Commencement Speaker

DR. CHARLES ANSPACH

Smith Selects Commencement Speaker

C. S. T. C. President Slated to Address Seniors

Superintendent George Smith, of the Plymouth public schools, announced this week that Dr. Charles L. Anspach, president of the Central State Teachers' college, at Mt. Pleasant, has been selected as speaker for the commencement exercises.

Dr. Anspach is well-known throughout the state in the field of education. He received his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Michigan in 1930.

From 1923 to 1930 he was dean of Ashland college and from then until 1934 he was head of the department of education at Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti.

Dr. Anspach acted as dean of administration the following year and then became president of Ashland college, a position he retained until last year. At that time he became head of the Mt. Pleasant institution. Dr. Anspach is also co-author of several books, among which is "Problems in Educational Sociology."

Senior commencement week, as decided by the board of education, begins with the commencement services on Sunday, June 16, commencement exercises, June 20, and the alumni banquet, June 21. There are 114 members of this year's graduating class.

Gives Free Key Rings to Everyone

Losing keys not only is an inconvenience, but frequently it can be a major calamity. Thousands of persons lose keys every year and as a result find it necessary either to do without them or provide duplicates, the first being a source of constant annoyance and the second sometimes requiring a sizeable expenditure.

The return of lost keys often depends only on the presence of some means of identification on the keys. This not only is provided for in a plan offered by the Plymouth Buick Sales company, local Frigidaire appliance dealer, but in addition the plan enables the finder to return the keys with a minimum of effort. All he needs to do is drop the keys on the nearest mail box.

"What we are doing is presenting a registered key chain to any adult who visits our store and sees our 'Proof of Value' demonstration," Mr. Shear explained. "The key chain not only is an attractive souvenir, but it also has highly practical value in that its user is safeguarded against permanent loss of his keys."

Attached to the key chain, according to Mr. Shear, is a miniature pamphlet on which is embossed a serial number and the address of the Frigidaire headquarters office. If the chain and keys are lost, the finder is requested by a message which is a part of the plate to place the keys and chain in any mail box. The chain then is delivered to the company's main office where its serial number is checked with numbers mailed in by key losers each of whom is provided with a card containing the serial number at the time he receives his key chain.

"Such a plan makes it relatively certain that keys will be recovered," Mr. Shear said. "The attractive feature of the plan, of course, is that keys will be returned with almost no effort for the owner."

Officials Look for Another Record Year

Permits Total $54,208 More Than Last April

With the advent of spring and warmer weather, building activity in the city has taken a decided increase during the last two weeks, say city officials. Builders and contractors have applied for building permits amounting to $67,995 so far this month. That figure is over $54,000 more than the total amount of building done during the entire month of April last year.

So far as it is known, last year there was more building done in the city than ever before. Up until about two weeks ago, city officials began to believe it had reached its peak, but with the decided increase of activity lately, it looks like another record year for home and commercial building in the city.

Permits for six homes have been granted, amounting to an estimated $23,600. Compared with last year, it is $15,800 more. Plymouth home owners this month have not done so much repairing and altering to their homes as the total shows a $872 decrease. However, commercial building for this month is $38,000 ahead of April in 1939.

Next week The Plymouth Mail will report on new home builders and the building location, in addition to any more activity that might develop along that line during the next few days.

Graduates Meet to Organize University Club

110 Attend Banquet at Presbyterian Church

A University of Michigan Alumni club was organized in Plymouth when 110 graduates and friends of the University met in the dining rooms of the Presbyterian church last Thursday evening.

Members of the board of governors elected are: Mrs. Thomas Eaton, R. Ross, George A. Smith, C. H. Elliott, Sidney D. Strong, Warren Worth and Stuart Dube. It is the duty of the governing board to select from its members a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. These will be an honored task.

C. H. Elliott, Plymouth's city manager, and alumnus of the U. of M. presided over the meeting and read the articles for Plymouth chapter as compiled by the national organization. The by-laws stated, "This chapter is formed to promote, through cooperation with the general alumni association of the University of Michigan, (a) the advancement of interests of the University of Michigan and (b) closer fellowship among alumni and students of the University of Michigan."

Activities of the Plymouth organization will be held at least two times each year, the board determining when and where the meetings will be held. The by-laws also stipulate that one of the meetings each year must be held for the purpose of electing officers.

Those who are active members of this organization include all graduates of the U. of M. and all persons who have been in attendance at the school, in addition to all persons who have been officially connected with the University.

Associate memberships will be granted to all persons who have not had children in attendance or who have shown vital interest in the university. Both memberships will be available here for Plymouth residents and those who live in communities in this locality which have no such organization.

Two guest speakers appeared on the program, introduced by Rev. Enss. They were T. Hawley Tapping, executive secretary of the organization, and George Meader, ninth district representative, with which the Plymouth chapter is affiliated.

Mr. Tapping explained the purpose of the club and made suggestions concerning its organization here. He also told about several such clubs which have been formed near Plymouth.

Honor Two for Work in Church

On Sunday a special service was held in the Lutheran church in celebration of the long services of two of their members, Sarah Gayde and Albert Rohde. Miss Gayde has taught a class in Sunday school for many years and Mr. Rohde has served as superintendent for ten years. In appreciation of their services the congregation presented Miss Gayde with a gold cross with a few words of appreciation engraved on the back, while Mr. Rohde was given a beautiful Bible.

Many baskets and vases of flowers and palms decorated the church. On Monday evening a banquet was given by the Mothers' club of the church honoring the same guests at which the members of the club and their husbands and all the teachers of the Sunday school were present. Church band later decorated the guests' table at which the speaker of the evening, Rev. H. Allwart, of Detroit, Rev. Edgar Hoenecke, toastmaster, and other participants in the evening program sat. The tables were decorated with vases of snapdragons. A beautiful birthday cake also decorated the table. Following the sumptuous repast Mrs. Henry Yatzek played "The Butterfly" on the piano, also other numbers.

Guests of the Lutheran Victrola sang "My Task," accompanied by Mrs. Roy Fisher, Walter Schultz, in behalf of the congregation, spoke a few words of appreciation to Miss Gayde and Mr. Rohde for their long services to the church.

Floyd Reddeman presented the roses to them. Each teacher present had a corsage of gardenias, the gift of the Mothers' club.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Terry were Sunday dinner guests of the latter's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Archer, in Pontiac.

Honored

FRED A. HEARN

Masons Honor Master of Lodge

Worshipful Master Fred A. Hearn, of Plymouth Rock Lodge No. 47, F. & A. M., was pleasantly surprised Friday night, April 19, by Masons of the Burroughs Adding Machine company, who had arranged a very interesting program in his honor.

The 254 Masons and friends present enjoyed the delightful chicken dinner, prepared and served by ladies of the Eastern Star. The entertainment which was furnished by employees of the Burroughs company was greatly enjoyed by all.

During the evening Mr. Hearn was presented with a beautiful engraved gavel by Burroughs members of the fraternity in recognition of their many years of association with him and of the high office he holds in Plymouth Rock lodge.

D. A. R. Plans Voting Classes

Mrs. Walter Hammond, assisted by Mrs. David Mather, entertained the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the D.A.R., Monday afternoon in the Crystal room of the Mayflower hotel. During the business meeting it was announced that the chapter had been asked to co-operate with several other organizations in Northville, sponsoring a movement which would instruct young men and women who have reached voting age during the past year. This movement is becoming national wide and there is now a bill before congress asking that the third Sunday in May be set aside for programs, etc. in this honor. It is proposed that classes be held for these youngsters in which party differences be discussed, proper procedure for voting, and the duty and privileges of voting be explained.

After Mrs. Buckley had introduced Miss Dorothy Stringer, of Northville, who played Indian Phantoms by Kroeger, the meeting was given over to reports of the state conference and continental congress.

Mrs. Dwight Randall, of Detroit, a member of the local chapter attended the congress in Washington, D. C. The congress were addressed by a number of interesting and powerful speakers, but the talk by J. Edgar Hoover on "Test of Citizenship" was one of the outstanding ones.

Mr. Hoover said that one of the important problems confronting Americans, is the "foreignisms that are seeking to engulf Americanism." He commended the American press for doing a fine job of trying to separate the facts from propaganda, the true from the false, and the pure from the impure. He decried the fact that many people coming to these shores for freedom are ungrateful to the extent of forming the disunion and radicalism wherever they may gain a foothold.

He said, "If we use our heads (Continued on page 2)"

Club Sponsors Shoot Sunday

Announcement was made this week by Dr. B. E. Champe, president of the Western Wayne County Conservation association, that there will be a skeet shoot at the association's field, Sunday morning, April 28, starting at 10:00 o'clock.

"One Shot" O'Neil, With a Camera, to Speak Here

Obtain Well-Known Sportsman for Wildlife Meeting

George "One Shot" O'Neil, famous as a sportsman and wildlife photographer, will be the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Western Wayne County Conservation association to be held at the Mayflower hotel, Monday evening, 7:30 p.m., May 6. Mr. O'Neil is known in the annals of photography for his unusual and striking pictures of wild life and fishing in Alaska and the Canadian Northwest.

Because O'Neil is an employee of the Pere Marquette railroad and is well known among other men of the company, the Wildlife club has extended a cordial invitation to all of the company's employees from this locality to be present at the May meeting.

O'Neil has been unusually successful in taking some very rare photographs of wild life in the back country of the great North. Experts claim that among the films he will show to the club men will be "shots" that have never been duplicated in any other film.

One of these scenes that of a mother bear teaching her cub to catch fish from a stream, is especially outstanding. This phase of wild life is rarely seen, even by men accustomed to hunting these animals, to say nothing of being photographed on movie film while the educational procedure is under way.

