Bicycle Club Members Will Meet Tomorrow

First Meeting to Include Election of Officers

Tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon more than 100 Plymouth boys and girls will meet at the city hall at 2:00 o'clock in the commission chambers for the purpose of organizing a Plymouth Bicycle club. For the past few weeks the local police department has been taking membership registrations and tomorrow members of the club will meet to elect their officers. At that time a president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and jury will be elected from members present.

Never before has any such organization met with the approval of so many Plymouth boys and girls. On week days after school as many registrations have been taken as the police department could handle. On Saturdays those who applied for membership brought their bicycles to the city hall where the machines were inspected. Bicycles have to come up to a certain standard as specified in the club rules. In addition to being in good general condition, each bicycle must be equipped with a warning device. If used at night, bicycles must have a light on the front and either a red tail light or reflector on the rear.

Of prime importance to the city of Plymouth and the police department is the organization of this club as it is a means of bringing to their attention all potential juvenile delinquents for their supervision. The club will promote safety among cyclists and instruct them in traffic rules and regulations.

When an individual received his bicycle registration, he was given a metal license plate which is to be attached to the rear of his machine. The licenses are furnished by the city for use by club members. They are the same color as those used for automobiles this year. The licenses are dated so that they cannot be used again next year.

Special plate numbers will be issued to officers of the club.

An officer from the Plymouth police department will be chosen to oversee the activities of the club and act as advisor. His other duties will include acting as judge of the bicycle club court and to see that punishment which is ruled by the court is carried out. He must supervise and provide entertainment for members and assist them of the club whenever possible. Also he must inspect all bicycles and see that they are properly equipped according to the rules of the club.

The president of the club must preside at all meetings. He is expected to appoint juries and supervise inspection and inauguration of new candidates. The vice-president will perform all the duties of the president in the chief executive's absence.

It is expected that the secretary-treasurer will take care of those that may be realized from fines, record all new registrations and file license plate numbers.

When any case of negligence is brought to the attention of the president by a complaint of a member of the club or by a civilian, the offender is brought into court, the case is heard by a six-man jury brings in its verdict. Penal discipline is given according to the seriousness of the violation. The jury has the power to recommend to the judge the amount of punishment that the particular violation should require. Punishment may include the removal of the license tag from the honorary members, the removal of a bicycle from the street for any given number of days or other penalties along this same line.

Another aspect of the Plymouth Bicycle club is the publication of the "Safety Leader," a news sheet concerning members and activities of the club. It will be printed and published solely by the members. It has not been decided whether the paper will be a monthly or bi-monthly publication.

Coaches Call Spring Sport Aspirants

Rocks Turn Out 150 Strong; Baseball Claims 60

High school spring sports got under way last week with some 150 students reporting for practice. Baseball claimed the greatest number of aspirants with 60 signing to covered positions on the nine. Forty-five signed up for membership on the track squad and 23 are out for golf. Visions of being a member of the Plymouth high school tennis team was inspiration for 12 members of the male contingent of the student body to put their names on slips of paper announcing their intent for a try-out.

Coach Jensen of the baseball team called out only his string of pitchers and catchers this week. They are working out in the gymnasium, putting their arms and catching hands in condition so when the weather is such that the squad can stand the spring weather, there will be no sure arms or hands to hamper progress. Nine hurlers and three receivers have been called.

The 45 track men also work out in the gymnasium under the direction of Track Coach Ingram. Their workouts consist of limbering exercises, wind-builders and a small amount of running. Coach Latture's golf team is awaiting spring and warmer weather before they can take to the fairways and greens.

Next week the tennis team and its coach, Carvel Bentley, expect to practice on the outdoor courts at Riverside park.

Anthony S. Matulis, head coach and director of athletics at the high school, is acting as assistant coach to all spring sports. He works with the boys each afternoon in the gymnasium. When warmer weather arrives so that the teams may go out-of-doors, it is expected he will be assigned to helping individuals iron out certain difficulties.

Several spring sport schedules were printed on the school page in last week's edition of The Plymouth Mail.

