectly adorable hooded sweater? And who is that handsome boy with her? Some girls get all the breaks. Did you see the other side just made a touchdown? What is the matter with our team? Why don't they stop them? Look, Hank just slipped in that mud puddle and got his brand new uniform all dirty.

STUDENTS FLOCK TO TELEPHONE OPEN HOUSE

A large group of students has been visiting the Michigan Bell Telephone Open House during the latter part of the week. They were taken through in groups of ten or more at a time. We started with the office, and then proceeded to a display of the development of the telephone.

NEW LOCKERS ADDED TO SCHOOL

During the past week 50 new lockers were placed in the west hall of the first floor. As a result there are now sufficient lockers for every student here. This addition brings the total number of lockers of this type to 74. Each locker accommodates but one student. The school also has 400 double lockers which will serve students. Thus while there are approximately 970 students there are lockers for 874. As soon as the student population increases there will have to be another additional acquisition of lockers.

INFORMATION ON CLASS WORK

Miss Tyler's 8-B English class has been studying fact theories and is now writing descriptions. Miss Fiegel's American history classes have completed the study of the Declaration of Independence and the American Revolution.

PHYSICAL TRAINING CLASSES

Physical training classes, under the direction of Mrs. Miller, are studying the fundamentals of basketball.

ADVISE TO ADOLESCENTS

Classes are begun and ended in the high school by an hourly and temperamental system of buzzers. Of late an attack of coffee-nerves has emphasized the temperamental quality in the system.

HUNDRED AND SIXTY ATTEND JUNIOR DANCE

The junior class felt very honored with the many students that attended their dance, Friday, October 13. There were approximately 160 students. The profit amounted to over $17. Not many people remembered it was Friday the thirteenth, usually everyone's bad-luck day.

MARSHALL BREAKS CROSS COUNTRY RECORD

Bob Marshall, Plymouth's number one cross country man, broke the course record on Tuesday in the meet against Ypsi. The former record held by Kenneth McMullin was 10:28. Bob covered the same two-mile course over rough country in 10:27 or one second less. That is an exceptionally good showing is easily realized when one recalls that Marshall runs the year in which Plymouth was entered was 10:42 recorded at Wayne last Friday. In all the other meets Bob won but the time was much slower. Bob's time was 15 seconds less and was recorded on a course which runs of the year in which Plymouth was entered was 10:42 recorded at Wayne last Friday.

This first honor roll of the 1939 school year is quite poor considering the fact that out of 960 students, 87 made up the list. Perhaps if we all try we will be able to raise our class representation by receiving an A or B average.

City Dads Thank City Planners

The city commission Monday night at its regular meeting passed a resolution publicly thanking members of the planning commission and those who have contributed to the work of the planning commission by serving on the committees.

Following is the resolution as passed by the commission:

WHEREAS, the Planning Commission which was appointed in 1937, 1938 and 1939 by the City Commission and has performed a most valuable service to the citizens of Plymouth, and

WHEREAS, the various members have given of their time and energy most freely in preparing for the people of the City of Plymouth an excellent Ordinance and Map for the zoning of the City of Plymouth, and

WHEREAS, several committees have been appointed by the Planning Commission for the purpose of obtaining information necessary for the development of the Ordinance:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the City Commission express its thanks publicly to the members of the Planning Commission and to those who have contributed to the work of the Planning Commission.

A Communication

Editor Plymouth Mail: Dear Sir:

I wish to submit the following plan for the alleviation of the present impasse of capital and labor.

A plan that I have advocated since 1916 and one that has been tried by several large industrial and other concerns in slightly modified forms with highly beneficial results to all parties concerned.

A plan that, in my opinion, arrived at after more than 40 years of study of the social and economic problems of this country as the simplest and most feasible plan to follow TO END ALL LABOR STRIFE AND ALL LABOR UNIONS and eliminate all parasites and agitators at present living off the laboring class.

The simplicity of this profit-sharing cooperation plan is its best recommendation, that is, give the laborer a share in the profits in proportion to his earning power, also representation, electives on the board of directors. Under this plan, to avoid friction, the books of the companies should be accessible to the auditors of the states in which the plants are located.

This plan, if closely followed, would weld employer and employee into one big happy family, promote diligence in the tasks of the employer, thereby eliminating waste of time and material, and if one thinks that this waste of materials does not cut a very large figure in loss of all large concerns, let him ask any executive.

The worst that can be said of this plan is that it would be a step toward socialism but it seems to me that even socialism would be much better than the present strife between the C.I.O. and Chrysler and after Chrysler the G. M.

Something radical must be done quickly to curb the agitation of the C.I.O. or there will be no business upturn.

Sincerely, A. R. MATZ, 886 North Mill street.

Taxes per person in 1938 were $113 and income per person $479 as contrasted with taxes per person in 1928 of $78 and income per person of $633.

Fritz Kreisler at Ann Arbor Nov. 6

Fritz Kreisler, the distinguished Viennese violinist, who is now a French citizen, will be heard for the tenth time in Ann Arbor, Monday evening, November 6, when he will give a recital in the Choral Union Concert series, in Hill auditorium.