In addition to Mr. O'Neil a representative from the Michigan chapter of Ducks Unlimited, headed by Mickey Cochrane, former manager of the Detroit Tigers, will tell club members about the work of that non-profit organization in restoring duck nesting grounds in Northern Canada, to state where the ducks again will be able to rear their young in conditions to their liking. Films of the work being done by this organization will also be shown.

The meeting starts at 7:00 o'clock and because of the large crowd expected to be here, Mr. O'Neil and see his movie, club members and their friends are urged to come early.

Sportsmen of Plymouth who enjoy the great outdoors and would like to see these outstanding films, are urged to bring along their own cameras. Mr. O'Neil will be welcome at this meeting as the guests of the Western Wayne County Conservation association.

Ball Studio Again Wins High Award

An Award of Merit was conferred upon a group of four portrait photographs displayed by the Ball Studio of Plymouth at a semi-annual meeting of the Michigan Photographers society held at Mt. Pleasant, Sunday and Monday of this week. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ball attended the meeting which featured several interesting demonstrations and discussion periods on all phases of commercial photography.

W. W. Campbell, of the Eastman Kodak company, a guest speaker at the meeting, said that the group of portraits by Mr. Ball were the outstanding ones on display. Mr. Ball plans to enter them at the convention of the National Photographers' association of America which will be held in Chicago in August. This is not the first time that the Ball studio has been given awards for its work and is awarded at this time. Mr. Ball the distinction of being considered one of Michigan's outstanding portrait photographers.

The photographs that were in the Ball Studio display at the convention are now on display in the windows of The Plymouth Mail.

Mrs. Clark was retiring with Mrs. Butterworth and the Knowles girls, Joseph Scarpulla, Eugene Bakewell and Finch Robert, who were occupants of the other automobile.

Business Club Elects Officers

On Tuesday evening the Business and Professional club, of Plymouth, held a dinner meeting at the home of Mrs. Lillian Terry on Union street, at which time the annual election of officers took place.

Mrs. Lillian Terry was elected president in succession to Hildur Carlson, who has served as president for two and a half years. Other officers elected were Mr. Mildred Brooks, vice-president; Rebecca Oleniak, recording secretary; and Mrs. Katherine Henderson, treasurer.

Following the business meeting Rebecca Oleniak gave an instructive talk on the "Process of Law Making," in which she followed through the entire procedure of having a bill passed through congress. Mrs. Mary Tibbets told of an interesting Business and Professional Women's club meeting she attended in St. Petersburg, Florida, recently. She experienced some difficulty in securing a ticket for one of these meetings as the quota of tickets had been sold several days before the meeting she wished to attend.

Several members of the local club are making plans for the fall, which will be held in Grand Rapids at the Pauline hotel.

On Thursday of last week Hildur Carlson, Mrs. Mildred Barnes and Vann Campbell attended a meeting at Wayne of District No. 1. At this meeting it was voted to send a letter of congratulations to Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple on her election to the office of mayor of the city of Plymouth.

Betty Knowles Still in Hospital; Both Cars Totally Wrecked

Miss Betty Knowles, of Plymouth, is in Redford Receiving hospital as a result of serious injuries received in an automobile accident which occurred early Saturday morning at about 12:45 o'clock at the intersection of Six Mile and Northville roads, about four miles north of Plymouth. Two cars driven by Plymouth youths crashed at the intersection, injuring seven young people, six from Plymouth and one from Northville.

All were high school students, except two. The most seriously injured is Betty Knowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Knowles, of Union street, who is suffering a concussion of the brain, and Thursday had not completely regained consciousness since the accident. Her condition was reported as being favorable and it is thought she will recover. Miss Knowles was graduated with the class of 1939.

Joseph Scarpulla, a senior this year, and son of Peter Scarpulla, of West Spring street, was held at the hospital until Tuesday for observation. Physicians did not definitely know whether or not he had a fractured back.

Possibility of internal injury held Victor Butterworth at the hospital for a few days. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Butterworth, of North Mill street. He also suffered facial lacerations and body bruises.

Others who were involved in the crash include, Margery Knowles, sister of Betty, who was bruised about the body; Finch Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Roberts, of South Mill street, who is suffering body bruises; Eugene Bakewell, who had some teeth, and received facial lacerations and other bruises; son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bakewell, of Plymouth road; and Jeanette Clark, of Northville, who was bruised about the head and neck.

The accident occurred as a car driven by Bakewell, pulled on to Northville road from Six Mile road, coming from Salem, and collided with one driven by Butterworth, who was traveling north on Northville road toward Northville. Miss Clark was riding with Butterworth and the Knowles girls, Joseph Scarpulla, Eugene Bakewell and Finch Robert, who were occupants of the other automobile.

The two cars met with a head-on collision which sent each rolling over. One automobile is reported which holds a road sign.

Observers who checked the two wrecked automobiles said they could not possibly understand why all were not killed. The cars are completely demolished.

P. T. A. Reelects Mrs. Jesse Hines to Head Group

Delegate Returns From State Convention at Lansing

Mrs. Jesse Hines is president; Mrs. Dorothy Diefuss, vice-president; Mrs. Herbert Swanson, secretary; and Mrs. Clark Sackett, treasurer. Mrs. Hines was named as a delegate to the twenty-third annual state congress of parent-

Those who attended the congress from this locality were Mrs. Donald Boyce, of the Newburg P.T.A.; Mrs. Florence Baker, of Rosedale Gardens; Mrs. D. Donnelly, of Livonia; and Mrs. Jess Hines, of Starkweather at Plymouth.

Church Plans New Landscaping

As a living memorial to those who have passed away, friends of the Methodist church have donated funds for the purchase of trees and shrubs for the beautification of the front lawns of the church property on Church street. Funds for the purchase of 16 evergreen trees and about 60 barberry bushes have been raised.

There will be two rows of the bushes, one on either side of the lawn. The trees will be placed along the front wall of the building. Funds for the barberry bushes were raised by members of the Sunday school.

A plan of the grounds will be kept on file, and the location of each tree will be marked in memory of some person.

Planting will begin tomorrow and will be completed within 10 days. Sunday, Rev. Stanford S. Blosson received permission for the beautification activity from the church board. When the plan was announced to the congregation by Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple, teacher of the booster class, it met with unanimous approval.

Stanford L. Besse, city engineer and member of the church, is chairman of the project.

Many of the supreme and state officials of the order were present and witnessed the colorful spectacle, all participants being in evening formal. The local guard team also assisted in the floor work during the initiating ceremonies and enjoyed dancing later in the evening.

The next regular meeting of the Hives will take place Wednesday evening, May 1. The guards will meet that same afternoon at 5:30 with their usual supper in charge of a committee. All members of the Hives are invited to meet with them.

Daisy Team Takes Highest Honors in Girls' Division

The team was captained by Aileen Archer.

In the play-offs, they were opposed by the Cloverdale team in a three-game series. It was the closest play-off in the history of the league, with Daisy winning by a two-point margin in each instance.

Marble Contest Creates Interest

Much interest has been shown in the Marble contest for Plymouth boys in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades being sponsored by the city recreation committee. A city champion will be declared following the class play-offs.

At the present time, the field has narrowed down to five from each grade at both Central and Starkweather schools who are now competing as grades against the other school.

Leforest Welch is in charge of the tournament.

Grade schools are also enjoying supervised softball, which is also sponsored by the Recreation committee, and directed by Lester Deley and Charles Stitt.

Information concerning any one of these divisions of the supervised recreation program or city league softball may be obtained from Asa Rowe.

It's Not Sky Blue, It's Apple Green!

Shaw! It's apple green—not sky blue, after all.

The "art editor" of The Plymouth Mail the other day in describing the new decorations in some of the rooms down at the Mayflower sort of "mixed up" his colors in a way that just didn't please those who painted the walls as well as Vie, Emma, Mary, Nona, Bernice and Norma.

"Who ever heard of painting sky blue on the walls of a grill?" asked these artistic young lady critics as they "poured" coffee for the hungry down at the Mayflower the other day. (The critics of the "art editor" as one might surmise are the waitresses of the hotel.)

"What do you mean by saying this dress is sky blue instead of apple green?" snapped one of the usually good natured and artistic waitresses at the "art editor" as he haggled off a piece of an alleged tender Western steer.

Of course it must be explained that the new uniforms worn by these exceedingly efficient waitresses are supposed to be of the same hue, color and shade of the walls. That's why each one of them had so much to say about the mix-up of the color on the walls of the grill.

"But what's the difference between sky blue and apple green? Of course any one knows the difference between grass green and sky haze," retorted the "art editor" of The Mail, "but who can draw the line between a real sky blue and a real apple green—young lady, do you know that there are 741 different shades of sky blue and as many different shades of apple green as there are green apples?"

That one stopped the dashing

Emma and the rest of 'em—but for the sake of the record Manager Ralph Lorenz says the new color on the walls of the Mayflower grill is supposed to be apple green.

The "art editor" stands corrected.

today, we will not be forced to use our rifles, our airplanes, our battleships tomorrow. And one thing is certain. We in the United States want peace.

Mr. Hoover warned that the crime situation must be checked, that youth organizations must be carefully guided. He said that "Our job was to keep to the path which has led to happiness in the past and to regard with suspicion any winding trail or alleged shortcut, no matter how alluring it may be portrayed."

In closing, Mr. Hoover asked that we would pledge ourselves to a solemn re-dedication of citizenship.

After a motion for adjournment, the hostesses served tea, the table being decorated with bouquets of lovely spring flowers. Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, regent of the chapter, poured.

Special guests at the meeting were Mrs. Fred Lendrum, organizing regent of the local chapter, and Mrs. Jeffries of the General Josiah Harmon chapter of Grosse Pointe, and Mrs. Lyons, of the junior group of the Fort Pontchartrain chapter.

