Highly Prizes Trophy of Early Day Banking

That historic account of the early banking days of Plymouth published in last week's issue of The Plymouth Mail, proved most interesting to the thousands of readers, and especially so to Mrs. Katherine M. Allen, only surviving daughter of E. J. Penniman, who served as president of the old First National Bank of Plymouth that became The Plymouth United Savings bank in later years.

City Refuses to Finance Xmas Decorating

Commissioners Decide Against Complying With Request

The city commission at a special meeting Monday night at the city hall, decided that they would not comply with the request of the Chamber of Commerce relative to taking over the entire Christmas lighting and street decorating program. However, commissioners agreed that the city would finance the decoration and lighting of the city parks—Kellings, Centennial and Pioneer.

City Manager C. H. Elliott met with the Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon meeting Monday and talked the decorating problem over with them. Business men presented their side of the matter and the city manager told them what the city could do. The conclusion reached was satisfactory to both groups it was reported.

Because of the expense involved in decorating the city's business districts for the holiday season, the Chamber of Commerce requested the city commission to take the matter over and include the cost of the budget for the current year. After investigating the manner in which other cities of the state handle the program, it was found that in most cases the cost is shared jointly. One of the drawbacks of the city should take over the entire program would be the discussion caused by the residential district where there are scattered business firms.

Club Representative to Speak at Dinner Meeting

Long, who has been a national Townsend club representative in Colorado and recently transferred to this state, will be a guest speaker at a meeting scheduled Friday evening, May 24 at the Grange hall. ### Mayor Pleads With School Children Not to Pick Flowers in Parks

Please! Boys and girls—the flowers you are picking from the plants and shrubs in the park in front of the high school are for the enjoyment of all the people of the city, not you alone. They are not picked and planted there so that the blossoms could be broken off and the plants and shrubs damaged. Of course you are interested in a clean city—and a beautiful city. When people drive through Plymouth and comment about what a fine, clean, attractive place it is, it makes you proud of the fact that this city is your home.

The board of education was successful in obtaining a wide range of courses which were open to any person living in this vicinity. Classes came to an end last week.

Here's the Story of a "Hot Check" That Proved to Be Good Check

Scorched, soaked and discolored—a check issued by the Willoughby Shoe Store, arrived at The Plymouth Mail office early this week. Yes, sir—the edges of it had lasted fire. The whole check had been baked until it looked like a faded rose of the late summer.

New J. C. C. President

JOHN R. MACLACHLAN

Ends Successful Year

The members present, by ballot, named five new members to serve on the board along with five whose terms do not expire until next year. ### To Head Junior Chamber of Commerce Here

John R. MacLachlan succeeds Robert O. Wesley as President. At the second annual meeting Monday night of the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce, John R. MacLachlan was elected to serve as president of the organization for the ensuing year and Charles VanVleck was named chairman of the board of control.

The writer was one of the tens of thousands of Michigan people who lined the thoroughfares of Benton Harbor and St. Joseph last Saturday afternoon to witness the spectacular pageant that brought to an end the famous Blossom Week festival of the Twin Cities.

It was a beautiful day—and a thrilling, inspiring parade. The Goddess of the Universe could not have provided the enthusiastic sponsors of the event a more pleasant weekend than that which had been set aside for the eighteenth annual Blossom parade.

But the weather man had not been so kind previously. For weeks past he kept pouring his chilly blasts over the shores of Lake Michigan and as a result only a few of the thousands of fruit trees were in blossom at the time of the year when Michigan's Fruit Belt is generally one vast blanket of rich and gorgeous colors. But such events as planned by the Twin Cities cannot wait for the whims of Old Man Weather.

They must go on regardless of blossoms or no blossoms. And so it was that the great Blossom parade of 1940 took place at a time when the buds on the fruit trees had barely started to burst forth into full bloom.

But what of that? There was enough color, enough of the spectacular, enough of the unusual—and enough pretty little girls and young ladies in the parade to make up for all the shortcomings of Mother Nature.

But first—the crowd. The crowd is always interesting. And no more interesting a gathering ever assembled anywhere than that gathered last Saturday to see the Blossom parade.

There was no shoving, no grousing. Coppers respectfully and courteously asked the crowd to "stand back a bit, please" as the parade headed down the street.

A Holy Roller from the House of David stepped from a most advantageous place he held in the front row along the crowded street so that a young mother holding a babe in arms could better see the parade. A little colored lad was thrilled at the opportunity to pick up a whirling baton dropped into the crowd by a drum major and return it to its owner.

Bands, bands—dozens of them, were spotted everywhere in the long parade.

No, there was no "Three Rivers Cornet Band," or the "Celery City Band" or the "Grand Rapids Furniture Band." These types of bands have nearly disappeared, bands that were made up of music-loving middle aged men who played in the home town bands because they regarded such a thing as a sort of public duty.

The smart-stepping, gaily uniformed bands in Saturday's parade were made up almost exclusively of high school boys and girls. And what a fine showing they made!

Blossom Week in the metropolitan center of Michigan's famous Fruit Belt is, indeed, one of the outstanding civic enterprises of the mid-west. It has developed into one of the famous events of the country—and this year's endeavor has apparently far exceeded any other similar endeavor. The Twin Cities say that next year's event will be even more spectacular, if such a thing is possible.

Perfect Glider Weather Helps in Record Flights

Woman Pilot Soars Distance of Over 25 Miles

(By Skysailor)
Helen Montgomery made the best flight of the day Saturday, May 11, by taking the XYZ Franklin 26.4 miles to a small field eight and a half miles northeast of Monroe. Helen reached an altitude of 6,050 feet. In making these two marks, distance and altitude, Helen has exceeded the marks of all previous women glider pilots in the United States. Due to this fact her flight may be considered the most outstanding flight which has ever been made from Triangle Gliderport. Mrs. Montgomery did not have a sealed barograph along for proof of the flight. Also official observers were not present to witness the take-off or landing. However, it is probable that the Soaring Society of America will recognize this flight as establishing an unofficial American record for women for distance and altitude. There is some report that Lucretia Buxton soared to 4,000 feet in California. An official of the Soaring Society has reported that Mrs. Gus Holderman may possibly have gone up to about 5,000 feet at Elmira, New York several years ago, but he stated that certainly 6,000 feet was a new high. As for distance, previous flights by women apparently have not been for more than three to five miles.

