Plan Benefit Program for War Relief

Red Cross Launches Big Drive in Plymouth

Chauncey H. Rauch was appointed chairman of a committee to sell tickets for a Red Cross benefit program which is to be held in Plymouth some time during the next few weeks. Acting with him on the committee are Edwin A. Schraeder, Charles J. Thumme, Mrs. Robert Willoughby, Mrs. F. R. Hebeiser, R. M. Daane and Otto Bayer. It has been decided that the play, music and other entertainment will be featured.
The program is being given in order to raise funds for European war relief. The Detroit chapter, of which Plymouth is a member, has been assessed $500,000 to raise during the first part of June.

Because there is not time to make the accustomed house-to-house canvass, Plymouth residents are asked to leave donations at either the Plymouth United or First National banks, Beyer drug store or send them to the association treasurer, Mrs. William Wood, 963 Roosevelt, by June 1.
The present Red Cross drive for funds is the first official move for additional money the organization has made since the onset of the present European wars. When the war first began, the American organization offered to aid any belligerent nation.

Plymouth residents may designate just which country's injured or homeless individuals they wish their contribution to assist. The money will be sent to the nation named.
Those who wish to contribute to the fund are asked to give as much as they feel they can afford so that the desired goal may be reached in one big drive.

Jack Butz and Jack Gettleton, Plymouth's No. 1 doubles team, won the regional crown and will represent this high school in the national tournament.

Mr. Emery, in addition to his high executive position in the state chapter, is a lieutenant colonel in the United States reserve army. His home is in Detroit.

Commissioners Approve Budget for 1940

Over $2,000 Decrease This Year in Total Tax Burden

Municipal tax rates in the city of Plymouth will be reduced 50 cents this year, it was announced Monday night when city commissioners adopted the 1940 budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The budget committee reported that the reduction from $13.80 to $12.80 per thousand dollars assessed valuation could be made because the total tax burden on city residents had been reduced about $1,000 for next year.

It was stated that the city will have to raise $90,435.80 through taxes and other revenues during the new fiscal year as compared with the $91,399.86 required last year. Of this year's total expenditure, $21,186 will be raised from non-tax revenues, which were deducted from the total expenditure, leaves $69,249.80 to be spread on the city assessment roll. This is a reduction of $2,674.06 over the amount levied on Plymouth taxpayers last year.

The difference in the amount of the tax budget is a decrease in the amount of the tax being taken care of by the county at the present time. However, the amount will be made up in a county levy for the same purpose.
In connection with the per capita rate of taxation, it was stated that a few months ago when the proposed budget was first submitted to commissioners, that the rate would likely be reduced 80 cents. However, commissioners felt that such a drastic reduction, although adequately balancing the budget, it would not cause a surplus for emergency. So it was suggested that the additional 30 cents be taxed. These extra 30 cents will amount to $1,620 when spread over the entire assessment.

A portion of the proceeds from the tax will be returned to the disabled veterans who made the poppies and the remainder will be used for the welfare of local veterans, their children and child relief.
Chairman of the Plymouth Poppy sale is Harry Brown, assisted by Howard Eckles, George Gottschalk, William Vander Veen and the commanders of the two service organizations, William Keefe, of the American Legion and Melvin Algire, of the Ex-Service Men's club.

On the new budget $25,080 was prorated to the general fund; $10,640, highway fund; $13,758, bond and interest fund; $2,860, fund; $1,000, note fund; $3,570, fire fund; $7,000, street lighting fund; $700, welfare fund (burials); $4,400, garbage and rubbish fund; $4,325, equipment fund; and $7,705, contingent fund.
The following items, totaling $21,186, are the non-tax revenues as estimated by the budget committee which were deducted from the total expenditures: General fund, $9,450; highway fund, $6,400; sewer fund, $750; police fund, $2,200; fire fund, $500; street lighting fund, $36; welfare fund, $175; garbage and rubbish, $775; equipment fund, $500, and contingent fund, $400.

Commissioners also approved a budget for Riverside cemetery amounting to $5,510 and also the budget for the water fund which total was $31,475. The cemetery fund, $177,50 less than that called for last year, but the water fund amounted to $525 more. Because both of these funds are kept in balance from revenues received from services rendered but utilities are self-supporting.
The city manager said that it is possible to make a budget without reason for just about any amount the residents might desire. The current expenditure could have been made smaller or larger. But, were it for a smaller amount, there would be a less number of services that the city could perform. And along the same line, unnecessary calling for a larger tax levy for a greater amount of money would probably make for more improvements, but also be a heavier burden on city taxpayers.

In relation to this the city manager said that all Plymouth officials are working for the best in the city and he felt that the 1940 budget covered everything adequately. He said, "We have estimated each item carefully, and not one cent is spent where it is not needed. Neither have we unnecessarily lowered any one fund to an extent that we do not derive the benefits from it that are needed for the good of the city and its residents."
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wiseman were entertained by relatives in Detroit, on Mother's day.

100 Attend Ladies' Night

One hundred Rotarians, their wives and guests enjoyed ladies' night held at the Hotel Mayflower Friday evening. As favors each lady was presented with a compact in memory of the occasion.
The feature of the evening's entertainment was the appearance of a University of Michigan student, Robert E. Friers, who presented a varied program of motion pictures and lectured concerning his recent trip around the world. His pictures taken in Asia and the Orient were especially interesting. Mr. Friers said that the entire trip cost him only $87.

A girls' group from Redford high school presented several musical numbers. The meeting was arranged by Jean R. Marshall and members of the Fellowship committee of which he is chairman.
Rev. Walter Nichol, pastor of the Presbyterian church is chairman of the meeting today (Friday). He has secured Rev. John B. Forsythe, of the Rose Garden Presbyterian church, to speak on a Memorial day theme.

Tomorrow Is Poppy Day

Saturday is Poppy Day in Plymouth. The paper flowers, indicative of the immortal war poem "Flanders Field" and the poppies that grow there over the graves of the war dead will be sold by members of the two organizations in addition to the ladies' auxiliary members of both.

A portion of the proceeds from the sale will be returned to the disabled veterans who made the poppies and the remainder will be used for the welfare of local veterans, their children and child relief.
Chairman of the Plymouth Poppy sale is Harry Brown, assisted by Howard Eckles, George Gottschalk, William Vander Veen and the commanders of the two service organizations, William Keefe, of the American Legion and Melvin Algire, of the Ex-Service Men's club.

Mrs. Addie Weise, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weiss, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Feistle, of Wyandotte; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kime, son, Marvin, Mr. and Mrs. John Richards, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Barrett and sons, of Walled Lake were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph King, North Territorial road.

RED CROSS PROCLAMATION

To the citizens of Plymouth:
WHEREAS, millions in Europe are poverty-stricken, homeless, helpless and friendless through no fault of their own;

WHEREAS, these millions—seven million in Poland, seven million in Holland, eight million in Belgium and still other millions in Finland, Denmark and Norway are doomed to death from starvation or disease unless we help;

WHEREAS, the American Red Cross has been given permission to completely supervise the distribution of all its gifts to European refugees;
WHEREAS, the American Red Cross has designated next week as National Red Cross week, the primary purpose of which is to raise the sum of $10,000,000 to alleviate a little of the suffering in Europe;
NOW, THEREFORE, as Mayor of Plymouth, I do proclaim the week beginning on Sunday, May 26, as American Red Cross week in Plymouth, with the hope that we may share a little of our plenty with those who now have nothing. When we realize that Canada with a population only one-twelfth of that of the United States has already contributed five million dollars to the Red Cross, we feel even more the responsibility of helping with our own country's present gift of $10,000,000.
Plymouth has always given generously of that of the local Red Cross chapter by giving promptly and cheerfully.

Commission Confirms 1940 Assessment Roll

City Assessor and Board of Review Reports
Roll Shows Increase of Only $2,000 Over Last Year
The assessed valuation of the city of Plymouth for the coming fiscal year is $5,410,140, according to a report from the city assessor, William B. Petz, and the board of review, which was just confirmed by the city commission. This year's roll shows an increase of slightly more than $2,000 over the assessment for last year.

In spite of the fact that more than 50 new homes were built in the city last year, the assessment shows an increase of only $2,330 over last year. This seemingly inaccurate amount is easily explained, according to City Manager C. H. Elliott. There was $70,000 taken off the roll due to the Scavenger land sale in which 322 pieces of property in the city reverted to the state during the year and have not been sold as yet. Another $60,000 was deducted from this year's total for depreciation on buildings.

Contracts Let for Purity Storage Lockers

Galín Announces Construction to Start Monday

It was announced this week by Dave Galín, proprietor of the Purity Market, that contracts have been let for the construction of the Purity Market Storage Lockers which is to be kept at a temperature of zero. It is being constructed so that residents of Plymouth may buy food in larger quantities and store it in the lockers. Mr. Galín stated that as a general rule people may save about $100 a year on their food bills by using storage cabinets. There are 35 such units in operation in the state at the present time.

Cost of the building and installation of the unit will be about $7,000. A small service charge will be made to users for the purpose of defraying expenses in the operation of the refrigeration plant.

The basement of the new structure building will be used for sausage making, smoking of meats and the dressing of fowl for the market. The room now used for that purpose will be turned over to the refrigeration department to be used for the processing of meats for storage.

Business Women Attend State Meet

mony was significant of the general feeling of national pride and astute awareness of world conditions. Mrs. Lucy R. Milligan, head of the women's division of the National Association of Manufacturers, gave a splendid talk entitled "Frontiers of the Future." Mrs. Milligan believes that "new frontiers" for America exist in the chemical laboratories of our great industries and will in the end provide new supplies and new jobs to save this country from a revolution. Mrs. Milligan, the daughter of Anna Sasse Richardson, was a most charming person. Her informality and delightful sense of humor added much to the enjoyment of the very fine message she gave to those who were fortunate enough to hear her.

On Sunday morning a sunrise "Peace Service" which was to have been held in the John Ball park band shell took place at the Pantjind because of weather conditions. Dr. Milton McGorrell of Fountain street Baptist church had a timely message for the several hundred women present and the Excelsior Club, an organization composed of men of Dutch descent sang several appropriate numbers.

