

Thanksgiving—Mayor Wilson Thinks Maybe Plymouth Ought to Have Two Dinners Just to Keep Record Straight

Accepts Thursday, November 23, but With a "But"

Mayor L. E. Wilson isn't so enthusiastic about changing Thanksgiving day from the regular day to an earlier date. He is going to accept it and eat turkey on Thursday, November 23, just because, but he also may eat turkey on the regular Thanksgiving day, which is Thursday, November 30, in order to keep the "records straight."

Being mayor of Plymouth, a city named after the day where Thanksgiving originated, and where everything is supposed to go just according to custom, the Mayor isn't the only one in Plymouth who isn't all at all pepped up about switching Thanksgiving day around. Most folks in the city feel just as does the Mayor.

They are going to eat turkey on Thursday, November 23, but there is going to be some "sour grapes" about it. Some may eat turkey on the regular Thanksgiving date too, just as the Mayor says he may do.

"This is Plymouth you know, and our city was named after the Plymouth down on the Atlantic coast where the Pilgrim fathers landed. We sort of like to keep everything just as it should be and we'd like to have Thanksgiving day on the right date, but it seems that our Democratic president and our Republican governor want to change things around so I guess we people in Plymouth will have to set aside our wishes and eat turkey on a day that isn't Thanksgiving at all," declared Mayor Ed Wilson yesterday.

"There isn't much use in complaining about it, but turkey, dressing and cranberries just can't taste as good on some day that isn't Thanksgiving.

"Of course we will try and make it taste as good, but it isn't going to be easy to do," continued the mayor.

"Thanksgiving, according to all the books I ever read and from what we folks here in Plymouth have always thought, comes on the 15th of November. Maybe we can have two Thanksgiving dinners here. If the one of Thursday, November 23, which the President says is going to be Thanksgiving day this year, doesn't taste so good, we can have another one on Thursday, November 30, which is the real Thanksgiving day, that is, providing we can get it."

Legion Dance Armistice Day

Armistice day comes this year on a grim tide of fear and hate. The day that the American Legion looks on as the most memorable and the most to be honored comes as a light through the dark tide that is sweeping through the world.

It is the Legion's plan to back peace this year even more than they have in the past.

The Armistice was signed to declare peace and should now be celebrated to maintain peace, and it is in this spirit that the posts of the American Legion all over the nation are holding celebrations, Saturday, November 11.

The Myron H. Beals Post, No. 32, of Plymouth, plans to hold a dance at their hall on Newburg road in the spirit of peace and good will to celebrate this historical date.

The evening will feature dancing to an eight-piece orchestra, singers, clowns and refreshments.

The affair will be gay and happy with the purpose of promoting friendship, for it is friendship and love working for peace that will keep America out of war.

Billy Ridley, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ridley of North Mill street, arrived in Plymouth Tuesday after a four-year enlistment in the United States army.

For the last two years he has been stationed in Cuba as a naval motion picture operator. When his furlough is over, he plans to re-enlist.

Plymouth Youth Takes 1st Prize in State Contest

Future Craftsmen Compete at Dearborn Saturday

Five students from Plymouth high school competed with students from a number of schools in Detroit and vicinity and won first prize in one of the contests which was staged during the third annual state convention of the Future Craftsmen of America held at Fordson high school at Dearborn, Saturday. In all, 250 students took part in the day's events.

(Howard Ebersole was responsible for bringing a first prize back to Plymouth. He took the honors in constructing a one-tube model broadcast receiver.) For a prize he received a Staffel hack saw. There was no time element connected with this particular phase of the day's contest. In order to win first prize, he finished his model first and was the first to get a reception. The set was judged from a standpoint of engineering, location of parts, solder joints, etc.

In the election of state officers Frank Lodge of Plymouth was elected third vice-president. The nature of his duties will not be known until after a cabinet meeting which is scheduled to be held at Cass Tech high school in Detroit, December 2.

Schools that competed in the contest were Cooley, Western, Myron Ford Trade, Cass Tech, Southeastern, Wilbur Wright, George Trade, Northern and Central from Detroit. Others were the Hamtramck school, Fordson from Dearborn and Plymouth.

William Campbell, industrial arts instructor, accompanied the students on the trip. The group included Howard Ebersole, Bob Gotts, Frank Lodge, Edgar Nash and Charles Bonham.

Candelabras Are Given Church

A beautiful set of heavy, gold-plated candelabra and crucifix were presented to the congregation of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church at the Communion service last Sunday morning, November 5, by Mrs. Amelia Esch in memory of her husband, William, who passed away on May 18, 1936. In order to add to the completeness of the set, Mr. and Mrs. William Ash dedicated a pair of gold-plated altar vases for cut-flowers to the congregation on the same occasion.

The three-candle candelabras are beautiful in their modest and dignified simplicity. A triangular section of the fine scrollwork supports the outside arms, and the candle holders for real, tall candles are fitted with ornamental bases which serve to protect the candelabra from possible drippings. The figure of the Christ on the crucifix is finished in dull silver of exquisite detail. The altar vases are simple and dignified in design, alternatingly polished and of dull gold finish.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Miller had as their guest, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, Lil Perry, of Honolulu, Hawaii. Miss Perry is a sister to Mrs. Albert Miller, daughter-in-law of Mr. Miller. She has visited both the San Francisco and the New York World's fairs and many other interesting places in the United States and was enroute to her home when here.

Ingathering on November 10

The local branch of the Needlework Guild of America holds its annual Ingathering Friday of this week. If you have not already made your contribution of two new garments or some cash for the shoe fund, please do it now—and know you are really helping. These gifts are used right here in your own community and the distribution is made through persons or organizations who are in a position to know where the urgent deserving need is.

Wild Life Club Makes Plans for Poultry Shoot

To Be Held at Skeet Field Sunday

Dr. B. E. Champe, president of the Western Wayne County Conservation association, announced at the monthly meeting Monday night that the club will sponsor a poultry shoot, Sunday, November 12. The one-day shoot will be open to the public.

All scores will be arranged in groups which will give low shooters the same chance for prizes as those who have a high score. As prizes a turkey and duck will be given in each squad of five shooters. The contest will consist of a 50-target shoot at the club's skeet field.

Ross Hielman and George Hesse were named to be in charge of the shoot Sunday.

Gifts were awarded Monday night to four club members following a drive for funds during the past month. Frank Loomis, of East Ann Arbor Trail, won first prize, which was a casting rod. Second prize, a fly rod, was awarded to Lawrence Bogart, of Northville. John Jordan and William Higgins, both of Plymouth, won third and fourth prizes, which were fishing reels.

Club members and a number of interested non-members discussed the Williamson plan of restricted hunting which was in force this year. Dr. Champe said that the club will benefit from this year's experience when the plan is set up next year.

The following committee was appointed to operate the skeet field: Russell Powell, chairman; Dr. B. E. Champe, Dr. Paul Butz, N. D. Doner, Ross Hielman, William Rambo, Charles Messmore, Harry Lush, George Hesse and Harold Underwood.

The next meeting of the conservation association next month will be a dinner meeting. Announcement concerning the arrangements will be made later.

Set Date for Goodfellow Sale

Plymouth Goodfellows completed their annual Plymouth paper sale this year, Saturday, December 16 was the date agreed upon for the sale and the body adopted a resolution calling for the sale of a special edition of The Plymouth Mail only on that day.

The assembled group, which totaled more than 50, had their picture taken in front of the city hall and at the close of the meeting all was declared in readiness by the officers of the organization.

Secretary George Howell made it clear to members that the demand for Goodfellow funds this year would be greater than ever before and he called for 100 percent cooperation from the membership in putting the sale across next month.

After the business session closed, President Harry C. Robinson treated the Goodfellows to cider, doughnuts, popcorn and apples.

Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson and grandson, Russell, Mrs. Blanche Robinson, of this city, and Russell Robinson, of Detroit, attended the funeral of Mrs. Howard Tuck, in Toledo, Ohio, Wednesday.

"County Fair" Grows Bigger, Better Day by Day; Plymouth Cotton Shown

"Bigger and better than Barnum's circus" has become the "county fair" being held in the display window of The Plymouth Mail office. What started out to be just a "nubbin contest" has developed into quite some fruit and vegetable show. Latest entries are some turnips grown by Harry Minthorn, one weighing considerably over two pounds.

Mrs. Carman Root thought possibly the show ought to have a bit of "color" from the Golden West and she sent down a Japanese persimmon and a pomegranate sent to her by a nephew in California. Joe Merritt, 1910 Lilley road, also some Plymouth grown cotton to the exhibit. He grew over 50 plants in the garden at his home during the past summer.