Helen caught her first thermal just at the time of release from the winch tow line and spiraled in this to gain altitude rapidly. She reached 4,700 feet while near enough to Triangle to get back. But with this much altitude and with good clouds forming overhead continuously, she knew that the logical thing to do was to fly as far as possible. So when the thermal became weak and she found it impossible to get higher than 4,700 feet she turned and flew straight with the wind in order to make distance. Thus she flew southeast and four or five good thermals again over Elsie hospital after she had lost altitude down to 3,000 feet. In this second thermal she was able to rise again at about five feet per second until she reached 4,500 feet.

Then the flight was straight downwind for about five miles until Wayne County Airport was showing less, this time 2,200 feet. A great many pilots and spectators saw the Franklin up there apparently getting ready to come in for a landing. Ed Laine of the XYZ Soaring club was there telling people that Helen was the pilot. However, Helen found the best thermal of the day right then and she spiraled rapidly back up this time averaging six feet per second rise with occasional strong bursts of lift which caused the rate of climb indicator to read 20 feet per second up (20 feet per second is about 14 miles per hour and this represents speed when you are going straight up).

Helen got up to 6,050 feet in this strong thermal and was still rising when the air became quite rough, due, perhaps, to the nearness of Lake Erie toward which she had drifted while spiraling. Our brave sailplane pilotess had no parachute, nor had she enough blind flight instruments in the training ship which she was flying. Consequently, she did not want to go up into the clouds just above, and toward which the very strong force of nature were urging with such vehemence. She had to cease spiraling and dive at fairly high speed in a straight line away from the lake in order to get out of the lift.

Helen stated that had she been flying the Wolf she might have been able to go up into the clouds and with the additional altitude and also with other help near the lake she might have been able to continue to Toledo. This seems to have been a very definite possibility.

As it was Helen flew perfectly straight for a long way and went through several areas of strong lift, but she was already too high and shivering with the cold and did not want to go back up again. Finally after making miles of distance she landed in a field near M-56 where highway 379 joins it. She was very much surprised when Ed Laine walked up and asked about the flight. He had followed all the way in his car. He had checked the entire flight on an accurate stopwatch and reported that the time was one hour, 24 minutes and 25 seconds.

By measuring the distance carefully on a fairly reliable map the figure of 26.4 miles has been determined as the airline distance covered.

On Sunday Alcide Santilli caught a good thermal on the first flight of the afternoon in the same XYZ Franklin (which had been brought back from Monroe on the trailer and re-assembled).

Al climbed expertly to about 5,000 feet before he could no longer squeeze any more lift out of that first thermal, then flew almost straight downwind until he caught another one. This time the wind was from the west. Al got up to 6,330 feet in the second thermal over the west edge of Detroit at about Six Mile road. Then he flew north and east, passing over the state fair grounds with an altitude of about 5,000 feet.

Al caught another thermal and was enabled to continue on until he came near to Hartung Airport with only 1,000 feet of altitude left and no thermal at hand upon which to rise again. He therefore, directed his course into Hartung and thereby surprised his instructor under whom he has been taking airplane training.

The distance from Triangle to Hartung has been reckoned at 27.5 miles. Al made this distance in 48 minutes due to the strong wind of 30 miles per hour at 1,000 feet and perhaps stronger above that.

Returning to a consideration of Saturday, it might be well to report that Dallas Wise had been flying his Franklin and had gone up to 2,150 feet and had stayed up 17 minutes, when he consented to let Lyle Maxey have a flight. Maxey is a member of the XYZ Soaring club and has no claim on the Franklin Glider belonging to Dallas Wise, but Maxey was being sent out by him because Helen was off on the jaunt to Monroe with the XYZ ship and Dallas took pity on him. However, Dallas specified that Maxey was not to leave Triangle, but he could stay up as long as he wanted to.

And Maxey did. Lyle is a very smooth pilot anyway. He took that Franklin up to 6,500 feet and stayed up 55 minutes. Now 6,500 feet is equal to positively the highest anyone has ever gone above Triangle in a glider. And Maxey is the lad who did that the first time. He had reached this same altitude in the Wolf Sailplane of the XYZ Soaring club on June 4, 1939. On that occasion he had with him a sealed barograph to prove the altitude.

This time, with the Franklin, Maxey did not have a sealed barograph but he had a good reliable altimeter, so observers believe his story anyway, particularly because it could be seen from the field that he was very high. Airplanes flying near reported that both Maxey and Helen were up to approximately 7,000 feet.

Then when Maxey came down Dallas took his own ship up to 4,500 feet and stayed aloft for 16 minutes and 45 seconds. But Dallas said that he had not cared to leave the field. Again Sunday Dallas caught lift good enough to have given him a nice flight had he cared to take it. The field but he declined. Dallas seemed to enjoy himself Sunday by going up to 1,200 feet on the tow and then flying about 28 miles per hour in a 30-mile wind, thereby flying backward with respect to the ground at about two miles per hour.

George Martin who is recovering from injuries he received in his little episode of two weeks ago thinks that the newspapers might do well to stress his accident less and stress the flying of this last week-end much more. He points out that anybody could do what he did (though they might not live through it) but that it takes experts and good weather to produce flights like he has been hearing about.

George hopes to be back flying at Triangle in a month or so. All the pilots at Triangle are certainly hoping so, too.

Members of the E-Che-Kar club, those long distance walkers of the Detroit News Hikers, learned of the engagement of their "speediest hiker" at a party given by Miss Ella Miller, of Royal Oak. EXTRA editions of a tiny newspaper, edited by the hostess, distributed to the guests announced the engagement of Miss Hazel Nancy Lickfelt, of Plymouth, to Angus B. Diack, of Detroit, by a trail that led over matrimony pass to Heaven's Peak. The trail was well marked by tree blazes and trail signs. A map of Heaven's Peak hung a huge ball inscribed with the date, June 29. The entire paper was devoted to articles and advice to the young people. Weather forecast read: "Preceding June 29—showers. June 29, fair and warmer with showers (of rice) late in the afternoon. The luncheon table at which the bride-elect presided was centered by a ring of forget-me-nots and in the center was a diminutive bride and bridegroom standing beneath a small branch of cherry blossoms. Miss Lickfelt, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Lickfelt, of Standish, has been an active member of the Detroit News Hikers since their organization. She is employed at the Wall Wire Products Company. Mr. Diack, son of Mrs. James Diack, of Aberdeen, Scotland and the late James Diack, is the well known leader of Unit No. 1. Both young people have the congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends.