Probably the speaker whose talk was anticipated with the greatest of curiosity was Mrs. Margaret Kaiser who spoke at the Sunday Auld Lang Syne luncheon on "Why Women Back Dutch Descent." Mrs. Kaiser, a German woman, now a citizen of the United States, was a former leader in the German Woman's Movement. She returned to this country for permanent residence with her husband and four sons last December because her "racial" adjustment made it unsafe for her to live under Nazism. Among the many vital, startling things she said, she made the statement, "Hitler may not be defeated by arms, but sometime, when peace is again established, he will be defeated by ideas. Ideas work only in peace times."

The Plymouth delegates to the convention were Hildur Carlson, Sarah Gayde and Hanna Strasen. Hildur Carlson, who has been recording secretary of District No. 1 of the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs during the past year, served on the state elections committee while attending the convention.

state meet. The school's No. 1 singles man, Bob Norman, who up until the regionals had not dropped a single Twin Valley league match so far this season, lost to Anderson, of St. Clair. Because of the fact that he was runner-up for the title, he will also go to Ann Arbor next Friday and Saturday for the state-wide tournament. The St. Clair singles man has been state high school champion for the past two years.

Butz and Getleson made five and one-quarter points toward their team's victory. Norman garnered two and one-half, while Douglas Lorenz, playing in the singles matches, won one point. Shirley Dunham and Bob Birt, in the doubles, won three-quarters of a point.

This tennis meet is the only Regional affair which Plymouth has been host this year. The meet was put on with the cooperation of the Michigan State High School Athletic association. Trophies were awarded team champions and each event winner and runner-up was given a medal.

Mrs. Norman Downs, of Detroit, spent Wednesday with her mother, Mrs. Charles Caruthers.

these delegates wanted to be there before the delegates might begin swarming out over the city streets. He wanted to tell them just what to do when they went into the district "caucus"; to recognize only those wearing pink carnations. Yes, sir, the delegates had to have instructions as to how they should goose-step in the convention.

After receiving instructions in the ABC's of what to do and what not to do—that is, just how to vote—the doors of the passenger cars were opened.

Ever see cattle herded down a roadway?

The writer thought back to the days when he used to see herds of cattle being driven down-a thoroughfare from the railroad yards, as he saw these delegates herded into a big hotel room at Grand Rapids.

And there they voted not according to the dictates of their own judgment, but voted just as their chief herdsman told them how to vote!

What a mockery of decent party government!

Kind reader, this is not just mere jest. The herding of the Wayne county delegates and

The Golden Text (Psalms 84: 2): "My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God." Among the Bible citations in this passage (Romans 12: 1, 2): "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be ye not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God." Correlative verses to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 261): "Hold thought steadfastly to the enduring, the good, and the true, and you will bring them into your experience proportionately to their occupancy of your thoughts."

CHECKS ON DAD
TRENTON — Freddie Bjork, three years old, thought it would be a good idea to visit the plant where his father works, so he walked into a local grocery and bought a loaf of bread and a sack of potato chips, charging them to his father. When police found the youngster, bound for the factory, he had eaten the potato chips and part of the bread.

Administration forces are working to block the requirement that relief spending shall be spread over the fiscal year. If they succeed, it would be possible to spend all the money before election.

With proper use and management, wildlife is a renewable resource. By cropping only the natural annual increase, it may be maintained indefinitely.

Over 65,000 Acres Controlled by AAA

Final summary of the AAA farm plans signed in Wayne county this spring shows that 1296 farmers intend to cooperate with the 1940 triple A program. Maurice C. Bird, chairman of the Wayne County Agricultural Conservation association, reported this week. May was the busy time for completing and signing the farm plans.

The sign-up this year indicates that about 65,959 acres, or 60 percent of Wayne county cropland, will be farmed under the provisions of the agricultural conservation program.

Throughout Michigan, 145,220 farmers have indicated by signing their farm plans that they intend to cooperate with the agricultural conservation program in 1940, according to a report Mr. Bird received from Maurice A. Doan, state AAA chairman. These 145,220 farmers will operate about 74 percent of Michigan's cropland this year. Doan said in the report.

The farm plan, which each farmer has worked out with the help of an AAA committeeman, includes the acreage allotments for the farm, the soil-building practices which will be carried out on the farm, and an estimate of the maximum payment which the farmer may earn through his cooperation with the 1940 AAA program.

Farmers who have signed their farm plans and who cooperate in the program this year will be eligible for (1) 1940 agricultural conservation payments, (2) price adjustment payments, and (3) crop loans, if offered.

Checking of farm performance will begin about June 1.

Gives Warning on Annual Burnings

"Save the torch and save the wildlife," paraphrasing R. G. Hill, Michigan State college game management specialist.

He cautions farmers interested in the welfare of ground nesting birds to use discretion in annual burning operations.

Pheasants, quail, and Hungarian partridge are now incubating their clutches of eggs in grassy fence rows, meadows, woodlots and similar areas offering protection. Young rabbits also may be found in similar places as well as in clover and alfalfa fields.

Even though game birds roost if their first effort is broken up, succeeding nesting may not be successful, Hill explains. That is especially true if the re-nesting occurs in hay or grain fields in which mowing operations are necessary. Late-brooded pheasants may not have their adult plumage by fall, making it difficult for hunters to distinguish sexes during the hunting season.

Not only may the annual burning of meadows and other grass areas reduce nesting cover for wildlife, but according to pasture specialists at Michigan State college, such a practice has little or no beneficial result to pasture conditions. Where the fire is intense, considerable damage to the grass roots may result. In all cases, the mulch on the surface of the soil is destroyed.

Get-rich-quick schemes are irresistibly attractive to frugal people.

Tiny Red Mites Plague Housewife

No Paul Bevere was on hand to warn Michigan residents this week of the approach of "red-coats" who silently and without fan-fare moved into numerous Michigan houses much to the chagrin of housewives.

These "red-coats" are clover mites, according to E. I. McDaniels of the Michigan State college entomology department. The tiny eight-legged insects, about the size of a pin-head will do no damage during their sojourn in the house except for leaving unsightly red blotches when the housewife inadvertently crushes one of the pests on the wall or on fabrics. Likely the mites will depart as suddenly as they appeared, Professor McDaniels says.

The best control measure, as recommended by Professor McDaniels, is the application of Rotenone dust on the sunny side of the house, and in the nearby grass and shrubbery. This dust, obtainable at drug stores, is non-poisonous to pets and human beings. It is deadly, however, to the clover mites and also will kill plant lice that may be on the shrubbery.

Clover mites spend the winter on deciduous trees or shrubbery and the present infestations are the result of the mites' seeking a warm place to complete their development before migrating to clover plants. Their damage to clover plants usually is not important, Professor McDaniels says.

TWO MAIN REASONS

There are two very sound and important economic reasons why your home (or business property) should be re-sided with Flintkote Insulated Brick Siding—

1. Flintkote Insulated Brick Siding provides authentic brick appearance at a fraction of its cost.

2. Flintkote Insulated Brick Siding, in one remarkable new building material, provides both effective insulation and brick-type siding at very little more than the cost of either one if purchased separately. The compelling logic of these two reasons alone makes Flintkote Insulated Brick Siding an exceptional buy. But there are other reasons which deserve your consideration, too . . . lots of them.

Residents Request Improvements

Two petitions were received by the city commission Monday night for street improvements in Plymouth. One was for a curb and gutter on Amelia street and the other was for the widening of Penniman avenue.

Residents of Amelia street requested the municipal improvement to be made between Main and Union streets. Commissioners ruled that a public hearing on the proposed construction would be held at their regular meeting, Monday, June 3. All property owners from that area are asked to attend the hearing so that any objections which they might have can be heard before commissioners approve the curb and gutter construction.

A second petition was received relative to the widening of Penniman avenue between Norton's Market and Union street. The petition requested that the city pay for the entire improvement. Because commissioners believed the street widening to also benefit places of business in that area, they could see no reason for the city's paying all the expense of the improvement. The matter was laid on the table temporarily until more information can be secured relative to cost and benefit.

Phone Company Has New Official

JEAN T. SHEAFOR

The many Plymouth friends of Jean T. Sheafor, assistant to president of the Michigan Bell Telephone company and long prominent in Detroit civic life, will be pleased to know he was elected secretary and treasurer of the company by the board of directors Thursday. He will assume the position at once, succeeding the late George J. Brett, who died April 18.

Sheafor will be succeeded as assistant to president by W. Calvin Patterson, the company's commercial superintendent in its southern division with headquarters at Grand Rapids, effective June 1.

As assistant to president, Sheafor has had executive supervision over the company's advertising and information departments. His elevation to the important post of secretary and treasurer of the corporation follows the well-established "up-from-the-ranks" promotion policy of the Bell system.

Born at Richland Center, Wisconsin, Sheafor received his bachelor of arts degree at the University of Wisconsin in 1911. After a period of graduate study, he engaged in public school administration a few years and then went to the Michigan Bell company as a student clerk in its Detroit business office. He became, successively, district manager, special agent and, in 1921, assistant to president.

Sheafor has been identified with the Detroit Community Fund throughout its existence; he has served as general chairman of its campaign organization and is a member of the executive committee of its board of directors. He has long been associated with patriotic and national defense movements. He is a former chairman of the Detroit Council of National Defense and has been general chairman both of Army Day and Navy Day celebrations in Michigan. He is active in the Detroit Board of Commerce and a member of the Detroit Athletic and University clubs. Mr. and Mrs. Sheafor reside at 36 Renaud road, Grosse Pointe Shores.

Patterson is a native of College Park, Maryland, and received his bachelor of arts degree at the University of Michigan in 1927. That year he joined the advertising staff of the Michigan Bell company, following previous telephone work with the Chesapeake & Potomac company in Washington, D. C.

In 1929 he was appointed sales engineer for the Michigan Bell, advanced to general sales manager the year following, and was named commercial superintendent in the southern division in January, 1938. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson will return to Detroit shortly after June 1 to make their home.

D. A. R. Guests of Mrs. N. C. Schrader

The Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter of the D. A. R. met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Nelson Schrader, of Northville. The chaplain, Winifred H. Cutler, read the following original prayer poem for the devotional:

"In Times Like These"
In times like these, O God, we need to hold
Fast to the faith that led our fathers on;
That strengthened them for hardships and distress
Entailed in conquering the wilderness.