Police Costs Up But Trifle in Ten Year Period

New Budget Shows But Slight Yearly Increase

An interesting portion of the city budget for the fiscal year of 1940-41 is a 10-year comparison made of the Plymouth police department. In spite of the fact the activities of the police department have had a tremendous increase, the total cost of operation for this phase of city government is only $200 more per year than it was 10 years ago.

Since 1930 the population of Plymouth has shown an increase of 36 percent. The federal census has not been completed, however the available information from the company files, the Detroit Edison company, the Telephone company and the postoffice indicate that the present population of the city is about 6,100. The 1930 census showed that the village of Plymouth had 4,484 inhabitants.

In 1930 the personnel of the department was comprised of a chief and two full-time officers. However, there were several reserve and uniformed men on part-time duty. Today, ten years later, there is a chief and four uniformed men who perform all the duties of the department without reserve assistance.

It is indicated by available records that the work of the department has increased greatly. Ten years ago, the department did not issue drivers' licenses. Last year, 1,751 individuals made application for drivers' and chauffeurs' licenses with the department.

Considering that it takes nearly 20 minutes to examine each applicant, it was found that during the year, more than 500 hours were spent by officers in the issuance of the licenses.

Traffic cases have increased more than three times during the last decade. In 1930 the department handled only 91 as compared with more than 300 in 1939.

Reckless driving was almost unheard of in Plymouth 10 years ago, while last year the department arrested 30 for the offense.

There was no violation bureau established with the police department ten years ago. It was begun in 1936 and during 1939 police handled several of the minor cases saving about 75 percent of the municipal judge's time in addition to being a great convenience to the general public.

Welfare cases were not checked by the police department in 1930. But, in 1939, and for several years previous to that time, the department had nearly 150 cases to handle. Work involved in this service includes checking legal residences and making application for hospital entrance.

In 1930 the police department had to secure warrants for arrests through the municipal judge for state and county cases. Now the warrants can be obtained only through the prosecutor's office which takes more time and work.

Accidents were not reported as far as records in the office show for 1930. At the present time, under state law, a complete detailed report must be made for each accident which occurs inside the city limits, or for which city police are summoned.

The surprising thing about the whole report as given previously in this article is that in spite of the fact that each officer has such a tremendous amount of additional work to perform, the cost of maintaining the department has increased only a couple hundred dollars.

But this is not the complete story. The work of the department cannot be told by figures alone. Much time must be spent in preventative measures.

Having been made possible through the federal bureau of investigation police academy and other police courses, Plymouth police officers have been technically trained to handle almost any type of case which is of a criminological nature. Fingerprinting, which began here in 1936, and the necessary records in conjunction with it have been added as a valuable tool for good police administration.

At the present time more than 90 percent of Plymouth's inhabitants have been fingerprinted for civil identification purposes, Rotary, Kiwanis, Junior Chamber of Commerce and other social and civic groups have cooperated fully with the department in their fingerprinting activities. Boy Scouts have been especially helpful in this phase of police work, many of which have been done by experts in fingerprint identification.

The department has been instrumental in the organization of a Boys' Gun club, Bicycle club and Safety Traffic club. The police chief assists in the Plymouth high school in teaching students the rules of safety. The value of all this additional work is not apparent except that it is conceded that juvenile delinquency in Plymouth is extremely low and compares favorably with any city in Michigan.

Members of the Plymouth police department are as follows: Chief, Vaughan B. Smith; captain, Charles J. Thumme; and patrolmen, Lee Sackett, Ira Hauk and Carl Greenlee.

Camera Club Meets Monday

A group of enthusiastic camera fans from Plymouth met for the first time last Monday night to discuss the formation of a club here. The group that met, numbering 16, elected Robert A. Winzard, to act as president of the organization for the ensuing year. Leo W. Wallace, an instructor at the high school, was elected secretary-treasurer.

According to an announcement made this week, the group will again meet at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening, April 29, at the city hall. At that time, a name will be chosen for the club and further plans for the year will be discussed. Members are requested to bring friends interested in any or all phases of photography to the meeting. It was also suggested by President Winzard that samples of individuals' work and cameras be brought to each meeting so that any difficulties that may arise might be discussed by the club as a whole.

Alvin Balden, a high school faculty member, will lead a discussion centered on camera lenses at Monday's meeting. It is expected that the club members will discuss other phases of photography as well.

Following are the charter members of the club: Evelyn Ballen and Bertha Ballen, Bessie Wileiden, Chase Willett, Alvin Balden, Sullivan Warner, William Morgan, Harold C. Anderson, Maurice Woodworth, Leo W. Wallace, E. A. Rice, Charles Thumme, Wallace Osgood, Melvin Blunk, Robert A. Winzard and Kenneth Corey.

The TONQUISH CREEK BREEZE

Published at Tonquish Creek, Michigan

The People's Watch Dog
 Vol. 3 No. 5

There's another big gala day ahead for the Creekers!

No, it's not any left-overs from Fred Schrader's old buffalo that he donated to the hungry last winter.

The Creekers have already gnawed that right down to the bone and it's all gone.

But! But! But!

Would you ever believe it? Charlie Bennett, who was born in Plymouth just about the time that old Chief Tonquish had reached the age where he was squalling before the fire in his tepee most of the time, caught hounded a big opossum the other day when it was rambling around in his backyard.

No, he didn't tree it—he just caught it when the old possum wasn't looking.

For a while he figured it might turn the possum over to a whif of police and have him take it down to the dog pound, but a happy thought struck him.

If the Creekers liked tough buffalo meat, why wouldn't they enjoy some real possum?

So the possum is now being fed all of the tid-bits that possums like and that "Charlie" can find in Plymouth. He figures that by next February the possum will be big enough to feed all the hungry Creekers.

"From what I've heard about that buffalo that will last the folks who muddle around in Tonquish Creek flats until next winter, at least, Doctors say I can't see how it's going to last a month, let alone a year. Of course when I feed 'em possum, it will be nice and tender. But I haven't yet figured out just how I'm going to make a 12-pound possum feed 800 people. That's a little detail we'll think up while the possum is getting fat," said its captor with a cut-throat grin the other day by the hustling Breeze reporter.

Some big news very near popped the other day over on Wall street. Wall street, as you know, is the financial center of Tonquish Creek Corners. It seems that some of the white folks got into an argument over something that appeared in print in some other scandal sheet and one of the big shots on the street got pretty sore and he went and saw the village constable and was going to do some big things. Somebody and somewhere some fire water was poured on the rough water and there has been peace and happiness ever since—and the white folks who live up on the banks of the creek say they hope there's nothing more like that for a while.

SPUD GAME--REDSKINS Vs. WHITES

Wheeler, potato specialists at Michigan State College, are comparing samples of the Chippewa, at left, with the Pontiac, at right. The first is a smooth white, a week to 10 days later than the Irish cobbler, a standard Michigan early variety. TREES GO: SO DOES FARM
Leland — Sixteen years ago Mr. and Mrs. Ole Olson planted two spruce trees on their farm near here. When she died 12 years ago, Mrs. Olson asked her husband to care for the trees. Later he moved to Ludington, but refused to sell the farm, making frequent trips to it to carry out his wife's last wishes. When, on such a trip this winter, he found only roughly chopped stumps of the two trees, he sold the farm.

By-Products of Soy Bean to Take Place of Wood

Ford Research Worker Speaks at Kiwanis Meeting

"Some day, if and when the supply of wood is gone, soy beans will take its place," declared D. S. Ramsever, of the Dearborn Research laboratories of the Ford Motor company, before members of the Kiwanis club at their meeting Tuesday evening. He was the guest of James Gallimore, program chairman. Mr. Ramsever said that the time will come when soy beans will be processed and the by-products will be used to build homes.

The speaker declared that it is Henry Ford's ambition to build a car chassis completely made from the by-products of the bean. Many of the parts such as enamel, glycerine, fiber for tires and upholstery, are already taken from the oil of the bean.

It was said that enamel made from the bean oil will last twice as long as ordinary enamel or paint, and brilliance and lustre is much improved. Mr. Ramsever presented several examples at the meeting to prove his points.

Slides were also used to illustrate his lecture. The speaker told in detail of the cultivation, propagation and uses of the soy bean.

Several farmers from this locality were present at the meeting as guests of members. A number of questions were asked by the Kiwanians and their guests, which Mr. Ramsever answered.

Formal presentation of an official club banner took place at the meeting. All Kiwanis clubs have them, but Plymouth's was misplaced some years ago. It is used for identification at conventions and other functions which the club attends. A body across the top of the flag are the letters "KIWANIS" with the official emblem in the center and "PLYMOUTH, MICHIGAN" across the bottom of it. It is colored in the traditional blue and gold of the national organization.

The banner will take its place beside the national emblem which is displayed at each meeting.

Find Weather Not So Good in South

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Warner have just returned from Florida where they spent the past few weeks. During their visit to the Southlands, they visited nearly all of the important places. On the return trip they experienced cold, wet weather most of the way. One day they ran into a snow storm in the mountains of Tennessee. But notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, they had an enjoyable vacation.

Ladies Prepare for Luncheon

The ladies of the Methodist church are very busy these days preparing for their birthday luncheon. Especially occupied are those committees in charge of table decorations. Imagination and artistry are creating all sorts of scenes to please the luncheon guests. Brides-to-be may find a suggestion for their table decorations. Vacationists may wish to follow the guide posts on the August table. A certain little red school house may stir fond recollections and who knows that Santa might be about compiling his list of "whose naughty or nice." Some of the tables reserved in mystery, their designers refusing to drop even a hint as to what they are up to.

