

Summer Dental Clinic Serves School Children

Board of Education and Couzens' Fund Sponsor Program

The second summer dental clinic, sponsored through the cooperation of the Plymouth board of education and the James Couzens' Fund of Michigan, has serviced an average of 14 children a day since it started July 22 at the high school.

Dr. S. Olekoff is in charge of the clinic giving fillings, extractions, and correction work for the children's dental needs. He is assisted by Miss Rose Niedospal, student at the high school.

Mrs. Mary Strasen, school nurse, is the local coordinator of the program which heads a committee which has charge of contacting children eligible for the service. The constant members include Dr. B. E. Champ; Mrs. Nellie Bird, principal of Central; Mrs. Jewell Bell, principal of Starkweather; Mrs. Jesse Hines, Mrs. Raymond Cavell, Mrs. Clark Sackett, and Mrs. Godber.

Other members of the Starkweather P.T.A. and Mrs. Hugh Law, Mrs. Roy Proctor, Mrs. Edward Klinke, and Mrs. Edwin Campbell, representatives of the Central P.T.A.

Last year, Mrs. Strasen reported more than 300 children had dental corrections and fillings completed in preparation for the ensuing school year.

The summer dental program which covers an eight-week period serves approximately 20 children. The clinic is held in the regular all-year-round program promoted by the same fund. In 1939, 17 full-time dentists and 17 assistants, the latter employed and paid by local authorities, operated under the direction of a dentist supervisor. The 1939 summer program served 13,064 children. Designed for children of preschool and grade school age to 16 years inclusive, the program is an attempt to give the largest possible amount of good dental treatment to the largest number of indigent children.

The Children's Fund of Michigan, made possible by the late Senator Couzens' gift of $12,200,000, presents the first large philanthropic foundation for children created in this state. The donor listed as the objective of the health, welfare, happiness, and development of the children of the state of Michigan. The donor also stipulated that the principal and interest shall be expended in its entirety within a 25-year period after May 1, 1929.

The census of the Territory in 1820, covering a territory within the limits of the present state, of 31,639, an increase of more than 300 per cent. during the decade. Wayne county led with 6,781, with Oakland second, 4,911, and Washenaw following with 4,064. Wayne county bravely ended the list with a total of 5. Several of the counties laid out in 1820 do not appear at all in the census, although St. Joseph appears with 1,313 population.

In March 2, 1831, all the remainder of the state south of Town 13 North was laid off into 12 counties and named Allegan, Arenac, Clinton, Gladwin, Gratiot, Ionia, Isabella, Kent, Midland, Montcalm, Oshtemo, and Ottawa. Cass was still governor at this time, although he shortly after resigned, becoming secretary of war, and H. R. Schoolcraft was a member of the legislative council.

Allegan: The meaning of this name which is one of those suggested by Schoolcraft is not entirely certain. It seems probable that it was named from the ancient Indian tribe whose name was sometimes spelled Allegans. Colden in his map accompanying the edition of his History of the Five Nations published in 1742, shows the "Allegans" occupying territory at the head waters of the Ohio. The opinion has been expressed that the last syllable "gan" is the Algonquin termination meaning lake, but this seems very doubtful.

Arenac: This county has had a checkered career. Laid out in 1831, in 1837 it was incorporated into the newly formed Bay county. In 1833 it was re-established with its present limits. The name was manufactured by Schoolcraft in accordance with a system which he developed more fully some time later. The syllable "ac" is derived from "auk," or "akke," which means land or earth, giving the idea of locality, and Arenac is compounded from the Latin "arena," sand—the derived meaning of place of combat comes from the fact that such places are sanded and "ac" and therefore means sandy place.

Harold Leach Goes to California for Naval Training Course

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Leach, of Amelia street, spent the weekend with their son, Harold, who has been at the Great Lakes Naval Training school, Illinois for the last nine weeks.

Young Leach has been transferred to the naval training school at San Diego, California, where he will study in radio work for six months. Following that, he will undertake six months' training in aviation at the Pensacola, Florida naval aviation base.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brink and family, of Detroit, were Saturday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Anderson.

Purity Locker Storage Opens

A full page advertisement in this issue of The Plymouth Mail announces the opening of the Purity Refrigerated Food Lockers in connection with the Purity Market's grocery and meat departments.

The new Frigidaire locker storage room is an innovation for Plymouth, although they are featured elsewhere in Michigan. Local residents may rent lockers in the freezing room for a very nominal sum a year and may keep meats, fowl, fruit or vegetables frozen in their own compartments until they wish to use them.

Foods brought into the food lockers are quickly frozen to seal in the flavor and freshness, and then placed in the individual locker where they will keep for months. The locker room has 236 private lockers, many of which are already leased by local residents and farmers. Local organizations may also use the lockers to store foods for banquets which they may build during the winter months.

The building and locker space was completed at a cost of $7,500. A formal opening has been set for Friday and Saturday of this week and everyone is invited to view the new addition so that they may see the newest method of food storage. Mr. Galin also plans to have his store open for inspection by the public every night until 9:00 o'clock except Thursdays. For further details regarding the opening we refer to the announcement elsewhere.

City Population Increase Demands Re-Registration

State Law Requires New Permanent Register of Voters

The necessity for every resident of Plymouth to re-register before August 31 in order to be eligible to vote in the September 10 primary was emphatically emphasized by City Clerk Clarence H. Elliott, who reports that registrations are still far behind the normal expectancy in view of the census.

Explaining that because residents of other neighboring communities are not obliged to re-register, many Plymouth voters feel that they do not have to, Elliott stated that all local registrations were cancelled May 8, 1940 in conformity with the state law which requires any municipality attaining a population in excess of 5,000 to establish a permanent registration. Since the register has not been permanent, re-registering is mandatory. Local residents will not have to register after this year unless they fail to vote for two consecutive years.

Reporting that only 700 potential voters have completed registration to date, Elliott sought to impress the fact that Plymouth is this year in a different position from other communities.

"Many new voters who reach the age of 21 before September 10 are expected to be added to the rolls this year," said Elliott, who urges prompt registration to avoid a last-minute rush before the deadline.

Red Cross Has New Branches

Donations from local women of baby clothes to complete a baby being prepared by the American Red Cross were solicited this week by Miss Pauline Peck who is in charge of Red Cross activities.

The Red Cross organization is furnishing all clothing for the baby layettes except the sweaters, and women interested in taking part in this work may obtain materials from Mrs. John Blickenstaff. All women having baby sweaters, in either white, pink, or blue, are urged to call Miss Peck at Plymouth 175.

Two new branches of the American Red Cross have been organized in this township at the home of Mrs. John Martin, 15645 Farmington road, and at the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church. All Rosedale women who are interested in cooperating in this program are requested to meet at the church on Wednesday afternoons at 2:00 o'clock in the basement of the Presbyterian church. Those who cannot attend the Wednesday meeting may obtain materials from Mrs. M. P. Francis, 10004 Arden avenue.

Mrs. Martin announces that another group in the Farmington road area meets at her home on Wednesday afternoons to sew and knit garments for which the Red Cross furnishes materials for victims in war-torn Europe.

Knitting work may also be done by individuals in their own homes who have only to call Miss Peck, one of the directors named above.

Bert's Place Now Enlarged

Bert's Place, a restaurant operated by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Swadling at 333 North Main street, has recently undergone a complete remodeling and a 16-foot addition has been built to provide a new and larger kitchen. The building is owned by Robert Joffie.

The dining room, which has been enlarged to accommodate 21 persons, five more than could be seated before, is now colorfully decorated in maroon and cream. A room-length counter, which is placed along one side, is red and black, and a booth-like arrangement with chrome and red leather double settees and tables line the other side.

All new equipment has been installed in the enlarged kitchen, including a steam table, facilities for instant hot water, water for coffee, and a new range and coal burner. There is a new work table and meat block, in addition to a canopy over the stoves to carry away cooking odors. All prepared and raw foods are kept under glass and in refrigerator.

"We cordially invite Plymouth residents to come in and inspect this newly decorated and enlarged eating establishment. We are sure you will want to make it a habit to eat here regularly," declared Mr. Swadling whom his friends call just plain "Bert."

The members of the Child Study group and their children enjoyed a picnic party, Thursday, at Riverside park.

Total production of Michigan iron ore in 1939 was 1,040,000 tons, equivalent in tonnage to the material excavated when the Panama canal was being dug.

Oddities Come in Two's for Farmer Out on Ann Arbor Road This Summer

Not one—but two oddities occurred this summer on the farm of Fred F. Fehlig out on Ann Arbor road, located just west of West Ann Arbor Trail. Both are oddities in growth only quite the extreme in nature.

Early last Saturday morning when Mr. Fehlig went to the barnyard to turn his cattle out to pasture, he saw that one of his three-year-old jerseys had become a mother during the night. This startled him because this particular cow wasn't to have her calf until September.

But the oddity isn't in the premature birth—it is because of the fact that the young heifer is perfectly normal and has a good chance to live, according to Dr. E. B. Cavell Jr., veterinarian, even though it is dwarfed and weighed only 20 pounds at birth. Most calves when they are born tip the scales at 80 or even 100 pounds, he said. This one was fully developed, even to the extent that it had eyebrows and ears.

Most premature calves die, Mr. Fehlig said, because usually they are too weak to nurse. "Although ours couldn't stand by itself for a few hours, we believe it was because of the chilly barnyard ground as she was all right a little while after being carried into the barn."

And the other item of note is that he has field corn—"Pride of the North"—which is now about 12 feet high. This isn't just one or two stalks, it is the whole field.

The crop was grown from home-grown seed, certified last year, which was planted in March. Already the ears are a foot or more long and prospects are that it will develop even more before September or the first of October.

This particular stand of corn was chest-high by July 4. According to tradition, normal corn should be "knee-high by the Fourth of July."

Farmers from the vicinity who have come over to Mr. Fehlig's to view the corn, say that they have never seen anything like it before in Michigan. "Why, it is even taller than most corn when fully developed," they say. Mr. Fehlig believes that the stalks will grow to a height of 15 feet.

He offers no explanation for the tall corn—or the small heifer.

U. of M. Alumni Club Organized

A call to all alumni of the University of Michigan in Plymouth and neighboring communities to join in the recently organized U. of M. Alumni club was issued this week by Mrs. Thelma Bateman, president.

Those eligible for membership in the club include any person who has ever attended the university, any member of his direct family, or any person who has at present or has had a child attending the university and has an active interest in the school, according to Stuart Dube, chairman of the membership committee.

The club plans to give a "send-off" party for students entering the University of Michigan early in September.

Mrs. Bateman urges any alumni who have not yet been personally contacted and who are interested in joining the local organization to call her or any of the following members of the membership committee: Stuart Dube, Dr. John Olsaver, Mrs. Louise Matulis, Mrs. Alta Woodworth, Mrs. Dave Mather, Carvel Bentley and Paul Harsha.

Citizens Rally to Back Eaton

Plymouth citizens at an informal meeting held Monday night at the Mayflower hotel decided to permit no time to go to waste in working out details for an active campaign in behalf of the candidacy of Elton R. Eaton for this city for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

The Plymouth Republican club, an organization which has functioned in various party affairs in recent years, has become the Elton R. Eaton club, its interests devoted exclusively to the active campaign for lieutenant governor.

A membership committee of 20 has been elected, and a general invitation has been extended by the club to all citizens of the city and its entire locality to become members.

Fred D. Schrader was elected chairman, George A. Smith, vice chairman and Leslie Alexander, secretary-treasurer.