The faith that saw beyond the immediate need—
Envisioned farms and homes and grassy mead
And schools and churches and a council hall
Where chosen leaders sought the weal of all.

For of such faith alone, is wisdom born—
Nor must we of our confidence be shorn;
Hysteria and fear, oh, let us have
To faithless souls whom lying lips deceive.

Teach us to weigh and balance what we hear;
Oh keep our hearts and minds and vision clear;
Trusting our destiny to thee, and without fear,
Though what it is, it doth not yet appear.
Teach us thy will, O Lord, for this fair land
And may we firmly hold thy guiding hand.
The path thou hast prepared for us to play
We must perform,—there is no other way.

During the reading of the annual reports, Mrs. Sidney Strong read the following excerpt from the National Defense News:
"In what do we believe?
"Adequate Physical Defenses. Therefore we support the acts of Congress in dealing with the strengthening of our Army, Navy and air forces."
"We believe in building Educational Defenses. We must defend democracy by educating for life here, educating our people to know what are the advantages of life in the United States; we must educate our people to know the subversive influences that are at work here, undermining our structure of government."
"We believe that we must build strong Moral Defenses. Included in this is an understanding of one another, a tolerance toward all races within our domain, tolerance of opinion, tolerance in utterances."
"Our aim is for Citizenship Defenses. We must educate ourselves for intelligent expression at the ballot. We must see that our children catch the vision of patriotism in the home and in the schools; that they are educated to believe beyond the shadow of a doubt in the American way."
"We want patriotism lived and taught. We want American history and civil government and social science interpreted by teachers who love and respect and believe in the framework of our government, who are willing to defend its principles, and instill in future generations this same love and respect."
Following the annual reports, the election of officers for the ensuing year took place. All of the incumbent officers were re-elected.

Mrs. D. P. Yerkes invited all the members of the D. A. R. to an "at home," Tuesday evening, May 28, from 5:00 until 9:00, celebrating the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Yerkes.

Mrs. Carl Bryan, of Northville, reviewed "Their Own Country," by Alice Tisdale Hobart who also wrote, "Oil for the Lamps of China." This was enjoyed by all and just enough inviting paragraphs from the book were read to stimulate the desire to read it for one's self.

Mrs. Schrader, assisted by Mrs. Yerkes and Mrs. Nettie Dibble served tea at the close of the meeting.

Exports of agricultural products to the United Kingdom in 1938 were $289,864,772, before the trade agreement was in effect. Agricultural exports in 1939, after the trade agreement became effective, dropped to $194,744,383, a slump of $95,000,000.

Ross Visits Illinois College

Dr. John A. Ross, Plymouth optometrist, has just returned from a visit to the Northern Illinois College of Optometry, where he was formerly an associate professor. During his visit, Dr. Ross had a discussion with the optometry staff of the college relative to vitamin deficiency in the eye.

He learned that night blindness is due to a deficiency of vitamin "A." Because he believes that there are many Plymouth individuals who can well profit from an examination of this type, and also because such a test may prevent someone from having a serious accident while driving at night, Dr. Ross has just ordered the new Feldman Adaptometer for his office to use in determining any vitamin deficiency in the eye.

Strong Resigns Oak Park Post

Sidney D. Strong, village manager of Oak Park, since December 5, who resides in Plymouth, submitted his resignation to that village commission Monday night. Mr. Strong requested that the resignation take effect by the end of May.

Mr. Strong gave no specific reason for resigning the Oak Park managership but it was intimated that there was some discussion over his executive authority and that of the village president.

He said that he would seek, before he left office, to borrow $2,400 to meet bills and salaries which the village has been unable to secure. Mr. Strong expected to get the funds from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation on tax anticipation warrants. Formerly manager of the city of Plymouth from 1920 to 1927, Mr. Strong was with the WPA in an administrative capacity for six years prior to taking the Oak Park post. He is a civil engineer.

Mrs. John A. Miller entertained at a dinner Wednesday afternoon, having as guests members of the Priscilla sewing group.

Expect Record Attendance at Northville Show

Riding Club Sponsors Third Annual Event This Week-End

A crowd expected to shatter all previous attendance records, providing pre-week weather conditions are indicative, will witness the third annual Northville Riding club horse show which starts today (Friday) and will continue for three days at the tables on Seven Mile road. And parallel with the expected crowd of spectators will be the largest field of entries for any such event ever attempted by the club.

Last year, there were more saddle horse entries at the Riding club show than there were at the Detroit National at Bloomfield Hills. While the saddle horse division is expected to set new records, the hunter-jumper class will not be far behind. In the harness division, in order to comply with repeated requests, a three-year-old class for fine harness entries will be staged. In this group there will be novice, three-year-old, and $100 stake classes.

The western division has added a parade class which will bring all that is colorful in mount and equipment of the western type.

Flory Craig, three times national champion, will head the list of entries in the walk-trot division. The horse is from the Dixie Anna stable. He was the three-gaited champion of the Northville-Wayne county show late last August. L. H. Green, of Turtle Lake Farms, Birmingham, is the new owner of the horse, and riding him will be Josh Harris, who last year was in the ring with the Elmer Wiedrick entries.

From the Harry G. Marburger stable, Northville, will come a horse new to Northville shows, Starr Watch, who was champion in his division two years ago at Lansing. He will be shown by Kathryn Marburger in the three-gaited class.

The show will bring outstanding saddle-bred horses from all the prominent stables in this vicinity as well as entries from as far as Columbus, Ohio.

Joe Greer, who is well-known in stock horse circles, will judge the western division and the stock horse stakes. Greer has furnished stock for the rodeos at Madison Square Gardens in New York City, Wyoming and the Michigan State Fair rodeo at the Coliseum this winter. He is recognized as the dean of all stock horse judges in the United States.

Parking off the grounds has been arranged by the horse show committee for general admission and boxholder spectators. Box seats have been erected, the ring has been graded and leveled and temporary stabling has been arranged. Sixty temporary box stalls have been placed in a big circus type tent which was put up early this week.

Perhaps the surest way to reach the pinnacle is to have such a burning desire to get there that nothing can divert us.

Recently Purchased Rauch Home Has Interesting History

Back in the days, about 100 years ago, when the building of a home was an event that was not forgotten for many years, and residents thought it to be a distinct addition to the community, a fine home was constructed at 894 Church street. Now, a century later, the city has purchased that property on which it plans to build a new municipal library. City officials feel that residents will be just as proud of the new library as they were of that new home erected so long ago.

At the time it was built, the city wasn't even incorporated as a village and didn't get its charter until about 30 years later.

Announcement of the property purchase from C. H. Rauch was made by city officials last week. It had been under consideration for some time, but final arrangements were not made until last Wednesday.

Probably, if that house could talk, a great deal of interesting Plymouth history would be revealed. Countless historic incidents have occurred near that corner. It is located just three doors from the school house through which doors many successful individuals, who call Plymouth their home, have passed.

Just across from the new library site is the Presbyterian church property. In 1936, one of the most disastrous fires the city ever had, leveled the old church building. And just two doors away is the Methodist church. In fact, the Rauch house used to be the parsonage for the old Methodist church before it went to the ground in flames at the same time the school burned at the turn of the century.

The history of the house can be traced back to a time when it was used in connection with the old Methodist church. That was 53 years ago, in 1887, when Mr. Rauch was just 12 years old. At that time the lad's parents moved to the house and the minister, Samuel Plantz, who was a single man, had his study and a sleeping room upstairs. A few years later, the Rauch family moved elsewhere.

"Even when I was 12, I remember the house as being comparatively old," Mr. Rauch said. "So you see it must be at least 100 years since it was built."

Lafayette Dean, a pioneer settler of this locality, who used to live out on Plymouth road, bought the church property after he had built a new home in North Village. He turned the old church property over to E. P. Baker, who was Mrs. Rauch's grandfather, on February 27, 1906.

In 1910, Mr. and Mrs. Rauch went there to live with Mr. Baker, who was then pretty well along in years. It was about this time that the house was remodeled as it now stands. Mr. Rauch says that the outside appearance of the place was completely changed and the interior was also shifted about somewhat.

Mr. and Mrs. Rauch lived in the house until four years ago, when Mrs. Rauch passed away. He moved from the house at that time, and has been renting it since then.

The present leasees will have possession until April 30, 1941. If the city is financially able, at that time, preparations will begin for the library. City Manager C. H. Elliott said that the present occupants of the house might stay there until the city is ready to construct the new library.

It was reported that the property and building was purchased for $5,000. At one time, it was probably worth twice as much or even more than that.

Some people have intimated that it is a shame to tear down or move the city's historic landmarks, but when it comes to improving for the future, making better conditions for generations to come, an old house should not be allowed to stand in the way.

The Church street location for a new municipal library is ideal as it will be within the bounds of a civic center which has been arranged by the planning commission, recently appointed when the new city zoning ordinance was under construction.

Other municipal buildings now in that area include the city hall, two churches, the Central school system and Detroit Edison electric offices. The present branch of the Wayne county library is only a few doors from the center.

A boulevard and well-landscaped parkway which runs through the center of the area, adds greatly to its appearance. There is also a tree memorial within the district, commemorating the lives of those who died in the last great war.

Plymouth Gardens Defeats Roseville

A strong, clean-playing softball team from Roseville, in East Detroit, was defeated by the Plymouth Gardens outfit, Sunday, 9-8, on the home diamond. The Gardens team showed its best form of the season in trouncing the Tigers from Roseville.

Morlick, pitching for the winners, was very good in the pinches, and hurled an exceptional game ball. Umpire for the affair was Ralph Bulman, whose work was so satisfactory that he has been asked to again officiate when the two teams meet in East Detroit next month.

A team from Elm Center defeated the Plymouth Gardens players Wednesday, May 15, 4-3. The game was played in the rain and cold. Neither team played up to its usual form.

Commission Called to Special Meeting

In order to consider the purchase of a new city truck and property for the municipal parking lot and Maple street opening, the city commission has been called to a special meeting, Monday afternoon, at 4:30 o'clock.