A very lovely party was given by Mrs. John A. Milley, Thursday, when she entertained at a luncheon bridge honoring the birthday of Mrs. Arthur White. The luncheon table was beautifully decorated in pink and white, a bowl of spring flowers in the center flanked by pink tapers. The guests were members of the Birthday club and were as follows: Mrs. White, Mrs. E. J. Allison, Mrs. Paul Wiedman, Mrs. Raymond Bagheldor, Mrs. Josephine Fish, Mrs. George Cramer, Mrs. Christine Van Poppelen and Mrs. Harold Brisbois.

Training School Doctors Report at Meetings

Conventions to Be at Cincinnati and Atlantic City

This is the time of the year when the results of new investigations are reported to scientific societies in the field of psychiatry and mental deficiency. The American Psychiatric society holds its annual meeting this year at Cincinnati, Ohio, from May 20 to 24. The Wayne County Training school will present at this meeting the following reports of recent investigations: "The Mental Organization of the Brain-Injured Mentally Defective Child," Dr. Alfred Strauss and Dr. Heinz Werner; "A Method of Clinical Interpretation of the Stanford-Binet Test," Dr. Alfred Strauss and Dr. Betty Martinson.

Also there will be exhibited three times during the session a scientific motion picture prepared by Drs. Strauss and Werner, entitled "Deficiency in the Finger Scheme" on methods of diagnosis and treatment of certain individuals who cannot learn arithmetic in the ordinary fashion because of a deficiency in their nervous system organization.

The American Association on Mental Deficiency holds its annual meeting at Atlantic City from May 22 to 25. The Training school will present the following results of its investigations there: "Effect of Benzedrine on Mentally Deficient Children," Miss Mabelle Cutler, Dr. James W. Little and Dr. Alfred Strauss; "Post-Training Progress of Mentally Handicapped Children Given Intensive Remedial Reading Lessons," Dr. Martinson; "Incidence of Central Nervous System Involvement in Higher Grade Moron Children," Dr. Strauss; "Causal Factors in Low Performance" and "Qualitative Analysis of the Binet Test," Dr. Strauss and Dr. Werner; "Education and Treatment of an Imbecile Boy of the Exogenous Type," Dr. Martinson and Dr. Strauss; "Occupational Guidance for the High Grade Mental Defective," Lynn C. Sullivan; "Developmental Progress in Young Mentally Handicapped Children Who Receive Prolonged Pre-Academic Training," Dr. Ruth Macher.

Dr. T. G. Hogge and Dr. Haskell will preside at a section meeting of the association. Dr. Haskell is a member of the council or board of managers of the association.

On May 16, Dr. Haskell gave the dedication address at the new Muscatatuck state school at Butlerville in southeastern Indiana. This is an event of particular significance in the total problem of mental deficiency because it means the abandonment by the state of Indiana of the principle of a custodial asylum for the feeble-minded and the substitution in its place of a state school for the admission of mentally defective children for training and return to the community. Four million dollars has been spent in this project with the assistance of FWA grants. The subject of Dr. Haskell's address is "The Place of the State School in the Modern State."

Today (Friday) in Indianapolis, at the annual meeting of the Indiana Society for Mental Hygiene, Dr. Haskell is scheduled to give the luncheon address on "Changing Viewpoints on Mental Deficiency."

Mr. and Mrs. Clement J. Kelley with Mr. and Mrs. William J. Wiebelhaus, of Burns avenue, Rosedale Gardens, and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Martson, of Harvard road, were guests of the James Corricks in St. Clair for dinner and bridge on Sunday evening.

Well! Well! Check Tots While Fishing

Both Mother and Dad can go fishing this summer while vacationing in some Michigan state parks.

Junior and Susie can be checked with park attendants and Mother won't need to raly round to see that they keep out of mischief. The checking service will be a feature of a WPA recreational department program which is being worked out in cooperation with the conservation department's education division.

The WPA is to provide about 75 nature guides, lifeguards, recreation leaders and playground directors who will be assigned duties in most of the state parks. The largest group will be the nature guides, about 40 of them who will have intensive training in the department's school at Pigeon river state forest near Wolverine for a 10-day period just prior to the opening of the park season on Memorial day.

Plans are complete to establish nature trails in a number of the parks, over which hikers can be taken on conducted trips which will permit them to explore their particular interests in geology, nature study, wildflowers and the like. Trailside museums will add interest to some of the hikes.

The WPA's state park recreational staff is being recruited in all sections of Michigan.

School Exhibits Get High Praise

Parents and friends of students attending Plymouth's Central grade and high school gave high praise for work viewed at the annual school exhibit in the building Thursday evening.

One of the purposes of the showing was to acquaint parents with the individual things their children have accomplished throughout the year, and also to show the work of various departments in the school.

Classroom facilities of two home economics courses, sewing and cooking, have been enlarged during the past year and were open to the public for the first time Thursday. The first floor of a new wing of the building is an extension of the cooking laboratory in which there have been installed work tables, stoves, sinks and built-in cupboards. Directly above is the addition to the sewing department, consisting largely of additional space for fitting and sewing. New display cases and several closet lockers have been built, adding greatly to the efficiency of the department and also the number of students that may be handled adequately.

In the clothing exhibit there were dresses, sportswear, scrapbooks and posters, all the work of individuals in the classes. Also machine sewing was demonstrated.

On display in the home economics laboratory were several exhibits of prepared foods. The displays, all of which were the products of students' ingenuity, included vitamins, easy dishes for brides, substitutions, handy cooking gadgets, quick desserts, baby's daily diet, daily requirements for normal diets and variations of baking powder biscuits. There was also in the model dining room a table correctly set for four persons. The school kitchen and cafeteria were open for inspection.