With The Masons

The next regular meeting will be held on Friday evening, April 5. After the regular business meeting, lunch will be served in the dining room.

In cooperation with the local committee of cancer control, we have arranged with Dr. Walter Hammond to speak to the assembly on this subject. This is of importance to all of us and we hope that a large attendance will be possible.

An invitation has been received from Livingston lodge No. 76, F. & A. M. of Pinckney, Michigan, to attend their lodge this Friday evening, which is Past Masters' night. It is hoped a good representation from our lodge will be present. Dr. Francis B. Lambie, Right W. G. M. of the Grand Lodge of Michigan, F. & A. M., will be the speaker of the evening. This invitation was received too late to be published in last week's issue of The Plymouth Mail. It is printed now in the hope that several members of our lodge will find it convenient to attend.

Vote NO April 1

On the SALE OF SPIRITS

(Hard Liquor By The Glass)

1. The issue is being decided for 4 years.
2. "Liquor by the glass" will benefit no one in the community except two or three licensees who are selling it.
3. "Liquor by the glass" is being voted on because, according to authentic report, the Board of Directors of a local business place voted to have petitions circulated.
4. "Liquor by the glass" means additional difficulties in policing and regulation.
5. Plymouth has been free from hard liquor for over 25 years. This is a tradition worth retaining.
6. When such large cities as Flint, Kalamazoo and Highland Park voted down the liquor by the glass issue by more than 2 to 1 in the past year, there is no reason why Plymouth should not do the same.

In This "Cozy Little Nook" Down in Alexandria, Virginia, A Michigan New Dealer State Supreme Court Judge Lives Throughout the Years

No "Ill-Housing" for Our Own Judge. "Tommy" McAllister

(By ELTON R. EATON)
Here it is, Michigan! It is a picture of the residence of Honorable Thomas F. McAllister, a member of the Michigan supreme court.

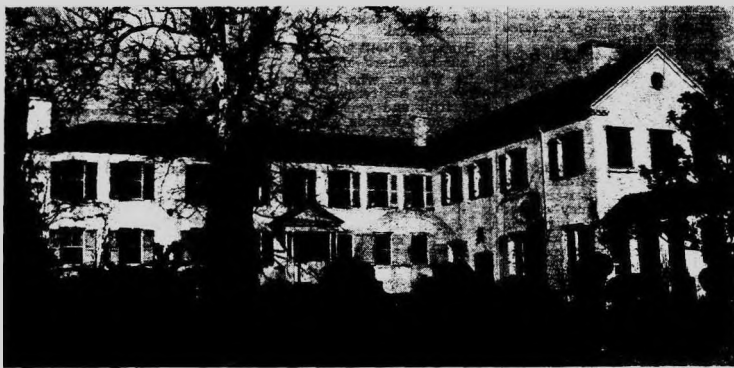

No, it is not located in Michigan. You will find it nearly one thousand miles away, down in the historic, aristocratic, show-place district of Alexandria, Virginia, where he apparently much prefers to live in a great, stately mansion in a southern state rather than among the people of Michigan who pay him $1,000 every month for his "services" as a member of the supreme court.

Our "Tommy," like plutocratic playboy-minister "Jimmie" Cromwell, is a political beneficiary of the "promising" administration before the last elections. It seems that they also have coat-tail riders, who considerably "let up" about the ill-housing of the ill-fed, plain, everyday, ordinary folks like you and me.

So "Tommy" ran for supreme judge in Michigan and later "Jimmie" went to Canada as a minister of our country. "Tommy" became supreme judge by getting a mere handful of voters more than did Judge Louis H. Ford. Judge Ford lived in Michigan, liked Michigan and made his home in Michigan after as well as before being elected a supreme judge. But, unfortunately, Judge Ford never rode coat-tails and he kept his nose on the ground over in Lansing, apparently too much for his own good.

