Elect Kirkpatrick President of Education Board

Fills Vacancy Left by Herald Hamill

Russell A. Kirkpatrick, for five years a member of the Plymouth board of education, was elected president of the board at its last meeting. Mr. Kirkpatrick fills the vacancy created when Herald Hamill, former president, moved from this district to his new home a short distance west of the city.

The new president is now serving his second term of membership on the board. He was elected in the spring of 1935 and took his oath of office, June 10, of that year. He has been an active member of the board and served in the capacity of treasurer a year ago during the illness of the regular treasurer, George Burr.

Mr. Kirkpatrick is the father of four children. Three are attending Plymouth schools at the present and one has been graduated from both Plymouth high school and Michigan State college at East Lansing.

The new board of education president is a member of the Masonic lodge, and is serving on the official board of the Methodist church of Plymouth.

The Kirkpatricks have resided in Plymouth for 16 years, moving here from Saginaw. Mr. Kirkpatrick is a member of the Masonic lodge, and is serving on the official board of the Methodist church of Plymouth.

Announce Winner of D. A. R. Contest

In an essay contest recently sponsored by the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the D.A.R., a paper written by Tom Chaffee, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Chaffee, of Arthur street, was judged to be the winner. He will be given a cash award. The contest is an annual affair and is open to any student in the junior high school.

Mrs. S. N. Thams acted as chairman of the Plymouth contest in the absence of Mrs. Charles Root, local flag chairman, who is vacationing in Florida. Fourteen essays were submitted. One written by Barbara Martin was given second choice and Velda Ronaberger won third honors. Honorable mention was given to those written by Thelma Ruth Stevens, Dorothy Jean Woodbury, Phyllis Cochran, Dorothy Rowland and Josephine Armstrong. Prizes will be awarded at a general school assembly at the high school in June.

Judges for the contest were Dr. E. A. Rice, Mrs. Harold Todd and Mrs. Austin Whipple. The essays winning the first two places were sent to the state flag chairman of the D.A.R., Mrs. Charles Dana Lewis, of Detroit, and will be judged along with those of other children over the entire state. A grand prize will be awarded.

The essay subject used was, "The Flag of the United States: Its Origin, Tradition and Correct Use."

City Steps on Gambling Games

City officials Monday night turned thumbs down on an outside controlled bingo-keeno outfit that sought permission through a local organization, to conduct its games within the city limits of Plymouth.

Complaints made to the city manager and police about the games caused him to place the matter before the city commission at a meeting on Saturday, who ordered that the games not be allowed, following a ruling by City Attorney Arlo Emery that the type of keeno games to be conducted would be a direct violation of the state's gambling laws.

Plymouth police have been directed to make arrests of any person or persons who attempt to violate provisions of the state law.

Ernest Conlon, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Michigan, former city manager of Grand Rapids and one-time senator from that city in the state legislature will be the main speaker at the annual meeting of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, Monday evening, April 1.

City Slashes Bonded Debt--Saves Interest To Pay $15,000 Bonds Ahead of Schedule

Pythians Honor Him

WILLIAM STRENG

At the regular convention of the Knights of Pythias held on Thursday evening, March 14, William Streng was presented with a 50-year veteran's jewel by the local lodge of Knights of Pythias. Mr. Streng having joined the order in the year 1890, and his membership has never been broken.

The presentation was made by Grand Chancellor Commander George A. Cram, of Pontiac, assisted by Grand Prelate Ray H. Burrell, of Ypsilanti, and Chancellor Commander Ernest Rossow, of Plymouth.

About 100 knights from visiting lodges were assembled to witness this impressive ceremony. At 7:00 o'clock dinner was served to members from Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Brighton, Milan, Chelsea and Manchester, after which the lesson of friendship was presented by Queen City lodge No. 167 from Ypsilanti, and the ritualistic work was given to a class of candidates from Brighton and Plymouth by Ann Arbor lodge No. 44.

Spring Recess Starts Today

Plymouth public schools will close today (Friday) at noon and will not reopen until Monday morning, April 1, according to an announcement made by Superintendent George A. Smith this week. The schools will at that time observe both Easter and spring vacation.

During the week's recess, workmen at the schools will give it a general cleaning. Several repairs will be made at that time which cannot be done while school is in session.

Scouts Ask for Old Newspapers

A request for Plymouth residents to save old newspapers was made this week by members of Plymouth Boy Scout Troop No. 2. The boys have a market for the paper and will use the money to help finance their annual summer camping trip and other scouting activities.

Residents who wish to help the troop by giving them the old papers may call Scoutmaster Marvin Partridge, at 618-M, Troop Committeeman Charles J. Thumm, at 672-W, or Bill Van der Ven, at 389-W.

It is planned that the troop will collect the papers every Saturday. If, on the other hand, it is inconvenient for residents to have the papers called for at that time, they will be collected on week-day evenings.

Mrs. Lillian Peck, who has been visiting her mother in Rochester, New York, returned home Saturday, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth M. Lloyd and family of Youngstown, Ohio, whom Mrs. Peck visited for two days. On Tuesday they spent the day with another daughter, Mrs. John S. Michener in Adrian.

The movie script calls for several main characters who will be cast during the next few weeks. There will be a small amount of advertising when the movie is shown. A similar film is in the course of production at Ann Arbor. It will be presented there sometime in April.

To Pay $15,000 Bonds Ahead of Schedule

Balance of Only $114,000 Left to Pay in Future

Because of the excellent financial condition of the city government, Plymouth municipal officials state that $15,000 in special assessment bonds can be retired on May 1, instead of November 1, making a saving of $1,912.50 in interest.

When City Manager Clarence Elliott made the recommendation for the retirement of the bonds at the city commission meeting Monday evening, it was voted unanimously to make this saving in interest payment.

Another instance of saving a large amount of money that would have been paid in interest on bonds took place when the city retired the cemetery contract last fall. In that case, $1865.40 was saved. For the fiscal year the total savings for the city in interest on bonds alone amounts to $3777.90.