One of the most interesting exhibits was that of the Industrial Arts department in the school gymnasium. It was surprising to note the high degree of perfection the students had accomplished in turning out special tools and machine parts. Handicraft, including birdhouses, toys, household goods, lamps, bookends and end and coffee tables were all a part of the display. The radio classes had a short-wave receiver set up and in operation. There were also other radios shown in various stages of construction.

Work of the Art department especially interested many of the exhibit-goers. There were examples of landscape painting, lettering, portraits, metalcraft, poster work and costume design, in addition to scrap books and other phases of required work in the department.

In the grade school building each room exhibited its work of the year. Posters and scrapbooks of practically every kind and description were shown. Reminders of safety first, health habits and moral and mental cleanliness featured the posters displayed.

Course instructors were present to discuss with parents any problems or difficulties that children might have. Guests were also privileged to view the new equipment and other improvements which the school system has added recently.

Superintendent G. A. Smith declared that it was one of the most successful affairs of its kind, from a standpoint of displayed work and attendance, that the school has ever attempted.

Delicious meals for 2 to 10 people!

The electric cooker will roast, bake, steam, stew. Many models have a broiler, for grilling and broiling. It will roast a 15-pound turkey or a whole ham. It will cook a complete meal economically for 2 to 10 people. At your cottage, it will add immeasurably to vacation enjoyment. In your home, it will make cooking easier and pleasanter the year around.

The Townsend Creed

We believe in a nation wide retirement security program based on American principles of equity and justice without the possibility of discrimination on grounds of race, color or religion.

We believe that technological advances, declining birth rates with the attendant decrease in the number of those acceptable to industry, and constantly increasing demands for retirement of our senior citizens require retirement should begin at the age of sixty at the latest.

We believe that the retirement of the elders is a matter of concern to the entire body of society and, therefore, should be financed by a universal tax based upon the total volume of business done within the nation.

We believe that any social security program should be made operative on a basis which will return to profitable employment all those not retired, and thus open the doors of opportunity to the youth of our land.

We believe that stagnation of business, idle bank reserves, idle factories, idle men are caused by lack of purchasing power in the hands of the many.

We believe this condition can be remedied only by the release of the taxes collected from the people being returned into the channels of trade and commerce on a scale that will permit the living of the people to be on the typical American standard instead of a bare subsistence level.

We believe that the immediate spending of tax monies and their return through the channels of trade should be restricted wherever possible to the purchase of American goods made by American workmen; that they should be spent within the United States and should be used discretely to avoid retaining employable persons in idleness, and this principle should be contained in any sound recovery program.

We believe that this and all other government activities should be placed on a "pay-as-you-go" basis, as neither this nation nor any other nation can survive constantly increasing indebtedness. We must have a balanced national budget to protect the American way of life.

We're hoping that rules for domestic warfare will sometime be established, and that one of the rules will provide for a signal of gesture by which a husband can indicate that he's had all he can take, thereby stopping the fight.

In the war years 1917 and 1918 the United States Government spent $14,574,000,000. In the New Deal years 1939 and 1940 the Government spent $18,691,000,000, according to Roosevelt budgets.

Woman's buying power - said to represent 80 percent of the total sales in this country - has been curtailed sharply by the New Deal, according to department store sales. There has been a 17 percent decline in the average annual department store sales in the seven New Deal years, as compared to those of 1926-1932.

Scientists Hear Famous Lecturer

Why is it that the Christian Science movement grows apace, notwithstanding the world's lagging interest in the things of Spirit? There is a reason for everything; there must be a reason for this. What is it? Is it not because Christian Science affords a healing refuge for those who are hopelessly afraid, sick, discouraged, and in want? Is it not because, after all material means have failed, Christian Science reveals the availability of God's all-protecting, all-providing goodness and love?

When John the Baptist wondered whether Christ Jesus was the looked-for Messiah, he sent two of his disciples to the Master with the question, "Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another?" Jesus replied by pointing to his works, saying, "Go and show John again those things which ye do hear and see; the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached unto them. And blessed is he who-soever shall not be offended in me."

It is as if he had said: These people were sick and in trouble. Neither prevailing systems of religion nor medicine were capable of healing them. But look at them now! They're well and happy! Could I send to John more convincing proof? Could I offer him clearer evidence of what constitutes true, practical, satisfying religion?

Impressive Incident

Recently a young man applied for membership in a local Christian Science church. During the customary examination, he told the membership committee that he had gone from one denomination to another in what seemed to him to be a fruitless search for God. Finally he had turned to Christian Science and there found that for which he had longed, namely, a satisfying religion.

When the committee asked the applicant why he felt so sure, he answered that it was because he had found in Christian Science a religion whose teaching was based upon a changeless, ever-available, divine Principle. Already, with only a meager understanding of the subject, he said that he had overcome a number of physical difficulties. He had even been led to steady employment in the midst of world-wide unemployment. Having proved this divine Principle to be demonstrable in some ways, he said he was convinced that it was demonstrable in all ways.

To be sure, those who apply for membership in the Christian Science church are not required to express their convictions in the foregoing or any other fixed terms. Nevertheless, this applicant's conclusions were impressive. They showed that he had grasped early one of the basic vital facts about this new-old religion; for truly the religion of Christian Science is based upon invariable divine Principle and demonstrated according to rule.

Writing on page 108 of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, says, "I knew the Principle of all harmonious Mind-action to be God, and that cures were produced in primitive Christian healing by holy, uplifting faith; but I must know the Science of this healing, and I won my way to absolute conclusions through divine revelation, reason, and demonstration."

Dramatics Group Completes Season

Completing one of the most successful seasons since its beginning in Plymouth high school, the dramatics department presented a one-act play, "Pressed Pants," at an annual mother and daughter banquet at Northville, Wednesday evening, May 8, before an audience estimated at 300. This particular production was given first honors in a recent play contest held at the high school. It was enacted by ninth grade students under the personal direction of Winnifred Ford, dramatics coach, who was assisted by Phyllis Nichols, student director.

The club has given approximately 40 public appearances; this year which is the largest number to date ever presented by any one such organization at the school. Twenty-five have been before Plymouth audiences, and 15 away from the city. Belleville, Rosedale Gardens, Northville and rural school audiences in the locality have been favored by the performances. Many have been given at Parent-Teachers association meetings in addition to appearances for various social and civic groups.