F. B. Houchins of Canton Center road, who entered some home grown tobacco during the early days of the "fair," now has on display a dipper gourd he grew at his place from seed that was 74 years old at the time it was planted. The Houchins formerly lived in Virginia and he had in his possession a gourd that his father owned and had been given to him over half a century ago. He broke it open one day, planted some of the seed, and to his surprise, they grew sturdy plants, and the gourd on display is one of the products from the old seed.

Zoning Ordinance Passes Final Reading Monday

Printed in Full in This Week's Plymouth Mail

The zoning ordinance for the city of Plymouth passed third and final reading by the city commission at the meeting Monday night. It will take effect November 28.

The ordinance is published in full in this week's issue of The Plymouth Mail.

"It is the duty of every Plymouth resident to read the new ordinance as it was finally approved," declared City Manager Clarence H. Elliott, "so that if there is the slightest shadow of a doubt relative to any part of the law, it may be cleared up before the ordinance goes into effect."

The city manager said he believes that every interested person in Plymouth understands the purpose of an ordinance of this kind and added that everyone has had a chance to attend commission meetings and hear the varied discussion that has taken place there.

As printed this week, the ordinance will be made into book form so that anyone who so desires may call for one at the city hall.

Heavy Demand by Deer Hunters for Licenses

One Woman Among Group to Go North Soon

Monday morning, a week and one-half before the season opened, 24 deer hunters from Plymouth and vicinity had secured licenses from one of Plymouth's two outlets.

Dealers say that the demand for licenses is unusually great for this time in advance of the season opening, November 15. This situation may be accounted for by the fact that most hunters plan to return to their homes for Thanksgiving which is only eight days following the opening of the season. Most of them plan to be at their hunting grounds earlier than usual so as to get their camp set for the first day.

The following persons secured licenses from the Plymouth Hardware on Liberty street and the Keefer Service station on South Main street before Monday, November 6:

Harold Underwood, 1341 Sheridan road; Francis R. Beals, 336 North Mill street; Robert Burley, 526 North 33rd; Ira Huk, 305 Holt; Lester Herr, 139 Liberty; Clarence Kincaide, 499 Evergreen; William Rutenbar, route 4; Mel Nichols, 696 Ann; Maurice Evans, 610 Adams; George Kaiser, route 3; William Rose, 1725 Middlebelt road; Warren Harris, Reservoir road; Jake Stremek, Liberty street; Perry Lacy, 369 Ann Arbor Trail; C. J. Kaiser, route 3; Charles Blunck, 849 Blunck; Clifford Reddeman, 471 Blunck; Fred Reiman, 160 West Ann Arbor street; Frank Kohler, route 1; Austin Waterman, route 3; William Kreeger, route 2; John Suggen, 1620 South Main; Eva Suggen, 1620 South Main; Heun Ziegler, Joy road.

Theodore A. Siefloff, 1041 Brush street; Dan Gruberich, 2035 Northville road; Mayford Siefloff, R-1, Northville; Linton Proctor, R-1, Northville; Theodore Siefloff, 1041 Brush street; W. E. ## Over 500 Parents Attend School Record Number Observes Classes

Approval Expressed Over Work Being Done by Students

"Mother" and "dad" went to school Tuesday evening to see just how hard "Junior" and "Sis" study during school hours, how they obey the teachers and how well they recite their lessons.

Yes, sir, the school boys and girls of Plymouth were "on the spot," there isn't much question about that, because over 500 fathers and mothers of Plymouth went to school Tuesday night. Much interest was shown in the work done by students as practically every classroom, laboratory, the gymnasium and shop were filled to capacity for the evening's activities.

Parents' Night is a part of American Education week which has been observed nationally for the last 19 years. Plymouth public schools have observed the night for the last eight consecutive years.

"We of the faculty are sure that parents and friends of the school appreciated this opportunity to see students at work in the classrooms," Superintendent George A. Smith said Wednesday morning, "because on each occasion that they have to visit school, very large numbers have been present."

He said that during the year various activities are held for which the parents are invited. "We appreciate the fact that they come to visit us and see our school system and we realize that they come because they have a desire to do so and not because they feel that they must."

School, Tuesday night started at 7:30 and three class periods were held before the final bell at 9:00 o'clock. The three regular afternoon classes were held at that time. A few of the classes were momentarily held up at the start because light fuses burned out and the classrooms were in darkness until the circuit could be repaired. However, during the "blackout" many classes went right along as though nothing had happened.

Many parents for the first time saw the improvements that have been made to the school in the last two years. They are, an addition to the home economics foods laboratory, practice dining room, and an enlarged kitchen.

The machine shop and shower rooms, which were open for first inspection last year, also interested many parents who failed to attend the opening last year.

Parents remarked about the recently decorated interior of the building and were very much impressed by the commercial work that is being done in the Wood house which is joined to the school building proper by a covered passageway.

The library which now is adequate as a study hall for 125 students since its enlargement, was one of the rooms of interest for parents. At either end of the library is a mural. One was viewed for the first time by parents as it was completed by the department just before school closed last spring. It depicts, through high school, the other is one of story-book characters and was done under supervision of W.P.A.

Guides to take visitors through the building as supplied by the Student Council. Many parents interviewed teachers following the class sessions to discuss their children's problems.

Superintendent Smith says that he is very grateful to the parents who attended the night session and helped to make Parents' Night a record-breaker from everyone's point of view.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony S. Matulis spent the week-end at Kalamazoo, where Mr. Matulis attended the night session activities at Western State Teachers' college. Mr. and Mrs. G.L. Stein, her parents, who have been visiting here for the past two weeks, accompanied them home.

Parents in Robinson Subdivision Seek Transportation for School Children

Methods of maintaining permanently a bus system for the 45 or 50 school children of Robinson subdivision who must attend the Plymouth public schools is a question bothering the mothers and fathers of the community located nearly two miles from the schools.

It was through their efforts that the Dearborn Coach company was induced recently to place a bus in operation at that locality, but because of the unavailability of so many of the fathers, by ten cents that must be paid each day for each child using the bus is proving too great a burden for many of the families. As a result there are now only about a dozen or 15 patrons of the bus. Some families are sending three and four children to school and this 30 or 40 cents per day for transportation charges is more than most of the families can meet under present conditions.

A number of parents in that locality have appealed to school officials for assistance in providing permanent bus service. Some of the children who are forced to walk to Plymouth from Robinson subdivision are only five years of age. They are attending the kindergarten, and that adds another complication, as most of them are forced to walk the two miles each way through the hours of the day when highway traffic is the heaviest.

Parents are now fearful that because of the decline in the number of patrons due to the costs these families cannot meet that the bus service will be terminated and they are appealing to proper officials for assistance.

The mail route from Rock Creek, Wyoming, to Etchetah, Montana, established in 1878, was one of the longest star routes ever operated. Its length was 500 miles. In early days the mail was carried in the pockets of postmen on horseback.

To Tell of Nazism and Fascism

John C. Metcalfe, special investigator for the Dies committee on un-American activities, will discuss the inroads of foreign propaganda in this country when he speaks before the Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher theatre, next Wednesday, November 15 at 11:00 a.m.

In his lecture, "Uncovering Un-Americanism," Mr. Metcalfe will tell his own authentic experiences as a congressional investigator in exposing the Nazi, Communist and Fascist movements in America. Congressman Dies declared in a public address in Washington: "Mr. Metcalfe knows more about the Nazi and Fascist problems in the United States than any one person in the nation."

Mr. Metcalfe, a former newspaperman whose reporting of un-American activities in the United States won for him the Silver Plaque of the National Headliner's club in 1938, joined the German American Bund as a storm trooper in order to learn its secrets. His startling revelations rocked the American-Nazi movement to its foundations. In view of the Dies committee's recent announcement that ten foreign nations are spreading their propaganda here—Great Britain, Germany, Italy, France, Russia, Japan, China, Spain, Holland and Poland—and that hundreds of agents of foreign principals now are in this country have failed to register with the secretary of state—Mr. Metcalfe's current investigations of un-American activities will be of vital interest.

Tickets are available now at Grinnell's music store in Detroit.

Woman's Club to Visit Northville

Next week Friday, November 17, at 2:30 o'clock the members of the Plymouth Woman's club will be the guests of the Northville Woman's club at the Presbyterian church parlors in Northville.

Mrs. Horace Swain, a resident of Detroit, will present "Glimpses of Life in European Villages." Mrs. Swain has traveled extensively in Europe, not only in the usual tourist way, but also has gone into the byways and small villages, living among the common folks and can give a true picture of life there.

Prior to leaving for Northville, a short business meeting for all Plymouth club members will be held at the Mayflower Hotel. Mrs. Robert Willoughby, president, has called the meeting for 1:30.

