Honor Plymouth Student at State College

Don Thrall Named Member of College "Who's Who"

Through the Dean of Men's office at Michigan State college, it has been announced that Don Thrall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Thrall, of Irving street, who was graduated from Plymouth high school in 1936, will appear in the 1940 edition of "Who's Who in American Colleges." The student is a senior in the Liberal Arts school, majoring in art and taking his minor in speech and dramatics. Scholarship reports show nearly a straight "A" average.

"Who's Who in American Colleges" is an annual publication containing the names of outstanding students, both in scholastic and extra-curricular activities, from schools throughout the nation.

Aside from his studies the student from Plymouth has found time to excel in several outside activities. During his freshman year he tried out for the college play and received the role of Monsieur Beaucaire, and was assistant stage manager for the same production. That year, Mr. Thrall played a role in another production, "That Furguson Family."

While a sophomore, he was a member of the class fencing team and worked on committees for dramatic productions and assisting in settings and makeup. It was during his second year of college that he was initiated to the Kappa Sigma social fraternity.

He became a member of Beta Alpha Sigma, an honorary society, while a junior at Michigan State and was also initiated into Blue Key, Junior Men's honorary. The latter organization consists of 25 members of the Junior class who have successfully combined scholarship with extra-curricular activities. He served as a delegate from the college to the Blue Key national convention held in Indianapolis, Indiana, and was named corresponding secretary of the society.

Mr. Thrall that year worked on makeup committees for three college dramatic productions and became a member of the editorial staff of the college magazine. His extra-curricular activities up until January of this year include being elected president of the art honorary, Beta Alpha Sigma, and vice-president of Kappa Sigma social fraternity. He served as Blue Key delegate to the United States Peace committee, represented the Liberal Arts division of the college on the newly formed Liberal Arts council and was elected a member of Theta Alpha Phi, dramatics honorary and worked on an advertising committee for the college play while remaining a member of the college magazine staff.

Observe World's Day of Prayer Today

At the First Baptist church today, Friday, Christians of the city of Plymouth will gather for special prayer to seek divine guidance together with Christians all over the world observing the World's Day of Prayer. The meeting begins at 2:00 o'clock. "Join your prayer to those of millions of others and let prayer speak louder than cannons."

Special Meat Sale at the A. & P. Store

In order that the people of Plymouth may get better acquainted with the new meat department manager, Wallace Landry, the A. & P. store is staging a special meat week sale. The A. & P. feels that the people do not realize the high quality meat that they are offering and in order to have customers trying them, the store is offering everything at exceptionally low prices this week.

Name Plymouth Man on Bird Rearing Program

Dr. Paul Butz Chairman of State Conservation Group

Paul M. Butz, Plymouth physician and member of the Michigan United Conservation clubs, has received notice of his appointment to the chairmanship of a state committee relative to bird rearing and distribution from F. A. Herbert, president of the club, recently. Dr. Butz and his committee will try to determine how the club can produce the maximum number of birds that any area will carry and also how it can be done at minimum cost.

As many local conservation clubs as well as the state organization are interested in this always important problem, it is thought many sections of the state will directly benefit from the conclusions made by Dr. Butz and his committee. "Unfortunately, much money and effort is often spent with comparatively little to show for it in the end, not because of lack of interest or willingness but because of lack of knowledge," stated Mr. Herbert in a letter to Dr. Butz. And it is for gaining this knowledge that such a committee was appointed.

Included in the objectives of the committee are the following projects: (1) To serve as a clearing house for information on bird rearing and distribution; (2) to suggest to affiliate organizations through the committee representative from that club improved techniques for rearing and distribution practiced in other states and by other clubs, and (3) to collect information relative to the number of birds in different parts of the state.

Dr. Butz is an enthusiastic member of the Western Wayne County Conservation association organized in Plymouth. He will outline in the near future a report on plans for the coming year including such information as number of birds to be reared, budget for the project and plans of distribution.

The Plymouth state chairman will meet with his committee in East Lansing the latter part of March.

Number of Traffic Offenses at Low Mark

With only 14 traffic violations on record for January, the first month of the new year will be remembered by police department officials as being one with the smallest number of tickets issued during any one month for more than two years. Improper parking accounted for four of the tickets while three individuals were apprehended for reckless driving. Two offenders were given traffic violation charges for running red lights, speeding and for possessing no operators' licenses. One person failed to stop at an amber traffic signal as the light was changing to red. Fines amounting to $43 were imposed, $37 of which has been paid.

Civil court cases which came before Municipal Judge John S. Dayton during January included one for reckless driving for which the defendant was fined $50 and costs of $5. Another reckless driving charge is pending. A $5 fine was imposed against two individuals for drunk and disorderly conduct and another case was bound over to circuit court.

Twenty-five chauffeurs' licenses were issued by the Plymouth police department during January and 69 examinations for drivers' licenses were taken and licenses granted. Forty-two motor vehicle operators requested that addresses be changed on their driving licenses. Three guns were registered and one gun license permit was given.

There were two felony cases reported; one was cleared. The department received reports of two misdemeanor cases and cleared both.

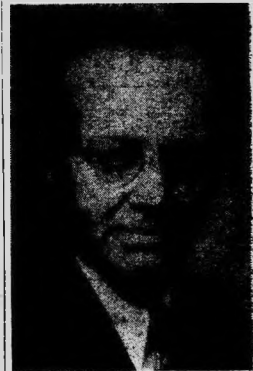

Department officers found 26 open doors in business places during the month. It was reported that much of this was due to the fact that store owners are careless about making sure evening doors are properly established and are securely locked when the business day is over.

Lodgers accommodated in jail during January numbered 13 and 11 complaints of peddlers in the city were reported to department officials. Three street lights were reported out and two citizens requested that special attention be given their homes while they were out of the city. Four dogs were impounded and an equal number killed. A total of 13 complaints were answered by policemen relative to stray dogs in the city.

Plymouth police officials attended three fires and transported one sick person to the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Vesley were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Franks in Detroit.

Father and Son Banquet Monday Eve. to Feature Boy Scout Celebration

A. BLAKE GILLIES
Toastmaster

As a feature of National Boy Scout week held this year February 12 to 17, celebrating the thirtieth year of Scouting in America, Boy Scouts of Plymouth Troop 2 are joining with the Ex-Service Men's club in the sponsorship of a father and son banquet which will be held in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening. Charles J. Thumme, troop committeeman and general chairman for the affair, reports that the ticket sale has been very heavy since last week and only a few are left. This year, only 300 tickets will be sold, as the auditorium is inadequate to accommodate more than that number. A. Blake Gillies, superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction, is to be banquet toastmaster.

Tickets for the affair are on sale at the Plymouth Hardware, Liberty street, the Pettinelli grocery on Franklin avenue, and the Community Pharmacy on Main street. Aside from the business places, tickets may be obtained from the following individuals: John Jacobs, William Hobson, Harry Hunter, William Vanderveen, Harry Brown, Melville Alguire, Charles Thumme, William Renner, Arno Thompson, George Evans, Howard Eckles, George Gottschalk, Harry Mumby and Marvin Partridge.

Scouting in Plymouth is over 25 years old. The National movement is celebrating its thirtieth birthday next week. Even before the days of the troops now active in this district, there were several short lived attempts to establish the present boys' program here.

Four troops were formed originally which operated for a short time and then went out of existence before any of those now alive, except Northville Troop 1, were started. The first Scout organization was organized in Plymouth in 1914 by the Citizens committee. It lived for two years.

In 1917 another troop was organized by the Methodist church under the leadership of Burton E. Gillet. That same year he started another troop, and in 1918 he organized an independent troop. Scouting was discontinued in 1919.

The present Scouting program, dating from 1917 in Northville, from 1922 in Plymouth and from 1927 in Rosedale Gardens and the Wayne County Training school, has become well enough established to be accepted as play-able and a valuable and necessary part in the citizenship training of the boys of 1925.

The Boy Scouts here operated independently, reporting directly to National headquarters in New York City. During that year Troop P-1 became a part of the Washitaw County Council. At camp that summer the Plymouth Troop was outstanding, winning about three-quarters of the wards presented to the boys in camp.

In 1927 the Plymouth and Northville Boy Scouts were made members of the Detroit Council as a result of the general grouping of troops by geographical areas. Plymouth troops were numbered among the "area" groups outside of the Detroit city limits until 1931. In line with the reorganization of the Detroit Area Council by districts, the Plymouth district was born, comprising the northwest part of Wayne county, west of the Detroit city limits and north of the city.

Strong Given High Scouting Award Thursday

B. S. A. Banquet Held in Detroit; 30th Anniversary

Last evening, (Thursday) commemorating the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scout movement in the United States, Scouts from the Detroit Area Council, with which Plymouth is affiliated, were invited to attend a banquet held at the General Motors building in Detroit. At the banquet, Sidney D. Strong, district Boy Scout commissioner, was presented the Scoutmaster's key. Mr. Strong is the second individual to ever be given a decoration in this district. It is a training award rather than honorary.

The key was presented to Commissioner Strong following 22 years of actual Scouting service in the district. Listed in the work required for the key is a five-year training period followed by five years actual service as a Scoutmaster and boys' leader. Also required are eight various advancement courses.

Detroit area council members were, indeed, fortunate to have Walter W. Head, active president of the Boy Scouts of America, present at their banquet last night. The feature of the evening came when Mr. Head gave a nationwide broadcasting hookup, from Detroit introduced President Franklin D. Roosevelt, honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America in Washington, D.C. who addressed members of the organization and other youths over the entire nation. At Miami, Florida, James E. West, chief Scout executive, was introduced to the radio audience by Mr. Head from Detroit. The chief Scout executive led over eight million Boy Scouts over the entire United States of America in giving the Scout oath.