During the year, the club has presented 10 different plays and 60 students of the dramatics class have taken parts. Comedies, tragedies, melodramas and farces have been given.

Innovation in dramatics work—a very speaking choir—was organized from members in the class for the first time this year. At every appearance it met with great approval. There were about 30 voices in the group which is directed much in the same manner as a choir except that in place of singing the group speaks. Patriotic numbers are especially effective.

Much of the success of Plymouth high school dramatics is due to the instructor, Miss Ford, who in the eleven years of service here, has built up a reputation for her groups that is difficult to equal in any other school of its size.

Double Rate for Water Users Outside City

Lowered After 100,000 Gallons Have Been Consumed

City water rates are approximately doubled for those living outside the corporate limits of the city of Plymouth, as compared with city users. It was revealed by City Manager C. H. Elliott in a report to the city commission last week. The rate for out-of-the-city residents is lowered after 100,000 gallons have been consumed. This rate applies for the most part to manufacturing plants and other users of a large volume of water. He said, and is in accordance with an amendment to the water ordinance made a few months ago. However, the meter charge is not doubled.

The report listed in detail the cost during 1938-39 of water pumping distribution and miscellaneous expenses. Both interest and principal on bonds together with depreciation were included in the report figures. In a true sense, the interest on bonds and principal should be eliminated in order to determine the actual cost," the city manager declared, "but our auditor figures the depreciation each year and this varies on the different types of equipment."

The figures which I am about to present appeared in the city audit for the last fiscal year and the amount of water consumption during the year of 146,000-600 gallons, was reported in the annual report for the same period."

Following is the tabulation as reported to commissioners: Cost of pumping, $2,993.55 or $0.025 per thousand; distribution, $1,834.37 or $0.012 per thousand; meter expense, $1,350.04 or $0.009 per thousand; general administration $9,979.26 or $0.034 per thousand; interest on bonds and principal, $11,789.26 or $0.081 per thousand; depreciation, $6,940.27 or $0.048; total expenses, $29,886.85 or $0.209 per thousand. The total revenue was $31,578.22 or $0.216 per thousand and the net profit shown was $1,691.37 or $0.009 per thousand.

Will Teach in Lansing Schools

Ronald Keeping, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Keeping, of 345 Irving street, has recently signed a contract to teach chemistry and biology next year at Eastern high school in Lansing. For the past year, he has been an assistant in the chemistry department at Albion college where his master's degree will be conferred upon him in June. He received his bachelor's degree from the Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti in June, 1939. Keeping was graduated from Northville high school in 1935. He lived in that village with his parents until his graduation. Last year Mr. and Mrs. Keeping moved to Plymouth.

Find Dog Owners Are Cooperative

According to reports from the Plymouth police department, city residents have been exceptionally cooperative in keeping their dogs confined during the quarantine which went in effect in 37 lower Michigan counties recently by state regulation.

Although a few complaints have been received, says Vaughan R. Smith, police chief, for the most part, dog owners have been humane in the treatment of their confined dogs. A large number are allowed to run on a wire, while others are on a long chain or rope.

"We suggest that dogs be put on a running wire during the summer months with shelter near by for protection from the heat. Water should always be available for the dogs," the chief said.

It is reported that 15 dogs which were running at large have been captured, impounded for the required 72 hours and then killed since the law went into effect in Plymouth. Owners of dogs which are running at large are licensed, will be informed of the dog's whereabouts. When called for, a $1 impounding fee must be collected in addition to a charge of 35 cents per day for the dog's care. If the dog is not picked up within the three-day limit, it will be destroyed.

The quarantine will be in effect until October 1. If the rabies situation is not under control by that time, it is thought the time will be extended. All dogs must be licensed, unless held on a leash or otherwise segregated. The police department appreciates the calls of residents relative to stray dogs.

Police Enforce 2-Hour Parking

With the approach of summer and heavier traffic in and around Plymouth, the police department is starting out in earnest to check the parking area where there is a two-hour limit.

"During the past few months we have been rather lax in this phase of our duty because of the fact that there didn't seem to be a scarcity of parking space," Police Chief V. R. Smith said the first of the week. "But now because of the congested condition that exists, we are going to really enforce the limit where it is specified by signs."

Two-hour parking is allowed on Main street and Punnaman avenue in the downtown business area.

Because of a new state regulation, the city of Plymouth has ordered a new type of parking sign. It is larger than the ones now in use. The newer type will be 12 by 18 inches and will be placed at intervals of about 30 feet throughout the restricted zone.

You can't get away with a theft talk to the family with a 15-cent cigar in your mouth.

Detroiters Buy Land for Homes Near City

Announcement was made this week by Harry S. Wolfe, realtor, of the sale of the old James Purdy farm on Sheldon road, to Edwin Bierwith, superintendent of the Military Michigan branch of Kellogg-Hayes Wheel corporation of Detroit.

Russ Dawson, Detroit automobile dealer, also purchased the 140-acre Curtis farm on Curtis road through Mr. Wolfe. Ten acres were purchased on Gyde road by Ralph Ford of Detroit.

Mr. Wolfe says that each one of these purchases was made for the purpose of obtaining land on which to build homes. Each week more and more Detroit people are coming to Plymouth and vicinity to make permanent residence.

Church Circle Gives Luncheon

Business girls, usually prevented by business hours from attending mid-day affairs, will be able to be present at the spring luncheon, sponsored by Circle 4 of the Presbyterian Ladies' Auxiliary, Wednesday, May 22. Luncheon will be served from 11:15 until 12:30 for business girls, with the regular luncheon and program beginning at 1:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Howard Wood, chairman, has on her committee, Mrs. William Arscott, Mrs. M. Montioth, and Mrs. Jack McAllister. Mrs. Milton Lobbie will be mistress of ceremonies.

A book talk by Mrs. Anthony Matulis will feature the program, with music provided by the high school girls' double quartette. Mrs. Matulis plans to discuss the works of Edna Ferber.

A Maypole will center the luncheon table, with vari-colored streamers running to May baskets containing spring flowers. Mrs. Edward Dobbs is in charge of the table decorations.