Mr. Kreisler is one of the world's outstanding musical figures. No violinist of our time has equalled his hold upon the public. Season after season his audiences jam the concert halls whenever he appears. Scenes on these occasions have come to be peculiarly associated with Kreisler recitals—the early gathering crowds, the completely occupied stage, the last-minute rush for standing-room tickets, the atmosphere of eager anticipation, and finally the long, ardent greeting for an honored and beloved artist. And at the close there seems to spread over the audience a spontaneous feeling of gratitude for a treasured experience—for the inspiration of contact with a great musician who is also a great man.

The magic of his name and his playing stirrings musicians and laymen alike. To both, Fritz Kreisler stands supreme, the acknowledged master of violinistic interpretation. To quote what has become a musical adage, "There are many violinists—there is only one Kreisler."

Wedding News

Katherine Strong Becomes the Bride of Edward G. Martin

St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church was the scene of an unusual service on Sunday morning, October 22. Beside the regular congregation many relatives and friends had gathered to take part in the service and the marriage ceremony of Katherine Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Strong, of Detroit, and Edward G. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin of Plymouth. The theme of the entire service was expressed in the sermon on "Unfailing Counsel for a Happy Wedded Life," based on the first 11 verses of the second chapter of the gospel according to St. John, relating to the first miracle of our Lord at the wedding of Cana. After the sermon the young couple was united in holy wedlock at the altar by the Rev. Edgar Hoenecke, officiating in the double ring ceremony.

The bride was attended by her very close friend, Mrs. John Friedrich, as matron of honor. Mr. Martin's best man was his brother, Eldon W. Martin. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The vows were spoken before a beautifully appointed altar, banked with palms and bouquets of chrysanthemums. During the ceremony Miss Marion Beyer played a soft accompaniment of appropriate selections on the organ.

The bride was lovely in wine-colored velvet, with a corsage of white roses. The matron of honor wore teal blue with yellow roses. After the ceremony a four-course dinner was given by the parents of the bride in the Crystal dining room of the Hotel Mayflower to 40 friends and immediate relatives of both families.

Guests were present from Battle Creek, Port Huron, Almont, Ann Arbor, South Lyon, Dearborn Hills, Detroit, Northville, and Plymouth.

Mr. Martin is a graduate of McKenzie high school at Detroit and Mr. Martin was graduated with the class of '36 at Plymouth high school.

They will spend a week touring some of the southern states and expect to be at home to their friends after November 1 at the Wayne County Training school, where they both hold responsible positions. Both Mr. and Mrs. Martin have a host of friends who heartily wish them a long and happy life together.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH.

There has been much said about the decision of radio network owners not to permit Father Coughlin, Dr. Townsend and others who discuss controversial issues to use the radio to present their views to the people of the country. The order, it must be admitted, is an effort to curtail free discussions and free speech by restricting a presentation of such assertions as Father Coughlin and others might desire to make over the radio.

While it is a right of the radio station owners to conduct their own business as they see fit, the fact that the government does not permit so-called radio competition and will not issue permits to stations where there might be conflicts in wave lengths, places the radio in a far different class than that of newspapers. If one newspaper refuses to print one side of an issue, there is always some other newspaper that is generally glad to present the opposing viewpoint. That is because of unrestricted competition in the newspaper business.

But when the radio cuts off some person from a discussion of questions before the public, that, under existing conditions, is curtailment of freedom of speech, as there is no other similar wave length open for such use.

But what is there about the statements that Father Coughlin makes, what is there about the Townsend plan that should prevent them from being discussed over the radio? While we do not agree with all that Father Coughlin says, he does preach good Americanism, he does advocate honest government and he does arouse an interest in public problems. Why gag him? What is there about the Townsend plan that should not be discussed? Are there not some hundreds of thousands of people throughout the country interested in doing something to provide for the aged who are in distress and cannot longer provide for themselves? Because some believe that the Townsend plan will provide a tax burden too great to bear, is that any reason why its advocates should be gagged and prevented from giving their views over the radio? It is a public issue and it, therefore, is a question that should be open to discussion. The decision to curtail these discussions just does not seem to conform to our American way of doing things.

AN INTERESTING ANNOUNCEMENT.

A copy of the Michigan Tradesman, one of the oldest and most popular trade papers in Michigan, a publication that for over half a century has been known to practically every retail merchant in Michigan, has just been received at The Mail office carrying the announcement of a change in ownership.

Since the death of the late publisher, Editor Ernest A. Stowe, the publication has been in the possession of his widow. She has just sold her interests to Russell J. Boyle, one of Michigan's best known and most aggressive newspaper men. Mr. Boyle, for years, has been associated with newspapers in Detroit and Grand Rapids in responsible editorial and business management positions. Not only is he well equipped by experience and training, but he fortunately possesses the right viewpoint of problems confronting business as well as the state of Michigan.

The transaction can be regarded as a fortunate one not only for the retailers of Michigan, but the entire state as well. The Michigan Tradesman under Mr. Boyle will continue to provide retailers with a leadership that has proven of untold value to them as well as other citizens of Michigan.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests."—From the Farewell Address.