The adoption of the name was agreed upon after considerable discussion. It was decided to eliminate any reference to party because of the fact that many independent and Democratic voters had signified a desire to belong to the organization.

Various committees were appointed and plans were discussed for another meeting, details to be announced at a later date.

The committees, which have so far been named, are as follows:

Headquarters building, Harry Loh, chairman; William Pettin, Gill, T. Corbett, Matt Powell, and Frank Rambo; membership, Eugene Omdorff, Henry Omdorff, Walter Harms, Herman Bakhaus, and Elmer Zuckerman; publicity, Robert Wesley, chairman; "Abe" Goldstein, Vaughan Smith, Frank Rambo, and Earl Russell, and finance, S. T. Dodge, chairman, who will name his own committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Anderson and son, Jack, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Rife, in Detroit.

Plymouth Property On Sale At Auction

City to Receive 68.5 of Bid Price

Non-Tax Paying Lots for Sale at Detroit Today

Three hundred sixty-seven lots, constituting 322 parcels of land, will be offered for sale at the public scavenger sale of land which reverted to the state on November 3, 1939 when taxes were cancelled, at the state land board office, 1209 Washington boulevard, Detroit, Friday.

City Manager C. H. Elliott, City Treasurer Charles Garrett, and City Commissioner George Robinson will attend the sale to represent the city's interests, and George A. Smith, superintendent of Plymouth schools, will represent the school's interest. Many private citizens also plan to offer bids at the sale today.

The city commission at a special meeting Monday afternoon authorized City Manager Elliott to offer bids on the properties under consideration. Maps and booklets outlining the affected properties have been distributed through the city offices to interested citizens.

The total valuation of the 367 lots is $74,760.00 and the total amount of the cancelled taxes is $48,511.67, according to Manager Elliott, who estimates that each unit of government ought to realize 50 per cent of the amount of cancelled tax in return on the sale.

The amount of the cancelled tax and the pro rata share of the bid price in the city was $33,229.89 or 68.5 per cent. The delinquent school tax equaled $9,726.96 or 20 per cent; the township, $4,240.45 or 87; the county, $4,986.31 or 8.42; and the state's share, $1,048.06 or 2.16 per cent.

There are 38 parcels of land in which the city of Plymouth is vitally interested, according to Mr. Elliott, for use as street openings, parking space, playgrounds and parks, and storage purposes. The city manager disclosed that he will not offer bids for the city in properties which do not draw bids from other parties, for lands not sold at the auction sale will be available to municipalities upon request to the state board.

The 1937 legislature ordered a tax sale held in May, 1938, to sell delinquent taxes for 1935 and prior years, giving the owners 18 months in which to "redeem." For six years there had been a moratorium on tax sales. It was known that more than a million parcels of land, in area more than a third of the state, were in such a predicament. In many cases the accumulated taxes were more than the value of the land; in some cases, several times that value. It was evident that as a result of this sale the state would

Wild's Announce Summer Sale

Wild & Company announces elsewhere in this issue of The Mail a joint summer clearance and anniversary sale. The anniversary is based on the fact that it has been just one year since Walter Adloff came to Plymouth to take over the management of the store.

During that period the store has been remodelled and completely changed about with several new lines of merchandise added to the stock. For complete details in regard to the sale event an advertisement in this issue gives full details.

Did You Know That

The congregation of the Methodist church will hold its annual parish picnic at Riverside park, Wednesday evening, August 7, at 6:30 p. m., near the wading pool. It will be a pot-luck supper with each family supplying its own tea or coffee. If the weather is inclement, the picnic will be held indoors at the church.

Program Arrangements Announced for Community Picnic, August 14

Final arrangements have been completed for the community picnic which will be held Wednesday afternoon, August 14, according to members of the committee in charge of the affair.

The main feature of the event will be freestyle sandwitches which will be served to all who attend. Huge barrels of orange-ade will also be served free to young and old alike during the afternoon and supper hours.

From all indications this year's event will be far better attended than any in the past and plans are being made to accommodate at least 2,000 people. A well planned program of games and entertainment has been arranged for the afternoon and the high school band will give a concert in the early evening.

The picnic will be held in Riverside park where softball diamonds will provide space for two games which will be played between business men and service clubs. The shuffle board and horseshoe pitching courts will also be available to Plymouthites as well as the wading pool for the kiddies.

A registration booth shall be placed so that everyone may register for the "guessing contest."

The proposed schedule of events for the afternoon is as follows:

1:30—Peanut balancing for boys and girls six years and under; 50-yard dash for boys and girls 10 to 12 years old; "high steppers" for boys 10 to 12 years old; "endless chain" for girls 10 to 12 years old, and softball game between Thelma Beauty shop and the Plymouth Challengers.

2:00—"Endless chain" for boys 13 to 15 years old; Stages twin race for girls and boys from 10 to 12 and from 13 to 16 years old; 2:15—"Go and go back" sprints for boys and girls over 13 years old.

2:30—"One out" game for girls and boys from 10 to 12 years old, and a softball game between the Central Juniors and the Starkweather Juniors.

2:45—"Horse and Jockey" race for fathers and children, and a pillow case contest for women.

3:00—Races for married women.

3:15—Tug of war between Central and Starkweather Juniors, and between Merchants and All-Corners team.

3:45—Softball games between the combined Rotary and American Legion members and the Central Juniors members and the

THE purpose of insects is to annoy people. Bedbugs and mosquitoes are very successful insects.

Insects, like burlesque shows, count a great deal on legs and think very little about clothes. So far, however, the police have not clamped down on insects.

Some insects fly with the speed of a bullet. The next war will probably be won by the nation with the most loaded insects.

If you look closely at a fly, he looks closely back at you. That is why you both are thinking of 45 swatters.

Night Blooming Cereus in Window Display

The night blooming cereus belonging to Mrs. S. C. Robison of Penniman avenue has again blossomed and is on display this year in the window of Blunk and Thatcher's furniture store.

Commonly called "Star of Bethlehem" the plant is a member of the cactus family. Blooming only at night and reaching full bloom at midnight, the plant does not start blossoming until it is seven years old. The rare plant, which has aroused considerable interest in the community since it first bloomed three years ago, came into blossom twice last year.

It requires four hours for the flowers to develop from an egg-shaped bud to a beautiful blossom of about seven inches in diameter, and slowly wither.

Each fall, at the first suggestion of cold weather, Mr. Robison takes the plant to greenhouses of the Wayne County Training school, where he is employed, and brings it back to his yard late in the spring.

Ex-Resident Describes Rogers' Tribute

Pageant and Parade Held in Memorial to Will Rogers

A letter describing the celebration in honor of the memory of Will Rogers held at Santa Monica, California, was received yesterday from Mrs. O. M. Southworth, formerly Mrs. E. L. Riggs, well known in Plymouth. Mrs. Southworth, now living in Venice, attended with her son, Charles Riggs and his wife Friday night, July 26.

The pageant given in the stadium of the Santa Monica high school grounds for three nights, included a cast of more than 600 performers who enacted the various episodes in the life of Will Rogers. Conrad Nagel, former movie star and popular emcee, was the narrator, describing the action on the huge stage and relating the life story of the "Immortal Cowboy," writes Mrs. Southworth.

While the attractions of the Will Rogers Memorial celebration this week have taken the spotlight in the public interest, the actual occasion here upon which the celebration is founded is the convention of the Will Rogers Highway 66 association to mark the development of the great highway which runs like a thread of major distinction between Santa Monica and Chicago.

Leonard E. Trainor, Will Rogers' stand-in for years, died of a heart attack only a few hours after completing the leading role in the biographical pageant, according to the writer.

"Billie Burke took the part of Rogers' wife. One of the most amusing scenes was the wedding at which every type of old vehicle drove up and parked in the front yard which runs like a thread of major distinction between Santa Monica and Chicago.

"Billie Burke took the part of Rogers' wife. One of the most amusing scenes was the wedding at which every type of old vehicle drove up and parked in the front yard which runs like a thread of major distinction between Santa Monica and Chicago.

"The morning following the pageant there was a parade of 5000 persons, scores of floats, and 1400 horses through the streets of Santa Monica. Leo Carillo, movie star and friend of the late cowboy humorist, was marshal of the parade, who brought cheers from the 100,000 spectators lining the streets as he rode a prancing horse. Mrs. Will Rogers and Billie Burke rode together in one of the automobiles. The two sons and daughter of the beloved cowboy, whose humorous quips so frequently took on the importance of great human pronouncements, led "Soapsuds," Rogers' favorite roping pony, in the parade.

"With a huge picture of Will Rogers and an inscription "To Our Absent Brother," the Santa Monica Elks lodge float attracted much attention. Death Wailly, Scotty rode with his partner, Albert M. Johnson. Celebrities in the line of march were Lewis Stone, Harold Lloyd, Brenda Joyce, Wallace Ford, Ann Rutherford, Bill Robinson, Cesar Romero, Donald Novis, Lon Chaney Jr., Evelyn Venable, Rochelle Hudson, Russell Hayden, Linda Ware, Bill Elliott, William Farnum, Hal Mohr, Virginia Vale, Ray Whitley, Gilbert Roland, Will James, Jane Withers, and Monte Blue. Twenty-five bands were featured in the parade, called "Roundup of the Stars."

Mrs. Southworth also added that the home of Lady Ashley Fairbanks, wife of the late Doug Fairbanks, at 705 Roosevelt highway, has been opened to women who wish to do Red Cross work for English war relief.

How Much Better Off Are People of Michigan Than Those in Arkansas?

Read About the "Feudal" System Over the Mississippi

How much better off are the people of Michigan than are the people of some of the southern and western states?

The following intensely interesting article written by R. H. Markham, well known writer of the Christian Science Monitor, gives some idea as to living conditions in the beautiful state of Arkansas.

Michigan residents will be interested in comparing our conditions with those of the folks down in Arkansas. It follows in full:

WILSON, Ark. — "Perhaps you'll enter Arkansas from Memphis on the East. If so, your introduction to the state will include a revelation in agricultural wealth. Cotton, of course, is king. In witness of this, turn north at West Memphis, on Route U.S. 61, and reaching the feudal town of Wilson, behold the largest cotton plantation in the United States."

This invitation to come and see "the feudal town of Wilson" is found in a beautiful booklet entitled "Arkansas invites you." It is a semi-official publication, containing many very attractive illustrations. It is prepared by the Arkansas Centennial Commission and is distributed by the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce. So its "pages comprise a true picture of Arkansas," as the booklet itself avers.

This frank reference to feudalism reveals one of the outstanding agricultural facts of Arkansas. Wilson, a town of 1,500 people is in Mississippi county, along the west bank of the Mississippi river, in the extreme northeast corner of the state. It is said to be the most productive cotton county in the United States. That means it is the richest plot of agricultural ground in the world, with the possible exception of a few plots in the lower delta of the Nile. According to official data, 70,000 people inhabit it in 1930. Of them, 83 per cent were rural.

A brief study of this county will help toward a better understanding of Arkansas' problems and of America's problems. This richest agricultural county on the continent produces 141,000 bales of cotton yearly. The second richest county in Arkansas produces 80,000. In each case it is two bales per inhabitant. No other county in the state even approaches that, as far as cotton production goes.

Now, how does that wealth benefit the people who produce it? According to official information, tenancy in these two fabulously rich counties is 86 per cent and 90 per cent. In other words, most of the people are utterly propertyless. Fewer than one per cent in both counties have running water in their houses; fewer than one per cent outside of the one city of 10,000 population have electricity; barely half of one per cent outside of that city have telephones; more than 98 per cent still use kerosene lamps. Out of 18,627 farm homes, only 140 have baths. That is less than one per cent.

