CHARLES H. BENNETT

Will Continue for Two Weeks, Decides Committee

Announcement was made Tuesday evening at the meeting of the Plymouth Finnish relief committee by Executive Chairman John Dalton on the appointment of Charles H. Bennett as general chairman of the campaign for this city and district. Mr. Dalton states that committee members are anxious to have the drive for funds not extended beyond a two-week period, the efforts starting on Monday, February 4. Russell Daane, at the meeting held Tuesday evening, was selected as treasurer of the Plymouth committee. It is the hope of the committee states Mr. Dalton, to raise a fairly good sized sum in Plymouth and vicinity. Small donation boxes will be distributed throughout Plymouth. "We are pleased that Mr. Bennett will be able to help," stated Mr. Dalton yesterday. "He will be able to give us much valuable assistance." The committee hopes to make the Plymouth contribution the largest from any city of its size in Michigan.

History Books Answer Critics About Wild Buffalo Roaming Michigan

Who ever heard of buffalo roaming around in Michigan—declared a doubting Thomas the other day after he had read in The Mail about the bison menu that is going to be provided enthusiastic Republicans at their annual banquet at the Hotel Mayflower on Monday, February 5, as the result of the generosity of Fred D. Schrader. There were never any buffalo in Michigan, except those that came here with a circus or have been penned up in a ranch like those out at the Schrader buffalo ranch, declared another doubter. So that big banquet isn't going to be an all-American, all-Michigan banquet after all! Is that so?

Well, these doubting Thomases are as wet about this buffalo business as the new moon bay after a heavy dew. The buffalo did one time roam the wilds of Michigan. They were plentiful here—and they were big ones, too!

Read what Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac wrote to his government in France about the buffalo that roamed the openings and woods around this part of Michigan way back in 1701 when he spent a few months exploring this part of Michigan, just before he started the city of Detroit. Here are his exact words, taken from the early histories of Michigan.

"The banks are so many vast meadows, where the freshness of these beautiful streams keep the grass always green. These same meadows are fringed with long and broad avenues of fruit trees, which have never known the careful hand of the watchful gardener; and fruit trees, young and old, droop under the weight and multitude of their fruit, and bend their branches towards the fertile soil which has produced them. Under these vast avenues of trees you may see assembling in hundreds the shy stag and the timid hind with the bounding roebuck, to pick up eagerly the apples and plums with which the ground is paved. The ring-necked pheasant, the quail, the partridge, the woodcock, the teeming turtle dove swarm in the woods and cover the open country; bison of enormous height and size fallen upon juicy grass which a pillow mower has never shown. The fish are fed and laved in sparkling and pellucid waters. There are such large numbers of swans that the rushes among which they are massed might be taken for lilies. The climate is temperate, the air very pure; during the day there is a gentle wind, and at night the sky, which is always placid, diffuses sweet and cool influences, which cause us to enjoy the benignity of tranquil sleep."

Hondorp, Whipple File Petitions for Re-Election

City Commissioners Decide They Choose to Run

City Commissioners Ruth Huston Whipple and Henry Hondorp, whose terms of office expire in the spring, this week filed petitions with City Manager C. H. Elliott for re-election. No other petitions for seats on the commission were received this week. Next Thursday afternoon, February 1, at 5:00 o'clock, is the last date for petitions to be received. At that time if no more than four have been submitted, election of city commissioners will not be held until the regular spring election on April 1. However, in the case that more than four individuals file petitions for commission membership, a primary election will be held March 4. There will be no primary if not more than four petitions are filed.

The city manager declared that any Plymouth resident who is at least 25 years of age, a resident of the city for two years prior to the election and a citizen of the United States and a free holder may file a petition on which there must be the names of 25 qualified Plymouth electors. Commissioners named in the coming election will hold office for two years.

Ruby Terry New Commander of Lady Maccabees

Large Number Witness Impressive Installation

A large gathering of Maccabees, their friends and several out-of-town guests witnessed the induction into office of the newly elected officers of Plymouth Maccabees No. 156, Wednesday evening, January 17. Assistant Great Commander Dora D. Nicholson, of Detroit, acted as supreme installing officer and was assisted in her work by the past commander of the local hive, and also by Lady Bessie Sawley, who acted as supreme mistress at arms. Lady Alice Rathburn acted as supreme chaplain and Lady Mary Root as supreme sentinel. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion and made a fitting background for the colorful formal gowns worn by the ladies who were installed and those who participated in the floor work. The following were chosen by the hive as leaders for the ensuing year: Commander, Ruby Terry; past commander, Arbutus Killingsworth; lieutenant commander, Clara Murray; recorder, E. M. Magraw; chaplain, Jessie Terry; mistress at arms, Grace Howard; sergeant, Ethel Gramma; first lady of guards, Doris Curtis; second lady of guards, Cora Salow; sentinel, Mary Root; picket, Ruth Gardner; Deborah, Elsie Campbell; musician, Thelma Spring; captain, Ethel Emerson; escorts, Venita Alquire, Dora Wood, Ethel Micol, Zaida Gorton, Hilda Eckles Armeta Hance, Hattie White and Elizabeth Smith. Gifts were later presented to the supreme installing officer, the retiring commander and Lady Edna Magraw, who has held her office as recorder for many years. The hive is greatly indebted to Miss Ruth Hedley, who acted as soloist for the evening and to Lady Mayne Smith, who presided at the piano. After the services were completed light refreshments were served thus closing a very enjoyable evening.

On Friday evening the Emerson Grays exemplified their drill at Royal Oak before a gathering of Maccabees from southern Oakland and western Macomb. Installation ceremony was held for eight hives and tent hives of that district. The next regular meeting of the local hive will take place Wednesday evening, February 7 at which time the new officers will preside. The guards will practice that same afternoon at 5:30 and a committee will prepare the dinner to which all Maccabees are extended a cordial invitation.

Clerks Attend Training School

Mrs. Grace Lewis and Miss Betty Knowles of the Taylor and Blyton store, attended a foundation garment training school on Monday and Tuesday at the Book Cadillac hotel in Detroit. This training course was put on by the Formfit company of Chicago, enabling those attending to receive highly specialized instruction on the fitting of foundation garments and to hear lectures by one of Chicago's leading stylists, Miss Vincent, and also by a member of the medical profession, who spoke on the condition of the human body and on the various types of garments necessary to correct and assist any physical condition.

A course of training of this kind enables cosseters to a better understanding of the customers and their individual needs in foundation garments.

Appeal Board Ernest Rossow Has First Meeting New Chancellor

A newly formed board of appeals which was established last year to work in conjunction with the zoning ordinance held their first meeting Monday evening at the city hall. Most of the meeting was taken up with the discussion of both the state and city housing acts.

The purpose of the board is to hear and settle complaints of Plymouth residents in relation to the zoning ordinance and its enforcement. Board members previously planned to organize at the Monday meeting, but because of other business decided to wait until their meeting of January 30 for organization.

According to the zoning ordinance, it is provided that the board of appeals shall meet at the city hall at least once each month and at such other times as the board may determine. Meetings will be open to the public. The board will adopt its own rules of procedure and keep a record of its proceedings, showing the action of the board and the vote of each member upon each question considered.

Substitute for Buffalo Hunter

William Rengert, designated by the Western Wayne County Conservation club as its official "buffalo hunter" may not do the hunting after all this week-end. It's one thing to say he likes to hunt buffalo, but it's another thing when the time is at hand to become a big game hunter.

It will not be possible to announce until next week, just who the real buffalo "hunter" will be. Meanwhile, old John Rengert has been busy this week-end, playing his last few tubbins of corn. It will be a different story next week.

Welfare Food Allowance Has Been Restored for Out-County Section

Walter Dunn, out-county welfare administrator, has restored the welfare food allowance for welfare clients on the 1936 basis, according to information secured from his office this week.

Early last April when funds ran short there was a 35 percent cut made in the amount of food allowance for people on welfare outside the city of Detroit, but the commission in control of welfare at that time made no such cut for welfare clients inside the city limits of Detroit.

Not only has the full food allowance been restored but an announcement states that there has been a drastic reduction in personnel and that other cuts are to be made in the near future.

Henry Ford Deeds Land to City for Another Small Park on North Side

As a result of a gift from Henry Ford, the city of Plymouth Saturday obtained another piece of property which will be made into a municipal park. City Manager C. H. Elliott states, a quit claim deed was received from The Ford Motor company for a small triangular piece of land bounded by Wilcox road, Holbrook and Harburg avenues, containing approximately one-half acre. Receipt of the deed came as a complete surprise to city officials as no effort on their part had been made to obtain this particular property for the last year and one-half.

Two years ago city commissioners felt this property should be owned by the city for use as a small park, because of its location. The Ford Motor company obtained the property which has just been deeded to the city when it was included in a purchase of land on which to construct the Wilcox Ford plant.

Although the deed has not been officially accepted by the commission, it is thought by the city manager that commissioners will do so at their next regular meeting, Monday night, February 5. Mr. Elliott also said that the property will probably be made an entrance park to the city from Schoolcraft road.

Headliners!

Member of Congress. He will discuss his recent inspection of federal defense.

FRED D. SCHRADER

He donated the buffalo for the stew and will preside as chairman.

President, Michigan Education Association who will discuss Michigan's educational problem.

School Semester Ends Today

Students of Plymouth high school are breathing a well-earned sigh of relief, for final semester examinations ended today (Friday). They have been held for the last three days, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Monday morning, at 8:30 o'clock, students again start a new semester. Anticipations are that all previous attendance records will be shattered when the final count of students is taken Monday morning. Last September, enrollment reached a new high for Plymouth public schools when more than 1700 entered school for the first day.

Since that time, new students have enrolled. It is thought by Superintendent George A. Smith that when the final count is taken at the end of next week that the figure will be close to 1800.