So, gratify your curiosity, satisfy your hunger and enjoy to the fullest the fine entertainment offered by the Methodist ladies at their birthday luncheon, Wednesday, May 1 at 12:30.

The second elimination was Thursday when the 55 selected were in the final stage of the Auditorium studio of radio station WWJ. From their ranks emerged 11, for the final selection tonight (Friday) at the Adcraft club's annual dinner at the Hotel Statler.

Farmhand Kills Man in Beer Row

Alexander Wasielewski, a 48-year-old farm hand living on Schoolcraft avenue, near LeVan road, about three miles east of Plymouth, has confessed, police say, to the murder, last Saturday night, of Stanley Kornet, 42, another farmhand. The killing followed a fight which started over a case of beer.

Wasielewski, in a statement to Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Charles Jones, said he shot Kornet after the man refused to tell him where he had hidden the beer which the pair had purchased in Plymouth earlier in the afternoon.

"Kornet and I had been drinking together in Plymouth Saturday afternoon," Wasielewski told the assistant prosecutor. "On the way home we bought a case of beer. After we got home Kornet hid it some place. He wouldn't tell me where it was and we argued. We were both pretty mad and I got my son's shotgun and shot Kornet."

Officers later found the hidden beer in a pigsty. The slayer is held in jail in Detroit.

When cold weather prevailed during the lower Michigan beaver season, some trappers in Oscoda county worked their beaver trap lines on skis.

May 29—Lutheran church vs. Hi-Speed; Friday, May 31—Stark No. 2 vs. Studebaker Champs.

Rowe Family Has Old Document

Probably one of the oldest documents outside of a private collection or museum, in this locality is an original land contract signed by Andrew Jackson for part of the property on the corner of Ford and Lotz roads, now in the Henry B. Rowe family.

According to family history, Silas J. Young, on October 14, 1835, obtained the deed to 90 acres of land on the southwest corner of Ford and Lotz roads from Andrew Jackson, then president of the United States of America.

Silas Young had two children, Henry and Celestia. Neither married and the land was sold to Henry B. Rowe in 1899, which is still part of his property.

The land is described on the document as the east half of the northwest quarter of section 13 in township two south, of range eight east in the district of lands subject to sale at Detroit, Michigan territory, containing 80 acres.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe are pioneer residents of this locality. They are planning to celebrate their seventieth wedding anniversary next October.

The Rowes were married in Detroit, October 11, 1870. They moved to Plymouth 40 years ago and have been living at their present home since that time.

Of their four sons, three are living. Otis and his wife live with the parents. Mr. and Mrs. Willis Rowe live at Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Asa Rowe make their home at 167 Union street, Plymouth. There are a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren, representing three generations.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe are well acquainted with the Henry Fords and at various times, Mr. Ford has purchased articles of historical and sentimental value from Mr. Rowe.

Mr. Rowe is 89 years old and his wife is 88. Both are in excellent health.

During the last 15 years, Mr. Rowe has spent a great deal of time in experimenting with crop irrigation.

Voters Welcome FBI Inquiry Into Graft Charges

Local Speaker Says Time Is Here to Clean Slate

Speaking before the Republican Women's club of Grosse Pointe Monday afternoon, State Representative Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth, declared that he believed Michigan people generally welcome the inquiry being started in this state by the Federal Bureau of Investigation into rumors of corruption in public affairs.

In part he said:

"The vast majority of people are interested in efficient, honest, economical administration of governmental affairs. They are utterly opposed to dishonesty, graft and waste in the conduct of public business.

"In every political campaign we have had in Michigan during the past half dozen years or more, candidates of both political parties in primary elections and general elections, have openly hinted of corruption and graft as the part of certain groups and persons having to do with public affairs.

"These rumors have been repeated with such frequency that many have come to believe that there has been and is something wrong with the conduct of state business.

"I am sure that I reflect the views of the rank and file of our party when I say that Michigan Republicans welcome the investigation that has just been launched by the Federal Bureau of Investigation into these rumors of graft in our state.

"Probably no other period of American history has witnessed such a breakdown in public morale as has taken place during the past few years. It is not at all surprising that as a result of wild expenditures, useless waste of tax dollars and downright theft of public funds, that there has been on the part of some Republicans as well as Democrats a determination to "get theirs" while the "getting" has been good. Of course those who look upon public funds in such a light care nothing about the needs of aged dependents and of the afflicted or of good government. Their one purpose is to fatten their own bank rolls at the expense of badly needed public services.

"Now that an inquiry has been started in Michigan, we as Republicans should demand a thorough investigation of all the rumors of graft. If we have a Republican here and there who has been guilty of exploiting by illegal methods the hard-pressed taxpayers of Michigan, we hope that proper punishment is received.

"We all realize that there are some questionable practices that cannot be reached by the FBI inquiry. But these are within our own power to correct and we should never stop in our efforts until all public business is conducted openly, honestly and efficiently.

"The rank and file of Republicans detest political machines and racketeers. The two go hand in hand and they flourish for no other purpose than for personal gain and benefit.

"I am sure that the majority of Republicans do not approve of hints being given out here and there that the FBI has come to Michigan to "get" certain self-proclaimed Republicans just before an important election. To use a slang expression, I believe that suggestion to be just pure "bunk."

"These are the same federal officials who have been conducting investigations of political racketeering in other states. To date almost every conviction they have secured has been of Democratic grafters.

"If we heard some Democrats in Wayne county declare that the Ferguson grand jury is a Republican grand jury conducted by Wayne county judges for the purpose of "getting" certain Democrats. That claim, too, is sheer nonsense.

"If we Republicans in Michigan have a dirty washing to do, let us do it immediately and have it over with. Once and for all we should stop these rumors of graft, which may be in some cases possible, false accusations. I know of no better way than through the grand jury inquiries now being conducted.

"Meanwhile we should devote our time and efforts to help restore and carry on the humane, progressive type of governmental administration characteristic of true Republicanism.

The type of shrubs which are to be used is not definitely stated, but it was announced by city officials that elm and sugar maple trees will be set out this year.

The entire planting program has been planned by officials so that trees will be planted where the need is the greatest. Bids will be accepted for either individual trees and shrubs or for the entire lot of trees and shrubs.

Glider Pilots Have Gala Day at Gliderport Over Week-end

Some Get Pretty Far Away, But Made Safe Landings

(By Skysailor)

Saturday, April 6 was a fairly good day for glider pilots. Everybody was getting some lift and some of the pilots were staying up five or six minutes. On one flight John Nowak kept circling in the lift until the wind had drifted him quite far. All observers concluded that Johnny had decided not to land back at the port. Johnny's trailer crew made preparations to go after the ABC sailplane which he was flying. But Johnny was in a fairly good bit of lift and the lift didn't happen to let him down just at the wrong time. Finally he headed back and observers could see that he was flying fast. He got back in O.K.

Johnny made the longest flight of the day (seven minutes and 40 seconds). He also made two other flights longer than five minutes. All three of these flights were in the ABC Sailplane.

Helen Montgomery made two flights longer than five minutes; one was five minutes and 45 seconds, the other six minutes and 17 seconds. These were in the XYZ Franklin.

Other flights over the five-minute limit were six minutes and 15 seconds by Randy Chapman in the ABC Sailplane; six minutes and 22 seconds by L. D. Montgomery in the XYZ Franklin; five minutes and 53 seconds by Al Santilli in the XYZ Franklin.

Forty-four winch tows were made Saturday and then John Long was given some training flights on the winch. He had made a great many training flights behind the tow car, but it was a case of the tow car being out of commission. He climbed too slowly at first not realizing how much better a winch tow really can be than an auto tow. There was no harm in this, however. Each time the winch operator slowed the winch until Johnny had about 100 feet, until he had made several flights. This meant that he could still land in the airport straight ahead and did not have to make any turn.

However, Johnny had already been making turns and knew how to do them quite well. After a quick climb to about 200 feet he made a turn first to the right and then to the left in the shape of a letter S. This allowed him to land within the airport from a greater height where a straight flight might have carried him through the far fence. It is especially desirable to know how to make such S turns when greater altitudes are being reached.

Johnny's instructors when they thought that he was ready to make a 360-degree turn. He was told that he might go up to about 300 feet then release and turn back along one side of the field, then to keep turning until he was again flying into the wind and to land in the center of the field. Johnny did all this very well and subsequently made two other good 360's. He undoubtedly felt that his trip down from Muskegon on that week-end was worthwhile, especially since he made seven more 360's the next day (Sunday).

Out of 20 flights made from winch tow Sunday, April 7, the longest was two minutes and 45 seconds. It was not a very good day. Then it began to snow and the day was completely ruined.

Saturday, April 13 was a very poor day with several snow storms.

Sunday started out fine and Al Santilli made a good flight right at first, getting 10 minutes and 30 seconds. He released with about 1,000 feet of altitude and during the flight climbed up to 1,400 feet. Al has been doing very well this year. Last year he had poor luck during the first of the season and was forced to watch many of his fellow members made good soaring flights while he just couldn't seem to stay in the lift.

Santilli made another flight of seven minutes and five seconds. Lyman Ward, of Ypsilanti, made a flight of six minutes and 25 seconds. John Nowak made a flight of eight minutes and 10 seconds.

Before long the season will really be under way and any flight less than 15 minutes will no longer be worthy of mention. The pilots will be staying up 40 minutes or perhaps even four hours. Three flights were made at Triangle in 1938 (two years ago) of four hours each!

"MAILS" $10 BILL
 IONIA — Late one afternoon, two boys came into the local postoffice and announced, "Mom thinks she dropped a $10 bill in the corner mailbox two hours ago." Unlocking the box, a postoffice employe found the missing ten spot under a pile of letters.