All these are official data. Arkansas contains 33,335 square miles and has a population of 1,854,482 people (1930). Three-fourths, also, are rural. If it were as thickly settled as Massachusetts, it would contain 28,000,000 inhabitants. It has only four cities with more than 20,000 people. It is divided into two almost equal topographical areas. The south-east half is low and for the most part suitable to agriculture. The northwest half is mountainous and the soil in many places is not very good.

A hundred years ago practically the whole of Arkansas was covered with timber. Even now, not more than half is cleared. From the beginning, there has been a great movement of people. It is reported that 1,346,707 Americans enumerated in the last census (1930) moved into or out of Arkansas. A few more have left than have come in, going chiefly to Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, and Kansas.

The official Arkansas Handbook of 1937-1938 contains a "Who's Who" of the Arkansas Government. The Governor was born in Missouri; the Lieutenant Governor, in Kentucky. The first senator, in alphabetical order, was born in Oklahoma; the second in Canada; the third in Mississippi; the ninth in Tennessee; the tenth in Mississippi. Thus, only five out of the first ten were natives.

In this same handbook, the official state historian gives a list of the 10 greatest Arkansas men. Only two of them are native born. Of the 10 greatest women, not one was born in Arkansas. This tendency of Americans to migrate from state to state, is by no means confined to Arkansas, but is somewhat more accentuated here than in many other regions. Within the state, also, there is a vast amount of movement. The first settlers here were rugged, restless, independent mountaineers. Most immigrated from the South. They came, naturally, from the poorer unland regions there and settled as landowners in the mountains here. Most of them did their own work. They owned the houses they lived in. The number of slave holders was small. There were only about 100,000 Negroes in the whole state when the Civil War broke out. They were strictly confined to the low area. After the war the proportion of Negroes to whites did not appreciably increase. But those who did come in, settled as tenants along the rivers, while the newly arrived whites, for the most part, went into the mountains. They wanted to own something. Then the tide turned, approximately at the turn of the century. The mountain farms were out. The mountaineers, except those in the favored northwest corner, began to give up their holdings and drift down into the plains. From 1910 to 1920, a third of all Arkansas counties lost population. After 1920, the drift became a flight. From 1920 to 1930, 44 out of the 75 counties lost population; some up to 24 per cent, many over 10 per cent.

As these homeless, propertyless families moved into the plains, they became day laborers or tenants. In 1930 almost two-thirds of the farms in Arkansas were worked by tenants. In several of the best lowland counties, more than 90 per cent of the farms were in tenant hands. By 1935 the situation had slightly improved.

In 1930, there were 242,000 farms in Arkansas, of which only 97,000 were worked by the owners; in other words, 400,000 people were living from independent agricultural enterprises. Most of the remaining million and a half were tenants, laborers, or clerical employes. Consequently, about four-fifths of the people in this supremely agricultural state are dependent on other people. This is the human aspect of Arkansas' economic picture. It is not the result of any sinister plot, but still it gives cause for serious thinking. Many mountaineers, pressed by hard conditions, have migrated to the plains. They were not inveigled into the river bottoms. But they have come and are massed in the lowlands. They are propertyless, insecure, unstable. Their consumptive power is low. Their political influence is not likely to be very constructive. The education of their children is fragmentary, for they constantly move from one dilapidated house to another. In extremely rich Mississippi county, a white teacher receives $806 a year; a colored teacher, $430. Arkansans, like most country people, have long been poor, but many of them were spiritually rugged and independent. Now they are still poor, but very independent and unsettled.

William Allen White, a very wise and genial editor, is quoted as saying, "Arkansas is the state of the future. Its riches are bound to expand into a new beauty and happiness for the coming generations." That was the first exuberant impression this writer received, and deeper study makes the situation seem far more difficult. Arkansas is a very beautiful state. It has much wealth. It seems wild and fresh and pristine. Its people appear hardy and attractive. But can they be happy, strong and self-reliant if they're all dispossessed, if they move from their own firesides to unpainted huts, if only a few wonderful counties in the northwest still have independent home owners, living in painted houses. As one wanders through Arkansas' woods, loiters by its cool streams, sees empty houses where people have deserted their firesides and notes that in many of these mountain homes from which smoke still rises, public relief is being given, he cannot but wonder what is happening to us, the people. I hope that Mr. White is right, for I ardently love Arkansas, and America.

Boys' Team Defeats "Old-Timers" 17-15

A team of neighborhood boys challenged a team of men to a softball game and beat them 17-15 on a lot on Evergreen avenue Tuesday night.

The boys' team was composed of Ronald Brink, Duane Becker, Lindy Wall, Hubert Stewart and Eddie Kincaide.

The defeated oldsters were Lewis Straub, Anthony Matulis, George Brink, Rusling Cutler, Marvin Terry, Emmett Kincaide, C. Keith, Lawrence Blunk, Bill Kirkpatrick and Walter Richwine.

Army Begins Nationwide 'Blitzkrieg' Maneuvers

Biggest scale peacetime maneuvers in history training Uncle Sam's fighting forces for blitzkrieg warfare. Will mobilize 310,000 members of the Regular Army, the National Guard and the Reserve in the East, South, Middle West and West from August 4 to 25. Newest methods of warfare including mechanized "panzer" brigades, airplanes, motorized divisions, tanks, anti-aircraft corps, mobile infantry and other arms of the service will be given practical demonstrations.

Milford Fair Opens Next Week

The annual Oakland County Fair, one of the oldest, if not the oldest educational, recreational and entertaining event of continuous record in Oakland county will open the doors for its sixtieth annual showing on August 7, continuing through Thursday, Friday and Saturday August 8, 9, 10.

The Oakland county fair will have everything necessary to make a fine show for fairgoers. Exhibits of choice blue-blood livestock, the finest horses, ponies, cattle, sheep and swine in Michigan will be shown, and arrangements are completed for an unusual poultry exhibit and even a goat show. Farm produce, home furnishings, foods, and clothing exhibits, grain, vegetables and flowers will all have a place at the 1940 Oakland county Fair.

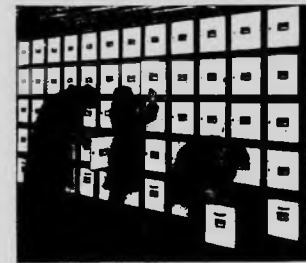

In addition to the educational features, fair visitors will find entertainment, deluxe, with Raun's circus, rodeo and thrill show giving two programs daily before the grandstand. The opening grandstand performance will occur Wednesday evening at 8:00 p.m. with shows each afternoon and evening thereafter. Horseshooting contests, fine racing events, livestock parades, band music and many of the fine features will thrill and entertain visitors to the Oakland County Fair on August 7, 8, 9, 10.

The Purity Market Refrigerated Food Locker Plant is now ready and in operation.

You are Cordially Invited to Come In this Friday and Saturday during the day or evening to inspect one of the most modern Locker Plants in Michigan.

Modern Lockers Genuine Masterbilt Vapor-Loc Lockers are installed in our new locker plant. These lockers are the most spacious, convenient, and sanitary on the market today. You can store your choicest foods in these lockers with the assurance that they will remain fresh, sweet and flavorful.

Efficient Chill Room Our Chill Room is of the latest, efficient type. Freshly killed meats will be stored here for chilling and proper aging. This clean, sanitary room is a vital part of the modern locker plant.

Frigidaire Equipment Our new plant has the latest FRIGIDAIRE type of refrigeration. Fully approved by the country's best engineers, this equipment will keep the proper temperature in the locker room, chill room, and freezer cabinet at all times, which guarantees perpetual safety for your foods.

Quick-Freeze Cabinet The PATENTED DOLE VACUUM PLATE Equipped Quick-Freeze Cabinet represents the latest development for quick-freezing foods in locker plants. This double conduction process is similar to the process used by some of the largest frozen food plants and prepares your products so that they will withstand long-time storage in perfect condition.

Bank your Food in a Modern Locker and Save $50 to $100 a Year on Your Food Bill.

You come to your locker much as you would to your butcher shop, and pick out the cuts you want for the day or weekend. Take them home and serve a meal "Fit for a King," all at a saving. Every customer has her own individual locker, which will hold as much as three hundred pounds of food, which is purchased, processed, and stored to meet her individual requirements.

TO MY FRIENDS AND PATRONS: The following is a true copy of our association's code of ethics, and it is my sincere promise to you to make this new venture which I have undertaken a real worthwhile community service.

Code of Ethics

Having been honored by membership in the Michigan Refrigerated Food Locker Association, it becomes my duty, as well as desire, to uphold this, our creed:

To place public service above all else, and to never forget the obligation betwixt upon me by the business in which I am now engaged. "An obligation for common good in the betterment of living conditions."

To consider the welfare of those who come to me for counsel, as a matter of first importance, and to let neither wealth, nor poverty, nor position in life influence me in the slightest degree in the achievement of every detail essential to their health and happiness.

To consider Heaven's first law, "Cleanliness," as a requirement second to none in the maintenance of our establishments—keeping ourselves and all in our employ physically clean, mentally alert, and in deliberation unquestioned.

To achieve that perfect understanding which every service requires, and, if within our power, to see none go away dissatisfied.

To so price our service, accessories, and rent as to be obtainable by all, as reasonable as good business judgment will permit.

To always keep abreast with the new phases of our business; to acquire all possible knowledge relating thereto, that we may better serve our fellowman.

I will publicly display this Code of Ethics within my place of business, and I pledge the Michigan Refrigerated Food Lockers Association my word of honor that I will never cause the Association of which I am now a member to suffer humiliation by any unethical act of mine, or by displaying this code after I have ceased to be a member in good standing, either by expulsion or for non-payment of dues. All this I accept and acknowledge without any secret reservation whatsoever.

By virtue of the power vested in the secretary of the Michigan Refrigerated Food Locker Association, I relinquish to him on demand this, my code, together with all the rights and privileges in this Association.

DAVID GALIN, Plant Operator

Unanimously adopted and passed at Eaton Rapids, July 17, 1940.

Appreciation & Confidence

The new addition to the Purity Market, which is the locker plant, as well as the remodeling of the original Purity Market building, was done without a single contract signed nor any money deposited because of our mutual confidence. The job is now completed and I am proud to say that every one of the contractors has done more than he promised, and I wish to acknowledge this splendid service and personal interest by saying "Thank you" to Byron H. Becker, architect; Carlton R. Lewis, carpenter; Ernest Burger and Edward Dobbs, masons; George Loomis, interior carpenter; Floyd M. Wilson, plumbing; Corbett Electric Company, fluorescent lights and electrical work; Mundet Cork Corporation, cork insulation; Kenneth Callow, manager; Carl G. Shear, Frigidaire equipment and Masterbilt Vapor-Loc lockers; J. C. Campbell, engineer; Gerald Tobey, insulation and service; and, last but not least, the officers and board of directors of the First National Bank of Plymouth who through their confidence in me made this enterprising community service possible.

Townsend Organization Pledges Help to Combat Fifth Column Groups

Launching a huge, nationwide drive to break up and destroy all Fifth Column activities within the United States, the Townsend organization stepped forward with an important offer to co-operate in problems of national defense.

Dr. Townsend formally opened the anti-subversive drive as he launched a whirlwind state by state campaign, designed to co-ordinate with the governor of each state in stamping out dangerous alien-directed activities.