At the end of this fiscal year, June 30, the city will have paid $46,330.14 on the principal of the total bonded indebtedness and contracts. At that time $124,000 will be outstanding city debts, of which $60,000 is against the water fund and $64,000 the general fund.

Beginning next year it will be impossible for the city to retire bonds as fast as they have been cancelled during the last few years. Many of those still outstanding are not callable until their termination date. It is reported by the city manager that $40,000 worth of bonds is all that will be possible to retire during the next fiscal year.

Since January 1, 1926, the bonded indebtedness of the city has been decreasing rapidly. At that time the city's debt stood at $135,500.14 in bonds and contracts. During the last four and one-half years, $139,000 in all have been paid off as of June 30, 1940, leaving a balance of only $114,000 to be paid.

Much of the city debt was accumulated by civic improvements which were put through the city in the past few years. Following are the improvements which cost for the $300,000 indebtedness. Paving, water improvements, storm and sanitary sewers, sewage disposal plant, sewer and pavement special assessments, and the purchase of cemetery property.

By the payment of the bonds, it is reported by officials that the rate of taxation will be decreased somewhat next year.

Plymouth to Be "In the Movies"

Announcement was made this week that the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the filming of a motion picture depicting life, business, homes and residents in the city. The picture will be produced by J. B. Rogers company, of Fostoria, Ohio, who are the world's largest producers of musical comedies, minstrel reviews and pageant spectacles.

Plymouth people will take part in the movie, all of which will be filmed in the city. It is now planned that the full two-hour feature will be presented in the high school auditorium, May 16 and 17. Production will start about the middle of next month. It is thought by company officials that the picture will be about two weeks in production.

John MacLachlan, Plymouth J. C. C. member, was appointed by Robert Wesley, president of the organization, to act as general chairman in charge of arrangements for the movie. Mr. MacLachlan says that he will select several members of the organization to assist on his committee.

The movie script calls for several main characters who will be cast during the next few weeks. There will be a small amount of advertising when the movie is shown. A similar film is in the course of production at Ann Arbor. It will be presented there sometime in April.

Chamber of Commerce Banquet to Be Held Monday Night, April 1st

Ernest Conlon, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Michigan, former city manager of Grand Rapids and one-time senator from that city in the state legislature will be the main speaker at the annual meeting of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, Monday evening, April 1.

The dinner will take place at the Mayflower hotel at 7 o'clock, and it is expected to be one of the biggest events held during the year by the local businessmen's organization.

Dig Out Stump Nearly Five Feet in Diameter From Under Voorhies Home

Old Timers Do Not Recall Who Built Pioneer Home

Old time residents are finding it difficult to recall who it was that built the old Voorhies residence that was recently removed, to make room for the new Harry Lusk theatre to be built on Penman just east of Main street.

Whoever it was that built the house back in the days before the Civil War, didn't think it was necessary to remove a stump nearly five feet in diameter that was uncovered the other day when Russell Powell's big steam shovel lifted it out of the earth.

The basement was under but a part of the house, the stump of the big tree being under the floor in the front of the residence. It must have been of tremendous size when it was cut down. Even though the edges of it had decayed to a considerable extent, it still measured nearly five feet across when removed the other day. Apparently, those who cut the tree down had made a fill over the stump to raise the house a foot or so above the old grade of the ground.

On the east side of the house, the fill was nearly five feet.

Charles H. Bennett, who, when a boy, lived just across the park and directly east of the old Voorhies residence, says the house was an old one when he was a youngster, and that wasn't just yesterday.

"There was a blacksmith shop on the west side of the lot where the Masonic temple now stands. We lived east of the blacksmith shop. The house that Mr. Floyd now occupies was built sometime after the Voorhies place was constructed. The old Voorhies house had been built many years, as it was not looked upon as a new house when I was a youngster," said Mr. Bennett the other day.

"My father and the father of Paul Voorhies, during the early days of Plymouth, were in the windmill business. They made and sold the wooden windmills that farmers were enthusiastic about in those times. At that time the parents of Paul Voorhies lived in the house which has just been removed for the new theatre, but I do not remember who lived there before or who built the house," he added.

Edward C. Hough, who was brought up in the same neighborhood, could not recall who built the old Voorhies house. The Hough home, when "E. C." was a boy, was located on the very spot where the Plymouth Mail building now stands. Its backyard adjoined the backyard of the Voorhies property where the new theatre is to be erected.

At any rate, another of the few remaining old landmarks of the city has disappeared to make way for what will be one of the most modern theatres in any city of this size in Michigan.

Call Meeting of Local Boys

There will be a meeting at the city hall at 7:30 on the evening of Wednesday, March 27 for boys 16 and 17 years old who are interested in attending the "Boy State" Boy State. It is not necessary that these boys be in school at the present time.

John W. Jacobs, manufacturer of automatic sealing vaults and William Rose, of the Plymouth Hardware, comprise a committee known as the Plymouth Patriotic League and they have decided to sponsor one boy at the Boy State. Other boys will be sponsored by the American Legion and the Rotary club.

Mr. Jacobs states that at the meeting to be held at the city hall, plans will be outlined for the way this one boy is to be selected to go to Boy State.

Each boy will be requested to write a 500-word essay on a subject to be announced at the meeting. A committee composed of Clarence Elliott, Vaughan Smith, John Bickenstaff, Melvin Guthrie, Floyd Eckles, Walter Harms and E. R. Eaton has been requested to act as judges of the essay contest.

Mr. Jacobs states that the eligibility and other questions will be thoroughly discussed at the meeting on March 27. He has named as a committee Harold Anderson, William Rose and John Jacobs, all members of the Legion.

Easter! The Christian Festival!

the birth of a soul, or the birth of an idea or the birth of a nation. And so the hard and painful experiences through which Jesus went that last week, and in which His followers shared, issued in the birth of a New Hope for humanity on that first Easter Day. It has always been the custom of people to visit the graves of their loved ones and friends soon after burial, so on the third day and early in the morning, begin coming the friends of Jesus. Heavy-hearted and with hesitating steps they approach the tomb and as they listlessly lift their eyes, they behold the most stupendous sight mortal ever gazed upon, the stone rolled away, the tomb empty and an Angel of God standing by. And their ears hear those mighty words, fraught with such significance for humanity, "Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here, but is risen." (Luke 24:5-6).