Over 4,000 Plymouth Residents Have Fingerprints on File

Police Department Prints 60 Per Cent of City Population

As a result of civilian fingerprinting activities carried on for the past three years under the supervision of Police Captain Charles J. Thumme and a staff of assistants, more than 60 per cent of the entire population of Plymouth has been fingerprinted and the prints are on file with the Michigan State police at Lansing and at Washington, D.C. in the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

At the present time, more than 4,000 individuals in Plymouth have voluntarily had their prints taken. The work is carried on mostly in the schools, but several civic and social organizations members have also made provisions for their positive identity.

Captain Thumme, with the assistance of Robert E. Moore, superintendent of the identification bureau of the Wayne county sheriff's department, planned and executed the first extensive mass fingerprinting program in the city schools in 1937. At that time about 1,000 sets of prints were taken. In 1938 and 1939 all children who had not previously been placed on record were printed. Rotary, Kiwanis, Parent-Teachers and Woman's club members have also seen the need for civil identification and many of their prints have been taken by the Plymouth police department.

Captain Thumme, who is also interested in the Boy Scout movement and is troop commander for Plymouth troop two, was responsible for teaching a group of eight boys the principles, method and purpose of fingerprinting. The boys competed with like groups from this section of the state at a Boy Scout exposition at Detroit in March, 1938, and won first prize, a blue ribbon, for excellence in taking, classifying and filing finger prints. These eight boys assisted the police department this year. They are Richard Strong, Robert Dailey, Robert Daniel, George Blyton, August Elliott,

John Daoust, Robert Bachelor and Orlyn Lewis.

According to law, finger prints that are taken for civil identification cannot be used as evidence against a criminal suspect. They are used by the civil identification department and by them only.

"If all persons were printed, there would be no such thing as unidentified dead," Captain Thumme said while explaining the "why" of civil fingerprinting. He said that fingerprints are most valuable when used as a means of positive identification for persons accidentally injured or killed. Also this means is used to identify amnesia victims. "The fingerprint is the only way of positively identifying one's self when he is in a strange locality or country," the captain declared.

A method of fingerprinting was known 12,000 years ago. Archaeologists find the prints on pottery made in Egypt, indicating maker and brand. Also Assyrian clay tablets in the British museum indicate fingerprints were used as a manual seal to give personal mark of authenticity to documents.

Fingerprints were first used in the United States in 1901. Between 1901 and 1905, the New York City magistrate's court made 31,000 identifications without error. It was not until 1913 that city police forces used fingerprinting as a means of identification.

Fingerprinting was started in the city of Plymouth in the late 1920's for criminal purposes, but as a means of criminal identification it was not extensively done until after Captain Thumme's graduation from a government course.

"If there are any residents of the city who desire to have their fingerprints taken and recorded with the state police and at Washington, D.C., we at the police department will be glad to perform this service for you," Captain Thumme declared. "Fingerprinting means merely positive identity. It means that the person who registers himself is proud of being identified with modern society and is willing to play the game according to the rules."

MICHIGAN IN CONGRESS

A History of Michigan in the Congress of the United States
By GEORGE A. DONDERO
Member of Congress, 17th Michigan District

This is the first of a series of articles dealing with Michigan's representation in the Congress of the United States, covering both the Territorial and Statehood years down to the present time.

The Territory of Michigan was first represented in the Congress of the United States when William W. Woodbridge took his seat as a delegate on March 2, 1820. He was succeeded by Solomon Sibley, Gabriel Richard, Austin E. Wing, John Biddle, Lucius Lyon, and George W. Jones, in the order named.

William W. Woodbridge of Detroit was a lawyer and after his service in Congress became judge of the Supreme Court of the Michigan Territory. In 1840 he became Governor of the state of Michigan and later was elected by a combination of Whigs and Democrats to the United States senate for a term beginning March 4, 1841 and ending March 3, 1847.

Solomon Sibley, like his predecessor, was a lawyer and also became judge of the Supreme Court of the Michigan Territory from 1824 to 1837. Prior to his service in Congress, he was a member of the legislature of the Northwest Territory and served as mayor of Detroit. His son, Henry Hastings Sibley, rose to a position of prominence in the Wisconsin Territory and the Minnesota Territory, serving as a delegate in Congress from both of these territories and later as Governor of Minnesota from 1858 to 1860.

Gabriel Richard, who followed Solomon Sibley as delegate, is the only Roman Catholic priest who ever served in Congress. He was born in La Ville de Saintes, France, October 15, 1767, was ordained as a priest on October 15, 1790; emigrated to the United States two years later; and, after a period during which he instructed in St. Mary's (Maryland) College, served as a missionary among the Indians in the Northwest Territory.

Austin E. Wing, who first resided in Detroit and later in Monroe, served three terms as delegate, first, two terms immediately after Gabriel Richard and then one term after a two-year interval during which John Biddle was a delegate in Congress.

Lucius Lyon of Bronson followed Wing as a Delegate in Congress and, upon the admission of Michigan into the Union, became one of Michigan's first United States Senators, taking his seat on January 26, 1837. His service in Congress was concluded by one term in the United States House of Representatives, 1843-1845.

George W. Jones of Sinsinawa served in Congress as a delegate to represent the Michigan Territory. He served as the representative of the Michigan Territory until December 5, 1836, when he became the delegate from the Wisconsin Territory, which was formed from a portion of the Michigan Territory. George W. Jones later became one of the first United States Senators from the state of Iowa, serving from December 7, 1848, to March 3, 1859. He was appointed minister resident of the United States to New Granada by President Buchanan on March 8, 1859, and served in that capacity until he was recalled by President Lincoln in July, 1861. On his return to the United States he was arrested in New York by order of Secretary Howard on the charge of disloyalty, based upon a friendly letter to his former college mate, Jefferson Davis. He was imprisoned in Fort Lafayette, in New York harbor, for more than two months when he was released by order of President Abraham Lincoln.

The next article in this series will consist of a table giving the Congresses in which each of the foregoing delegates served and information regarding their respective tenures of office.

Communications

All liquor privileges are up for re-licensing May first.

The Liquor Control commission attempts in all cases to sustain the attitude of the local governing bodies in matters of licensing. In other words, the commission accepts the opinions of the persons who handle these problems for their home communities.

One constantly hears that "something should be done" about this or that location or licensee.

That's just exactly what we're getting at. Hundreds of township, village and city elections will be held in April. Nominations for these posts will be made directly. If you think some "spot" should be eliminated, reflect your opinions through your choice of your council or commissioner member.

In forming your judgment or locations, personalities, etc., please keep in mind that the liquor problem is social as well as economic. In other words the "local" (in your opinion) spot may have some semi-social defense. The tavern trade operates much after the fashion of hotels they are patronized according to the tastes and financial standing of the customer. Because you do not patronize the alleged "poor" spots is not of itself sufficient reason for condemnation. If the character of the place is vicious and too low for public toleration it should be eliminated regardless of clients or influence but if reaching your conclusions "think on these things" which make for a tolerant consideration toward this and all other problems in connection with today's some what confusing social order.

The liquor problem belongs to all of us. If you have some ideas toward improving the situation—in your own neighborhood, village or city—register your opinions as above suggested. We are merely asking you to return, for the nonce, to the old town meeting type of government which has made America great.

Remember that basically all liquor permits begin at home. Very respectfully,
MURL H. DEFOE,
Commissioner

Plymouth Mail, Dear Sir:

I would like to suggest that you have a space in your paper, a Public Letter Box, as in the Detroit News. I think there would be lots of interest shown in a column of public opinions. A Subscriber.

P. S. The Mail is always pleased to publish letters from its readers, providing they are signed with the address of the writer. It is not essential that the name be printed in the newspaper, but for the protection of The Mail it is necessary that the writer be known. Of course, communications of personal criticism cannot be published.

"M" Grid Stars Kiwanis Guests

"It has been many years since a man from Plymouth has been on the University of Michigan varsity football team. This year he was represented by Joe Rogers. Although Joe is not well known personally here, his gridiron laurels are known the city over. So Kiwanis tonight has brought Joe and his fellowmate in the "M" team, Ed Frutig, here in order that we may become better acquainted," said Edwin A. Schrader, through whose efforts the two Michigan university men appeared at Kiwanis Tuesday night.

Mr. Schrader first presented Frutig to fellow Kiwanians and guests, members of Plymouth high school football squad. Ed said that he felt as much at home in Plymouth as he does at River Rouge, his home. He remarked that he has played both basketball and football in Plymouth and has made many friends here. River Rouge is a member of the "win Valley conference as is Plymouth.

Joe Rogers told some interesting sidelights about the game of football as played at the University. He said he was proud to have his name on the roster as being from Plymouth and hoped that the townfolk here liked him as well as he liked them. Moving pictures of the Iowa-

Michigan game were then shown to the club and their guests. Rogers and Frutig collaborated to tell the story of the game behind the pictures. After the meeting the boys answered a number of questions which had come up relative to football and the University of Michigan.

Experiments are under way to determine the efficiency of new type mirrors, designed for use alongside roadsides, to reflect "wasted" portions of the light from automobiles back to the road.

State Normal Professor Will Be Woman's Club Speaker

Meeting on February 2 to Be Interesting One

When the members of the Woman's Club of Plymouth meet next Friday afternoon, February 2, they will have the pleasure of hearing a talk by Professor E. Wiggins Waugh, assistant professor of political science at Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti.

Professor Waugh is a southern gentleman. He was born in Goodman, Mississippi, the son of a cotton planter and grandson of a slave-owner who became a soldier in the Confederate army.

Since 1927, Professor Waugh has taught in schools of Michigan, first at the Lincoln consolidated training school of Michigan State Normal college and then in 1931 he became affiliated with the political science department of Michigan State Normal college.

PROF. E. WIGGINS WAUGH

Professor Waugh, who will speak upon "Man's Mind and the Drill Sergeant," is well informed about the political happenings of our time. His frequent talks at club meetings and forum discussions have always been stimulating. He has traveled abroad through England, France, Belgium, Poland, Soviet Union and Germany. He holds the A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of Mississippi and has done graduate work in Columbia University and George Washington University.