Members wishing transportation to Northville are requested to call their committee chairman so that arrangements can be made by the transportation committee. Cars will leave the hotel immediately following the business meeting.

At the Chrysanthemum Tea presented by the Woman's club last Friday afternoon, a large number of members joined the executive board and committee for the day to welcome the new members and enjoy the splendid program presented by the Chinese students of the University of Michigan.

The committee wishes to express its appreciation and generosity of Mrs. C. H. Bennett, Mrs. Ward Jones, Mrs. Carmen Root and Mrs. Donald Sutherland who added to the occasion by offering their Chinese articles for use at the meeting.

There are more than 800 incorporated towns in Texas.

Plymouth Dairy Herd Leads

(By County Agent Besemer) The Wayne County Dairy Herd Improvement association has 14 herds with a total of 359 cows under test. For October the association average milk per cow was 65.3 pounds and the average fat was 2.7 pounds per cow.

L. D. King, Plymouth, Lester Budd and Son, Belleville, and J. M. Swegles, Plymouth, lead with the high herd in each group small herd, medium herd, large herd.

Under Michigan conditions, bush roses such as hybrid Teas and other more or less tender roses should be given some winter protection. It is advisable to mound up the soil around each plant eight to ten inches high to protect the base of the plant.

Climbers may be protected either by wrapping the canes in burlap or by laying the canes down on the ground and covering them with soil, burlap, straw or cornstalks after freezing weather sets in.

Mulching for winter protection of all roses is best done after the ground has frozen as there is then less danger from mice.

Speaker to Talk About "Love and Marriage" Sunday Eve.

Lyndon Babcock, psychiatrist at Eloise hospital, is scheduled to speak at the Young People's Forum Sunday night at the Art Barn at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Babcock recently spoke before a large audience at a Town Hall program in Detroit and appeared at Wayne University.

Mrs. Anthony Matulis, director of the Forum, extends a cordial invitation to persons in Plymouth and vicinity of post-high school age to attend Mr. Babcock's lecture and discussion which is the first in a series of four concerning the subject, "Love and Marriage." His talk is entitled, "Boy Meets Girl."

At the meeting last Sunday evening the group heard their leader review a recent radio address of Professor Preston Slosson of the history department at the University of Michigan which was broadcast October 22. Professor Slosson spent the year of 1938 as visiting professor at the Carnegie endowment on international peace lecturing before students of European universities on current world affairs.

The meeting was the last of a series on current affairs and the war in Europe. Mrs. Matulis says that one of the favorable points of this discussion group is that those who participated in it are aware of the fact that there are two sides to every question and also that they should not form immediate opinions.

Consumers Adds Another Big Unit to Its System

Open house is being held during the remainder of this week and until Sunday evening at Consumers Power company's new Bryce E. Morrow station, on the Kalamazoo River at Comstock, four miles east of Kalamazoo, to permit public inspection of a plant which embodies the most advanced developments in the generation of electricity by the steam process.

Plans have been made for the accommodation of thousands of visitors. Charts and explanatory legends will make it easy for the layman to understand how the energy of coal is translated into steam, and the energy of the steam into electricity to serve the huge Michigan area in which Consumers operates.

The plant went officially into service Wednesday afternoon following ceremonies in which Wendell L. Wilkie, chairman of the board of Consumers and president of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, and Dan E. Karn, vice president and general manager of Consumers, were the principal participants.

Another plant of similar design is under construction on Saginaw Bay north of Bay City. General Manager Karn says the company foresees a continued increase in the demand for electric power in Michigan and has geared its construction program to keep pace with the anticipated demand.

The Bryce E. Morrow station is named in memory of a well-known electrical engineer who for many years headed Consumers' electric production and transmission department. It adds 70,000 kilowatts, or almost 100,000 horsepower, to the company's generating capacity—an increase of about one-sixth.

Through a statewide interconnected network of transmission lines, the power will be at the service of the entire Consumers territory, embracing most of the Lower Peninsula outside the Detroit and Thumb areas.

The Morrow station will consume approximately 200,000 tons of coal per year, and storage capacity for 165,000 tons has been provided. Ground calcium, the coal is blown into the boiler furnaces through burner jets, where it burns like gas. Boilers operate at a pressure of 900 pounds per square inch, producing steam superheated to 875 degrees Fahrenheit. This steam goes to the two turbines, entering at a pressure of 800 pounds.

Within each turbine the steam operates against thousands of blades on a shaft. The shaft revolves, turning the electric generator which is on the same shaft. Each of the two generators revolves 3600 times a minute, or 60 times a second.

Frosted Foods Most Popular

"I've been in the grocery business for nearly 35 years, and in that time I have seen many changes, many improvements and much progress in the food business, but to my way of thinking this new system of making available to consumers fresh foods, frosted for preservation, is without question the longest step ever taken for the benefit of food buyers," stated William Pettigill, veteran Plymouth merchant yesterday when discussing the new frosted food service he has just installed.

Fresh strawberries, fresh vegetables, fresh fruits of all kinds, fresh meats and fresh fish, all prepared and ready for serving or cooking, available in winter time and out of season, is now made possible by the frosted food department in the Pettigill store.

In fact, so popular was the demand for these foods last week-end that it was necessary for Mr. Pettigill to re-order various items several times.

Some families prepared practically an entire meal out of the frosted foods. They served fresh vegetables, fresh frosted meats and fresh fruits and found them to be most delicious.

"It was only after most careful investigation over a period of many months that I selected the popular Birds Eye frosted foods," stated Mr. Pettigill yesterday. "This company is one of the first and largest in the entire United States handling frosted foods and because of its high reputation I made the selection that I did."

Despite the fact that, in some states, conviction of arson may bring the death penalty and that, in most others, the crime is punished by prison terms of from 20 years to life, fire insurance actuaries estimate that, in the United States, a building of one kind or another is purposely set on fire every two hours.

passes down into two condensers directly below. Each condenser is honeycombed with 22 miles of copper tubes an inch in diameter. Water is pumped from the river, through the tubes and back to the river. As the hot steam passes around the colder tubes, the steam is condensed back into the boiler at a pressure of 1200 pounds per square inch.

MICHIGAN, MY MICHIGAN

It is not surprising, therefore, that Editor Averill should have had such a prominent part in the arrangement of the celebration of this highway as he did last week. Why should he not be interested, especially in view of the fact that he had so much to do in the creation of the project? The only unfortunate part of this important development has been the time element involved. Governor Groesbeck planned to finish the work in two or three years. It has taken something like 16 years to do the job.

Speaking of editors and highway development, there is one northern Michigan editor who has probably had as much if not more to do with the road progress of northwestern Michigan than all of the highway commissioners of the state put together. He is A. H. Peterson, editor and publisher of the Benzie County Patriot at Frankfort. "Big Pete" as he is affectionately known among his hundreds of friends, has been president of the Northern Michigan Roads Association for years. In fact he was one of the organizers of the association. When you travel over hard surfaced highways in northwestern Michigan just recall the fact that the editor of a country paper up at Frankfort had much to do with getting that road improved. He has been intensely interested in U. S. 115, a continuation of wider Woodward up through Flint, Saginaw, Clare to Frankfort, where it will connect with an all-year ferry service across Lake Michigan to the Upper Peninsula and northern Wisconsin. But just like the widening of Woodward avenue, "Big Pete" has a long fight on his hands to bring about the ultimate completion of this gap in an important highway connecting the metropolitan district of Michigan with one of the state's most important ferry outlets to the editor of a country paper. But he will win some day, and when that day comes, it can even now be safely predicted that some aspiring political job-holder will try to claim credit for what "Big Pete" accomplished.

While up at Bay City the other day at a meeting of the Eastern Michigan Tourist Association, there was present and active in the work of the organization Richard Fletcher of Bay City. He is the son of the late Richard H. Fletcher, who previous to his death a few years ago was one of the outstanding Republican leaders of the state. The father was active in political affairs back in the days when political leaders were public leaders, when those high in the ranks of party affairs had but one chief desire in mind—honest and worthy service to the state. Fletcher senior had the distinction of being one of the first labor commissioners to serve Michigan. Yes, more than 30 years ago there were some people who had a pretty clear knowledge of the labor problems of the day, and Dick Fletcher was one of them. He was frank in his statements, decided by so. One always knew just where he stood and just what he meant when he said something. Unfortunately that is a valuable trait that some of the so-called leaders of the present day do not seem to possess. There was no four-flushing, no dual personality. If he was for you, you knew it. If he was opposed to you, you knew that too. It would be a wholesome thing if such a condition became as predominant now as then. Like his distinguished father who was a "powerhouse" in public affairs for more than a generation, the young Mr. Fletcher possesses the same sort of a fling for matters political, although he has never aspired to high state position.