The Christian belief in immortality is based upon the Resurrection of Jesus. There are many verses in the Bible teaching this. Here is one: "For if we have been planted together in the likeness of His death, we shall be also in the likeness of His resurrection." (Romans 6:5) From the beginning men have instinctively longed to believe in immortality and in early times there were crude and vague ideas along this line. But the cry which comes out of the old past, "If a man die, shall he live again?" (Job 14:14) does not find an assuring answer until in the fullness of time God sent His Son who said, "I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live. And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." (John 11:25-26) And then going on, Jesus asks Martha this question, "Believest thou this?" Martha answered yes and countless thousands have followed in her train down through the generations to this very hour.

Frequently in prayer, my father uses the expression, "Our hope that is big with immortality." This is the meaning of Easter and the message that comforts through the year when death breaks in. Death is not a stone wall at the end of life's road, but a doorway that opens into a larger and finer life where we shall join loved ones and friends gone on before and where we shall be with Christ in unending fellowship.

Presently the world of nature will be experiencing its perennial resurrection of life. All the beauty and fragrance of Spring and Summer and the fruitful harvest of Autumn lie dormant and potential in the bosom of the earth. How fitting that the Resurrection Festival comes in the Springtime when all nature helps to preach the doctrine of Easter. In each of our lives there lie dormant many things of beauty and fragrance, the cold winter of our doubt and indifference holds back the springtime of a resurrection in our hearts that God would like to bring about. And then the whole wide world needs the resurrection which is wrought by God through the Risen Christ. The world lies cold and ugly in its winter of sin, war and drunkenness and lust and greed, awaiting God's touch into a resurrection of new life through the Risen Christ. Let us all resolve to pray and work toward this end.

"No Fishing" Sign Goes up Soon

With closing of inland lakes of Michigan to fishing March 31, Plymouth anglers face the period of greatest inaction of the year, except for the small runs which are the occasions for celebrations in a number of northern Michigan communities.

Waters remaining open to fishing are the Great Lakes and connecting waters, non-trout streams, trout streams designated open to hook and line fishing throughout the year, and certain lakes directly connected with Lake Michigan.

Trout streams and trout lakes will be opened to fishing again on April 27. Pike lakes will be opened to fishing again on May 15 when everything except black bass, bluegills and sunfish may be taken. These species may not be taken from any waters until June 25 when all inland lakes are opened.

State Changes Exam Questions

The Plymouth police department this week received a notice from the secretary of state to the effect that the examination form for driver's license applications has been changed. There are now six sets of new questions in our different groups. The applications are arranged in rotation so that no two succeeding application examinations will be the same.

The new forms will be used by all police departments in the state. They were sent from the state department this week. Formerly the applications were uniform and have been in use since the plan of a written examination for drivers was started two years ago.

Mrs. Matt Powell and daughter, Marie, returned Tuesday from Miami, Florida, where they spent the month of February.

Plan Easter Style Parade

Preparations for a big Easter style parade reveling in beauty in new springtime colors and in attractions for every member of the community are being made at the display rooms of Earl S. Mastick, local Dodge dealer.

The parade will include a sparkling array of 1940 Dodge automobiles, special shipments of which are being received by the dealers as part of the showing which, according to advance word, will be the most colorful display of automobiles seen here in years.

The Easter season, the time when all Nature appears in the freshness of new colors, certainly is an appropriate moment for showing our friends the marvelous things, in beauty, style and comfort, which Dodge designers and engineers have accomplished for the modern car.

"The 'Parade' will also provide a special additional and free attraction for the visitors whose interest in new styles and colors is liveliest and most competent—the ladies. The keen color sense of the feminine eye is quick to appreciate the beauties of our 1940 Dodge colors, such as postal blue, admiral blue, mainliner gray, spar beige, gun metal, air green, lakeland green, air cruise red, royal maroon, black."

The opening of the Dodge Easter style parade has been set for the week beginning March 17. Mr. Mastick stated.

85 Register in Bike Club

Plymouth police department officials received 85 applications for membership in the Bicycle club last week, Saturday 40 of the applicants were granted their licenses when it was found by inspectors that their bicycles passed certain requirements.

The club has secured a number of regulation bicycle licenses which are given to members of the club when their machines pass inspection. The numbers run in rotation. The first 15 plates are to be "honor plates" for use by club officials.

Saturday when bicycles were inspected for the first time for entrance into the club, it was reported by police officials who conducted the inspection that the greatest cause for not granting licenses to prospective members was because applicants failed to have attached to their bicycle a warning device audible for a distance of 200 feet. It is necessary that members comply with the rules and regulations of the club, as set up by the Plymouth police department, not only after they become official members of the club, but previously so.

Saturday afternoon, March 30, at 2:30 o'clock in the commission chambers at the city hall, the club will meet for the first time for the purpose of organization and making plans for their spring program.

"Red" Miller Tells of Navy Life

A. R. Miller, better known to his many old Plymouth friends as "Red" Miller, a one time employe of The Plymouth Mail, is now the engineer of the private motor boat of the captain of the United States navy ward at Pearl Harbor, in Hawaii, according to a letter just received by members of The Plymouth Mail staff.

After graduation from the Plymouth high school "Red" worked for a year or so on The Mail, then joined the navy, for submarine service. Recently he re-enlisted for another four years and as the result of successful examinations, his promotion has been steady. According to his letter, he is enthusiastic about the Hawaiian Islands, where he has been stationed a good portion of the time since entering the navy.

"From the way Plymouth is growing, according to The Plymouth Mail, which I receive every week, I'll need a guide to get me around town when I come home. Give my regards to all my old friends, and tell them to listen to the 'Hawaii Calls' broadcast Saturday nights. It must be on the air there about 8:30 or 9:00. It goes on the air here at 2:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon," wrote the youthful navy engineer.