From the national headquarters in Chicago, Dr. Townsend forwarded to the governor of every state in the union a telegram bringing to his official attention a draft of the proposed Townsend endorsed state law defining "Fifth Column" activities and placing a strict and definite penalty upon them.

This is the same proposed law which received such instant and overwhelming sanction when Dr. Townsend presented it to the fifth Townsend national convention in St. Louis three weeks ago.

Moving swiftly, Dr. Townsend dispatched simultaneously 48 telegrams to the 48 governors, officially notifying them of the plan of action and requesting speedy consideration of the law.

The telegram follows:

"Chicago, Ill., July 16, 1940
To governors of all states:
Representatives of ten thousand Townsend clubs respectfully submit to you and to all governors of all states a proposed anti-Fifth column law and pledge you full cooperation of mature disciplined groups of Americans to assist in combating subversive activities without danger of witch hunting and un-American persecution.

At the same time Dr. Townsend offered to the governors the organized force of the Townsend legions to assist in uncovering and destroying Fifth Column activities.

"We must meet this menace to our national welfare with definite action," said Dr. Townsend. "We have set forth in this proposed law a list of specific acts, any one of which would tend to disrupt and discourage the national defense program. Those who commit such acts are guilty of treason and must be swiftly brought to justice," concluded Dr. Townsend.

Next Monday at 8:00 p.m. in the Grange hall the local club will meet to discuss this important proposal and the public is invited to attend and to offer any helpful suggestions in this connection.

Friday, August 2, club members and friends will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pankow, 299 Irwin street.

WCTU Mobilizes 'Home Defense' for War on Booze

"Mobilize America's women for true home defense" to turn off the faucet of the liquor flow was the slogan of delegates to the National Women's Christian Temperance Union's seven-day convention which opens at Chicago, August 7. Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, national president is shown penning her appeal to American women. Members of Youth's Temperance Council attending a "liquorless night club" prove that milk is the highball of a sober nation.

Fruit Crop to Go Above Average

Cool and rainy weather during the blooming season was unfavorable for good pollination. This caused a reduced setting and a heavy drop of fruit after setting. The reduction in prospects was anticipated and a liberal allowance made for it in the June 1 estimate. Reports from growers on July 1 indicate that a smaller allowance in the case of peaches and sweet cherries and a larger allowance in the case of pears and sour cherries would have been justified as measured by the developments during June. With an ample supply of available moisture, all fruits are making good growth and should be of good size at maturity.

Apple growers reported an average condition of 56 per cent of normal on July 1 which is the same as the 10-year average for that date. On the corresponding date last year the reported condition was 75 per cent. Comments indicate the Baldwin crop is very light this year, and that Wealthy, Delicious and some other varieties are comparatively light. Reports are more favorable for Spies and Jonathans. Early apples are variable in amount but there will probably be an adequate supply. No quantitative estimate on apples is made prior to August 1, and then only on the commercial portion of the crop.

While the Michigan peach crop is much smaller than the record crop of 1939, production is expected to be a little above the 10-year average. With an extremely short crop in all nearby competing states, the market outlook for Michigan peaches is far better than it was a year ago.

The pear crop is very spotted, some orchards having a very light set while others have a fairly good set of fruit. The Bartlett crop appears to be relatively smaller than the Kieffer, although the reverse is probably the case in some orchards. Differences in the blooming date of only two or three days materially affected the degree of pollination this year.

The cherry crop is being harvested at the present time throughout southern Michigan counties. It is about two weeks later than usual in ripening and marketing in volume will not occur in the Grand Traverse region until late in the month. The fruit is larger in size than last year in many sections. A slight difference in blooming dates between sweet and sour varieties favored the sweets this year, and the crop of sweet cherries is generally good in all parts of the State. Production is expected to be between 35 and 40 per cent larger than last year.

Montmorency, the leading canning variety, varies greatly between orchards in the quantity of fruit remaining on the trees after the heavy June drop. In general, the crop is lightest in orchards near Grand Traverse Bay, where cool weather and excessive humidity prevailed while the trees were in bloom. Orchards away from the shore probably had a slightly different blooming date that happened to be more favorable this year. Atmospheric conditions inland were less humid and more favorable for successful pollination. The reported percentage for the sour cherry crop was practically the same as reported on the corresponding date last year.

Prospects are generally favorable for a good grape crop except that the lateness of the current season increases the possibility of fall frost injury before the crop matures and harvesting is completed.

From a Commerce Department report: "Foodstuffs, as a group, represent slightly less than 8 per cent of United States exports in January 1940 as compared with nearly 15 per cent in January 1939."

MRS. RUTH RESOR
Mrs. Ruth Eastman Resor, who resided at 14028 Pient street, in Detroit, passed away early Monday morning, July 29, at the age of 44 years. She is survived by her husband, Burnet Resor, and one son, Arthur, both of Detroit and three sisters all of whom reside in England. The body was brought to the Schrader Funeral home and later taken to her home in Detroit where funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 2:00. Burial was made in Riverside cemetery, Plymouth, and Rev. Lyons of the Burns avenue Baptist church, of Detroit, officiated.

The Rural Electrification Administration, operating on taxpayers' money, has a full-fledged circus on the road — admission free to the greatest show on earth. See electricity catch flies and fatten bullfrogs!

In the fiscal years 1933-1940, inclusive, Congress appropriated and allotted to the New Deal $8,219,393,227 for national defense, of which $5,953,837,901 had been expended on May 1, 1940. At that time, according to official figures, the United States Army had less equipment than was lost by the British forces in their withdrawal from Norway.

The first word rhymes with daze; the second is pronounced virtually the same as the English word long.
 Correct pronunciation: SHAYZ LONG.

Renew Activities at Triangle Gliderport

One Glider Reaches Altitude of Over 5,000 Feet

(By Skysailor)

On Sunday, July 21, Ted Bellak was flying the Minimoa Sailplane at Triangle. It was a hot day. "Thermals were popping," as the boys say when they speak in glider language. Ted had been nibbling at some of those rising air currents on each flight he had made, but just as it sometimes goes in fishing, nibbles were all. He was just about ready to fly the Minimoa to the hangar and put it away for the day at the end of his fourth flight.

On his fifth flight of the day, however, Ted encountered a fairly good rising air current. The barograph record shows that for a while he must have had to work hard to gain any altitude, but after about six minutes of struggle Ted won against the elements and really began to go up rapidly. A short time later he disappeared in the general direction of Detroit with perhaps 4,000 feet of altitude.

Bellak had remarked before he became discouraged that at about the time of the fourth flight that he might try to go to Cleveland if conditions were favorable. It was about four hours later that the phone rang at the airport and Ted reported over the wire that he had landed at Chatham, Ontario.

The airline distance appears to be 64 miles. This is easily a new Michigan distance record since the previous Michigan distance figure was 41 miles held by Arthur B. Schultz. Both the previous record and the present one are unofficial, but it is unlikely that the rest of the Michigan pilots will ever question the new mark. Ted reported that he reached a maximum altitude of 5,500 feet and that his most rapid climb was 12 feet per second.

On his flight to Chatham Ted got down to an altitude which he termed quite low (actually 2,000 feet) right over Detroit. He had visions of having to land in the Detroit river near shore. But very good rising air currents presented themselves at the opportune moment and he rose rapidly again and entered the clouds. He flew blind and when he finally came out of the clouds some time later he found that he was about seven miles out over Lake St. Clair. This apparently did not disturb him much as he reported going on out to approximately 14 miles from shore. He still could not see the other shore as it was hazy. As a matter of fact he could see nothing but water.

Ted turned back but in beating back against the light wind he drifted somewhat to the south. The Canadian shore came into view very soon and he then turned eastward again and reached Chatham.

Ted picked a field and landed. He was surprised when it turned out to be wheat. The fuselage of his sailplane sank lower and lower into the wheat as he descended until the pilot could see nothing at all except wheat. Luckily he was holding the wings perfectly level and no damage was done to the ship. What fields are usually not desirable places in which to land. This particular wheat field proved even less desirable when the farmer who owned it stated that it would cost Ted $10 to pay the damage for the crop.

Custom officials were very cooperative and the matter of arranging to get back after an unannounced entry was very nicely taken care of.

Dallas Wise hooked onto a good thermal also and began to gain altitude rapidly. Charles Kohls had taken off in the XYZ Franklin and was still in the air, having maintained altitude on weak thermals. When Kohls saw that Dallas was going up so rapidly in the Wise Franklin, he concluded immediately that there was plenty of room in that thermal for two Franklins. Thereupon, observers were treated to a very fine spectacle. Two man-made birds were up there utilizing the elements and taking their pilots for a free ride.

These two Franklin pilots circled round and round. Kohls never gained enough on Dallas Wise to cause any concern over a mid-air crash. Dallas reached 3,000 feet and drifted some six miles downwind. Kohls returned to the airport with 2,000 feet of altitude. Kohls landed after 14 minutes and 15 seconds; Dallas Wise remained aloft for approximately 35 minutes but landed back at Triangle at the end of it.

Sunday was a very hot day. In spite of the heat the thermals were not very good until about 3:00. It makes a difference what the air is like above the ground. The air should be about four degrees cooler for each additional 1,000 feet of altitude in order that good thermals may form and remain active. When the upper air is initially warm an excessive amount of heating at the ground becomes necessary before the right conditions are realized.

It is possible for conditions to continue too far in the desired direction and when this happens thunder showers result. These form because the moist air carried up by the thermals may be carried far above the point at which mere white clouds form. The cloud builds up very high and rain or even hail forms within the cloud. This rain or hail may then drop back out of what was only an hour earlier a sunshiny blue sky.

Heavy Rains Hurt Some Crops

Hay Production to Be Record Breaker

The current season with its abundance of rain has produced a rank growth of hay, pastures and the small grains. Planting and cultivating operations have been delayed and some acreage of beans and potatoes was still unplanted on July 1. Cultivated crops on low grounds have been damaged and, in some cases, destroyed by flooding. Some re-planting of potatoes, beans and sugar beets was necessary but has been made difficult by the frequent occurrence of rains and the continued wet condition of the soil. While the condition of most of the field crops was above average as reported on July 1 to the Michigan Co-operative Crop Reporting Service, corn, sugar beets and beans were slightly below average.

Acreage changes from last year are: an increase of 52 per cent in soybeans, an increase of 15 per cent in field beans, an increase of 6 per cent in oats, a decrease of 12 per cent in barley, and a decrease of 27 per cent in rye for grain. Potatoes showed no change, and other crops showed only minor changes. For cultivated crops usually having some loss of acreage after planting, allowances have been made for expected abandonment. Hence, in such cases the acreage actually planted is somewhat greater than the published estimates of acreage expected to be harvested.

After three successive years with large corn crops, 1940 prospects are less promising. Much corn was planted late, the weather has been cool for best growth, and wet weather has hindered cultivation. Grass and weeds have thrived, although a large percentage of fields are remarkably clean in comparison with the adverse conditions under which the work had to be accomplished. The present condition indicates a yield of about 32 bushels per acre compared with 37 bushels in 1939.

The winter wheat crop is expected to yield 22 bushels per acre on the average for the state, or a total of 16,478,000 bushels against 15,120,000 bushels last year. The yield is estimated one bushel higher per acre and the acreage 4 per cent larger than that harvested a year ago. Rye production will be considerably smaller than in 1939 because of the sharply reduced acreage, although the current condition indicates that the average yield will be about one bushel per acre higher.

WHERE NATIVES WALK ON FIRE!!

