

Electors Pass Grade Separation by 3-1 Vote

Select Main Street as The Proper Place

Commission to Abide by Advice Given at Election Monday

City residents at the general spring election Monday voted almost three to one in favor of a grade separation. Their selection of one of four sites suggested was at Main street.

The total number of votes cast for the separation was 1109. There were 788 in favor of the separation and 292 who objected to the proposal. Twenty-nine ballots were spoiled.

The issue was termed an advisory vote to inform the city commission whether or not the residents of the city wanted a grade separation, and if so, where. It is expected that the commission will abide by the vote and start investigation in the construction of the structure at the Main street crossing. City Manager C. H. Elliott said Tuesday morning that he believed the mayor will appoint an investigating committee to obtain information relative to the cost of the construction at the designated location and also make arrangements to have plans for the future construction drawn.

With 147 votes separating the first two choices, Blanchet street was given the second largest number of votes as the location for the separation. A proposal for a grade separation at Farmer street received 180 votes and 137 votes were cast in favor of Ann Arbor Trail. A few scattered votes were cast for other grade separation locations in the city.

The vote by precincts was as follows:

	Yes	No
Precinct No. 1	141	65
Precinct No. 2	188	53
Precinct No. 3	272	78
Precinct No. 4	187	96

DO A REAL JOB!

Thousands of Republicans throughout Michigan hail with gladness the announcement that came out of Washington Saturday that the federal government has decided to step into this state and clean up the rotten mess that many believe to have existed over a period of years.

Not only are Republicans pleased, but vast numbers in the Democratic party also welcome the inquiry. At last we are to know the true facts about which there have been so many rumors during recent years.

But there is one thing the public demands—there can be no "draw punches." The investigation must be conducted thoroughly and the investigators must go to the limit in getting at the real truth.

If we have big political bosses in the state who are also BIG grafters, by all means prosecute them to the limit. In fact, it should not stop at just the big fellows. Necessarily in the conduct of their rackets, it is essential that they have a group of puppets to work with them. Get these puppets, too, even though the punishment imposed in their cases, if they are guilty, might not be severe. It will be an object lesson well worthwhile.

Judge Homer Ferguson and Special Prosecutor Chester O'Hara have led the way, but their jurisdiction is limited. Fortunately, indeed, is the decision of the federal government to join with the Ferguson inquiry, because it can go beyond the Wayne county boundary line and extend its inquiry to all parts of Michigan.

Some puppets, and maybe some of the big bosses, will squeal that this is a political investigation on the part of the federal government—out to get some Republicans. That assertion, to use one of their own terms, is just plain BUNK. It was these same federal officials who picked up the lone fight being waged out in Missouri by the Kansas City Star against the grafters of that state, and indicted and sent to prison a bunch of Democratic political bosses who had long milked the taxpayers. These same federal officials went down into Louisiana where practically every voter is a Democrat, INDICTED and sent to prison another crowd of powerful Democratic political bosses.

So if some of the Republicans of Michigan should get caught in the federal drag-net that has been put out to catch the grafters, pay no attention to the yelps that will come forth from some of those who may be required to go before the federal judges in Detroit and plead for the mercy of the courts—a mercy to which they are not entitled if they have been guilty of defrauding the taxpayers.

A Republican grafter doesn't look any different than does a Democratic grafter.

No, these investigations are not politics, although a " smear " campaign directed against Judge Homer Ferguson and his assistant, Chester O'Hara, would have the people think so. Neither is there any politics in the FBI investigation about to be started in Michigan.

Both of these inquiries are for the purpose of catching and punishing the thieves and grafters, if there are any.

Michigan welcomes these inquiries—even though they are distasteful and distressing. But if we have a dirty washing to do, let's do it now and get it over with!

Local Ladies Go to D. A. R. Meet at Battle Creek

Local Chapter Given Award for Growth in Its Membership

The fortieth annual state conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held at Battle Creek, March 28 through the 30th. The conference this year celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the society.

Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, Mrs. Sidney Strong of Plymouth; Mrs. Kenneth Kitchin, Mrs. Robert Leary, of Northville; and Mrs. Dwight Randall, of Detroit, registered Thursday in time for Mrs. Bennett, the local representative, to attend the luncheon given by the state regent for all chapter regents.

A vesper memorial service for those members who have passed on during the past year was held that afternoon.

The principal speaker of the evening meeting was Joseph C. Beal, of New York City, whose topic was "Radicalism Unmasked."

Friday was given over chiefly to business but in the evening a memorable program was enjoyed by all attending the banquet.

An impersonation of the first president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, was enacted by Mrs. Charles Beagle. Mrs. Beagle was gowned in blue, a rich red hat worn 50 years ago. This was most beautifully and reverently done.

Later in the evening, Mrs. Henry M. Robert Jr., the incumbent president general, addressed the Daughters. She brought out the fact that members of the Daughters of the American Revolution are not organized to perpetuate the fact that our ancestors fought in the Revolutionary War but rather to preserve the aims and ideals for which they fought and to engender in our youth the same principles and the capacity to further such principles.

MISS MARION BEYER

Obtain Ypsilanti Symphony for Spring Concert

40-Piece Orchestra Will Appear Here Thursday, April 25

According to an announcement made this week by Miss Marion Beyer, chairman of a sub-committee of the Civic committee to arrange for a Plymouth spring musical concert, the Symphony orchestra from the Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti, Mich., has obtained the right to appear in Plymouth, Thursday evening, April 25, at the high school auditorium at 8:00 o'clock. Other members of the committee assisting Miss Beyer are Mrs. Edna O'Connor, Mrs. Dora Hondorp, Edwin Campbell and Alfred Smith.

The committee in bringing the symphonic group from the State Normal college will make it possible for Plymouth residents to hear one of the best orchestras of its kind in the United States at a price which will allow everyone to attend the concert.

The concert as it is planned for Plymouth, is being put on in conjunction with the music appreciation movement recently started in Detroit. Its purpose is to acquaint Plymouth residents with the better type of music and the works of well-known composers.

Consisting of 40 members, the Ypsilanti Normal College Symphony is made up of students at the college. It is under the direction of Maurice Fossenkemper who is well-known in Plymouth musical circles and by Plymouth students at the college. He is head of the music department at the Ypsilanti school.

Mr. Fossenkemper is first clarinetist with the Detroit Symphony orchestra and is evening conductor of the symphony orchestra which is heard every Sunday over the Ford Sunday Evening Hour.

Miss Beyer and her committee are completing arrangements for the concert and as their plans progress announcements will be made in The Plymouth Mail.

Asks Public to See Model Home

Saturday afternoon, all day Sunday and every evening next week, the public is invited to call and inspect a modernistic, beautifully arranged, new low-cost cottage type of residence by Byron H. Becker, well known Plymouth graduate architect.

The house is located on Wayne road between Plymouth road and Ann Arbor Trail, on the west side of the thoroughfare, on a street about 500 feet back from the paving.

While this beautiful little cottage is not for sale, there are so many new ideas and its arrangement is so different and interesting that its builder and designer, Mr. Becker, in cooperation with the owner, Dr. Cass Kershaw, have invited the public to come and see just how attractive a low priced house can be.

There will be some one at the house all Saturday afternoon, all day Sunday, and every evening next week from 7:00 to 10:00 o'clock to show visitors through. If you are contemplating building and do not have much to spend for a new residence, the opportunity to see a really model house should not be missed.

Mrs. Effie Howe and son, Clinton, attended the funeral of their uncle, J. B. Howe, in Lansing, Sunday.

For the third consecutive year, Dr. B. E. Champe was elected president of the Western Wayne County Conservation association at its annual meeting held Monday evening at the Mayflower hotel. Ross Heilman was elected to the vice-presidency of the organization and Noel H. Donet was named secretary. Jack Taylor was re-elected treasurer of the association.

Five new executive board members were elected to serve with an equal number of hold-overs whose terms do not expire until 1941. They are Dr. Paul Butz, L. H. Alexander, George Hess, Russell Powell and Jack Weed. The other members of the board are G. M. Jewell, Mark Chaffee, William Rambo, E. R. Whitmyer and Harry Lush.