There are more than 16,000 Scouts in the Detroit Area Council and in the Plymouth district there are 400 Scouts and 80 leaders. Plymouth district includes four troops from Plymouth, three from the Wayne County Training school, one from Northville, Newburg, Stark, Elm and several older boy groups.

Included with those who attended the Detroit banquet last night were Mr. and Mrs. Sidney D. Strong, Mr. and Mrs. William Hodson Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. George M. Chute from Plymouth. All of the men are actively interested in the Boy Scout movement in the vicinity.

Three Honored at Banquet

Three Plymouth employees of the Consumers Power company were honored at their service award banquet held Wednesday evening at the Hotel Roosevelt, Pontiac. They are Thomas Thompson, Earl Hollis and Roy Sugars.

E. Harry Luther, assistant to the division manager served as toastmaster and E. G. Campbell, division manager, presented awards and spoke briefly. Awards were presented in the five, 10, 15, 20 and 25 year brackets. Mr. Thompson was awarded for 10 years of service, and Mr. Hollis and Mr. Sugars for five years.

It was announced that 60 percent of all Consumer employees in this territory have served the company five or more years, 39.25 percent, 10 years, 14.75 percent, 15 years, 4.5 percent, 20 years, and 2.25 percent, 25 years. E. Kriegsmann, of Jackson, assistant to the general manager, also spoke briefly.

Did You Know That

The annual Eastern Star dance will be March 29. Lon Brocklehurst, chairman.

Public Issues Are Discussed Hundreds Hear of Problems Before Voters

State and National Questions Are Ably Presented

Three highly important addresses, one dealing with Michigan's public school educational problem, another with state issues and another with the national situation, featured Monday night's record-breaking Lincoln day celebration at the Hotel Mayflower in Plymouth.

John S. Page, prominent educator of Howell and president of the Michigan Education association, was the speaker who discussed the school situation. Michigan's headache at Lansing was the theme of the talk given by James Thomson, chairman of the Republican State Central committee.

Nearly 800 at Lincoln Dinner

A Real Toastmaster

GEORGE A. SMITH

George A. Smith, superintendent of schools, in the parlance of the theatrical world, came near "stealing the show" from the other participants at Monday night's Lincoln day banquet. He did a real job as toastmaster and kept a lively interest in the program from the time it started until the end. His comments were timely and his stories were good. He was pleasingly presented to the audience by Fred D. Schrader, general chairman.

BANQUET NOTES

Monday night's Lincoln day banquet was probably the only event of its kind ever held in Wayne county outside the city of Detroit that was represented by all of the Detroit newspapers. Hub George, well known political writer of The Detroit Free Press, was present with Mrs. George James Haskins, one of the state editors of The Free Press and Mrs. Haskins were in attendance. William Markland, famed political observer of The Detroit News was at the banquet with his father, Frank Morris, of The Detroit Times, who has a way of finding out what's going on in both political parties, was present. Ted Peck, chief of The Associated Press staff in Lansing, was another visiting newspaper writer.

When The Plymouth Mail printed the tickets for the all-American Lincoln day dinner held Monday evening, little did any one in the office think that most of the hundreds of people at the banquet would desire to save them as souvenirs. But when the waiters at the Mayflower started to collect the tickets, the holders would show them and ask if they could be retained. So insistent was the demand, that an announcement was made that the used tickets could be secured at the hotel desk after the banquet. After the banquet was over, Manager Lorenz of the hotel states that nearly 500 tickets were returned to the holders. The tickets were of a rather unique nature, a picture of the buffalo and Mr. Schrader being printed in a light sepia in the background. The other printing on the ticket was in a dark shaded sepia ink.

Harry Mack of the Ford Motor company, and several friends were banquet guests. Mr. Mack has a large stock farm just east of the Schrader buffalo ranch. It was in the new packing house on his farm that the buffalo was prepared for the stew.

George Averill, former district governor of Rotary was among the guests. Mr. Averill is publisher of The Birmingham Eclectic. He is now president of The Michigan Fourth Estate Group, an organization of newspaper men out to put a little decency in Michigan politics.

Former Mayor Clyde Ford, of Dearborn, who staged a comeback recently and was elected a member of the Dearborn city council, was among the guests.

Mrs. Grace Moseman, of Mt. Clemens, who is most active in various women's political organizations and peace movements, was an interested visitor at the Lincoln day event.

There was quite a number of other especially prominent women in political affairs present. Mrs. Fern Smith Hammond, vice chairman of the Republican State Central committee and a prominent resident of Saginaw, was at the speaker's table. Miss Ruth Bowles, secretary of the speaker of the house of representatives in Lansing, and a number of others enjoyed the stew.

Many old friends of Myles Gray, former resident of Plymouth and at one time publisher of The Plymouth Mail, who is now clerk of the house of representatives, were glad to meet him at the banquet.

William O. Sullivan, Louis C. Garrison, and Carl Schmidt, of Bay City, all officers of the Young Men's Republican club of that city, were highly pleased with both the program and the menu. Mr. Schmidt is a former commander of the American Legion of Michigan.

A number of state senators were in the audience. Senator Chester M. Howell, of Saginaw, Senator Ludington, of Detroit, and Clyde Fenner, of Detroit, were present.

Old friends were glad to see Dr. Edward Fisher, of Dearborn among the guests. Dr. Fisher was former state representative from this district.

William Van Moll, of Trenton, former chairman of the Wayne County Welfare commission and vice chairman of the Wayne County Republican committee, was a guest who met many of his friends from about the county at the banquet.

The Redford Women's Republican club was represented by 20 of its members at the celebration. All of them thoroughly enjoyed the buffalo stew.

Bruce Malcolm, president of the newly organized Fourteenth Congressional District Young Men's Republican club, was among the visitors.

Several of Detroit's prominent circuit judges thoroughly enjoyed the fourth banquet.

One of the surprises of the evening was the presentation to Fred D. Schrader, general chairman of the banquet committee, a plaque of "citizenship award." His name, the event and date were engraved on the plaque. Similar plaques were awarded to John S. Haggerty, former secretary of state and Dr. Linwood Snow, of Northville, manager of the Michigan State fair. Another plaque inscribed with the words, "Statesman Award" was made to Elton B. Eaton. Flowers were also presented to Mrs. Schrader, Mrs. Snow and Mrs. Eaton. Orlow Owen, of Northville, made the presentations. The recipients express their appreciation of the thoughtfulness of the citizens of Northville and Plymouth who had a part in making the awards possible. Dr. John A. Ross, of Plymouth, states the Northville committee, was the originator of the idea. It is needless to say that this little diversion on the program was a most pleasant surprise for all concerned.

Harry McDonald, chairman of the Michigan Unemployment commission and a number of prominent officials from his department were interested visitors at the affair.

Letters of regret came from Governor Luren Dickinson and Congressman George A. Dondero.

There were over 100 visitors at the banquet from Northville.

Mayflower Wins Praise for Fine Service

Plain Fare Is Popular With Immense Crowd

Miracles do happen! One happened in Plymouth Monday night.

Seven hundred and sixty-two people attended the annual Lincoln day dinner held at the Hotel Mayflower!

These 762 people not only attended the banquet but Manager Ralph Lorenz and his efficient staff served the dinner to this vast crowd with a degree of efficiency and promptness that amazed the visitors.

The big basement banquet room held 514 of the total number. The others were served in the Crystal dining room and an overflow from this room was served in the Pilgrim room. It was by far the biggest banquet ever held in Wayne county outside the city of Detroit.

The buffalo stew menu, made possible by the donation of "Old John" by Fred D. Schrader, provided a most delicious dinner. It was so tender that even Granddaddy's false teeth were just as efficient as a complete set of nature's own.

Late in the afternoon the crowds began to arrive in Plymouth. By 6:30 there wasn't an available parking space within a block of the hotel in any direction.

The committees in charge, realizing that the lobby of the hotel would not hold the vast numbers, had the guests seated at the banquet tables as quickly as possible, thereby providing ample room in the hotel lobby for the late arrivals.

The plan worked out most commendably. There was no serious congestion at any time. The crowd was orderly and an exceedingly happy one. (Continued on Page 8)

Two Hundred Gallons of Stew!

How much did the Lincoln day banqueters eat Monday night down at the Hotel Mayflower?

It takes Manager Ralph Lorenz 10 minutes after the details. Let him tell you.

Here's what went into the buffet stew:

- 460 pounds of buffalo meat
- 100 pounds of carrots
- 100 pounds of turnips
- 10 dozen bunches celery
- 6 bushels of potatoes
- 10 bunches of parsley
- 5 pounds of garlic
- 12 pounds dried mushrooms
- Two gallons of Wesson oil were used to grease the kettles.

What else did the banqueters eat?

- 10 pounds of butter was used for cooking
- 40 pounds of butter was used on the tables
- 40 pounds of coffee was used
- 10 pounds of milk for cooking
- 75 pounds of flour for cookies
- 75 pounds of sugar for cookies
- 20 pounds of sugar for the tables
- 60 dozen eggs for cookies and cooking
- 10 pounds of raisins
- 150 pounds of corn meal
- 50 pounds of shortening

All of this went to make 200 gallons of buffalo stew, 900 sugar cookies and 800 big pieces of corn bread.

It required but nine minutes for Manager Lorenz and his assistants to serve the 762 banquet guests.

The hotel used 5,700 dishes for the banquet.