J. C. C. Bowlers in State Tourney

Two five-man bowling teams from the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce entered the State J. C. C. tournament held at the Lansing Strand alleys Sunday, March 17. Forty-two teams were in the state-wide contest.

From the Plymouth chapter, George Todd was high man with a three-game total of 520. He was closely followed by George Kenyon whose total was one pin less.

Plymouth team No. 1 was composed of George Kenyon, John MacLachlan, Charles VanVleck Lionel Coffin and George Todd. Members of team No. 2 were Walter Ash, Charles Bessy, Marvin Terry and Clayton and Fred Koch.

The teams rolled three games with Lansing teams, Nos. 2 and 4.

Qualifications for membership require the student to be a member of the junior or senior class and have participated in one or more forensic activities for two years. Brock has been a prominent member of the debate squad and also has won honors in oratorical and extemporaneous speaking.

Delta Sigma Rho is one of the oldest of national forensic fraternities. The Albion chapter was established in 1911.

Mrs. Robson Enjoying California Visit

Mrs. Mary Robson has written to Plymouth friends from Rocklin, California, that she is thoroughly enjoying the winter out on the Pacific coast. She states that the weather has been pleasant and that she has thoroughly enjoyed the flowers. A few days ago she visited the state capitol at Sacramento and was greatly impressed by the beauty of the structure as well as the elaborate landscaping of the grounds. The lawns and gardens surrounding the capitol comprise over 40 acres she writes. It is her plan to return to Tacoma, Washington for a brief visit with relatives and friends before returning to her home in Plymouth.

Reader of Mail for Half Century

"It was more than half a century ago when I started taking The Plymouth Mail—Yes, sir, I started taking The Mail when it was first published. I have never missed reading a single issue and I don't expect to as long as I live," declared William Strong Saturday when he walked into the office of The Plymouth Mail and paid his annual subscription for the fifty-second time.

"I will be 85 years old on April 25 and I have enjoyed every minute of my life. I like to read things in The Mail about my old friends. I like to know what is going on now and to read the news about how our city is growing," he added.

John Johnson Now in New Location

John W. Johnson has moved into his new location at 924 West Ann Arbor, just west of the ice plant. The entire house has been remodeled and made into a residence and convenient offices. He has not only reconstructed the entire interior of the house but he has greatly improved the outside appearance of the structure. He completed his removal to his new location last Saturday.

Ice Thickest on Lakes in Years

There has been but once during this entire winter when the mercury in thermometers in Plymouth dropped to a point below zero, and that was only for a short time and it did not go more than three or four below.

But oldest inhabitants do not recall a time when the ice has been thicker on the lakes than this winter. On Newburg lake and some others, it has varied from 22 inches to 26 inches thick. Walled Lake is said to have been nearly 30 inches thick in places. Even now the ice is more than 20 inches thick on most lakes about here.

Hunters Must Be Numbered Again

Well! Well! Well! What do you know about this—when Russell Powell, Bill Rose, Brick Champ, Mark Chaffee and the one thousand and other game hunters take out their shotguns next fall to blaze away at all the bunnies and pheasants that escaped the army of hunters last fall, they will again wear numbers on their backs, just as they did last fall. No, the numbers will NOT be in front, like some of the boys over in Jackson and Marquette wear, but every hunter must

Rotarians Enjoy Good Program

When President Floyd Eckles of the Rotary club selected "Andy" Dunn, Charles Bennett and Glen Jewell to conduct the St. Patrick's day program for the club last Friday, he picked three members who gave the Plymouth Rotarians one of the peppiest meetings that have been held in many a day.

Besides a song contest between some of the members, Blake Gillis had invited out from Detroit a group of entertainers from the Lyon Company, Inc., and they added a pleasing feature to the program.

The committee saw to it that every Rotarian had a cob pipe, tied neatly with a green ribbon, to smoke during the meeting. Even the ministerial members of the club had the pipes to carry away as souvenirs, even though they did not make use of the smoking tobacco placed on each table. The meeting of the club this Friday will be a brief one.

Townsend Club Postpones Meeting

Because of a district meeting of the Townsend club to be held at the Plymouth Presbyterian church, Friday evening, March 29, next Monday's regular meeting has been postponed for one week. At the district meeting a potluck dinner will be served in the church dining rooms followed by entertainment. All old and new members of both Townsend club No. 1 and from the new precinct No. 3 club are expected to attend the district meeting. Those who plan to attend are requested to bring their own dishes, silver, sandwiches and a hot dish to pass.

Wear one on his back like he did last fall.

This is a ruling that has just been made by the state conservation department.

The field administration division, which administers law enforcement, reported hunters wearing tags showed more respect for property rights, gave farmers less trespass trouble, and brought less illegal game in off the fields. For its value as a deterrent to all classes of violations of game laws, the conservation commission has approved use of the back-tag again this year.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Romans 8:5, 28): "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit." And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to his purpose." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 444): "In some way, sooner or later, all must rise superior to materiality, and suffering is off the divine agent in this elevation." "All things work together for good to them that love God." is the dictum of Scripture.

Skating Season Has Been Longest

"Sixty-six days of good skating—that's something of a record for these parts," commented Glenn Smith the other day when he started to pack away supplies and other materials he carried during the skating season in his refreshment stands in the parkway system.
These stands will not be open again until the summer park season opens which will be late in May.
"I do not recall of any other time when the boys and girls have had so much opportunity to use their skates as this winter. The skating has been good and it has covered a longer period than usual more than two months of it," he added.
Mr. Smith's busiest concession stand has been at Newburg lake, where the biggest crowds have gone to skate. At times, chiefly on Saturdays and Sundays, there have been more than a thousand people skating on Newburg lake at one time. But with the coming of warmer days, skates have been put away until next season.

D. A. R. Discusses Defense Problem

The Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the D. A. R. met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sidney Strong. During the business meeting, Mrs. S. N. Thoms announced the winner of the essay contest sponsored by the chapter. This essay, written by Tom Chaffee, will be sent to state headquarters to be judged along with essays sent in by other contestants.