He has just recently completed his book, "Heaven Speaks American," a satire against bigotry. Released this fall by the Torch Press of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, the book is a plea for intellectual freedom and is intended as ridicule only to those "glaring superpatriots who go crusading through the length and breadth of the land to fan the flames of bigotry and natural ecstasies among our normally peaceful and well meaning citizens." It is this idea which is behind the speech. Professor Waugh will give to the Woman's Club.

This meeting has been made a guest day so that club members will be able to invite their friends to hear this interesting speaker and enjoy the music of Miss Doris Hamill, guest violinist.

A large group of members met last Friday to honor the club's past presidents and enjoy the program for the afternoon. Mrs. Alvin Balden, guest pianist and Miss Marian Stowe, assistant professor of speech at Michigan State Normal college, presenting a delightful group of dramatic readings, delighted the entire audience with their presentations.

At the festivals of the Immaculate Conception and Corpus Christi at the Spanish Cathedral, in Seville, Spain, choir boys still carry out one of the rituals of the early Christian church, now generally long forgotten, they dance in front of the altar keeping time with castanets.

MICHIGAN, MY MICHIGAN

for Seward, of New York, but after the stampede started for Lincoln, Austin Blair arose and said:

"... The state of Michigan from first to last, has cast her vote for the great statesman of New York. She has nothing to take back. She has not sent me back to worship the rising sun, but she has put me forward to say that, at your behest here today, she lays down her first, best loved candidate to take up yours, with some quivering in the veins; but she does not fear that the fame of Seward will suffer, she knows that his name is a portion of the history of the American Union; it will be written and read, and beloved, long after the excitement of this day has passed away, and when presidents themselves are forgotten in the oblivion which comes over all things. We stand by him still. We have followed him with a single eye and with unwavering faith in times past. We marshal now behind him in the grand column which shall go out to battle for Abraham Lincoln, of Illinois."

"Mark you, what has obtained today, will obtain in November next, Lincoln will be elected by the people. We say of our candidate, God bless his magnanimous soul. I promise you that in the State of Michigan, which I have the honor to represent, where the Republican party from the days of its organization to this hour, never suffered a single defeat, we will give you for the gallant son of Illinois and glorious standard-bearer of the West a round 25,000 majority."

The election returns in Michigan of November 1860, show that Austin Blair missed his guess by the slight margin of about 1500 votes.

Lincoln received a total of 88,450 votes in Michigan and his Democratic opponent had 64,889 a plurality for Lincoln of 23,571.

Wayne county gave Lincoln 7,325 votes and Douglas 6,701.

Washtenaw gave Lincoln 4,286 votes and Douglas 3,630.

Gray Tells Playoff Rule

"No player can participate in the play-offs unless he is a member of that team before the start of its thirteenth game and continues to play with that team for the remainder of the season," declared Earl Gray, director of the Community Recreation league. "The thirteenth game starts for a number of the teams next week," he added.

At the end of the season, the teams holding the first four places in league standings will compete for top honors. By this method, it is possible for a team which might have had a bad start to come through and win the tournament. The Plating team has not dropped a game. However, Daisy, second place holder, has lost only one and that was to the Plating quintet by a close score.

Schrader and Dunbar Davis teams are in third and fourth places. Those teams also have percentages very nearly alike. Schrader's team has won five and lost six while the Davis team has lost six and won four.

As there are but four teams in the girls' division, all will play in the final tournament. Joan Cassidy, as a result of her playing last week, forged into second place in total points for the girls' division. She is three points ahead of Kalmbach. Both are members of the Daisy team which holds first place in the league, having won ten games and lost none.

Games scheduled for February 13 will be played Wednesday, February 26. Mr. Gray announced this week. The earnestness of his announcement is so that players may arrange their schedule before they have other plans for that evening.

Last week the Blunk and Thatcher team won from Davis 31 to 24, and Daisy trounced Perfection 45 to 17. Plating held the Schrader team to 22 points while making 32 for themselves. Schrader won from Perfection 35 to 11.

Plymouth Student at State Normal Wins in Ohio Debate

Dorothy Hearn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hearn, of Alice road, who is a student at the Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti, and a member of the Wodeso club, women's debating society, recently competed in an invitational debate tournament at the University of Toledo. The Ypsilanti society took first place in the meet by winning seven out of the eight debates scheduled. Miss Hearn and her colleague, Ruth Huber, comprised the only unbeaten team at the Ohio tournament.

Miss Hearn is a graduate of Plymouth high school with the class of 1937. She was active in debate work here.

The debate question at Toledo was, "Resolved: That the United States should follow a policy of strict economic and military isolation toward all nations outside the western hemisphere engaged in armed international or civil conflict." Miss Hearn and her partner supported the negative.

The Ohio tournament was the first the women's society had participated in this year. However, their debating schedule includes one that is to be held February 17 at the Normal college in which 10 colleagues are expected to enter.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist. Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of 20 years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00. "Truth" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 28. The Golden Text (Isaiah 23: 1) is: "O Lord, thou art my God; I will exalt thee. I will praise thy name for thou hast done wonderful things; thy counsels of old are faithfulness and truth." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalm 117: 1, 2): "O praise the Lord, all ye nations; praise him, all ye people. For his merciful kindness is great toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth for ever. Praise ye the Lord." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbooks, "Science and Health" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following: 127: "If God, the All-in-all, be the creator of the spiritual universe, including man, then everything entitled to a classification as truth, or Science, must be comprehended in a knowledge or understanding of God, for there can be nothing beyond illimitable divinity."

CATHOLIC CHURCH.—Rev. V. Renaud, pastor. Sunday—Mass at 8:00, 10:00 and 11:30. Confessions Saturdays nights at 7:30 and 9:00. Holy Name Society for all men and young men. Communion the second Sunday of the month. The Ladies' Altar Society receives Holy Communion the third Sunday of each month. All the ladies of the parish are to belong to this society. Children's Sunday—Every child of the parish should go to communion every fourth Sunday of the month. Instructions in religion conducted each Saturday morning at 10:00 by the Felician Sisters. All children that have not completed their 8th grade are obliged to attend these religious instructions.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN church. Walter Nichol, pastor. 10:00 a.m. Sunday school; 11:00 a.m. worship. The young people's group will be led by Margaret Jean Nichol. The topic is "Deciding to Take Jesus Seriously." On Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the church hall, Division No. 4 of the Woman's Auxiliary of which Mrs. D. W. Matzer is chairman, will sponsor a food demonstration. The program is one of interest and refreshments will be served. Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. the Mission Study class will meet for supper in the dining hall. As usual, a committee will prepare the menu and arrange the program. Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. the session will meet in the regular monthly meeting. On Friday of this week, January 26, at the home of Mrs. F. J. Burrows, Penniman avenue, there will be held a Hawaiian tea. THE CHURCH OF GOD — 821 Penniman (upstairs) for the salvation of sinners, entire sanctification of believers, divine healing of all true Christians in the faith, etc. delivered to the saints. Sunday services: Bible school, 9:45 a.m.; morning worship, 11:00 a.m.; Y.P. service, 6:00 p.m.; Evangelistic service, 7:30 p.m. Week night services: Tuesday, cottage prayer meeting, 347 North Dixie, 7:30 p.m.; Thursday, mid-week prayer meeting, 7:30 p.m. Upon this rock I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. Matt. 16: 18. The church is the institution that has kept the world from total destruction. The nations wherein the church has been outlawed bear vivid testimony of what we could expect in a world without the powerful influence of the church—communism, greed, carnality, disregard for the value and sacredness of human life run riot, our hearts tremble at the thought of a Satan controlled world without the restraining power of the Spirit of God working through the church. Where the church is found—peace, joy, freedom, love, and compassion; where it is not, we find superstition, fear, greed, selfishness, vice, carnality, sorrow and broken hearts. The church is not defeated, the church still holds fast when the shadows of eternal night settle over this world, the church, thank God, shall stand forever victorious over all the power of sin and hell. All are welcome to worship at the church you are never asked to join. Arno P. Thompson and Clifford Funk, pastors.

Church Choir to Present Play January 30

The senior choir of the First Methodist church is presenting its members in a musical farce, "The District School," in the community hall Tuesday evening, January 30, at 8:00 p. m.

Included in the cast are such well known members as Alfred Smith, who will personify the typical "Percy" of school days, and Austin Whipple as the sweet little girl the boys all fight over. There are also the Chubby twins, the cry baby and others too numerous to mention.

The scene is the last day of school in one of those one-room institutions of learning, which has produced so many of our great and useful citizens, some times to be sure, to the tune of the hickory stick.

Mrs. Stanford S. Clonson will play the part of the teacher.

The proceeds from the evening's performance will be used for the organ repair fund and robes for the choir.

Rotarians Hear Detroit Speaker

Through the efforts of William T. Pettinill, Rotarians were privileged to hear John H. Bronson, field man for the Quaker Dairies of Detroit at their luncheon meeting Friday. Mr. Bronson's speech, centered around Bird's Eye frozen foods, which are distributed by the company for which he works.

He presented interesting discussions concerning methods used in the preparation of frozen products. Moving pictures were shown describing the process of freezing foods so that they will be absolutely fresh when used by the consumer. Mr. Pettinill is distributor for Bird's Eye frozen foods in Plymouth.

Abraham Lincoln Subject of Essay Contest

Open to Eleventh Grade Students of American History

On display at the high school is a trophy which is to be given to the writer of a prize-winning essay concerning the life work of Abraham Lincoln. The contest is sponsored by the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce and is open to any 10th, 11th, or 12th grade student of American history. It is under the direct supervision of an Americanism committee headed by Ernest Henry, who is assisted by Arthur Dannelly, Cecil Owen and Alfred Vincent, members of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce chapter.