Movie pictures of fishing for salmon, brook and rainbow trout taken in the French river district in New Brunswick, Canada, featured the program Monday night. The pictures were shown through the courtesy of the Canadian Pacific railroad company.

At the next meeting of the organization, May 6, George O'Neil, an official of the Pere Marquette railroad company, will be a guest and will appear on the program. He will describe his hunting and fishing trips to Alaska and northern Canada. It is stated that Mr. O'Neil has one of the finest collections of outdoor motion pictures in the country and many of them will be shown at the next meeting.

The formal gardens surrounding the state capitol at Baton Rouge are the most attractive I have ever seen. My trip was most enjoyable and to one who loves flowers and gardens, it would be a most worthwhile trip," concluded Mrs. Reid.

Blunk Resigns Post on Board of Supervisors

Mayor L. E. Wilson Appoints W. B. Petz to Fill Vacancy

William B. Petz was appointed by Mayor L. E. Wilson as a representative of the city of Plymouth on the Wayne county board of supervisors at a meeting of the city commission Monday evening. Mr. Petz fills the vacancy created by the resignation of Arthur Blunk, who recently moved from the city and is now a resident of Plymouth township.

Mr. Blunk handed his resignation to the city commission at their meeting Monday and it was accepted with regret. Mr. Blunk previous to 1939 was a member of the city commission. During his term of office, from 1931 to 1939, he was primarily interested in the affairs of the city, being its mayor in 1935.

Last year at the spring election, he refused to run for reelection on the city commission, because time could not be taken from his business. However, he did retain his post on the board of supervisors.

In the early part of February, Mr. Blunk moved to his present residence on Haggerty highway, culminating some 20-odd years of residence in the city of Plymouth.

Mr. Petz is a former supervisor having served on the board from 1935 to 1938. He is well acquainted with the board procedure and it is assured that he will serve the city to the best of his ability.

The commission requested the city clerk to send a letter of thanks to Mr. Blunk for the service he has given the city of Plymouth.

Present members of the county board of supervisors besides Mr. Petz now include Ruth Huston Whipple, George H. Robinson and Henry Hondorp.

Club to Hear Mrs. Shain Today

Shain, of Birmingham, and music by the Plymouth high school girls' double quartet comprise the program planned for the meeting of the Plymouth Woman's Club today (Friday). The meeting will be held at the usual time, 2:15 o'clock at the Mayflower hotel.

Mrs. William Wernett, chairman of the Woman's Club benefit bridge held last week Thursday afternoon at the Masonic temple, reports that the party was a great success. The proceeds from this party will be turned over to the Wayne county division of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children's Fund.

An item of historical value to Plymouth was presented to the city recently when Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Bennett, of Detroit, gave the city a large photograph of Plymouth's main business district taken about 1850. It was given in memory of Mr. Bennett's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bennett, former residents of Plymouth, who originally owned the picture.

The picture was taken during Plymouth's early days, about 20 years before the one which was reproduced in an oil painting and now is in a case in the downstairs corridor at the city hall. The date of the latest addition to the city's photographic history is not definitely known, but it is thought by city officials that it was taken sometime between 1840 and 1860.

At the present time, the photograph is being cleaned and reframed. In a few weeks it will be hung in the ground-floor corridor at the city hall taking its place beside other relics of historical interest to the city and its residents.

Plymouth residents of 1940 will be surprised to see the five- or six-story business block that served the village of Plymouth back in the days when a trip to Detroit was a looked-forward-to event.

It is difficult to believe that today's Main street business district, graced by the handsome frame buildings pictured in the photograph, compared the dirt street, with a few horse-drawn carriages parked along the horse-rail with the 1940 paved street hustling with motor cars and trucks, and perhaps it will be understood why the "good old days" are referred to so often by the sages of the city.

Residents Approve City Commissioners

In Right Place

MRS. SIDNEY D. STRONG

The recent selection of Mrs. Sidney D. Strong as a member of the Plymouth school board has met with general approval of the citizens of the city, Mrs. Strong was selected by the board.

Mrs. Strong was selected by the board Monday, that they are educational matters and problems and her membership on the board will without question prove to be a distinct advantage to Plymouth. Not only has she been interested in school affairs, but she has been a leader in numerous other community, cultural, and patriotic organizations.

Defeat Liquor Question by 4-1 Vote

Residents Say "No" to Sale of Spirits Proposal

Plymouth voters, made it known at the general spring election Monday that they are emphatically opposed to the sale of liquor by the glass by an overwhelming majority of about four to one. The total vote was 870 against the sale of spirits and 280 in favor of it.

Only 1168 of the approximately 2500 registered voters in the city went to the polls Monday at the general spring election. Although the vote was comparatively lighter than city officials expected, considering the important issues which were to be decided, it was still heavier by 250 than last year's spring election at which there was a contest for three seats on the city commission.

Churches, clubs and other organizations united in a pre-election drive to keep Plymouth free from the sale of liquor by the glass. They were successful in their efforts because fewer individuals voted in favor of the issue than those who signed the petition asking for the matter to be put up to a vote.

By precincts the vote was as follows:

	Yes	No
Precinct No. 1	51	174
Precinct No. 2	62	207
Precinct No. 3	72	282
Precinct No. 4	36	222

Two ballots were spoiled and seven individuals from the total number who went to the polls failed to vote on the liquor question.

Sunday guests at the home of Drs. Alvin and Rita Rice, of West Ann Arbor Trail, were Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Dahl and family of Dearborn. The occasion was Dr. Rice's birthday.

Hondorp and Whipple Receive Unanimous Vote

Both Have Served the City for Several Years

Two unopposed city commissioners, Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple and Henry Hondorp, were re-elected to their seats on the commission at the general spring election held in Plymouth Monday. Mrs. Whipple received a total of 893 votes and Mr. Hondorp received the nod of 870 electors.

Mrs. Whipple has been a member of the city commission since she was appointed in 1933 to fill a vacancy, caused by the death of Robert Mimmack, then mayor. Mr. Hondorp, during the past four years he has been a member of the city commission, has been mayor of the city for the three consecutive terms from 1936 to 1939.

Present members of the commission besides Mrs. Whipple and Mr. Hondorp are Mayor L. E. Wilson and Commissioners Warren Ward and George Robinson.

The vote by precincts was as follows:

	1	2	3	4
Whipple	190	181	273	249
Hondorp	199	197	266	238

Get Pointers on "Screw Drivers"

Plymouth Kiwanis will endeavor to hear a representative of the Shell Petroleum company from the Detroit office, Fred Allen, at their meeting Tuesday evening at the Hotel Mayflower. Mr. Allen addresses his group on the subject of "Safe Driving."

Following his talk, the speaker showed a sound film entitled "Screw Drivers" which also pertained to safe driving practices. During recent months the Shell company has carried on an extensive advertising campaign against so-called "screw drivers," or those persons who persist in driving the "wrong way."

Kiwanis club members concluded that Mr. Allen's instructive talk and pictures very aptly portrayed the dangers of "screw ball" driving and all left the meeting with a thought in mind that will make them think twice before pulling an motor "bonkers" while driving.

Plymouth piano expert, Vaughan R. Smith, was a guest at the meeting. Kenneth Cory was program chairman.

For next week Ernest Henry, who is in charge of arrangements for the meeting, says that Clarence Loeftli, lieutenant governor for the sixth district will have the first of his meetings with Plymouth Kiwanis. Mr. (Continued on page 2)

MRS. H. S. MALLORY

P. T. A. Offers Instruction to Plymouth Parents

Course in Child Psychology to Be Limited to 35

Announcement was made this week by Principal Claude J. Dykhouse, of the high school, that arrangements have been made with the Extension service of the University of Michigan to have Mrs. H. S. Mallory give classroom instruction to parents in Plymouth. The course is to be sponsored by the Starkweather and Central Parent-Teachers' associations and is to cover a period of eight weeks.