The need for a new truck has been realized for some time. An old one which was purchased for use on WPA work in the city will be turned in on the new one.

Property purchased for the parking lot which will be located at the rear of the stores on Penniman avenue and Main streets in addition to a purchase of property between Main street and South Harvey street, for a continuous block of Maple street, will also be considered.

SPESQSA News Breaks—And How

News will out — and it did, early this week, when E. G. 'Ed' Schwoppe, employed in the State Highway department offices, broke down and gave out some information about his pet hobby. The Society for the Encouragement and Preservation of Barber Shop Quartette Singing in America, that's a big title, and Ed has a big part in it. You see, he is holding down the national vice-presidency of the organization. In fact, he is the only Michigan official of the Barber Shop singers, and he is located right here in Plymouth.

Well, the big news is that there is going to be a state-wide tonset in Detroit, June 8. Representatives from all chapters of the nationally organized barber shop singers in Michigan will have a contest to see which is the best. Winners will go to the World's Fair, where sectional champs will all try to out-do one another for a grand prize.

The themes of the Detroit meet will be "Quartets on Parade" and "The March of Songs." And another item of real local interest is that it is not too late for a group of lusty-lunged, thrush-throated individuals to organize a chapter of the SPESQSA right here. Miss Hanna Strasen has been given a copy of Sigmund Spaeth's new instruction book, "Barber Shop Ballads and How to Sing Them" by the author, Mr. Spaeth is a delegate of the organization at large from New York city and is also a well-known music authority and critic.

"About all we need in order to have a good bunch of tonsetorial troubadours from Plymouth is four 'free-style' singers—2 tenor, baritone and bass," Mr. Schwoppe said. "I'm sure Miss Strasen will be glad to help, too."

Ed said that he has had quite a wide range of experience in organizing the singing groups and would be glad to assist here. But the point is, he said, before we can organize, we have to have four interested men. According to other standards, those who succeed are good fakers, in the singing line, we mean to imply.

Those of you who yearn to participate in a bit of friendly good-fellowship, swing around the swivel, brush up on your whistles, indulge in a little idle "Sweet Adeline" and "Down by the Old Mill Stream" in just plain words—sing—then you are a natural-born member of the SPESQSA. Just give your name to E. G. Schwoppe, down at the highway department offices, Miss Strasen, whose studios are on South Main street, or to the Plymouth Mail, and in no time Plymouth will be represented in all the contests, a la Barber Shop, that are being held in this part of the state this spring. Who knows this city might be represented at the World's Fair this summer?

Education has for its object the formation of character.—Herbert Spencer.

Approve Hamilton Street Curb, Gutter

A public hearing on the Hamilton street curb and gutter which was set for Monday night was held at the regular meeting of the city commission. No objections were heard so commissioners resolved to approve the construction.

The proposed construction is to take place between Union street and Ann Arbor Trail.

City Manager C. H. Elliott was ordered to proceed with the construction immediately so that it would be completed during the summer months. Several residents of that locality were present at the meeting Monday. All were in favor of the proposal.

Garden Club Tours Planned

The members of the Plymouth unit of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association are reminded that there is still time to accept the invitation of Miller Ross to tour his greenhouses on Ann Arbor road, which have so many beautiful petunias and other flowers now in their prime.

On June 8 the local group has been invited by the Rustdale Gardens group to enjoy with them a tour of several of their gardens for which a small fee will be asked, the money to be used for their National Assistance Fund pledge.

On June 10 Mrs. C. D. Branigan will open her home at 18080 Newburg road, west of Six Mile road, to the local branch. She will be assisted by Mrs. John Dalton, Mrs. LeRoy Jewell, Mrs. Raphael Metcalfe, Mrs. Harold Brisbois, Mrs. Milton Laible and Mrs. John Blyton.

On June 22 from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Mrs. Henry Ford will open her garden to members of the association. A limited number of tickets are in the hands of Mrs. Elliott for the members of the Plymouth group. All wishing to attend are asked to have their tickets bought not later than June 8 as Mrs. Elliott has to have the money into headquarters by the 10th. Everyone enjoyed Mrs. Ford's generous hospitality last year and now it is our opportunity to return the favor in a small way, so let's sell our quota of tickets.

Local Man Plants His Crop Early

Wayne county farmers are making the most of the good weather to get their spring work done. Fred Korte, Plymouth, is one of the many farmers who got their sweet corn in extra early.

Early cabbage is looking good. Peas are blooming heavily and peaches are showing a good amount of bloom in spite of the few days of severe cold last winter. The cold weather is preventing the flight of honey bees and fruit growers would do well to have a few swarms of bees in the orchard to insure pollination.

It is better to get the hybrid corn in early than to wait. Surveys were made of the yield of hybrid corn in Canton and Brownstown townships.

The average yield for 370 acres in Canton was 46.33 bushels of shelled corn and the average yield for 648 acres in Brownstown was 41.06 bushels of shelled corn.

More knowledge is being digested into practical wisdom and common sense as applied to the affairs of life.—Tyron Edwards.

Accepts Position With Touring Trio

Ruth Hadley, who has recently filled a three-week singing engagement at the Club Mecca in Fort Wayne, Indiana, has accepted a part with Thelma Stevens and her Starlit Hour trio, who start a tour in South Bend, Indiana, today (Friday).

Miss Hadley, throughout the winter months, was associated with the city recreation program. Early this spring she sang for a Detroit radio station. From there, through a Detroit booking agency, she obtained the Fort Wayne position, singing with piano accompaniment. The new trio is composed of piano, violin alternating with marimba and the singer.

At Plymouth, Miss Hadley studied voice with Mrs. Edna O'Conner and also with Thelma Lewis at the University of Michigan.

In regard to her new position, Miss Hadley said, "I feel fortunate in having been offered a place in the 'Starlit Hour' trio, but I'm sure I will miss the children with whom I have been associated and grown so fond of."

She left for South Bend Monday afternoon. Just where the trio will be booked after the four-week engagement, at the Indiana city, Miss Hadley said she did not know, but would send details of the tour to The Mail so that she may keep in contact with her many friends in Plymouth.

Rocks Third in Track Regionals

Marshall Wins A First in Every Meet

In qualifying five men—Myers, Underhill, Sessions, Marshall and Prough—for the state track meet to be held tomorrow (Saturday), Plymouth repeated last year's performance by taking third place among the Class B high schools participating at the regional track meet held at the Michigan State Normal college, May 18.

During the morning preliminaries were held in the short dash and the hurdles which finals were held in pole vaulting and shot putting. The morning session brought Plymouth a third place in the pole vault via Douglas Prough. Several Plymouth sprinters and hurdlers also qualified for the semi-finals to be held in the afternoon.

In the same day the Rocks came out with two thirds. Sessions placed third in the 220-yard dash as Underhill did the same in the quarter mile dash. Although it would seem on the surface to be an easy thing to run, such was not the case as is proven by the case of Bob Sessions. In order to win his third place he had to run that event three times or a total distance of three-eighths of a mile at top speed. Since he was entered in other events he also ran the 100-yard dash twice and another 220 yards in the relay. Thus at the end of the day he had run nearly half a mile for time not to mention warm-up jogs.

On the high hurdles Butler brought home one more point with a fifth place in the final running. Up to this point the Rocks had 10 points.

The distance runs added nine more with a first, third, and fifth. Elmer Myers finished third in a very close mile run. The only first place Plymouth chalked up was the result of Bob Marshall's half mile run in 2:09. It kept intact Marshall's record of placing first in the half mile every time he has engaged in inter-school competition this year. A fifth place was taken in the half mile by Bob Daniel.

Plymouth's 19 points gave it third place among the Class B schools, the same place it took last year. Although no records for the Class B regionals were broken, several were tied or broken in the other groups. Of interest is the fact that Plymouth holds more regional records in any class than any other school.

Another interesting fact is that although the Class A schools are the largest, the Class B schools have made better showings in the regionals.

Local Teachers Visit Burroughs

Interviewing different teachers who had taken a trip through Burroughs Adding Machine company produced the fact that its cleanliness impressed the teachers. Splendid lighting and an immense elevator are two more outstanding features of the plant. The gymnasium is so large that three basketball courts six or eight feet longer than that at Plymouth high school could be made easily. A balcony upstairs completely encircles the gymnasium and tile is laid six feet up from the floor all around the gym.

The large smoke stack on the outside of the building seemed an unusual construction as it does not touch the ground but is resting on a platform supported by four steel girders 25 feet in the air. The furnaces in the plant are not on the first floor and have automatic feeders to refuel them. Automatic blowers carry fumes through tunnels outside.

The Burroughs Adding Machine company has three plants beside the Plymouth factory; one in England, one in Detroit and one in Canada. The local teacher group wishes to thank the company for the courtesy extended them in explaining various models of computing machines as well as for the tour of the plant.

Foursome Loses Low Score Match

The Plymouth golf team lost a golf match to Ann Arbor high school, May 14, by a team score of 314 to 338. Both teams played an excellent match and Plymouth scored the lowest medal score of the year for the team, by dividing the 314 score by Ann Arbor by 4, it is evident that that team had an average of 78 and a half per player, which perhaps that lowest average and the golf team will meet all year.

The "big four" of the Plymouth squad played again, against Ann Arbor. Dick Dunlop played as first man and scored the lowest score for the team by carding an 83. Jack Squin, the hard-hitting sophomore, shot an 84 but he was followed closely by Warren Hoffman (captain) with an 85. Al Owens was high mark of the match with an 86.

Woman's Club Sponsors Pentathlon for Girls

Plans for the first pentathlon, a girls' sporting event, to be held on two dates are being completed. Sponsored by the Woman's Club and assisted by Leaders' club, the events are the same as those to be used at Belle Isle, Detroit: the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades will have their meet on May 27 while the seventh, eighth and ninth grades will hold their meet on June 4. Both meets start at 3:30.

The 50-yard dash, running jump, baseball throw, dash and throw and the jump and reach make up the events in the pentathlon. Each girl will compete against herself.

This year only the three junior grades will have a chance to earn medals. Four thousand points will win a gold medal, 3400 a silver medal and 2900 a bronze medal. The girls in the three senior grades will work for points toward their school letter. Four thousand points will give a girl 500 points toward her letter, and 2200 points give her 150 points toward her letter.