Judges chosen to determine the winning essay are Rev. Walter Nichol, City Manager C. H. Elliott and Sterling Eaton.

The essayers are to be limited to 1,000 words, with the minimum number set at 500 words.

"At this time of the year when students are actively interested in the life and work of this great American, the contest offered by the Junior Chamber of Commerce is very welcome as an incentive to additional and future study," declared Superintendent of Schools George A. Smith.

The contest will end on the anniversary of Lincoln's birth, February 12. Time and place of the trophy formal presentation will be announced at a later date.

Choose Plymouth Co-ed Member of Queen's Court for College Carnival

Doris Buzzard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Buzzard, and a freshman at Michigan State college, was one of the five co-ed's chosen from a field of 25 to form the queen's court for the annual winter carnival held at the college February 10.

From the remaining five, one will be selected as queen. All five will reign over the Spartan snow train scheduled to go to Grayling Sunday for the annual winter carnival there.

Miss Buzzard was a candidate for the recent honor bestowed upon her from the Alpha Phi sorority of which she recently became a member. Candidates for the court skated Monday afternoon and judges picked the five members on the basis of personality, poise and skating ability.

COUGHS UP CARTRIDGE

WHITEHALL — White Herbert Scaver, 8, was rolling a .22 calibre cartridge on his tongue it suddenly rolled the wrong way and disappeared. That night he began to cough, and next day coughed harder. The third day he got an even harder coughing paroxysm—and out popped the cartridge. "Lucky it didn't explode," said Herbert, relieved.

PREXY IS PESTERED

One lady asked him to do something about several dogs using her yard as a playground. Another reported snagging her hose on an iron fence post and asked would he do something about it.

Plan Program for Father-Son Banquet

Annual Affair to Be Held February 13

Program plans for the annual father and son banquet to be held this year in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening, February 13, have been completed. Charles Thumme is general chairman for the affair which is being sponsored jointly by the Ex-Service Men's club and Troop P-2 of the Plymouth Boy Scouts.

The banquet is being held during National Boy Scout week, and headlining the program will be an address by William Hodson, of Highland Park, Scout executive field commissioner for the area which includes southern Michigan. Also District President R. H. Ammerman, of Northville, and S. D. Strong,

Plymouth district commissioner, of Plymouth, will appear on the program.

For the first public appearance, a Plymouth high school boys' glee club will sing, and the Ford Motor company's Dutch band has been secured to furnish entertainment for the fathers and their sons.

Sale of tickets will be limited to 300, because in previous years more than that number overcrowded the auditorium.

Toastmaster for the affair will be A. Blake Gillies, superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction. Other entertainment will be provided by Nosey De Cop from the Wayne county sheriff's department.

It is stated by Chairman Thumme that tickets are selling fast and only a few are left. He suggests to those who are planning to attend the banquet that they obtain their tickets as soon as possible. Tickets are being sold by members of both the Ex-Service Men's club and Scout Troop P-2.

To have the sense of the eternal in life is a short fight for the soul. To have had it, is the soul's vitality.—George Meredith.

41 Register for Membership in Air Rifle Club

First Meeting Is to Be Saturday Morning at 10:00

Forty-one Plymouth youths registered for membership in the Junior Gun club last week. Planned as an activity of the Plymouth Gun club, a member of the National Rifle association, the organization of younger boys is being formed to teach them the proper handling of firearms in addition to providing an excellent Saturday morning recreation for them. Any Plymouth youth, 10 to 15 years old may join the club. It is planned that the first course of instruction will be centered around air rifle shooting.

Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock the group will meet for the first time. It is planned that they will be advised about the operation of the new club. It will be a general meeting which is to be followed the next week, February 3, with election of officers and target practice.

The Junior club will use the older organization's new target range. Shooting distance will be shortened from 50 to 25 feet for air gun targets. Instruction will also be given at that time.

Two regular members of the Plymouth Gun club will be present at each meeting of the Junior organization to oversee their activities and provide instruction. The meeting place is at their new club rooms and target range located on Ann Arbor road, one and one-half miles west of Main street in a barn owned by Charles H. Bennett, president of the Daisy Manufacturing company.

The Gun club has had the complete cooperation of the Daisy company in organizing their club for younger boys. Guns for those who do not have their own, shot and targets are being furnished by the Daisy company, manufacturers of air rifles and shot.

Registrations last week included the following Plymouth boys: Robert Dicks, 287 South Main; Richard Lasslett, 244 Hamilton; Henry Johnson, 370 Maple; Frank Elliott, 365 Roe; Kenneth Truscott, 357 Pacific; Howard Town, 236 East Ann Arbor; George Schomberger, 992 Hartsof; Terrence Hitt, 824 Forest; Robert Kimbrough, 607 South Main; Arthur Grisson, 658 Maple; Dar Dettling, 906 South Main.

Urges Observance of Founders' Day by Michigan P. T. A.

MILDRED H. THOMPSON, President, Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers

Founders' Day programs celebrating the anniversary of the founding of the typically American P.T.A. movement at Washington, February 17, 1897, will be held in nearly all of the 1,121 units in Michigan with a membership of more than 80,000.

Calling attention to Founders' Day, Mrs. Edgar C. Thompson of Highland Park, state president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, said it was an occasion for re-dedication to fundamentals of Parent-Teacher work.

"Let us face with honesty our membership in the Junior Gun club. Police Officer Ira Hauk is in charge of registering the new members. He was largely responsible for the club's being organized and is overseeing initial plans for the organization.

own place in the picture. Let us pause and question whether the work we are doing is of the same quality which made the beginning of the National Congress so secure. The Founders gave us the pattern for sincere, unselfish service for childhood. Let us not lose the way, nor give aught but our best, confident that we are thus keeping faith with the past and building strength for the future," Mrs. Thompson said.

Mrs. William T. Sanders, of Grand Rapids, immediate past president, is state chairman of Founders' Day in Michigan.

The Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers has 80,217 members in 1,121 communities in Michigan.

May Open Maple Street Another Block

In order to conform with the general planning of the city, it was recommended at a meeting of the planning commission Monday night that Maple street be opened between South Main and South Harvey streets. This action will necessitate the city's buying of personal property because at the present time Maple does not run between South Harvey and South Main streets.

It was said that actual work on the civic improvement will not begin for some time, although plans for purchasing the property and establishing the street are already being worked out.

City planners recommended that the street be made 60 feet wide in order to meet the paving regulations set up by the commission in the zoning ordinance.

When the street addition is finished, Maple street will be continuous from Sheldon road to Virginia street. It will follow parallel to Ann Arbor Trail and it is thought much of the heavy traffic that is seen on the Trail during the summer months will be alleviated by the second continuous street.

World Problems

What This War is Doing to Us

Even a mild war boom seems welcome to us when we have millions of able men unemployed and there seems to be no end to the depression which has lasted already longer than a decade. Anything will do that may get us back to a normal economic life.

However, as much as we may desire a quick change for the better, the question remains: "What will any war boom do to us in the end?"

By this time we can see a few things transpiring, which are rather disquieting.

Unfortunately, the war boom as we are experiencing it now has its immediate drawbacks, which may transform the boom into a worse depression. For one thing, our trade with Great Britain has come to a complete standstill. That is a complete and rather impressive loss for which there is no compensation from any direction. The main sufferers on our part are our farmers.

England, who professes particular friendship toward us, is not so particularly interested in our trade balance. Our failure to come to a satisfactory agreement with Argentina on trade exchange is now being credited to an interference on the part of England. Great Britain and France instead of buying farm products from us find it more profitable to please the Empire states and the European neutrals. Thus we are left in the cold with the exception of certain war materials which are needed as long as the war lasts.

Meanwhile Central Europe is making its own adjustments. In its sphere has come the richest granary of Europe, the Ukraine. German experts are now doing the planning for next year's wheat crop and the result will be that within a few years all kinds of grain will again overflow the European markets. It is evident that the Communist methods were inadequate. The Soviet wheat production was far below the possibilities. But that will now soon be remedied. The Russo-German agreement expressly classifies Russia as agricultural and Germany as industrial in their trade relationship.

So there we are, making guns and war planes while they are needed and neglecting our normal trade to which we must come back in peace time. And while Europe is making itself self-sufficient, Japan is not losing any opportunities in the East. In spite of all that is being said to the contrary, Japan has been very successful in her undertaking to create a new order in the East, and again we are left holding the bag. The only satisfaction that is left to us is, that we are helping our friends, and they are certainly helping themselves to anything they can get from us.

Dr. Donald Laird on Town Hall Series

Dr. Donald A. Laird, psychologist, will be the Detroit Town Hall speaker in the Fisher theatre next Wednesday, January 31, at 11:00 a.m. In his lecture, "Why Introvert or Extrovert?" the former director of Colgate Psychological Laboratory will explain what makes people that way, and what each type can do to develop his best points.

His book, "Sleep—Why We Need It and How to Get It," was a best seller of 1936. In his own personal laboratory, Dr. Laird has unique apparatus for obtaining records of sleep movements from eight persons at once.

Through his syndicated newspaper articles, Dr. Laird has a reading audience of millions. He is a frequent contributor to "Readers Digest," "Ladies Home Journal," "American Weekly" and other national publications as well as medical and psychological journals.

Unlike most psychologists, he approached his field as a rebel through the centers of biology and human chemistry. 41 Register for Membership in Air Rifle Club

First Meeting Is to Be Saturday Morning at 10:00

Forty-one Plymouth youths registered for membership in the Junior Gun club last week. Planned as an activity of the Plymouth Gun club, a member of the National Rifle association, the organization of younger boys is being formed to teach them the proper handling of firearms in addition to providing an excellent Saturday morning recreation for them. Any Plymouth youth, 10 to 15 years old, may join the club. It is planned that the first course of instruction will be centered around air rifle shooting.

Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock the group will meet for the first time. It is planned that they will be advised about the operation of the new club. It will be a general meeting which is to be followed the next week, February 3, with a selection of officers and target practice.