Classes will be held every Thursday evening, from 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock starting April 25. Mrs. Mallory's course will be principally concerned with child psychology. It will be limited to 35 members because it is feared that a larger group would retard discussion and special cases that will be taken care of.

There will be no charge connected with the course, the full cost of which will be taken over by the University Extension service and Federal education.

Plymouth residents who are interested in taking the course are requested to make personal application to Principal Bell, of the Starkweather grade school; Principal Bird, of the Central grade school, or Principal Dykhouse. Application must be made before the first meeting of the class.

Mrs. Mallory is especially well-qualified to teach the particular course having had exceptional education in that field. She is a lecturer in parent education at the university and her experience in solving social problems of children and adults extends over a period of many years. During the past 16 years she has been engaged in hospital psychiatric work in Ann Arbor hospitals. For seven years she has written for the Detroit News upon the psychological and emotional development of children.

The lecturer was born in Chester, Ohio, and received her bachelor of arts degree from the University of the City of Akron and her master's degree from the University of Michigan. She has studied in Boston psychopathic hospital and in Dr. Creighton Miller's clinic in London, England, where she took case histories of children admitted to the Tavistock clinic. Her understanding of the causes of social maladjustment in both old and young has been quickened by a recent personal psychoanalysis by a psychiatrist in Berlin University, Berlin, Germany.

Mrs. Mallory's classes in Plymouth will feature personal interviews with those taking the course and discussions among members and their instructor. Classes will be held in the high school library.

Record Glider Flight Made for Month of March

"Bud" Meeker Stays in Air for More Than 26 Minutes

(By Skysailor)
To Randolph (Bud) Meeker goes the credit for having made a soaring flight in this part of Michigan in March. Bud stayed up approximately 26 minutes Sunday, March 30 at the Glider airport.

The wind was out of the west, about 22 miles an hour and gusty. The strong wind made it possible for Bud to climb to 1000 feet before he released from the tow line. He found a thermal, or column of rising air, and tried to spiral in it, but found that it was rather small and hard to get centered. Meeker reported that occasionally the lift seemed to be not simply thermal lift but more like a wind mill in which the air seems to roll along the ground in the form of a giant roller.

Observers on the ground could see that Meeker was getting some help even if not enough to gain altitude. They could also see that he was getting quite far downwind. Finally it appeared as if he did not any longer intend to land back at Triangle. But just about this time he really began to go up and reach 1,400 feet. He then came back near the edge of the field, losing altitude as he returned.

It was one of the longest if not the longest thermal flight that Bud Meeker has made. Bud has been making flights as long as the best of them all winter. This is about the length of time he has been getting quite far downwind. Bud did a lot of gliding before he helped to form the Soarhead club, but it was usually in a ship which did not perform as well as the Franklin.

Up to this time the earliest good soaring flight of the season was one of 38 minutes to 3,600 feet on April 10. Now the Michigan thermal soaring season has been pushed forward into March.

For two years Michigan pilots have been flying thermals with regularity. Good flights have been made every month of the season from April to November. Only December, January and February have been severe enough to keep glider pilots from flying on free lift.

It might be mentioned that airplane time usually costs $5.00 an hour and that on this basis Meeker's flight might be counted as worth $2.00. He had to pay only 10 cents for the winch tow to 1,000 feet. The rest was due to rising air currents.

Elmer Meeker, who is Bud's little brother, also climbed from a 1000-foot release point to 1,400 feet. In his case the lift did not last or he lost it, because he was back down after five and a half minutes. Elmer Meeker has learned to fly in the Soarhead's Franklin. He has made remarkable progress. Sunday's flight really entitles him to a C license, which is granted by an international soaring organization.

John Newak made a flight of five and a half minutes in the ABC sailplane. Johnny gained from 900 to 1,150 feet. He is an oldtimer, having earned his C license some 10 or 12 years ago. It was estimated that as many as 75 automobiles were parked on three sides of Triangle Gliderport at the rush hour Sunday afternoon.

Extremes of altitude in Michigan range from the Lake Erie shore, only 572 feet above sea level, to a peak in the Porcupine mountains in the west end of the upper peninsula which is 2,023 feet above sea level.

There are 175 distinct plumages for Michigan's 25 ducks, each species having these seven kinds: 1, downy or natal plumage; 2 and 3, young or juvenile plumage of drake and duck; 4 and 5, nuptial or dress plumage of both sexes; 6 and 7, eclipse or dull summer plumage of both sexes.

A second time Meeker found lift of considerable strength and went back up. He kept on finding thermals or wind rollers or lift over Newburg lake until he finally had to land after 26 minutes.

Canton Euchre Club Claims Championship

Meet and Defeat Teams From Livonia, Redford

A plain case of "having their cake and eating it" was experienced by the Canton Euchre Club last Thursday night when they played hosts to the Livonia-Redford team. The visitors after traveling all the way to Canton Center, were plainly "taken into camp" by their hosts 61 to 59.

To the casual reader, a loss of two games may not seem so severe as to cause any ill feeling, and it probably didn't. But the club comes when it is learned that this match was the second taken from the Livonia-Redford club by the Canton team. The first was won by a three-game margin.

It is understood that the bit of rivalry started when it was learned by the Redford-Livonia team that there was a "fairly good" aggregation at Canton Center way. The Canton euchre-ists were promptly challenged to a three-game match.

After the first session, the Redford-Livonia players knew they had a tough situation to contend with, but little did they believe that they, champions of Livonia and Redford townships, would meet defeat by a bunch from Canton township!

After the first match, the boys from Livonia and Redford figured on making short of the rest of the tournament by taking the next two matches. But, were they surprised after last Thursday's games! Believe it or not, the boys from Canton Center-Cherry Hill are the champions!

The league leaders from Canton, H. Wagenschutz and R. Waldecker and Livonia's first stringers, Harlow and Ralph Wagenschutz, met on the field of battle Thursday with a result that the boys from Canton went home with the laurel wreath. E. Ash and Jesse Ziegler, from Livonia, handed defeat to the team 11 to 4. H. Guntow and O. Eichstadt.

The Freddie-Buckner combination, from Canton, nosed out Art Trapp and T. Reding, 8-7, and R. Hood and A. Kuster, trounced C. Wagenschutz and J. Seaman, 10-6, from Livonia. R. E. Yost and J. West, of Canton Center, lost 7-8, from Harvey Wagenschutz and C. Cook. A. West and J. Losey also were beaten 7-8 by Kuhl and W. Smith. F. Waldecker, from Livonia, and members of the Canton-Cherry Hill league, won from W. Ash and G. Kaiser, 8-7, and J. Murdock and P. Gots, Cantanties, were beaten by H. Gray and J. Gunn, 8-7.

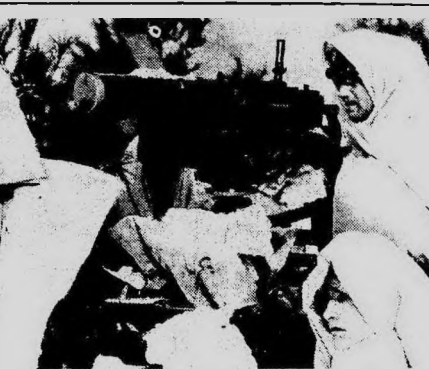

For where wisdom is required, force is of little avail.

Jolliffes Find Going Tough

As far as "Bob" Jolliffe, is concerned Plymouthites and Michiganders "just don't know what snow is" until they have experienced the results of a typical New York blizzard such as the one he went through last week. While Plymouth residents were "Oh-ing" and "Ah-ing" at the weather man's all-night attempt at getting a blanket of white a foot or so deep around Plymouth, Old Man Winter overdid himself in the eastern states.

Mr. and Mrs. Jolliffe and their daughter, Charlotte, left for the East early Tuesday morning. On the way they encountered snow that made driving practically impossible. Their route had to be changed several times because they were unable to get through. Only the roads between larger cities were kept open.

In New York City Miss Jolliffes enrolled in a dictionarier school. Mr. Jolliffe, an ardent radio fan, attended several of the larger radio broadcasts while there. He is especially interested in the "quiz programs."