If a girl falls in the tenth, eleventh or twelfth grade enters the pentathlon but fails to get the equivalent of enough points for a medal she will receive ten points toward her letter.

Golf Team Goes to State Meet

The Plymouth golf team clinched itself a position in the state finals last Saturday, May 18, by winning third place in the regionals. Plymouth scored a team score of 322, just 18 strokes behind the winner, Captain Warren Hoffman was second lowest medalist in his region by carding an 89 and won himself a medal.

Jack Squin shot a 92 but he says that he should have been low medalist because on one of the holes, he shot into a gopher hole, counted two strokes to re-count it, and then proceeded to shoot into another one and count two more strokes. After finally putting out, Jack discovered that he had an 8 on a three-par hole. The Huron Hills course is the toughest course that the team has played on all year and Jack shouldn't feel too badly because even a 92 is very good. Al Owens shot a 94 but he had to borrow a spoon to do it. Dick Dunlop, the school champion, shot a 107.

Coach Latture is very proud of the team and he says that he is going to work them hard and try to win a trophy or two in the state finals.

Senior Exams Set for June 13

It has been announced that the senior final examinations will be given on June 10 and 11, Monday and Tuesday. The examinations will be given in the regular classroom and will not disturb any of the schedules of the days.

The remainder of the days in school for the seniors is well-taken up. On June 12 and 13, Wednesday and Thursday respectively, for class night will begin. The next day, Friday, June 14, is given to the seniors. Senior Skip Day will be held on June 1 and will given over to a cruise on the Detroit river through Lake Huron and Lake St. Clair.

Rock Thinclads Lose to Ecorse

Even though they took six first places in the often-postponed Plymouth-Ecorse track meet, Plymouth came out on the low end of a 61-43 score at the meet held May 20 on the Ecorse track. Of the 12 events there were only two in which the Rocks placed two men. Naturally there were only two events in which Ecorse failed to place two men. It was in this that the margin of victory or defeat lay.

In the case of hurdling, Plymouth gained a third in the 120-yard high hurdles and a second in the 100-yard low hurdles. Both places were taken by Jim Butler. As a result Plymouth had four points to the opposition's 14.

Three points of that lead were won back by the Rocks in the dash events. In each Plymouth had a first place but no seconds or thirds. Bob Sessions won the 100-yard dash in 13.4 seconds. Harsha was an extremely close fourth. Again Sessions came through, this time to take first place in the 220 in the good time of 24.6. Claude Underhill running the 400-yard dash in 55.3 took second place for Plymouth. The Plymouth relay team composed of Sessions, Harsha, Underhill and Erdelyi lost to Ecorse team.

The distance runs were more favorable to the Rocks. In the half mile Bob Marshall took first place in 2:11 and was followed by Daniel who took second. Elmer Myers won a first in the mile run in 4:56.

Doug Prough and Earl Wilson placed first and third respectively in the pole vault. A tie for second was taken by Donald Pankow on the high jump. Jack Baker gained a second place with the shot put. Plymouth was slumped on the broad jump, that is Ecorse took all three positions.

The contest clearly indicated that first places alone will not necessarily win track meets. Again as in several other meets Plymouth's strongest field was the distance runs. The hurdles were the poorest. Five Plymouth track men—Myers, Underhill, Marshall, Prough and Sessions will participate in the state meet at Lansing, May 25. The only other meet to be run off is the T.V.A.A. meet which will be held at the Michigan State Normal college, June 3.

Students See Movies of Fair

Both junior and senior high school students enjoyed an assembly, movies on the World's Fair in New York, second and third hour, Wednesday, May 15. The picture, "The Middletons at the World's Fair" was in sound and brilliant technicolor. There were three ideas in the picture, two main plots and views of the fair.

The story concerned the Middletons, an ordinary family from a small town in Indiana. The pictures taken in the exposition explained the Time Capsule. This capsule will open in five thousand years. It contains ten thousand words and things as art, literature, descriptions of mechanisms like—automobiles, radios, moving picture machine and other things are in this. There are also ordinary things like fashions and cartoons.

In one laboratory called the Junior Science Laboratory, one thousand young scientists will get a turn to experiment. They work in all fields of science and are constantly rotating. This is equipped with very modern instruments with which to work.

Demonstrations of electrical dish washing and wiping machines, the electrical men who talked, counted, smoked and walked, and television were also given.

Dunlop Wins Title in School Golf Match

Dick Dunlop won the school championship on May 13 by defeating Al Owens by three strokes. Dick, the first man on the golf team, is a senior this year and he is happy that he has achieved this success in his last year in high school.

Al Owens, a junior who has a chance to win the title next year, was rather nervous at the beginning of the match. Owens, at the end of the second hole, Dick was four strokes up. The closest that Al came to tying the score was on the fifth hole when he was only two strokes down to the far-hitting senior. The two golfers played even golf from then in and at the end of the match, Dick had scored an 81 and Al an 84. Dunlop had won and a new school champion has been crowned.

School Daze

Well, well, so Southern Gals have gone out of existence. At least that's what I've heard from their contact man on the Pilgrim Prints staff. And just so you won't be disappointed, I've decided to write something to take its place. I hereby dedicate this column to disturb entertaining information on the benefit of the attending students of dear old alma mater, Plymouth high. (You know, I think that's a good sentence, even if I did have to spend an hour looking the words up in the dictionary.) In case you don't get it, I mean that I'll hear all (I hope), see all, and tell all, as long as it's good, clean fun and nothing else. Each week you will find a paragraph devoted to that low-grade hobby of (dare I say?) gossip. Who's mad at who, who made up and why, and anything that happens to fall in line. (I hope.) Consider within this column's limits (more dictionary) is a paragraph of sayings made by our supposed intelligentsia and otherwise. That, I believe, is enough for an introduction. Now to get down to basic facts—gossip!

Would you recognize the national capital in the state of Washington on the Columbia River? (It is according to Betty Barlow.) Adam and Eve as soldiers—accredited to Allen Owens; the carbon from gasoline gathering in the radiator of an automobile—the editor, Paul Harsha. (It's the copulator, Paul.) James Zuckerman degraded by his piano playing (he says so); Ethyl's (gasoline) telephone number—Mr. Evans knows it; Bob Norman in a more exciting pastime than watering the lawn, (French class); a balcony running around a gymnasium (rumor has it that Jack Gettleson thinks so); Yehudi as president of the United States—Too bad that one didn't get by in Miss Fiegle's history class when Archie King forgot the answer.

And now for gossip and otherwise. I've found a perfect example of the eternal (?) triangle—Carl Hoster-Lesteen Sides-Justice Smith, with Carl challenging Justice to battle if he doesn't stay away from his gal. Our sympathies Jack G. or don't you need them anymore?—Way were you out with last night?—"Lloyd Clark." What, you, too!—Perhaps Virginia Rock has turned over a new leaf about boys. Or maybe it's the college, eh, Virginia?—These girls that have one "steady" and two "spares" are well-supplied, don't you think?—I understand that Mike ("Rhythm King") Kleinschmidt is quite the ladies' man with Bill Upton not too far behind.—And what's this about the Northville Hop, Ivan Pekar and "Faitful Forever"? Could be his favorite song, and then again, maybe not. Who knows?—Fincin Roberts and his new car would be a welcome addition to any girl's "date bank" so I've been told.—Roger McClain seems to be quite the man's man with his new pipe.—So, a certain junior gal by the name of Phyllis could go for a certain junior boy in a big way only he's too busy with something (or is it somebody) else. Time's on your side, I'm sure. Phyl!—Those junior high kids don't get into the job at dances. They really rob! I suggest that the seniors watch themselves.—Several young romances have changed from buds to full-blown blooms lately. At least, I would draw this conclusion when I see them in each other's company constantly. Who are they?—Phyllis Nichols and Steve Armstrong. Eloyce Zimmerman and Alan Bennett. Betty Mae Wiskie and Arvel Curtner, and Adele Sweeney and Jerry Farrar. Could be this fickle season we're having now supposedly spring.

Speaking of spring, I've often wondered why everyone picks on this time of the year as the reason for all the romances. Isn't summer or autumn just as good? The sun shines then, the grass is green, the birds sing, and there's usually a moon. Besides, I'll bet there's just as many new romances in that thoroughly unromantic season—winter. Any challenge—acceptors? Signing off now 'til next week—

Homer, the Roamer.

Juniors Fete Seniors June 7

The annual junior and senior banquet will be held in the high school auditorium this Friday, June 7, from 7 to 9 p.m. It has become the custom since approximately 1912 for the juniors to toast the seniors as a farewell at this banquet.

The theme to be used this year is "Gulliver's Travels" which is quite appropriate since many tales have been of national interest lately. The speakers will all be personified as characters of the book.

The presiding chairman will be James Zuckerman, junior president; and also to be known as Jonathan Swift, Ardith Rowland. Gaby will be the toastmistress. The salute to the seniors will be given by Robert Daniel who will be personified as King Little and who will be answered by Larry Newman, King Bombo. The member representing the administration will be Mr. Dykhouse, who will be introduced as general of the army. Clarlette Galloway will be portrayed as a messenger of the King. The senior farewell address will be given by Joe Scarpulla, senior president, who will be introduced as Gulliver.

Music will be furnished from several sources. James Zuckerman will begin the banquet with a piano solo. The girls' triple trio will sing and also lead in the community singing, Patricia Kinahan and Evelyn Bohl, the First and Second Bluebirds, will sing solos.

A very appropriate phrase has been chosen as the main theme in view of the fact that the banquet is a formal farewell to the seniors. "After a long and troublesome and uniting the kingdoms, Gulliver sailed away to new adventures in strange lands."

His Joining of Navy Fulfills Boyhood Hope

Ed Keller's boyhood dreams of serving in the United States navy materialize this month when he journeys to the Naval Training Base at Great Lakes, Illinois, as the start of a six-year enlistment.

A junior in Plymouth high school this year, Keller qualified for the navy shortly after he reached his eighteenth birthday anniversary this month by passing a stringent physical examination and intelligence test. He began a four-month training course at Great Lakes Wednesday.