Commissioners Review Budget

The Plymouth city commission reviewed Monday evening to review the proposed 1940-41 city budget as compiled by Commissioner L. E. Wilson and City Manager Clarence H. Elliott, members of the appointed budget committee.

For the most part, commissioners found the budget to meet with their approval, but as further discussion was deemed necessary, there was no action. The budget as it now stands meets generally with the approval of all members of the commission. It was reported.

A handful of common sense is worth a bushel of learning.

City Employees Clean Streets

This week city employees have been sweeping sand from the streets which has accumulated from frequent sandings made throughout the winter months to lessen the hazard created by ice and snow.

With the advent of spring rains, the sand, if not removed, washes down city sewer mains, clogging many and hampering drainage.

City officials say that the sand will be removed from the streets by the end of this week.

Approve Training School Project

Representative George A. Donnelly has received word from the Works Projects Administration to the effect that Project O.P. 154-12200, carrying an allotment of $145,257, sponsored by the Wayne County board of auditors, has been designated as acceptable for inclusion in the W.P.A. program. This project provides for improvements at the Wayne County Training school building. The work includes constructing a main building, playground, wading pools, dam, parking lot, sidewalks, utility tunnels, comfort station, coal hopper, and bunker, canopy, underground ducts, service building, catch basins, drives, storm sewers, urinal and manhole, steps, and gates; laying water mains, drains, floorings and roofing; installing valves, gas tools and plumbing, heating, and electrical facilities; removing and retaining ramp and retaining wall; painting; decorating; re-roofing; lowering; re-building; removing and replacing old water mains; extending sewer; reroofing; excavating; grading; backfilling; landscaping; planting trees; seeding; and performing appurtenant and incidental work. This project, according to W. P. A. routine, is now eligible for operation at the discretion of the Michigan office of the W. P. A. and its decision will be governed largely by the availability of funds, the presence of certified relief labor of the proper skills required, and other considerations.

Citizens of Kalkaska, Mich., point with pride to their newest up-to-the-minute civic structure recently completed by youth workers of the Michigan National Youth Administration. Made of stone veneer, the building has a nine foot basement and measures 24 x 36. It serves as a community building, houses the Chamber of Commerce, a library and public rest rooms. From 24 to 30 youth a month working part time on the NYA program completed the building in less than six months. The Village Council, co-sponsor of the project, provided the building materials, and a mason, plumber, and carpenter who supervised the work.

Gray Named Head of Ball League

Officers of the Inter-County Baseball league were re-elected to serve again this year at the annual organization meeting held recently in the Plymouth city hall. Earl Gray, from Plymouth, was re-elected president of the organization and an Inkster man, Charles Bradley, was named to succeed himself as vice-president. Ray Levandowski, of Detroit, will be secretary and secretary-treasurer for this season.

It was announced that the 1940 baseball season will open at Cass Benton and Riverside parks, Sunday, May 5. No pairings have been made as yet, but arrangements have been made to have both the diamonds as home grounds for two teams apiece. There will be 20 teams in the league. Plymouth will have two playing nines on the field this season.

Teams from Garden City and Trenton, winners in the white and blue divisions of the league, will be back again this year to defend their championships. Trenton won the playoffs last year.

At the organization meeting, several changes were made in the by-laws of the league. Among them was that playoff money will exceed $100. Another was to make arrangements so that teams in the league may play in state or national semi-pro baseball tournaments.

League officials agreed that a fee of three ($3.00) dollars will be taxed on all teams who send a representative to meetings. This fee will be for voting and must be paid before each annual meeting. It will apply on the franchise. This rule was made so that no teams other than those who expect to take part in league competition will be represented at the meetings and have a part in the business of the association.

There will be two new umpires to work the inter-county league games this year. Announcement has not been made relative to the names of these men. Six of the 1939 umpiring staff have joined the Semi-pro Umpires' association and have a local charter. They are: Earl Gray, dean; Harry Hunter, secretary; Bill from Plymouth; Harold Wilson, committee man; from Detroit; Walter Patterson and Arthur Belli, of River Rouge; and Glenn McCleughly, of Wayne.

Announcement concerning the league schedule will be made as soon as league officials make the pairings.

Stark School News

Last Thursday afternoon and Friday, April 18 and 19, the five teachers from Stark school attended the sixth annual convention of the Michigan Rural Teachers' association held at Big Rapids, Michigan. The meetings were very inspirational and of a great deal of value to the teaching profession. The M.R.T.A. is a fast growing division of the Michigan Education association, growing in membership from 49 chapters in 1934 to over 1700 members this year.

The regular meeting of the P.T.A. was held Friday, April 19. A few songs were sung by the parents to open the meeting.

Mr. Gordon, the fifth and sixth grade teacher, told about a few of the meetings the teachers had attended and of some of the speakers at the teachers' convention at Big Rapids.

Mr. Swarbrick and the Boy Scouts gave a demonstration on rope tying. Jack Henry gave an explanation of the badge, telling what the symbols on the badge stood for.

Bob Marshall explained the requirements for a first class Scout.

Mrs. Swarbrick, the president of the P.T.A., presented the Boy Scouts with a present they all had been wanting. The package was opened and what do you think it was? There were two sets of signal flags. The boys were then dismissed and everyone enjoyed a few solos on the accordion by Robert Snyder.

It seemed that the P.T.A. was giving a lot of presents that evening. Donna Jean Swarbrick, Marjorie French, Shirley Luttermoser, and Stella Phillips all received large scrap books for winning the spelling bees. Richard Hoffman, also a spelling bee winner, got a present.

Marjorie Stokes was there with her outfit that she made in her 4-H work and she also received a nice scrapbook.

Jack Henry, another 4-H club winner received a pen and pencil set.

The officers were then introduced to the parents.

After the business meeting a few games were played and a visiting period was enjoyed during refreshments.

—By Shirley Luttermoser.

As graduation day, May 22, draws near, our eighth graders are busy preparing and planning the part that they will take in the graduation exercises. Last week one of our eighth graders sent for a book called "The Commencement Treasure Book." This book contains much valuable information which will help us to have a graduating class of 20 students. If so, we would like to have each person take part in the graduating exercises.

—By Stella Phillips.

The boys and girls of Stark school who are in the May Festival dances started to make their costumes Friday, April 19, in Mr. Gordon's room with the help of Mrs. Stokes.

There were many children there but not enough mothers to help cut out patterns and material.

Most of the children have their costumes cut out and basted together.

The girls dressing in yellow cambric did not have enough material so more has to be purchased.

—By Avis McKinney.

Marjorie Stokes and Jack Henry have been chosen as H delegates from Stark school to represent Wayne county at East Lansing for club work. All expenses for the trip will be paid by the 4-H club department, Monday morning, June 24, they will be leaving and will be back June 26. They will live on the campus of Michigan State college.

—By Marjorie Stokes.

There will be a pre-school clinic at Stark school in May. All the children that will start to Stark school in the following year, please send name and birth date of child to the school. The child will be examined on a given date, that will be announced later.

—By Clifford Waack.

The seventh and eighth grade boys and girls will have their regular social meeting, Friday, April 26. They will play bunco and have prizes. High school children are also invited.

—By Bonnie Galemore.

A tap dancing class was started Friday, April 19. It will be held every Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

—By Mildred Mason.

If you have any articles of clothing which you have outgrown, or shoes that can be repaired, send them to Stark school between April 24 and May 3. These clothes will be collected by the Volunteers of America. They will be cleaned and repaired by them, and made available to Wayne county school children in families where there is a low income or unemployment.

May we count on your assistance in making this drive a success.

—By Virginia Savage.

The Stark school boys' ball team after defeating Patchen 7-2 went on and also defeated Newburg 10-4 in a very good game.

Stark went into the lead in the first inning after Jack Henry broke a bat then grounded out. Fred Byrd then walked, Bob Sasal, our hard hitting outfielder, grounded out, Chuck Sasal drove a very long hit to deep left field and he stopped at second. Fred scoring on the hit, Clifford Waack came to bat and broke another one, then hit a long double, scoring Chuck Sasal with our second run. Henry Schmaedeke, our pitcher, was safe when the Newburg pitcher fumbled the ball. There were two out and Clifford, who was away with the pitch, scored our third run of the inning. The next batter grounded out to end the inning.

Newburg scored in the third and fourth innings. They tied the score at 4-4 in the second inning, the fifth didn't score again during the remainder of the seven-inning game.

In their half of the fifth inning, Stark scored one more run which tied the score at 4-4. In the bottom of the fifth Stark scored six more runs. The final score was 10-4 in favor of Stark school.

Here are some of our leading batters:

Henry Schmaedeke	500
Jack Henry	500
Bob Sasal	425
Clifford Waack	375

Monday afternoon the Stark girls' team went to Livonia Center to compete in a baseball game. In the fourth inning, Livonia's pitcher, Evelyn Canfield, while catching Shirley Luttermoser's fly ball, sprained her thumb. Their left fielder then was taken out of the game, because of a bloody nose.

Geraldine Savage hit a home run with two on base in the fifth inning, and in the sixth inning Marjorie Stokes hit a home run with one person on base.

It was an interesting game with Stark girls winning 21-12.

—By Stella Phillips.

Monday, April 22, the boys of Stark school went to Livonia Center school to play baseball. The Stark team, after winning two games, went in this game feeling as if they couldn't be defeated. In this feeling was taken out of them right away when Don Sheby scored the first run in the first inning to put Livonia ahead.

Then Stark scored two runs in the third inning to go in the lead 2-1. In the last half of the third inning Livonia scored three runs to go in the lead, 4-2. Stark got one run in the fourth to make the score 4-3, but Livonia Center scored two runs in the fourth to make the score 6-3.