The Junior club will use the older organization's new target range. Shooting distance will be shortened from 50 to 25 feet for air gun targeters. Instruction will also be given at that time.

Two regular members of the Plymouth Gun club will be present at each meeting of the Junior organization to oversee their activities and provide instruction. The meeting place is at their new club rooms and target range located on Ann Arbor road, one and one-half miles west of Main street in a barn owned by Charles H. Bennett, president of the Daisy Manufacturing company.

The Gun club has had the complete cooperation of the Daisy company in organizing their club for younger boys. Guns for those who do not have their own, shot and targets are being furnished by the Daisy company, manufacturers of air rifles and shot.

Registrations last week included the following Plymouth boys: Robert Dicks, 287 South Main; Richard Lasslett, 244 Hamilton; Henry Johnson, 370 Maple; Frank Elliott, 365 Roe; Kenneth Trussdell, 357 Pacific; Howard Town, 236 East Ann Arbor; George Schomberger, 992 Hartstough; Terrence Hitt, 824 Forest; Robert Kimbrough, 607 South Main; Arthur Grisson, 658 Maple; Dan Dettling, 906 South Main; Edward Schomberger, 992 Hartstough; Patrick Kearney, 986 Arthur; Freeman Haver, 10087 Roosevelt; Duane Johnson, 883 Sutherland; Joseph Fulton, 270 South Mill; Frankie Thorpe, 300 South Mill; David Gearns, 194 South Mill; Junior Bates, 374 South Mill; Robert Schroeder, 645 Forest; Robert Stevens, 646 South Main; Rossview Fulton, 270 South Mill; Earl Donohue, 822 Kellogg; Rex Bennett, 897 Sutherland; Jimmie McLean, 710 Ann Arbor road; Heinz Hoencke, 261 Spring; Joseph Brisbas, 265 Arthur; Vincent Stahl, 1062 Church; Steven Schomberger, 992 Hartstough; Kenneth Erdelyi, 751 Forest; Robert Todd, 890 South Main; Raymond Johnson, 958 Starkweather; Leif Johnson, 1388 West Ann Arbor Trail; William Strout, 168 Union; Robert Rimas, 700 Fairground; Donald Allen, 175 Amelia; Wayne Gladstone, 175 North Main; Paul Miller, 352 North Main; Jay Daggett, 367 West Ann Arbor Trail; and Melvin Vickstrom, 483 Ann.

There is still time to register before the first meeting Saturday morning. There are no fees connected in any way with the club and members are taken in if they are within the proper age limitations. Registration is being done at the police department at the city hall. Each new member is given a card verifying his membership in the Junior Gun club.

Police Officer Ira Hauk is in charge of registering the new members. He was largely responsible for the club's being organized and is overseeing initial plans for the organization.

Urges Observance of Founders' Day by Michigan P. T. A.

MILDRED H. THOMPSON, President, Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers

Founders' Day programs celebrating the anniversary of the founding of the typically American P.T.A. movement at Washington, February 17, 1897, will be held in nearly all of the 1,121 units in Michigan with a membership of more than 60,000.

Calling attention to Founders' Day, Mrs. Edgar C. Thompson of Highland Park, state president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, said it was an occasion for re-dedication to fundamentals of Parent-Teacher work.

"Let us face with honesty our own place in the picture. Let us pause and question whether the work we are doing is of the same quality which made the beginnings of the National Congress so secure. The Founders gave us the pattern for sincere, unselfish service for childhood. Let us not lose the way, nor give ought but our best, confident that we are thus keeping faith with the past and building strength for the future," Mrs. Thompson said.

Mrs. William T. Sanders, of Grand Rapids, immediate past president, is state chairman of Founders' Day in Michigan.

The Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers has 80,217 members in 1,121 communities in Michigan.

May Open Maple Street Another Block

In order to conform with the general planning of a city, it was recommended at a meeting of the planning commission Monday night that Maple street be opened between South Main and South Harvey streets. This action will necessitate the city's buying of personal property because at the present time Maple does not run between South Harvey and South Main streets.

It was said that actual work on the street improvement will not begin for some time, although plans for purchasing the property and establishing the street are already being worked out.

City planners recommended that the street be made 60 feet wide in order to meet the paving regulations set up by the commission in the zoning ordinance.

When the street addition is finished, Maple street will be continuous from Sheldon road to Virginia street. It will follow parallel to Ann Arbor Trail and it is thought much of the heavy traffic that is seen on the Trail during the summer months will be alleviated by the second continuous street.

Plymouth Enjoyed "Boom Year" Back in 1914, Says Article in Mail

Many New Factories and Houses Were Built

It was revealed from the files of The Plymouth Mail that during the year 1914 many structures were built within the village that still are in daily use. People of that day realized that Plymouth was a growing community and were building for the future. It is interesting to note that 25 years ago when it was almost a day's journey to go to Detroit and back by horse and carriage and paved streets were almost unheard of here, Plymouth was as much the progressive community as it is now in 1940.

Following is an article taken from the January 15 edition of The Mail for the year of 1915 depicting the progress of the village for the year that had just passed.

"The year that has just passed has been a most prosperous one, indeed, for Plymouth, and there seems to be every indication that the year that we have just entered will see a continuation of this prosperity and a steady, healthy growth. While many towns the size of Plymouth throughout the state have been at a standstill for some years, Plymouth has been enjoying a slow but steady growth. During the past year about 50 new buildings have been erected, which means an increase of many thousands of dollars in the assessed valuation of the village. The greater number of these buildings are dwelling houses, many of which are fine homes that add much to the beauty of the village. Several factory buildings have been built the past season, the Alor Motor Car company having erected a large factory building, and also the Bennett Manufacturing company a fine brick structure with all modern conveniences to care for the increasing business of these institutions. C. J. Hamilton and Son are also rebuilding their plant with steel, concrete and glass, which when completed will give them a complete and up-to-date plant. The Plymouth and Northville Gas company has under course of construction its new brick building, which is to be modern in every respect when completed. The company expects to commence the work of laying the gas mains as soon as the weather permits in the spring.

The year 1914 was a boom year for the village of Plymouth. The tight block on Penniman avenue and the branch bank building of the Plymouth United Savings bank in north village, which is now nearly completed, and one of the finest buildings in the village.

"In the way of public improvements much has been accomplished during the past year. Penniman avenue and Liberty street have been paved, which places nearly all the business places now within the paved district. There has been considerable extension of water mains and surface sewers. Individual drinking fountains have been placed in several places about the village. Many streets have been graded and improved by parking.

"Proceedings were commenced for the abandonment of the old cemetery on Church street, which has been an unsightly place for many years. Two new additions have been platted and many lots have been sold. Our factories are all running and give steady employment to our working men, and to this fact alone is due in a large measure the prosperity which Plymouth enjoys today, and it is to be hoped that the year 1915 will see their output increased many fold, for that spells success and a greater prosperity for the village at large.

"Yes, the year of 1914 will go down in the history of the village as one of the most prosperous years in its existence, and here's hoping that the year 1915 will see even greater strides in the march of progress and prosperity. "Plymouth for Progress" is the slogan, and the spirit of this slogan has made the name of Plymouth, Michigan, U. S. A. known round the world."

Young Businessmen Plan for Dance

Announcement was made this week that the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the first annual Winter Frolic, a dance, to be held at the Masonic Temple, Friday evening, February 9, starting at 9:30 o'clock. George Todd is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. Music for the affair has been secured through the Ed-Ray booking agency of Detroit and will feature the orchestra of Hal Carter.

Maestro Carter and his band originated at the University of Michigan several years ago, and are at present the most popular orchestra on the campus. They have gained much popularity over the state playing for many of the leading country clubs, fraternities, sororities and other organizations.

Featured with the band are the Campus Trio with music and entertainment styled to the minute.

Tickets for the affair are now on sale and may be obtained from any Junior Chamber of Commerce member.

Consistency is seen in example more than in precept. Inconsistency is shown by words without deeds, which are like clouds without rain.—Mary Baker Eddy.

With The Masons

The Plymouth Rock Lodge No. F. & A. M. was opened in the form on Friday, January 19, at 7:30 o'clock for the Examinations of Brother Walter Hammond as his proficiency in the first degree in Masonry. Finding the brother very proficient, the work for conferring the second degree followed.

Brother Ford Flaherty, senior deacon, did an excellent bit of work with the second degree lectures and received many compliments.

After conferring the second degree upon Brother Hammond the brothers retired to the dining room for luncheon and a few songs, accompanied at the piano by Brother George.

The next meeting will be held on Friday, February 2, at 7:30 o'clock, which is a regular meeting. Small Boy Has Narrow Escape Five-year-old Arthur Karnatz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Karnatz, 665 Kellogg street, narrowly escaped being crushed under the wheels of an automobile last Thursday afternoon.

As the automobile driven by William Hill of Grosse Pointe Woods was crossing with the traffic light on Penniman street at the intersection of Main street, young Karnatz darted into the path of the car, falling under it. Hill did not see the youngster and it was because of the shouts of a bystander, John J. McClaren, that he stopped his car almost instantly.

The child was found lying under the car, just in front of the right rear wheel. If the driver had not stopped immediately, the young boy would have been crushed under the automobile wheel.

Mr. Hill, and a passenger, John Niemi, also from Grosse Pointe Woods, picked up the crying child and took him to his parents' home. Later he was taken to the Plymouth hospital where X-rays were taken to determine whether or not there were internal injuries. None were found.

He was confined to the hospital for a few days to guard against complications which might result from the accident and was treated for a deep abrasion on the left elbow, and other minor injuries.

According to numerous individuals who witnessed the accident, Hill was in no way responsible for it. The city police placed no charges against the Grosse Pointe Woods man.