His object in joining the navy is on a higher plane than that of seeing the world. Through a complete training, selected from any one of 54 different trades, he hopes to take up aeronautical engineering.

Upon the completion of the four months of general training given every recruit, Keller will become a second class seaman. He has already placed his name on a list of boys who would like government selections to attend Annapolis. If not chosen for this schooling, he will be sent, he believes, to a government school of instruction in his chosen profession—probably Pensacola or San Diego.

Because he is in the navy, Keller will not necessarily be placed on board ship. Many of the navy men are employed in other fields that can be found on a ship.

The first enlistment is lengthy—six years, but succeeding ones if Keller is so inclined, will be only at four-year intervals. He was informed that he is eligible for the navy's four enlistment year. If he attends Annapolis, the apprentice seaman is qualified for the position of Admiral.

Keller may be followed in the navy by his brother, Paul, who will graduate this year. He is not the only Plymouth student to enter government service. Leo Schmitz, class of '39, is an active member of the Marines and Richard Innes is a member of the army at Selfridge Field.

Plymouth Wins Tennis Regionals

Butz-Gettleson Win; Norman Places Second

Entering a team composed of Bob Norman and Douglas Lorenz in the singles and Jack Butz, Jack Gettleson, Shirley Dunham, and Bob Birt in the doubles proved that although the Plymouth tennis team lost most of this year's matches, it still had the punch to win the regional tournament.

Bob Norman entered the finals after beating Burr, of Rochester, in the semi-finals. In the finals he lost to Anderson of Saint Clair, who has been twice Class C state champion.

Jack Butz and Jack Gettleson entered the finals after downing Stuttle and Platt of Birmingham. In the final they won in two straight sets from Broga and Rosenquist of Rochester, thereby emerging as the winners of the Class B doubles teams and becoming the regional doubles champions.

Plymouth won the regional tennis trophy by a total of nine and one-half points. Rochester placed second with six and one-half points. Saint Clair was third with three and three-fourths points; Birmingham fourth with two and three-fourths points, and Grand Blanc last with no points.

Bob Norman, Jack Butz, and Jack Gettleson are eligible to enter the state tournament, to be held Friday and Saturday, May 31 and June 1 in Ann Arbor.

Besides winning the trophy Bob Norman received a medal for being runner up in the singles and Jack Butz and Jack Gettleson received a medal each for winning the doubles.

One more match, which is to be played with Wayne, will officially close the 1940 tennis season.

Packard Elected Best Boy Citizen

Ivan Packard, mayor of Plymouth high school and president of the student council for two years, was elected best boy citizen of this year's graduating class by the faculty and senior students. The class at large nominated their choices for this honor and the three highest nominees were voted upon by the faculty. Packard won over Don Blackford, chief of police, and Joe Scarpulla, president of the senior class.

Qualifications set forth as worthy of an outstanding citizen, where the teachers cast their ballots were as follows: Dependability, punctuality; truthfulness, loyalty, punctuality; service, including cooperation, courtesy, consideration of others; leadership, initiative; ability to control, ability to lead; and patriotism, with unselfish interest in school, community and nation.

Ruth Ash, president of the Senior Girl Reserves, was chosen as best girl citizen last fall on the basis of these two qualities.

Special recognition at the honor banquet.

Win From Ypsi. in Ninth Inning

Plymouth combined a double and a single after two were out in the last inning in a Twin Valley game at Plymouth Friday, to defeat Ypsilanti Central, 6-5.

The winning run was scored after an Ypsi. threat in the first half of the seventh inning was subdued through alert fielding. First man up in this inning, Bernard Smith, Ypsilanti catcher, tripled only to be caught off base by a snap throw from Newman, Plymouth pitcher. Gable, next man up singled only to be the nucleus for a Plymouth double play which left the score tied.

Wesley Hoffman scored the winning run on his double and an opportune single by Krumm. Although Hoffman collected only one hit, he tallied three of the Plymouth runs.

Jack Nielson pitched the entire game for Plymouth and allowed Ypsilanti seven hits. Only one Ypsilanti batter, George Berklick, who later pitched, made two hits off his pitching.

Ypsilanti led until Plymouth scored one run in the sixth inning. Jim Kelley, Ypsilanti pitcher, tallied this on a base on balls, a balk and a fielder's choice.

Plymouth gained three of their runs in one lump in the second inning on three hits and two passes to first. Eryln Bridge smashed the Ypsi pitcher, Dick Bayne, on the hand with a single after two mates were on the bases and followed them around on a long fly and hit. Bayne was lifted in the last inning after he allowed Kelley to score the tying run in the sixth.

After Smith had tripled and been picked off in the last inning, Kelley, Robinson and Krumm worked their double play.

Ypsilanti has not won a baseball game this season in league competition. Plymouth stands in the middle with four wins and four losses.

So You Call It A Gym, Do You?

Do you remember that well-known sales motto—"Don't say drug store, say Cunningham's"? That adage may well be applied to the Plymouth high school gym, for this part of our school innards has served as a formal dance hall filled with romantic figures swaying to the rhythms of a dance band to a gymnasium packed with excited, enthusiastic fans watching a close basketball game. This room, 65x50 feet has served its purpose, and more, well; but how many of us have ever thought much about it? We call it a gym or auditorium but it is more than that; it is a "jack of all trades."

It has served us well as an auditorium for all types of assemblies. Once it was a circus ring, another time a meeting place for the inauguration of student government officials, other times—and these quite often—it has served as a motion picture theatre.

Within these four walls all the formal and informal dances, sponsored by school groups, are held. Here, too, numerous banquets are given: the father and son banquet, mother and daughter, honor banquet, junior-senior banquet and alumni banquet.

Just recently the school exhibit was held with mechanical drawings and shop handicraft featured in the gymnasium. Or hobby night, all types of exhibits are displayed. Stones, stamps, drawings, and photography collections are among those included.

Then, too, one should not forget the class plays and play contests held every year in the auditorium. These usually play to 700, a full house.

Display Old Bibles at High School

Betty Curtis, a senior in Plymouth, brought several Bibles to Miss Allen's room. They are family heirlooms and contain the history of the Curtises from 1802 until the present time.

The oldest, a large copy of the King James translation, was given by Mark and Charles Kerr, His Majesty's Printers in England in 1795. The first title page is missing, the covers are badly worn and the pages are dark yellow in color showing how much this book has been used.

The other Bible, printed in 1802 in Edinburgh, Scotland, contains the psalms rendered into verse. The third book also a psalter, and "approved by the Church of Scotland" was printed in 1823 in Edinburgh. The two last books were very small and in the printing in them of the old fashioned type and very fine.

Send Delegates to M. S. C. Meeting

Plymouth Home Economics club sent two delegates to the Cell State Home Economics conference held at East Lansing, Michigan State college, May 10 and 11. Ruth Granger and Frances Durn, president and vice president of the Plymouth Home Economics club were chosen to represent Plymouth.

After registration of all the representatives at the Home Economics building a general meeting of all the home economics girls and "teachers" was held in "Little Theatre" of the home economics building.

Following the greetings a panel discussion was held, "Can a Club Contribute to the Development of Each Member." Nine members took part in the meeting, high school students, college students, and teachers.

After this was a style show which showed correct clothes for high school girls through the day.

Guided trips through Home Management houses and Home Economics buildings interested the girls very much.

Friday evening a formal banquet was held. The tables were beautifully decorated with candle molds floating in water, surrounded by seasonal flowers.

A short program was held followed by a dancing party for the girls in the small ball room at Union building at Michigan State college.

On Saturday morning general meetings were held at college. Here the girls were divided into groups to attend various topics discussed such as, "How Can the Year's Program Include Every Member."

About 448 girls attended, with 73 clubs represented.

The group of girls gained much from such a meeting with girls from all parts of Michigan.

Rock Golfers Trim Northville

For the second time this year the Plymouth golf team thoroughly defeated the Northville foursome. The match was played at Plymouth Hills on Monday, May 20, and the Rocks won by a team score of 354 to 384.

Captain Warren Hoffman was low man of the match with an 84 with a 44 on the first round and a 40 on the second round. The course is a very short, nine-hole course. Jim Zuckerman closely followed the captain with a 45 and a 40 for 85. Bill Aluia shot a 92 for the 18 followed by Bob Kurtz with a 93. Jack Sequin didn't play in the match but he did play along with one of the foursomes; he shot a 75 for the first score in the seventies shot by a Plymouth man this year. Congratulations, Jack!

As the season draws to a close, many members of the squad still have to win their letters. The requirements are:
1. Finish the season in good standing.
2. Play in the regionals or state finals, or
3. Defeat your man in a non-league match twice, or
4. Defeat your man in a league match.

Up to the present time these men have won their letters: Dunlop, Hoffman, Owens, Sequin, Zuckerman, R. Kurtz, and Lawson. Aluia and Bill Patrick still have to defeat their men once in a non-league match to win their letters.

None are too wise to be mistaken, but few are so wisely just as to acknowledge and correct their mistakes, and especially the mistakes of prejudice.—Borrow.

Fair Picture — Editorial

The technicolor moving picture of the World's Fair in New York, shown the high school Wednesday, contradicted two arguments—one that machines do not benefit labor and the other that there is no opportunity for youth in our present economic system.

With the wonders of the 1939 fair as a background, the picture presented a young American putting to light the arguments of an apparent communist by saying "Employment is created by increased production." If better and cheaper products are made through the use of machinery, more can be bought and more men can get jobs in making them.

This provided almost an ideal setting for the well-informed young American to pick to pieces the contra-American arguments and it proves the value of facts and thinking. It is too bad that all who live in America cannot possess facts and thinking abilities—adequate ones in both cases.

The opportunity for youth, however, was given a somewhat starry hue. The youthful hero of the picture was at the outcome addicted to typically youthful indifference to his future course. After a week's attendance at the fair he was a changed boy, confident of a job in the American industry which the fair was supposed to exemplify.

It is too bad that all boys are not confident of obtaining a job when they reach manhood. If vocational advice given high school students is correct, any boy must undergo a training period before he can get in any worthwhile job. The picture slipped a bit in this regard.