The Jolliffes returned to their home on Main street Sunday. There are now 64 deer in the pens, corals and test plots in the Cusino game area being fed the experimental diets which will determine the relative worth of different deer browse plantings. Browse collecting, transporting, feeding and weighing, as well as release cutting and deer trapping are being done by enrollees of CCC Camp Cusino, under direction of biologists of the game division of the department of conservation.

Townsendites to Hear Special News Flash

Townsendites of Plymouth club No. 1 will hold their regular meeting Monday evening, April 7, at the Grange hall on Union street. A special news flash from the Washington headquarters will be read.

The meeting promises to be very interesting to all Townsend club members and also to those who are interested in National recovery. Plymouth residents are cordially invited to attend.

At the last meeting the club decided to hold a quiz party on Monday evening, April 15. Announcement giving full particulars will be made in next week's Plymouth Mail.

Smith Submits Ticket Report

Police Chief V. R. Smith submitted his monthly report of traffic violations to the city commission at their meeting Monday night. Of the 32 tickets issued during the month of March, ten were for stop street violations and seven were issued to speeders and an equal number to those who failed to have their operator's license.

Reckless driving accounted for five of the tickets which were issued. Two violators were arrested for improper parking and one ticket was given for improper license plates.

The chief said that during the past three months the number of tickets has decreased appreciably over those for the preceding period, but it was accountable because of the fact that driving conditions have been such to warrant a less number of motor vehicles on the road.

Now that spring has officially come to Plymouth and the weather is such to attract thousands of out-county motorists, the police chief said that the traffic situation would become more acute in the city during the next few weeks.

Plymouth motorists are asked to cooperate with the police department and be especially careful in their driving. "It is not a pleasure for the officers to issue tickets to careless drivers," the police chief said, "but it seems to be the only way to keep them in check."

Townsend Clubs Sponsor Meeting at Northville

Townsend clubs from Plymouth, Livonia Center and Redford sponsored a meeting held in the Northville high school gymnasium, Wednesday evening March 27. Gordon W. Arc, from the Townsend headquarters in Chicago, acted as chairman and gave a talk concerning the Townsend plan. Fred Lute and niece, Miss Lute, gave several accordion selections.

The meeting was for the purpose of organizing a club in Northville, Mr. Fry, of that village, at the meeting Wednesday, invited the club to have its next meeting at his restaurant, Monday evening, April 7.

The Northville club has a charter membership of 48. They are working in conjunction and for the same purposes as Plymouth and other clubs in the vicinity.

Local Ladies Go to D. A. R. Meet

One hundred and sixty-one good citizen pilgrims were presented. Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter had three representatives. Mrs. M. J. Ash, of Plymouth; Alene Mathews, of Northville; and Margaret Emery, of South Lyon. Archibald Godushian, of Pontiac, was selected as the good pilgrim of Michigan. She will attend the jubilee continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution to be held in Washington, D. C. the week of April 15. Miss Godushian, whose parents came from Armenia, responded to the announcement of the selection by reading the poem, "I Love America," in a most effective manner.

Mrs. Robert spoke briefly to the girls and stressed the importance of seeing and finding opportunities for service in their own community.

Mrs. Oscar Heavenrich, of Jackson, was presented as the new state regent at the installation and presentation of the new state officers.

Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter won the third prize for growth in membership based on the percentage of growth. This gift was returned to the state treasurer for the purpose of planting an acre of pines in honor of its organizing regent, Mrs. Fred A. Lundrum.

Mrs. Irving Blunk, Mrs. David Mather and Mrs. Henry Baker, members of the local chapter, were in attendance at some sessions of the conference.

Dog Quarantine Backed by Ass'n

Members of the Western Wayne County Conservation association are going to cooperate one hundred percent with police officers in the enforcement of the dog quarantine order of the state which is now in effect and will remain effective until ordered taken off by the state health department.

This was the statement of Jack Weed, a member of the organization, who has been delegated the responsibility by the organization to take up the club's work in connection with the quarantine.

In company with Dr. Paul Butz and William Rambo, Mr. Weed attended last week's state conference at Lansing, where the quarantine order was thoroughly discussed and the sportsmen agreed to give the state every possible assistance.

At this meeting Dr. Clark, state veterinarian, Dr. Myer, of the state health department and Dr. Emerson, of the University of Michigan, told of the seriousness of the situation.

Rabies infection last year became very serious, according to Dr. Emerson, and in some areas, especially in southeastern Michigan, it reached the stage of an epidemic. It was stated at the Lansing meeting that one doctor in Monroe treated 300 cases of infection and that the state spent something over $800,000.00 for scrums and treatment for rabid control.

Hamilton Issues Call for Players

Bill Hamilton, captain of the Plymouth Gardens football team, this week issued a call for candidates to play with the team. He announced that the first practice will be held at 2:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon, April 6, at the Stark school diamond.

Fifteen players will be carried on the team which is expected to have games with members of the Livonia and Rosedale Gardens leagues. The team is made up of members of the Plymouth Gardens Athletic association and is sponsored by various merchants from that locality.

Dave Tarvet is the team manager. During the next few weeks, the association will sponsor various activities in order to raise money. Residents of that locality are requested to take part in the activities so that they may have a well-equipped team of which they may be proud.

Business Men Elect Directors

In briefly reviewing the work of the year he said: "We have maintained a branch office of the automobile license bureau, which in itself is not self-supporting. This office has drawn over 4,000 people to Plymouth from the surrounding rural and suburban areas.

Last July we sponsored a retail sales promotion in co-operation with the merchants, giving free trips to the World's Fair as prizes.

Through our office we have handled numerous housing, business and industrial inquiries concerning Plymouth.

"Manufacturing interests who desire to locate here have been given every assistance. Industrial inquiries are being continually received. Increased employment means better business for everyone in the community.

"Financial and other aid was given to the high school band, community picnic, children's Halloween party, and the annual Christmas party.

"Plymouth residents have asked us to investigate many agents, salesmen and advertising schemes.

"Many solicitors and peddlers have been prevented from activity in Plymouth when they were unable to justify their purpose.

"We have printed and distributed window cards for stores for special closings.

"We prepare a monthly industrial report of employment changes. These records are available to any member.

"Arranged for the community Christmas decorations with the co-operation of the merchants and the city of Plymouth.

"Increased membership and financial support would enable us to increase our work. This year we are sponsoring a special barber shop and beauty shop membership at $5.00. The reason for this is that their sales are largely sales of personal services. We hope they will become members."

High scores for year: D. Whipple 227; M. Lorenz 208; J. Grubbs 202; L. Mining 198; M. Laska 195; E. Rowland 192; L. Heintz 192; M. Martin 187; M. Honron 186; S. Meeks 185.

Plymouth Residents Give Active Support to Cancer Control Campaign

EARLY is the Watchword in Cancer Control

WHEN TREATMENT BEGINS

EARLY

LATE

Cancer is curable, but only in its early stages. Delay in seeking treatment for what may be cancer is worse than delay in turning in a fire alarm once a fire has started, the American Society for the Control of Cancer declares. Time with its hourglass is not the friend of those with this disease. As the sand of time runs through the glass, the hope of recovery from cancer diminishes. The chart prepared by the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer shows the difference in results when treatment for cancer is begun in the early stages, while the disease is still local, and when the treatment is started in advanced stages after the cancer has begun to spread through the body. Thus cancer of the breast is cured in 75 percent of the cases in early stages, in only 20 percent of advanced cases; in cancer of the womb, the figures are 50 percent curable in early stages, but percent in later stages; in cancer of the mouth, 50 percent in early stages, 20 percent in advanced stages; in cancer of the rectum and bladder, 50 percent are cured in early stages, 10 percent in advanced stages. More than 37,000 should have been saved by early diagnosis and prompt, proper treatment by x-rays, radium, or surgery, used intelligently in combination. Mrs. Cass H. H. is vice-commodore of the Plymouth unit of the Women's Field Army.