But with "Tommy" it was different, much more so. After he was elected to office, he went house-hunting. He formerly lived in Grand Rapids you may recall. While no one knows just how hard this benefactor of the "ill-housed, ill-fed, ill-clothed" campaign looked for a house in Michigan in which to live, if he did at all it is quite certain he couldn't find anything "suitable" hereabouts for a supreme judge. Maybe every house in Michigan looked like one of those that they did so much talk about during the political campaigns a few years back.

So when his house-hunting days were over Judge McAllister and his family had located a nice "cozy little nook" consisting of some 40 or 50 rooms or more at 415 Wolfe street in Alexandria, Virginia.

It is a beautiful place, larger than Mount Vernon and almost as big as the White House. A vast lawn, landscaped to a point of perfection, surrounds the mansion.

But why so many rooms? Well, of course, "butting" butlers, housemaids, valets, cooks, dishwashers, yardmen, chauffeurs and the like must be properly "housed," even if it is essential that they live under the "masters'" own roof.

Didn't a lot of these new deal boys and girls campaign for "better housing" and the like? Of course—and that's how some folks happened to get elected and are getting more pay per month than they had ever dreamed about before.

Then, after all, maybe "Tommy" couldn't find a house in all Michigan big enough to take care of his housing needs—possibly that's why he moved so far away from the taxpayers who die into their hard-earned savings each month and send one thousand good American dollars down to him in Alexandria, Virginia.

If you might happen to need Judge McAllister's telephone number, you will not find it listed in any Michigan telephone book. But get a Washington telephone book and you will find listed there:

Hon. Thomas F. McAllister, 415 Wolfe, Alexandria, Va., Temple 2288.

Knowing something about the inconvenience to Michigan attorneys and to the state of Michigan created by the residence of Judge McAllister so far away from the state he is paid to serve, the writer during the last session of the legislature endeavored to "legislate" him back home to the state that pays him his salary. Michigan attorneys gave the bill their enthusiastic support.

The house of representatives passed the measure by a large majority.

Then Judge McAllister hurried back to Michigan from his Virginia estate and he could be seen morning, noon and night around the capitol and the Olds hotel lobby. The impression was there-by created that the "judge" was back in Michigan to stay and, unfortunately, thereafter the bill died in a senate committee.

The legislature finally adjourned and went home and now Judge McAllister is again commuting between Virginia and Michigan a few times during the year, and his out-state residence is providing just as much an inconvenience as ever to the work of Michigan attorneys.

No one holds a higher regard for our courts of justice than does the writer. But such a thing as this is nothing more than a rank affront to the good people of Michigan who pay him $12,000 a year in salary. No other Michigan judge ever presumed to do any such a thing as live outside his own state while holding such a high office. Either he should resign from the job or come back to Michigan and try and "put up" with living conditions here, which apparently are no longer agreeable to him, at least until his term of office expires.

Meanwhile the tramp, tramp, tramp of a vast army of unemployed continues to be heard throughout the land.

Recruits have increased by hundreds of thousands every year for more than seven years.

Today, nearly ten millions of men, MEN, MEN, tramp, tramp incessantly looking for something to do to support themselves and those dependent upon them.

In Michigan—fair state of mine—more than 80,000 elderly men and women who toiled to make OUR STATE great, now manage to keep bodies and souls together because we give them a meager old age pension check once a month.

But there are more than 30,000 more elderly men and women, loyal, true American citizens all, waiting and waiting to get their names on the pension list.

Seven years they have waited for that promised opportunity for a chance to take care of themselves! The opportunity never came. Now they are waiting for the public hand of mercy to be extended to them!

Look about you—see a beautiful, beautiful peninsula—and then look BEYOND at the hypocrisy of so many things that have happened to cloud the past seven years! What a shame!

Mrs. Effie Howe will attend a birthday dinner, Saturday, in the home of Mrs. T. A. Neville, in Detroit.

Mrs. Charles Lilley and Mrs. William Wasmund, of Arden avenue, attended the Flower Show in Detroit Tuesday.

Mrs. D. C. Wilson, East Ann Arbor trail, had the misfortune to severely injure one of her hands in a washing machine, Tuesday.