Then in the fifth Stark went wild from their bench. You could hear bats hitting the bench, voices yelling as Stark got two runs, making the score 6-5 in Livonia Center's favor.

In the sixth, Stark got two more runs to make the lead 7-6. Stark got two more runs in the seventh inning to make the score 9-6 but Livonia wasn't through yet. Scoring two runs after two were out, and a runner on second, Henry Schmaedeke, our pitcher, threw three straight strikes past Joe Eves to win their third straight game.

The score was 9-8, Stark being the winning team.

Rock Nine Loses First Start

Birmingham Hurlers Tame Plymouth, 11-5

Birmingham high school used three pitchers in setting down Plymouth 11-5 on Tuesday, April 16, in the opening game of the season at Birmingham.

Jehnnic Wilkie and Charles Bulson, short stop and right fielder respectively, led Plymouth's hitting attack with two hits each. Wilkie also contributed a back hand stop on a hard hit ball to deep short, the best fielding play of the game.

Carson, Birmingham's starting pitcher, held Plymouth to one run for five innings after a shaky start in the initial inning when he was nicked for two runs. He was succeeded by Kelly and Prevo, when two were out in the sixth, who gave up the two remaining Plymouth runs.

Ray Pratt, red headed junior, started for Plymouth and was knocked out after two-thirds of the second inning by a blast of hits and poor fielding. Birmingham scored five of its 11 runs in that short period.

Jim Kelly succeeded Pratt and pitched the remainder of the game. He was nicked for two runs in the fourth inning when everyone in the infield with the exception of Wilkie erred.

Kirby, Birmingham's star left fielder, had a field day in hitting four for four and stole two bases. He was also the defensive star of the game making three spectacular running catches in the field, one robbing Wes Hoffman of an extra base hit.

Kennedy, Birmingham's right fielder, hit the only extra base hit of the game, a double to deep left center against the wind. He was struck out the next time at bat and went hitless the rest of the game.

An idea of how the cold wind affected the playing of both teams can be judged by the number of runs made in proportion to the number of hits. Plymouth made six hits for five runs and made two runs in the fifth inning without a hit. Birmingham made eight hits for 11 runs and made six runs in the fourth inning with only one hit.

Coaches Jensen and Matulis did a good deal of experimenting, especially in the outfield where Jack Lee seems to be the only one sure of his position.

Bulson hit well, but had a difficult time with the wind in his part of the outer garden.

The next game will be the first league contest with Ypsilanti there on Tuesday, April 23.

Makin' the Rounds

Question of the week: Did you settle your "double" date Doug (L)? Said the user at the P. and A. theatre, "We only have singles." This was said to two boys and the bright one said, "Do you have two singles together?"

Isn't it nice to have two sisters in the Palmalee family, Harold (F)? Gee, it looks like Mr. Fountain's home-room gets the po'k chops! And speaking of banquets it seems that each actor enjoyed his bit of ice cream and cake Wednesday night. What is the idea connected with the pigtail, girls?

Well, anyway our demands for more assemblies were certainly answered. Just think, only nine more weeks of school. The halls would be a good place to play hide and seek. Three cheers for Virginia Rock. This is the second year she has won first place for Plymouth's first experience.

"Variety is the spice of life" quoted by several Plymouth students. Just think, a whole school day to ourselves. Ah, luxury of life. The rumor goes that Allen O's favorite colors are red and white. Looks like Larry N. is going to set a new record for socks along with Pat K. Both wore "candy stripe" stockings lately.

We saw Jim Z. and his first golf articles. The G.R.'s and their dish cloths. Lots of people with tickets (as usual). Joke: (She) Your horn doesn't work. (He) No, it's indifferent. It doesn't give a hoot.

Set Date for Annual Musical

Peace Auditorium in Ann Arbor will be the scene of the annual Music Festival, May 2.

Twelve boys and 30 girls will attend from Plymouth high school. Dr. Alexander, choral director at Ypsilanti Normal college, will lead the students in both separate and mixed numbers.

"Listen to the Lambs," by Dett, and "Beautiful Dreamer," by Stephen Foster, will be sung by the girls and, Ballads "Winter Song" with "I Love a Parade" by Arlen will be the boys' renditions. A mixed chorus will sing "Cherubim Song" by Borntian-sky, "Music of Life" by N. Cain and "Come, Soothing Death" by Bach.

Approximately 300 students representing six schools in the district will participate.

Rocks Nip Ypsilanti 3-0

The Plymouth nine shut out Ypsilanti 3-0 Tuesday, April 23 in their second game away from home, as Jack Nielson yielded but two scattered hits in his debut as a high school pitcher.

No one reached third as Nielson set down Ypsi with five strikeouts while walking but one.

Both the infield and outfield fielded faultlessly in contrast to the Birmingham game when most of the team went to pieces. In his first game Nielson started out a bit shaky and gave his only free pass and made the team's single error of the game but was helped out of the hole when Ypsi's Berlick was caught stealing. Bayne, the Ypsilanti pitcher, also pitched a good game allowing but three hits as he struck out nine and walked seven.

Although all of Plymouth's players did well, Hoffman was the outstanding player. He knocked in the first run with Plymouth's first extra base hit of the season with a double to right. Blackford hit a double in the fourth inning and Bulson followed it with a single over second to end Plymouth's hitting of the game. Blackford later scored on an infield out to complete the scoring.

The victory over Ypsilanti got the Rocks off to a good start in its Twin Valley competition. They faced River Rouge Thursday in a game that proved to be a well fought contest. After the Rouge game Plymouth opens the season at home.

Rocks Drop Golf Matches

Plymouth lost its first league golf match of the year Monday night when the far hitting team from Birmingham took them by two strokes. After starting the season off with a bang with a victory over Rouge and Ecorse, the tough luck which has been so long in hitting the golf team struck.

If you hear or see any of the golf team crying around the halls this week, it is just because they are thinking of the many strokes they could have saved in the match against Birmingham. Jack Sequin had an off day when he scored a 91 but he still gained eight strokes over his man. Captain Hoffman was shooting excellent golf, but his 85 was only good enough to gain one stroke against his opponent. Dick Dunlop, the star from the senior class, played the number one position but his 81 was not quite good enough and he dropped five strokes to his man. Bob Lawson, a newcomer to the team, played in his first match against Birmingham and he shot only a 96 and he dropped six strokes to his man. He says that he will do much better next time. The coach and the team felt very badly about losing to Birmingham, especially because three less strokes would have given Plymouth its third league match in row.

The next day the same team that faced Birmingham, with an exception of Al Owens playing in the place of Bob Lawson, met Ypsilanti at the Washtenaw Country club. The course is a long tricky one with a creek running through it. It is no matter where you are on the course, the beautiful club house is always in sight. The Rocks lost by a team score of 347 to 375 and Jack Sequin was the only man to defeat his man (one stroke). Captain Hoffman was the high man of the day when he scored a 99 and it was only by the assistance of his able caddy that he broke a hundred. Warren dropped 10 strokes to his man. Dick Dunlop shot a 92 on the long course but he dropped seven strokes to his man. Allen Owens was low man of the day when he scored a 91 but he was playing a man who was shooting way over his head and he lost 12 strokes.

Al and Jack Sequin also played off their match for the school championship on Tuesday and Al emerged victorious by two strokes and all the way home from Ypsilanti the two were arguing. They both play wonderful golf, if you don't believe it, ask them. Owens, who has the widest slice we've ever seen, claimed that he wasn't slicing as badly as he used to, and Sequin was taking pains to point out how many times he (Al) was off the fairway because of his slice. If they hadn't been sitting in different seats in the Coach's limousine they surely would have come to blows. When we left them they were still hashing over each other's still.

The team has now won two league matches and lost two but at the next league match they promise to keep on trying and at least give the school a second place team.

To be proud of learning is the greatest ignorance.—Bishop Taylor.

Virginia Rock Wins in Contest

T. V. A. Title Goes to Dearborn

Virginia Rock stood alone in bringing Plymouth high school the honor of having the championship extemporaneous speaker of the Twin Valley association sub-district contest. James Zuckerman and Glenn Ford also represented Plymouth in the oratory and declamation contests.

All contests were held in the Dearborn high school under the auspices of Miss Church, Dearborn's speech coach. Harold Allen, Raymond Ford and Gerald Lynch were three notable judges from the University of Michigan, Northwestern high school and McKenzie high school respectively.

In spite of the efforts of the three Plymouth participants, Dearborn walked away triumphant with the trophy. Plymouth was rated third in the contest.

The declamation contest took place at 2:30 in the afternoon. At this contest Glenn Ford recited "To the Boys and Girls of Michigan" by John Munson. He was rated in fourth place by the judges. Three other contestants were tied for first place; however Martha Wilson of Ecorse giving "Call to Action" by Carrie Chapman Catt, was awarded first place.

Oratory and extempore speaking contests were held at 7:30 in the evening. James Zuckerman gave a very smooth oration of "The Forsaken Privilege." First place was awarded to Harley Capp of Dearborn who told of "Twelve Years in the Public Schools of America." James received third place.

The next contest brought forth extemporaneous speaking and Virginia Rock who spoke very capably concerning "A Student Looks at a Third Term for Roosevelt." She was awarded first place and received a book of poems. All other winners received a book also.

Bob Daniel, Marian Goodman and Miss Walldorf attended the sub-district speech contest at Dearborn high school, Thursday, April 18.

Thinclads Lose First Home Meet

Plymouth high school's track team effected a reconciliation with the weather Friday in their first meet of the year, but were not so successful with their opponent.

Birmingham high, the first school to meet Plymouth, although three meets had been scheduled previously, won high honors in eight of the 12 track events to win the meet 66-38 on the Plymouth track.

Only events in which Plymouth men took a first place were the 880, the pole vault, the mile and the shot put. Plymouth won at least one point, though, in every event.