Mrs. Earl Mastick read a few excerpts from the National Defense News relating to the work and accomplishments and reasons for extending the work of the Dies committee.

Miss Mabel Spicer extended the thanks of the chapter to Miss Ruth Hadley for the splendid work in organizing and supervising the Junior American Citizenship class. Miss Hadley is having to relinquish this work much to the regret of the Daughters.

"In An Eighteenth Century Drawing Room" and "Sweet Alice Blue Gown" were sung by Miss Hadley, accompanied by Ruth Drews.

The speaker of the afternoon, Ray E. McFee, of Detroit, past president of the Detroit Genealogical society, was introduced by Mrs. Allan Buckley.

"The Puritans," said Mr. McFee, "were people opposed to the Stuarts and the Church of England. They represented the flower of England and began building the most intellectual center since the days of Athenian culture."

William Bradford, governor of Massachusetts, was master of a four languages before he came here and studied Hebrew after making his home here. John Winthrop was a lawyer and wrote a history of New England that is still prized.

"Many other people with whose names we are familiar were people of note and education, many Oxford and Cambridge graduates were numbered among the Puritans."

"Genealogists have found in tracing Lincoln's ancestry, that he came from one of the leading families of England. His people migrated here and became leaders in their communities."

Mr. McFee showed how interesting and how many friends one might make by tracing one's ancestry.

The hostess assisted by Mrs. Irving Blunk and Mrs. Ralph Taylor served tea to the guests. Mrs. Dwight Randall officiated at the tea table.

Spring Arrives Right on time!

Right on the dot SPRING arrived in Plymouth Wednesday afternoon exactly at 1:24 p.m. Mayor Ed Wilson said he clocked the arrival of the new season. Chief of Police Vaughan Smith says he saw it in that the speed limit was not violated and Stewart Dodge declared that he took precautions against an overcast.

That's why it showed before during and after the arrival of spring. Anyway, spring has arrived, even though the heaviest fall of snow of the season took place on the morning of the first spring day of 1940.

Charles Greenlaw, old timer in Plymouth, says there was nothing unusual about it all. The first days of spring have arrived before in snowstorms.

"But I hope that there isn't going to be any more slippery walks and streets. I'm still suffering from my last tumble," he declared.

Some of the folks sitting in the display window of Conner's hardware store, thought maybe now that the birds are flying north, Harry Robinson and some of the others would be starting northward, too.

Anyway, spring is here!

Schwoppe Barber Shop Singers Win!

No, it is not a miniature statue of liberty, nor of the Washington monument.

It is just a little red and white striped barber pole that adorns one corner of the desk of E. G. Schwoppe, district engineer of the highway department, but to him it is far more important than any statue that was ever created.

That little striped barber pole is the emblem of victory—victory in a barber shop melody contest that recently rocked the city of Grand Rapids.

You see, the little trophy is also important to Mr. Schwoppe because he bears the distinguished title of Vice President of The Society For The Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America.

Outside of some of the titles of a deposed Russian archduke or an east side Hamburg Russian cousin of the fifth uncle of the Rumanian Count de Flop, no one holds a high executive office in an organization with a longer name than the one that Vice President S. P. E. B. Q. S. A. fronts for in Plymouth.

Carrying that title around is one of the reasons why his associates say he is so tired every night.

At any rate his Highway quartet of barber shop melody fame walked away with first prize at the state contest in Grand Rapids. Now they have been invited to appear at the World of Tomorrow in New York this summer and sing for Mayor La Guardia and Al Smith, who have recently joined up with the barber shop quartetters.

The Plymouth Townsend club will be the hosts to representatives of all Townsend clubs in the seventh congressional district on Friday evening, March 29, in the spacious dining room of the Presbyterian church. The ladies will begin serving at 7:00 p.m. with the evening program at 8:15.

Rev. and Mrs. George E. Gullert of Detroit will be present and with Mrs. Gullert the principal speaker. Everyone is assured an original, interesting and educational talk on the important proposals of Dr. Francis E. Townsend.

All members, including the new members, who are recently joined and the public are cordially invited and urged to attend. All who come for the supper are kindly asked to bring sandwiches and a hot passing dish for the ladies also their own dishes and to try to make it possible for the ladies to charge to enjoy the program also.

MECHANIZED FARMING IS REALLY HERE

Ford Tractor with Ferguson System

The Ford tractor with Ferguson system will displace the horse on the farm—just as the automobile has displaced him on the road—is what Henry Ford says about this entirely new idea of farming.

For here at last is a practically automatic unit of mechanized farm equipment that will work on your farm. It does more work (two-plow, two-row capacity) . . . Does it easier (finger-tip hydraulic implement control) . . . Does it at lower cost (one gallon per hour fuel consumption).

The features of the unit are as new and revolutionary as the way it performs. But you've got to see the Ford tractor with Ferguson system work. See it work in tight places . . . hard ground . . . hillsides . . . wet lands . . . fields full of rocks and roots. It's amazing what it can do! We'll be glad to arrange a demonstration on your farm.

You Get These $585 for Tractor at Dearborn, Mich. Taxes (if any) and implements extra.

Report Vacancies on Track Squad

Graduation Takes Two of Last Year's Stars

Two sprinters, Keith Jolliffe and Don Mielbeck are the only members of last year's track team who were graduated last fall. Still their loss is as important to this year's team as was the absence of eight men to the football squad.

Jolliffe, the captain of last year's squad, and Mielbeck were two of the few consistent point winners on the team, which did not hit a commendable stride until the regular season was over. Each ran the 100 and 220 yard races and the relay. Jolliffe was also the best Plymouth hurdler.

The absence of these two members will leave a woefully small sprint representation unless Harsha and Sessions, out last year for the first time, can fill their places, or replacements can be picked from the 30 or more boys now reported for track last Monday.