Ban on Rural Saloon Urged

GOVERNOR SUPPORTS STRICTER LAW

LANSING, Mich., March 27.—Gov. Fred Dickinson gave his benediction today to the Michigan Anti-Saloon League campaign for an amended statute to permit alcoholic beverages by the glass only in incorporated cities and villages.

"Persons who want a cleaner motor traffic, if you can use the word 'clean' in connection with that traffic, will favor the proposal," the Governor said. "If the league gets sufficient signatures to its petitions, I imagine the next Legislature will give the bill careful consideration."

Governor Dickinson, formerly president of the league, warned that the league must mass thousands of signatures to obtain the required signatures. He intimated that failure to get the signatures would be a crushing defeat to the dry cause.

"This proposal is simple and easily understood," he said. "Criticism is heard everywhere about drinking places in rural areas which are not well policed. Those who favor the law should get solidly behind it."

Public Opinions As Expressed By Our Readers

Contributions are always welcome. To insure publication, all communications must be signed.

Editor, Plymouth Mail, Plymouth, Michigan.

In regard to the proposition to be voted on April 1, to select a location to put in a grade separation under the Pelee Island railroad in the city of Plymouth. The announcement of this in The Plymouth Mail recently read like "the business men" had expressed a desire to have returned to the old "trade" just when the Ann Arbor road (Golden road) cut-off took the "through traffic" around Plymouth.

Three years ago Plymouth asked the Wayne county road commission to make a survey and estimate costs of such a grade separation and it appears that in doing so their principal interest was to construct a standard highway connecting Plymouth road, east, with Plymouth road (Ann Arbor Trail) west.

This would shorten the distance a mile to two miles and bring the traffic as close as might be advisable to the business centers of Plymouth.

Perhaps Main street, north, would be the logical street to use but the abutting property needed to widen, both for the separation and the highway, would be many times more than any of the others, and very crooked.

Blanche and Plymouth road are almost in a line. Mill street to Starkweather, (one block) and only one or two houses and four or five lots to be disturbed. To widen to 120 feet from Starkweather to Sheldon it should be taken off the north side to Arthur street, where it curves to the north, and off the south side of Arthur street to Sheldon which would make it straight through this mile. To connect Blanche with Ann Arbor Trail on west side, Sheldon road could be used or, better yet, Blanche could be run straight across Sheldon to connect with an extended line of Ann Arbor Trail as it comes up from the southwest to the big curve half a mile west of Sheldon, shortest of all.

Farmer street and Plymouth road could be spliced together on a bad angle to the northwest which would affect eight or ten lots and five or six houses. To widen Farmer street to 120 feet would probably cost much less to take it all off the north side as there are less houses to disturb and on the south side is a heavy telephone line well placed. From Ann street there is a bad curve to the north and by re-locating the street in a straight line would make the subdivision more orderly and cost little if any more.

To connect it with Ann Arbor Trail, Sheldon could be used, or better yet, it could be extended beyond Sheldon to connect with an extended line of Ann Arbor Trail as it comes up from the southwest to the big curve half a mile west of Sheldon.

A grade separation at Ann Arbor Trail will cost more than ordinary on account of the depression for the approach will run back across Mill street some distance and necessitate the curving of Mill street far to the east for a depressed approach for the crossing. Also the widening to 120 feet will affect a large number of buildings.

And now comes Mr. Campbell, 941 Ann Arbor Trail, and says: "Scrap all four of these propositions and use Church street as a basis. As I understand him he says re-open Church street into and across Main street, north, to connect with Union street at the Daisy plant and beyond the separation bend an arm into Amelia street and back to Main and bend an arm southwesterly to connect with Park entrance at Mill street, south.

If his plans east of the railroad were changed so that the new Church street would be carried straight through east across Mill street, through Union street, east, and on across the Riverside park to intersect Plymouth road, and to the west upon Church across Penniman to Elm Dale and on across Sheldon until it intersects Ann Arbor Trail I could O.K. this plan 90 percent. Church street and the rest of the line is a quarter section line crossing sections 26 and 27 in which the greater part of Plymouth is built. And there is now in Plymouth too many crooked, angling and staggered streets.