The Birmingham relay team circled the Plymouth track twice in 1:21 to win by a good margin. The Plymouth relay team was Harsha, Sessions, Underhill and Scarplura.

Armstrong, winner of the high hurdle race, made the best single showing of the meet when he broad-jumped 20 feet five inches to win first.

A strong cross wind on the track made most of the winning events only mediocre. The winner of the 100-yard dash, Allen, made the best time in the 120-yard low hurdles, 14.9 seconds.

Plymouth's weak sprinting and hurdling was what lost the meet. Bob Sessions was the only Plymouth sprinter to make any kind of showing by placing third in the 100 and second in the 220.

Elmer Myers, a freshman, ran his first mile race and won in the fair time of 5:19. The other Plymouth firsts were by Marshall, Prough, and Baker—veterans. Baker put the shot 40 feet, one inch.

Neither Birmingham nor Plymouth won all three places in any event. Only in the hurdles and 100 did Birmingham win first and second place.

Postpone Ecorse Track Meet

Rain. Many may recall many phenomena of nature, but rain is one which is still the cause of many postponed engagements including track meets. The Ecorse Rouge, Ypsilanti, and River Rouge meets are the only ones to be postponed to date. If the average three meets out of four rain out—holds up the meet—then an ably expected improvement waiting on four of six days on which track meets are scheduled. The Ecorse meet set for April 17 will be held on May 3 during the weather.

Rock Racquet Wielders Lose Second Match to Ecorse

Lossing their second league tennis match of the season to the Ecorse tennis team, Monday, April 15, by the score of 3-2 sunk the Plymouth racquetists' spirits to their lowest.

Due to bad weather, the Rocks have had to postpone two matches, all with Ypsilanti, but if the weather permits they will be played this week.

Plymouth still has a slight chance of retaining their T.V.A. A. championship if they win the rest of their matches. The players and their respective scores are as follows:

Norman (P) defeated Jones (E) (11-9) (3-6) (7-5); Compton (E) defeated Lewis (P) (6-1), (6-2); Lorenz (P) defeated Jones (E) (6-2), (6-2); Lucius-Sequin (E) defeated Butz-Gottson (P) (4-6), (7-5), (6-3); Callow-Piros (E) defeated Dunham-Bist (P) (6-1), (6-2).

A grass fire which spread to a railroad trestle near North Adams, Michigan, interrupted for several days the train service of the New York Central railroad Hillside-Ypsilanti branch.

Economics Class Takes Bank Trip

Over 30 economics students seniors in the class of George A. Smith, took a view behind-the-scenes of the Plymouth United Savings bank Thursday morning.

The trip which lasted over an hour was in conjunction with the current topic of banking which the class is studying.

Russell M. Daane, vice president and cashier of the bank personally conducted the class through the building. He also answered all questions of the touring party.

The party examined the expensive machines with which the accounts are kept to date and watched the actual operation on a "John Doe" Ledger.

They went through the bank vaults and teller's cages beside the safety deposit vaults in which personal securities are kept safely.

Daane also explained the mortgage system used in the bank and how the mortgages are kept on file. He demonstrated with a sample mortgage.

The class appeared interested in the hold-up protection facilities in the bank which, in the event of a robbery, can door it with tear gas in two or three minutes.

The huge vault door which can be opened only at the time set by three clocks, was examined. It is the only entrance to a vault which is two feet thick and reinforced by railroad iron.

When economics pupils wondered how the bank is able within a day to tell their exact financial status, Mr. Daane explained that the books are closed individually by the three tellers every night. This permits a triple check on an error.

Editorial Brevities

Last week saw something new being used in Plymouth high school. Although recording machines are nothing out of the ordinary in many Detroit schools and in colleges, it was quite a novelty to Plymouth students and faculty. Recordings of the band, double quartette, and speech students were made. From these students could hear how their speaking voices sounded to others, as well as what faults to correct in enunciation and grammar; movements and selections of various compositions of the orchestra were recorded for study and improvement in order that they could be preserved for future reference; and selections of the double quartette were saved for future use. It would seem from the value gained by these short experiments that the purchase of such a machine would prove most valuable in the future.

For the first time in three years, the senior class will be able to print a yearbook that more nearly resembles the Plymouth of old. This is made possible by the process of offset printing, considerably cheaper than engraving. The book, as present plans have it, will have 32 pages, containing the class history, personality sketches, three pages of snapshots, photographs of the seniors, and several group pictures of active organizations in the school. Senior students are working hard to make this, truly, a "memory book" of their high school days.

Faculty Sketches

Miss Ursula Cary, bookkeeping teacher at Plymouth high school, attended Marshall college in Huntington, West Virginia, and Michigan State Normal college in Ypsilanti, Michigan.

Before coming to Plymouth in 1925, Miss Cary taught in Bad Axe, Michigan and in the Huntington, West Virginia, senior high school.

Her hobbies include gardening at her home in Lake Huron, botany, nature study, all kinds of fancy work, stamps, and hammered metal.

Paul Weatherhead, teacher of geography, lists Harrison, Michigan as his home town. He attended Central State Teachers college in Mt. Pleasant and Loyola University in Chicago.

Wyandotte, Hazel Park, and Harrison in Michigan and Malolos and Lingayen high schools of the Philippines are the schools Mr. Weatherhead has taught in. He has been in Plymouth two and a half years.

Outside of teaching, Mr. Weatherhead has served as superintendent of the service department for Texaco in Manila. He has also been a bank teller in the United Savings bank of Detroit.

Among his likes are travel and sports with emphasis on badminton.

Leo Wallace was born in Roscommon, Michigan where he attended grade school and high school. He received his bachelor of science degree and his life certificate in Central State Teachers college and Northern State Teachers college and took post graduate work at Wayne University.

Mr. Wallace is a licensed electrician, as well as was on the district electrical examining board in northern Michigan for three years.

Before he came to Plymouth, he taught science for five years in Gerrish-Higgins consolidated school in Roscommon county and one year in a country school in Crawford county. Here, Mr. Wallace said, he learned more than he has in any other place he taught.

He has been teaching in Plymouth high school for two years and at present is teaching biology and health education.

Mr. Wallace, whose hobbies are shop work, and electrical construction and maintenance work, says his only pet peeve is "people who have peevess."

He has traveled in the South and East and lives now in Plymouth with Mrs. Wallace.

Information About Classroom Activities

By holding a series of banquets, one each day, the students of the public speaking class, instructed by Mr. Lature, are learning to give after-dinner speeches and to plan to entertain banquets. For each banquet a different theme and program chairman is chosen. Every person will have a chance to be toastmaster, program chairman, or chairman of the banquet.

Miss Fiezel's American history classes have completed the two administrations of Franklin D. Roosevelt and have now begun the study of the Western frontier and its change.

English twelve has finished the modern period of English literature and is beginning the outline for the required theme to be done at the end of the second semester.

English eleven "B" had finished "The Girls," an impartial story of the Civil War by Winslow Churchill.

English eleven "A" is beginning the study of Poe's and Whitman's life and works. They have finished their work on Northern poets.

The ten "B" English classes, taught by Miss Kilham, wrote newspaper headlines as if they were European correspondents commenting on the war.

MAGAZINE SALE COLLECTS $600

Over eight hundred dollars was collected in the magazine sale which has been progressing in the high school. Mr. Fountain's shorthand class received first place in selling and Mr. Jensen's classroom second place. Thursday evening the winners of first place will attend a banquet at the Mayflower hotel and a theatre party afterward in which they will be joined by Mr. Jensen's group.

The students who are to receive the six grand awards in the contest are: Gertrude Kelly, 36 subscriptions; Mildred Brose and Vereta Hauk, 25 subscriptions each; Robert Thoms, 11; Pauline Wiedman, 10; and Mark Everett, 12.

From approximately 300 schools all over the state of Michigan, Plymouth now ranks third in the amount of money collected, next to Eastern high school of Lansing and Ypsilanti high school.

The school wishes to thank the students and parents of Plymouth who cooperated so fully in making this campaign such a huge success. Three to four weeks should be allowed for the receipt of the first Crowell magazine and six to eight weeks for the other publications. In case a magazine which has been ordered does not arrive within the expected time a telephone call to the high school will bring immediate action on the matter.

THREE MILES A DAY KEEPS FIELD AWAY

A quarter-mile or a mile isn't hard to run when you are used to running three miles each day! Even the two-mile cross-country run isn't so bad comparatively. This is the opinion of two who've tried it.

Eimer Meyer and Claude Underhill, the records show, are respectively a freshman and sophomore on the Plymouth high school track team who in an event apiece accounted for eight points in the first track meet with Birmingham Friday.

As far as they go, the records are correct. But the records fail to explain how the pair, new addition this year to the track team, got that way—how in the interschool meet they were able to register a better showing than most of the track veterans.

Meyers and Underhill can explain it, though. They run home from school each day, providing the track practice has not been too violent. As both boys live on farms near Newburg, it can be seen that a great endurance is natural.

May both boys demonstrated with near perfect success that their "three miles a day keeps the rest of the field away." Meyers who entered the mile had enough stamina at the end to outstrip a Birmingham "miler" who had kept ahead for four laps. He won first place by a good margin.

Underhill, entered in the grueling 440-yard dash, took a second place when Gilbert, a lanky Birmingham runner with a seven league stride, crossed the finish in the record time of 27 seconds. At that Underhill led for three-quarters of the race.

Both Meyers and Underhill were on the cross-country team, the first that has finished the season for several years. Because he is a freshman, Meyers was not then eligible for honors. The cross-country course for high schools is two miles.