Four juniors last year, Doug Prough, Bob Marshall, Joe Scarpulla, and Jim Butler, should be the mainstays of the 1940 Plymouth Rock team. Prough came near the school pole-vault record several times last year. He took first place in the state track finals. In the same meet, Marshall was fourth in the half mile. Scarpulla is a hurdler, broad-jumper, and shot-putter. Butler a hurdler.

The 29 trackmen, notably weak in several of the 12 track events, did not win a victory in the regular seasonal competition. Then, three weeks ago, they played fifty of six schools in the T.V.A.A. meet, third of 15 schools competing in the class B regional, and each of the three representatives in the state track finals took honors.

This year, as last year, the team will need men in the mile, two quarter miles, the half mile, 1100 and 220 dashes and the relay in running events, besides men in the broad-jump, high-jump, shot-put and pole-vault.

The thirty or more boys who reported two weeks ago for track practice have voiced the most interesting shown track work for several years. Warm-up suits have already been issued them.

The squad this year will work in two shifts. Anthony Matulis, boys' athletic director for Plymouth, will have charge from 2:30 to 3:30. Robert Ingram, regular track coach, will have the squad from that time on.

The increased interest in track work this year is reminiscent of a time several years ago when such stars as Wagenschultz and Kinsey performed for Plymouth in the records of the Ypsilanti Regional track and field meet. Class B, there, are listed five straight events in which Plymouth won records. Four of them are by Harold Wagenschultz and one by Jack Kinsey.

- Here is the track schedule for the 1940 season:
- April 2—Ypsilanti, there.
 - April 5—River Rouge, there.
 - April 12—Ecorse, there.
 - April 19—Birmingham, here.
 - April 26—Wayne, here.
 - May 3—Dearborn, here.
 - May 10—Canton, here.
 - May 18—Regional, here.
 - May 25—State, here.
 - June 1—T. V. A. A., here.

P. H. S. Alumni Outstanding in College Forensics

Plymouth high school, noted throughout the state for its high standing in debate is having its character well-supported by seven alumni who are students or graduates of Michigan colleges.

Katherine (Kay) Schultz of the class of '35 was graduated from the University of Michigan last June and has the distinction of being the first woman freshman debater to represent that college.

Russel Kirk, a senior at Michigan State, has debated for four years and will attend the second national Phi Kappa Delta tournament this year.

Dorothy Hearn, Tom Bruke and Jewell Starkweather, who were graduated in 1937, have all debated for three years at their respective colleges. Jewell Starkweather, a junior attending Kenton college, is particularly outstanding in student activities and forensics; at present she is manager of women's forensics. Dorothy Hearn debates for Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti. Tom Bruke at Albion has debated for three years, was college orator at the state contest and won the state extemporaneous contest when he was a sophomore.

Marilyn Holton, graduated in 1938, has debated for two years at Wayne University.

Marvin Hauk, a graduate of Plymouth high school last year, represented Michigan State Normal college at a tournament held at Berea, Ohio, recently.

Of these seven, there are four who have lost no debates this year.

Whisky has several by-products, the most important being carbon dioxide, which is drawn off during fermentation and made into dry ice; fusel oil, which is recovered at the same time and sold as a solvent for lacquers, and the spent mash, which is made into cattle feed.

Girl Reserves Hold Ceremonial

To reward girls who had worn their uniforms every meeting for the past semester, the Senior Girl Reserves held a special ceremonial last Thursday, March 14, after the regular business meeting. Twenty-seven girls, over half of the membership, received packages of stationery with the Girl Reserve insignia imprinted on each sheet.

The ceremonial was opened by a group of seven girls singing "For When a Girl Reserve Walks Down the Street," a favorite of the club. Ruth Ash, president, then led the purpose of the ceremonial and what it meant to be a wearer of the Girl Reserve uniform. Ardith Rowland read an interpretation of Blue, a color that is part of the uniform—a blue tie; Virginia Rock read the meaning of White. Distribution of gifts followed.

Makin' the Rounds

Our apologies to the readers of there were any of last week's column—the weather-man played tricks, and we really thought that "spring had bud" . . . However, the latest bulletin of the "Pilgrim Prints" Press is that the effects of the rainy weather are still going.

Three cheers to the freshmen . . . Their stunt really took nerve, especially the pillows . . . and what a surprise that little Jack Kenyon can have such a big voice . . .

"Today I am a man," said Jim Z. Jimmy announced that Thursday he actually shaved. The Easter bunny is just around the corner and with ten days of glorious vacation . . . Here's where most of us hibernate until about 10:30 . . .

Boys were disgusted with winter hats but wait 'til they see the spring chapeaux . . . Carrots, violets, and birds are among the ornaments . . .

Book reports, term papers, history reports, Latin assignments, etc., ah, me! . . . Question of the week: Is Mrs. Matulis an artist or an English teacher? . . . Really we're wondering 'cause we liked the "what-chic" . . . You know—part Pharaoh, part Bolshevik, and part woman . . .

EDITORIAL BRIEVITIES

Mayor Jeffries of Detroit has proclaimed a week to be devoted to music. Special notice will be given to symphony. Perhaps this idea could be used in this high school. Not only could emphasis be placed on music, but also on many other subjects, for instance: Sports, health, forensics, citizenship, safety, democracy in the nation and in the school. Posters placed around the school would be of help toward reminding students of their part in the program. This could be easily done without much work. How about it, Council?

Once again Plymouth pupils from the fifth grade to the ninth grade are in the contest. One-third of the annual spelling bee sponsored by The Detroit News. Through the aid of their English teachers, boys and girls will battle among themselves for the championship of their grade or school. Perhaps this will even lead to the state contest. Doris Shinn, of Plymouth, was the 1937 state champion. Doris is now an eleventh grade student. Once more this year Doris will attend the bee, not as a contestant but as one of a long line of state winners. Who will be winner in this school this year? Whoever it is, may be the best man winner!