Has 'Gift' Birthday

Mrs. W. Bourke Cochran of New York, widow of the famous attorney and congressman will celebrate Monday, November 13 the birthday which Robert Louis Stevenson deemed to her because she was really born on Christmas day, thus missing many gifts. A birthday dinner was among conditions stipulated by the writer, who ordered that in default all rights to the birthday would be transferred to the president of the United States.

Rogers was elected to the position in 1913. Mr. Rogers did not serve as a deputy under Mr. Earle, receiving a salary of only $1800 per year.

license problem does seem like a useless expenditure of state funds at a time when Michigan is so sorely pressed for cash to help its aged people and dependent children. What reason is there for trying to make a saving to the taxpayers by not issuing these special licenses, if the saving is to be used up in such ways as the thousands of needless letters sent out by the department indicate? And it looks as though a considerable portion of the intended saving has already been spent in defense of an economy proposal that few are condemning. This is just another reason why the collection of the gasoline and weight tax as well as the collection of the automobile license fee should be made a part of a state department devoted exclusively to the collection of state revenues.

The volume of taxes increased steadily throughout the depression. It is now almost 60 per cent more than the pre-depression figure.

It required 6 cents postage on each letter that the Secretary of State mailed to the thousands and thousands of holders of special license plate numbers to tell them that "the law enforcing officials sincerely believe the 1940 plate will be helpful in enforcing the laws or rules of the road." A full page letter, carefully typed, plus a two page mimeograph explanation, was sent at the expense of the department to some 40,000 people in Michigan who needed, we believe, no such letter or any such an explanation. There is no desire or intent to be critical of any one, but the expenditure of something like $2,500 in postage, plus a vast amount of time spent in writing some 40,000 letters to people who are thoroughly familiar with the intent of the state in this automobile

What's This? Thanksgiving Already? Well, Maybe—

The supervisors assured Elkader folks it was all in fun, but there'll be many a Thanksgiving battle this year anyway. Twenty-three states will follow President Roosevelt, center, by celebrating November 23. The rest will celebrate November 30. Coon Hunters Are Now Busy

Flight ducks migrating from their Canadian nesting grounds are now crossing Michigan in numbers that promise some of the best shooting of the season, according to reports of department of conservation field men. Duck hunters are looking also for an end of the fine weather that has kept many native ducks out of gun range. Numerous flights of geese have been reported also.

Good duck shooting is expected along the major watercourses, particularly in the marshes along the Great Lakes. Numerous flight ducks have been seen in western upper Michigan along the St. Mary's river, in Saginaw bay, St. Clair Flats and the Monroe marshes. The season on waterfowl and shore birds extends through November 14 this year. Shooting of woodcock, the only other migratory bird subject to federal regulations, ended October 31 in lower Michigan.

Sunday, November 5, was the last day of the upland game bird season in lower Michigan. Pheasant hunting was reported good early in the season, with the birds becoming more wary as the season progressed. Many counties have reported as good or better pheasant hunting than in 1938, with some notable exceptions as in Clinton, Eaton and Ingham counties. Grouse shooting has been good in northeastern lower Michigan and generally fair in the rest of the northern part of the southern peninsula.

Squirrel hunting has been reported generally good after a closed season last year. This season also closed November 5. Rabbits and snowshoe hares are expected to get more attention with the close of the bird season for the season on the two species runs to December 31 in southern lower Michigan, January 31 in northern lower Michigan and March 1 in the northern peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers entertained the following relatives last Sunday, Mrs. H. F. Vesburgh and daughters, Yvonne and Connie Kay of Fenton, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Holmes and daughters, Kathryn and Barbara Jean and also a friend, Dayton Churchman of Detroit.

ern peninsula. Great variation has been noted in reports of the abundance of rabbits and hares, with some districts reporting a good crop while in others few have been seen.

Hunters who enjoy the nocturnal sport of trapping raccoons with dogs began their trailing November 1, and the season remains open until December 15. No hunting or trapping of coons is permitted in the northern peninsula. Trapping seasons for the southern peninsula are November 15 to December 15 in the northern half, and December 1 to 15 in the lower half. All season dates are inclusive.

Officer Speaks at Kiwanis Tuesday Evening

Captain Thumme Talks on Traffic Safety

"The automobile has no brains, therefore we must gain control of this traffic Frankenstein which our modern mechanical geniuses have created," declared Police Captain Charles J. Thumme in an address to the Kiwanis club Tuesday evening.

"We cannot expect engineers to provide us with automobiles that are fool-proof or streets and highways that are free from dangers. Drivers and pedestrians must be educated and must be made to control their actions in accordance with the recognized rules of safety," he continued in his talk concerning "Traffic Safety."

Captain Thumme said that now there are many millions of automobiles in the United States. Three important factors must be remembered in connection with them. Engineers must determine the width of streets and design of them for traffic control.

"Traffic education must be started in the high schools and impressed by colleges, universities, movies and city ordinances. A test of one's traffic education is shown by the result he gets on the written examination which everyone must take in applying for a driver's license.

"As far as enforcement is concerned, we need uniform regulations throughout the entire state and nation. The new laws pertaining to highway travel incorporate many of the suggestions that are outlined in the National Code of Safety," he declared.

In outlining the Plymouth police force, Captain Thumme said, "The police department is a 24-hour organization. Among other duties, it is to prevent crime, protect life and property, apprehend the offender and recover stolen goods. However crime prevention as well as accident prevention is always foremost in our thoughts."

He stated that because the automobile has become an important instrument in the hands of the modern criminal, the police must have control over traffic supervision.

"Most accidents result from lack of knowledge of traffic regulations, he remarked, or from carelessness in observing them. Some are caused by ignorance of the law through a misunderstanding of it. Then there are those persons who are prejudiced, inattentive, resentful and some who are deliberate, especially if they are under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

"A good rule to follow is, 'if you drink don't drive, if you drive, don't drink.'"

"Prevention of accidents is the personal responsibility of everybody."

The police captain declared that the automobile industry developed so rapidly that there was not time for growth of customs to prevent accidents and develop safe driving. This situation has resulted in the driver teaching himself and interpreting the law to his own convenience.

"Michigan now has a wonderful system of traffic laws," he declared in his discourse concerning the new laws which went into effect September 29, this year.

In getting back to the theme of his address he said that it is impossible for us to do away with the automobile, therefore we must learn to successfully cope with the problem that it presents. "The automobile is necessary to business, professions, home life and so forth, but it is also an important instrument of crime. It must be controlled and impartial enforcement is necessary. We must not look upon traffic regulations as an irritating interference with personal liberty, but rather as a device created solely for the purpose of controlling traffic through our streets safely and as swiftly as complete safety will allow.

"By seeking cooperation from the public, especially from garage keepers, second hand dealers of auto parts, physicians and dentists, hospitals, druggists and all those to whom knowledge of an accident may come, we can more adequately handle such cases that arise from automobile accidents. This also assists in the detection of suspected auto accident victims and the apprehension of hit and run drivers."

He instructed the Kiwanians to notify police as soon as an accident occurs and said the public should be educated to notify them at once of every accident. The officer's first duty is to aid the injured and then take care of the offender. If death has occurred, proper lawful disposition must be made. The highway must be relieved of congestion and hazards. Proper reports must be made, not only concerning persons involved but also witnesses. Photographs and every detail necessary so that a complete report can be made must be remembered by police officers.

"These reports are filed in the department of safety in Lansing, the Wayne county sheriff's office in Detroit and in our own city files."

In the summer the widely known park system brings thousands of motorists to Plymouth, he said. This presents a difficult situation for us of the Plymouth police force to handle. "Every day, the automobile population of Plymouth grows in accordance with the new families that are moving to the city. At the present our force is adequate to handle it, but in the future more officers will have to be added to the department."

Captain Thumme then suggested many ways in which the parking situation may be relieved in Plymouth and proposed a location for a grade separation at the Pere Marquette railroad tracks.

In summing up his address, the captain said that each man in the Plymouth police department wants to be a policeman that the public wants.

Miles, who with Mr. Miles plans to leave Friday for a winter stay in the South, Mrs. Willoughby decorated her luncheon table with dainty glass holders containing pink roses, flanked by tall pink tapers, in the center of the table was a mirror with a miniature skater placed at one side, two beach figures on the opposite side and a sign post in the middle—"to Florida." The guest of honor was given a lovely remembrance from the club.

With the exception of moderate receipts from sources other than taxes, the difference between expenditures and taxes has been met by borrowing money. Continuous deficits throughout the depression have just about doubled government debt.