Then, there is the idea that all young men might not wish to enter industry when they grow up. It is true that industry has a place for many equipped young men, but all of them may not care for that idea. The World's Fair presents a mighty picture, but it cannot present security for the future in itself.

Senior Year Book Nears Completion

The Seniorite, the senior annual is nearing completion under the direction of its co-editors, Nancy Alexander and Pat Bradley. When completed, the book will be distributed among the seniors at no cost to the individual. The book will be printed by the litho-process.

An art staff, under the direction of Nancy Alexander, is preparing the title page. Pictures for the book of various senior groups and school teams have been taken by Harold Davis and the litho-process.

The book will contain features on the senior play, letter girls, seniors in music, student government, senior Girl Reserves and senior prom. There will also be a sports section containing reviews of the football, basketball, baseball, track, golf and tennis teams. Another page is reserved for the baccalaureate, class night and commencement.

If present plans materialize, The Seniorite will be ready for distribution by June 10.

Seniors Plan "Skip Day" Trip

Senior "skip day" will be celebrated with a boat cruise on either the Greater Detroit or Greater Buffalo to Lake Huron on Saturday, June 15. Holding skip day on Saturday does not follow the precedent of past years, but it is thought that this trip will prove more interesting than the regular ones.

The Greater Buffalo and Greater Detroit are among the largest ships on the lake and at the most luxurious. There will be dancing on board ship. For those who prefer not to dance an amateur show will be staged. A special dinner will be served in the ship's dining room at a cost of 75 cents. Those not caring for this special dinner may have dinner a la carte or may bring their own.

The entire trip has been arranged for a number of high schools which observe skip day at the same time. The cost of the boat trip has been reduced to 85 cents for this special occasion.

Double Quartet Exists No More

There is a great deal of question about the year in which the first double quartet started. Miss Forsythe who taught music here at that time is the teacher who started it. Consequently, by doing a lot of calculating, it is believed that it must have been around the school year 1928-29.

To call the organization a double quartet this year is certainly a misnomer, since of course one should call a group of nine people who sing in harmony, a triple trio. This is the first year in which there have been nine girls.

The purpose of this musical group is to furnish entertainment for school and local gatherings. They sing for club meetings, banquets and other social groups. When certain clubs are planning program and haven't any entertainment, they call the school and ask for some musical entertainment. Usually the double quartet is called upon to sing.

They sing various types of music such as classical and semi-modern. Some of the pieces they have sung this year are "Play Marie" by Bach-Gounod, "Ave Gypsies, Dance Gypsies," "Alice Blue Gown," "Valse Triste," "Trees" and "The Minuet in G."

Girl Reserves Have Annual Breakfast Next Tuesday

Continuing an annual custom, the Senior Girl Reserves announced last week that plans for the May Breakfast, to be held May 28, have been completed. The members will meet Tuesday morning at 6:30 on Riverside park for the impressive outdoor ceremonial. This year the group will read passages from the Bible, applying to the Girl Reserve code, in response to Ruth Ash, the leader. Following the conclusion of singing "Follow the Gleam" the girls will eat at the picnic tables.

The committee chairman for the occasion are as follows: Jung-Gardner, menu; Gladys Salow, program; and Marjorie Knowles, program covers.

Former President of Richmond Rotary Now Masonic High Priest

Royal Arch Masons Turn to Small Town for Leadership

The Masonic fraternity in Michigan, being of the opinion that no single community, no matter how large, can possibly have a corner on the state's outstanding men, on frequent occasions seeks leadership in the small town. History of the grand chapter, royal arch masons of Michigan records that some of its ablest grand high priests came from extremely small communities.

During the 1940-41 caputular year, grand chapter will once again be piloted by the son of a small town, in the person of Howard Herbert Bauer of Richmond, who by the unanimous ballot of Michigan's 26,000 royal arch masons was, at the ninety-second annual convocation of grand chapter, regularly elected and installed as the eighty-third grand high priest at Detroit, Thursday, May 16.

The Royal Craft first made its appearance in Richmond during the latter half of the nineteenth century, when a dispensation was granted to form a chapter July 24, 1868. This chapter was duly constituted January 13, 1869, as No. 64, and after a career of some ten years its charter was surrendered December 14, 1879. For more than 30 years thereafter, Caputular masonry was dormant in the town. On July 18, 1910, a dispensation was again granted and on June 28, 1911, Richmond chapter No. 156 was duly consecrated.

Howard Herbert Bauer, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bauer, was born on a farm near Romeo, November 14, 1886. Thus he is the first native son of Macomb county to hold the exalted station of most excellent grand high priest. He was educated in the elementary and high schools at Romeo and later attended Worsham College of Embalming at Chicago, graduating in May, 1921.

America became embroiled in the World War in 1917, and at the tender age of 21, young Bauer volunteered to do his bit for Uncle Sam. He entered the army, June 2, 1917 and soon became a sergeant in the medical corps. He spent one year overseas and received honorable discharge August 5, 1919. While in the army he aided in staging the famous A.E.F. circus.

Following his scholastic career, Companion Bauer settled in Richmond, where he began to follow his chosen profession in 1922. His is one of those desirable personalities which can never be satisfied except as he becomes part of the social and civic life about him. Thus follows a long list of his accomplishments for the betterment of the lot of his fellowmen.

During 1925-26 he served as president of the Macomb and St. Clair Counties Funeral Directors association. Richmond Rotary club elected him president in 1934 and following his term, he became its secretary, a position he holds to this day.

Always interested in the welfare of the youth of America, he served as director of the Michigan Crippled Children's society for a period of three years. Active in the Boy Scouts of America Movement for more than 15 years, he received the award for distinguished service to boyhood, September 11, 1935. He is at present vice president of the Macomb County Boy Scouts Council.

In 1939, Richmond township elected him for a term of four years to the honored position of justice of the peace.

As an expression of his broad desires, he naturally at an early age turned to masonry and has since served it with distinction. In Romeo lodge No. 41 he received the degrees as follows: E.A. May 6, 1920; F.C. May 27, 1920; M.M., November 11, 1920. In 1924 he transferred to Richmond lodge No. 187.

Romeo chapter No. 17, conferred the Caputular degree upon him in the following order: Mark, November 15, 1922; P.M., March 21, 1923; M.E.M., April 11, 1923; R.A., April 11, 1923. He also transferred to Richmond chapter No. 156 in 1924 and in 1925-26 he served as excellent high priest. On May 19, 1926 he received the order of high priesthood.

He received the Cryptic degrees in Mt. Clemens council No. 8, May 11, 1923 and the orders of Knighthood at the hands of Romeo commandery No. 8, Reg. Cross, March 11, 1927. Knighthood Templar, March 25, 1927. He became junior warden of the commandery.

It was the Caputular rite which fascinated him most however and in 1934 he organized and became the first president (serving two years) of the Eastern Michigan Royal Arch association. At Saginaw, May 22, 1931, he entered the grand chapter official line as grand master of the first veil and advanced by regular graduations until the ninety-second annual convocation held in Detroit May 15-16, when he attained the highest office within the gift of the Royal Craft in Michigan, the eighty-third grand high priest in 92 years of history.

Most Excellent Companion Bauer's broad vision has stretched to far horizons, but even so it is difficult to believe that a man scarcely 45 years of age could have crowded so much into so short a span of life. The ideals are a part of his personal character and these have been carried into his home—overcome, which by the way is graced by a charming wife, Mamie Ackerman, of Romeo, who became Mrs. Bauer August 25, 1919, and two handsome children—a boy, Milton Howard, born 1920, and a girl, Noreen E., born 1922. Companion Bauer's dogged courage and his confidence in his capacity to succeed assures the royal arch masons in Michigan of an able administration during the coming Caputular year.

MADGE EVANS

Madge Evans to Play at Ann Arbor

The third week of the Ann Arbor dramatic season brings to the boards of the Mendelssohn theatre Sydney Kingsley's prize winning play, "The World We Make," opening May 28 and running through June 1. Madge Evans, brilliant star of stage and screen, will play the leading role and will be supported by Herbert Rudley and Tito Vuolo, two members of the New York company.

Based on Millen Brand's novel, "The Outward Road," Mr. Kingsley has created ideal stage material in the story of the mentally unbalanced girl who, escaping from an institution, heals herself by leading a normal life with normal people. This play appeared on Broadway this winter, with first-nighters so visibly moved that they remained after the curtain's fall to cheer the production. Brooks Atkinson of The New York Times says, "The World We Make" is one of the most original and glowing plays of the current season—a cheerful, moving and poignant drama—an ornament to our theatre."

Miss Evans, who in private life is the wife of Sydney Kingsley, is admirably cast as Virginia, the shy, tremulous heroine whose pilgrimage in search of herself forms a deeply moving story. The chronicle of her warm and affectionate life with normal people traces the development of her character, and shows how she recovers her strength of mind by living with ordinary people absorbed in real pursuits. High comedy relief is provided throughout the play by characters taken from the swirling life of the tenement in which she lives: a mercurial Polish girl whose chief aim is to get married, a neighborhood clown and a comical Italian who lives upstairs with his slatternly dog. The Ann Arbor season is most fortunate in having Tito Vuolo, who portrayed the Italian comic in New York, play his original role in the Ann Arbor production. Kasia Orzazewski, also of the New York production, has been engaged to play her original part. Herbert Rudley will play the male lead, a part which won him great acclaim on Broadway this winter.

"The World We Make" will run Tuesday through Saturday evenings, with an 8:30 curtain; matinees will be held Thursday and Saturday at 3:15. Tickets may be reserved by calling the box office of the Mendelssohn theatre.

Car-Bicycle Crash Monday

Alice Burden, 15, while riding a bicycle on South Main street, near the Central school building Monday afternoon, was struck by a car driven by Leslie W. Jones, of 1933 Joy road.

Although the girl was not seriously injured, she was taken to a Plymouth physician who dressed her bruised right arm and legs. The bicycle was damaged to no great extent.

Witnesses said that Miss Burden was riding the machine north on Main street at the time of the accident. Jones was traveling south. She held out her hand to make a left turn on to Church street, pulled to the right side of Main and then turned directly into the path of the oncoming automobile. Blame was placed on neither of the two persons implicated in the accident. Plymouth police investigated.