IN TAHITI, PERFORMERS OF CEREMONIES APPEAR TO BE WALKING ON RED-HOT COALS... ACTUALLY THEY ARE TREADING ON STONES MADE OF VESICULAR BASALT, WHICH MAY BECOME RED-HOT ON THE BOTTOM AND... BECAUSE THEY ARE POROUS AND NON-CONDUCTIVE REMAIN COMPARATIVELY COOL ON TOP!!

During one year 99,000 persons were killed and 365,000 permanently injured as a result of accidents in the United States, according to the National Safety Council. Property damage, wage loss and medical expense resulting from these same accidents amounted to $3,000,000,000.

Oats and barley have grown rapidly and there will be a heavy volume of straw. Average yield of oats is expected to be about three bushels per acre less than the 37.5 recorded for last year. The indicated yield of barley is 27.5 bushels per acre, which is 1.5 bushels below last year's average. Total production on both crops will be slightly less than last year but considerably above their respective 10-year averages.

After some losses of planted acreage and failure to plant some intended acreage, it is estimated that 118,000 acres of sugar beets will be available for harvest. This is 2,000 less acres than were grown in 1939. The present condition indicates a yield of 7.5 tons, or one ton less per acre than obtained in the preceding year.

The outlook for the Michigan bean crop on July 1 was much less favorable than on the corresponding date last year, and slightly below average. Wet weather during much of the planting season delayed planting, injured stands on low ground, and drowned out some fields or portions of fields. Some acreage has been planted since July 1, but the total acreage is probably less than it would have been if the planting season had been more favorable. The preliminary estimate of acreage for harvest after allowance for abandonment, is 520,000 acres. Indications derived from the July 1 reported condition point to a yield of 730 pounds per acre compared with the record yield of 1,000 pounds reached in 1939.

No change in the state's potato acreage was evident. Some increase was reported from commercial areas in the northern portion, but this was offset by equivalent decreases in some southern counties. A yield of 95 bushels per acre is indicated by the condition on the first of the month, but estimates at this early date on beans and potatoes are apt to vary considerably from final results.

Michigan will have a hay crop second only to that of 1916 if the current estimated production of 4,149,000 tons is actually obtained this year. The rank growth was slow in maturing and cutting began about two weeks later than usual. Rainy weather has made curing difficult and caused some damage to the quality. Of the estimated total production, 2,174,000 tons, or 52 per cent, consisted of alfalfa. This is the largest crop of alfalfa ever produced in Michigan, and is exceeded only by three other states this year.

The naval gun factory at Washington, D. C. is the only one of the kind in the western hemisphere.

Appropriations and authorizations by Congress between January 3, 1940, and June 22, 1940, aggregated more than $20,000,000,000. Roughly, the expenditures made and authorized were divided fifty-fifty between peacetime New Deal spending and spending for national defense.

Intensified study of the relationship of wildlife management to farm crops and practices is being carried on at the Rose Lake wildlife experiment station near Lansing, a state conservation department project financed mainly with funds supplied by a federal excise tax levied on sporting arms and ammunition.

Livingston Drownings Bring Warning

Sheriff Cites Danger as 3-Day Period

The third drowning in Livingston county lakes within an eight-day period and the fourth of the season brought a warning from Sheriff Irvin Kennedy this week against swimming in waters unprotected by a life guard, or unaccompanied by companions capable of rendering assistance in cases of emergency.

"The terrain of the shore line of an unfamiliar lake makes swimming extremely dangerous in most locations for all except expert swimmers," the sheriff said. "Most residents of this district are aware that the lake bottoms usually drop abruptly only a few feet from shore, but strangers swimming here are not always acquainted with this fact. Even able swimmers should never go into the water unless accompanied by others competent to rescue them in cases of emergency, and the best policy is to swim at a beach where life guard protection is furnished, and there are many such places in Livingston county."

"It is not a pleasant task for officers to recover bodies from the lakes, and with adequate precautions on the part of the swimmers, it would not be necessary," Kennedy concluded.

A Detroit youth was the latest victim drowned in Hicks Lake north of Brighton Sunday afternoon about 3:00 o'clock when he waded beyond his depth while bathing, being unable to swim. His brothers, who were with him, were unable to save him.

Birthdays of the Week

The King is Haakon of Norway, a fugitive from the Nazis whose 66th birthday occurs in London, England, Saturday, August 3. The Queen is Elizabeth of England whose country is besieged by Hitler. She will be 40 years old on Sunday, August 4.

Guy G. Lyman Is A Candidate

Nomination petitions were filed Monday, July 22 by Guy G. Lyman for the office of state representative for the fifth district.

Mr. Lyman has resided in West Dearborn for 16 years. He served two years as court clerk under the late Judge Stephen D. Williams.

He is a former star amateur ice skater, and member of the New York Athletic Club.

There have been 15 annual ice carnivals that he originated and promoted; six in Dearborn, five in Birmingham, one each at Ecorse, Wayne and Northville. The last one was held at Plymouth, January 6, 1940.

He is married and has three children: Charles, Lura and Horace. The latter son is serving his second year in the U. S. Marines on the U. S. S. Indianapolis, now at Honolulu, Hawaii.

Mr. Lyman has been employed in the shipping department of the Ford Motor company for the last six years.

He is the son of the late Charles W. Lyman, who was for 14 years advertising manager for the Scientific American, published by Munn and Company, New York.

He is a Mason, as was his father.

Property on Sale at Auction

own several hundred thousand parcels of land on November 3, 1939. The Land Board was created to provide for the disposition of these lands and those which the state might get as a result of future tax sales. The public auction currently being held is not a tax sale, however. It is a land sale. The amount of delinquent taxes that were standing against any parcel before November 3, 1939, will have nothing to do with the sale or the price for which the land is sold.

Each parcel of land will be offered separately and sold to the highest bidder for not less than 25 per cent of the 1938 assessed value. Any high bidder from the general public must pay cash to the board or its representative within 24 hours. Anytime within the next 30 days a former owner may claim this parcel at the price of the high bid by making application to the board. If the former owner does not exercise this right then anytime within the next 15 days any municipality may claim said parcel on the same terms.

A municipality bidding at the auction sale is required to pay only that portion of the bid price that will go to the other taxing units. Each taxing unit will be entitled to its pro rata share of the bid price based on the amount of cancelled taxes for each taxing unit.

As a result of the land sale, these non-tax paying lands will be restored to the tax roll so that they will help pay the expenses of the various taxing units. Former owners who may have been unjustly taxed out of their lands will be afforded an opportunity to re-purchase his lands at their present values.

Much needed funds will be forthcoming for the treasuries of the various municipalities through the sale.

The Land Board act will expire on or before May 1, 1944, when all records, contracts, and unsold lands will be turned over to the department of conservation.

City Manager Elliott previous to the auction offered his advice to private citizens interested in purchasing land.

The simple heart that freely asks in love, obtains.—Whittier.

Where true fortune dwells, loyalty, bounty, friendship, and fidelity may be found.—Sir Thomas Browne.

Beverly Smith, William Bake Win Net Finals

Finalists Compete in Detroit Novice Tennis Tournament

Beverly Smith outplayed Ruth Wellman to win the finalist title matches 6-0, 6-4 on the Riverside park courts Tuesday. Miss Smith competed in the Detroit Novice tennis tournament at Waterworks Park, Detroit, Wednesday.

William Bake was the final winner in the men's division defeating Jim McLean by 6-3, 4-6 and 6-3 Monday night at Riverside park.

Miss Smith was winner from a field of 24 entrants in the girls' bracket, and Bake was declared champion among 45 entrants in the men's division.

In her first match, Beverly defeated Margie Allen 6-0, 6-4, and set down the following in order: Iris Dene Hitt, 6-0, 6-0; Valma Thatcher, 2-6, 6-2, 7-5; Kathryn Marburger, 9-7, 6-0.

Runner-up Ruth Wellman defeated Dorothy Eburne 6-0, 6-3; Rose Nudospal, 6-4, 7-5; Patsy Arnold, 6-3, 6-0; and Margaret Horiz, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3.

Bake outpointed Bub Sessions 6-0, 6-0; George Johnson, 8-6, 6-2; Alden Plank, 6-0, 6-0; and Lewis Ribar, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3 to reach the finals.

McLean defeated Maurice Bartoworth 6-1, 6-2; John Angell, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3; Robert Stachan, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1; and Bill Norman before losing to Bake in the finals.

Entries are now being taken for the doubles' tournaments in both the men's and women's divisions for which play will start Monday, August 12.

Children Enjoy Varied Program

Boys in the recreation program's softball league are competing daily to determine the two teams who will play off for the championship at the Plymouth community picnic at Riverside park Wednesday, August 14.

A ping pong tournament will start at Central next week. District matches announced. Glen Ford and Paula Hoencke were winners in the jacks tournament held at Starkweather school, and Dick Farwell won the checker tournament at Central last week. The girls' winner has not yet been determined.

The recreation department announces street dancing for children every afternoon at 3:30, at Mill street near the Baptist church.

The group also sponsors two trips a week to the Rouge Park on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The bus leaves at 1:00 o'clock and all children must have written permission from their parents to go.

Super-Shell Defeats Hardware in Central's First Playoff

The Plymouth Hardware team won the final game in the Central Twilight league's series Friday night to place fourth in the league standings and qualify for the playoffs. Super Shell defeated the Hardware team 8-4 in the first playoff game Monday night.

Plymouth Hardware set the champion Plymouth Plating team down 10-9 Friday night to capture a place in the playoff competition. Perfection defeated Davis 19-2 in Tuesday's game and Super Shell beat Daisy Air Rifles 6-5 Thursday in the two wind-up games last week.

The Central Twilight league's games were much more even this year with three different teams competing for fourth place in the playoffs up until the last week, said Lester Daly, director of league play. Daly also reported the best player participation and attendance in several years.

Plymouth Plating led in the final standing with 12 victories and two defeats, for a percentage of .857. Super Shell led the league in team batting with an average of .329. Five of the league's ten leading hitters were Super Shell players.

Major causes of the champion Plymouth Plating team upset an old contention that pitchers can't hit with their two-fold record as the league's leading slugger averaging .462, and star pitcher with nine wins and one loss to his credit for a percentage of .900.

The fourth annual homecoming and picnic planned for the former members of the Flint division Detroit United Railway, will be held on Sunday, August 4, afternoon and evening, at the beautiful Avon township park, located in the northwestern section of the village along the banks of Paint creek.

This year's event is being carefully planned and will be far superior to anything ever attempted of this nature by the D.U.R. boys. They estimate a crowd of some 500 persons will be in attendance providing good weather prevails.

A basket dinner will be served at 1:30 o'clock. There will be worlds of food for everyone. Bring along your picnic basket and help to enjoy all the good things to eat.

The afternoon's program will be for individual enjoyment. There will be shuffleboard, croquet, horse shoe pitching, a ball game, swimming in the park's outdoor pool and playground equipment will be available for the kiddies' enjoyment.

Impromptu talks will be given by a few of the D.U.R. boys and a good old-fashioned get-together will be enjoyed by all.

All wishing to stay on into the evening are cordially welcome to do so.

Pliny W. Marsh Seeks Judgeship

Former Recorder's Court Judge Pliny W. Marsh Monday announced his candidacy for the Wayne circuit court simultaneously with the filing at Lansing in his behalf of petitions signed by 20,000 voters endorsing his candidacy.