Plan Annual Dress Campaign

Plans are under way for the annual Christmas dress drive, it was announced by Ruth Hadley, chairman of the committee, following their organization meeting Monday night.

Working with her on the committee are Mrs. L. E. Wilson and Mrs. H. E. Swanson, who have been appointed to contact church organizations and obtain pledges from them; Mrs. E. A. Rice, who will get dress pledges from Plymouth's social groups and Mrs. John Blossom and Mrs. A. Ray Gilder, in charge of publicity.

According to present plans, Plymouth organizations will donate over 200 new dresses suitable for school children. It is expected that the committee will have pledges from the organizations by next week. Further progress in the dress campaign will be announced in next week's issue of The Plymouth Mail.

IN MEMORIAM

The passing away of our dear mother, Ella Conner, leaves us very lonely. As we look back over past years we are made to realize that all we have cherished in the way of a childhood home, is fond memories, pictures to look upon of a loving mother who made home for us. Now she has gone to the rich reward that awaits only the faithful. No longer can we look upon a mother's time-worn face and recall the old home and childhood days. Through her affliction and great suffering, if it were not wicked, we would have begged God to spare her yet because we loved her so. We knew she had lived to a ripened life and God was calling her to the Glory Land to join Father and sisters and brothers. God gave her 81 years to live on this earth which she spent doing His will, such as bringing her children up in the admonition of the Lord and serving his fellowmen. Well done thou good and faithful servant.

Is the rich reward of a life thus spent. As the evening shadows falling marked the closing of the day; And the stars at night were lighting up in heaven far away; As the silent watchers praying for the one we dearly loved; There came a final summons to that mansion far above. Her toils are past, her work is done. Written by her son, J. R. Conner.

The expenditures of government have steadily exceeded the greatly augmented revenues from mounting taxes.

Marguerite Melow and Leslie Evans Wed on Saturday Afternoon

The wedding ceremony uniting Marguerite Melow, daughter of Mrs. Anna Melow, of this city, and Leslie R. Evans, also of Plymouth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Evans, was performed at 2:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon, in the St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church by Rev. Edgar Hocnecke, pastor.

Marian Beyer played Lohengrin's Wedding March while the bride and bridegroom and their attendants took their places upon the altar decorated with palms and white chrysanthemums. During the ceremony Miss Beyer softly played "Because."

The bride was lovely in a floor length gown of ivory taffeta made with close fitting bodice, leg-o'-mutton sleeves, and bustle skirt. Tiny buttons trimmed the gown from neckline to waistline in back. Her fingertip veil was fastened to a coronet of silk. She carried gardenias and bouvardia. She was given away by her brother, Donald Melow.

Elsie Melow acted as maid-of-honor to her sister, and was gowned in chartreuse taffeta made the same as the bride's with belt and hair bow of matching velvet ribbon. She carried talisman roses. Mrs. George Britcher and Mrs. Donald Melow, sister and sister-in-law, respectively of the bride, wore similar gowns in rose-rust taffeta. They carried bouquets of Johanna Hill roses tied with gold ribbon.

The bridegroom was attended by Garnet Evans and the ushers were George Britcher and Noel Showers.

The bride's mother wore a gown of grape color crepe while Mrs. Evans wore wine color crepe with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of Johanna Hill roses.

A reception for the immediate families followed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Britcher on Wilcox road.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans left on a week's motor trip through the southern states the bride wearing a three-piece ensemble of brown and white checked wool with brown accessories. They will reside at 1335 Northville road, Plymouth and have the best wishes of their many friends.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere appreciation of the innumerable kindnesses extended to me by the many neighbors and friends, during my illness. Mr. Hillmer and my sister, Mrs. Barnett, join me in this "Thank you." Anna Hillmer, 341 Maple Ave.

Early American Dance Class Starts Wednesday

As a result of a call issued by Principal Claude J. Dykhouse last week for more students to take the night school course in early American dancing, 16 having signed during the past week making the total at 44 students.

Forty were needed to have the class conducted. Mr. Dykhouse says that everything is ready now and the 10-week course will begin next Wednesday evening at 8:00 in the Central grade school auditorium.

It is said that a few more may be admitted to the class. Fees are set at $2.50, providing the class stays at the size it now is. If more students sign up, the fee per person will be lowered accordingly. All who anticipate taking part in the dancing class but have not made known the fact, must notify either Mrs. Lucille Miller, women's athletic director, or Principal Dykhouse, at the high school the first part of next week.

Has Notice of Civil Service Examinations

It has been announced that a number of positions are open with the United States government. These positions are to be filled through a civil service open competitive examination. Application for the examinations may be obtained from the manager of the seventh U. S. Civil Service district, Post Office building, Chicago, Illinois. Each application must be on file in the Commission's office at Washington, D. C., not later than a specified date which may be learned along with other data from Mrs. Beatrice Schultz, assistant postmaster at the Plymouth post office.

The following positions are open: Special agent, trade and industrial education; junior officer, mechanic in the Bureau of Prisons; accountant and assistants; procurement inspector; assistant inspector of hulls and boilers with the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation.

Also there are positions open in the Bureau of Aeronautics as assistant communications operator and under communications operator. Both positions are connected with air navigation.

Commission Decides to Pay for Grader

City commissioners at their meeting Monday night passed a bill of $2360 to pay for the recently acquired Galion grader which they have had on a 30-day trial.

From all appearances the grader has proved more than satisfactory for the work they intended it to do this fall. The present city grader has attachments for work on hard-surfaced streets, gravel roads and snow removal. The main difficulty with previous graders the city has owned was because they were too light in weight. City Engineer S. L.

Besse says that the Galion has all-round grader ever owned by everything to make it the best the city of Plymouth.

Blustery, Fall Weather Does Not Phase Glider Pilots

One Glider up for Over 20 Minutes, up 3,200 Feet

(By Skysailors)

On Saturday, October 21, John Nowak, who is the manager of the Triangle Gliderport, made the longest flight. This flight was only seven minutes and 15 seconds but in order to stay up that long after a winch tow to 900 feet it is necessary to find some kind of lift to prolong the flight somewhat. The Midwest sailplane which Nowak was flying would be down in about four minutes in still air.

On Sunday Jack Murphy made the best flight. He stayed up 20 minutes. Also he gained considerable altitude and reached 3,200 feet at the highest point.

Jack was flying the Midwest sailplane, although he has a good sailplane of his own—the Haller Hawk. It is interesting to note that apparently the Midwest boys had all tried flying until they thought there was not much use trying to find any free lift. Then perhaps they concluded that they may as well let Jack have a flight. Jack rather showed them up.

The lift in which Murphy gained altitude was of that interesting type known as "cloud streets." Those who still remember that Sunday's weather may remember that the clouds were fairly large separate clouds but that they were formed into rows which were fairly well defined and which stretched from northwest and southeast.

Murphy found that often it was not necessary to circle around at one spot in order to stay in the air that was rising to form the clouds but that he could fly in a straight line underneath the sun shiny edge of the "cloud street" and climb all the way along.

From the ground it looked like there should have been lift during several hours after Murphy made his flight, but pilots were unable to contact such lift. It is possible that an airplane tow might have resulted in a successful soaring flight.

Ted Bellak was flying the Minimoa sailplane late in the afternoon and made one flight of four minutes and twenty-four seconds.

Art Schultz, who was the first silver C pilot in Detroit made a flight of nine minutes and 25 seconds in the Midwest sailplane. Art is the engineer who worked out the stress analysis on the Midwest ship.

Since a flying machine must be built as light as possible, it is necessary to work out mathematically the strength of each part and then to make no part of the ship three or four times as strong as the rest. It is not unusual to make the entire glider nine times as strong as it needs to be for making level flights and shallow turns. In this respect gliders oftentimes have a greater margin of safety than airplanes. The mathematical computations are included in the stress analysis.

Perhaps it is permissible here to digress further and say that to become a silver C pilot it is necessary to:

1. Remain in the air in the glider for more than five hours above the point of release from the tow line.

2. Climb more than 3,000 feet above the point of release.

3. Fly more than 31 miles.

On Sunday, October 29 the longest flight was eight minutes and was made by Jack Murphy again in the Midwest sailplane. It is claimed that Jack likes the Midwest almost as well as his own ship.

Dallas Wise made a flight of five minutes and ten seconds in his Franklin. Dallas does not belong to a club as most of the pilots at Triangle do but owns his ship personally. Mrs. Wise and Dallas, Jr., who is 13, usually help him put the ship together and then after the flying put it back on the trailer.

Two Drivers Get $50 Fines

Two persons were fined $50 each for drunk driving and a total of $78 was assessed for other traffic law violations during the month of October. Police Chief Vaughan Smith said in a report filed with the city commission Monday night.