Plymouth Youth Elected to U. of M. Cafeteria Board

Arthur Kepka, a law student at the University of Michigan and son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kepka, of 333 Ann street, was recently elected to the board of directors of the Michigan Wolverines, the largest student cooperative cafeteria in the United States.

The nine-member board, including two faculty members, is the controlling body for the restaurant which last year earned well over $5,000, an amount almost double the earnings of the previous two years. The 900 odd student members of the Wolverine spent over $70,000 for meals in the fiscal period, September, 1939, to April of this year.

Major objectives of the Wolverine for the past five years have been for better business, to improve the plant and its facilities and to achieve greater campus recognition. To accomplish these ends steps have been taken to enlarge the menu, provide a more attractive dining room and sponsor social activities.

Kepka will be graduated from the University law school in June, 1941. He received his AB degree there in 1936 and was graduated from Plymouth high school in 1934.

INVESTIGATE THE ADVANTAGES OF THE O P STOKER BEFORE YOU BUY.

It's the Only Completely Automatic Stoker on the Market. LET US TELL YOU ALL ABOUT THEM!

There's One you can't pass by!

They're rolling out fast... and your Buick dealer keeps them rolling by making swell deals!

ENTICING are the offerings flagging your eye from behind the plate glass along Automobile Row—how in the world can a poor mortal pick the best of the bunch?

You can't try them all, it's plain. But there's one thing you can do that makes a lot of sense.

Just give yourself a yardstick to start with.

Take the car that all the talk's about. Give yourself something to go on by trying a Buick first.

Of course, it may be tough on the next fellow once you've sampled Buick's swift and thrifty Dynaflex straight-eight — no other engine made is balanced after assembly to slick-as-watchworks smoothness.

And stout, soft coil springs all around, especially when combined with ride-steadying torque-tube drive, may spoil you entirely for any other kind of ride.

Again, there are things like recoil-mounted Knee-Action, pressure-sealed cooling systems, Two-Way Direction Signals with automatic cut-off and so on that you simply can't find elsewhere.

But it isn't only Buick's six-dozen new features that make this the car you can't pass by—it's also the price.

That puts a really great car within your reach. It buys not only a lot of exclusives and extras, but gives you more of the basic things, such as power and size and deep-rooted sturdiness — a longer car and the sturdy frame at the money.

Current prices start at $895* for the business coupe, delivered at Flint, Mich.—transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), and optional equipment and accessories extra.

That adds up to delivered prices that will open your eyes wide—so why not ask your Buick dealer for the whole story and a free demonstration?

THE PUBLIC PAYS AND PAYS

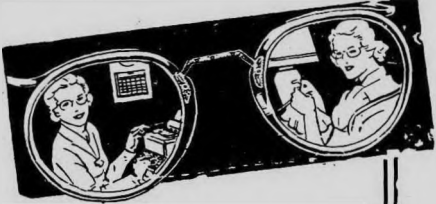

Not so long ago a youthful state employe from one of the state offices in Lansing was discussing the difference between state jobs. He said that positions which enabled state employes to have "expense accounts" were much sought after, because most of them regarded their expense checks as just that much additional salary.

Questioned a bit about the meaning of his assertion, he declared that there is no one to check their automobile mileage or other expenses charged against the taxpayers, that one in making up a "swindle sheet" as he termed it, could charge up just as much as they thought the "traffic would bear."

There you are—how many hundreds of thousands of dollars are taken each year from the pockets of the taxpayers by questionable expense accounts, no one in Lansing or anywhere else has the slightest idea.

Here is one way that Lansing officialdom by a careful checking can probably save a sufficient number of pennies from expense accounts to make the effort well worthwhile.

WAKE UP, AMERICA!

The world is on fire. War, pestilence, famine prevail on nearly every continent. It is sweeping from nation to nation like a prairie fire.

What are we doing in these United States to protect ourselves if the flames jump across the Atlantic? And how do we know that the sparks of hatred, of conquest will not reach us?

How well are we prepared? We have practically NO national defense! We are worse off than was Sweden. And we have thousands and thousands of "Fifth Column" snipers in this country who will jump at the first opportunity to kill and burn all that is America and all that represents American freedom.

Germany has 30,000 trained army air pilots to our 8,000. We have 60,000 ground men for air service. Germany has 325,000 men in its aviation ground service crews.

We have 300 anti-aircraft guns. Germany has 21,000 of these highly important guns.

By the end of another year we will have a total of 8,625 planes for both army and navy service, at the present rate of construction.

Army officers claim that Germany now has over 12,000 first-line fighting planes and that in the near future it will be producing 6,000 planes per month. Its production today is something like 2,300 planes per month!

Wake up, America—and go to work! God forbid that we may be caught in the same trap of European neutrals, but we must prepare for the worst!

BUYING ELECTIONS.

The United States News is about as non-partisan a newspaper as is published in all of these United States. David Lawrence, its editor, is also one of the best posted writers on national affairs in Washington. Recently The News published the following timely and interesting comment about increased expenditures that congress is going to permit during the forthcoming election months.

Take time to read it, you will be interested. It follows: WPA is about to be provided with funds to be spent in one more election year. In January, the President had planned to cut WPA funds by one-third—to the relatively low level of $1,000,000,000 to be spent in twelve months. Today the plan is to spend that billion dollars in eight months following July 1, instead of twelve months.

This means that, if Congress goes along, the sharp cuts now being made in the ranks of WPA workers will be restored during the autumn months of this year. A similar experience occurred in both 1936 and 1938, when important increases were made in expenditures and in jobs during the months just preceding election and when the number of WPA jobs declined somewhat after election.

In dollar terms, the President's original plan for WPA spending during the last half of 1940 would have allowed no more than $100,000,000 to be spent as the average for autumn months. The new plan would allow as much as $160,000,000 to be spent in a month like October or November.

Aware of the implications that might be read into these facts and figures, Col. Francis C. Harrington, WPA administrator, now has issued orders that are to be placed in all pay envelopes, advising WPA workers that they are free to vote or not to vote as they please and that nobody can interfere with their rights or influence their votes. Colonel Harrington is an officer of the regular United States Army. He is indebted to no political party and has no strings tied to him. He is an administrator of long and varied experience.

It is on Colonel Harrington's shoulders that the task falls when the public demands that political interference, in an election year, be kept out of relief and out of the expenditure of a vast sum of money. The task in other years had fallen on Harry Hopkins, who tried, like the present administrator, to keep his administration free from political influence.

But the point that politicians are making among themselves is that no law can bar an unemployed worker from showing gratitude for the fact that he gets a WPA job in the autumn of 1940. There is nothing to keep that worker or his family and friends from displaying that gratitude at the polls in November. When as many as 600,000, or even more, of these jobs are created in the autumn months there is always the chance that some voters may be influenced. And when the flow of checks to 4,000,000 farmers is speeded up, as it is being, so that a large proportion of those checks arrive during October and November instead of in January and February as in the past, there is a chance that those checks may have political influence.

These are practical considerations that are in the minds of many officials and many members of congress.

They recall the experience of the past election years. In 1936, where the government had been spending $153,000,000 on WPA in August, it was spending $180,000,000 in October with a corresponding rise in the number of workers. After election—between the start of November and the end of December, the WPA rolls that had risen before election declined 429,000. In 1938, where the government had been spending $172,000,000 in July, it was spending $207,000,000 in October. WPA rolls after election declined by 253,000. The years 1937 and 1939 were not election years. In those years, relief rolls increased by 195,000 and 250,000 respectively between the end of October and the first of January.

The figures appear to emphasize a tendency for relief rolls to rise sharply in the months just before election and then to decline right after election, although normally severe weather sets in during December and normally the trend of relief is upward at that period.

Harry Hopkins always pointed out that the certification of individuals for WPA is the responsibility of local officials, over whom the national government has no control. The WPA administrator allots the funds, administers the work, and sees that the laws are obeyed in the process, but an agency of local government chooses those entitled to WPA work.

Colonel Harrington will face the problem of keeping politics out of this operation in the heat of a campaign in a presidential election year. He faces that job with a vast amount of money to spend, but without any political ties or any political responsibilities.

WELFARE SAVINGS

In commenting upon the splendid work of the present Gratiot County Social Welfare Board last week it was not our intention to have read in between the lines any criticism of the previous county board.

Handicapped as they were with restrictions which divided the responsibility between the federal, state and local units, it was probably impossible for them to use their own best judgment in many cases. Certainly they were not in as good position as the present board do to do this.

The point we perhaps did not make clear last week was that through changes in the state welfare law which place welfare matters under greater local control and through the selection of practical local men who have the interests of the taxpayers as much at heart as they do the interests of those who either voluntarily or otherwise have become public charges and through the fact that the present board is made up of such men, the saving was made possible and what is more important was actually made.

While affecting a saving of more than $16,000 in a period of four months, is a notable accomplishment, taxpayers of Gratiot are going to be disappointed if they expect the amount to immediately be taken from their local taxes. As a matter of fact, the county received $15,480 less from the state during the four months than it did during the same four months of the previous year, which is almost equal to the saving made.

Eventually, of course, if other counties will make a serious attempt to approximate the results in Gratiot County, Gratiot taxpayers, together with all Michigan taxpayers, will benefit. But it probably will not show up as a reduction on local tax receipts this year.—Romaine McCall in The Gratiot County Herald.

Livonia Center at large is aroused with indignation over its prospects of having a saloon in the township, which project met with favor at a meeting of the township board last Wednesday. This township has the distinction of having been without a saloon within its borders for more than a score of years, and the people who have the interest of the young men at heart, are not welcoming this new accession into their midst. It is time that the good men of our community awakened to their sense of duty regarding the welfare of the coming generations. There are bright boys, just growing into manhood, who may become victims of the drink habit, on account of its being at their very door who, otherwise would live clean lives. It is to these boys that we are looking for our future men. Who is there that is not willing to use his influence, toward building the character of these young men, instead of encouraging the things that destroy character? We appeal to the good people of Plymouth, who worked so valiantly and successfully to rid their village of this evil, to come to our rescue and lend a helping hand toward eliminating this undesirable influence from our midst. Lee Jewell, of Detroit, visited relatives here the first of the week.