Thursday night at 7:15 choir practice will be held in the church. Foresters in the United States service point out that although more than 2,500 patents have been issued in the last 50 years for using substitute products for railroad tie materials, wood ties still are most widely used. Nearly a billion wooden ties are in service, it is estimated. An annual renewal of 100 ties to the mile is considered average, although some railroads have yearly replacements of but 50 to 75 ties to the mile. Three-fourths of the 50 million used annually are treated before they are laid in roadbeds.

The fishing village of Vermilion in Chippewa county on the Lake Superior shore, takes its name from the bright colored deposits of iron oxide which were once hauled away by the wagon load, mixed with water and used for paint on barns. When scientists discovered, a short time ago, that the pulse of the albino rat was too fast to count because even under normal conditions, it has nearly 500 beats a minute, a special electrical recording apparatus was devised for the purpose. Last June, Oscar McKinley Bryens of McMillan, in the upper peninsula, banded a young Great Blue Heron before it had left the nest. Less than two months later the bird was reported found near Spooner, Wisconsin, more than 200 miles distant.

MICHIGAN, MICHIGAN

est, and you have another picture of the dunelands. Shifting dunes and stabilized dunes side by side, and together give the dunelands their diversity and glory.

These shifting dunes wage a relentless war on the stabilized dunes. These great hills of sand are constantly sweeping forward, oftentimes enveloping whole forests. In their wake they leave the skeletons of other forests, engulfed perhaps 50 or 100 years before. On stormy days they marshal their battalions of sand and sweep down in great clouds on the adjacent vegetation. The stabilized dunes are no less aggressive. Their plant life—tall grasses, the sedges, the deep-rooted cottonwoods, the juniper and red cedars—creeps forward inch by inch, reclaiming every foot of ground that some caprice of nature has left untouched by the winds for the short space that it takes a seed to sprout and a rootlet to find foothold.

So the battle wages with varying success on both sides. A "blowout" occurs, and the sands, in the space of four or five years, march half a mile or more inland, leaving a wake of desolation in their path. Flora and Ceres jealously guard their own, and vegetation slowly sets about to reclaim the lost ground. There is no more fascinating country in the nature lover and the sportsman who wants to know how continents are formed, than this story of the mechanics of sand movement as found in the dunelands.

It is a rugged edge that the shore line of Michigan presents to the yachtman as he winds northward from the southern extremity of the lake. In places the dunes rise to elevations of over 200 feet. Mount Garfield at Lake Harbor, six miles south of Muskegon, is nearly 300 feet in height. There are ridges in Benzie county of dune formation over 400 feet in height.

Vegetation in the duneland may be divided into six distinctive types, declared one anonymous writer. First, there are the beach grasses and legumes that begin to sprout the minute a dune is formed. They include such plants as beach pea, beach cinquefoil, cocklebur, lugged-searocket, seaside spurge and the like. Next is the fore-dune group. This fore-dune is a storm of barrier dunes in time it will become a principal dune and another barrier dune will form in front of it. Here grow the sand red grass, marram grass, milkweed, mullein, sand cherry, and oftentimes clumps of red osier and willow.

Next are the cottonwoods, willows, sand cherries, bitter-sweet and horsetail. Beyond these are the outer barriers of the permanent dunes, are the arbutus cedars, juniper, and jack and white pines. Then come the oak lands with more permanent mesophytic vegetation and a variety of plants, and flowers bewildering in its profusion.

Probably the most familiar blossom is the trailing arbutus, known to all nature lovers. It will soon be in blossom. Lupine, blazing star, wild bergamot, yellow lady slipper, violets, may apples, hepatica, wild geranium, rattlesnake root, aster, saxifrage, and orchids owe their security to the hardy xerophytic plants that form the barrier of vegetation against the shifting dunelands.

Michigan is awakening to a belated appreciation of the uniqueness and beauty of its dunelands and through the state conservation commission it has established a series of dune parks which will preserve some of the most typical aspects of the dunelands for the public. The three principal parks in the chain are Muskegon State park on Lake Michigan, approximately 1,000 acres in extent; Oceana Dunes Park at Little Point Sable in Oceana county, approximately 850 acres, and McLaughlin Dunes park at Big Point Sable in Man-

Little Stories for Bedtime by Thornton W. Burgess

GRANNY FOX CATCHES PETER RABBIT

Now listen to this little tale. That deals somewhat with folk. And shows how sometimes one may be a little bit too jolly.

NO SOONER was old Granny Fox out of sight, running as if she thought that every jump might be her last, than Jimmy Skunk came out from the hole under a big stump where he had been hiding. Peter Rabbit came out of the hollow log from which he had been peeping, and Uncle Billy Possum dropped down from the nearby trees in which he had so carefully kept out of sight, and all three began to

"Ha, ha, ha!" shouted Peter Rabbit. "Did you see how her eyes popped out?"

Granny Fox was laughing as if they were trying to split their sides.

"Ho, ho, ho!" shouted Jimmy Skunk. "I wonder what Reddy Fox would have said if he could have seen old Granny go down that hollow!"

"Ha, ha, ha!" shouted Peter Rabbit. "Did you see how her eyes popped out?"

"Ho, hee, hee!" squeaked Uncle Billy Possum in his funny, cracked voice. "An reckons she ain't bound to have sore feet if she keeps on running the way she started."

Prickly Porky didn't say a word. He just smiled in a quiet sort of way as he slowly climbed up to the top of the hill.

Now, old Granny Fox had been badly frightened. Who wouldn't have been at seeing a strange creature without head, tail, or legs rolling down hill straight toward them? But Granny was too old and wise to run very far without cause. She was hardly out of sight of the four little scampers who had been watching her when she stopped to see if that strange creature was following her. It didn't take her long to decide that it was not. Then she did some quick thinking.

"I said beforehand that there was some trick, and now I'm sure of it," she muttered. "I have an idea that that scoundrel old Bill Possum knows something about it, and I'm just going back to find out."

She wasted no time thinking about it, but began to steal back the way she had come. Now, no one is lighter-footed than old Granny Fox, and no one knows better how to keep out of sight. From tree to tree she crawled, sometimes flat on her stomach, until at last she reached the foot of the hill where she had just had such a fright. There was nothing to be seen there, but up at the top of the hill she saw something that made a fierce, angry gleam come into her yellow eyes. Then she smiled grimly. "The last laugh always is the best laugh, and this time I guess it is going to be mine," she said to herself, and very slowly and carefully, so as not to so much as rustle a leaf, she began to crawl around and over to come up on the back of the hill.

Now, what old Granny Fox had seen was Peter Rabbit and Jimmy Skunk and Uncle Billy Possum rolling over and over in the dried leaves, turning somersaults and shouting and laughing, while Prickly Porky sat looking on and smiling. Granny knew well enough what was tickling them so, and she knew, too, that they didn't dream but that she was still running away in fright. At last they were so tired with their good time that they had to stop for a rest.

"Oh, dear, I'm all out of breath," panted Peter as he threw himself flat on the ground. "That was the funniest thing I ever saw. I wonder who was—"

Peter didn't finish. Instead he gave a frightened shriek as something red flashed out from under a low-growing hemlock tree close behind him, and two black paws pounced him down and sharp teeth caught him by the back of the neck. Old Granny Fox had caught Peter Rabbit at last!

Terry Pin's Tips on Taking a Bath

By
FREDERIC A. BIRMINGHAM

YOU can't read in a shower. People who take showers get round-shouldered, and can't get the door open and hear the radio. It is also impossible to float inside a shower unless you leave the stopper in the tub. Only greedy people take showers and stand in a tub of water besides.

When the man upstairs turns on all the cold water, it is safer to be in a bath than in a shower, unless you like scalding water.

Many people have learned to swim by first overcoming their fear of water in the bathtub, washing the hair first and then ducking the head. Swimmers of this type, however, should be careful never to enter a race without carrying a piece of soap along.

Business Speaker Tells of Dangers From Tremendous Growth of Taxes

Ernest Conlon of Grand Rapids Here Monday Eve.

Plymouth business men Monday night heard plenty about the tax burden the people of Michigan and the nation have had forced upon them in recent years.