If this change in his suggestion could not be effected I would scrap all four and his, too.

I would suggest a different location that would make a double grade separation, taking care of the present need and a near future need at a cost which should be much less than two single separations.

Extend, on a straight line west, that part of Ann Arbor Trail coming up to the curve east of Mill street, through to the railroad at Mill street, which would come directly into Fair street, and put in a double separation for Mill street (north and south), and Ann Arbor Trail (east and west), then extend Fair street straight west across the Tonquish Breeze flats, which is now covered and ready to subdivide, across Main street and through Brush street and the woods to Sheldon road, the city limits.

This is the regular section line running along the south side of Sections 26 and 27 and now has Fair street, two blocks long, and Brush street from Main street to the woods and should now be opened regardless of this new need and the larger part of it is just pushing up noxious woods.

Take a good map of the territory between Plymouth road at the Ann Arbor cut-off through on a straight line (you will find a fine dotted line designating the section line) to Sheldon road and check this up. You will find it to be the "real Plymouth road."

Yours truly,
F. E. ROONEY,
869 Sutherland.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST—Scientist. Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at the age of 20 years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00. "Reality" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 31, 1940. The Golden Text (James 1: 17) is: "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matthew 5: 48, 49): "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 337): "In proportion to his purity is man perfect; and perfection is the order of celestial being which demerits life in Christ. Life's spiritual ideal."

IN OTHER, blunter words, why be satisfied to trail? set two years back when the Buick Dynaflex engine appeared. Meantime you'll have those Buick blessings to enjoy.

Why buy a car that's content to follow along—when little, if any, more money will put you in a Buick up where the banners are flying? You'll step out front at the touch of an eager treadle, swing through the gear changes with light-and-easy finger-flicking, pilot a joyous traveler that's equally ready for work or play, and does everything with ease matched only by its smartness.

For as five minutes on any busy street corner will show you, this year's automotive style pattern was cut by Buick a good twelve months ago. Eventually, perhaps, others may find a way to micropoise-balance engines after assembly in search of Buick's present silky smoothness. They may get around to making Two-Way Direction Signals standard equipment instead of extras; they may heavy-up their frames, and generally seek to equal •Buick's staunchness.

CRACKING CRACKED IDEAS.

Congressman Albert Engel, of Muskegon, is a sticker for facts. He not only likes facts, but he knows how to dig for facts. Recently the writer sat in his office in Washington for several hours discussing some of the problems before Congress.

Piled high on some chairs were bundles of government records, papers and files—all pertaining to some questions that he proposed soon to discuss on the floor of the house.

The other day he did discuss one of these matters—and he cracked some of the crack-pots pretty hard. A Washington news dispatch about it provides a pretty good editorial on the subject.

It follows: A remarkable story of how the office of education spent $178,000 of relief money to make a motion picture showing poor people in Washington eating from garbage cans, after seven years of New Deal squandering of public funds, was presented in the House today by Representative Albert J. Engel, of Michigan.

Engel, a Republican member of the appropriations committee, said that President Roosevelt had allocated $331,000 of emergency relief money for film service under that bureau, but that "not one dime was spent for relief."

This agency made a picture called "The Fight for Life," which Assistant Director Mercey, of the film service, testified cost the government $10,000, but which Engel told the House today cost $178,000.

Seven professional actors were employed in making the picture, which was designed to show up bad housing conditions. The other actors were "just real people."

"One scene," said Engel, referring the House to the committee record, "showed people going to garbage cans and taking out food."

Engel said that in reply to a question one of the witnesses had testified he had seen people getting food out of garbage cans in Washington during the past 18 months.

"I am not discussing the picture," said Engel, who had a private showing of the film at the capitol. "Paying $178,000 for one picture, paying salaries of $5,000, $9,000 and $10,000 per year out of relief money for a film service, not one dollar of which went to any person on relief.