Mrs. Wood announces that reservations may be obtained by phoning her or any other member of the circle.

P. H. S. Student Wins Scholarship

Betty Dean Jewell, tenth grade student at Plymouth high school, has recently been named as the outstanding 4H club member for Wayne county in 1939 and for this honor has been given a $25 scholarship toward entrance in Michigan State college by the state board of agriculture. Miss Jewell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Jewell, of 1147 1/2 Rockland avenue, located about five miles east of Plymouth.

The Wayne county winner participated in 4H work at Plymouth school and received her high awards in sewing.

Delegates from 63 other Michigan counties have been given similar awards. The scholarship may be used toward tuition for any one of the four-year courses or for short course attendance at the East Lansing college.

Use of the scholarship depends on the type of course selected. Those who enroll in the four-year course will get $15 the first year and $10 the second. For short courses, the scholarship is applied against entrance fees for each of the two years.

Miss Jewell, being a sophomore in high school, has not decided definitely on a college course, but she says that she will, without a doubt, use the scholarship money to an advantage.

Plymouth Gardens Team Wins

Behind the effective pitching of Monty, the Plymouth Gardens softball team defeated the Livonia club, 18-4, Friday night, for their first league victory of the season. C. Allen formed the receiving end of the winning battery. Monty had one bad inning when Livonia scored three of their four runs.

Sunday the Dunbar Davis team from Plymouth met defeat when again the Gardens team had a perfect and scored 22 runs. The Plymouth team managed to push seven runs across the plate. C. Molick and C. Allen was the winning battery.

Molick pitched one of the best games of his career when he fanned the first seven men to face him and also struck out the last five. Sixteen men were stopped at the plate, going down with the count. Davis' hurler lacked support in some instances which allowed three unearned runs to cross the platter.

The highlight of the game came in the sixth inning when Hamilton, of Plymouth Gardens, hit a home run with two men on base.

The Gardens' team played at Elm Wednesday and have their first home league game Wednesday at Stark on Stark road, just south of Plymouth road, when they will meet the strong Clarenceville team.

Accepts Bid for Garbage

The city accepted a bid for the city garbage contract from Roy E. Grandsen for $550 last week. Mr. Grandsen, who lives on Joy road and operates a piggery, has had the city contract for the last three years.

According to an announcement made by the city last week the regular summer schedule of garbage collection will begin Monday. The collection schedule follows:

Precinct No. 1, Monday and Thursday mornings; Precinct No. 2, Monday and Thursday afternoons; Precinct No. 3, Tuesday and Friday mornings; and Precinct No. 4, Tuesday and Friday afternoons. Garbage from stores will be picked up on Wednesday and Saturday mornings.

Books on Music at Plymouth Library

If the celebration of Music Week has made you want books on composers or their music, some of these books at the Plymouth library may interest you:

Fire Levels Farm Buildings

The barn, shed and corn crib at the farm of Richard Hancock, located at the corner of Joy and Merriman roads, in Livonia township, were destroyed by fire Wednesday morning.

Plymouth firemen were called to put out the blaze about 8:30 o'clock which had started from a truck in the barn. The fire had gained such headway that they were unable to bring it under control. However, the house and another nearby shed were saved.

Fire Chief Fred Wagnerschutz estimated the damage to be approximately $500.

Wouldn't it be tragic if you missed it!

JUST suppose that down the street a dealer had an automobile so close to your heart's desire that it might have been made to your own specifications.

Suppose it had all the life and zip and action you could ask for and a big, durable, thrifty power plant that could match even fine watch-works for smoothness.

Suppose you knew that car set the standard for real modernity and value—but just assumed that it must be out of your reach because it was so obviously good!

Wouldn't it be tragic if you passed up that honey — just because you didn't inquire what the prices actually were?

Here and there that's happening, we fear. Happening because people who want Buicks aren't getting the actual facts.

Maybe you didn't know that there are five 1940 Buicks at five different price ranges.

That every one of these has a big, husky, straight-eight engine electrically balanced after assembly by Buick's own exclusive process.

That soft, stout coil springs are found on every one — that every one has recoil-mounted Knee-Action, finger-flick transmission, bona fide Buick styling — features literally counted by the dozen.

Maybe you didn't know, above all, that for Buick SPECIAL models, current prices begin as low as $895 for the business coupe, delivered at Flint. That even when you add transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), and optional equipment and accessories, delivered prices are the lowest ever on such value.

But all that's true. You can prove it any day by asking for a demonstration that costs nothing, and involves no obligation.

So why take a chance of missing something gorgeously great that could be yours for the trying? Do something, and do it now — go see your Buick dealer!

Prices subject to change without notice.

Stark School News

A few days ago a discussion came up in science class about the making of ice cream. Many questions came up and it was finally decided to make some because many of the children had never seen it being made before.

After many days of planning it was decided to make it on Monday afternoon, May 13. Some of the girls baked. The boys turned the freezers and we had plenty of ice cream to go around.

After school, Mrs. Bowser, Miss Wise, and Miss Beaufait enjoyed some ice cream and cake that was left.

—Shirley Luttermoser

The Stark school graduating class will hold its exercises, Wednesday evening, May 22 at 8:00 p.m. There will be a large class this year, each graduate taking part in the exercises. Rev. Robert M. Trenery, from the Newburg Methodist church, will attend the exercises and give the invocation and benediction.

Miss Jameson, from the county office will give a short address to the graduates.

—Stella Phillips.

The school picnic will be held May 23 at Plymouth Riverside park.

Ice cream will be bought with the money made from the dance last Saturday night.

Games will be played and prizes will be given. Baseball will also be played. The cars will leave the school at 10:00 o'clock.

—Avis McKinney

The Stark boys' hard ball team, Monday, May 13 defeated Livonia Center, 1-0 in a very thrilling game in which both pitchers struck out 17 batters but Henry, our pitcher, only allowed three hits and Livonia's pitcher allowed five hits. For the first six innings both pitchers went along fine. Then in the seventh inning a Livonia player got around to third base with only one out and Henry struck out the remaining two batters. In Stark's half of the inning Joe Drake got to second base on a fluky hit and a pop went to third on a wild pitch and scored on James Roberts' single to end the game.