Although Meyers is strictly a distance man, Underhill is faced with an eventual problem. He is trained for distance, but he is adept at sprints. He was placed in the 440 because that is the event at which both speed and stamina are necessary.

Meyers and Underhill have always a ready excuse for their absence from track practice. "Go, coach, we were running home."

The only pipe dreams that are ever realized are the plumbers.

GOOD NEWS.

The host of friends of Harry Izor, publisher of The Durand Express, will be glad to know that he is making an excellent recovery from a recent serious operation. Editor Izor was confined to the University hospital at Ann Arbor for many weeks. He is a mighty useful citizen in his own community and a Michigan editor who for many years has been a strong advocate of all the things that have been for the good of our commonwealth. News of his improvement is, indeed, GOOD news.

A GOOD PLAN.

Announcement has just been made of the organization by Michigan Republicans of a new plan to handle party funds which will eliminate the criticism that has prevailed in past years. The Plymouth Mail has strongly objected to the old policy, which was not much more than a "shake-down" scheme, with no one knowing who got the money or what became of it.

Under the new plan Republican campaign finance in Michigan will be handled by one consolidated agency, working closely with national and state committees. The drive for funds will be well under way in every county of the state before May 1.

Hal H. Smith, of Detroit, prominent lawyer, is chairman and A. R. Glancy, vice chairman, of the Michigan division of the Republican National Finance Committee. They have established headquarters at 1624 Union Guardian Building and enlisted the aid of responsible county chairmen.

Quotas call for $350,000 to be provided for the national committee and $150,000 for the state campaign. The combining of solicitation into one agency spares contributors from several calls. It includes agreements with both the national and state committees and requires that the Michigan division not only assume responsibility for collecting funds, but also supervise budgets and expenditures of the state committee.

It is understood that Michigan raised approximately $430,000 in the last presidential campaign when a similar program of one authorized collecting agency was established. Increased need for funds exists in the more numerous avenues through which issues and candidate personalities must be presented to the voters, Smith explained last Saturday.

The committee will strive to broaden the base of its activities by the largest possible number of individual contributions. In 1936, only 3,000 Michigan Republicans contributed. Every effort will be made to multiply that number through a large number of small gifts.

The candor with which the committee is revealing its finance plans is in contrast with bygone days, when something of a stigma attached to the raising and expenditure of political funds.

Then there were few contributors and the amounts were large, leading to the suspicion of special interest. Supervision of expenditures was lax and no means were available of enforcing accountings.

Smith believes this situation has largely been corrected. "Everyone knows that funds are required for effective campaigning and acquainting the public with issues," he said. "Now strict controls and careful reports of collections and disbursements are required. Contributors know that the agencies are authentic and that necessary budgets will be carefully supervised. Mystery and secrecy have been taken out of such efforts."

BE CAREFUL!

There was an unfortunate automobile accident last week in which a number of Plymouth young people were hurt, some seriously. There is no use in discussing just how the accident happened, but this fact is true, night driving is ALWAYS dangerous driving. Parents never see their children drive away in automobiles after darkness but what there is always a fear in their minds as to the possibility of accidents and resultant injuries. The fault does not lie with the parents or with the children involved—the fault lies with all of us. We, aid we alone, are responsible for the development of a traffic problem that has made automobile driving such a dangerous thing, especially at night.

Rambling Around WITH EDITORS OF MICHIGAN

Their views about public problems and issues.

WE KICK ON TAXES BUT IT TAKES MONEY TO BUILD HIGHWAYS—

An important recipient of federal aid in Michigan is the state highway department.

At the first of March before the house roads committee Murray D. VanWagoner, commissioner of highways, appeared to plead for continuation of federal aid grants.

Presenting a 10-year program of highway needs in Michigan, Van Wagoner proposed the following spending with the aid of federal money:

Immediate widening of 606 miles of trunklines, $94,838,000. Future widening of 1326 miles of trunklines, $181,323,000. New belt lines around cities (four to six lanes, 251 miles, $56,970,000.

Express roads from Detroit to Chicago, Detroit to Toledo, 320 miles, $177,720,000.

Replacing 7618 miles of gravel road and worn-out concrete pavements, $400,000,000.

The 9400-mile trunkline system carried 61 percent of the traffic; received 53 percent of the money spent—R. D. Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Journal.

ABOUT TIME.

We are glad to learn that a group of Michigan citizens, aided by experts, is going to study Michigan's poor penal system. Taxpayers maintain a costly system of law enforcement, to capture and punish criminals, then why not do something constructively for those inmates so that when they are released they may assume decent and self-supporting places in society? We do not suggest the pampering of inmates, but we do agree that they are entitled to as much consideration in the realm of curatives as the sick are in our hospitals.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

UNEMPLOYMENT STRIKES MONEY AS WELL AS MEN

The census enumerators are starting their work this week. Within a few days, or weeks, we should have some more definite information about this country, state and nation of ours. Among other things, we are told, the census will give the first accurate information regarding unemployment. The estimates vary, you know, between four million and twelve million.

There is another form of unemployment which the census takers will not concern themselves. We refer to the unemployment of money. The other day we read that the loanable excesses of this country now amount to about five and one-half billions ($5,500,000,000). That is a lot of money. Why is it idle? Why do not the people who own that money start investing it?

Don't jump at conclusions. It is not in the hands of a few bloated millionaires. Instead, it belongs to hundreds of thousands of ordinary people like you and me. It is hidden in small as well as large savings accounts. Some of it is hidden in sugar bowls, crocks and socks. It is frightened money—money that belongs to people who lack confidence in the future.

We are not one to advocate debt, as a rule. It does occur to us that there has seldom been a time in the history of this country when a township, a village, city, county or state, could borrow so cheaply as right now. Idle money should be put to work. When that time comes men will go to work. When idle money is spent for a sound purpose, it demands materials and services.

If the very obvious fears of the people of this nation are well founded, it might be well to consider that money itself is not food nor clothing. It can, and has many times in the past, depreciated in value. Invested in something real—say a farm or a home, or some useful commodity—it may maintain or even increase in value. Better yet, if set to work to create new values, it becomes the helpful companion of men who, too, are looking for jobs.

We have had in recent years too much sneering at the thrifty—the people who have saved money. We have had too many discouraging barriers placed in the normal paths of money. There have been too many discriminatory taxes aimed at money. Money is not a trivial matter. It has been made a leader, and a drag upon the people who should be using it.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County (St. Johns) Republican-News.

PROHIBITION MAY RETURN

The pendulum is swinging toward more restrictions on liquor and beer. If the dregs are smart they will let the liquor business go for another year or so at the present pace and then the people will be ready for a change. Such affairs as the one aboard the navy vessel in Detroit recently will win more votes than could be gained by a thousand dry speakers. A Mason man who made the rounds of several beer parlors near Lansing last Saturday night reported that half of the customers in one dive were minors. That man voted for repeal. Now he is waiting for a chance to kill the traffic.

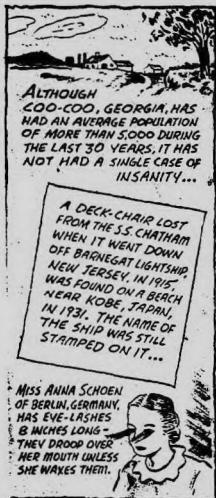

A real promise was that the saloons would not return. What has returned is in too many instances far worse than the old saloon.—Nelson Brown in The Ingham County News.

WHO SHALL MAKE THE LAWS OF THIS COUNTRY?

Ask any bright youngster in the eighth grade who makes the laws of this country, the boy, or the girl, will promptly answer "Congress." If quizzed further, the young pupil may elaborate and say that in case of a veto by the President that a two-thirds majority can still pass a law and then the constitutionality of that law may be established by a third branch of government—the Supreme Court.

Some months ago this writer sent a letter to Senator Vandenberg regarding some of the provisions of the Wage and Hour Act. We asked him if relief from certain inconsistent provisions of that act might be expected. In substance, he replied that Congress passed the act under executive or administration pressure; that Miss Schoen for many years used wooden braces to hold her lashes up, later turned to wax when she found it worked more effectively.

Congress washed its hands of the administration of the act by delegating the interpretation of its provisions to a commission, or bureau.

In other words Congress did not attempt to say what its law meant. It merely passed a law that was being demanded by a pressure group and then let a board of three men administer it.

In recent weeks there has been an attempt to get relief from some of the unfair practices and interpretations of this commission, bureau or board—the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB). The pressure from labor organizations, with their important political threat, is making it difficult, if not impossible.

Congress made this law, but it left to a board of three men to say what the law meant. This board has been notoriously partisan to labor unions and notoriously unfair to employers. Almost any fair-minded person who has followed their rulings will say this is so.

This is an excellent example of what is meant by bureaucratic government—in fact, it is a glaring example.

We have it in Michigan in our state government. We have delegated to departments and to boards and commissions unusual powers. We have departments of state government headed by elective officials, where the employees of that department spend time and influence lobbying for measures which will perpetuate themselves, or increase the amount of money they have to spend.

Getting back to the NLRB, that board has practiced, and actually interpreted meanings into the law that the authors of the law never contemplated or intended.

Sometimes, we think, that before we too greatly concern ourselves about the fate of democracy in the world (Europe, particularly) we had better give more thought to domestic happenings where democracy is being scuttled.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County (St. Johns) Republican-News.

OTHERS THINK SO, TOO.

Michigan is fortunate in having at the head of one of its most important commissions—Welfare—Honorable Walter F. Gries of Marquette county. He has had many years of semi-social background and training which he is finding useful in dealing with the complex intricate official problems. Mr. Gries has had sufficient public experience to have acquired a refined intuition which has given him a delicacy of balance so essential in the administration of jobs of the character he is now filling by appointment of Governor Dickinson.—Muri H. DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.