That's some record!

Social Evening for Townsend Club

Next Monday evening's meeting of the Townsend club will be another social affair. The members will play cards most of the evening.

On Monday evening, February 19, the club plans to show for the first time in Plymouth the new visual education sound pictures designed and built for the Townsend clubs. Full details will be published in next week's issue of The Mail.

Visiting Minister to Speak Sunday

The Reverend W. R. Shaw, pastor of the Baptist church in Ypsilanti, will be visiting minister for the Union Vesper service which is to be held Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church. Rev. Shaw has been very successful in his work and under his leadership the congregation has built one of the finest churches in that city.

Issue Permits for Two New Houses in Plymouth

Two permits to build new houses in the city were issued during the month of January by Building Inspector S. L. Bessie in addition to the estimated $4800 that is to be spent in the city for additions, alterations and miscellaneous repairs for Plymouth homes.

One of the new homes is to be built by Alvin Wagenschutz at 734 Forest street. The two-story structure which is to cost an estimated $3,000. Howard Beach will have a new home at 674 Auburn. The building will cost approximately $3,950.

Included in the list of repairs and improvements for last month, Otis Haver, of 187 Union street, resided his house with asbestos shingles.

Band Mothers Sponsor Benefit

During the next three weeks the Band Mothers club, in cooperation with the high school band, plans to present three outstanding personages in the field of music.

Next Thursday evening in the Central grade school auditorium at 7:30 p.m., William D. Revelli, director of the University of Michigan band and well known throughout the country for his fine band, will talk on the importance of music to the school and community. It is with a great deal of pleasure that the band is able to present Mr. Revelli and it is hoped that the community at large will be desirous of hearing him. At a recent meeting of the band directors at Ann Arbor, Frank Goldman, whose band has become a regular radio program, broadcasting from Central Park, New York City for several summers, said that in his estimation, the University of Michigan band is the finest college band in the country today. Therefore, Mr. Revelli's talk should be very worthwhile.

On February 29, the Band Mothers' club, in cooperation with the high school band, will present Miss Vera Richardson, an artist on the unusual instrument called the Theremin. She will be assisted by Lucille Hicks, soprano. The program arranged promises those interested, something quite unusual in the way of instrumental and vocal music.

Tickets are being placed on sale this week and may be obtained from students of the band, their parents, and at Blunk and Thatcher's furniture store. The money raised from this program is to be used to pay the band's contribution to the uniform fund.

Play Two Nights Next Week

Games next week in the Community basketball league will be held on Monday and Wednesday nights only, on account of the father and son banquet which is being staged in the high school auditorium Tuesday night.

The schedule calls for the following games: Monday, Cloverdale vs. Hi-Speed and Perfection vs. Blunk and Thatcher; Wednesday, Schrader vs. Daisy and Dunbar Davis vs. Perfection.

Last week's games resulted as follows: Independents 37, Hi-Speed 17; Plating 54, Blunk and Thatcher 13; Daisy 38, Cloverdale 16; Schrader 26, Dunbar Davis 18; Independents 31, Hi-Speed 1; and Plating 43, Dunbar Davis 20.

James Williams will referee Monday's games, and Clarence Lavandowski is scheduled to officiate Wednesday night.

Warren avenue. The first meeting of the Plymouth district committee was held February 3, 1931, with Dr. Robert H. Haskell as chairman and William Hodson Jr. as commissioner.

At the present there are ten active troops in the area in addition to a Cub Scout troop. Present district officers include: Russell H. Amerman, president; and Sidney D. Strong, commissioner. The Cub troop is sponsored by the Plymouth Kiwanis club and is under the leadership of Cubmaster Ernest Henry.

Four troops are now active in Plymouth. Troop P-1 is sponsored by the Methodist church and led by Scoutmaster J. Rusling Cutler. P-2 is headed by Scoutmaster Marvin Partridge and is sponsored by the Ex-Service Men's club. Plymouth Rotarians sponsor Troop P-3 which is led by Scoutmaster F. G. Mathias. Scoutmaster Wallace Osgood heads Troop P-4 which is under the sponsorship of the Plymouth Presbyterian church.

Other troops in the district are sponsored by the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church, Lloyd H. Green Post of the American Legion at Northville, the Wayne County Training school which sponsors three troops. A troop is organized at Elm. Inactive troops are organized at Northville and Newburg.

Plymouth Troop 2 which is sponsoring the father and son banquet jointly with the Ex-Service Men's club received its charter May 1, 1928. Scoutmasters since its organization include the following Plymouth residents: Herald F. Hamill, William Rambo, Claude J. Dykhouse, John W. Jacobs, Gilbert Williams and Marvin Partridge.

"This mighty seaway with its incidental potential power possibilities will, when completed, create a new seacoast with 3,576 miles of shoreline connecting the very heart of the continent with the arteries that lead to all the ports of the world."

"It will serve to stabilize many important industries in their present mid-western location, anchor them there for the benefit of the railroads as well as the utilities which will be supplied with greater power facilities, and for benefit of all."

"The people of this country owe a debt of gratitude and an obligation of sincere thankfulness to the pioneer railway builders, and to courageous men and women who risked their capital in the development of private power facilities."

"The resulting material progress to the whole country cannot be over-emphasized. Cultural values followed in the wake of these daring pioneers, and the great midwest section has outgrown the limitations of the land-locked period of the Great Lakes Basin. It has reached a stalemate in its history. There can be no standing still in the growth and progress of a region. When progress ceases, decay begins. This great midwest section needs new transportation facilities for further expansion and that facility is the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway."

"Its size and international character challenge the attention of the world. It will provide navigation for the large seagoing ships and accommodate 85 percent of all the ships afloat. Its cost is moderate when compared with other government spending. After deducting the sale of power, which will be developed incidental to the main project, $18,000,000 a year for 10 years has been estimated as sufficient to complete the project."

"Once the seaway is opened, more of the manufactured products of the Great Lakes industries, and more of the agricultural products of the Prairie and Midwestern states will reach intercoastal and foreign markets which are now denied to them."

"A market for goods is created only when the cost to reach it is reduced and the sale of a product is achieved often in the saving of its transportation costs, no matter whether it comes from the factory or the farm."

"About two and one-half million bushels of American apples reached European markets last fall, but not one bushel came from Michigan. A great apple-producing state. Why? Because the cost of transportation to the seaboard is prohibitively high, as soon as ships can be provided for this trade into the Great Lakes, there will be new markets opened for Michigan apples, and the railroads will lose nothing in freight, for they never had this business. On the contrary, the railroads will gain new business shipping apples to lake ports once they have been transformed into seaports."

"Living costs would be reduced for the people in the Great Lakes region and Midwestern states when this seaway is once in operation. Studies of rates on commodities generally consumed in the great midwestern section are now being made in a survey conducted by the department of

State Representative Speaks at Men's Club

Appearing before a group of 46 Plymouth men, Elton R. Eaton, state representative and editor and publisher of The Plymouth Mail, Thursday evening at a Men's club, spoke on several current issues that are now before state government. In the course of his talk he brought up three important matters.

In a resume of the Civil Service bill, he told of its status at the present time and also explained the bill as it now is in detail. Representative Eaton presented facts and figures in relation to the Crippled Children's commission which conclusively explained why at the present time the budget is insufficient to adequately carry on the public work.

The Liquor Control commission and its operation was discussed. The speaker presented figures showing its gross and net sales.

In concluding his talk, Mr. Eaton compared the cost of state government of today with that of 14 years ago. The discussion period that followed was taken up with explaining the working of the state legislature.

Mother of Harold P. Anderson Dies Wed.

Fifth Combination Holds First Place

With first place changing five times since the beginning of Canton Center-Cherry Hill euhre league play, it is now held by the team of Plymouth and his partner, A. Kuster, of Beech, who won a hard fought match from B. Yost and J. West, 7-6, last week. The teams have now played their thirteenth set of games.

Also last week H. Guntow and O. Eichstadt were taken by J. Murdock and his new partner, Fred Aldrich, of Canton, 10-3. F. Waldecker and W. Theisen claimed a forfeit game from C. Blackmore and E. Wendland.

R. Waldecker and Wagenschultz, who started their winning streak with Hood and Kuster, added another victim to their string when they defeated C. Finnigan and M. Corwin, 7-6. Froedle and Buckner set back the A. West and J. Losey combination 9-4.

BOWLING

LEAGUE STANDINGS

Parkview Recreation League

It's beginning to look as though the competition is going to be keener from now on seeing the bowling season is in third gear. The standings are again scrambled. Simpson's went back in the lead last week and this week Daisy climbed over Goldstein's for third place and taking second place for three-game total with 2622. Paaky McAllister helped the state considerably by hitting 267, 186 and 259 for a total of 712, taking the leads in three-game total and high individual. Bob Johnston did his bit for Simpson's, too, by hitting 197, 263, 161 for 621 total.

Leone Mae Minnick and Maxwell Todd Wed at Port Austin

The formal wedding of Leone Mae Minnick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Minnick of Port Austin and Maxwell Todd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Todd of this city, took place at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in St. Michael church in Port Austin, the Rev. Father Kronka performing the ceremony in the presence of 100 relatives and friends.

"Ave Maria" and "The Rosary" were sung by Velma Minnick, a cousin of the bride, before the wedding party took its place at the altar.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely close fitting wedding gown of white silk crepe made with cowl neckline and long sleeves with points over the hand. Her long tulle veil was fastened to a cap with band of gardenias. Her only adornment was a necklace of crystal beads. She carried an arm bouquet of gardenias which was tied with wide satin ribbon.