—Joe Drake

Stark school's boys and girls played Livonia school boys and girls in baseball game, Monday, May 13.

The girls played nine innings stopping every so often for a drink.

The Stark girls defeated Livonia girls by the score of 20-5. The Stark pitchers played a very close game, each pitcher striking out 17 men, but Stark school boys won with the score of 1-0.

We compliment Livonia school children for their fine sportsmanship.

—Margaret Jenkins.

The shows at Stark school will be discontinued in two weeks. The shows on May 20 and May 27, will begin at 7:30. Next week the feature will be "Sons of Steel" with an all-star cast.

—Bonnie Galamore

Can't any woman who is "civic-minded" help the older girls of Stark school? All we are asking is that one of the women will be our leader of our Campfire group, we are willing to cooperate, and will obey.

Won't some one help us? Please let us know.

—Carolyn Leurck.

Leaving is so hard to do. Leaving friends whom you know, leaving things in which we took part.

Oh! I want to stay. But I must go my way. Slowly as I walk o'er the floor headed for the door.

Not to come regular any more, I stop and think of friends. To think that this is the end I must leave, you must stay; Then, soon, you will be on the way.

—Carolyn Leurck, Eighth grade.

Softball and Tennis Tournaments Start

Eleven teams will contest in an elimination softball tournament starting this week. The three freshmen teams are captained by Pat Dunlop, Beth Hoehsel and Bud Granger...

Owens' Low Score Wins Golf Match

All Owens led the Plymouth golf team to victory Thursday night, May 9, against a strong Dearborn four.

Jack Sequin was playing as first man and Captain Warren Hoffman both beat him by two strokes when they carded 88's.

This victory gives the golf team a season record of four league victories against two defeats, which is not bad at all considering that only three members of the squad are seniors...

Several of the students who were interviewed admired the idea of preserving buildings, industries, and other products of antiquity...

They greatly admired the exterior to the Mary and Martha Chapel but were unable to see the inside of this building since it is in the process of decoration.

The group was divided upon the subject as to whether they would like to have lived during the past periods. The opposing forces contended that the absence of conveniences, which we have now, proved that the people of this generation were foolish to desire to live in "the olden days."

The process of blowing glass was the most interesting display to the group as a whole since most of them had never seen it before.

So to cap the climax the carriage and omnibus rides were definitely accepted. With part riding inside, part seated by the ruder, and part munching ham-burgers, the eighth grade students started home after a very enjoyable day.

Makin' the Rounds

Question of the week: What caused the rift between Annabel (B) and Earl (W)? Can you imagine the "11:30 gal" getting into at 11:27... nice going!

A GOOD MOVE.

The Plymouth Mail wishes to extend its commendation to city officials for the good sense they are using in the purchase of the Rauch property for a library site. There is no better location in the entire city of Plymouth for such a purpose. The purchase price being paid is within reason. In fact, its owner has been somewhat liberal in his offer to the city. It is also gratifying to know that it is the intention of the city to erect a new structure instead of trying to use the present house as a makeshift library. While it may not be possible to immediately erect a new building, carefulness on the part of the city will provide funds for such a purpose within a reasonably short time.

The location is ideal. It is directly across the park and near the high school, which will prove most convenient for the students. It will bring nearer completion the establishment of all public institutions around the recently created civic center. Already located around the attractive Civic Center park is the city hall, the high school, the Methodist church, the Christian Scientist church, the Presbyterian church and soon the new library. What a fine start towards the establishment of a real civic center!

POLITICS IN FARM CREDIT.

The New Deal is busily at work pushing the Jones-Wheeler bill, hoping to transform the Farm Credit Administration into a political agency of the Department of Agriculture. If this bill should become law, says a Washington information service, farmers would be robbed of all participation in the direction of the great agency that holds the power of life and death over the financing of farms and farm homes.

Protests by farmers, farm organizations and cooperatives have been trampled down by New Deal manipulators of the new scheme to rob farmers of their last shred of independence. Holding out the poison bait of "lower interest rates for farm loans," the politicians who direct this scheme hope to jam the bill through Congress in time to enable the Wallace third-term outfit to bulldoze farmers into supporting the New Deal in the coming election under pain of being denied loans to save their farms and homes.

Secretary Wallace cynically waves aside farmers who demand a voice in farm loan policy. "Land appraisals in the Farm Credit Administration cannot be soundly made," he says, "except by people who are thoroughly familiar with policies of the Department of Agriculture." By politicians and bureaucrats instead of farmers, in other words.

With farm loans under control of the Wallace outfit, farmers needing financial relief would become bound to comply with every political and economic demand of the New Deal under penalty of being refused loans.

Farmers are entitled to obtain loans on the same terms as are granted to any other business borrowers. No political coercion, and no pressure to comply with cock-eyed economic theories should be tolerated. The New Deal scheme to gain political control of farmers can be smashed if farmers and farm organizations promptly warn their representatives in both houses of Congress to kill the Jones-Wheeler bill.

But It's True

A diamond may be destroyed by heat. Heated to a high temperature, it may burn as easily as a piece of coal when dipped in a tank of oxygen. The gas arising from this combustion is carbon dioxide, similar to the gas which bubbles in soda water at any ice cream dispensary.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT!

The Detroit Free Press the other morning quoted State Tax Commissioner Melville B. McPherson as saying that, "This is no year for leaders to swap votes in a hotel room for somebody we don't want." His reference was to some candidate for public office.

How strange this sudden reformation!

It was at the last Republican state convention at Flint at which candidates for public office were nominated when "Mel" was the beneficiary of the "hotel room" vote swapping scheme that he now condemns. It gave him the Republican nomination for a place on the spring ticket as a candidate for the state board of agriculture. Mr. McPherson went into the convention with just three "political bosses" backing his nomination. No one else wanted him on the ticket. The three self-proclaimed "bosses" went up into a hotel room in the Durant hotel the night before the nomination was to take place, selected "Mel" as a candidate for the board, and the convention delegates the next forenoon swallowed him just as a babe would take a dose of castor oil. The voters retaliated by giving "Mel" the smallest vote of any candidate on the ticket—and how they did mow him down in his own balliwick!