During the first five weeks of this administration's term (this pertains to student government and not the federal) the traffic problem looked as if it had dwindled considerably. Under the direction of chief of police Don Blackford, troopers and pedestrians alike obeyed the laws. But "time goes on, and those merry hours are fled," and one by one each trooper's morale weakened and with it that of the pedestrians. Who will be winner in this school this year? Whoever it is, may be the best man winner!

Do we have any trains in schools? No, not to play with, but—"An egoist is like a train; he's always blowing off steam." We think we do, don't you?

Plymouth Band Attends Festival

In the seventh annual South-eastern Michigan band and orchestra festival, which was held at Grrosse Pointe Saturday, March 16, the Plymouth high school band placed in the second division. Twenty-seven bands and orchestras representing 19 cities of Michigan, competed in this contest, which was judged by George Wain, professor of music at Chelan college, who is one of the country's outstanding clarinet players.

The divisions depict the excellence of a band of orchestra as follows: First division—superior, second division—excellent, third division—good, fourth division—fair, fifth division—poor. The contestants were judged upon tone, which includes beauty, balance, volume control, intonation, which includes strings, reeds, brasses, tempo and rhythm; technique based on precision, fluency, articulation; general effect, spirit, sincerity, taste, and contrast.

The band also entered a sight-reading contest in which they played a selection which they had never seen before. The students were given three minutes to look the piece over and receive instructions from their leader as to interpretation. Leonard Falkenberg, director of the Michigan State band, judge of the contest, put Plymouth in the third division.

Their placing in this contest enables the Plymouth band to enter the state festival at Ann Arbor in April. It has not been decided as to whether it will attend.

A recording of a selection by the Plymouth high school band was made Wednesday by Louis Egan, leader. The recording machine which made the recording was a new one at Blunk and Thatcher's store.

A glass wool, which is now used in the winter protection of plants, shrubs and rock gardens, has proved to be more effective than leaves, excelsior, salt hay, straw or peat. This "nonmelting snow" also weighs less and has a greater insulating value than snow itself.

Senior Girl Reserves and Hi-Y, the two character building clubs of the school, are sponsoring the purchase of forty posters to further the purposes of their clubs. The posters, purchased from the Education Poster company, will be placed on a bulletin board every week. Some of these are well-known mottoes, others a commemoration for a famous birthday, such as Washington's or Lincoln's. Others will celebrate certain weeks or days such as National Education Week or Mother's day.

Determine Spelling Bee Winners

Winners of the Detroit News spelling bee from the seventh and eighth grades of Plymouth junior high school were determined Friday, March 15. The eighth grade winner was Margaret Wilson, with Dorothy Carley as runner-up. Dorothy spelled the word "expel" with two "l's" giving Margaret a chance to spell it correctly and win. Franklin Garrison won in the seventh grade by spelling "financial" after four of his school mates were downed by it. The four runners-up were Betty Lou Arnold, Franklin Maxey, Kathleen Fisher, and William Bauman.

The contest to determine the school champion will be held on April 5, the Friday after spring vacation. The seventh and eighth grade teams will compete. Each of these teams is made up of the ten persons left standing at the end of each grade's contest.

The seventh grade team is composed of Franklin Garrison, Betty Lou Arnold, Franklin Maxey, Kathleen Fisher, William Bauman, Shirley Hitt, Phyllis Thompson, Jack Vershure, Richard Wall, and Robert Bionas.

The eighth grade team consists of Margaret Wilson, Dorothy Carley, Paula Hoenescke, Irene Niddosval, Joe McGary, Thelma Stevens, Laverne Ellsworth, Ronald Brink, Ray Hix, and John McLain.

One of these twenty pupils, the winner of the school spelling bee will go to the district tournament. If another Doris Shinn is discovered, Plymouth may be represented at the National contest in Washington, D. C.

From a two-pound pike taken from Big Robinson lake, Nowego county, Rowland Hawley extracted 32 small pan fish.

Baseball Team Begins Practice

Ten pitchers and four catchers turned out for baseball practice, aspiring to make the varsity nine. Of the ten pitchers, two are southpaws. Kelley is the only veteran among the pitchers. Among the catchers, Larry Newman has played before. Klut, Hoffman, Robinson, and O'Connor, who played last year, will return. As yet the pitchers and catchers are the only ones who have begun training. The fielders are to report as soon as the team goes outside to practice. If a team gets any moral support from new equipment, this year's squad should be inspired by a new catcher's mask, new pants, a mit, and a dozen bats.

This year's schedule to date is as follows:

- April 16—Birmingham, there.
- April 23—Ypsilanti, there.
- April 26—River Rouge, there.
- April 30—Ecorse, here.

The Rockettes Write

The English 10-A class which meets second hour in Miss Waldorf's room discussed the biographical sketch "Law in Defeat" by Thomas N. Page, inspired by the nobility and genius of the great general, Marie Ann Miel. The following tribute to the southern gentleman:

The Defeated General
 Surrender, surrender, surrender, entered the mind of Lord
 Defeat, give up the battle; there are no victors.

Gene are old war horses, gene are the cannons, too—
 Gene are the men in gray, reduced by the boys in blue.

He signed the fatal papers, the herald of defeat.
 The sad and tear-stained faces of his soldiers 'twas hard to meet.
 He climbed on his old horse Traveller and rode toward the setting sun—
 His name in the pages of history no longer remained young.

Ride on, thou defeated general, ride with your soldier, too.
 Ride to your home in the Southland to which you've come so true.

To us who are left behind you your name has left a mark,
 Your deeds are passed on our minds, and your name written in our hearts.

THE PUBLIC NOW KNOWS.

Soon after the present prosecutor assumed his job in Detroit, he issued an order which made it mandatory that all law enforcing officers of Wayne county, must go to his office and make application for a criminal warrant before it could be issued. In former years, the facts in a criminal matter were frequently placed before the judge of the municipal court or a competent justice of the peace and proper steps taken to proceed with the matter. There was exceedingly little cost about such local proceedings. It saved money and it saved time.

But!
Along came Duncan McCrea, the "fighting prosecutor." He told the chiefs of police and other out-county law enforcing officers that it would be necessary for them to place the facts in all criminal matters before him previous to the issuance of any warrant.