"Is it not strange that after seven years of the New Deal, after spending $60,000,000 of the taxpayers' money, after trying all the quick remedies under the sun, we should take $178,000 of relief money which Congress set aside to feed the hungry and clothe the naked, and make a picture in order that we might tell those people that after seven years of the abundant life under the New Deal; they are still eating out of garbage cans!"

OUR VIEWS, TOO.

(The Detroit Frge Press)

Let's get this thing straight. There is a grand jury investigation of graft in Detroit and Wayne county.

The Free Press demanded that investigation and with the insistence also of the other Detroit papers, it was brought about. We, therefore, feel that, in the larger sense, we have a right to touch upon it.

This is no time for hysterics that lead to an exaggeration of the conditions now being uncovered.

There is no organized municipal graft ring dominating the city of Detroit and there never has been.

But publicity going around the country gives the people of this nation the idea that Detroit is another Kansas City under some Tom Pendegast, or a Chicago under a Kelly-Nash machine, or a New Orleans under a Huey Long, a New Jersey under a Boss Hague or a New York under Tammany Hall.

Proof positive that this is not so is that what graft there is being exposed long before it could corrupt the whole body politic.

THERE IS NO POLITICAL BOSS IN DETROIT. There is no political machine raking in the graft and putting puppet mayors and others into office to obey orders. Detroit still remains the best-governed metropolitan area in the United States.

What grafting there has been has been episodic rather than epidemic.

The baseball pools, for instance, the operation of which has caused a sensation here, and has brought about indictments, are allowed to run openly and without protest in other major cities such as Chicago, Kansas City, New Orleans and all other communities where permanent political rings reign, no matter who holds the office of mayor.

The two elected officials so far indicted are the prosecutor and the sheriff. This can be made to look very bad to anyone who does not know the facts.

Both of these men, Duncan McCrea and Tom Wilcox, were political carpetbaggers who were swept into office in the New Deal landslide and were never characteristic of Detroit and Wayne county.

McCrea was a minor Republican worker who turned Democrat and got in on the Roosevelt sweep. When the New Dealers were sent to the penitentiary for vote frauds he weathered the storm—a coat-tail rider on the glamorous Roosevelt.

Tom Wilcox was a political soldier of fortune who came to Detroit as a Federal investigator, private detective, or what have you, who was appointed police commissioner by Mayor Bowles and lasted only until that gentleman's sudden recall. He, too, swept in on the New Deal landslide and was re-elected in that hysteria, despite the fact that he had been repeatedly denounced.

Mayor Jeffries has launched a splendid campaign to sell Detroit, not only to its own citizens, but to the world as a community proud of its past, sure of its present and with high faith in its future.

Then in our house-cleaning let us not give ourselves a bad name.

Detroit can take care of its own!

FLATTERY OR LARCENY?

For a number of years The Plymouth Mail has conducted a column under the heading "Michigan, My Michigan." The title was adopted because of the type of material generally used in the column, matter that pertained to Michigan, its history, its interesting features and some of its problems.

A week or so ago a Grand Rapids publication blazed forth with the announcement that it was going to publish a series of articles under the same heading that is used in The Plymouth Mail.

Just whether The Mail should regard the confiscation of this heading as a compliment or professional larceny is not an easy issue to decide. At any rate if nothing appears under the heading in the Grand Rapids publication which reflects discredit upon the confiscated title, The Mail probably should not worry about the ethics involved. After all, this newspaper thought the title of Michigan's popular state song wasn't such a bad title to use over a newspaper column. But we didn't take it from some other newspaper.

THE RIGHT KIND.

Wayne county voters will for the first time this fall have an opportunity to select a circuit judge under the newly adopted non-partisan plan of selecting members of the bench. The system will, without question, work out in a most acceptable way. With the approach of this important election, the name of Judge Pliny Marsh has been mentioned as one of the possible candidates. That is fortunate. He is of the right type. Possessed of a long, honorable public career, he has the proper temperament, and is a high caliber citizen who would make an excellent judge.

There's no LAW again!