The circuit judgeship for which Judge Marsh is a candidate is that made vacant by the death of Judge Allen Campbell. Under the law the vacancy must be filled by a non-partisan vote at the primary, September 10. The names of the two primary candidates receiving the largest vote then going on the November election ballot when the winner will be chosen.

Judge Marsh's present candidacy brings back to the elections a name long known in both city and state legal circles. He has been a practicing attorney for more than 30 years. More than 25 years ago he was named by a group of public spirited citizens to draft and obtain legislative approval for amendments to the State Home Rule Act for cities which made it possible for Detroit to adopt its present charter and election system. He also drafted and secured the adoption of laws to modernize the city's criminal courts. These changes were ratified by Detroit voters in a series of elections. After the legislature created the present Recorder's Court Judge Marsh was named to that bench by the governor and later was elected to that office.

"I am certain my career as an attorney and my experience and record as a judge of the Recorder's Court indicate my fitness for, and qualify me to serve on the Wayne circuit bench," Judge Marsh said in discussing his candidacy.

"As an attorney I have never served large corporations or financial interests. My clients have come from small business men and common-people groups. My record on the bench is an open book. My aggressive support of the probation system, while on the bench, shows that I believed in and practiced generous consideration of deserving offenders, but my record also shows that I meted out severe penalties to hardened criminals. If elected I shall again serve conscientiously, faithfully and to the

Mrs. William Roon, of Grand Rapids, who has been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Brink for the last two weeks, returned to her home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Holmes and daughters, Kathryn and Barbara Jean, of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers, of this city, spent Sunday afternoon at Walled Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Lorenz and son, Douglas, returned Sunday evening, from a three weeks' visit with the former's brothers and families at Langdon, North Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker returned home Friday from Chocoygan, where they had been for a week attending the Rural Carriers' convention. On Monday they went to their summer cabin at Mio.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Matulis visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Stein, in Kalamazoo, over the week-end and also enjoyed a visit with their aunt, Mrs. Laura Stein, who was a house guest from Riverside, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dobbs and children, Kay and Jack, are spending this week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dobbs in Port Parry, Ontario, and his sister, Mrs. Arthur Sheridan, in Toronto.

A group of business associates of Paul Wood honored him Wednesday night at a dinner party at Hillside. He was presented with a desk set from the men who attended the party. They were Roy Jewell, Carl Blach, John Burger, Floyd Wilson, S. T. Corbett, John McLaren, William Rose, Ted Rheiner, Ernest Burger and Goodwin Crumby.

Mrs. P. A. Gallagher and children, Patsy Lou and Mike, of Vero Beach, Florida, arrived Monday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. Nettie Dibble, for a several weeks' visit. They were accompanied by Mrs. B. C. Spitzley, of that city, who remained for a few days' visit. Mr. Gallagher will join them here in September.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thompson and young son, Blaine, were Tuesday guests of the former's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Thompson, of Highland Park. The occasion was the birthdays of the two cousins, Blaine and Shirley, occurring on the same date. Blaine was six years old and Shirley was five years old. A lovely birthday cake centered the table.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brink entertained at dinner last Wednesday in honor of their house guests, Rev. and Mrs. William Rottshaefer, of Rock Valley, Iowa, and Mrs. William Roon, of Grand Rapids. Their guests were Dr. Gerald Rottshaefer, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Rinck, Kathleen and Yvonne Rinck, and William Rottshaefer, of Ann Arbor.

On July 24, five little friends of Blaine Thompson helped him celebrate his birthday which occurred on July 23; they enjoyed a picnic at Riverside park. A dainty lunch including a lovely cake and ice cream was served to the little folks by Blaine's mother, Mrs. Paul Thompson, of South Main street. Blaine received many pretty cards, and gifts. The little folks enjoyed the day's outing.

Mr. and Mrs. E. vonNostitz of Westfield, New Jersey, and Mrs. Sarah vonNostitz, of Toledo, Ohio, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Gayde from Saturday until Monday. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Gayde, their house guests and Mr. and Mrs. Lisle Alexander, Miss Clara Wolf and Sarah Gayde, attended a family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Van Dyke near Flint. Other relatives from Toledo and Detroit were present.

Church News

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, Stanford Scientist. Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of 20 years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00. "Love" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 4. The Golden Text (Ps. 63: 1-3) is: "O God, thou art my God: because thy loving kindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee." Among the Bible citations is this passage (I John 4: 7-8): "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God, and every one that loveth is of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God: for God is love." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 129): "The Christian Science God is universal, eternal, divine Love, which emanates not and causes no evil, disease, nor death."

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH, C. M. Pennell, pastor. Sunday morning worship, 10:30 o'clock. The theme for meditation will be: "The Christian and His Government." Bible school, 11:45 a.m. We plan to open our Vacation Bible school on Monday afternoon, August 5, at 1:30 o'clock. Have your adult drivers in the community who will volunteer to bring children to Bible school each day?

Farmers Will Tour Berrien

Farmers of Wayne county, representatives of the U.S.D.A. and other agricultural leaders have been invited to attend either or both of two tours and picnics next week. One is to be held in Livingston county August 5, the other in Berrien county August 7. The picnics have been arranged jointly by the Land Planning committee and Agricultural Conservation committee, in consideration with the Soil Conservation service, in each county. Groups which have been invited include state, county and community agricultural conservation committees, county and district F.S.A. directors, local officers of the National Farm Loan association, representatives of the Farm Credit administration, U.S. Forest Service officials, vocational agricultural instructors, and county agricultural agents. Livingston county program: Starting at 9:30 a.m., cars will start coming to the school house at Hartland for a tour of the Soil Conservation demonstration projects. Each group of cars will be accompanied by a guide who will conduct them to the different stops on the tour and to the picnic grounds. There will be a basket picnic dinner at noon in Island lake state park, east of Brighton and south of US-16. For Berrien county, cars will meet at the school house at Watervliet. The basket dinner will be held at noon in St. Joseph park, on US-31, on the banks of the St. Joseph river.

The Lieutenant Governor—Duties of The Office

By Elton R. Eaton
Editor and Publisher, The Plymouth Mail

When the state legislature sometime ago passed a law making the Lieutenant Governor a member of the state administrative board, it placed a state official in a position to give to the citizens of Michigan exceptional public service.

The original law creating the board made all of the elective state officials, except the Lieutenant Governor, members of the board. All of these officials are the heads of departments employing large numbers of people. They have much to do with police and administrative functions that directly involve public good will or displeasure.

The Lieutenant Governor will be the only member of the board who is not the head of any department employing large numbers of people. Because of this departmental freedom, he will be able to act as he sees fit without having to give first consideration to the welfare of his own department, or those upon his payroll.

It is this freedom that should make possible upon the part of the Lieutenant Governor, a public service that will be outstanding. The administrative board has very wide responsibilities. It has much to do with the supervision of all appropriations made by the state legislature. It has general supervisory control over the functions and activities of all state administrative departments, boards and commissions, including the state purchasing department.

The position of Lieutenant Governor is now vacant, the death of the Governor over a year ago having made necessary the advancement of the Lieutenant Governor to the executive position.

Last week, the article pertained to the duties of the office of Lieutenant Governor as fixed by the state constitution. This article has to do with the duties fixed by law.

Next week's article will be a brief historical review of the office.

(To be continued)

What About Monroe Doctrine? What Caused This Policy to Be Established?

Questions Are Answered in Most Interesting Way

The acridly polite debate recently carried on between the United States and German governments concerning the Monroe Doctrine reveals that this traditional American policy is subject to widely varying interpretations. It is also evident that Hitler is giving the Doctrine an interpretation which was never imagined by President Monroe.

The Monroe Doctrine did not come into existence as a long-considered, carefully thought-out statement of U. S. policy. Rather, it was swiftly conceived to meet a condition which, in 1823, menaced the sovereignty of this nation. At that time the three great European states of Russia, Prussia and Austria had formed a "holy alliance" to crush a revolution in Spain, and were casting covetous glances on Spain's many possessions in the Western Hemisphere. In addition, Russia, which then owned Alaska, was attempting to dominate the Northwest coast of this continent in the interest of her merchant ships. So President Monroe issued his official warning in which he said that the Americas "are henceforth not to be considered as subjects of future colonization by any European powers." In other words, the status quo was to be maintained so far as Europe was concerned. Afterwards, the policy which had been devised to meet the emergency of the moment, became a convenient instrument for protecting American interests in subsequent crises. We invoked it to drive the French from Mexico after the Civil War, to give the United States absolute instead of divided control over the Panama Canal, and to force England to come to terms when a border fight arose between Venezuela and British Guiana.

Hold Your Head if Lost in Woods

If you are lost or in danger of drowning, it's better to use your head than your feet.

Conservation officers, who each year lead lost persons back to their wood camps, and have rescued a number from overturned boats and other water hazards in past seasons are urging vacationers to prepare themselves for emergencies with a few commonsense rules. Rule number one is to avoid panic by conserving strength and keeping one's reasoning ability.

If lost in the woods, it is better to stop and try to figure out where you are, instead of wandering about. In a storm or fog, or at night, it is best to make camp, after gathering fuel for a fire, and wait for better traveling conditions. Streams and telephone lines may be followed to reach assistance. Yelling, running, and worrying help not at all.

If your canoe or rowboat should capsize, it is safer, according to vital statistics records, to cling to the overturned craft than to try swimming any distance across a lake to shore. Practically all boats will furnish some buoyancy, even when overturned or full of water, for persons hanging onto the sides.

Shoes and heavy outer clothing should be shed to make swimming easier, when swimming is advisable. Due regard for balancing the boat will dictate care in standing up, changing seats, and in rescuing persons from the water—which is best done over the stern, rather than over the side.

A knowledge of artificial respiration, which is part of the training of all conservation officers, may be invaluable for vacationers in remote regions.

Increased imports of foreign agricultural products competing with domestic farm products in 1939 amounted to 77.7 per cent more than in 1932. Imports of cattle under trade-agreement tariff reductions increased 1,250 per cent in 1939 over 1932.

Seek to Relieve Grand River Jam

The need for a Northwest Motorway of limited-access type to relieve Grand River avenue traffic congestion already has been strikingly shown by figures gathered in the first week of the state highway department Grand River survey.

"Although data is only approximate thus far, it reveals that Grand River avenue has passed its stage of efficiency and cannot handle present traffic demands," said Murray D. Van Wagoner, highway commissioner.

Detroit traffic west of Woodward avenue has increased 32 per cent since 1936, due chiefly to residential expansion to the northwest, he said—but Grand River avenue, the logical route to the northwest, shows only an eight per cent rise in traffic volumes.

"We find a large percent of motorists avoiding Grand River, especially the central and downtown section, because they can make better time by roundabout routes," said the commissioner.

"Our next traffic study will concern these drivers who would use the Grand River route if better facilities were provided."

The 15-day Grand River traffic study will end July 23. Over 40,000 postcard questionnaires were given out to motorists during the first week, and returns were near 25 per cent, said Van Wagoner.

"Eight per cent is considered a good return from such questionnaires," he added. "Evidently Detroit motorists are unusually interested in efforts to solve Grand River congestion."

The survey is directed by Leo J. Nowicki, special assignment engineer for the highway department, and looks to the development of a motorway paralleling Grand River and having no traffic lights, no pedestrians and no cross traffic.

Some 120 intersections along Grand River from downtown to Eight Mile road were checked in the last week by 125 field workers. Surveys also are being made along Secor and Bulward from Grand River to Jefferson, with a view of planning tie-in with such possible future developments as a Detroit River Drive, said the commissioner.