Rocks Win on Foul Shots

Take Ecorse Red Raiders 28-25

In a fast, rough contest the Rocks won their game with the Red Raiders of Ecorse because of the locals' superiority at shooting free throws and in strategy. Ecorse made the first tally on a free throw by Shoyan. Two more were added by Koustas. In the meantime the Plymouth quintet was not idle. To the contrary Norman, Prough, and Hitt scored 7. The Rocks then called time to revise their defense. When play resumed there were but a few seconds before the quarter.

Possibly the Rocks forgot what they had planned during the time out, but the Raiders raided and drove home 10 points, six of which Clemmens made. Unhindered by the enemy activities deep in their own territory, the Rocks managed to gain the ball long enough and often enough to make a counter-offensive to the tune of eight points.

Following a performance by the Ecorse band, the game resumed. The locals got together and scored 13 points in the third and fourth quarters. Prough by this time was in the groove, scoring six points while Hitt added another 4. John 2, and Norman 1. In the fifth quarter Ecorse added 5 points. Then at the beginning of the last quarter the Raiders first main went into action for the first time in the game. The game continued to be close down to the very end. With less than 15 seconds left to play the Raiders still kept up their attack. Each team had ten field goals but Plymouth had made eight free throws to Ecorse's five. H. Jones had already been purged for his contacting the enemy. Then R. Jones, his brother made two successive fouls. Plymouth, realizing that it was more important and also a better policy to retain possession of the coveted sphere than to risk letting it get away from them in an effort to take the ball out of bounds both times. As this was being done seconds ticked away so the Raiders' chances of making a last minute score.

Prough having at last found himself contributed 10 points to the Plymouth score while Hitt contributed seven. For Ecorse Clemmens, a serene stringer, was tops with six. Norman who made five of the Rocks' 28 points brought to 41 the total number of points he has made this year and remained as Rocks' King of Hoopers.

The Rockettes Write

Hope

A. The lights I see in the distance remind me of tasks that are over. I see as a hopeful haven. The rewards on a distant shore. The offers are patience and work. Made easy by love. The stars stretched across the horizon. Are a message from heaven above. That the earth in all this turmoil. Make a peace, forever serene. Turn the shadows of doubt into dream. And complete man's glorious dream.

By Marjorie Carver, 9A.

Faculty Sketches

Miss Doris Hamill, instructor of music at Plymouth high school, was born and graduated in Plymouth. While in high school she played the baritone horn in the first band under the direction of Mr. Dykhouse. She attended the University of Michigan for six years where she received her bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees. She has studied the violin for ten years in Detroit, Ann Arbor, and also under the banner master of the Detroit symphony orchestra. During her stay in Ann Arbor she played the violin in the orchestra for three years, and sang in the Central Union for five years. She is a member of the Mu Phi Epsilon, a national honorary music sorority.

Miss Hamill has taught violin at the Detroit Conservatory of Music and at the present time teaches violin, viola, cello and bass at the high school. Her hobbies, she has chosen sports, particularly golf and skating. She also attends to her own business. She has traveled in the West and also in Canada.

Miss Genevieve Bryce, one of the teachers of history and English in Plymouth high school, was born in Pinnington, Michigan. She then went to the Bay City Junior college and finished the next two years by being graduated from Michigan State Normal and receiving a bachelor of arts degree. This is her first year of teaching.

She has several hobbies which are all interesting and profitable. Collecting Indian relics is one. Miss Bryce explained that this hobby was probably started by the fact that Pinnington is a former Indian village. Her collection in this field is not very unusual but contains arrowheads, pottery and such.

She is greatly interested in music and the piano. She studied classical music for eight years but is now making a study of popular piece cases. Interpretive reading is also one of her hobbies. Each summer she makes a trip through Michigan and Wisconsin. She explained that her motto was "See Michigan First."

Rock Debaters End in 3rd Place

Enter State Eliminations

Wishing will make it so, they say. Maybe it was wishing, maybe it was just plain luck but the Plymouth debate squad managed to squeeze itself into the state elimination debate contest. Until this year 12 Plymouth teams had participated in the state contest, giving Plymouth the best debate record in Michigan.

In order for T.V.A.A. schools to participate it has been required that the school finish first or second in the league competition. Thus in our league one-third of the schools get into the contest. In other leagues as many as 50 per cent of the schools have been allowed to participate. This year, although Plymouth finished in third place, they had won as many debates as first-place Ecorse trio and one more than the second-place Ypsilanti team.

Once before, though, three teams from the T.V.A.A. were entered in the state contest. This year district tournaments are planned. At the conclusion of the district contests sixteen schools will be left to argue their way to Hill Auditorium.

Plymouth will debate at a tournament at Ypsilanti held the week following final examinations. Five other schools including Ypsilanti, Belleville and Trenton will participate.

Why is it that people always have their lines studied for a play but when it comes to homework... we do it every noon during boy's week for troopers is becoming noticeable... It's about time something was said about the gum which is taken from a certain person's mouth, exposed all second hour, and in that mouth... she'll know what it means... Among the hearts of the J-Hop there are two beating pretty hard... but they happen to be seniors... Why does one freshman girl hang around Miss Ford's room all the time? We're all wondering if this is to be a student government or a faculty (two anyway) government... Through the eyes of the lower classroom the upper classroom look very dumb... according to overheard conversations... Why does the word "examination" send chills up and down one's back?... It's odd how certain people disliking school work raise a rumpus when a teacher says "No review"... These places have been designated for the following subjects: News—Miss Hebert's room; Study—Miss Allen's room; Governmental activities—Miss Fogel's room; Argument—Mr. Latture; Gathering place for younger set—Miss Taylor's room; Courting—the halls; Enforcing faculty law—Study hall; Here's a laugh—Scatterbrain is now known as the "tomahawk song"...

Whozis...

The junior girl who students feel is responsible for a certain clause in the school constitution. The tall and the short boy on the debating team. The junior girl who can't make up her mind which senior boy she wants for (or can she?). The reckless driving senior boy. The "Southern Gals" (if you know, tell us). The flute player that forgets his music-hint: He's the P. P. editor. The boy who (s) got "Red". The blond who likes Shieks. The freshman girl who thinks "Speaks" are nice. The girl who gets her "Holdsworth" out of everything. The boy who keeps his "Gal-O-Way" from schoolwork. The tall boy who can't make up his mind whether he likes Northville or Redford best. The sports writer for the P.P. who is trying to make the name "Lester" come in pin into the word "nostle" (candy bar). The "yes" girl who never had a chance. The sophomore boy whose nickname is "Shepherd". The girl who at basketball games compares the players' legs to cuteness. The girl in fifth hour chemistry class whose nickname is "peroxide". The boy who, literally speaking, used to "Neal" at Ruth's feet. The girl who thinks "brown" a lovely color.

Fish may suffer from hot weather as much as humans if the temperature of the water is raised considerably and its oxygen content thus reduced.

Girl Reserves Elect Officers

Ash, Brandt Named to Convention

Re-election of four officers from the group of five was the result of the Senior Girl Reserve mid-year election held last Thursday, January 18. The officers for the new semester are Ruth Ash, president; Ardith Rowland, vice president; Margaret Brandt, secretary; Virginia Rock, treasurer; and Helen Jam Springer, inter-club counselor.

The appointment of nine committee chairmen, who will be members of the cabinet along with the officers, has also been made. These chairmen and their committees are as follows: Elaine Salow, program; Bertha Skoglund, service; June Gardner, social; Vera Ess, music; Ruth Priest, ways and means; and Marjorie Knowles, publicity.

The two girls who are to attend the mid-winter conference at Battle Creek, February 23, 24, and 25, chosen by officers the week prior to the election, are Ruth Ash, president and Margaret Brandt, secretary.

This conference, held annually, is attended by delegates from 12 Reserve clubs of five or six girls. Expenses are paid by the clubs and the girls receive many valuable hints that they bring back to their clubs. Plymouth delegates usually go to the conference with Detroit representatives.

There are three ways of obtaining entrance to a college: By certificate, by certificate and examination, or by examination. If an examination is taken for all or part of the entrance requirements, it is by standard test. An applicant is required to take a physical examination to be sure the course of study will not be too hard for the prospective student.

The studies taken in college depend on the course elected. To enter one must have had two major sequences and two minor sequences in each subject. A minor sequence is two years of a subject. A major sequence in English is required no matter what the course. The major and minor sequences taken in high school should depend upon the course to be selected in college.

Betty Overman entertained a group of friends at a potluck dinner, Tuesday, January 23. Her guests were Dorothy Waters, Pat Mason, Pauline Taylor, Bernice Kinnahan, Pat Kinnahan and Roberta Greenaway.

After the basketball game, Friday, January 12, Pat Braidel entertained the Scarville, Marjorie, Ruth Kirkpatrick, Neal Curtis, Betty Barlow, Bob Hargreaves, Marie Stitt, Bill Ford, Bob Lawson, Jan Anderson, Don Mielbeck, Marjorie Knowles, Ray Parmenter, Jane Springer and Finch Roberts at a clean sweep dinner following a treasure hunt.

Dorothy Waters, Pat Mason, Pauline Taylor, Don Folsom, Bob Folsom, Don Taylor were the guests of Betty Overman last Friday evening for supper after which they played ping pong.

Miss Walden, Miss Lovewell, Mrs. Bird, Miss Locke, Miss Wells, Mr. Smith, Mr. Dykhouse, Miss Cary, and Miss Allen heard H. R. Knickerbocker, the World War correspondent, speak at the Town Hall in Ann Arbor, Wednesday, January 17.

Margery Merriam spent Friday night with Mary Jane Olsvater.

Annabelle Heller was the overnight guest of Helen Jones, Thursday, January 18.

Barbara Meininger entertained Annie Heik, Mary Ellen Dahlgren, Helen Fisher, Edna Wally Savage, Worthy Westphal, Thursday, January 18.