Mrs. Clayton Minnick of Parisville, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a fitted model of aqua taffeta made with long, full skirt. Her flowers were Johanna Hill roses.

The bridesmaid, Gernith Minnick of Flint, a sister of the bride, was charming in a gown of dusty pink taffeta and carried talisman roses.

The best man was Clayton Minnick of Parisville and the usher, George Todd, of Plymouth, brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Minnick chose a gown of wine color velvet for her daughter's wedding and her corsage was of gardenias. Mrs. Todd wore black and silver lace over red taffeta and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

Immediately following the wedding a breakfast for 50 relatives and close friends of the young couple was held in the home of the bride. Later in the day a reception for a large number of guests was held in the Community Hall. Tall baskets of spring flowers, palms and cedars were used in decorating the rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Todd left on a brief honeymoon, after which they will be at home on Pinehurst avenue in Detroit. For traveling Mrs. Todd wore a flowered silk under a seal coat and blue accessories. The young couple have the best wishes of a host of friends in and about Plymouth.

Guests were present from Alpena, Detroit, Flint, Lapeer, Bad Axe, Caseville, Ferndale, Groes Pointe, Highland Park, Parisville and Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Algot Larson and son, Alvin, were dinner guests Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bowring on Bradner road.

Scouts Plan Two-Day Outing

Next month, Boy Scouts from Plymouth Troop P-1 plan a two-day outing at the Charles Howell reservation, located near Brighton, during which they will be accompanied by their fathers. They plan to leave Plymouth Wednesday, March 27.

The boys and their dads will occupy a farm house which has been remodeled for Boy Scouts' use. This building houses a fine kitchen, dining room, dormitory and washroom. It is heated by a furnace and a large fireplace.

The reservation contains 490 acres, 320 of which were a gift of Charles Howell of Detroit. The Detroit area council bought the additional 140 acres. Lane and Orr creeks flow through the property which borders on Brighton lake. The camp provides many opportunities for each Scout to study tracking, firebuilding, cooking, swimming, pathfinding, nature study and numerous other phases of Scout lore.

Last May and also in September the troop camped at Howell reservation along with other Scouts of Plymouth district. Six Scouts from Plymouth Troop on attended Provisional camp on the reservation in August, 1938.

Robinson Subdivision Home Damaged by Fire Saturday

Answering the sixth alarm since the beginning of the new year, Plymouth firemen extinguished a blaze in the four-room home of Mr. and Mrs. Vary Michel at 1702 Gilbert in Robinson subdivision Sunday night. Occupants of the house were aware of smoke at 7:30 o'clock that evening but were unable to determine its origin. The fire broke out at 9:30. It took firemen about an hour to completely extinguish it. Damage was estimated at $250 which was fully covered by insurance.

Garden Club Plans Meeting

The Plymouth branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association will meet with Mrs. Henry E. Baker at 2 p. m., Monday, February 12, in her home at 1373 Sheridan avenue for a Lincoln day tea. The guest speaker will be Mrs. George Broun, vice president of the Detroit Iris society. Her subject will be "Perennial Gardens."

All members are urged to be present as there is important business to be decided upon, also your presence will encourage the new officers who take charge for the first time. Members are also reminded that the annual dues are payable.

Assisting Mrs. Baker as hostesses will be Mrs. C. E. Elliott, Mrs. John L. Olsaver, Mrs. John W. Bickenstaff, Mrs. Mark J. Chaffee, Mrs. Webster Davis and Mrs. Bruce Woodbury.

Young G. O. P. Plans Pow-Wow

ALFRED MORTON

Young Republicans of Western Wayne county are not losing any time in getting things started in their activities for the present year, according to Alfred Morton, president of the Out-County Young Men's Republican club.

Their first big event to which everyone has a cordial invitation takes place Friday evening, February 16, at Square Deal hall, corner of Ford and Middle Belt roads, near Inkster. It will be a charity benefit, with scores and scores of awards for this, that and the other thing. Numerous contests, as well as speeches and a general good time will be enjoyed. The event begins at 8:30 o'clock. President Morton, a former Plymouth resident who now resides in Wayne, is anxious to have a good representation from this locality at the Square Deal function next week Friday evening. There will also be refreshments. Both men and women are invited.

Plymouth Boys at Shrine Circus

Through the efforts of Jack Stimson, superintendent of out-county WPA, more than 60 boys from Plymouth witnessed the Shrine Circus held at the State fair grounds coliseum at Detroit Monday evening. The group consisted of Troop one and two Plymouth Boy Scouts and the City Hall Boys' club which is under the leadership of Melvin Biunk.

Mr. Stimson bought many of the tickets himself and others he sold to friends of the boys who turned the tickets over to him to distribute among the boys. Transportation was furnished by Boy Scout troop officers, club managers and friends.

A caravan of 12 automobiles took the boys to the fair grounds. The entire group sat in a reserved section of the building which had been arranged for by Mr. Stimson.

Comparing official communications from abroad, one gets the idea that two or three different wars are raging.

Valentine Tea to Be Given Thursday Afternoon

In the dining room of the Methodist church on Thursday afternoon, February 15, at 2:30 a tea and entertainment will be given. The Valentine day theme will be used in the appointments of the tea. The program will consist of music and readings.

The tea is sponsored by Circle 4 and the Ladies' Aid of that church. The committees for arrangements are Mrs. Earl Kenyon, Mrs. Stanford Besse, Mrs. Wayne Smith, Mrs. Marjorie Hoover, Mrs. Max Robertson, Mrs. George Fischer, Mrs. Albert Gault and Mrs. H. R. Penhale. All ladies of the community are invited to attend.

Police Warn Dog Owners

Police Chief V. R. Smith requests that all Plymouth dog owners keep a check on their dogs for the next ten days. It has been learned that recently a dog owned by a farmer on La-Van road died as a result of rabies. The dead animal was taken to the University hospital at Ann Arbor where the discovery of its ailment was made.

It is thought that perhaps the infected dog came in contact with others before it died. The dog was confined as soon as symptoms indicated rabies.

Police and Plymouth physicians particularly warn dog owners in the vicinity of La-Van road to watch their dogs for symptoms of rabies. If there is a known contact with the diseased dog, it is requested that the dogs be examined and, if proved rabid, it is necessary that owners take treatment to guard against possible dangerous poisoning that may be contracted from the sick dog.

An indication of rabies is the inability of dogs to eat and a general animal dog ugliness. Occasionally fits accompanied by frothing at the mouth are symptoms of the disease.

Has Entry Blanks for Badminton Tourney

Announcement was made by Earl Mastick, director of recreational badminton in Plymouth, that he has a supply of entry blanks for the first annual Novice Badminton tournament to be held in Detroit starting Monday, February 12. The tournament is open to persons who have not been finalists in previous novice tournaments or who, in a championship, have not reached the second round for women or the third round for men by actual play in the same event in which they are entered in the present tournament.

The tournament is sponsored by The Detroit News and is to be conducted by the department of recreation in cooperation with Detroit Badminton club, C.Y.O., Y. M. C. A., Board of Education, Y. W. C. A., Inter-Church league and W. P. A.

District tournaments are to be held at any approved centers having a draw of 16 men or 8 women. All matches will be best two out of three games, 15 points constituting a game in men's singles and 11 in women's singles.

Winners of district events qualify for the finals. Prizes will be awarded district qualifiers as well as winners and runners-up in finals. There is no entry fee. Birds will be furnished only for championship finals.

There are five combinations of badminton that contestants may enter: Men's singles, men's doubles, women's singles, women's doubles and mixed doubles.

Entry blanks for the tournament may be obtained from Mr. Mastick. Any person may enter the tournament even though he is not a member of the city badminton league. The Plymouth club meets each week on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings in the grade school gymnasium.

Farmers Guests of Rotarians

Members of the Plymouth Rotary club were hosts last Friday evening to well known farmers of this locality at the first urban-rural meeting held during the present year. The Rotarians not only entertained the farmers, but they went to the "country" to do so, the meeting taking place at the Legion hall in Newburg.

Not only did the meeting take place in the "country" but the ladies of Newburg served the Rotarians and their guests a chicken dinner fit for a king.

William Pottingill, general chairman of the affair, arranged to have Captain Don Leonard of the Michigan State Police tell the work of the department. Mr. Leonard did a splendid job, and he urged closer public cooperation with police officers.

George A. Smith, in behalf of the club, briefly expressed the desires of the members to weld closer together the purposes of both urban and rural residents.

Master Kenneth Hannah, of Rosedale Gardens, played a number of selections on his accordion that delighted the guests at the meeting.

Julia Nowotarski and George Kohler Wed

A very simple but lovely wedding took place on Thursday, February 1 when Julia Nowotarski and George Kohler were united in marriage at Our Lady of Good Counsel church. A dinner followed at the bride's home and was attended by families of the bridal couple.

Wayne P. T. A. to Meet at Sheldon School

The Wayne County Council of Parents and Teachers will meet on Tuesday evening, February 13, at the Sheldon school, which is located on Michigan avenue east of the Canton Center road. All local P. T. A. groups and their guests are welcome to attend.

The business meeting will start at 5:30 o'clock, the potluck dinner at 6:30 o'clock and the evening program at 8 o'clock, states Ada Watson, the recording secretary.

This is the "hoss" that started our big "HOSS" SWAPPIN'

He's known from coast to coast and we're awfully proud of him. During the last four weeks we have had a lot of fun and we have sold a lot of cars. We want you to know that we appreciate the confidence you have in us and our nags, and we thank you for joining with us to make this event so successful.