Motorists who may receive several postcard questionnaires from field workers during the survey are asked to fill out and mail each card, since the frequency with which they use Grand River has a bearing on the survey.

"The postcards ask only two questions: Where did you enter Grand River and where did you leave it? Motorists need not sign their names and no postage is required in mailing the cards."

The Grand River-McGraw intersection is the only major one for which survey figures have been compiled to date, said Van Wagoner. It shows that 51,000 vehicles passing the intersection in 24 hours. The peak morning hour is from 7:30 to 8:30 a.m., when 4,100 cars were counted, and the peak traffic of the day is during the northbound rush from 5:00 to 6:00 p.m., when 4,500 cars passed the corner.

The highway department study is part of the inter-regional highway development program financed by the federal public roads administration. A Harper-McGraw cross-town highway study also has been made, with results to be made public soon.

The proposed Northwest Motorway would have a minimum of entrance and exit points, with lanes in which motorists slow down to leave and other lanes for picking up speed before entering the main traffic flow, Van Wagoner said.

"Intersecting streets would be cut off from the motorway, with cross-traffic flowing either under or over the motorway," he said. "In that manner, through traffic never is interfered with, and the present Grand River avenue could be used for purely local traffic."

The traffic survey will determine the required capacity of the proposed motorway as well as points where entrance and exit ramps should be located.

Federal aid highway legislation now before Congress will have an important bearing on the proposed Northwest and Crosstown motorways, said the commissioner. He has asked Congress to permit the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to grant loans to local agencies for acquiring rights-of-way for major highway projects.

Deer hunters killed a (computed) total of 45,148 deer and 628 bears in Michigan in the last hunting season, slightly more than the 1938 tally of 44,809 deer and 598 bears.

Fish from the Great Lakes contribute largely to the preferred fish trade, having in 1939 an average value per pound more than three times that of the average for the entire country, according to Federal Fish and Wildlife service reports.

"If all expenses were currently met," says a bulletin of the First National Bank of Boston, "the American people on the average would work three months out of each year for the government."

New Deal administrative personnel numbered 938,403 in January, 1940, with a monthly payroll of $144,000,000. The total 1940 federal bureaucracy is estimated at $175,000,000.

Sixty thousand employees have been added to the government since agriculture since 1933. A Wallace became secretary of the number in December 1939, 1939 was 86,250.

But "The Masses" were not so foolish, after all!

LESS LOUDLY NOW, you may still hear an occasional agitator blasting away at the American system of business—which depends on big factories, big networks of dealers, trade-marked goods, heavy advertising, and low prices.

Agitators complained for years that "the masses" were injured by this system, and that we'd all be richer if we went back to the old cracker-barrel days.

But in spite of the complaints, little factories which have made dependable goods grew into big factories. Dealers insisted on having trade-marked goods which their customers could recognize. And the heavy advertising system of business—which depends on big factories, big networks of dealers, trade-marked goods, heavy advertising, and low prices.

Who built this system? The masses built it, by insisting on crackers they could recognize in the package, on automobiles, soups, soaps, chewing gum, cigarettes, and all other articles that carried well-known trade names.

So the agitators have had to pipe down. They have discovered that "the masses" were not so easy to lead astray after all.

High Professional Standards Are Maintained by Michigan Attorneys

Legal Profession Gains High Standing Position

(By Gene Alleman)

LANSING — Let the word "lawyer" be mentioned to the average Michigan citizen a generation ago, and his mental reaction would probably form a picture along one or more of the following lines:

A "trouble specialist" who was summoned in an emergency, usually when some one became entangled with the law.

A "fussy" expert with a vocabulary.

A professional man who meddled in everybody else's business and never did anything about his own.

A man who drafted bills and tried to run legislatures.

A man who was hired by criminals to defeat justice.

These were yesterday's misapprehensions about the attorney-at-law, the professional man of the bar—ideas which for years past plagued one of the most important and influential groups in American life.

For the purpose of effectively raising the standards of the legal profession and of cooperating with the courts to improve the administration of justice, the bar of Michigan was created by act of the 1935 legislature and is now the Michigan supreme court.

Its headquarters office is located at Lansing in charge of Henry H. Woolfenden, Jr., executive secretary, with a branch office in Detroit.

Every lawyer in active practice in the state—approximately 20,000 in all—must pay annual dues of $5 to maintain his membership in the organization.

What has the State Bar done to meet the public's distorted picture?

The record of achievements is noteworthy.

The State Bar of Michigan accomplishes its purpose by the aid of every request for legal aid from both the attorney general's office and the governor's office. In addition, it receives numerous requests for aid direct from indigent citizens.

Since its creation, every request for legal aid from any place in the state of Michigan has been carefully investigated and every meritorious request has been granted. This has been done without any cost to the indigent citizen requesting the aid, and without any cost to the state or local welfare agencies.

The State Bar has been working with the state board of law examiners (which gives the examinations) to insure that applicants for admission to the bar are not only as well mentally as physically fit to become lawyers.

Character examinations have been applied to every bar applicant from the city of Detroit for the past five years, and arrangements are being completed to have the State Bar of Michigan give thorough character examinations to every bar applicant from every part of the state.

The grievance committees of the State Bar are now vested with authority to hear complaints of disgruntled lawyers and recommend discipline to the courts. Grievance committees have the power to punish and indirectly the power to punish for contempt.

The committees enable them effectively to investigate charges of professional misconduct.

Since the State Bar was created, fifty persons have been removed from the roll of attorneys

Civil Service Commission Announces Two Exams.

Open competitive examinations for the positions of inspector of motor vehicles and air-train inspector were announced by the Michigan Civil Service Commission today.

The date for filing applications for the inspector of motor vehicles position is Friday, August 10, and for the air-train inspector position is Monday, August 26. Applications may be secured from Mrs. Beatrice Schultz, assistant postmaster and local secretary of the board of United States Civil Service examiners.

Schrader Wins From Berkley 3-2

Behind the pitching of Panosian and the bat of "Howdie" Schrader who came through with his first home run of the season, Schrader-Haggerty won from the Plymouth Volunteer Fire department team, 3-2, at Royal Oak Sunday.

Plymouth scored its runs in the third and fourth innings, two in the third on singles by Hardesty, Panosian, and H. Williams, and the final tally on Schrader's homer in the fourth. Panosian hit two out of five hits struck out two men.

The batteries for Schrader-Haggerty were Panosian and H. Williams. Waiting reliefed Holders, with Berkley's starting pitcher, and Gavings caught. Schrader-Haggerty scored six hits and one error, and Berkley scored five hits and two errors.

Next Sunday the Schrader-Haggerty team will meet Trenton at the Sibley high school in Trenton.

John Blyton to Attend Season's Merchandise Mart in Chicago

John Blyton of Taylor and Blyton's department store, 336 South Main street, will leave for Chicago Sunday, August 4, where he will attend the thirty-eighth semi-annual convention of the Interstate Merchants Council and the Merchandise Mart featuring the newest in fall and early winter merchandise as presented by 2200 Chicago manufacturers and wholesale distributors and 600 out-of-town firms who will display their products.

Mrs. H. Young of the dress department of Taylor and Blyton, and Miss Marion Taylor will also attend the Market which opened Monday, July 29, and will continue through Saturday, August 10.

In addition to the showing of new style trends in children's and women's wear and accessories, lingerie, millinery, and foundation garments, the Mart includes a number of china, glassware, and pottery gift shows.

A highlight of the convention meeting will be a banquet Tuesday evening, August 6, sponsored by the Interstate Merchants council, in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Sherman. Gregor Ziemer, news commentator and educator, who has recently returned to America after 14 years in Germany, will speak on "Two Thousand and Ten Days of Hitler." Entertainers at the banquet will include the Northerners, radio comedians; Eddie Peabody, King of banjo artists; and Dr. Harlan Tarbell, famous mystery scientist.

An extravaganza style show will be staged in the grand ballroom of the Palmer House Thursday evening, August 8.

Mr. Blyton reported that more than 22,000 independent out-of-town buyers attended the last session of the Merchandise Mart in February.

The local retailer commented that while the war situation will possibly affect prices this winter, the designing of styles is ably being carried on by American designers in the absence of style creation in Paris. Mr. Blyton explained the possibility of mounting costs by the removal of Czechoslovakia from the supply field.

"Czechoslovakia used to manufacture 24,000,000 dozen pairs of fabric gloves in a year," said Mr. Blyton, explaining that these gloves could be sold here at a lower price than those manufactured with American labor even with the cost of transportation and tariff levies.

Congress has not cut down unnecessary New Deal expenditures while providing for national defense. Total appropriations and authorizations, aside from defense items, have reached more than $8 billion this year, and the session is not ended.

The Federal government in 1939 collected more in taxes than all local governments, according to the Tax Policy League.

DEMOCRACY AND THE DRAFT.

Frequently The Plymouth Mail has quoted from The Christian Science Monitor. It has done so because this great eastern newspaper reflects pretty generally the correct idea upon vastly important public questions. The following editorial discussion of the draft legislation now pending before congress, taken from the Monitor, conforms so closely to general public opinion, that it is being reprinted in full, as follows:

Action is getting under way on the Burke-Wadsworth Bill for selective compulsory military training in the United States. Approval of a revised version of it by the Senate Military Affairs Committee means apparently that the subject will come to the floor of the Senate next week.

The twelve-month training period now proposed is more adequate from the military point of view than the eight months previously contemplated. More satisfactory also, from the standpoint of the trainee, is the basic Army pay of $21 a month instead of $5 a month.

If properly carried out, the selective draft is the most democratic way the responsibility for the common safety can be distributed. There are, of course, many kinds of sacrifice involved in national defense. Ultimately the selective policy should extend also to training for certain noncombatant and industrial services. And stringent taxation should assure that no excessive profits are made out of the arming effort but that financial contributions are made according to ability.

The Burke-Wadsworth Bill now would provide for registering all male citizens from 18 to 64. Originally it would have drawn men for the Army and Navy from the broad age group between 21 and 45, leaving others to home guard or other work. Unfortunately one amendment by the committee narrows selection for the active services to those under 31 instead of up to 45.

One of the merits of the bill in its first form was the distribution of the call on a basis of fitness rather than of arbitrary age limits. Drawing from a class of more than 20,000,000 instead of 11,500,000 might be slightly more cumbersome but it would also be more selective with reference to the man's employment, ability, and family situation. Furthermore, the broader age limit would help answer the charge that young men were being drafted to fight older men's wars.

Col. William J. Donovan, commander of the "Fighting 69th" Regiment in the last war, has been reiterating the thesis that mature men rather than youths should be called to the colors first. His is expert testimony that the tasks of modern warfare call for at least equally if not in greater degree for the cool judgment of maturity as compared to the robust energy of youth.

There is a further consideration. If today's youth is to be convinced that comes of age for preparedness rather than pacifism, this will be more effectively done by example than by precept. One further step to draw more middle-aged men into the service would be to raise the maximum voluntary enlistment age from 35 to 45. Another would be to schedule more training camps open to men in their forties.

The important point about the selective draft is that it should be generally selective. It should not be a mere drawing of numbers so much as careful sorting of the Nation's manpower into classifications for service. Besides suitable exemptions for conscientious objectors, men necessary to industry, and men with family responsibilities, the draft boards should undertake similar evaluation of men's usefulness and intelligent direction of human resources.

With these guiding policies, a compulsory selective service law should be enacted promptly.

BLACKOUT OF FREEDOM.