John McClain brings New Fad From Detroit

Housewives take notice: They can't buy alphabet soup in town. Why? Well—Some eight weeks ago John McClain, better known as Johnny Mc, in Detroit and saw a faded certain girl made in a Highland Park high school. On coming home, he tried it himself. Until the last two weeks or so the fad has not become so popular. It consists of a small wooden plaque upon which is glued letters or numbers from alphabet soup. On the back is glued a small safety pin. One would wear this pin as an ordinary ornament. Many have names of the owners or other names, while some wear the year they will graduate, or Plymouth or P. H. S.

GOAT SCORES KIDS

Birmingham — A nunny goat which left home caused consternation among some local grad school children recently. The goat, ended up in a yard which children passed on their way to school. Seeing the horns on the animal, the youngsters were afraid to go by. While a patrolman dispatched to the scene was wondering what to do, the owner appeared and took the situation in hand.

Steamrollers Roll Out Reserves 29-19

Living up to their name the Ecorse Steamrollers rolled out the Reserves in their engagement at Ecorse last Friday by a score of 29-19. It was evident at the end of the first half that unless the Reserves made a strong counter offensive the Ecorse team's standing as being undefeated this year would be unaltered at the cessation of hostilities. One reason for this was the lack of team play. Dunham, though scoring no points in the first half of the contest, did much to set up plays for Hoffman.

In the first quarter Hoffman chalked up a field goal and a free throw for three points, while the five made by the Steamrollers Compton and Ulrich. From the beginning it was apparent that the Reserves were bewildered by the size of the Ecorse floor.

Thus at the end of the half Ecorse led by a score of 15-10. When the game resumed Gordon took over Hoffman's role as a "one ranger" as he made three field goals and a free throw. Dunham, making the good work also scored a basket. On the other hand the Ecorse squad continued their rampage scoring seven field goals for 14 points. At the conclusion of the game Ecorse was ahead by 10 points.

The second and fourth quarters were the most productive for Plymouth netting their six points in each. The Reds' best quarter was much better than it produced top.

Hoffman was Plymouth's leading scorer having made many shots which brought in a number he has made this year. Compton was the opposition's ace having tallied 12 points.

Summary: Plymouth 19: Hoffman 9; Gordon 7; Dunham 2; Marshall 1; Orr 0; Hunter 0; Lockwood 0; Ecorse 29: Compton 12; Ulrich 4; Miron 4; Kelly 1; Traut 1; Bruce 0; Kish 0; O'Leary 0; Koualchick 0; Martin 0; Clugan 0.

Soein's how it was getting' too hot for comfort we gettin' thought we'd lay low till it blew over so we wouldn't have to take it on the lam.

We've wonder how Bob Daniel (We Connecticut Yankees—you didn't fool us, Bob—or is he going out of commission?) is coming in for search for "Us Southern Gals." Or maybe he's putting his energies on a more worthwhile project (meaning the constitution and J-Hop of course).

"Scrakin'" of the constitution, we wouldn't see some "ho-do" here for a while. Ever so many other wise sleepy-eyed people perked up for a while, but I guess they've gone back in their shell again. Not mentioning any names, of course, but you know who we mean.

F.H.S. seems to be turning out some pretty good bowlers. Not only are their scores quite high, but—what term?

"Don't you all just 'adore' Dorothy Richard's woolly lamb sweater? We think it's sweet."

One question of the week (we thought it first in E. Pluribus Unum) is "Does Margery Morrison really whistle while she's alone because she's self-conscious or is there another reason?"

We've wonder when we hear some of the magnificent cheers of the "swell" leaders, why the cheer-leading team doesn't take on the McAllister boys as regulars—or ask for original yells from students, to stir up more pep.

Every week we'll take a little peep into the future (in fact, about ten years from now) and can't you just see...

Vera Ess graduated from college with the highest marks of her class? And Ed Mully (in college too) dragging into class about 25 minutes late? (We've heard now he's turned over a new leaf.)

Seems as though the second string players came through with a bang at the Northville game. Wasn't that Johnson lad a ball of fire?

Well, till next week, what did the big goat say to the little goat?—Why, Us Southern Gals!

Girls' Basketball Tournament Goes to Class Teams

Girls participating in basketball games at noon, having finished the first part of the athletic, will now begin on the tournament proper. Because of the large number of teams, the tournament was an elimination one to get a winner from each class. This part of the program is now completed. The freshman team was captained by M. Martin and includes B. Hohsittel, D. Rowland, P. Millard, D. Straus, E. Hines, S. Haas, B. Eber, G. Genap, J. Montoro and B. Quillrot.

The sophomore team captained by J. Lehman includes L. Niedeggs, U. Barkley, P. Evans, S. Reamer, D. Hancock, E. Sweeney, L. Ebert and B. Reed. The junior team captained by L. Fisher includes O. Bakewell, V. Gray, J. Zobel, M. Saner, B. Wilski, S. Millard, M. Merriam, U. Mills and K. Micol. The senior team captained by Thatcher includes B. Barlow, C. Luzius, H. Lisul, M. Stitt, A. Wrubel, M. Brandt, K. Jarom and D. Schultz. These teams will now compete in a round robin tournament. Each team will play the others at least once.

Mussels may now be taken from Michigan waters only in the month of July. As recently as 1933, eight times as many persons as now dig for them were employed in mussel fishing, license reports reveal.

A GREAT LEADER DIES.

When United States Senator William E. Borah died last Friday, these United States lost a great leader. Especially have the courageous, independent, progressive Republicans of the nation, who have stood steadfast against the old standpat guard; who have battled consistently and with bulldog determination to rid the party of the questionable influences within its ranks, lost a leader who constantly inspired them to new endeavors.

Senator Borah was of and for the kind of people that you and we know and associate with each day. He never lost the viewpoint of the average American citizen.

The tribute paid him by President Roosevelt, as follows, was worthy of our great Republican leader:

"The Senate and the nation are sadly bereft by the passing of Senator Borah. We shall miss him and mourn him and long remember the superb courage which was his. He dared often to stand alone and even at times to subordinate party interest when he presumably saw a divergence of party interest and the national interest.

"Fair-minded, firm in principle and shrewd in judgment, he sometimes gave and often received hard blows; but he had a great personal charm and a courteous manner which had its source in a kind heart. He had thought deeply and studied patiently all the great social, political and economic questions which had so vitally concerned his countrymen during the long period of his public service.

"His utterances commanded the close attention of the Senate and of a farflung audience whenever he spoke. A unique figure, his passing leaves a void in American public life."

The unfortunate part of it all is the fact that we have no one to take his place.

A BREAD TAX.

There is under consideration at the present time in congress a proposal of a wheat certificate allotment plan that, if enacted into law, will be nothing more than a tax upon the bread we eat. The measure, introduced by Senator Wheeler of Montana, a non-wheat raising state, provides that the secretary of agriculture may impose a processing tax upon flour that may go as high as $1.99 a barrel. One cabinet member, under the proposed law, would have the right to fix the tax at whatever figure he might decide upon, with no one else holding a vetoing power over his action. He could not only fix the tax, but he would have the authority to spend the money that he collected.

It is, indeed, fortunate that an energetic campaign has been started against the enactment of this bill by the bread bakers of America. They have discovered the danger that lies within the bill and are out to fully advise the public as to its intent.

Tell, if you can, why it is that seemingly every new tax law is directed at the little fellow—the one least able to pay it? There is plenty of tax money now hidden in a loaf of bread without adding a new processing tax of nearly two dollars a barrel on the flour used to make the bread.

The measure has not been reported to the floor of the senate for consideration, but for fear that it might, bread makers everywhere are asking that people write to their United States senators in protest against any possible adoption of the bill. Surely there is no better way to protect yourself against new taxes, taxes that would come from those least able to pay than by making this protest. Serve your interests, as well as the interests of our United States by objecting to any new tax law!

SORRY.

We are sorry that Governor Dickinson has seen fit to appoint any one to the state board of cosmetology. He should have stuck to his decision to abolish the board. But news dispatches from Lansing say that the vacancies have been filled and the board is again functioning—to the benefit of no one except the job holders.

During the last session of the state legislature, there was considerable discussion as to the advisability of abolishing the board. But the untimely death of Governor Fitzgerald, with resultant complicating political situations, threw the legislative program into more or less of a turmoil. As a result, many a good intention on the part of members of the legislature fell by the wayside. The abolition of the cosmetology board was one of them.

Of all the useless state agencies, this board has proven itself to be about the biggest lemon of them all. It has taken hundreds of thousands of dollars out of the pockets of the hairdressers of the state and has not given one single beneficial accomplishment in return.

The next legislature should lose no time in kicking this board right out through the nearest window unless, meanwhile, it can demonstrate that it has a worthy purpose of some sort and that is going to be no easy job.

AN INTELLIGENT FINANCIAL REPORT.

During the past few days there has been prepared and given to the public by Auditor General Vernon J. Brown, a condensed financial report of state finances that contains more information than any similar report issued in years.

It contains a vast amount of statistical data and it reveals, too, what a terrific deficit burden has been left to the taxpayers of Michigan to pay sometime. The exact deficit left by the Murphy regime amounts to $30,651,842.07. Not only must the taxpayers of Michigan keep its institutions and functions of government operating out of its present income, but in some way it must find a sufficient amount of money to pay off this back-breaking debt.

Back in the days when Alex Groesbeck was governor, a lot of folks said he was extravagant when he spent something like $17,800,000 one year for all state government purposes.

Think of it! In two years of Frank Murphy, there was $30,000,000

Idaho Political Bosses Always Fought Senator Wm. Borah

Senator William Borah, the great western statesman, was probably one of the most unique figures in American life. His political technique was almost entirely his own. He had no political organization, much less a machine. His power of persuasion was such that he won his first election to the senate in a state in which towns were few and scattered, almost single-handed against his own party's state organization which bitterly fought his nomination and election.

It was Borah more than any other individual who turned the people away from the League of Nations. It was Borah who, from his place in the Senate, forced the President against his will to call the Washington conference. Borah was one of the few senators who by sheer forensic power could change votes in the senate chamber.