Ernest Conlon, secretary of the Michigan Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. He drove home hard some of the interesting facts pertaining to the almost unbearable tax condition being carried by the people of America.

In part, he said: "The volume of taxes has increased steadily throughout the depression. It is now almost 30 percent more than the pre-depression figure.

"Federal, state and local taxes amounted to $14.7 billion in 1938, in contrast to $9.3 billion in 1928.

"In relation to national income, the tax burden is about double that of ten years ago; with the national income down almost one-quarter, taxes are up nearly one-half.

"Taxes per person in 1938 were $113 and income per person $470, as contrasted with taxes per person in 1928 and $78 and income per person of $633.

"Federal taxes totalled $4.2 billion in 1928 but were about $5.9 billion in 1938, an increase of about 40 percent.

"State and local taxes are approximately $6.1 billion in 1928, but were nearly $8.8 billion in 1938, an increase of approximately 45 percent.

"The expenditures of government have steadily exceeded the greatly augmented revenues from mounting taxes.

"Total expenditures of federal, state and local governments, exclusive of debt retirement, were $11 billion in 1928 but were $17.4 billion in 1938.

"Federal expenditures were $2.8 billion in 1928 but were $7.5 billion in 1938, nearly three times as much, and were $9.1 billion in the 1939 fiscal year.

"State and local expenditures were $8.2 billion in 1928 but were $9.8 billion in 1938, an increase of about one-fifth.

"With the exception of moderate receipts from sources other than taxes, the difference between expenditures and taxes has been met by borrowing money.

"Continuous deficits throughout the depression have just about doubled government debt.

"The total direct debt of Federal, state and local governments was about $33 billion in 1928 and about $36 billion in 1938, rising to about $60 billion in 1939.

"The direct federal debt, which was $17.6 billion in 1928 was reduced to a little over $16 billion a few years later, became $37.2 billion in 1938 and now is in excess of $40 billion, with this rise accounting for most of the increase in the public debt of the country.

"State and local debt, which was $15.7 billion in 1928, because $19 billion in 1931 and has continued at about that level. It totalled $19.2 billion in 1938."

Salesmanship Course Has Last Session

A meeting last Wednesday night at the high school ended an eight-week course in effective salesmanship recently sponsored by the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce and included as one of the high school courses. Twenty-five individuals participated in the course which was taught by Haldon Robinson, personnel director of the J. L. Hudson company, of Detroit.

Schrader Helps Out "Ye Editor"

Modern conveniences and comforts seemingly just spring up overnight around Plymouth. No longer will it be necessary for the editor of The Mail to go outdoors when the mercury is hovering below zero or when it is up around 100 in the shade to see just how cold or hot it is.

All that is necessary for him to do is just sit at his desk, look across the street, and right there over the arched driveway of the Schrader Funeral home is a big clock-styled thermometer which shows just how hot or cold the day might be.

Yes, sir, when this was written the mercury stood at just 34, and it wasn't necessary for the editor to even move out of his chair to find out.

Thanks, F. D.—it's just another one of those thoughtful things that not only helps "Ye Editor" but the whole town as well.

Marilyn Holton Debate Winner

By winning two of three debates at an intercollegiate tournament held last week Friday and Saturday at the University of Wisconsin at Madison, Marilyn Holton, who is a student at Wayne university in Detroit, and her colleague hold a record at the Detroit university for winning the largest percentage of debates participated in this year.

Miss Holton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Holton, of Rosedale Gardens, was graduated from Plymouth high school with the class of 1938. She was active in debate work here and won a place on the Wayne University debate team her first year there. She is now in her sophomore year at the university. She is a member of Delta Sigma Rho.

New Sprinkler Now on Market

The result of months of experimental work by Ford Lyndon of the Plymouth Perfection Sprinkler company, is a new sprinkler that has just been perfected and is now on the market. The latest development by the company is a more simple, more rugged sprinkler which will meet the demand for an irrigation sprinkler which will stand up and give constant, uninterrupted service without attention under the most severe conditions.

For the past several weeks, company officials have carried on experiments with the sprinkler in Texas where it came up to and above their expectations. There it was subjected to the most severe conditions, and has passed with flying colors.

The development of the new sprinkler is a step forward in sprinkler irrigation progress. It is an answer to the problem to growers who have had trouble in the past with irrigation sprinklers and their functioning.

Plan to Organize Camera Club Here

In the interest of fellowship, better pictures and obtaining club privileges, several Plymouth individuals received letters this week inviting them to join a Camera club. The club is open to residents of Plymouth and the near vicinity. Admission will be limited to persons of senior high school age or older who are interested in both movie and still camera work.

The club is being organized by Robert Wingard who plans many interesting and educational benefits to be derived from membership in such an organization. Contests, exhibits, weekly chats and a photographic library are among the objects of the club. The purpose in banding together Plymouth amateur photographers is so that each member may learn something about taking, developing, printing or enlarging pictures that he does not know. All members will work toward a common goal—better pictures.

Individuals interested in joining the club are requested to write, see or call Mr. Wingard and inform him as to the best time and evening for meetings.

Ask for Sidewalk on Harvey Street

A petition was presented to the city commission at its meeting Monday evening requesting that a sidewalk be built on the west side of Harvey street between Ross and Simpson streets. The petition was signed by 100 per cent of the property owners of that locality.

As outlined in the petition, the construction will call for 305 feet of sidewalk along the street. A public hearing on the matter has been called by the city clerk for Monday evening, April 15, at the city hall at 7:30 o'clock. All owners of property which abuts this improvement are requested to attend the hearing so that they may have a voice in deciding whether or not the sidewalk is to be constructed.

Gardener Bill says:

YUH CAN'T FIGGER ON A FINE GARDEN USIN' NO-GOOD SEEDS!

● We know that, too. That's why we've been mighty careful to stock the kind of seeds that have got life in them.

But it's also true that the finest of seeds can't produce the grass and flowers you want if your soil lacks food elements they need. So we've also got Vigoro here.

You can "figger on a fine garden" using our good seeds and Vigoro.

With The Masons

The regular meeting for April will be held this Friday evening, April 5, 7:30 is the time. We expect a large gathering at this meeting, for the reason that business of particular interest to local Masons will be disposed of during the evening. After the business meeting, Dr. Walter Hammond Jr., in conjunction with the local committee on cancer control, will talk to us on this very important subject. Lunch and community singing will wind up the evening as usual.

Install New Type Crossing Lights

In order that railroad crossings in the city will be better protected for motorists, the city of Plymouth has authorized the Detroit Edison company to install two lights at either side of each crossing. The lights are of a new type, each being 1.00 watt and throwing about three times the amount of light as the ordinary boulevard type light.

above the top line of railroad cars so that light is directly thrown on the train from both sides as it crosses the intersection. In the past there have been several accidents at the crossings because of the fact that motorists could not distinguish the trains at night. Standing trains were especially a hazard. The new lighting system will very adequately illuminate each crossing and also a large area surrounding it.

One of the new lights will be placed at either side of the following crossings in the city: Main street, Farmer street, Stark-weather avenue and Mill street.

Play Contest to Be Held in April

T. V. A. A. Contest Not to Be Given

A play contest under the direction of Miss Ford, high school drama teacher, will be held on April 19. Through Mr. Smith's suggestion this will be realized, since the T. V. A. A. contest was discontinued by other high schools because of a lack of drama teachers.

The ninth through the twelfth grades are participating in this contest. Each is to give a one-act play on that night. The casts were chosen on Thursday, March 21 for each play.

The following are the names of the plays and the casts chosen:
Ninth grade, "Pressed Pants," Doris Straus, Ray Kearney, Doris Rowland, Calvin Furlong and Virginia Moss.

Tenth grade, "The Unicorn and the Fish," Bruce McAllister, Janice Downing, Charles Bowdler, Frances Weed, William Upton.

Eleventh grade, "The Necklace," Gloriette Galloway, Helen Jones, Ruth Wellman, Grace Squires and Phyllis Hawkins.

Twelfth grade, "There's Always Tomorrow," Dorothy Bohl, William Thomas and Vera Ess.