Eleven individuals were arrested for speeding, nine for improper parking and two for over-time parking. Failure to have an operator's license was the cause for tickets to be issued to three persons. A similar number ran through red lights.

Six failed to stop at stop street intersections. One person was arrested for reckless driving and another was given a traffic violations ticket for driving against traffic.

Included with the violations reported were those of a miscellaneous nature. One felony case was reported and none were cleared. A misdemeanor case was reported and cleared. There were 35 lodgers accommodated in jail and two persons were reported missing.

One dog was impounded and two were killed by the department. The department responded to 12 dog complaints. Eighteen doors of business places were found open.

The department issued 146 chauffeurs' licenses and 18 drivers' licenses. Fifty-seven persons requested that the address on their operators' license be changed.

Six guns were registered and four individuals were given gun license permits.

There were three citizens who requested that the police department give special attention to their homes while they were out of the city. Officers attended six fires during the month and received reports of 17 peddlers.

Two sick or injured persons were taken to the hospital by police officials.

Bob Champe Now Flying Cadet

ROBERT CHAMPE

Robert Champe, son of Dr. D. E. Champe, will leave Saturday for Tulsa, Oklahoma where he will enter the flying service of the United States army. The Plymouth high school graduate and former student of Michigan State Normal has passed all of the preliminary tests at Selfridge field and has been assigned to service as a flying cadet. He has not been advised how long he will be stationed in Oklahoma, but the army maintains a large flying school at Tulsa and it is expected that all of his preliminary training will take place at that point. The United States army has the outstanding flying record in the world and its personnel is rated as exceptionally high. Great care is exercised by the government in the selection of men for its flying forces. Bob Champe's appointment as a flying cadet is an indication of the type of young men army officials seek for air service.

Residents Are Repairing Homes

Permits for repairs and additions to homes in Plymouth during the month of October amounted to an estimated $4025. There were no permits issued for the construction of new homes.

With the approach of winter and colder weather, many Plymouth residents are roofing and re-siding their homes. Some are building additional rooms and others are repairing chimneys.

Ray Sackett is repairing his home at 856 Forest to the extent of $100. Two hundred forty dollars is being spent for repairs by Harold Pankow at 328 Farmer street.

A $400 cement block addition is being built at the rear of the Sanitary Bakery on the William Conner estate and E. O. Huston has constructed an addition to his hardware store on Penniman avenue amounting to $1500.

At 900 North Mill street, Anthony Travis is repairing his store to the extent of $200 and George A. Taylor is constructing a $100 chimney for his store at 823 Penniman. An addition is being built on a house owned by Mrs. John W. Burger at 703 Karmada. Such construction will amount to $500.

Roy Fisher is enclosing the porch on his house at 225 North Mill street and Fred Mason is building a $200 garage at 243 East Ann Arbor Trail. A chimney has been repaired on a home owned by Rev. B. J. Holcomb at 146 Adams street.

A permit was issued to Kate E. Allen for a directory sign on her office building on Penniman avenue. Ernest W. Rossow is re-siding his home at 292 South Mill street and Paul Ware, at an estimated expense of $600, is to re-side his home at 1017 Holbrook.

Two permits were issued in the removal of the home that is being torn down at 609 West Ann Arbor Trail. One was for the removal of the garage to Harold Leslie and the other for wrecking the building to N. S. Rouse.

County P. T. A. to Meet at Romulus

Wayne County Council of Parent-Teacher associations will be entertained by the Cory association at the Romulus high school, Romulus, on Tuesday, November 14.

A school of instruction for all officers and chairmen of local associations will begin at 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Edgar Thompson, president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers will conduct this school with the assistance of Mrs. Walter Gibson, chairman of District One and several state chairmen.

Following the supper, which will be served at 6:30, a brief business meeting will be held. Dr. Norman Frost, head of the rural department, Peabody college, Nashville, Tennessee, and president of the National Education will speak on "As are the Patrons, So is the School."

Plymouth Mad Dog Killed

Identified through the number on its license tag, a dog which had strayed from Plymouth to White Lake near Holly was killed by Oakland county authorities this week for having broken into a farmer's property and killing a number of ducks, geese and chickens.

Upon examination, it was found that the dog had rabies. The owner of the dog said that the dog had been raising from Plymouth since November 1. It was not reported missing and its whereabouts before going to White Lake are unknown.

Inasmuch as the dog was found to have rabies, Police Chief Vaughan R. Smith suggests that Plymouth residents closely watch their dogs for the next week or ten days because of the fact that the strayed dog might have come in contact with other dogs in the vicinity that may have contracted the disease.

"According to law," the chief said, "dog owners are liable for any damage that their dogs may do."

Merchants Will Stage Exhibition

Plymouth merchants under the guiding hand of the Junior Chamber of Commerce are planning an exhibition of Christmas gift articles to be held in the Methodist church gymnasium shortly after Thanksgiving.

A Junior Chamber of Commerce composed of Byron Becker and John McLachlan, co-chairmen; Robert Lidgard, Russell Culter, James Hauk, James Myers, Robert Wesley, Ralph Lorenz, George Kenyon, Ernest Henry and Sterling Eaton is at work completing details for the first exhibit of its kind ever tried in this city.

Some 20 local stores have already signified their intention of building displays for the event which it is hoped will be a decided help to local shoppers to get ideas from which to make their Christmas shopping lists. More complete details of the exhibition will be announced by the committee in The Plymouth Mail next week.

Canton-Beck Home Club Meets

The Canton-Beck home extension group met on Friday evening, October 27 at the home of Mrs. James Spigaroli on Beck road. Mrs. Charles Tetsiker, of Canton Center road, joined the group. After a business meeting and review of the first lesson, games were played and refreshments served by the hostesses.

The next meeting of the group will be an all day meeting on Wednesday, November 15 at the home of Mrs. Henry Travis on Canton Center road. The hostesses will be Mrs. Neil Travis and Mrs. Jack Travis, with Miss Emma DuBord, county home demonstrator agent, as leader. The lesson for the day will be on a "Buffet Luncheon" with the group members, under Miss DuBord's leadership, preparing and serving the luncheon.

Farm and Garden Club to Meet Monday

The local branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden association will have its November meeting with Mrs. Ward M. Jones, Monday afternoon. The guest speaker will be J. Merle Bennett of this city, whose subject will be "Evergreens."

About 70 ladies attended the dessert bridge Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Clarence E. Elliott on Five Mile road, sponsored by the Plymouth branch. The home was decorated throughout with beautiful bouquets of chrysanthemums in yellow, pink and white, and potted plants were used in the sunroom.

New Carpet for Penniman-Allen

Workmen have completed the laying of beautiful new carpets throughout the Penniman-Allen theatre. The design is most attractive and in keeping with the style that prevails in most motion picture theatres.

Recently Manager Harry Lush also installed a new voice machine that enables an exact reproduction of verbal expressions used in motion pictures.

The Penniman-Allen has been successful in booking some of the outstanding pictures of the year and local motion picture lovers have much to anticipate during the next few months.

How do your present rugs "Rate" for—

Correct SIZE

It's all-important in a rug, for the right size rug gives a room balance, added length. A too-small rug makes a room look skimpy, underfurnished.

Correct COLOR

All rooms take their color "cue" from the rug, which covers the largest single area. Present day rugs must play the dual role of setting the color scheme and harmonizing with the other furnishings in a room.

Correct STYLE

The correct style rug lends tone and atmosphere to a room. The right rug gives furnishings, whatever their type or period, new authentic emphasis.

Seeing Eye Dog Co. Says It Is Not Interested

Does Not Propose to Exchange Dog for Wrappers

During the past few months several persons from Plymouth and outlying district have been saving empty cigarette packages and match boxes for what they thought was a worthy cause. Inquiry by W. C. Hartmann, of Plymouth reveals the fact that the Seeing Eye, Inc., of Morris-town, New Jersey, is not offering one of its dogs to a sightless person upon receipt of some few thousand empty containers.

It seems that Mr. Hartmann's children were saving the containers, having the belief, as have many individuals here, that they were making it possible for some blind person to be awarded one of the Seeing Eye dogs. Mr. Hartmann questioned the movement and wrote to the concern to check for the truth.

W. H. Ebeling, executive vice-president of the Seeing Eye concern answered Mr. Hartmann's inquiry, in part, as follows: "Your inquiry of October 30 has been received and let me say that there is absolutely no truth to the rumor that by saving cigarette papers, or empty match folders, a sightless person may be assisted in securing a Seeing Eye dog. We appreciate your writing us, by spreading the true facts in your vicinity, you will help prevent further disappointment to our blind friends. Thank you again for writing us. We shall be grateful for anything you can do to put a stop to this hoax in your community."