One other significant feature of his technique must be restated. It was his publicity sense. Yet it was more than that. His ability to get publicity came from more fundamental qualities.

Among the refinements of his publicity technique may be listed the courtesy with which he treated the press and his natural friendliness with newspaper men. He was surely a lone wolf in his political life.

spent more than the state collected from all of its tax sources, a debt more than twice as great as was the total expenditure for a year to run all state governmental functions under Governor Groesbeck.

Auditor General Brown has done well to accumulate and present the facts in such an interesting way as he has done. He has accomplished something that the previous state budget director, who is now "budgeting" down in Washington, just couldn't do.

A SHAMEFUL EXPOSURE.

No one can read the newspapers these days, which are filled to overflowing with exposures of graft and corruption of high public officials in Detroit and Wayne county, without a feeling of shame and indignation—shame to think people we have selected to carry on important public responsibilities would betray the people—indignation because of the apparent winking at these offenses by executives in high places.

What faith can the public have in law enforcing officers when it is revealed that these very officers steal from those that they have arrested? What a shocking thing it is to learn that one high on the staff of the prosecuting attorney is removed upon request of a judge who is conducting a grand jury investigation into alleged wrong-doing on the part of public officials, because that deputy prosecuting attorney is said to have taken money to "fix" a criminal case!

- Look at the parade!
- Constables!
- Police detectives!
- Police department officials!
- An assistant prosecuting attorney!
- And the story is not yet ended. Seemingly, each day some new shocking scandal is revealed.

Tell us, if you can, what can be done to restore to the administration of public affairs absolute honesty!

Surely if it could be done, nine-tenths of the troubles of the state and nation would be over.

THINKING ALIKE.

Not always, but most of the time, "Old Iffy" the famed deposter of the famed Detroit Free Press, thinks about as does The Plymouth Mail. If it wouldn't be just downright plain plagiarism, The Mail would be using his column most of the time for our editorial column, but then it being so close to home, it just wouldn't do.

At any rate, The Mail is prouling one of Iffy's recent efforts, because it so accurately expresses the general views of the public on the subject. It follows:

"Old Iffy aint given to the art of splitting hairs. That is the business of international diplomacy. Such things as fighting wars that aint declared and declaring wars that aint fought, how many angels can dance on the point of a needle, and when did you quit beating your wife.

"Which brings us to Finland and whether we should loan her money. I say lend her what she needs to fight them Russians even if we don't get it back—and to hell with diplomacy or any ruling by the Empty Pints of international law.

Russia aint at war with Finland, Stalin has said that from the first—and his troops have proved it ever since. No war at all! Stalin has just furnished Russians along the border to give the Finns target practice. No war has ever been declared.

Finland doesn't need sympathy. She needs money. If a game guy is drowning, and you like him, and he yells for help, you don't say "Sorry, old Pal, but I can't throw you this life-line because rule 5438-Q-71—as amended in section 7 of article 8692-X, G. R. and adopted at the Hague Conference in 1897—forbids my so doing. However, I feel sorry for you, wait a minute, I'll throw you a ham sandwich.

"Finland has already paid her bills to Uncle Sam. None of the others have. Let us put her on an even footing with the rest of 'em. That's being neutral. Beside, Old Iffy wants to see the little guy kick stuffing out of the Big Red Bully.

"Will Walt Disney please do another film, entitled 'The Three Little Pinks and the Big Bad Wolf?'"

THE COST OF ADVERTISING

The Dies committee investigation has disclosed that Communists and parlor pinks have been ardent supporters of the so-called "Consumer Movement," a movement designed to show that advertising is an economic waste, in fact, a movement designed to break down the confidence of the public in our American system of doing business.

How much does advertising cost? According to the United States department of commerce, advertising expenditures in the United States amounts to only two percent of the value of all goods sold, against a total cost of 28 percent for distribution. That makes the amount of advertising cost just one-fourteenth of the total cost of distribution.

Advertising makes products widely known, which makes mass production possible, and mass production results in improved quality at lower prices. A writer in The Friendly Adventurer sums up the situation by pointing out that in paying for a nickel's worth of advertising the consumers get 50 cents' worth of value in lower costs of production and distribution.

- The Friendly Adventurer reports the following advertising costs on well-known products as:
- On a popular brand of soup, 17 1/2 of a cent a can;
 - On a popular soap, 3 1/2 of a cent per cake;
 - On a sheet, retailing for $1.75, one cent;
 - On a shirt, retailing for $1.95, 64/100 of a cent;
 - On a nationally-known breakfast food, 3 1/2 of a cent per 15-cent package.

On a glass of what is probably the best known of all soft drinks, 1578 100,000 of a cent goes for advertising.

And without wide distribution and mass production made possible by advertising the price on many of the articles would have been doubled.

What does it cost to sell a cow? It may cost one man $5.00 worth of time and gasoline driving up and down the country seeking a buyer. Another man may pay 25 cents to have an ad inserted in the Ingham County News. But it doesn't cost him a quarter—it may actually save him or the buyer $45.—Nelson Brown in The Ingham County News.

MORE INTEREST IN GOVERNMENT

A group of weekly and small daily newspaper editors of this state are attempting to see if there is some manner in which they can co-ordinate their efforts in the perpetual struggle for good government.

The effort began as the result of an informal talk between a group of editors who happened to get together between sessions at a recent press meeting in Ann Arbor.

The organization was not attempted to promote any candidate; to oppose any prospective candidate; nor to back any pet project. Most editors, if independent, are interested in good government. Most of them on what they can individually do to promote good government. Individuals working together can frequently accomplish things impossible to the same number of individuals working independently. Thus the idea of some sort of organization to co-ordinate the fight for good government presented itself.

So far the only detrimental criticism to this attempted organization has come from a weekly journal owned and controlled by one of the state's most potent political bosses and two Lansing correspondents, whose writings appear in several important dailies throughout the state.

This sort of facts may or may not be of any significance.

It so happens that one member of the weekly and small daily group is personally very much opposed to a certain state senator. It so happens that this particular senator is the "fair-haired child," so to speak, of the Lansing correspondents who are grooming him for the post of lieutenant-governor. Names need not be mentioned since personal criticism is not the objective of this article.

So, possibly it isn't surprising that correspondents whose favorite and inescapable hobby is putting two and two together to make five, should see in this effort a plot to knock their favorite son into a cocked hat.

The effort of these editors to organize is in line with efforts being put forth by many other groups throughout Michigan. Possibly all of them taken together represent a potential force which is very much needed at Lansing—A "People's Lobby" which isn't interested in any candidate, or party, or group, or special appropriation, or favor but is interested in seeing the commonwealth of Michigan get the most effective use of the money it pays out in taxes—Richard Cook in The Hastings Banner.

Interesting News of Days Gone By Taken From The Plymouth Mail Files

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Newton Huston, of Eaton, Colorado, a girl, January 12.

The fine new building of D.W. Packard in West Plymouth is now ready for occupancy and the family expects to move soon.

Miss Hazel Southman pleasantly entertained the telephone girls at her home last week Thursday evening. The evening was enjoyed socially, after which light refreshments were served.

A genuine surprise was given Miss Ruth Huston at her home on Penniman avenue last Saturday evening by about twenty of her friends in remembrance of her birthday anniversary. During the evening games of all sorts were indulged in, after which the guests were invited to the dining room, where refreshments were served. At a later hour all departed, wishing Miss Ruth many happy returns of the day.

The village will build a new jail as soon as work can be commenced on the same. The new building will be built of cement blocks and will be 20 by 20 feet in size. It will be erected upon ground belonging to the village near the electric light plant. For several years the lockup has been located in the rear of the light building, but owing to the fact that more room will be needed there when the new boilers are installed, it was found necessary to vacate this room.

An Oxford woman built up a hot fire in her kitchen range one day recently, slammed the oven door shut and went visiting at a neighbor's. When she returned she discovered she had shut her cat in the oven and the cat baked to a cinder.

On Tuesday evening, January 12, a unique affair took place at the Methodist church. The official board entertained members and friends of the church at an "oyster" supper. Some suspicious touches about the tables indicated the presence of ladies, but otherwise the men cooked and served for the 125 people who responded to the invitation. After supper the various interests of the church were presented by officers of the society. For the home missionary society Mrs. Hudd spoke; for the foreign missionary society, Mrs. Griffith; for the ladies' aid, Mrs. Dickerson; for the Sunday school, Everett Jolliffe; for the Epworth League, Robert J. Effe; for the financial interests, Georg. Ribwine. Some happy reminiscences were made by Will Sutherland and the program closed with remarks by the pastor, song and benediction. Those present pronounced the program a success.

The Misses Petrihans delightfully entertained a company of friends at their home last Thursday evening. Cards were indulged in after which a fine lunch was served.

The G.A.R. and W.R.C. held installation of officers and served an oyster dinner last Saturday. The following officers were installed: Mary King, president; Jennie Stav, senior vice president; Emma L. Ryder, junior president; Mary Bunyca, chaplain; Ann E. Farwell, conductress; Viola Westfall, guard; Hattie Hoisington, assistant guard; Ada Younas, secretary; and Hattie Gear, treasurer.

The social event of the season occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. LeVan, of Newburg, last Thursday evening, when a large company of people old and young, gathered to tender congratulations to their newly wedded daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Woods. The evening was spent in social intercourse, interspersed by music from various ones. Rev. Dutton made some happy and humorous remarks which caused a good deal of laughter; also made some of our young men look serious. Miss Ada Younas, in a neat little speech, presented, in behalf of the Epworth League and friends of the neighborhood, a beautiful rocker to the happy pair. The Stark friends also gave a fine chair. Mr. Armstrong, grandfather of the bride, sent a beautiful hand-painted tea service from Oklaoma City. There were numerous other gifts. Light refreshments were served, after which the guests departed, wishing them a long and happy wedded life. There were friends present from Cincinnati, Milford, Farmington and Plymouth.