Now get back to our subject--??--

There's still a heap of class in the "hoss" flesh left in our corrals. No foolin' pardner, we've got some bargains that'll hold their own in any show, the kind you're proud to ride—and the kind we're proud to sell—Young ones and old ones—some with heating plants and some with orchestration. So many to choose from you can find anything you want.

Free rides before you buy — Each "hoss" inspected and treated by our veterinarians. They're sound and we still pay half the doctor bills for the first three months.

They'll come hootin' and shootin' to grab these bargains—Be early!

Here is a full mouthed 4-year-old, slicker than paw's buggy when he was accurtin' maw. Has hot air furnace and pipe organ, new white shoes. 1936 Ford. Only $90.00

This hoss will be a winner any place you put her. Although only a 3-year-old, you can tie your lines around the old whip socket and she will take you home. Gas range and vestrola. Only $99.00

And here's a snappy 3-year-old. Fresh off the range. Broken to saddle or driver. Four exits. Veterinary certificate of soundness. Salamander and piccolo. Slide-proof shoes. All for only $125.00

And now we come to a yearling, answers to the name of Mercury. If you want to make Quicksilver with Mercury, grab this one fast. Steam plant an' everything. Only $225.00

We're unable to list all the "hosses" in our stalls... Here's the way they run—

- Yearlings—$465 and up
- 2-year-olds—$445 and up
- 3-year-olds—$275 and up
- 4-year-olds—$245 and up
- 5-year-olds—$125 and up

Also have a few Dinks and Platers — $45 to $90.

We'll furnish the oats if you want to drive 'em and we'll also show you how to pay for 'em in easy stages... There's a lot more we haven't mentioned... Why not come in and look 'em over? We've been in the same place for 19 years... We'll be waitin' for you.

Public Issues Are Discussed

Michigan congressional district, told of the belief in Washington that the present administration is creating a war hysteria and leading this country directly into war in an effort to control the next election.

Michigan's school problem proved a most interesting subject for discussion.

"We must look to the future to solve the problem that is confronting the public schools of Michigan," declared Mr. Page. "The situation that has arisen is a culmination of events that have been accumulating for many years." Mr. Page referred to the financial condition of the public school system and said that the grant from the state has decreased appreciably and the cost of school operation has increased.

"Schools have enlarged their plant and are enrolling more of the pupils enrolled and to give the service required. This has necessarily increased the cost of operation.

"You people know the problem is not a simple one. Legislation of the past few years and educational conditions have made the problem of securing necessary finances a serious one.

"The 15 mill tax limitation has lowered the assessed valuations and the advent of the sales tax has caused a decrease in income from that source. All this has made the support of schools more and more a state matter," the speaker declared.

"Education, too, is recognized as a state function. This is especially true in a democracy where an educated citizenry is required if our form of government is to live.

"The demands of welfare, roads and institutional support for state operated institutions have brought about a situation in which the schools must meet competition in their efforts to secure state funds with which to carry on their program.

"School legislation, especially of a nature to provide state financial aid is one of the important concerns of the Michigan Education Association.

"The turn of legislation action during each of the last three sessions of the state legislature has made the problem a complex one and one that demands care, attention and painstaking planning.

"He cited three of the difficulties the association has run up against. "One of the first considerations is that of securing an adequate amount of money. Other factors are, how to distribute the money available and how to make certain the distribution of whatever funds are secured."

Mr. Page said that now the money for schools is divided between two funds, the primary school fund and state aid. "Involved in any kind of distribution is the primary school money given out on a census basis. Another is the need to equalize educational opportunity in the giving out of the remaining monies appropriated.

"The matter is further complicated by the differences in assessed valuation back of each child, differences in assessment practices, differences in millage allowed by allocation committees and the fact that primary money alone is sufficient for some districts.

"Uncertainty is still a real problem. We do not know even yet as to what funds are available this year and the school year is more than half over.

"Primary money has not been available when due. It has come in small installments with the remainder not coming as planned. The department does not yet know what funds are to be cut and in what percent. It is still awaiting the attorney general's ruling.

"Whether or not the schools are to get the extra $2,000,000 provided if the state income exceeds $84,000,000 will not be known until after the close of the fiscal year, July 1. That will be after the close of the school year.

Mr. Page declared that the situation that has now arisen can easily be thwarted by increasing the inventory of the liquor commission.

"The Michigan Education association is considering the best plan for a school bill. Some have advocated an amendment earmarking funds not desirable for several reasons which is a legislative function. We are still considering the possibility of an initiated law. It would have the advantage of requiring early action in the legislature because of the 40-day limit. That would give the legislature time to act and not be as permanent as an amendment."

Complete financial facts pertaining to schools for 1939-38 were not available so Mr. Page gave the following figures from the school year, 1937-38:
Operating expense.	1930-31 96,740,000
	1937-38 80,950,000
Enrollments
	1930-31 987,000
	1933-39 1,022,009
Primary fund
	1931-32 24,080,000
	1939-40 15,663,760
State Aid
	1929-30 2,000,000
	1939-40 23,336,000
Teachers' salaries
	1930-31 57,800,000
	1937-38 49,670,000

State Issues

Ably Discussed

Although the supreme court six years ago invalidated a Republican-sponsored law requiring registration of aliens, State Chairman Thomson said:

"Detroit is the only city in the world receiving mail from every foreign country.

"For years we have paid great attention to the registration of voters. Let us, as a safeguard in our state, institute an annual or biennial census by local authorities so that we can have a record of whom is in our state and what they are doing.

"We have in the country, according to best estimates, at least two million persons who came in illegally. Many of them are on relief, directly or indirectly.

"The odiferous Bridges case on the West coast is a good example of what is going on in America today. This is a federal problem in which the state should take a helpful interest."

Thomson declared he believes 80 percent of Michigan residents want the state out of the liquor business and want adoption of more stringent regulations.

On the subject of old age pensions Thomson said:

"It seems possible that a sliding scale of old age pensions might be worked out, dependent upon economic conditions, so that whether conditions are good or bad, employment may be available for all our young people coming out of school and that if public assistance must be rendered it can be rendered to persons of mature age who have discharged at least some of their expected duties to society.

"But over all this matter of relief and pensions we must spread the mantle of humanity and remember the Scriptural admonition that we are our brother's keeper."

Advocating free school books, Thomson estimated the annual cost is $9 a child. He said this amount can be met by economies in the education system, and should not mean increased taxes.

He declared the state government does not need more tax revenue, but can meet increased costs by consolidating various divisions, which duplicate each other.

"As an example of waste, he pointed out that a roadside stand selling gasoline and sandwiches is visited regularly by five separate state inspectors. He declared the work could be handled by one inspector, thus reducing payrolls and traveling expenses.

"Our trouble at Lansing is that all thought is given to raising more taxes rather than to reductions and to limitations of the state's spending," the Republican chairman confessed.

On civil service he said: "The people of Michigan realize the present statute leaves much to be desired."

Congressman Tells of War Hysteria

Congressman Shaffer in a most emphatic way discussed some of the national issues. He declared that there is being built up a war fear for no other reason than to try and control the next election.

In part, he said: "Franklin Roosevelt entered the White House with the greatest majority of any president in the house and senate. He was pledged to reduce expenditures of government, reduce taxes, put millions of unemployed back on jobs, and protect and defend the constitution.

"He was elected on one of the finest platforms ever written for the Democratic party.

"But what happened?" "Franklin Roosevelt surrounded himself with a bunch of theorists and adopted Norman Thomas' Socialist platform.

"After seven years of government competition, cracking down on business, and experiments to create the more abundant life, we have as many unemployed as we had in 1933, despite bureaucracy that has placed more than one-third of the nation on the federal payroll; a national debt of nearly 45 billion dollars; taxes until hell won't have it, and more to come; and an administration that has been forced to work up a war hysteria in order to cover up its scores of failures.

"For the past seven years we have primed the pump until the well is dry. We have piled deficit upon deficit and imposed taxes and regulations that have forced business to the wall, and if it were not for the war in Europe, we would have far more unemployed than we had in 1932.

"And there are those who would have Franklin D. Roosevelt for a third term.

"I have here just one small example how Franklin Roosevelt kept his promise to reduce expenditures and taxes. This is one example you will not forget, especially if you recall how Mr. Roosevelt loved to beer so lowly. He and his family, all of whom, incidentally, are doing pretty well for themselves by prostituting the office of president—have increased the cost of operating the White House by more than 100 percent.

"In 1932 it cost $385,000 to run the White House. In 1939 it cost $2,370,000 and this year's appropriation was $2,972,000. And that is not all. The budget estimate, requested by Mr. Roosevelt himself for the fiscal year of 1941, is $3,573,000.

"Roosevelt's administration, because of its failures and extravagances and wastefulness, was definitely on the skids last July when the first session of the seventy-sixth Congress ended. New Dealers who had increased the population of the city of Washington from 300,000 in 1932 to 900,000 in 1939, were panic stricken. Something had to be done. So the Master Magician of the White House reached down into his bag of tricks and pulled forth the old war hysteria gag to fool the people.

"This," said Franklin D. Roosevelt, "will cause MY FRIENDS to forget my broken campaign pledges, my failure to solve their major domestic problems, my attempt to weak the supreme court, my recognition of Russia, and my taxing, spending, electing and purging adventures.

"Every ruler down through the years, whether he has been a ruler by heredity, by coup d'état, by usurpation or by popular election, has employed this same political device of creating war hysteria to divert attention from his failures to continue in power.