Either the plays or the actors will be judged. It has not been decided as yet. The qualifications for the players are simple but strict. This is the first time that anything like this has been tried.

Class Softball Will Start Soon

Interclass baseball will start as soon as the school playground is dry, it was announced Monday. As in the past boys will volunteer for their class teams. Mr. Matulis will draw up a schedule of games to be played at noon. In the past these games have proved very popular and have served to keep the ten-minute-lunch eaters off the grass in front of the school building. Last year's victors were the class of '31' with 10 games won against three losses. The class of '39' placed second.

Young wild mallard ducklings can swim as far as a third of a mile on their first excursion.

To Open Track Season Friday

Plymouth high school will engage River Rouge this Friday in the first track meet of this season on the River Rouge track. Coach Anthony Matulis and Robert Ingram announced early this week.

A meet with Ypsilanti, scheduled for Tuesday of this week, was called off due to insufficient practice caused by the bad weather, the coaches said at the same time. The meet will be held instead as a single with Wayne, Ypsilanti and Plymouth participating on April 26. This is the regular Wayne track meet on the previously published track schedule.

Although Plymouth has had in the neighborhood of 40 track candidates this season, there is small reason to place the eventual winner in the Plymouth side of the scoring.

The first contrary fact is the relative showing of the two teams last year. River Rouge ran circles around Plymouth at Rouge in suits in suits for the Plymouth side.

There is also the matter of the weather to consider. River Rouge competes all through the winter with other schools on her indoor track. Her athletes are therefore in shape all through the season.

Monday was the first day that Plymouth track aspirants had a chance to work out on a track.

Lastly there is the fact that River Rouge has been glorified in the larger Detroit papers several times recently for the excellent track teams she is rarely without Plymouth but only two men last year, but they were the two real veterans that the school could boast.

If Rouge has a good team this year, the results can be foreseen without the help of a crystal ball.

Makin' the Rounds

Question of the week: The famine half want to know why Jack Gettleson is president? Oh, how we love those April Fool pranks! The Spring arrived just in time for all sports...

Say, whose girl is Ruth Parmalee? We could ask George Blyton, Lloyd Clark, and Harold Fischer. Spring has come (I hope) with a whole lot of bird and birdies; teas and ties; etc.

The establishment of Lorenz and Hoffman seems to be tottering. Maybe it needs stronger foundation. Here's a thought...

How about a girls' golf contest? Why does Archie stay after school so long? Especially after double quart practice...

Did any one see the frog croaking? You know, he shot himself. Oh, how I hate to get up in the morning... especially after last week's vacation...

Speaking of English... "Wachogotna pockebg?" "Sa book!" "Wassanaivoit?" "Awdchionery!" unquote. E Paribus Unum.

Senior High Wants More Assemblies

We want our money's worth! Last year the Student Council purchased a motion picture projector. By charging a nickel a show they were able to rent film and make the payments on the machine. So far this year, senior high school has had no movie assemblies. Should the council make a charge of five cents they could easily rent a film for an assembly and have a considerable sum left with which to do something for the school.

One suggestion is the purchase of a phonograph recorder. This would be an especially useful addition to the school's equipment. The machine could be paid for by the money remaining after the expenses of the movie assemblies were met. How useful would the machine be? It is a fact that a person cannot tell how he sounds when either speaking or singing. A recording machine could be used to good advantage in speech classes and in the music classes. In both, transcriptions could be made of voices and replayed to point out mistakes in diction and grammar. It would also illustrate good qualities. By understanding one's mistakes and virtues, one would more easily make improvements. By making periodic recordings a permanent record of one's improvement would be on hand for both pupil and teacher.

Even now the band is making use of a borrowed recorder. Certainly there is sufficient need for a recorder as to make the purchase of one practical. The Council now has a means at its disposal by which it could accomplish this. Five cents is not much for an assembly compared to the entertainment and educational values derived. In addition a valuable piece of equipment could be added to the school.

The boy who sits by and watches his teammate gain recognition in the field of endeavor at which he aspires to excel is learning a true lesson of life. It takes a boy with the ability to learn that lesson and not "blunk out" to be even a second-string...

Epson salts, aspirin, carbolac acid and dyes are some of the more than 100 chemicals and medicines made from brines pumped from underground in Michigan.

Jim Zuckerman School Orator

Jim Zuckerman carried forth his forensic achievements one more step as he became Plymouth high school's oratory champion last Monday. "The Forsaken Privilege" which was Jim's oration was a discussion of the right to vote—the result of its misuse and neglect. Bob Daniel placed second with his oration, "Murder in the First Degree"—a plea to America's youth to do their part to keep this nation from another war. Third place was won by Larry Newman with his talk on the relation of peace in the ranks of labor to prosperity. His speech was titled "Industrial Peace and Prosperity." A plea for isolation "Stay in Our Own Backyard" brought fourth place to Wesley Hoffman.

The contest, judged by Miss Tyler, Miss Fiegel and Mr. Dykhous, was marked by its closeness, because the first three contestants each received one first place vote. Archie King introduced each speaker.

Jim Zuckerman, Virginia Rock and Glen Ford will represent Plymouth in the sub-district speech contest to be held at Dearborn on or before April 18. Two of last year's trio which won the regional contest will be return. They are Virginia Rock and Jim Zuckerman.

Evidence that Michigan once had many more than its present 5,000 lakes remains in old lake sites that are now marsh beds, peat bogs, muck lands, marshes and swamps.

Playing the Bench

Senior Sketches

An unknown high school basketball player, who had worked himself to a second string position on his high school team by persevering work extended over several seasons, gained statewide recognition by scoring a winning basket in the last few seconds of play several weeks ago. In a fraction of one period he was rewarded for all his work as he supplied the necessary points for his team to win a state title.

On every team, there are substitutes, boys who do most of the moral supporting of their team because there are better and more experienced men occupying the limited number of positions. They can be found in every sport, in every walk of life, in any situation.

On occasion one of these unassuming plodders can do more than can a person supposedly more skilled. In the basketball player's instance, he could. His ambition and physical condition allowed him to win the game when his tired teammates were unable.

If the hero substitute had entered the game at the half and scored a basket, he would have received as much applause as he deserved at that time, but he would receive no statewide recognition.

Particularly in sport is it true that the winners are lauded and the helpers applauded. The reserve athletes don't even receive that distinction because for the most part, they aid the "heroes" only in practice.

The boy who sits by and watches his teammate gain recognition in the field of endeavor at which he aspires to excel is learning a true lesson of life. It takes a boy with the ability to learn that lesson and not "blunk out" to be even a second-stringer.

Key West Trip One of Most Interesting in Entire South, Says Willoughby

Well Known Plymouth Business Man Enjoys Florida Visit

"One of the most interesting trips one can hope to take is between Miami and Key West, Florida," declared R. T. Willoughby, the other day after his return home to Plymouth from a vacation spent at the home of his son, Earl Willoughby, a well-known shoe merchant of Lake Worth, Florida.

"In fact, I don't know of any place a person can go in the winter time that is more delightful than Florida. I enjoyed every minute of my time down there. It was cool, but it seemed nice and warm to me," said Mr. Willoughby.

"While there is much to see and enjoy in Florida, the trip that proved most interesting was a visit to Key West, where you drive over miles and miles of bridges, that connect the long string of keys.

"There are over 38 bridges (20 wooden, 17 concrete and the steel-concrete). They ranged in length from 50 feet to over seven miles. The latter is the largest bridge in the world. It is built entirely over water. One section is more than 70 feet above the water's surface and presents a panoramic view found nowhere else in the world. Fishermen were on all the bridges.

"Florida City is the last city on the mainland. The first bridge takes one to Key Largo, first of the myriad coral islands. In rapid succession, one crosses from key to key with the Atlantic ocean to the left and the Gulf of Mexico to the right. The names of some of the islands are Tanager, Matecumbe, Grass Key, Long Key, Pigeon Key, Key Vaca, Boca Chica and Sister Keys.