That has been the cumbersome and questionable policy followed for the past three or four years.
Now it looks as though there was a mighty good reason for such an order on the part of the county prosecutor!
Just suppose one of the pet racketeers that has grown fat and prosperous during the past few years, had fallen into the hands of some out-county law enforcing officer? And suppose that that officer had secured a warrant from some justice outside of the city of Detroit and that racketeer had gone to jail! Wouldn't that have been just too bad for everybody concerned!

Wonder if that order requiring all facts about criminal matters be placed before the prosecutor before warrants could be issued, had any sort of a connection with what has been going on?

WHO CARES!

A day or so after the return of the writer from a brief trip to the South and Washington, the "news" drifted into the office that one or two so-called "big Republican chiefs" who had come out from the "city" to attend the recent Lincoln day banquet in Plymouth, didn't like it because two or three Democrats in this vicinity were introduced to the audience, and they, the "big Republican chiefs" were overlooked. Now, it seems, that these self-styled "big chiefs" are both recent appointees to minor political jobs in Detroit. A good substantial citizen, one who pays his taxes and doesn't go running around looking for a political hand-out of some kind, who is respected by his neighbors and friends, even though he be a Democrat, is just as important a person, if not a little more so, than some penny-ante political job holder whose only interest in the affairs of the day is in keeping the minor political job to which he has been appointed. A difference of political views in no way lessens our respect and esteem for any good citizen.

HOW TO SAVE TAX MONEY.

The greatest need in public affairs today is ABSOLUTE HONESTY on the part of public officials in the conduct of ALL public business. But the development of our state has been so vast and so extensive that it has been a somewhat easy matter for greedy, money-grabbing cliques and individuals to stick their dirty hands into public business and withdraw therefrom for their own pockets hundreds of thousands of dollars that belongs to the taxpayers. Strict honesty in all public affairs would soon lift the $30,000,000 deficit from the shoulders of the taxpayers.

THE FINAL NAIL.

Attorney General Jackson is driving the final nail into the coffin of the present Washington administration by his apparently underhanded attacks upon the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It seems that some of these screw-ball New Dealers haven't found out in what high estimation Edgar Hoover and his men are held by the general public. Or have they, and don't they care? It is almost unbelievable that an agency of the government that has performed the remarkable services of the nation that the FBI has during the past half dozen years or more, would become the object of attack by a political superior. But most anything can be expected from some of the fuzz-tops attempting to run things down on the banks of the Potomac.

HERE'S A FUNNY THING.

Several years ago, during the bank holiday, the First National Bank of Detroit, was closed up, and eventually thrown into receivership.
Nobody seems to know, or at least they won't tell, why the bank wasn't permitted to re-open and go on doing business.
So the bank started to operate under the receivership, and to date some 20 million dollars have been spent for the expenses of the receivership.
But here's the funny thing about it all—in spite of these heavy expenses, the bank is going to pay off its depositors 100 percent!
Now you go ahead and tell us—why should a bank be thrown into receivership which can eventually pay off all its debts, and in addition to that pay 20 million dollars for the expenses of its funeral?
Representative McLeod of Detroit has been trying the best he knows how to get the exact figures on the expense of receivership, and the comptroller of the currency has refused to give them. Why do you suppose that is?
Did somebody want the bank to close up, whether it was sound or not?
And again—if that is so—why?—James Gallery in The Tuscola County Advertiser.

WHAT'S THIS?

Co-Governor Emerson R. Boyles is busy these days, what with problems in Lansing and Detroit to dexter his colleague, Governor L. D. Dickinson. The Co-Governor, however, possesses a sense of humor that will help his round self to weather the storms. And that's good support for any Co-Governor.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

AN INTELLIGENT OUT-STATE VIEWPOINT.

For some years, at intervals, politicians and newspapers in Detroit have called attention to the fact that Detroit and Wayne county are entitled to greater representation in the state legislature. They are right. The constitution of the state provides it. Yet the legislature has refused to reapportion according to the dictates of the constitution.
Just at the present time there is a good reason for this flaunting of the state constitution. It comes in the scandals which have been getting the headlines in these same Detroit newspapers and involving some of its prominent politicians and police officials. Not long ago there was an election scandal which resulted in several going to prison.
The neglect of the state legislature is undoubtedly unconstitutional, yet, it is probably wise. Until Detroit can select men right at home who will go straight, it would be foolhardy to put the affairs of the entire state of Michigan in the hands of a majority of Detroit representatives.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican-News.

DECENT CITIZENS VS. RACKETEERS AND LEECHES

More power to that crowd of editors and publishers of Michigan weeklies and smaller dailies who met recently at Lansing to see what could be done to drive the political bosses out of both major parties. Their efforts will have the approval of every decent citizen of this state and if they go about it in the right way they'll make it mighty hot for racketeers and leeches who have set themselves up as party leaders.
On more than one occasion recently I have had to take a firm grip of my nose between my thumb and first finger, when I voted for certain candidates on the Republican ticket in this state. To me it was a choice between evils and not being partisan or party bound, I cast my ballot for what I believed was the lesser of the two. The fact that certain shady individuals have much to say about who shall be chosen for high office in this state has become a public scandal. I was astonished last Sunday to note that more than three thousand persons turned out to hear Governor Dickinson speak in this city on a rainy afternoon. Many other governors have visited Port Huron in days gone by and it took all of the ingenuity of the party leaders to get for them a respectable showing in the shape of an audience. I am beginning to wonder if the fact that Governor Dickinson has such large crowds isn't because the people know he is square and honest and that he doesn't give a hoot for all the political bosses in Michigan?
These editors and publishers are going in the right direction and if they keep everlastingly at it they will drive the grafters and high-binders are out of public life in this state. Yes, sir, more power to them and as far as we are concerned they can count on us to fight right along with them in a war on the self-appointed bosses, regardless of how it may affect the political fortunes of any party or politician.—Editor L. A. Weil in Port Huron Times-Herald.