"Thus, Franklin Roosevelt, following the statement of Congress, declared a 'limited' emergency, and later whipped up a lot of emotion among the people by calling a special session to amend the Neutrality Act, which he, himself, had passed a few years before as a piece of 'must' legislation to keep us out of war.

"The President also called to being, in keeping with his 'limited' emergency, a War Resources Board, provided for in his Industrial Mobilization Act, the most amazing document ever written in a Democracy, which, incidentally, would make him an absolute dictator.

"The nation was thoroughly alarmed, and rightly so. So, you remember? Every woman in the country was asking when the war would begin? When we were going to fight? Who made this war without the knowledge of the people?

"Franklin D. Roosevelt and his Brain Trusters are responsible for this war hysteria. They and they alone.

"Now, with the nation well convinced that 'Hellsa Popoin' and that the Hitlers and the Stalins have their greedy eyes on America, Franklin D. Roosevelt plans to continue in power in 1941 and to ask nearly two and one-half billions of dollars for national defense... for the Army and Navy.

"We all want an adequate national defense. And we are all willing to meet the costs that are necessary to build an adequate national defense. But just what is an adequate national defense? What amount of money is needed to create an adequate national defense?"

"The Naval Affairs committee of the House already has reduced the administration's estimate to well below the billion-dollar mark, and General George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the United States Army, appearing before the Military Affairs committee one day last week, called for a priority program far below the billion-dollar mark. And you, ladies and gentlemen, he was talking about priorities—priorities that may never be needed."

"To ease your minds a bit, let me say that in all of the 26,000 miles I traveled to inspect our Army establishments in November, and December, I failed to meet one high-ranking officer who believed we were in need of a defense army of over 480,000 men, including the National Guard.

"General Marshall, himself, said that he would oppose the procurement of more than 480,000 men, including the National Guard, for our standing army. Seventy thousand of these men would be used to guard the Panama Canal and other possessions outside of the United States.

"Still, Mr. Roosevelt says that he wants an army of 780,000 men. "A very significant statement was made in my presence, by a member of the general staff of our Army after General Marshall's appearance last week. This high-ranking officer said:

"If all the nations of Europe combined to invade the United States, with full control of the seas, the General Staff has it figured that they could not land more than a corps of troops on our shores."

"The statement reminded me of that of Abraham Lincoln before the Young Men's Lyceum at Springfield, Illinois, January 27, 1837, at a time when the folks of his day saw specters of foreign invasion. Lincoln said:

"At what point shall we expect the approach of danger? By what means shall we fortify against it? Shall we expect some transatlantic military giant to step the ocean and crush us with a single blow? Never! All the armies of Europe, Asia and Africa combined, with all the treasures of the earth (our own excepted) and with a Bonaparte as their leader, could not by force take a drink from the Ohio or make a track in the Blue Ridge in a trial of a thousand years."

"Further consolation can be had from the statement of a high-ranking officer of the general staff before our committee last week. He said:

"No group views with more horror the United States becoming involved in war, and no group possesses a greater determination to remain out of war than the general staff of the United States Army."

"So, my friends, when the alarmists, the saber-rattlers, the bureaucrats seek to divert your attention from domestic problems to foreign wars, remember what Lincoln said many years ago, and what was said by General Marshall and officers of the general staff of our Army only last week.

"Add to these statements that of the great statesman, the minority leader of the house at Topeka, Kansas, last week. When he said:

"Our front line is not on the Rhine, nor is it anywhere in France. It is at the farm gate and factory door, here in America."

"But, let us suppose that it becomes necessary for this nation to defend itself against foreign aggressors, I can say to you in all confidence, there could be no 'backing up'."

"Although we lack equipment at the present time, within a few more months—long before any foreign nation could prepare to strike—we will have, not the largest army in the world, but the best army in the world.

"As I stated a few moments ago, I only recently completed a 25,000 mile inspection tour, by air, of all of our major, and many minor, Army posts in the United States, Panama and Puerto Rico. I was given the opportunity to learn just what devices our Army possesses adequately to defend this nation. I witnessed demonstrations of these devices—demonstrations that proved amazing, and I can say to you here tonight, that all of our fighting devices, our Army material, our war machines, are far superior than those in use in Europe today. We have the finest and most accurate bomb sight; the best bombers; the best pursuit plane (Aircobra); the finest anti-aircraft gun, equipped with the Sperry fire control; the best tank guns; the best tanks; the best automatic rifles and machine guns; and our Army is manned by the greatest military minds in the world.

"I am telling you these things so that you can return to your homes tonight with the assurance that your nation and your property will be well protected.

"This nation's greatest threat is from within, not from without.

"One of our greatest threats is our huge mounting national debt, empty stomachs and discontent within our borders. Failure of Franklin D. Roosevelt to bring order out of chaos, has developed conditions here that are far more menacing than the military borders so often pictured as ready to span the seas and destroy us."

"We must put our unemployed back to work. We must solve the problems of agriculture. We must put our national finances in order. We must rescue the small business man and employer from a dominating Federal bureaucracy."

In fact, the banquet was just what those who planned it hoped it would be, a friendly, neighborly get-together of old friends and new friends. No "stuffed shirts," high hats, or flowing gowns flared forth to mar the unpretending, homely, plain, everyday atmosphere of the event.

Farmers, working men, business men and professional men, and their wives mingled in that free and unceremonious way that makes everybody feel kindly towards the world.

Fourbits—that was the price of the dinner. "Fourbits" as you know, is the common term used by common folks to designate a half dollar.

"How can you folks out in Plymouth put on such delicious and bountiful banquet menus as you do for only 50 cents?" asked a prominent judge from the city of Detroit.

"But no matter how you do it, you are setting a mighty fine example for all political parties to follow," he declared.

"You are emphasizing the right thing, humility for all people."

That's the right word. That is just what the fried salt pork, corn meal mush and buffalo stew banquets have sought to emphasize among a people who today are troubled with many serious problems.

Nor only have these banquets sought to inspire a feeling of humility, but they have had another purpose.

That purpose has been to emphasize as strongly as possible the hypocrisy of those who gorge themselves on political banquet menus costing $25 or $100 a plate and then go out and pretend to the people that they have an interest in the welfare of those who are unemployed, of those who haven't been able to provide themselves and their dependents with sufficient food or clothing or even shelter. Such a thing is about the nth degree of hypocrisy!

Monday nights' menu consisted of buffalo stew, corn bread, cottage cheese, ice cream and sugar cookies.

The food was most delicious. The stew was served in big bowls and there was plenty for everybody. The sugar cookies also made a big hit. It was all plain, substantial food.

Plymouth police, under the direction of Chief Vaughan Smith, handled the traffic situation perfectly. There was not the slightest mishap, even though some 700 or more automobile drivers converged upon the hotel at one time.

In fact, there wasn't one single untoward incident. Chief Smith and other local officers were high in their praise of the courtesy and carefulness of the hundreds of drivers who were brief visitors of Plymouth Monday night.

The event was one that has given Plymouth a lot of favorable and worthy public notice. Committee Members:

"Spirit" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 11, 1940. The golden text (John 4:24) is "God is Spirit; and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth." Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 6:63): "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing; the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 21): "If the disciple is advancing spiritually, he is striving to enter in. He constantly turns away from material sense, and looks towards the imperishable things of Spirit."

FIRST METHODIST. Stanford S. Closson, pastor. 10:00 a.m. church service. The Cub Scouts of Plymouth will attend in a body, in observance of National Scout Week. And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully. And he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits? And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods. And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry. But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided? So is he that layeth up treasure for himself and is not rich toward God. Luke 12, 15-21. And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after; and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you. Luke 12: 29-31. God truly wants us to put confidence in Him and to trust Him completely.

Name Candidates for Mayor Friday

Ruth Ash and Ivan Packard Seek Election

At a general school caucus last Friday Ruth Ash and Ivan Packard were nominated for mayor. The caucus was held in the library at 12:05. A larger representation of students was present than was expected making it a caucus by the majority rather than the minority.

The class caucuses were held a week from last Thursday. Here the representatives for the Council were nominated with the number of representatives in Council for each class doubled for nominations. The following names are the nominees for representatives in Council:

Grade 7—Richard Erdelyi and Donald Rock; Grade 8—Harold Schultz and Wendell Johnson; Grade 9—Virginia Maas and Beth Ann Hoehsel; Grade 10—Nancy McLaren, Marion Goodman, Marie Ann Miller and Russel Ash; Grade 11—Virginia Rock, Gloriette Galloway, Paul Harsha, Ruth Parmalee, Ardith Rowland and Phyllis Hawkins; Grade 12—William Aluia, Nancy Alexander, Patsy Arnold and Tom Mitehell.

Last Monday was given over to another registration day. Since the problem of half-year students rises again, it became necessary to have these people re-register in their new grades. This also gave a chance for these students to register who had neglected to before.

Thursday, February 8 both the class and school election was held. The results will be printed in next week's edition.

Southern Small Talk

With the new semester starting did you all ever try to break thro' the crowd at the book store or the line at Mr. Dykhouse's office? And we thought football was out of season—but live and learn, we always say.

Well, the Yankees have waked up again—see Phyllis you are "Us Southern Gals" now, who's laughing? We only wish we were around "They" teased you all. How do you Yankees know what kind of paper we use? "Shoopin" again, huh? We know that Bob is on the staff and is getting a little side job from a certain Jack and a certain Jim.

Did you do any good for you gals and lads to bring your coats to sixth hour library—will it Jack (B)? You all will just have to stay longer than the rest. Now I can remember when Jack wasn't librarian, and not a bit of trouble did he cause (Oh, yes, or, yes).