This reformation of "Mel" is so sudden and startling and he has figuratively swept folks who know him well, off their feet. In fact, some have not yet recovered from the shock.

Then, too, when one thinks of "Mel" aligning himself with a clean, hard-fighting chap like Tom Dewey—well, it all seems funny and phoney—and it is just that.

Rambling Around WITH EDITORS OF MICHIGAN

Their views about public problems and issues.

ABOUT ELECTING JUDGES

The law which provides for non-partisan election of judges is the result of efforts of idealists, who know more about idealism and less about the practical workings of government. It is but another step toward doing away with government through political parties and the substitution of government by individuals. Frankly, we believe that government through political parties has worked as well or better than any other form of government ever known. True, the idealism of nonpartisanship is an attractive theory, but we do not believe it is a safe theory in the long run. Theoretically, primary elections are ideal, but in their practical workings they have accomplished nothing toward the improvements of government; on the other hand, they have let a lot of self-starting demagogues without sound political convictions get into office to exploit the people because they were responsible to no party. We do not believe the new method of electing judges will add one bit to the quality of our judiciary.—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

WE MIGHT AS WELL LOOK FACTS IN THE FACE

We have been thinking about the national thinking. Do people have a good perspective of their country. Or—as someone has said—do we fail to see the forest because of the trees? This is a big country. It has changed rapidly in this century. Have these changes come so rapidly that the mass human mind is unable to keep up with it? Are we failing utterly to appraise the significance of happenings? Did the artificial and rip-roaring prosperity of the '20's get our national viewpoint all out of kilter?

One of the famous fact-finding and research institutions of this country is the Brookings Institute located in Washington, D. C. In analyzing the things that are necessary for economic progress in the United States, the Brookings Institute says that three things are needed. These three things, boiled down to simplest terms, are:

- Increased production
- Higher wages
- Lower prices

While simply stated, these factors are not simply attained. It takes more than wishful thinking to bring them about. It is not a job for theorists. It is not a job for amateurs. Yet, it can be done . . . for the good reason that it HAS been done.

It occurs to us that governmental management is not the solution. Increased production, for instance, simply means that more things of value will be produced for use. In order to accomplish the use, there must be higher wages to enable the users—the consumers—to buy and pay for this increased production. Along with the higher wages, there must be lower costs to assist the consumers with their higher wages to buy more abundantly.

But what about over-production? you ask. The country question is, have we ever had over-production? We doubt it. Instead, there is a marked degree of under-consumption. Higher wages and lowered prices are the best antidote yet devised for under-consumption.

Governmental experiments and economic tinkering by amateurs in the last seven years has cost this country amazingly. B. C. Forbes, an economist of the practical school, says that the national debt on a family of four people has increased under the New Deal from $500 to $1,700. Making a reasonable allowance for the post-depression period of 1933-34-35, when the government was forced to adopt drastic relief measures, it is clearly evident that this sort of debt-increase is unwarranted.

Are we going to allow it to continue? Have we become a nation of softies—a nation of lazy beggars—who will sit on the seat of our pants and let a gang of wishful spenders wreck our national economy?—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County Republican-News.

cooperation of the Woman's club in this work. Current events were given by Miss Hazel Conner and a round table discussion was led by Miss Rose Hawthorne. The perplexing subject of the graduating class is one that is near the heart of parents and pupils at this time and following is an excerpt from a short paper on that subject which was presented to the club by Mrs. Frank Shattuck: "I feel that this is certainly a 'timely topic' and I believe we do well to pause and consider whether we are wise in letting this phase of this yearly event assume such undue proportions. Now, I do not advocate depriving our girls of their joy and happiness at this time in their lives, nor of a reasonable amount of pretty clothes, but I do feel that our young girls are allowing the thought of clothes and banquets and presents, etc. to overshadow the truer meaning of commencement, until the knowledge which they have gained, or at least should have gained, and the diploma which they hope to receive are secondary considerations, and in their thoughts 'Diploma' is spelled with a small 'd,' while 'dress' begins with a large capital. This state of things also fosters a spirit of rivalry, jealousy and selfishness, which is contrary to the whole spirit of our American school system. At present the class meets and decides that they will have such and such dresses of such and such a style or quality, and shoes of such a style or price and hats ditto, and so on with the various accessories, and they come home and give out their ultimatum, and father puts up the money and mother puts up the worry and so this problem has come to be a perennial one, only possibly growing a little more complex each year. Instead of allowing the classes to meet and arrange everything by themselves, why should it not be better for them to consult with the teachers, and a conference with the parents might not be entirely out of place. And so for the future classes of our high school, I plead for cooperation on the part of all, school board, teachers, parents and pupils that there may come to our boys and girls a truer estimate of life and its values, and a growing vision of earnestness and purity and relegate this question to its proper place and then it will cease to be a problem."

Captain Turner of the Cunard liner, Lusitania, which was sunk last Friday off Old Head of Kinsale by a German submarine, testified before the coroner on Monday that the ship was struck by only one torpedo. But this deadly missile found a vital spot and sent the liner to the bottom in less than 20 minutes, carrying with her more than 1,000 souls. Among the prominent Americans who lost their lives in the great disaster were Charles Frohman, the New York theatrical producer; Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, the capitalist; Charles Klein, the playwright; and Mrs. Elbert Hubbard.

A pleasant meeting of the Order of Eastern Star was held Thursday evening, when officers elect were installed. C. H. Rauch, worthy patron, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Maude Pettigill, as past matron, and Mrs. Emma Lyon, past worthy grand matron of Hillsdale, were presented with handsome souvenir spoons of Plymouth as gifts from chapter members.

CONTRARY TO POPULAR CONCEPTION GLASSES CAN BE MOST BECOMING TO CHILDREN, PARTICULARLY IF CARE IS USED IN THE SELECTION OF BECOMING STYLES . . .

The selection of glasses for children is highly important and it demands the skill of a trained optometrist so that their youth will not be marred by unsightly frames and the freshness of their age will not be changed.

Equally important is the fitting and only the most modern methods should be employed so that the many years of seeing ahead of them will not be impaired. A slight mistake today might cause them great suffering in later life. We specialize in fitting children's glasses.