GAMBLING

The present gambling law was enacted several years ago, because of gambling abuses, and it was made just a bit more strict than most people would believe necessary; but it was necessary in order to "reach" the evil practices, and it was done deliberately with the intention that prosecutors and sheriffs should enforce the law. If this law is more stringent than the majority of the people want, it is a simple matter to amend the law in a suitable manner, but we should not condemn the officers for performing their sworn duty—we should blame them if they did not.

Of course, those who are touched by it are the great objects and do a lot of condemning but all others should take an impartial view of the matter, and before making any decision or taking sides should learn first hand exactly what the law says.

The law does not only ban games of chance like "pill boxes," the "spinning" wheel, dice, cards, and the like, but it includes anything in which one may lose at which an award is connected, such as ringo cans, throwing balls, ringo ducks, and the like. The thought back of the law is not so much that it is outright gambling as it is the possibility for the operator to commit fraud to which all of these games are subject, and which was extensively practiced throughout the state before the law was enacted.

Ducks can never be rung when the rings are too small or too light, any more than a target can be hit with a ball when the ball is light on one side, no matter how perfect your aim, while the "stools" know exactly which rings or balls to pick in their "come on" practiced daily. Thousands of dollars have thus been stolen by crooked operators, and the law and the reason for it should be thoroughly familiar to you before condemning either it or its enforcement.—Adrian Van Koeveering in The Zealand Record.

RELIEF AND PROSPERITY

With liquor sales pyramiding and apparently plenty of cash available for gas and entertainment it is difficult to believe that the country is passing through a second depression. On the other hand, Detroit has given it out as an official fact that all relief fund cash will be exhausted by January 1, if not earlier. Our neighboring county of Calhoun is facing a comparable problem. Eaton's house in this connection seems to be in good order.—Muri H. DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

WHY NOT JUST BRATS?

They have coined a new word for those young reckless drivers who own the road and endeavor to impress you with that fact. They call them "Aristocrats."—Bob Humphrey in The Cheboygan Observer.

IS YOUR HOME A STORE?

Many housewives in this vicinity will testify that house to house peddlers and solicitors of orders for this and that are becoming a constantly greater nuisance. We don't include in this category the representative of local business firms but rather the individual who attempts to turn a store out of your home, who boasts that his firm has no local headquarters.

You are expected to furnish a place where he may do business free from the expense that reputable business firms of this community must pay. He insists on making you shop at his convenience no matter how much it may interfere with your daily routine. He takes your time arguing you into buying something that in most cases you neither want nor need, and then is gone where he cannot be found if the purchase proves unsatisfactory, which is oftentimes the case. Very often you buy to get rid of him when you ought to say, "This is my home and not a place of business, and I am not going to permit you to use it as a store. Good day."—Fred Keister in The Ionia County News.

THE TRUE FRIEND

In times like this, mankind should at least be grateful for the dog. He is the only friend who can be counted on not to air his unasked opinions about the war.—George Neal in The Orion Review.

IN THE YEARS AGO

In 1883 the average wages of Muskegon's seven thousand saw mill factory, railway and booming company employes was about $11.00 a week. Boom hands and saw mill employes, constituting four-fifths of the wage earning force, were employed between seven and eight months and then had a vacation or went to the "woods." Living expenses were approximately 50 per cent less than today.—James Smith in The Muskegon Observer.

YES, YES!

If the Congress would leave the farmers of the country alone and simply let them work out their own salvation, stop importation of farm commodities the farmers produce, and take away all the political leeches, the farmers would benefit greatly.—George Neal in The Orion Review.

SUPPORTING THE CHURCHES

The churches of the world are institutions of man, designed to help human beings towards perfection, the goal of most religions.

Intelligent men and women, for hundreds of years, have supported the church of their choice. Sometimes, superstitions and ignorance have egged individuals to do great things in the name of religion but more and more, people support churches from intelligent appreciation of the functions of churches.

We are not particularly interested in the church to which any individual belongs. That is a matter for every person to decide. Some human beings like religion served in one way and some like it otherwise. The variety of style, treatment and types can only be explained by the varied nature of men and women who must be served.

Just as adults give their time and money to support other worthwhile undertakings they should deliberately plan to give of their time and money to the church to which they belong. It takes money to run any organization and while the church has a Divine cause it has certain very definite human needs, which must be met by those who belong to it.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

THE TICKET

The Republican national ticket might very well be Vandenberg and Dewey. Vandenberg is the undoubted leader of the Senate and New York is insisting on having something to say about the makeup of the ticket. Both Vandenberg and Dewey are high-class men, capable and unafraid.—James Haskins in The Howard City Record.

OUCH!

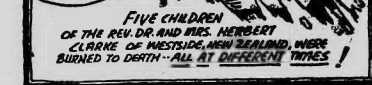

Governor Dickinson really has created a new public job for himself, that of Minister of Public Morals. This new job, apparently, requires all of his time, resulting in the turning over of the Governor's real executive tasks to others. Incidentally, reliable sources inform us, Frank D. McKay, Republican-Democratic political boss, is enjoying himself these nice fall days, too.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.