Was this we hear—about two boys from the younger set a feudin' over a certain gal down at the Wilcox pond? Kind of young for seriousness, we uns think.

George B's hands are quicker than the eye so it seems cause Fat is without her speech at the present—Miss Ford just can't keep them occupied when they aren't acting (did we say acting)? We guess we did. Speakin' of George, he keeps a little gal's heart a thumpin' in shorthand class.

Bob Hitt seemed to be more nervous than the players at the Wayne game. We uns missed him in the regular line-up.

Now Red, what made you blush the other day in French class? It seems Bob didn't know the meaning of a certain French word. Now if we could understand French—

So the junior gals' basketball team lost to the freshmen! Well, for goodness sakes, I guess that will teach 'em.

Detectives Klaf and Lee have given up and we all are breathing a little easier now. We want to thank Phyllis for her blushes when accused of being "a certain character."

Wesley H. is losing interest again we hear (or is it vice versa?) Well, anyway some gals are hopin' (again). Who's it going to be Wes?

—Us Southern Gals.

Information About Classroom Activities

Mr. Wallace has obtained a new pair of sticklebacks for his aquarium. His biology classes have been making use of their microscope in studying protozoans. It has recently returned from the factory after being repaired.

Rathburn's ninth grade English classes are working on the short story unit, studying Poe, Hawthorne, and Irving—famous American writers.

Miss Lovewell's ninth grade English classes are studying the citizenship unit and observing birthdays of 28 very famous people born in February.

New squad leaders and squads have been chosen in physical training classes. Early American dancing will be at noon, fourth and fifth hours. Four hour will be for eighth graders, fifth hour for high school, and noon hour for anyone unable to get in the other classes. The day will still be Wednesday.

Mrs. Soule's 8-A home economics classes are reading "Country Kitchen" by Della Lutes. All junior high classes are keeping recipe files. Aprons can now be kept in lockers in the foods room.

Represent Hi-Y at Detroit Meet

Newly-elected officers and committee chairman of the Plymouth Hi-Y attended a four-hour officers training course at the Central Woodward Christian church Thursday, February 8.

The training course which is held twice a year, attracts Hi-Y officials from all parts of the metropolitan area in which Plymouth is included. It is sponsored by the Hi-Y groups of the metropolitan area.

The course began at 4:30 p.m. and concluded at 8:30. It centered around a discussion of the practical use of the Hi-Y today. This was taken in by round table discussions and lectures by heads of the club.

Dick Caskev, president of the Detroit chapter of the Hi-Y, told the group the good it has done him in high school.

Dale Curtiss, one of the most popular Detroit officials in the city of Detroit, explained the use of the Hi-Y in cultivating religion.

Delegates described the round table discussion on "The Most Difficult Problem I Faced as a Hi-Y President" as the most interesting. The round table was composed of three Hi-Y presidents, three advisors, two program chairmen and two service chairmen. The topic was discussed by everyone present.

The Hi-Y is the high school branch of the Young Men's Christian association. It has thousands of members all over America.

Officers of the group are elected in Detroit and Plymouth every semester. This is the reason for the officers' training conference being held twice a year.

Newly elected officers are Bob Newman, president; Warren Hoffman, vice president; Paul Harsha, secretary; Ford Lounsbury, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are: program, Warren Hoffman; membership, Bill Thomas; and Bible study, Ivan Packard.

Library Club Enlists New Members

The library club which is becoming very popular has increased its membership to 17. The new members are Doris Duree, Dorothy Buhl, Jack Gettelson, Gloriette Galloway, Mary Jane Olsvaver, Margery Merriam, Betty Brown and Jack Butz. At the staff meeting Monday, February 5, it was decided that new officers will be elected at a later date for the semester.

Welcome, Ecorse —Editorial

When the Ecorse basketball team comes to Plymouth, February 21, to play Plymouth high school's team, they will, according to plans now under way by the Hi-Y, be extended every evidence of friendship that is at the club's command. Large signs bearing the notice, "Welcome, Ecorse" are to be hung at conspicuous points on the main floor and in the gymnasium of the school. In addition, Hi-Y members will make an especial effort to make the Ecorse athletes feel welcome.

The gallantry of the Hi-Y in cultivating a warm welcome on the part of Plymouth basketball fans is occasioned by an unusual relation between the two schools of several years' standing. It began as the result of a basketball altercation several years ago and has been re-kindled by meetings between the schools in several activities.

This misunderstanding should be topped immediately. Through the cooperation of the student body of Plymouth high school it will. Some action should have been undertaken after the athletic argument occurred, other than the severing of athletic relations. This argument has simmered for two years. Now relations have been resumed, and action can be taken.

The poster idea of welcome is not new. It has been tried frequently and successfully in Detroit schools. The Plymouth Hi-Y copies the idea from a Detroit branch of the club that has re-established tranquil relations through its use.

How true are the words of Dale Carnegie. "It takes two to make a quarrel."

Ecorse high school did its share in re-establishing friendship in an earlier basketball meeting at Ecorse. In this game there was no evidence of actions contrary to sportsmanship. Ecorse and Plymouth played well-ordered basketball.

Eliminate Debate Team in First Round of State Tournament

Concluding a disappointing season in debate the Rocks trio of arguers dropped the first contest of the state elimination series to Tecumseh high school. Mr. McKay of the Michigan State Normal college was the sole critic judge.

Five schools—Ypsilanti, Plymouth, Dundee, Tecumseh and Belleville were entered in the tournament. Plymouth and Dundee were eliminated in the first round. In the second round Ypsilanti fell to Belleville which defeated Tecumseh in the last.

The topic for the year was: Resolved. The federal government should own and operate the railroads. This year's squad was composed of Virginia Rock, Danie Jim Zuckerman and Marion Goodman. Richard Strong helped out part time.

Farm women are delighted with the introduction of electricity into their homes. It means the latest in lighting and power, insuring many conveniences and much comfort.

On the nine miles of highway between Kalamazoo and Long Lake known as Portage road, John F. Clemons of Long Lake counted a total of 49 dead animals between January 1, 1939 and January 1, 1940. He listed nine mice, two dogs, nine rabbits, five fox squirrels, three skunks, one pheasant, six opossums and 14 muskrats. He observed the heaviest kill in March and April.

High School Bards Have Ballads Published

The following were turned in from Miss Walldorf's English 11 class, after studying the technique of the ballad:

"Traits of Three Classmates"

When Jack is asked to write a theme
 Or tell of some great aim,
 It's ten to one he'll always tell
 About a football game.

From Norman we expect great art
 For talented is he,
 But wouldn't we all be surprised
 If a preacher he would be?

New Lloyd works after school each night,
 And always neat is he,
 But when he speaks with emphasis
 His voice slides up a key.

—Betty Schepfle

Senior Sketches

Name: Harold Elliott Davis
 Aim: To be a press photographer;
 address: 34080 Orangelane avenue
 Plymouth; fame: Taking pictures; distinguishing characteristics: (This statement was made by Harold himself) loafing, driving, and doodling; (May we add—) being somewhat of a bookworm and popping up in unexpected places; Parents: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Davis.

Name: Margaret Lucille Brandt
 aim: To go to college; and to earn enough money for traveling; address: 11040 Denno Drive, Wayne; fame: Past-president of Home Economics club; present secretary of senior Girl Reserves; participation in Stunt Night; and participation in sports every year; distinguishing characteristics: Her merriest and talkativeness; and easy going manner; and Helen Jane Spring-er as her ever faithful companion; Parents: Mr. and Mrs. Norman F. Brandt.

With the increase of students at the beginning of the second semester, it was found necessary to add another teacher, Miss Louise Sweet, to the faculty list. Miss Sweet will teach English and history for the eighth grade, ancient history for the ninth grade, and world history for the tenth and eleventh grades. She has acted as a substitute teacher at Michigan State Normal college and has been employed on the Ypsilanti Daily Press, the local daily, as a reporter and feature writer. She has received her bachelor of arts degree from Ypsilanti State Normal college and her master of arts degree from the University of Michigan.

She is very much interested in the Girl Scouts having done some summer camp work for Park Haven and Ypsilanti girls. Her hobbies are the writing of tableaux, short stories, and essays and the reading of modern American fiction, romance, scientific literature and student tests.

Believe it or not, there is a man named Santa Claus in San Francisco, Indiana. The town's chief industry is forwarding Christmas gifts and mail so the postmark will bear the town's name.

But now my Mickey's gone away
 Where all good cats must go
 And on that pillow where he lay
 There lies his faded bow.

H. S. Enrollment Exceeds Thousand

For the first time in the history of the high school the enrollment of students has exceeded 1,000. Last Monday's figures disclosed. There are a total of 1003 students enrolled in Plymouth high school, an increase of 68 over September figures. Both the ninth and tenth grades have over 200 in their classes, the ninth 226 and the tenth a close second with 220. The eleventh grade has the third largest enrollment—a total of 175. The seventh and eighth grades, which as yet do not have any students from surrounding intermediate or rural schools, have 124 and 132 students enrolled respectively, more than the senior class whose membership totals only 113. The large number of students in these grades, with the exception of the present senior class, indicates that a puzzling problem will confront graduating classes in the near future at commencement time, for there seems to be no auditorium in Plymouth large enough to hold the students, their friends and relatives. The only solution found thus far would be to hold graduation exercises in January as well as in June.

Wayne Reserves Swamp P. H. S.

Playing a quiet game in the first and second quarters, the Wayne Reserves did an about face to score 23 points in the concluding quarters, thus emerging from the contest victors by a score of 22-34. Two things were outstanding throughout the game. One was the Wayne's ability to make baskets with great accuracy, shooting from the middle of the floor. The other, while lacking less effect upon the final score, was Marshall's patriotic songs.