Recently The United States News compiled interesting data pertaining to the "blackout" of individual liberties through out the world, a trend from human rights that has been going on for nearly 20 years without interruption.

So extensive has become the powers of the dictators that one-third of the people of the world are now living as human chattels.

Says The News:

In the last 20 years one-third of the world's population has become under Communist, Fascist or Nazi dictatorship. Today, as the Plymouth Mail shows, approximately 662,300,000 persons are without liberty, personal or national.

Independence Day, 1940, found only two-thirds of the earth's inhabitants living under any form of free government. And many millions of those have only shreds of liberty.

Russia (183,000,000) now controls Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, with a total population of 5,000,000.

Germany (77,000,000, including Austria) has Czechoslovakia (15,000,000), Norway (3,000,000), Denmark (4,000,000), the Netherlands (2,900,000), Belgium (8,000,000), Luxembourg (200,000) and France (42,000,000).

Both Germany and Russia share Poland (35,000,000). Italy (44,000,000) with her possessions (3,000,000), has Ethiopia (10,000,000) and Albania (1,000,000).

Stalin, Hitler and Mussolini together have four Balkan states, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia, with a total population of 53,000,000.

Spaniards and Portugese total 25,000,000 and 7,000,000, respectively.

Japan (101,000,000, including possessions) controls Manchukuo (35,000,000).

Of the remaining two-thirds of the world's population, totaling 1,400,000,000 free people—great segments may soon lose whatever liberty they now possess—China (423,000,000), the French Empire (71,000,000) and the Dutch and Belgian possessions (61,000,000 and 11,000,000, respectively).

Today the Western Hemisphere is the stronghold of freedom, but many of the republics in this hemisphere—in Central and South America and in the Caribbean—already are ruled by dictatorships of one kind or another. Many millions of the 124,000,000 persons in those 20 republics are in the shadow of a Liberty blackout.

Thus the bulwark of present-day freedom is the British Empire and the United States, the former totaling 495,000,000 in population; the latter, 132,000,000.

Rambling Around WITH EDITORS OF MICHIGAN
Their views about public problems and issues.

GETTING WORK DONE

A joke is going around about the man who was asked by a visitor as to whether there was trouble there in finding work for the unemployed. The answer was "No," that the trouble was getting work out of the employer.

That crack may not fit so well now, since the possession of a job is considered so desirable, that there is little temptation to be down on it.

There have been times, and may be still in some places, where people don't work with any spirit or energy. It is a fine thing for people to feel sure of their jobs, but if they feel so sure that they think no one can take their places, their finish may be nearer than they suspect.—H. F. Benzner in The Cass City Chronicle.

SAVING HUMAN LIVES

Motor car fatalities and injuries are again on the increase. This is probably due to the fact that there is more motoring at this time of the year than at any other. Nevertheless, it is the same old story. Many of these accidents are not unavoidable. They are due largely to someone's carelessness.

While engineering, enforcement and education are doing their part, the problem of motoring safely can never be solved without the proper attitude of mind of both motorists and pedestrians. There need be no traffic accidents nor violation tickets if each and every one—pedestrian and motorist—obeys the rules, using a little more care, courtesy and common sense.

Traffic rules are not made to deprive anyone of his liberty but they are made to deprive anyone of license, that is, the privilege assumed by some of depriving others of the rights all others should be free to enjoy. When you attempt to interfere with the free exercise of the rights which the law provides, then you become a law unto yourself and you are headed for trouble.

If everyone will observe the traffic regulations to the letter, there will be fewer accidents and fewer deaths and injured people. Don't blame the traffic officer if he checks you up. First, it's his duty. Second, he is trying to make motoring safe for everybody.—Don Vander Werp in The Fremont Times-Indicator.

HE SAW REAL SERVICE

The Veterans of the Nation will be almost 100 per cent behind Willkie, for he is a World War Veteran and saw actual service. In other words, he has come up the hard way and men of his kind usually make good.—William Irving in The Sandusky Republican-Tribune.

TALKING SENSE

We observe the Conservation Commissioners have voted to purchase 972 acres of wild land adjoining Wilderness Park on the south. This will no doubt be included in the Wilderness Park area and closed to deer hunting hereafter, but why buy land after the lumbermen have harvested their crop and then buy up their refuse to save them taxes and preserve it for them to harvest again at some distant date. Almost every month now we learn of thousands of acres of state land being put up for oil lease, inviting the oil speculators to come and get it, and in the same mail comes information the department is receiving hundreds of applications for lands principally from people that would like to acquire property to build a summer home on, for club purposes, and even for farms, but there is little response on the part of the conservation department to comply with such requests, instead inquiring ones are put off with various kinds of excuses. Why can't the Conservation Department list every 40-acre tract in the state, establish a price for it, and send such lists to the County Clerks where sales can be made? We dare say that a considerable part of the state-owned land in every county in the north part of our state could be sold and it would again be put on the "see list" and would be bringing splendid returns if this was done. It has been possible in the past for men that sought small and large timber tracts to acquire tracts from the state without much trouble. Men in Cheboygan and neighboring counties have been able to pick up some desirable small timber pieces, but that has not occurred recently, however it is possible that condition will occur again.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

THE UNIVERSITY EDICT

We believe in free speech and a free press, yet we believe the regents and President Alexander Ruthven of the University of Michigan are right in asking a small group of students, most of them from eastern states, not to return to the university this fall. They are being banned not for their beliefs but for their activities on the campus. The members of the little group are Communists, not in theory but in fact. Some of them are members of the Communist party, it is alleged, and they are bent on destroying the American form of government.

The American form of government has created such great universities as that mentioned at Ann Arbor. Students pay only a fraction of the educational costs. Millions and millions of money provided by taxpayers and by philanthropic men and women support the universities and make it possible for young men and young women to study there. While non-residents pay higher tuition than do Michigan students, the tuition payments are just a fraction of the costs.

Campus pipes and roads have been tolerated too long at Ann Arbor and at other public schools. It is claimed that many of them are there not to study but to organize, to cause trouble, to tear down the American government, to gnaw from within at the foundations of our republic. They should be ousted and with them should go the public professors, if there are any at the university. They should be banned not because of what they think but for what they teach and for what they do to tear down our form of government.—Nelson Brown in The Ingham County News.

EDITOR TALKS COMMON SENSE

In selecting Wendell L. Willis Walker for the Presidency and Senator Charles McNary for the Vice Presidency, the Republican National convention selected the strongest possible ticket—a fact attested by the unanimous commendation of the ticket in the press of this country, both Democratic and Republican.

The New Deal ticket will undertake to smear this ticket. Wendell Walker will make Mr. Willkie as a creature of Wall Street and a party of the quarter. Indeed, the New Dealers in the past have even sought to efforts to make it appear that Mr. Willkie was in any way sympathetic to Nazism.

But these are the old tricks which cause such charges are untrue. For seven years the New Deal has tried to besmirch and destroy Wendell Walker. It has been through his life and career with a fine sieve. But the float has faded and it will fall again.

The country knows that Wendell Willkie is not a Wall Street type—that he is a rich playboy—that he worked his way by hard labor and by the sweat of his brow just as American boys in every generation do. It knows that what he has earned and that he has made it his own with his associates, and with the assistance of his associates.

In brief, the country is so smart as the campaign goes on will know better than in Wendell Willis Walker it has a man of character and common sense, and it is such a man that the country today votes in the White House.—Bob Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Journal.

The post office department has ordered that the size limit of packages for parcel post shipments be increased to a combined length and girth of 92 inches, up from the present 72 inches length and girth, and that the weight of a widespread parcel be increased from 10 to 15 pounds. The postmaster general also authorized the establishment of a new system for parcel post packages similar to that employed by express companies.

F. W. Hampton, who has been acting in the absence of the postmaster general, has announced that South Bay, Mich., for the past 10 months, has received a bad position as agent at that station. During his absence, Russell Wingard has been acting as agent here.

A very pleasant picnic and reunion was held at Belle Isle Saturday last by M. and Mrs. R. A. Ryder and sons of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ryder and daughters, Pave and Beulah, James LeVan, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Padlock and baby, and a number of Detroit friends. The event was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Ryder, who after a two weeks' visit in northern Michigan and at their parental home, left for their home in Chicago Sunday afternoon.

The Ladies Aid of the Lutheran church, cleaned and re-located the school room in the basement of the church Tuesday afternoon.

During the afternoon, Mrs. Strasen, wife of the pastor, presided over a luncheon for the ladies, which it is needless to say was thoroughly enjoyed.

The school was opened Wednesday morning with ten pupils. Parents having children they desire, confirmed or non-confirmed, were invited to bring them on Friday, Rev. Strasen. Every Sunday the pastor will give instruction to those children desiring to learn German.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Vornhies of Detroit, were guests of the local friends, Sunday.

Mrs. O. A. Frazier enjoyed a pleasant surprise at her home on Main street last Saturday, when about 20 of her friends came as a birthday surprise. A potluck luncheon was served. A large birthday cake, handsomely decorated with sweet peas adorned the table. Mrs. Ed Smith was very agreeably surprised at her home on East Ann Arbor street last Friday afternoon by about 45 Lady Macabees, who gathered there in remembrance of her birthday. The guests presented Mrs. Smith with a handsome electric reading lamp, as a token of their esteem and appreciation of the good work she had done as their commander.

Later in the afternoon a fine potluck supper was served. Everyone in Elm is busy with having and harvesting. Next in order will be threshing.

Wheat in the vicinity of Elm is the heaviest crop we have had for years. It is yielding at the rate of 40 to 45 bushels to an acre. George Snaw of this place had an exceptional yield, getting 90 bushels from two acres.

The State Railroad commission authorized that the Mackinac railroad company maintain a flagmen at the Starkweather avenue crossing, and to have this flagman operate an alarm bell at the Mill street crossing of the railroad for 24 hours daily.

The new anti-trust law, which goes into effect January 1 next, will increase the penalty for violation of the law from $500 to $100,000, and county treasurers will be held liable for the same if they fail to pay their 1936 licenses.

Instead of the present $4 license they will have to pay at the rate of 25 cents per horse plus 25 cents per head of hands weight of the horse. The secretary of state has announced that the average value of a license will be about $3.

At the home of Mrs. Fred H. H. daughter of Mr. George Hix, of this county, were quarterly business meetings last week.

They returned to their homes, where a hands weight of the horse was secretary of state, has announced that the average value of a license will be about $3.

USE COOL COMFORT to draw customers into your store

In the heat of midsummer, retail stores, restaurants, etc. find that the "north pole" and the "magnetic pole" are one... that cool, invigorating air is a magnet to attract customers and improve business. It is one of the best sales tonics ever discovered to combat summer slump.

Alert merchants are now using air conditioning to boost sales, to attract new customers, to hold present customers. They are using it to overcome location difficulties, to lure trade from competitors, they are using it or an advertising feature, to add prestige. They are using it to convert basements, cloves, and "dead spots" into profitable space.

They are using it to reduce hot-weather spoilage of perishables. They are using it to reduce damaged goods due to perspiration stains and handling losses, and costly "clearances" on dust- and dirt-marked merchandise. They are using it to lessen noise, and to reduce cleaning expense. They are using it to induce customers to linger—thereby creating more purchases and increasing the unit size of the sale. They are using it to promote greater efficiency and alertness among the sales force.

How many of these things can air conditioning do for YOU? It will pay you to call your air conditioning dealer today and obtain complete information. He will gladly make a survey of your cooling requirements and give you a free estimate. The Detroit Edison Company. (We do not sell or install air conditioning equipment.)