However, those who have been saving the wrappers believe that a tobacco distributing concern is using this method as a way to determine what brand of cigarettes sell best in a certain locality, and will award the dog.

Something New for the Hunters

"Never saw so many pheasants in any place in my life as I did out in Nebraska," stated Harold Curtis, Plymouth insurance man who, with Mrs. Curtis, has just returned from a trip to the midwest.

"I was advised that the conservation department of Nebraska has been successful in crossing guinea hens and pheasants and that these birds thrive out in the open wonderfully well. I saw a number of them, and they certainly are a beautiful bird. Hunters say they make exceptionally good game birds," stated Mr. Curtis.

Crops in the midwest, he said, broke all previous records this year. At every railway station large piles of field corn were stored, he said, and grain elevators were filled to overflowing.

The world's largest sanctuary for wild life is in northeast Transvaal, South Africa.

Red Cross Opens 'Crisis Year' Roll Call

Facing its most serious problem in 20 years, the American Red Cross will open its annual membership drive Saturday, November 11 under direction of Lewis H. Brown, New York industrialist. Chapters hope to raise last year's membership of 5,700,000 to about 10,000,000 before the campaign closes November 30. Photo shows volunteer Red Cross workers back at their old World War task of making bandages and surgical dressings.

Rotary Speaker Warns of Dangers

Propaganda is the greatest threat to American peace and American security, according to Rabbi Erich Friedland, prominent Pontiac churchman, who spoke before Plymouth Rotarians at their regular meeting in the Mayflower hotel last Friday. Rabbi Friedland was secured for the meeting by David Galin, chairman of the program for last week.

The address of the speaker was an intensely interesting one. He spoke of conditions in Europe and what had brought about the conflicts that are now raging among the great powers.

"We should never forget the fact that people have a right to live, a right to think, a right to do what they believe as long as it does not interfere with the rights of others, and a right to worship," he said.

The greatest menace in this country today is Nazism and Communism and it is their insidious methods of propaganda that we must always be watchful of. They would make this land of puppets. We should keep it a land of tolerance, a land of all the people, just as it was intended by the Puritans.

Stirling, "in the midst of Scotland," is also described by its citizens as "between east and west and between north and south," and they claim that it has "looked down on more history, seen more armies advance and retreat than any other town in the world."

Odd Happenings in Michigan

HARVEST IS RIOT OF COLOR

CLIO—A most unusual harvest provided a beauty treat for Clio residents this fall when a local greenhouse rushed to beat the first frost and cut a crop of 8,000 gladioli blooms. All 8,000 stalks were on display at once.

SHELL HAVE LEMONADE

ADDISON—Atmosphere of sunnier climates is a feature of Mrs. Charles Estes' home here. She has a lemon tree over 30 years old that is now bearing lemons. When ripe, the fruit, which has been borne every year, averages from one and one-quarter to one and one-half pounds each, and some have weighed two pounds.

ROSES BLOOM LATE

DECKERVILLE—Roses thrive in this section of the state, or at least that is indicated by the late blossoming of two bushes at homes in and near Deckerville. Both bushes bloomed in June, and flowered again in September.

FINDS EASY HUNTING

IRON RIVER—Julius Lindsten got his bird early in hunting season with no effort at all. Returning from meeting on early morning train, he found a dead partridge on the porch of his home. Apparently the bird lost its bearings in the city and flew into the porch. Its neck was broken.

BOY OUTHINES FIREMEN'S RESCUE

LINCOLN PARK—While traffic was at a standstill at an Ecorse intersection, police, firemen, and the dog warden debated on how to remove a three-pound fox squirrel crouched near high tension wires on a utility pole. The warden refused to shoot for fear of hitting the wires, and firemen refused to climb for fear of touching them. Finally a small boy took things in his own hands, shinned up the pole and got a pet to take home. Traffic moved on.

TRUCKERS GET FORCED COMPANY

PORTLAND—Dale Franks and Jerry Holloway didn't want to roll in a ditch with five hogs, but they couldn't do much about it when their truck collided with another car recently. The crash threw the men out of the cab, broke the truck rack, and released the hogs. Holloway was buried beneath three of the animals, but was not badly injured.

WOLF REPORTED NEAR CLARE

CLARE—A large grey timber wolf has been reported to have been sighted twice in Clare county. According to the state conservation department, only four wolves have been killed and bounties claimed in lower Michigan in the last several years, all in northern counties. The department said it is possible that the animal seen near Clare is a coyote.

STARTED LATE, LIKES FLYING

ST. CLAIR—John Bessay, 86, who took his first airplane ride recently, likes to fly, for he said it won't be his last plane trip "because it is just as safe in an airplane as in an auto."

Story Hour to Resume Saturday

The story hours for boys and girls between the ages of five and 10 years, will be resumed this Saturday afternoon from 2:00 until 4:00 in the recreation room of the city hall. All boys and girls who have been attending or who wish to attend are welcome. A new program is planned and there are always new games and stories.

There will be no roller skating this week Tuesday as that is the date set for night school. However, skating will be resumed next Tuesday. The hours are 7:00 until 9:00 o'clock. The charge is small and the group is large, so come early to avoid the rush.

The Junior American Citizens' club of Starkweather school enjoyed a hayride Monday night. The group met at the city hall. Each girl brought a guest. The Central J.A.C. club will meet this Friday after school in the grade school auditorium. The Cardinal club will have a meeting Tuesday night in the city hall and will plan their part in the community drive. The Jay club, which met Wednesday night will also share in the drive.

Both clubs are starting on a Christmas program to be given for the mothers and fathers of the club members. The Boys' club met Wednesday after school and after a short business meeting, played games outdoors. Leon Schroeder, the club president, is planning to have an interesting program for the boys for the winter. Plans for the club include another hayride in the near future, Weiner and marshmallow roasts and hikes. Several members of the Boy Scouts have been assisting with the club.

Since the youth dances have been held in the grade school auditorium, the attendance has increased greatly and all the young people seem to like the place, the music and the crowd. There will be a high school dance this week but next week dancing will again be resumed in the grade school auditorium. Mike and his Rhythmic Kings have been playing and with the addition of Dan Dougan who plays a mean bass viol, the orchestra has been attracting more and more attention. All young people who go to Plymouth high school from the seventh through the twelfth grades are welcome to attend these dances which are from 7:30 until 10:30.

Want to Feel like a Big Shot?

PROBABLY you're a big shot already to someone, so you know something of how good it feels.

What we mean is, how'd you like to feel like you used to think a big shot must feel, cruising along in his big brawny Buick, envy of every youngster in town?

Fact is, a big brawny Buick—this year's beauty of a Buick—is within your reach right now, if you just put your mind to it.

A husky heading 107-horse-powered giant valve-in-head straight-eight can be yours to command—you can roll around town in the staunch and steady carriage that's sure big, beautiful and a bearcat in action when its boss gives the word!

Yes, you can ride in the gentle lap of Foamtex-cushioned luxury—shift gears with a flip of your finger, take bumps without notice in BuicCoil Springing's "full floats" comfort, even signal your turns by a touch on a lever that shuts itself off when you're through with it.

And what do you pay for all this—budget-bursting prices?

ix-nay! On the contrary, you can buy a Buick for less than some sixes! And you'll find when you look into what's included in these prices that they cover many an item that you will be asked to pay extra for elsewhere.

All it takes, really, is the imagination to step up to the car you've really wanted—and once you've made that step, there's no real problem, for this Buick retains its extra first cost in the extra trade-in value it has when you come to buy again.

So lift your sights. Quit grading yourself down. This year, go after the car you really want—which means talking delivered prices and trade-in terms with your nearest Buick dealer.

THE CHURCH OF GOD.—821 Penniman (upstairs), for the salvation of sinners, entire sanctification of believers, divine healing of the body, and the unity of all true Christians in the faith once delivered unto the saints. Sunday services: Bible school, 9:45 a.m.; morning worship, 11:00 a.m.; Y. P. service, 6:30 p.m.; Evangelistic P. service, 7:45 p.m. Services during the week: Tuesday, cottage prayer meeting (North Harvey street) 7:30 p.m.; Thursday, mid-week prayer meeting, 7:30 p.m. "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.—Romans 12:1." After a person has been saved from sin through the blood of Christ this second work may be applied to his soul. This scripture shows the perfect consecration. The sanctifying power of the Holy spirit will be sent by God to the individual who is willing to go all the way. He will purge the heart from the very nature of sin and take up his abode in the pure soul. "That ye may stand perfect and be complete in all the will of God. Colossians 4: 12." All are welcome to worship at the church you are never asked to join. Arno Thompson and Clifford Funk, co-pastors.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH.—Holbrook and Hardinberg. L. Stout, pastor. To many the Bible is a book without any theme, plan or purpose, and the average Christian knows nothing outside of the 23rd psalm or the 14th of John. When you speak of the book of Revelation they shake their heads in dismay and openly declare that they never even read it. This is what Rev. J. S. says: "Blessed is he that readeth, hear, and keep those things written therein." Next Sunday night the pastor is starting a series of messages in the book of Revelation. Come, bring your friends. Preaching at 10:00 a.m.; Bible school, 11:30 a.m. Y. P., 6:30 p.m. Prayer meeting every Wednesday night at 7:00. Bulls Eye No. 52: "Is he a 'good mixer'?" This is the question often asked by the church in calling a pastor. Is he a good "separator"? This is the question God asks.