The score during the first two quarters was always very close. It seemed that the contest would be close and interesting. At the end of the second quarter the score was 11 all with Gorton the leading scorer. On the whole it may be said that the first half of the game was rather quiet in comparison to the last half.

Wayne broke loose in the last half with spectacular shooting from the center line making 23 more points for nearly a point and a half a minute. Hunter was the Rocks' leading scorer in the third, Gorton was second and may have been first had he not left the game via four personal fouls. The efforts of Hunter and Gorton came to naught in the face of Saunders' four baskets.

In the final quarter Plymouth added three more baskets to its total bringing the score to 22-

With the increase of students at the beginning of the second semester, it was found necessary to add another teacher, Miss Louise Sweet, to the faculty list. Miss Sweet will teach English and history for the eighth grade, ancient history for the ninth grade, and world history for the tenth and eleventh grades. She has acted as a substitute teacher at Michigan State Normal college and has been employed on the Ypsilanti Daily Press, the local daily, as a reporter and feature writer. She has received her bachelor of arts degree from Ypsilanti State Normal college and her master of arts degree from the University of Michigan.

She is very much interested in the Girl Scouts having done some summer camp work for Park Haven and Ypsilanti girls. Her hobbies are the writing of tableaux, short stories, and essays and the reading of modern American fiction, romance, scientific literature and student tests.

Popular Places, People and Events

We've noticed that the library is very popular these days. There have been scads of new members in the club this semester. Do you suppose the librarian has anything to do with this? We don't know how popular these people really are, but they've been talked about plentifully. The first person who can give us positive proof of just who "Southern Gals" is will be given a reward. (Maybe this is a quick way of getting rid of them, the rats.)

We think a public opinion poll should be taken as to who the most popular teacher in school is, and why. Wouldn't it be terrible if none of them received any votes?

Why is a certain policeman who guides the school children across the street so popular? Is it because he is always so friendly or because he's so lenient?

There is a certain language class in the high school that is very popular. We wonder if this is because of the subject itself or because of the many and various topics of discussion carried on during the hour.

We have heard opinions from various students about the popularity of the Pilgrim Prints page. There have been complaints that the page is devoted too much to juniors. If the other classes would like more representation, they should send more of their class to write on the staff.

A STATE INVESTIGATION.

During the Murphy administration in Michigan, The Plymouth Mail made a careful investigation into his tax paying record in this state. He claims Detroit and Wayne county as his legal residence. We searched the tax rolls for years and the name of Frank Murphy could not be found anywhere as a taxpayer.

He was openly challenged by The Mail to produce a tax receipt for any city, county, school or state tax he had ever paid to any city, county or school district in Michigan. This he never did—because we believe he could NOT do so.

Now comes a report from Washington that during the period he was governor of Michigan he "over-paid" the federal government on his income tax something like $1,780.00. Knowing Murphy as we do, we suspect that was done for publicity purposes.

But for one to pay an income tax of that amount he must have had earnings of some sort from stocks, bonds or other investments. Under the Michigan law these are subject to taxation within this state. There is little doubt but what Mr. Murphy must be worth a quarter of a million dollars or more, based upon his income over a period of years.

The Plymouth Mail suggests to the proper state authorities that they demand from the internal revenue department in Washington a full record of Murphy's tax statement.

It has been our contention for years that Mr. Murphy owes his home city, school district and county money for taxes. Here is a good chance to find out.

DIRTY BUSINESS.

Some two or three alleged members of the Republican party are said to have protested because of the revelation a few days ago of the scheme where some one not officially connected with the Republican State Central committee was collecting money and "settling" bills of that committee.

They said that letting the public know these facts might "hurt the Republican party."

Well, if this sort of business "hurts the Republican party" then why get mixed up in that sort of business?

Above all things, a political organization should keep its hands clean. It should command from the voters the highest respect and it should have the absolute confidence of the people. The same rule holds true of our public officials.

Just as long as we permit "back-door" politics and "back-door" scheming, we are in for a lot of explaining.

Why should any Republican have to go out and alibi and explain and try to smooth over the slick operations of a mere handful of those who are in politics for personal gain and advantage only?

Point out one thing, if you can, whereby the Michigan state government has ever been made better or the people benefited by the operations of back-door political manipulators!

Michigan and the Republican party would be a thousand percent better off without any of their kind.

CONGRATULATIONS.

Plymouth is probably more interested in the Boy Scout movement than any other city of its size in Michigan. It has four Boy Scout troops. Much of this interest is due to the activity of Sidney D. Strong, who is one of the original sponsors of Scout work in Plymouth and vicinity. During all the long years since its inception, he has never lost interest in this boy organization.

It is because of his good work and because, too, of the numerous Scout organizations in Plymouth that we are probably more interested in the observance of the anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scout movement than other cities of similar size.

This week Plymouth is joining with all America in celebrating the thirtieth anniversary of the establishment of the Boy Scout Movement in America. The Movement has its enthusiastic supporters everywhere. Indeed, in its three decades nearly 9,000,000 Americans have been Scouts, Cubs and leaders. Today there are over 1,330,000 boys and men actively enrolled.

Now, as never before, American adults are giving their time, energies and financial support to time-tested boys and girls organizations that help mold their children into types of citizens that will guarantee the continued existence of the United States along the pattern set by the nation's founders who gave America its democratic form of government and its precious heritage, the Constitution and its Bill of Rights.

Supplementing existing organizations such as the home, church and school, the Boy Scouts of America engages boys' leisure-time energies in outdoor life and activities of cultural and practical values which lead boys to become dependable men.

Every President of the United States since William Howard Taft has been an enthusiastic supporter of Scouting and every American who knows anything about Scouting's beneficial program acknowledges it as worthy of continued confidence and trust.

Most of us have watched it grow and gain in influence, with great satisfaction. It is something vital to "The American Way" and through three decades, its service has gained the confidence of all people.

It would be difficult to point to any single quality of the Movement and say with positiveness, "Here is what makes Scouting great." But in our judgment one of its outstanding contributions to the nation, particularly in these times of world travail, is its simply-worded Twelfth Scout Law. It epitomizes all that we as a people stand for; all that our forefathers pioneered for when they were fashioning a safe homeland out of a wilderness.

Read its stirring words. They are worth memorizing and, more than that, they should be lived by all of us who have the high privilege of being Americans.

Here is the Twelfth Scout Law:
A Scout is reverent.

He is reverent toward God. He is faithful in his religious duties, and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion.

All Americans worthy of the name, all who believe in the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights and the Constitution of the United States have an abiding faith in such a principle because it is their very guarantee that so long as it is a living thing they will always be free and independent.

FAIR WARNING

Michigan newspapermen have given fair warning to party leaders. If the leaders refuse to cast out political bosses then the newspapermen are going to see what can be done about it. If the leaders refuse to clean their stables then a group of newspapermen are going to lend a hand.

There is no reason why one or two or three men should dictate to state government. There is no reason why political bosses from Wayne, Kent, Genesee or any other county or group of counties should control party conventions. The bosses cannot control conventions if delegates perform their duties.

The group of Michigan newspapermen have given party leaders fair warning. If the party leaders fail to heed it they will have only themselves to blame for the insurrection they may find themselves faced with.—Nelson Brown in The Ingham County News.

The idea of a Carnegie library for Plymouth which was mentioned in The Mail recently, seems to have awakened considerable interest in the matter. It is the sentiment of a great many that Plymouth should put forth every effort to secure an institution of this kind.

George W. Springer has been re-appointed deputy sheriff for Plymouth township by Sheriff Milton Oakman of Wayne county. As a deserved compliment and a recognition of his ability and services as an officer, Mr. Springer was offered a deputyship on the sheriff's force in the city, but he thought it best to decline the position. George is probably one of the busiest men in Plymouth, for, besides his duties as deputy sheriff, he is engaged in the manufacture of cigars, is village marshal, village health officer and has charge of the local opera house. With all these duties, he finds time to be an enthusiastic booster for Plymouth and a genial good fellow.

There was quite a bit of excitement at Fram's Lake last Saturday morning when a team belonging to Gale brothers got into the lake, but with immediate help from the neighbors, they were soon able to get them out.

Telephone service at Tonquish was cut off by a number of poles being down near Plymouth.

Someone entered the new house being erected by Fred Lee at Livonia Center last Sunday night and relieved C. F. Smith of some of his carpenter tools, which were procured by forcing the lock on his chest.

A horse belonging to Charles Wagonschultz of Livonia Center and driven by his son, Harvey, was struck by an electric car in Plymouth last Friday and it was necessary to kill the horse. Harvey considers himself fortunate to have escaped without injury.

Two sleighloads of people from Lapham's Corners went over to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Whittaker on the town line Monday and gave Mr. Whittaker a surprise. Hot oyster stew was served at noon. Progressive Pedro was played in the afternoon and everybody spent a jolly day.

Harry Green has taken a position as clerk at A. H. Dibble and Son's store.

YOUR VOICE...YOUR BEST VALENTINE

Many people are likely to disagree with the old saying that "absence makes the heart grow fonder." They have found it quite the other way! Affections, like friendships, must be kept in repair. And the telephone is ready to help you. If you can't be with some special somebody on Valentine's Day, call her (or him) on the telephone. It will take your voice, a personal gift, across the miles. And there isn't a case on record where a telephoned Valentine has failed to make two hearts glow with added friendliness. Long Distance rates are lowest nights after 7 and on Sundays.