But it costs you many dollars . . . WHAT? Why, the using of old, worn-out farm equipment. Replace your equipment before the big spring rush gets under way. Modernize your farm and increase your annual earnings . . . You can do it with up-to-the-minute equipment.

THE WORKER PAYS

Some of our best known labor leaders seem to have taken a lesson from Washington. More and more their actions are guided by political considerations: the interest of the working man in having a good and permanent job is apparently regarded as secondary to the business of jockeying about in an effort to gain personal advantage.

It is no secret who pays for this—in opportunity as well as in the coin of the realm. The worker pays. He pays for labor racketeering. He pays for useless and unjustifiable strikes which throw him out of a job for months on end.

There can be no question but that the cause of legitimate unionism which will advance the real interests of the workers has been seriously damaged by the extremists. And whether they shall continue their destruction is up to the rank and file of labor.—R. W. Coverly in The Livingston County (Howell) Press.

STATE NEEDS ONE TAX COLLECTOR

Whoever runs for Governor of Michigan this year will find popular reaction to a workable plan for the creation of a single, responsible, tax collecting agency to supervise and handle all money due the State.

At present there are 16 separate and distinct collection agencies in use by the State to collect its various taxes; plenty of confusion, not to mention terrific unnecessary expense, is involved in maintaining these 16 agencies.

One revelation of discrepancies between the collection methods and bookkeeping systems of the Detroit and Lansing sales tax offices, with a total of $552,000 in 1939 assessments against delinquent merchants not yet traced to the satisfaction of the State's Attorney-General, furnishes proof of the need for revision of Michigan's tax collecting bureaus.

The people are demanding centralization of Michigan's scattered departmental activities.

A smart gubernatorial candidate will win many votes by declaring himself in favor of a single tax collecting agency for this state.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

Charles Mather has purchased the Brownell property on Main street.

The Old Maids' Convention will be held at the Grand ball room, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week. The society consists of 20 members of uncertain age. Its officers are Maribah Lovejoy, president; Amarilla Haywood, secretary; and Priscilla Hope, treasurer. Professor Makeover is to be present at the convention and give a demonstration of his wonderful electric "transform-her."

Last Thursday was a big day at Elm. The event, which brought several hundred farmers together at that place was "demonstration day" for all kinds of farm implements sold by Bentley Brothers, Elm's progressive merchants. All the latest and best implements were on exhibition and demonstrated by representatives of the manufacturers. A Janeville sulky plow was given away as one of the features of the day. Frank Miller, who resides just west of Plymouth, was the lucky man to receive it. Sandwiches and coffee were served and a general time was had by everyone. The event was a big success, not only as an advertisement, but Bentley Brothers, incidentally, sold nearly $2,000 worth of farm machinery that day.

Todd Brothers have sold the meat market department of their business and the building to William Pfeiffer, who will remove his present market on Bolbrook avenue to the building now occupied by Todd Brothers. Mr. Pfeiffer will not conduct a grocery department in his new location. Todd Brothers will close out their stock of groceries within the next few weeks.

Dorsey Berdan has purchased the vacant lot of Miss Vern Rowley next to her property on East Ann Arbor street. Mr. Berdan expects to erect a new dwelling there soon. The new branch bank of the Plymouth United States Savings Bank, at the corner of Liberty street and Stark-weather avenue, will open to the public for business March 28. The officers of the Plymouth United Savings Bank extend a cordial invitation to its patrons and friends to call and inspect the new bank. Early last Saturday evening, fire broke out in the storeroom on the third floor of the Plymouth hotel, and for a time it looked as though the entire building, as well as other buildings in the row, would surely go. Northville was notified and their fire department was in readiness to respond to a call at any time if needed. But by the persistent efforts of our own fire department, the fire was soon under control and confined to the third floor. Although smoke and water did considerable damage to the first and second stories. Nearly all the furniture was removed from the building, and later in the evening stored in the hotel barn. The loss was covered by insurance. The fire department is entitled to great credit for the efficient manner in which they handled the fire.