THE WRONG PLACE.

Newspaper dispatches from Lansing have told of the plan on the part of officials running the state government at the present time to cut state expenses by reducing the aid to dependent mothers. The practice of the previous administration in reducing old age assistance is also being followed unfortunately by the new welfare department.

There are certain places where state economies can be made that should be made and are not being made. But to reduce the miserly assistance Michigan has allotted to its dependent widowed mothers and their children is NOT the place to practice economy. Michigan for more than a quarter of a century has had an outstanding place among all of the states in providing assistance to homes where there is no bread-winner, and the state's financial condition is not so serious that it is necessary to starve widowed mothers and their children in order to save public funds.

The following letter sent to Emerson Boyles, legal advisor to Governor Dickinson, by the writer a few days ago, outlines our views on this question:

"I have just read newspaper accounts of the recommendation made to the Michigan Social Welfare commission for a reduction in assistance to dependent children and their mothers because of the condition of state finances.

"Two years ago when a similar cut was made by the previous administration in old age assistance grants, I objected because I did not think the reduction of assistance to the aged was necessary and because I believed that proper economies would make possible sufficient funds for the proper care of our old people.

"Every one knows that dependent children and the needy aged are absolutely at the mercy of the state. We have long recognized the fact that it is our duty to provide for them. If the present income of the state is not sufficient, and if we cannot economize sufficiently to make available proper funds, then we should take steps to see to it that funds are provided.

"The last place in the world for starvation economy is in the care of Michigan's dependent children and its elderly people who are unable to provide sufficient income for themselves upon which to live.

"Not only that, but I wish at this time to register a protest against the practice of the old age assistance bureau in granting assistance only in accordance with the date of filing applications.

"It is needless to tell any one who knows anything about this problem that there are large numbers of new applicants who are in far greater need than are some who have had applications on file for some time.

"I know that it was the intent of the welfare department to make it mandatory that applications be granted in the order with which they are filed with the department. That provision was in the old age assistance measure submitted to the legislature.

"It was upon my own motion that this provision was stricken out and the matter of issuing old age assistance left to the discretion of the department, so that cases of greatest need could be taken care of immediately.

"I have had numerous letters submitted to me by old people who have sought assistance in which the department has advised that their cases would have to follow the regular routine of the department. Old age assistance applications should be granted upon need and not because of office routine.

I am writing to you of this matter because I know of your interest in it and I am sure that a request from the executive office to proper officials will result in establishing the practice as the legislature intended it.

"I commend every effort which tends towards economy in state government, and I know something about how serious is the financial condition of the state, but ways can be found to provide funds for widowed mothers and their children and our aged who are in need.

"We should not 'freeze' our number of old age assistance cases at any stated figure. There are now on file some 23,000 applications that are just as much entitled to consideration as were the first cases granted.

"I can see no harm in calling a special session of the legislature, a matter I discussed with you some time ago, in order to properly solve some of the problems that have developed in recent months."

THE ANSWER IS NO.

Congressman George A. Dondero has sent to the newspapers of this district some interesting data pertaining to the National Labor Relations Act. The measure was passed by congress, as every one knows, under the claim that it would bring to an end all labor difficulties in this country.

Has it?
The answer is decidedly NO, from data compiled by Congressman Dondero from government records.

During a seven-year period, 1928 to 1934, there were 7,364 strikes in the United States, an average of 1,052 strikes annually. In the following four years, 1935 to 1938, inclusive, there were 11,698 strikes in this country, an average of 2,924 strikes annually. The National Labor Relations Act was enacted in 1935, the first year of the latter period. The following tabulation of strikes by years is based upon figures by the Bureau of Labor Statistics:

Pre-NLRB Period
Year	Number
1928	604
1929	921
1930	637
1931	810
1932	841
1933	1,695
1934	1,856

Post-NLRB Period
Year	Number
1935	2,014
1936	2,172
1937	4,740
1938	2,772
		11,698

In 1930 a total of 182,975 workers were involved in 637 strikes and the number of man-days idle amounted to 3,316,808. In 1937, the second year following the enactment of the National Labor Relations Act, labor strife reached its peak with 4,740 strikes involving 1,860,621 workers and the number of man-days idle amounting to 28,424,857; almost eight times the number of strikes in 1930, involving ten times the number of workers. In the post-NLRB period strikes have involved 4,454,858 workers and resulted in 66,931,423 idle man-days.

THE DIFFERENCE

This newspaper is vigorously in approval of Governor Dickinson's efforts to improve the morals of human beings; this newspaper is equally opposed to his apparent neglect of improving the morals of the present Republican administration in Michigan. The Governor is a gentleman, we repeat; but as the State's chief executive, he is not providing, in our opinion, able administrative leadership within the party that placed him in office.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

WHY PEOPLE PROTEST

A hundred people have voiced their disapproval of the keeping open of stores during a revered preacher's funeral and closing them for a saloonkeeper's. Our leaders would naturally resent having the level of our public mind judged by such blunders, just as they would dislike to have our true temper judged by the decision made on one of the exhibits in our Fourth of July celebration, or of the way a recent public official's wedding was celebrated. But we ARE being thus judged, nevertheless.—Emerson O. Gildart in The Utica Sentinel.

WHY NOT?

Once upon a time the people of Michigan voted a bond issue of fifty-million dollars for the building of good roads. Now we pay as much as fifty million dollars every year into our state highway fund. In the meantime thousands of miles of highway have been built, much of it concrete or asphalt, and we have good trunk lines running in every section of our state. With so much good highway already built, isn't there going to come a time when it is no longer necessary to spend fifty million dollars a year on our road program? We know such a suggestion will be unpopular, but we really believe it is time we were thinking about reducing the costs for new highways.—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

HE TELLS WHY

State Treasurer Miller Dunckel last Thursday in an address before personnel leaders of each department in state departments explained in detail the reasons for school primary money coming slow this year to school districts. His explanation was that the $2,500,000 deficiency appropriation made last spring by the State Legislature to schools forced the state officials to use road money not designed by the electors and now the money had to be put back for allotments to the roads. He did say that if money coming into the state treasury would continue on the same basis as it has the past six months there would be no need to fear for the schools getting all that was coming to them, which is more than allotted under the previous administration who cut 28% off school money. The pay as you go basis advocated by the late Governor Fitzgerald is being put into vogue in every department of state government, said Mr. Dunckel, and this will eventually work out to the advantage of all the people, said Mr. Dunckel.—William Irving in The Sandusky Republican-Tribune.

WHAT ABOUT IT?

Did this administration at Lansing demand the resignation of Hon. Fred R. Ming from the Gaylor TB Sanatorium commission? That is a question in the minds of a lot of northern Michigan people, and understanding what a scant thread of recognition our county has received since the advent of the present administration is not inclining us to believe otherwise.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

It was a most enjoyable evening for those present.

Members of the W.C.T.U. are certainly having some good times lately. The tea meeting of October 29, at the home of Mrs. Clara Todd was a delightful affair. A paper entitled, "Is the Race Decadent?" read by Mrs. Bartlett and followed by a discussion by the members, proved of great interest. Some humorous selections were read by the Misses Pelham.

The Lady Maccabees met in their hall yesterday afternoon for the purpose of tying quilts and enjoying a pot-luck supper in the evening. Miss Gertrude Widmar of West Plymouth entertained about 35 of her friends last Saturday night at a Halloween party. The home was

A false alarm of fire was turned in last Saturday night at about 11:30 o'clock by which it was reported that the Wilcox mill was on fire. The fire department responded promptly, but they were notified when near the P. M. depot that there was no fire. If this was intended as a Halloween joke it is rather an expensive one, as calling out the department costs quite a little sum. The village council at the meeting Monday night offered a reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest of the person who turned in the alarm. There is a severe penalty for an offense of this kind and if the offender is apprehended he no doubt will be severely dealt with.