"We passed many key lime groves—also native growth, untouched by man, also saw many heron, cranes and pelicans.

"When in Key West, one is in the same latitude as the center of the Sahara Desert, which makes Key West truly in the tropics.

"Early in the nineteenth century Key West was founded as a pirate rendezvous. Many still think fortresses are buried there. In 1822 the United States broke up piracy in these waters and Key West was mapped out in 1829. English and Spanish are spoken. The best of descriptions are inadequate to describe this tropical setting. It must be seen in order to appreciate it.

"Dunal street is the main thoroughfare running east and west, ocean at one end, gulf at the other. Colored boys dive into the gulf and bring up beautiful large shells. They swam around one's car with their wares. I want to go again when I can swim in both ocean and gulf the same day.

"Among the places visited were the Key West Lighthouse, located in the heart of the city, one half mile from the water. The grounds of the lighthouse are a tropical garden with an aviary of several hundred birds. From the lighthouse tower, an inspiring view can be seen of the entire city and surrounding waters.

"Next the Cable House, where telegraph cables cross under the sea to Cuba; the house of the late Judge J. V. Harris (the southern most house in the United States); the United States Army barracks; the salt ponds; Thompson's Marine Curio Shop (an amazing and unusual collection); the turtle crawls (there were about 200 turtles, weighing about 200 pounds each).

"We had terrific steak and it tasted like glorified veal.

"Most of the streets are shaded with Poinciana trees and in every yard there are brilliant flowers. On Dunal street, a tropical flower opens every night at nine and closes at twelve.

"The trip should not be missed. February is the best time of the year to go.

"Saw a sign on a fishing boat which read 'Fish guaranteed or no pay for trip.' Speaks for the fishing, but I'll take the turtle steaks."

Matulis Calls Meeting of Softball Managers

Games to Start in Two Weeks at Both Parks

On Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in Room 16 at the high school, there has been called a meeting of all managers of teams to be entered in the Summer Recreational league by Director Anthony S. Matulis. At that time, new teams which are to enter competitive play and last year's teams which will continue this year will be registered.

Pursell Hits Social Tax Law

It was announced by Mr. Matulis this week that there will again be two separate leagues this year. One will play at the Starkweather grade school diamond and the other's games will again be played on the Central playground. It is thought that this year there will be eight-team leagues at both parks.

At the meeting, new rule changes will be discussed in addition to a general discussion concerning plans for the year. One of the new developments that will be attempted this year will be a new system of officiating, Matulis announced.

open dates so that games which are postponed may be played then. Competition will be completed by the time the program is over this year, it was reported.

Postpone Bicycle Club Meeting Until April 8

Organization Meeting to Be Held After School Next Monday

Because Police Chief V. R. Smith ruled there were an insufficient number of members present to hold an election, the initial meeting of the Plymouth Bicycle club, previously scheduled for Saturday has been postponed until Monday, April 8. The chief acted upon the suggestion of the members who were present at the meeting Saturday afternoon.

Until last Saturday, there were 123 Plymouth bicycle owners signed up for membership. Of this number, the largest percentage have been issued a metal license for their bicycles. The remaining licenses were refused because of some mechanical defect or because of no warning device on the bicycle. As soon as the machines are repaired so that they come up to the standards set forth by the rules of the club, the licenses will be issued. All owners must provide a warning device for their bicycles which can be heard at a distance of 200 feet, the rules stipulate.

The meeting next Monday afternoon will be held at 3:30 o'clock. It has been set at that time so that all members may come directly after school to the city hall and hold their election of officers and other important business. The meeting will be held in the commission chambers and will be presided over by the chief of Plymouth police.

Hilltop Golfers Open 1940 Season

Announcement was made this week that the Hilltop Country club will open its 1940 golf season Saturday and Sunday. Pro-manager Casey Partridge reports the course has dried off remarkably fast this spring and quite a few enthusiastic golfers have been playing during the past week.

A full schedule of events will be followed this season much the same as was last year. An 18-team league will start play Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 6, 7 and 8, and a low handicap group will play Thursday, May 9. A women's group will be organized this year which will play on Wednesdays.

Included on the year's program in addition to league play, will be the Fourth Annual Plymouth championships which will be played in four flights for the men and two for the women. All will be played off early this year starting after the fourth of July. Other contests include three 27-hole medal tournaments, in three flights; a hole-in-one contest; a driving contest, and the fun-for-all Millionaires' day.

The Hilltop Country Club course is 11 years old and Partridge reports that it will be in the best playing condition this year for all time. He is starting his sixth year as pro-manager and greens-keeper.

Memberships will be available as usual. From the inquiries Partridge has received, he reports the list will be long. There will be no change in rates from last season.

Rosedale Gardens Club Celebrates First Anniversary Tuesday

A luncheon celebrating the first birthday anniversary of the Rosedale Gardens branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association was held Tuesday in the Rosedale club house, with nearly 90 guests present, about half of the number being from the Northville and Plymouth branches.

The speaker's table was lace covered and centered with a beautiful arrangement of Madonna lilies and red tulips. Another table had a basket of vegetables as its centerpiece and the smaller tables were decorated with corsages of vegetables, a very clever arrangement.

Following the delicious two-course luncheon, the guest speaker, Mrs. Edith Wagar, of Carleton, was introduced by Mrs. Lyman Hadden, the program chairman. Her talk was on "Consumer-Producer Marketing." She told of the many simple things we all know but to which we really do not give enough consideration. For instance, all the food we have comes from the soil. All raw materials are grown on the farm, and if we do not keep our lands fertile, in years to come those who carry on will be unable to grow what they need; in other words, conserve the soil.

Mrs. Wagar said, "You can build cities and manufacturing places but if your country life is destroyed it cannot be rebuilt." She brought out the fact that during hunting season some men rush to the country to kill squirrels, quail, pheasants, etc., which the farmer and his family feed throughout the year and enjoy watching.

She spoke of the grading of potatoes, apples, etc., and how much better it would be if Michigan producers would only take their best produce to market so that people would buy Michigan products instead of those from the western states.

Mrs. Wagar also said that the American farmer produces the highest type of products in the world and is constantly working to improve them but the commodities which he must buy are double in price from what they were in the years of 1910-14 and the farmer is getting less. The slogan for the farmer is "A higher standard of living and an income to pay the bills," she said.

Members of the Plymouth branch are reminded that on Monday, April 8, the regular meeting will be with Mrs. William Wernett on Sheldon road, with business meeting at 1:30 o'clock. A talk with slides will be given by a representative from the Perry-Morse Seed company.

Why not make this year your "Big Moment?"

Business is Good, Thanks—so you'll get plenty for your old car and more in your new one at your Buick dealer's

Above is the Buick SPECIAL 4-door touring sedan $896*

WE'RE talking here to those thousands who have not yet achieved a lifetime ambition. That is to say, they don't yet own a Buick.

We want to point out a few facts about the Buick SPECIAL pictured here—show how it swings wide the door on a golden opportunity.

Step into this sleek sweetheart. Your treadle foot touches off a trigger-quick Dynaflex straight-eight engine that's just about the smoothest thing that runs, thanks to micro-poised-balancing after assembly.

Swing through the gear changes and you find the same easy, finger-flick shifting as in the most costly Buick. And the same recoil-mounted Knee-Action soaking up bumps before they reach your hand on the steering wheel.

Take a rough road in stride. You'll find that stout Buick-Coil Springs muffle out the bumps—and they'll never need lubrication.

Look out through the easy-vision Safety Plate Glass in every window. Check up on the equipment: Two-Way Direction Signal with automatic cut-off, built-in automatic choke, oil-filter, high-capacity water pump—they're all there.

Here's the smart style, the blithe performance and the solid, substantial Buick quality of materials and workmanship that make this the car you've been looking forward to.

Yet the figures on the SPECIAL make you think it's a six instead of a husky straight-eight. Indeed, when you count in the included equipment, it costs no more than some cars with lower advertised prices.

So look into the Buick SPECIAL. See if this isn't the time to "step up" to the car you've always wanted.

You can take a trial drive any time just by asking your Buick dealer.
